

STARHEMBERG IS LIVING MODEL OF HEROIC FIGURES

New Dictator Brings Fire, Dash, Romance To Austrian Scene

(By The Associated Press) A living model for all heroes of melodrama, Prince Ernst Rudiger von Starhemberg brings fire, dash and romance to the turbulent Austrian scene.

Barely 35, this outspoken steel-willed young descendant of the fighting Count E. R. von Starhemberg, who stubbornly held Vienna against the Turks 251 years ago, started young on his road to power opposes, in the now famed Munich beer putch in 1923. During the ensuing decade—up to the very day he took the reins of government from the hands of the murdered Dollfuss, the martyred Millmetzenich (tiny Metternich) his career was to be inextricably interlaced with that of Der Fuehrer.

After fighting with the German insurgents in Upper Silesia, the youthful prince returned to the vast estates he had inherited and began welding together the Iron Guard that was to back his every move in the complicated Austrian political game.

His refusal to inject the anti-Semitic issue into Austrian politics led to an open break with Hitler. "The Jewish question," he maintained, "is an international one; it cannot be settled by one nation."

Later he was to call Hitler a man of illegitimate birth—who happens to speak German—and refer to the Nazis as "brown madder beasts."

A comic opera putch in 1931 led to his arrest, and he was fined $28. He bounced right back, however, with threats to march on Vienna if the government failed to accept his program for economic rehabilitation of the country.

Thereafter young von Starhemberg busied himself strengthening his Iron Guard and his position.

All this time he had been swinging first to support of Dollfuss, then to opposition. Final alliance came late last year, when Starhemberg joined his forces with Dollfuss' Fatherland Front, the sole legal political party in Austria, and became Vice Chancellor of the single front.

The Socialists' control of Vienna's city government irked the members, men picked for their ability, leadership and qualifications. These committees are as follows: "Co-operative buying, advertising, handling complaints and recommendations for Federal Food Supply Depots, a Grievance Committee, merchandising, and the law and most important—a committee of accounts. This committee will undertake to teach the Old Dutch system of accounting to members of the association so that they may know the exact financial condition of their business."

"I am going to take this opportunity to give my opinion to members who think the Grocery Code is of little value to the small independent merchant. You express yourself by saying that you cannot meet competitive prices of the large chain organizations. It is a matter of fact that the small independent merchant sells at a cheaper price than the largest chain. NRA has placed an additional minimum wage. This has a tendency to better the independent merchant's position by placing him on a more equal footing with his competitors. No one can dis-

(Continued from page one) way limits the freedom, honor and dignity of the Austrian nation. We have a German mission to perform, but we will not let anybody dictate or even advise or influence us as to how we shall fulfill that mission."

He appealed to all Austrian leaders to stand for and by Austria. "Believe in Austria's future, my hearers," he said. "Resist all attempts to mix into your affairs from outside. Do not depart one inch from the way prescribed by Dollfuss, just as the federal cabinet will not depart one inch from it."

Starhemberg decried the Nazis as "desperate and irresponsible elements." He said, "Our leader is dead but the idea he has stood for lives more today than ever. With the exception of a few insignificant pieces order prevails through Austria and in a few more hours these places will have unequivocal order and law."

Starhemberg stated Austria was absolutely opposed to all forms of bolshevism, even that form which is camouflaged under nationalistic colorings. Austria is fighting against barbarism of the Twentieth Century."

Touching upon the conflict with Germany he declared emphatically: "We have never given occasion for conflict with the Reich. We have done everything to fasten the bonds of blood and culture which tie us to the German nation. At the same time I must declare emphatically that we shall never yield Austria's honor and that we shall resist every attempt to limit the liberty and independence of our Fatherland."

Prince Starhemberg rejected the attempts "of certain forces outside Austria to unload the responsibility for this week's events from themselves onto others."

Obviously referring to Hitler's offer of peace he observed coolly: "We have suffered too much in the past to not look skeptically at protestations of friendship. We shall wait reservedly to see whether peace will follow the war."

He promised that the disturbers of Austria would be dealt—with summarily and justly. In conclusion he stated his confidence in talking over the government until formation of a cabinet had been made, rested upon the fact that members of Chancellor Dollfuss' Old Guard, especially, Kurt Schuschnigg and Emil Fey, stood at his side.

Many observers thought his designation extremely significant. He had long been friendly to the ousted Hapsburg monarchy, had reviewed his 8,000 Heimwehrmen as thousands cheered for Arch Duke Otto's return as King and there had been rumors Starhemberg might assume the regency for Otto.

BRITAIN NOT TO INTERVENE IN AUSTRIA

Simon Reveals Policy Of Nation As One Of Watchful Waiting; Baldwin Scoffs War

LONDON, July 30. (A.P.)—Sir John Simon, British Foreign Secretary, informed the House of Commons today that Great Britain has no present intention of intervening to preserve Austrian independence.

Replying to a question as to what steps the government is taking to preserve Austria's integrity, Sir John said "His Majesty's government is continuing to watch the situation carefully but no action on its part is called for or is in contemplation."

The Foreign Secretary, however, declined to answer a question as to whether Great Britain "has made a direct proposal to the German government expressing its disapprobation" of alleged interference in Austrian general affairs. The Foreign Secretary asked that the question be submitted formally in advance.

Stanley Baldwin, acting Prime Minister of Great Britain, said in the House of Commons today that there is no immediate danger of war in Europe despite the difficulties and perplexities of the present situation.

He made the statement in defending Great Britain's recently announced plans to increase its air force. He opposed the labor party's motion of censure declaring "There is no cause at all for a panic of any kind. As far as I can see there is no risk in the immediate future of peace being broken. It might well be that peace will not be broken, and there are a great many people in Europe who will do all they can to see to it that it is not broken."

Andrew Carraway Robbed Of Clothing Worth Nearly $200

Nearly $200 worth of clothing belonging to Andrew M. Carraway, manager of the Sanford Country Club was stolen from the club last night while Mr. and Mrs. Carraway were attending the Milane Theater.

When the Carraways returned from the theater at about 11:00 o'clock, they saw the club house ablaze with lights. Entering, they found that the office had been ransacked after it had been entered through a rear window, and that the main part of the building had been entered through a screen window near the kitchen.

Further investigation revealed that three suits of clothing, several pairs of shoes, and a quantity of shirts, underwear, socks, and ties had been removed from the bedroom along with a small suitcase.

The robber or robbers had eaten a quantity of food stored in a refrigerator, and several packages of cigarettes and bars of candy had been removed from the office.

Mussolini Tribunal Wipes Out Class Rule

ROME, July 30. (A.P.)—The highest judicial tribunal forest guard is entitled to the dignity of a member of the nobility, the supreme court has decided.

Setting all doubts as to how far the government would go to back up fascist militarism, the tribunal ordered a retrial for Alfredo Motta, of Lucca. He had been absolved by lower courts of charges toward two forest patrollers.

The high court held that "even the forest militia are agents of public safety and therefore any affront to them constitutes a public outrage."

Motta requested interference of the guards in what he considered a strictly private altercation with a patroller. Asked by them what the law was about he told them to "keep their own business."

HOUSTON, Texas, July 30. (A.P.)—Miss Helen Corvick, one of a life term, escaped a hole in a frame brick building at Harlan State Prison Sunday and fled. Captain A. J. O'Connell in charge of the farm, said the escape with bloodhounds in pursuit of river bottom lands near the town.

HARRIMAN OKEYS HOMESTEAD IDEA PLANNED BY U. S.

National C. Of C. Head Terms It Fundamental, Far-Reaching

WASHINGTON, July 30. (A.P.)—Henry I. Harriman, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, yesterday described the Administration's subsistence experimentation as "the most fundamental and far-reaching movement under way today."

"Approve of the subsistence homestead projects?" Harriman repeated. "Of course I do."

The chamber's president had just returned from a visit to Readville, W. Va., where with the aid of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt one of the first subsistence undertakings was established.

This venture was assailed as "communistic" by Dr. William A. Wirtz, of Gary, Ind., in his testimony before a House committee. "Social security has got to be given the people of the country," Harriman said in an interview. "The subsistence homestead projects will show us the way to the necessary decentralization of industry; the relief of mass congestion in the cities; provision for workers to own their own homes and contribute to their own support."

"I believe that if the subsistence movement already had been carried out that there would be little need for unemployment insurance, or rather unemployment reserves."

"I am not opposing unemployment reserve, or old age pensions, but my fear is that they will be a hindrance."

GEORGIANHELD AS VIOLATOR OF NRA CODE

Road Contractor Said To Have Paid As Low As 10 Cents An Hour For 17 Hour Shifts

ATLANTA, July 30. (A.P.)—Charged by the federal government with violation of the NRA construction code, John E. Whitley, highway contractor and close friend of Governor Talmadge, was arrested here yesterday and released after posting $5000 bond.

An information charging Whitley with violating the code on 70 counts for paying wages as low as 10 cents an hour for working days ranging up to 17 hours was filed in federal court at Macon because the alleged violations occurred within jurisdiction of the middle Georgia district court there.

Coming here from his home at Lagrange, Ga., Whitley surrendered to the United States marshal and appeared before the United States commissioner to arrange bond. His trial was set for Nov. 8 before Federal Judge James S. Deaver.

The information filed at Macon Saturday, which takes the place of an indictment before a federal grand jury, resulted from an investigation by Irwin Geiger, member of the litigation division of the NRA at Washington.

The alleged violations took place on a state-financed paving project and no federal funds were involved. Geiger said his investigation revealed that the Whitley Construction company had worked employes as much as double the maximum allowed, which is eight hours for a 24 hour period.

Geiger said he learned Whitley has discharged some of the employes whose names are mentioned in the complaint and said that seven were "fired" Friday.

The NRA several weeks ago withdrew from Whitley the Blue Eagle, although he never had signed the code and contended he had no eagle to give back. Geiger said that under the law Whitley's company came under the NRA code regardless of whether he had signed.

The maximum penalty which could be assessed against Whitley on conviction is $500 for each count. Conviction on all 70 counts would bring a maximum fine of $35,000.

In a statement Whitley said the charges were "persecution against me for political purposes."

"I expect to bid at the next letting of roads in Georgia," he said. "If I am the lowest bidder I expect to get the contract or know the reason why."

He charged that "unscrupulous politicians have deliberately misstated facts about my business," and that he would fight to a finish.

At the same time the federal charges were being filed, Judge Claude Pittman, one of Governor Talmadge's opponents in the present race for governor, charged in a campaign speech at Monroe, Ga., that Whitley violated the highway bond.

PILOTS PUZZLED STATE TREASURY BY FAILURE OF BALANCE BETTER THAN LAST YEAR

Stratospherists Who Escaped Death Find Instruments Ruined

HOLDREGE, Neb., July 30. (A.P.)—Varying theories for failure of the huge balloon "Explorer" to reach its proud goal of a new stratospheric altitude record were expressed by members of its crew yesterday as they counted up full total loss of their equipment.

To the loss of the mammoth gas bag—largest ever constructed containing about three acres of fabric—and the flattened and split gondola, they added regretfully destruction of their ton of valuable scientific instruments—all except the spectrophotograph.

A check of the instruments within the metal cubic during its thrill-packed ten-hour flight of more than 300 miles to a height of 60,000 feet was completed yesterday by Major William E. Kepner, pilot and commander of the expedition, and his aides, Captains Albert W. Stevens and Orvil A. Anderson. All saved themselves by parachute jumps from their disabled craft.

Stevens said the "mechanical brains" furnished by more than a score of societies cooperating with the flight backers—the Army Air Corps and National Geographic Society had been destroyed by the jarring crash of the gondola. The spectrophotograph, however, had been hung outside during the trip into the upper reaches, and floated to earth on a separate parachute.

Lehmann Commends Local Merchants On Summer Sales Plan

Commending Sanford merchants for the aggressive summer clean-up sale which are being planned for this week-end, Karl Lehmann, secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, praised the excellent line of goods which local merchants carry and pointed out that "this is the time to buy" in a notice recently released for publication.

Mr. Lehmann's comment in full is as follows: "We are delighted to note that the merchants of Sanford are planning an aggressive Summer Clean Up Sale and will make available the best merchandise at the most reasonable prices."

"This is the time to buy and a general sale of this kind will make merchandise available at bargain prices and mean substantial savings to our people."

"Now is the time for an aggressive merchandising campaign. Sanford merchants carry excellent lines of goods. Splendid value and high qualities at reasonable prices should attract more buyers."

MISS DRESSLER WILL BE GIVEN SIMPLE BURIAL

Death Finally Claims Indomitable Will Of Woman Who Starred For Over 50 Years

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., July 30. (A.P.)—The body of Marie Dressler, most beloved of the picture actresses, will be taken to her home yesterday from Santa Barbara, where she died Saturday after a long illness.

Two friends of many years' standing, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Walker, who were with her when she died peacefully, consulted with several others among her closest companions about funeral arrangements. She had no living relatives.

Simple rites were planned. "Her life was so simple, and we know it was her wish that the last ceremonies be unostentatious," said Walker.

Death conquered an indomitable will in claiming the life of the 62-year-old actress. She really fought to live. She wanted to make an other picture, create another character whose tears, smiles, defeats, triumphs and grumpy old ways would thrill again from screens throughout the world.

Disease cut short the career that led from poverty to the pinnacle of screen immortality. She was stricken three years ago. She knew then her years were numbered but she continued her work, even to the point when her appearances before the camera had to be curtailed to short durations because of the pain she suffered.

Marie Dressler carried on, however, and her will to live remained with her almost to the minute of her death. Almost a month ago her physician abandoned all hope, saying death might come in a few hours, a few days, and surely within a few weeks.

She was in a coma for more than three weeks, unable to recognize those about her. Shortly before she took her last conscious breath she seemed to know the end was near. "I did put up a good fight, didn't I?"

Those were the last words she spoke. Her physician marveled at her resistance.

Urania was the immediate cause of death. It was one of the complications of a cancerous growth in the lower abdomen.

Far more gifted than most of her contemporaries, Miss Dressler was known as one of the most brilliant conversationalists in Hollywood. She did not have the benefits of a grammar school education, but she was an avid newspaper reader and fulfilled a promise made to her mother when she left home as a child to join a road show, that she would read a newspaper every day.

Her success on the screen is unrivaled. The academy of motion picture arts and sciences awarded her the first prize for the best performance of the season 1933-34. It was given her for her role "Min," in the movie, "Min and Toll."

Sharp Reduction In Principal Features West Palm Beach Bond Settlement Plan

WEST PALM BEACH, July 30. (A.P.)—A bond settlement plan calling for a sharp reduction in the principal debt was placed before the city commissioners by the committee of ten, appointed by the commission to seek some solution to the city debt problem.

City officials said the plan is simply a recommendation of the committee to the commission, and must not be construed either as a settlement actually made, or as the commission's own plan, the commission having not even had time to go into the matter thoroughly as yet.

Orrin Randolph, chairman of the committee, placed before the commission a plan which, briefly, calls for: 1—Reduction to 30 cents of principal on 30 percent of the bonded debt, these bonds to carry

CITY BRIEFS

Local weather Saturday: High 95, low 74, rainfall .34 of an inch; Sunday, high 95, low 73, rainfall .12 of an inch.

Gene Roumillat, local druggist, went out of his way last week to write a letter to the Daytona Beach Chamber of Commerce in which he expressed his appreciation of the courtesy extended to him by a beach patrolman last Sunday. Mr. Roumillat and his family were camping on the beach, and were preparing breakfast early Sunday morning when an officer drove up, smiled, wished the party an enjoyable visit, offered his assistance in any way, and left after handing the Roumillats a morning paper.

Perry N. Whitehurst, sales manager for the Standard Growers Association of this city but now handling a "potato deal" in Virginia, will return to Sanford about Sept. 1, he revealed in a letter received here today. Mr. Whitehurst says that the weather around Norfolk has been "dreadfully hot," and "not like that in Sanford as the weather is recorded in the temperate zone printed in The Herald." He adds that "the potato deal" has been a real tough one. Almost twice as many potatoes as the country could consume at a profit. Most all growers have lost heavily in North Carolina, Virginia, and Maryland is beginning under most untaxable conditions.

South Jacobs, whose picnics and barbecues are known for miles around, was in Sanford Saturday, telling his friends that he expects to stage another "real good time" at Jacobs Grove near Chuluota next Thursday, starting at about 10:00 o'clock. Barbequed luncheon and supper will be served, and the guests will be invited to participate in games, contests, swimming, and finally, dancing at night.

Workmen today began repainting the interior and exterior of the Valder Hotel which recently was taken over by Guy McMillan, Daytona Beach hotel operator. The lobby and adjoining rooms will be redecorated and brightened up by the installation of more lights, while the exterior will be repainted from top to bottom. The work will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000. (Continued On Page Two)

"Unemployment reserves must come through contributions from both the employer and worker. The British have had quite a bit of experience with such legislation and we might take a few lessons from them."

Unemployment insurance and old age pension legislation are on the administration's agenda for the next Congress.

Harriman said what he saw at Reservoir and a project near Mount Pleasant in Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania, had made him certain the "Administration is on the right track."

"I am not endorsing everything that may be done at these projects," Harriman explained. "Mistakes will be made but gradually hundreds of thousands of workers will be moved to new and better surroundings. They will be given opportunities to buy their own homes and garden plots, where they can contribute to their own support."

RELIEF AGENTS 'SNOOTY' TO IDLE, INQUIRER FINDS

Federal Official Urges Dynamite For Some After An Inquiry

WASHINGTON, July 30. — If District Commissioner George Allen had his way, dynamite would be placed under American social workers "to blow some brains into their heads" so they would devote a little more thought to finding jobs for the unemployed.

Mr. Allen, who directs the District of Columbia's civic destinies, has returned to Washington after a week in headlines in Chicago, Cleveland, Toledo, Milwaukee and Detroit. He made the expedition "to see what was going on among the jobless." He didn't want to talk about the results but pent up wrath got the better of him.

"The snooziest people on God's green earth are running the federal employment agencies," he said. "You ask them for a job and they feel they're doing you a favor to make your application. Most of the offices close at noon. Why don't they keep open all day and fight for the unemployed, trying their damndest to get them jobs?"

Mr. Allen masqueraded in old clothes, let his beard grow and dispensed with baths for a few days. He boarded a train for Milwaukee, unsuccessfully sought a job, then moved on to Cleveland, Chicago and Toledo.

A discussion among his associates inspired the excursion, he said. His friends' attitude was that "unemployment relief was a lot of booby." Mr. Allen said he thought so too, but hoped he was wrong.

"I once was a hotel executive," the commissioner said. "I went around with the big shots, met important people, ordered servants about and had a big time. My friends told me that handing out money to the unemployed was making them bums. Now I know they're wrong."

Mr. Allen said he found 98 percent of the unemployed are anxious to get jobs and will work at almost anything.

"So now I know my friends were wrong. Only a few persons don't want work. These are classed as unemployable and should be separated from the employable and with respect to the latter I favor dynamite treatment for the social workers to make them use their brains and imagination in finding work for them."

Mr. Allen said he met several communists "and learned something from them." He said the power of the communist comes principally through his patience in listening to tales of woe and going out and fighting and trying to do something about it.

"The relief people," he said, "won't listen to the jobless man, much less fight for him, so he turns to the communist who offers to go out and get what the man wants. But communist orators can't hold their listeners if jobs are in prospect. Pass through a crowd of whistling jobs are available here and there and soon the communist is talking to himself."

HUEY LONG'S TROOPS AGAIN CALLED OUT

Guardsmen Seize List Of Qualified Voters After Breaking Doors Of Registry

NEW ORLEANS, July 31.—(AP)—The 15th Louisiana National Guard today seized a list of qualified voters from the Orleans Parish Registrar's office after breaking through the doors of the building.

NEW ORLEANS, July 31.—(AP)—Senator Huey Long's National Guardsmen held a parade today in celebration of their capture of the Louisiana "Kingfish" in his hotel suite and his defeat in his political office on an antagonistic city administration.

More than a score of guardsmen swooped down on the City Hall annex last night, battered in the door and took possession of the lists of names of qualified voters in the September Congressional primary as Mayor T. Semmes Walmley, the Senator's bitter enemy, sat in his office in the City Hall across the street.

Governor O. K. Allen who was deposed with Long's supporters issued a proclamation establishing partial martial law and explaining the action as taken to protect the registrars office from "insult and intimidation."

The martial law applies only to a restricted area in the vicinity of the City Hall.

It is apparent they want to search the names from the registration books under the protection of the militia, Mayor Walmley said. "They already control the registration office here through the state appointment of the local registrar," he continued.

The congressmen from New Orleans and numerous other "radicals" will be nominated in the September primary. Other candidates are endorsed by Long and Walmley.

Pickett Finds That Abstinence Habit Has Been Gaining

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(AP)—Doris Pickett, secretary of the research and education department of the Methodist Episcopal board of temperance, prohibition and public morals, said in a formal statement that estimates of liquor consumption since repeal show that "during the years of prohibition the habit of abstinence from intoxicants became quite general in America."

Pickett estimated total consumption of hard liquor this year would not exceed 70,000,000 gallons, which she said was only half that consumed during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1934, the "last normal pre-prohibition year."

He said while it was "apparent" from these figures that prohibition had encouraged habits of abstinence, advertising and vigorous trade promotion by the liquor interests "will undoubtedly result in increasing consumption of liquors."

"This is the question before the American people," he added, "is such increased consumption of liquors desirable?"

Pickett said the willingness of the press to publish news disclosing unfavorable conditions under repeal "has already gone far to answer the critics so recently voiced against prohibition."

Can Industry Benefits Under NRA Revealed

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(AP)—A 35 percent employment increase within one industry in one day was cited by NRA yesterday as evidence of recovery through the NRA.

The automobile manufacturing industry was the one named and the figures given showed a 35 percent increase from July 1, 1933 and July 1, 1934. NRA reported:

The 1934 increase in workers to 1,014,000 from 750,000 in 1933. The 1934 increase in the average work week to 38 hours from 34 hours in 1933.

The 1934 increase in the average weekly wage to $22.55 from $19.50 in 1933.

The 1934 increase in weekly profits to $1,000,000 from $750,000 in 1933.

MINDEN, Nev., July 31.—(AP)—Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dall, widow of the President, obtained a divorce here yesterday from Curtis B. Dall, New York broker, on charges of extreme cruelty.

The divorce was granted speedily at a private hearing before Judge Clark J. Gould in the little courthouse where Elliott Roosevelt was divorced from Elizabeth Donner Roosevelt last year.

The custody of the Dall children, "Satie" and "Buzzie," and settlement of property rights, was determined in an agreement approved by the court. The terms of the agreement were not made public.

Daytona Beach Considers Proposal To Exempt New Homes From Taxation

DAYTONA BEACH, July 31.—A proposal to exempt new homes from city taxation for several years after they are constructed "is worthy of consideration," Milton S. Couch, city manager, said recently.

He said that he had observed after the World War in certain communities that such exemptions appeared to stimulate home building considerably.

Commissioner Wiles said he would be in favor of such a move if he were convinced it would stimulate building here.

Mayor Armstrong was out of the city and other commissioners could not be reached by The News-Journal for statements today.

Couch said that Daytona Beach had brought business or industries to the city by tax exempting their buildings in all or part for several years.

Peace Returns To 3 Strike-Torn Areas

(By Associated Press)

The capital-labor pendulum swung back toward peace today as at least three major strikes were ended. Only in the strikes of Minneapolis truck drivers and Chicago livestock handlers were there adverse developments. Leaders of the striking truck drivers issued an ultimatum to Governor Floyd Olson that unless all trucks are halted for 48 hours they will stop them by force. The Chicago stockyards strike threatened to spread to packing plants, but General Hugh Johnson was reported unofficially to be planning personal intervention. The Pacific Coast longshoremen's strike became history as 12,000 strikers turned back to the docks today, and other maritime workers signified their readiness to return to work, turning over their grievances to arbitrators.

ECONOMIC LIFE OF STATE LIES IN NEW TARIFF PACT

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(AP)—A document reaching to the vital depths of the economic life of Florida now is being drafted in the state department.

This is the new commercial treaty between the United States and Cuba. So important is the paper to the peninsula state it may be considered, to an appreciable extent, a treaty between Florida and the island republic.

Florida and Cuba have similar climatic and soil conditions which throws them into competition in America's winter fruit and vegetable markets.

Their farm systems are vastly different, involving different yields of living conditions which reflect on the cost of production. The American peninsula claims fruits and vegetables produced under a higher American living (Continued on Page Three)

Gov. Talmadge Is Denounced By Organized Labor

Executive Said To Be Reducing Laborers To State Of Peonage

ATLANTA, July 31.—(AP)—The charge that Governor Talmadge and the state highway board were reducing Georgia laborers "to a condition of virtual peonage" through their failure to fix a minimum wage scale of 40 cents an hour was hurled by organized labor yesterday.

Governor Talmadge replied that "the state of Georgia cannot afford to pay for unskilled labor higher wages than the average taxpayer himself can earn" and added:

"I have no quarrel with organized labor, and organized labor has no quarrel with me."

In a lengthy resolution adopted by the executive board of the Georgia Federation of Labor, the governor and the highway board were denounced for not establishing NRA code wages on state road projects and "fair minded citizens" were called on to help save labor from being forced "to the verge of starvation wages."

Approximately one-half of the 5,000,000 miles of the world's highways are in this country.

Lamb Re-Assigned To Local FERA In Place Of Tyler

ROLAND F. Lamb, local man who was assigned to the post as chief auditor and treasurer of the Volusia county FERA office at Daytona Beach some weeks ago, is temporarily in charge of the same post in the Seminole County set-up, it was announced this morning.

Regional Administrator O. P. Swope at Orlando announced that for the present Mr. Lamb would act as auditor and treasurer of FERA activities in both Seminole and Volusia counties.

He was returned to local service on a part-time basis when Mr. Swope announced the removal of office of Warren I. Tyler, county auditor for the past few weeks.

Mr. Lamb announced today that W. W. Gouch of Sanford, employed in the FERA administrative office here for some weeks, would become chief clerk at the City Hall office to represent him while he was at Daytona Beach.

Mr. Lamb revealed that Mrs. Helen T. Morse of Sanford, recently assigned to the Daytona Beach office as director of operations, "is doing a fine job in the middle of a confused situation. She really has a man-sized job, but she's reorganizing the Volusia county set-up in fine shape."

Trammell Opposes Any Reduction In Vegetable Tariff

Senator Park Trammell, appealed to by telegram last yesterday for information as to the status of the new tariff treaty as it affects tariff on Cuban vegetables, replied as follows in less than an hour:

"Answering your wire relative to vegetable tariff, I beg to advise that I have contacted proper authorities in the State Department, and am advised that no decision on the tariff question has been reached as yet and that data on this subject is still being gathered. Last Monday I appeared before the hearing with a delegation from Florida and strongly protested any reduction in the tariff. I am very much in hopes of retaining the tariff as of today."

Senator Trammell's telegram is an answer to one sent from the Chamber of Commerce as the result of a meeting involving Peter Thurston, M. B. Smith, and R. G. Hickson of the Seminole Agricultural Club's Special Tariff Committee, R. L. Glenn and Karl Lehmann.

Their telegram was as follows: "Please wire today latest information on situation relative to Cuban tariff on vegetables. This seriously affects Florida agriculture. A 50 percent reduction would practically destroy our vegetable industry."

Dillinger's Dad Makes Appearance On Stage

INDIANAPOLIS, July 31.—(AP)—The father of the notorious John Dillinger made his stage debut here yesterday and told an audience he is certain that the body he buried here last Wednesday is that of his son.

"I know it's my son, the 70-year-old Moorville, Ind., farmer said. 'I wish to the Lord Almighty it wasn't.'"

The 15-minute appearance of the Dillingers—the father, a son Hubert, and a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Hancock—was received mostly in silence.

NRA CONTROL BY JOHNSON IS ATTACKED

Recovery Acts Administration Termed 'Abhorrent To U.S. Sense Of Justice'

NEW YORK, July 31.—(AP)—The NRA as administered by Hugh S. Johnson was described last night by Thomas D. Thacher, solicitor general in the Hoover administration as "abhorrent to the American sense of justice and fair play."

Speaking in the Republican national committee's political speech series, Thacher contended the great question to be determined in the next Congress was to what extent the policy of giving the President vast powers over agriculture and industry should be continued.

"The question will certainly be considered, and may well be decided, by the new Congress," Thacher said. "Consequently it should be the controlling issue in the congressional election this fall."

"It involves the American system of government and rises far above the fortunes of candidates of political parties. Knowledge of the new system and its effect upon individual men and women is necessary to intelligent discussion."

Under critical necessity in the past 17 months, he said, hasty legislative and executive action had been taken without "considered thought of the ultimate consequences of the action taken."

Wallace Defends New Deal

4000 Farmers Applaud Secretary's Explanation Of Program, Attack On Critics

RUSTON, La., July 31.—(AP)—Secretary Wallace yesterday attacked the Republican critics of the AAA and said the "New Deal" had returned twice as much to Southern farmers in 1933 as the return of the "Old Deal" in 1932.

Some 4000 Louisiana farmers cheered statements that the crop control activities of the AAA would be continued and interrupted with prolonged applause when he referred to President Roosevelt and the New Deal.

Wallace, a former Republican, heatedly attacked the Republicans and what he termed "old dealers" and charged them with attempting to use the drought as an excuse for abandonment of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's policies.

"This effort to use the fact of the drought as an attack on the Agricultural Adjustment program is typical of the short-sighted leadership of the Republican party from 1921 to 1932," he said.

"During this period the high command in the Republican party steadfastly refused to see that the market for the 50 million acres which had been put into crops during the war had been destroyed by our change from a debtor to a creditor nation."

"They refused to do anything to take this into account either by appropriate changes in tariff policy or by giving farmers controlling power of government with which to retire gradually the acres producing surplus for a market which no longer existed."

British Ship Ready To Take MacDonald Home

BOSTON, July 31.—(AP)—The Boston Globe says in a special dispatch from a member of its staff in Halifax, N. S., that the swift British Dragon is under secret orders to be in readiness to speed Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald to England at a moment's notice, so seriously does the head of the British government regard the Austrian situation.

The premier has been on a vacation tour of Canada, but the Globe says that anxiety over Great Britain's position in the European situation has caused him to cancel his scheduled trip to the nearby Grande pre-country of Evangeline fame and to go to Halifax where he can keep in momentary touch with developments.

TO OBSERVE NAVY DAY

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(AP)—Naval commanders afloat and ashore were instructed yesterday by Admiral William H. Standley, chief of naval operations, to cooperate with the Navy league in observation of Navy day, Oct. 27. The celebration will have as its slogan a "treaty navy fully manned, backed by an adequate merchant marine."

Early tradition in many different lands declares that the human race sprang from the roots of the ash tree.

19 Persons Arrested, Some Fined For Violations Of City Sanitary Rules

One white man and 18 negroes were brought into Municipal Court yesterday afternoon, most of them to be given suspended sentences of $5 each, after they had been found or pleaded guilty of violations of the City's sanitary regulations.

The wholesale arrest of these persons, all residing on Cypress Avenue in the vicinity of the H. L. Dulhart properties at Ninth Street, was termed by Special Sanitary Officer Arthur Marshall, who appeared as a witness against each person, as the first step in a determined campaign to bring about "some sensible observance of our sanitary regulations."

All but five of the 19 persons were charged with that part of the sanitary regulations referring to trash cans which must be equipped with tight covers that will not only prevent the trash from blowing about streets and alleys, but, most important, will prevent the gathering of flies and other disease-bearing insects.

The remaining five persons were charged with using flush toilets without water being connected. These persons, all negroes, are Annie Shephard, John D. Patterson, W. E. Barnes, Charles Leo Gaskins, and Charles Stewart. They all were fined $5 each, with sentence suspended provided they do not repeat the act which brought their arrest.

Officer Marshall, addressing every home and property owner in Sanford, stated this morning that he has authority to cause the arrest of all persons found violating City sanitary regulations. He expects to (Continued On Page Four)

Nazi Mob Head And Man Who Fired Shot At Dollfuss, Hanged

New Chancellor Seeks To Establish Peace; Hindenberg Said To Be Seriously Ill

(By The Associated Press)

The Nazi who led the conspiracy to assassinate the late Chancellor Dollfuss last Wednesday, and the accomplice who pulled the trigger on the gun which killed the government leader, were both hanged today for high treason by sentence of the court martial.

The former was Otto Holzweber, and the latter was Otto Panetta, a former army sergeant. They went to their death saying "What we did we did for our country."

While the punishment for treason was being meted out the new government headed by Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg strove, against a renewed bombing campaign, to restore peace in Austria.

Injected into the Austrian situation also was an indication by official quarters in Belgrade that Yugoslavia reserves the idea of Italy playing a lone hand in guaranteeing Austrian independence.

It was said that the Yugoslavian government held that the question of Austrian independence was a matter for all of Austria's neighbors who should be consulted before any steps are taken.

An Italian spokesman in Rome said Italy is not perturbed by the Belgrade statement and that it had not been Italy's idea to play a lone hand in the situation.

At Freystadt, Germany, the condition of Paul von Hindenburg, 88-year-old, President of Germany grew suddenly worse today.

Physicians said they feared the worst. Members of his family were called to his bedside.

Verliden, the wife of the former state at Norder near Berlin, was reported yesterday to be suffering from an old disorder of the prostate gland.

CITY BRIEFS

Yesterday's local weather: High 92, low 73, rainfall .03—69—72.

Dr. E. R. Purvis, soils chemist associated with the State Experiment station at the University of Florida in Gainesville, returned to Sanford yesterday with his bride of a few weeks. Dr. Purvis will spend the next few days removing his local office from Sanford at Sixth Street to new quarters in the Meisch Building. The couple are residing at the Montezuma Hotel.

Trustees of the Church of God have obtained a permit for the construction of a 30 by 40 foot frame church building on the northwest corner of Fifth Street at Holly Avenue. The cost of the building was given at $1000, and construction is scheduled to begin at once. Material taken from wrecked buildings will form a part of the new structure, it was learned.

A large party of Sanford Rotarians left the Chamber of Commerce dock by boat this afternoon for Blue Springs on their annual "stag" party. The few remaining in Sanford were expected to motor noon to join the party and board to Blue Springs late this afternoon. The party is in charge of all arrangements.

Miss Grace Oviatt and Sam Bradford, Jr. are the latest local persons who have had an experience with an unusually large rattlesnake, they reported this morning. While driving her automobile near her home on Washington Avenue late yesterday, Miss Oviatt ran over the snake but did not kill it. Sam Bradford, Jr. secured a gun, and shot it dead. The snake measured six feet in length and was 10 inches around. It had 17 rattles and a button.

A small crew of laborers, working on the Meriwether Building on Magnolia Avenue, are attempting to correct a condition which had resulted in a sinking of a portion of the building. Some weeks ago it was noticed that the space between the Coleman Office Equipment Co. store and the National Job-Employment Office was narrower at the top than near the ground level. A survey showed that the building was leaning slightly.

Seminole County had only one death from malaria fever during the first five months of 1934 although the total of the state during that period was 81 deaths. It is revealed in a report credited to Dr. Stewart G. Thompson, director of the bureau of vital statistics at Jacksonville. Jackson and Marion counties had the greatest number of deaths attributed to malaria—five each—while Gadsden, Jefferson and Polk counties (Continued On Page Six)
