

WHAT THE AMERICAN ARMY ACHIEVED IN WORLD WAR RECITED BY GEN. FOCH

In Speech to American Legion Convention at Kansas City

IS PROUD OF THEM

MARSHAL OF FRENCH ARMY TELLS OF POWERS OF UNCLE SAM'S MEN

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 2.—Marshal Foch, principal guest of honor for the day, entered the Legion convention hall from a side entrance and went to his box amid cheering just as the convention was called to order yesterday.

The text of Marshal Foch's address before the convention follows: "Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Soldiers of the Great American Army: "My Dear Comrades of the American Legion: "I cannot tell you how great is my satisfaction at finding myself among you, valiant soldiers of 1918, to live again our glorious memories. Three years ago, on the first of November, 1918, the entire American army in France took up vigorously the pursuit of the defeated enemy and did not halt until the German surrender.

"The hour of glory for the American army, a proper culmination for a military effort was prodigious alike in its intensity as in its rapidity. One and all you have had your share in it. You may well be proud. "In responding in mass to the call to arms of your government, in equipping, training and organizing ourselves as rapidly as possible you had in view only the purpose to take your place as soon as possible in the line of battle.

"In numbers: Eighteen months after the declaration of war by the United States on Germany the American army had passed from effectives of 9,500 officers and 125,000 men to 180,000 officers and 3,500,000 men. "Effort of organization: It is in the month of March, 1918, you had in France but six divisions, six months later you had 41, of which 31 engaged in battle.

"Effort in instruction: In order to have officers, non-commissioned officers and men rapidly trained you multiplied in America as in France your schools and camps which became centers of prodigious activity. "In order to arm you and camp you the American manufacturers worked without receipts and supplied all your needs.

"Admirable effort also in transportation: You swept away every obstacle which interfered with bringing your units from the centers of instructions to the ports of embarkation. "In France, you improved the ports of debarkation, created new installations, increased the traffic of the railroad system by work of all kinds and multiplied your store houses and hospitals.

"Your shipyards were organized for intensive production in such a way that when the war ended you utilized for your ocean transportation almost four millions of marine tonnage, instead of 94,000 available at the beginning of the war. "And meanwhile your splendid war fleet, thanks to its vigilance, and its fine military qualities, protected with an efficiency to which I am happy to pay tribute here, the transportation of your troops and material.

"A prodigious effort on the part of your entire nation's intelligence, will power and energy. A prodigious effort which has filled your associates with admiration and gratitude and confounded your enemy.

"This splendid spirit of an entire nation we find again on the battlefields of France, where it was blazoned in the admirable virtues of bravery and heroism.

"It was the spirit of the second and third American army divisions which one month later took part in the battle of the Marne and distinguished themselves immediately in operations around Chateau Thierry and Belleau Woods. Again it was the spirit of these five divisions which, on the

TO DEVELOP ST.
JOHNS RIVER IS OUR PROGRAM

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE * IS COMMITTED TO PROGRAM OF SHIP BY WATER

Ship by water. The Chamber of Commerce is committed to a program to develop the St. Johns river. It will be necessary to secure federal appropriations for deepening the channel and interesting the government in the proposed St. Johns-Indian River canal. Volume of water borne tonnage will force the government to make the much desired improvements. Through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, tonnage carried via St. Johns river has been greatly increased in fact to such an extent that the Clyde Line has been compelled to put on a daily boat service. When the Chamber of Commerce sends its committee before the government officials requesting the much desired improvements, it is hoped that water borne tonnage will have been increased to such proportions as will cause the government to see the necessity of opening up the St. Johns river to the coast and deepening the present channel. This condition, however, cannot be brought about unless every merchant in Sanford has shipments consigned to him routed via water when possible. The sole excuse for the existence of a Chamber of Commerce lies in doing the greatest good for the most people, in civic, commercial, agricultural and industrial production and also transportation affairs; in rendering service which will help the community, whether it knows it or not; and in handling matters of general interest, which ordinarily no individual will attempt, and which he COULD not handle if he SHOULD attempt. It behooves every merchant in Sanford to support the movement originated by their local Chamber and become affiliated with the Central Florida Water Traffic League, an organization consisting of the shippers of all sections contiguous to Sanford who are interested in the ship by water movement, not only from the monetary benefits to be accrued, but also from a desire to develop that great rate equalizer, the St. Johns river. The Central Florida Water Traffic League will maintain an efficient traffic bureau as an integral part of its organization, to guard the lawful rights and promote the interests of the shipper. This department or bureau will maintain a complete tariff file to afford service in the quotation of rates and routing of shipments, tracing of delinquent shipments, advice with regard to claim matters, decisions of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the State Commission, decisions of the courts and advice regarding many questions that arise in traffic matters. In addition the bureau will undertake to check and audit freight bills for a nominal fee to members. The Central Florida Water Traffic League will serve the interests of all communities of this section on all matters affecting transportation and in addition will carry on a work of education amongst the merchants and shippers to the great benefits to be derived in shipping by water. The special committee of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce assigned to this work will endeavor to secure a large membership from Sanford for the Central Florida Water Traffic League.

WILSON UNABLE TO ATTEND PARLEY
HEALTH IS BAD.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 1.—Former President Wilson appeared today to be making a good recovery from an attack of indigestion and severe headaches, which has kept him in his bed for the last few days, his physician, Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, said today.

After an early call at the Wilson home, Grayson said the ex-president probably would be able to sit up considerably today. He expects him to be able to resume his usual routine tomorrow.

The former president, Grayson indicated, probably will be able to keep an appointment scheduled for tomorrow.

While Wilson's present illness is not regarded as extremely serious by his physicians, his general condition in such that he requires most careful attention and care. Ever since he began to make a general recovery from the stroke which two years ago affected one arm and made his walking difficult, the ex-president has been subject to attacks of indigestion and severe headaches.

These recurring attacks make it apparent, Wilson's intimates say, that for some time to come, at least, he will not get back into politics or again take up his notable fight for the league of nations.

He already has decided to remain completely aloof from the arms parley, it was learned, through replies sent to ambassadors here who suggested that leading foreign delegates would like to call on him and renew acquaintances formed at the Versailles conference.

Wilson still takes a keen interest in both Democratic and international developments, but it is more that of an average citizen, well versed in governmental affairs, than of a national leader.

A. W. Smith announces that he will double the present capacity of his saw mill near Plant City in the near future to take care of the increase of his business in that section.

BONUS ISSUE IS PUT UP TO REPUBLICANS

REED PUSHING THE TAXATION
AMENDMENT THAT DELAY-ED THE BILL.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Renewal of the fight in the senate for the passage of the soldiers' bonus bill resulted in a further set back yesterday for the tax revision measure. Republican leaders forced a night session, but with the bonus issue still undisposed of, there appeared to be doubt whether the tax bill could be brought to a vote before Saturday, if then.

There was a four hours' discussion yesterday of the Reed amendment proposing to continue the excess profits tax and to use the proceeds to defray the costs of the five-way adjusted compensation plan. This was followed by the introduction of an amendment by Senators Simmons, of North Carolina and Walsh of Massachusetts, Democratic members of the finance committee, proposing payment of the bonus out of the interest on the nation's foreign debt.

The latter amendment will not be formally moved for adoption in the senate, its authors announced, until action has been taken on the Reed amendment. Meantime, Senator Reed is delaying formal presentation of his amendment until there has been full discussion of the whole question.

Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, in plan of the majority to move to table the Reed proposal on the ground that the soldiers' bonus has no place in a tax measure. Majority leaders had not decided last night, however, what would be done with respect to the Simmons-Walsh amendment, which the authors declared would "make the issue clearly one of bonus or no bonus without raising the question of the condition of the public treasury which has been the chief argument presented by opponents of the bonus plan."

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Women have broken down the barriers to pharmacy and are filling positions formerly only to men.

Acting Dean G. C. Diekman, of the College of Pharmacy, at Columbia University, in making this statement, said the college records showed that women excelled in scholarship and had earned more than their share of class honors.

"In practical work, where neatness, dispatch and, above all, accuracy are deciding factors, their record is an enviable one," he said. "The old prejudice against the employment of women in pharmacies, excepting perhaps a minor capacity, is rapidly disappearing in the large cities. In suburban and rural communities women have always been accorded their just recognition."

SETTLEMENT IN IRELAND RESTS UPON ULSTER.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Efforts have been made during the week-end to prevent a breakdown in the Irish peace conference, but a continuance of the negotiations now seems to depend almost entirely on the willingness of the Ulster authorities to assist in coming into line with the Sinn Fein.

Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier who has professed a desire to work amicably with southern Ireland in an all Ireland council, will it is said, be offered greatly extended powers for the northern parliament, accompanied by a strengthening of the position of the central council connecting the two Irish parliaments and it is declared to be the belief that he may accept this.

But, it is asserted, Sir James will oppose any curtailment of the area of the northern parliament and will especially resist any cutting off of the representation of northeast Ulster in the imperial parliament which he regards as the greatest safeguard for Ulster.

The prevailing belief here seems to be in various quarters, that even should there be a breakdown in the present conference, the truce in Ireland should continue.

 Sanford merchants are putting on special inducements to trade here.

The Sanford Herald intends to make a campaign against the selling of liquor to young boys. Somebody will have to get busy at once on this question.

Miami will buy the street railway. They say there is no money in street railways, they say there is no money in owning municipal plants, they say—but then why is it that private corporations own them?

TO THE PARENTS OF BOYS.

Not long ago skilled labor received high wages, while many educated and trained men were poorly paid. It is possible that the school boys became impressed with this, and that they reached the conclusion that it was better to go to work than to go to school. But the condition was abnormal and could not last. Now we are getting back to normal and in the future more than at any time in the past the abilities born of education and training will be in demand and command a high price. With a trained mind a man can multiply the usefulness and earning power of his hands many fold. Civilization is built upon this fact. Education brings real blessings, makes friendship valuable by teaching us how to serve and be useful, and gives to life its deepest satisfactions. For these purposes education is indispensable. Give your boys—your children—the best education you can. If you should reach a financial limit, inspire your boy to earn his way. Be satisfied with nothing less for your children than a complete education.—Hardee County Herald.

When they were arraigned next day on a charge of vagrancy, resentment or hopelessness showed on every face. Then a surprise met them.

The magistrate after hearing the detective's complaints, proceeded to question every man separately. It developed that nearly all of them were decent men, in hard luck and honestly seeking employment. They were not sleeping on park benches for the fun of it—a fact which might have been inferred in the first place. One-fifth of them were honorably discharged soldiers and sailors.

As those stories were unfolded, every person in the courtroom found his sympathies enlisted. The judge, instead of sentencing the prisoners emptied his pockets to get them a night's decent lodging. Spectators did likewise. Hardened detectives volunteered to help them find jobs. Every man left the courtroom cheered up and with a better chance of finding work next day.

Law and society gained as much as the prisoners did. If men out of jobs everywhere were treated in so humane a way, there would be incomparably less bitterness at the bottom of our industrial system, and less menace in hard times.—St. Augustine Record.

WHY PROHIBITION IS BEING MADE A JOKE.

It would appear that prohibition was given a test by the rum element just to see how far the jokes in the laws of the states and nation would permit them to go. The limit has about been reached and now it can be seen that there is a great deal of this funny paper business made out of the prohibition enforcement matter. The government has utterly failed to check the influx of wholesale liquor smuggling in this country off the coast of Florida and liquor right now can be bought in Lakeland and delivery guaranteed for a little above the cost in ordinary times. Political influence and cowardice in office, both judicial and otherwise, in many sections, has followed the arrest of would-be bootleggers and they have been released as though it were a kangaroo court. The next thing to interfere with the proper law enforcement was the permit system and the opening of the bonded warehouses; then would come the big quantities of seized evidence that would mysteriously disappear when time for trial came; then the liquor importations began to increase instead of diminish; because of the light fines and sentences which the rum runners would get they were willing to take a chance when they can clean up a living in a year which would take them a life-time in other lines to get. The system seems to have had the protection of officials in many places from top to bottom because of their dilatory and don't care spirit in stopping the transportation and sale of goods, and in this state as soon as the order came that you could not arrest a man without a search warrant and that even that could not be done at night, right at the time the sign was put up: "Boys, go the limit all you please at night, but just don't get caught in the day time."

Not until we get officers who will back up the law and see that no one person is better than the other in every state and county office and in the nation as well, will the rum traffic be blocked. It is a joke at the present time and whisky right now is more plentiful than moonshine and everybody is making shine that seems to want it. The officers of Polk county have been exceptions in their efforts to keep the situation cleaned up, but even at that, the rulings of courts and the don't care spirit of other counties and the way the Federal prohibition officers themselves are cleaning up, makes us look on the situation with disgust, for there are but few of them who are not making their thousands of dollars per week by letting the rum peddlers get by with just about all they please. The government at this time is paying out millions in money and foreign men to go into the liquor business who have never dreamed of such a thing before, simply because it appears to be an easy matter to secure and sell whisky and as long as the profits runs from 400 to 1,000 per cent. the chance to them is worth while.—Lakeland Star.

CUT OUT THE RECORD.

We were thinking the other day, while reading of that congressman who suffered shame and ignomy, and was almost expelled from the house for something he had in the Congressional Record, that the Record was to blame as much as the congressman. The Congressional Record has been one of the standing jokes of the American people for so long, that it seems the congressmen would wake up some time and cease putting all their chit-chat and cloak room gossip and other fairy tales into a record that should contain nothing but facts. The public is heartily tired of the speech of Senator Bunkum, of the State of Indiana, in the record for the simple reason that the senator never made any such speech, but he slips it into the Record with the idea of fooling his friends back home, and when they read of the (applause) and the (cheers) and the other bunk that fills the pages of the Record, they begin to think that the senator is paying half his salary for a Washington press agent—and he usually is doing that thing. The Congressional Record should be expunged, and in this respect the Jacksonville Metropolis gets off the following truth:

Representative Blanton of Texas has been rebuked by the House for incorporating "obscene matter" in the Congressional Record and the atmosphere around the capitol is once more serene as a May morning.

Blanton deserved the rebuke if the matter was as obscene as reported, for while the American public likes jokes and appreciates a good one to the last drop, it takes offense at a vulgar joke told publicly. Public modesty is sometimes far more puritanical than individual modesty. This is one of the queer twists in human nature.

It develops in the Blanton incident that the Congressional Record is the one unedited publication in this country. We had suspected this for a long time. The Record is absolutely devoid of editorial earmarks.

A member of Congress takes the floor and says, "Gentlemen, I want to put something in the Congressional Record. How about it?"

"Go ahead!" the other members shout—and he goes ahead.

And no power under high heaven can keep whatever he has in mind from going in the Congressional Record!

Even the linotype operator who got Mr. Blanton's copy off the hook protested at putting it in type—but to no avail; the foreman said he had no authority to "kill" the "obscene matter."

The Congressional Record is already censored enough to make it a joke. But what the Congressional Record needs is an editor, a man who is competent to pass on the copy and vested with the authority to edit it down to the point of public decency. We realize this means another job for some newspaper man, which should make it particularly interesting to President Harding, who recruits as many government employees as possible from the ranks of the Fourth Estate.

THE PRETTIEST LIMBS IN THE WORLD—FAKE! FAKE!

That there is nothing new under the sun has been accepted as an axiom for centuries. The expression is common and time-worn, one of those sayings that has lost much of its significance because of universal use, yet which, when considered seriously, still has a great deal of truth in it, and always will have, for there is nothing so rare as a new idea.

Playwrights are often accused of stealing plots. Novelists are only given credit for developing old ideas.

The world hesitates when called upon to give praise to an individual who has conceived something new under the sun. Originality is the priceless quality.

But when an editor "springs something" that has not been seen before, it is up to his fellow-editors to bow before the shrine of his cleverness, therefore we taken off our hat to Claude C. Jones, editor of the DeSoto County News. His scheme may be old as the hills, but as far as our observation goes it is new as a home-made doughnut.

"The Prettiest Legs in the World" is the title of an editorial in the last issue of the News. The first paragraph of this editorial reads:

"While walking down Oak street Tuesday we met a woman. She had beautiful eyes and was dressed in the height of fashion. Her physique was perfect. She wore silk stockings and a short skirt. Just as we turned our head toward her she entered an automobile and when she put one foot on the running board we saw—Dr. J. H. Coffee, secretary of the DeSoto County Chamber of Commerce, walking toward us."

Then Editor Jones follows with an appeal for the Chamber of Commerce. The caption is forgotten and in the most serious of tones the future of the civic organization is discussed!

This may be taking an unfair advantage, for Editor Jones arouses your curiosity until your nerves tingle, then he drops you in the midst of a dreadfully commonplace subject. But as he says, "our knowledge of human nature enabled us to know that you would hurriedly glance over the heading to the other editorials on this page, but would stop to read this. Are you guilty of reading this far?"

"Oh, pahaw!"—Jacksonville Metropolis.

THE COUNTRY EDITOR.

Everybody has written about the trials and tribulations of the country editor, but few have written about his joys. He stands aloof of the preacher, the lawyer and the public speaker, because he never talks to empty benches, but speaks in all the homes where his paper goes. He never makes impromptu speeches, which generally disgust the audience, but writes with deliberation and premeditation. The preacher's influence for good seldom reaches farther than his congregation, while the editor's field for good reaches all the congregations in the county. The lawyer makes a good speech in the church house and only one or two hundred persons hear him, but when the editor writes a good editorial it is copied in various papers in the state. The editor distributes more flowers than a florist and he asks nothing in return and is not overloaded with obligations to the public. The editor has opportunity to do the individual citizen a service and he never hesitates to do it. The editor has the greatest opportunity to convert men and women to his way of thinking on public questions. As the light-house on the shore warns the ships from the rocks, the editor can warn the populace from frauds and fakes. The editor has the greatest opportunity to protect society from evil by standing for the law and creating public sentiment for his town and county, and if both do not grow it is not his fault. He helps the deserving young men with words of commendation and restrains the old by words of warning. His field of usefulness is broader than anyone else in the community, and if he does not get any returns for his efforts for settlement he has a sufficient reward in seeing things get better. He rejoices in his opportunity for service to his fellow man, his town and his country and goes on his way rejoicing, whether or not he gets any return for it.—Elizabethtown, N. J., News.

SENATOR BLITCH DEAD.

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 1.—The remains of Newton A. Blitch, state railroad commissioner, commander of the Florida division, U. C. V., and former state senator, whose death occurred here Sunday night, was buried at Starke at 11 a. m. today.

Services in Tallahassee were held at 1 o'clock at the First Baptist church of which Mr. Blitch was a devout and enthusiastic member, Rev. Bunyan, the pastor officiating.

Besides his widow, Mr. Blitch is survived by five children, two sons and three daughters. They are: J. S. Blitch, superintendent of the state prison farm at Raiford; S. R. Blitch, of Montbrook; Mrs. J. E. Futch, of DeLand; Mrs. Thomas Limbo, of Starke, and Mrs. Etta Brownlee, of Starke. Three brothers also survive him. They are B. R. Blitch, of Ocala; G. M. Blitch, of Irvin, and J. M. Blitch, of Morristown.

Officers of the Florida Railroad commission here were closed Monday out of respect to Commissioner Blitch.

Manager Weeks, of Fisherman's Paradise, the fishing camp resort on Lake Apopka, reports the completion of five log cabins and they have added eighteen rowboats to the fleet. Demands for cottages are more than they can supply, and a good season bids fair to this new and popular lake shore resort. Bass fishing is good the year 'round.

a bride was placed. Mrs. Hill served a salad course followed by an ice course.

Miss Thrasher wore on this occasion a very becoming frock of green georgette, with a picture hat of black.

HALLOWEEN PARTY.

Misses Frances and Esther Louise Hughey entertained a number of their friends Monday eve at a Halloween party at their home on Fifth street.

The home was tastefully and attractively decorated with the usual decorations for the occasion with the color scheme of black and orange.

There were plenty of spooks games and stunts of original character were indulged in until a late hour.

Especially clever was the make-up of the fortune teller and in her mind and palm reading. Refreshments were very daintily served, the color scheme was here carried out in ice cream, cakes, favors, etc.

At a late hour the guests departed pronouncing the affair a decided success.

MR. AND MRS. ED. RANDALL ENTERTAIN

Monday evening the Christian Endeavor of the Congregational church with a few friends were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Randall at their home on West First street.

The rooms were decorated with black cats, witches and other things pertaining to Halloween.

The evening was passed pleasantly playing all sorts of Halloween games and later in the evening Mrs. Randall served hot chocolate, pumpkin pie and sandwiches as refreshments.

THE SANFORD SMALL BOY DID NOT RESENT THE EARLY MORNING EDICT.

There was a great stirring at dawn today. Boys were not routed out of bed in time for breakfast, for they were down in the railroad yards bright and early waiting the arrival of the flying squadron of the four trains that carry the wonders of Howe's Great London Circus and Van Amburg's Trained Wild Animals.

Yes, the bands will play, the calliopes will hoot and the great lumbering elephants—nineteen of 'em—will ambulate heavily through the thoroughfares at the end of the street parade, for which many things are claimed as to length, beauty and novelty. All the cages and dens of the combined menageries will be open to the view of the crowds along the curbs, and seven bands and three calliopes will arouse the true circus day spirit with their quickening lilt.

There'll be something doing on the lot from morn midnight; from the interesting sight of "getting the ebil thing up," to the last chariot race, from the parade to the departure of the fourth section of the trains after the last big top wagon has been loaded.

The performance will start at 2 and 8 p. m., and the doors of the double zoo will be open one hour earlier for the visit of the throngs before the opening pageantry inaugurates the big show performances in the three rings, on the stages, in the steel arenas, in the air and on the track. With hundreds of feature circus and wild animal acts, fifty clowns and many novelties, the Howe-Van Amburg circus day, it is claimed, will be one that will be pleasantly remembered for its hugeness, its speed, its color and its all around "all circus" appeal.

KOREAN MISSIONARY HERE

HALLOWEEN PARTY

The Halloween party given last evening by the members of the St. Agnes Guild, at the Parish House, was a decided success.

The Parish House was very attractive with decorations of palms, crepe paper, black cats, witches, jack-o'-lanterns, goblins and other Halloween symbols. Gay colored lanterns were strung from the four corners of the room and with the lights covered in black and yellow paper cast a soft glow over all. In one corner a fortune teller's tent was spread, and here Miss Sara Muriel dressed as a "witch" told fortunes for the guests.

A splendid program was rendered under the direction of Mrs. Julius Takach. Mrs. Newberry gave two delightful groups of reading and was called for several encores. Mr. Maurice Helston sang two solos accompanied by Miss Sara Mardre. Mrs. Takach rendered two numbers in her usual charming manner.

After the musical program games and contests were enjoyed under the leadership of Clifford Peabody, assisted by Mrs. Raymond Key and Mrs. Clifford Peabody.

BRIDGE PARTY FOR MISS THRASHER

A profusion of roses was used in decorating, a pink, lavender and green color motif being carried out, and scores for the afternoon were kept on tallies done in designs suggestive of brides.

At the conclusion of several rubbers of auction, Mrs. Robert Hines having made high score, was awarded a set of bud vases. The honoree, was presented a gold China condiment set, as souvenir of the afternoon.

Following the awarding of prizes, the guests were invited into the dining room for refreshments. The table had as its centerpiece a cunning "Kewpie" doll dressed as a bride, on either end of the table cut glass baskets filled with pink roses, the handles tied with pink and lavender and green, bride's maids frocks marked the places of the guests. At Miss Thrasher's place, a doll dressed as Well, we shot them with a natural yesterday. It was cool in the early morning and seemed to grow colder during the day and last night was really colder than usual and the result this morning in the weather is 74. Not so bad when you think about it at this time of the year and a circus in town at the same time. Circus usually comes in with the cold weather. However, it is just right today and no kick coming. Means better trade, better feeling, better crops, better town.

BANK ON BEER TO BRING HUGE
SUM IN TAXES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Revenue experts today banked on beer as a new revenue producer.

New rules allowing heavy withdrawals of real beer, revenue officials said, will add many millions of dollars to the treasury.

Before the dry era in 1918 beer and other fermented liquors brought $120,000,000 taxes into the treasury. Revenue records today showed that this year the taxes from that source were practically nil—only $25,000.

Medicinal beer sales may take on such volume, officials said, that a part of the treasury's usual deficit may be offset by mal liquors revenues.

JAIL DEBOER ON MURDER CHARGE.

MIAMI, Nov. 2.—John DeBoer, a Hollander, is in the county jail today in connection with the murder of John Best, a painter, whose body, weighted down by a heavy banice wheel, was found in Biscayne bay yesterday. Best, whose family resides at No. 415 Central Park, west, New York, had been in Miami about five months. He apparently had been dead about a week. His head had been crushed by a heavy instrument.

STEAMSHIP MAN SEES GOOD TIMES.

Business conditions throughout the country, especially in the east and in the shipping industry, are better and bright prospects are in sight.

This is the way E. A. Kelly, assistant general manager of the Clyde-Malory Steamship Co., with general headquarters in New York, sees the conditions now existing in this country.

Mr. Kelly arrived in Jacksonville Monday from Tampa, after spending several days there in the interest of his company. He will remain in Jacksonville several days before returning to New York.

During most of Monday he was in conference with Henry G. White, general agent of the Clyde Steamship Co., in Jacksonville. The two discussed the situation generally in Jacksonville and other points in the state.

Mr. Kelly came to Jacksonville for the purpose of organizing and increasing freight shipments north, he said, and believes that this line this winter and in the future will carry more freight than ever before.

He was deeply interested in the river line operated by the company from Jacksonville to Sanford and believes that when the daily sailings are inaugurated will prove a valuable asset to the fruit growers and truck farmers throughout the state.

Hundreds of persons who have never before visited Florida are coming this winter and at present the Clyde Line, operating three sailings a week between New York and Jacksonville are booked to capacity and have been this way for several weeks, Mr. Kelly pointed out.

Conditions are gradually changing in the east and the depression is being lifted, according to the assistant general manager, who has kept keenly in touch with the situation in his offices in New York.

Florida is in better shape than other states, Mr. Kelly stated, and from viewing the conditions in Jacksonville and at Tampa, he thinks Jacksonville will enjoy a prosperous year.

Mr. Kelly, while in Tampa, where he went to view the damage done by the recent tropical hurricane that struck the cigar city, several days ago, talked to hotel and business men there who are optimistic over the conditions for the coming year.

The storm, although it did some damage to the Mallory Line docks in Tampa, has not handicapped the line in making sailings and handling freight consigned to his company.

Mr. Kelly came directly to Tampa from New York and stopped over in Jacksonville enroute to New York. Reports that were exaggerated reached New York concerning the storm in Tampa and docks were not as badly damaged as first reported.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

PLUMBERS STRIKE IN MIAMI.

MIAMI, Oct. 2.—Plumbers employed in nine union shops went out on strike today when the employes refused to sign up for the old scale of wages. The plumbers have been receiving $50 for five days' work, while under a new agreement proposed by the employers they would work five and one-half days for $75.50. There are six "open shops" in Miami. Four or five union shops signed up for the old scale.

ARBUCKLE CASE WILL BE TRIED
NEXT MONDAY

And Promises Developments That Have Not Come to Light

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2. — The microscope promises to be a fateful instrument in the trial of Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, set for November 7. The film comedian is charged with the death of Virginia Rappe, as the result of an orgy in his hotel suite on Labor Day.

What the microscope reveals of mute testimony from the floor and furnishings of room 1219, the chamber where the film actress was in an hour transformed from a jovial guest to a hysterical woman with the touch of death upon her, may prove as potent as the tale of any witness.

Edward O. Heinrich, noted criminologist and microscopist, has for weeks been subjecting that room to the minutest expert scrutiny, and findings, says the prosecution, will constitute the outstanding new development at the trial.

Although District Attorney Matthew Brady will not even hint at the nature of this "surprise evidence" it is known that the state thus expects to support its contention that Virginia Rappe received her death injuries as a result of violence by Arbuckle, while the two were alone behind locked doors.

Heinrich has been comparing a lock of Miss Rappe's hair with strands found in the Arbuckle room; he had placed the dead girl's clothing under the powerful lens; he has examined filaments of lint, lace and other minute objects for some revealing clue as to what took place.

By just such scientific probing, Heinrich became the sensation at the recent trial of Wm. A. Hightower, slayer of the Colma priest, where his testimony proved a weighty factor in conviction.

Any microscopic evidence which the prosecution felt it expedient to present would be designed to strengthen the testimony of Zey Pyron-Prevost and Alice Blake, actresses and guests at the "party," upon whom it is known Brady now largely depends to maintain the assault and manslaughter charge.

Defense attorneys, guided by the shrewd Gavin McNab, are taking counter precautions, for recent criminal trials have demonstrated a growing susceptibility of juries to this character of evidence.

With Heinrich's expert analysis as the only hinted new element in its case, the prosecution will rely largely upon testimony of witnesses already heard at the preliminary hearing.

In substance this is: That Virginia Rappe left Los Angeles in good health, in the company of Al Semmner, her manager. Hearing of the Arbuckle party at the St. Francis hotel she remarked that she would "go up and see if it was worth while."

That she sat around with various guests who came and went, taking two or three drinks of gin, but not sufficient to cause intoxication.

That after a time she went to a washroom off room 1221, in the Arbuckle suite, but finding it occupied, started for a washroom off No. 1219, Arbuckle's room.

That she was followed by Arbuckle, who closed and locked the door behind her.

That up to this time Virginia Rappe had appeared both in good spirits and health and, in fact, was pictured as "tripping from the room."

That three-quarters of an hour later Mrs. Bambino Delmonti, friend of Miss Rappe, and Miss Zey Pyron-Prevost, actress, knocked at the door and finally induced Arbuckle to open it.

That "Fatty" was in a bathrobe, pajamas and slippers. On the bed lay Virginia Rappe, groaning with pain. She was fully dressed but her hair was down.

That Arbuckle attempted to use an ice application, and that the general belief was that she had either become suddenly ill or had been drinking too much. Several remedies were suggested. In the meantime others of the party helped the stricken woman to disrobe and she was carried to the bathroom and given a plunge in the tub. She still groaned and shrieked with pain.

That she was heard to moan: "I'm dying. I'm dying. He hurt me," her words not being taken seriously at the time by fellow guests.

That when efforts to quiet her failed, Arbuckle threatened to throw her out the window if "she didn't shut up."

That finally the house physician was called. That he suspected she might have suffered internal injury, and advised her removal to a hospital.

That she was taken to the Wakefield sanitarium and attended by several doctors and several nurses.

That she said to one of these nurses, "Roscoe did it. I am going to die."

That examination showed a severe bruise on one arm and lesser bruises on one leg and that post mortem examinations showed a ruptured bladder.

HIGH FREIGHT RATES IS WHAT IS AILING
COUNTRY AT PRESENT.

Mr. Moses Overstreet has just returned from an extended visit to the west, and a survey of business conditions in that section led him to say this morning, in an interview, that the answer to much of the business depression now inflicting the country, is high freight rates.

"The farmers throughout the middle west are suffering and hoping," said Mr. Overstreet, "but as I analyze the situation, there can be but little hope as long as the railroads maintain the present freight rates."

"There are thousands of tons of hay and alfalfa in Kansas and Missouri that can not be moved because the freight would eat up the profit. We might consume a great deal of it here in Florida, but the producers are prohibited from shipping it here."

"I met a woman from Nebraska who told me that corn in that state is selling for sixteen and seventeen cents a bushel, but coal is sixteen dollars a ton. So the farmers are going to burn corn as the winter's fuel."

"What with freight rates and the cost of handling them, hogs and cattle sold in market are netting the farmers next to nothing."

Mr. Overstreet was struck with the thrift and hustle of the people of the middle western section. He characterized Kansas and Missouri, as the bread pan of the world. He visited Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City while he was away, his trip lasting a month.—Reporter-Star.

HOWE'S CIRCUS HERE TODAY ONE OF THE BEST

Nellie Roth, Chief Woman Wild Animal Trainer
Howe's Great London Circus

If anyone here thought that Howe's Circus was a small one-ring affair that would be an aggregation of side shows and peanut stands, they were surprised this morning when the circus rolled in and had more cars, more horses, more wagons, more animals than any circus that has been in Sanford in many years.

Howe's Circus is a real circus in every sense of the word and best of all is a clean aggregation that will give you value received and is not looking for a chance to take your money with any two by four methods employed by some of the traveling aggregations.

Howe's Circus is spread out over the greater part of the lake front today and it shows in every detail that it is an up-to-date and first class organization with everything that a real circus should be. The men connected with the circus are business men and they believe in giving the public a square deal in every particular. Their parade demonstrated that Howe's had the goods and circuses are judged largely by their parades—in this respect it would be well to note that Howe's Circus has the longest, the biggest and the best parade of any circus entour this season—this is ac-ording to press reports from all over the United States.

The animals and the horses are featured in this circus—in fact horses make a circus if you want to get back to old theories about a circus and no circus is real unless it follows the old traditions. Horses trained to the minute and almost human in intelligence and wild animals that are trained to do all kinds of acts are the outstanding feature of Howe's Circus. However, you must not forget that the other parts of the circus are also right up to the minute. They have wonderful aerial artists, trapeze performers, wire walkers and clowns, those funny fellows that also go to make up the real old time circus and Howe's clowns are the best in the profession.

However, go yourself and see this circus. It will probably be your only chance to see one this season. Go and take the children if you need an excuse but go anyhow for regardless of your age you will enjoy the animal shows under that premier trainer, Louie Roth, the king of them all, and his wife, Nellie Roth, who is the queen of them all. You have a real circus in town today.

CLEVER CHECK CASHIER
CAUGH WITH SMILE
SHE ALWAYS WORE.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Dorothy Wilson, said by the authorities to be the cleverest check forger in the country, is being held in jail in default of $20,000 bond. Her enchanting smile trapped her—the same smile that caused everyone to hand her the cash without question when she presented a forged check.

For more than six months she flitted in and out of Chicago, Milwaukee, Kansas City and scores of small towns. Bank cashiers, hotel clerks and taxi drivers were her victims.

"We were always a jump behind her," said Detective Sergeant John Noonan. "But today we learned a pretty woman with a fetching smile had just cashed several checks. It was Dorothy, all right."

Her hearing was set for November 4, and it was said she would be unable to make bond fixed at $20,000 when she was arraigned.

"She changed the color of her hair, she wore different hats, changed her name and was able to disguise everything but her smile," said Noonan. "We don't know her real name yet. She cashed checks under the name of Dorothy Wilson, Doris Wilson, Doris Clark and Doris Clements."

NO CHANGE MADE IN BASKET BALL

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—That there will be no changes in the rules of basketball for the present at least was made evident at the meeting of the joint rules committee at Columbia University Monday night. The committee, comprising representatives from the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the Y. M. C. A. and A. A. U., held a long interpretation session, but made no suggestion of alterations in the existing code. It has been reported that some changes were contemplated, particularly one dealing with the throw from foul.

The committee met at 8 o'clock in the Schermerhorn building and discussed in detail the interpretation of various rules for the benefit of about 125 coaches, players and officials who attended the meeting. Later they adjourned to the gymnasium where two basketball teams were put into play to illustrate various plays, while the members of the committee pointed out the various interpretations to be made of the rules under certain conditions.

This method of explaining to those who take part in the game as coaches, players and officials has accomplished much in basket ball and has particularly made the task of the officials easier. It has resulted in better basketball and made the game more interesting for the spectators.

William H. Ball is chairman of the committee.

ASTRONOMERS TO FIX DATE FOR EASTER.

ROME, Nov. 2.—The vatican has announced that a conference of astronomers will take place in Rome next April under the presidency of Cardinal Mercier with the object of reforming the calendar and fixing Easter.

The occurrence this year of Easter Sunday on March 27, within five days of its earliest possible date, revived the proposal for a fixed Easter. No fewer than 16 Easters will happen in March between now and the close of this century—an average of one every five years—unless something is done to prevent the erratic wandering of the festival between March 22 and April 25.

Under the existing ecclesiastical rule, Easter Sunday can fall on any of 35 dates. The present rule is that Easter must be a Sunday and that the ecclesiastical full moon (which is not the same as the real moon) upon which it depends must occur on one of the seven days immediately preceding it. Thus, to have Easter Sunday on its earliest date, March 22, the ecclesiastical moon must be full on March 21, which date must also be a Saturday, but so rarely are these conditions satisfied in the same year that it is over a century since Easter fell on March 22 and it will not again fall so early until the year 2285.

Of late years the inconvenience of a movable Easter has induced calendar reformers to propose reforms which will either make Easter a fixed festival or greatly restrict its wanderings. One suggestion is that Easter Sunday should be assigned to the third Sunday after the spring equinox, which would give it a range of eight days, between April 5 and April 13, according to the date and day of the week on which the equinox falls.

Other proposals aim at an Easter absolutely fixed to one date. That, of course, would necessitate a radical reform of the whole calendar, under which the same weekday should always fall on the same date.

Any such reform will probably have to be universal throughout Christendom, for the moon-controlled Easter is common to all civilized countries; though, owing to the fact that the Greek church still uses the Julian calendar, there are always nearly two Easter days every year, one the Gregorian, observed by Roman Catholics and Protestants, and the other the Julian, kept by those countries which are in communion with the Greek church.

WILL BOOST HOME PAPERS

Week of November 7-12 Set for Nation-Wide Endeavor
"Subscribe to your home town paper."

This is the slogan of a new nationwide movement backed by the National Editorial Association and other agencies.

The movement has back of it far more than a selfish desire on the part of newspapers to acquire increased circulation, for it is, in effect, a step toward the perfect unification of America by the strengthening of ties that bind everyone to his native soil.

The campaign is, moreover, an excellent opportunity to boost the home town. The men and women who were born and reared here have, some of them, been away for many years and many important changes have taken place—changes in which they would be greatly interested. It is more often the case than not that private correspondence overlooks these changes, however carefully one might attempt to write "the news" in a letter.

The newspapers, on the other hand, prints all the items of interest, large and small, and is the ideal medium through which to keep in touch with in the old home town.

In order to stimulate this movement we are this week offering an extra copy of The Weekly Herald to every subscriber who calls or writes for it. This extra can be sent, with a special subscription blank which we will furnish, to any member of the family who is away from home. Or, if preferred, we will mail a copy free of charge to anyone you designate.
