FINE CLASS OF THIRTY-ONE PUPILS GRADUATE FROM SANFORD HIGH SCHOOL WEDNESDAY

Sunshine and showers and music and flowers brought the commencement season of 1922 to a close last night when the fine class of boys and girls to the number of thirty-one received their diplomas from the hands of County Superintendent T. W. Lawton and their four years of good work in the high school were rewarded by the sheepskin. The high school auditorium was crowded at an early hour last night by the relatives and friends of the graduates and the lovers and patrons of Sanford High School and chairs had to be placed in the aisles and many had to stand throughout the exercises so great was the crowd. Led by the school board and the faculty the Seniors marched down the aisle to the stage singing the processional "Black and Gold" and took their places on the stage. The audience arose and sang the "Star Spangled Banner" after which Dr. S. W. Walker, of the Methodist church, gave the invocation. Hon. T. W. Lawton, county superintendent of schools, gave a brief preamble of the medals awarded during the term of school and called attention to the fact that never before in the history of the Sanford schools had so many medals and prizes been won and the record made by the high school this year was one of which the whole city and county could well feel proud. He also read a letter from Col. A. M. Thrasher offering the thirty dollars in gold each year to the member of the Senior class getting the highest average in all their studies. He then read the following list of prizes awarded and the list of scholars winning the same:

Prize offered by Welfare Department

ment Woman's Club for essay or play on Better Speech, Zillah Welsh, winner.
Prize offered by Welfare Department of Sanford Woman's Club for story on Better Speech, Florence McKay, winner.
Prize offered by Welfare Department of Sanford Woman's Club for poster on Better Speech, Byron Stephens, winner.
Prize offered by Welfare Department of Sanford Woman's Club for essay on the "City Beautiful," Naomi Scoggan and Alice Bolly, winners.
Prize offered by Welfare Department of Sanford Woman's Club for Good Health Posters, Byron Stephens, Rodman Lehman, Sarah Malpas, winners.
National Society of Colonial Daughters, essay on Patriotic subject, Georgia Mobley, winner.
National Current Events prize, Miss Pattye Lyles, winner.
Debate, Sanford vs. Orlando, Margaret Gallagher, gold medal, ably assisted by Alice Runyan and Florence Henry.
Irvin Bachelor Oratorical Contest at Rollins College, Gayle Marshall, winner.
Mobley Scholarship Medal, Lorraine Phillips, winner.
A. M. Thrasher, $30 in gold, Senior scholarship prize, Zillah Welsh.
Sallie Harrison chapter, D. A. R. American History prize, Zillah Welsh.
D. A. R. Patriotic Act, selling flags, William Mallem.
(Not eligible for Mobley Medal, Charlotte Smith, winner last year; Georgia Mobley and Florence McKay, by request of parents).

The presentation of the medals brought forth unstinted applause from those assembled as they realized what a fine school and what fine records were being demonstrated by the awarding of the prizes consisting of medals and silver cups and cash prizes.
After a well rendered piano solo by Miss Dorothy Ray, Mr. Lawton introduced Dr. W. F. Blackman, of Lake Monroe, and former president of the Rollins College and one of the best known educators in the south. Dr. Blackman has given up the great work of education for the more pleasant and healthful and profitable task of raising cattle and other fine stock but he has lost none of his interest in the schools of the state and it is always a happy occasion when Dr. Blackman and the Sanford school children can meet. His address last night was replete with repartee and wit and the deeper philosophy of Aristotle and the political philosophy and beliefs of ancient times as applied to the nations of the earth and what brought them together and held them together. His theme was that nothing on earth but the public school system could take the millions of boys and girls of America, many of them citizens of a few weeks, and mould them into real American citizens. The public schools are the agency upon which we now rely to bind the whole people into one unit and after seeing the foreigners assembled together in schools of the lower east side of New York unable to speak a word of English Dr. Blackman said that he pictured in his mind's eye the children of Maine, California, New Mexico, Florida and the entire United States any morning all engaged in one thing—getting their lessons in the public schools. Twenty millions of boys and girls fashioned into some kind of Americans and that only through the public school system could such a great feat be accomplished.

There is no such school system in all the world and it is something of which the American boy and girl can well feel proud and of which all American citizens can feel proud. All interests converge upon the public schools regardless of religious or political faith, it is the clearing house for the community in which it is placed and the parents feel that they have a part in the school life since their children are going or have gone there and had the advantage of the public schools. Where the interest and the heart lies there is the human interest said Dr. Blackman and certainly there was more interest today in the public schools than ever before, there was more people thinking about the public schools and working for them than ever before and ere long with better laws in Florida—a change in the constitution that would give a properly constituted board the power to act that the public schools of Florida would be better than the best and that day is coming when such acts will be passed in the legislature, when our schools will have more money for better schools and more money for the pay of the teachers and it will be the best money ever spent for any purposes. Dr. Blackman closed with asking God's blessing on the state and the county and the schools that they might become greater in the years to come.
Superintendent Lawton then awarded

Advertisement for 'Discounting The Count'. Text: 'A Count used to be a man in charge of a count of 500 persons to whom he was a sort of overlord. This is not true today because of altered political conditions. We still have Counts, but the Count business has changed somewhat. Business, of all kinds, has undergone something of a revolution. It was not so many years ago that pack peddlers were the sole distributors and transporters of many of the household articles of the day. Their legs set the limits for most distribution problems in those days. Modern transportation, progressive sales methods—and advertising—have broken the shackles of time. They make a speedy job of what used to take years. Through advertising many an article has been introduced simultaneously in stores all over the country. Advertising today is the method used by business to tell you why you should have certain goods and how to identify those goods. The advertisements you find here are a truthful catalog of needed merchandise. Articles of all kinds and for all purposes are presented in a pleasant way through the medium of type and picture. The outstanding requirements of every member of the family are met by offers of good merchandise of proved value. Use the advertisements for guidance and you will be a constant gainer'.

COTTON DOING WELL

W. C. Satcher of Longwood was in the city Saturday afternoon and said that the cotton around Longwood and all that section was doing fine and the rains were helping it considerably provided there was not too much of it. C. W. Entzinger and Mr. Satcher and other parties have a fine acreage of cotton and there will be about one thousand acres in Seminole and adjoining counties that will be ginned at the Brunley gin here. Unless the boll weevil gets into the crop here another year there will probably be more of it planted. There are many parts of Seminole where cotton can be raised profitably provided the price remains good. In case old Man Boll Weevil gets in or that the price drops our farmers will quit cotton and go to other crops as Seminole county can raise almost anything and cotton is only a side issue at present. There was much good cotton raised around here during war times but the industry ceased at the approach of the boll weevil.

TAKING JOY INTO FARM LIFE

Commendable and gratifying efforts, both sensible and practical, are being made throughout Florida to make life on the farm more comfortable more attractive and less a thing to be hated and avoided because of its needless drudgery and the too great absence of those modern aids to enjoyment and happiness that it is but natural for human beings to long for, especially on the part of boys and girls.

The people on the farms are doing much by way of lifting themselves out of farm ruts that have hampered both their progress and their pleasures of life, such as all people everywhere, in a civilized country are entitled to have and enjoy. In this they are being helped to a very large extent, by those who dwell in towns and cities and who realize the need, to them, of farms diligently cultivated by those who are native thereto, or attracted thereto, and who reasonably expect to get some pleasure out of life while "feeding a hungry world."

One need only to go into some of the farming regions of Florida to find there happy, contented, progressing, prosperous people, boys and girls included. They have, mainly through their own efforts, put joy and happiness into their farm lives, have provided themselves with the conditions and the facilities that make possible the enjoyment, the pleasures which lighten the necessary burdens of the farm and the farm home and that brighten the days, the months and the years in which they continue there to labor and abide. This is as it should be, only more generally than is the case.

There is no denying of the fact that nowhere is life more enjoyable more free from the cares that corrode and kill, than on the farm, under proper conditions. These conditions can and ought to be established and maintained. It is encouraging, therefore, to observe that efforts are constantly and persistently being made to bring about these conditions in order that the lure and charm of the farm, and of farm life, will be more felt and appreciated. These conditions must be made to apply particularly to the boys and girls in order that they may be able to resist the call of the towns and cities, which call, most frequently has in it the false notes of deception and chagrin, in order that they will see and realize that on the farm, more likely than in the city, is it possible to get out of life life's richest blessings.

What has here been said is inspired particularly by the work that is being done in some Florida cities and towns, by the Rotarians, the Kiwanians, the Civitans, and others, to lead the way, for those who dwell and work in the country districts, to brighter, happier lives. Hence it is that in Jacksonville, in Miami, in Tampa, in Lake Worth, in West Palm Beach, work is being done in the interest of the boys and girls of the respective counties in which the cities named, and others, are located. It is work that is entirely commendable, for its results mean much of good, to those engaged therein and for those for whose welfare and happiness it is intended.

This is work, a labor of love, that has in it the joy of living and is inspired by sincere desire to broadcast that joy throughout the rural sections of the state that all may know and feel that the place of one's abiding is of less consequence than the manner and method of that abiding in other words, that life on the farm can be made just as full of happiness as is possible in any other place on earth, and, in most instances, more so, according to the efforts put forth by those who seek to be happy even while they work, and especially by those who labor on the farms and in farm homes.—Times Union.

RETURN DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR

Extremists are urging that the United States should be extremely lenient as regards the sums borrowed from this government by foreign nations—many thinking the value of the dollar should be reckoned on the buying basis and should be repaid on that calculation. Plainly put, the plan would resolve itself into this situation: If France borrowed a dollar when that dollar would buy three pounds of sugar, now that dollar will buy twelve pounds of sugar, the borrower should return but one-fourth the sum first secured. This might be all right if the nation had borrowed sugar—and was to repay in the same goods. In the present case and at the present time the practice would be radically wrong.

If a grocer borrows of a neighboring grocer one hundred pounds of prunes to fill a hurry-up order he is supposed—and the courts would so hold—that there must be returned the same weight of the same quality of fruit—irrespective of whether the prices went up or dropped. This case was made plain during the war period when a wholesale grocery in West Palm Beach "borrowed" five hundred pounds of sugar from a baker—sugar that had cost the baker thirty-one cents the pound. Then came the sudden drop among the sugar thieves to less than half that price—and right then and there the wholesale firm returned the "borrowed" goods which it had bought for less than half what the baker paid. The courts held that as the borrower had returned the same weight and quality as it had received the loss had to fall upon the baker.

The extremists are seeking to "forgive them their debts"—or almost so. There is a class that would wipe off the interest charges on all "foreign debts"—interest which Uncle Sam must pay private individuals who advanced the money; and that might not be a bad idea. However, to reduce the debts in proportion to what the dollar will buy at the present time would seem most unjust to America. A month ago at a forced sale on a farm in Georgia a good mule sold for fifteen dollars. Four years ago he would have sold at three hundred dollars. If the foreign debts are to be collected on this basis a debt owed this government amounting to two million dollars might be settled by the creditor accepting one hundred thousand dollars. Of course this is an extreme case—but it is barely possible that pacifists might insist upon something just as silly. This government should collect one hundred cents for every dollar it loaned any and all foreign nations.—Kissimmee Gazette.

WHEAT TAKES TUMBLE

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, May 30.—Wheat prices made a sensational drive yesterday, May deliveries plunging downward 10 1-4 cents a bushel as compared with quotations earlier in the session. May went a star down as $1.18 3-4 and for the first time this year, sold at a lower price than July. Yesterday's extreme fall brought May wheat down nearly 31 cents a bushel from the highest level touched only a few weeks ago.

You Can't Get Good Oats Now

The quality of this year's oat crop is away below a good grade. Reports from all sections show this year's oats average weight is 19 to 25 pounds to the bushel. There is too much "wood" and not enough "meat" in the light oats. A horse or mule cannot eat more than 20 or 25 pounds of grain a day. Of the 1921 oat crop, that would be a bushel of 28 pounds average "field run" oats. Five bushels of oats are now big as a feather bed. Horse Feeders are consequently on the look out for better feed for their horses and mules. You can't get good heavy oats now.

But You Can Get O-Molene

The manufacturers of Purina O-Molene have scoured the country for good heavy oats and this is the kind that are going into O-Molene.

Just come in and examine the big, fat, meaty kernels. You can feed one-third less O-Molene by weight than oats. Your mules and horses will do more work and keep in the pink of condition. It costs no more to use than ordinary feed.

Ask us about it today.

SANFORD WHOLESALE CENTER SOUTH AND CENTRAL FLORIDA, NEW WHOLESALE FIRMS HERE

Southern Drug Company and Porter-Judy-Dutton Company Locate Here

Sanford is rapidly becoming the wholesale center or distributing center of the state and especially of the South Central portion of the state.

Many firms in the state recognizing this fact have already located here or contemplate locating here and among the newest of these is the Southern Drug Company with headquarters in Jacksonville.

A. N. O'Keefe is president of the Southern Drug Co., and decided to locate here after looking over many other locations in the state.

Another new firm starting here the past week or rather an old firm under a new name is the Porter-Judy-Dutton Company, who have organized a Sanford division in conjunction with F. F. Dutton, of this city, the other members of the firm being Porter and Judy and Waterwell and Shine, of Jacksonville.

F. F. Dutton, the Sanford member of the new firm needs no introduction to the people of this and other parts of the state, having been in the business of buying and selling fruits and vegetables for many years.

The Herald welcomes these two new organizations into the business life of Sanford and sees in their locating here the fruition of plans in the past to make Sanford one of the greatest distributing points in the state.

SENTENCE COMMUTED

(By The Associated Press) RALEIGH, N. BASE BALL CLUB READY FOR OPENER

By noon tomorrow the park will be in shape to play on, the new uniforms are here, the balance of the equipment will be here tomorrow, and the team has all been signed up for the opening game with Palatka next Monday.

An interview with Charlie Britt this morning brought to light the fact that Sanford will not have what one would call an amateur team but a semi-professional club, with Sid Rivo behind the bat and other Chapman or Amann in the box will give us a battery as good as any of the independent clubs in the state.

The park at Ninth street has been put in shape with a new back stop and the infield is now being clayed. It will be modern in every respect with the exception of a fence and the management is looking to the Sanford fans to be real sports and see that their admission is paid even if they can watch the game without doing the paying stunt.

Season and half season tickets are now being sold and the Herald will publish the names of those purchasing these sometimes between now and the opening day. Get your ticket now, if you haven't already done so.

The opening game will be at 4 P. M. this coming Monday in Sanford with the Palms of Palatka.

Dr. F. D. King Begins Ministry in Sanford at First Baptist Church

Comes to Local Church After Five Successful Years at Fort Myers.

Dr. F. D. King began his ministry in Sanford last Sunday. He is the Pastor of the First Baptist Church and held his first services as such last Sunday night.

Dr. King came here from Fort Myers where he has just completed five successful years of service with the Baptist Church. Before going to Fort Myers he was with the Home Mission Board with headquarters at Charlotte, N. C.; this alone established the fact that even prior to that time he had made a reputation as a preacher and a worker.

DR. F. D. KING, Pastor First Baptist Church

That he is a regular preacher and will prove a real asset to the City as well as to the Baptist Church was demonstrated by his activities here Sunday. He assisted in the Commencement services at the High School and made an address in Central Park at the Memorial services.

Dr. King has a wife and three children, two sons and a daughter. One of the boys is yet in Fort Myers where he is attending High School and the daughter is a student at Stetson University.

In a conversation with the Herald representatives yesterday, Dr. King stated that he wanted to know everybody and hoped that every one would consider him an old acquaintance and when they passed him on the street to say 'hello there.'

The Herald joins in the City's welcome to Dr. King and his family.

COMMENCEMENT

Commencement which really means "just begun" has again come around and will soon be but a fragrant memory in the minds of the class of 1922 and of their friends. Commencement week has been one continual round of entertainment, gaiety, plays, musicals, class days and interesting events so dear to the hearts of the seniors and the underclasses of the high school. This week is one that burns the brightest in memory many, many years after the commencement of 1922. How that date will remain a fixture in the minds of the boys and girls of the senior class. It means so much to each and every one of them, the turning point in their careers, the time when they will leave homes and friends and go from Sanford High either to college or the big college of life where they will take up new duties and make new friends and begin to realize something of what this life means to them. Then and only then will they realize what their high school years have meant to them and many times during their future life the seniors will wish they had spent just a little more time on this study or that study for no matter how good their marks happen to be in school Old Man Experience is over a hard task master and it is only by experience that the lessons learned in school can be really appreciated.

Commencement in school and then the commencement of the real life in the great world of today and there has never been a time when a first class education was needed quite as much as the present day. You see the boys and girls all around you who lacking a high school education have been handicapped in so many ways. It is come to the point when an employer insists that his employees have a high school diploma nine cases out of ten. The old days of the grammar school education or none at all have passed away and in order to keep pace with their fellows the boys and girls of today must have the best education that they can get. And they can get an education if they want one for it is within the reach of everyone today regardless of their financial condition.

It is sad indeed to see some of the scholars who think they do not want to graduate from the High School and who are content to take a few studies and then drop out thinking they have enough education to tackle the world. In a few isolated cases they may make good but how much better would they have succeeded if they had higher education and a diploma from the Sanford High School to help them to something better and something higher.

All honor to the fine big class of boys and girls who graduated from the High School last night. Their numbers and their wonderful record has been and will ever be an inspiration to those who follow. They have made a record of which we are all proud and they have shed luster on their school and their teachers and their parents. We are very proud of you, class of 1922. You have proven to us that the money spent on the public schools is money well spent. You have proven to us that all our interest in the public schools is going for the big things in life, for the making of better citizens, for the making of bigger and broader citizens, for the making of good law abiding, God fearing citizens and the class of 1922 gives us a pride that comes from the well doing of one of the best high schools in the state and one of the best classes that ever went forth from this fine High School.

"To the Stars" was not too high a mark for the class of 1922 to aim for it is "to the stars" they went for inspiration and it is to the stars they can look in the future. There in the heavens is their inspiration, their hopes, their joys and maybe their sorrows but with sorrow and troubles the class of 1922 will be looking to the stars and with head up and shoulders thrown back will meet whatever comes armed cap-a-pie with that knowledge that will endure forever and surmount all difficulties.

FLORIDA THE IDEAL SCHOOL STATE

Florida has been hailed as so many things—the Winter Paradise, the Playground of the Nation, the modern Garden of Eden, the Land of Sunshine, the Land of Plenty, but we do not know if anyone ever called it what we are going to name it now—the Ideal School State.

Last week when the American Medical Association met in St. Louis, Mo., Dr. W. A. Evans, of Chicago, suggested winter vacations for children, with school classes in summer as a method of checking the winter death rate from pneumonia, influenza and other respiratory diseases. Meantime, those who can leave the lands of ice and snow and deadly winter maladies, and wish to enter their children in school in a climate where disease is at a minimum, will do well to come to Florida, where school terms are practically uninterrupted by epidemics of any kind whatsoever. The equable climate, the brilliant sunshine, which is health-giving in itself, and the comparatively mild temperatures which prevail during the greater part of the winter season—the virtue of all these things are reflected in the general health of the children, and in the splendid attendance records in the schools.

Chicago may have to work out its school problem as suggested above, but in the meantime, surely those who can winter in Florida will wish to do so and continue the work of their children in the schools of this southern climate, where the climatic conditions are so favorable, and general health conditions among children as well as grown people so universally good.—St. Augustine Record.

LOOKING TO COLLEGE LIFE AS SEASON OF EXPERIENCE

With the high school year drawing to a close the question of college attendance is holding the attention of both pupils and parents.

The average high school graduate is anxious for a college career and looks forward to it as one of life's greatest experiences. To the youthful mind the thought is touched with adventure and the romance of thrilling associations. While attaching a certain significance to the strictly educational feature of college attendance, the youth emerging from high school is fascinated by the more glamorous sides of life ahead—and this is indeed fortunate, for the solemn problems present themselves soon enough, after which the high spirit of youth is forced to resolve itself into a grim determination. After the responsibility of life fastens itself securely, the world is viewed from an altogether different viewpoint. Once passed it never returns, this buoyancy of youth. In the words of Wordsworth: The rainbow comes and goes, And lovely is the rose; And the moon doth with delight look round her when the heavens are bare, Waters on a starry night are beautiful and fair.

But this I know, where'er I go, There hath passed away a glory from the earth. Grasping the significance of these lines, youth isn't to be rebuked for looking to college life as the season for making friendships and enjoying the intensely happy associations that flourish in them; for, while text book education is important, these features are equally important. Text books are always available; "college life" is lived but once, in the exuberant hour of youth.

Ask the college graduates of yesterday what he considers most valuable, and almost invariably the reply will be received: "The friends I made. The companionship of the fraternity. The spirit of the student body. The lesson in loyalty to an institution."

Text-books and curriculums change; the old order passeth and new customs are inaugurated—but friendship and the things that go with it remain, and inestimable is the comfort in the thought.

Parents considering the future of their children should think of these things, and in selecting almanacs for their sons and daughters remember text-book knowledge is a single requisite to education. In the bigger sense, education is the ability to live happily with yourself and with your fellowman.—Jacksonville, Metropolis.

THE BASIS OF SOUTH FLORIDA'S PROSPERITY.

We find in the Fort Myers Tropical News a well prepared article containing a mass of statistics, presenting the basis for the prosperity prevalent throughout south Florida. The News says:

Why is South Florida more prosperous today than at any time in its history?

Sixty-one thousand five hundred and twenty-two carloads of fruits and vegetables shipped out of this territory since the season began last September 15, is the answer.

This against 52,027 carloads sent out during the same period last season, a difference of 9,495 carloads in favor of this season.

MICKIE SAYS

"THE CUSTOM OF PRINTING OBITUARY PAGES HAS WENT OUT OF STYLE, ALONG WITH CONGRESS GAITERS, RUBBER COLLARS 'N BUSTLES, WHICH IS A GREAT RELIEF TO ALL EDITORS, WHO HATE 'EM!"

CHARLES SUGRUE

These figures embrace only carlot shipments of fruit and vegetables and do not take into account any of the countless thousands of small shipments of fruit and vegetables.

The average freight car is about fifty feet over all. Measured in that wise these 61,522 carloads of produce would make a train 582 1-2 miles long, or the airline distance from Tampa to Knoxville, Tenn.

A freight train made up of fifty cars in "some" train. Yet it would take in round numbers 124 such trains to haul the fruit and vegetables that have been sent out of Florida this season.

And central Florida has only begun its real movement of vegetables, watermelons, and cantaloupes, and when these and what is left in south Florida have been moved, the total movement for the season from the state in perishable foodstuffs will not fall short of 70,000 carloads.

Who says Florida does not produce in quantity? Moreover, this produce is grown at a time when it brings the highest market prices, having no competition in the north, east and middle west.

Despite the generally expressed belief last summer that the 1921-22 crop of citrus fruits would far outstrip that of 1920-21, shipments thus far this season—and the season is almost at an end—total only 32,764 carloads as against 33,369 for the same period of the previous year. The hurricane of last October doubtless accounts for the loss. Grapefruit shipped this season totals 14,729 cars against 12,811 last season, while oranges total 18,032 against last season's 20,558.

Vegetable production—that is carloads of mixed vegetables—shows a falling off, with 2,291 carloads against last year's 2,564. Lettuce also shows a decrease, with 2,385 cars against 2,957. Tomato shipments this year almost double last year's—8,468 cars against 4,894. Celery shows an increase, 4,245 against 4,152.

This season for the first time in the history of Florida truck farming, celery in carload lots was shipped from Florida to California, several solid cars of celery having been shipped from Sanford and Manatee River section to San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Irish potatoes this season are double in quantity as compared with last season—4,410 cars against 2,314. Cabbage also multiplied 100 per cent—2,866 cars against 1,400. Of strawberries 291 cars have been shipped, as against 105 last year. The watermelon season, just getting under way, bids fair to be a hummer, showing 978 carloads against 456. Big items of vegetables that were computed with the mixed shipments under the head of "vegetables" last year but which have grown to such extent that they have separate classification this year are: Peppers 654 cars; beans 223 cars; cucumbers 2,000 cars.—Tampa Times.

NOW A DRIVE ON WAR GRAFTERS

A little robber in St. Louis stole 5 cents and got five years in the penitentiary. Had he been a war-contract patriot he might have taken 20 million times that much and got away with it—judging from history to date.

The men who patrioteered on the government in its time of need have been immune so far from prosecution largely because of the magnitude of the job of auditing 100,000 war contracts. The audit section of the war department's division of finance has only 87 men at its disposal. So far they have audited only 15,000 of the 109,000 contracts. And yet the 15,000 audited provide a basis for the recovery of $46,000,000 and the 15,000 include none of the big contracts.

In his demand for a congressional investigation of war-contract profiteers, Congressman Royal Johnson asks $500,000 to enlarge the audit section so that the remaining contracts may be gone through rapidly. It looks like a paying investment.

It has long been known that although one billion dollars was appropriated for aviation, not one American combatant nor bombing plane ever reached the front. There were 700 contracts of $100,000 apiece for aviation material. Only a few have been audited. Those few provide the basis for criminal indictments to recover the money stolen by two companies and to put their officials in jail. The cases were prepared in the district attorney's office in New York, but for some reason dropped.

Representative Connolly expresses the desire to have the first war grafter that is caught put in a cage and exhibited throughout the country. Over the cage he would put a big sign, "Here's That Grafter We Caught Out of 100,000 Cases."

The chances are Representative Connolly's wishes will be more than gratified so far as the size of the catch is concerned.

In several instances contractors and companies were overpaid millions of dollars. The Standard Aircraft Company and the Standard Aero Corporation, financed solely by Mitsui & Company, fiscal agents of the Japanese government, were overpaid between $3,500,000 and $9,050,000. And there are cantonment contracts, shipbuilding and ship supply contracts, the disposal of the government's surplus supplies, the harness scandal and recent revelations of $50,000,000 worth of meat sold for $3,000,000, and so on and so on.

But it looks as if the reckoning was at hand and in that reckoning no innocent war contractor need fear, but no guilty one should longer be permitted to block justice.

An appropriation of $500,000 was provided for Attorney General Daugherty this week by the house, with which he is to prosecute war grafters and recover millions for the government. It passed with little opposition.

It is Attorney General Daugherty's plan to empanel a special grand jury immediately when authority for it is granted and lay before it all evidence of fraud which come under the jurisdiction of the courts of the capital. Also he will form a "fraud cabinet" of the best lawyers in the country. He will ask the bar associations of the United States to co-operate with him in obtaining eminent lawyers to give their services to the government in graft cases at the $10,000 a year maximum salary laid down in the bill. Twenty to twenty-five attorneys will be employed, and one attorney of nation wide prominence will direct the entire work of prosecution under Daugherty's supervision.—Capper's Weekly.

SANFORD REJUVENATED

If the man who stepped off the train at the old dingy depot in Sanford a few years ago, were to drop off in Sanford today, he would need a guide to show him about, if he didn't have a guide the chances are that he would think he was in Tampa and would be asking someone to direct him to the Bayview Hotel. There is no Bayview Hotel in Sanford but there are a number of other good hotels there that would do credit to any town and these were not there a few years ago.

Something has happened to Sanford just what it was we do not know, perhaps it was a case of too much Bob Holly or too much Peerman or maybe it was the city manager form of government, but at any event Sanford has been rejuvenated so that few who knew her before would know her now.

Where the old rambling tumbled down frame structures were standing before, an eyesore to the community, workmen are busily engaged razing them to the ground and new modern fireproof structures five and six stories in height reach up into the azure blue sky with welcome beckoning to all to come and behold.

Amongst the new buildings that have been built in Sanford during the past few years are The Welaka, a fine stucco building, near the old railroad depot; the Cates building just across the way, The new Miller building, at the corner of Magnolia and Second street; Chase and Company's warehouse, at the corner of Second and the railroad, while among many fine new buildings planned and under course of construction is the new six story First National Bank building, at Park and First and the new Brumley-Puleston building, just across the way, while on the site of the Sanford house, which has been torn down, that live wire booster John Melech is preparing to erect a five story building with five store rooms on the ground floor, while Charlie Merriweather is preparing to build a

TWO AUTHORITIES GIVE CONFLICTING VIEWS ON RELATIVE VALUE OF BRICK AND ASPHALT ROADS UNDER THE CONDITIONS OF CENTRAL FLORIDA

The following from the Orlando Sentinel will be interesting to Sanford and Seminole County readers:

There is, apparently, a difference in opinion as to whether the asphalt road recently ordered built in this county by the board of county commissioners will be as successful as the brick highways, now in use have proved to be. J. D. Harvey, a member of the firm of Lasley Brothers & Harvey, which is building the brick road between Orlando and the Seminole county border, in an interview, declared that he was convinced the asphalt road would not give the same character of service as brick roads in this section of the state.

At the same time Samuel S. Sadler, a member of the board of county commissioners, made public a letter from P. St. John Wilson, chief engineer of the Federal bureau of public roads, stating that the bureau could not recommend the type of brick road which had been constructed in Central Florida.

Mr. Harvey, who is in Orlando on a business visit, had the following to say when interviewed by a reporter for the Sentinel:

"When I started in the paving business fifteen years ago the same argument was going on over the relative merits of brick and asphalt as is carried on today. One engineer you would talk to was a strong advocate of asphalt, the next one just as strong for brick, or concrete, or some other type. Every kind had its staunch advocates and always will. Opinions don't make good roads or pavements; results are what counts. One community gets good results with one kind, another with something else, and maybe if they both changed, both would get stung. Many things go toward making the successes, not the least of these is soil conditions. Take it here in Orange county adjacent to Orlando, the soil condition is an ideal one to lay brick on. I have no hesitancy in saying that where a nine foot brick road has held the traffic of the past seven years I have no fears of the 16-foot road in the future. A well compacted and confined sand base makes the best foundation for a brick pavement that can be had, there is just enough resiliency to take up the impact shocks. I know of many brick pavements laid on good natural soil that are 25 years old and still good. Recently the Literary Digest told of some in Holland that were over a hundred years old. I say lay brick right on a well compacted sand base, seal the joints up so water can't get down through the cracks; this also prevents the sand from being sucked out by tire suction; and there you have a real permanent pavement. The cost of upkeep will be little of nothing, especially where the road is wide and all wheel traffic is not in one place.

"Now an asphalt pavement must have a good strong base. Unquestionably a concrete base is the best for asphalt. Reference is often made to splendid edifice on the corner of Magnolia and Second streets.

The growth of Sanford has not been in the construction line solely, for Sanford today has a number of progressive wholesale houses among which are two wholesale grocers and a wholesale drug house, while every fertilizer house in the state is represented in Sanford and the production plant of the Crown Paper company is also located there.

Seminole county has just voted another bond issue of $100,000 for the extension of its roadways and Sanford has just voted a $625,000 bond issue for the extension of Park avenue 70 feet into Lake Monroe, providing one of the finest recreation piers in the country, which will be protected by a bulkhead and which in turn will provide a yacht basin the peer of any in the south.—Florida Post.

In Orange county there is one auto for every five and one half persons, says the Reporter-Star. Now if they will get seven passenger machines they can haul the entire population around. We would hate to be the one half person however.

It looks like Attorney General Daugherty will lose his job if the evidence continues to come in. The jury will be the people of the United States and they have their thumbs down on Harry.

Despatches say that the Republicans will endeavor to put the gag on the Senate. If we remember rightly the Republicans have had a gag on the Senate for some time.

Being an off year in politics the men are paying but little attention to politics but they will know how to vote on Tuesday.

the use of asphalt in our American cities. True it is largely used, and right there is where we get our real data on its cost of maintenance. You will find that the average life of asphalt on a concrete base in these cities will not run fifteen years. What it will be on a poorer base I don't know. Most cities that have any quantity of asphalt pavement have to keep a regular repair plant running all the time. Atlanta, I am told, has two plants.

"In Memphis a few years ago a company I was with tried laying asphalt on a rolled macadam base. It failed completely in less than ten years. I can cite you to asphalt roads near Augusta, Ga., paved with asphalt on macadam base, that are badly in need of repairs, yet the roads are less than five years old. I know of many others. One good feature about asphalt is that there is more profit in it for the contractor.

"To make a lasting pavement more is required than a base; you have to have a good, lasting wearing surface, and in this durability must be the keynote. Every one knows that any asphalt is readily affected by waters, acids, alkalies, oils and grease; that in a certain time the volatile oils leave the asphalt and its life is gone. It crumbles and cracks, nothing but a new wearing surface can save it.

"The complete year by year report of the Chevy Chase test road near Washington, D. C., built by the U. S. bureau of roads, is concluded by the presentation of the following figures showing the purely surface maintenance costs:

Bituminous concrete (asphalt) $0.246 sq. yd.
Cement Concrete 0.014 sq. yd.
Vitrified brick None sq. yd.

"On the Philadelphia test road built in 1912, brick showed the lowest cost of maintenance of any surfacing material. Some of the brick sections had no upkeep costs, while certain asphaltic types were relaid entirely during the ten years.

"There is absolutely no question in my mind but what a brick pavement is the best road for condition in Orange county, when first cost and cost of upkeep are considered."

The letter from the government engineer which was received by Mr. Sadler follows in full:

"This bureau is familiar with the past construction methods prevailing in connection with brick road building in Florida, and though we recognize that some methods have merit, we are no longer willing to approve such light construction on Federal aid projects and cannot in view of increasing traffic and past experience recommend the construction of brick surfaces without heavier base construction than has commonly been used in a good many of the counties in Central Florida.

"You have built brick roads on rolled sand, using burnt heart pine, core, etc., or cypress curbs. In some cases the brick has been sand filled, in many cases cement grouted, and in a few cases filled with bitumen. Properly constructed pavements of this type have given good service under light traffic, and in the future under conditions of very light traffic, a county might be justified in laying brick on a well prepared natural sand base, using a bituminous filler, or even a sand filler. They should under no circumstances use cement grout in this type of construction. This is because the principal merit in this kind of work lies in the fact that when the pavement does become distorted, the bricks can be salvaged and relaid with comparatively small loss. With cement grouted brick there is no salvage.

"For any but the very lightest traffic the above type of construction should not be adopted. We are not prepared even to recommend brick laid on a 1 1/2 inch mortar base, and believe that you will find in the long run, especially in view of the low maintenance costs, that a design is warranted requiring at least a 6 inch and preferably an 8 inch Florida rock base with 1 inch sand cushion and bituminous filled brick. A concrete curb should be used.

"This pavement should carry a reasonably heavy traffic, especially on pneumatic tires, and any slight distortion that may occur in places will be subject to correction because the brick can be removed and necessary repairs made without material loss.

"Very truly yours,
 "Very truly yours,
 "P. ST. JOHN WILSON,
 "Chief Engineer."

Mr. Sadler said that the Federal bureau of roads recommended and have granted Federal aid in the Mt. Dora-Plymouth project No. 13, for sheet asphalt on an 8 inch Florida rock base.

OVIEDO

The Oviedo school closed Thursday night with the following program: Prof. Okerlund gave a short talk explaining the nature of the program and giving a short resume of the year's work by the pupils.

Welcoming song by the school chor- Essay—Making an American, by M. Robert Williams, 8th grade. Essay—Soils in General and Florida soils in particular—written by J. Jones, Jr., and read by Evelyn Wheeler, 8th grade.

Essay—Inside and Outside Enclosures—Charles Johnson, 8th grade. Recitation—The Nowfringed School—three Primary boys.

Song—The Modern School—Palma Argo. Recitation—School Days—Evelyn Wheeler. Flag Drill—By Grammar School boys.

George Crawford represented the school at the annual meeting of the Florida State Teachers' Association at the University of Florida. He was elected to the position of "Skidoo."

Essay—Interesting Characters in English Literature—Virginia Wright, Senior Class. Vacation Days—By Primary pupils. Essay—The growth of Democracy—Wanna Pope, Senior Class.

Instrumental Solo—Shirley Swope. Essay—English Classics read this year—Catherine Young, Senior class. Piano Solo—The Fountain—Luello Martin.

Essay—Economics—Harold Varn, Senior Class. Violin Solo—Palmer Argo. At the close of the program O. P. Swope, chairman of Board of Trustees presented certificates to the following pupils of the 8th grade with very appropriate remarks:

Palmer Argo, Shirley Swope, Evelyn Wheeler, William Robert Williams, J. B. Jones, Jr., and Charles Johnson. On Friday evening the High School had a large audience of friends were addressed by Dr. Drench of Rollins College. The subject was "The Three Keys to Success"—work, character and religion and was splendidly developed by Dr. Drench. The Oviedo orchestra furnished the music of the evening and Prof. Okerlund, after a brief but beautiful talk, delivered diplomas to the following graduates:

Wanna Pope, Virginia Wright and Catherine Young and Messrs. Walter Carter and Harold Varn. Dr. and Mrs. Hopkins, accompanied their mother, Mrs. J. A. Clark Tuesday for their home in Nashville, Arkansas.

Dr. T. G. Simmons announces the birth of a fine daughter to Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Brannon, May 31st. Mrs. A. K. Crawford is visiting her mother, Mrs. M. M. King this week. Mrs. L. R. Mitchell is visiting her mother, Mrs. U. B. Holt in Orlando this week.

Miss Virginia Wright entertained a few of her friends Tuesday night at a party.

Mrs. Braddock passed away in the St. Luke's Memorial Hospital after an illness of several months and a husband and two small children are left to mourn her loss.

DEATH OF MRS. BRADDOCK

Mrs. Jennie Braddock, whose death occurred Friday at 5 o'clock in St. Luke's Memorial Hospital, was laid to rest this morning at 11 o'clock in Oakdale cemetery.

The deceased was a resident of Stetson, coming there within the recent past from Emporia, and is survived by her husband, H. E. Braddock, and two children, to whom her death is an unutterable loss, for few mothers have excelled her in tender anxiety and self-denying toil. Sympathy is extended to them in their sorrow as it is also to her father, Mr. R. Peterson, and other members of her family who too will mourn her passing.—DeLand News.

A number of people from here were in DeLand Saturday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Ernest Braddock, who was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peterson of this place. Mrs. Braddock had many friends in Emporia who regret her passing, and extend their sympathy to the bereaved.—Emporia Item.

LONGWOOD

Mrs. L. R. Payne and Mrs. Roy Sour were shopping in Sanford last Wednesday.

Mrs. Long, Miss Helen Moran and E. S. Miller were visitors in Orlando Wednesday.

Chas. Tyler and H. F. Phipps of Tampa were the guests of J. E. Phipps a few days last week.

Fred Lewis of New Smyrna was in town one day last week shaking hands with his old friends.

Miss Martha Stevens and Miss Gene Caraway of Orlando were the guests of Miss Fay Rineau for the week-end.

Mrs. T. P. Barlow of Orlando was the guest of her sister Mrs. George LeVigne Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Slade, Bill and Frederick Slade left for their home in Waterbury, Conn., Friday.

School closed Friday after a most successful term with E. S. Miller as principal and Miss Helen Moran assistant principal. The closing was celebrated with a picnic at Palm Springs which everyone enjoyed, especially the children. The following program took place after dinner in splto of the rain: Potatoe Race; Three Legged Race; Sack Race; 50 yard dash (boys); 50 yard dash (girls); 25 yard dash Race (boys); 25 yard dash race (girls); Egg race; (girls over 1-2 years old); Egg race (girls under 12 years years old); and other events were swimming, diving, Tug-of-War (boys vs. girls); Chicken Catch.

E. S. Miller and Laurie Ford were visitors in Orlando Tuesday. W. S. Entzinger of Plant City was a visitor in town the first of the week.

There was a political meeting at the Library Monday evening. The speakers were the following: Hon. Forrest Lake, O. P. Swope, C. W. Entzinger, W. B. Ballard and E. A. Douglass.

UPSALA AND GRAPEVILLE

No lack of rain now; there was almost town this week to the Rantoul.

There will be preaching the first Sunday in the month as usual, June 4th, by Rev. J. S. Clark at 3 o'clock. He will also be with us for Sunday School at 2 o'clock.

We are planning for the Children's Day and hope to get a piano. Come and lend your aid in the community in which you live.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ericson and children were Saturday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Collar in Sanford.

John Miller's family are moving from town this week to the Rantoul home recently purchased by them, just across from the Country Club. A welcome addition to the neighborhood.

George Fuller who has been visiting for a short time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest West while recuperating from the kick of a car received in Tennessee, left on Thursday to take up his work as bookkeeper at Detroit Mich. We would have liked to have kept him with us.

Charley Beck happened to a painful accident while at play on the school grounds last week. It seems he had the ligaments of his ankle torn loose by the kick of another lad, and although Dr. Pulston was called, so far he has not been able to put it in a cast on account of the swelling. He will probably have to go on crutches for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Henderson entertained his parents and son from Monroe and Mrs. Mary Vaughn for Sunday dinner while Mr. and Mrs. Smith and two children were afternoon callers there.

G. Hirschle is doing carpenter work now at the Country Club. Last week the DeLoe lights were put in. The grounds can be seen from the church, about one half mile south and a little west; some folks still ask where it is.

Elmer Tyner and sister, Miss Eunice, returned Tuesday after a pleasant time spent with relatives at Grays, Georgia, but it rained nearly every day.

We hear the little baby of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fortier has been real ill, Dr. Denton attending him.

Carl Pierson attended the Eighth grade graduating exercises at Paola. School days are over for this term and the young folks are all rejoicing.

There has been lots going on and now they can rest and strengthen their muscles for another try later on.

Quite a number from this section attended the High School graduation exercises.

Forrest West has a nice lot of melons, we hear.

EAST SANFORD

Ben Stegle arrived home last Saturday for the summer vacation from New Orleans, La., where he has been attending the Baptist Theological Seminary.

Sherman Moore is at home from Gainesville, where he has been in school for the past two years.

Morgan McClelland is at home on a furlough from Camp Sam Houston at San Antonio, Texas, and has recently been in a hospital for a few weeks at Fort Worth.

Lauren Smith of Miami was a guest of C. E. Charpening a portion of last week.

J. W. Corley and other car owners have had car accessories stolen from their cars at nights recently.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Company, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Charpening and their people together with Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Howard from town drove over to Coronado Beach for the day Sunday, picniced, bathed and had a fine time.

Mrs. E. J. Ward, Jr., and little son Dale, left Thursday for Illinois to remain for some time and will visit her parents and friends at several points.

Mr. and Mrs. James Purvis and Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Purvis drove to Ocala to visit friends last week, driving in the former's Overland Sedan.

Mrs. Lillie Jones was in Jacksonville from Monday until Wednesday, the guest of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Drosor were hosts at a lovely dinner party the evening of May 25 at their cosy home on Lake Golden, the happy occasion being Mr. Drosor's fifty-fifth birthday.

A delicious dinner was served and greatly enjoyed by the guests, who were Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Beck and son Maurice; Mrs. Margaret Watson, Mrs. Margaret Marshall, Little Miss Winona Purvis and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ellsworth. Mr. Drosor was the recipient of many good wishes and gifts.

GOING TO CHAUTAUQUA?

Mrs. Henry Wight leaves on the 14th of June to attend the Biennial at Lake Chautauqua and to spend the entire season at the Assembly. Parties interested in Chautauqua and in the fine camps for boys and girls may get all particulars about rates and accommodations from Mrs. Wight. Itwtkly—3tdly

H. A. Neel of the Herald Printing Company has started work on a new home on Sanford Heights at the corner of Central avenue and Palmetto. Mr. Neel owns a nice home on sixth street but is anxious to build the city and expects to build several houses to rent in the near future. His new home on the Heights will be occupied by himself and wife as soon as it is completed.

EASTERN CENTRAL STATES FAIR SAYS BABSON

FAMOUS ECONOMIST SEES 1922 BETTER THAN 1921 IN MOST LOCALITIES

Continuing his personal survey of the business of the country Roger W. Babson, statistician and business advisor to 18,000 of the country's leading executives reports his finds on the central eastern states as follows:

"New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and the other large cities, south of New England, prosper largely from three sources:

"1.—Foreign trade, the sale of goods to foreign countries even altho the goods came from the interior of the country.

"2.—Jobbing, that is the distribution of merchandise to retailers in the tributary territory.

"3.—Investments, including the interest received from stocks and bonds together with the profits involved in purchases and sales of securities.

"There is, of course, a certain amount of manufacturing in these cities—especially of garments and clothing, but they are not primarily industrial cities.

"Foreign trade is severely crippled for some time to come. Certainly 1922 will show no better than 1921. Therefore we may expect very little income from this source.

"The others will hold their own in 1922 and should have an increase in jorders. Altho retailers are doing comparatively little business yet their stocks are low, and they must buy a certain amount of goods whether they want to or not. If the retailers would only cut prices further, which could be done by a decrease in operating expenses, the jobbers would have good business in 1922.

"The real improvement, however, which New York and these other cities are to witness will come about thru financial conditions. The bond business should be very good in 1922. The stock market should work upwards and there may be even an old-fashioned boom before the year comes to a close. Deals and consolidations will be put through, dividends will be resumed and other things will happen which should enhance the value of securities. Of course, no wealth is really produced by these increased prices, but they affect the prosperity on these cities. All stock market activity always brings money from the interior of the country into the cities and most of it fails to remain there. The small interior towns furnish the lamb; the cities do the shearing; and the wool remains in the cities to swell the bank clearings and be registered as prosperity. The eastern cities will see much more of this money in 1922 than they have seen for some years.

"In a similar way the entire states of New York, Pennsylvania and those others in this eastern group prosper likewise. With little exception of steel cities which will find another quiet year in 1922, the rest of this eastern section should feel better. Agriculturally these states simply feed their own cities with dairy products, vegetables and some grain. The central part of New York has considerable manufacturing and most of these cities will fare better in 1922. The same is true of Pennsylvania and the other sections.

"The electrical industry of Schenectady and Pittsburgh should soon begin to feel the good effects of easy money. Railroads and public utilities of various kinds are only waiting for low interest rates in order that they may sell bonds before giving large orders for electrical equipment. This is also true of the railroad equipment industry. However, money rates should enable the railroads to buy. It should be remembered that after New England, the next section to be hit by the depression of 1920-21 was this portion of the country of which I am writing today. For this very reason, however, New York, Pennsylvania and adjoining states will be the first to follow New England in her recovery. Hence the outlook in these states will be fair. Sales opportunities in these states will be fair. Sales opportunities in these states will be better in 1922 than in 1921. They perhaps have not turned the corner, but they surely are turning the corner.

"As to industrial conditions will say that the state of New York have the best statistics on employment of any state in the union. These show that in October, the last month for which we have figures, the total wage expenditure of the industries of New York was thirty-two per cent lower than it was at the peak. The amount of employment was at about the same level as at the beginning of 1916, but the trend is definitely upward, and the decks are clear for an improvement during the year. Approximately the same situation prevails in Pennsylvania.

"Furthermore, in the men's and women's clothing business, which is one of the largest interests of the state of New York, conditions are ripe for a substantial improvement, following upon more than a year of unsettled conditions. The same is true of the building trades, which promise to be very lively in New York City and excellent throughout the state.

"The district as a whole will not commence to feel the full effect of this improvement until well on toward the summer. The opening up of business in other parts of the country will relieve New York City and Philadelphia of some of the crowds of unemployed who drift to these centers in dull times.

"Business confidence the country over seems to be improving slowly in preparation for the upturn which has to come later on. Frantic optimism and futile hoping which marks the path of every business decline is rapidly giving way to the sound and patient attitude which invariably builds up the period of improvement.

"The Babsonchart Index reflecting conditions of all lines of industry and business, stands this week at 18 per cent below normal, a drop of 1 per cent from last week. Make your preparations now for an increase in activity this spring.

SANFORD IS COMING SAYS W. T. DONNELLY AND HE REJOICES

One of the best friends of Sanford is W. T. Donnelly who spends his winters here and who is one of the most prominent naval architects and engineers in the country. Mr. Donnelly has drawn plans for our lake front and boat basin giving the same to the city free and he is one of the best Sanford boosters that ever came among us. He writes about the improvements in Sanford and the bond issue as follows in a letter to the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Beaufort, N. C., May 26, 1922. Sanford Chamber of Commerce, Mr. R. W. Pearman, Sec., Sanford, Florida.

My dear Pearman: I am in receipt of your letter under date of May 20th together with enclosed clipping from the Sanford Herald, and I find the rapidity with which events are moving in Sanford, very encouraging. You know there is a saying that "it is always darkest just before DAWN" and you know what a propensity I have of getting up VERY EARLY and being ahead of the other fellow. So maybe I looked on Sanford JUST BEFORE DAWN and stayed there until DAWN WAS CHANGING INTO DAYLIGHT.

Perhaps the most encouraging thing of all is the faith which "Sanford's own" is showing in their own city illustrated by the amount of new building planned and underway.

The matter of street pavement always marks the transition from town to city, from that which will just do to that which give finish and permanency to a community, and I am sure that when your large new buildings are finished and your street pavement as outlined, completed, every citizen of Sanford will walk out and say that Sanford is coming to her own. I shall certainly look forward with keen interest to coming back again and seeing the work underway. In the meantime, my office in getting out the plans and specifications for the pier work and I shall be able to forward you copies in a short time.

With kind regards to all my friends in Sanford, I remain, Yours sincerely, W.T.D. WILLIAM T. DONNELLY.

HEAVY FIRING IS REPORTED ON THE BORDER

AT STRABANE AND LIFFORD AND IRISH WAR CONTINUES

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, May 30.—Heavy firing on the Tyrone Donegal border at Strabane and Lifford between midnight and seven a. m. says Strabane dispatch. Shipping from roofs continuous and armored cars and machine guns are in action. The casualties are unknown.

GOVERNMENT OF PEKING IS HARD UP

(By The Associated Press) PEKING, May 30.—The Peking government is facing a financial crisis. It is unable to meet its ordinary current expenses and Finance Minister Tungkuang has appealed to the provinces to remit the revenues due the federal government which they have been retaining for local use.

Five million dollars is needed on the first of the month to pay the government employes, but it is said that only a few thousands are left in the nation's treasury.

Unless the provinces extend help, which they have not done for years, the government says it will be embarrassed.

The reassembling of the old parliament, retirement of President Hsu Shih-Chang, selection of a provisional president and adoption of a permanent constitution are being urged by the Chinese newspapers and disinterested leaders throughout the country as means of solving the problems which are crowding upon the nation. General Wu Pei Fu, commanding northern China, while on record as favoring the reconvening of the old parliament, has not yet issued a formal call for its meeting. He is said to be sounding out the sentiment of the country and also desires to know definitely what will be the attitude of Sun Yat Sen, head of the southern government.

It is said that unless Dr. Sun agrees to abolish the Canton government and the Peking commander retires, unification is impossible. Dr. Sun so far has refused to agree with any scheme of the others, and his followers claim that Dr. Sun represents the only legal government. Gen. Wu already has obtained assurance from the president of his willingness to retire on durged that Sun likewise withdraw for the sake of the country.

It has been suggested that Li Yuan-Hung be recalled as provisional president. He resigned from the presidency after the parliament was dissolved in 1917.

YACHT DISABLED

SEA IS SUBSIDING AND DANGER TO CRAFT SEEMS TO BE LESSENER TODAY

(By The Associated Press) JACKSONVILLE, May 30.—The American Schooner Marion N. Cobb, of Mobile, Venezuela for Jacksonville with cargo of Guano, is believed here early today at bottom of the Atlantic five miles off the St. Johns river. The steamer Sun Dance enroute from Tampa to Jacksonville took off Cobb's crew early last night and in wireless message to Associated Press shortly before midnight Captain Stanford of the steamer said the schooner's decks were awash when last seen. The Sun Dance entered the river this morning and is due here at noon. It also has aboard eleven members of the St. Augustine shrimp fleet rescued from four small boats at sea Sunday. The steam yacht Florence, reported in radio into yesterday from British steamer anchor twenty miles off St. John river Simoes Prince as disabled and at was not heard from today but no fears are felt for safety as sea is subsiding. British schooner Perceles which went ashore on St. George bar near the mouth of the St. Johns river Sunday afternoon still aground with a tug trying to float her.

The Sun Dance arrived during the forenoon. It is reported the Cobb still afloat today with decks awash. It is believed the vessel can be salvaged.

CORB SUSPENDED FOR STEPPING ON TOES OF UMPIRE YESTERDAY

ST. LOUIS, May 30.—Manager Cobb, and outfielder Hellmann, Detroit Americans, were indefinitely suspended by President Johnson of the American League the morning game today with St. Louis. During an argument yesterday Cobb stepped on the umpire's toes and was banished from the game. The cause of Hellmann's suspension, was not stated in a message received here.

COURT RULING

BEFORE WAS THAT BILL NEVER BECAME LAW AS IT WAS NOT SIGNED

(By The Associated Press) TALLAHASSEE, May 30.—The Florida Supreme court yesterday entered an order granting a rehearing in the gasoline tax case.

The act passed by the last legislature to tax wholesalers of this state one cent a gallon on gasoline was recently held by the supreme court to never have become a law in that it was not signed by the presiding officers of the two legislative branches until after the adjournment of that law making body. The court had before it the decision of the circuit court of Leon county whereby Attorney General Buford's demurrer to a suit contesting the act brought by Sidney J. Gunn had been overruled. The supreme court upheld the lower court's judgment and the majority opinion declared the law to be invalid.

Attorney General Buford recently applied for a rehearing on ground that the court in acting upon the case before it erred in passing final judgment as to the validity of the act. He contended in effect that the court should have acted only on his demurrer which in itself did not admit the allegations set forth by Mr. Gunn.

No date was announced for the rehearing. The court yesterday did not file an opinion giving its reasons for granting the rehearing but Justice Ellis gave an opinion stating what guided him in favoring another hearing of the case. Justices Whitfield and West dissented from the opinion, declaring the tax law invalid. They favored granting another hearing.

In the meantime, the office of the state comptroller has been unsuccessful in general, in the collection of taxes under the gasoline tax act, virtually all of the wholesalers having refused to adhere to the provisions of the legislation on the basis of the supreme court's ruling. As a result, a revenue yield of approximately $300,000 annually for road building purposes was suddenly stopped. The law was expected to provide an annual yield of $750,000 within the next two or three months. This amount would have been doubled by the federal road funds.

LANDING FIELDS THROUGHOUT FLORIDA SANFORD HAS ONE

According to the official air map of the Fourth Corps Area, there are 290 landing fields for airplanes in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee, of which 57 are in Florida.

The only official landing place in Brevard county is Titusville (the Indian River is four miles wide at Titusville) and this city also is equipped with one of the best filling stations in Florida for seaplanes, the Gulf Refining Co.'s new dock.

The cities and towns in Florida which recognize the growing impor-

ance of aerial transportation and which are accredited with suitable landing fields are as follows:

Commercial fields: Key West (seaplane), Miami, Orlando, Palm Beach (seaplane), Sanford.

Municipal fields: Bartow, Fort Myers, Kissimmee, Lakeland, Ocala, Okeechobee, Pensacola, Sarasota Tampa.

Government field: Arcadia.

Health Almost Ruined By Ravages of Indigestion

Would Have Been Dead Without "Nature's Remedy" Mr. Dougherty Says. Today Is Entirely Recovered and Praises Ferraline Most Highly.

Mr. F. W. Dougherty, Souwilla, is of the opinion that without Ferraline he would be dead today. A recent letter to the Ferraline Medicine Company, he says:

"I am sending you the names of some people I think will be benefited by FERRALINE. I carry FERRALINE in my stock at all times, and it has done SO MUCH FOR ME PERSONALLY that I feel I can honestly recommend it in highest terms.

Indigestion had so nearly ruined my health that I really believe I might have been dead had I not used FERRALINE, but since using several bottles of Ferraline I am now entirely recovered.

No one is in better position to recommend Ferraline than I, for it has done so much for me. FERRALINE is a Natural Mineral Tonic and the most prominent men have voluntarily testified to benefits received, especially from Ferraline as a relief from Indigestion, Stomach Troubles, Rheumatism and a general run down condition. ASK YOUR DRUGGIST FOR FERRALINE.—Adv.

JIMMY MURPHY WON 500 MILE AUTO RACE

DAILY HERALD OF YESTERDAY SAID HE WAS LEADING ALL OTHERS

(By The Associated Press)
INDIANAPOLIS, May 31.—Leading from start to finish, Jimmy Murphy of Los Angeles, Calif., winner of the 1921 French Grand Prix, carved his name deeper in the hall of motor fame yesterday when he flashed across the wire a winner of the 500 mile automobile race at the Indianapolis speedway before a record breaking crowd of 135,000 persons.

Murphy smashed all records for the distance, clipping more than 16 minutes off the best previous record. His time was 5:17:30.79, an average of 94.48 miles an hour, against the old record of 5:33:55.51, or 89.84 miles an hour made by Ralph DePalma in 1916. Murphy did something which had never been accomplished before at the Indianapolis speedway and to the knowledge of racing experts never before in a race of major importance. He shot into the lead at the start and never relinquished it during one instant of five hours of thrilling driving. He was the first away, was first over the line at the completion of the first lap and was first over the wire when Captain Eddie Ickenbacker waved the flag for his victory.

The Los Angeles driver made only three stops during the entire 500 miles. He made his first stop at 185 miles, pulling up at the pits for two minutes to change all tires and replenish the fuel tanks. With a lead of about ten miles, Murphy pulled into the pits for another tire change and for more gasoline and oil after he had traveled 308 miles. The assistance of his pitman was nothing short of marvelous. It took them just 28 seconds to change a right front tire and provide him with fuel enough to assure his finishing.

While major honors went to Murphy, Harry Hartz, also of Los Angeles, who finished second, drove a remarkable race. He jumped into second place sixty miles after the start and held it throughout, always making a desperate fight to catch Murphy. Hartz's time was 5:20:34.50, an average of 93.54 miles per hour, which also was far in advance of the record.

Eddie Ierne, a veteran racer, piloted a French car to third place in 5:22:20.00, for an average of 93.04 miles an hour, while Ralph DePalma, one of the favorites, was fourth in 5:31:04.05, an average of 90.61 miles an hour.

Orn Halbe was fifth in 5:31:13.45, an average of 90.56 miles an hour. Jerry Wonderlich was sixth in 5:37:52.84, an average of 88.70 miles an hour. I. P. Fetterman finished seventh in 5:40:45.44, an average of 87.90 miles an hour. Eighth place went to Ira Vail in 5:50:07.42, an average of 85.69 miles an hour. Tom Alley was ninth in 5:57:34.12, an average of 83.80. Joe Thomas finished tenth in 6:05:01.47, for an average of 82.19.

Confusion among the judges and timers resulted in the erroneous announcement shortly before the two hundredth mile that Murphy had lost the lead and Hartz had gone into first place. Signals were passed to the drivers that Hartz was leading and even Murphy thought the checking was correct, as he began to force a much faster pace in his fight to regain the lead. He jumped the average of 93.52 for 200 miles to 94.41 for 276 miles, and then again to 94.54 for 300 miles.

An winner of the event Murphy will receive approximately $35,000. Twenty thousand was awarded first place and $8,000 as lap prize money. In addition, automobile accessory companies provided cash prizes which will bring Murphy's total up to the $35,000 mark. Hartz got $10,000 for finishing second; Hearne in third place, $3,500; Halbe, $3,000; Wonderlich, $2,200; Fetterman, $1,800; Vail $1,000; Alley, $1,500 and Thomas $1,400.

Barney Oldfield, retired star of the racing world, with the customary cigar in the corner of his mouth, paced the field for the first lap bringing them to a flying start at a speed of about 70 miles.

SHANGHAI, April 30.—(By mail)—Six million people out of twenty-seven million population in Hunan province are starving, hundreds of thousands certain to die before mid-summer according to mission workers. Literally thousands fallen in fields and roadsides never to rise again. Bodies of dead stripped by emaciated survivors and rags that clothed corpses sold for few brass coins that they may bring with which to buy handful of rice.

MIAMI, May 31.—Burglars forced a safe in the postoffice at Miami Beach last night and stole $1,400 in cash and stamps, two registered letters, 161 money order forms. Money order blanks were numbered 3040 to 3201.

Rail Workers to Resist Wage Cut of Labor Board

Union Officials Instructed to Send Out Ballots for Strike in Protesting Reductions.

(By The Associated Press)
DETROIT, May 31.—The executive council of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employes and Railway Shop Laborers yesterday afternoon unanimously adopted a resolution instructing E. F. Grable, the president, to send out strike ballots to all members of the organization and all non-union workers in the crafts affected by the wage cut ordered by the Railroad Labor Board Sunday.

President Grable announced the ballots would be sent out immediately and that if the workers decided to strike in protest against the cut, the walkout would be effective about July 5. He estimated 478,000 members of the union and about 72,000 non-union workers would be asked to vote, virtually every railroad in the country with the exception of short lines and electric roads being affected.

The resolution adopted by the executive council, which is composed of the officers of the union, specified the ballots should ask whether or not the workers were willing to accept the cut and declared if they were not "the union will use the full economic powers of the organization to resist the reduction of wages ordered by the labor board."

President Grable said afterwards he expected the returns would be in by July first, explaining in case of a strike vote he was empowered to call the men out, he fixed July 5 as the tentative date by which arrangements could be completed to put the strike in effect. The wage cut is effective July 1, under the board order.

GIRLS AND COLLEGE

The Sunset Magazine is conducting a prize contest on the subject, "Should Girls Go To College?" To speak with strict accuracy the series of money prizes it offers are for the best answer to the question, "Is the present-day college education of real value to the average girl?"

The writer of this editorial is not competing for the prize, but it struck him as an interesting question. He put it to a veteran teacher, who had seen college girls of many college generations, from the time when a girl was considered a freak because she wanted to study until the present time when, apparently, by a good many people, a college girl is considered a freak because she doesn't.

The answer given by the teacher summed up into this:

"I have seen many men and women who wished in after life that they had had more opportunity for education, or had used to better advantage the educational opportunity they had. But I have never come across either man or woman who wished he or she had less education. The modern girl may waste some of her opportunities—students always have done so.

"To be young is to be wasteful in some way or other. To be wholly conserving in the 'teens and early twenties would be abnormal, and hence in some way bad for the development. Therefore the educational largess provided by the college atmosphere is peculiarly useful. Yes, even in the present day, and especially in the present day, college education is of real value, and inestimable value to the college girl, and to her children of the future, and to the world."—St. Augustine Record.

SUB CHASER PICKED UP OFF BEAUFORT

(By The Associated Press)
BEAUFORT, N. C., May 31.—The crew of the coast guard station at Cape Lookout yesterday picked up and towed into Beaufort a subchaser of about 72 tons which had broken down east of Cape Lookout Shoals. The boat had no name and carried none of the usual ship's papers, according to members of the rescuing crew, but the captain claimed to be from New York bound for Palm Beach. The subchaser's cargo consisted of 217 cases of gasoline.

TRADED OFF HIS WIFE

Press reports say an Italian was arrested in New Orleans for trading off his wife for a job. The papers made much of it and quoted the fact that the marriage vows were taken too lightly these days by foreigners and Americans alike. Quite true, quite true. However, there are men in high society who while the fact may not be made public have traded off their wives figuratively speaking, whether it might be in a literal sense or not and while the fact is known there is nothing said about it and society recognizes both parties to the deal with perfect equanimity. They are just as culpable as the Italian, the only difference being that he was poor and of foreign type and knew no better while the high-ups can trade wives with impunity and nothing is said or done about it. There are such cases in every community that while the law may not be able to touch them should be taken up by the people who believe in the sanctity of the home and the offenders should be dealt with as they deserve. The morality and sanctity and purity of the coming generation depends upon the moral standard of the home.

SANFORD LEADS IN MUSIC

The musical center of Florida threatens to gravitate toward Sanford. By a piece of great good fortune an experienced bandmaster moved to that city, proceeded to organize a municipal band that from the start was given the moral and financial support of the town, and then, to put over something for good measure, succeeded in getting together thirty-six people who are saxophone players. Not content with these two bands, he has enrolled at least thirty women who are now practicing for their first public appearance as a full-fledged band early next autumn. When occasion demands it, these three bands can be consolidated into one band of close to one hundred pieces. Sanford wins musical honors to date.—Lakeland Telegram.

THE NEED OF PRESERVING FLORIDA'S FISH SUPPLY

On the subject of conservation the DeSot. county News asks some pertinent questions: "Will the people of Florida stand by and see their state looted of one of its greatest natural attractions? Are they going longer to permit the wholesale depletion of streams and lakes that lure the visitor from afar with promise of kingly sport with rod and reel?"

That Florida's waters have been taxed to the limit, and are still being ravaged by fishermen who resort to all sorts of means in satisfying their hoglike desires is well known, and if anything is to be done to throw reasonable protection about the fish supplies of the streams and lakes, now is the time to do it. Suggesting methods of protection, The News believes—

It is up to the state legislature to provide relief. Fishing of any sort during spawning season should be prohibited. Use of nets, seines or explosives should be made a crime. Some provision for propagating and restocking the depleted water courses and lakes should be made. Fishing licenses, issued as are hunting licenses, would pay the cost of these things. And the benefits would be almost immediate if the law were properly enforced.

Unless these things, or some of them at least, are done immediately, fishing in Florida will be a thing of the past. It is better to take protective measures now, while some traces of fish remain, than to wait until all are gone and then attempt to restore them. Even with protective measures in force, game has been driven out of the greater part of the state to take refuge in the fastnesses. The fish are going the way the deer and turkeys. The legislature should act and the people should co-operate. In a few years great results could be obtained. Good sport would again be available in accessible places, and with care in conservation this would continue indefinitely. But the pothunter and waster must be checked. Good sportsmen should see that this is done while at the same time seeking to bring back the sport that once was at the hand of every man.

It is a common failing of states to become awakened to the depletion of their natural resources only after signs of disappearance become so prominent they cannot be ignored; and Florida should profit by the depletion and disappearance of some of her other resources and preserve the fish supply while preservation is still possible. The suggestions made by The News are worthy of this consideration of the legislature. To say the least of the situation, something should be done, and immediately, and the first power of action is vested in the legislature. Then the co-operation of the sportsmen should be sought—and the laws rigidly enforced. This feature of enforcement is all important; many laws already on the statutes aimed at conservation are enforced in a half-hearted sort of way, which adds to the difficulties.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

CURB MARKET IS MAKING A GREAT HIT IN PALATKA

Palatka's curb market continues to attract additional farmers with high-grade fresh produce every Tuesday and Saturday and eighteen truckloads were disposed of between the hours of 8 and 10:30 Saturday morning, according to a report.

It has been found that the beautiful oak trees on Lemon street in front of the court house afford excellent protection for the many vegetables offered by the farmers as well as providing a shaded market place for the many housewives of Palatka who are making the market a success. The charm of the surroundings was remarked by one of the ladies Saturday morning, in that it was a cool place to trade, and the trees kept all the produce green, fresh and slightly.

It is said that the trucks are disposing of approximately $20 worth of produce each as an average, and the encouragement has been so great that all of the growers are seriously considering planting fall gardens. It is assumed from this that the market will be a fixture practically the year round, and that consideration given heretofore to moving it to other streets has been dropped.

Home Demonstration Agent Miss Floressa Sipprell, with County Agent Armstrong, announce that Tuesday's market will offer Irish and sweet potatoes, tomatoes, corn, cucumbers, beans, peas, watermelons, cantaloupes, squash, carrots, celery, honey, eggs and live spring chickens. By next Saturday, Miss Sipprell states spinach will be in season.—Palatka News.

UNSHAKEN TESTIMONY

Time is the test of truth. And Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test in Sanford. No Sanford resident who suffers backache, or annoying urinary ills can remain unconvinced by this twice-told testimony.

Mrs. W. F. Leavitt, 317 W. 3rd. St., Sanford, says: "I was bad off with kidney and bladder trouble. Sharp pains shot up through my back and there was a dead ache across my kidneys all the time. I had to take to bed as I couldn't be on my feet. I suffered from terrible headaches. I was advised to use Doan's Kidney Pills and half a dozen boxes of Doan's cured me of the trouble. I felt like a different woman and I am glad to recommend Doan's."

The above statement was given March 19, 1918 and on February 2, 1922, Mrs. Leavitt added: "I haven't had the slightest need of a kidney remedy since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me. I am glad to continue my former recommendation." 60c. at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

SAYS BACKACHE IS SIGN YOU HAVE BEEN EATING TOO MUCH MEAT.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, efficient and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

IT'S GRANDMOTHER'S RECIPE TO BRING BACK COLOR AND LUSTRE TO HAIR

You can turn gray, faded or beautifully dark and lustrous hair over night if you'll get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a sure way of awaiting them, because after only two applications the gray hair falls and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Get haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and you'll be delighted with your youthful appearance within a few days.—Adv.

MILLION DOLLARS WORTH OF NEW BUILDINGS CONTEMPLATED FOR SANFORD

Many of Them Are Being Started This Week and Next

At the city are amazed at the amount of old buildings being torn down and the many new ones which are being started. At the principal corner of the intersection of Myrtle and First street the old building is being torn down to make room for the new six story First National Bank building. Directly opposite on the other corner the old Phillips building is being demolished and a new building will house a four or five story building. The owners, Messrs. H. H. Brumley, have not yet decided how tall the building will be. Another fine location on First street where the old Sanford House stood the Melch Realty Company is erecting a two or three story building for stores and offices. This building is to be located next to the postoffice and is a business location.

First street is not the only business location to be graced with new buildings. To have old ones torn down. The new building on Myrtle street is having a share in the improvements and the old Maguire house is being torn down to make way for a new business block by the owner, Charles Morris. The old Star Theatre, owned by O. P. Herndon, recently removed to give way to a fine new theatre on Myrtle street. The corner formerly occupied by a livery stable and owned by W. Phillips of Orlando, will soon be occupied with a new business block. The apartment house, the owner of which made up his mind about the building.

Second street Mrs. DeForest is having several new store rooms have already built three new ones on property. Just south of this property in Sanford avenue the B. & O. have purchased the corner lot and the old frame building will give way to a fine new brick garage. At the corner of First street and Myrtle avenue John Parker, the former owner, has sold this fine corner to the San Juan Garage of Orlando who will build a fine new brick garage and salesroom for their Sanford branch of the automobile business. There are several other new deals contemplated for property and building in the business portion among them being a new garage and stock room and a large plumbing establishment on lower Park avenue near the lake front by Mahoney & Walker and the Kent Vulcanizing Works and these buildings will attract other business houses to the lake front. These business blocks together with the many new residences now being erected and the many that are being planned will force the building record for the summer into the million dollar mark which is going some even for busy Sanford.

The bond issue of week before last when bonds to the amount of $625,000 were carried with but very little opposition has also caused a big jump in property values and caused many people to contemplate building since they will now have the requisite streets and sewers and other improvements in many parts of the city that never had them before.

The work of the Central Florida Water Traffic League in advocating twenty feet of water in the St. Johns river from Sanford to Jacksonville and ten feet from Sanford into Indian river and on to Miami has also given this city a great impetus and is causing the eyes of many investors to turn this way. Sanford has no special building boom but is certainly attaining a remarkable and steady growth that will land this city in the ten thousand class in the matter of inhabitants in the next two years.

of age, and after hearing the reading of the indictment, pleads guilty.

Amos Pickett, murder in the first degree. His attorneys, Messrs. Thetford & Wilkinson filed a motion to quash the indictment and after arguments of counsel, the motion to quash is denied by the court. The attorneys for the defendant then filed a plea in abatement, and State Attorney Geo. A. DeCottes filed a demurrer to said plea in abatement, and after arguments of counsel, the court sustained the demurrer to the plea in abatement. Scholle Malnes was here sworn by the clerk as assistant state attorney. The above named defendant being arraigned in open court, attended by his counsel, Thetford & Wilkinson, and after hearing the reading of the indictment pleads not guilty. The following named jurors were called, examined and accepted by both the state attorney, and counsel for the defendant, after which they were sworn according to law: C. A. Betts, W. E. Oglesby, E. H. Killbee, A. A. Moran, C. F. Proctor, J. H. Lee, C. M. Williams, E. A. Farnell, A. V. McGuin, O. T. Pearson, A. J. King and E. L. Brown. After hearing all the evidence and the arguments of counsel for both the state and the defendant, Amos Pickett and after hearing the charge of the court, the jury retired to their room to consider their verdict. The jury brought in the following verdict:

"We the jury find the defendant guilty of murder in the second degree. So say we all."

Naturalization petitions were continued until Thursday, May 25th.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL

These rains are worth millions to the citrus growers of Florida.

Old town looks rather deserted today with all the fizzes, fezzes and fuzzes gone away.

Mrs. Christy of Jacksonville was visiting Mrs. H. S. Hamrick and Mrs. R. Z. Johnson Sunday.

Mr. J. D. Keever from Calhoun Ga., has been spending several days with his brother-in-law, S. W. Bradford.

Miss Rosella Parrish of Sylvester, Ga., who has been nursing Miss Grace Tompkins at the hospital, spent the week-end in Lakeland with relatives.

Mr. W. E. Herrin, of Yaarah Temple, Atlanta, Ga., came down to see Sam Bradford take the Shrine. He reports a grand time and Sam got his money's worth.

We regret to note that Mr. J. R. Forrest a member of the Shrine Club, has just lost his father, and could not enjoy the day with us. We extend to him our deepest sympathy.

R. A. Jenkins of Langwood was in the city this morning on business and reports everything in his section as flourishing and the rains making money for the citrus growers and the farmers generally.

Mrs. John Leonard leaves in the morning for Plant City, where she will visit her mother, Mrs. Hathcock, going down to the graduation of her brother Theodore, from the Plant City High School.

Mr. and Mrs. George Miller and two attractive daughters, Ada and Marion left yesterday for their home in St. Augustine after a very pleasant visit here as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Chittenden.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lyman left for their home at Winter Haven yesterday afternoon after a delightful visit here, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walsman and taking in the Shrine's festivities and visiting Sanford friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Holloway of Durham North Carolina are in the city en route to points in the southern part of the state. Mr. Holloway is thinking of starting a newspaper somewhere in Florida and likes Sanford real well although he will not make up his mind until he looks them over.

EIGHTH GRADE GRADUATION HELD TODAY

FINE CLASS OF BOYS AND GIRLS PASS FROM GRAMMAR SCHOOL

(From Monday's Daily)

The graduation exercises of the Eighth Grade of the Grammar School took place this morning at ten o'clock at the Grammar School Auditorium, which was crowded to overflowing with friends and relatives of this popular class.

Pink and blue, the class colors, were most effectively used in decorating, and blue hydrangea and potted ferns and palms were artistically used. A large American flag, was suspended over the center of the stage.

The following program, with the subject, "Ideal Citizenship" was splendidly carried out:

Orchestra—Selected.

After the class song, Mrs. John Leonard, in a few well chosen words presented the D. A. R. medal, given each year for the best year's average in history, and as two girls tied this year with an average of 98 and a fraction, two medals were awarded. These medals were presented to Camilla Puleston and Elizabeth Shoemaker. Dr. E. D. Brownlee, in a delightful little talk, presented the U. D. C. medal, offered for the best essay written on "Robert E. Lee" to Margaret Sprout.

Mrs. Pearl Babbitt, in behalf of the graduating class presented the Memorial, a library table, to the school, it was given by the graduating class in memory of one of their members, Harold Smith, who passed away a short time ago, and who was one of the most popular boys at the grammar school.

Supt. T. W. Lawton, made a splendid address, emphasizing the importance and value of an education, counting it as so much capital. He presented diplomas to a large class of sixty-three bright boys and girls.

The recital of Mrs. Munson's pupils at the High School last night again brings to mind the fact that in this studio Sanford has an institution that few cities have. Mrs. Munson for many years has been in charge of one of the best studios in the state and during her regime has sent out hundreds of well trained musicians who attest to her ability and personality and power to train the minds of the young and the older pupils. Mrs. Munson's fame is not confined to Sanford and her recitals bring music lovers here from all parts of the state. Mrs. Munson's studio is one of the assets of the city of Sanford.

BACCALAUREATE EXERCISES AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

DR. GEORGE HYMAN PREACHED MOST INSPIRING SERMON

(From Monday's Daily)

The third event of the commencement season of the Sanford High School took place at the High School Auditorium yesterday morning when the Baccalaureate sermon was given to the members of the Senior Class and their friends by Dr. George Hyman, formerly pastor of the Baptist church of this city, and now director of the expansion department of the First Baptist church of Tampa. The spacious auditorium of the High School was crowded to capacity despite the threatening weather and extra seats were necessary to accommodate the big crowd. Mrs. P. M. Boyd, at the piano, played a march as the seniors filed into their seats preceded by the faculty and the local board members and they made a most imposing array with the caps and gowns, the large class attesting to the growth of this city and the high school. Dr. Brownlee acted as master of ceremonies and after giving the invocation the following program was rendered:

Violin Solo—"Go Thou Sublime Sweet Evening Star," (Wagner), Mrs. P. M. Boyd. Dr. McCaslin, Accompanist.

Selection—Quartet from Stetson. Scripture Reading—Dr. F. D. King. Vocal Solo—"Beyond the Open Gates" (Petrie), Lillie Ruth Spencer. Mrs. P. M. Boyd, Accompanist.

Announcements.

Baccalaureate Sermon—Dr. George Hyman.

Hymn—"Come Thou Almighty King" Congregation.

Benediction—Dr. Paul C. Burhans.

The baccalaureate sermon delivered by Dr. Hyman was one of the best ever given here to a graduation class. Dr. Hyman was at his best, being in his former home and knowing personally every member of the graduating class and his theme was taken from the first chapter of Haggai, 23rd verse which says: "In this day saith the Lord of Hosts will I take thee, O Zorubabel, my servant and will make thee a signet for I have chosen thee," exemplifying the cardinal virtues of strong men and women: Strength of body, strength of mind and strength of spirit as embodied in the teachings of the Holy word. He also dwelt at length upon the importance of strength, service and will power and gave many illustrations of the people in history who were prepared for all eventualities when the supreme moment came and they were ready.

He cited the case that came under his own observation at Verdun, when Petain, a captain in the French army was called to take charge of the defense of Verdun, the key to the city of Paris and all of France and being prepared in strength of body and mind and spirit made history and saved the country and perhaps the world from the domination of the forces of the kaiser.

Dr. Hyman gave the class and the pupils of other classes some wholesome advice about their four years of study in the high school and then the higher education of a college course and recited the fact that he had worked his way through college and there was no pupil anywhere in the state who could not do likewise and a college education was in reach of all of them if they had the body and the mind and the spirit to go ahead, surmount all obstacles and take what was the right of every American boy and girl. It was a sermon filled with inspiration to all who heard it and one that will be an inspiration to the members of the class of 1922 in the years to come.

The Stetson Quartette composed of four young men of Stetson University rendered an excellent selection, and the violin solo by Mrs. Boyd and the solo of Miss Lillie Ruth Spencer were greatly enjoyed.

GRAND JURY PRESENTMENT MAKES GOOD SUGGESTIONS FOR MANY IMPROVEMENTS

Grand jury made the following to the circuit court:

The grand jurors impaneled by court to inquire in and for the county of Seminole, and true and correct make, having heretofore returned into the court true bills against such persons as the evidence was justified, and having otherwise finished our labors, respectfully submit to the court, to-wit:

Court House and Jail

have inspected the county court and find same to be in very satisfactory condition and we have only following to recommend:

That the sheriff's office be equipped with additional chairs as the same may direct.

The wire protectors be placed on all electric lights on the basement floor; protectors to be such that they cannot be removed by petty thieves.

That a suitable filing cabinet be purchased for the office of the Justice of the Peace according to his salary.

That all plastering in the county be gone over and repaired.

That the jail officials see that the cells are kept in a sanitary condition at all times.

That the Farm and Convict Camp be given a careful investigation and inspection of the County Poor Farm and County Convict Camp, including equipment thereof, and make the proper report and recommendations.

That the water supply at the farm is very unsatisfactory and that the supply should be obtained from the tank located at the camp.

That the city electric lights be called.

That inside toilets be placed in the poor house and the keeper's quarters and connected with the cess pool at the convict camp.

That the conditions of the Convict Camp be such that we have no recommendation to make, as the one nuisance, the "bunk wagons," have been replaced by a new and sanitary bunk house.

We recommend that the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad be required to make the necessary repairs to all railroad crossings in the county at once.

We recommend that the proper governing body be interviewed with the object of compelling the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad to use the west end of their yard for switching instead of the east end, thus eliminating the dangers and inconveniences of the First Street crossing at the ice plant.

We further recommend that the county commissioners secure the services of a competent man to act as county motor speed officer to enforce the existing state laws.

We recommend that the county commissioners take such steps as necessary to repair the road from the city limits west, to Stenstrom's corner. The shoulders are particularly dangerous and should have immediate attention.

We are grateful to the court for his full and lucid explanation of the law touching our official duties and his uniform thoughtfulness of our welfare. We also thank the state attorney, Hon. Geo. A. DeCottes, for the lawyer-like manner in which he has enabled us to perform our work expeditiously; and we are likewise appreciative of the valuable services rendered us, when needed, by the sheriff, C. M. Hand, and his deputies and others.

And having finished our labors, we now respectfully ask the court to discharge us.

EDWARD FRANKLIN LANE,
Foreman.

OTHER COURT MATTERS

The grand jury here entered open court and presented the following indictments:

The State of Florida vs. J. C. DeNard, embezzlement. A true bill.

The State of Florida vs. Jeff Parish, having unlawfully intoxicating liquors, second offense. A true bill.

The State of Florida vs. Ellis Herring and J. P. Sellars, larceny of automobile. A true bill.

The State of Florida vs. Amos Pickett, murder in the first degree. A true bill.

The State of Florida vs. Chas. Bollen, manslaughter. A true bill.

The grand jury here retired to their room to consider such other matters as might come before them.

Charles Bollen, for manslaughter, was arraigned in open court, attended by his mother, he being only 13 years
