More Pressure Is Brought To Bear On President Coolidge In Interest Of Removal of Attorney General

Washington, Feb. 21.—(By The Associated Press.)—Pressure on President Coolidge to remove Attorney General Daugherty was increased Wednesday by administration leaders in the senate.

Harry Daugherty whose retirement has been urged upon President Coolidge by Senators Lodge and Pepper, and also from other sources, on account of his alleged connection with the Teapot Dome oil leases.

At a White House conference lasting for an hour and a half, Senators Lodge, of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, and Pepper, of Pennsylvania, advised the president of the growing insistence at the capitol that Mr. Daugherty should retire.

The result of the conference was an apparent. The senators refused to make any statement and White House officials were equally reticent.

After the president's callers had returned to the senate an impression grew that they had received little, if any indication of the executive's attitude.

Not First. The representations made to President Coolidge by Senators Lodge and Pepper were not the first that had been conveyed to him by individual leaders in the senate, but they were reported to have been of much more forceful character than any that had gone before.

The visit of the senators resulted from a number of conferences at the senate and elsewhere in which most of the administration leaders participated.

Must Stand or Fall on Record. Emphasizing that there was no desire to infringe upon the president's prerogative of himself deciding who shall be in the cabinet, senators said the administration's record was one on which all members of the party must stand or fall and that there should be a decision regardless of past allegiances or associations.

Before going to the White House to receive word of the statement made public by Mr. Daugherty after he had called on the president a few hours before, Mr. Daugherty issued his duty to his critics and told them he was ready for the fight immediately upon returning to the department of justice from the White House.

While senate leaders continued conferences with respect to the retirement of Mr. Daugherty, Senators Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, refrained from pressing for senatorial action on his resolution calling for a full investigation of the administration of the attorney general.

Since the first announcement of the tournament was made, it has caused a great deal of interest and has caused more people to take an

Gives Greatest Private Library

J. P. Morgan, the banker, has given to the public his great private library, with an estimated worth of several millions of dollars. It contains about 25,000 volumes and paintings. Morgan gave it as a memorial to the memory of his father. It is located on Madison avenue and 30th street, New York City.

Harry Sinclair, Smiling and Willing To Be Investigated, Returns to U. S.

New York, Feb. 21.—(By The Associated Press.)—Harry F. Sinclair arrived on the liner President Harding Wednesday, smiling, willing to discuss the weather, international politics and horse races, the gasoline business in Europe, the Kingship of Albania—everything but oil and the Teapot Dome.

As his ship, already delayed by Elizard and heavy seas, reached quarantine and lay there for several hours waiting for the rain to lift and the fog to settle, he met reporters and photographers who swarmed about with handshakes all around and a prepared statement.

He, with Mrs. Sinclair, W. V. Baldwin, his confidential secretary, and Col. J. R. Simpson, vice president of Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation, returned to the United States on the liner President Harding.

Jealousy of Lovers Causes Wreck and Fight In Jap Diet

STAR OWNERS SUE F. A. VANDERLIP ALLEGING LIBEL

Suit is for $400,000 on account of recent statements of Vanderlip in regard to the sale of President Harding's newspaper.

Three separate causes of action asking $200,000 damages each were cited in the papers served on Mr. Vanderlip. The action was taken, according to the papers, on account of Mr. Vanderlip's alleged statements in which he "implied the sale of the Marion Star in the oil scandal."

The first cause sets forth that Mr. Vanderlip "wickedly and maliciously charged Brush and Moore with bribing Warren G. Harding, then president of the United States, to fail to perform certain of his official duties as president, and that the bribe consisted in the payment to Former President Harding of $550,000 in the purchase of the Marion Star, which was more than twice its fair value."

The second cause of action was based upon the charge that Mr. Vanderlip caused his speech to be printed in the New York Tribune.

FORD AND EDISON SAID TO BE BIG MEN IN AMERICA
President of University of Michigan Makes Selections as to the Leading Figures of Twentieth Century.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 20.—Four Americans are the outstanding men of the twentieth century, in the opinion of President M. L. Burton of the University of Michigan. His selections are Theodore Roosevelt, Henry Ford, Thomas Edison and Orville Wright.

The men have leadership for the following reasons, Mr. Burton considers: Theodore Roosevelt for his comprehension of the social problems of his time.

Henry Ford for industrial development leading to a new social order.

Thomas Edison for his inventive genius.

Orville Wright for his creative work in heavier than air flying.

Dr. Burton regretted he was not able to place a literary man in his list.

In this Dr. Burton took issue with Richard Brant, Chancellor of Hobart College, whose choice of the four greatest men of the twentieth century were Woodrow Wilson, Cardinal Mercier, Lenin and Gandhi.

"Such a choice is certain to call forth criticism," Dr. Burton said, in explanation of his choice. "The public is looking to its war heroes, and perhaps would put some of them among the four greatest men of the Twentieth Century. I have watched several war leaders in private life and am not yet ready to proclaim them the greatest. The war is not far enough in history to decide."

"My choice of men, it is apparent, is based on their valuable contributions to society. I have made my choice from the angle of constructive civilization, while Chancellor Brant named leaders of men only."

Dr. Burton explained that he almost included Wilson in the group, and that a Floyd George was a close runner-up to Wilson, both for conducting great nations through the World War.

AT THE MILANE
If it's a thrill you're looking for you can get it when the William Fox special production, "The Village Blacksmith," opens at the Milano theatre today. In this monster production, which critics have acclaimed as the greatest picture of "American home life since 'Over the Hill,'" William Fox has provided a thrill that will steel the hardest heart and make goose-flesh appear in profusion. It is a real honest-to-goodness train wreck.

In line with the Fox policy of providing every element of the motion picture in each production, the train wreck which is traveling with lightning like celerity. Attempts are made to flag the express, but—too late. The trains come together with a terrific crash and when the debris is cleared away the injured body of the eldest of the "Village Blacksmith's" sons is found pinned under the wreckage. Although severely injured, he is given immediate medical attention and soon recovers.

The wreck is one of the most realistic ever shown on the screen. One train of six cars and another of four were used. Both trains were utterly destroyed.

McADOO GIVES OUT PLATFORM CHICAGO TALK

Representative Leaders of Democratic Party From 44 States Declare Confidence.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—A platform to "satisfy the demand of progress" was enunciated Monday night by former secretary of the treasury William Gibbs McAdoo, in addressing a conference of friends and supporters from all sections of the country which called upon him by formal resolution to accept "leadership of the progressive democracy of the nation."

The platform pledges: "To drive out corruption from official Washington, a new international conference in the American capitol to 'promote peace, reduce the burdens of armament, restore international justice and stability; revive prosperity, and consider economic problems; submission of the question of American participation in such conference to a popular referendum; and to 'take the grip of Wall Street' off the treasury department and the Federal Reserve system. Other pledges include 'Repeal of the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill; to bring about prompt railroad reforms; to 'put agriculture on its feet again; to 'enforce the eighteenth amendment of the constitution and all laws in pursuance thereof; reduce taxes; secure legislation setting up a labor code; passage of a child labor amendment to the constitution; to 'clean out the Veterans Bureau and pay a soldier's bonus.'"

Following a re-statement of his professional connection with E. I. Boheny, as given the senate oil committee, Mr. McAdoo told the conference that "a grave crisis confronts the nation, and that crisis must be met without regard to cost."

Has Ceased to Function. The progressive thought of the country, he said, must look to the Democratic party for leadership. "There is demoralization in government at Washington. The Republican party has ceased to function," he said.

Mr. McAdoo did not appear before the conference until after it had unanimously adopted a resolution declaring him available as the Democratic candidate.

NO CHART SHORTAGE JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 20.—J. B. Ford, car service bureau expert from the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington, stationed here temporarily to aid local railroad officials in handling the peak of the citrus and vegetable movement eastward, states that there need be no fear of a chart shortage as long as things can be kept moving. Splendid co-operation is being given now, he states, adding that 95 per cent of the trouble is due to peddlers who receive shipments and hold the cars by paying demurrage until they can sell the contents in small lots.

New York Newspapers Describe The Madison Square Garden Exhibition

Osceola's a perfect lady when she's at home. But she's only at home in Florida. When she reached New York she simply refused to judge from the most convenient radiator in Madison Square Garden, and there she reposes—chilly an alligator as ever came to New York in February.

Osceola is the mascot of the Florida State Exposition, which opens today. By rights she should have been showing animation, as the surroundings were sub-tropical and great palms and sugar canes reared themselves to the roof. But not she. With the Seminole Indians, she showed her disapproval of the chilly North. She blinked vindictively at the active persons setting up their booths in the Garden; in short, behaved as no perfect lady ever should.

There was everything there that looked like Florida—except the sunshine. The marvelous strawberries, hanging lusciously from their plants, went into retirement over night. The Seminole Indians—half a dozen of them—cnaiced and rubbed their hands and hoped, vainly, they might not live to see their first snowfall. With Osceola, they were hopelessly in the minority. Every one else was happy and animated, putting the finishing touches to the exposition that will entertain New Yorkers for a week. Twenty-eight counties are represented and about 200 persons have come North for the Florida show, all owners of fruit groves and producers.

The old Garden that has harbored so many shows became tropical over night—except in temperature. Stalks of sugar cane rose to the rafters with 80-foot palm and cocconut trees, as well as every species of fruit and flowers grown in the Everglades state. The largest grapefruit ever seen in New York City was that rare and delicately flavored variety, the pink grapefruit.

There seemed to be enough oranges and bananas to feed all the youths of the city. As a matter of fact, there will be free distribution of a carload of fruit every day. Rows of beautifully colored preserves appeal to the housewife's eye. Fish, grain, grasses, fruits, plants, shrubs, cacti, trees and every variety of growing thing indigenous to Florida are displayed.

The exposition, which has been brought intact from Florida, opens at noon today. Gov. Carey A. Hardee of Florida will touch a Western Union key at the Executive Mansion in Tallahassee and flash the opening signal by releasing a large flag in the Garden. The opening ceremonies will be attended by Acting Mayor Hubert, Maj. Gen. Robert Lee Bullard, Rear Admiral C. P. Plunkett, Capt. Thomas J. Seen and Capt. Reginald Belknap.

Vast Store of Arms Can be Bought and No Questions Asked

NEW YORK CITY, Feb. 20.—The ease with which any group of persons with sufficient money to make the purchase may acquire arms and ammunition enough to start a rebellion was disclosed Saturday as a result of an investigation by The New York Times of an attempt to buy arms of a Philadelphia firm, presumably for the use of the Mexican insurgents.

The firm in question, the Rosen-Margolies Company of 34 North Fifth Street, Philadelphia, offered to supply 1,050 machine guns, 7,200 rifles and 15,000,000 cartridges on a few days' notice. The machine guns were said to have been scrapped war material purchased from the United States Government.

Raymond Rosen, a partner in the Rosen-Margolies Co. and Isaac Lehman of the Lehman Sales Company, 647 Broadway, New York City, the broker who brought the Rosen-Margolies Company into the proposed transaction, both insisted that their business of selling arms and ammunitions was entirely legal. Mr. Lehman explained that he sold only for delivery in the United States and that he did not consider what the customer did with his purchase in the way of possible shipment to a foreign country to be any of his business.

HOME ECONOMICS

BY MARY ZACHERY

GROUPING FOODS TO SHOW THEIR USES.

Miss Mary Zachery.

Perhaps as easy a way as any to select the right foods is to group the different kinds according to their uses in the body and then to make sure that all the groups are represented regularly in the meals.

Group I—Foods depended on for mineral matters, vegetable acids and body-regulating substances:
Fruits—Apples, bananas, berries, melons, oranges, etc.
Vegetables—Salads, lettuce, celery, greens, potatoes, root vegetables, green peas, beans, tomatoes, squash, etc.
Group II—Foods depended on for protein: Milk, cheese, eggs, meat, poultry, fish, dried peas, beans, etc., nuts.
Group III—Foods depended on for starch: cereal grains, meals, flours, cereals, bread, crackers, macaroni, cakes, cookies, starchy puddings, potatoes and other starchy vegetables.
Group IV—Foods depended on for sugar: sugar, molasses, syrups, honey, candies, fruits preserved in sugar, jellies, dried fruits, sweet cakes and desserts.
Group V—Foods depended on for fat—butter and cream, lard, suet and other cooking fats, salt pork and bacon, tallow and salad oils.

Thinking of foods according to the group to which they belong or according to the nutrient they supply in largest amount will help the housekeeper to see whether in the meals she plans she has supplied all the different materials needed, especially whether there is the necessary, though small, amount of tissue building mineral matters and body regulating materials (group I), and of tissue building protein (group II). When she has made sure that these are present, she may safely build up the bulk of the diet from whatever materials from the other groups that seem economical, wholesome and appetizing.

The grouping will also help the housekeeper who wishes to save money or time to simplify her meals without making them one-sided or incomplete. It also prevents substituting one food for another which has an entirely different use. So when planning your meals be sure and include food from each of the above mentioned groups.

COUNTY FEDERATION MEETING AT LONGWOOD

All the club women in the county are cordially invited to be the guests of the Longwood Civic Association, Saturday, Feb. 23rd. The meeting will begin with luncheon at exactly 12 o'clock. Let everybody be at the club house in Longwood at 11 so that lunch may be gotten ready by 12. Immediately afterwards the business meeting will be held.

OVELO WOMAN'S CLUB

The Ovelo Woman's Club met Feb. 14, 1924, with Mrs. O. G. Wollcott, resident in the chair. The usual routine business was carried out. Mrs. W. J. Lawton, chairman of the Park committee reported $50.00 realized from the play "Twelve Old Maids" put on at the school house last Friday night. Plans were made to take the same play to Longwood and Geneva in the near future.

The Rev. Mr. Thompson and Mr. Robert Lawton of the Chautauque committee came before the club to ask the women to assist them in the sale of tickets for Chautauque. A committee was appointed to meet with the men to formulate plans for same. The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. B. F. Wheeler who had the program in charge. It being the Club's birthday as well as St. Valentine's day, a shower was given the club and among the many beautiful and useful presents was a beautiful fire place set given by Mrs. Meade. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in games and contests suitable to the occasion. Mrs. Win. Luther and Mrs. Chas. McCally served delicious refreshments of hot chocolate and cake.

CONSTITUTION WEEK

The county Federation has been very successful in getting Constitution Week started. The first organization to begin was the Sallie Harrison Chapter, N. S. D. A. R. when the committee on Patriotic Education and the Regent of the Chapter together with Mrs. Whitner and Mrs. Rasser of the Episcopal Church met at Hoopers Academy Monday morning to award the D. A. R. prize of $10.00 in gold to the student writing the best essay on "The Constitution of the United States, by whom made and its effect on the world." The essay reflected great credit on the principal of the school and the scholar. George Sheppard won the prize. Mrs. DeForest gave a most interesting patriotic address to the school.

The beacon light of Brevard's booth caught the eye. A bird's-eye map of Cocoa and surrounding vicinity shown in this booth was conspicuous and taught us some geography.

THE KEY

Love passed me by and dropped a key,
A worthless thing it seemed to be,
But, thinking he might need it
For
Unlocking some unyielding door
I followed him and whispered clear,
"You've lost your little key, I fear!"

Love turned without the least surprise,
But with a twinkle in his eyes,
And said: "I have some more like it."
Keep it. Most any door 'twill fit.
Keep it and use it often, too,
It may unlock success for you."

Since then I've wandered to and fro,
Using love's key where'er I go,
And many gates have swung aside
When I the magic key applied.
So many doors I have passed through
I've found that what Love said is true:
The key Love dropped is just a smile.

Mrs. Ender Curlett, Chairman.
There was a man in our town,
He was a doctor wise.
Who wanted folks to keep well
And so he did advise
Fresh air, good food, and lots

With merry times each day,
And all the folks who followed him,
Were happy well and gay.

Notes on Important Southern Books in The Sanford Public Library.

1. Knight, Lucian Lamar. Stone Mountain; or, The Lay of the Gray Minstrel.
The U. S. C. have recently given to the Library this epic poem, written by the State historian of Georgia, which covers in its 21 parts the entire course of Southern history. It was inspired by the great memorial now being sculptured out of the solid rock at Stone Mountain, commemorating the heroism of the Southern Confederacy, which when completed will be one of the wonders of our age.

Mr. Knight's poem, written in blank verse, pays homage to the Old South, to her noble women, her beloved leaders and the sons who made her great. There are miscellaneous poems on the World War and other subjects, and a special tribute to the late President Roosevelt. Because of the beauty of its style, as well as its historical setting, it will doubtless be much in demand, and will be a valuable addition to the Library collection.

An intimate biography of one of our most beloved national personalities. The late Thomas Nelson Page represented the best in American traditions, as statesman, lawyer, author and man of affairs. Though a true Southerner, he was so broad in his sympathies that he was called "The ambassador from the South to the North." His stories are among the best pieces of Southern life that have been written and his "Marae Chan" has been referred to as the "Epitaph of a civilization." His life of "Robert E. Lee," "Red Rock" and "Italy and the World War" further established his reputation. In this biography his home life and career are fully described by his brother, who calls it "A memoir of a Virginia Gentleman."

Johnston, Mary, 192.

Miss Johnston, one of our best historical novelists has attained another success in this story of Christopher Columbus. In brief compass she narrates his great achievement and makes him a living character, showing the many sides of his personality. Miss Johnston is a daughter of Virginia, and her genius as a historical writer of high rank is recognized both in England and in this country.

Library of Southern Literature.

The literature of the south is comprehensively given in these 16 volumes, compiled under the supervision of leading southern men of letters. With biographical sketches of the authors are criticisms and selections from their principal works; also separate articles on southern folklore, French literature in the South, etc. The last three volumes include Letters, Anecdotes, Epitaphs, Quotations, a general bibliography and a biographical dictionary, with special reading courses, historical charts and illustrations of the leading state universities in the south. This set adds materially to the Library's reference collection and is an important contribution to American literature.

IF

If you have done a single deed
From love's own bidding sweet;
If you have cast a single stone
From stumbling human feet;
If you have held a burden up
From weary shoulders bent;
If you have filled an empty cup,
Or word of kinde's lent,
Then you have been a blessing here
In this world's siege of pain,
And shown a heart of love sincere—
You have not lived in vain.

Have You had All the Education You Want?

The Extension Division of the University of Florida at Gainesville offers to club women splendid opportunities to take practical courses of cultural courses under the supervision of the university's best professors. The work is carried on through—

1. Correspondence-Study Bureau.
2. Class Study Bureau.
3. Group Study Bureau.

In the correspondence-study course you enroll and do your studying at home, sending your papers once a week to be graded by the university professors, with each course is given an outline for intelligent study.

Class-study bureau work is done the same as in the correspondence-study bureau only several may take the course together and gain benefit from discussion and comparison of notes.

To my knowledge when possible the group study bureau which is a group of men and women interacted in any given line who are given the opportunity in their own town of having a university specialist come to them and supervise once every week their chosen line of study.

The following is the general classification of the work as now conducted:

Review Courses—For state and special teachers' certificates.

Civil Service Courses—To prepare for government positions.

Commercial Courses—In preparation for business.

Agricultural and Other Reading Courses—For busy men and women.

Special Courses—Shop mathematics, manual training, estimating, etc.

High School Courses—For eighth grade and two and three-year high school graduates.

College Courses—Including preparation for professional schools.

THE CREED

By Judge John L. Dorgott
"I believe that we Americans have the best government that has ever been created—the freest and the most just for all the people—and that it is my duty to uphold and defend this government at all times. I believe that just as the minute man of the revolution was ready upon a moment's notice to defend his rights against foreign usurpation it is my duty as a patriotic American to be a minute man of the constitution, ready at all times to defend the long-established and cherished institutions of government against attacks, either from within or without, and do my part in preserving the blessings of liberty for which my ancestors fought and died."

I believe that my country needs my active service in times of peace, no less than in war—that no prouder boast can emanate from my lips than truly to declare, "I am an American citizen," and that as an American citizen the constitution of the United States ought to be as actual a part of my life and of my religion as the Sermon on the Mount."

HOW FOWLS ARE ABLE TO DIGEST FOOD EXPLAINED

By BETH W. SHOEMAKER, Director, School of Agriculture, International Correspondence Schools, Scranton, Pa.

The process of digestion in poultry differs materially from that of farm animals that chew their food. The functions of the teeth, which in farm animals are performed by the gizzard, which grinds the food into pulp.

Fowls also secrete less saliva than do other farm animals.

A general view of the maternal organs of the hen is shown in the accompanying illustration. After the food is taken up by the mouth, the food passes through the upper portion of the esophagus (a) into the crop (b). From the crop the food passes through the lower portion of the esophagus into the gizzard (c), and from there through the other organs of the digestive system.

In fowls and other grain eating birds, the crop is relatively larger than the crop of birds like ducks and geese which feed more largely on grass. The reason for this is that in birds of the former class the crop is used as a storage place for food, while in those of the latter class the esophagus is enlarged for the same purpose. The crop Internal Organs of a Hen. Fig. 1, Page 7, Poultry Feeding, 1932-A. may be so distended by irregular feeding, over-feeding or by the feeding of indigestible food, that it is likely to become irritated and so swollen as to close completely the passage to the gizzard. The fowl in this condition is said to be crop bound.

The gizzard (c) may be looked upon as a powerful grinding machine in which the whole grain and other foods of poultry are ground, usually finer than they would be ground by the teeth of chewing animals. The grinding is accompanied by means of the powerful muscles of the gizzard which keep the mixture of sand, grit and food within it constantly in motion. The term "intestines" as applied to fowls means all of the alimentary canal beyond the gizzard. Although these parts differ in most respects from those of other animals, they have functions nearly identical with those of the other domestic animals.

In fowls the intestines are made up of the duodenum and the rest of the small intestines (d), the caeca (e) and the large intestines and rectum (g), and the vent shown at (h).

The liver is shown at (1), and has two offices, one to purify the digestive material brought to it and the other to secrete the bile. The gall bladder is shown at (k). It serves as a reservoir for the bile secreted by the liver.

The spleen (s) located near the liver is an organ whose use is not definitely known. It is thought, however, that it is useful in producing several modifications in the blood. The pancreas (1) is a small organ situated among the folds of

Citrus Growers Are Urged Trim Their Trees In Winter

Just about the worst disease of citrus fruit can be controlled if the correct procedure is followed. These diseases are melanose and stem-end rot. The remedy calls for pruning out dead branches and twice in winter, and spraying with a 3-3-50 Bordeaux mixture (plus oil) from 10 to 20 days after the blossoms have dropped.

That is, in brief, what specialists of the Florida College of Agriculture have to say about how to beat control these very serious diseases of citrus.

Winter is the dormant, or the most nearly dormant, season in the citrus grove, and then is the time to prune.

After this first measure has been taken, put away the pruning knife and saws and wait for the time when the second measure is in order. This measure is spraying with 3-3-50 Bordeaux mixture which has been mixed with one per cent of oil emulsion (stock solution). This spraying should be done 10 to 20 days after the blossoms drop. That would mean that under no circumstances are more than two sprayings necessary in a year's time. And sprayings for melanose should never be done when the trees are dormant, or in winter.

Pruning implements should be disinfected before and after the work, and at intervals during the day. Cut out all dead or withered wood, for such wood is the hotbed of the spores or the fungi which cause melanose or other diseases.

Farm Facts Wanted By the Government

How many farms are there in the United States? How much improved acreage? How much acreage in each of the principal crops? No one knows precisely, says Dr. L. C. Gray, economist in charge of the division of land economics, United States department of agriculture.

"We have the figures for 1919 as shown in the 1920 census, but since then drastic changes have taken place. The figures of decreasing value have occurred in American agriculture," Dr. Gray says. "Calculations on the basis of these figures are mere approximations. The proposed agricultural census in 1925, however, will remove much of the guesswork in statements of farm acreage, tenures, and values."

The best index of the growth of the farming industry from year to year is the number of farms, acreage, and values of farm property, according to Dr. Gray. In 1910 conditions were far from normal, reflecting post-war conditions and an abnormal demand for urban labor, so that in measuring the progress of agriculture the figures are not strictly comparable with the 1910 census returns.

The small intestines. This organ is highly important for its secretions the pancreatic juice which aids in the digestion of the starchy foods and part of the protein foods.

The heart is shown at (m) and the lungs at (n). The heart pumps the blood to all parts of the body and the lungs help to purify the blood. The heart, lungs and liver may be considered the most important organs of the body and should always be kept in good working order. The air is supplied to the lungs through the windpipe (w). The kidneys are located in the cavities of the pelvic bone.

The ovaries are shown at (p) and the oviduct at (q). These make up the egg producing machinery.

THE TENANTS' FLORAL STANDBY

Annuals are the flowers for tenants to attempt. A few packets of seed sown in the spring will give him a gay display all summer and if he decides to move the next year he is out nothing and may reap on the next lot he occupies. May 1, moving day, gives ample opportunity to get a garden going in time to have a lavish display from July until killing frost.

While a renter would hesitate to expend any large sums of money on perennials and bulbs which he could not move, he may very easily get as much display from the plants that complete their life cycle in one season. Back and front porches may be veiled from the hot summer sun with morning glories, scarlet runner, wild cucumber, hyacinth beans, and the brilliant cardinal climber. Unity planting has now become popular and the most beautiful views in many localities is from the alleys where the back yards make a flower garden a block long interrupted only by the dividing fences and these frequently so well covered with vines that they become parts of the garden picture.

No home, either rented or owned, is too small for a patch of annuals to brighten it up. FLORIDA DAIRY MAY BE MADE A BIG VENTURE

"Florida is going to have a big dairy industry, or it is going to have no dairy industry at all. That is the way John M. Scott, vice-director and animal industrialist of the Florida experiment station, sums up all the pros and cons concerning dairying in this state.

"We can, if we will," he adds. "At present we cannot say that we have substantial, permanent pasture or range for cattle. Since in the average case pasturage constitutes 60 per cent of the feed of dairy cattle, we must go and get, or go and make, that which we have not got.

"We have got to build or make a substantial, permanent pasture for our dairy cattle, or we just simply will never have a big, paying dairy industry.

"Carpet and Bahia grasses, and Lespedeza for summer, and Dallis and Vasey grasses for winter, should replace the common wire-grass which dominates on our ranges today. Then we should grow wide fields of oats and rye in winter, which will help furnish green grazing when it is so much needed, as well as keep the land from washing away and the plant food in it from leaching downward.

"In the extension work at the Florida College of Agriculture last year we sent grass plantings to about 65 farmers in 35 counties of the state. We fear our efforts have been too scattered for best results. Therefore, beginning with 1924, we are going to concentrate our efforts to five or six well-known farmers in that many counties.

"We know that such pastures can be had. We are now trying to convince the farmers and live stock men. This is the way we expect to do it.

Irrespective of the poor citrus market this winter, the citrus exhibits were fully up to standard. Those of St. Lucie, Lee, Manatee and Polk probably were most conspicuous.

Tropical fruits and vegetables predominated, which was to be expected, but general crops, dairy products, horse preserved products and livestock came in strong enough to make the fair an all-Florida fair, from the farm standpoint.

The counties compete for prizes and rank as first, second, etc. At this writing the winner has not been announced. But if our general observation is worth anything, we'd say Manatee—but we are not the judge. So here is leaving that to him.

Pasco, the winner of first honors for the last three years, was reported as being voluntarily out of the running. Otherwise, the rest would need to worry. Those Pasco people have the stuff and know how to display it.

Mayor Alsop of Jacksonville has taken a wise step in appointing a committee of prominent citizens to direct a drive for the development of the Lake country of Duval county. It is a most encouraging thing to note that Florida citizens are taking more interest in the welfare of their respective trading territories.

INVESTIGATION WILL prove to Senator Harris that The Digest has not bought three hundred thousand dollars worth of stamps. But the Senator's suggestion interests advertisers. It makes them realize what newspaper advertising does in the way of economy, thus enabling them to reach the public from conspicuous announcements already seen and read, at a fraction of the cost of mailing circulars that are thrown in the waste basket.

Mr. Jennings has gained his strength by a fair and manly presentation of his platform and record to the sovereign citizens of Florida. He is not representing the state with alternatives. Opera Will Be Given at Milane Theatre Tuesday Night, Benefit of Parish House

Music Lovers of Sanford Will Be Given a Rare Treat On Tuesday Night.

Music lovers and those who like a real sparkling opera will be given a rare treat next Tuesday night at the Milane Theatre when the Stetson Musical Clubs present "All at Sea" with full orchestra accompaniment. The opera will be given here for the benefit of the Parish House fund under the auspices of the Men's Club and tickets are now on sale at the usual places at $1.00 for reserved seats. The Stetson Collegiate Weekly says of the opera:
 It is quite generally conceded that the opera "All at Sea," which the Stetson Musical Clubs will present at the Athens Theater on Thursday night will be the greatest attraction of the Music Festival held at Stetson this month. There are several reasons for that. It is a Stetson production and the entire cast is made up of Stetson young people. The reputation of the directors of the presentation add much to the interest in it. Also, it will be accompanied by Stetson's Own Orchestra. Finally, the opera itself is a very fine one and is full of beautiful settings, music with beautiful harmony, and humor that adds to the story. Mrs. Marion Dow Kenefick, who has been producing such wonderful results with the glee clubs and chorus at Stetson University has been training the voices for the opera and has been drilling the choruses on the music for some length of time. Then, Mrs. Sarah McMahon has been drilling certain choruses in the dances for the opera. Mr. Francis Carrier McElhannon who was for 17 years the leading baritone for the Savage Opera Company, of New York and for four years was head teacher of the Levent School of Dramatics, is applying his skill and knowledge to the directing of the opera.

 The Stetson Orchestra, which under the capable leadership of Mr. Donald Faulkner, has been doing wonderful work this year, will accompany the opera. Mr. Faulkner himself, plays first violin and Miss Eleanor Meeks will be at the piano.
 "All at Sea" is a Gilbert and Sullivan opera which in itself is sufficient to label it as excellent. It is made up of the most popular parts of the famous operas "I. M. S. PINAFORE," "PIRATES OF PENZANCE," "PATIENCE," "IOLANTHE," and "MIKADO." Chorus and solos with beautiful music in them have been taken from these and adapted to the thought of this opera. In it there are characters and music to please many different tastes.

J. C. Mallett of Montreal, arrived in Sanford on Wednesday for an extended stay.

E. F. Anderson of Elgin, N. Y., was among the recent arrivals in the City Substantial.

Among the business visitors from the City Beautiful on Wednesday was W. T. Payne.

IT DRIVES OUT WORMS.

The surest sign of worms in children is paleness, lack of interest in play, fretfulness, variable appetite, picking at the nose and sudden starting in sleep. When these symptoms appear it is time to give White's Cream Vermifuge. A few doses drives out the worms and puts the little one on the road to health again. White's Cream Vermifuge has a record of 50 years of successful use. Price 35c. Sold by all leading druggists.

OPENING AT MI-LADY'S SHOPPE

The rich shades of brown together with the ivory tints form a lovely background for the spring showing of hats and chapans, Thursday at Mi-Lady's Shoppe. Never has this attractive shoppe resembled a huge garden filled with vivid-hued flowers, as it presents this season.

In the window is a large white wicker basket filled with pink roses and purple orchids, placed opposite this, is an exquisite creation of madonna blue straw, with double brim of blue horse hair braid, between which is a wreath of baby tulips, in the pastel tints.

Upon entering the shoppe, one is amazed at the array of hats, all kinds, colors, and shapes being shown. Though hats over medium size are numerous and really beautiful with their classic lines, one must record an overwhelming majority of decidedly small shapes, displaying tiny brims, upturned either wholly or in part, and made of satin, crepe or straw cloth. If they have the Directorate or Henri III crown, they are unusually given the character of their individual epoch, and if not, they are simply placed under the classification of cloche, beret or tricorn, as the case may be. Ribbon is the trimming, arranged in as many ways as the fancy of the modiste can conceive. The present offering of flower-trimmed millinery affords a very pleasing change from the omnipresent ribbon and when a cone of these bright posies is perched at right angles to the crown of a black picot straw or milan hat, the effect is attractively new and piquant.

The sport models this year, are unusually pretty and becoming one particularly striking model being of white faille silk braided in orange. Another fetching hat is of white taffeta faced with black straw, the brim is an arrangement of small circles of black soutache braid. Madonna blue straw combined with crepe de chine fashions another chic model with its trimmings of flat embroidered roses.

A stunning sport hat is of yellow and white plaid crepe embroidered in self tones, and with trimmings of grapes in self-material.

Black horse hair maline with Harne front trimmed with silver motifs, is especially admired. Black timbo straw with white rattail braid is another smart hat, with glycerized ostrich trimmings.

Among the many beautiful white creations is one of white georgette, with Chinese yellow straw, with an unusual arrangement of yellow straw at the back. In the black and white hats shown one is of black straw faced with white, with hand-made white kid grapes, apples and pears.

Another appealing design is of mohair in the new shade of brown, faced with moline and embroidered in gold. Brown fancy horse hair braid with brim of moline and flat rosettes of the braid, calls forth much admiration. It is trimmed with salmon velvet flowers.

Strawberry georgette faced with pearl grey taffeta, with rows of grey French daisies on the brim, Refreshments of chicken salad, hot rolls, nut bread, olives and coffee were served at the conclusion of the game by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. W. A. Fitts.

The afternoon was most enjoyable and was indeed a delightful social courtesy. The cordial hospitality of the hostess was reflected in every detail.

Miss Hawkins' guests were Miss Hood, honoree, Mrs. J. C. Bennett, Mrs. Flanagan, Mrs. D. L. Thrasher, Mrs. W. C. Hill, Mrs. Roy Symmes, Mrs. W. J. Thigpen, Miss Katherine Wilkey, Mrs. G. D. Bishop, Mrs. George Davis Hart, Mrs. R. J. Holly, Mrs. L. P. McCuller, Miss Emma Owens, Mrs. W. A. Fitts, Mrs. F. E. Roumillat.

EAST SANFORD

Mrs. Troy M. Bledsoe entertained for Mr. Bledsoe's birthday anniversary Feb. 15, at an evening party. Those invited were Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Squire, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Chorpeneing, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Singletary, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ellsworth, and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McClelland. Mrs. Bledsoe, assisted by Mrs. Squire, served delicious ice cream and cake at the conclusion of the evening spent in visiting.

Some one has suggested that it would be a good thing if a man could be nominated for a commission in this end of town, enough to complete the paving on Beardall Avenue and put the ditch along the street in a better condition. To our certain knowledge there has been nothing done to benefit conditions in 10 years, and there is plenty of chance for improvement.

East Side friends will be interested to know that Mr. and Mrs. Irving Estridge have bought a home on Palmcote Avenue in Sanford Heights, an attractive bungalow built by Perry Jernigan a year ago.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Ward and son, Dale, of Winter Park, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bates.

Miss Mary Helm Morse of Rutledge was week-end guest of Alys Chorpeneing.

T. M. Bledsoe has been ill in bed most of the time for the past three weeks with malaria.

The new Madonna blue crepe and georgette with pearl grey hand-work and hand-made grapes is of great charm.

A hat distinctly interesting is of horachair braid, brick colored with georgette flange and silk flowers of "sit-one" at the side.

The newly remodeled and enlarged gits department is filled with the most fascinating mah jong prizes, sets, tallies as well as pictures of all kinds and colors. A complete line of glass ware is in all sorts of shapes and sizes, the luster and iridescent colors, Book ends, desk sets, and in fact most anything one could wish for is on display at Mi-Lady's Shoppe.

Friday being George Washington's birthday, the decorations and favors of cherries will be used.

Mrs. Elizabeth Black Wilder has returned to her home in Washington, D. C., after being the guest of her aunt, Mrs. B. Steele. Mrs. Steele, Miss Mamie Steele and Mrs. Black-Wilder were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Steels in Orlando for a day and of friends in Mt. Dora also.

Mrs. Alice Lanman has returned to her home in St. Petersburg after being the guest of Mrs. Fred Wilmam at her attractive home on Cameron Avenue for some time.

Carl Chorpeneing arrived home from Cleveland, O., on Tuesday where he has been since last June. Carl has been with the Cleveland Plain Dealer as collector during his absence and may return to resume the position later. Just now home looks pretty good to him.

The showers of Tuesday night will be of much benefit to the pepper, tomato and other plants set out recently as they have had a bad time during the cold, high winds, and needed some encouragement to begin growing.

It is estimated that about half of the early crops will be harvested and gone by the end of this present week. There never was one early grown anywhere at any time than has been grown here this season.

The members of the Kill Kat club were entertained at the home of Helen Chorpeneing Thursday night at a Valentine party. Valentine games and contests were enjoyed until a late hour when delicious refreshments were served.

by the hostess' mother, Mrs. C. E. Chorpeneing and sister, Mrs. B. H. Squire. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Squire, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bradley, the Misses Carrie Darsay, Roxie Darsay, Lila Thornly, Clara Rankin and Eunice Brown; Messrs. Shelly Harvey, James Harvey, Herbert Harvey, Walter Tyler, Mr. Custis, and Carl Chorpeneing.

The death of Mr. Milvan occurred at the country home Sunday a week ago and his relatives came from Lawry to take the remains there for interment. He had lived about here for a good many years, a native of Old Virginia and was familiarly called "Old Man Van." He was a kindly man always working for all; he had only one arm.

MANY CANDIDATES ANSWER FIRST CALL FOR BASEBALL PRACTICE AT UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA MONDAY

GAINESVILLE, Feb. 21.—The 1924 baseball season got underway Monday afternoon and all candidates reported for the first workout.

Many of the veterans of last season have been taking preliminary exercises on the diamond at Fleming Field and it is expected that the work will go off with a bang. In addition the entire Freshman squad of last year will be on hand to bolster up the Varsity veterans, who were seriously depleted with a number of graduates.

Work will begin at once on the development of a capable pitching staff, a department of the game in which the Orange and Blue terrors are woefully weak at the present time. A brace of outfielders ranks will also be open to the incoming Freshmen due to the loss of George Hitchcock and "Lefty" Spencer, and some keen fighting should occasion the winning of the two vacant berths.

Other positions on the team open to the Freshman players of last year are first base and the key-stone sack. Redding, who kept care of the second sack for the Freshman last season, has since left school and it appears that Eddie Blake, three-year veteran, will be moved to the position and "Geechee" Laird, Freshman shortstop, be given a chance to make good in his favorite place. Blake would certainly handle his part of the arrangement in great style and would prove a strong factor to the team in this position.

The loss of Gilmartin on the initial sack will be keenly felt in the development of a new man to will his shoes. The work of this last year elicited much praise wherever he performed and he was offered a berth with the Orlando club, winners of the Florida State League championship which he accepted. He made good from the start and in another couple of years' time should move on up in higher company. "Home" Smith and Tommy Johnson alternated as first basemen on the Freshman nine last season and both will likely be out for the honor on the Varsity.

Logan, one of the most promising players on the team, will take care of the backstop assignment in the same efficient manner. The work of this lad stamped him as a comer last spring and he should do even better with last year's experience behind him. Flood and J. T. Miller are the contributors the Freshman squad will have to offer. Howard Bracken again elects to play in the outfield, taking all chances with ease and swatting the sphere with his cus-

Jeffries Far From Broke Friends Say

According to reports emanating from Los Angeles, Jim Jeffries is not broke, as news dispatches stated some time ago. It is said the former champion signed all of his holdings over to his wife when a smokeless gunpowder company in which he was heavily interested, hit the bumps. Jeff saw the crash coming and got from under by going through bankruptcy.

Persons who claim to be in a position to know, tell me Jeff and his wife have close to $500,000 salted away. A 100-acre alfalfa farm which the former champion decided over to his wife, is estimated at being worth $2,500 an acre.

Jackson's Lawyer Appeals The Case

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 21.—Motion for judgment on the jury's verdict in favor of Joe Jackson, in his suit against the Chicago club of the American League, was made in court here Monday, by Ray Cannon, attorney for Jackson.

Judge John J. Gregory set aside the verdict of the jury in the case when it reported and dismissed the action. Cannon said he proposed to collect the sum given Jackson by the verdict of the jury in the suit to collect under alleged breach of contract.

CHILDREN'S COUGHS

Children's throats are delicate and sensitive. In play, at school or work they are exposed to chilling drafts. These little bodies are overworked from exercise, they cool off too quick and a cold sets in. The minute your child commences to cough get a bottle of Leonard's Cough Syrup (Creosoted). It is good for children's delicate throat, protects the lungs, raises the phlegm, and gives quick relief. A harmless, safe, pleasant remedy for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and bronchitis—that is healing and soothing. Fine for adults too. For sale at your druggist.

You'll be amazed to see how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in an hour; even in cases of long standing with profuse bleeding, really wonderful results have been accomplished.

State College Is Much Interested In Athletic Work

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Feb. 21.—Much activity is shown in various branches of athletics by students at the Florida State College for Women. Regular practice is being held by candidates for inter-class hockey teams and for the privilege of participating in class tennis matches. Competition among the racquet wielders has grown so keen that the players are encountering a shortage of courts, although four courts have been added to the facilities. Following the class contests will be the college tournament, with "F's" awaiting the winners in doubles and singles. Miss Rita Chambers, '23, walked away with the championship in singles for four successive years. Quite a number of the students also have recently taken up golf, and are frequently seen on the course of the Tallahassee Country Club. Among these are Misses Louise Henderson, Curry, Catherine Hill, Ida Holmes, Florence Pierpont, Lucy Lang, Mary Prinzie and Marj Whitfield, Frances Walker, Lillian Ohms, Bell O'Neal, Natalie Lamb, Marian Mickler, and others.

FLORIDA FARMER HAS REPUTATION OF BEING THRIFTY

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Feb. 20.—The white farmers of Florida are more prosperous than those of any other state between Virginia and Texas, according to information compiled by Dr. Roland M. Harper, geographer, who is now engaged in compiling a book on the geography and vegetation of South Florida. Dr. Harper recently published an article on the Rural

Standards of Living in the South. Florida is also ahead of most other southern states with respect to rural illiteracy, the geographer points, in drawing attention to the fact that where farmers are most prosperous rural illiteracy is lowest. Studying the matter by natural regions based on soil and topography, of which there are about 75 in the seven states, says Dr. Harper. He found that the poorest in the South are in the states of Georgia and where the climate is more ferent from that of Florida and the richest in the enevating climate of Florida.

When You Become An Investor

WHEN you buy a building plot in a suburb, you know that it is finished development that more than anything else gives to the land. Price is a poor thing to judge by. Price is not what you are looking for; if it was acreage could be bought more cheaply. No, you want finished and beautifying development to avoid doing the work of development yourself. The higher grade the development work is, the more land is worth to you.

That is why Coral Gables means more to real estate buyers today. It is the one big suburb in the United States which has established the highest standard of finished development. It grows more beautiful every day. Its wise restrictions protect you. Its wonderful improvements add not only beauty but rapidly increasing value.

You cannot judge the value of Coral Gables plots by price alone. But if you will compare them with the land sold at the same price in other suburbs, you will not fail to be convinced of Coral Gables values.

Come to Coral Gables today and see for yourself what finished development work means. Come as our guest aboard the de luxe Pullman bus that runs from this city and be convinced of Coral Gables values.

CHILDREN'S FATAL DISEASES

Worms and parasites in the intines of children undermine health and so weaken their vitality that they are unable to resist the various fatal to child life. The course is to give a few doses
White's Cream Vermifuge. It drives and expels the worms without the slightest injury to the child or activity of the child.
See 31c. Sold by all leading druggists.

EASY SETTLEMENT

The problem of filling needs is easily settled on the principle of reciprocity, for what one has to sell the other wants to buy.
This is the great principle underlying Herald Want Ads and it has worked for years with such great success that this form of advertising has come to be very popular.
The needs of one are supplied by the needs of another.
This process simply is the getting of the buyer and seller together and Herald Want Ads do that to perfection. Try them and see.
To reach all the people effectively—leave your Want Ad at The Herald office. Phone us to send for it or phone it to the Want Ad Department.

PROCK OF SMART STYLE

For practical as well as fashionable wear, one could not do better than select this dress of dark blue rayon which seems to be even more favored than the tweildorks. Finishing the V-shaped neck is a collar of self-material stitched with silver and turquoise blue embroidery. The pockets and sleeves are decorated to correspond with the collar. If desired circular panels may be added to the sides of the skirt. As pictured the dress requires 2 3/4 yards 34-inch material.
