

SEMINOLE CO. IS ON DIXIE HIGHWAY

THEY DIDN'T WANT US BUT WE JUST BUTTED IN AND MADE A MAP

Sanford and Seminole county will be on the Dixie Highway!

This was decided yesterday at a meeting of the Central Florida Highway Association held in Orlando, at which between forty and fifty citizens of Seminole county were present.

The meeting was attended by representatives from practically every county in the state affected by the route, over 500 men being present. Never before in the history of the state has there been gathered together a bigger or more enthusiastic bunch of good roads boosters than was to be found in Orlando yesterday. The meeting was characterized by enthusiasm and rivalry from start to finish and resembled in every respect a big political meeting. Every foot of the Florida division of the great highway which will cross the state from north to south in perhaps two places was contested and fought for by the delegates present.

The route which was recommended to the Dixie Highway commissioners was selected by a committee, consisting of one member from each county represented. Representative Forrest Lake was chosen by the Seminole county delegation to represent this county and it is safe to say that much of the credit for putting Sanford on the Dixie Highway is due to Mr. Lake, who fought for the Sanford route in the committee, lost by one vote, obtained a reconsideration and finally succeeded in convincing the committee against great odds that to pass by Sanford with this great highway would be not only a menace to our county and citizens but a crime against the travelling public.

As the matter now stands Sanford is on the route coming out of Georgia through Gainesville to the southern part of the state via Eustis, and is also on what is known as the scenic route from Leesville to Arcadia. This will mean that nearly every automobile bound for the south central or southwestern part of the state will go through Sanford and this with our new hotel will make Sanford a popular city for the travelling public.

Those going from Seminole to the Orlando meeting were W. W. Abernathy, Chas. Kanner, Tim Keane, A. Vaughn, F. B. Warman, J. I. Thrasher, J. D. Davison, W. H. Wight, L. P. McCuller, L. S. Maines, W. M. Haynes, Chas. L. Wing, A. P. Connelly, C. O. McLaughlin, Sanford; C. A. Raulerson, J. H. Hudleston, M. E. Dooley, Geneva; L. P. Hagan, F. P. Forster, L. A. Brumley, C. R. Walker, Dr. L. R. Phillips, W. L. Wallace, Sanford; J. A. Clark, Oviedo; C. W. Entzinger, Longwood; F. S. Frank, W. M. McKinnon, L. G. Stringfellow, C. M. Hand, R. C. Maxwell, W. A. Lester, Forrest Lake, T. A. Newton, F. L. Miller, Geo. Mason, Geo. D. Hart, Chas. Williams, F. P. Rines, E. F. Housholder, J. N. Whitner, F. L. Woodruff, H. E. Tolar, S. A. Irwin, Sanford.

Court Is in Session

Circuit court is in session but it is so tame that few people are attracted to the building. The case of Pace vs. Miller, ejectment suit still drags along and is both wearying to the officials and the spectators. This case will probably keep the court here part of next week. We like to have the Judge and other officials stay here as long as possible and with a few more cases like the above they could make arrangements with the new Mason Hotel for rates by the year.

Jitneys Hauled the People

The jitneys were very much in evidence Thursday morning when the pleasers were out in force and the little buzz wagons were kept busy transporting the people to and from the depot. The rate of five cents each way appealed to the picnic folks and especially those with large families.

Refuse to Save Frank

Atlanta, June 10.—By a vote of two to one the Georgia prison commission today declined to recommend commutation to life imprisonment of the death sentence pronounced upon Leo M. Frank for the murder of Mary Phagan. The commission presented its report to Governor Slayton, who is at liberty to either reject or approve its recommendations. Commissioners E. L. Rainey and R. P. Davison voted against the recommendation for clemency. Commissioner T. E. Patterson voted in favor of commutation.

The majority report pointed out that in all the court decisions against Frank that no new evidence had been shown and that the commissioners felt "constrained not to interfere with the enforcement of orderly judgment courts."

Commissioner Patterson, dissenting, said in consideration of the evidence he left his mind open as to whether there was room to doubt the story told by James Conley, negro, one of the principal witnesses.

Jitney Service to Orlando

If the jitneys have come to stay it is to be hoped that at least one day each week one may be able to go to Orlando by means of them if not more than the fare asked by the railroads and remain in town until the day there if desired. As it is now, with the morning train discontinued last winter, one must either go by the midday train and return after practically but one hour spent in Orlando or by the midnight train, which is anything but to be desired, or remain in Orlando overnight in order to accomplish anything to see the city on the next day.

Orange and Seminole counties have not recently been one county, to not make it sometimes vitally necessary to go to the former county seat on business and there are many people who would take advantage of such an opportunity for social occasions, which also is of value since the cultivation of friendly feelings between Orange and Seminole counties would react to our benefit.

It is true that there are exceptions to the lack of the morning train as at the time of the Orange county midwinter fair and possibly there may be another such exception this week for the benefit of those wishing to attend the Citrus Growers' Convention and barbecue at Orlando, but such rare occasions and intervals do not fulfill the requirements for the frequent ordinary necessities of travel between here and Orlando and it is to be hoped that the matter will be taken up and satisfactorily arranged.

S. S. PICNIC HAD ONE GREAT DAY

NEARLY 600 TICKETS SOLD ON TRAIN AND SPRINGS WERE CROWDED

The annual Sunday school excursion yesterday to DeLeon Springs was largely attended, there being 560 tickets sold on the train between Sanford and the Springs. As many others came in cars from this city and from other cities the crowd was estimated as being about 650 and a glance at the springs about noon would convince any one that there were about 1000 present. The morning was ideal and about one o'clock, after most of the crowd had lunched a rain came up and lasted about an hour, but as the speaker of the day had already arrived the crowd was content to stay indoors for awhile and rest. Mayor Swearingen, Mrs. Swearingen and their little daughter arrived on the southbound train and were escorted to the pavilion where a tempting lunch had been provided for them, and after lunch the Baptist Temple Band under the leadership of A. B. Brock rendered some choice music. R. E. Holly acted as chairman of the meeting and after an invocation by Dr. Browne the chairman introduced Mayor Swearingen as the man who would rather be right than be mayor, and he was received most enthusiastically by the people. He made an address, mainly upon the work of the churches but it was also a call to the people for purity in politics and better local government. The rain beat so heavily upon the roof of the pavilion that the speaker had difficulty in making himself heard but his address was reported in good advice to the children and the men, and at the conclusion it was warmly applauded and the people were led back to take his bond. Mayor Swearingen, one time, was a citizen of Sanford and worked in the A. C. L. shops and yesterday he met many of his old friends who know him here twenty years ago.

A most delightful afternoon was spent in bathing and other sports and the evening was returned at six o'clock and home.

The A. C. L. Ry. handled the train in their usual satisfactory manner and Trainmaster Marlowe was on hand to see that everything was done for the benefit of the people present. Not a child was missing and not one of them was injured and the excursion was one grand time, especially for the younger folks, who seemed to enjoy the outing all the more. There was only one of the delightful feature about the springs and that was the dearth of the dressing rooms for the men, who were obliged to dress in a dirty packing house when they had no place to hang up their clothes and no surety that their clothes would be found there when they returned. DeLeon Springs is a fine natural resort but if any large crowds expect to go there this season the management will have to get busy and provide accommodations for the men.

Otherwise there was nothing to mar the perfect day and the picnic was a great success in every way.

Danger in Reckless Speeding

Although our brick roads are now supposed to be finished and in proper condition for autos and wagons, etc., a great deal is left to be desired by the narrow roadbed, which is especially the case when the various heavy trucks in use in this region are upon their business bent.

With trucks, as with lighter cars, it seems to become the rule that the driver on achieving an auto loses much of his sense of proportion as to width of road and as to speed and as these trucks so frequently take and keep the middle of the road it becomes necessary (?) for others to be pushed away off to the side of the road where, either for lighter cars or ordinary vehicles, the different roadbed ideas not always make for safety.

It is of course only a temporary lack of thought but such things should be regulated by some ordinance which would take cognizance of and fine those who claim the whole road or those who persist in speeding of whatever type of car.

There are numerous places where side roads converge at right angles into the highway, where there is always extreme danger to the occupants of light vehicles entering from such side roads into the highway, as it never seems to occur to auto drivers that there is any necessity for being on the lookout at such roads for any one but themselves. This is particularly so in the early evening unless some recognition of other vehicles is acknowledged by auto drivers there is a great deal of serious perhaps fatal accidents as usual.

SEC. BRYAN HAS RESIGNED FROM CABINET

VIEWS NOT IN ACCORD AND PRESIDENT ACCEPTED HIS RESIGNATION

Washington, June 11.—William Jennings Bryan has returned to private life after two years and three months as Secretary of State. He resigned because he could not join in the approval of the note to Germany or reconcile its principles to the prevention of war, which he claims is nearest his heart.

Bryan's resignation developed an unusual situation in domestic politics and a grave turn in the United States foreign policies, the main features being the effect Bryan's resignation will have on the relations between the United States and Germany. There have been intimations from official Berlin sources that the United States' notes could not be taken seriously as it was known that Bryan was committed against drastic measures. It is believed his withdrawal will produce a profound impression in Germany at this critical stage. The notes are expected to go forward today, all of the cabinet but Bryan approving Bryan states he will continue to support Wilson politically. He remains in Washington for a few days and will then take a vacation. Bryan called at the White House this afternoon to bid the President goodbye. The meeting was cordial.

Lansing Appointed

Robert Lansing, counsellor state department, was appointed secretary of state ad interim, by President Wilson to succeed William Jennings Bryan. The change in the cabinet took effect with the dispatch of the rejoinder to Germany on the Lusitania, which states in unmistakable terms the demands of the United States. Differing not in the object sought the prevention of war but in the method of approaching the problem, Bryan resigned rather than to sign his name to the note. The decision to send the note to Germany today was reached after a conference between President Wilson and Lansing.

Framalin Leaves Today

The elegant yacht, Framalin, the property of James Laughlin, will leave the dock today bound for New York and other points on the Atlantic seaboard. The Framalin was built near this city last year and built according to the plans of Mr. Laughlin who has owned in Florida for many years. It is one of the most modern yachts in the world.

The Framalin is a thorough sea-going boat measuring 62 feet over all with a 17 foot beam over guard rail. She draws a depth of two and a half feet, which draft enables her to traverse most of the inland waterways. She is driven by a 50-65 horse power engine. Besides a dory she carries a 20 foot power boat upon her decks. An electric dynamo supplies her with a powerful searchlight.

Were it not for the sea one aboard might imagine himself in a modern home, such are her conveniences and furnishings. She is electric lighted throughout, with hot and cold running water; her state rooms carry double berths while there are bunk accommodations in the saloon and cabin deck for eight, giving her berth accommodations for twelve, besides caring for a crew of four. Her furnishings throughout are of red mahogany.

Mr. Laughlin is a great lover of outdoor life, and he, with Mrs. Laughlin spends the major part of his time cruising and camping. He has the distinction of carrying the first auto through from Jacksonville to Miami, in the winter of 1908.

Mr. and Mrs. Laughlin will be accompanied on their trip this summer by Mrs. Laughlin's sister, Miss Bessie Mahady, and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Shaw and baby.

They expect to return in the early fall.

Dr. J. D. Sibert, Presiding Elder Will preach in the Star Theatre next Sunday evening at 7:30. Those who heard Dr. Sibert on his first visit to Sanford will be glad to know he is to be here.

Your home will be a better and more comfortable one and should you want to sell it will bring you more money if the grounds have plenty of trees and shrubs.

More Hitching Posts

Sanford has done a good many things to improve conditions, especially in the matter of the good roads and similar or related affairs which make for comfort especially for those who own automobiles. There are still, however, times when just plain horses and mules are necessary as the pullers of produce or humans, but these Sanford seems to forget in her rapid, onward rush. She neglects to furnish hitching posts, although she makes regulations as to hitching horses and since horses cannot be hitched to automobiles (of course automobiles could very nicely indeed be used as hitching posts much of the time, except that their owners or occupants might object) it remains for the horses still driven in Sanford to use their natural instincts in seeking grass (which, happily, is to be found on side streets) or innocently wander where they do not belong; this, much more to their owners' annoyance than to the annoyance of those who plant grass or own stores without furnishing the proper conveniences for any ordinary, animal drawn vehicle (evidently, since nothing is done by Sanford to rectify this matter).

Is it possible, however, that Sanford people do not know the mission of a hitching post? It would seem so sometimes, especially in the case of auto owners who calmly plant their cars right in front of all available hitching posts the few Sanford can boast and leave the open spaces which lack these few, conspicuous posts, for the owners of "common ordinary" vehicles to occupy.

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst. I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework. I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off. I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it. After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely. I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether." Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution. Cardui makes for increased strength, Improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy. Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

A Skunk, an Ass and the "Price Thereof"

Mr. Editor of The Herald and Fellow Citizens:

We plead the further indulgence of your much abused patience in this continued airing of a vexatious issue between Mr. Price and Organized Labor.

But you will recall that the said Price took uncandid offense at our advertisement appearing in the columns of this paper some months ago.

You will recall that the said Price opened a vicious and unwarranted attack upon us for daring to use these columns to tell you how you might get in touch with Union Labor when desiring any kind of building work done.

You will recall that the said Price in his vicious and unwarranted attack used scurrilous and inelegant invective.

You will recall that in our article of the 14th ultimo that we not only offered the "olive branch" to the said Price but we endeavored to pitch the discussion concerning the value of Organized Labor as a social factor to the high place where it belongs in human affairs.

Apologizes for Price

Worthy as our intentions were we apologize to you for being instrumental in bringing from the heart of the said Price, many things which shocked rather than met the approval of your finer senses.

Indeed, friends, we cannot but feel that, when reading the said Price's articles, you wondered whether you were not in the grip of a hideous nightmare and headshyly being taken from restful slumber in your refined homes to a London fish market or perchance to "The Bowery" of our own great metropolis.

Price Curses Organized Labor

Now, Mr. Editor and fellow citizens, eliminating the more grossly offensive charges of the said Price what were some of the statements with which he cursed Organized Labor?

You will recall that he told you right in the columns of this paper that Organized Labor is "corrupt" that it is "filled with unrighteousness" ("injustice, wickedness, sinfulness"); "enviousness," "maliciousness," "enviousness," "deceitfulness," "malignity" (hostile to life, pernicious); "backbiters," "Inventors of evil things," "unmercifulness," "ignorance," "mechanically inefficiency," "with out brain power," "assine," and unpatriotic.

You will further recall that the undersigned was called a "plagiarist—a literary thief" by the said Price; that Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor was published by the said Price as having "escaped punishment" by a "legal technicality"; that the same Price stated that Organized Labor is a "self confessed monopoly"; that so called Frog Labor is, per man, more mechanically efficient, more moral and of higher citizenship than Organized Labor; that the said Price insinuated that the Local Building Trades Council is not a legitimate part of a legally incorporated body of skilled mechanics known as the "American Federation of Labor"; you will recall that, when comparing his methods with gun men and hired thugs, this man Price's attacks bears the ear marks of a covert, stealthy attempt to assassinate what he pretends to cherish, viz: "legitimate Organized Labor."

You will recall that we asked the said Price to tell you why he attempted to canonize his father and himself for military service, which, even if true, bears no relation whatsoever to the Labor question, why he purrs like a friendly kitten one moment and the next roars like a frenzied lion.

IT IS FRESH IN YOUR MINDS MR. EDITOR AND FELLOW CITIZENS that we ASKED the SAID PRICE to EXPLAIN the ABOVE THINGS and SUBSTANTIATE HIS charges against Organized Labor or cease such mutterings for two reasons: 1st, because his colic system needed a rest. 2nd, because the community was satiated with his DISTRUCTIVE notoriety.

How Did Price Answer?

How did this man Price treat our CHAMPION? He treated us forward him. YEA MOORE, fellow citizens, HOW did this frantic novel "T" of recent origin, new, unusual strange man sustain his own grossly impudent charges against us; how did he proceed to wade through our muck?

Let us begin now to recall. 1st. He covered his mental hard pan with more muck and then built a road of "evasion" around his whole mis-mastic frog puddle, and there he NOW sits, no doubt ready to plunge into his own mire, just as he has at other times when croaking to you about us.

This man Price attempted to sustain just three of his previous charges which we shall review further on in this statement.

In his efforts he was rude, impertinently facetious, dishonorable, clumsily personal and thoroughly adlopedated.

Dashes Into Scripture

This Novel "T" man actually had the temerity to make another 20 yard dash into the Scriptures and this time brought forth an ass and a jaw bone of an ass and then from out his mental "curiosity works" he exhibits the former to you as the emblem of Organized Labor and the latter as their weapon. And this aphasic Price did this, without the slightest apology to the Democratic Party.

Cautioned Price

Now you remember, friends, how graciously we cautioned the said Price in our statement of the 14th ultimo concerning the use of Scripture. We told him to be careful; that he was not apt in his selections from the Bible.

We didn't want to tell him that, maybe, God had decided to forget all about him until judgment day and that, therefore, when he, Price, went to God's word for anything but citations for expressions of brotherly love, God would not help him. You know how it is, friends, in such delicate situations; we were just a little backward in expressing some of our charitable feelings to our esteemed novel "T" man.

Selected Wrong Quotation

Now, let us see if the said Price did not pick up the wrong quotation in his recent 20 yards dash into the Scriptures.

1st. In Scripture the ass is the most reliable of beasts.

2nd The ass was honored by godly men above all other beasts.

3rd It was an ass upon which our Savior rode into Jerusalem to drive out of the temple the very class of men whose avarice caused them to bring about civil wars within the past six years in West Virginia, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Michigan and Colorado, all of which method, as I will show later, is apparently approved by the said Price.

4th It is recorded in the book of Numbers, 22 chapter, that the Lord actually spoke to Balaam through the mouth of an ass. 5th That it was the clairvoyance of a spiritual seeing of the ass that saved Balaam's life from destruction by the sword in the hands of an angel of the Lord.

Balaam and the Said Price

Analogy: Balaam saddled his ass and rode it with the princes of Moab unto Balak with whom he was to form an alliance to destroy Israel.

Balaam was perverse and was rebuked by the Lord. His egotism and stubbornness blinded him to God's revelation. Balaam's ass being faithful, courageous and patient was clear in spiritual vision. It saw certain destruction in the path over which it was being ridden by Balaam. The ass, following its spiritual revelation, shied three times. Each time it was brutally treated by Balaam. Finally God spoke to Balaam out of the mouth of Balaam's own ass and Balaam sensing his ingratitude "bowed down his head and fell 'at on his face" and when he arose "Balaam said to the angel of the Lord: I have sinned; for I knew not that thou stoodest in the way against me, therefore if it displeases thee I will get me back again." And Balaam following the Lord's will denied Balak and did not go against Israel with Balak.

It is stated on excellent authority that our novel "T" man boasts that, wherever he goes he breaks up Organized Labor.

If the use of the word "assine" he attributes to Organized Labor the qualities of an ass. Hence, the said Price, here in Sanford, working the OLD LOCAL SEPARATION GAG, is now attempting to saddle Organized Labor. He hopes to ride it to death with the Princes of Beelzebub and unto the land of Destruction with cheap, dirty advertising as a by product and upon its grave near his filthy frog pond he will erect his mansion of ill gotten gain, where as a self can be sold military, being sure to sell and crack and rock with HIS own home cracks WIDE open.

The Said Price is Perverse

The said Price by his own statements and by his own actions is perverse. He is apparently a "four square" Fraternalist, but without the least of the common touch. He is on the great social highway with a wall of HONOR on one side and the wall of FRIENDSHIP on the other.

"THE COUNTRY MOUSE," AT THE STAR TONIGHT

It is a highway yet unknown to Mr. Price.

The angel sentry of Fraternal and economic Justice stands across the path "as an adversary against him."

The faithful ass, i. e., the said Price's immortal, though latent self, sees the Angel of Fraternal and Economic Justice standing armored with the sword of Love. The cupid-ity of Price, his overwhelming, dominating characteristic, brutally smites again and again his own faithful Ass, his immortal Self; God, the universal Spirit of LOVE, TRUTH and HONOR speaks out of the mouth of the said Price's own

FOR A SANFORD HOTEL

At a meeting in the office of A. P. Connolly last Friday night at which F. P. Forster presided, the majority of those who had signified their intention of taking stock in a Sanford hotel recently broached by Mr. Forster decided to transfer their stock and their allegiance to the Mason Hotel. No one in Sanford is especially interested in who starts the new hotel. The paramount issue today is the early starting of a good hotel and everyone recognizes the urgent need of such a structure. All of us recognize the value of cooperation in this enterprise and that it will take the earnest efforts and the combined efforts of every citizen of Sanford to make this enterprise a success. We also recognize the fact that in George Mason and the Mason Hotel & Investment Co. we have the best hotel talent in the state and the people who will take our hotel proposition and push it to a successful conclusion. There should be no backing and filling and hemming and hawing from the people of this city and the time is ripe for the start to be made. No city can expect outside capital to come here without the assistance and goodwill of this community, and now that the chance has come for us to combine our forces and obtain not only a good hotel but the best organization in the state behind our proposition we should lose no time in coming forward with that assistance and local capital to bring the hotel to issue. The Herald has time and again called the attention of the people to the need of the hotel. Every travelling man, every tourist and every one who comes here from time to time has called attention to our lack of hotel facilities and our city has lost thousands of dollars in business and much more in reputation on account of the lack of hotel accommodations. We have talked hotels and dreamed of hotels and at last our dreams have come true but the actual facts are no dreams now and the time to dream is past. It is up to us to meet Mr. Mason half way and start the new hotel by the first day of August.

We expect every real citizen of Sanford to do his duty and especially the business men who will realize the most from the hotel and its patrons. There are some here who always look for a loop hole to duck every proposition that is presented to them. They are great people to talk about what the city needs and when the time comes to put up a little money for anything they are generally looking the other way. Our citizens take stock in gold mines, insurance companies and all kinds of outside schemes that usually blow up and leave the stock holder with the bag to hold. It is high time that these same people took enough interest in their home city to put some money at least in one home enterprise and helped the city that has helped them to make their money. We have the chance of a lifetime to have a good hotel and the man who lays down on the proposition at this stage of the game should receive none of the emoluments that will accrue from the new hotel and the increased business that the new hotel will bring to us.

The Herald has not only boosted every good proposition for our city in the columns of the paper but the management has put up the cash when cash was needed and The Herald stands ready today to put up as much money in the new hotel as any other business man will do in proportion. In other words we not only boost but we back it with the coin and we hope that all other enterprising citizens will do as much. The opportunity is here. Will you take it?

Just about the time the Metropolis was getting ready to write a glorious welcome to Bob Holly to the East Coast he comes out and says it was all a joke, and he isn't going to have Sanford secede to the East Coast at all. We are sorry to see Bob pass up a good thing like that.—Miami Metropolis.

Well, we are still here but of course we love Miami and always will and the East Coast is mighty fine territory.

THE RESIGNATION OF BRYAN

The country was dumfounded last Thursday night when the news was flashed that Secretary of State Bryan had resigned. It seemed at first that something of grave portent was brewing but any one familiar with the doctrines advocated by Secretary Bryan know that he could not honestly stay in the cabinet and hold his views on peace. The following are the notes written by Secretary Bryan to President Wilson and President Wilson's reply to the secretary:

"My Dear Mr. President: It is with sincere regret that I have reached the conclusion that I should return to you the commission of Secretary of State with which you have honored me at the beginning of your administration.

"Obedient to your sense of duty and actuated by the highest motives, you have prepared for transmission to the German government a note in which I cannot join without violating what I deem to be an obligation to my country and the issue involved is of such moment that to remain a member of the cabinet would be as unfair to you as it would be to the cause which is nearest my heart, namely the prevention of war.

"I, therefore, respectfully tender my resignation, to take effect whenever your note is sent, unless you prefer an earlier hour. I am alike desirous of reaching a peaceful solution of the problem arising out of the use of submarines against merchantmen. We find ourselves differing irreconcilably as to the methods which should be employed.

"It falls to your lot to speak in favor of the nation; I consider it to be none the less my duty to endeavor as a private citizen to promote the end which you have in view by means which you do not feel at liberty to use.

"In severing the intimate and pleasant relations which have existed between us during the past two years, permit me to acknowledge the profound satisfaction which it has given me to be associated with you in the important work which has come before the State Department and to thank you for the courtesies extended.

"With the heartiest good wishes for your personal welfare and for the success of your administration, I am, dear Mr. President,

"Very truly yours,

(Signed) "W. J. Bryan."

The President's letter to Mr. Bryan was as follows:

"My Dear Mr. Bryan: I accept your resignation only because you insist upon its acceptance, and I accept it with much more than deep regret, with a feeling of private sorrow. Our two years of close association have been very delightful to me. Our judgments have accorded in practically every matter of official duty and of public policy until now; your support of the work and purposes of the administration has been generous and loyal beyond praise; your devotion to the duties of your great office and your eagerness to take advantage of every opportunity for serving it offered has been an example to the rest of us; you have earned an affectionate admiration and friendship. Even now we are not separated in the object we seek but only in the method by which we seek.

"It is for these reasons my feelings go so much deeper than regret; I sincerely deplore it. Our objects are the same and we ought to pursue them together. I accept, dear sir, because I must and wish to bid you Godspeed in the parting. We shall continue to work for the same causes when we do not work in the same way.

"With affectionate regard,

"Sincerely yours,

"Woodrow Wilson."

The resignation of Bryan does not mean that President Wilson's note to Germany will bring on war but it does mean that other members of the cabinet are tired of playing the waiting game any longer and believe in bringing Germany to her sense of duty in the submarine attacks of defenseless Americans. We deplore war, we deplore the resignation of Mr. Bryan but we stand behind President Wilson and believe that he knows what is best under these trying circumstances. We have a man in the President's chair and he will bring the country safely through any crisis that may arrive.

INSURANCE LEGISLATION

The Tallahassee correspondent of the Miami Herald says Senator W. L. Watson was called on for a statement as to what was the greatest benefit to the people of this state by the enactment of the insurance laws which he introduced and passed to a successful conclusion.

He said, "the insurance laws of the state of Florida prior to this session of the legislature, protected the people of this state to a very little extent, in fact, Florida has been the dumping ground of all kinds of frauduleth schemes in insurance, from the selling of stock in companies which were rotten, to the defrauding of the policy holders by selling all kinds of contracts.

"The principal charge in the insurance department is the creation of an insurance department with the state treasurer as insurance commissioner, which change was very essential to the state, because one man, who will at all times be on the job, will have control of all insurance matters, while heretofore the board was composed of three of the cabinet officers.

"At times matters of importance would have to remain unsettled for as much as two or three weeks because of the absence of a member of the board on other business. Now these matters can be taken up and settled at once.

"The insurance commissioner is now given a competent actuary and full power to make an investigation, while heretofore he had no one to make an investigation without employing an actuary, who at times would be hard to get when needed.

"Another important change in the law is to require domestic life insurance companies to deposit one hundred thousand dollars instead of twenty-five thousand dollars, as heretofore in good security before the company will be allowed to enter upon business. This was a very desirable change, and the citizens of this state, who takes their insurance in domestic companies will have all safeguards thrown around the company.

MORE SECESSIONS

Bob Holly, the usual genial editor of the Sanford Herald and former president of the Florida Press Association, seceded from south Florida the other day, while in a huff, as will be seen from the following editorial:

And now, after having stirred up the entire south Florida press over his proposed exodus, which brought a change of resolutions of respect, telegrams of sympathy, and weepy, black bordered editorials over the dear departed, Bob now comes out with the statement that he never meant it anyhow, and was "just kiddin'" all the time, and to assure us of his intention to remain, makes the following statement in the last issue of the Herald:

"Now how in the world can you leave a bunch like that? And then some of the letters were even of finer grain and actually shed tears over the 'strayed Cheeild'.

"We are taking the 52 pieces of baggage out of our suit case and have decided to stay in south Florida. Never intended to leave anyhow. Just a little joke and now you have gone and started us to crying." Bob, you old sinner, we'll forgive you this time, but don't try it again. We were preparing to bitterly oppose the proposed division of the state on the ground that it would cut you off from us, and now you say you were only joking. Say, this is no joking matter. Don't spring any more such serious jokes on us, or you may cause some of your friends to die of heart failure from the shock. The phonograph will now render that touching and appropriate little song—"Anchored"—while the fatted veal is being made ready to celebrate the prodigal's return. American Eagle!

JUDGMENT VS. PREJUDICE

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Young men for war—old men for counsels. Why? Because experience and years bring wisdom, calmness of judgment—or they should, and if they come not with age they come not at all.

Florida's State Board of Health is the growth of years. It has been useful as a state builder because its executives have had the benefit of the calm judgment that brought it into existence and that has guided its development.

No one who has watched its accomplishments through more than twenty-five years can honestly question the large part it has had in making Florida a better place to live in. It has advertised to the world, particularly through the medium of the medical profession, the overcoming of certain disadvantages that existed formerly by the menacing of tropical diseases from the peculiar geographical relation of the state to the West Indies and to other infected lands. It has applied the latest developments in medical science to the advantage of Florida.

And this work has been made possible because men of foresight and calm judgment appreciated the necessity of such an agency for the protection of the state's greatest asset—its health. It was the wisdom of such men that worked out the plan of financial support in establishing a small tax upon all the ass with the said Price's avarice mortal self.

Friends this part of our story ends here. Whether the said Price shall bow down in deep humility before Love, Truth, Honor, whether he will sense the true Fraternal spirit and work for the common touch and thus promote social and economic justice is a matter entirely for him to decide.

We all know that food, clothing and shelter are essential factors in man's struggle for existence. Without them he has not the power to lift a hand or raise a voice.

We all know that the earnings of man, above bare subsistence are the means with which he surrounds himself with the elements of culture, and social uplift.

We know that Organized Labor has more than any other one factor been the means of aiding man, not merely to provide himself with better physical sustenance but with the things making for higher plains of life.

Pities Price

So we close this part of our article not with feelings of scorn but with feelings akin to pity. We are simply sorry that Mr. Price's social, fraternal and industrial ideals are not keeping pace with the broader moral concepts actuating us as a nation of people in our own relations with the present social and industrial life, for in the last analysis, and in the higher sense, Mr. Editor and fellow citizens, the question of economic justice is one of MORALS.

Price Evasive

Wherein is the said Price evasive and dishonorable in debate and perchance, otherwise?

1st. The said Price evaded specific reply to all but three of his charges against Organized Labor and in the handling of these three he is clumsy accessible property of the state. It has been the counsel of such men that has maintained the board in its work through the years and has established on a firm footing a health board, which medical men elsewhere, who appreciate the value of the work have declared has not its equal for practical efficiency in all the south.

It has been the work not of one man, nor of any set of men, but of different men who, as the years have gone have left the impress of their wisdom to make it more efficient.

To the digested experience of calm judgment, which can give their true and relative value to events is due the development of ideas into institutions of large public utility. Prejudice is an enemy of progress, and at times in the history of Florida's Health Board its progress has been hampered by unreasoning prejudice and too often these have been due to ignorance, or a failure or unwillingness to now or to comprehend the problem from every viewpoint.

The Board has its powers by the authority of the state legislatures since 1889. This body with its changing membership has been responsible for the organization of the Board and for the increasing powers granted it. The various governors of the state have named the members of the Board and calm judgment has guided the selection. These various Boards have followed a policy of advance which has changed only in minor details as the years have vanished.

The legislature that has just passed into history has exercised its authority widely in its additions to the equipment of the Board. A broader field of action has been opened and the possible usefulness of this agency has been widely extended. It has been brought into closer contact with the people of the state, who support its work.

The calm judgment of Florida's legislative representatives has prevailed over prejudices and misapprehension of the work and mission of the Board. The result will be a better, a more healthful Florida.

In the first of the three he charges Organized Labor with having deprived him of HIS God given and constitutional rights which he defines to be "the right of every man to seek and secure employment with no other condition imposed than his ability to perform the services required for such compensation as may be agreed upon between him and the buyer. These two things are of vital importance to every patriotic liberty loving American".

Price Jumbles His Thought

The said Price is certainly some jumbler of thought. We wonder if he can sing. If we thought he could we would say: "For mercy sake do sing, Mr. Novel-"T" man.

The said Price STARTS out by speaking of "HIMSELF" as being DEPRIVED OF GOD GIVEN and CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS. Then he speaks of the right of EVERY MAN to seek and secure employment, etc.

Now, Mr. Editor and fellow citizens, "just between you and me; even the gate post not in it" (apologies to Saunterer), this whole hullabaloo of the said Price is over the nickel under HIS OWN heel.

The said Price is a PURCHASER of Labor. He buys labor, hence we know why this military hero saint is fighting for so-called Free Labor. It is to his personal interest to BUY labor at the lowest possible figure and SELL the results at the highest figure. He does not care a rap about so-called Free Labor, for he told you so several weeks ago, when he said that he "favored LEGITIMATE organized labor".

Price a Twaddler

Now, what is the use of our (P-tempting to answer such a twaddler? He is constantly falling down to the very floor between two stools of thought. One moment he tells you that he favors "freedom of labor on the commodity" basis; the next he favors "legitimate" organized Labor. We suppose, in fact we know that LEGITIMATE organized labor to the said Price would be a sort of a pink tea affair, with himself the guest of honor.

But the issue raised by the said Price is: Where do we stand on the God given and constitutional rights question which is so vital to every patriotic and liberty-loving American citizen?

Stands With Price

Our reply is: Right by the side of the said Price and I'll wager another penny against his skunk that it is in the first time he has been in good company since the century of his birth.

Yes, on this point the said Price and Organized Labor are just like two cooing doves, intoxicated with mutual adoration. We are away up there together near unto God that in the first time he has been in good company since the century of his birth.

But alas! we find that we are not yet dispossessed ourselves of the earthly vehicles of our souls. We find ourselves hungry, we find our nakedness; the elements forcibly remind us that we are without shelter. So back we go to Mother Earth with our mortal selves, the said Price and us, disappointed but still coming to each other. We select the land of the "Stars and Stripes" where there is a Declaration of Independence which is the spirit of our old Constitution which is the other shore of certainly we may well

Showers for Bride-Elect

They may be called "showers" but it is more like a "downpour" of lovely gifts of various descriptions, both useful and ornamental for Miss Eva Walker, whose marriage to Mr. Minarik will take place next Wednesday evening at the Church of the Holy Cross.

Tuesday morning, Miss Agnes Berner, who will be one of Miss Walker's attendants, gave a silken hose shower for her that was a very lovely affair. The rooms were beautiful with a profusion of pink and white flowers against a background of potted plants and ferns. The guest of honor was enthroned upon a chair prettily decorated with white ribbons and flowers.

Pencils and cards were given the guests with instructions to write a "recipe how to be happy after marriage," which when read afforded much fun and merriment and were later tied together with ribbons and presented the bride-elect for a keepsake.

In the "ring contest" Mrs. Roy Symes was the fortunate winner to whom was presented a lovely pink darning bag, complete with darning implements, after which a gayly decorated clothes basket was handed the guest of honor, with the suggestion she had better gather in the gifts before the shower came. To the sound of happy laughter and many exclamations of delight, she gathered them in from every nook and corner of the room where they were hidden. After each package was opened and admired, Miss Walker was requested to vacate the throne and then began the reading of the morning. At the piano, Mr. Roy Symes played a lovely marriage song. The music was played on a pretty chair and when the music ceased suddenly, Miss Katherine Steinhewer had the honor of being seated upon it by the merry group, who declared that she, of those present, would be the next bride.

Delicious pineapple pie topped with red cherries, and white cake, was served, the happy morning ending in gay, good wishes for the little lady in whose honor it had been given. Invited to meet Miss Walker were Mesdames Anna Walker, R. E. Tolar, Roy Symes, S. A. Wood, J. W. Dickins, C. R. Walker, P. D. Hayes, J. C. Bennett and Mrs. Berner. Mesdames Kathryn Steinhewer, Edith Stewart, Evelyn Berner, and Miss Berner, the hostess.

Miscellaneous Shower

Novel and unique was the surprise miscellaneous shower given for Miss Willer Wednesday afternoon by the girls of St. Ann's school at the home of Mrs. H. C. Gerror. Mrs. Berner acted as hostess and the bride-elect for four hours, while the guests were invited for four, and when the young lady arrived she was unexpectedly surrounded by a laughing group of friends. The attractive home had been charmingly adorned with beautiful vases and quantities of yellow daisies and white mums, gerberas, and other flowers, a color theme of yellow and white. The shower was given in a most pleasing manner and this two hours' affair was a most successful one. In the corner of the living room was a large stack, in which was concealed the gifts of the hour. A funny little contest of the articles to be found in a bride's trunk furnished much amusement and was won by Miss Edith Stewart, to whom a box of fine correspondence cards was awarded. To Miss Walker the guest prize of another box of cards was presented, after which she was blindfolded, dressed in a big apron and broad brimmed sun hat, given a rake and conducted to the haystack, where still blindfolded, she listened to the reading of Maud Muller, given with much expression by Miss Frances Aspinwall. At the conclusion of the reading the bandage was removed and she was told to "rake the meadow sweet with hay." Amid the jokes and chaffing of the jolly crowd she raked many gifts from the haystack. After raking the pile of hay into the corner again she was a charming picture, sitting in the center of it and displaying her many gifts for the admiration of all. Refreshments were served in the dining room. Here too a color scheme of green and yellow prevailed.

In the center stood the table upon which rested the beautiful big square cake, iced in white and designed in squares, each square surmounted by a yellow daisy, done in icing. The table was covered by a handsome tea cloth; beneath the cake was a centerpiece of yellow, encircled by apparatus fern. Each guest in turn cut for the ring, the thimble and the dime. In the first cut, charming and popular Sadie Williams cut the thimble, which dooms her to spinsterhood, parrots, and corkcreeper curls. But can one believe that such will be her fate? A second cut revealed the ring to Frances Aspinwall, presumably the next bride to leave the Guild but she too rebelled at the decree of fate, declaring that she "had to marry off two sisters before she became 'Miss' Aspinwall and she certainly wanted to enjoy that privilege a long, long time." It is a foregone conclusion that Miss Evelyn Berner will be wealthy for to her fell the dime.

With the refreshment course of orange ice and cake the festivities ended, voted by all to have been a delightful afternoon. Those present were Mrs. Chas. Hand, Mrs. Anna Walker, Mrs. Archie Betts, Mrs. Braxton Perkins, Mrs. P. D. Hayes, Mrs. R. A. Terheun, Misses Eva Walker, Sadie Williams, Josie and June Stinson, Agnes and Evelyn Berner, Edith Stewart, Helen Rowland, Charlotte Hand, Kathleen Steinhewer, Frances Aspinwall, Laura Chittenden and Mildred Dickson.

This afternoon a miscellaneous shower is being given for Miss Carrie Ensminger, who will be married Tuesday evening to Mr. Henry Nickel and tomorrow afternoon a kitchen shower will be given for Miss Walker by Mrs. J. R. W. and Mrs. C. W. W.

Crop Reports

Reports from the shipping sections at the lower end of the state tell of heavy rains finishing up the tomato crops. In central Florida vegetable crops of all kinds are fast playing out. The season is virtually over for everything but peppers and eggplant at many places. The season will long be remembered. Very few growers have made any amount of money except those on the lower East Coast that got in their tomato crop while prices were good. It is true that local shippers made money before the car lot movement got started, after which time profits were not so large. Many growers have succeeded in keeping from going behind and feel thankful that they pulled through as well as they have.

Cabbage growers and potato growers also made a buck on those crops. It was a good crop for both of these commodities. Most of the cabbage growers had other crops that did not pay so well. Cucumber growers as a rule made little or no money on the large crops. Celery growers made money early but the wind up was bad. Lettuce growers came out quite well except on the lower West Coast. The growers in that section had an unusually bad season.

Watermelons, cantaloupes and pineapples are now in full swing. Melons are selling freely at good prices. Cantaloupe and pineapple prices are not all that might be desired. It is hoped that pineapples will do better very soon if the Cuban and Porto Rican receipts in the markets become lighter. The Florida pineapple is fine this year but the same thing can be said of the imported pine. California cantaloupes are arriving in the northern markets and they are very apt to keep prices of the Florida stock very low.

Had Father in Mind

At my small brother's party most of the children declined more than five or six helpings, relieves a correspondent of the Chicago Tribune. I noticed that little Clarence continued to take a liberal supply of everything that went around the table, and instead of eating was piling the goodies high beside his plate. Finally he beckoned to me. "Say," he said, "please kin I have a bag? I can't eat any more myself, so I'm just goin' to take these home for my father's lunch."

Wanted to Find Out

The young man in the bureau of information laid the railroad guide down and looked reproachfully at the woman who had turned in a volley of questions. "Madam," he said, "you can't possibly take all those trains you are asking about." "I know it," she replied, serenely, "but as long as I thought I'd just see for myself how much you railroad men really know about your business."

Why?

Why should one try to "catch a weasel asleep?" Because when awake, weasels are practically expert in eluding capture. It is scarcely possible, says "The Reason Why," to imagine an animal sleeping more soundly than the weasel does when once it gives itself up to rest. It may be taken up by the head, the heels, or the tail, and swing about for a considerable time before it begins to awake.

Afternoon Toilette in "Midnight" Blue

Here is an afternoon toilette in which the graceful gown is made of "midnight" blue taffeta and is worn with a neckpiece of ostrich feathers and crepe. The hat of blue straw is trimmed with velvet ribbon and blk. full bloom garden roses and their deep green foliage. Every detail of this costume is up to date and tasteful--therefore, worth consideration. The gown shows a skirt having single box plaits joined to a yoke, of easy adjustment to the figure. It is not as short as skirts for tailored gowns but reaches to the instep. The plaited portion of the skirt is set on to the yoke with a piping of the silk, and the bottom of the skirt is finished with a narrow binding. The bodice is draped, giving the effect of a sleeveless coat. All edges and seams are finished with pipings, and there is a widely flaring collar with wings wired to hold its curving outlines. This, and the remarkably attractive sleeves, bestow much of its distinction upon this refined and beautiful design. In truth collars and cuffs appear to be the arbiters of fate for those gowns that aspire to originality this season. The sleeves are long, with flaring cuffs extending over the hand. Their decoration with small buttons and embroidered arrowpoints (somewhat elaborate) could not be improved upon. A separate collar and guimpe of fine batiste with narrow silk binding is in line with the season's vogue, but designed especially for the chic gown with which it appears. The lined boots, with light cloth tops and the smart millinery, proclaim a costume selected by an expert whose taste was reliable. All are the last words in matters of fashion, but the finished toilette is, nevertheless quiet and refined. JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

Midsummer Millinery Allurements

Two beautiful dress hats emphasize the fact that hats large or small or anywhere between may be chosen by midlady when she centers her attention upon her summer millinery. The matter of size need only be considered in connection with that of becomingness. The little hat still holds its own in a glorious company of newly arrived picturesque wide brimmed allurements that pleasingly distract the attention and divide the honors. Without doubt the trend is toward the large hat for midsummer. And if a vote might be taken and recorded as to which is the most beautiful of all hats the chances are the big black picture hat would be conceded to be the favorite of womankind--and mankind, too. A masterpiece in the art of millinery is pictured here in the lovely wide-brimmed hat of black lace and velvet. The crown is a mass of black wheat and big hop glossoms. The silky fibers of the bearded wheat appear like the airiest of aigrettes. Their arrangement is unusual and the effect beautiful. Streamers of wide black velvet ribbon add a final touch of richness to a superb conception. In the shadow of this splendor the small brilliant turban loses nothing of its charm. To the little hat belongs all sorts of eccentric curves and turns and poses, and its business is not to be dignified. The model shown is of silk straw in putty color. At the front, pieces of the straw, braided and edged with an embroidered band and draped on the frame. Grapes and leaves, simulated in silk in brilliant colors, are posed flat against the hat, and an occasional tendril reaches out from the coronet. This very clever little model is finished with a long slender feather which soars from the left side with great singleness of purpose to add height, apparently. But it changes its mind and curls downward again taking advantage of the privilege of the little hat to be eccentric. JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

DRINK PURE WATER WHY TAKE CHANCES WHEN PURE WATER CAN BE HAD ELDER SPRING WATER 99.98 PER CENT PURE ANALYSIS: THOS. R. BAKER, Ph. D., Rollins College, Florida Winter Park, Florida, April 19, 1915 H. B. Coney, Esq., Orlando, Florida Dear Sir: I have completed a careful sanitary analysis of the sample of water that you brought me last week and have obtained the following result: Color Clear Chlorine 6 parts per 1,000,000 Reaction Neutral Total Solids 8 parts per 1,000,000 Free Ammonia None Nitrates Trace Aluminoid Ammonia None Hardness 34 parts per 1,000,000 The absence of both free and aluminoid ammonia in the spring water and its very small amount of chlorine indicate its good quality--the indications are that it is of exceptionally good quality. A very desirable feature of this spring water is its softness, containing less than one-fourth of the amount of calcium and magnesium carbonates found in many waters of this region, and just about enough, as many authorities think for supplying the lime and magnesia requirements of the body. Yours Respectfully, Signed THOS. R. BAKER Daily deliveries made in Sanford in five gallon bottles sealed at the spring. A Skunk, An Ass and the "Price" Thereof there in peace, work out our beautiful theory of "God given and Constitutional rights."

So in foolish loving oblivion of the CAPITALISTIC SYSTEM under which we are to mutually adore each other, we go forth in obedience to God's command: "In the sweat of thy faces shalt thou eat bread."

The Price Ideal

How ideally perfect is the plan presented to us by the novel-"T" man. He is to furnish all the cash or credit with which to do business. He thus becomes the Mr. (master). All we have to do is just work and when there isn't anything to do all we have to do is just look for work, i. e., we look for another Mr. (master), for an opportunity to RENT a job on the half and half plan, Capitalism's way of FORCING the WORKERS to DIVIDE up."

You know, fellow citizens, the Mr. (master) always OWNS the jobs and as a distinct class in society, own the class who must seek the jobs.

Owning the jobs has "Chattel Slavery" skinned forty city blocks. This is true because the "wage" Mr. (master) has no investment in the person of the "wage slave," the only investment he has is in the machinery and the cash or credit for keeping the jobs going. Under the present "wage slave system" the Mr. (master) "washes his hands" of all personal responsibility for the care of his wage slaves and all he has to do, through his privately owned press is to appeal to the PREJUDICE of his slaves and keep them thinking how wonderfully independent they are; how glorious it is to be able to make a private contract with a Mr. (master) to sell his labor for such compensation as may be agreed upon."

Workers God Given Rights

But pretty soon these "wage slaves" remove their industrial swaddling bands, they sew them together and band themselves into a union and they go thus forward, united as brothers and they tell the said Master Price something. They tell him that they too, have God given and Constitutional rights, they tell him, RIGHT TO HIS FACE that they have a right to ORGANIZE and, in the light of economic efficiency and class benefit of organized capital they are going to organize and stay organized.

They tell the said Master Price that their organization is NOT to be a "PINK TEA" affair with their said Master Price as the perpetual honor guest in the spare room of the castle of their economic protection.

They tell the said Master Price that "if he does not like it he may lump it," that the wage earners are the wealth producers and that as citizens under the constitution they have a right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," and propose to effectively assert it.

Sovereignty in the People

They tell the said Master Price that SOVEREIGNTY, under our national letter of God, resides in the PEOPLE, and if their masters are not satisfied to give them a decent living wage and recognize their union, they will assert this right of sovereignty at the ballot box and take over the jobs just as the people have taken over the postal service, the public schools, libraries, highways, etc.

They will tell their masters that these jobs will be owned and managed in the spirit of true Fraternity which knows NO MASTERS but only BROTHERS.

Thus and thus only will the prayer of our Savior be realized and this cat and dog business (which never was a "lovy-dovy" affair) between capital and labor cease forever and the Prince of Peace reign evermore.

Not a Monopoly

With reference to the said Master Price's second charge that organized labor is a monopoly we refer to our article of the 14th ultimo, wherein our views on this point are fully set forth.

Suffice to say here that we deny the charge and state that what President Wilson said in his naval review speech concerning the American people may be said of the spirit of Organized Labor. It asks nothing for itself except what it has a right to ask and what it in fact demands, for HUMANITY; viz, ECONOMIC JUSTICE.

If this be monopoly let the said Master Price and his ilk make the most of it, remembering, fellow citizens, that the said Master Price and his ilk are no more divine viceregents of industry than the "me and God" tribe of kings ever were or are viceregents in civil affairs. Not a whit more!

Vox Populi, vox Dei! the voice of the people is the voice of God!—not alone in things political but in the very basis of all things political and social; viz: the solution of the bread and butter problem.

Price a Purring Kitten

Some place in this article we referred to the said Master Price as a "purring kitten and a roaring lion." Master Price thinks he knows WHEN to purr and WHEN to roar. He forgets how foolish it is to purr and roar in the same ears, in this age of dictagraphs and cold type.

A few weeks ago Master Price roared impudent and scandalous things about us. He would have you believe that Organized Labor is a hideous monster, and that the local union is the worst ever.

But do you know, friends in his article of the 25th ultimo this Master Price becomes a purring kitten? He affectionately rubs up against you and, looking benignly into your face, purrs a little ditty about his HONOR. He says that he really can find two men high in the councils of our union who are without question "corrupt and inefficient workmen." He says that he can do this but to "do so would do netier THEM nor myself (emphasis on the MYSELF) any good. If no further demand is made along this line I WILL DROP this MATTER, with the UNDERSTANDING that their SILENCE is an ADMISSION of the charges." CANDIDLY I do not want to take this step as it will only ENGENDER much unnecessary ill feeling!

Ye Gods! What a dual character is this Master Price! What a Dr. Jekyll and a Mr. Hyde! What a night-blooming mushroom Consist! This twaddling doctor of conscience, after calling us everything he could put in print NOW tells you that his conscience hurts him and he does not want to "start anything.")

An Apt Story

A prominent business man told me a few days ago that Master Price reminded him of an excited boy who ran into the house and told his mother that there were 5,000 skunks under the barn. "Oh hush, child, hush!" said the mother, "go back and count those skunks again." The boy stayed away until after dark and then came sheepishly in at the back door and started upstairs to bed, whereupon his mother, after chastising him for being late asked him about the skunks. The boy said "Mother, I am honorable. It certainly won't do me or the skunk family any good to LIE. What I actually saw was a black cat's tail, sticking out from between the planks in a pile of lumber under the barn."

A prosperous farmer told me that Price reminded him of a fellow who had the delirium tremens, after a two months' jag. He said that this poor unfortunate fellow thought that four little pigs had crawled up on his left hand and sat, one on each of his knuckles. Pretty soon the little pig sitting on the knuckle of his little finger, thinking that the hair on the man's hand was grass proceeded to eat thereof. The D. T. man thought he was poisoning himself, ing a natural aversion for pigs anyway said: "Now just for that you may ALL get right off."

Master Price's statement concerning the testimony of William D. Haywood, secretary of the Industrial Workers of the World bears no relation to the policy of the American Federation of Labor; the two organizations having nothing in common whatsoever.

The president of one of the largest and best known life insurance companies in the world said in a speech at the Hotel Ormond, Ormond, Fla., Jan. 15, 1913: "The American Federation of Labor stands for the right of private property. It disagrees frequently with capital as to what the proper share of labor is in any given instance, but it stands solidly for the right of private property, and does not believe that any situation can arise when the interests of the laboring men and of the capitalists cannot be reconciled."

Again Master Price says: "That we have admitted that we have no respect for the government under which we live."

Mr. Editor and fellow citizens, what do you think of this monster prevaricator? this doctor of conscience? Why, he could not recognize the truth if it were the morning sun in a cloudless horizon.

Now, in conclusion I am authorized by our union to ask this conscience stricken Price to name the two leading members of this union who are "corrupt and mechanically inefficient."

"Mrs. Black is Back" Four Reel Comedy at the Star Monday

We do not do this, friends, to test Master Price's honor. Price is without high speech of honor. We believe this to be true. We know what the kinks in his grey matter look like and we want you to know. We have learned of him elsewhere and we sincerely believe him to be a chronically disturbing factor in society.

Very truly,
CLARK C. PEARSON.

Protect the Swallows.
The swallows of Europe are about the only birds which are holding their own in numbers. The people love them and protect them as their ancestors protected them back into and probably through the days of savagery, for there is not much doubt that the swallow shared the home of the cave dweller.

For Pearl Ornaments.
Pearl ornaments may be elegantly polished by first rubbing with olive oil to remove the dirty appearance, then applying any red nail polish. This latter gives a burnished appearance, and with a little fast rubbing the pearl takes on a brilliant glow.

FLAG DAY WAS OBSERVED BY SANFORD ELKS

STARS AND STRIPES MADE THE THEME OF SONG AND STORY LAST EVENING

Flag Day was most fittingly observed by the Sanford Lodge of Elks last night and "Old Glory" was made the theme of song and story in the exercises given by the lodge.

The beautiful ritual written especially for Flag Day for the Elks lodge was carried out in full and E. F. Housholder gave a complete history of the flag of our country that was most interesting.

William S. Shelley was chosen to deliver an oration on "Our Flag" and after reading the ritualistic history of the flag gave the lodge members a beautiful tribute to "Old Glory" and her greatness on both land and sea.

It is to be regretted that these Flag Day celebrations of the Elks lodge cannot be made public, as the exercises are beautiful and serve to instill renewed confidence and love for the flag of our country.

Orlando as Host

The pretty city of Orlando is never prettier than when playing host, and especially to Floridians.

The Central Florida Highway Association meeting brought definite results in the adoption of a route for the proposed highway which is to make up for the omission of a large section of this state by the officially adopted Dixie Highway route.

Tampa also naturally cut a large figure in the annual meeting of the Florida Citrus Exchange, this city being the headquarters of that organization.

Those who attended these meetings testify to the generous hospitality of Orlando and to the increasing attractiveness and charm of the progressive city.

Among the visitors to Daytona Beach Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Gaster, J. D. Roberts and Ellnor Roberts.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS PUBLISH THE ROAD LAWS

ARE IN FAVOR OF HAVING SUCH LAWS ENFORCED TO THE LETTER

At the regular meeting of the board of county commissioners for Seminole county, the following resolutions were passed:

Whereas the people of Seminole county have expended large sums of money to provide good roads for the county, and

Whereas some automobile drivers, and motorcycle riders have driven their machines on these good roads at such a rate of speed as to endanger the lives and property of other citizens of this county, and

Whereas such uncalled for rate of speed is detrimental to the maintenance of said good roads, and

Whereas some motor vehicle drivers have seen fit to drive their machines at night without providing lights for such machine as is required by law, thereby endangering the lives and property of citizens of this county, therefore, be it

Resolved by the board of county commissioners in and for Seminole county, in regular meeting assembled that

The Florida statutes governing the operation of motor vehicles on public highways of Florida be printed for the benefit of the general public, and be it further resolved that

The county commissioners hereby determine that the words "proper or reasonable speed" as are used in said statutes, to mean a speed not exceeding twenty miles an hour, provided, however, that such machine being operated at such "reasonable speed" shall be operated at a speed not exceeding ten miles per hour, when such machine is in passing with any other machine, vehicle or mode of conveyance on any good road within the county, and be it further resolved that:

All citizens are urged to report any violations of the state statutes or any of these resolutions, and that all officers be instructed to exercise their duty in restraining such violations, and be it further resolved that: A copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of this meeting and a copy, together with the aforementioned state statutes be printed in the Sanford Herald.

Judge Mabry's Successor

A rumor, which was soon confirmed, stirred Tallahassee last Saturday from one end to the other. It was to the effect that Hon. Milton H. Mabry had tendered his resignation as Clerk of the Supreme Court of the State of Florida, and that his resignation had been accepted.

Next came a rumor, which was by no means a surprise, in view of the first rumor being authenticated, to the effect that Hon. G. Talbot Whitfield, secretary to the Governor, and secretary to various administrative boards, had been selected by the Justices of the Supreme Court to succeed Judge Mabry as clerk of that court. This rumor was also soon confirmed.

The resignation of Judge Mabry and the appointment of Mr. Whitfield as his successor, are to take effect July 1st. Until that time each will continue to fill the office he now holds.—Tallahassee Record.

Judge Mabry is well known in this city where he and Mrs. Mabry have visited. Mrs. Mabry is the sister of Mrs. G. F. Smith of Sanford.

BERLIN PAPERS COMMENT ON THE LAST ULTIMATUM

OPINION IS DIVIDED IN MANY ON PROBABLE OUTCOME OF RELATIONS

Berlin, June 14.—The Berlin morning papers generally comment more or less extensively on the American note along the following lines followed by the Saturday evening papers.

While there is a general disposition to recognize the friendly tone of the note and the fact that it makes further negotiations possible, the press is divided, roughly, into two parts, one disposed to enter into negotiations looking to a compromise on a new basis, while the other, by implication or expressly, rejects any departure from the course heretofore followed. Among the representatives of the latter idea is the Tagliere Rundschau, which declares that while the note seeks a compromise, it seeks it along the lines "which may result to the disadvantage of Germany."

The note, therefore, is calculated only to postpone a settlement of German American relations and not bring it about. The friendly tone we acknowledge, but the declaration that the sinking of the Lusitania was unparalleled in modern warfare seems opposed to the character of upright friendship.

The Rundschau defends the sinking of the Lusitania and in concluding declares: "And the worst is the torpeding will go on."

The Kreuz Zeitung emphasizes Germany's right to prevent the shipment of ammunition to an enemy by every means. It also is able to see what England can offer in return for the abandonment of the submarine campaign.

"Their plan to starve Germany has finally failed," Count von Reventlow, in the Tages Zeitung, says: "If President Wilson persists in his refusal to recognize the German declaration of war zone we are not able to conceive of any agreement, or even a real understanding."

Count von Reventlow adds: "President Wilson discusses aside with a light lecture the chief part of the German note as unimportant. When President Wilson appealed for morality and human rights, let him extend those motives first to American munitions. Germany cannot abandon the use of her best implement of war merely in order that Americans may sell the war zone on American ships."

The Morgen Post says: "The note is filled with tones of heartiness and friendliness and seeks to open and smooth the way for other negotiations. The offer to mediate between Germany and Great Britain will unquestionably be kindly accepted by the German government and if mediation fails it will be Great Britain's fault."

ANOTHER BIG RANCH FOR SEMINOLE CO.

LOCKHATCHIE COMPANY OWN FOURTEEN THOUSAND ACRES OF FINE GRAZING LAND

Seminole county can boast of another large cattle ranch. The new ranch is owned by the Lockhatchie Cattle Co., articles of incorporation appearing in this issue of The Herald. The land is adjacent and embraces some of the famous Econlockhatchie Creek and from this creek the company derives the name.

The Lockhatchie Company is composed of Sanford citizens as follows: W. S. Hand, president; T. I. Hawkins, vice president; J. N. Whitner, secretary and treasurer, and W. S. Hand, C. M. Hand, T. I. Hawkins, J. N. Whitner, L. A. Brumley and S. Puleston, board of directors.

The ranch comprises some 14,000 acres of the finest portion of the St. Johns valley and will be fenced and improved. The best grade of cattle will be purchased for the ranch and mules and horses will also be raised on the ranch.

Lockhatchie Ranch is about twenty miles from Sanford and is near Chuluota in this county.

Cattle raising is fast becoming one of the best investments in Florida and the Sanford men who have invested their money in Lockhatchie Ranch are assured of good returns on their investment.

Arthur Doyle Retires

At the meeting Tuesday of the Jacksonville Rotary Club, Arthur J. Doyle will announce his resignation as manager for Florida and South Georgia, of the Burroughs Adding Machine Company, which position he has held for the past nine years. Mr. Doyle is going to retire from active business. His resignation will come as a great surprise, as well as cause genuine regret to the twenty or more salesmen and mechanics, who have worked for years under him in this territory.

In connection with his resignation Mr. Doyle yesterday received the following telegram from the company:

Kalkhurst advises you have resigned and wish to be relieved at once. This is a great disappointment to your factory friends. Would like interview with you before appointing anyone to take your place. Please come to the factory at our expense. Please advise when you will arrive. F. H. Hodge.

Mr. Doyle sent the following answer to the telegram:

Am checking out today. If factory trip purpose is for me to reconsider, under present arrangements, trip will be useless. However, will comply with your request and have interview. Leaving here Tuesday.

After he has said goodbye to his numerous friends at the factory in Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle will spend a short while on the great lakes, returning later in the summer via Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Albany, New York city, and thence on the Clyde line to Jacksonville.

Having recently sold the controlling stock in the Bank of South Jacksonville and severed his connection with the Burroughs Adding Machine Company, Mr. Doyle states that this is the first time in twenty years that he has a chance of taking a rest. As a member of the Rotary Club, the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce and other organizations he has always been a live wire.

The earnest character of the note may not be overlooked, but it contains nothing which even indirectly can be looked upon as an ultimatum.
