Commission gives unanimous approval to law enforcement memorial

Phase One of development of the 20-acre Eugene "Stetson" Gregory Law Enforcement Memorial Park, was approved Tuesday by unanimous vote of the Seminole County Commission.

An impressive presentation was made at the commission meeting by Suzy Goldman, Director of the Library & Leisure Services for the county, along with Seminole County Sheriff's Department Chief Penny Fleming. Also on hand were Deputy Todd Moderson and Sheriff Don Eslinger.

Goldman explained that phase one of the park will include parking areas, a group pavilion, paved driveways, benches and picnic tables, beach volleyball courts and children's playground equipment with separate areas for children 2-5 years old and 5 to 112 years old.

Also planned in Phase One is an on-site Sheriff's Office substation. The facility's physical address is 1610

Lake Harney Road in Geneva. It is at the extreme eastern end of the road, at the shore of Lake Harney.

One of the biggest assists in the project is the donation of the land for use as a park by the property owners.

Construction on the park is expected to begin within a year.

To finance the development of the park, through the efforts of Deputy Moderson, the sheriff's department has raised more than $60,000. Goldman said over $400,000 has been promised in services, materials and in-kind donations by area businesses, and Seminole County had previously set aside $134,881 for the project.

It is not known at this time if there will be a swimming beach at the lake. The Seminole County Health Department will be reviewing that situation at a later time.

Goldman said that in a heavy rain season, it is possible the lake may rise to the point where some of the lake's edge at the park

Post No. 53 stays alive in regional event

As the Herald was going to press, Sanford Campbell-Lossing American Legion Post No. 53 scored seven runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to erase a 4-1 deficit and held off Manning/Santee, South Carolina Post 68, 8-6, Friday afternoon in the Southeast Regional at Shelby, North Carolina. After losing its opener, 10-1, to Alabama Post 53 needed to win its final two pool games to advance to Sunday's semifinals. Sanford will take on host Shelby Post 82 at 8 p.m. tonight (Saturday) with the winner probably advancing.

Denver Cordell, former sheriff, mayor dies at 96

By Nick Pfeiffaut
Staff Writer

A kind and gentle man who played important rolls in the history of Sanford and Seminole County died this past week. Denver Cordell a former sheriff and Sanford mayor, died Thursday, Aug. 15, 2002 at the age of 96.

Born in Hartwell, Ga., he moved to Sanford in 1926 and except for a stint in the U.S. Navy during World War II, he never left his beloved city.

Cordell was a former mayor of Sanford, having been elected unanimously by his fellow City Commissioners on Monday, Jan. 3, 1955. The term was to run for the full year of 1955.

"Two months before the end of my term," he once commented, "The governor appointed me as sheriff of Seminole County, so I decided to leave the commission, but they wouldn't let me. So I was probably the only person to serve in both positions at the same time, even though it was only for two months."

According to Seminole County Chief Deputy Sheriff Steve Harriett, Cordell took over during the brief period of time when Sheriff J. Luther Hobby was suspended from office.

Cordell

"Denver was appointed to serve in that position during the suspension," Harriett said.

At the time of his election as mayor, Cordell, already a member of the city commission, owned a garage, in addition to many other occupations and businesses during his years in Sanford. Friend Mona Walker commented that Cordell was still very active, especially in church work.

"He kept driving that pickup truck around until just a few weeks ago when he was hospitalized," Walker said. "Denver took pride in visiting older friends at their homes and in nursing homes, including one who had reached his 100s."

On July 27 of 2002, Cordell celebrated his 96th birthday. On Cordell's 95th birthday, long-time

ABC plays matchmaker for Sanford dog owners

SANFORD — Dog owners looking for a little romance might want to visit Paw Park on Saturday.

The ABC Family Network is sponsoring a Dog Park Singles Party at the Sanford facility to promote its original movie "Just a Walk in the Park," which premieres 8 p.m. Aug. 18 on the ABC Family channel. The event will include various activities for dogs, refreshments for the canines and their owners, and the chance for single dog owners to find their perfect human match.

"What's really great about Saturday's event is that we are the only city in Florida having it," said

Mike "Gordy" Knipfer, a co-founder of Sanford's Paw Park. "This is going to be a national event held in Sanford, which wouldn't have even been considered if there wasn't a dog park here."

Originally, the network was considering various locations in Florida, including West Palm Beach, to host the event, Knipfer said. Sanford was chosen as a result of the city's initial response to the request.

"Specifically, they were looking for dog parks as locations for the event," Knipfer said. "Our responsiveness to their request drew them to the Sanford park."

The movie is a romantic come-

Astronomers use telescopes to observe the moon. Young scientists in William Cavins class at Lake Mary Elementary School, however, used microscopes during their recent lunar studies.

The fourth-graders were given the chance last week to study lunar rocks and meteorite samples as part of the Lunar Sample Education Project. The fragments, encased in clear Lucite protection, were on loan to the class from NASA, who sponsors the program.

"This is quite an interesting project for the children," Cavins said. "And, it's quite a rare opportunity for them. Not every student gets to see moon rocks."

The students were given the opportunity to study the samples as a result of a decision Cavins made 20 years ago.

"When NASA started the program, they were looking for teachers to be trained in the project," he said. "At that time, I had just come to Seminole County, and I thought it would be interesting and quite an opportunity to participate in the project."

Hundreds attend Chamber Hob Nob

By Dan Ping

SANFORD — About 400 people attended the Sanford Chamber of Commerce's 1st Political Hob Nob.

Thursday's event began with candidates for state and local offices arriving in white stretch limousines and a red carpet entrance.

Angelia Gordon, director of the chamber, said she was pleased with the turnout for the Hob Nob, especially since it was a first-time event.

"The phone has rung off the hook," Gordon said. "I've even had people who weren't there call and say they heard it was a great event."

Gordon said the event had three goals: to give voters an opportunity to meet the candidates, to raise awareness of the chamber, and to raise money for future chamber events. Gordon said the Hob Nob succeeded in all three areas.

"I think everyone got a chance see where the candidates stand on the issues, and people certainly know the chamber is active," Gordon said. "As for raising money, we brought in $5,000 profit not including some money that is still out there to collect."

"The candidates were very happy," Gordon added. "Rep.

(David) Mealor told me it was a first-class event, and Judge (John) Sloop said he hadn't seen anything like it in downtown Sanford in some time."

The highlight of the event was a straw poll that yielded few surprises. Incumbents easily won the non-scientific poll. The state representative race for District 33, vacated by Tom Feeney who is running for Congress in the 24th District, drew the most attention. Five Republicans and one Libertarian candidate are vying to replace Feeney.

Sandy Adams led the District 33 voting with 78 votes, followed

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Should I stay or should I go: Sanford City Commissioner Whitey Eckstein has been asking himself that question for several weeks. The District 4 seat Eckstein has held for four terms is on the city ballot in March.

by Dan Ping

Eckstein told his fellow commissioners during a recent work session that he's not running, but he's made similar statements before. In May he said he would not return to his teaching job at Seminole High School for the new school, but changed his mind over the summer. Whitey says he thinks it's time for someone else to take over the seat. He may be right. A new commissioner brings new ideas and a fresh view of the issues. Having said that, I'd like to see Whitey run again. In the newspaper business there is a saying: "You got to keep some of the old-timers. They know where all the bodies are buried." Whitey brings a perspective to the commission that is colored by 16 years of public service. He's dealt with recessions and boom times. He's had to make tough decisions like issuing a reduction-in-force to city employees when the city's budget was lean, and he helped oversee "fun" projects like the renovation of the stadium when city coffers were plump. In short, Whitey's dealt with just about any issue a city commissioner will have to face. Contrast that with Commissioner Randy Jones and Mayor Brady Lessard. Both are sharp, young leaders, but when Whitey was first elected to office, neither Lessard or Jones could legally drive without an adult in the car. Another thing, Whitey's not as "old school" as he makes himself out to be. Sure, he likes to bust the young guns' chops (he includes Commissioner Art Woodruff in that group), but Whitey votes with them most of the time and has supported progressive ideas like mortgage incentives for police officers and medical savings accounts to stabilize health care costs. Whatever his final decision, Whitey has been an asset to the city. Thanks for your service.

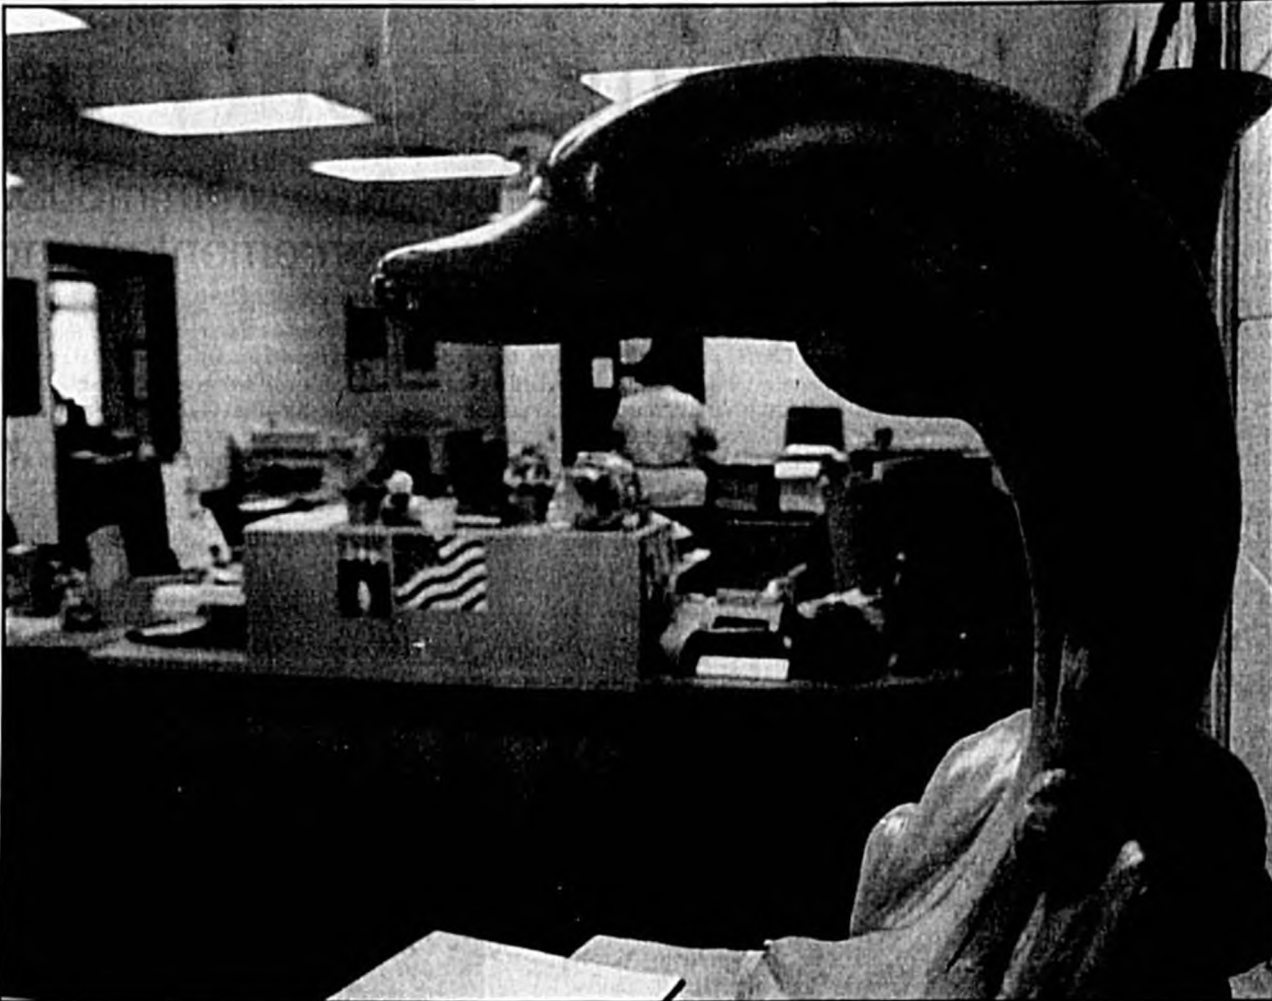

Making the rounds: Among the folks attending the Sanford Chamber of Commerce's first Hob Nob was a lady who has a little experience organizing such events. Diane Parker, director of the Lake Mary Chamber attended Sanford affair in the Civic Center and was reportedly impressed, according to Sanford Chamber director Angelia Gordon. Gordon said Parker had called for tickets and offered a pair to her organization's event which is Aug. 29 at the new Lake Mary Marriott.

Trash talk: I've received quite a few comments about the picture of me standing in a garbage can. Unfortunately, comments like "I didn't know they could fit that much crap in a can," weren't exactly what I was looking for. The city is considering adopting a uniform garbage can for all residents. The change is being driven by a desire to cleanup the city's image and simplify the garbage collection process. A few folks have called to voice their opposition, mainly about the size of the can. The can I modeled was the 95-gallon version. There are smaller ones available. Others said they were opposed to the cans in theory, but didn't want to pay the extra $1.50 per month for the next five years. One lady said she thought the containers looked nice, "but quite frankly, my cans get picked up in the alley where nobody can see them. What do I care what they look like." Keep those phone calls coming.

Walk the Riverwalk: Seems the winning bidder, Harbco Construction, was $2 million less than all other bidders for a reason. Word Around The Clock is one of Harbco's subcontractors, the one that is supposed to build the seawall, is a foreign company that is not directly licensed in the United States. It's affiliated with an American company. The city and Harbco have been hammering out the contract and it may be signed Monday. Mayor Brady Lessard said he has demanded the seawall subcontractor be replaced or his beginning talks with Wharton-Smith, the next lowest bidder. Not sure what happened to the research during the pre-qualifying of contractors on this project, but if the city pre-qualified a team with unlicensed companies, heads should roll. Stay tuned.

Cover your bases: Speaking of the Riverwalk, the city would be well advised to hire an outside, independent construction manager to oversee the project. Just ask the county about their experiences with the public safety building. Not wanting to have future problems, County Commissioners have hired an outside firm to ensure the new courthouse is built right and double check that the contractor did what his bills claim he did. Sanford is spending $10 million of taxpayer money. We don't need the seawall leaking like the Seminole County Public Safety Building.

Charles Dwayne Wallace, 52, listed as homeless from Winter Park, was found by Sanford police Wednesday in a wooded area off Southgate Road. He was charged with possession of under 20 grams of marijuana and possession of narcotics equipment.

and Holly Avenue, with a flashlight still in his possession. He was charged with possession of a controlled substance (cocaine) and possession of narcotics equipment.

She was located in Castle Brewer Court, and arrested on a charge of grand theft of a motor vehicle. The vehicle was recovered at 10th Street and Mangoustine Avenue, being driven by a male who was not charged.

The Government Finance Officers Association (GFOA) has awarded its Certificate of Achievement for Excellence in Financial Reporting to the Seminole County Public Schools District Finance Department.

The GFOA is a nonprofit professional association representing all types of governmental agencies in the United States and Canada.

Students need to register for ACT by Aug. 23

The next ACT assessment will be administered on Sept. 28. College-bound high school students must register for the college admissions exam by Aug. 23 — the deadline for having the registration postmarked.

There is a late registration postmark deadline of Sept. 6, but an extra fee will be charged. Students can get registration packets from their high school counselors or register online at www.act.org.

ACT scores are accepted by virtually all U.S. colleges and universities including all Ivy League schools. The ACT is not an aptitude test — it is an academic achievement test that measures students on what they learned in high school. Because it is curriculum-based, colleges use ACT scores for more than admissions decisions. They use scores to place freshmen into classes that the students are academically prepared to handle. The test fee in Florida is $28.

A free sample test is available from high school counselors in a brochure called Preparing for the ACT Assessment.

Sanford Proud

Orlando Mayor Glenda Hood's decision to hire Mike McCoy as the city's chief of police is a testament to the tremendous changes that have occurred at the Sanford Police Department. Five years ago the department was characterized as the "most dysfunctional" police unit in the nation after an audit by a respected law enforcement consultant. Today it's quickly becoming one of the best department's in the state, so much so that Central Florida's largest city has decided that McCoy, SPD's second-in-command, is the best choice as top cop.

Much as we hate to see him go, McCoy is a good choice to lead Orlando's police force. He's a no-nonsense commander who gets the best out of his employees with a gentle leadership style that demands accountability and fairness. During his tenure in Sanford, McCoy helped oversee the revitalization of the police department that included new, proactive crime-fighting techniques, better technology for officers, and the recruitment of top officers from the academics and other agencies. Fifty percent of the 110-person force has been hired since McCoy and Police Chief Brian Tooley took over three years ago.

Tooley deserves a pat on the back, as well. After all, he had the foresight to hire McCoy in the first place. His choice to fill McCoy's shoes — most likely from within the ranks — will no doubt be a good selection.

McCoy's departure sets an interesting precedent. Perhaps the next time Mayor Hood is in a jam to fill a top management position, she'll look to little 'ol Sanford to bail her out again. Our fair city has endured years of snide remarks from across the region. Now Central Florida is looking at Sanford as the pacesetter.

Just one more reason for the residents of the Celery City to be "Sanford Proud."

Diplomas for veterans

Let's face it. You can see by my photo that I'm no youngster. I wasn't born yesterday. It's more like the seven decades ago.

I was in high school at the end of World War II when the veterans returned home. My senior year saw a number of men re-entering high school to obtain their diplomas. It was unusual to have men in their early to mid 20s in our class, but they had left home to serve their country and now was the time to continue their lives.

This was in Michigan. I don't know how it was here in Florida during the late 1940s.

But in the year 2000, Florida passed a law that said veterans of World War II, who didn't finish high school, could receive a diploma. Now, as of July 1, 2002, Education Commissioner Charlie Crist and Rocky McPherson, Director of Administration with the Department of Veterans' Affairs, got a new law passed, to provide diplomas for veterans of the Korean war who meet certain criteria.

Crist said, "We are honored to have the privilege of recognizing those Floridians who answered the call to action and fought for freedom during the Korean War."

McPherson commented, "This diploma will honor those in our state who were forced to discontinue their high school education due to wartime circumstances."

The requirements to receive the diploma include the following: Korean veterans must be a Florida resident; must have been inducted into military service between June 1950 and January 1954; received an honorable discharge; started high school between 1946 and 1950; and were scheduled to graduate from high school between 1950 and 1954.

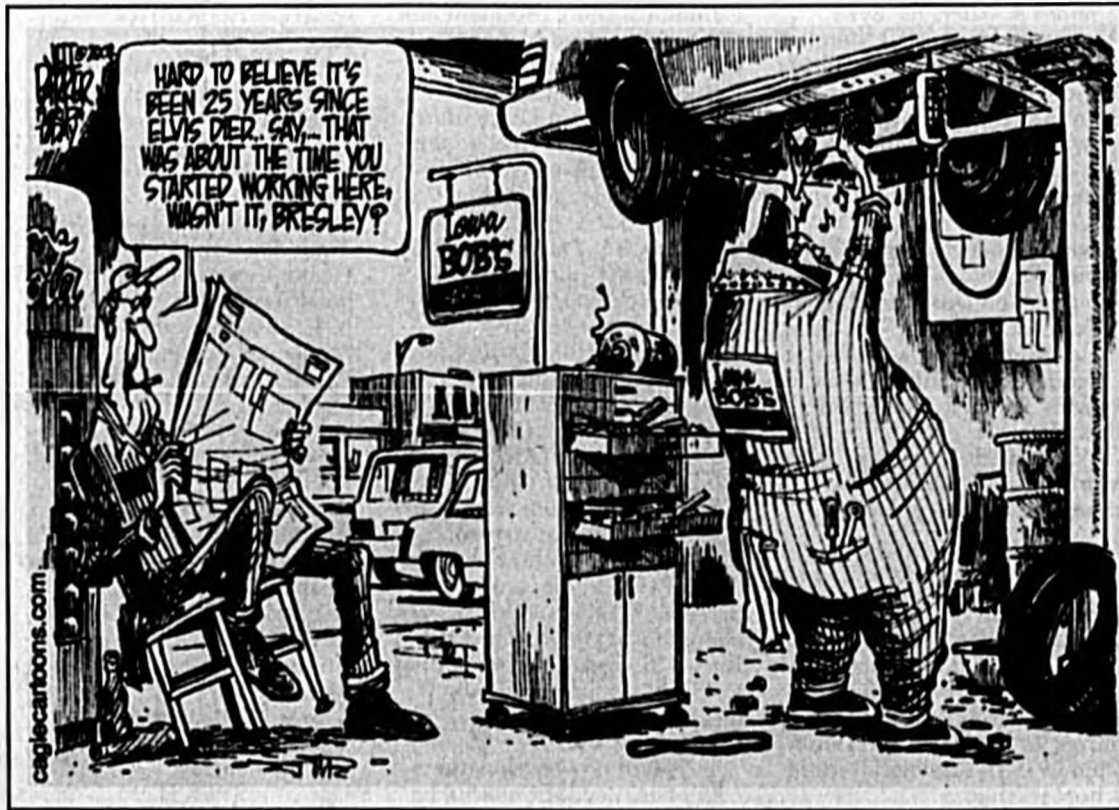

I fit into every one of these requirements except I graduated from high school first, then I enlisted in November 1950.

As a Korean War veteran, I am pleased that Florida has enacted these laws for my fellow veterans. Now it is my hope that the Viet Nam War and possibly the Gulf War will be included in the near future.

It is also my hope that Michigan and other states will enact similar legislation to provide their veterans with high school diplomas. Some folks say that during the first two years of high school, you learn how to use what you have learned. Certainly, the years spent in military service teach us plenty.

If you qualify and would like to obtain a diploma, contact the Department of Veterans' Affairs Web site at www.floridavets.org or phone 1-800-827-7400.

I see this as a good move. Many employers seek workers with at least a high school diploma, as do institutions of higher education. Through this Florida law, things may improve for many veterans.

Government should stay out of private sector

To: Mayor Brady Lessard
City of Sanford

Dear Mayor Lessard:

I have read with great interest recently of the possibility of Sanford issuing some type of moratorium on the construction of apartment buildings within the city limits. I personally feel more thought and discussion should be given to this particular subject.

1. I don't think it is a good suggestion for government to interfere with the private sector. That type of control, as I have always said, tends to be communistic in theory and it never works.

2. With the cost of homes today, a large segment of the population frankly cannot afford the down payment, or they can't qualify or afford the monthly payments and all of the expenses involved in home ownership.

3. Practically all apartment construction is financed through various mortgage companies and if the developer cannot prove to the lender that in fact he can service the debt, he won't get the loan to construct.

4. If more apartments are constructed with a liberal lender and the vacancy rate increases in the apartment industry in Sanford, this could be one of the best things that could happen to Sanford. I personally believe that the apartment rent today is too high and the only way it is going to decrease is through competition. When the occupancy rate is down to 80 percent or possibly even less, you will see the rent rates decline 10 to 20 percent. This would certainly assist many, many families at the poverty level in securing a home for their family.

5. Lastly, for Sanford to continue to flourish it has to attract new business and support the new merchants discovering Sanford, including but not limited to more car dealerships, SAM'S Club, a new Wal-Mart and a new Lowe's under construction on 17-92.

Their presence in Sanford is based on the purchasing power of the masses. To have the masses, one has to have affordable housing, whether it is single family, condos or apartments, but in most cases it will always be apartments. Apartment living for many, is a very good lifestyle.

Ample security, swimming pools, recreation, landscaping, and a system of "pay as you go" is absolutely necessary.

I think the City would do well by spending additional time, effort and resources to have an overall cleanup/fixup program to rehab many of the older homes. Owners should be given a period of time to make improvements on those that are old and dilapidated, unsafe or unsanitary. In cases where this doesn't work, it would be better to demolish the structure.

I am proud to be a resident of Sanford. I know it is not easy, but I do appreciate the good job you are doing as our mayor. Keep up the good work.

Secrecy is winning the war against freedom

On June 6, President Bush ended his address to the nation on homeland security legislation by saying: "History has called our nation into action. ... Will America — with our unique position and power — blink in the face of terror, or will we lead to a freer, more civilized world? There's only one answer: This country will lead the world to safety, security, peace and freedom."

It sounded as if our homeland was the whole world. Now that his anti-terrorism legislation has become law, it is obvious that he meant what he said — and perhaps more. Fast-forward to last week, after he signed the 35-page Homeland Security Act of 2002. These paragraphs are from The New York Times of Aug. 10:

"The Bush administration, making use of the new anti-terrorism law, warned foreign diplomats this week that their nations could lose all military aid if they became members of the International Criminal Court without protecting Americans serving in their countries from its reach ..."

"Under a little-remarked provision in the anti-terrorism package President Bush signed last week, President Uribe (of Colombia) can now use dozens of American-applied helicopters as well as Colombian soldiers who were trained by United States troops in operations against leftist guerrillas. ... Previous guidelines limited the use of the helicopters and soldiers to anti-drug operations."

Two days later, on Aug. 12, The Times reported: "Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld is considering ways to expand broadly the role of American Special Operations forces in the global campaign against terrorism, including sending them worldwide to capture or kill al-Qaida leaders far from the battlefields of Afghanistan."

So, we are not only preparing to get back into the assassination business everywhere in the world, but our trained killers will be immune from any punishment and any questioning not personally approved by Bush and his successors. One way to define the reach of the power the United States thinks it has is to note that only a handful of countries do not receive some of the billions of dollars a year we spread around in military aid to other countries.

This is our new idea of law and order. Republicans have taken to calling the international court "the rogue court." We have decided to make our stand on a 1950s Cold War view of law. It all seemed so sensible, even moral, until President Kennedy was assassinated in 1963 and the public discovered, in congressional hearings in 1975, that our guys were out there trying to kill anyone who disagreed with us, beginning with Fidel Castro. Judging by that, we will learn what is going on now in about 30 or 40 years — when it will be too late.

Once again, Congress is signing off on it knows not what. The law passed by the Senate and House also provides that if any country defies us by charging any Americans, military or civilian, the president has the authority to free them by any "necessary and appropriate means" — up to and including invasion. We could, for instance, invade the Netherlands if international courts charged one of us with conduct unbecoming an American.

On the night of June 6, President Bush began by telling Americans that he would propose "sweeping changes that will strengthen our homeland." He has been as good as his word. The president's overseas military and intelligence operations are going on out there somewhere in the fog war, deception and lies on all sides. Next, we will see, almost, what the White House and Pentagon and law enforcement agencies plan to do in the actual homeland itself.

"Freedom and fear are at war — and freedom is winning," Bush said that night. At home, he might have added, freedom and secrecy are at war — and secrecy is winning that one.

On the Street

The Herald asks people what they think ...

Major League Baseball players said Friday they have set a strike date for Aug. 30. If the players and owners don't reach an agreement, it will be the sport's ninth work stoppage since 1972. We asked several people if they think it's a good idea for the players to strike, and if yes, why?

I don't think they will go on strike.
Angel Figueroa
Deltona

I think they will go on strike, but I don't think they should. It will ruin baseball.
Kevin Danforth
Orlando

They shouldn't go on strike, it will end baseball. They just built up the sport again after the last strike. Going on strike will be suicide.
Lee Hood
Sanford

They should absolutely not go on strike. They should be able to work it out. To shut the game down, it would be like shooting themselves in the head. It will kill the game.
Duane J. LaFollette
Sanford

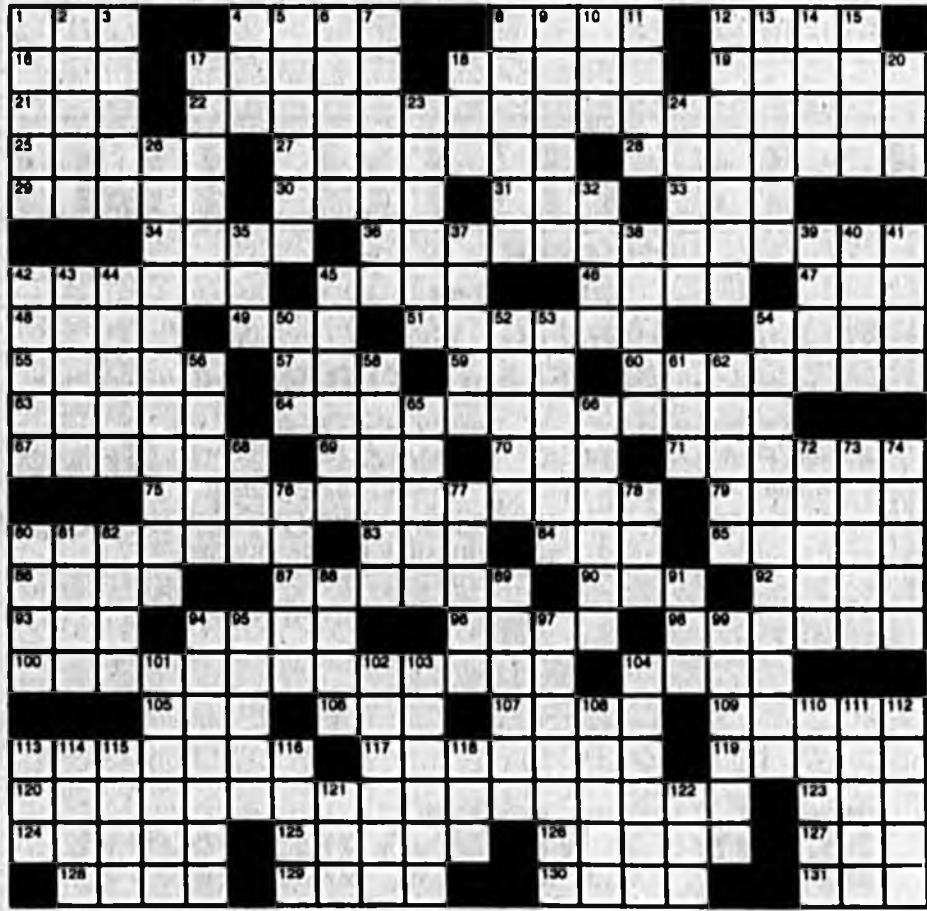

It would not be fair to give an answer in two or three sentences. Once you get baseball in your blood, you can't get it out. The situation is just too complex.

The Way We Were: Readers add to memories of McReynolds Drug Store

Since the McReynolds Drug Store articles appeared, I have received further information, which I will share today.

Clara Haskins (Mrs. John) Sauls, called with a few of her memories. Her father, Harold Haskins, Sr., Sanford postmaster at that time (1925) was the first man that Doc A.C. McReynolds met in Sanford. Doc asked Mr.

Grace Marie Stinecpher

Haskins for input as to where to locate his drugstore, and he suggested the corner of Sanford Avenue and 25th Street.

Doc McReynolds followed his advice which proved to be an excellent choice. Clara recalls buying suckers and other candy there for two cents each. Doc also sold harmonicas which she and her family and friends purchased. And there were corn cob pipes for sale, which she claimed were bought by her and her friends. They used them with rabbit tobacco.

Her brother, Harold Haskins, Jr., now lives in Gainesville. He worked at McReynolds during the late 1930s to earn money for college. Clara also remembered that Chum Stanley worked there.

Bob Schultz called me with an interesting story. When he was about four years old during the late 1940s, he became critically ill with diphtheria. Since this was serious, his grandmother, Mrs. W.W. Linz called Doc McReynolds at his home in the middle of the night. Doc opened the store and sold her a prescription which saved Bob's life. The drugs kept him alive until he was able to get to the hospital in Orlando where he had emergency surgery. I'm sure that Bob and his family were friends and customers of Doc McReynolds for life.

This incident was written up in an article about Doc McReynolds which Mr. Schultz later sent me. The article was written circa 1959 when the drugstore moved to Park Drive. And we learn more about Doc and his drugstore from this.

Doc McReynolds and his brother Ralph opened the drugstore here in 1925. Soon afterwards, Ralph opened his own drugstore in Longwood, which was still operating at the time of the article.

Doc recalled that the only other pharmacy operators in Sanford at that time were Gene Roumillat and Bruce Anderson (Roumillat and Andersons) and J.O. Laney (Laney's).

In addition to his experience with Bob Schultz, Doc recalled another incident. One night burglars crawled through a grill into the store where they found everything to their convenience. By plugging their electric drill into a wall socket right next to the safe, they bored open the metal door and helped themselves.

Doc figured that on an average day he had served 700 customers during the drugstore's 33 existence. That meant that McReynolds Drug Company had served about 5 million people.

Doc estimated that 250 persons had been his employees. Next to Doc, druggist A.C. Rector had been there the longest, 10 years.

A few prominent people who had visited the store were U.S. Senator George Smathers, former New York Giant Southpaw Carl Hubbel, and old time big leaguer Zinn Beck.

A road widening project was the cause of the drugstore's move from its prime location. The project would take all the parking places and perhaps part of the building.

The 65 year old graduate of Atlanta College of Pharmacy said, "I've enjoyed a good business there and consider it one of the best locations in Sanford. But it is untenable because of the widening of the street."

As reported before, McReynolds Drug Co. endured approximately 10 more years at the Park Drive location before Doc McReynolds retired in 1968.

Picture Identifications

Dorothy Pezold Raines called to identify another one of the American Legion members in the picture published July 28. The third man from the right is her father, Paul Pezold. She said that these men were called "The Dirty Dozen" and that they also sold the old World War I cannon from the front of the Legion's log cabin for recycling.

Flirting fiance isn't ready for marriage

DEAR ABBY: I am a 22-year-old woman who has been engaged to "Bill" for nine months. We plan to be married next spring. Bill and I were friends for years, but last year we started dating and got serious. We have been very happy until just recently. My best friend, "Molly," and Bill have been spending a lot of time together. He helped her move, runs errands with her, and has even gone so far as to work overtime, but only at midnight — when Molly works.

The two of them are always giggling, playfully grabbing and slapping each other's arms — and when Molly's around, Bill ignores me completely. We haven't made love in more than two months. However, Bill and Molly's conversation is laced with sexual innuendo.

Am I correct to assume that Bill is having an affair with her? I've confronted him, but he says I'm jealous and insecure because my last relationship ended when my ex cheated on me. Is he right, Abby? Or is he a cheating dog?

I love this man with all my heart and want to trust him, but my gut tells me otherwise.

DOUBTING HIM
IN SARNIA, ONTARIO

DEAR DOUBTING: Listen to your gut. Even if there is no affair, you're picking up on "vibes" of sexual attraction and tension. If he's this easily distracted and going out of his way to be with other women before you're married, imagine what it will be like afterward.

Do not marry this man without premarital counseling. It will give you both an opportunity to express what you expect from each other.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were married six months ago. We've known each other since we were kids. As teenagers, we were both in and out of trouble. A year ago we faced a substance abuse problem together and took steps toward making a fresh start.

When we tied the knot, we made a commitment to put our past behind us and move forward as partners. However, two months after our wedding, my husband came home one night and said he felt trapped and wanted to be free.

He left me and started drinking and doing drugs again. I am committed to staying clean and sober. Although I know I had no control over him, I begged him to come home so we could work on his addiction.

After being gone for two weeks, he returned home and promised never to leave me again. He said he had just needed time to realize what we had.

Now, four months later, I have discovered his boss fired him for using heroin. So what did my husband do? He left me again. Two days after that, I filed for divorce. But I love him so much I can't stop asking myself if I did the right thing. Should I have given my marriage a little more time, Abby?

STILL IN LOVE WITH A NEW ORLEANS DRUGGIE

DEAR STILL IN LOVE: I don't think so. His relapse into heroin use makes it apparent that he hasn't licked his addiction, and it is vital that you not allow yourself to be dragged down with him.

If, at some later date, he is able to manage his sickness — and addiction is a sickness — you can revisit the question of whether he's a suitable lifetime partner. But for now, I'd say you did the right thing.

by Tom Lagomarsino (44 votes), Dean Mosely (37), James Coakley (7), Phillip Hampton (7) and Michael Rathel (3). Coakley is the Libertarian candidate and will face the winner of the Sept. 10 Republican primary during November's general election. Incumbent Republican Bill State Rep. David Meador easily won the poll for District 34 gaining 117 votes to just 37 for his Republican primary opponent Dr. Clyde Climer. Libertarian Christopher Wheeler received 16 votes.

Republican State Rep. David Simmons defeated Libertarian Timothy Moriarty 133 to 24.

Incumbent Republican Bill Posey doubled up the vote total of his primary opponent, Harry Goode Jr., 88 to 44, in the District 24 state senate race.

In local races, incumbent Randy Morris beat Bill Daniel 125 to 38 for the Seminole County Commission District 2 race.

School Board member Jeanne Morris received 118 votes while her opponent Oscar Pendleton earned 50.

Feeney, a Republican, out paced his Democratic opponent Harry Jacobs 129 to 55 in the 24th Congressional District race. Republican Congressman John Mica likewise scored a large win with 143 votes compared to 38 for the Democratic candidate Wayne Hogan.

In the only loss for an incumbent, Democratic Congresswoman Corrine Brown received 49 votes, while her Republican opponent Jennifer Carroll earned 132. The Brown-Carroll race is a rematch of the 2000 District 3 congressional race, which Brown won handily.

Governor Jeb Bush easily won with 123 votes, but it was the results on the Democratic side that presented the biggest surprise. Front-runner Janet Reno earned 10 votes, while Bill McBride and State Sen. Daryl Jones tied with 26 votes each. Jones has run a distant third to McBride and Reno in statewide polls.

Charlie Crist received 60 votes for state attorney general, followed by Buddy Dyer (44), Tom Warner (35), Locke Burt (16), Scott Maddox (10), George Sheldon (5), and Walt Dartland (1).

Charles Bronson won the Commissioner of Agriculture race with 119 votes, followed by Winter Springs veterinarian "Dr. Andy" Michaud (23), David Nelson (21), and Mary Barley (13).

"It was a great event, and I think everyone had a good time," Gordon said. "All of our sponsors did a wonderful job. The restaurants provided all the food at no charge, and they had some good response. There was plenty to eat and drink."

While Gordon praised all of the sponsors for their involvement, she singled out Showgear National Production Services from Orange City for their contri-

Due to security reasons, NASA will only loan the samples to individuals who go through the required training. Last week's loan to Lake Mary Elementary School was the sixth or seventh time Cavins has been able to bring the project to his students.

"When I told the students they were going to see the moon rocks, they got really excited," Cavins said. "However, some of them thought the samples were going to be larger, like real rocks."

The lunar samples, which are no larger than an inch apiece, were gathered from the moon during NASA's Apollo missions and include orange and Highland soils, basalt and Breccia.

"The meteorite samples are from here on earth," Cavins said. "They were collected from meteors found on the planet."

Fourth-grader Zach Lauer said his favorite sample was the lunar orange soil.

"It is really spotty, not like you would think it would be," Lauer said. "And, I learned how they chipped the rocks off with little chisels to bring them back to earth."

Along with educational material provided by NASA, the teaching team at Lake Mary Elementary created a science unit centered on the rock samples. During the week students observed, measured and sketched the various types of fragments.

On Friday, the samples were sent back to NASA, but Cavins hopes to bring them back to the school so future students have the opportunity to see moon rocks.

"It's such a wonderful program," he said. "These samples are a part of our national treasure."

dy that follows a quirky New York City dog walker, Adam, and his romantic interest, Rachel. Both are dog owners that fall in love, although there are some problems along the way.

To promote the movie, dog park singles parties will be held from 2 to 6 p.m. Saturday in 20 cities, including Atlanta, Los Angeles, Chicago and Sanford. Using new technology, party guests will answer a few questions about themselves and their pets onto an electronic tablet. The responses will be scored and the player will receive a special barcode label to wear.

friend Dean Ray said Cordell was still working on repairing pumps practically every day.

"He told me recently he's feeling ready to retire, but was looking for some younger person, perhaps in his 60s, to take over the business," Ray said.

On the anniversary of his birth last year, Cordell started the day getting a hair cut. "This is probably the first day in six months

Staffers, who will be armed with mobile scanners, will mingle with the crowd and scan labels. The scanner's screen will indicate whether the survey responses of two players are the same, similar or completely different. When a match appears, the screener's work will be done.

However, dog owners who aren't looking for their perfect match are also encouraged to join the party.

"The event is open to everyone, Knipfer said. "There's going to be a lot of activities, free giveaways and refreshments. You don't have to be single or a dog owner to come and enjoy the day." Planned activities include free pet portraits, dog agility demonstrations and live entertainment. Refreshments include an appetizer buffet and beverage bar for guests and gourmet treats for their four-legged friends.

On Saturday, dog owners are reminded to keep their canines leashed, unlike other days at the park. The four-hour party will be a "leashed" event due to safety considerations.

The event is free to the public. Paw Park is located at 427 S. French Ave. in Sanford. For more information, visit the park's Web site at www.pawparksanford.org

"He was a kind and gentle man," said neighbor Bonnie Taylor. "We'll miss him. He was loved by all."

Survivors include son, James A. Cordell and son's wife, Laurie of Ponte Vedra Beach; sister, Sue Koke of Sanford; grandchildren Judith Smith, James M. Cordell, Terry D. Cordell and Lee Seaman; and great-grandson Denver Tyscon Smith.

Visitation will be Sunday, Aug. 18 from 5 until 7 p.m. at the Gramkow Funeral Home Chapel.

Funeral services will be 10 a.m. Monday, Aug. 19 at First Baptist Church of Sanford on Park Avenue, with the Rev. Rick Blythe officiating.

Burial will follow at the Oaklawn Park Cemetery in Lake Mary.

will be underwater, but she assured commissioners that the physical facilities and the fishing dock and pier will not be affected. Likewise, playground areas, restrooms and pavilions will be located on land above the 100-year flood zone.

The park is being named in memory of Seminole County Deputy Eugene Gregory, who was killed July 8, 1998 while on duty in the Geneva area. Nicknamed "Stetson" because of the Stetson hat he always wore, Gregory joined the Seminole County Sheriff's department in 1988, working in the Geneva area from September, 1991 to July, 1998. Prior to that, he ran a family owned and operated lumberyard, Gregory Lumber in Sanford from 1971 to 1992.

In addition to Gregory, the park is being dedicated to the people he served, as well as all Seminole County Law Enforcement Officers and to give the youth of Geneva a place for recreation.

Phase Two of the park will include a 14,700 square foot boardwalk that will wind through the wooded wetlands. It will have informative kiosks explaining the wetlands and various plants and animals in the area. A 300 foot pier and pier pavilion will extend into Lake Hamey. There will also be additional landscaping and park signage.

According to Deputy Todd Moderson, project manager, donations are still needed and being accepted at any Citizens Bank of Oviedo or Washington Mutual Bank. Checks should be made payable to "Law Enforcement Memorial Park Fund". They may also be mailed to the Seminole County Sheriff's office, Dist. 4, Attn: D/S Todd A. Moderson, 100 Bush Blvd., Sanford, 32773-6706. For questions, phone Moderson at 407-977-6381.

Sanford: Our First 125 Years

Caroline Crapps submitted this photo of her father, W.C. Hill, taken in 1914 on Magnolia Avenue, probably in the 6th or 7th Street area.

Recalling Sanford's heritage, SANFORD: OUR FIRST 125 YEARS will feature hundreds of photographs on 128 pages. This treasure chest of memories will include photos from Sanford of yesteryear, giving the reader a glimpse of life in Sanford years ago.

This book will be edited locally by the staff of the Seminole Herald and bound with an attractive, durable cover, making it of heirloom quality.

Work on this pictorial history is commencing at this time. The finished product will be available by late November, 2002, just in time for Christmas giving!

You will want a copy of Sanford: Our First 125 Years not only for yourself, but your loved ones as well.

What a great gift idea for those who call Sanford "home."

Be sure to reserve your copies with the coupon below.

Aria-Jane Lundquist submitted this picture of her husband, Raymond E. Lundquist, as a child. Taken in 1921, the photo includes Raymond's parents, Nora Bergquist Lundquist and Edwin W. Lundquist.

Candidates warned to watch where they put their signs

From Staff Reports

The Florida Department of Transportation has sent a flier to regional elections offices in an effort to educate candidates and their supporters on prohibitions against placing campaign signs on public road rights-of-way. Some have already been spotted, and removed.

According to Michael Snyder,

DOT District Five Secretary, it's a matter of motorist safety. Improperly placed campaign signs can create a hazard by obstructing a motorist's view of intersection traffic and regulatory or advisory signs. Additionally, mowing or other maintenance functions can be delayed by the need for sign removal.

Snyder says the DOT has neither the desire or the staff to dedicate a portion of the workforce to the task of removing all campaign signs from the state right-of-way, but he stressed, "We will remove signs that affect either safety criteria or maintenance functions."

If it becomes necessary to remove signs, he said an attempt will be made to notify campaign headquarters in order that expensive signs can be recovered from one of several Central Florida Maintenance Yards before they are destroyed.

However, Snyder says such notification cannot be guaranteed.

In Seminole County, the FDOT Maintenance Yard can be reached at 407-977-6530.

Code enforcers patrol on bikes

The City of Sanford Code Enforcement staff is now utilizing bicycles periodically for code enforcement inspections. This should provide citizens better accessibility to the officers as they travel through the neighborhoods. Officer Morales and Officer Wixon of the Sanford Police Department provided training to the code enforcement staff on the proper operation of the bicycles on July 24. At least one day a week, code enforcement will be out on the bicycles. This outreach will give officers a different perspective of the City than driving by in a vehicle.

Deputies injured in jail fight with federal prisoner

Four Seminole County Sheriff's Office Corrections Deputies were injured early Wednesday morning when they struggled with a federal prisoner who was being held in the John E. Polk Corrections Facility.

Shortly after midnight, the prisoner, Kashawn Miller, 29, was being moved from a section of the jail to the administrative confinement area because he was being disruptive. Once in the administrative confinement area, Miller ran into an open cell and would not come out.

Deputies were sent in to get him. During the encounter, Miller fought with them. Deputy Todd Sylvester's jail keys were taken, which Miller used as a weapon, striking the deputy. Miller bit another deputy, Deputy Kenneth Burnham. A third, Deputy Roy Dumars, was struck on the hand and forearm. The fourth, Deputy David Stewart, was kicked and punched. Three of the deputies, all but Stewart, were taken to the hospital for treatment and released.

A medical check revealed no injuries were noted on Miller. Miller now faces four counts of Battery on a Law Enforcement officer.

Seminole County is under contract with the U.S. Government to house federal prisoners while they await court proceedings.

Airports monitor general aviation operations for terrorist activities

From Staff Reports

Officials at the Orlando Sanford International Airport, as well as all other civil and general aviation pilots and airports are being alerted regarding the possibility of terrorist operations.

According to an alert sent out by the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) to all airports, terrorists are no longer able to hijack commercial airlines because of increased security at commercial airports.

TSA adds that it has no credible information concerning specific targets, timing or methods, but there are reasons to believe problems could occur at general aviation (GA) airports and the aircraft they have in operation.

The TSA is asking members of the general aviation community to report all unusual and suspicious activities, if you observe persons, aircraft and operations that do not fit the customary practice at the airport.

They recommend increased vigilance should be directed toward, (1) Aircraft with unusual or unauthorized modifications; (2) Persons loitering in the vicinity of aircraft or air operations areas; (3) Persons who appear to be under stress or the control of other persons; (4) Persons whose identification appears altered or inconsistent.

Miscues tell story in rout of Post 53

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SHELBY, N.C. — One run wasn't nearly enough this time.

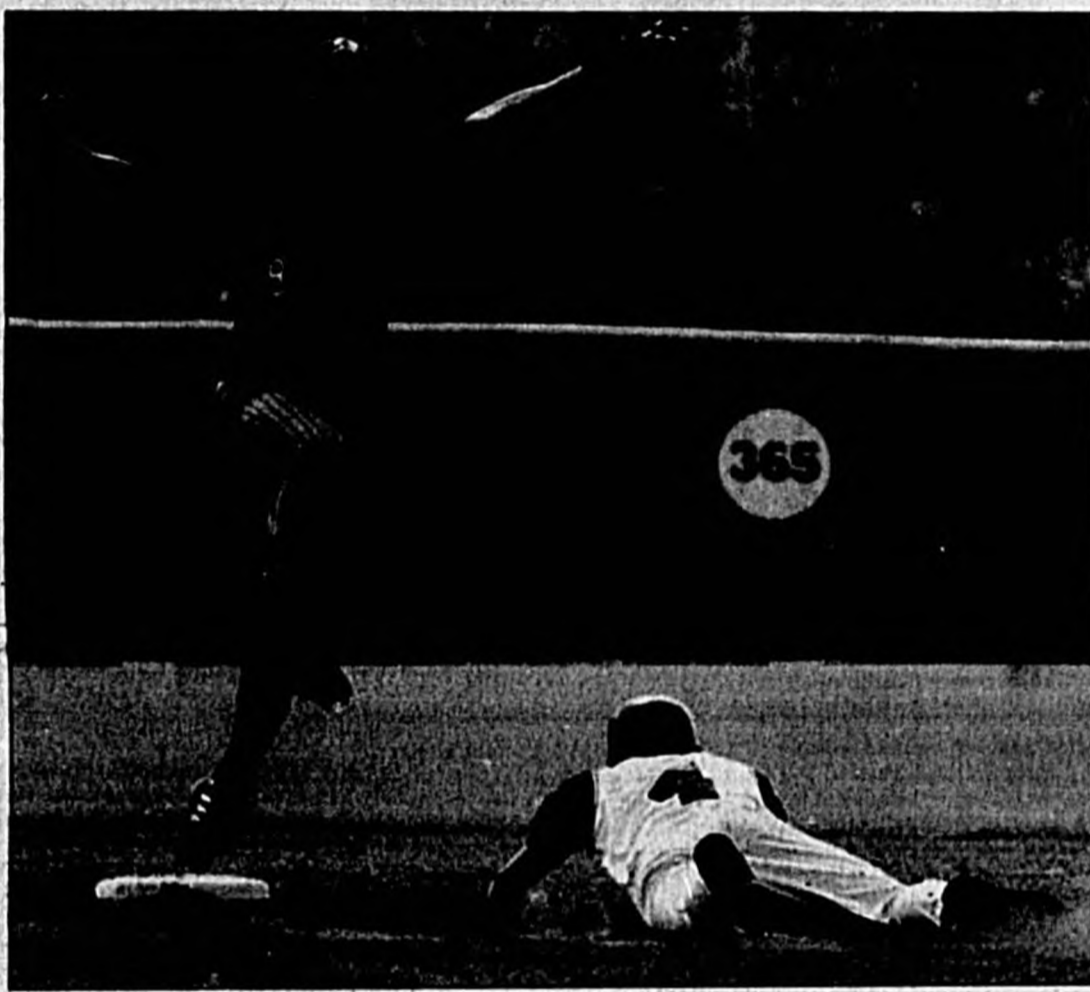

Back in June, Sanford Campbell-Lossing American Legion Post 53 scored the game's only run in the bottom of the seventh inning as it edged Dothan (AL) Post 12 in the Championship Game of the DeLand Firecracker Tournament.

And for five innings in Thursday's opening game of the American Legion Southeast Regional Tournament on Veterans Field in Hoyt S. Keeter Stadium at Shelby High School it looked as if one run might be the difference again.

But two key errors in the top of the sixth inning led to six unearned runs and Post 12 (57-9) would add two more unearned runs later with the help of two more Post 53 miscues as it avenged that earlier loss, 10-1.

Sanford (40-7) played the South Carolina champions (Manning/Santee Post 68) Friday afternoon and will take on host Shelby Post 82 tonight (Saturday) at 8 p.m. The team needs victories in both games to assure itself a place in Sunday's Final 4.

D.J. Ackley (right) started for Post 53 and threw shutout ball for five innings, allowing only two hits and a walk, before getting roughed up for six runs, none earned, in the sixth inning.

Outdoors-Woman weekends scheduled

Special to the Herald

OCALA — The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) is hosting two weekend workshops for women who want to bring home the wild bacon, fry it up in the pan and learn a variety of outdoor skills.

The FWC invites women, 18 and older, to attend a Becoming an Outdoors-Woman weekend camp to improve their skills and enjoy a few recreational activities. In four, four-hour sessions workshops teach skills associated with hunting, fishing and other outdoor recreation.

The Becoming an Outdoors-Woman program offers a fun and supportive atmosphere to experiment and enjoy the camaraderie of others who want to learn about Florida's great outdoors. Although it is designed with women in mind, the camp is the perfect setting for anyone who wants to learn in a comfortable, non-threatening, non-competitive, hands-on atmosphere.

The camp's instructors strive to make participants feel at ease. There is none of the impatience beginners often encounter when trying to learn outdoor skills.

"Patience is the secret to the success of our Becoming an Outdoors-Woman program," said Lynne Hawk, director of the program. "Our instructors are here to guide people through the activities. There is no intimidation."

This is the eighth year FWC has offered Becoming an Outdoors-Woman workshops. More than 2,000 women have completed the program. "We get rave reviews," Hawk said.

The workshops will be at two

SSC 12U team qualifies for Super World Series

By Dean Smith

FIVE POINTS — A successful summer has led to the ultimate for the Seminole Softball Club's 12-and-Under traveling team.

A trip to the NSA Super World Series.

The team has racked up an impressive 10 third place or better finishes in 12 tournaments so far this summer, winning six titles, capped off with a finish in the top 16 at the 72-team NSA National Tournament that earned the team an invitation to the Super World Series.

At this point in time, the Seminole Softball Club is the only Central Florida team that has qualified for the NSA Super World Series and it is very likely that it will be the only Florida team there.

The team has amassed an excellent overall record of 55-12-2, including finishing third in the state of Florida.

Among some of the major tournaments the team has played in this summer and their finishes are:

Palatka Grand Slam, second place; Apopka May Mayhem, third place; West Orange Spring Fling, champions; Ormond Beach Spring Blast, champions; Seminole Classic, champions; Gainesville Gator Invitational, champions; ASA NIT Disney, champions; Bartow 10th Annual Summer Slam, champions; Swamp Classic, second place; and NSA "A" State Championships, third place.

The Super World Series had its inaugural year in 2001 and Seminole Softball Club was represented by the Seminole Warriors 16U team. This tourna-

Wayne Densch Sports Center project underway

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO — University of Central Florida football coach Mike Kruczek was all smiles April 4, when he witnessed the ceremonial groundbreaking for the long-awaited Wayne Densch Sports Center. As much as that day meant to him, it doesn't compare to the feeling of satisfaction he experienced Tuesday morning when he saw the lot being cleared.

"Ceremonies are nice for all the dignitaries," Kruczek said. "Actually seeing something happen is the gratifying thing. It shows progress and we are all elated about that."

A soggy practice field meant a trip across campus to the new fields waiting to be used by the Golden Knights when they take occupancy in the new building next summer. That's when Kruczek saw the work being done.

"They've done a great job in a short period of time clearing out a nice pass," Kruczek said. "Obviously we are anxious to see the foundation being poured and the different stages after that, but this is a sign that things are headed in the right direction and that's a big shot in the arm for everybody involved with this football program."

After a few minor delays, including the relocating of a gopher turtle, the project has officially begun to take shape. The first step was the clearing of the lot. It is estimated the building will take between eight and 10 months to complete.

"This is just the first stage of the site preparation," James Greenwell, UCF Asst. AD for Facilities and Operations, said. "You will begin to see more and more activity in the coming weeks as the project moves toward a full-fledged site prep and civil engineering phase. At that time a construction schedule will be issued that will detail the timeline for the remainder of the project."

The football program is expected to move to the new facility by June of next year. The new Wayne Densch Sports Center will feature a state-of-the-art 10,000 square-foot strength and conditioning center and a 5,000 square-foot sports medicine center that will be utilized by all of the university's student-athletes. In addition, as home to the UCF football program, a highlight of the sports center will be a 4,000 square-foot locker room and a theatre-style team-meeting auditorium.

The facility will be a key building in the University's sports complex that currently houses the UCF Arena and Jay Bergman Field. It will be adjacent to the six new practice fields located on the northeast side of the campus. The total cost of the project is estimated at $6 million.

DOUBLE SESSIONS WINDING DOWN; MASCOE MAKING THE MOST OF PRESEASON CAMP

The UCF football team continued to cheat the weather on Thursday getting in a pair of workouts as two-a-day camp continued. The first session consisted of a substantial amount of team time in full pads. The second session was geared toward play recognition, developing reads and timing with the team dressed in helmets and shoulder pads.

In addition to the physical rigors and making it through camp intact, players know that a substantial amount of learning must be done in a relatively short period of time. The two combined can be a tall order.

"We are all out here just pushing through it," said middle linebacker Chad Mascoe. "We are all continuing to get into football shape and getting used to being knocked around again. It is tough, but there is no better way to get it done than through hard work."

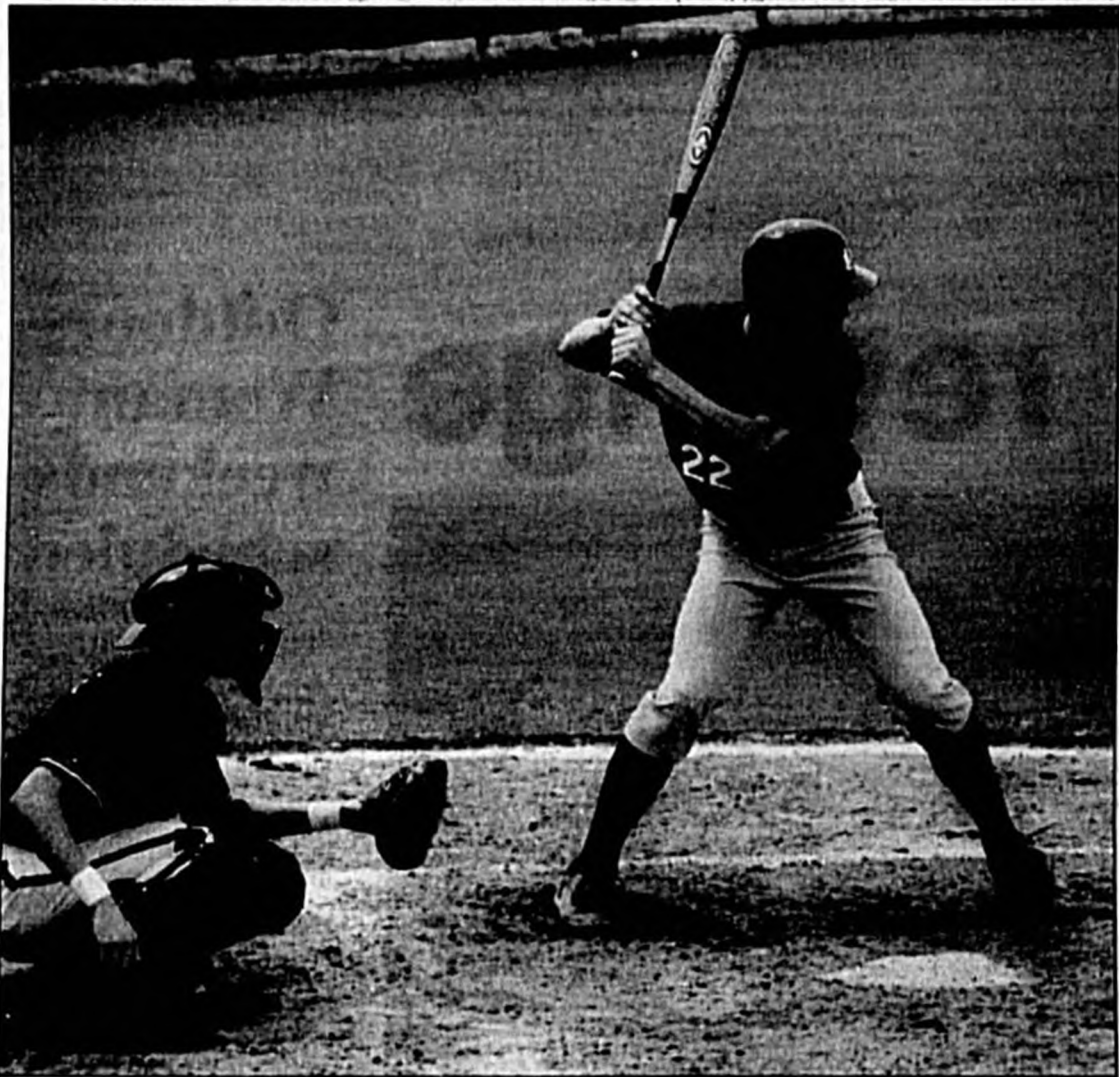

Mascoe will be one of several new faces on the UCF defense and will be relied upon to make a significant contribution.

"We are all working hard and beginning to come together as a defense," added Mascoe. "For some of us this is the first time to go through a camp here (UCF), but we are starting to gel. In our minds we have a long way to go and all we want to do is get better."

Even with the end of camp in site, it seems as though all Mascoe and the rest of his teammates want to do is be on the field.

"The harder we work and the more reps we are able to get in practice can do nothing but make us better and help us learn from our mistakes."

The Golden Knights benefited from the services of redshirt freshman linebacker Lemece Bernard for the first time on Thursday. Bernard (Fort Myers/Bishop Verot) needed to clear an administrative hurdle regarding an academic issue before was able to practice.

Alabama, South Carolina and Shelby and only the top two teams will advance to the playoffs.

In other first round games from Thursday Shelbyville (TN) Post 235 outscored Douglasville (GA) Post 14, 7-4; Rowan County (NC) Post 342 crushed Rio Grande, Puerto Rico Post 18, 13-1; and host Shelby Post 82 edged Manning/Santee (SC) Post 68, 5-4.

In an early game from Friday, Shelbyville Post 235 nipped Rio Grande Post 18, 5-4.

The semifinals will be played on Sunday. If Post 53 wins its Pool it will play at 1 p.m. and if the locals finish second they will play at 7 p.m.

The Championship Game will be Monday (Aug. 19) at 7 p.m.

The winner of the Southeast Regional will earn a spot in the 76th Annual American Legion World Series to be held August 23rd through the 27th at American Legion Memorial Post 325 Baseball Field in Danville, Virginia.

The Shelby Star, host newspaper for the American Legion's Southeast Regional Baseball Tournament, has designed an online site where tournament news, game results, photos and other interesting features will be posted.

Local fans need to long on to www.shelbystar.com/portal/ser regional to get all of the information they need on the tournament.

Sanford starter D.J. Ackley was outstanding over the first five innings, holding the Alabama champions to two singles and a walk.

But Post 12 sent 12 batters to the plate in the sixth inning and collected seven hits around the two errors to score the six runs, which all but decided the issue.

Post 53's lone run came in the seventh inning.

Dominic Petracca walked to lead off the inning and went to second on a single by Austin Pride before scoring on a single by Chris Krall.

William Pierce was 3-for-5 with an RBI to lead a 15-hit Dothan attack.

Pride paced Sanford, which only got five hits off of the duo of Ron Woods and Adam Christiansen, with two hits, including a double.

Also contributing were Shane Larson (1-for-2, double), Krall (single, RBI), Bryan Ward (single) and Petracca (run scored).

ment has the same stature for girls as the Little League World Series does for boys, and we all remember last year's success of the Apopka boys' team.

In the NSA Super World Series, eight of the best teams in the west will compete against eight of the best teams in the east. The tournament is a double elimination format to be held in Peoria, Illinois over the Labor Day weekend (August 31 & September 1st).

But the invitation comes with a cost.

In order to go to this tournament, the team needs to raise $8,000 to cover the cost of airlines, lodging and ground transportation for the team, coaches and chaperones.

A number of fund raising events have been planned and the team has a major corporate sponsor (Orlando Florida Area Chrysler/Jeep Dealers).

But additional donations are desperately needed to cover the basic costs.

All donations can be sent to: Seminole Softball Club, PO Box 196475, Winter Springs, FL 32719 or coach Jack Bitzer (407-333-3471) can be contacted directly for additional information.

The team is coached by Jack Bitzer, Jim Gase and Chris Frank, with Lauren Ely, Amanda Edelman, Lynsey Schall, Kim Gase, Sondra Valentino, Julie Frank, Margaret Lasher, Christine Pulliam, Hope Bitzer, Alli Perkins, Chelsea Sutton, and Shelby Plank making up the roster.

The Seminole Softball Club (with fields located on SR 419 at the Five Points Complex just south of 17-92) is a nonprofit, volunteer sports organization that has been in existence for over 20 years.

Seminole Softball Club is committed to teaching the basic fundamentals of the sport, to build physical fitness and teach good sportsmanship to girls between the ages of six (6) and eighteen (18). In the Fall season of last year the club had over 250 girls participating in the program, with six county high schools being represented.

Fall season registration is today (Saturday, August 17 from 9 a.m.-to-5 p.m.) and Sunday (August 18 from 1 p.m.-to-4 p.m.). Registration can also be done on the website at www.seminolesoftball.com. The season starts September 14th and lasts through the end of November.

The Fall season is an instructional league for all age groups with the exception of High School which is competitive. Free clinics for hitting, pitching and catching are conducted on Monday and Wednesday's from 6 p.m.-to-8 p.m.

Also, Seminole Community College (SCC) will be conducting a clinic at Seminole Softball on September 29th at 2 p.m. for all age groups.

This year, five girls that have come through the program received full scholarships to SCC and will join three former Seminole Softball Club graduate on coach Courtney Miller's Raiders.

This past summer the club had eight tournament teams with over 90 girls participating that played various tournaments through out the state of Florida as well as the National Tournament in Tennessee.

SOFTBALL MEETING MONDAY

The Organizational Meeting for the Adult Fall Slowpitch Softball League will be held on Monday, August 19th at 6:30 p.m. at the Downtown Youth Center on the first floor of Sanford City Hall (on the corner of Park and Seminole Avenues).

The champions from the Spring League will receive their awards prior to the meeting and the meeting will consist of going over the rules and regulations for the upcoming season. To entice team representatives even more to attend, a discount on the league fees are given to teams who do attend.

There has been a little shuffling in the league alignment this season as the Church League will still play on Monday's, but because of new entries the league will use both Pinehurst Park and Zinn Beck Field.

That means the Co-Ed League will move to Thursday night's at Pinehurst, eliminating the low entry Men's Thursday League.

The other leagues offered remained unchanged with the Women's League on Tuesday, the Men's League on Wednesday and the Industrial League on Friday at Pinehurst.

The Fall Adult Slowpitch Softball League Season will begin the week of September 9th.

Also, teams are still needed for the Fall Adult Church Basketball that is scheduled to begin play on Thursday, August 22nd.

For information on any adult recreation offering, please call the SRD at 407-330-5697 during normal working hours Monday through Friday.

Life in the fish bowl

The Fish Bowl Manager Michelle Mangan feeds some of the saltwater fish at her Lake Mary store. Mangan is a saltwater aquarium enthusiast and has three of her own tanks at her home. The store, located at 3617 Lake Emma Road, is owned by Greg Valden. For more information, call the store at 407-329-8863 or visit its Web site at www.thefishbowl.com.

Salt water aquariums bring a piece of the ocean into peoples' homes

By Michelle Jeria
Managing Editor

It isn't unusual, these days, to walk into someone's home and find a few Blennies, Tangs and Copperband Butterflies staring at you from their glass-enclosed environment.

These colorful creatures are among a variety of saltwater fish finding their way into people's hearts and homes throughout Central Florida and the nation. Although they won't replace the dog as man's best friend, saltwater aquariums and their inhabitants are becoming increasingly popular, despite the moderately expensive price tag that goes along with the hobby.

"Saltwater aquariums have an appeal of their own to them," said Michelle Mangan, manager of Lake Mary's The Fish Bowl. "They're bringing a little piece of the ocean in your home."

For beginners, the average cost of the equipment needed for a successful saltwater aquarium is between $500 and $550. This includes the tank, decorations, filtration, lighting and, of course, the fish.

"A lot of people want to spend on things when they are buying the equipment," Mangan said. "But, they have to realize, especially when they decide to scrimp on, they will not see many fish."

People have two choices when it comes to saltwater aquariums—a fish or reef tank. A reef tank mainly consists of different corals and vegetation, while the other is only fish.

"When you put both in the same tank, the fish eat the coral and they put off too much waste for the coral to survive," Mangan said. "However, some people try to put some small fish in a reef tank, and it can work."

Once the type of environment is chosen, Mangan recommends purchasing a tank no smaller than 20 gallons, since overcrowding can be a problem with salt water aquariums. As for a maximum size, there really are no limits. Mangan said some of her customers, including a few basketball and music enthusiasts, have tanks as large as 600 gallons in their homes.

Although Mangan said saltwater aquariums are not much harder to care for than their freshwater counterparts, there is one major difference—people need more patience when setting up a saltwater environment.

Once the equipment is purchased and the tank is filled with water, people may immediately want to add a variety of colorful fish into their new "piece of the ocean." However, there are some important things to follow before a Red Tooth Damsel, Dwarf fish or a Strawberry Pterodroma can be placed in the tank.

"Saltwater fish are very sensitive to changes in pH, salinity and temperature levels," Mangan said. "The water within a saltwater aquarium goes through a biological process, and the pH and chemical levels are conducted by the tank."

"When pH and salinity levels go up, it can be toxic to the fish," Mangan said. "For the first few weeks, you want to start with inexpensive, hardy fish as the water adjusts."

That means for the first six to nine weeks, the best fish for the job are the tiny blue Damsels. But, don't grow too attached to them. After the cycling process is finished, people will have to trade them if they want to add other fish to their tanks.

"You have to trade the little guys in, because they are rather aggressive and will fight with other fish," Mangan said. "But, they are the best fish to start with, since it is better to lose a $4 fish rather than a $40 fish."

One or two fish can be added to the aquarium each week. However, for a 55-gallon tank, no more than five or six fish should be added in the saltwater environment.

Prices vary depending on the type of fish. Although Damsels sell for around $4, the more exotic saltwater species can cost as much as $500. The more popular varieties include Yellow Tangs, Puppy Dog Puffers and Clownfish.

Mangan also warns people not to go down to The Keys or the Caribbean and pick up a few free animals for their tanks. Not only is it illegal—it's also against the law to import saltwater fish into the state because they become invasive species in some aquariums.

"People who buy aquariums in a result of a sale often give something back with them," Mangan said. "They're giving everything in the person's house and they don't want it anymore."

Mangan, once people start a saltwater hobby, it's almost impossible to stop. "I've seen people who are buying fish and then they come back and want another one," she said. "It never fails."

"I've never seen a person who either comes back and wants another one or stop buying one," she said. "It never fails."

AAA Team Outreach donates supplies

AAA Team Outreach donated more than $300 worth of school supplies and $437 in cash to support The Foundation for Seminole County Public Schools' Back to School Fair.

Earlier this month, more than 3,000 income-eligible students from 20 elementary and middle schools received backpacks full of school supplies to start off the new school year. Participating in the event were

The Foundation for Seminole County Public Schools, The Ryan Foundation, Wayne Densch Charities, Orlando Sentinel, Florida Hospital Altamonte, Colonial Bank, Costco, Office Depot and AAA Team Outreach.

Jeppeson Vision Quest screened more than 600 students and made glasses for 48 students. In addition to the backpacks, each child received a $10 certificate for clothes or additional supplies.

The Seminole County Health Department provided immunizations, members of the Dental Society of Greater Orlando distributed dental supplies provided by "Healthy Smiles - Crest 2010", and representatives from the Transportation Department answered questions about pick-up times and bus numbers. Scholastic Book Fairs provided each child with a book.

Ernie lets Maude be the boss in 66-year marriage

What is the key to a happy, successful 66-year marriage?

Ernest "Ernie" R. Butler chuckled, "Let her be the boss."

On July 31, Ernie and his beloved Maude celebrated their 66th wedding anniversary. There is no magic, no powerful potion, not even words of advice to explain the longevity of the Butler union.

Doris Dietrich

Ernie said, "You just kind of accept each other as they are and be responsible for your own deeds."

Maude replied, "We just take care of each other."

As a teenager in Los Angeles where he attended high school and Page Military Academy, Ernie had his sights set on becoming a professional musician. He was accomplished to the degree that when the Olympics were held in L.A. in 1932, he was solo trumpeter for the Olympics band.

His passion for music led him back to the Chicago area where he played in bands during those lean years. It was love at first sight when Ernie met the girl of his dreams, a schoolteacher from Michigan, at the home of a friend in Chicago. But they had a 2-year courtship before getting married on July 31, 1936 in Kentland, Ind. Maude was teaching at a country school in Michigan for "little or nothing," she said.

After their marriage when the country was recovering from the Great Depression, Ernie and Maude decided he should get an education so he enrolled at Northwestern University. When their three children came along, Maude left the work force to care for them. In later years she did clerical work in Owensboro, Ky. and then it was back to LaGrange, Ill. near Chicago.

Ernie has seen several of his dreams come true. Among them, he graduated from Northwestern University and attended Harvard University. Ernie said the most outstanding accomplishment of his life was borrowing college funds from Northwestern and repaying the loan in two years. The dean of men cited him for this honorable fete which led to Ernie landing a good accounting job.

The Butlers remember the winds of World War II very distinctly. "Ernie was out working on his car", Maude said on that terrible day, Dec. 7, 1941 when Pearl Harbor was attacked. Although he was a father with three children, he said he was number seven on the draft and applied for officer status. Ernie was commissioned an ensign in the United States Navy and was sent to Harvard for training. He was then assigned to the C.B.s as supply and disbursing officer on the Island of Truk.

After two and one-half years and a promotion to lieutenant, Ernie returned to civilian life where he worked in accounting and later as assistant controller of Sears midwest territory stores. After 21 years with Sears, he retired as Minnesota regional retailer controller.

Following retirement in 1975, the Butlers purchased an Airstream trailer and traveled the country. They later toured the Orient and South Pacific. For their golden wedding anniversary, their children presented them with a trip to Europe that eventually lasted for four weeks.

The Butlers, who have made their home in Sanford for 32 years, celebrated their 66th wedding anniversary with dinner out. They are the parents of three children: Ernest Evans Butler, retired military, of Austin, Texas; James Butler, retired from Sears; and Mary Ellen Wagner, a retired teacher who is now in business with her husband, of St. Peters, Mo.

Ernie drives a brown classic 1966 Chevy back and forth twice weekly to Mayfair Country Club where he has been a member since arriving in Sanford. At nearly 87, he is part of a foursome who thoroughly enjoys the popular sport. He said jokingly, one golfer can't see, another can't hear and that he can't remember. The fourth partner is younger and "takes care of us", Ernie said.

A member of the Sanford Optimist Club, Ernie is past lieutenant governor of the organization and has been a member of the Masonic Lodge of LaGrange (Illinois) for 42 years. He is the founder of the Seminole High Schools Band Festival, under the direction of John Blair, that was originally sponsored by the Optimist Club and the Sanford Herald.

Maude and Ernie are members of the First United Methodist Church of Sanford. Maude, an avid bridge player at age 87, is a member of a bridge club, previously enjoyed playing golf and has been a member of the Sanford Optimist Club for about six years after the club began accepting women into the membership.

The happy and well-adjusted couple look forward to many more years together as they begin their 67th year of wedded bliss.

Clubs To Start

The beginning of school also means that fall is right around the corner and organizations will soon rev up after a summer recess.

The Woman's Club of Sanford will begin the season with a membership fete in September. The regular business and luncheon meetings will resume in October under Mindy Tooley who was installed president in June.

Ixora Garden Club members have been busy creating designer crafts for their annual "Making Stars Bright" festivity. Barbara Chapman suggests that those planning to attend, "Mark your calendars now."

Ixora's biannual gourmet luncheon, plants and designer items sale will be an event of Oct. 12 at the Sanford Civic Center. "These talented and industrious ladies return the profits to Sanford Beautification projects," Barbara said.

 Old Truths for a New Day

Temper tantrums not unusual during childhood's 'Terrible Twos'

QUESTION: I have a 2-year-old boy who is as cute as a bug's ear and I love him dearly, but he nearly drives me crazy. He throws the most violent temper tantrums and gets into everything. Why is he like this, and are other toddlers so difficult?

DR. DOBSON: Your description of your toddler comes right out of the child-development textbooks. That time of life begins with a bang (like the crash of a lamp or a porcelain vase) at about 18 months of age and runs hot and heavy until about the third birthday. A toddler is a hard-nosed opponent of law and order, and he honestly believes the universe circles around him. In his cute little way, he is curious and charming, funny and lovable, exciting and selfish and demanding — and rebellious and destructive.

Comedian Bill Cosby must have had some personal experience with toddlers. He is quoted as saying, "Give me 200 active 2-year-olds and I could conquer the world."

Children between 15 and 36 months of age do not want to be restricted or inhibited in any manner, nor are they inclined to conceal their opinions. Bedtime becomes an exhausting, dreaded ordeal each night. They want to play with everything in reach, particularly fragile and expensive ornaments. They prefer using their pants rather than the potty, and insist on eating with their hands. And most of what goes in their mouths is not food. When they break loose in a store, they run as fast as their little legs will carry them. They pick up the kitty by its ears and then scream bloody murder when scratched. They want mommy within three feet of them all day, preferably in the role of their full-time playmate. Truly, the toddler is a tiger — but a precious one.

I hope you won't get too distressed by the frustrations of the toddler years. It is a very brief period of development that will be over before you know it. With all its challenges, it is also a delightful time when your little boy is at his cutest. Approach him with a smile and a hug. But don't fail to establish yourself as the boss during this period. All the years to come will be influenced by the relationship you build during this 18-month window.

QUESTION: The children who play with my kids in the neighborhood are familiar with terrible programs on television and cable TV. I can't believe that their parents let them watch such violent and sexualized stuff. What are the long-term consequences of this programming on children?

DR. DOBSON: It is sad and very difficult to understand why so many parents fail to supervise what their kids watch. To those who let them watch anything they wish, I would pose this proposition: Suppose a complete stranger came to your door and said, "You look tired. Why don't you let me take care of your children for a day or two?" I doubt if many of you would say, "Great idea. Come on in."

That's a story Peggy Charren, president of Action for Children's Television, likes to tell. Her point is well-taken. When we sit our children in front of the television set, we're giving control over them to complete strangers; and more and more, that's a risky thing to do. An increasing number of studies have found that violence on television frequently leads to later aggressive behavior by children and teens.

One of the most conclusive studies was conducted by Dr. Leonard D. Aaron. He examined a group of children at age 8 and then again at 19 and finally at 30.

Children in the United States, Australia, Finland, Israel and Poland were studied. The outcome was the same; the more frequently the participants watched violent television at age 8, the more serious were the crimes that they were convicted of by age 30, and the more aggressive was their behavior when drinking. It's time for parents to control the amount and the content of television that their children are watching. The consequences of not doing so can be bad.

Dr. Dobson is president of the nonprofit organization Focus on the Family, P.O. Box 444, Colorado Springs, CO, 80903; or www.family.org.

Lake Mary Historical Society prepares for the holidays

While summer is still in full swing, the topic of conversation at the August meeting of the Lake Mary Historical Society turned to the holidays. The Society is planning a Holiday Open House for Sunday, Dec. 15 from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Historical Museum. They've also decided to host a contest in conjunction with the Open House.

They're still working on some of the details, but essentially, participating non-profit groups will decorate their own Christmas tree for the museum. Tentatively, there will be regular size trees and miniature trees. Visitors to the Open House will be asked to vote for their favorite tree. Prizes will be awarded for the best trees.

Society president Peggy Wolfe announced that the Society has applied for two grants from the Seminole County Cultural Arts Council Inc. One of the grants is specifically geared for new historical societies to provide start-up funding. The other grant will be for supplies to start a program for kindergarten and first-grade students.

Part of this project will involve the community. The first-grade part of the project is entitled "When I Was A Child." The students will participate in things that children in the late 19th and early 20th Century did as children.

The Society will be asking Seminole County residents 50 and over to videotape stories about their childhood. The tapes will be kept in the museum as a historical record.

An edited videotape featuring parts from all the videotapes will be used in the program for the first graders. The students will then be asked to imagine they are grown and write their own "When I Was A Child" statement.

If the society does not get this grant, the kindergarten program and part of the first-grade program will not be possible. But the society will still go ahead with making the videotapes.

On Saturday, Sept. 21, the Society will be hosting Girl Scout Day.

At Girl Scout Day, Brownies will get to earn their "Listening to the Past" Try-It by participating in games of yesteryear, touring the cemetery and learning about the museum. Juniors will earn their "Local Lore" badge and Cadettes and Seniors can work on their "Heritage Hunt" patch. At last year's Girl Scout Day, a dozen Cub Scouts participated with the Brownies and had a wonderful time. (The program is not gender specific.)

Any interested Cub Scout will again be welcomed at this year's Girl Scout Day. If you're interested in participating in any of these society projects, call Peggy Wolfe at 407-327-8207 or email Mjhowell@netscape.net

West Nile one of several mosquito transmitted diseases

There are a few viral diseases transmitted by mosquitoes that cause encephalitis or swelling of the brain in humans. These diseases are caused by arboviruses, a term that stands for arthropod borne viruses. In the United States, these diseases are known as the St. Louis encephalitis (SLE), Eastern Equine Encephalitis (EEE), Western Equine Encephalitis, LaCrosse encephalitis, and the West Nile encephalitis (WNE).

The St. Louis encephalitis is the most common of these diseases in Florida, while the Eastern Equine encephalitis occurs sporadically. Recent reports of the West Nile encephalitis from southern states such as Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas and Arkansas are causing alarm due to the seriousness of this disease in the region.

Incidence

Although the diseases are probably present in Florida throughout the year, virus transmission is more prevalent during summer and fall. This time period corresponds with periods of high mosquito and bird activity in Florida. Periods of heavy rainfall, preceded by approximately two weeks of drought appears to increase disease transmission in wild birds, possibly because of increased mosquito populations.

Symptoms

Infections can be so mild that many people may not even know they are infected with an Arbovirus. When symptoms do occur, they may include fever, headache, fatigue, dizziness, weakness and confusion. The West Nile virus may also cause rash or muscle weakness. People over 50 tend to be more severely affected by SLE or WNE that can lead to coma and death.

Disease Detection

Government health agencies keep flocks of chickens to monitor for the presence of these viruses. Chickens make good sentinels because they do not get sick from these viruses or transmit them to people.

The chickens are placed inside cages and bled at frequent intervals.

The blood is then analyzed to detect the presence of specific antibodies that are manufactured and circulated through the blood after infection with even small amounts of the SLE virus.

Dead birds are an indicator that the WNE may be present in the area. State and county agencies after analysis of their findings give the information to the public through press releases.

Treatment

There is no cure for the disease nor are there vaccines available.

Medical treatment is only for the symptoms such as swelling of the brain and related effects like difficulties or stoppage of breathing, and for secondary complications such as bacterial infections.

Since there is no direct treatment, control of the disease relies upon preventing transmission to humans or breaking the virus cycle in nature.

Prevention

The best way to reduce the risk of infection is to avoid getting mosquito bites. Avoid outdoor activities during dusk and dawn hours, when mosquitoes are most active.

If you need to be outside, cover up by wearing shoes, socks, long pants and long-sleeved shirts. Use mosquito repellent containing permethrin or DEET on exposed skin. Note that special care must be taken when applying concentrated repellents to children, and particularly, infants, because high concentrations of the active chemicals may be absorbed through the skin.

DEET concentrations from 7 to 25 percent have been found to be effective in preventing mosquito bites, as long as the formulation persists on the individual.

Also, interrupting the virus cycle can significantly reduce the mosquito populations.

This is achieved through spraying of insecticides to directly kill adult and/or immature mosquitoes, or by elimination of mosquito breeding sites to prevent populations from ever reaching high levels.

Pearson puts welcome mat out for birds

From Staff Reports

Dorothy R. Pearson of Altamonte Springs has put out the welcome mat for all kinds of birds, butterflies and other wildlife while helping to protect the local environment.

The Pearson property is now recognized as an official National Wildlife Federation (NWF) "Backyard Wildlife Habitat" site. Pearson has joined the many habitat enthusiasts who, with the help of NWF have turned their backyards into enticing wildlife refuges.

NWF began the Backyard Wildlife Habitat program in 1973, and has since certified over 31,000 habitats nationwide. Also, more than 1,400 schools and hundreds of businesses have been certified. The average habitat is between 1/3 and 1/2 acres but certified sites range from urban balconies to thousand-acre areas.

By creating a backyard habitat, Pearson has learned the rewards of "Gardening for Wildlife." The program teaches the importance of environmental stewardship by providing people with basic guidelines for making their landscapes more hospitable to wildlife.

FOOD

Greek dish offers elegant dining option

From work projects to finishing the kids to after-school sports practices, your daily routine is probably full of stressful events lately. That's why on certain evenings, when you have a million things to do, you don't want to be stuck in the kitchen creating complicated meals for your family.

If you're not resolved to settle for take-out food for the rest of the week, try some recipes that are savory yet simple to make. "This dish of spinachy rice with feta and black olives is extremely simple ... and therein lies its elegance," says Paula Wolfert, author of "Mediterranean Grains and Greens: A Book of Savory, Sundry Recipes" (HarperCollins).

It's perfect for a dinner or side dish and though it is easy to prepare, it is still a tasty way to entice your palate.

Greek-Style Rice with Spinach, Feta and Black Olives
Serves 4 as a side dish or supper with crusty bread

- 2 pounds fresh spinach, washed and tough stems removed
- Coarse sea salt
- 4 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil
- 3/4 cup finely chopped onions or leeks
- 1/2 cup thinly sliced scallions
- 1/2 cup fresh tomato purée reduced by boiling to 3 tablespoons
- 1/2 cup long-grain rice
- 1/4 cup chopped dill
- Freshly ground black pepper
- Oily black olives for garnish
- Chunks of feta cheese or spoonfuls of thick yogurt for garnish

1. Wash the spinach and tender stems until the water runs clear; drain. If leaves are large and crinkly, spritz lightly with salt and mix well. Let stand in a colander 15 minutes; rinse and squeeze out excess moisture. Shred the spinach to make about 3 cups.

2. Heat 3 tablespoons of the olive oil in a 10-inch straight-sided skillet. Add the scallions, onions, a pinch of salt and 1/4 cup water and cook, covered, over medium-low heat for ten minutes. When the water evaporates, slowly let the onions turn golden, stirring occasionally. Add 1 cup water, the reduced tomato purée and rice. Cover and cook for ten minutes. 3. Spread the spinach and dill over the rice, cover, and cook ten minutes longer. Remove from heat, mix, then lace a double thickness of paper toweling over the rice, cover again, and let stand until cool. Adjust the seasoning with black pepper and salt and drizzle with the remaining tablespoon olive oil. Serve at room temperature garnished with black olives and feta cheese or yogurt.

Shake the pork paranoia

It's one of the healthiest meats around

In the quest for a healthier lifestyle, many people limit their consumption of meat, thinking it contains high amounts of saturated fat and cholesterol. However, in most instances that's not the case at all. Pork, for example, despite its bad reputation is one of the healthiest meats out there. Did you know that a three-ounce serving of pork tenderloin — the leanest cut — contains only 139 calories and 4.1 grams of fat, amounts comparable to a skinless chicken breast?

In fact, pork is called a "white meat" because of its color as well as its low fat content. And, pork is leaner than ever. According to USDA statistics, the meat is up to 33 percent leaner today than it was 20 years ago.

So shake the pork paranoia and try your hand at this delicacy from Ireland. Why wait until St. Patrick's Day? Recipe courtesy of "Elegant Irish Cooking: Recipes from the World's Foremost Irish Chefs" (Lebhar-Freidman Books), by Noel C. Cullen.

Pan-Seared Loin of Pork with Derry Apple Relish
Serves 4

- 1 2-pound boneless loin of pork trimmed of excess fat and sinew
- 3 tablespoons unsalted butter
- 1 onion, diced
- 1/4 cup all-purpose flour, seasoned with salt and pepper
- 1 tablespoon sa-

There's no need to shun meats like pork in order to stay healthy. Today's pork is up to 33 percent leaner than twenty years ago.

- flower oil
- 2 Granny Smith apples, cored and sliced
- 1 rib celery, diced fine
- 1 teaspoon finely chopped sage
- 1/2 teaspoon chopped rosemary
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 2 teaspoons orange zest
- 1 1/2 cups apple cider
- Salt and freshly ground black pepper
- fresh basil leaves, for garnish

1. Slice pork into eight equal pieces.
2. In a heavy-bottomed skillet, over medium heat, melt butter. Add onion and celery, sweat, without coloring, two minutes. Transfer to 2-quart casserole dish.

3. Dust pork pieces with seasoned flour.

4. In a skillet, over high heat, sear pork pieces in the oil. Remove.

5. Arrange apples on top of onion in the casserole dish. Add the pork, mixed with the remaining ingredients.

6. Bring to a boil. Cover, lower heat and simmer for one hour.

7. Transfer the pork, apple and onions to a serving platter. Reduce the cooking liquid by half.

Strain and pour over the pork. Garnish with fresh basil leaves.

Celebrate America's cookie culture

Homemade cookies occupy a very special place in American culture. Not only do they delight the senses of taste and smell, they also conjure feelings of warmth, love, friendship and tradition.

Grab a close friend or family member and a rolling pin, and whip up a batch of your favorite cookies. You don't have to be a gourmet chef — recipes can range from the highly complex and difficult to fun and easy, like this recipe from "The Good Housekeeping Step-by-Step Cookbook" (Hearst Books), from the editors of Good Housekeeping Magazine.

Two-Tone Cookies
Makes 3 dozen

- 3/4 cup margarine or butter, softened
- 2/3 cup plus 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 large egg
- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/4 cup unsweetened cocoa

1. Grease and flour two large cookie sheets. In large bowl, with mixer at low speed, beat margarine and 2/3 cup sugar until blended. Increase speed to high; beat until light and creamy. Reduce speed to low. Add baking powder, vanilla, salt, egg, 1 1/2 cups flour and two tablespoons water; beat until blended.

2. Place half of dough in medium bowl; with wooden spoon, stir in remaining 1/2 cup flour. Stir cocoa into dough remaining in large bowl. On lightly floured surface, with floured rolling pin, roll vanilla dough 1/8 inch thick.

3. Preheat oven to 350 F. With floured 3-inch round scallop shaped cookie cutter, cut vanilla dough into as many cookies as possible. Reserve trimmings. Place cookies on 1 cookie sheet, about 1/4 inch apart. Repeat with chocolate dough, placing chocolate cookies on second cookie sheet.

4. With 1 1/2-inch round scallop-shaped cookie cutter, cut out small round in center of each vanilla and chocolate cookie.

5. Fit a small vanilla cookie cutout into center of each chocolate cookie and a small chocolate cookie into center of each vanilla cookie to make two-tone cookies.

6. Sprinkle cookies lightly with 2 teaspoons sugar. Bake cookies on two oven racks 12 to 15 minutes, until golden, rotating cookie sheets between upper and lower racks halfway through baking time. With pancake turner, transfer cookies on wire racks to cool. Gather trimmings, re-roll and cut out more cookies. Sprinkle cookies with remaining 1 teaspoon sugar and bake as above. Store cookies in tightly covered container.

Italian dinner specialty perfect for Vegan guests

As any party host can attest, it is often difficult to create meals that will appeal to a diverse group of people. Everyone has their likes, dislikes, allergies and dietary requirements.

Catering to vegetarian and vegan guests can be particularly tricky, as many foods contain hidden meat or animal products that these individuals will not eat.

However, in this recipe for "Eggplant Lasagna" you'll serve a healthy dose of hearty flavor within a completely meatless meal. If you're cooking to feed an army of guests at a festive fall dinner party, please everyone with a dish that's sure to entice party-goers to line up for more. Enjoy this crowd-pleaser, courtesy of "Vegan in Volume" (The Vegetarian Resource Group), by chef Nancy Berkoff.

Eggplant Lasagna
Yield: 25 three-ounce servings

Use zucchini instead of eggplant for a change of flavor. This recipe can be prepared ahead of time and frozen until ready to use.

- 60 lasagna noodles, cooked and drained
- 6 pounds of eggplant,

- peeled and sliced
- 2 ounces dried oregano
- 2 ounces dried basil
- Vegetable oil spray to cover pan
- 10 ounces diced bell peppers
- 10 ounces diced onions
- 5 cloves garlic, minced
- 4 pounds firm tofu, cubed
- 2 1/2 pints marinara sauce
- 2 pounds canned mushrooms, drained and chopped
- 1 1/2 cups tomatoes, diced and drained
- 4 ounces fresh basil, chopped
- 3 ounces fresh parsley, chopped

Spray baking sheets, place eggplant in a single layer, and sprinkle with oregano and basil. Cover and bake for 40 minutes at 350 F or until eggplant is soft.

Heat sauté pan, spray with oil, and sauté peppers, onions and garlic until tender. In a mixing bowl, toss tofu with marinara sauce.

Assemble lasagna by alternating layers of noodles, eggplant, tofu and mushrooms, ending with noodles.

Top with diced tomatoes and herbs. Bake covered at 375 F for 45 minutes or until heated through. Serve warm.
