TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

But humanity often has confused simplicity with foolishness. Truth is always simple. God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise.—1 Cor. 1:27.

We see where they are having growing pains down in Orlando too.

Have you contributed to the March of Dimes yet? If not, please send in your check at once.

Congratulations to Volie Williams, Jr. upon his selection as by Sanford Jaycees as one of five outstanding young men in Florida.

The recent clash between Governor Warren and Alto Adams, according to the Tampa Tribune, leaves the Governor with no place to go in this gubernatorial race. But the clash may mean rather that the Governor's chairman of the State Road Department is going to run.

Hal Boyle who writes a daily column for the Sanford Herald and some 1,500 other newspapers will be the guest speaker at the Greater Orlando Chamber of Commerce's annual meeting on Jan. 18. Boyle is a veteran reporter of World War II and the Korean War and was winner of the Pulitzer prize in 1945.

It pays to advertise, says no less an authority on the subject than Roger Babson. Of 717 companies in the United States which were spending $25,000 a year or more on advertising 10 years ago, 91 percent are still in business and doing more advertising than ever, while only 5 percent are now spending less on advertising. Only one company in 12 found advertising unprofitable and they were trying to sell a wrong product or had wrong sales policies.

Senator Kefauver of Tennessee says he is not a presidential candidate at this time, but he does not rule out entirely the possibility that he may become one. He is keeping in touch with the situation and may have something to announce later.

Democrats would have a man in Kefauver, but the corruption in the administration is so bad that he does not want to be the right part of the party's presidential nomination. The more likelihood of a Democratic victory for a Southern Democrat there is of Northern Democrats voting for a Southern Democrat.

President Truman seems to think that if he were to run for President he would be smothered with love. General Scott was in the White House when he was nominated. When Scott was in the White House, not all general officers were defeated when they ran for president. A considerable number of exceptions which go to mind are George C. Marshall, Andrew Jackson, William Harrison, U. S. Grant and others.

Most of the general officers were with smothered love, but anyone who runs for president, and for any other public office, dare not be smothered with love.

A Forest Problem

Conservation and rebuilding of the forests remain among our most serious domestic problems. The short-sighted policy of years ago, by which many of our forests were stripped of timber without replacement, has largely depleted what once seemed like an almost inexhaustible supply of lumber. Since the start of reforestation the federal and state government have done good work in preventing further waste of our forest resources and in replanting areas left bare by fire or logging operations.

Progress often seems slow. Federal money can be spent only on national forest lands and the appropriations for such projects are often too small to permit taking on new forests. The states are also limited in the amount of money they can spend. Both the state and federal governments are finding it difficult to get employees skilled in such work.

It would be wise not to miss the lesson of our forest problem. It is always easier to use up resources or waste them than it is to replace them or repair the damage caused by wasteful practices. The lumbering regions suffer the most immediate effects of depleted forests. But the problem is a national one, for lumber is one of our most useful and valuable materials. It is a matter of concern to the state, the nation, industry and labor, and deserves the attention of everyone in protecting what is left and starting new growth.

Dispute Over Aden

The British Empire has so many perils confronting it that it can hardly bother with pinpricks. It may therefore pay little attention to the threat of Yemen in southern Arabia to take over the crown colony of Aden.

Aden lies at the southern tip of the Arabian Peninsula, about as hot and unattractive a spot as could be found in the whole world. It guards one end of the Red Sea, as the Suez Canal does the other. The British with their vast commercial fleet and their navy have always had an eye for strategic sites which could be coaling stations or could command important waterways. Gibraltar at the west end of the Mediterranean is the best-known example; Aden with its adjoining islands of Perim and Socatra is to the Red Sea what Gibraltar is to the Mediterranean.

Spain resents the presence of the British at Gibraltar on what might be her soil, and similarly the Arabs of Yemen dislike the British ownership of Aden. They are, however, in no military position to challenge Great Britain. They will in all likelihood merely add Aden to their list of grievances for future settlement.

Birth Announcements

At the Tallahassee Municipal hospital a new system has been installed to make things easier for expectant fathers. Microphones in the delivery rooms of the maternity ward will pick up the first wail of each newborn infant, so that it may be heard by the father in the waiting room. Following this first cry the doctor will announce the name, weight and sex of the new arrival. This device may eliminate the risk of being trampled in the stampede of anxious fathers dreading by nurses and doctors who emerge from maternity wards.

To an anxious father the first cry of his baby may seem to mark the end of his suspense. He may feel that he can stop his pacing and sit down for a deserved rest. He had better enjoy that rest while he can, for the first wail he hears is just a sample of what is to come. And his pacing of the floor has very likely only begun.

Celery Harvester

an equivalent number of empty crates, about 175, which are passed to the two white crate assemblies on the upper deck of the machine. Other workers reach up for the assembled crates and place them for the packers.

To keep the big 500 gallon water tank on the machine full requires about three trips a day by the tractor drawn water cart, which has a little engine to pump water into the big tank. Powered by a special Ford engine, the big machine, riding on 18 big tires, edges along at 30 inches a minute. With a capable crew it will handle about 1500 crates of celery during a 10 hour day.

County Agent C. H. Dawson, who viewed the machine Monday, pointed out that it will conserve such celery that might ordinarily be damaged in placing into field crates and hauling to the packing house for processing. It also saves time and energy.

Mr. Dawson, however, pointed out that the machine at present is practical only for large fields of celery and not for small patches.

American Fruit Growers Inc. is using its regular wash house to clean celery on the west side, said Dawson.

It is not in use in harvesting, but by cables from a central point can be easily detached and used on the sides of the machine. It can take to the field and can travel at about 10 miles an hour.

10% Pay Hike For Servicemen Runs Into House Snag

WASHINGTON (AP)—House leaders' plans to pass a bill giving active and retired servicemen a 10 per cent pay raise next week ran into a snag today.

"Four times" was blamed. "Four times" was blamed. "Four times" was blamed. "Four times" was blamed.

Inflational House members reported stiff opposition to docketing the pay raise bill as the first major business of the 1952 session. They predicted defeat of the bill if it comes up so early.

The estimated cost of the bill is 800 million dollars annually. As approved unanimously by the House Armed Services Committee it would give everyone in the armed forces, whether retired or in uniform, a 10 per cent cost of living raise over present pay and allowances.

The House agreed Wednesday to consider the bill next Tuesday under procedure requiring a two-thirds vote for passage and barring amendments. The idea was to prevent the measure from becoming a vehicle for amendments that might provide other benefits for servicemen and add substantially to its cost.

Current opposition to the measure reportedly is not based on its merits, but on the decision to make it the first order of business. There is little doubt that the bill will be passed eventually.

The trouble is, a high-ranking House member told newsmen, "that many of us don't want to do our first voting of 1952 on a bill that is going to cost close to one billion dollars. This is an election year and economy is going to be the byword in many congressional contests."

Until 1951, Nepal, on Tibet's southern border, had been governed by a hereditary prime minister for 104 years.

Goods, Gadgets And Steel Are Going To Be Harder To Get In '52

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The government means it when it says you're going to be pinched.

And the pinch for civilians after the military gets the metal it needs is going to be a lot sharper than many expected. It's going to be rough on a lot of production chiefs who will be trying to keep factories running and men employed. But maybe it'll be a boon to a lot of sales executives who are trying to move inventories of goods already on hand.

Makers—and buyers—of autos and household gadgets have been told how much can be produced in April, May and June. And the word is "less than now."

But for the makers of such accessories to living as umbrellas, pianos and Venetian blinds the word is "You can have more metal than now, so you won't go out of business." The government is giving up trying, apparently, to decide which is more essential, a dishwasher or a cigarette lighter. Formerly it called the lighter less essential than kitchen appliances, and allowed less metal to lighter makers.

Builders—and would-be owners—of new homes got a shock. Fewer can be started after April than was first expected. The trouble here isn't lumber, cement, plumbing fixtures or workmen. There's no scarcity yet in any of these. But the brass, copper and aluminum items that are a small but essential part of any new home aren't going to be handed out freely. Unless your contractor is a good hunter, he may have trouble finishing some homes later on this year.

Businessmen get this advice from the government: If you haven't started that new plant or expansion program by April 1, you're going to have a tough time proving it's essential enough for the government to let you have building materials. Business expansion is going to slow down after April—except defense plants.

The pinch, then, that they've been talking about so long really starts April 1. And government men say it may get rougher before it gets easier.

Here is what some of the cut-backs the government is ordering for April mean—if they aren't revised later on:

Only 600,000 new homes are expected to be started this year. Before Korea Americans were building at an annual clip of 1,400,000.

From 1,730,000 to 1,850,000 new cars (depending on how good auto makers are at stretching their copper and aluminum supplies) can be made in the first six months of this year. They made 3,190,911 in the first six months of 1950, before Korea.

In June, 1950, we made 250,190 vacuum cleaners, 325,200 washing machines, and 248,283 gas and coal kitchen stoves. Only 45 per cent of that amount can be made this June under the new rules.

But there are plenty of stoves, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, TV sets and autos on hand now to fill present civilian demands. In fact, some of them have been pretty hard to move. The sales executive may be getting a break.

Finland became guarantor of the independence of the Aland Islands in the Gulf of Bothnia in 1921.

A colony of 7500 American flamingos has been reported living on the island of Great Inagua in the Bahamas.

Geneva Garden Club

At the January meeting of the Geneva Garden Club a report was made of the November Garden Run to Delweller Nursery, where the members were shown every courtesy. In the absence of Mr. DeWeller, one of the young ladies associated with the nursery acted as hostess and guide. Picnic tables were provided, and even a case of Coca Cola given. Twenty-four members attended the run and all reported a most pleasant day. Plans were made for another garden run in February through the Center Park lakes, and tentative plans discussed for a trip to Jungle Gardens sometime in the spring. The guest speaker of the day was Mrs. John Williams, of Vermont; her subject "herbs." Herbs, said Mrs. Williams, are like truth, when crushed to earth they rise again with renewed strength. They may be separated into three classes—medicinal, culinary and fragrance. They have been used from time immemorial. Many of our vegetables and beautiful flowers belong to the herb family. The best time to gather herbs for drying is in the early morning before the volatile oils are dissipated. Camomile is often planted among sickly herbs, whereupon they become healthy and thrive. An old superstition has it that garlic grew where the devil placed his right foot and onion grew where he placed his left foot. Some other superstitions noted by Mrs. Williams are:

"Where sage thrives in a garden, the man will rule his household."
"Mugwort brings good luck to travelers."
"Hue bestows second sight."
Basil has many superstitions attached to it in various countries.
Some herbs used as medicine are narcotic poisons in large doses. Among these are foxglove, digitalis and others. Our ancestors used poultices of caraway seed for earache and chewed fresh green parsley to sweeten the breath. A tea made of catnip or camomile will calm the nerves. Of all the herbal teas, alfalfa is the most healthful because its roots penetrate the soil much more deeply than any other plant and picks up minerals. Do not boil, but make an infusion. In old times the city of Athens prevented infection by burning herbs. Every year, said Mrs. Williams, we import great quantities of herbs, many of which grow wild in the United States.

After a question and answer period, refreshments of dairy sandwiches and Russian tea were served by the hostesses, Mrs. F. E. Luyett, Mrs. Homer Ballard and Mrs. J. W. Yarborough.

Oviedo Chapter O.E.S. Holds Regular Meet

Seminole Chapter No. 2, O.E.S., held their regular meeting at the Masonic Hall on Thursday evening with Mrs. Leona McLain, worthy matron, and H. F. Cole, worthy patron, presiding for their first meeting.

Mrs. Henrietta Raines served as associate matron and J. H. Jones as worthy patron, as well as all of the newly installed officers, with the exception of Mrs. Grace Correll, Mrs. May Bell Maxwell substituting for her as Esther.

Mrs. McLain announced that the Jan. 17 meeting would be obligation night, as well as a covered dish supper at 4:30 with H. F. Cole in charge of arrangements. All members' families are invited to participate in the supper event.

Mrs. McLain announced her committee for the ensuing year: Finance, Mrs. Louise B. Hills, May Bell Maxwell and Bada Mae Crenshaw; Examination, Mrs. Virginia Burney and Estella Moore, also Leslie T. Sheppard; second, Mrs. Lucy Courlet; Eunice Turner and H. H. Williams.

Relief, Mrs. Edith Dutton and Margaret Gull, also W. L. Seig; Courtesy, Odell Crosby; Program, Mary Bell Cole; Red Cross, Mayme J. Warner; Flowers, H. H. McLain; Publicity, Marian H. Jones. Registration by month—January committee, Mrs. Lula Moore, Eva Harkey and Esther Crawford. Refreshment committees have been arranged for each meeting where refreshments will be served.

Following the business meeting the members and guests adjourned to the dining room where delicious sandwiches, candy and coffee were served by Mrs. Henrietta Raines and some of her Eastern Star neighbors.

OVIEDO NEWS
By MARIAN R. JONES

OVIEDO (Special)—A large group of people gathered at the Memorial Building Friday evening to enjoy the canasta and bridge party, which was sponsored by the Oviedo Woman's Club, the proceeds to go for equipping the new clinic.

High scores went to Mrs. J. W. McKinnon, first, and Mrs. Maude Coates, second, for the ladies. H. F. Smith was high for the men, with R. J. Lawton second. Mrs. Ben G. Wainright and John Courier tied for the Parcheest prize. Screens were awarded to Mrs. James Parlin, Mrs. Leon Olliff and Mrs. Blaine Miksell.

Delicious sandwiches were served, as well as homemade cake and coffee by Mrs. J. H. Staley and her committee, Mrs. Max Leinhardt.

The Susannah Wesley circle met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Edward Kircher. After the devotional given by Mrs. Kircher, a chapter of the study book, "The Americas," was presented by Mrs. Warren Hise. Plans were discussed for the rummage and baked food sale to be held Saturday morning in front of the Methodist Church.

A highlight of the evening was the surprise shower given for one of the members, Mrs. J. B. Oviatt, the former Mrs. Tynie Fulford. Following the opening of the gifts, refreshments of cake and hot chocolate were served to the following guests: Mrs. Oviatt, Mrs. Nan Bright, Mrs. Harvey Dunn, Mrs. Charles Thompson, Mrs. Halie Hale, Mrs. William Showers, Miss Helen Weisenberger, Mrs. Cecil Sellers, Mrs. Warren Hise and Mrs. Kircher.

Mrs. E. W. Jones and daughter, Ginger, and her father, Dan Durkin, left Wednesday morning for San Antonio, Texas to visit his parents for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Oviatt were guests of honor at a dinner party Sunday evening given by Mrs. Byron Harless and her daughter, Rachel, at their Lake Winnemissett home in DeLand. Also enjoying the occasion with the honor guests were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gunn.

The P.T.A. will meet Tuesday evening, Jan. 15, at 7:30 in the school auditorium. The special speaker will be the Right Reverend Lansing G. Putnam, rector of the Episcopal Church. His subject will be "An American's Responsibility." In addition, there will be special music, a business meeting, and a social hour.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles Thompson accompanied his mother, Mrs. Clara Thompson to her home in Bradenton Wednesday after a visit here.

Miss Ruth Wood and Lee Fees, both of DeLand, were united in

Republicans Rap Truman Plan On Graft Clean-Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman's assignment of Attorney General McGrath to clean up the government drew angry protest from Senate and House Republicans today, and silence from the White House.

Mr. Truman told a news conference Thursday he had abandoned plans to create a special cleanup commission and has placed full responsibility on McGrath, as the chief law enforcement officer.

"That means there is going to be no cleanup," snapped Sen. Capehart (R.-Ind.).

Sen. Nixon (R.-Calif.) and Rep. Bawell (R.-Mo.) both renewed their demands that McGrath be removed from his post as Secretary of the Treasury. "Also must go," said the internal Revenue Bureau in Snyder's department.

"Scandal has shaken public confidence in the Justice Department," Nixon told reporters. "The public will have no confidence whatever in an investigation of the Justice Department by the Justice Department."

Korean War

flashed south almost to parallel 38 today and paid for their audacity with loss of four MIG-15s.

"They were shot down, and a fifth was damaged, in five blazing battles with American jets.

The air war flared within 30 miles of the Panmunjom truce site. One fight was nearly 180 miles from the Yalu River boundary between Korea and Manchuria.

The new outbreak of air war, after jets were snowbound Thursday, raised the Allied bag for the week to 11 jets shot down and 13 damaged.

One MIG was downed in the same battle by America's top ace—Col. Francis S. Gabreski of Oil City, Pa., 51st Fighter Interceptor Wing commander. It was his fourth MIG and his 32nd plane in two wars.

This battle, between 22 Sabre jets and 66 very aggressive Russian type MIGs, raged for 35 minutes over a 75-mile area. It was as long as any jet battle recorded.

All of the day's kills were made by F-86 Sabre jets.

But the southernmost fight involved F-84 Thunderjets. Three MIGs attacked them near Kumchon, 160 miles southwest of the Yalu and only 11 miles north of 38.

This was the most southerly jet engagement ever fought in the Korean War.

By BOB THOMAS

Clifton Webb is currently playing a character far removed from his familiar "Mr. Belvedere" role, and no one could be happier than Webb.

The actor is portraying a silent-era movie star in "Dream Boat." He is doing flicker sequences which show him as an American ace in World War I, a Foreign Legionnaire, a swashbuckler along the lines of the Douglas Fairbanks Sr., and a fourth musketeer.

"Nighly I offer prayers of thanks, concluded by one loud 'Hallelujah!'" he remarked.

It is no secret that he has wanted to shake the know-it-all Belvedere character, despite the fact that the old boy put Webb among the 10 top money-makers of 1950.

"Belvedere was a great character and I am grateful to him," said the actor. "But after all, I cannot go on playing the same thing for the rest of my days.

There would be no fun in it. Life is too short to go on doing something you get no pleasure from."

He said he had no idea whether the studio was preparing more "Belvedere" films. "And I could not care less."

Webb has another innovation in his present film. He is dancing with Ginger Rogers. Few of his younger fans realize that Webb was a dancing star on Broadway in his youth, but "Dream Boat" will mark the first time he has danced in a show since 1933.

"It was in a Shubert show which lasted but a few weeks," he recalled. "I was tired of dancing. I had done too much of it, in shows and in classes, which were taught. Actually, I never much cared for dancing; it was not the thing I really wanted to do.

"I did a rather foolish thing when I put away my dancing shoes. I never got them clean again. Oh, if I were at a party and had a few drinks and felt in the mood, I might get up and do a few steps of interpretive dancing—alone. But the thought of pushing another person around a crowded dance floor appalled me."

Webb has also exercised little in the past 11 years and had a devilish time getting into shape for his dance assignment.

"For the past three months I have been doing roadwork, twirling Indian clubs and getting battered by a medicine ball," he said.

CAP Group To Go To Orlando Program

A number of the cadets and crew members of the Civil Air Patrol will attend the SARCAP program starting at 6:30 o'clock tonight at the Orlando Municipal Airport.

Capt. David Remley announced this morning.

With from 100 to 500 C.A.P. members from all over Florida attending about 125 planes will be used in the simulated sea and air rescue missions.

The Air Force is bringing men from McDill Field, and will place them in remote areas. It will be up to C.A.P. air parties to spot them and direct ground crews to their "rescue." The men who are "lost" will be given two-day emergency rations, jungle gear and sleeping bags, and are required to stay hidden until found, said Capt. Remley.

Plans for participation in the program were made Wednesday night at a meeting of the local C.A.P. squadron at the City Hall.

Southeast Asia

France might make to the United Nations.

Offer of limited air and naval assistance might be offered by the two powers.

With the experience of Korea behind them and the stresses of an election year already upon them, the U. S. chief of staff would readily recommend throwing American troops into another Asiatic war that might well follow the course of the Korean campaign in a military and possibly a political stalemate.

Military recommendations for a general coalition to be voted by the U. N. or through some less closely involved nation, preferably Asiatic, might result from today's session.

Even if the earth did not rotate at all on its own axis, the world would not get any during the year because of the earth's journey around it.

Standard time for the world, as in the case of longitude, is reckoned from Greenwich, England, which is recognized as the prime meridian.

"It has been a struggle to get my mind back. The muscles are not so bad, since I have long ones. It is the short-necked people who get all tied up."

Republicans Hit For Attack Upon Philip C. Jessup

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sparkman (D.-Ala.) said today a new Republican attack on Ambassador-at-Large Philip C. Jessup is a "stab in the back" for the U. S. delegation at the Paris United Nations meeting.

A resolution, introduced Thursday with the backing of 38 GOP senators, asked the Senate to advise President Truman that Jessup "does not command the confidence of the American people."

Sen. Bridges (R.-N.H.), Republican floor leader, said it was in effect a request to Mr. Truman to recall the ambassador from the General Assembly session in Paris.

Sparkman, who served on the Foreign Relations Committee to which the resolution was referred, said its "only practical effect is a stab in the back for our delegation fighting for us at the United Nations."

Jessup has had to carry an extra load at Paris because of the illness of Warren Austin, chief American delegate to the U. N., Sparkman said.

"According to all reports, he is doing an excellent job," the senator added. "I don't think it's be-book was "The Seaman and the Law."

Things brightened for him after a week of lonely battle, when the salvage tug Turmoil, coming close by, put aboard First Mate Kenneth Dancy, 27.

What did they talk about on those long, eerie nights?

"Well, we talked about this press business," Carlsen replied. "To be frank, we were both scared of it."

He became even more scared, he admitted, when the fame of his heroic stand spread and he realized there might be quite a fuss about him ashore.

When the last moments of the Flying Enterprise arrived, he and Dancy jumped together into the sea and swam hand in hand toward the Turmoil. They clambered up a rope ladder a few minutes later.

Carlsen stepped onto the Prince of Wales pier in Falmouth today, wearing an oversized black raincoat he borrowed from one of his rescuers, at 10:08 a. m. (5:08 a. m. EST).

"I just cannot find words enough to express my gratitude to you," he told the crowd.

Honor upon honor was thrust upon the skipper. Lloyds of London, the insurance underwriters, gave him a medal. King Frederik of Denmark—Carlsen is a Danish-born naturalized American—sent a telegram of congratulations. The U. S. Coast Guard announced plans for a formal commendation.

Carlsen said he kept pictures of his wife and two children by his side and prayed to God during his two-week fight to bring the damaged vessel into port.

Carlsen came ashore at this Cornish fishing town from the tug which tried for six days to get his storm-battered, heeled-over freighter into port and then had to pluck him from the Atlantic just before she sank.

The fishing folk of Cornwall, who for generations have known the sea and respected and feared its might, gave him a conqueror's welcome.

At the top of the steps were his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Carlsen, who flew from Denmark to greet their hero son when it looked like he and his ship might be towed in. With them was Falmouth's Mayor T. L. Morris.

From the head of the pier, stretching about two blocks to the Municipal Hall, thousands of Falmouth residents and visitors stood in orderly rows about five deep.

The pier was decorated with streamers and bunting. Decorations ran down through the center of the town. The last of them had been completed only this morning.

UN Assembly Votes To Establish New Disarmament Body

PARIS (AP) — The United Nations General Assembly voted 42 to 5 today to set up a 12-nation Disarmament Commission. The body will study step-by-step reductions in arms and armed forces, including a prohibition of atomic weapons.

The Western Big Three powers—the U. S., Britain and France—sponsored the measure, the major achievement of the sixth U. N. Assembly here.

Four weeks of debate in the Assembly's Political Committee—including private Big Four talks with Russia and Assembly President Luis Padilla Nervo for one week in an attempt to reach understanding—preceded today's decision.

At the outset of today's session, Russia withdrew amendments it had previously attempted in vain to get adopted in the Political Committee which would have demanded immediate prohibition of atomic weapons.

The Assembly voted down Czechoslovak attempts to emasculate the Western power resolution, especially on the step-by-step procedures. Avoidance of a fight over the Russian proposals speeded up the Assembly action.

Police Get Man Who Escaped Jail After 36 Years

Miami Beach Barber Had Premonition His Time Was Up

MIAMI, Jan. 10.—When three men entered the Miami Beach barber shop where he had worked the last chair for five years, Louis Sommer looked up and said: "This is it."

Ever since 1916 when he fled from a New York prison where he was serving five years for stealing $50, Sommer, now 58, had dreaded the moment when police would come for him. He instinctively recognized the three men as detectives Thursday.

Only recently—just before Christmas—the premonition had been so strong that for the first time he hid his wife and their two teenage children the secret known only to him and the files of Auburn, N. Y., Prison.

Even a grown son, a World War II veteran, in Bridgeport, Conn., didn't know.

On Dec. 22, after finishing his day at Vidal Velazquez Barber Shop, Sommer said he had "just one shot on an empty stomach" and it hit him hard.

He bought some hamburgers and took them to a friend in the Miami Beach jail, then went outside and sat on the curb, where police picked him up and took his fingerprints.

He realized those fingerprints could expose his secret. That night he called in his wife and two children, Richard, 18, and Betty, 15, and told them the story of his life.

"I cried and I cried," he said Thursday in Miami City Jail, "and told them to pray for me that I would get out of this."

"I knew it was coming, but I thought, too, they knew about me they wouldn't want me after all these years. I could have gone away. But I decided to stick it out."

When Det. R. H. Haulerson went to talk to Sommer's wife, a maid at the Saxony Hotel, she said: "I'll go by and pick up my barber tools. I want to help him."

The warden at Auburn Prison told Miami Detective Chief H. C. Howard that a warrant would be sent by air mail and that officers would come to Miami to get Sommer, listed in New York prison records as "Louis Sommer."

Sommer said he would fight extradition. He said he was glad of one thing—that his freedom had not come to an end while his mother was alive. She was the only one who knew of his trouble, and she died three years ago at the age of 80.

Sommer has been here since 1926 and married his present wife in 1927.

He was 10 years old when he was arrested for stealing $1.50 from a woman's pocketbook. He said the district judge gave him a fine but he was sentenced to five years.

After serving two years and six months, he said he escaped by simply walking out of the prison when no guards were around.

He said the first five years of his liberty were "pure torture" but after that it wasn't bad and as time went on he felt more secure.

"I began to think that after as many years of going straight no prison would want me," he said. "I don't want to go back. I've lived an honest life for 36 years. I believe I've paid my penalty for that $1.50 robbery."

John W. Maddox, 19, son of A. B. Maddox, of Sanford, has been assigned to the 216th Air Force Reserve Training Center here, it was announced today.

Maddox recently completed basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas. Formerly employed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, he attended Trimble County High School.

POTATO GROWERS
WINTER PARK, Fla.—Florida potato growers won't even get their production cost under the ceiling price of $3.65 a hundred pounds, says the Florida Farm Bureau.

Officers and directors of the bureau asked the federal government to rescind the ceiling immediately in a resolution to go into effect Jan. 31 on Florida white potatoes.

South Florida growers had seed ready to commence planting Monday, the group said, "but to do so under these conditions would be impossible."

Sens. Holland and Smathers (D., Fla.) were sent copies of the resolution.

NO WASTE! Dale E. Kishinnes said Thursday he has taken from his platform a plank to kill the sales tax. The candidate for governor said:

"If there is waste or inefficiency, I can discover it. There is a point or two in the law which nobody needs reworking but the people in the Sales Tax Division already have noted these points. Therefore, these adjustments may be anticipated."

Dr. Geo. Starke Opens New Clinic Building For Negroes In Sanford

By KENT CHITMAN
A 15-year African prince from the Dr. 4700-acre tract, yesterday when he moved into his modern, two-story $25,000 office and clinic building on Sanford Avenue at Ninth Street.

The site from Dr. Starke's former office at 217 1/2 Sanford Avenue culminated after three and one-half months of construction on the new building by the W. G. Miller Construction Company.

The Starke clinic occupies the first floor of the new building. It is 42 feet wide and 70 feet deep decorated in pale green paint and brown trimmings with Permatone siding in the front.

The interior walls conform to the exterior color scheme with pale green coloring. The walls inside are of cement block with the exterior walls, the ceilings in the clinic are of stained plywood composition, light brown in appearance.

Chandeliers, fluorescent ceiling lights, furnish the built-up interior lighting for the clinic.

More than seven hundred patients in honor of the official opening of Dr. Starke's clinic. These lined the walls and spaces.

Citrus Mutual To Enforce Its Floor Price On Oranges

Get-Tough Policy To Be Carried To Public By Committee

LAKELAND, Fla., Jan. 10.—Citrus Mutual plans to use public opinion and a trouble-shooting public relations council to enforce its floor price for oranges.

The super-cooperative, which controls about 85 per cent of Florida's citrus, decided Thursday to adopt a "get tough" policy it was recommended by Mutual's industry advisory committee a day earlier.

Lacy G. Thomas, Grayeland, president of Mutual, said "We are going to call names, tell what and why, and give out all the dope because the public should know the score."

Directors voted to hire Morton L. Carey, who helped organize Mutual, as a trouble-shooter for the campaign. He has been with the New York public relations firm Mutual admitted openly for the first time that floor prices are being violated. It estimated violations at five per cent of the canned industry and 15 per cent of growers and fresh fruit shippers.

Four prices, which apply only to oranges, are 11 a box for canners, 12 a box for fresh fruit.

Mutual contracts provide a penalty of 50 cents a box for growers who sell under the floor price.

W. J. Gottlieb, 511 Dora, said "I have talked to between 25 and 30 growers in Lake County and I am sorry to report there is not a one who feels Mutual is doing all they can do. That means the growers are losing confidence in Mutual."

Lee Boswell, Lakeland, and the only thing about Mutual about which he hasn't heard complaints is the salary for directors. They get only travel and meal expenses.

In 1931 shipments in from across the state were sent from the oldest settled village ever found.

Senator Suggests Olham Says Mr. Big Is Now Supporting D. McCarty's Race

MIAMI, Jan. 10.—The name of William H. Olham, which figured prominently in the 1928 gubernatorial campaign, has been resurrected into the 1932 race.

Braley Olham of Sanford, candidate for governor, Thursday told three civic clubs in the Miami area that Olham had told him he would vote for Dan McCarty in the coming primary.

McCarty, opponent to Gov. Luther Warren in the 1928 race, promptly denied the statement and said he had never discussed his candidacy with Olham and did not expect his support.

Olham, president of four Florida dog tracks, reportedly contributed to President Truman's campaign.

Olham, who said he had a witness to the conversation, declared that Olham told him in Jacksonville on Dec. 29.

"I'm going to vote for Dan McCarty. He is the only one who has asked me to support him."

In a statement to the St. Petersburg Times, Olham said he had never discussed his candidacy with Olham and did not expect his support.

"I have never discussed my candidacy with Mr. Olham. I do not expect his support. I have never collected for support. I have never discussed the fact of my support. I think that I am certainly that man."

BENNETT DIES
GAINESVILLE, Jan. 10.—Harry W. Bennett, president of the China Tump Oil Corp. and one of Florida's largest planters of tung oil trees, died at his home near Lake Cross Thursday.

The 86-year-old tung industry pioneer who began his planting in the early 1880s had been in failing health since last fall.

MISSING BUREAU
MIAMI, Jan. 10.—A Montreal detective has found local authorities working on the missing disappearance of Mrs. Hichette, French 21-year-old Canadian beauty missing since last Friday night in the Florida Keys.

Monroe County Deputy Sheriff James O. Barker and today the investigation had not diminished out of anything has indicated.

He said the Montreal detective would aid in the investigation and be "a lot of help."

from all states "some of them known that Gen. Eisenhower was in this fight to a finish."

Lafayette headquarters countered by claiming the "It is derogatory and name men say its reported 32 times actually make it a heavy medium instead of a true heavy tank."

This indicates that the new American heavy will run close to tanks.

CHIEF SEES SALARY
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—The South Daytona Beach Town Council will have to pay Police Chief Horace L. Ham his salary which the council met on Sept. 20.

Circuit Judge P. H. Revels ruled Thursday Ham should get his $50 a week pay until his term expires Feb. 15.

Defense Secretary Protests Lag In Tank And Jet Plane Production

By ELLIOTT C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Reporter
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The United States is becoming bottlenecked in jet fighter and tank production but Defense Secretary Robert Lovett estimates it will take a long time to catch up on the schedules set for large scale deliveries.

The defense chief expressed the view in a report before the Senate Armed Services Committee at a closed-door session Thursday.

Lovett's statement, taken together with unofficial estimates of American and Russian production pointed up President Truman's report to Congress Wednesday that the Soviet Union "is still producing more airplanes than the free nations."

The most recent unofficial estimate made here is that Russia is producing about 1,000 planes a year at the rate of 12,000 jet fighters and about 12,000 jet bombers.

Against this is the recent estimate of the Dwight D. Eisenhower Association that total production of American planes of all types may reach about 1,500 a month by late 1952. That would be at the rate of 18,000 a year and some industry men believe the figure may be a little too high.

The industry blames the lag in plane production on a shortage of engine and component parts, caused by shortages of machine tools and alloy metals needed in jet engine manufacture.

The Army is producing an increased number of field medium and heavy tanks.

But it has run into production trouble in at least one type, the T-47 light tank because the mechanism which forms the tank turret at the Detroit which the Army in a lot of cases apparently was a "bug" developing out of the attempt to speed a weapon into production without the usual prolonged service testing.

The Army's move into the field of heavy tank production appeared to be a reversal of policy which existed recently as a year ago. At that time the Army said it would continue experimenting with a heavy tank prototype but that we are not going to spend money on heavy tanks simply because the other fellow has them.

That referred to Russia's tank program including the Stalin III tank. The Stalin III is described as a heavy, but American ordnance men say its reported 32 tons actually make it a heavy medium instead of a true heavy tank.

This indicates that the new American heavy will run close to tanks.

MAYOR DIDN'T LAKE WAY STORY WRITTEN
BEAUMONT, Calif., Jan. 10.—Mayor G. P. Jack Hamilton was ordered to appear for arraignment Monday on a charge of assault and battery after an altercation with a news writer.

Reporter James Jaeger and the mayor clashed Thursday in front of the Beaumont Gazette building, where Jaeger is employed. The reporter accused the mayor and other members of the City Council of demanding that he withhold news about the resignation of Robert Bruce as chairman of the City Recreation Commission. Bruce is also a policeman.

Mayor Hamilton said there was no question of withholding news but that he and the councilmen had objected to the manner in which the story of Bruce's resignation was written.

Bailey Announces For School Office
TAMPA, Fla.—Thomas D. Bailey has announced his candidacy for reelection as state school superintendent.

Bailey's statement said he wanted to participate in the further advancement of Florida's public schools. He said they had made great progress during his first term but still have a long way to go.

Bailey, who maintains homes both in Tallahassee and Tampa, released his statement here.

My New York

By MEL HEIMER

NEW YORK—Just the other day we passed the 18th anniversary of the repeal of Prohibition and in a few weeks we will observe the 32nd anniversary of the passage of that strange and bloody law.

The 14 years between those two dates were likely the most raucous, diverting, hilarious and sinful seasons in the history of this town. They are dealt with completely and factually, if a bit ponderously, in Lloyd Morris' new book, Incredible New York, and while they are only a small part of that volume's contents they dominate the proceedings for me.

Morris skips sadly from the downfall of the big cafe-restaurants—Churchill's, Relsenweber's, Shanley's, Buzanoby's—to the speakeasies, and his comments on them have the flavor of authenticity.

I would say ahead, and I do not mean to slander the erudite Morris, that he had spent a considerable time in many of Manhattan's blind pigs on his research.

Morris points out that pedants insist on calling these deadfalls "speakeasies." Nobody ever knew how many there were.

Izzy Einstein, who was the No. 1 federal prohibition agent of the era and a comic-opera figure if there ever was one, said there were 100,000. On the other hand, Grover Whalen said there were 30,000 and Grover should have known; he was police commissioner under Mayor Jimmy Walker, in the days when the police virtually operated the speakeasies.

"AT THE BOTTOM OF THE SCALE," Morris writes, "were the 'clip joints' or 'cab joints' or 'steer joints' which preyed on unwary New Yorkers and visiting firemen ignorant of the ways of the metropolis. . . . One of the most reputable speakeasies in Greenwich Village began its business life as a clip joint. The proprietor . . . kept a taxi at the door, ready to take such customers as emerged helplessly drunk down to the waterfront to be robbed."

In later years, when he had acquired an eminently respectable clientele, he subjected his liquor to chemical tests before selling it, and sometimes displayed to favored customers a souvenir of the rough earlier days. This was a piece of half-inch steel cable, at one end doubly thick and dipped in lead, and the proprietor retained it "just in case."

"Never hit a guy in the head with this," he explained. "You'll split him open like a dropped watermelon. Hit him on the shoulder or the back. It's safer."

The better, brownstone speakeasies were operated in the guise of clubs—the Bombay Bicycle club, the Town and Country club, or simply Tony's, Michel's or Louis's—and, "if you were a stranger in town, any policeman was usually willing to direct you to the nearest speak."

After you gave the password, at a speak, you walked through a series of interlocking doors and arrived at a bar. "The Scotch was poured from bottles seemingly suttler-like, on which the historic labels had been artfully reproduced," Morris says. "So was the gin. A polite fiction had it that both were imported."

NEW YORK'S MOST NOTABLE CONCENTRATION of speakeasies was not far from Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt III's ugly brownstone at 52nd and Fifth. Fifty-second, Morris claims, was "notorious throughout the country."

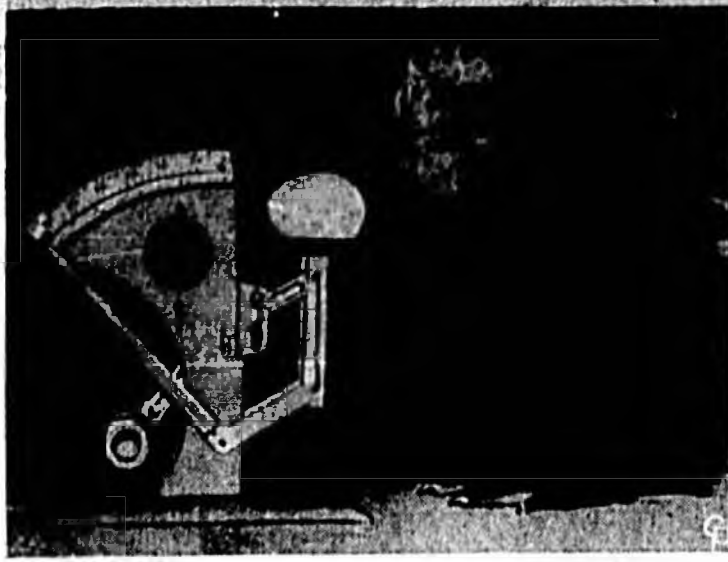

"Almost without exception, every house, on both sides of the street, was a speak, and the after-dark traffic on this single block was always more congested than that on any so-called 'residential' cross street in Manhattan," he writes.

One of these speakeasies was Twenty-One, or Jack and Charlie's, and this one was internationally famous. Cocktails were a dollar and champagne $25 a quart. It had a dance floor, table tennis and mah-jongg rooms and represented, likely, the ultimate perfection of the blind pig.

However, the Colonel's lady and Judy O'Grady are sisters under the skin—and under this elegant exterior was concealed "defenses as elaborate as those of a fortress," and "electrically controlled devices of such remarkable ingenuity that, in the event of a raid, strategic sections of wall could be made to turn and disappear."

Jackey Hill Gilbert is now racing motors instead of horses. Gilbert is now with a Transportation Truck Company in the Army.

The Hildebrand of the Cleveland Barons in the American Hockey League is an expert lacrosse player. He played for the Eastern Canada champs in 1931.

A PRIZE EXHIBIT at the 21st Annual Poultry Show in New York's Madison Square Garden, this Japanese bantam cockerel appears to be brooding over an egg grading contest. It may be that some new scheme for beating the scales will be hatched up. (International)

Even kings often need a refuge.
God is the only last resort of all flesh. God is known in his palace for a refuge.—Ps. 46:1.

President Truman has named Attorney General McGrath to clean up the government. He should begin bathing at once.

It looks as if Harry never can get all his problems solved at one time. One ship no sooner goes down in the Atlantic than another disappears in the Pacific.

The Montgomery Advertiser, nominally Democratic, has come out for General Eisenhower for president, even though he runs on a Republican ticket. The South is making progress, politically as well as economically.
When it learns that the man is more important than the party, that it has quite as much in common with northern Republicans as with northern Democrats, it can be said to be politically grown up.

Bill Johnston denies that he is going to vote for Dan McCarthy and says that Bradley Odham's statement that he is a "prepositious lie". We hope that Bradley's friends will not let this worry them. Someone has said that a man is known by the enemies he makes. We cannot imagine any more flattering compliment than to be called a liar by Mr. Big.

John Temple Graves regrets the recent bombing of a colored man's home in Miami in which two died, but adds that such racial outrages are not peculiar to the South. "Such things go on everywhere, and are more likely to happen in Detroit and Chicago than in Miami". And no one has proved yet that this was a "racial outrage". An outrage,
yes. But why racial? The bomb could just as well have been planted by other Negroes for reasons having nothing to do with race.

Governor Warren quotes the Ninth Commandment to reveal what part he is going to play in the gubernatorial campaign. For the uninitiated it is necessary to point out that the Ninth Commandment reads, "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor." Gov. Warren, who is not running for re-election, is going to defend his administration against all comers, to which we might add, "Me thinks he doth protest too much," or to get back to the Bible, "The wicked fleeeth when no man pursueth".

It begins to look as if the ar-mistic in Korea is merely a device for a Chinese breathing spell before they launch a new invasion of Southeast Asia probably into French Indochina, though the Malay Peninsula, Burma, and India are by no means safe from them. The Allied chiefs of staff confer to decide what must be done in the face of this new threat. We hope we don't become involved in another unstrategic Korean campaign where all the advantages are against us. The Freitag is said to be gradually coming around to MacArthur's proposal that China should be backed by our fleet. Chinese cities bombed by our Air Force, and the Reds agree to be good.

Water Lippmann offers what he calls a compelling reason for going for Eisenhower. It is, that Eisenhower the country have for the taking a new administration which has behind the largest and widest popular support, which is more truly national in its constituency, than any other administration in our history. There is the promise of an administration which is strong because it is popular and is trustworthy because it is strong.
Moderate and prudent

Bounty For Murder

It is difficult to understand the position of the Egyptian government in disclaiming responsibility in the case of an Egyptian newspaper which offered a thousand-pound reward for the murder of the British commander in the Suez Canal Zone. The paper also offered hundred-pound reward for the murder of other British officers in the zone. The Egyptian government said it could not intervene because it does not control the press.

Sincere respect for freedom of the press is an admirable virtue in any government. But there is a difference between allowing a newspaper freedom of expression and granting it license to incite murder. A newspaper, like a person, can enjoy real freedom only as long as it obeys the proper laws of the land. Murder is illegal in every civilized country and those who hire or reward murderers are as guilty as the assassins. It is the duty of a government to protect the lives and properties of people who live under it.

No matter how severely the Egyptian government believes it has been wronged by Britain, it is committing a serious error if it permits murder. By permitting a newspaper to offer bounties for the lives of British officers it is condoning murder. The Egyptian officials may find that their attitude in this matter will soon be redound against them. When lawless elements are given free reign no government is safe.

Hope Of Beating Polio

Officials of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis sounded a note of optimism at the outset of this year's March of Dimes campaign. They said there is hope that there will soon be a method of immunizing people against poliomyelitis. Laboratory experiments with animals have proved very successful, and the realization of the hope for immunization may be near.

If that time comes, a great battle against disease will have been won. Though often called a children's disease, polio is no respecter of age, and has struck down many adults. If it is brought under control, as so many other damaging diseases have been, it will be a tribute to the work and perseverance of many people. It will also be a tribute to the generosity of the countless citizens who gave their dimes and dollars to the March of Dimes.

Until the disease is controlled it will be necessary to continue a relentless fight against it.

Trouble For Mink

Rabbers of mink have just cause for complaint about the effects of Washington high jinks on their business. It used to be that a mink coat was universally regarded as a treasure to be earnestly wished for and to be prized, by those fortunate enough to have one, above all other sartorial possessions. Now it threatens to become the fashion, especially in the vicinity of the national capital, for the wearer of a mink coat to appear apologetic and explain carefully that she came by it properly.

The mink ranchers declare reasonably that it isn't right for a stigma to be attached to all mink coats because of the actions of a few irresponsible people. The fur is as soft and luxurious as it was before. The mink, when he was growing that high-priced fur, had no way of knowing what use might be made of it. After all, the choice of mink for purposes of reward merely verifies its desirability.

Book On Congress Has All Answers If You Want Them

By ED CREEGH (For Hal Boyle)

WASHINGTON (C)—So you know a thing or two about Congress? Then tell us:

(1) Which members of the present Congress have nine children apiece?
(2) How many members were born outside the United States?
(3) Which congressman has made a hole-in-one—no once, but twice?

(4) What congressman's wife has "Pochontas" for a middle name? You can find the answers to these and eleven other how many other questions about your lawmakers in the new, 737-page edition of the Congressional Directory.

In case you can't wait, here are the official answers to the questions above:

(1) Reps. Rabaut (D-Mich.) and Kelley (D-Pa.) are the most persistent parents. Rabaut has three sons and six daughters. Kelley has three daughters and six sons. No wonder there are so many Democrats around.

(2) Nine members were born outside the U. S., including Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. (D-N. Y.), who first saw the light of day at his folks' summer place in New Brunswick, Canada.

(3) The golfing congressman who has made a hole-in-one twice is Rep. McMullen (D-Fla.).

(4) "Pochontas" is the middle name of Mrs. Thomas Babson Stanley (D-Va.). Her maiden name was Anne Pochontas Bassett.

This barely scratches the surface of the fascinating facts that can be dug out of the blue-covered directory.

Did you know, for instance, that Rep. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) never went to high school—but became a history professor at Montana State University?

Or that Sen. Langer (R-N. D.), by his own account, is the "only person ever arrested in any English-speaking country for filing an affidavit of prejudice against a judge?"

Or that Rep. Fogarty (D-R. I.) is president of Bricklayers Union No. 1 in his native state?

There's inspiration to be found, too, in the new directory. You may think the time is past when a poor boy can grow up to make his country's laws—until you learn that Sen. Hoey (D-N. C.) started out as a printer's devil. Sen. McFarland (D-Ariz.) was a grocery clerk. Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) was a machinist's apprentice, and Rep. Irving, a Democrat from President Truman's home town of Independence, Mo., was a railroad call boy at the age of 13.

Without the directory, you might never know that Rep. Usher Burdett (R-N. D.) could make a hole-in-one in the House language. Or that Rep. Bessie (D-Wis.) is an argument and chief director. Or that Sen. Dan Rostenkowski (D-Ill.) is the only man in the House who has been in the Army, United States Congress, and made a strong race for the U. S. Senate.

Sen. McKellar (D-Tenn.) contributed the longest autobiography to the directory—80 lines. Tied for the shortest accounts of themselves, on the Senate side, are two people who usually aren't that close on anything: Sen. McCarthy (R-Calif.) and Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me.). They limited themselves to less than three lines apiece.
Even they were worthy, however, compared with some House members. Four congressmen said all they wanted to say about themselves in one line apiece. The briefest entry of all, by a man who can throw words to the winds when he gets up to make a speech: "Dewey Short, Republican, Galena, Mo."

STETSON ROTC
DELAND (Special)—A chapter of the Scabbard and Blade, a national honor military society for cadets in the advanced ROTC, was installed Saturday afternoon in the President's dining room of Stetson University, by Major T. S. Crockett. Among its members are Joe Davis and Sanford. The Stetson chapter starts its career with 24 members. This honor of membership comes to the Stetson ROTC in its second year of existence. Scabbard and Blade strives to promote a feeling of unity among cadet military leaders on a national basis and to maintain a higher standard in the military activities of the different units all over the nation.

HOTEL FIRE
CINCINNATI (Special)—An early Sunday morning fire at Cincinnati's 200-room Hotel Sinton sent frightened guests scurrying for any exit they could find and caused the death of two young servicemen. The two young servicemen were in a room on the top floor of the nine-story building. They fashioned an escape rope out of knotted sheets and were lowering themselves when the rope parted. They plunged almost seven floors. The dead were Pvt. Harry Franklin Shaeffer, about 21, Harrisburg, Pa., and Pvt. Raymond G. Hatrack, 19, Mt. Carmel, Pa.

Strawberries Continue Big Crop At Plant City Market, Wilson Says

WINTER HAVEN (Special)—"Cabbage, collards, broccoli, onions, radishes and turnips moved over the Plant City Market this past week, the earliest these commodities have appeared since this time of year in strawberries," states William L. Wilson, Director of State Markets in his weekly news report. "2,232 packages, with turnips and collards leading, brought $3,844.20. Strawberries continue to be the major crop, with 252,576 pints, ranging in price from 20 to 32 cents, and grossing $62,780.80. Total sales amounted to $66,624.00.

"Comparison of shipments from the Pompano Market for the first week of 1951 and 1952 shows that this market is stepping up its activities. Number of packages shipped the first week of 1952 were such items as Pepper with 30,592 bushels, as compared to 6,776 bushels; 1452 bushels of hot peppers as compared to 1,100 bushels of Lima as compared to 1,307 bushels. Eggplant was 4,627; 13,052 bushels Cucumbers as to 3,114. No corn moved during this period last year while a total of 3,438 crates of the same crop were shipped at the Pompano Market continue to be heavy, the general market appears to be more stable the bean prices have improved over the last week according to G. B. Horan, Manager.

"Tomatoes are gradually increasing in volume and continue to be the chief commodity at the Florida City Market, where last week approximately 30,700 bushel field boxes were auctioned for $192,193.00. The high price for the 5-day period was $6.90, just the low $1.07 with an average of $4.84. Squash and Pole Beans in fair quantities also moved. C. S. Phillips, Manager, states that the cool weather of the past week was especially beneficial to crops in his area, and he would welcome more cool days, thereby assuring better quality produce. The volume of produce on the Fort Myers Market decreased some this past week," according to Ralph L. Alvarez, Manager, who reports 11,284 packages sold. The old cucumber crop is practically over, but a new one will start moving around the 30th of this month. Fancy cucumbers prices ranged from $5.00 to $6.50. Good supplies of good collards and cabbage, with cabbage bringing fancy prices. "A total of 25 crates of strawberries at the Starke State market brought $8.60 per crate during the past week, and according to the manager, Miss Dorothy Alvarez, shipments in the next few weeks will be very good provided good weather continues.

"Although the fall deal is practically over at the Immokalee State Market, winter crops of tomatoes, cucumbers, squash and peppers are beginning to move and will gradually increase in volume. T. H. Rivers, Manager, states the springs crops recently planted are doing well with prospects bright for future movement."

One of the world's worst volcano tragedies was the eruption of Mt. Pelee in Martinique in 1902 in which 28,000 were killed.

Strictly A Necessity Those Days

The further cuthack of automobile production threatened in Washington ignores a warning by the Government's own Defense Transportation Administration that this would react disastrously on national transportation requirements in the event of war.

The effect of a cuthack on the Detroit and Michigan labor force is of at least equal importance considering the wartime production role of this area. However, the diversion of scarce steel, copper and aluminum to the railroads, is defended in Washington as a buildup of these industries in the event of war. Exactly the same argument applies to the necessity for auto production adequate to keep the country's vehicular "rolling stock" at a safe level.

This was officially noted by the Defense Transportation Administration less than two months ago. The warning was based on a careful survey of the situation made for it by the Brookings Institution, an endowed research agency. The substance of the DTA report was that reduction of auto production below the 4,000,000-car rate would assure a transportation crisis, if war came. The Brookings survey showed the extent of national dependence on the private automobile for essential transportation. This dependence was shown to exceed any possibility of public mass transportation filling the gap, should private cars in use fall below the estimated safe level.

It was noted the country began World War II with the advantage of a comparatively new vehicular rolling stock. Today the average car in use is more than half again as old as in 1941. Thus it was concluded that a 4,000,000-car rate of production is the lowest assuring replacement of over age cars and the achievement in this respect of war-readiness. The warning appears to have fallen on deaf ears in Washington, which, however, is not so surprising.

The danger that the threatened cuthacks and resulting unemployment will disperse much of the labor force on which the country relied in World War II, and may need to rely again, is a more obvious and immediate danger. Those seemingly incapable of the foresight to appreciate that can hardly be expected to look farther ahead.

Still, it remains largely credible that officials charged with the country's industrial defense should invite, deliberately as it appears, a wartime breakdown of city transportation. The mean distance of the moon from the earth is 238,857 miles.

JOBLESS BENEFITS

TALLAHASSEE (Special) -- During the week ending January 4, the Unemployment Compensation Division of the Florida Industrial Commission paid 4,001 recipients a total of $460,039.00, or individual checks in the amount of $115.26. For the same period in 1951, $100,787 was paid out, and for the week ending December 28, $35,301. The next two weeks, known as "sign-manufacturer's inventory week" may see increase in weekly payments unless increased employment in the citrus packing and canning industries takes up the slack.

The Unemployment Reserve Fund December 31, 1951, as reported by the U. S. Treasury had a credit balance of $77,341,188.13 and a considerable increase over December 31, 1950 when the balance was $73,139,630.88. The total benefits to unemployed workers the past year was $6,589,132.00, as compared to $7,637,082.89 the year ending December 31, 1950.

ARBOR DAY

TALLAHASSEE (Special) -- More than 150 schools will plant slash pine seedlings in observance of Arbor Day Friday, Jan. 18, according to State Forester C. H. Coulter.

The seedlings have been given by the Florida Forest Service as part of its program of encouraging public planting of young pines.

In addition to the schools planting these seedlings, many others are expected to hold special plantings with seedlings of various kinds obtained from local sources.

Coulter said Arbor Day in Florida also would be widely observed by women's clubs, garden clubs, and other organizations.

Mrs. R. Hamilton Files Candidacy To State Legislature

Mrs. Ruth M. Hamilton of Fern Park announced Saturday as a candidate for state representative in Group No. 1, subject to the Democratic Primaries in May. Mrs. Hamilton says she is not running "against" anyone but "for" something. She is the wife of the late Dr. R. H. (Tom) Hamilton, who died in 1941. Mrs. Hamilton was born, reared and educated in Iowa and Minnesota. She taught grade school for 12 years. For the past 16 years, she has been working in the adult education field. Last summer she spent in Scandinavia where she studied the elementary school and High Schools for adults and gathered material for radio and lecture work. At present she is conducting an educational program over WTRR in Sanford.

While living in New Hampshire, a Republican state, Mrs. Hamilton was elected as a Democrat to the House of Representatives in 1941 where she served on the education committee. She is the widow of the late Dr. C. Carter Hamilton, noted X-ray specialist in Philadelphia. A son, Peter, is a junior at the Lyman High School.

She will act as her own campaign treasurer and has designated the Sanford Atlantic National Bank as depository.

Negroes Burn

(Continued From Page 1) house was a raging inferno. A neighbor, Peter Cooper, attempted unsuccessfully to enter. Napier and the sleeping children burned to death in the flames. Patrolman Hood, thinking Tommie's wife wasn't going to return to the fall with the bond money, jailed Tommie, Willie and Harry.

Fire Chief M. N. Clemons, after an unsuccessful attempt to survey the debris yesterday, concluded an investigation this morning placing the cause of the fire on either a lighted cigarette or kerosene lamp.

He described the bodies as only a "handful of ashes." "Only the baby Winifred was discernable," he stated. Oscar Becker, highway patrolman, stated only the metal roof lay on top of the ruins of the Holt home.

Napier and the Holt children were buried this afternoon at the Burton cemetery in Sanford.

By The Associated Press) At least 7 other persons died from accidental causes in Florida over the weekend.

At Deland Saturday night Irela Lee Moore, 2, and Louis Edward Moore, 4, burned to death. Two other children and a woman got out of the house.

A panel truck veered off the paved portion of a Hartow street, swerved sharply to get back on, and overturned. Crushed under the machine was the driver, Margie Davidson, 25, of Winter.

Mrs. Mary F. Roberts, 70, a pediatrician, was killed when she was hit by a car at Tampa Sunday night.

At Jacksonville Jerry Williams, 20, Negro, was killed in the second accident he was involved in Sunday night. After a minor accident he stepped from his car to investigate the damage.

Then, police said, a tractor-trailer operated by Johnny Mack Brown, 28, Atlanta, collided with another car and slammed into Williams' car. Williams was pinned under the vehicle in a ditch.

Brown was jailed on charges of manslaughter and driving while intoxicated.

Larry Coxwell, 54-year-old Miami carpenter, was killed and his woman companion was injured Sunday when the automobile he was driving overturned on the Overseas Highway 16 miles north of Key West.

With Coxwell was Mrs. Evie Hinkle, 41, also of Miami, who was hospitalized in Key West with lacerations, neck and back injuries.

Florida Highway Patrolman M. J. Wilder said the automobile hit some loose dirt, skidded and rolled over four times. He estimated the automobile's speed at 80 miles an hour and said it was airborne when the accident occurred.

ROTC CRUISE (Special) — Thirty-six University of Florida students including Glenn McCall of Sanford and faculty members returned to the campus last week from an eight-day sea training program, an annual affair covered by the U. S. Army Transportation Corps.

The highlight of the program for the members of the University ROTC was a cruise from Tampa to Havana on the training ship USS-617, making the ports of Key West and Fort Jefferson on route. Water sports on the program included drills, instructional and observational programs regarding phases of shipboard life, a tour of Havana, a boat race and shore leave in ports visited.

Buzz Saw Breaks Loose And Sails 4 Blocks In Air

A flying buzz saw, breaking loose while in operation in a wood yard Friday night, sailed four blocks, hit the roof of a house, cut four rafters and severed electrical connections before it crashed broken in the floor.

Harvey Johnson, Negro occupant of the house, reported in excited tones to the Florida Power and Light Co. that a buzz saw had gone through his roof, and that the lights had gone out. The police were notified.

Guided by two similar experiences in the matter, it did not take Police Chief Williams long to locate the owner of the buzz saw, Jesse Abrams, Negro, who was found to have been operating the saw in violation of city restrictions at 1207 West Ninth Street.

Chief Williams recalled that this was the second time one of the buzz saws belonging to Abrams had taken to the air. Back in 1944, it was reported that a buzz saw had dropped a bomb near a house.

Jesse Abrams, by police order, has now stopped cutting fire wood in a "restricted" residential area, said Chief Williams. The broken buzz saw is being held at the police station as evidence.

Dade and Palm Beach Lead In Accidents

TALLAHASSEE (Special) — Dade and Palm Beach counties, reporting 13 and 12 deaths respectively, led the state in the number killed on Florida's streets and highways for December. The State Highway Patrol tentatively reported today.

The toll for the month was 112 with more deaths believed yet to be reported. The count was made Jan. 10.

In third place was Hillsborough county, which had ten traffic fatalities. Volusia reported nine, and Pinellas' toll was seven.

Five were killed in collisions in Duval county. Counties reporting four deaths from traffic accidents in December included Broward and Polk.

Three such fatalities were counted in each of the following: Escambia, Orange, Jackson, Monroe, Nassau, Brevard and Putnam.

Two were killed in crashes occurring in Walton, Lee, Lake, Sarasota, Gadsden, Bay, Taylor and Leon counties.

The small adjoining counties of Lafayette and Gilchrist have reported no traffic fatalities as yet in 1951.

Those killed included 57 passengers, 12 pedestrians, 40 drivers and nine bicyclists. Only 10 fatalities occurred in urban areas.

It was pointed out that what would be spent this year would be for right-of-way.

The Commission agreed to cooperate with the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad in rebuilding the crossing of the Big Tree Road over the track, following railroad improvements including the leasing of a curve in the track from two to one degree at that point as a safety measure.

The changing of the curve will necessitate the railroad acquiring a portion of the Big Tree Road parallel to and east of the track. In order to replace the road it will be necessary for the County to acquire from John Melch, abutting property owner, a tract of eight-of-way, extending for 800 feet. A. B. Peterson, representing the Railroad, agreed to secure this for the County.

The Commission made several suggestions to be submitted to the Railroad. One was that all grades coming up to both sides of the track, be not more than 2 percent, and that the A.C.L. Railroad track be paved the 800 foot strip, 18 feet wide on the right-of-way secured from Mr. Melch.

County Surveyor M. G. Hagan was directed to supervise the road grades.

Three roads will meet at the crossing, the Big Tree Road, the old Orlando Highway and the clay road to Lake Nary.

Negroes Held When Shine Is Found In Negro Residence

A raid in search of concealed moonshine liquor Saturday night in a house at 1000 East Ninth Street resulted in the finding by police of a 30 gallon barrel full of moonshine and a number of bottles partially full of liquor.

Annie Grace Mike, Negro, and wife of Willie Lee Mike, were caught in the act of selling illegal liquor. Mike was arrested and is now being held for trial on a charge of illegal possession and sale of moonshine liquor, said Police Chief Roy G. Williams.

Mike pointed to the barrel of "shine" in his office, which he said had been found in the attic of the Mike home. To a faucet on the bottom of it was a broken rubber hose such as is used with hot water bottles.

Chief Williams explained that Patrolman Ben Butler, during the raid, elicited the stopper on the hose that apparently was connected to an empty hot water bottle hanging on the wall. The hose was connected, however, to something else for out flowed moonshine liquor.

The police traced the hose into the wall and up to the attic where it was found connected to the barrel of liquor.

About 23 five gallon jugs, some partly filled with liquor, were seized together with the whiskey glass year.

Willie Lee Mike, the husband, was arrested by the government at one time for liquor violations, said Chief Williams.

Cecil M. Webb Is Named Head Of Game Commission

TALLAHASSEE — Cecil M. Webb is the new chairman of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

Webb, who has served on the commission since 1947, was elected to head the group this year at an organizational meeting at Williston Saturday night. He has served as chairman twice before. He was elected together with the group this year at an organizational meeting at Williston Saturday night.

Webb takes over the chair from L. G. Morris of Monticello, whose term on the commission expired and who was replaced on the same board by A. H. Rich of Tallahassee.

Saturday's meeting at Williston was the first attended by Rich and another new member, Harris Drew of West Palm Beach.

Wave Of Battery Stealing Breaks Out In Seminole

A wave of battery stealing has swept Seminole County in the past ten days as the total has now reached 29, Sheriff P. A. Hines reported this morning. Most of the stealing has centered in the Oviedo areas with 11 batteries and three night-lights from a Farmall tractor having been stolen in that section.

Oviedo Police Chief George A. Kelsey said this morning, he had one clue. "We have made prints of the right front tire and traced them to a store in Sanford." He concluded that he thinks the gang comes from Sanford because of this clue.

He believes that the batteries are being sold to trucks which take them either to Jacksonville or Tampa for sale there. Most of the batteries stolen to date have come from farm tractors, but nine were taken from the Longwood Smith Brothers saw mill in Longwood.

The stolen batteries have been taken from these Oviedo farmers: C. R. Chis, 3; R. W. Estes, 3; Carl Dand, 1; C. T. Niblock, 1; and the three tractor lights from the Moore farm.

Chief Kelsey said, "This something happens every year and I am convinced it's a gang. This same gang stole the Longwood battery and may have stolen many more that have not been reported."

French Waif, Adopted By American Division, Died Fighting In Korea

HOUSTON — A homeless French waif who died in Korea trying to repay the kindness shown him in the United States will be buried in his adopted country.

Cpl. Alexander Stewart, 22, was killed in action Dec. 28. But the casualty list doesn't tell how the youth asked — and got — the help of a congressman in transferring from the safety of Japan to the Korean battlefield. It doesn't tell how he came to America twice as a stowaway before Congress passed a special law to let him stay here legally.

Mrs. A. Axelrod of Houston, his foster mother, said Sunday night she would bring the body home for burial. "I know that is what he would have wanted me to do," she said.

At 22 the corporal was an old hand at war and fighting. When he was 12 he ran away from an orphanage in Alsace, joined the underground and finally escaped to North Africa. He was adopted by the 133rd Regiment of the 34th Infantry Division and fought with them for five years — North Africa, Sicily, Anzio, Iwo Jima.

When the war was over Axelrod stayed away on a troop ship and came to America. Members of the 133rd gave him $200 and he struck out on his own. When he tried to enlist in the U. S. Army he discovered he was an alien. Back to France he went. There was no record of his citizenship there.

Rural Common Sense
By SPUDS JOHNSON

Make allowance for rising costs in planning the farm operation for 1952. Florida farmers are reminded by economists of the University of Florida Agricultural Extension Service. In 1951 farm production costs were about 12 percent above last year. In 1952 they seem likely to go up maybe another 5 percent.

With a high level of production, farmers will use a lot of higher priced labor, economists point out, and maybe a little more fertilizer at higher prices. Farm machinery is expected to continue at the year's high prices or possibly go up moderately. In general, farmers will need more machinery and may buy as much as they can get.

Prices of building materials, feed, seeds and pest killers will continue high early in 1952. All in all, farmers may buy more goods and services and pay more for them, it is believed by Clyde Murphy, assistant economist.

Rising costs these past few years have forced many farmers to take on more debt, especially production debt for things other than real estate. With the prospect for further increases in 1952, farmers' debts seem likely to rise still more. Mr. Axelrod said that Alex had written asking for help to get in the fighting. Mrs. Thomas said "I hope I haven't done the wrong thing by seeing that he gets his wish."

Kefauver Confers With Truman But Holds His Tongue

Friends Boom Tennesseean For President; Statement Expected By February 1

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) talked for 30 minutes with President Truman today, but declined to say afterwards whether he will be a candidate for President or whether he thinks Mr. Truman will run again.

"I had a very pleasant conference with the President," he told reporters. "We talked about political matters. I will give a definite statement of my intentions about Feb. 1."

That left things just about where they were before Kefauver had his meeting with the President. Kefauver had been expected to announce whether he was entering on the edge of a decision as to whether he should declare himself a candidate for the Democratic nomination.

Friends of the tall, soft-spoken Tennesseean already have Kefauver for President groups working in most of the 48 states.

"I have not encouraged him, I have not discouraged him," the senator said, adding that he hoped to make a decision about Feb. 1.

"I thought before any decision I ought to talk with the chief executive and the head of the party," he added.

Few politicians, including Kefauver, expect any immediate word on whether President Truman will or will not be a candidate for re-election.

But the approach of primary elections and selection of delegates to the Democratic National Convention, which will pick the nominee, may force Kefauver to make an early decision.

Nationally known because of his work as chairman of the Senate's Special Crime Investigating Committee last year, Kefauver has said his decision on whether to seek the Democratic nomination would not be influenced by Mr. Truman's plans.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) came out of a private conference with the President late Monday saying Kefauver would not actively seek re-election.

"The President asked Humphrey to be a 'favorite son' candidate for the Democratic nomination in Minnesota," the senator said.

Commission Asks Elimination Of Road Cloverleaf

Road Department To Be Asked To Re-locate Right-Of-Way

Seeking to reduce the cost of obtaining right-of-way for the French Avenue widening project, the City Commission, following a conference with County Commissioner W. G. Ribbes last night, passed a resolution requesting the State Road Department, in obtaining the improvement, to eliminate a proposed cloverleaf intersection at French Avenue and the Orlando Highway.

The Road Department, with which City and County officials will confer in Tallahassee Wednesday afternoon, will be asked to re-locate the right-of-way for the avenue so as not to require the obtaining of any portion of the Anchor Inn which is built to the edge of the property line. The City will be requested at the meeting by Mayor Stegner and Commissioner Chase.

A semi-final payment of $109,019 to the Jaron Co. for the completion of construction of the Sanford Memorial Baseball Stadium, was approved, and J. A. Rivers, president of the company, was commended by the Commission for his work on the project.

Mr. Rivers pointed out that he and his firm had done the very best they could in bringing the project to completion, and stated that the delays encountered were due to lack of material available at the time.

The Commission discussed details of work to be done by the City in putting the ball park in working order.

City Manager Gillon estimated that it would cost about $30,000 to put the stadium in good shape, and $500 to repair the fence. It was decided to do this work and to pave the concourse under the stadium.

At the previous meeting the Sanford Baseball Association requested that the City pay the salary of a groundskeeper and the cost of flood lighting grounds. The Commission, considering the limited amount of funds available for the project, approved the hiring of a keeper, but deferred action on the flood lighting proposal until the rest of all of the improvements could be estimated.

An agreement was given final approval to offer the ball park for training in San Antonio, Tex. This would include the use of both diamonds, club house facilities and lighting.

Following a conference regarding specifications for the proposed Tourist Recreation Building with E. J. Moughton, architect, the Commission decided to reject old bids and advertise for new bids on the project, and to meet to consider these at 2:00 p.m., Wednesday, Jan. 23. It was pointed out that none of the three former bids had been submitted to the City.

Governor's Race Is Still Wide Open Odham Concludes

Sanford Candidate To Appear On Television In Miami, Fla.

By KENT CHETLAIN

"I feel that 30 percent of the people in the state have wide open minds when it comes to their choice for a gubernatorial candidate," J. Brently Odham told this reporter this morning at his headquarters here. Mr. Odham has just returned from a ten-day speaking tour in Miami and Dade County.

He will continue his road campaign tonight by addressing the Lakeland Citizens.

Response to Mr. Odham's Miami tour was, he said, "very gratifying." He hit all the important civic and group meetings in the Greater Miami area," he added.

Mr. Odham created quite a furor on a three-hour Allen County radio show in Miami Beach. The program is a listener audience participation show with questions being directed to the commentators or feature guest over the telephone. Three phones rang constantly from 11:15 until one hour after the program had ended at 3:15 a.m.

Mr. Odham lashed out at Alton Adams in re-reading Adams' resignation to the Allapattah Land Tract Company and his campaign manager on Miami Beach, which Mr. Odham presented a photostatic copy of Adams' original resignation of muck lands in the Belle Glade area which was later approved for drainage under the Warren administration.

Peterson Is Named Chairman Of Red Cross Blood Campaign Here

Citizens of Seminola County will soon be given an opportunity to donate much-needed blood to arm forces. Announcement of the approval of Seminola County by the national organization of the American Red Cross to participate as a unit in the defense blood program was made yesterday by Mrs. J. M. Gonsky, chairman of the local Red Cross chapter.

A. U. Peterson Jr. of the St. Johns Rently Co. has been named chairman of the blood program for the chapter and has started initial plans for the program here.

Approval of Seminola County as one of the participating counties means that local citizens will now have an opportunity to donate blood solely for the purpose of meeting the nation's defense requirements. This blood will be used for overseas shipment to the armed forces and for building reserves for home defense needs, Mrs. Gonsky said.

Frisco Train Is Communitists Charge Snowbound In High Sierras 10 Allied Soldiers Killed

226 Persons Awaiting Rescue Teams Trying To Reach Them In Blizzard

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Rescue teams bucking the worst snow banks the mountains have had in a half century today tried to reach a passenger train stranded in the Sierras with 226 persons aboard.

R. D. Spruce, Southern Pacific trainmaster at Crystal Lake, in the high mountains, reported to San Francisco headquarters that he reached the stranded train at 7:30 a.m. (PST) walked through all the coaches and found no one in desperate plight. All had blankets and there was enough food for the day, Spruce said.

The rescue teams were working toward the stranded streamliner "City of San Francisco" which had been held for 24 hours in the eastern Sierras. A 21-mile run in the 24 hours ended at 8:4 a.m. today.

The two rescue trains driving through the drifts toward the stranded streamliner were equipped with powerful snowplows. Both carried doctors.

Three Weasels amphibious jeeps with full caterpillar tread, two jeeps and four ambulances were in the Army convoy which carried food for the stranded train. The snowbound train was a victim of a mighty storm which lashed the West Coast from Canada to Mexico. The howling gales swept deep snow drifts on the mountains, dumped flooding rains on already sodden lowlands and sent towering waves smashing against seawalls.

A Southern Pacific spokesman, Frank Miller, said from 25 to 30 feet of snow had piled up on the train. Two doctors are with the rescue party.

However, the group is not with out food. A special train, carrying company maintenance crew and a group of skiers, reached the streamliner from Santa Springs some 40 miles away. The Weasels (Continued on Page 3)

Freighter Captain Held In New York On Murder Charge

NEW YORK (AP)—A freighter captain was arrested Monday on a charge of murder on the high seas after a U.S. Coast Guard cutter in New York City arrested him.

Robert M. Reagan, assistant U.S. attorney, said the shooting happened while the Israelitine Steam Navigation Co. freighter was between Manila and Japan.

Reagan said he had tried to get a story from crew members describing how the crew, William Hayes of Dayton, Ohio, apparently fired a shot which killed the former Mrs. Irene Tragan. "Somebody has got to kill the captain," Reagan said. "The crew will be held until the murder is solved."

Reagan said the crew was held until the murder is solved. He said the crew was held until the murder is solved.

Small Claims Court Handles 470 Cases

The small claims court of which U. S. McNeil is judge, handled 470 cases since it was established last summer up to Dec. 31. Actually 569 cases were turned in, 39 of which the court could not get service on or was unable to handle due to wrong addresses given.

Of the 470 cases collections amounted to $774, and ranged from $4.50 to $200, said Judge McNeil.

The court was established at the request of the Sanford Merchants Association, and Mr. McNeil was appointed judge by Gov. Warren for a two-year term beginning Aug. 25, 1951. The court is located at 403 Sanford Atlantic National Bank Building and adjourns the office of the Seminole County Credit Association.

Father Of Korean Victim Gives Medal Back To Truman

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—A father who claimed his son was "kidnaped" by the Marine Corps "through treachery and unscrupulous promises" and later died in Korea, says he is sending to President Truman the youth's Purple Heart and Presidential Scroll.

The awards are being returned, Glenn Fiedler says, because "fraudulent statements were entered on his son's physical records to make it appear he passed his physical examination."

The son, James, 18, was killed in action in Korea June 1, 1951. Fiedler, a member of the Green Bay Vocational School faculty, said James was a member of the local Marine Corps reserve unit when it was activated Aug. 3, 1950. He charged, however, that the youth's physical handicaps of poor vision and underweight were falsified by representatives of the Marine Corps "so possibly the Navy" here so he could enter the reserve.

Fiedler said after his son was ordered to active duty he was given another physical at Camp Pendleton, Calif., at which time he was told he should leave the corps because of his physical handicaps. However, Fiedler said, James signed a waiver and remained in service after the Marine Corps led him to believe he would be made a photographer, which was his specialty. Fiedler said his son was a machine gunner when he was killed.

Marine Corps officials at Camp Pendleton could not be reached immediately for comment.

Symington Asked To Stay On At RFC

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman has asked W. Stuart Symington to stay on temporarily as administrator of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. while the Senate considers the nomination of Harry A. McDonald to succeed him.

The White House made this known today by making public a letter from Mr. Truman to Symington.

On Jan. 7, the White House announced Mr. Truman had accepted Symington's resignation, effective today, and was nominating McDonald, who has been chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, to the RFC post.

However, the Senate has taken no action on McDonald's nomination.

Farm Bureau

An illustrated talk on plant breeding and seed production will be given tonight at 8:00 o'clock at the High School Farm Building by Earl Adams, seed expert. All members of the Seminole County Farm Bureau are requested to attend. The program chairman is Dr. W. Wilson.

Beer Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bottle of four favorite beer now cost a penny more after Jan. 25.

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) issued an order Monday which permitted beer, wheat, malt and other grain prices to rise on beer beverages.
