

How Many Barrels?

Chemical Site Controversy Resurfaces

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Unless City Chemicals Co. takes some action in the next few days, Sanford officials will tell Circuit Judge Kenneth Zeffler Wednesday more than 3,000 barrels of chemical waste are still being stored on a two-acre site in the city, despite court testimony to the contrary.

Assistant City Manager Steve Harriett, in a memo to the Sanford City Commission Friday, said 3,254 drums of chemical waste are still being stored in the open in a field off Jewett Lane and Airport Boulevard.

State Department of Environmental Regulation chief chemist Bob Patton testified in a hearing before Zeffler 10 days ago that the numbers of barrels stored at the site had been reduced by City Chemicals Co. Inc. of Orlando to between 2,500 and 2,800.

But Harriett said at the suggestion of City Attorney Bill Colbert, city firefighters made a physical count of the barrels this past week, finding more than 3,000 drums of chemical waste.

Harriett also points out in his memo that the company was to provide the city with a copy of its plan to remove the barrels entirely from the site at a rate of 100 per week over a period of time. Harriett said although the firm was to provide the city commission with a copy of the plan prior to this coming Wednesday's court hearing no such copy has been made available.

Helen Hart, office manager for City Chemical in Orlando, said today the firm's attorneys are working on the plan for removal of the waste chemicals from the Sanford site. She said she could not explain why DER and the Sanford Fire Department have conflicting counts of the numbers of barrels of chemical waste being stored in the two-acre field. She said she does not know how many barrels are on the site and no other company officials could be reached for comment. Mrs. Hart said she will attend tonight's city commission meeting on behalf of the firm.

It was assumed by the city that the plan would be available for review at today's 7 p.m. city commission meeting.

"We are to go back before Judge Zeffler on Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. to discuss the viability and merits of the plan. I don't see how we will be able to do this without the city commission having had the opportunity to review the plan," Harriett said.

Since city officials discovered the chemical waste storage site in November, 1980 the city has been attempting to force City Chemicals to set a time schedule for removal of the hazardous chemicals.

DER chemists have confirmed that the stored chemicals are hazardous and officers of the state Fire Marshal's office have said the chemicals present a fire hazard.

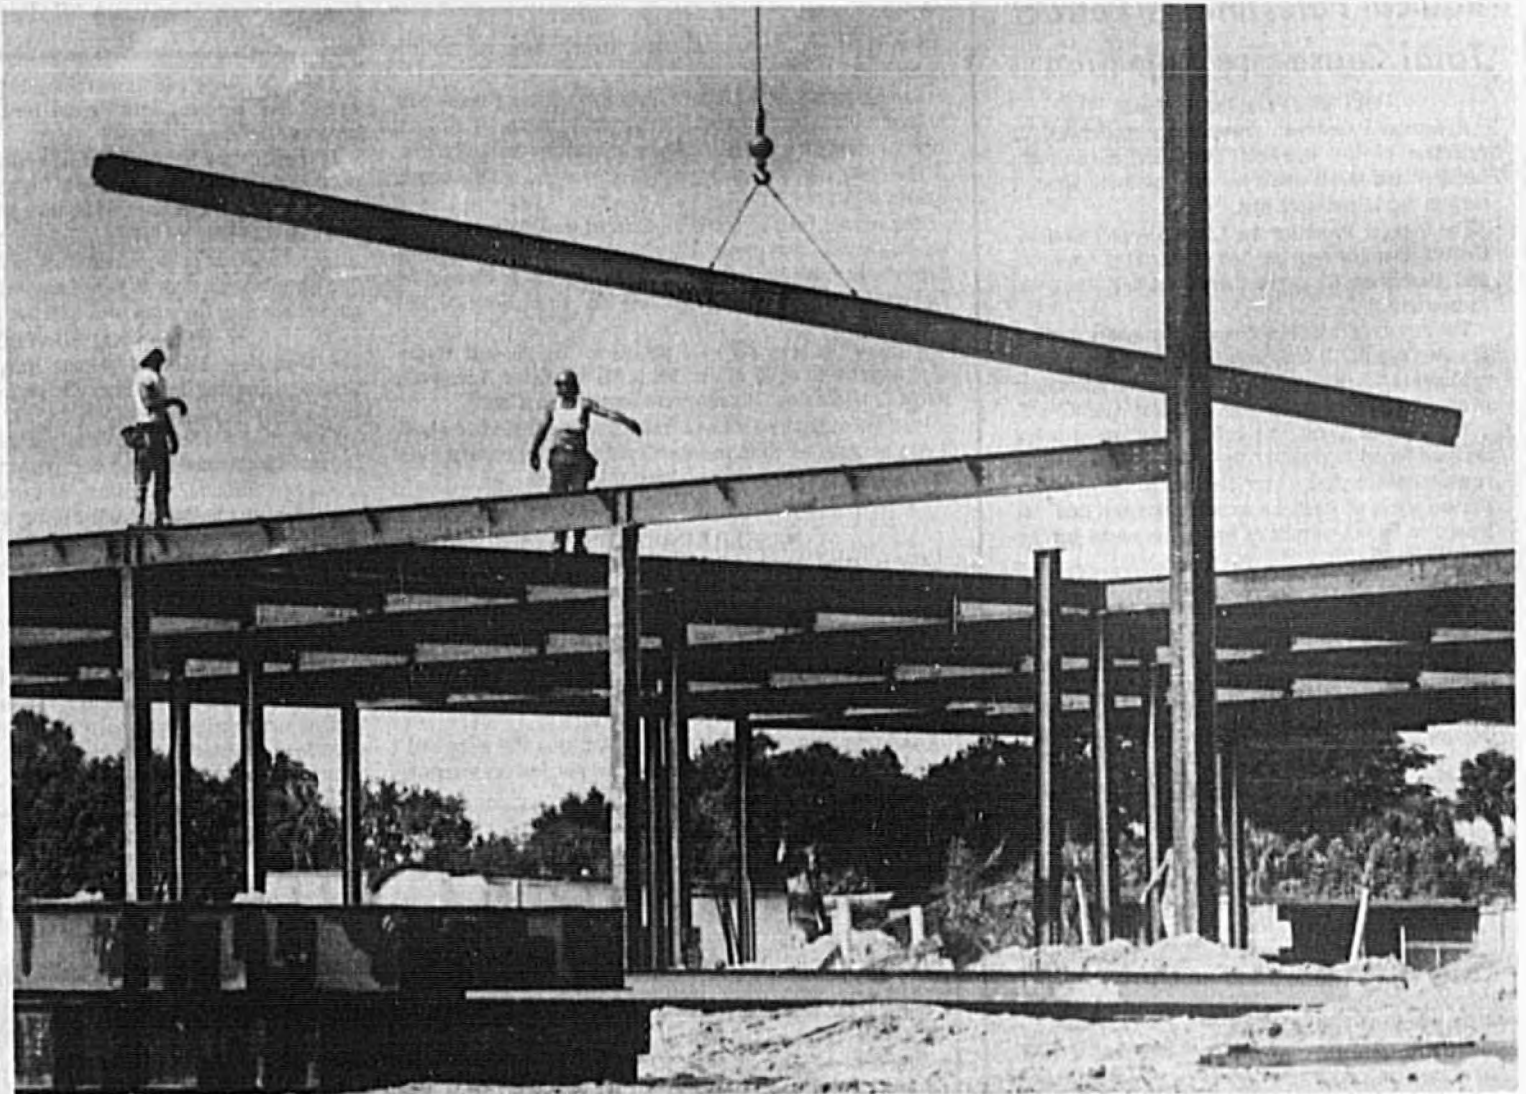

Nearby property owners are also contending that the location of the chemical waste in the area has caused their homes and property values to decline.

In other business scheduled for today's meeting, the commissioners will receive a letter of resignation from Zomye Dixon of the Sanford Housing Authority (SHA) Board of Commissioners.

Earlier this week SHA executive director Lewis Cox resigned because he said he and his family are moving out of state. Cox has been first acting and then permanent executive director since long-time director Tom Wilson was fired by the board last November.

In her letter of resignation, Mrs. Dixon said she appreciated the honor and privilege of having been appointed and was happy to serve. She added, however, "I now feel that my efforts and time expended are severely thwarted by the manipulative procedures-practices exercised by the tenants."

The commissioners will also consider Commissioner Eddie Keith's recommendation that Dan Pelham, principal of Sanford Middle School, be named to the city's charter review committee.

NEW HOSPITAL GOING UP FAST

A crane lifts a steel beam into place as construction of the $25 million Central Florida Regional Hospital continued to progress rapidly today. Construction began two weeks ago on the facility that will replace Seminole Memorial Hospital. It's going up so fast, it's flabbergasting us," said hospital spokesman Kay Bartholomew.

The new three-story hospital, at Mangouline Ave. and Seminole Boulevard in Sanford, is expected to open in September 1982 with 226 beds, including an eight-bed Cardiac Care Unit and an eight-bed Intensive Care Unit. The hospital will be owned and operated by Hospital Corp. of America, a Nashville firm.

City May Sue County Over 'Double Taxation'

City Attorney Kenneth McIntosh said he will recommend to the Casselberry City Council at tonight's 7:30 meeting "the employment of an outside consultant for purposes of analyzing areas of double taxation."

Two weeks ago Council Chairman Tom Embree, with the concurrence of the city council, instructed McIntosh and Mayor Owen Sheppard to study the issue and make recommendations at tonight's meeting on the areas which the city might cite in a lawsuit against Seminole County. The concern is over county services that are denied to city residents although they pay county taxes to support them.

Councilman Frank Schulte said city residents do not receive services from county building department, county zoning office and county engineering offices for example.

Commenting on Schulte's statement, Seminole County Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff said today, "Studies have shown that the residents are in fact receiving those services. Anyone is welcome to come down to the county offices, ask questions, and find out for themselves about the services."

In other action, the council will discuss the salary increase being considered by the North Orange-South Seminole Transmission Authority for its executive director, Pat West.

Sheppard is the city's representative to the Transmission Authority and is also chairman of the authority. The Transmission Authority will own and operate the transmission line which will feed sewage from Winter Park and Maitland in Orange County, Casselberry and Winter Springs in Seminole County and the unincorporated areas between the cities to the proposed Orlando Regional Sewer Plant at Iron Bridge near Oviedo.

The council also will consider instructing McIntosh to attend future county commission meetings when discussions of raising charges for garbage disposal are to take place.

The county commission is considering raising its refuse disposal fee from $6.70 per ton to $9. Casselberry does not operate its own garbage collection service. That service is provided to citizens under a franchise agreement with a private firm. Councilmen have expressed fears that garbage collection fees to city residents will be raised if the county refuse disposal fee is increased.

County May Investigate Cracking, Settling Of Roads

Seminole County Engineer Bill Bush will ask county commissioners at a 9:30 a.m. meeting Tuesday to approve spending $1,500 to find out why Longwood Hills Road and Tusawilla Road pavements are cracking.

Bush said today there has been some unexpected settling on Longwood Hills Road in the valley where it crosses Soldiers Creek and in Tusawilla where it crosses Bear Gulley Creek.

Bush said the cracking may be the result of the long term drought or muck or quicksand beds deep within the soil under the roadways. He said both roads have been repaired, "but we are mystified about why these roads cracked."

Bush will be representing Jack Schuder, public works director, who is on vacation. Schuder, in a report to the commission, said some subsurface investigations have to be made of the roadways. He suggested commissioners authorize the expenditure for eight soil borings through the roads to a depth of 20 feet.

An engineering report would then be made on the conditions found in the borings.

Bush will also tell the commissioners the department does not recommend spending money to strengthen the retaining wall at the county sanitary landfill, east of Oviedo. Bush said test borings by Brownell Engineering showed that trash buried beneath what is now a retaining wall at the landfill is not well compacted and has air pockets. Because of these pockets the wall is tilting.

Bush said the tilting process is a slow one. To solve the problem the engineering firm suggested that cement might be pressure pushed into the pockets. He said, however, that pressure cementing is not a guaranteed solution even though it would cost $30,000-to-$40,000.

The wall is not about to turn over, Bush said, and it is not hazardous at this time. At 7 p.m. the commissioners will hold the final hearing on Sheriff John Polk's $6.2 million budget request for fiscal 1981-82.

Polk is asking for $6,197,096 to operate his department in the new year compared with $5,223,865 this year, an increase of $973,231.

It is expected the commissioners will make a final decision after the hearing on the total amount to be allocated for the law enforcement unit. According to law, the Sheriff, if he is not satisfied with the budget approved by the county commissioners, may appeal to Gov. Bob Graham and the cabinet to overrule the commissioners — DONNA ESTES

Preemie Milestone

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Stephanie Marie McClath, the tiny premature baby who gained national attention with her fight for survival, was one month old today, reaching "a milestone on the road to recovery," a hospital spokesman said.

Alex Vaughn, spokesman for Talmadge Memorial Hospital, said the tiny infant from North Miami Beach, Fla., remained in the hospital's critical care unit.

Vaughn said Stephanie Marie weighed one pound 12 ounces, only one ounce more than her birth weight, but he noted that she had lost four ounces earlier.

The baby was flown to the Augusta hospital where a special treatment unit was available late in June when doctors were unable to place the infant in a critical care unit in Florida.

Nadar Report Says

Atomic Reactor Mishaps Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's three dozen atomic reactors suffered nearly 4,000 mishaps in 1980, a jump of 63 percent from the previous year when the Three Mile Island accident put the industry on its toes, a Ralph Nader group reported today.

Critical Mass Energy Project, in a report called the "Nuclear Power Plant Safety Scoreboard 1980," examined the implications of 3,800 mishaps reported to the Nuclear Regulatory Commission by reactor owners in 1980, finding 104 of them "especially significant."

The number of events, each indicating a reactor's NRC "technical design specifications" were exceeded, was 65 percent higher than the 2,300 reports filed with NRC in 1979, the year of the Three Mile Island accident in Pennsylvania.

The study attributed 20 percent to human error, 18 percent to design or fabrication error and 57 percent to equipment failures.

"If nothing else, it shows that a serious management problem exists," said Richard Udell, author of the study.

Among the more serious 1980 accidents reported were:

—A large spill of tainted water in the containment building of Florida Power Corp.'s Crystal River 3 plant.

—A malfunction of vital control rods that quench the nuclear reaction and shut off the reactor at the Tennessee Valley Authority's Browns Ferry 3 reactor.

—A release of radioactive iodine-131 that exceeded environmental standards at the New York State Power Authority's FitzPatrick 1.

Showdown Near In Tax Cut Battle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — After months of debates, studies and compromises, the tax cut battle in Capitol Hill is up for a pair of showdowns — one in the Senate, the other in the House — carrying high political stakes.

When the smoke clears, President Reagan, who won congressional approval for most of his budget cuts, will be a giant step closer to or away from implementing his formula for economic recovery.

Today marks the tenth day of Senate debate on Reagan's proposed 33-month, 25 percent, across-the-board tax cut. Wednesday has been set as the target date for final action by the Senate.

It also is the day the House has set aside to debate — and vote on — an alternative 21-month, 15 percent tax cut plan being pushed by Democratic leaders.

Tonight, Reagan will take his campaign to the American people in a televised address touting the tax cut he revised last week in hopes of attracting needed support from conservative Democrats.

Casey Seeks Expedited Review By Senate Committee

WASHINGTON (UPI) — CIA Director William Casey, fighting to keep his job, has sent documentary evidence to the Senate Intelligence Committee and has asked that it expedite its investigation of him.

Casey accelerated the review Sunday by delivering the material to the panel a day ahead of schedule and requesting a hearing "as soon as possible."

The committee's main lines of inquiry concern Casey's past business dealings and his selection of Max Hugel as the CIA's chief of clandestine services. Committee Chairman Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., has said the selection of Hugel, who resigned amid allegations of improper business practices, was enough to question Casey's judgment.

The committee will review the findings of a staff investigation on Tuesday.

Additional doubt concerning Casey surfaced in a report Sunday by Newsweek magazine that he approved a CIA operation to overthrow Libyan leader Muammar Khadafy.

Quoting unnamed sources, Newsweek said the CIA plan called for a "disinformation" campaign to embarrass Khadafy and steps to oust him from power. It said the House Intelligence Committee expressed fear the CIA might also attempt to assassinate the Libyan leader.

Casey denied any intent to murder Khadafy, but Newsweek quoted a source as saying the committee "just doesn't trust Casey" and reported the panel sent a strong letter of protest to President Reagan.

The CIA Sunday refused comment on the story.

The Hugel affair was the first of two back-to-back tremors to hit the CIA and bring Casey under scrutiny.

Casey appointed the New Hampshire businessman with no previous intelligence experience to the high-level post in May. Hugel had worked on Reagan's 1980 campaign, which Casey had managed.

Hugel resigned July 14 after The Washington Post published allegations, which he denied, that he had engaged in stock manipulation in the mid 1970s.

Even before the controversy over Hugel had settled, Casey was buffeted by the disclosure that a federal judge had ruled he and former associates in an agribusiness venture knowingly misled investors in 1968. He denied the charge.

The documents sent to the Senate committee Sunday included a CIA statement that read:

"Mr. Casey said he believed it is in the best interests of the country that this matter be handled expeditiously and to facilitate that, he would be pleased to appear personally before the committee and extend his full cooperation on any matters into which committee members may wish to inquire."

Wizard Letterio Leads Altamonte Hopes; Oviedo Plays Tonight

The Altamonte Major League all-stars are riding the path of the yellow brick road. But there are a few oddities in this set up.

For one, they are not off to see the wizard. You see, it seems as if they've found the wizard in Manager Gene Letterio.

All Letterio is trying to do is lead his group down the road to a place called Williamsport, Pa., where the Little League World Series annually takes place.

However, Altamonte makes a stop this week in Ocoee for the regional playoffs hoping that this won't be the end of the road. Letterio's squad faces the District 15 winner from the Inverness area Tuesday night at 8. The District 1 champ from Pensacola and the Jacksonville area victor clash in the double elimination tournament opener at 5:30.

Letterio, though, doesn't seem too concerned. That may be because he has the wicked witches of the east and west on his side.

The duo of Mike Schmit and Anthony Laszic has terrorized opponents this year. Including the regular season when the two played for Letterio's Phillies, when one of them has been on the mound they have blasted the opposition by allowing a mere 18 runs in 32 outings (including post-season play) while their side has racked up 319 runs.

Yet Letterio modestly proclaims that he has a secret weapon. "There isn't much difference between Neal Harris and the other two pitchers."

Now wait a minute. Schmit is 18-0 on the year, fanned 219 in 83 innings and struck out 15 batters in each of his three all-star appearances. On the other side, Laszic is unbeaten in 13 mound appearances so far. But Letterio insists that Harris is just as good.

"Neal is really looking good in warmups," the Wizard says. "He just doesn't have as much experience. But if we put him on the mound in the middle of the game, he won't have any problem getting into the flow of things."

However, Letterio isn't taking anything away from his other two pitchers. "Mike has been my ace. He takes adversity and pumps himself up."

For that reason, Schmit will get the nod Tuesday night in the regional opener. Win or lose, Laszic will be the starter in game two.

Pitching isn't the lone reason why Altamonte has breezed through its first five tournament games. Forty-four runs in five outings isn't exactly what one would call shabby.

Letterio's son, Shane, leads off and is tops on the club with eight hits in five games for a .471 average. Schmit, the number three hitter, has helped the club at the plate, too, with seven hits for a .467 clip. First baseman Jimmy Fox (.417), Harris (.375, 2 HR's) and Ryan Lisle (.333) have also roped the ball with Bruce Carlson (.375) and Jeff McGeath (.333) coming off the bench to add strength. Letterio hints that Carlson and McGeath may crack Tuesday's starting lineup.

The winner of the region advances to the state tournament in Plant City next Monday. "It's better not to lose in the region because you have to carry that loss into the state tournament," Letterio explained.

Of course Letterio shouldn't be worried about losing twice. After all, he hasn't even tasted defeat once this year.

And if he remains unbeaten for a few more weeks, Altamonte could find itself in the Little League World Series. In fact, Letterio drools over the thought of it.

"The winner of the 13-team South tournament in St. Petersburg will get brand new uniforms with South written on it."

Sounds as if Letterio isn't just trying to travel down the road, but as if he wants to be the one to paint it yellow.

The Oviedo 13-year-old triple A all-stars continue their quest tonight at 8 p.m. at Eustis.

Coach Tom Ferguson's squad faces Pensacola in a 2-of-3 series with ace

Terry Gammons probably getting the opening starting role on the mound.

Oviedo, who trounced West Oak Ridge 11-1 last Thursday on a David Wood no-hitter, is looking to be in the favorite's role against Pensacola.

In the District playoffs, Oviedo had to fight back through the loser's bracket to beat Altamonte. They hope to get off to a better start in the regionals.

The Oviedo offense is led by the tough 3-4-5 combination of Randy Ferguson, Gammons and Craig Duncan. Ferguson and Duncan each drove in a pair of runs against West Oak Ridge. Gammons and Duncan proved to be the heroes in the District final against Altamonte with back-to-back singles up the middle with two out in the bottom of the seventh to give Oviedo a 7-6 win.

Port Orange Comes Back For District 4 Championship

Using come-from-behind rallies both times, the S.P.O.R.T.S. All-Stars of Port Orange upset Ormond Beach twice over the weekend at Chase Park to capture the Florida Junior Major League District 4 championship and earn a trip to the state tournament in Panama City.

Port Orange played six games in the six-team, double-elimination tournament, and half of them were against Ormond Beach. The Junior League district title was the first ever for Port Orange. In fact, this is the first time in many years that the tournament wasn't won by either Sanford or Ormond Beach.

Port Orange, which was dropped into the losers' bracket by a 13-9 loss to Ormond Beach Friday night, bounced back to eliminate Sanford from the tournament by an 8-3 score Saturday morning.

Saturday night Port Orange stunned Ormond Beach 12-8, forcing a Sunday afternoon encounter between the two teams. Port Orange won that game 9-8.

Relief pitcher Robert Flinchum picked up the win for Port Orange Sunday. He came in after Ormond Beach had already scored five runs in the top of the second to take a 5-2 lead and got out of the inning without giving up another run. Charlie Schultz had an RBI triple and Mike Carr drove in a run with a single because the inning was prolonged by a dropped fly ball.

Port Orange had scored two unearned runs in the bottom of the first. Todd Lingo and Bobby Wiech were both safe on infield throwing errors before the next two batters struck out. Chip Thomas scored both runners with a single.

Flinchum was safe on a two-base error to open the second inning for Port Orange and scored the team's third run when Keith Courington followed with a single.

Port Orange picked up another single tally in the third. Thomas led off and reached first on an infield hit. He tagged up and went to second on a fly ball and advanced to third on a ground out before scoring on a single by Flinchum.

A pair of errors allowed Ormond Beach to score a run without a hit in the top of the fifth and Ormond Beach scored two more runs in the top of the fifth. Kenny Connell led off with a single, stole second and went to third on a wild pitch before Robbie Dunlop walked. Mike Cawood bunted for a hit, driving in Connell, and Dunlop scored on the same play when the catcher threw the ball away, allowing Cawood to go to second. With two outs Ray Irwin beat out an infield hit, but Cawood was nailed at the plate when he tried to score from second.

Port Orange pulled to within one run with three runs in the bottom of the fifth. An error and a walk put two runners on base and Randy Beckwith drove them both in with a single. Flinchum walked with one out, Courington struck out but was safe at first when the catcher couldn't handle the pitch and Todd Lingo hit a sacrifice fly to score Beckwith.

Kirk Hazen opened the sixth with a single, went to second on a balk and stole third. Tom Abdo drove him in with a single to right. Abdo was picked off first a pitch later, but the first baseman dropped the ball and he was given new life. He stole second and third and scored the winning run on a sacrifice fly by Beckwith.

Ormond Beach and Port Orange each scored an unearned run in the first inning of Saturday's game, but then Ormond Beach put four runs on the board in the top of the second. John Fussell opened the second with a double and scored when Connell followed with a single. Connell went to second on a passed ball and stole third before Mike Rinaldi walked and stole second. Scott Penny drove them both in with a two-out single and later scored the fourth run of the inning on an error.

But Port Orange scored five runs on four hits in the third to take a 6-3 lead and never trailed again. Wiech led off with a single. Hazen hit the ball back to Penny, the pitcher, but the shortstop stepped off the bag too soon trying to make a double play and both runners were safe. Abdo scored Wiech with a single but Hazen was caught stealing home. Thomas followed with an RBI single and Beckwith doubled to put runners at second and third. Donnie Klem hit into a fielder's choice as Thomas beat the throw to the plate. Beckwith scored the tying run on a wild pitch and Klem scored on the same play when the catcher threw the ball past the pitcher.

Port Orange scored an unearned run in the fourth and then put the game away with five runs on four hits in the fifth. Port Orange had the bases loaded with just one out when a rally cut the rally short.

Ormond Beach scored three runs on two hits in the top of the seventh, but it was too little, too late.

Sanford, meanwhile, bowed out of the tournament Saturday morning by losing an 8-3 decision to eventual champion Port Orange.

Right-hander Donald Grayson started for the locals, but lasted only into the second inning before Manager Al Whitted opted for relief specialist Bruce Franklin after Flinchum and Todd Lingo

See PORT ORANGE, page 6a

Sanford Junior all-star Kevin Smith slides safely into third base as Port Orange's Ray Budd attempts to control the throw. Smith scored on a single by Donald Grayson to tie the game at 3-3, but Port Orange went on to win, 8-4 Saturday.

Bradley Surges Past Whitworth To U.S. Open Title

LAGRANGE, Ill. (UPI) — It wasn't until the final round of the U.S. Women's Open that Pat Bradley was being tagged as a possible victor.

And when Bradley surged past second and third-round leader Kathy Whitworth on the front nine, several early finishers wondered aloud whether this season's leading LPGA money winner had been overlooked.

They couldn't have been closer to the truth.

By the time the 30-year-old Floridan was finished burning up the 6,204-yard LaGrange Country Club course Sunday with a 6-under-par 68, she not only won the tournament — she also broke two Open records held by defending champion Amy Alcott.

Bradley sank a 3-foot clutch birdie putt on the final hole, climaxed a spectacular coursebreaking record 66 to grab a one-stroke victory in the prestigious $150,000 Open.

The $22,000 first-place prize put Bradley on top in this year's LPGA earnings and gave her $154,189 for the season. Her record of 279 breaks the 73-hole tourney score of 280 set last year by Alcott in Nashville. Bradley's 9-under-par shattered another Alcott record set in 1980 at 4-under-par.

Bradley, who called her tournament victory the greatest thrill of her life, complained about treacherous roughs and gloomy weather.

Mahaffey Claims Kingsmill

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (UPI) — John Mahaffey could give a putting tip, if not a putting lesson, to golfers.

The PGA's newest millionaire, who attained that status by winning the $54,000 top prize Sunday in the $300,000 PGA tournament at Kingsmill Golf Club, gave considerable credit to a friend's hammer.

The tournament is sponsored by Anheuser-Busch Inc.

Putting badly in recent weeks, Mahaffey got his game together for rounds of 72-67-70-67—276 to beat Andy North by two shots.

Orlando

O-Twins Beat Birds, 5-4

Designated-hitter Steve Douglas ripped a two-run single with two outs in the bottom of the ninth inning Sunday to lift the Orlando Twins to a 5-4 victory over the Charlotte Orioles at Tinker Field.

Douglas' clutch hit made a winner of Gary Serum who pitched the ninth inning. The former major leaguer improved his record to 3-2. Juan Aria, 4-4, suffered the loss.

Andre David singled home two runs for the O-Twins in the eighth inning as they scrambled back from a 3-0 deficit. Tonight, Steve Green shoots for his eighth victory at 8 against the same Orioles.

Firebirds Burn Americans

Jacksonville's Raymond Chester found Charlie Brown with a 21-yard scoring pass in the fourth period Sunday to lift the Firebirds over the slumping Orlando Americans, 29-14 at the Gator Bowl.

Orlando has lost its last four games. It entertains San Antonio Saturday at the Tangerine Bowl at 7:30 p.m.

The Americans scored first on a 14-yard pass from newly-acquired (Carolina) quarterback Ellsworth Turner to Stanley Brown for a 6-0 advantage. Richard Holmes tallied Orlando's other TD on a 17-yard run.

Dear Abby

Mom Should Resign As Son's Shopper

DEAR ABBY: My son works long hours, so when he wants to buy his wife something for her birthday, Mother's Day, Christmas or their anniversary, he asks me to please buy something for him to give to her.

Although it's not easy for me to get around, I'm happy to accommodate him, but I have yet to select a gift his wife has liked well enough to keep. I know her size, and I also know what colors she likes, but for some reason nothing I select has ever pleased her, so back it goes to be exchanged for something she picks out herself.

Abby, since shopping for my daughter-in-law's gifts is a total waste of time, I finally told my son to give her the money and let her buy what she wants. He said his wife didn't consider money a proper gift — it lacked warmth and sentimentality. Now what do I do?

KENTUCKY CHICKEN

DEAR CHICKEN: Resign as your son's personal shopper. Tell him if his wife wants warmth and sentimentality, to send her a gift certificate with a warm, sentimental card.

DEAR ABBY: How do I get through to my in-laws? I have a 2-year-old daughter who has a favorite doll she carries wherever she goes. When Tina goes to Grandma and Grandpa's house, they take her doll away from her, which is bad enough, but then they pretend to beat it up! This gets Tina so upset that she cries and carries on. Then her grandparents laugh at her.

Abby, I have tried to explain that Tina doesn't understand their actions, but they insist on doing it every time we visit them. They call it "teasing" and say Tina should learn how to take a joke. I love my in-laws, but I don't like their teasing my child this way. What should I do?

YOUNG MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Tell them that they may view this kind of teasing as a joke, but if it moves a child to tears, it's cruelty. Furthermore, if they don't discontinue that cruel practice, you will discontinue your visits.

DEAR ABBY: I have been told by friends that it is possible to get pregnant through your jeans. I can't believe this!

I am a virgin, just turned 15, and know I am going to be more involved with guys now that I'm dating. If this is possible I am scared to death to get very close to any guy. I need to know as soon as possible.

I hope you won't think this is a dumb question.

WORRIED IN EL PASO

DEAR WORRIED: It is not a dumb question. It's a very intelligent one. A lot of kids get aroused by just lying close to each other while kissing. Then they just naturally proceed to the next step, which is petting.

It's not possible to get pregnant through one's jeans, but sometimes kids remove some of their clothing because it's "in the way," or they burrow underneath it to explore each other's bodies with their hands. This is known as heavy petting, or "doing everything else but."

The technical (and legal) definition of sexual intercourse is "penetration." (The male's sex organ must penetrate the female's.) However, as impossible as it may sound, in the medical literature can be found cases where there has been no penetration — the girl remained a virgin, but after engaging in heavy petting, she found herself pregnant.

The above is from my new booklet, "What Every Teen-Ager Ought to Know." It can be obtained by sending $2, plus a long, self-addressed, stamped (35 cents) envelope to ABBY'S TEEN BOOKLET, 12000 Hawthorne Blvd., Suite 5000, Hawthorne, Calif. 90250.

Aren't you tired of going around with someone else's initials on your jeans? Why should you give some rich designer all that recognition — to say nothing of all that cash?

Your own initials are enough. You can make your own jeans from a standard pattern and machine-embroider your name, your initials, or any symbol you like on the pocket or pockets. You'll be sure that the jeans fit, and you'll have your own jeans-identity.

With the new computerized sewing machines, you can stitch alphabets and all sorts of decorative designs. Here Vicki Hastings, educational coordinator for the New Home Sewing Machine Company, shows off the jeans she made for herself. You'll see her initials, V H, on the front pocket, and an attractive daisy design on the back pockets. The initials were done completely automatically with New Home's "Memory 7" alphabet stitcher. This machine can memorize seven different pattern combinations and repeat them until it is reprogrammed.

The daisy design uses three different stitches: A triple stretch stitch for the stem, two units of a single design for the flower center and a single design for the leaves and petals. The machine sewed the number of units programmed, locked off the threads, and stopped automatically.

You wouldn't be afraid of the multi-layer stitching required for jeans. These new machines do more than make pretty stitches. Most of them have lower gears to give extra needle-power, so it's possible to stitch through as many as 12 layers without skipping stitches or breaking the needle. The toughest part of a pair of jeans is the double-folded hem with the flat-felled side seams, and the new machines can stitch that easily.

Make an initial investment in your jeans — make your own and put your own initials on the pocket. You'll save plenty over the cost of name-designer jeans.

When sewing jeans, use a heavy 14 or 16 needle. For top stitching and design work, use buttonhole twist such as the Suisse brand long-staple polyester twist. A metal zipper guarantees heavy duty wear.

Use pre-shrunk denim, or throw your fabric in with the jeans load to pre-shrink and soften the new material.

Depending on your fabric cost, you can make your own designer jeans for $12-$15, thereby saving at least $25 over the $40-plus cost of name-designer jeans.

It's time to start stitching — when your own initials are enough.

If you prefer hand embroidery and other hand-worked needle arts, send for a new needlework booklet called "To Give Or Keep." It is packed with instructions for all sorts of handworked items, plus transfers for embroidery motifs. There are projects for both knitters and crocheters, including afghans and quilts as well as baby and gift items. Brush up on old skills and learn new ones with this exceptional book. To get your copy of "To Give Or Keep," just send $3 plus your name, address and zip to Stitchin' Time, c/o this newspaper, Box 503, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Tuesday, July 28, 1981

YOUR BIRTHDAY
July 28, 1981
In the months immediately following your birthday you may feel you are always doing for others, while they do little for you. In the later months, however, you'll be amply repaid.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Success could elude you today if you take your opportunities for granted. Your luck may have its own time limits and not adhere to yours. Romance, travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
You're likely to experience mixed financial conditions today. You might be both wise and foolish where money is concerned. Give priority to prudence.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
A major success is possible today, but you're not apt to escape unscathed without paying a price. Be sure that what you're aiming for is worth it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
Try to keep in mind today that others have the same rights to their opinions as you do. Don't cross swords over issues neither of you can resolve.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
If a firm or an individual has stung you in the past, give these characters the cold shoulder today. A leopard doesn't change its spots.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Usually you are rather independent, one who likes to decide things for him or herself, but today you may seek counsel from those lacking your wisdom.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
Problems with coworkers could slow the assembly line today. Treat those who labor at your side courteously, even if they don't warrant it.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
You're lucky today regarding things you're prepared to work for. In situations where you are looking for a free ride, Dame Fortune won't be picking up hitchhikers.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
Be careful today. Dissension could suddenly arise, even in areas where you and your mate are in accord. Back off when you see the storm signals.

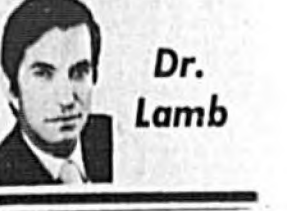

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
This is not a good day to be boastful or to attempt to embellish the facts. Play everything right down the middle. Above all, tell it like it really is.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Your financial involvements could get a trifle confusing today. You might fail to capitalize on your opportunities. Use your best judgment in money matters.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
You're apt to get an early jump on your competitors today, but there's a possibility you won't pace yourself properly and thus begin to fade in the stretch.

Speed Eater's Eraser Query

DEAR DR. LAMB—I come from a long line of fast eaters with the usual digestive problems, so it is no surprise that I am bothered with indigestion and gas problems, too. I suspect air swallowing is one of the reasons as you have suggested in your column. Having been one of 14 children may have something to do with eating.

Your tip to keep from swallowing air leaves much to be desired. I've found it difficult to enjoy any kind of food while trying to keep the eraser between my teeth. Should I be concerned about the two erasers I have swallowed?

Just kidding doc. But what are you trying to tell us? Should we try to pretend we have the eraser between our teeth when we swallow, which means positioning the lips and throat muscles in a different way?

DEAR READER—Evidently you mean business when you eat. I hope the silverware is still intact. No, the point is that many people unconsciously swallow air between meals—not just when they are eating. The trick is to hold an eraser between the teeth when not eating. It makes one conscious of the air-swallowing habit, because it's more difficult to swallow.

Air swallowing is inevitable to some extent. Those who have a lot of trouble with this can get some help by using a straw for beverages. If you have dentures, it's also important that they fit properly.

Gas can be produced from fermentation of undigested foods, as explained in The Health Letter number 6-8, Controlling Gaseousness, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

The discomfort many people have from gas is related to associated colon spasms. The nurse did you a disfavor by suggesting symptoms that you do not have. Many people with low normal blood pressure have no symptoms and live longer than those with higher pressure. You would do better to see an eye doctor for a checkup rather than the nurse at the blood pressure station.

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

Oswald: "Sometimes declarer is presented with an insoluble problem in the play. He has two ways to go and no way to tell the right one."

Alan: "It is like Frank Stockton's story called, The Lady and the Tiger. There is an even-money chance and no way to get up to 51 percent. Today's hand is a case in point. If South is in six diamonds he is guessing for an overtrick. At seven diamonds he is guessing for the difference between plus 2140 and minus 100."

Oswald: "Now it is up to South to cash the ace and king of one of the major suits. If he cashes the spade he drops West's queen and his worries are over. If he cashes the hearts only small cards appear and his best play will be to cash one high spade, enter dummy with the one possible trump entry, discard the jack of hearts on the ace of clubs and try the finesse for the spade queen."

Alan: "Looking at all the cards we note that by refusing the spade finesse we would make the slam, but that would just be a lucky result from a bad play."
