

CELERY NOT TO BE SUBJECTED TO QUARANTINE

Scott Returns From Capital Lauding Mrs. Owen; Gives Digest Of Ban On Products

Back from Washington where he spent all of last week lobbying for a government appropriation of $4,250,000 to fight the fruit fly in this state, W. M. Scott, district manager of the American Fruit Growers Inc., today explained the federal quarantine regulations which will be placed in effect on May 1, and called attention to the application locally.

Mr. Scott emphasized the fact that celery is one of the very few vegetables not designated as a host plant, (those which the fly attacks), and accordingly is not subject to or affected by any of the drastic provisions, which have been laid down in connection with the production and shipment of plants specifically mentioned in the quarantine orders of Secretary of Agriculture Arthur H. Hays.

Even if the pest were discovered locally and the most rigid quarantine regulations were enforced, celery would be permitted to be shipped, and no effect would be made upon the production and movement of next year's crop, Mr. Scott said. Lettuce, cucumbers, watermelons, potatoes and green tomatoes are other plants in the category.

A comprehensive digest of the lengthy quarantine regulations, prepared for The Herald, is being sent into three zones as follows: Number one, infested area; number two, protective area; number three, outside sections.

Zone one includes all territory within a mile of an infested property. The shipment of all host plants and vegetables into and out of this zone is prohibited. All host fruits and vegetables found within the territory are to be destroyed. No shipments are to be permitted until such time as the State Plant Board may designate the movement of non-host plants is not affected at all under these regulations.

Zone two is the area included within nine miles of zone one and shipment and production of host plants is permitted under rigid quarantine. Host plants produced in this zone cannot be moved into zone one under any circumstances and to outside sections during certain designated periods. No shipments in this zone are permitted after June 1 until Nov. 1, and during that time, which is known as the host-free period, no host plants will be permitted to grow at all.

All host fruits and vegetable shipped in zones one and two are subject to the same regulations as govern their movement out of these zones. As an example, apples and peaches consigned to zone one, which is an infested area, will not be permitted to enter under any conditions. Host products shipped to zone two would be received only during the time in which the same products could be shipped away from that area and then only under strict inspection by government authorities.

Zone three is all of the territory lying outside of zones one and two. Fruit, when packed in standard containers and granted a permit, can be shipped out of this territory. No bulk shipments of citrus or non-citrus host fruits will be permitted at any time.

Mr. Scott praised the work of Congressman Ruth Bryan Owen, (Continued On Page Five)

Committee Defers Action On Million

WASHINGTON, Apr. 29.—(INS)—A verdict by the Senate Judiciary Committee on the eligibility of Andrew W. Mellon to serve as secretary of the Treasury was again deferred this afternoon when the committee for the fourth time debated the question behind locked doors without reaching a decision.

Another session will be held tomorrow morning when it is expected a vote will be taken. One faction, led by Senators Norris (R) of Nebraska and Walsh (D) of Montana has argued that Mellon holds office illegally under a 100-year-old law which forbids the secretary of the Treasury from "being interested or concerned" in business. Another faction of the committee has contended his ownership of a vast fortune in corporation securities does not make him ineligible.

LEHMAN PLEADS FOR PAYMENT OF CITY'S INTEREST

Prominent Grower Believes Default Will Be Serious Mistake

H. J. Lehman, prominent celery grower and confidant of Sanford booster, today expressed the belief that no greater mistake could be made by the citizens of Sanford than to fail to meet the interest on bonded indebtedness due on July 1. Coupled with this was an urgent appeal to pay taxes to make available funds for this purpose.

Mr. Lehman deplored the lack of public support in the payment of taxes, and attributed the cause for this to the fact that no effective effort had been made to collect them.

"We've been too lenient with tax payers when we should have been stricter about enforcing the law which places a penalty on delinquent taxes," Mr. Lehman said.

"When you fail to invoke a penalty you do not enforce those who pay taxes any protection for doing so, nor do you furnish incentive for future payments," he added.

Extensions in time and cancellation of penalties, Mr. Lehman pointed out, only serve to encourage laxness and indifference sooner or later cause trouble for the government, whether it be city, county, state or federal, he declared.

"I have always put a great deal of faith in the old adage that two things are certain, death and taxes," Mr. Lehman asserted. "The sooner that principle is firmly instilled in the minds of the people the better it will be for them and for their community."

Mr. Lehman believes that the bonded debt is of such magnitude that it cannot be carried by the city under the present arrangement. He now believes that one penny should be repudiated but that some relief in the matter of annual payments should be effected.

"Sooner or later there is going to be a showdown and we might as well make it soon. We, however, don't want to endanger our position by failing to pay the interest to show that we have good intentions," he declared.

The very success of negotiations, looking toward a refinancing plan, is dependent upon the interest payment, Mr. Lehman said.

CITY PASSES 2 LAWS TO LIMIT SALE OF FRUIT

Ordinances Designed To Prevent Spread Of Fruit Fly Pest Enacted On Saturday

Following up the campaign to destroy all fruit hanging on trees within the city limits, the City Commission took supplementary action Saturday afternoon by passing two emergency ordinances, designed to extend the local campaign to check the spread of the Mediterranean fruit fly.

One measure will prohibit the sale or purchase of any citrus fruit in the city, except that which has been inspected and approved by State Plant Board authorities, and further provides for the seizure and destruction of fruit which changes hands in violation of the provisions of the ordinance.

The second ordinance requires every one to deposit daily all refuse fruit and vegetables in tightly closed receptacles, and to permit daily access to the receptacles for the purpose of destroying the products.

Violations of either measure are punishable by a fine not to exceed $200 or by imprisonment of not more than 60 days.

In accordance with the provisions of the first measure, employees of the Sanitary Department this morning confiscated several truck loads of citrus fruits in local fruit stands and grocery stores, and burned them in the city incinerator.

Enforcement of the regulations as well as the campaign to destroy all fruit on trees on the ground is under the direction of City Manager George H. Cairns, who announced this morning that several trucks of fruit were gathered Saturday.

Inspection work will continue until the task is completed. Following up the inspectors is a crew of pickers, whose services have been rendered by City Commissioner S. O. Chase for the purpose of speeding the work as rapidly as possible. Upwards of 100 Y. M. C. A. boys assisted Saturday in the picking operations.

Destruction of all hanging fruit is expected to be finished some time this week, it was declared today.

2 Sisters Begin Race With Death By Plane

CURTIS FIELD, N. Y., Apr. 29.—(INS)—Two sisters, Mrs. F. W. Casper and Miss Stella McCord, took off from here today in a plane for Des Moines, Iowa, in a desperate race against death to the bedside of their father, a prominent resident of Newton, Ia.

The two women, who were returning from Europe, were taken off the White Star liner Baltic at Quarantine and rushed to Curtis Field in an amphibian plane. They then hurriedly boarded the ship that is to take them to Des Moines.

The two sisters were notified by radio that their father was dying and arrangements were made by F. L. Maytag, a friend, to have them taken from the plane and rushed to the flying hospital. They expect to arrive in Des Moines late today.

Missionaries' Death In China Confirmed

PEKING, Apr. 29.—(INS)—The American Legation here today confirmed reports that three American missionaries were killed by rising Chinese brigands in Western Hunan on Apr. 24. The victims were Walter Coverton, of Potosky, Mich.; Clement Seybold, of Dunkirk, N. Y.; and Godfrey Holbein, of Baltimore.

Reports from Chefoo received here state that Miss Momen, a missionary attached to the Norwegian Baptist Mission at Shantung, was missing after river pirates boarded a ship on which she was a passenger.

ADOPTS RESOLUTION

WASHINGTON, Apr. 29.—(INS)—The House today adopted a resolution re-appropriating a $2,000,000 unexpended balance of $6,000,000 appropriated by Congress last session for seed and feed loans in storm-stricken sections of southeastern states. The action was taken so that the measure would apply to those suffering losses in the 1928 crops.

Large Group Of Shoppers Is Expected On Wednesday For Dollar Day Bargains

Plans for the event have been kept secret until now, although extensive preparations have been going on for the last 10 days.

The largest contingent of out-of-town shoppers Sanford has entertained this year is expected to be on hand Wednesday morning when two leading merchants open their doors for the first Community Dollar Day staged here this year.

Newspaper advertising and circulars have beckoned the event within a 25-mile radius of Sanford. Crowds are expected to come from not only adjoining communities of Seminole County but principally from Eustis, DeLand, Winter Park, Ocala, City and Osteen.

Practically all of Sanford's leading firms have made extensive preparations for the sales, in many instances special purchases have been made to attract outsiders.

Dollar Day bargains will range all from theater tickets to furniture. Shoes, men's and women's clothing, foods, household necessities, novelties and accessories—men's toilet articles are just a few of the many offerings. Sanford merchants will feature Wednesday.

Plans for the event have been kept secret until now, although extensive preparations have been going on for the last 10 days. So far, no plans have been made to hold a similar event at any time during the summer, and for this reason unusual efforts have been put forth to make Wednesday a banner bargain day.

A full list of the merchants participating in Community Dollar Day as well as all carrying the bargains featured by various stores, will appear in The Herald tomorrow afternoon.

AGENT ANSWERS QUERIES PUT BY CELERY RAISERS

Officer of Advertising Company Relates Details of Campaign

"How will celery be advertised? What mediums will be used? Which is the best method? These are some of the questions asked me by growers since we opened our office here," said Warren A. Humphrey, vice president of the Gottschaldt-Humphrey Advertising Agency of Atlanta, in reporting progress of the campaign here today.

"My answer is that the campaign will be a well-rounded one, complete in every detail," he stated. "Before we present any advertising plans to the board of directors of the Florida Celery Association it will be necessary for our agency to make an investigation of the principal markets for Florida celery."

This investigation will be made with the co-operation of various marketing and shipping organizations. We will ascertain which cities are most favorable, which cities are highly competitive markets against celery from other sections of the United States. We will estimate the cost of reaching the consumer in these various markets and compare that with the volume of Florida celery sold.

"Since we represent no particular medium of advertising, we can investigate impartially the relative merits and costs of such major mediums as newspaper advertising, magazine advertising, outdoor advertising, radio and direct-mail advertising."

"In general, it cannot be said that there is any one form of advertising that is the best. Each has its place and each has its own merits. It is up to us to choose in, of course, the fairest way, and to make our clients and the public aware of the merits of each."

"When our report is submitted to the directors of the Association this fall, it will be given the widest publicity and every member of the association will have opportunity to express himself."

"One of the first things we will recommend will be the adoption of a trade mark to be used in connection with individual trade marks and labels showing that the celery shipped is exactly the same as that advertised," Mr. Humphrey said.

"This trade mark, according to the terms of the advertising agreement, will be limited only to Association members and is certain to become more and more valuable in securing better prices because of the demand to be created for it."

Government Expert Arrives To Take Charge Of Fight Against Pest Here

J. W. Monk, representative of the United States Department of Agriculture, arrived in Sanford yesterday to direct the local campaign against the Mediterranean fruit fly and to supervise the inspection of plants and properties.

Temporarily Mr. Monk will maintain headquarters in the City Hall. For the next two or three days he will make preliminary arrangements for the inauguration beginning May 1, of recent quarantine regulations adopted by the federal department. The agent expects to get several assistants by the middle of the week, the force

GIRL'S SEARED BODY REVEALS TORCH MURDER

Victim Strangled And Then Set To Flames After Kerosene Had Been Poured On Her

SCARSDALE, N. Y., Apr. 29.—The leering, hideous specter of another "torch murderer" baffled detectives today as they sought not only to apprehend the fiend who strangled and cremated a young woman under a blossoming apple tree on the outskirts of this city, but also to establish the identity of the victim whose body was charred beyond recognition.

Seared fragments of a flowered cretonne house-dress, a milk bottle reeking with the odor of kerosene, a pair of snake-skin slippers and dental bridge-work in the girl's mouth—these constituted the articulated patchwork of slender clues out of which police hope to bring to justice the perpetrator of the third outrage in a year in which a human body has been a funeral pyre.

The body was found late Saturday by Joseph Selvey, a steam fitter's helper, and the horror of his discovery, sealed Selvey's lips for six hours, police not learning of the gruesome find until late Saturday night.

A squad of detectives was hurriedly dispatched to the scene and medical examiner Amos V. Squy immediately performed an autopsy on the pitifully seared body. The examination disclosed that the girl had been a blond, perhaps by her own right, before the slayer had transformed her body into a flaming human torch.

Dr. Squy, who has conducted hundreds of autopsies in Westchester County, was horrified at the condition of the girl's body. The victim, he said, was about 21 years old, 110 pounds in weight and about 5 feet 4 inches tall. She had reddish brown hair, blue eyes, small ears and a slightly turned-up nose.

St. Petersburg Man, Crusader On Vice, Is Beaten And Robbed

Prominent Attorney Is Going To Leave Florida Following His Experience Sunday

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Apr. 29.—(INS)—Sheriff Gladstone Beattie today began an investigation into the flogging of James F. Bickers, crusading attorney-reformer.

Bickers was abducted from in front of his home Sunday afternoon by five men who took him into the country, robbed him of $2,000 and whipped him severely with a knotted whip and ordered him to leave the state.

From his cell in a local hospital, Bickers said he did not know the identity of his assailants. "If I did know, I would not reveal them," he said. Bickers declared he would leave St. Petersburg and Florida by Tuesday night. He said Mayor John N. Brown to take every precaution, as his abductors had threatened the mayor.

Bickers was abducted just as he was returning home from church about 1 o'clock. He turned left on the driveway at the side of his house, and a big Buick sedan followed and stopped just behind him. Five men jumped out with guns in their hands and ordered Bickers from his car. He protested at first but finally went with them. His wife, who is just recovering from an operation, witnessed the kidnaping from her bed through an open window. She attempted to get up and go to the floor. Dragging herself to the telephone she notified police. Meantime, some one had called the city editor of the St. Petersburg Times and told of the abduction, refusing to identify himself. The Times information went to the police before Mrs. Bickers called.

Former Chief of Police B. B. Chesney was waiting at Bickers' house to consult the lawyer. He heard the commotion and started out. He found himself staring at the muzzle of a lag army revolver in the hands of a short, stocky, foreigner who wore a false mustache.

Bickers said he was thrust into the bottom of the car, handcuffed, gagged and his feet bound. A "croker" sack was placed over his head. He said his abductors drove for more than an hour and he estimated he had gone nearly 100 miles, when they got out and threw him out of the car. He said he attempted to talk and reason with them, but that they refused to listen.

At first, the lawyer said they violently intended to hang him, for a nose was placed about his neck, with a hangman's knot up.

WANTED OF SEX PAMPHLET GIVEN 300 DOLLAR FINE

Grandmother Dennett Receives Light Penalty For Offense

NEW YORK, Apr. 29.—"Grandmother" Mary Ware Dennett, was fined $300 for sending her pamphlet, "The Sex Side Of Life" through the mails by Federal Judge Burrows in Brooklyn today.

The maximum penalty for her conviction could have been five years in the federal penitentiary and a fine of $5,000. Previously, Mrs. Dennett had said that in the event of only a fine by the judge she would refuse to pay it and go to jail instead.

However the question as to whether she could carry out this quarantine resolution was deferred by Judge Burrows pending the defendant in the custody of her counsel Morris Ernst until next Thursday afternoon. At that time, Ernst said, papers in the appeal from the conviction will be filed.

A meeting, at which prominent citizens will attend, was called for this afternoon to decide future action in connection with Mrs. Dennett's case. More than 100 physicians, clergymen, professors and lawyers have been invited. It is planned to send a copy of Mrs. Dennett's pamphlet, signed by those at the meeting, to President Hoover. This would make the senders subject to the same charges as Mrs. Dennett—sending obscene matter through the mail.

The pamphlet, which a federal jury termed obscene, was written 10 years ago for Mrs. Dennett's two sons. Since then it has become part of the educational literature at the Y. M. C. A., the Union Theological Seminary and numerous schools throughout the country.

International Disarmament Conference Received Such Impetus From United States At Geneva, Has Now Entered the Stage of a Silent Study

LONDON, Apr. 29.—(INS)—International disarmament conference received such impetus from the United States at Geneva, has now entered the stage of a silent study. It was declared in British official circles today that no further developments regarding disarmament are expected until the next meeting of the League of Nations preparatory disarmament commission at Geneva, probably at the end of June.

In the meantime the American program for naval reduction will be studied by the foreign offices and marine departments of the various interested governments. If a general disarmament conference is summoned next year, the date probably will be tentatively announced during the autumn.

Eighteen Of Crew Lose Their Lives In Explosion On Ship

MANILA, Apr. 29.—(INS)—Eighteen of the crew of the inter-island steamer "Viking" were killed today in an explosion on the ship when the boiler exploded in the engine room after an explosion caused by the ignition of a volatile gas used in cleaning batches.

Several of the crew were blown overhead and badly burned when the blast occurred late yesterday.

Atmospheric conditions hampered the functioning of the ship's radio and S. O. S. call could not be sent out. The flames which resulted were seen from a distance about 100 miles and which raged to the ceiling.

The ship stood by the blazing vessel all through the night, picking up 11 survivors, including the chief officer. It was feared that all others aboard the "Viking" including Captain Charles G. Olson, were lost. Most of the crew were Filipinos.

The "Viking" Sea is a body of water lying in the midst of several of the center islands of the Philippines.

Psychologist Sees No Harm In Movies

NEW YORK, Apr. 29.—(INS)—Mothers need not fear the effect of crime and sex movies upon their sons and daughters, according to Dr. J. L. Holmes, eminent psychologist of Columbia University.

"The movies rarely lead young folks astray," Dr. Holmes declared today in announcing the result of tests on 500 school children taken from public and private schools throughout New York City and state.

In his first public statement, Mr. Monk made an appeal for the heartiest co-operation of citizens in what he described as a "fight to the finish" against the dread pest. He emphasized the fact that local people should not become panicky but should remain cool in the face of a problem that can be solved with united effort.

"We are not attempting to arrest or control the fly but to exterminate it, and that's the only way," (Continued on page 9)

The new and better Texaco Gasoline is high test—yet it costs no more than ordinary "wet" gasoline. Texaco is produced by a special process which causes it to vaporize so readily that it forms a "dry gas"—a volatile mixture of gasoline and air.

Because Texaco vaporizes completely there are no globules of raw gasoline to resist the action of the spark and cause a listless, irresponsive engine.

For more speed, more pep, more power, stop where you see the Texaco Red Star with the Green T—today.

THE TEXAS COMPANY, TEXACO PETROLEUM PRODUCTS

The new and better Texaco is uniformly high quality gasoline no matter where you buy. It is available in every State from Coast to Coast.

1. A "wet gas" is an un-mixed mixture of gasoline vapor in which are suspended drops of raw gasoline.
2. These drops of raw gasoline resist the action of the spark and will not ignite.
3. Result—destructive crankcase dilution—difficult starts—slow acceleration—sluggish power.

Lesson Study Given For Local Scientists

"Probation after Death," was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text was from Proverbs 21:21, "He that followeth after righteousness and mercy findeth life, righteousness and honour." Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts: and see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting" (Psalms 139:23, 24).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortal mind must part with error, must put off itself with its deeds, and immortal manhood, the Christ ideal will appear. Faith should enlarge its borders and strengthen its base by resting upon Spirit instead of matter."

CELERY NOT TO BE SUBJECTED TO QUARANTINE

whose efforts he said, resulted in the unanimous passage by the House of the huge appropriation bill, Mrs. Owen worked unceasingly on the project and without her assistance the measure probably would have been delayed for some time he declared.

The Congressman, keenly alive to the seriousness of the problem, addressed the House describing the situation as one of national importance and demanding immediate and wholehearted attention. Mrs. Owen's prestige with her colleagues was reflected in their unanimous endorsement of her appeal, Mr. Scott said.

Because of its length, only part of Mr. Scott's interpretation of the quarantine regulations is published today. All local growers and interested parties have been requested to clip out the statement for careful personal and for future reference. The statement in part is as follows:

Cucumbers and other nuts, watermelons, potatoes, green tomatoes, celery, lettuce and all other vegetables except the host vegetables named above are exempt.

Feed Your Crops the Food They Need

HUMITE-HUMUS

Is the food element to make a fertile soil and your plants strong, healthy and profitable. HUMITE-HUMUS is a plant food element just as necessary in the growth of plants as nitrogen, super-phosphate, potash, or other plant food elements. It makes no difference what the crop is—orange, grapefruit, grapes or other fruit—ferns, bulbs or other ornamentals—potatoes, beets, onions or other root crops—celery, cabbages, lettuce, beans, or other green vegetables—ALL respond equally well to this universal plant and land food, Humite-Humus. Your land, moreover, will benefit permanently by the use of HUMITE-HUMUS.

HOW HUMITE-HUMUS WORKS—The ready solubility of a large percentage of its 65% humus content and its high carrying power of various bacteria beneficial to plant life make HUMITE-HUMUS immediately available as a plant food when mixed with the soil, creating the healthiest and most productive root system of any plant food element known to science. This rapid root growth means resultant plant development above-ground in order to supply the root system with the nitrogen and other elements of the air which are "breathed" through the leaves or "lungs" of the plant.

No matter what you are growing, you are not producing the crops and reaping the consequent profits you should unless you are consistently using HUMITE-HUMUS.
