

Legal Gambling And States' Rights

A new government study, based on three years of research at congressional behest, concludes that gambling is "inevitable." Therefore, its authors recommend, steps should be taken to loosen government controls on gambling, the better, if for no other reason, than to locate a new source of taxable revenue.

"States' rights" Constitutional historians must be flummoxed by that unexpected referral, the concept itself having keeled over years ago when those embattled Neanderthals in the South lost the war against the federal interventionists.

So "states' rights" became a museum piece, the sort of place high school civics instructors marched around when they couldn't stimulate the golden classmates beyond memorizing the Preamble.

Actually, "states' rights" has become a convenience for fashionable thinkers to promote certain acceptable (to them) libertarian notions: legalized gambling, marijuana, pornography, and so on.

Now people who are hazy with regard to abortion would refer the matter to the states' discretion. And so it is, now, with regard to gambling. Unfortunately, the new recommendation represents a direct attack on, not an appreciation of, true libertarianism.

One day - taking gambling - it will be institutionalized. "State lotteries," as has happened already in some states, will be the rage.

Still, libertarians can respond to this habit as an opportunity. There is something ultimately fascinating and intellectually satisfying about the report's use of the word, "inevitable."

Libertarians can center all their debates on ontology - a monstrous word, meaning "the science of being" - they will win automatically. When we get people to see that the market economy is "inevitable," we should be able to unchain businesspeople.

Waste Slows Growth

WASHINGTON - There is a considerable body of evidence which suggests that a slackening in the American industrial growth rate results in a sharpening of inflation over the long pull.

Other studies indicate that, as time goes on, intensified inflation leads to such serious stresses in the economy that major unemployment becomes inevitable.

Will it be a nebulous quality, difficult to calculate. The availability of capital is easier to measure. When Congress, the bureaucracy or the president divert large sums which are inefficiently used or expended on marginally-useful projects, those funds are not available for private investment. We all suffer.

Both men have been tied to the South Korean lobbying campaign by the Washington Post, which cited "electronic evidence." According to the Post, a tape recording apparently exists of a discussion between South Korea's President Park Chung Hee, Moon aide Park Bo Hi and the shadowy Tongson Park.

At the meeting, the three men worked out a plan to influence U.S. congressmen," the Washington Post reported.

The South Korean government has denied any connection between President Park and entrepreneur Moon. Moon's man has denied the meeting ever took place and has challenged his accusers to the alleged recording.

Kratzert, Blackburn Wow 'Em In Disney Playoff

LAKF: BUENA VISTA (AP) — Bill Kratzert, a raw rookie on the pro golf tour, stood in the middle of the fairway facing perhaps the most important shot of his young career.

Kratzert, a frequent visitor to Sanford, is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. William Kratzert Highway is named.

He and partner Woody Blackburn were on the third hole of sudden death playoff against a couple of titled veterans, former Masters champion Gary Brewer and former PGA king Bobby Nichols. At stake was the title at the Midson Team Golf Championship, $40,000 and for the rookies — an exemption from qualifying for next year.

Brewer had just put his approach four feet from the cup and appeared set for a sure birdie, probably the end of the playoff.

"I just got over the ball," Kratzert said. "It's a muscle-memory thing. I hit it. I knew it was close. The crowd yelled." The crowd yelled because Kratzert, still wearing sunglasses despite the gathering darkness, had hit it inside the hole.

Nichols missed his putt from about 18 feet and Kratzert opted to putt next. He tapped in for birdie. And Brewer, his 44-year-old nerves twitching in the growing pressure, needed to make it from four feet to stay alive. And he missed.

Nichols missed his putt from about 18 feet and Kratzert opted to putt next. He tapped in for birdie. And Brewer, his 44-year-old nerves twitching in the growing pressure, needed to make it from four feet to stay alive. And he missed.

"Dyegone, I missed two short putts and that cost us the tournament," the bitterly-disappointed Brewer said.

The four-footer on the third playoff hole was one of them. The other came on the final hole of regulation play.

He made a six-footer for birdie on the 71st hole to give him and Nichols the lead along with one hole to go. Kratzert and Blackburn had finished. Nichols and Brewer needed only one more put to tie and, since the scoring in this unique event is based on the better ball of each two-man team, they had two chances at it.

But Nichols drove into the woods and lost his ball. "Probably the most stupid thing I've ever done," he said.

Brewer also drove into the rough then put his approach into deep grass on the lip of a bunker. He hit a great chip to back into a tie with Kratzert and Blackburn at 260, 28 under par. Kratzert and Blackburn had a last-round 66, Brewer and Nichols a 64.

"Somebody had to lose," conceded Nichols. "They deserved it. He needed to be the delighted youngsters, long-shots who had to qualify to get into the tournament and among the game's more obscure performers. They didn't make a lousy all week.

"They deserved it," Nichols said, "because they played better. The bogey dropped them who, led or shared the lead through the first three rounds, and had putting troubles on their way to a 67 and a 261 total, third and only one shot out of the playoffs.

Joe Packer and Bob Zender were next at 64-82.

The group at 63 included U.S. Open champion Jerry Pate and George Burns, 64; Cal covered two Falcons fumbles and picked off four passes in beating Atlanta, 27-10.

The expansion Seahawks, 27, collected two touchdowns within 18 seconds in the second period.

Raiders 28, Bears 27: Though Ken Stabler threw three touchdowns passes, including two to Cliff Branch, Oakland, 84 — and despite the Raiders' mistake — the Bears, 45, still had a chance to win with 15 seconds left when Bob Thomas attempted a 23-yard field goal. The kick hit the upright and bounced back onto the field.

Brooks H. Bucaners 13 Tampa Bay Coach John McKay smoldered after Denver, 3-4, exploded for 38 second-half points against his 69-Bucaners. He refused to shake hands with Broncos Coach John Hufton when the game ended, accusing Denver of running up statistics against his injured expatriates.

Colt 37, Chargers 21: Bert Jones hit on 18 of 25 passes, threw them far enough down, to lead Baltimore, 61, over San Diego, 45. Running back Lydell Mitchell added 91 yards on 17 rushes and 125 yards on eight pass receptions.

Cardinals 17, Eagles 14: Jim Bakken missed his first three field goal attempts, two because of bad snaps and one that was deflected. But then the 20-yard field goal with 1:22 left defied the Cardinals, 7-2, over the Eagles, 3-6.

At the end of the game McKay, an adversary of Hufton when both men coached in the Pac-8, refused to shake hands with the Denver coach as both teams headed for the locker room. "We just ran out of ideas," McKay said. "We had to put a linebacker in the secondary. Jimmy Gunn, we were short. The (Colley) kicked the punt. The game was over."

Next Stadium Show Nov. 16

Pete Ashlock announced, "There will only be two more local boxing shows this year. The next one will be on Nov. 16 and the last one will be Dec. 7. Both shows should be the finest ones we have had this year at the Sports Stadium. The 16th it will be Joey Vincent going up against the Southern middleweight champion Emmett Atlas. Along with that, a title defense by Edgar (Mad Dog) in the works.

There, on the 7th, it should be the biggest night of boxing ever seen in this portion of the state. It will be a charity affair and we are going all out to make it a financial as well as an artist's success.

Mike Quarry is setting up in his former home state of California. In his big TV win over Tom "The Bomb" Bedea, Mike suffered an injury to the rib area and was told to take a few weeks off. While Mike is taking it easy, Teddy Brenner, the matchmaker at Madison Square Garden, is expected to meet with Mike and Joey Vincent going up against the Southern middleweight champion Emmett Atlas. Along with that, a title defense by Edgar (Mad Dog) in the works.

There is no guarantee as far as the money is concerned. And, right now, these fighters have not been planned for next year anyway. Quarry and Wells should be fighting for the world title before the year is out. Vincent has the biggest fight of his life coming up with Emmett Atlas. Watkins is in line for several big fights. And Ramos has already been offered a non-title bout with Duke. No, I think we will have a better time watching Mike and Joey Vincent going up against the Southern middleweight champion Emmett Atlas. Deltona Gold Sponsor Search On Gators Hoping For Character DELTONA — Planning is under way for the 1977 Deltona Open Golf Tournament, which will be held Feb. 2-6. The event last year drew over 240 entries, and had a total purse of $18,000.

Gold Sponsors, who put up $300 each, are now being solicited throughout central Florida area. The first round of Deltona is Deltona Rexall, represented by Adriano Sanberg, Chase & Co., represented by Lee Moore, is the first from Sanford, with C. Rintz of Reynolds Securities the first sponsor from Deland.

There were 75 Gold Sponsors last year. Part of their contributions go to swell the purse, but proceeds from the event are distributed among local charities and hospitals.

The tournament week actually will start on Monday, Feb. 1, with a mini-tournament staged by the women. This has become an increasingly popular event. Wednesday, Feb. 3, will be taken up by the pro-am play, with Thursday and Friday being pro-am and pro-am matches. The three days of the actual tournament follow.

Florida and Georgia, both 4-1 in the Southeastern Conference, will be for the championship if both win on the road Saturday. Georgia at Auburn and Florida at Kentucky.

Asked if this Florida team has more character than the one that was upset by Georgia and Kentucky two years ago, Dickey replied: "We'll find out when we come away from Lexington."

It was Dickey's controversial play calling in the Georgia game that many Florida fans will remember for a long time. Dickey decided to go for a first down on fourth and a foot at the Florida 29 in the third quarter.

The Florida's Eric Carr took a pitchout, faked a move into the line and then went wide. He was tackled short of the 30.

Dickey said the play failed because Georgia's safety made "an absolutely sure play."

"It was a point in Georgia's favor but not THE turning point," Dickey said. "There were several turning points, including two interceptions on first down plays. Georgia's defense muscled and out-expected us. We didn't get them stopped. In fact, we played like Hogan's goats."

Georgia Coach Vince Dooley said that he and his assistants were not surprised by the Florida team that got them excited to start with.

Florida State's comeback was awesome. The Seminoles reeled off drives of 78, 82, and 92 yards to score 20 points in the final period.

NFL: Surprises, Mistakes

By The Associated Press

There were almost as many surprises as there were mistakes in National Football League action Sunday.

Joe Packer and Bob Zender were next at 64-82.

Early in the final period, the running of Otis Armstrong, who finished with 116 yards, set up Jim Turner's 33-yard field goal, and Denver led 27-13.

Four plays later, Spurrier fouled at the Tampa 17 and Denver scored its first touchdown with rookie Lonnie Perrin setting the TD on a nineyard run. It took only 59 seconds for Denver to get another score as the Broncos intercepted and returned 23 yards.

The defense contributed a third touchdown less than a minute later when linebacker Bob Swenson scooped up a run in the backfield and lateraled to safety Hardy Pott, who ran 31 yards for a score.

Saints Lose Finales, 8-7

Trinity Prep closed out its football season on a losing note Saturday in an 8-7 loss to Fort Pierce in a Carroll which coach John Carroll called his "our best game of the year."

Trinity was a solid underdog to John Carroll, district champion. But the Saints had the defense. What happened the ball above his head — only to fumble it when by Detroit's Ken Barney on the Lions' three-yard line.

The ball bounced into the end zone, where Detroit recovered for a touchdown.

Redskins 24, Bears 21: The Bears got into the mistake act, too, giving up a first down to the Redskins on a fake field goal play.

Everybody in ballpark knew that fake field goal was coming.

The Capitals were beating the Minnesota Stars 6-3. Peter McNab scored his 13th goal of the season with a 1-46 run, propelling Boston past Vancouver.

"I can't remember the last 60 game I've ever seen," said Atlanta Glee Dave Creighton.

Seattle had been with the Falcons only one game.

Flames, Wings Lose Again

The Atlanta Flames and Detroit Red Wings lost again in the National Hockey League in the minors. But they take one point any time," he said.

While the Flames and Red Wings skated to a unusual scoreless tie Sunday night, these other improbabilities were happening in the National Hockey League.

Problem With Marriage: Neither Party Listens

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Most married couples don't listen to each other, and many get into fights as a result, says a professor who helps couples learn to communicate better.

"The one thing that's really important is accuracy," said Jeff Edelson, a University of Wisconsin social scientist.

"Very often one person will say something to the other when the other is busy, they'll both assume something on that basis, and as a result nobody did the shopping when each of them thought the other would do it," he said.

Edelson, who oversees "simple communication" classes aimed at easing marital strife, said husbands and wives often misunderstand each other by trying to work out major decisions in piecemeal conversations.

"You should not try to decide whether to buy a new car or something like that by talking about it a little bit, now and then," he said. "You should set aside a time to talk about it, like after dinner, to spend as much time as you need going over all the details involved in the decision," Edelson recommends basic steps toward better communication, such as calling your spouse's name before you begin talking, and making sure you and your spouse are looking at each other during conversations.

"Make sure everything you said was accurate and it was understood," he said. "If you both know why you're doing it, then it's okay to ask if they understood what you were saying."

Just as the speaker has to concentrate on saying exactly what is meant, the listener has to ask: "Am I hearing that right?" he said.

Understanding each other's words, however, is only part of the battle, Edelson said. "What you say is important, but how you say it is even more important," he said. "A reasonable request in the wrong tone or with the wrong expression can be a disaster."

For instance, one of the worst things you can say, according to Edelson, is: "You always leave the music up too loud." He suggested instead: "I'm sorry, I'm trying to concentrate on this right now and the music is bothering me."

Ragtime Years Waken Nostalgia

With piano pounding out old familiar rhythm, and occasional blasts from an antique phonograph, Max Marath recreated the musical vim and vigor of the Ragtime years for concert goers Friday night.

In Seminole Mutual Concert Association's first production of the 1976-77 season, singer-pianist-monologist Marath took a lively trip down Memory Lane in a show that was both entertaining and informative. The nostalgic mood of the show was brightened by a constant sparkle of humor, which had the audience with more smiles on their faces than tears in their eyes.

The next SMCA concert will be a Christmas program by the Stetson University Chorus on Dec. 6. The annual Champagne Ball is scheduled for Dec. 4 at the Sanford Civic Center.

'Sitter And Single Man' Saga Continues

DEAR READERS: A reader wrote that her husband's 24-year-old brother, "a nice young man," was their house-guest. They had all planned to go out that evening, but the man and wife were leaving earlier, so the houseguest would have been left to shower and dress while a 13-year-old neighbor girl sat with the child.

The wife demanded that the brother-in-law shower and dress quickly and leave the house with her so he and the young sitter wouldn't be alone in the house. The brother-in-law was incensed and the husband thought his wife was crazy.

She asked my opinion, and I said she owed the young man an apology. I received 289 letters telling me I was wrong! Not one letter in my defense! I then asked my readers if there wasn't somebody out there who agreed with me. The response was heartwarming, but my mailman isn't speaking to me. Letters poured in by the thousands, and I'm pleased to report that my mail is running about 300 to one in my favor.

DEAR ABBY: Here's one Lutheran pastor who hopes you get some support for your trusting attitude. If not, don't worry. Your advice is helpful even when it's not popular.

W.W. WARENTON, TEX.

DEAR ABBY: Unless the 13-year-old girl was Lolita, or the 24-year-old man was a potential rapist, I cannot agree that they mind is always the thought of what he can get off a woman. This includes fathers, step-fathers, brothers, uncles, neighbors and your best friend's husband.

CAREFUL IN HOUSTON

DEAR ABBY: We are a retired couple who commend you for pointing out to your opponents the paranoia, suspicion and evil-mindedness of their views. You have our 100 per cent support.

MR. AND MRS. J.C.T., OAK B.L.U.F.F.S., MASS.

DEAR ABBY: Sorry, you're wrong. If there's a one-in-a-million chance that the sitter could be molested, it wouldn't be worth the risk. Back down, Abby.

F.P.T.T.I.E.R OF THREE, SEATTLE

DEAR ABBY: Whatever happened to the principle, "Innocent until proven guilty?"

Stick to your guns! I'm 83 and read you daily.

ANCHORAGE, ALASKA

DEAR ABBY: I must vote against you, Abby. I'm also guessing that you have no daughters — only sons.

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

DEAR ORLEANS: Guess again. I have one of each.

DEAR ABBY: What's this world coming to? If that wife can't trust her own brother-in-law with a 13-year-old kid, what makes her think she can trust her own husband?

APPALLED IN CHICAGO

DEAR ABBY: I doubt that a 24-year-old would have any interest in a 13-year-old girl. It's the immature boys you have to watch out for. When I was 18 years old and did a lot of babysitting, a little 10-year-old boy actually made a pass at me!

Meet Your Commissioners Highlight Women's Talents

Marjorie Thomas, another member of the Central Florida Commission on the Status of Women, graduated from Law School at the University of Florida in June after two and a half years of commuting. "I went up on Monday mornings and came back Thursday afternoon," she says, "and I loved it."

Marjorie had been a bank officer trainee while her husband worked in a law firm in South Florida. When they moved to Orlando she had an opportunity to return to college (she had gone to Duke and the University of North Carolina). "Law seemed like the most interesting possibility," she says. Though she has not yet received notification from the Florida Bar and is, therefore, not yet licensed to practice she has already joined a local law firm on a limited basis.

"I was fortunate to get to go back to school," she says, "because I had no children and no mortgage payments. Women especially get tied into being wives and mothers. I would like to do something so things can be done locally for those who cannot go away, whether for school or whatever."

Thoughtfully she continues: "I would like to see the Commission do something to highlight the status of women in the Orlando metropolitan area as well as some of the well qualified women, so organizations other than the Commission can also utilize their talents."

Remembering that surprisingly few women even know of the programs available to help them, she concludes, "We have to get some programs going that will generate their own publicity. Initiating the right programs will provide the right publicity."

County Ups Garbage Pickup Cost

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer

Over protests from city officials, the Seminole County Commission today approved an ordinance doubling the rates for disposal of garbage at transfer stations and lift sites and upping the average homeowner's garbage collection bill by 50 cents per month.

The decision was unanimous. Commissioner Dick Williams said present rates were costing the county about $12,000 per month.

"I don't see a viable alternative," Williams said. Altamonte Springs Mayor Norman Floyd attended the session to protest raising of rates.

Concerning the increased rates at transfer stations and landfill sites, Floyd said, "You are inviting them (the people) to go out and dump their garbage into the woods."

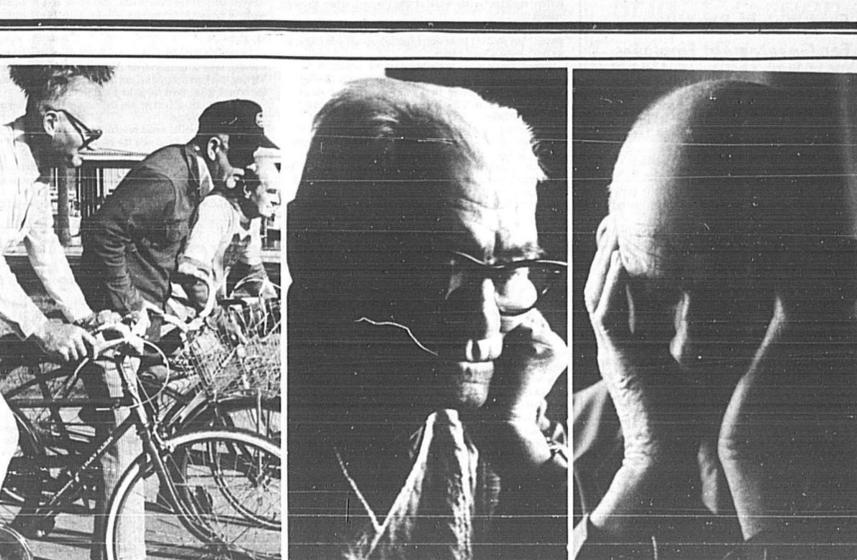

Floyd went on to say the increased rates are "harmful not only to us but to private citizens." Floyd said most cities have already established garbage pickup rates. The mayor said changing those rates now would create a big problem.

The proposed increases would provide $719,000, the amount needed to make the refuse division self-supporting. The new rates will be effective on Dec. 15.

County Planner Bill Kercher explained that the 50 cent per-month increase is an estimate by county officials. He said the actual cost passed on by 17 private firms that pick up garbage in the county will be left to the owners of the firms.

It could be as high as $1 per month, Kercher explained. Commission Chairman Mike Hattaway said present rates just weren't providing the necessary revenue. "It was not paying its way," Hattaway said. "Taxpayers were subsidizing refuse collections."

Owners of some of the collection firms were also on hand at this morning's hearing. Some owners asked that the commissioners postpone the rate hikes.

14 Boys & Dawn

By JIM McYNE Herald Sports Editor

Dawn Berguson says she's not much on women's lib, however she will strike a big blow for the feminine sex Dec. 2, when she becomes the first girl in Central Florida prep history to compete in boys basketball.

The 15-year-old freshman at Crooms High School was the only one of seven girls who went out for basketball and survived the final cut. Crooms opens its season in the Dec. 2, game at Lake Howell.

"Title IX has put athletics in a new light," admits Crooms basketball coach Bob Bray, "and I have very mixed emotions about Dawn making the team. It was close between her and the boy she was competing with. I can't say I wasn't influenced by Title IX. But by the same token, she showed the abilities to earn the job."

Crooms has a squad of 14 boys and Dawn. "Some of the boys on the team encouraged me all along," said the pert young lady who had originally planned to play on the Seminole High girl's team. "A few of the guys who got cut haven't talked to me since."

Miss Berguson is something of a celebrity around school, and Bray has taken into consideration the added pressure the situation has taken on her. "She is a good ball handler and has good speed," says Bray. "I think her shooting will come. We are working on her jump shot. Her range is 15 and in."

Dawn, Bray adds, is an "average-good" basketball player. "But we have some exceptional talent on this team."

Pinter Drops Out Of Casselberry Race Today

Problems with the Dec. 7 Casselberry municipal election piled up today as two candidates withdrew from the contest, a city official and a candidate threatened to file injunctions in circuit court to stop reopening of the candidate qualifying period, and an incumbent councilman resubmitted his qualifying documents.

Michael Pinter, proprietor of Club Juana, a topless go-go club in Casselberry, who announced he would seek election to the city council when an investigation into his establishment's operation was ordered, has withdrawn, according to Acting City Manager Mary Hawthorne. Robert Clark, a second candidate, has also asked that his name be withdrawn from the ballot.

Both men removed their names from contention when candidates were required to file sworn affidavits attesting that they had been residents of the city for the past 12 months, a requirement of the city charter. The city council Monday night ordered reopening of the candidate qualification period which had originally closed Oct. 22, in line with a federal appellate court ruling striking down a charter requirement that candidates be property owners of record for one year prior to seeking office.

Earlier, Councilman Charles Stier had been notified that he could not seek re-election since he had sold his home and moved into an apartment. Stier submitted qualifying documents this morning. The governing body on recommendation of City Attorney Kenneth McIntosh ordered the candidate qualifying period reopened at 8 a.m. this morning and to close at 5 p.m. Thursday. The council action brought a threat from Councilman Nathan Van Meter and Don See PINTER, Page 2A

Planned Sanford City Hall: 'Squatty' Or 'Orderly'?

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

A horizontal design for the proposed two-story 100 feet by 400 feet Sanford City Hall was approved by the city commission Monday night over the objections of City Manager W.E. Knowles and Commissioner John Morris.

Knowles, an art enthusiast, opposed the proposed appearance of the facility, calling it "squatty." When a suggestion was made that tall shrubs or plants be placed at intervals to break up the horizontal line, the manager said, "I don't think the city taxpayers are going to want to spend a million dollars for a building to have part of it covered to make it look good."

Morris said the design lacked imagination, adding that it resembled a "two-story garage" he had seen in Tampa. Commissioner Gordon Meyer liked the building's clean, orderly, neat" view and Commissioner A.A. McClanahan liked the basic concept although he said it looked too institutionalized.

A decision on the texture for the building's exterior was delayed until samples are presented by architect, Wayne Heasley, of Watson and Co.

In other business, the commission approved transfer from contingency funds of $1,730 as the city's share of purchasing an airplane for law enforcement surveillance and $750 monthly for maintenance of the aircraft. A Law Enforcement Administration Agency grant of $71,112 has been awarded to the city to pay the major costs of acquiring the airplane.

Tabled action until Dec. 13 on the requested rezoning of lots 37-44 of Beck's Addition to permit construction of an office building. City commissioners ordered a change in city policy to require that adjacent property owners in zoning change requests be notified of impending hearings before the governing body as well as before the planning and zoning commission. Approved a change of zoning to general commercial to permit continued use as a farm and garden store, presently non-conforming zoning, for J. Harold Hutzler in block 2, tier 17 of St. Gertrude's addition as recommended by the planning and zoning commission. Granted use of the downtown area to the Sanford Seminole Art Association to hold an art show Nov. 12 and 13.
