MANILA, Feb. 12.—(INS)—An international chase was on end today when private S. C. Price of E. company, first infantry, confessed he was Hugh D'Autremont, fugitive since Oct. 11, 1923, as one of three brothers charged with responsibility for the bombing of Southern Pacific passenger train in Skidoo, Oregon. Three trains had been damaged in the attempted holdup.

He was arrested at Los Banos, by United States postal carrier Fred Smith who three days ago came to the Philippines to find that one of the three fugitives wanted for holdup was here.

He enlisted in the army in April 1924 and came to Philippines in 1925. Army authorities declared today that his confession was positive. The man is being held incommunicado.

FRANCISCO, Feb. 12.—Post Office Inspector Liane was notified today by Fred Smith who arrest he believed to be Hugh D'Autremont in Manila that he was held Wednesday for the United States with his prisoner on the transport Thomas.

Robert E. Tuttle, chief of prohibition for the southeastern states, was so delighted with his visit to and Seminole county that he wants to buy a farm here, according to James H. According to Mr. Lee, the visitors were highly impressed and his chief remarked that he would like to own a farm here.

Compliments were paid by Mr. Lee to the authorities of Seminole county and Sanford. "Fewer complaints reached my desk from this county than from any other in the state. When they do, I turn them over to Mr. Hand, who always carries out my instructions to the letter. If the liquor industry of Seminole County was all the worry we had, we would consider ourselves lucky."

CHARGES FILED AGAINST FOUR IN THE SENATE

Contempt Citations Made On Reed Campaign Fund Case By Investigating Committee Of The Upper House

Insult And Crowe

Refusal Of Chicago Men To Testify Believed To Be Cause Of Senate's Action

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(INS)—Contempt citations were filed in the Senate today against Senator Insull, Chicago multimillionaire, Robert F. Clegg, state attorney of Cook county, Daniel F. Schleser, an Insull attorney, and Thomas W. Cunningham, of Philadelphia, by the Reed campaign fund committee.

The committee asked the Senate to take any action it deemed "mete and proper" but did not suggest any specific punishment. Members of the committee will later urge the Senate to initiate criminal proceedings against the three men.

The report set forth the refusal of Insull, Clegg and Schleser to testify about expenditures by or contributions to the Crows Nest, right-wing republican organization in Chicago. The committee declared Schleser could not have been elected without the organization's support and that therefore, it's expenditures and collections were a part of the Smith campaign fund.

It cited Cunningham because he refused to tell where he obtained $50,000 which he said he contributed to the campaign fund or representative William S. Vare in the Pennsylvania senatorial primary.

"The testimony of the witness, Cunningham, speaks for itself," Mrs. Chesser, tearfully pleaded that she didn't understand how Mrs. Vare would kill the girl he was to marry. The marriage ceremony was to have taken place the day after the murder.

The youth's mother, Mrs. Magdalene Chesser, tearfully pleaded that the president had decided to apply the veto because the bill equipped with the most modern arms and artillery, the Cantonese forces of Marshall Chiang Kai-Shek today were strongly entrenched in the mountains back of Hangchow, stubbornly resisting the attacks of the troops under Gen. Sun Chuan-Fang.

The battle around Hangchow, which resulted yesterday in the Cantonese being driven back to the mountains, was described as the most sanguinary of the present Chinese revolution. Thousands were reported killed and wounded. The northern troops, 100,000 strong, were matched against half the number of Cantonese, but the latter were better equipped and had fought like veterans.

Those arrested included R. B. Barber, formerly held as hammer's murderer but released for lack of prosecution; his brother Wade Barber, Ed Whittaker, Calvin Johns, Kenneth Hughes, Wade and Hamp Douglas, brothers; Mark "Shorty" Batty, returned from Sanford last night; Wesley "Cowboy" Hall and John Manning.

One woman who goes under various names of Sadies Godd, Jessie Klemmer, Whittaker or Todd is also being held following her arrest at Sanford. Preliminary hearing is scheduled for Tuesday.

Three more arrests are expected to be made in connection with the slayings.

Forces Of Marshal Chiang Entrenched In Mountains And Have Modern Equipment To Fight Off Northern Troops

SHANGHAI, Feb. 12.—(INS)—Outnumbered two to one but equipped with the most modern arms and artillery, the Cantonese forces of Marshall Chiang Kai-Shek today were strongly entrenched in the mountains back of Hangchow, stubbornly resisting the attacks of the troops under Gen. Sun Chuan-Fang.

The battle around Hangchow, which resulted yesterday in the Cantonese being driven back to the mountains, was described as the most sanguinary of the present Chinese revolution. Thousands were reported killed and wounded. The northern troops, 100,000 strong, were matched against half the number of Cantonese, but the latter were better equipped and had fought like veterans.

The Cantonese were forced to retreat when Gen. Fan Pei-Pan, commanding the fifth division of Sun Chuan-Fang's army, ordered the execution of a leader of an encroaching movement, in which the Sun commander gained his objectives of compelling the southerners to withdraw to the hills. There they took up strong positions, while the north was matched against half the number of Cantonese, but the latter were better equipped and had fought like veterans.

Responsibilities of increased sales of Chevrolet automobiles in the territory embraced in the new zones are such that it was vitally necessary to create new zone headquarters, with sufficient increased staff to handle the business, according to C. E. Dauphin, assistant general manager of the Chevrolet company.

The new zone offices will supersede more closely the activities of field forces and Chevrolet dealers. Offices will be supervised by zone sales managers, with an assistant and the necessary clerical forces to maintain proper records. The opening of the new offices is in line with the Chevrolet Motors Company's policy of concentrating more closely on districts where part sales indicate a rapidly growing market.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S BIRTH PLACE IS BEING REBUILT

ILLINOIS ON Sangamon River. Will be Restored to Appearance That It Had Days Lincoln Residence

Will Be Monument to The Emancipator

Buildings And Historical Residences Are Rebuilt To Make It Unique in History

SALEM, Ill., Feb. 12.—Old Salem of Abraham Lincoln's early hopes and dreams—is being rebuilt. Building for building little town on the winding Sangamon river where tragedy first struck Lincoln and marked him forever, is being restored.

The old town site has been made into a state park, and when all the work of rebuilding is complete, will stand just as it was when Lincoln left it, every building and store, even every cowpat removed.

Old Salem will stand unique among the towns of the country—next to a great man's past little community of 1830 re-created after nearly 100 years.

Where Lincoln Kept Store.

Many of the old buildings still stand or have been restored to their original state. Members of the Old Salem Lincoln League, working with Dick and Alice Lundquist, have unearthed the foundations of many of the houses which have moved away, and there, too, are now rebuilt.

It was here that Lincoln ran a store with a man named Berry. It was here that Lincoln's boat sank in the Sangamon river, the accident changing course of his life.

He saw and loved and lost beautiful Ann Rutledge, the lawyer's daughter.

Lincoln worked in the law office of Mr. and Mrs. John Lincoln, the name of "Honest Abe."

Lincoln walked three miles a day of toll at the stove, to pay a customer who was the victim of a miasma.

McNeil became a surveyor and appointed postmaster in 1833.

He bought a barrel of books and covered wagon emigrated there in a treasured stone which he studied by the light of the fire.

His Political Start.

Lincoln got his political start in life, running for the legislature and being elected.

Lincoln whipped the Clay into submission, and from Salem he went to be a captain in the War with Mexico.

His sorrow overred his heart, almost destroyed one of the best minds of the ages.

Lincoln came to Salem about 1837. His boat struck a snag in the Sangamon. As a result of the delay, it is related, saw Ann Rutledge and decided to stay in Salem for a while. But, in the year that he was away, had been founded a few months before by his father, the carpenter, and named James Cameron.

It was a school girl in Minnie's school when Lincoln first met her.

The young man took up in Berry's store and soon won the respect among the townsfolk of his honesty.

Lincoln blossomed into womanhood.

Lincoln then was in his teens he was an admirer, although a bashful, awkward young man.

Then a stranger came to town, who called himself John McNeil.

McNeil had charming manners and became popular at once with the girls of the town. He prospered in business, too, his becoming one of Salem's most imposing establishments.

Ann Rutledge loved him. They were together at the social functions of the little Illinois community, and were around when they were engaged.

Drama Enters.

But McNeil had a story to tell, he unfolded it to Ann. His name was not McNeil at all, but John McNamara. His family was old and respectable in New York, but his father had gone bankrupt, with the desire to restore the family fortunes, the young man came west to Salem.

Nothing was inspiring. He had a little farm, and would go back and bring the old folk to Salem. He would carry Ann upon his return.

Ann trusted him, though the folk of the village regarded him with scorn. She promised him all.

Friends here regret to learn that Mrs. Seward has been confined to her home in Sanford since Dec. 10.

Emily Magnusson and wife who are now at Natick, spent the week-end here with Mrs. Magnusson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Taylor.

Mr. Foy was home over Sunday from Windermere. Jack came home with him; Mrs. E. Taylor and baby returned with them to visit her mother.

The parents of Mr. Hardin were Sunday visitors at his home.

Mrs. Jennie Gleason was a guest of Mrs. Westerdrick and Mr. Ballinger Sunday. She had the pleasure with Miss Grandell of a trip to the air at Tampa and to St. Petersburg.

The Willard Workers met with Mrs. Alice Lundquist on Feb. 4 after school. Besides the hostess and daughters there were present: Mrs. Alice Lundquist, Mr. Ballinger, Alice Vilhjalm, Lucy Harley,

"Flapper" Princess In Role of Heroine

She prevented a clash between her husband's army and the Philippine Constabulary

A Joan of Arc whose mission is peace has appeared in the Philippines. She is Princess Tarhala Kram, former "flapper" co-ed at the University of Chicago and favorite of the Sultan of Sulu. As the wife of Datu Tahil, a dignitary of the Sulu archipelago, she has stepped into breach between the Moros and Philippine constabulary over tax collections. The Moros object to being taxed, and armed clashes were imminent when the princess intervened.

bond of that promise to her absent lover.

Death Releases Her.

Finally she lay back in the arms of delirium. Raving, she called for Lincoln. Honest Abe came. He sat alone with her at the bedside in an crude little tavern. The next morning he was with Major Reno's men nearby, in the most thing to an actual survivor.

And here he can locate one or two of Reno's men who may still live and who have been downed by the redskins, old Bill Bailey can collect $125 from the government as compensation.

A bill now pending in the Senate, offered by Senator Lynn J. Frasier of North Dakota, to reimburse the old scout, now 78 years old, Frasier's office has put in an immense amount of work straightening out the records with the War Department and the comptroller's office and now all that is needed is proof that Bailey actually lost the annual.

Bill Bailey was one of those immortal kid drummers of the Civil War. His parents in Virginia sided with the secessionists and young Bill, barely 13 years old, ran away to wallop his drum in the Union army, where he served two years. This makes him today the second youngest member of the G. Sargent of Vermont.

And Mr. Sargent admits that, with moderation he looks into it. Maybe you wouldn't just call it inspiration that he sees there, but he likes to refresh himself on certain passages often enough to justify keeping the book right handy.

After he enlisted in the regular army and took the name of Bailey, his parents drug him back home as a minor.

He served in Montana and the Dakota territory and accompanied Custer on the Black Hills expedition of 1874. The army was reduced and Bailey acted for two years in a civilian capacity in the department of the interior as a result at Fort A. Lincoln, bringing along his own horse—for which records show he was allowed daily compensation—and two weeks later set out with General Terry on the expedition which culminated in the Little Big Horn battle of June 25 and 26.

Custer believing that he faced a comparatively easy task, Indians, three thousand Indians, in three divisions, advancing himself on the north with five companies and dividing his other six companies between Captain A. R.

BUILDING TOTAL FOR SOUTHEAST IS 4 MILLIONS

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 12.—(INS)—January construction contracts let in the southeastern states, including Florida, amounted to $10,410,400, according to the latest received here today from the E. W. Dodge Co.

The other states in this group include the Carolinas, Georgia, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Lincoln left Salem seven years after he came, and the decline of the little town set in about the same time. Its day of trading seems to have been over.

Now the old scenes are being restored—the Rutledge Inn, the Lincoln and Berry store, the old corner shop and the roads and paths where Lincoln trod.

Lincoln left Salem seven years after he came, and the decline of the little town set in about the same time. Its day of trading seems to have been over.

The above figure exceeded December by eight per cent, but declined from January of last year by 36 per cent, the statement said. The record "included in the year," it was added, was set in 1926, when the total construction value of all the states in the group reached $12,624,100, or 50 per cent of all construction, for public works and utilities.

For residential buildings, $6,524,600, or 45 per cent, for commercial buildings, $3,510,500, or 18 per cent, for industrial buildings;

$21,000, or four per cent, for educational buildings; $1,618,100, or four per cent, for religious and memorial buildings; and $1,590,000, or three per cent, for social and recreational projects.

Contemplated construction projects were reported for the district in January to the amount of $6,707,700, or 10 per cent above the total construction value of the country. This is the second largest January total on record, although 16 per cent under the maximum January, which was last year.

The entire decrease of last month is accounted for in a drop in New York's contract value and a slight increase of the national decrease is accounted for in the fact that January 1926 had a single fifty-million dollar power-plant job for New York City, which was not duplicated in last month's record.

Comparing last month's total with that of December, 1926 shows a decrease of 28 per cent. It should be noted that this is again a comparison with a normally high month, the December total having been swelled by large subway and other public works projects.

The more important items in last month's building and engineering record were: $167,866,500, or 41 per cent, of all construction, residential buildings; $60,155,000, or 31 per cent, for general buildings; $17,700, or 15 per cent, for industrial buildings;

$10,700,000, or 4 per cent, for educational buildings; $10,472,000, or 2 per cent, for social and recreational projects; and $3,197,000, or 2 per cent, for transportation and public works.

Campaign Against 'Quack' Doctors Is Commenced By Florida Medical Society

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 11.—(INS)—Pursuing its efforts to drive out alleged quacks on the strength of a resolution, a number of Florida physicians, including Dr. H. M. Smith, president of the Florida State Medical Association, to take up the "quack" menace.

In issuing a call for a gathering Dr. Smith announced that the purpose of the meeting would be to "deal a death blow to the reported practice of a number of doctors on forged medical degrees."

It was generally understood that the physician in conference today would, in welding a weapon in his hand against the alleged unlawful practice, endorse a bill to be presented at the forthcoming legislative session which would require annual registration of all doctors in the state.

Peter Collins Will Speak on Mexico At City Hall Monday

A free public lecture on Mexico will be given by Peter W. Collins, international known socialist and lecturer, at the City Hall on Monday evening, Feb. 14, at 8 o'clock under the auspices of Sanford Council No. 1763, Knights of Columbus.

The lecture will be a presentation of facts about Mexico, its government, and its attitude toward democratic ideals and organizations. The lecture is arranged as part of Knights of Columbus dollar campaign for the education of the people against the domination of this continent by the soviet.

Mr. Collins made a study of Mexico for 25 years, and because of his knowledge was consulted by President Wilson in regard to Mexican affairs. He was chosen by the trustees of the Church Peace Union, by such men as William Howard Taft, Cardinal Gibbons, Bishop Brent, President W. H. Faunce, the Rev. Francis E. Clark, and others of note, as a member of the commission to investigate the Mexican problem in 1920. He is an authority on the creation of Labor and fully versed in the negotiations between the Mexican and American Labor Federations.
