Billfold Bingo 100th Week 100th Week

By LARRY VERSHIEL There was a game the man played alone Christmas week five years ago in the visitors room at Seminole Memorial Hospital which looked down on First Street. The man's right eye was infected and he couldn't read or watch television for two months. His vision was obscured by the medication the nurses dropped into his eyes every hour around the clock. The sedatives dulled most of the pain but not of

So at dusk, led there by boredom, the man would go down to the visitors' room. He closed both his eyes and then, slowly, opened the lid one to see the most beautiful sight he had ever seen. The lights of Sanford ran together in a furry confusion. They didn't collide or sparkle but blended together in a glowing softness. The lights of the town were more like petals of flowers strewn together across the night which seemed to be made of silk.

After while the man strolled to the night nurse's desk to chat. They had sent most of the patients in the children's wing home for Christmas. The ward was almost shut down there. Three of the children had been brought to the floor where the man was to spend Christmas. One was Penny. There stood Penny, small and sedate in her bathrobe, imbedded in silence, proudly aloof, primly defiant. She came on this floor of adults as an equal. Penny was too stern, too poised, too serious for childhood. "This is Penny," the nurse explained to the man. "She is a little lady" she was, the nurse said, the perfect patient who had become accustomed to the routine of hospitals. It seemed logical for her to be there at Christmas time. The man thought it must be terrible for a child who had been in hospitals so much that she did not find them strange. The other children cried, the nurse said, but Penny was brave and dignified and not even afraid of needles.

Penny had a cleft palate. There had been a series of operations. One of the best doctors in Sanford had become interested in the case. It was slow but Penny had been taught to wait.

Penny, the nurse said with a sorrow that wasn't professing, had been limited by her cleft. The ridicule of other children had shut her up. The unnatural voice had been limited by her cleft. She had been limited by her cleft. She had been limited by her cleft. She had been limited by her cleft.

The nurse took Penny to the man and then left. The man found all children strangers, sat on the bed and Penny pretended to read from a book. The man will never forget that voice, struggling and grotesque, and he was very close to weeping. After that Penny came every day and read to him. But she would not utter a sound if anyone else was in the room. They spent most of their Christmas together in that room. The man is everlasting grateful to her. She gave him the most precious of all gifts when she took him into her heart. Never before had he felt the true meaning of the day which he heard Penny say MERRY CHRISTMAS.

Bids Opened On 'Diamond'

Two bids, within less than $5,000 of each other, for the contract to construct the Lake Mary interchange on Interstate 4, were opened this morning by the State Road Department at Tallahassee.

Shortly before noon that the bids were Hubbard Construction Company, Orlando, $23,087 and J. D. Manley Construction Company, Leesburg, $23,008.

SRD engineers will study the two bids but said it appeared the low bidder, Hubbard, probably will win the contract on its low bid.

The interchange will connect Lake Mary Boulevard and I-4, about three miles west of the community of Lake Mary. There will be an entrance and exit on either side of I-4, forming the "diamond."

The Lake Mary Boulevard bridge over I-4 was constructed when the expressway was built. The county already has paved the boulevard from Lake Mary to I-4 and plans soon to complete paving that highway from I-4 to the Longwood-Markham Road.

Boost For Lake Mary

Getting the Lake Mary Boulevard-Interstate 4 interchange event to take place in the Lake Mary area in many years by Donald Jackson, president of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce.

The C of C played an instrumental part in getting approval for the new connecting link, pushing the drive to provide rights of way which have been donated and decided to the county by property owners.

The interchange is vitally important to the entire county and most especially to the Lake Mary area. It will pump in new blood, cause growth to jump, reshape the area and to some extent, change the look and character of the area," Jackson states.

He reported the aim now of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce, working with the county planner and county zoning commission, is to try and retain the "country living atmosphere" while at the same time developing the area into one of high residential value. It will be necessary for some commercial development but this will be contained where best suited and required and will have buffer separation.

Four Teens Get Terms For Shooting Santa

Four mothers sobbed uncontrollably this morning as their teenage sons were forcibly removed from the County Courthouse and sentenced to county jail - until they can be moved to the boys detention home.

Juvenile Judge Karyl Housholder gave the sentence to the four who admitted shooting Santa, clown, motorcycle driver and horses in the Christmas parade.

Youths involved were Nathaniel Williams, Jerome Johnson, Edward Graham and Richard Lamarr, all 15 to 16 years old. Names of defendants are reported at request of the judge.

Judge Housholder emotionally told the boys the case was one of the worst instances of vandalism and premeditated damage to people he had seen in his years on the bench. He pointed out the "grave harm" which might have been done if the motorcycle driver, who was shot, had had control of his vehicle and gone into the crowd.

Mrs. W. V. Roberts Gets U. S. Honors

Mrs. W. Vincent (Shella) Roberts has been named one of 6,000 outstanding young American women for 1966.

Announcement was made today by Patricia Hagler, editor of the biographical compilation, sponsored by leaders of women organizations, internationally and nationally.

"These young women between the ages of 21 and 35 are honored because of their outstanding contributions and accomplishments in civic endeavors, religious, professional and political activities," said Mrs. Hagler.

Mrs. Roberts, wife of Dr. W. V. Roberts, Sanford city commissioner and local physician, is a native of Boston, Mass., and a graduate of Boston University. She has gained state and national recognition for her work with the Democratic Women's Club of Seminole County and the Democratic party on state and national levels.

During the year she served as president of the Florida Women's Club and was elected to the membership by 1,000 per cent, enabling the club to win the Christine Maxwell Award.

Part 2 Of A Series

They All Talk About Five Points

By FRED VAN PELT (Second in a series) The area known as "Five Points" pops into the news whenever there is a discussion about a site for a governmental project, whether it be a dog pound, state university, junior college, . . . or a courthouse.

Simply because it is about the geographical center of Seminole County. This should not necessarily hold true in this day of modern transportation, when it is only a matter of minutes to cover any area of small Seminole County.

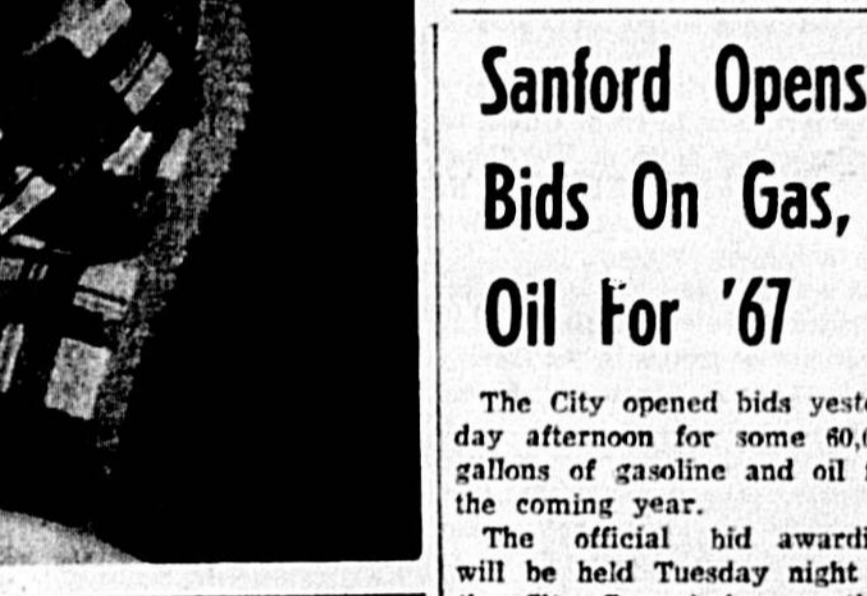

The placing of a new courthouse, in the current argument, has centered, somewhat, about Five Points, only because it is in the center of the county.

But to place a new county government building there would entail so much legislation, incorporation of a municipality, purchase of a site, construction of a water supply system, and all extra added expense.

One solution spoken of has been for the City of Sanford to annex the Five Points area. "Annexation is not a simple problem," says Sanford Mayor A. L. Wilson. "The State Supreme Court recently has curtailed state law in this field. Sanford has a special act, chapter 27185, allowing it to be accomplished by petition. No matter what method is used, the majority of the owners must agree to be annexed."

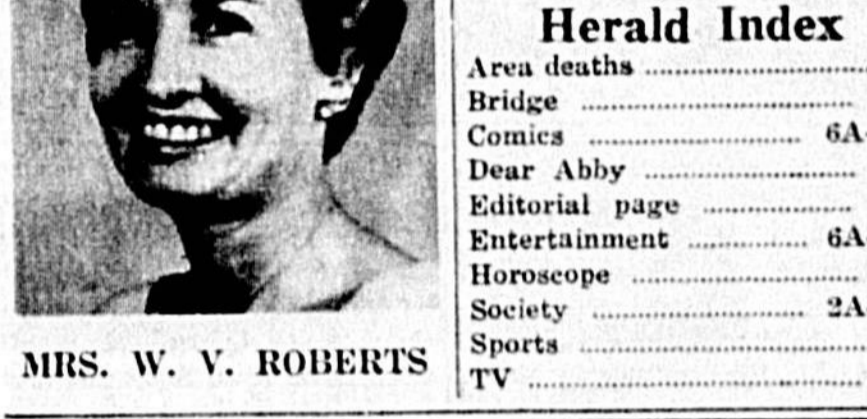

LITTLE BOY . . . BIG DRUMSTICK. Seven-year-old Billy Lee, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lee, Sr., Sanford fireman gets a turkey leg at the annual Sanford Firemen's Christmas party enjoyed by 25 firemen's families. Food was prepared by wives of the firemen and Santa Claus (top photo) enjoyed a turkey dinner, too after he finished distributing the gifts he brought for the children. In case you're wondering - he did manage to eat that piece of devil's food cake, despite the flowing beard. (Herald Photo)

Sanford Opens Bids On Gas, Oil For '67 The City opened bids yesterday afternoon for some 60,000 gallons of gasoline and oil for the coming year at City Hall.

The official bid awarding will be held Tuesday meeting at the City Commission meeting for 7 p.m. today at City Hall. Council came under severe criticism last week when the public hearing as originally scheduled had to be adjourned due to lack of a quorum.

Man Dead In Area Motel

A 44-year-old Alabama man was found dead at a Park Motel yesterday apparently as a result of monoxide poisoning. The man, identified as Harvey F. Rigby of Georgiana, Ala., was found by deputies slumped over in his room. He was overcome by smoke and deputies speculated that a flash fire from a faulty heater caused the blaze. An autopsy is being performed today.

Sanford City Hall will be closed at noon Friday in observance of the Christmas holidays. City Manager W. E. Knowles said the facility will reopen for business on Tuesday.

However, there will be refuse collections throughout the city during that period of time, Knowles added. Offices in the County Courthouse will be closed up until Monday in observance of the Christmas holidays. The offices will be open for business as usual on Friday and closed as is normal practice on Saturday.

Municipal offices in the cities of Longwood and Casselberry and the towns of Oviedo and Altamonte Springs will also observe Monday as a holiday and be closed. Longwood City Hall, normally to open Saturday mornings will be closed.

Pope Paul To Plead For Peace

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI's annual Christmas message tonight is expected to make another strong plea for peace talks in Vietnam.

As the Vatican completed preparations to broadcast the message by radio and television Wednesday at his desk in the private study next to his apartment, Vatican sources said the Pope was certain to repeat his oft-stated desire that the Asian war be ended.

The Vatican also was making final arrangements for Pope Paul's historic auto trip to France Saturday to celebrate Christmas Eve midnight Mass and demonstrate his sympathy for the flood-stricken center of Renaissance art and science.

In his last peace appeal Dec. 8, the Pope asked that the holiday truce in Vietnam be extended into a lasting armistice.

Pope Paul recorded his Christmas message for radio and television Wednesday at his desk in the private study next to his apartment. Vatican sources said the Pope was certain to repeat his oft-stated desire that the Asian war be ended.

Double Blow Dealt Commies By Bombers

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Long-range U.S. B-52 bombers delivered a double blow at Communist strongholds in Vietnam today.

One formation of the heavy bombers flew in from Guam to strike before dawn at Viet Cong bunkers and fortifications in War Zone C about 45 miles northwest of Saigon.

A second wave hit late in the afternoon at infiltrating North Vietnamese troops in the Demilitarized Zone between North and South Vietnam.

Amplifying an earlier report that the U.S. Navy reported that two Phantom jets from the carrier Kitty Hawk shot down two slow-moving enemy planes with air-to-air missiles over the Gulf of Tonkin Tuesday night and the pilots saw their captives.

An earlier announcement said only that the enemy planes had disappeared from radar detection screens. The announcement today said the planes were detected as they were heading in the direction of the nuclear-powered U.S. carrier USS Langford but did not say they were trying to attack her.

It was able to talk, Smokey Bear into coming out of the woods to speak to the little ones on prevention of forest fires.

After a parade through the village, Santa passed out gifts and each child was able to give him his list of requested toys.

As his last activity in North Orlando before leaving for his workshop at the North Pole, Santa drew the name of V. W. Gunderson to receive the fire department ladies auxiliary benefit gift, after which he was escorted back to his sleigh for the return trip home.

"A good time was had by all," the firemen reported.

Travel On Vacation

With school out for Christmas vacation many of the South Seminole Junior High School teachers are taking advantage of the time for vacationing and visiting out of town.

Mrs. Jean Warpo and her husband are looking forward to an exciting three day trip to Haiti with all expenses paid from Miami Beach. They were lucky enough to have their name drawn at the opening of a new auto dealer in Winter Park and were awarded the trip.

Also vacationing outside the county will be Mr. and Mrs. Paul Juras, who are planning a trip to Mexico. They will be visiting Mexico City and Acapulco.

Hoping for a white Christmas, Mrs. and Mrs. Walter Duran Jr., and their family will go to Franklin, N. C. with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Izarus Sr., for a week in the mountains. From there they will go to Amore, Ala., to visit relatives. All except Walter Sr., which Rev. Charles Bennett, pastor of the Sanford church, expects to draw an invitation to hear the public each night.

WORSHIP KNOWS NO CALENDAR

Some select Sunday as a day of worship. Others prefer Friday-Saturday, but the solemnity of the day is not lessened by a calendar.

Some find their God in church, others in nature, or in a fresh morning breeze. Children often find peace in an evening prayer.

Each seeks peace in his own way. All place their trust in a Supreme Being and worship as conscience dictates.

Why not thank you, too, can find solace and guidance in prayer.

No Quarrel With Governors, Says LBJ-We Just Disagree

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson says he and grumbling Democratic governors have no quarrel on personal grounds but simply disagree, at least to some extent, on programs, patronage and politics.

Johnson, conscious of criticism aimed at him at last week's caucus of Democratic governors at White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., met Wednesday with nine Democratic state executives at the LBJ Ranch, then summoned newsmen and introduced Gov. Harold E. Hughes of Iowa. Hughes was chairman of the West Virginia caucus.

While the chief executive stayed in the background, the Iowa governor said there were serious problems in carrying out some of Johnson's Great Society programs in the states.

But he said the governors, after a "very open and very frank" discussion, were leaving the ranch reinforced "in the complete support of the policies, the principles and the policies."

County Needs To Expand Its Own Health Facilities

By DOTIE AUSTIN
Just to be able to have hope is of some value to the desperate person, or to the other members of the family who realize something has to be done," declared Dr. Leone.

"But there is so much more that needs to be done," he pointed out.

"We'd like to see group therapy sessions established. More work with family groups would be helpful. More preventive therapy would be beneficial. Classes in how to help mentally ill family members would be an additional service."

"More public relations work is needed to spread the word about the clinic and encourage people to make use of the service."

"Often it is a problem to get a person to admit he needs help and persuade him to seek it, because of the old stigma that is attached to mental illness."

"Parents often feel insulted when told they should seek the services of a psychiatrist for their child. They take it as an indication of personal failure which they refuse to admit."

"Many adults are enraged when their spouse or doctor suggest they seek psychiatric help. They prefer to believe their illness is physical, rather than emotional or mental."

"Public education can help overcome this feeling of shame and help get some persons aid before the situation gets out of control," he noted.

"We hope now that a start has been made, the Seminole Mental Health Clinic can continue to grow and expand to provide the many additional services needed by the people of this county," Dr. Leone commented.

"We need to take care of our own, instead of looking to other counties for help," he declared.

"Other counties, no larger in population than Seminole have much greater services and we can do it, too."

"It is necessary to have the efforts of the public behind our efforts so that they may make it known to their government officials that they want these services to be made available here," he concluded.

Now that the mental health clinic is started here — even though it is on a shoe-string, one-day-a-week basis, it is apparent that there are many persons in Seminole County who are greatly in need of help.

"It is important that people at least have the knowledge that the clinic is here and there is some hope of assistance."

Seminoles Lose 70-48, In Highland Cage Classic

SO, I'M WALKING DOWN THE STREET and I hear this screaming voice, "Hey, you're just the guy I was looking for."

Just by the tone, I knew it must be a sore Alabama fan AND I GUESSED RIGHT! Charging me with a better's glint in his eye was F. D. Scott of Sanford Auto Parts.

You mean you actually picked Alabama behind Notre Dame, Michigan State and Georgia Tech?

Now that I've outrun him and returned to the sanctity of this typewriter, I'll give him an answer all right.

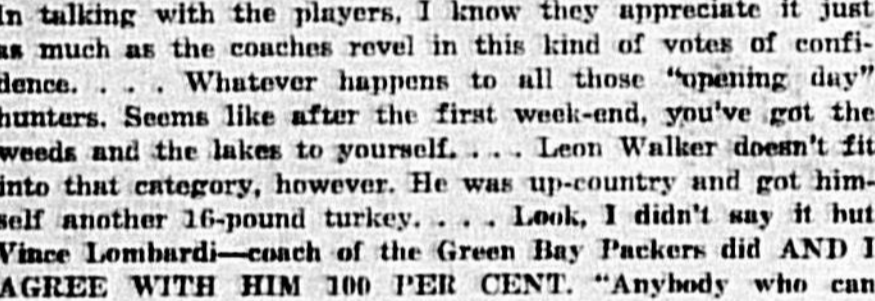

Yes sir, I made a mistake all right. I should have said they followed N. D., Mich. St., Ga. Tech, YASSA! and then Alabama. . . . nah, I ain't even got the nerve to type it out. The girls at Yassar might not like it.

Tell you what I'm gonna do, Scott. Since Alabama is the only unbeat major team in the country and since they are favored to knock-off Nebraska in the Sugar Bowl by five points, I'll just pick that as a sure bet to GET BEAT by Bob Devaney's eleven.

Go, GO, NEBRASKA!

And to give you still another idea of how strong this weed is that I'm puffing, I'm going way out and picking the Dallas Cowboys over the Green Bay Packers. Let's all give the Florida Flash a great big cheer. . . .

O.K. So who's the wise guy that put in this Green Bay mat?

SPORTS SIPPINS . . . Gee, what a thrill walking into Lyman's gym and seeing that it was filled to capacity for their match with the Fighting Seminoles. And what exuberance . . . you couldn't tell which was leader, the cheering or the vigilant taping off. Congratulations to all of you for supporting your local high school basketball teams.

In talking with the players, I know they appreciate it just as much as the crowd in their kind words of confidence. . . . Whatever happens to all those "opening day" hunters. Seems like after the first week-end, you've got the weeds and the lakes to yourself. . . . Len Walker doesn't fit into that category, however. He was up-country and got himself another 16-pound turkey. . . . Look, I didn't say it but Vince Lombardi—coach of the Green Bay Packers did AND I AGREE WITH HIM 100 PER CENT. Anybody who can sit and watch three football games on Thanksgiving has got to be nuts. . . . I never quite make it past the first quarter of the second game before I'm dazing in front of the "boob tube." . . . Here's hoping Mack Edythe and the Sanford five do well at the Highland Classic Christmas tournament. They have the makings of a good unit but have taken a couple of close ones on the chin in the opening stages of this year's schedule. . . . Similar best wishes riding out to Ovidio's Dick tractor and his crew in their Circus Classic tourney at Javiness the 23rd thru the 31st. Sure hope that Simon Harper continues on his hot streak.

Keep 'Em Smiling

When Bill Vecek told that Michael Burke of CBS would be the new president of the New York Yankees, he was quite amused.

"I'm glad to see that he has a former circus background (Burke was formerly with Ringling Bros.). Vecek said, "When you're in that place having to deal with the circus gives you a better appreciation of clowning."

JUST HOW DARN SILLY CAN YOU GET? . . . I admire and applaud all those women who've taken up arms in the anti-fur pistol training in our immediate area.

And at the same time, I'm convinced that those New Jersey mosquitoes must have stung some of the thinking cells up there.

Do you know that they require "anyone under 18 years of age to obtain a psychiatrist's certificate" to purchase an air rifle?

Thank goodness a T. J. Gallagher, 29, decided to take this issue to court, cause this law has been cited as an "ideal measure" and is already being launched in several other states.

In Cranford, New Jersey, a community of 25,000, allegedly refused a gun permit to Gallagher unless he received certificates of "mental and physical" health.

It just so happens that Gallagher is a U.S. Army marksmanship instructor, a former member of the N. J. All State marksmanship team. He has a family man with a spotless record an NRA Life Member and an ardent shooter for 15 years.

After the hearing, his application was approved.

I urge all who are interested to write your Congressman that this statute is a violation of the Second Amendment, "the right to bear arms" and the Fifth Amendment, too.

FLASH!!! . . . I mean stop those process, man! The first part of the much heralded "golf-hoarding" match has now been entered into the record books.

The comeback of Bob (please keep it on the alley) Cooke and E.S. (Lucky Stiff Split-Six) smothered "Bowler of the Year" Harry Pentecost and his cohort, Mike Wheelock.

And now if we can elude them on the golf course, there'll be some banner headlines next week. I'll betcha. My immediate concern is that your year's golf score has a strange tendency to resemble my bowling score, too.

Look, if Arnie and Jack can combine their talents what's wrong with a duo of Split-Six and Cook. We could kill ourselves as B. C.—(such clowning).

Pitching 'Em Tight

The hot stove league controversy regarding brushback pitchers brought this one from Billy Elmer.

"Freddy Fitzsimmons is my choice as the best in that department."

"He once hit me while I was in the sock-dock circle," said Herman.

The Falcons of Dunedin High School, last year's state champions, made short order of the visiting Seminoles in the opener of the Highland Basketball Tournament last night by dumping Sanford 70-48.

Only two of the Seminoles' cage unit were able to hit double figures, Frank Whigham with 6-3-15 and Lamar Oxford with one point shy with 6-3-14.

According to Head Coach Mack Edythe, "We were in the running up to 5:57 of the third quarter and only trailing 32-21, but we never picked it up from there on. As a matter of fact, it went from bad to worse."

Dunedin fielded a much bigger and stronger unit than the local five and had complete control of the boards.

"They not only got more of the rebounds, but they were pretty accurate from the free-throw line," added Edythe.

The tournament continues through Friday of this week with today's action pitting Hardee County High School of Wauchoula against the Seminoles, both losers in their initial games. Hardee lost its first game to Bradford High School of Stark.

Today's game time is set for 4:30 p.m. with the final day's action starting at 6 p.m.

All schools participating in this tournament are North-east High School of St. Petersburg, Plant City High School and the Seminole High School of Largo.

Sanford went into the tournament with a current record of one win against three defeats.

The Whacker Ready

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—When Wyoming's offense gets tired blood, Coach Lloyd Eaton sends in the Whacker.

Whacker Jerry DePoyster is the Wyoming kicking specialist who might play a key role in Saturday's Sun Bowl football game against Florida State.

DePoyster split the uprights with 13 field goals and 22 extra points for 70 points this season, the high in Wyoming's 93 Western Athletic Conference championship team.

"If we're not rating up the yardage around this well," said Eaton, "we might as well give it a whack."

DePoyster kicked three 54-yard field goals and another for 22 yards during the Cowpoker season. The 6-foot-2 junior also handles the punting, averaging 40 yards per kick. His longest punt was 77 yards last year.

Nero Top Choice In SOKC Spot

The second hurdle race of the season is on tap tonight at the state cabinet members, legislative leaders and the Democratic members of the Florida congressional delegation.

Highly favored is the "Boss" idea of Adams, which is amusing but not very funny. "I repeat that his (Adams') doctrine of the right of the citizen to pick his own representatives is a doctrine of the Democrats."

"The (Adams) says . . . that all prominent office holders—congressmen, cabinet members, legislators and so forth—constitute a kind of composite artificial person should be the titular leader of the Democratic party."

"I don't have any doubts the operation will be a success," Namath said from his mother's home in Beaver Falls, Pa., where he is spending the holidays. "I couldn't come out any worse and we're hoping the operation will make it better."

Namath's first operation was in January, 1963, for the removal of cartilage on the inside of the knee. The forthcoming operation is for outside cartilage.

Actually, the operation could be even more extensive. A team of three surgeons will decide when Namath enters Lenox Hill Hospital whether to attempt more serious ligament surgery to give the knee more stability.

Originally, Jets' owner Sonny Werblin and Coach Weeb Ewbank were against the operation, but it was obvious Namath was not in top shape. But, on Monday, a routine examination of Namath's knee revealed the torn cartilage.

Namath said he expects to spend about two weeks in the hospital, from four to six weeks in a cast, and then four or five months recuperating and exercising the knee.

Namath performed well during the season just completed—connecting on 222 of 471 passes for 3,379 yards and 19 touchdowns. But he was hampered by lack of mobility, the inability to escape when opposing linemen broke through the best pass protection. He had 27 passes intercepted.

"I ran. I won. I am the titular leader. But I welcome—and solicit—the collaboration and support of Tom Adams and all good Democrats."

Adams, contacted last night by telephone at his Tallahassee home, repeated statements he made earlier in the day that he would support the Democratic party and its leadership.

Adams said he felt the "overwhelming majority of the state cabinet, if not of all state, congressmen" with him. He also said legislative leaders and members of the congressional delegation that a composite leadership is necessary.

"I'm not quarreling with Bob High," Adams said. "I look to the national level where the defeated presidential candidate is not called upon to lead the party. Goldwater (Barry) and Stevenson (Adlai) weren't."

Adams said he's convinced that the Democratic Party will remain a party in name only until a working relationship is achieved between the state government and the state government.

Adams originally advocated the composite leadership Wednesday morning in his office. High issued a statement a short time later which said the fact that he won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination by 100,000 votes last spring made it clear to him that the Democratic voters of the state consider him their leader.

"Some Democrats, including one prominent one whom I upset in the second primary, refused to abide by the rules of the game. They did not accept the party's verdict. They rejected the Republicans in the general election. . . . I am not sure they were Republicans in Democratic clothing all along."

"How Tom seems to want to contest that verdict, too."

'I Want It Done' Is Namath Finished?

JOE NAMATH

NEW YORK (AP)—"I want to have it done," Joe Namath said.

Next week, the New York Jets' $400,000 quarterback will get his wish — his right knee will be operated on for the second time and Namath will lose a lateral cartilage that was torn in August during an exhibition game.

"I don't have any doubts the operation will be a success," Namath said from his mother's home in Beaver Falls, Pa., where he is spending the holidays. "I couldn't come out any worse and we're hoping the operation will make it better."

High And Adams: 'I'm The Boss'

MIAMI (AP)—Miami Mayor Robert King High and Secretary of State Tom Adams were at odds today as to who is the titular head of Florida's Democrats . . . and the disagreement could further split the party.

Adams is advocating a composite leadership made up of legislative leaders and the Democratic members of the Florida congressional delegation.

High feels Adams' idea is amusing but not very funny. "I repeat that his (Adams') doctrine of the right of the citizen to pick his own representatives is a doctrine of the Democrats."

"The (Adams) says . . . that all prominent office holders—congressmen, cabinet members, legislators and so forth—constitute a kind of composite artificial person should be the titular leader of the Democratic party."

Lake Mary C Of C Cheers 'Diamond' Plan

(Continued from Page 1) Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce who have worked so hard toward making it become a reality for the benefit of all. I feel the residents should be given a round of applause for their donations of land, time and their determination.

"Only little more than three years ago, the files on this interchange were buried in back of the drawer at the county engineer's office and hopefully inactive. When the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce blew the dust off and picked up the ball to run with, everyone said it couldn't happen—there'd never be an interchange, or even at the remotest possibility, not until 1975 or later.

"It was at this point the current drive to get the interchange started and it has been through the efforts of many people, united together, that it has come to this successful end. This was an effort by residents, organizations, county and state officials, and it is a credit to the Interstate 17-92 and its access on over to Sanford Avenue and SR 40 eastward, providing a much quicker and easier route out to the highway for trucking as well as personal travel. The interchange will provide a much needed and long needed interchange in many ways, possibly one of which aren't even realized as yet," he concluded.

Probe Stepped Up For Lost Girls

Two young men claimed the state attorney said the woman made her statements to him under oath. He called her information "important because as the girls escorts and said they would take care of the girls' welfare."

"According to this witness' testimony," Oldham said, "the items were placed on a table by Mackie and Dauterman." Previously, investigators had theorized the girls left the articles on the table.

Mackie, 21, of Belleair, and Dauterman, 22, of Largo, both have refused to testify under oath and declined to take lie detector tests, Oldham said.

Jesus Drove Out The Moneychangers

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

The scene churned with commerce. It had become the nation's biggest profit-making establishment, so much so that the Roman overlords would continue it even after they razed the Jerusalem Temple and replaced it with a shrine to the pagan god Jupiter.

On frequent pilgrimages there Jesus had watched in dismay the growing economic deterioration of the great sanctuary, the bartering, the animal pens, coin exchanges, the collection of head taxes from every male citizen over 10.

Today, He would not take it any longer without challenging it. His hands worked at some leather thongs, of the kind used by cattle drovers, twisting them into a stout braided cord. He held back, "the very stones would cry out."

He upset the entrenched order. He dared the system. He broke traditional laws. He disturbed the dominant classes. He was a rebel. And He was not afraid.

His early instructions deployed his men carried an ominous urgency. "Take nothing for journey, no staff, nor bag, nor money." Not even a change of garment.

In this task, there was no place for ordinary concerns. Eat and lodge wherever the door is open to you. No time can be wasted. If a town spurns you, "shake off the dust from your feet as you leave." Do not pause because of reverts.

"But beware," He warned. Foes will encircle you and devour you. No time can be wasted. If a town spurns you, "shake off the dust from your feet as you leave." Do not pause because of reverts.

Over and over, He defied the prevailing codes, the social custom. "You have heard it said . . . but I tell you . . ." And He would rip into the external proprieties, stressing motive and purpose over form.

Yet He insisted this was not the destruction of law, but its fulfilling. People puzzled. "What is this? A new teaching? We never say anything like this. . . who can forgive sins but God alone?" Repeated warning was brought to Him by His disciples, but He disregarded it. Relatives, hearing of Him, tried to deter Him. He knew what the outcome would be and tried to prepare His Apostles.

"The Son of Man is to be delivered into the hands of men and they will kill Him." But they apparently couldn't conceive of it.

A group of vigilantes came with stones as He spoke with a group on the Temple's Solomon Porch. "I am come that they may have life, and have it more abundantly."

"The Son of Man is to be delivered into the hands of men and they will kill Him." But they apparently couldn't conceive of it.

A group of vigilantes came with stones as He spoke with a group on the Temple's Solomon Porch. "I am come that they may have life, and have it more abundantly."

Over and over, He defied the prevailing codes, the social custom. "You have heard it said . . . but I tell you . . ." And He would rip into the external proprieties, stressing motive and purpose over form.

Yet He insisted this was not the destruction of law, but its fulfilling. People puzzled. "What is this? A new teaching? We never say anything like this. . . who can forgive sins but God alone?" Repeated warning was brought to Him by His disciples, but He disregarded it.

Relatives, hearing of Him, tried to deter Him. He knew what the outcome would be and tried to prepare His Apostles.

Spies and leather-shirted ruffians, dispatched by the Sadducean cohorts of Rome, kept up a running harassment, as the days wore on. "Tomorrow," The Comforter

Forest Of Trees Planted By Scout Troops 543, 507

More than 11,000 slash pine seedlings were planted last weekend by Boy Scouts from Troops 543 and 507. The planting program is part of a conservation project to prevent soil and water erosion and improve the area around the camp.

Scouts of Troop 543 used two new tents they had purchased with money earned from their "bottle collection drive." Scoutmasters noted they carefully "took off their shoes before entering the new tents."

Each boy who helped plant the trees received a certificate of appreciation for his work. The citizens were signed by Herbert Pedrick, Scoutmaster, who has been working for many years to improve the area around the camp.

He noted that pine seedlings planted ten years ago at the camp by Danny Gilmartin are now 20 feet tall. Danny is now in the Navy, stationed in Rota, Spain.

Led by Eugene Gilmartin, Scouts from Troop 543 included Brian Gilmartin, Arthur Levy, Bruce Fortier, Joseph McGovern, John Perallo, Robert and Mark Weubler, Michael Gilmartin, Jeff Kreckel, William Magner, Jeff Boves and Mascot Patrick Gilmartin.

Seminole County's six-year population explosion has blasted it into among the leaders of Florida's most populous counties, making Seminole among the most powerful subdivisions in the state.

The University of Florida's Bureau of Economic and Business Research figures that Seminole went from 54,900 in the 1950 census to 70,000 in 1960, which puts Seminole county in 14th place among Florida counties. Seminole has been in 17th place among Florida counties for many years. These current population figures by the reliable university bureau lines up the top 10 counties like this: Dade, 1,100,000; Duval, 511,600; Hillsborough, 451,000; Broward, 450,300; Pinellas, 433,400; Orange, 305,500; Palm Beach, 288,800; Polk, 231,400; Brevard, 197,700; and Escambia, 192,600.

Although our county is below these "giants," the report places Seminole far above its neighboring counties in growth rate — some 27.5 increase over the 1950 census.

Our six-year gain of some 16,000 is mighty impressive, no matter how you compare it. If you could stack these 16,000 new people, they would tower skyward for about four miles. This figures out to around 200,000 feet of people. Many of our airliners cruise at roughly 40,000 feet, so our human "tower" in the sky would reach up over five times higher than the altitude of a jet.

Seminole's 16,000 population increase also is greater than the 1966 individual population totals of 60 of Florida's 67 counties, for another type of comparison. So no matter how you stack it, Seminole has found its place in the Florida scene. Now it's up to us to let this be known in important government circles and make certain the politicians in the capital are fully aware of the fact in our dealings with them.

Who is the reader of newspaper advertising? This is not a hypothetical question. Research agencies have found some of the answers in a study during a quarter of century study: —He is more intelligent and more literate than people who respond to other advertising. —He is likely to have more money to spend than other people. —He is over 80 per cent of the women about to go grocery shopping. —He is more likely to be considering the purchase of automobiles, trucks or tractors. —If she is older, she gives advice on foods, electrical appliances, sewing and parties. —If she is a teenager, she sets the pace in selecting skirts, snacks, and sneakers.

Who Reads Ads —If he is a teenager, others follow him to dress shops, cycle shops, and sports stores. —The newspaper reader is someone looking for a house to rent, or someone trying to find a house. —He is likely to be looking for a typist, or a typist looking for a job. —He is a tycoon looking for a Cadillac, or a salesman looking for a tycoon. —He is a boy looking for a puppy, or someone with a litter of mongrels needing homes. —He is a builder looking for a loan, or a banker looking for a loan. —He or she is the whole local community with unsatisfied wants and needs. (By Dr. S. S. Talbert, Chairman, Journalism Dept. University of Mississippi) —Jackson (Miss.), Clarion-Ledger.

Analysis Of The News
WASHINGTON (AP) — More and more the attention of the country is being focused on the strange new world of President Johnson, a world of silence and withdrawal, to see what emerges from it in 1967.

He can't go on like this if he hopes to run for the presidency again in 1968 although up to this time he hasn't said he will. Today a group of governors confer with him at his Texas ranch. But anyone who knows him can be sure the criticism he got from Democratic governors last week has stunned him bitterly. Some of them blamed his domestic policies and political operations for the gains the November elections.

That they should have made such an attack on him, probably unprecedented, shows the depth of dissatisfaction within the Democratic party with his leadership, or rather lack of it. They were thinking, of course, of the meager campaigning he did for his party in the last election, an extraordinary neglect for a man who is so totally popular as Johnson.

One shrewd political observer tried to explain that performance by saying that Johnson is not a politician, he is a man. He is sure of himself, and thought it better to stay out. This doesn't add up. His job in the campaigns wasn't the nuts and bolts task of putting political machines together. His job simply was to help candidates by appearing in their areas and speaking for them. But this backed away from him and his reason has never been explained by him. But his whole performance in recent months has almost had the air of mystery about it. He has wrapped himself in silence while criticism of him increases and his popularity goes down.

Grand Illusion

Hal Boyle Says:

NEW YORK (AP) — Everybody really got into Christmas. Some say they don't like Christmas for this reason, or that they don't like it for that reason. But what they complain come down to, if put under a long look, is this: They are afraid to put their heart into this Christmas because they are lonesome for some Christmas before.

The human heart must look ahead to do its duty; but the body really got into Christmas. Everybody liked the tree all around except mother. When the children pawed themselves awake and ran shivering downstairs in their long winter underwear they found in each stocking a golden fresh orange—the only one they knew all year long except if they were ill and red and green candy. And piled in a small heap under the tree were the toys and presents from Santa Claus for the family to play with and wear and to share. The room erupted in tumult. "Is this for me? See what I got! Is this for both of us? Please, can I try it first? Now it's my turn. Well, all right, me next."

Well, child, so glad you asked to catch a branch from the hearth-careful, don't burn yourself, son and help Grandpa light his old croquet pipe, and he'll be happy to tell you how Christmas was in the old days.

He can close his eyes, and take a puff, and remember when—Most of the ornaments on the Christmas tree were handmade. Any decoration that wasn't homemade was fervently believed, as was any glass eye in the neighborhood, to come from Czechoslovakia. So was the cut glass bowl on the golden oak sideboard.

Anything from Czechoslovakia was fragile and reflected light and was prized because it represented an exotic, mysterious, or a kind of class. The Christmas tree, as often as not, was selected after a venturesome trip to the family car, interrupted by three flat tires—to the countryside, and hauled down in person and taken home in triumph. Those who didn't have an automobile would lug it to the nearest railway line and bring it home by streetcar. The motor-man laughed, and the conductor charged no fare for the tree. As a matter of fact, he wouldn't.

Tony's father is trying to rationalize! Parents must make many decisions for their children, both in medicine and morality. It is folly to say one should wait till a child is old enough to make up his own mind. You must bring the long before it becomes a treat!

Parents, this is the way our widespread moral erosion in America has been developing. For adults must make certain helpful decisions concerning their children while they are still young.

Parents must bend the twig early! For example, teach your youngster to brush his teeth. And hang up his towel or wash cloth. Train him to put his toys away before he goes to bed. And don't wait till he is old enough to decide on the medical value of vaccination against smallpox or polio shots!

Remember, too, that the most important vitamin of all is famous Vitamin "P." You can offer him all the other vitamins known to modern medicine and still have him seriously stunted in his agricultural development.

Moreover, Vitamin "A," "B," "C" and "D" are merely good vitamins. Vitamin "P" is religion! If you are interested in interest in U.S. Savings Bonds, which now carry more interest than ever. Turkey gobblers, now proudly strutting, little suspect the lowly pig that lies ahead. It will take a real snow job to con your neighbor into lending you his snow remover.

MISS GEORGANNE PHILIPS

Annual Christmas Party Meets With Mrs. Pearce

The annual Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority Christmas party was held at the home of Catherine Pearce with Elizabeth Gallant as co-hostess.

The living room decorations were centered around the large fire place with blazing Yule logs. The mantle was festive with Christmas greens, red berries, candles and novel tinzel arrangements.

At the business session, the chapter members voted to present Christmas donations to the Florida State University Scholarship Fund and to the Mental Health Clinic of Seminole County.

A gift was given to the Florida Alpha Delta Kappa Scholarship House recently purchased on the Florida State University Campus, which at the present time is housing nine scholarship boys.

A social hour followed the business meeting, at which time secret sister gifts were distributed from the Christmas tree.

The refreshment table reflected the Christmas season with a sheer white nylon cloth over red damask. Two triple silver candelabras with tall lighted red tapers formed the center arrangement.

Delicious refreshments of decorated cakes and congealed salad topped with red and green wreaths were served with tea and coffee from a beautifully appointed silver service.

Chapter members present were: President Kate Nash, Ruby Booth, Arletta Coberly, Mary Elizabeth Dunn, Cindy Crain, Hazel F. J. M., Faye Gaines, Elizabeth Gallant, Mary Groome, Mary Grace Kosky, Kathleen Lee, Dorothy Morrison, Ann Martin, Marion Nichols, Catherine Pearce, Margaret Reynolds, Helen Richey, Roberta Richards, Joyce Roberts, Belle Rumbler, Marie Stumpf, Dura Wakefield, Lorraine Whiting, Ollie Reese Whittle, Lois Wilkins and Esther Williams.

Reporting on our hospital patients: Mrs. Kitty Jackson is back on her job; D. J. Parker is home recuperating nicely, pitiful anyway.

Mrs. Annabell Troft and children, Judi, Ralph and Bessie, left Tuesday by jet to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stang and family in Cleveland, Ohio.

Miss Lani Friend, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Friend, is home today. All are doing well, but Mr. Harris will have to remain in bed for another week or so. At least at this time it seems they will all be out of the hospital any day.

Mrs. Barbara Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin R. Thompson, arrived last week to spend the Christmas vacation at their home on Roseway Drive. Barbara is a student at Auburn University, Auburn, Ala., and will be a third quarter freshman in January.

Other freshman students from Auburn University home for the holidays are Adriana Weitsma, Buckley Smith, Mike and Chuck Scott, David Wieboldt, Rick Walstrom and Roger Lewis.

People Of World Ready To Celebrate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
From bustling Japanese department stores to Brazilian beaches and an Arab checkpoint in Jerusalem, people of the world are making ready to celebrate the birthday of Christ.
Some Christmas customs, such as the Polish rush to buy trees, are familiar in many lands. Others, such as street dancing in Ghana, are not. But all add up to the holiday formula: Faith, feasting and festivity. Thousands of pilgrims will line up at Mandelbaum gate in Jerusalem to cross into Jordan for services in Bethlehem at the Church of the Nativity, over the grotto where—tradition says—Jesus was born.

In Brazil, where Christmas usually brings crowds to the seashore, you give your girl a bikini and not have to wait six months to see her in it. The holiday comes at the beginning of the Brazilian summer.

Here is a sampling of Christmas observances around the world:
Japan—Christmas has no religious meaning but store owners cashing in on an economic upswing have made it a commercial success. Sales, Christmas trees, Santa Claus and record-ed carols lure Japanese to department stores in record numbers. Battery-operated toy monsters popularized by television are big sellers. Thousands of Christmas cakes with "Merry Xmas" written in chocolate across the top are sold at prices up to $2.
ITALY—Few Roman Catholic priests spoke out this year against the growing use of the yule tree instead of the creche and the trend to Santa Claus. Instead of the Good Witch Befana, who brings children gifts on Epiphany Day, Jan. 6.

SOVIET UNION—For the first time, Father Frost, Russia's jolly, bearded version of Santa Claus, is making house calls. So are his granddaughters, the Snow Maidens. Father Frost traditionally put gifts under yule trees as children slept Christmas morning. The Communists changed that, and now his day is New Year's. This year, Detski Mir, Russia's biggest children's store, announced that for a 23-cent fee parents could arrange for Father Frost or a Snow Maiden to deliver presents to children in person. The response was overwhelming. By coincidence, deliveries start Dec. 25.
CUBA—Religious observances and Santa Claus are being de-emphasized in favor of year-end fiestas and celebration of the eight anniversary of Fidel Castro's victory Jan. 1.

Jackie Apparent Winner In Kennedy Book Row

NEW YORK (AP) — The chief counsel for Harper & Row said today the book publishing firm "will be very glad" to settle the Kennedy book controversy with Mrs. John F. Kennedy along the lines of her out-of-court agreement with Look magazine.
Requested deletions and modifications that pertain to the personal life of Mrs. Kennedy and her children will allow Look to publish a four-part serialization of the book, "The Death of a President," as scheduled. The first part of the 80,000-word serial will be in the Look issue of Jan. 10.

When informed of the agreement reached Wednesday night, Edward S. Greenbaum, attorney for Harper & Row, said: "Harper & Row will be very glad to make a similar arrangement with Mrs. Kennedy."
Harper & Row officials requested a conference today with Simon H. Rifkind, attorney for Mrs. Kennedy.

Both Mrs. Kennedy and Gardner Cowles, chairman of the board of Cowles Communications, Inc., publishers of Look, issued statements shortly after the agreement was announced.
"I hope," said Cowles, "that the controversy between the Kennedy family and Harper & Row will be speedily resolved because Cass Canfield (chairman of the executive committee of Harper & Row) has been extremely helpful in the discussions concerning the serialization."
Mrs. Kennedy said in her statement that "Look magazine has agreed to remove or modify all those passages in the magazine version of 'The Death of a President' relating to the personal life" of herself and her children.

"These paragraphs," Mrs. Kennedy's statement continued, "were the sole reasons for the initiation of her legal action. Since every passage of a personal nature under contention for several months was either deleted by Look, or changed to her satisfaction, Mrs. Kennedy has withdrawn her suit."

The Cowles' statement said that the changes involved "approximately 1,600 out of 80,000 authorized words, but that they in no way affected the historical accuracy or completeness of Mrs. Kennedy's manuscript."
Mrs. Kennedy, in what was interpreted by some as an apparent but indirect allusion to President Johnson, said in her statement: "I have been told there are historical inaccuracies and unfair references in this book. That they have been written is unfortunate. However, it was clear before bringing this suit that historical judgments, even if inaccurate, could not properly be suppressed by a court of law. In time, history will deal fairly and justly with this period."

Several persons who have read the book reported that it shows a hostility by the Kennedys towards Johnson and depicts the President in an unfavorable light. Some of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's advisors feel that it could further strain the political relationship between Johnson and Kennedy and possibly have an adverse effect on the Democratic senator's political future.
A source close to the Kennedy family said earlier in the week that members of the family also were upset about the reference to Johnson in the book, and that they felt Manchester had treated the President in an un-

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My daughter, Nancy, became engaged recently to a boy and I have been shopping for her wedding gown and veil.

Well, you know how these young girls look nowadays with their little boy-fashion haircuts and that pale-face makeup with white lipstick! When Nancy tried on your white bridal gown and veil I didn't know whether to laugh or cry!

Should we try to get her to wear a wig for the wedding? A wedding veil looks ridiculous over a little boy hair-cut. And while you're at it, Abby, please say something to the young girls about how ugly they look in the name of fashion.

NANCY'S MOTHER
DEAR ABBY: My daughter must have been doing SOMETHING right or she wouldn't be shopping for a bride outfit. But for what it's worth, I agree. Girls look much prettier with hair and makeup that suggests a living, breathing person in underneath it. All. Forget the wig. Hair to die and gone tomorrow.

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of a 7-year-old boy and my husband and I would like to adopt a little girl, one day while I was working so I said yes, and hoped I took something from a store and was arrested. My husband knows nothing of this, and I just don't have the heart to tell him.

We are hard-working people and would have no trouble getting a child, but I am afraid to put in an application. Would they check for a record? Please put your answer in the paper.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl with a story to tell.

Last night about 9 p.m. I was walking home alone from the public library. (I live 10 blocks from there.) The wind was blowing hard, and it was very cold. Besides, I had a lot of books under my arm.

A car pulled up alongside the curb, and a nice-looking man opened the door and asked, "Want a ride?" He looked O.K. and was about my father's age, and my feet were about to drop off with freezing cold so I said yes, and hopped in.

West opened the king of diamonds and shifted to the ten of hearts. Eventually South lost a diamond, a spade and two trumps.

The damages ran to 800 points and South was bitter about the whole thing. Strange, by, he blamed his partner.

"How could you possibly double two diamonds without an ace or king in your hand? How could you possibly bid three no-trump with only a singleton club? What were you doing anyway?"

North was busy wondering if he could kill South and claim justifiable homicide to soothe his aching heart. He will answer for North.

He doubled two diamonds because he had expected to set that contract several tricks. At South had just left in the North bid three no-trump because he expected to make it and would have done so, provided he played the hand fairly well. Expert play would not have been necessary but with really bad play he might have managed to go down.

As for the double of two diamonds promising any ace or king, it meant quite the opposite. North might have held some of those cards but more than anything else North was telling his partner that North felt the hand under my arm.

Collecting penalty points and not going after game or slam.

If South had bothered to think he might have reasons that North's bidding was designed to set South from going for four or five tricks and that North and South would be picked up at least 1100 points.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20): Last-minute shopping and mailing cards, presents should be done today. Contact that person out-of-town who should know of your ideas. This will help to make your projects more successful.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he, or she, will be one of those very practical individuals who early will want to build up a fine security for himself, or herself, and nothing can stop your progeny once the right education is given in a field that is most interesting and fits the mental and physical personality. Sacrifice to and spend if necessary. Give your advantages that perhaps you did not have.

Salvation Army Comes To The Rescue Of Needy

More than 600 poverty-stricken families in Seminole County will be able to enjoy a happy Christmas this year thanks to the generosity of dozens of organizations and hundreds of individuals, working through the Salvation Army.

Capt. Sharon Owens said today many civic groups, church and school groups, Scouts and fraternal organizations, labor unions, clubs, Navy men and officers and kind-hearted individuals have donated food, clothing, toys, money and many other things to help provide a measure of Christmas joy for the unfortunate.

Dec. 23 - This is the old man's last Christmas... He may even be dead by the time you read this... Cancer has eaten away his body... He lies in his hospital bed at Seminole Memorial with his fists clenched... There aren't any flowers and there is no candy. He has one son in South Dakota who has not written in seven years... There is one daughter in Orange City who doesn't care... The TV set is blaring something about Democrats... The old man is too weak to turn it off and it doesn't matter any way... I got out of there fast.

Dec. 22 - You talk to a father of six who had his home burned down last week... He puts his head in his hands and cries... "No money, No Christmas... and you get out of there fast."

The jail is no place to spend Christmas... Some 38 are in the County Jail... You talk to one... "I sure wish I could see my kid again. The old lady said she was gonna get him a bike. Man, I'll bet his eyes will bug out when he sees it. She holds down two jobs. Aw, get out of here... I don't wanna talk no more... And I got out of there fast."

AND so Merry Christmas to all the forgotten ones... To those living in sub-standard homes... To those who make less than $1 an hour... To those who won't have Christmas... To those who lost their loved ones... To those who can only give their kids a gift from the Five and Dime... To the kids at the Sanford Naval Air Station that have to spend this holiday away from home... To those who spend Christmas alone in all the lonely rooms in Sanford and Seminole County... To those who will have to drink to forget and wake up Christmas morning without a Christmas card to remember the day... To the lost and lonely and forgotten MERRY CHRISTMAS.

GUARANTEED TO HAPPEN CHRISTMAS EVE!
Some guy will curse his luck and take another drink out of the bottle.

The loneliest guys of all will get to play Santa Claus.

'We're Sorry'

Four tearful and repentant boys begged "forgiveness of the people for being bad" from the county jail this morning where they are awaiting transport to a juvenile correction home.

The 15 and 16 year old youths were sentenced to the correction institution by Juvenile Judge Karlyle Housholder for having shot with slingshots and BBs, Santa Claus, a clown, motorcycle driver and the horses in the Sanford Christmas parade.

The teenagers were most concerned about the embarrassment which had been brought to their mothers by their names being published in the papers. "Momma is so good and now because of what I have done, she won't even be able to hold her head up in church," one boy remarked. "If the people will only forgive me, I'll never be bad again."

The boys said they hadn't meant to harm anyone. We just bought the slingshot and went to the parade to be doing something good.

Three of the boys, according to their account, had never been in a place like this before. One of the four just recently returned from a boy's reformatory where he had been sentenced for breaking and entering.

"My mother will be so lonely for Christmas, I am her only child," one youth stated. Following the boys sentencing on Thursday, Judge Housholder gave permission to the mothers to have their sons home for Christmas day.

"Then they must come back to jail," Housholder said.
Persons confined to city, county and state prisons Christmas Day will have as much cheer as possible spread for them.
At city jail, prisoners will be treated to a turkey dinner with all the trimmings, plus extra portions of fruit, candy and nuts. They will also receive "sunshine bags" from the Salvation Army and visits from families.

Police Chief Arnold Williams said he did not expect to have "very many" persons in jail over the holidays.
Sheriff Luther Hobby said county prisoners will also have a turkey dinner and gifts of fruit and nuts plus gift packages from families.
At both jails religious services will be conducted by various churches.
