Honoring our troops: Price's unit joins coalition forces

LONGWOOD — Marine Corps Lance Cpl. James F. Price, son of Shirley W. and James F. Price of Longwood, is currently deployed in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom. He is assigned to the 26th Marine Expeditionary Unit (MEU), based in Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Elements of Price's unit recently joined coalition forces in the vicinity of Mosul, Iraq, to promote stability in the region and eliminate any pockets of Iraqi resistance.

Price is one of more than 4,000 Pacific Fleet Sailors and Marines who deployed aboard the ships of the USS Iwo Jima Amphibious Ready Group.

Price's unit is an expeditionary intervention force with the ability to rapidly organize for combat operations in virtually any environment. MEUs are composed of more than 2,000 personnel and are divided into an infantry battalion, aircraft squadron, support group and command element. With this combination, Price's unit supplies and sustains itself for either quick mission accomplishment or clearing the way for follow-on forces.

Price is a 1984 graduate of Lake Mary High School in Lake Mary. He joined the Marine Corps in November 1984.

Lake Mary team ready to take on world

By Michelle Jerla
Managing Editor

LAKE MARY — Coach Joe Donoughe is taking his Odyssey team to the world finals in Iowa, and Padre the Mexican thumb wrestler is going with them.

Last month, Padre helped the Lake Mary High School Odyssey of the Mind team win the state regionals. An imaginary character, he was created by the students for the problem-solving competition.

"The students needed to come up with a skit as part of their presentation," Donoughe said. "They came up with a very comical and entertaining skit. Padre wrestles various characters, and at the end, he prevails."

The Odyssey of the Mind School Program's goal is to foster creative thinking and problem-solving skills among participating kindergarten through college students. It features an annual competition at the regional level and culminates with the world finals. Students solve problems in a variety of divisions and areas, from building mechanical devices to giving their own interpretation of literary classics.

This year, The Lake Mary team chose Problem No. 4, Odd Pod Structure, as its challenge. During a six-month period, team members needed to design and build a structure made of balsa wood and glue that would rest on an odd number of team-made

McLain traveling to Orlando in environmental style

Seminole County Fleet Manager Ruth Alfonso instructs County Commissioner Chairman Daryl McLain on how to operate the county's new hybrid car, which he will unveil in Orlando on Monday.

Chairman plans to unveil new hybrid car Monday

By Jamie J. Anderson-Potter
Staff Writer

Chairman Daryl G. McLain of the Seminole County Board of County Commission will unveil the county's first hybrid vehicle Monday at Loch Haven Park in Orlando during a kickoff event for Clean Air Month.

The county purchased its hybrid vehicle, a Toyota Prius, in March at a cost of $19,900. The Prius is powered by both a gas engine and an electric motor, hence the name hybrid.

The car uses its breaks to generate power, eliminating the need for the car to be "plugged in" to re-power. The hybrid car will be available for use by all Seminole County staff members beginning Tuesday when it joins the fleet of 75 standard company vehicles.

"We are using this vehicle as a test vehicle to see how the technology works for us," said Ruth Alfonso, fleet manager of Seminole County. "We need to make sure that everybody uses it and it is well accepted."

"I've already had people ask when they can take it out," she added. "So far, there is a lot of interest in it."

In preparation for Monday's 11 a.m. event, which is designed to inform elected officials and the general public about preventing air pollution in Central Florida, McLain received training on the specifics of driving the hybrid car.

Other than minor differences in placement of certain items, including the shifter, the car is similar to a regular "gas guzzling" vehicle. It can reach 110 mph and has substantial legroom for a compact car.

The advantages of owning a hybrid vehicle are two fold — better fuel efficiency and less emissions that lead to ground-level ozone or smog.

In fact, the Prius is so clean-burning that it has been certified as a Super Ultra Low Emission Vehicle, which means it runs nearly 90 percent cleaner for smog-forming emissions than the standard for Ultra Low Emission Vehicles.

For this reason, individuals and organizations alike are realizing the benefits of this vehicle on

Commissioner learning about city's past while looking ahead to future

By Nicole Talley
Herald Correspondent

SANFORD — Kevin Hipes, Sanford's new city commissioner, has added a string of lunch meetings to his already busy schedule as Florida's regional director for Kimco, a commercial realty corporation. In the last month and a half, he has met with some of Sanford's oldest residents to learn more about the city.

"I've only lived here 12 years, and I want to know what they think," Hipes said. "They've been a wealth of knowledge."

But that's just the beginning for the new District 4 commissioner. Besides an appreciation for Sanford's past, Hipes also has a vision for the city's future. He's begun meeting with city department managers and other officials to better learn how the city works.

"I see nothing but potential," he said.

Before winning the commission seat in an unopposed election, Hipes served on the Sanford Planning and Zoning Commission for four and a half years.

Sanford's biggest issues, according to Hipes, involve the redevelopment of the downtown and lakefront area, as well as the regional mall, and the city's growing retail base. He wants to put businesses in without destroying Sanford's historic character.

"I love the city, so I'm not going

Pine Crest students make care packages for troops

SANFORD — In a foreign land, even a shoebox can be comforting, especially if it is filled with gifts and thoughts from home.

Pine Crest Elementary students are helping with the war effort by sending shoebox care packages to the troops.

The boxes are filled mostly with snacks, candy, toiletries, and stationery, but some students decided to make cards and personal letters to the soldiers.

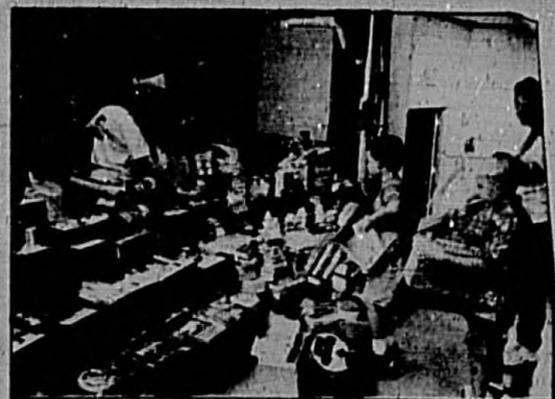

"Kids come up with the best things," said Kim Bridges, the project's sponsor. "They are so sweet and innocent."

Ray's Circus of Values donated postcards for all the boxes so troops can write 'home free' of charge.

The schoolwide project is sponsored by the PTA, and each classroom is responsible for filling at least one shoebox.

"I am really proud of our school," Bridges said. "Most of our

Sanford Historic Trust celebrates city's 125th anniversary with 'Voices'

By Jamie J. Anderson-Potter
Staff Writer

SANFORD — In celebration of Sanford's 125th anniversary, the Sanford Historic Trust presents "Sanford Voices" Thursday at Helen Stairs Theatre in Sanford.

The play portrays the history of early Sanford and takes patrons through a journey ending at present day. It was originally written by Winter Garden resident Jim Howard as part of the 1999 Governor's Summer Program, a summer intensive workshop between the Orlando Theatre Project and Seminole Community College's film program.

The Sanford Historic Trust discovered the play a year ago and approached Howard for the rights to produce it as part of the city's yearlong anniversary celebration. The Trust received a grant from the Seminole County Arts Council to help defray the cost of the production.

"We want to do something to promote the history of Sanford and give people a little more reason to be Sanford proud," said Tony Daniels, past-vice president and current member of the Sanford Historic Trust.

In order to accurately depict the city, Howard researched several published accounts, newspaper reports and interviews with the people of Sanford's history. He wrote the play almost entirely in the words of others in a matter of Members of the Central Florida Clean Air Team, the host of Monday's event, say they hope people see the cars and decide they would like to own one.

"We are saying consider hybrid vehicles," said Mung' Robinson, director of communications and public outreach with METRO-PLAN Orlando, a member of the Central Florida Clean Air Team. "Where starting to take a look at hybrid vehicles in this region. I think we need to continue to look at whatever we can do to reduce air pollution."

Another advantage of hybrid vehicles is its better gas mileage. Most fleet vehicles fall between 20 to 25 miles per gallon (mpg), while the hybrid reaches 50 mpg, cutting fuel costs in half. That is approximately 566 miles for each tank of gas.

"For a pool car going around town, it's great," said Allison.

According to Allison, who was recently considering the purchase of a hybrid vehicle for personal use, many of the local Honda and Toyota dealerships are sold out of the vehicles.

At present, buyers have three choices when it comes to hybrid vehicles: the Toyota Prius, the Honda Insight and the Honda Civic. However, many other manufacturers are jumping on the bandwagon.

According to Allison, Ford will discontinue its Taurus model in 2005. She hopes to replace the purchase of these vehicles with a regular or hybrid sedan. Currently, the 2003-2004 budget allocates funds for the purchase of another hybrid vehicle.

Just as Sanford's history is one of controversy, so is the play recounting its history. Several issues arise throughout the production that could cause concern, including racial politics between the "white man" and African Americans and Native American.

"I wanted to make sure that the Sanford history was accurate," said Howard, a 40-year veteran of the entertainment industry. "Sanford has dark patches, not that that is unusual. There were headlines in the paper describing KKK parades down Main Street. That's not something you can ignore when dealing with history."

"I hope everyone understands that it is not meant to be hurtful or drag up anything that people might find hurtful, but the worst thing you can do with a history like that is to keep it under wraps," he added. "A lot of these things impact the way we live now."

The program pamphlet will warn those attending of the sensitive nature of several scenes. Due to the content, the play may not be suitable for young children.

"With any history there are high points and low points," Daniels said. "We can't pick and choose what they did and said. We can't change history, but we can make people aware of the past so we are aware of how far we've grown together in the past 50 years and where we need to go so we don't make the same mistakes.

"This is our past and we need to accept it and through awareness move on," he added. "We're not applauding what has gone on in the past."

Seminole High School theater students will perform the production, under the direction of Buddy Garrison. Through the play, the cast of 24 students was able to learn about their hometown, while polishing their acting skills by experiencing a "road" performance.

"We are in essence the hometown high school," said Garrison, drama director of Seminole High School. "It's great that we can contribute to the anniversary by participating. The play is full of rich historical facts from Sanford, so the kids got a chance to learn about their past.

"We have the opportunity to bring the history to life through the use of theater instead of just reading about it in a history book," he added. "That's important."

The Sanford Historic Trust will also present its annual preservation awards and recognize the winners of its art contest during the performance.

"I would like people to take away from the play an awareness of Sanford," said Daniels. "There is a division between groups in this town. If we can be aware of our past and be prouder of Sanford then we will learn to work together as a community."

When you have angina, your body is telling you that your heart is not receiving enough oxygen. A noninvasive treatment, in harmony with your heart, can improve circulation to your heart muscle.

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Slick move. Catch some of the names applying for the Sanford city manager's job? Former Seminole County managers Gary Kaiser and Ron Rabun submitted their applications. So did current interim city manager Roger Dixon, as well as Sanford's community development director Andrew Van Gaale.

The curvball of the group, however, was city Planning Director Jay Marder. Marder was on no one's list of potential candidates for the job, and those close to him say he hadn't mentioned it until submitting his application.

So what's the deal? Those in the know think Marder pulled off a brilliant defensive play.

Word Around The Clock is that Marder's days are — or at were — numbered. Several high-profile mis-

Around the Clock

by Dan Ping

There was speculation about whether Dixon would — or could — actually drop the hammer, but that's history at this point. With Dixon and Marder both applying for the city manager's job, Dixon can't very well fire Marder. Wouldn't look good for a contender for the same job you're applying for.

In effect, Marder may have bought himself a few more months or longer by applying for the city's top spot.

Six of one, half dozen of another: There are two theories floating around about who Sanford should choose for its next city manager.

One theory says that Sanford is a unique city — small town charm, with big city issues. Proponents of this theory say Sanford needs someone who is familiar not only with these issues, but has the experience to leverage local and state resources to get the job done. Van Gaale, Marder, Dixon, Kaiser and the other local boys would assumedly have the inside track.

The second theory says that while Sanford is unique, its problems aren't radically different than other cities celebrating 125 years of existence. Those who support this line of thought say Sanford needs someone from outside the region who can bring fresh ideas and, more importantly, isn't already entangled with one of the notorious Sanford cliques.

Which one is the best? Heck if I know. I have trouble deciding between paper or plastic. Ideally, it would be nice if there was a candidate who was familiar with Sanford yet enough of an outsider to bring fresh insight to the issues facing the city.

In the end, the decision must be made on the man — or woman — not the theory.

On the hot seat: They'll probably show me for printing this, but here it is — public record.

Those sitting on the committees to narrow the field of 85 city manager candidates down to 10 include planning and zoning chairman Ross Robert, former mayor Betty D. Smith, businessman John Williams, planning and zoning member Michael Skat, former city commissioner Lon Howell, Lance Abney, Lindsey Oyewale, former school board member Larry Strickler, Seminole Herald correspondent Marva Hawkins, and former community development director Charles A. Rowe. Dr. Thomas Kelly, is the Range Rider, the consultant hired by the city to assist with the process.

If you feel strongly about what qualities you want in your next city manager, let those folks know. The city commission will make the final selection from the list of 10 this committee decided on, so always give your commissioner a ring, too.

And just for the record, I have no influence over long-time Herald writer Marva Hawkins' decision in this matter. My business card may read editor/publisher, but Marva's The Boss.

Music of the ages

What type of music do you prefer? Chances are they are the type of songs you heard when you first fell in love. Those of us in advanced ages remember hearing the big band era and those marvelous vocalists such as Perry Como, Bing Crosby, Frank Sinatra, Rosemary Clooney, and others.

Nick Preifauf

Those in their mid '40s to '50s will probably yearn for the music of the Beatles, Elvis, The Platters, Diana Ross and the Supremes, among many.

Persons now in their 20s and 30s will probably prefer more modern music, and of even an earlier age, Rap music.

Of course, where you grew up also has a bearing on the type music you may like. If you are from Louisiana, you may like Cajun Music. Rural folks probably prefer Country Music or even Rock a billy.

But for most of us, it's the music on the juke boxes and radio that we heard when we reached the age of falling in love. Not necessarily the person you married, but that first fling. Oh, those songs bring back memories.

In my more advanced age, I have heard, for almost two decades, that the "big band era will come back one of these days." That's like saying the Japanese will bomb Pearl Harbor once again. It'll never happen. Yes, some have tried such as the swing band known as the Spitfire Band. No, you probably never heard of them. Their CD's were off the shelf in mere weeks.

But I predict! Those who like Rap or ultra modern music in this decade, when they get to an advanced age, will try to find old tapes or CD's of them, to recall their "good old days." Those in their 40s and 50s are already looking through the "cheep" racks to find old Elvis or Beatles tapes.

We can't complain about the music our children listen to these days. Imagine what they would have said if they heard us listening to "Hut Sut Ralston" or "Chibbah Chibbah Chilama", or perhaps the music of Spike Jones.

As many people know, I have been playing music for dances for many decades.

At my age, however, the people I entertain are in my age bracket. I wouldn't think of trying to play for a high school prom. You can't mix music with generations.

Everyone of us has a favorite style of music. When we hear our preferences, it brings wonderful thoughts to our minds.

And for those who prefer the older type music, there are two (possibly more) CD's on the market these days — brand new — sung by people under age 30. One is by Norah Jones, the other by Michael Buble (Bub-lay). If you like the old style music, I highly recommend you listen to these youngsters.

And by the way, when we hear music we don't like, remember, there is an amazing invention on our radios, TV sets, CD players, DVD players or tape machines. It's called the "OFF" button.

Two officers took time to be kind and compassionate

To the editor:

My husband and I have just completed a long, arduous journey. We just buried my mother who lived 10 years with Alzheimer's disease. Mother spent six years with us in our home. Last August, we moved her into an apartment on Lake Monroe, where she lived with her full-time caregiver.

Each day after teaching, I would go and visit with momma. I would sing to her, read to her, and pray with her. As her death approached, my emotions became very strong. Many a night after leaving the town and Lake Apartments, I would find myself driving up Park Avenue with tears streaming down my face. Not once, but twice, I was stopped by the Sanford Police.

The first time, I did not come to a complete stop at the stop sign on the corner of Park Avenue and Ninth Street. After checking my license and registration, the officer was concerned enough to ask me if I was going to be OK. I told him of my momma's approaching death and was extremely conforted when he replied, "I am very sorry about your mother and I am sorry for the suffering you are experiencing."

The second incident also occurred on Park Avenue. This time, I was pulled over for driving too slowly and for weaving the car. Frustration and sorrow after visiting momma has caused this carelessness. Again, after showing my license and registration, I was asked if I would be OK. Again, this police officer also offered his condolences and genuinely showed that he cared about our family sorrow.

I write to praise especially these two officers and the entire Sanford Police Department. Certainly, these officers are trained that giving tickets is not their only duty. These dedicated public officials displayed professional and also compassion. Too many of us are quick to condemn the officers who write us a ticket. I am here to say that I met two young officers who carried out their duty efficiently, but they also did not forget that I was a human being who was suffering the approaching death of my mother. These two officers took the time to be compassionate and kind. I am very impressed.

The great debate over the American empire

The first decade of the 21st century, like the first decade of the 20th, is an age of empire. A hundred years ago, however, there were many empires. They included both the overseas empires of the national states of Western Europe — particularly those of Britain, France, Portugal and the Netherlands — and the overland empires of the multinational states ruled by the Hapsburg, Romanov and Ottoman dynasties. Today, there is only one empire — the global empire of the United States.

So begins the first article, by professor James Kyrth of Swarthmore College, in the current (and important) issue of The National Interest, the self-proclaimed "realist" journal. That means former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger is the co-chairman of the editorial board and former Secretary of Defense James Schlesinger is the publisher.

There are a half-dozen other articles on American empire in this Spring 2003 issue. Next to it on some newsstands is Harper's, with the coverline: "The Economics of Empire: How the White House, the World Bank and the IMF impoverish the World on America's Behalf," by William Finnegan. In last Sunday's New York Times Magazine, the British "neo-imperialist" author Niall Ferguson writes provocatively under the headline: "The Empire Slinks Back. Why Americans don't really have what it takes to rule the world."

Richard Reeves

The daily conversation here in the empire's war capital has retorted on domestic matters, taxes, health care, budget cuts and all that. Iraq, intellectually at least, is over, but the critical debate on the meaning and consequences of our first announced "pre-emptive war" is just beginning. That discussion begins with the fact that the war demonstrated that the United States now has military supremacy and reach unmatched in history. In another section of the New York Times last Sunday, Gregg Easterbrook of The Atlantic Monthly wrote: "The global arms race is over. Other nations are not even trying to match American armed force, because they are so far behind they have no chance of catching up."

Among the demonstrators of the weapons gap cited by Easterbrook is the fact that in the Balkan and Iraq wars, neither the Serbs nor the Iraqis sent a single warplane into the air. They knew the outdated jets would be shot out of the sky by the Americans before they got their wheels up. That's the good news. The bad news, possibly, he says, is that North Korea has shown that the only way to hold off the Americans may be to have nuclear weapons. Next to do that, his guess is Iran.

Beginning there, Ferguson argues that winning is American, staying is not. The United States, he says, has the power but not the stamina. "It's just that the young (American) elites have no desire whatsoever to spend their lives running a screwed-up, sun-scorched sandpit like Iraq. America's brightest and best aspire not to govern Mesopotamia, but to manage MTV." He notes that 3.8 million Americans do live abroad, but almost all of them are in Canada, Mexico, Europe and Israel — and most of the rest are usually short-termers.

Finnegan, too, makes the point that U.S. hegemony is not about controlling land or nations — at least not in the meaning of "conquest." It's the economy, stupid. He writes:

"The goal of modern American commercial supremacy is being done in the name of freedom."

"Imperial temptations" is the title of a National Interest essay by Jack Snyder, professor of international relations at Columbia University. His conclusion is a warning for President Bush and his strategists.

"Speaking in New York this past October, (National Security Adviser Condoleezza Rice) said that the aim of the Bush strategy is to dissuade any potential adversary from pursuing a military buildup in the hope of surpassing, or equaling, the power of the United States and our allies." Today, no combination of adversaries can hope to equal America's power under any circumstances. However, if they fear the unbridled use of America's power, they may perceive overwhelming incentives to wield weapons of terror and mass destruction to deter America's offensive tactics of self-defense. Indeed the history of empire suggests that a general strategy of preventive war is likely to bring about precisely the outcome that President Bush and Rice wish to avoid.

And she couldn't be happier.

Surviving cancer gives you a whole new outlook on life.

Just ask Marcia Morgan. With the help of the sophisticated care and treatment she received at M. D. Anderson Cancer Center Orlando, part of Orlando Regional Healthcare, she survived bone cancer.

It has been a hard fight. But it has given Marcia an appreciation for the every day, ordinary things of life. And new opinions about what's really important and what's merely cosmetic.

Now, thanks to our big new building downtown, M. D. Anderson Cancer Center Orlando will be able to help even more people like Marcia, using advanced techniques and technology to diagnose, treat, and reduce the impact of cancer.

All at one convenient central location that will allow our patients to spend less time fighting cancer and more time doing what matters most—living life.

When it matters most.

Brooks bests Thomas as Lions win 1-0

By Dean Smith

SANFORD — Baseball fans were treated to a good old-fashioned pitcher's duel in the finals of the Class 6A District 2 Tournament Thursday night at Midford Memorial Stadium.

Oviedo's Brian Brooks (10-1) hurled a masterful one-hitter, striking out 10, in outduelling Tim Thomas (2-0), who scattered three hits and also struck out 10.

The only run of the game came in the fifth inning and was unearned.

With the bases loaded and two out, senior Matt Lopez was hit with a Thomas pitch, allowing the run to walk across home plate.

Brooks was the star of the game as he was also 2-for-2 at the plate. Batterymate Alex Milani had the other Lions hit, going 1-for-2.

By Buckner went 1-for-1 to account for the Rams safety.

Oviedo ranked No. 2 in Class 6A, improved 20-2 on the season. The Lions have been on an incredible run. It was just a year ago here in Sanford that the team came into districts seeded fifth and had to win three games to win the title and eventually won six straight before falling the state semifinals in Tampa, giving Oviedo a 33-3 record over the past year.

The Lions will host Jacksonville-Ed White in Tuesday's Regional Quarterfinal at 7 p.m.

Despite the loss, Lake Mary (17-13) will See Lions, Page 15

Piard, Moore lift Winter Springs over Lake Howell

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

WINTER SPRINGS — Host Winter Springs got its second straight, strong all-around game to win the Class 5A-District 6 Baseball Championship Thursday night.

Sam English drove in two runs to key a four-run first inning and senior Travis Moore did the rest, scattering five hits and striking out six as the Bears defeated defending district champion Lake Howell, 5-1.

Sophomore Jerry Piard actually carried the big bat for the hosts, who improved to 16-14 on the season, blasting a home run and also belting a double in three trips to the plate.

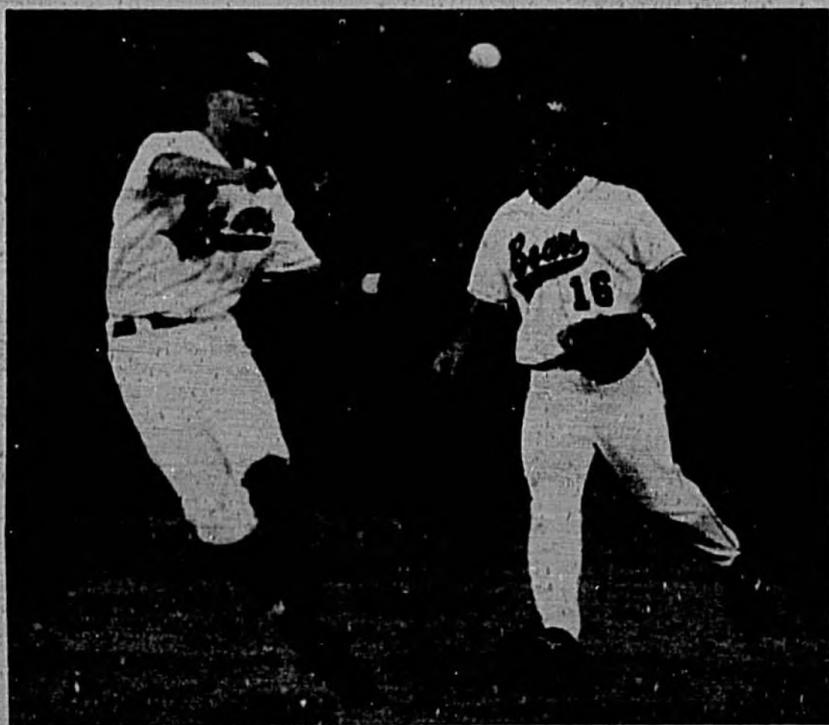

Nick Iait pitched very well after the first inning in a losing cause, giving up just six hits. Will Delgado had to hit, while Brad Jasterday drove in the run for the Silver Hawks (16-13).

Both teams will advance to Tuesday's Regional Quarterfinals as the Bears will host the District 5 runner-up and Lake Howell will travel to the home of the District 5 champion.

Dellonta and Spruce Creek were scheduled to meet in the District 5 finale on Friday.

Winter Springs and the Silver Hawks had advanced to the final on shutout pitching performances on Tuesday. Junior Chris Mester struck out seven and another sophomore, Jimmy Caldwell.

Flip-flop in Cal Ripken Majors

Special to the Herald

SANFORD — There was a reversal of fortunes in the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Cal Ripken League Major League Tuesday night as the last place team won and the leaders lost.

Here is a recap of the games at Chase Park on Tuesday, April 29.

MAJOR LEAGUE

(11 and 12 year olds)

Field # 1 — The Railroader Cubs (7-12) picked up a 9-6 win over the Gibson Truck World Braves (7-7) behind the excellent pitching of Big Sam Keeling who really had his last ball humming.

Keeling was able to keep the big stick of the Braves, Andre Debose, quiet as he only gave up one single to Debose early in the game, who previously had multiple hits in every game this year.

Henry Coyer came in to pick up the save and protected the win for Keeling, who was injured late in the game on a freak play at first base.

Michael Radzak had two hits for the winners, including a double, and drove in a run, while Smiling Zach O'Brien kept his hitting streak going with two singles. Nicholas Flynn stroked a nice base hit and knocked in a huge run, and Coyer and Brock Crowliger also added RBIs.

For the Braves, Adam Whiteside had two hits with one being a triple. Eric Winsor had two singles and a RBI and Corinthian Freeman had a hit and two RBIs.

Field # 3 — The Volvo Store Red Sox (7-8) came from behind in extra innings to hand the Masonic Lodge Angels (12-2) only their second loss of the season by a score of 5-4.

The Sox played a great team game as two of their big starters were out with the flu. The Sox also ended Jammal Graham's hitting streak of thirteen games, which was a big reason the Angels weren't able to get going on this night.

Nick Owers had the big bat for the Sox going four for four and he stole a couple of bases. See Ripken, Page 15

National Safe Boating Week May 17-23

Special to the Herald

ALEXANDRIA, Va. — With National Safe Boating Week, May 17-23 fast approaching, the Boat U.S. Foundation for Boating Safety and Clean Water wants boaters to remember to "Beat smart, boat safe and wear their life jacket," said Ruth Wood, Boat U.S. Foundation president.

Some simple measures can go a long way towards having a safer outing. A great way to help encourage others to wear a life jacket is by wearing your own. Taking a safe boating course, keeping your boat properly maintained and not drinking alcohol while underway, are also practices huge difference, said Wood.

The Boat U.S. Foundation offers some low cost programs to help increase safety, and one of the more popular is the Life Jacket Forner Program for Kids. At over 300 sites nationwide, parents and other adults can buy a correctly sized life jacket for their child for the afternoon, day or weekend.

The Foundation also offers a free Online Boating Safety Course that's good for new boaters as well as experienced ones wanting to brush up on their skills. In addition, non-profit groups can apply for Boating Safety SANFORD — The Seminole Community College baseball team is where it wants to be. It's just not in the position the Raiders had hoped for.

"We're proud to be going back to state and representing our school and community," said head coach Mike Nicholson. "We would have liked to have been the conference champions, but at least they work out that way."

After leading the Mid-Florida Conference standings from virtually day one, SCC saw the opportunity to win its first MFC title in over 20 years slip away when Ocala Beach Community College, which won all four games to the Falcons this season, swept a doubleheader from defending conference champion Lake City Community College while the Raiders were dropping a doubleheader to Santa Fe Community College.

The final Mid-Florida Conference standings were: 1. Daytona Beach, 22-12 overall, 19-9-2 SCC, 16-19-11-11; 2. Santa Fe, 20-19-10-12-1; 3. Florida Community College at Jacksonville, 22-23-16-12-3; Lake City, 25-17-1-14-11; 4. Central Florida, 12-9-2-11-16-5; Ocala, 10-19-9-11-23-9-0-0-0-0; 5. St. Johns River, 12-21-11-11-11-11.

Opposite the disappointment of not claiming the crown, SCC's 2003 season will be remembered as the

ORLANDO — UCF athletic director Steve Orsini announced Friday he has reached an agreement with USF AD Lee Roy Selmon for the Golden Knights and Bulls to begin playing football in 2005. The first game in the long anticipated series will be in Tampa, Sept. 17, 2005.

The Bulls are scheduled to make a return trip to Orlando, Sept. 16, 2006.

College football is enhanced by rivalries and I believe this is going to develop into a great rivalry, Orsini said. "These games are going to be a big boost for both pro- See College, Page 14 grams in terms of fan interest, exposure, and revenue.

The contract also stipulates that additional games will be added yearly on a rotating home-and-home site basis with dates to be determined at a future time. "I know our fans are excited about this series," added Orsini. "This game has the potential to develop into one of the biggest games in the state each year."

Obviously there are a lot of bragging rights, much like there are in the established rivalries of Florida-Florida State, and Florida State-Miami. "UCF coach Mike Krueczek said, 'It's great that it's inked in on paper that we will play.'"

UCF is in its second season in the Mid-American Conference, while USF will begin play in the conference's 2004 season. The schools, which are located two hours apart, are similar in age and size and have a large alumni base in each other's metropolitan area.

A lot has been written about the potential for a rivalry between the two schools. "We are committed to do the right thing for this program," Krueczek said. "Now we must see if all our differences on the football field. It's not a rivalry, it's the interest we have from both Tampa and Orlando."

The first game is only two days away. Let the rivalry begin.

This was the second day of announcements for the football season. Krueczek announced recently that he has signed a three-year contract extension for 2003-2005. Krueczek was named head coach in the 1998 year at UCF and signed a contract for the 2002 season.

The impact of this extension is a major support for Mike and the program. "We are committed to do the right thing for this program," Krueczek said. "Now we must see if all our differences on the football field. It's not a rivalry, it's the interest we have from both Tampa and Orlando."

Through his hard work and dedication, which has resulted in the success of the football program in the last 11 years, he has shown the faculty of UCF throughout the season that he is a way we can all appreciate for his leadership.

He was named to UCF in 1985 and has coached for 18 seasons as often as a head coach and quarterbacks coach before being named head coach in 1998. In his five seasons as head coach he has compiled a 33-23 record, including a 21-6 mark in the Florida Citrus Bowl. The Golden Knights finished 7-5 in 2002 and posted a 6-2 mark in their first year in the Mid-American Conference.

"I've spent the better part of my coaching career here building something special and it's great to see the support from Dr. Hitt and Steve Orsini," Krueczek said. "They believe in the direction we are heading and they believe in the leadership. I'm honored to be a part of a program that will be able to win championships on a consistent basis."

A former All-American at Boston College, Krueczek spent five years as a quarterback in the NFL after graduating in 1976. He spent two years as an assistant at Florida State and one with the Los Angeles Rams of the USFL before coming to UCF.

STETSON BASKETBALL SIGNS BORIS DJORDJIC

Stetson University men's basketball head coach Derek Waugh announced Thursday the signing of Boris Djordjic (Mitrovica, Serbia - Cuesta College) to a National Letter of Intent.

Djordjic, a 6-8, 230-pound forward, averaged 11.8 points and 7.2 rebounds per game last year at Cuesta College. He played in all 11 games, making 32 starts and led the team in rebounds and blocked shots. Djordjic also shot 54 percent from the floor and 79 percent from three-point range. He received honorable mention accolades from the Western State Conference.

Cuesta finished the season with a 17-15 record and advanced to the second round of the California State II C.O. Tournament.

Boris is a solid defender and rebounder who should help us immediately inside," Waugh said. "He adds much needed size and bulk to our roster."

Djordjic joins Cabe McMillen as Stetson's signees for the 2003-04 season.

also play in the Regional Quarterfinals, going to Jacksonville on Tuesday to face Sandalwood (18-7).

Oviedo had advanced to the finals by thumping host Seminole, 7-1, on Tuesday. Brooks, Barry Baxter and Lopez each drove in a run in the first inning as the Lions took the stretch out of the fighting Seminoles quickly.

Matt McClung led the way, going 2-for-3 with a double and an RBI, while Lenny Gomez was also 2-for-3 to back a three-hitter by sophomore Corey Beves, who struck out five and did not allow an earned run.

Riley Williams was 2-for-3 for the Tribe. The third-seeded Rams also used a fast start to win its semifinal, scoring four runs in the second inning to take a 5-1 lead and going on to handle No. 2 Lake Brantley, 8-1.

Rams advance to first state volleyball tournament

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

OVIEDO — For years the Lake Mary Boys volleyball team has been acclaimed as the best in the state.

But the acclamation was somewhat faint because the sport was not recognized by the FHSAA.

Now, the Rams are three times away from proving that all of these Volleyfest Championships really did belong to the best program in the state.

Under the instruction of first-year head coach George Gordon, Lake Mary earned a trip to this weekend's Inaugural FHSAA Boys Volleyball State Championships by edging host Edgewater in an exciting three-game Play-In match Tuesday.

Gordon, a longtime coach in the boys basketball program, was named to take over the volleyball team when the sport was moved to the spring and veteran coach Jeanne

Fisher, who was committed to coaching the highly successful fast-pitch softball team.

And he has made the most of the opportunity, leading the team to a 23-3 record heading into the State Tournament being held at Royal Palm Beach High School. The Rams were to have met Oakland Park Northeast (12-2) in Friday's Quarterfinals and if they were faced the winner between Cypress Creek (24-3), which upset undefeated Timber Creek in the Play-In game, and Hollywood McArthur (21-6) on Saturday. The Championships game was also set for Saturday evening.

The other half of the bracket was led by undefeated Southwest Miami (27-0) along with host Royal Palm Beach (23-2), Miami Coral Park (27-4) and Coral Springs (17-9).

The Play-In Game was a roller coaster throughout. Lake Mary took in

The safety kits, which include a gun lock, will be available at all Sheriff's Office District Service Centers and at the main Sheriff's Office Building located at 100 Bush Blvd. in Sanford with a maximum of two gunlocks per family.

GymTime for Kids playground with a purpose

By Jamie J. Anderson-Potter
Staff Writer

GymTime for Kids is a "playground with a purpose" for both children and parents alike.

The concept of GymTime for Kids, an indoor playground that focuses on child development, began in 1997 with the opening of its Casselberry location. As the enrollment demands grew, so did GymTime, opening a playroom in Lake Mary in 2001.

GymTime for Kids offers 45-minute or one-hour classes for children 4 months to 8 years old. Each class is geared toward the child's age group and abilities. During the structured "playtime," children are exposed to several different types of activities to build their listening skills, head control, motor skills and development and the art of taking turns.

Curves helps women stay in shape one station at a time

By Adinah Greene
Herald Intern

The sign hanging outside the storefront says "Grand Opening Curves." The facade of a store holds a gym, Curves for Women, where Lois Fenner and her daughter, Lori Wojcieboski run the business of helping women get into shape.

"We wanted to do something we enjoyed," said Fenner. "We were in real estate at the time and didn't like it. Now we enjoy coming to work."

This particular gym opened in the middle of February and has seen great progress from its patrons. Since opening, members have lost a total of 100 inches and that is thanks to the particular system Curves uses.

Curves uses a system called Quick Fit, which combines a cardiovascular strength training, fat burning and muscle building workout in 30 minutes. Members rotate the stations they work in and have a stretch period after each one to ensure they will not be sore later. The heart rate is also measured every seven to eight minutes to make sure members do not over exert themselves.

"The time goes by quickly," said Fenner. "They [members] talk and visit with each other."

Each person has a figure analysis done where measurements are taken and goals are set for the planned weight and body fat loss. Results should show in about a month and that is when the staff takes measurements again to see the progress. Little purple balloons are placed on the wall so that everyone can see how well they are doing.

After Fenner saw the progress her sister was making going to Curves, the mother and daughter team decided to open a branch themselves.

 early lead, but Edgewater (18-10) scored seven straight points to take the lead before the Rams bounced back with five straight points of their own to take the first game, 15-9.

The second game also saw the lead change hands several times, but, getting an amazing emotional spark from the boisterous home crowd, the Eagles overcame the match with a 15-11 triumph.

The momentum stayed with the home squad in the third game as the hosts raced to a 10-6 advantage.

But Lake Mary righted the ship and scored five straight points to grab an 11-10 lead and finally closed out a 15-11 win with 6-foot-5 senior Eddie Willingham, who made a name for himself as a strong rebounder and shot-blocker for the Lake Mary basketball team, serving the winning point, the first time he had served all season.

Tim Spencer was the individual star for the Rams with 23 kills and six digs and four blocks. He saved the best for last, recording 12 of his match-high kills in the deciding game.

Lake Mary began the run to state last Saturday at Oviedo High School, becoming the first-ever FHSAA District 1 champions by defeating the host Lions, 15-7 and 15-8, in the semifinals, and longtime rival Seminole (12-10) in the Championship Game in another three-game classic battle, 15-7, 14-16 (a game in which the Rams had two match points) and 15-5.

Spencer again led the way with 12 kills and eight digs against Oviedo and 12 kills against the Fighting Seminoles. Also having big district tournaments were Shannon Mau with 12 assists against the Lions and 14 assists and 10 digs against Seminole and Aaron Rayburn had 10 kills against the Tribe.

 My sister started going in Michigan and she had to lift her legs into the machines, but her legs were getting stronger," said Fenner. "We also wanted to get into shape and knew we'd have to if we owned it.

We also wanted to help other women."

Curves is limited to just women members, but has no age barriers. Fenner and Woycehoski have another gym in Lake Mary that has been open since August 2001.

Three Greenwood Lakes students recognized by talent search program

Three Greenwood Lakes Middle School seventh-graders received grand recognition in Duke University Talent Identification Program's talent search. The students are David Grabb, Sevaste Filosofos and Alison James. Duke University identifies high-performing students by comparing seventh-grade ACT or SAT scores with the scores of other high-performing students in a sixteen state area. High-performing students often obtain scores on the ACT or SAT higher than high school students taking the tests. One-hundred and sixteen Seminole County Public School students qualified for state recognition by scoring in the top 25 percent of the Talent Search pool. To receive grand recognition, the three Greenwood Lakes students scored in the top 2 percent of the pool.

Woman's Club hosts spring fashion show

Mules are in again! That was one of the fashion tips from Marie Johnson, the guest speaker at the recent meeting of the Lake Mary Woman's Club. (For those of you who do not know a great deal about fashion, a mule is a cute little high-heeled shoe with no back.) Marie came from Steinmart to inform the club members about the new looks for spring and summer. A little bit of the Dynasty look is coming back with more padding in the shoulders, not quite as much as in the '80s, but certainly more than in recent years. More in keeping with Florida is the change in sleeve and pants length. You can look elegant with quarter-length sleeves and Capri pants, but still cool enough for a Florida heat wave. While sleeves and pants are shorter, skirts are longer, but with a more pencil shape near the bottom of the shaft. As for colors, earth to warmer, softer tan and pink are in for the spring and summer. The Woman's Club was fortunate enough to have two wonderful members model some very beautiful clothes for the meeting. Amy Lockhart and Charlene Miller graciously donated their time and temperament to the cause and looked great in the process.

Two of the very special guests at this month's meeting were Jamesha and Jerry Britton. Jamesha is the club's foundation scholarship recipient. The club has been supporting Jamesha until she graduates, which will be this May.

Divie Chicks, I Feel Your Pain

So much has been made of the country group "The Dixie Chicks" anti-war sentiment, it just leads me to wonder, is this still America? Americans have given their lives to ensure our right to free speech. Lately, any one who says anything negative is pounced on as an American. Yes, I support the President's decision to invade Iraq, but not because I have any faith in Bush. I'm sorry, but in my opinion, the man is not the sharpest tack in the box.

He does, however, have some smart people working for him. Bush had the good sense to appoint Dr. Condoleezza Rice, National Security Advisor, the first woman appointed to that position. If you'd like to know more about Dr. Rice, log onto: <http://www.whitehouse.gov/nsc/ricebio.html>. It's a great way to inspire your daughter!

Back to the Dixie Chicks. "the nude magazine cover? I know they thought it was a good idea, but just wait until their children are older."

I'd say they're in for a rough time during middle school.

Spring season going well for Lake Mary athletes

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

LAKE MARY — The Spring Sports Season has proved to be a good one for the Lake Mary High School Athletic Program as well as individual athletes on the collegiate level.

The Lake Mary softball team has been ranked in the Top Five in the Class AA State Polls all season and carried a 24-3 record and the No. 1 seed into this week's AA-District 2 Tournament at Seminole High School.

Leading the way for the Rams, who were to have played Deland in the district semifinals with the winner advancing to the finals and earning an automatic bid to this week's regionals, have been the pitching trio of Olivia Benson, Jesse Arndt, and both Laurenze, as well as Lauren Herlihy, Leah Kelly, Kristen Patton, Caitlin Mahoney, and Marie Keeney.

The baseball team did not have as good a regular season as it had hoped for, going just 10-12, but the Rams' offense exploded in the final game of the AA-District 2 tournament at Daytona Semoran Memorial Stadium, as the No. 3 seeds upset second-seeded Lake Brantley 19-1 (8-8-1) to advance to the Championship Game or possible No. 1 State-ranked Oviedo and an automatic bid to this coming week's Regionals.

Center D.J. Ackley struck out in the victory, completing his record to 9-0 on the season. Senior Christian Robado went 2-for-4 with three RBI, while junior Mitchell Chubb went 3-for-4 with a pair of RBI and junior Brian Richardson drove in a run.

With Lake Mary's record in expected to go well in the district meet at Seminole this past week, led by Regionals' Campbell and Angie Pressey.

The boys lacrosse team is also in the midst of a super season, having finished second to Oviedo in the Seminole Athletic Conference, but earning the top seed in District 2B with an 11-4 record. In final 2B standings were Lake Brantley (6-8), Winter Springs (4-8), Umatilla (4-12) and Seminole (0-13).

The Rams then won the district tournament by crushing Umatilla 18-0, and edging Lake Brantley 9-8 in an exciting Championship Game.

Lake Mary was to have hosted Winter Park in the Regionals on Wednesday, but the game was postponed due to bad weather.

Members of the team are: Brandon Alexander, Chris Almerandez, John Ardito, Matthew Beard, Arthur Ikerzins, Jamie Bible, Matthew Breen, Kyle Cooper, Matthew

On the collegiate level, freshmen Ashley Bitar and Catherine Weyer have been the contributors to a Seminole Community College softball team that went 7-12 in the regular season and was to have played in the state tournament this weekend in Kissimmee.

Bitar, a first baseman, came out, finished second on the team in hitting (.473), hits (54), and RBI (29) and was selected to the Mid-Florida Conference second team in a vote of the conference's coaches.

At the University of Central Florida, three freshmen from Lake Mary, Lake Mary High grads Kyle and Ryan Bono and Bishop Moore's Drew Britner, have emerged as leaders for the coach Jay Bergman's Golden Knights.

Kyle, a pitcher, third baseman, has made the biggest impact, having led the club's efforts.

The right-hander is 4-2 with two saves and an amazingly low 0.6 earned run average in 29 relief appearances for the 27-20 Knights. In 29 2/3 innings, the right-hander has allowed just 16 hits and three runs, two earned, while striking out 40 and walking only eight. Opponents are hitting a minuscule .160 against him.

For good reason, he has also gone 1-for-31 (.333 average) with a walk in four plate appearances, including one start at third base.

His twin brother, Ryan, a catcher, has also bounced back from a slow start due to an ankle injury, hitting .278 with seven doubles and a triple, 50 on-base runs and driving in 10.

Ryan's emergence has allowed Bergman to move Britner, also a catcher, to third base, solving a big problem for UCF. Britner, the son of former Major League catcher and Rollins coach Jim's batting .274, including four triples, and has scored 15 runs and driven in 21.

The Golden Knights are expected to finish high in the Atlantic Sun Conference, but if they swept the three-game series with Jacksonville State in Alabama this weekend, they would move into fourth place and a spot in the upcoming tournament.

Following the Troy photo series, UCF will play three games in Deland against Seton next weekend, May 11-13. Saturday's game will be at 1 p.m. and will be televised on Sunshine Network as well as being carried on radio on 740-AM The Team.

There will be a doubleheader starting at 1 p.m. on Sunday (5-11), which will also be carried on 740.

The regular season wraps up with a game at Jacksonville University that will probably decide who gets into the A-Sun Tournament. A single game will be played on Friday, May 16th starting at 6 p.m. and then there will be a doubleheader on Saturday (5-17) starting at 1 p.m. All three of those games will also be on 740-The Team.

Speaking of Seton, former Lake Mary resident Chris Westervelt is having a little bit of an obsession for him, hitting just .238 with eight doubles, one triple and four home runs and has driven in just 25 runs. But the All-American catcher has helped the Hatters post a 31-17 record overall and an impressive 18-9 mark in the Atlantic Sun.

In order to accomplish these and other goals, instructors lead the classes through puppet shows, songs, dances, relays and games.

"It's fun for the kids," said Erika Patel, mother of 9-month-old Shaan Patel.

They have a great time and can hang out with kids their age.

At each age-level, the classes become progressively more structured, while still maintaining the element of fun. The older age groups focus on sports and team participation to prepare them for participating in community sports.

"It's not free play, there is a method to our madness," said Jeff Wilson, owner of GymTime for Kids. "The parents and children can walk away from the process having learned something."

"Our first and foremost intent is that we provide development in the program," he added. "We are instructors and provide a place so children can develop."

For Wilson, whose grandfather was a school principal, mother was a teacher and father was a banker, opening a business that caters to children and their parents seemed like a natural progression.

"I've combined the things my family has done into the business," said Wilson, whose wife, Julie, assists with the business. "I have a knack of connecting with kids. I'm playful so I'm able to let them feel a child again even to adults and let them and be treated like people, not kids."

The atmosphere at GymTime for Kids is one that supports learning and fun with colorful toys, decorative wall paintings and upbeat music. The atmosphere also gives members an opportunity to play games and with other children while making friends do because they want to, not because they have to," said Wilson, who requires that children younger than 3 years and 3 months be accompanied by an adult. "They truly take an active role in the child's development."

During classes, moms can be heard swapping labor stories or sharing advice on child rearing.

"The classes are good for moms to be able to socialize," said Christina Liu, mother of 14-month-old C.J. Daleiden.

Lynn Gates, mother of 7-month-old Alexandra Gates, agrees. "It's good for moms to be together and have a time to talk."

According to Wilson, although mothers make up the majority of the caregivers attending the classes, grandparents and fathers also participate.

GymTime caters to more than 13,000 member families and 9,000 children have attended birthday parties at its two locations. At any given time, 500 children can be enrolled at the two gyms.

GymTime's staff of 10 is well educated in child development and each undergoes an extensive background check before being hired.

"We hire people that put parents at ease and that care about the children's success," said Wilson, who is expecting his second child in July. "Sometimes parents are looking for a male teacher figure, since a lot of teachers are women."

"I show them I have a male perspective."

This is the best job I will ever have," he added. "I get to have fun and play with kids all day."

GymTime for Kids soon starts offering summer camps. If you are interested in becoming a member of GymTime, call Jeff Wilson at 407-323-6760.
