Many Hawaiian Words May Be Added To English Dictionary In Few Years

HONOLULU, Aug. 26—(AP)—If Hawaii continues to attract tourists and charm them with its language, dictionaries in 50 years will contain some words now virtually unknown.

A prominent writer recently visited the islands and took back a new word for the title of one of his articles—hoomalimali. The Hawaiian glossary says the word means "to gain one's favor by false flattery."

The malihini for a person who would be a "checheheo" in the Klondike or a "griffin" in Shanghai is a "malihini" or newcomer in Hawaii—also learns that pau pronounced pow, is a good way of saying he is finished, done, or ended with what he is doing, and that

Change Words

The Hawaiians had no written language until the coming of the missionaries in 1820, when the alphabet was provided to make possible translation of the Bible.

The Hawaiians improvised many foreign words with their limited alphabet, such as "popoki" for cat. This last Hawaiian word is said to have resulted from the native effort to repeat what the missionaries said of the small animal "poof pussy."

MAZEN LEADS FIELD OF 250 IN WESTERN OPEN

Two-score Starters
Unable To Finish Thursday Night Because Of The Congestion On Highland Links

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 27.—(AP)—

Gene Sarazen, New York, as the result of a hectic day and part of a night of golf, stood out today in the front of the 250 entrants in the Western Open Golf championship at the end of the first round with 70 for the Highland links.

Overcrowded was the course that saw two-score of the starters unable to finish last night while the last threesome, Chick Evans, Al Watrous and Joe Turney, had to identify their balls with matches while the gallery stood about in the shadows cast by lights from the club-house.

The committee in charge had to suspend play for those behind this time, marking their balls where they lay in the moonlight so the contestants might resume in the morning where they left off at night.

One incident that added to the congestion of the threesome was a misadventure on the sixteenth green where a stray dog seized Chick's ball and ran away with it. In second place at the start of the second round was P.
O. Hart, Marietta, Ohio, who scored par 70.

The leading amateurs at the start of the second round were Evans, James Manion of St. Louis, and John Lehman, Gary, with 75 each. The same score was returned by Walter Hagen.

Among those who had to rest their niblicks over-night while their balls were bivouacked on the seventh fairways were Johnny Farwell of New York; Charlie Hall, of Birmingham and Rudy Knepper, of Chicago.

Many Plays And Stars Of Generation Are Recalled By Preserved Stage Drops

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—(AP)—
The relics of twenty-two years of make-believe lie in a large building in West Thirty-ninth street, awaiting the plays which will call them forth again as stage properties.

The building, the largest of its kind, contains the properties from Shubert shows estimated to total between 800 and 850. There are rusted pointers and masts, dusty furniture and countless old pieces mingled in orderly confusion.

Wooden Bathtubs
The furniture is unusually complete, comprising beds of all kinds and periods, antique and modern chairs and tables and even half a dozen bath-tubs. The last named, however, can provide only an effect and not a bath, as they are made of wood.

The recent series of costume pieces and period plays also is evidenced by an abundance of gold and Louis XV. chairs and consoles.
Antedating these are much carved samples of the Renaissance period.

No pretensions as to their genuineness is made, but the correctness is immeasurable, most of the pieces having been made in the company's shops after originals.

"Mr. Pickwick's" Mask
The top floor contains numberable odds and ends, from dishes to spears and swords, and from flowered watering pots to busts of famous persons. Hanging from the ceiling is a mouse's head large enough to fit a man's, which eighteen years ago topped the make-up of the Wolf Hopper in
"Mr. Pickwick."

Many famous shows of his gen-days, together with some stars, are recalled in the assemblage.
"La Belle Paree," which opened the Winter Garden a trifle over fifteen years ago is there, as is "The Revue of Revues," which followed it. The objects of art which John Emerson, an auctioneer, sold in "The Blue Mouse," are mingled with the curios.

A portion of a locomotive and at least three yachts, more or less complete, also are there. The locomotive was used in "The Honeymoon Express," in which Gaby Dellys starred, in a scene where an automobile raced a train. This setting still remains as one of the outstanding achievements of stagecraft.

The vessels date from "The Merry Whirl," in the Winter Garden in 1914, from "Billy," and the Iron Master, in which Laurette Taylor made her New York debut.

German Relics
A large collection of German guns also is kept intact, since they were used in "Taps," a play translated from the German.

"Old Heidelberg," on which "The Student Prince" musical show was based, is also recalled by the setting among which Mansfield walked when he played in the first production of the piece.

ly attracted by her.

"My friendship with the salesman led to other acquaintances here, all prominent people. They all assumed that I was the son of the rich Mr. Merrick, and although I knew this was wrong, I let them believe it because I have always had a desire to appear rich and brilliant and have a good time.

"I have not done anything very wrong and I am going to pay my debts when I get out of here, if ever."

"This surely has been a lesson to me and I will never again try to appear other than what I am.
Of course, it is too late now to think of things like that. I am in real trouble now and if my father and mother ever find it out they will disown me. I am going to pay for what I have done.

"The friendship and companionship of rich and beautiful girls and the welcome given me in their homes was just too much for me.
I could not resist the impulse to let the deception go on. I was not happy, though, while it was going on, because I knew I would have to pay for it sooner or later.

"It would like to say, though,
that there are a lot of rich society ladies in Atlanta who certainly were glad for me to know their daughters and who did a good deal to get me into their homes. I was literally showered with invitations while they thought I was the son of a rich man. Now, of course, they will all disclaim acquaintance with me and I don't blame them.

"I hope that none of the people who have been kind to me, even if they did it only because they thought I was rich, will be hurt by the notoriety this is going to bring and I hope more than anything else that my mother will never find this out."

He said his father is a real estate man and at present is engaged in subdivision promotion in Florida, but refused to give his recent order of Judge W. W.

Wright in the writ o mandamus action directs the Seminole County Commissioners to carry out the four-mill tax levy of the navigation district, and not the county assessor.

"I am willing to pay my share of the canal tax," Mr. Vaughn asserted. "I don't want to see any defects in the canal bill, so that the corporation can crawl out of their share of the taxes, and let the land owners of our county pay it all."

Assessor Vaughn and the Seminole County Commissioners were named as the respondents in the mandamus suit of the Upper St.
Johns River Navigation District commissioners to compel them to recognize the canal act. The writ was made absolute by Judge

The people of Sanford and Seminole County are going to awaken ere long as to the great benefits which will accrue to this community through the International Press Foundation's gigantic development called Press City. This development lies immediately to the south-east of the city limits of Sanford.

On the main arterial highway leading to the site of Press City is located Sanford Grove, an exclusive residential sub-division of merit. Every Bullet That Kills Or Wounds Man Tells Own Story, Says Arms Expert

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Bullets which kill or wound human beings tell their own story. Often they give more evidence as to the assassin because the weapon used can be identified from them. No two bullets are alike after they are fired; each has its characteristics.

These are assertions of Morton A. Robinson, firearm's expert and ballistic engineer of the Winchester-Remington-Union Arms company who examined the bullets that figured in the slaying of Don R. Mellett, Canton, Ohio, publisher.

With increase in crime and the taking of human life, police authorities have turned to the ballistic engineer for assistance, especially where the gun is missing. Bullets Retain Marks. A common idea that bullets after being discharged are shapeless bits of metal is incorrect, he said. Unless disintegrated, the missile may tell its source and even the case of the bullet brought to Mr. Robinson by Governor F. C. McQuate, the opinion was given that the guns were ordinary revolvers and that the revolver was of certain make.

Each of the three bullets, one taken from Mellett's neck, one from the work of a garage near which he was killed and the third from a brick wall, were weighed. They corresponded closely with the standard 158-grain weight and ap- pearance of Smith and Wesson .38-caliber bullets. Marks on one showed left-handed rifling, a characteristic of Colt revolvers. Rifling on another revealed five lands—high surface in relief—and grooves, a mark inherent to Harrington and Richardson guns.

Easily Identified. Identification of bullets as well as recognition of missiles in other murder cases submitted to him from time to time is a part of the ballistic engineer's laboratory work. Mr. Robinson said bullets carry the peculiar characteristics of the gun from which they are fired, and no two guns are alike. Each has certain individual characteristics which can be found out by the expert.

The ballistic engineer first tries to determine the diameter of the bore of the gun, the number of grooves in the rifling, the depth of the groove, the width of the groove and the direction of the twist, whether left hand or right hand. The bullet is measured for diameter and weight, he delicate instruments. The results are compared with laboratory records which contain samples and data about every cartridge, shell and bullet turned out in the world.

St. Lucie Canal Will Be Discharging At Full Capacity Within Short Time

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Aug. 27.—(AP)—The great St. Lucie canal, one of the largest factors in controlling the waters of Lake Okechobee, will be discharging at full capacity by Oct. 1, according to a report by Fred C. Elliott, chief drainage engineer, made to the board of commissioners of the Everglades Drainage District. The canal now is discharging more than three times as much water as was going over the spillway a year ago, according to Mr. Elliott. After the first of October, the full capacity of the canal will be utilized in carrying off the surplus water from Lake Okechobee. Although the canal will not then be full, Mr. Elliott stated that the remainder of the work will consist in trimming and smoothing the banks and completing a few sections to the width and depth called for in the specifications.

On the day preceding the recent storm on the lake, Mr. Elliott reported that the depth of water rising over the spillway of the No. 2 lock in the St. Lucie canal was 20 inches. With the same elevation of water in the lake as on that day,

State Will Not Be Penalized In Tax Case, Drane Thinks

LAKELAND, Fla., Aug. 27.—(AP)—The supreme court will not uphold the items of the revenue bill passed by the last congress that penalizes Florida, Alabama and Nevada for refusing to collect income and inheritance taxes, in the expressed opinion of Congressman H. J. Drane, of the first Florida district is speaking before the Rotary club here.

Wrong in principle and drafted by the states and means committee especially to penalize Florida, according to Mr. Drane, the law would not be able to pass the highest court in the land. The congress men expressed the belief that the nine billion dollars owed by the states and foreign countries was a hopeless credit. A little of it might be paid, he said, but very little. There may be notes given by other nations but the debt will run a long time, he said.

CHARGED WITH SLAYING CLEVELAND, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Ernie Balensund, youthful college student, and former Parisian today is charged with manslaughter today in connection with the mysterious death of his girl friend, Dorothy Elizabeth Kirk, 21 year old school girl.

Bright-Hued Clothes Advocated For Men

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—(AP)—A plea for brighter-hued garments for men will go on the air tonight when Dr. Winifred S. Stoner, child psychologist, and Mrs. Orrella Rexford broadcast from Station WFXII. Mrs. Rexford advocates dress-coats of purple, dark green, brown and blue velvet, with vests and trousers of harmonious shades. For ordinary summer wear she recommends khaki, blue or gray

Mississippi Negro Pays Death Penalty

GREENWOOD, Miss., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Sylvester Mackey, 22, negro, was hanged in the yard of the county farm here today for the murder of Frank Smith, a deputy sheriff. Mackey mounted the scaffold at 10 o'clock this morning. He was pronounced dead 12 minutes after the trap was sprung.

PAT SAVES GIRL'S LIFE

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Big Pat McDonald, who throws weights for fun and for a living keeps traffic in order on New York's Broadway, thinks nothing of having a life or two in the surf on his vacation. Many saw him rescue a girl from the undertow. "Nothing more than I did the other day without any finding out about it," he remarked.

REARING THE CHILD
 (English doctors have discovered that children fed on butter fat become healthy but rough.)
 When Bill was fed alone on bread and cereal and meat,
 He grew refined and mild and kind
 And always acted sweet,
 He would not fight, nor kick, nor yell,
 He would not whine, nor disobey,
 His mother said "Now go to bed."
 He did so right away.

But the child became so mild
 He thought he must be ill,
 And every day we'd sadly say:
 "You had Poor little Bill!
 A stronger food may make him ruder."
 And then the evil deeds,
 And how he had been fed
 The day that he needs.

So now the brat gets butter fat
 And cream three times a day,
 He plays out nights, gets into fights,
 And often runs away,
 He daily grows more adipose,
 He can't pain nor all His neighbors think he's on the brink
 Of getting into jail.

We're well aware a change of fare
 Would change his manners too,
 And make him play the proper way,
 And like he used to do,
 We're certain that the butter fat
 Is toughening the lad, Yet down inside we thrill with pride
 To think he's sort of bad.

Use That Debt-Paying For All It Is Worth

Florida will derive immeasurably good advertising from the proposed retirement of the state debt in October. Boards of trade, and all other agencies working for the welfare of the state should be ready to make extensive use of the advertising opportunity that the debt-paying business will offer.

Even as it stands Florida has no real debt. The entire bonded indebtedness of the state—created during reconstruction days—amounts to $601,567 held by the several educational funds of the state. In paying this debt Florida will merely have to take some bonds out of one pocket and put them into the other, get in return the receipt in full. And then go out and tell the world that here is one state that does not owe a penny.

Upon the suggestion of State Treasurer Luning, Governor Hardee in 1921 secured the passage of a law in the state legislature which provided for the creation of a sinking fund commission and authorized it to invest interest on deposits of state funds in bonds of the United States, and other state, District of Columbia, or county or municipal bonds that had been approved by the attorney general. The bonds so bought now about equal the Florida bonds held by the educational department, and the plan is to hand them over in payment of Florida's debt.

From Tallahassee comes the entirely justifiable exulting over the fact that this will probably be the first instance in history of any state where its bonded indebtedness has been retired without one dollar of taxation for that purpose, as well as the only instance in which interest on state deposits have been applied to the redemption of a state's bonds. Furthermore, says the dispatch from Tallahassee, "the fact that this is to be accomplished in the short space of five years is a striking commentary on the prosperity of the state of Florida."

And that is what we were talking about first and foremost. Here comes a great big opportunity for the good advertisers of Florida to furnish "copy" that will startle the country, without the need of anything but a few plain figures from Tallahassee.

Some one should be preparing to use the news of that state-debt-paying incident as the basis of the most effective advertising that could be devised in the interest of Florida's substantial, ever-growing prosperity.

Religious War

Recent dispatches from Mexico City indicate that President Calles is not yielding any and does not seem inclined to a modification of the religious law which has caused so much trouble in that turbulent country during the past few months. President Calles believes that he did not make a mistake in opposing the Church so vigorously although the people may be no more submissive to religious persecution now than they were in the Middle Ages.

From this distance President Calles would not seem to be wholly in the wrong. The condition of the lower classes in Mexico is unquestionably almost intolerable. Mexican peons are little better off than the serfs of the Dark Ages. The reason for this state of affairs might be explained in several ways.

For years political differences have resulted in almost constant strife. Success at the polls did not mean control of the government. A leader had to be assassinated and his rebellious army put to rout. Little time the government had to spend in constructive work. It was too occupied putting down revolts. Taxpayers' money went to buy arms and ammunition.

But President Calles says the Church is responsible for a large part of the unfortunate condition of the Mexican peons. A very large proportion of Mexican lands is owned by the Church. Much of the cattle country, farm lands, sheep ranges and mines of Mexico are either owned outright or controlled by the Church. It is practically impossible for the poorer element to own any land at all. The Church pays the peons little or nothing so that they are never able to save enough to get a start.

On the other hand it is doubtful if the peons could get a start if they had the chance. They are a woefully ignorant lot and not especially energetic. They are almost incomprehensible from an American point of view. James R. Sheffield, our Ambassador to Mexico, says of them, "No foreigner can understand the Mexican nature. Even men who have lived for twenty-five years among them do not understand the mental processes of the nation."

"I am often amused at social workers who pass three or four weeks in Mexico and return to the United States to write passionate reform articles. They cannot assimilate the Mexican nature in that time, nor in many years. These persons seeking methods to better the conditions of the Mexicans are estimable, of course, but their methods are not the proper ones."

Perhaps, then, Calles is right and knows more about how to better the conditions of the lower classes than many Americans who think he is merely trying to take from the Mexicans their religion.

Don't Let Your Thoughts Hide Away

"A thought is of little use until it is put to work" says a bright advertising man in a magazine advertisement of his wares.

Men who think up ways to short-cut labor, or ways to make mankind more comfortable, or women-kind more lovely, have to have the thought all right, but unless they have some industry and perseverance and often a number of other good qualities they get nothing but dreams in the way of reward.

Not but what dreams are of themselves valuable. Many a man gets his best moments in life during the empty hours of futile dreaming. The castle he builds in the air, the adventures he has in mythical lands, all bring to a skillful day-dreamer more real pleasure than he ever derives from actual life.

But the people who do big things in the world are the ones who use their thoughts in a practical way. A man may sing to himself a beautiful song and find rare pleasure in the singing. Let him put the song on paper, and get himself a hustling publisher, and the thought that produced the song has turned into something to be measured by the American gold standard.

So it is with everything. Day-dreaming should not be done—speaking now from the same gold-standard. Thoughts should be productive. A man should get an idea, round it up for quick service, and then send it out in some strong way to make his bank account grow.

Almost everybody has an occasional thought of his own. Take the advice of the advertising man who knows and put that perfectly good thought to work.

THOSE WHO ARE making a study of conditions in Florida this summer are generally coming to the conclusion that conditions in this state have been improved by the end of the era of speculation and real estate gambling. "After the boom" in Florida finds the state with an unheard of amount of money on hand and with an increasing program of public improvements under way, which is a most unusual condition of a state that is said to have suffered a collapse. —Spartanburg (S.C.) One Man Enough? Welcome, the Voice. The State Kills Also. Safety in Fear.
 BY ARTHUR BRISBANE
 (Copyright 1926, by Star Co.)

MUSSOLINI WILL appoint rulers in each Italian city and town. That is the latest. A fascist decree is expected, forbidding elections that are pending, putting an end to woman suffrage, and establishing one-man government—the man being Mussolini.

IN AMERICA, we cling to the theory that men can govern themselves, with national congress, state legislatures, boards of aldermen, etc., and the citizens voting—although it must be admitted that many of the poor things don't know why they are voting or what for.

Are we right? Is Mussolini right? Who knows?

You remember in Darwin's voyage of the Beagle, his description of the miserable Fuegians, shivering in the cold near the straits of Magellan. Their trouble, according to Darwin, was that they had an absolute republic. No man was boss, no man ruled. And they all stayed in the degradation of that equality.

What ever our defects may be in the United States, we can not be accused of dividing things up. When an American gets a big piece of anything, he keeps it and adds to it.

KRISHNAMURTI IS here, with "the Word of the Messiah," and walks ashore hoping to revitalize faith in the United States.

There was talk, which fortunately came to nothing, about holding up the young Hindu on grounds of "moral turpitude." Aged 30, weighing only 100 pounds, he is as far from the average idea of turpitude as a butterfly.

Coming from India gives him special rights. The greatest Indian prince, the Grand Nawab, has 300 wives in his zenana, and considers himself to incorporate his father but 700. If he came, we would keep him out, turpitude or no turpitude. Explain that, and we tried to keep out Lady Cathcart, with no zenana at all.

EMANUEL SILBERSTEIN, a neurotic youth, aged 19, killed his tutor, aged 63, beating him on the head with a hammer, and smiled as he told the judge, "I think it was funny to kill this fellow."

They boy, smiling after committing murder, was once a youthful prodigy, having made effective liberty bonds speeches at the age of 10.

ALIENISTS WILL examine him. Suppose they declare him sane, what will the state do?

The youth calls it "funny" to kill a man. The state calls it "just and necessary" to kill a murderer. One statement is as preposterous and insane as the other. The state, to discourage murder, proceeds to kill.

CHARLES COLLINS Barley, presumably insane, killed himself and a bank official, injured 120 in a Pittsburgh bank, by deliberately exploding a bomb with his foot. The bank officials had refused to give him $2,000.

Business men, worried, ask "How can we protect ourselves against such a threat as Barley made?" The answer is: "Nature protects you, exceptions occur, but generally you need not worry."

Three passions rule the human race. First, and strongest, self preservation; second, reproduction; the family instinct; third, ambition which moves the whole family forward.

Men ordinarily will not kick explosive bombs when they can not get $2,000, because they don't want to kick themselves out of life. Life is not too pleasant when you need $2,000. But nature's powerful instinct makes you stay and struggle.

Take away the instinct of self preservation and all life and civilized government would be impossible. We should be like wild beasts, hiding from each other.

PROFESSOR WILLIAM C. Ripley, of Harvard, wants big corporations with their hundreds of thousands of millions of property, to tell the public exactly what they have, what they own, how much it is worth.

Professor Ripley, if he could make corporations tell all they know, could be a rich professor in a short time. Some stocks sell for a few dollars are actually worth a times the market price. Of some stocks it is impossible to estimate the value. How could you estimate the wealth that Standard Oil owns below the ground in California, for instance, or how could you estimate the wealth in such a brain as that of Henry Ford?

REAL RAILROAD men know that soon they will be "in the flying machine business," or out of work as bus and passenger business, and they will be in New York 4 day flight by Lieutenant Colonel Sir John Rhodes. He averaged better than 13 miles to the gallon of petrol, running his airplane at a cost of less than 8 cents a mile. What will become of the railroads' long distance passenger business when this advertisement appears—New York to Chicago in four hours, every hour on the hour by Luxurious Pullman fliers, fare $10. New York to California 12 hours, fare $15. Luggage limit 100 pounds, send your trunks one day in advance by dirigible, to meet you at the hotel. Those now of age will read that and tell their children "I used to cross out here in what a long time."

CONFIDENCE SAVES A HUMAN LIFE
 LAKELAND STAR-TELEGRAM

Five hours is a long time for a sick person to wait for a doctor. A girl, only sixteen years old, kept afloat on the sea without another human being anywhere near, her only companions the great fish that circled around and around her, probably in the expectation that her body would provide a meal.

Harriet Lindsay, resident of Dames on the lower East Coast, was bathing a few nights ago. It was shortly after 8 o'clock when she was carried out to sea by an outgoing tide. It was after 1 o'clock next morning when frantic searchers found her unconscious half way up the beach and well back from the edge of the surf where she had dropped exhausted after reaching the shore safely.

How did she do it?

By "keeping her head," another way of saying that she retained full confidence in her ability to remain afloat until a changing tide should carry her back to the beach. She was marvellous.

Can anyone imagine how it must have felt to have seen the lights of the bathing pavilion grow dimmer and dimmer and then disappear, as the tide carried her farther and farther from shore? Over her head was the moon; it too, gradually sank toward the west, to be swallowed in the chaos of waters. Then the stars did their bit in bidding her be good cheer, to keep up her courage. Presently the tide changed, again setting shoreward. After what must have seemed an interminable length of time the girl saw the sand dunes and the Spanish bayonet which are always a part of Florida beach scenery. Then she knew the opportunity for the making of a supreme effort had come so she started swimming with steadily, strong strokes toward the breakers. The next thing she knew her brother had her in his arms, bearing her back to anxious father and mother and scores of eager friends. A miracle had been performed; the sea had given up her who was thought to be lost. Who can tell the measure of rejoicing.

What a testing of human courage and endurance!

The incident should not pass unnoticed because it is probably the most outstanding example of human heroism in the annals of the Florida coast. Harriet Lindsay is deserving of some appropriate form of recognition for who among us would have held out five weary hours in the solitude of the great deep.

AFTER THE CHARLESTON?
 NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE

The dancing professors of the nation assembled in New York, are resolving that the Charleston must and shall be destroyed. They have issued this ultimatum at frequent intervals of late. The only result so far have been to increase the number of steps to 400 and stimulate the invention of a new variety called "Black Bottom."

It is not hard to find excellent defenses of the Charleston. It is a highly moral affair, since no two human beings can thus oscillate, twirl, vibrate, squirm and wiggle in close proximity to each other. A six-inch safety enclosure at all points of the figure at all times of vigor and abandon, wherein the personality of the dancer is swallowed up in motion after the manner of a whirling dervish or a Cape Cod sailor boy riding a fence post in a gale of wind.

What concerns us more is not so much the fate of the Charleston as what will follow after. The jazz era was plainly working up to a climax of noise and gestulation.

What can be invented that will interest or attract thereafter? Imagination falters in the effort to conceive louder or faster worship of St. Vitus. The inference is obvious. A slow and muted dirge is the development that offers morality and excitement. If logic reigns there will be presently an era of hushed music and languorous poses.

There will be many to welcome a little silence. Life has become for most up to date homes a tiny thread of conversation sustained with difficulty against a magnificent booming background of drums. Turning on the radio is done automatically—as one enters the house and the checks are drawn, the radio, family wrangles, arranged, all to the uniform moan an whine of the saxophone. And one's neighbors, so far as one can tell by their radio, do not even stop to sleep.

The whirling dervish falls in a faint at the end of his efforts, we believe. We can think of nothing that would so become and relieve jazzed America as a good long swoon.

BUTCHER THE BANDITS
 VERO BEACH JOURNAL

A bold young bandit walked into a little suburban meat market in Chicago one hot afternoon and told the proprietor to stick up his hands. Instead of sticking up his hands he quickly grabbed a cleaver and dealt the youthful shoplifter a blow that sent him to the floor. The youngsters only 17 years old, is now in the detention hospital, the county jail nursing a sore head while he thinks upon the delights of banditry.

It was learned that the boy was a high school graduate and was of a respectable family, but had refused to work though several jobs had been offered him. He will now work, and under circumstances none too genial for a youth.

Had the burly butcher shown the white feather and stuck up his hands, the lad would have made away with what money was in the till and would then have prepared to tackle a larger job. As usual, the kid was well armed. He was as he admitted, prepared to shoot upon resistance; but had not counted on resistance and was taken unawares.

The butcher has set a good example before others. A little quick action might avoid some robberies and at the same time dispatch some of the hold-up men. Once the game becomes a little more dangerous, fewer youths will seek the thrill. And if courts will, after men are arrested and taken into custody, deal as quick and effective blows to this man with the cleaver did, the crime wave in Chicago will quickly subside and more of our youths will be deterred from a career of robbery, and work will have more charms than the tragedies of the street.

STEWART-CONNELL NUPTIALS ARE BEAUTIFUL EVENT OF THURSDAY

A wedding of unusual beauty and impressiveness was that of Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock when Miss Edith Stewart became the bride of E. Van Buren Connell of Philadelphia, the ceremony taking place at "Bell Air Grove," the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Sarah J. Stewart on Mellonville Avenue. Dr. E. D. King, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated, using the impressive ring ceremony.

The spacious home was converted into a veritable garden with quantities of potted palms, ferns and plants together with numerous tall French baskets filled with exquisite pink Radiance roses and Salomon, carrying out the color motif of pink, blue, white and green.

In the living room, where the solemn vows were spoken, an improvised altar was arranged before the mantle, which had been backed solid with ferns and other greenery, forming a rich, dark background for the floral decorations. The mantel was outlined with rows of rose buds and sprigs of Salomon, and here alternating pink and blue tapers, burning in crystal holders, were arranged as a pyramid. The doorways, arches and windows were draped with garlands of asparagus ferns studded with pink rose buds.

Preceding the ceremony, a lovely program of nuptial music was rendered by Miss Margaret Davis, pianist, assisted by Mrs. A. M. Phillips, soprano. Mrs. Phillips sang very sweetly, "Thou Art Like A Flower," "Chadwick" and "O Promise Me" (The Kroen) and just after the benediction, "I Love You Truly" (Carrie Jacobs Bond), was softly sung. The "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin was used as processional, while Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was used as recessional. During the ceremony "To A Wild Rose" (Caldman) was softly played.

The bride entered alone and was met at the altar by the groom. There were no attendants.

The bride, who is a striking blonde, was never lovelier than on her wedding day, wearing a most becoming costume of larkspur blue chiffon with trimmings and girdle of real lace in soft tones, made over worn over flesh satin. Her smart chapeau was of grey with touches of shell pink. Her shoes and other accessories were also of grey. Adding a touch of color to her costume was an arm bouquet of pink and white rose buds and vally lilies, showered with ribbons and lace.

Immediately after the ceremony an informal reception was held. Punch was served at a prettily appointed table arranged in an alcove in the hall, by Miss Helen Chapman, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Martha Fox. Refreshments of milk and white brick ice cream and cake were served by Mrs. Mary Maines, Miss Minnie Stewart, Mrs. Forrest Gatchell, and Mrs. Hampton Brown of Plymouth.

Lulu in the afternoon the young couple left for Daytona Beach where they will spend a few days, going from there to Miami and Palm Beach for a short stay. They will return to Sanford for a short visit before going to Philadelphia where they will make their home.

A stunning fall three piece model of beige crepe Elizabeth, worn over rose crepe de chine, with hat of rose felt, and other accessories of beige, was chosen by the bride for her traveling costume.

Sanford High School Football Prospects Bright, Says Coach

Eight Letter Men To Return In Fall And Much New Material Will Be Available

Seven Games Are Already Scheduled

Captain Thompson To Be Backbone Of The Backfield Strength

By Pete Norton
Football prospects at Sanford High School for the coming season look better than they have for several years, according to followers of the local team. Eight letter men will return and a host of new candidates will be out battling for positions on the eleven.

The first practice session will be held early in September, and the team will have almost a month of intensive drill under Coach Hugh Wheelchel, their old Southern mentor, before the opening game of the season will be played.

Coach Wheelchel appears optimistic over the outlook, and indicates that the team will be a tight fast combination playing an open game for the most part.

Seven games have already been scheduled for the local gridder, and two more will be added before the schedule is complete.

The opening game of the season will be here on Oct. 2 when the East Leeburg eleven will be encountered. The next week-end will find the Sanford team in Palatka.

The following Saturday, Oct. 16, is an open day on the schedule. On Oct. 23 the local eleven will go to St. Cloud, returning here for a game with Titusville, on Oct. 30. Winter Garden and Daytona Beach will be the next scenes of a Sanford invasion.

Being the only place on the schedule where the team is away for two weeks in succession, Kissimmee is the last scheduled game. It will be played on the local field Nov. 20.

An effort will be made to arrange a game for this city on Nov. 25, with some fast high school combination.

Eight regulars were lost by graduation last spring and their absence will be felt in the season that is about to open.

Captain Clyde Russell, star quarterback of the Sanford eleven, finished his prep football last fall and will probably make a bid for a berth on the University of Florida's freshman team next year.

The Booth brothers, end and center, respectively, also closed their high school careers last fall. "Hungry" Grier, tackle, and "Smoky Pope" center, complete the loss of linemen from last year's team.

In the backfield, Theron Kirby, elusive quarterback, "Red" Barber, halfback, and Ed Entzinger, plugging fullback will be among the missing.

Captain "Tommy" Thompson will no doubt hold down one of the backfield posts this year. He is a fast man in a broken field, a good passer and adept at receiving the signal.

Zachary, Maxwell and Entzinger appear to be the best candidates for the backfield at the present time. All of them are letter men and their experience should prove a big aid in the coming campaign.

Elliott, Dutton, Lanier and Yancy are the letter men returning as a line nucleus. A year's growth and the experience of former seasons should make them help in a formidable forward wall for the Sanford eleven.

Other promising candidates for the team are Clifford Russell, end, Lofton Edensfield, end, and Stoinoff, fullback. None of these made letters last year but toward the latter part of the season gave every indication of developing into first class men with a little more experience.

Pirates Lead Loop Again By Margin Of Four Points; Reds Keep Up Winning Ways

(By Associated Press)
The trim Pirate craft, with a four-point margin, was in the front again today in the mad race for honors in the National League.

Yesterday the St. Louis Cardinals were half-game in the lead, but that was before the Phillies suddenly came to life and edged out a 3 to 2 victory. Cincinnati kept on its merry way by defeating Brooklyn, 3 to 1. The Cards not only lost the leadership, but must share second place with Cincinnati.

Pittsburgh placed the offerings of four pitchers to win the start of a three-game series, 15 to 7. Waner got six hits in as many times up.

The Cardinals' defeat was particularly disappointing in that Philadelphia could get but 8 hits

Chevrolet Company Builds Own Bodies For The First Time

DETROIT, August 23.—Development of distinct types of commercial car bodies, designed and manufactured in their entirety by the Chevrolet organization now affords the public a complete line of Chevrolet-built passenger and commercial vehicles for the first time in the company's history.

Complete trucks are available for immediate delivery to the purchaser. They are the one-ton panel delivery, one-ton stake and the one-ton grain carrying body. The chassis can be furnished also with cab only, suitable for forming any special truck body desired by the owner.

Substantially the same cab is used on all bodies. The cab is entirely enclosed and weather-proof and affords the same comfort in the driver's compartment as a Chevrolet passenger car. The doors are 24 inches wide, with high grade locks. Plate glass side windows are furnished with Ford-built regulators as in the standard closed car. A full ventilating windshield, glass rear windows, cab lining and cushion covering of fabricoid leather, combination stop and tail light and conveniently placed instrument panel are features. Seats are arranged for easy handling of controls and steering wheel. The cab is碧 green, duo striped in gold and cowl light are standard equipment.

Each of these body types has been designed for the utmost utility, convenience and adaptability to the work for which it is designed.

With these modern advantages at an attractive price, these new trucks are expected to attain a prominent place in the favor of the commercial-car buying public.

Government Not To Meet Bills For Dry Aides' Companions

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The government will not pay for the expense of women companions of prohibition "informers" gathering evidence, comptroller General Carl said today.

Horae H. Harden, of Denver, Colorado, claimed $25 for the expense of a woman companion asserting that it was necessary that he be accompanied by a woman in order to gain admittance to a road house he was investigating.

Liquor, High-powered Automobile Get Two Young Men In Jail

Moon-shine and a high-powered roadster resulted in the downfall of two young Jacksonville men here Friday night. Before sunrise Monday to arrest they led two Sanford officers a lively chase over a dozen streets that wound up with their capture in Sanford Heights.

The men have their names as J. R. Simmons and Carl Strickland. They were charged with reckless driving, resisting arrest, possession of concealed weapons and possession of liquor.

According to Police Lieut. A. H. Beckwith, who with Detective J. B. Green, made the arrests, the men flourished pistols when overtaken, but these were quickly taken away from them. Ten gallons of moon shine was found in the roadster Lieut. Beckwith said.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—(AP)—A young woman who took up golf three years ago at the suggestion of her physician, is a finalist today in the western women's golf tournament.

Competing for the first time in the summer of 1932, Mrs. O. S. Hill of Mendocino, Kansas City, last year won both the Kansas City and Missouri Valley championship tournaments. With the past few months she has annexed both titles for the second time.

Last Monday she tied off with 150 others in the qualifying round of the middle-west's greatest women's tournament. Mrs. Hill's name was in second place in the qualifiers list, with a par 28.

MARKETS

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The upward movement in stock prices was resumed at the opening of today's market with buying orders widely distributed among the rails, oils and specialties. Aitchison advanced a point to a new record top at 161 1/2 in the first few minutes of trading, and new peak prices also were established by Consolidated Cigar, Continental Baking "B" and Brunswick-Bulk Collender.

Financial Review

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Hardening of money rates, due to the heavy demand for funds to finance crop movements and expanding commercial needs, was the outstanding development in the week's financial markets. The stock market moved downward in the early part of the week as selling pressure was renewed against the standard industrials, but it made irregular recovery later.

The fortnight before Labor Day is traditionally a period of quiet and indecision in the securities market and this is no exception. Wall Street has expressed considerable concern over the money situation because it is felt that a further stiffening might check speculative operations for the rise. Therefore, rumors that the Boston and Philadelphia reserve banks would shortly increase their rediscount rates were the cause of considerable fluctuation during the week.

With the General Motors "meltdown" out of the way and little enthusiasm manifested over the prospect of a special distribution of United States Steel because of intimations that no action would be taken this year, operators working for higher prices were hard pressed to find something to appeal to the speculative imagination. The departure for Europe of several large traders who had been active on the side of rising prices and rumors of the information of a large bear pool also tended to restrict public participation in the market at this time.

Considerable encouragement was derived, however, from the publication of unusually favorable July earnings statements, the first forty ready to report showing an average gain of nearly 30 percent in net income over the same period last year.

U. S. Steel common was under pressure most of the week, selling down more than ten points below its recent record high. General Motors fluctuated within a radius of five points from 210, against a record high at 225 1/2. Several new specialties came to the fore.

Cotton Goods

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The demand for cotton goods has broadened during the past week and sales of gray cloth have probably approximated the current output, which is greater than that of a month ago. Prices on print cloth are now one-half cent a yard above the low point of early summer and there have been advances of one-half cent a yard in denims and smaller advances in other lines. These have followed a larger volume of business.

Florida As Cattle Raising State Is Praised By Vickery

WEWAHITCHKA, Fla., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Outside the bounds of the state there are few people who realize the possibilities of Florida as a cattle-raising country, according to W. C. Vickery, of Apalachicola, one of the largest cattle men in this section of the country.

Mr. Vickery, who has been spending the past few days here looking over the possibilities of ranching in this section, said that while Florida's fame as a fruit producing state and land of eternal sunshine has been spread to the four corners of the earth, little has been said of its cattle raising possibilities.

"With upwards of 20,000,000 acres of idle land in the state," he said, "and with much of this adaptable to cattle raising, and other forms of live stock production, the industry that made the west so just in its infancy in this state. In many sections of the state the industry already has passed the experimental stage, and much progress has been made."

In Gulf and Franklin counties alone, there is more than 500,000 acres of land ideally suited for cattle raising and used for little else, it is said.

Jan Nip Singles Matches With Two French Players

FORREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 28.—(AP)—The power of the French Davis Cup stars, which has threatened United States supremacy for the past two years, has been demonstrated again in convincing fashion.

Taketchi Harada split two single matches with Cochet and René Lacoste in the opening matches of the inter-zone series Davis cup matches, Thursday and yesterday, the French doubles team of Cochet and Jacques Brugnon defeated the Japanese 6-0, 8-0, 6-2, in a match that took 42 minutes.

Franco entered the final matches with a lead of two to one in the series to determine the team that shall meet the United States in the challenge round at Philadelphia in September. Lacoste and Tawra meet today, and Cochet plays Harada later.

Dean Borotra arrived yesterday on the Berengaria.

Much Interest Shown In Florida At State Fair Held In Missouri

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Much interest in Florida was manifested at the Missouri state fair, held at Sedalia, Aug. 14-21, according to Phil S. Taylor, of the bureau of immigration, state department of agriculture.

Mr. Taylor, who was in charge of the Florida booth at the fair, said that while Los Angeles county, California, and the Dominion of Canada, had more expensive and complete displays, Florida held its own in giving out information.

The highest attendance at the fair for one day was 70,000 paid admissions, with a total for the week of 250,000. The Florida literature gave out two days before the end of the fair and 3,000 names were put on the register to have literature and information mailed.

Hundreds signified their intention of visiting this state during the coming winter, and asked about different sections.

Trudy and Mary Pickford... Japan's Socrates Coming... Smoke From Fringe... BY ARTHUR BRIBBANE (Copyright 1936, by Star Co.)

GERTRUDE EDERLE, genuine "Miss America" lands in her home "Little Old New York" today. Friends and neighbors will give her a "Block Party."

New York's mayor gives her a reception with a band and policemen parading. The young lady brings honor and glory to her family and country.

GIRLS THAT try to be "skinny" notice that Gertrude, champion of the world, weighs over 160 pounds, is proud of it, and can have her choice of 1,000 good husbands.

And after she won her victory, conquering the channel, this young girl went, not to a cabaret, but straight to her old grandmother in the south of Germany.

The young will please observe that reverence for the old does not interfere with winning a world championship.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS and Mary Pickford returned from a trip around the world yesterday. They cut the trip short. Mary Pickford said, because there is so much to be seen in the United States that it seems almost a pity to use up time traveling abroad.

THE BRILLIANT French aviator, D'Osly, crossing Africa at night flew over the Mediterranean and on to Paris, covering 2,760 miles, including five stops, in 38 hours, 45 minutes. D'Osly, apparently made of steel, ran the machine throughout the 38 hours.

Americans will fly from the Atlantic to the Pacific, as a regular thing, by the light of the same day, before long. A United States army flier has already accomplished it.

KRISHNAMURTI IS here, and those that have seen him like him. He will tell us interesting truths now, and later his delicate, 100-pound body is to become an ecstatic new vehicle for the world teacher. He rebukes us for our devotion to physical comfort. "Ah," says he, "See how you love comfort! Your bathrooms. You do neglect the high spiritual plane; you are so physical."

INDIA HAS three times the United States population. In the United States, at the lowest estimate, are thousand times as many bathtubs as in India. If those bathtubs represent low spiritual plane, make the most of it.

THE "INCANDESCENT Sunset" from India will have no monopoly of reforming Americans. Teik Nishida, the "Socrates of Japan," exponent of "The Life of Itoun," has reached Honolulu, coming here.

He informs you that "Labor is prayer and prayer is labor," and doesn't mean eight hour labor either.

He and his wife worked their way across the Pacific, washing the ship's decks. His religion is that of repentance. Our religion is prosperity. But, as the original Socrates said, only Providence knows which of us has the better religion.

At least, with prosperity, you don't have to wash decks.

AT DUNDALK, Ireland, Mrs. J. McDonald said Mrs. Mary Martin cast the "Evil Eye" on her child, dooming it to a life of ill luck.

A third woman, doing the best she could, told the fringe from the head of Mrs. Martin, of the "evil eye" and how that fringe under the nose of the child. The evil spell should have disappeared with the smoke, but didn't.

THE JUDGE refused to take the case seriously and tried to make the ladies understand that the evil eye doesn't exist, and smoke from a lady's shawl wouldn't cure it, anyway.

Millions in Ireland and other countries will say that the judge is foolish. We are still far from moderate intelligence as regards three-quarters of the sixteen hundred million human beings on earth.

YOU KNOW about the little drops of water, little grains of sand, that make the mighty ocean and the pleasant land. In Wall Street it is little extra dividends, little high profit statements that makes the cheerfulness.

Not long ago, even Standard Oil borrowed money at seven percent. Yesterday, in a few minutes, the Westinghouse company sold thirty millions of five percent bonds, retiring seven percent securities.

AND BROKERS, going home, learned that Texas Sulphur shares would pay $12 a year hereafter, and nearly two million new shares will be handed out. Wall Street prices might well paraphrase a high expression. "It hath not yet been shown what we shall be."

JOHN A. STEWART, of Marlborough, N. J., recently head of a big eastern bank, celebrated his one hundred and fourth birthday yesterday. He gave up active business after one hundred, but follows affairs closely, keeps in touch with international banking.

It is marvelous now to live and retain your faculties to one hundred and four. It will be considered a disgrace in years to come to die under one hundred and forty.

"WHEN YOU come out of prison, Cohen, you will be sixty-seven years old," the judge told him, imposing a forty-year sentence. If holdup men could be made to believe that "40 years in prison" really means 40 years in prison, the crime wave would subside.

Truly Inspirational

When the summer school at the State College for Women closed a few weeks ago Justice Rivers Buford made the address to the graduating class. He wanted to send the young women away inspired and uplifted, so he chose as his theme just some every day facts about Florida.

Yes, Florida, and The Herald knows of no subject that has more to draw upon, whether it be for the making of beautiful pictures or the building of beautiful dreams. Out of the pictures and the dreams, too, people who get the inspiration build riches. It should be the custom for graduating classes in every Florida school to be told some of the wonderful Florida facts.

After giving a review of Florida's colonization, the different flags under which it has lived, he gave a few of the geographical figures. The state, for instance, has an area of 58,668 square miles of which 54,861 square miles is land and 3,804 square miles is water. Its land area is equal to 88 percent of the total land area of New England; its area is larger than the combined area of Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Connecticut, Delaware and Maryland. The area of the inland water of Florida is larger than the total area of Rhode Island and Delaware, while the state has nearly twice as much seacoast as has any other state. It has forty navigable rivers, and several large enough to float the entire fleets of the world.

In speaking of the economical government of the state, Justice Buford told the graduates that it had a financial condition of which no other state could boast, with an only debt consisting of a few thousand dollars of bonds issued by the state and which are owned by the state school fund and are rapidly being retired with money received from banks as interest on state funds. It has more than $17,000,000 in the state treasury, while the total resources of the banking companies and trust companies are approximately $700,000,000, with bank deposits amounting to about the same and increasing at the rate of $35,000,000 annually.

The expenditures for railroad construction, he explained, are averaging about $75,000,000 yearly, while there are about 4,500 miles of paved highways, not including city streets, and about 4,000 miles of sand-clay and shell-surfaced roads. The state road department now has under construction more than 400 miles of graded roads and at present is expending on highway construction, more than $1,000,000 a month. Building permits in incorporated cities and towns are more than $1,000,000 daily.

In the last 50 years, the speaker asserted, farm acreage in Florida has increased 300 percent. The population has increased 551 percent the value of agricultural products 1,250 percent; the total wealth 3,500 percent. There are more than 2,000,000 acres of land under cultivation, 88,000 acres being in vegetables; 185,000 acres in fruits; and 1,800,000 acres in general crops and nuts. The annual value of the vegetable crop is about $40,000,000 while the fruit crop amounts to about $60,000,000 with the state holding first place in production of oranges and grapefruit.

"In Florida the grass, the flowers and the trees with all the birds and wild creatures therein, the fish playing deep in the crystal waters, please the eye and gladden the heart of every lover of nature," Justice Buford said in conclusion. "The moon and the stars seem to shine brighter, the birds sing sweeter, youth laughs happier, and old age comes slower as all the land is cooled by the refreshing breezes from the sea in the summer and is warmed by the sun's pleasant rays in the winter. It is the playground of the nation, the garden which feeds millions and the home of a happy and prosperous people. I congratulate you upon that good fortune which made you citizens and a part of this wonderful state, many of the treasures of which lie yet undiscovered."

The Herald would like to hear of many other speakers using Florida for inspirational talks. So many of us do not know, or forget, what blessings have been vouchsafed to this state of ours. It would be good for all of us, outside the schools as well as in them, to hear again and again the song of Florida's riches.

Moral Turpitude

That inexplicable expression "moral turpitude" has again been invoked in an attempt to bar from the United States an individual who has something to say. Krishnamurti, alleged Hindu messiah, has come to this country to tell the natives what it is all about but his enemies have tried vainly to keep him out by accusing him of "moral turpitude."

We recall that Countess Cathcart, a bit precipitate about starting on her second honeymoon before obtaining her first divorce, was accused of the same thing and at that time we referred to our copy of Mr. Webster's famous collection of words to discover to our horror that "turpitude" meant "shameful wickedness." But the Countess was admitted, so exactly what "moral turpitude" means we are still in considerable doubt.

It would seem on the face of it that "moral turpitude" is more or less a polite way of telling visitors that they are not wanted, no matter why. Krishnamurti is generally supposed to be a pretty good sort. Has a brilliant mind, in fact was somewhat of a prodigy in his younger days. Plays tennis, is an excellent horseman and all around sportsman. And so far as Benjamin Day, immigration commissioner, has been able to discover, his morals are impeccable.

But Krishnamurti is unfortunate in having a mind and in feeling that he must give expression to the thoughts which his mind generates. He realizes that the lives and actions of the great mass of the inhabitants of this globe are controlled by passion and sentiment, and that but few persons have any use for the brain. He would therefore contribute something to the mental phase of life. He would give people something to think about. Little harm in that.

As a general thing he believes in marriage. He considers meat unwholesome and liquor harmful. And he does not consider it "common sense" for girls to smoke. Not bad advice in that. As for the Christ using his body for a "vehicle to speak from," that may, or may not be, ridiculous. But the pathetic part of the whole incident has been the attempt to keep him out of this country. When we refer to our histories and such phrases as "Give me liberty or give me death," "liberty, justice, equality," "freedom of speech," "political and religious liberty," come ringing into our ears, we wonder what it all means.

Shapurji Saklatvala was denied admission to this country because at one time or another in his speeches he was said to have made certain "seditious remarks." Countess Karolyi was barred with a similarly flimsy excuse. Time was when the United States welcomed men who had ideas. They made us the greatest nation on earth.

A little turpitude won't hurt a man half as much as a total stagnation of the mental processes. Let them come in. They give us something to think about.

FRENZIED REAL ESTATE speculation and its attendant enormous profits is a thing of the past in Florida, but basically sound developments are going ahead on a more rapid and extensive scale than ever before. The state is growing, and will continue to grow for a long time to come, with its enlarging population ever creating new marketing opportunities for its farmers—Florida Grower.

SPEECH BALTIMORE SUN

Have you ever tried to make friends with a shy little boy? If you have, your success depended in large measure upon the tone of your voice used. If you used the silly tone usually employed by people who court children, he became more and more shy. If you spoke casually and sensibly, as you would to a grownup, he thawed and responded to your advances.

The small boy doesn't talk baby talk. At least he doesn't wish to. He wishes to talk big talk. His chief desire is to be a man. It is, therefore, mainly talk that wins him. You must speak his language.

The alien has a hard time chief. Because his speech betrays the fact that he is an outsider. Among the foolish and heartless it makes him an object of ridicule. If he spoke as natives do, the fact that he is an alien would trouble him little.

Preachers, welfare workers and aspiring statesmen who fail to reach the hearts of the people may charge their failure to the fact that they do not speak the language of the people. They aren't.

THE NEXT GOVERNOR TAMPA TIMES

Commenting upon the fact that the democrats of Florida will not be called upon to nominate a candidate for governor until 1928, which is two years off, the St. Augustine Tribune says that there is now much interest in the question "Who will be the next governor of Florida?" It says that no one can tell who this will be and adds that there are at least ten men in Florida who would like to be governor and each of whom feels he has a chance of being elected in 1928. As it lists them these ten are:

Fons A. Hathaway, John S. Taylor, W. C. Hodges, Jerry W. Carter, Carey A. Hodges, Duoye Carlton, W. A. McKensie, John P. Stokes, James E. Calkins, Sidney J. Catts.

There is not a citizen of Florida, probably who would not like to be governor. That some of these are at all considering the matter of becoming candidates for the place in the next campaign is somewhat surprising, though most

GETTING OUT THE VOTE DAYTONA BEACH JOURNAL

The American Legion is to begin next month a nation-wide campaign to get out the vote in November, says the Indianapolis News. The Legion doesn't care how the vote goes, and it is not concentrating upon candidates or issues. Its object is to increase the number of people who take the least part a conscientious citizen can take in the conduct of government. As matters now stand, this is a popular government by a small minority of the qualified voters. Only half the voters go to the polls, and in many cases the choice is determined by one-third of them.

A number of national organizations are interested in getting out that portion of the vote which favors particular legislation. There have been several laudable campaigns to increase the whole vote. But this is the first time that a strong national organization has tried, through the agency of its numerous local branches, to persuade people to go to the polls and register whatever opinions they may have reached. There is in the movement a challenge to the qualified but indifferent voter. He has become the concern of the country's strongest patriotic association.

The legion has entered an interesting field. This unknown vote holds in its power the destinies of the country, if it can be roused to action. It could at one election overcome the political boss vote, which is hoarded to the polls to vote as ordered, and bring about a radical reform in every community where the government has fallen into the hands of corrupt men and women.

If the legion puts set the example and exert the great influence which they wield in many communities the veterans may advance the welfare of the country fully as much as they did eight years ago on the battlefields of Europe. They deserve and should have the support of the people everywhere.

MRS. JOHN McDONALD IS HONORED AGAIN BY MRS. C. S. PIERPONT

The second of a series of lovely bridge parties being given by Mrs. Clarence Stephen Pierpont at her cozy apartments on Park Avenue, honoring Mrs. John R. MacDonald, who leaves for Eustis next week where she will make her future home, was that of Friday afternoon when she entertained another group of intimate friends of the honor guest.

On the sun porch and in the living room, where the card tables had been placed, quantities of zinnias, golden glow and marigolds were used in charming profusion, forming a lovely setting for this affair.

The afternoon was pleasantly spent with the unusually interesting game of bridge. The scores were kept on tables done in parrot designs with brilliant colored plumage. When scores were added the prize for high score, an attractive hand-painted string container, was won by Miss Rosa Gray. The low score prize, a set of fancy bridge pencils, went to Mrs. B. F. Whitner. In cutting for the consolation prize, a bridge fortune teller, Mrs. Pierpont presented her guest of honor with a very pretty yellow pottery bowl.

Home made canapés were placed on the card tables and enjoyed during the game, and late in the afternoon the hostess served a delicious salad and sweet course with iced tea.

Those enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Pierpont were: Mrs. John R. MacDonald, Mrs. James G. Sharon, Mrs. G. F. Smith, Mrs. M. H. Mabry, Mrs. Robert A. Newman, Mrs. A. P. Connelly, Mrs. E. D. Mobley, Miss Rosa Gray, Mrs. Ernest Housholder, Mrs. Forrest Lake, Mrs. B. F. Whitner and Mrs. Harry Wilson.

DUBLIN: Examination by the Irish Courts of claims for compensation by the irregular forces is affording some evidence as to the style of living even in remote districts of the well to do classes.

Mrs. Denise de Vere Cole was awarded 600 pounds for the destruction of her clothes during a raid on her house at Athlone. She had three dozen pairs of gloves which she bought in Paris, paid forty pounds for an evening dress, twenty-two pounds for an afternoon gown and sixteen guineas for a hat. Her shoes cost eight pounds and her night dress six guineas.

Girls Need New Training
BRADFORD: The Archbishop of York, the Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang, is prepared to take up the cudgel on behalf of the modern English girl in spite of her wilfulness, waywardness and silly little ways, he told a Mothers Union meeting here.

Children of today should be prepared for freedom, he said, for girls would pass out into a condition of freedom that had never before been enjoyed in the history of womanhood.

To fit girls adequately to pass through the trail of freedom, mothers must bring discipline in the home, he declared.

Illinois Women's Club
CHICAGO: Costing $3,750,000, the new home of the Illinois Women's Athletic club will open its doors to its members in October. It is the first club for women in the middle west, and the largest club house for women in the world.

Centrally located, the club's plan is that rents, plus membership prices and dues, will not only operate the club, but will pay off borrowed capital and its interest. Nine floors will be devoted to stores, offices, shops and studios. Above them, three floors will provide bedrooms with baths for resident members, and club activities will occupy the other five.

Two top stories will be devoted to a gymnasium, of original design. A running track, special exercise room, space for indoor baseball, basketball, tennis, golf, a pool and billiard room and bowling alley, give opportunity for almost any sport. Crowning all is the swimming pool, brilliantly lighted from skylights and side windows that rise above most of Chicago's smoke.

STOCKHOLM: Charrman K. Bondar, Jack Bondar's widow, has arrived in Stockholm on a visit. She proposes to make a trip to Lapland, and will sail in the motor ship Hulson on August 29th for San Francisco. There she will finish her husband's last book "Eyes of Asia" which she considers the best of all his writings.

LONDON: Viscountess Rhonda, who has been elected president of the Institute of Directors, is regarded as England's most capable business woman. Tribute to her business ability was paid to her by the Hon. Sir John A. "Women generally," he added "are more equable and more businesslike than men. They do not rise to such heights of disastrous imagination or sink to such depths of despair, and they are less likely to plunge."

The prize for top score, a pretty flower basket, was awarded Miss Margaret Zuckery, while the consolation prize, a bridge set, fell to the lot of Miss Charlotte Smith. SANFORD WINS FIRST GAME AND TIES SECOND

CANTWELL KILLS GULLS IN OPENER, 1-0

Sanford Star Twirler Yields But 4 Hits, Having The Edge on Owens, Gull Pitcher

Wilson And Bonner Meet In Nightcap

Game Goes 9 Innings After Gulls Tie Up Count In The Sixth

Sanford returned to his normal form in the opening game against Sarasota yesterday afternoon, and shut the Gulls out in a pitcher's duel with Owens, by the score of 1 to 0, but the locals were unable to hold their lead in the second game and Sarasota tied the score in the sixth inning, the game ending in a 4 to 4 deadlock.

The game was a tough break for the locals who have played a number of double-headers lately, because it necessitates another double-play bill this afternoon. All Sanford received, has caught two double-headers and two single games already this week.

Sanford relief catcher, continued on the tick list, but hopes to be back in the lineup the early part of next week.

In the opening game Cantwell pitched the better of a hurling duel with Owens, holding the Gulls to four hits, while his mates were unable to get into unguarded territory. The local hero yielded eight Sarasota batters, while only two Wilsons took the fatal count.

In the nightcap affair Wilson, the Sanford hurler, was touched for eight hits, while his opponent, Bonner, gave up nine. Both pitchers struck out seven would-be hitters.

The visitors bunched their hits off Wilson more effectively, all their runs resulting in hitting singles while the Sanford rally in the third was started by a two base error by Thorn, Gull third baseman on Wilson's grounder.

The lone run of the first game was scored in the fifth inning on successive singles by Myers, Cantwell and Frisbie.

In the second game Sanford got away in a three run lead in the fourth. Wilson took second when Bonner threw his grounder over the plate. Beasley singled to right field, Frisbie shot a booming double into center to score both runners. Dumas came out first unassisted, Frisbie leading off, and being thrown out at the plate by a fast throw by Hogan of Crow's grounder. Crow took second on the play and scored on Bailey's screaming single to left.

A walk to Hornick, a double by Armstrong, and a one time shot by Hogan gave the visitors two runs in their half of the fourth.

Sanford added another in the fourth on Beasley's single and Dumas three base hit to center field.

Singles by Bonner, Hogan and Thorn and a double by Thorn accounted for the being runs of the game in the Sarasota half of the sixth inning.

Beasley was the captain of the local rally in the last game knocking out three safeties in five attempts, including a double.

Hogan and Armstrong each hit a single and a double in the closing game. Dumas triple in the bottom was the longest smash of the afternoon.

King Beats Holler For Tennis Crown And Curnick Award

Playing a driving game start to finish Douglas King had little trouble in annexing the championship of the Sanford Raquet club yesterday afternoon, and incidentally becoming the owner of the Arthur R. Curnick trophy. The scores were 6-1, 6-1, and 6-1.

King had little trouble annexing the opening sets, his fast service, and backcourt game proved too much for Holler. In the final set Holler rallied and tied the match at four all, only to weaken and lose the deciding games when King opened up fierce driving attack.

Holler received the tennis racket presented by J. G. Ball for the runner up in the tournament.

Challenges have been received from several Florida cities for tennis matches, and arrangements will be made shortly for a series of intercity clashes.

Pirates Still Half Game Ahead; Reds Tighten Grip On Second Place Friday

(By Associated Press)

For two whole days the Pittsburgh Pirates have held a half-game lead in the hectic struggle that grips the National League. This performance, startling in view of the rapid-fire changes in the standing during the past week that has seen the St. Louis Cardinals twice dislodge the Pirates from the peak, was accomplished yesterday through the sterling pitching of Joe Bush, American League discard, who blanked the Giants, 4 to 0.

At the same time, the Cincinnati Reds took complete possession of the second place berth when the Cardinals have been spending their time when not at the top of the heap. Again it was exceptional hurling that turned the stunt, with Rixey, lengthy southpaw, mowing down the Brooklyn cohorts for the second 4 to 0 whitewash of the day.

For the second straight day the lowly Phillies harpooned the Cards' championship hopes with a 9 to 7 victory, made possible when Philadelphia three times came from behind to take the lead. The Cardinals were in first place when they encountered the Quaker town representatives Thursday. Today they are in third place and Philadelphia fans are wondering what could have injected such a spirit of laissez-faire into the ball-players. The pitching feats of Rixey and Bush, who handed out 3 and 4 hits, respectively, were shared somewhat by Tony Kaufmann of Chicago, who ran the Cubs' winning streak to six games by turning back the Boston Braves, 5 to 1. The tribal clan found Tony safe only five times. Grimm's homer with a man on in the sixth would have been enough to win the game.

Herb Pennock, with his 20th victory of the season in the opener of the series with Detroit, 4 to 1, enabled the Yanks to put a crimp in the surge of the Tigers toward second place in the American League. Tony Lazzari humped one out of the park in the fourth with a run on for his sixteenth circuit lead of the year. Harry Heistmann landed four of the Tigers' six hits.

St. Louis Browns took their first game from Philadelphia in ten starts, 7 to 1. McManus made four hits in so many times up.

Cleveland took two from the Boston Red Sox, 9 to 3, and 5 to 1, the latter going 12 innings. George Burns crept within one of Tris Speaker's two-base hit record by driving out his 59th of the season. Smith's homer in the 12th gave Cleveland the second game after the Indians had hammered out 16 hits in the first session.

The last inning was a big one for the White Sox, making three runs to gain the decision, 3 to 2. The Scouters' rally fell short.
