DRY LAW ISSUE TO GET TEST IN SENATE FIGHT

Big Appropriation For Enforcement Will Bring "Showdown" On Touchy Question

Senator Bruce Is Carrying Attack

Wishes To Prove Prohibition Law Cannot Be Properly Enforced

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—(INS)—The Senate's "one-man" appropriation of $270,627,384 for prohibition enforcement will bring a "showdown," it was apparent today, on the question of dry law enforcement.

With the wets contending for the last several years that actual enforcement of the Volstead Act would require hundreds of millions of dollars, Senator William Cabell Bruce (D) of Maryland, by a coup, had the $270,627,384 appropriation incorporated in the Treasury appropriation bill. He secured approval of his amendment, while confusion reigned in the Senate and scarcely a Senator realized at the time what he had accomplished.

The fight today was transferred to the conference between the Senate and House, where all differences between their respective bills are adjusted. Whatever happens, there is likely to be considerable debate in both branches when the conference report comes back for final enactment.

The $270,627,384 appropriation must fall by the wayside if President Coolidge undoubtedly voted to the bill. The sum would represent an increase of $257,127,384 over the recommendation of the Senate, which would fall in line with the President's threat to disapprove any measure authorizing large expenditures—unless approved by the budget—or which was not provided for some source other than the Treasury, in fact, the amount involved fell little short of the fund authorized for farm relief last Spring, which met presidential disapproval.

The Senate's action took bold the Wet and dry camps by surprise. The opposing leaders at first were reluctant to discuss the situation but both groups, by coincidence, finally agreed that $270,627,384 was a little too high for prohibition enforcement—that is all they did, except Bruce. He maintained it would take $300,000,000 to enforce the dry law properly.

Mr. Bruce made the statement that "Florida is 50 to 100 per cent better off than we realize" and to substantiate the assertion he produced a number of charts and quoted a mass of statistics. The state's annual income, he said, is $751,000,000, and its productive area one-half of one per cent of the entire agricultural section of the nation, illustrating the possibility of Florida soil, he said, experiments in the sugarbeet had demonstrated that 60 to 80 tons of sugar cane could be produced on an acre while Louisiana, which is the greatest sugar producing area in the country, grows between 20 and 30 tons to the acre.

Florida in 1927 had only 19 farm failures. Recently the speaker said only four other states having a smaller number. In the past three years more than a billion dollars has been invested in the state, some of the figures being as follows: railroad construction, $125,000,000; telephone company expansion, $120,000,000; home construction, $300,000,000; business

American Industrial Magnates Look Forward Hopefully To Coming Year

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—(INS)—From an extended trip overseas section of industrial leaders, John E. Edgerton, president of National Association of Manufacturers, told International Service today that the heads of industry are well satisfied with volume of business, they are and are looking forward hopefully and confidently to the coming of the new year. "It has been a good year, I have no reason to have any apprehension about the future," he said. "I have found many instances of advanced business conditions. I see

Health Service Is Worried Over 'Flu'

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—(INS)—Following a conference at the public health service today, Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming declared that while the influenza epidemic is now only in mild form it is impossible to predict what future course it may take. The service will not, for the present, send government doctors to fight the epidemic. Cumming explained that this extreme action appears unnecessary. In addition to many telegrams from public health officers throughout the country requesting advice, Cumming today received a cablegram from the League of Nations headquarters at Geneva. Health experts of the league sought information as to the scope of the epidemic in the United States and the possibility of its spreading abroad.

STATE PROGRESS IS GIVEN BY ROSE IN ADDRESS HERE

Orlando Businessman Paints Bright Picture Of Conditions

A bright picture of Florida's development in industrial, agricultural and other business lines and a forecast of what the future holds in store, were enthusiastically depicted by Walter W. Rose, Orlando business man, in an address today before the Chamber of Commerce.

Declaring that Floridians have been thinking too much of past history, and as a result have overlooked the progress that has been made, Mr. Rose said there are four problems confronting the state as follows: agricultural development, industrial expansion, tax system and attitude of mind.

The speaker dealt successively with each problem, describing the attitude of mind as the most serious. He admitted the state has suffered a depression, but charge Floridians with overlooking the fact that other states have been encountering the same thing. He said it was a mistake to blame the boom for the depression, which he said, would have occurred anyway.

Exhorting his hearers to have greater confidence in themselves and in their state, to strive for a better spirit of unity, and to spread enthusiasm everywhere, Mr. Rose said Floridians "should guard carefully what they have to say" when talking about their communities and state.

Mr. Rose made the statement that "Florida is 50 to 100 per cent better off than we realize" and to substantiate the assertion he produced a number of charts and quoted a mass of statistics. The state's annual income, he said, is $751,000,000, and its productive area one-half of one per cent of the entire agricultural section of the nation, illustrating the possibility of Florida soil, he said, experiments in the sugarbeet had demonstrated that 60 to 80 tons of sugar cane could be produced on an acre while Louisiana, which is the greatest sugar producing area in the country, grows between 20 and 30 tons to the acre.

When he reaches Sanford on Christmas Eve, Santa Claus will find a large piece of fruit cake awaiting him in one Sanford home. In a letter to Santa today, Little Harry Peasley informs Saint Nick that the cake will be left on a nice sleeping doll with little boy and some fruit, candy and nuts. Please will please us, as there are many more boys and girls who need things too. With lots of love to you dear Santa Claus.

"I wanted to tell you I am still here," writes a little girl, who said she formerly lived in Kentucky but had been residing here for two years. The letters are as follows:

Dear Santa Claus:
I am a little girl from Kentucky. I have found me here in Sanford two Christmases. I wanted to tell you I am still here. Please bring me a tricycle, a choo-choo train that runs around on a track, a little auto truck that you wind up and it runs, a telephone, a little puppy and some candy. I will thank you if you bring me these things. Christmas, I will leave you a piece of the fruit cake that mother bakes down by the fireplace, so be sure and look for it. Please remember all the other little boys and girls to you dear Santa Claus.

Adieu,

Annual Report Of Hughes Shows Subs Are Giving Trouble

1,000,000 Said To Be Necessary For Conditioning U-Vessels

Motors Need Work

Many Steps Suggested For Improving Force

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—(INS)—Disclosure that the Navy is experiencing considerable difficulties with its submarines due to broken and main motor break-downs was made today in the annual report of Admiral Charles F. Hughes, Chief of Naval Operations. The S and V-type subs, the classes to be built, are the trouble-makers.

Admiral Hughes continues to be generally frank and serious about the many vessels in which they are most conspicuous. Considerable money is being spent in an attempt to better this situation.

One of the most common and important of machinery casualties, he declared, is the failure of main motors.

Many Failures
There have been many of these failures during the year," Hughes explained, "mostly in the S and V classes. Main motor repairs usually have to be done at a navy yard and consume considerable time and labor. A submarine has military value as such unless its main motors are in good condition, since she cannot easily operate submerged without both of them."

Steps are being taken, he said, to improve this condition.

Other defects of a minor nature are occupying the attention of the Navy and are being corrected, usually with regard to the manner how shutters in divisions and bulkheads are to be closed.

New types of shutters have made it possible for tubes to fire torpedoes, estimates of commissioning, Hughes said.

There are 44 submarines now, and while they are kept in a good state of preservation, "few of them are in any ready for commissioning." At present, main storage batteries show a half million machinery items, the Department estimates and take $14,000,000 to place each in condition for war operation.

Battled Strength
Operating force plan for the fiscal year for the entire navy will be based on an enrollment of 33,250 men.

The following vessels were main full commission during the year:

1 battleship; first line; 2 cruisers; second line; 10 light cruisers;

10 destroyers; first line; 1 aircraft carrier; second line; 3 mine layers; 1 fleet; 103 destroyers; first line; 10 mine layers; 40 submarines; first line; 20 submarines; first line; 4 fleet submarines; 10 patrol vessels; Eagle; 2 patrol vessels; gunboats; 6 gunboats; converted yachts; 6 tenders; 6 submarines; 1 aircraft tender; 2 repair ships; 1 hospital ship; 1 transport; 2 ammunition ship; 3 engineers; 1 tugboat; 27 mine sweepers; 127 miscellaneous; 227 aircraft assigned to forces afloat or in port.

Operations
Operations covered all the major naval and air commands in the Atlantic and Mediterranean, and the Pacific, and the Asiatic.

Operations of Spanish and French navies, and the British Royal Navy, were conducted by the American naval forces.

Operations of Chinese, Japanese, and other navies, and the United States Army and Marine Corps, were conducted by the American naval forces.

BERGH PLAY PARIS CALLED AN POTPOURRI

Version Of Big Week In France Is Failure As A Drama

Dec. 12.—Practically all British and American officers and newspapermen of the other night, to Lindbergh's back, Captain (Colonel) C. E. Lindbergh, was called upon to perform the most terrifying task of all.

In a few yards of the Chatelet stage, Lindbergh was supposed to repeat his New York-to-Paris flight, even his Paris reception, and coming all over again. The "Lindbergh" bears but a resemblance to the man. M. Pierre Tristan, a dry goods clerk, bears a strong resemblance which is amazing in a Frenchman, they termed a Mongrel.

The play is a roisterous, non-stop, non-sobbing, potpourri, mixed with garrulous pantomime, and interspersed with a sentimental patriotism the ridiculous sadly out-shining the sublime. It is a mudiald of the operetta, pantomime, and pageant.

A series of scenes and tab-

a few of distinct beauty—certainly not a play. Never-

Paris critics say Guitry's real nia pofida, will be a

Why? Because Lindbergh alone is sufficient to draw thousands of French admirers to the box office. Secondly, he the Chatelet, is a children's and Guitry's new extra-however deficient in plot continuity, however ripe in intrigue, the youngest generation, nevertheless, one wondered,

in this curious hedge-pod,

whether Lindbergh himself would perpetuate his name in without openly smiling at and other times pursuing European either embarrassing or pleasure.

Scenes Attempted—

first night audience were officials and a majority of representatives who met and with Lindbergh during past week in Paris,

now far into the wings attempt to reproduce even as impossible of restaging her streaks of Roosevelt

his landing at Le Bourget resident's reception in the Palace and, finally, Broad-walks upon his return,

us asking too much to explain actors on earth who could portray these events. It was even more to expect newsmen who were on the spot time, to believe them as related on the stage.

Discrepancies Exposed—

course there were discrepancies, but having merrily of his way through 50,000 people to greet Lind-bergh's plane. Those who knew that the Ambassador had seized the hands of a mistaken duplicate of Lindbergh in Le Bourget's reception at the pavilion were forced to smile.

There was also a scene of Mrs. Lindbergh teaching school in Detroit, with children identically dressed in blue blouses and white collars, and the aviator's mother, upon word of her son's success, suddenly changed her chemistry lesson to one on trans-Atlantic geography.

Here was the French stage displaying as much ignorance of things American as the American stage usually betrays of things French. There were scenes including Dounouze, Foch, Poincaré, Briand, Lord Crewe, and other statesmen giving vent to the French love to personify on the stage contemporary officials. These are stirring much interest and frequent humor, since the French caricature succeeds where others fail.

One Scene of Great Beauty
Neptune is shown presiding over a conspiracy of thunder, cold, fear, fatigue and fog in a valiant effort to wreck Lindbergh's flight. There emerged one scene of breath-taking beauty—Lindbergh soaring in a plane above the rolling, growling and angry Atlantic. Here was a true hint of what a purely allegorical Lindbergh play might some day be, but from this height Guitry's effort dropped into impossibilities and occasional banalities.

It should be remarked, thanks to M. Tristan, that there was something of Lindbergh in the play—a shy awkwardness and seeming deafness to acclaim.

As one American remarked after the performance in the lobby: "Well, Sacha Guitry should be given the 1928 prize for propagandizing American good will." Unfortunately, after that is said there is little left to say about the stage Lindbergh.

Three Boys Are Held In Deputy's Slaying

JONESBORO, Tenn., Dec. 14.—(INS)—Three youths were held today in connection with the shooting of Deputy Sheriff J. H. Jenkins, slain on highway near here Tuesday.

The three are Rayford Ransome, 15, and Charles Ransom, 13, brothers, and James McElroy, 16. Authorities said Rayford confessed he shot Jenkins, after the latter had fired at him. He thought the deputy was a highwayman, he said.

RICH MAN FALLS TO DEATH
NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—(INS)—"Jumped or fell to death" was the tentative verdict of police today in the spectacular death of Irwin R. Hellbronner, 29, millionaire vice-president of Weber and Hellbronner, a chain of men's furnishing stores. He leaped or fell from a window of his fourteenth story apartment last night. He had been ill for some time and had suffered from attacks of vertigo.

Two Thousand Enter Hunt For Wife Killer

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 14—(INS)—More than two thousand police railroad special agents and detectives today had joined in the search for Charles S. Taylor, 45, suspected slayer of his wife, 45, here nearly two weeks ago.

Authorities here believed that Taylor committed suicide, but authorities went the theory, thinking it possible that he boarded a ship at some Gulf port last week and is now in a foreign country.

A dozen special agents have been assigned to passenger trains running through Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi to watch for Taylor. Mrs. Taylor's body was found five days ago, beaten and stuffed into a trunk in the rear of Taylor's abandoned barbershop.

Wives In House Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. B. Lewis, president of the Fortnightly Club with a bridge luncheon yesterday afternoon at the Grey House on the Orlando post road.

MOVIE STARS IN HOLLYWOOD TAKE TO AVIATION FAD

Wallace Beery Is One Of Favorites Who Is Favorable To Flying

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Dec. 14—(INS)—Wallace Beery is a famous pilot and provider of that flying distinction than of his fame as a screen star.

The license card, bearing the seal of the department of commerce of the federal government, is now valued in Beery's bulky pocket. "The man player is now authorized to pilot any plane any place at any time and with as many passengers as the ship can accommodate."

For some time Beery has owned an airplane but has never piloted it without his licensed "air chauffeur" accompanying him. The pilot has been used to fly to locations near Beery's ranch in the Sierra mountains recently to flew it to Wyoming.

The pilot's examination was given at Glendale Field, Los Angeles. A Wright motorized Travelair was used in the test.

Beery's sardonic smile was an宽慰 broader as he showed the license to his friends. He boasted he could now fly solo anywhere to his heart's content.

Aeronautics is not uncommon in the movie world and many stars fly to out-of-town locations. At least a dozen stars own air ships, one of the most persistent flyers being Reginald Denny. It is not unusual for him to migrate to make hurried trips across the continent by air.

When a film is made many hundreds of miles from the studio it is flown to Hollywood to be developed. In this way time is saved and "reverses" can be made on the same day before the company has moved to another location.

On a number of occasions films have been developed thousands of feet in the air. This accomplished by installing a developing room in the body of the ship.

Picture critics believe that aviation is destined to take the place of other means of transportation and figure that the use of airplanes saves the industry millions of dollars annually.

Flights through the sky have also influenced fashions in female attire according to Billie Dove. This influence, the flashing star aviator, is reflected in the use of blue and green, colors of the sea and sky, varying from the darkest to the faintest tints and in the metallic trimming seen in the treatment of many fashions.

Recently Miss Dove was seen wearing a gown in which blue and green, in a sky, cloud-like pattern, against a background of solid green satin. The bodice was of silver sequins. She wore a hat with a wide sweeping brim caught down to the crown on one side by an ornament of silver sequins. The effect was of the spreading wings of a monoplane adapted to more softened lines.

Talking pictures are giving studio experts all kinds of trouble. The latest is the problem of the kiss.

A technician at one of the studios has complained that too many of the osculatory salutes of stars are either "squishes" or "squacks." These terms have been developed by the "squeaky" and are part of the parlance of mixing-panel operators.

The term, explains an electrical engineer, represents the audible kiss as it is registered by the microphone.

John Gilbert and Greta Garbo, both silent kissers, are in no danger, he said, but stage players coming to the talking screen must learn "squish" and "squack" on the screen stars.

The license card, bearing the seal of the department of commerce of the federal government, is now valued in Beery's bulky pocket. "The man player is now authorized to pilot any plane any place at any time and with as many passengers as the ship can accommodate."

For some time Beery has owned an airplane but has never piloted it without his licensed "air chauffeur" accompanying him. The pilot has been used to fly to locations near Beery's ranch in the Sierra mountains recently to flew it to Wyoming.

The pilot's examination was given at Glendale Field, Los Angeles. A Wright motorized Travelair was used in the test.

Beery's sardonic smile was an宽慰 broader as he showed the license to his friends. He boasted he could now fly solo anywhere to his heart's content.

Aeronautics is not uncommon in the movie world and many stars fly to out-of-town locations. At least a dozen stars own air ships, one of the most persistent flyers being Reginald Denny. It is not unusual for him to migrate to make hurried trips across the continent by air.

When a film is made many hundreds of miles from the studio it is flown to Hollywood to be developed. In this way time is saved and "reverses" can be made on the same day before the company has moved to another location.

On a number of occasions films

have been developed thousands of feet in the air. This accomplished by installing a developing room in the body of the ship.

Picture critics believe that aviation is destined to take the place of other means of transportation and figure that the use of airplanes saves the industry millions of dollars annually.

Flights through the sky have also influenced fashions in female attire according to Billie Dove. This influence, the flashing star aviator, is reflected in the use of blue and green, colors of the sea and sky, varying from the darkest to the faintest tints and in the metallic trimming seen in the treatment of many fashions.

Recently Miss Dove was seen wearing a gown in which blue and green, in a sky, cloud-like pattern, against a background of solid green satin. The bodice was of silver sequins. She wore a hat with a wide sweeping brim caught down to the crown on one side by an ornament of silver sequins. The

Passengers Removed From Disabled Boat

CORDOVA, Alaska, Dec. 14—(INS)—Passengers of the disabled Alaskan packet Starr, were today safe on board the relief schooner Olive and enroute to Kodiak, Alaska, where they can be transferred to regular coastwise vessels.

Captain Barron, master of the Starr, expressed a desire that families of the 12 passengers and all members of the crew be advised that all were safe. The passengers were taken off the Starr in small boats and set aboard the Olive at sundown Thursday.

The Starr is rudderless and her propeller is damaged. She is now riding at anchor in unchartered waters near Isak Island, but today expected the power boat Alameda which will tow her to deeper waters and thence to seaward the weather is favorable.

HIT TAX COLLECTOR

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 14—

(INS)—Joseph Busiek was fined $250 in federal court here for punching an income tax collector in the jaw. Judge Lake Jones assessed the fine after hearing evidence that the collector was stayed when he argued with Mrs. Busiek over her tax.

BANKER FACES TRIAL

FT. MYERS, Fla., Dec. 14—(INS)—Carl L. Sewell, former cashier of the Citizens Bank here today was on trial charged with embezzlement. The indictment upon which he is being tried is one of 28 involving more than $20,000.

Gangster Executed For Slaying 2 Cops

OSSINING, N. Y., Dec. 14—(INS)—Thomas (Red) Moran, 29 and hard-boiled, was executed in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison early today for the murder of two Brooklyn policemen in 1925. The current was turned at 7:30 o'clock and Moran was pronounced dead at 1:05.

The youthful Brooklyn gangster, who shouted "I want to burn" when sentenced in court, tried to appear nonchalant at the end, but could not conceal his nervousness. A cigaret was taken away from him and his request for whiskey was refused. An hour earlier he had enjoyed a game of pinocchio with a keeper.

KILLER IS HELD

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 14—(INS)—Reuben J. Young, Seattle, Wash., was held here today for the killing of M. T. Bickman Tschetem, Miss., shot to death last night as he listened to a band concert. Young said the shooting was the result of an argument over a debt.

This is a simple contest, but will require an intensive review of all ads in this issue. Correctness, of course, is essential and neatness and artistic handling are to be considered. Send all four pages to Santa's Chimney Editor. These must be received by Saturday, Dec. 22, at noon, when the contest closes. The winners of the prizes will be announced Saturday, Dec. 22, at noon. The decision of the Contest Editor will be final.

9 Injuries Nine Deaths in Louisiana

SHREVEPORT, La., Dec. 14.—Nine people, members of families, were suffering more or less serious injuries today as result of a miniature tornado which swept through three small towns here Wednesday.

Mrs. Fouch, his wife and five children were severely injured in their home was blown away. H. E. Platt and his wife also suffered minor injuries. All are in a hospital here. Benson, Nobile and Converse reported several houses razed and many trees uprooted.

Court Will Decide Big Suit For Taxes

ARIS, Dec. 12—(INS)—A supreme court decision, expected before January 1, will decide whether the French branches of American firms may be obliged to pay $7,000,000 annually above present taxes.

The highest court is asked to sit on a protest against a levy of 15 per cent by the Boston Banking Company.

Branches of American concerns, organized as "Societe anonyme," normally pay 15 per cent on profits and 15 per cent based on the dividends of the home company in America.

It is alleged that when the French company fails to show distributed profits, the revenue authorities demand 15 per cent

YOUNG STRIBLING AND SHARKEY TO BATTLE IN MIAMI

Richard Will Promote Heavyweight Scrap
Scheduled For March

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service
Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Boxing's barometer was on the move today, headed due South in the land where the moon is full. Romance never dies; headed south for the first time since Sultan and Kilrain, were smugged in Mississippi, on flat cars and Abbott and Mitchell had at it under the frayed palms of a Florida landscape.

The highly commercial Mr. Rickard, romantic like a cash register, made this possible. He announced last night that Jack Sharkey, and Young Stribling, two of the leading heavyweight now living the prevalent large-scale retirement and the bigger better things of life, were to fight in Miami, Fla., on Mar. 1, in a most interesting and instant-heavyweight match, goes by from New York and the big men of the North at a time the North is supposed to be moseying for the thrill that only big fight can summon.

It isn't usual for the boys to step away from what are called great centers of population in their heavyweight fights. Rickard was in Jersey City with Bonanno in 1921; he had it in New York again in 1928. But the gentleman knows what he is about. He is going south with his bat because he believes the only thing more romantic than a dollar or two of them. He is going to Miami Beach with this fight because he believes the southern re-attraction will outgross New York on the day of the fight by more than 3 to 1. He estimated today that Sharkey and Stribling will play a half million dollar house in Miami. They couldn't hope to do better than $150,000 at this garrison in March, he declared.

He then went on to point out the natural advantages as well as the boons enumerating other things the fact that Miami has a winter visiting list of 1,000,000, and that Miami has a population of 160,000, and the principals are magnets on his native Virginia and the South in general, according to the promoter, who is ready to sign for the fight and Sharkey has accepted. The latter, to qualify for the bout, must dislodge K. O. Danner the surprise package, burst right in Knute Rockne's absence. The Sharkey-Carroll business is down on the books for mid-January.

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—(INS)

The basic rules of baseball remained unchanged today following the joint meeting of National and American League officials here yesterday with Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball, presiding.

The feature of the annual powwow was the extension of the regular playing season next year to October 8, one week later than last season. The pennant campaign in both leagues will open on April 16. The new schedule means the World Series can not be started before Oct. 9.

In practically everything else the meeting was a monotonous routine about waivers and draft and the complicated technicalities of interleague association.

It was unanimously decided that the rules of the game are "okay as is," even the suggestion, fair to many minds, that pitchers be relieved of the fatigue of hitting and base running didn't get to first base. The "big shots" in baseball believe pitchers could do their own hitting.

Mother Of 10 Faces Life Imprisonment For Selling Liquor

LANSING, Mich., Dec. 14.—(INS)—Etta Miller, 48, mother of 10 children, was in jail here today awaiting sentence of life imprisonment, while state-wide protests against her fate gathered momentum and appeals for her pardon were carried to Gov. Fred W. Green.

Under the new criminal code the life sentence is mandatory, and Judge Charles Collingwood is required to impose such sentence on Mrs. Miller after her conviction of a fourth violation of the prohibition law.

She is the first woman to receive a life imprisonment under the new code. The total of her three previous sentences was less than 14 months. Good behavior cut this time to less than a year. Her fourth conviction was for delivering two pints of gin.

IN VILE FACE INDIANA OUSTER IN STATES SUIT

Attorney-General To Trace Activities On Wizard's Statement

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 13.—The ramifications of the Ku-Klux Klan "in its effort to control the political and governmental structures of Indiana, one of the states regarded as most dominated by the hooded order at the height of its strength, are expected to be exposed and placed in court records in the trial which begins here next Wednesday and which is designed to cast the organization from Indiana.

The suit, filed last January by Arthur L. Gilliom, Attorney General, who has gained prominence because of his fight on the Klan and the Anti-Saloon League, seeks revocation of the charter of the order and appointment of a receiver.

McCay Opposed to Klan

Klan activities in the campaigns of 1922, 1924, 1926 and 1928 are to be revealed.

Activities of the Klan in states other than Indiana will be cited at the hearing through a number of depositions to be introduced by the state. These include statements by D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Klan, now serving a life-sentence for murder of an Indianapolis girl. Stephenson recently admitted that he had made more than $1,000,000 from the Klan in two years. As president of twenty-one Northern states he was a power in politics and was the political sponsor and personal friend of Ed Jackson, who retire January 14 as Governor of Indiana.

In Jackson's recent criminal trial on the charge that he conspired with George V. (Cap) Coffin, member of the Republican State Committee from the Seventh District (Indianapolis) and former soldier of fortune, to bribe Governor Warren T. McCay, to name a prosecutor favorable to the Klan and the Coffin political machine, it developed that McCay had opposed the Klan. He had remarked to Jackson, then Secretary of State, when Jackson issued the Klan charter:

"Ed, you'll live to rue the day that did that!"

Klan Backs New Governor

Jackson's constituents have been disengaged with his statements toward the Klan. His successor, Mr. G. Leslie of Lafayette, who will be inaugurated January 14 has strong support of the Klan. Mr. Jackson and Coffin in his campaign:

Jackson promised McCay, the new Governor, that if he would appoint a man favorable to the Klan, the "man" of that organization would be used in such a manner that "any in Indiana" would indicate their Governor, as a result of the financial trouble which had him in Federal penitentiary using the mails to defraud. McCay refused to listen to the Klan. It is the activities of the Klan during this period that will be the same being sold to satisfy said exposed through the Gilliom suit.

State Will Charge Fraud

Gilliom's original petition alleged that the Klan was admitted into the state under "false and fraudulent representations by its officers" as to its character. The pretension that the purpose was to "teach patriotism and respect for law." Its activities have harmed the business, social and political interests of the people of the state, he averred, and have brought disgrace to Indiana.

The true intention of said corporation and its officers in seeking admission into Indiana . . . was to secretly gain control of and to utilize constituted offices occupied by members of said organization to conduct government in violation of constitutional guarantees applicable to citizens who are ineligible to its membership and in accordance with legislative officers controlled by said corporation and its officers," states the bill.

The Attorney General has filed a number of interrogatories which must be answered by the Klan and which will reveal its national scope.

Stephenson Gives Statement

The most recent deposition was that taken from Stephenson in his cell in the State Prison at Michigan City, where Gilliom visited him on October 16. Stephenson said that Dr. Hiram W. Evans, Imperial wizard, had informed him that Jackson's election "meant more to the success of the Klan than anything else that could happen," and that thereafter the fullest strength of the Klan political machine was used in behalf of the man who had issued them their charter. Dr. Evans paid $80,000 of the cost of the campaign and Stephenson said he personally paid the remainder.

KLAN WILL FACE INDIANA OUSTER IN STATES SUIT

Attorney-General To Trace Activities On Wizard's Statement

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 13. The ramifications of the Ku-Klux Klan's efforts to control the political and governmental structure of Indiana, one of the states regarded as most dominated by the hooded order at the height of its strength, are expected to be exposed and placed in court records in the trial which begins here next Wednesday and which is designed to root the organization from Indiana.

The suit, filed last January by Justice L. Gilliom, Attorney General, who has gained prominence because of his fight on the Klan and the Anti-Salit League, seeks reversion of the charter of the order and appointment of a receiver.

McCay Opposed to Klan
Klan activities in the campaigns of 1922, 1924, 1926 and 1928 are to be revealed.

Activities of the Klan in states other than Indiana will be cited at the hearing through a number of depositions to be introduced by the state. These include statements by D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Klan, now serving a life-sentence for murder of an Indianapolis girl; Stephenson recently admitted that he made more than $1,000,000 from the Klan in two years. As organizer in twenty-one Northern states he was a power in politics and was the political sponsor and personal friend of Ed Jackson, who retires January 14 as Governor of Indiana.

In Jackson's recent criminal trial on the charge that he conspired with George V. (Cap) Coffin, member of the Republican state committee from the Seventh District (Indianapolis) and former soldier of fortune to bribe former Governor Warren T. McCay to name a prosecutor favorable to the Klan and the Coffin political machine, it developed that McCay had opposed the Klan. McCay remarked to Jackson, then Secretary of State, when Jackson issued the Klan charter:

"Ed, you'll live to rue the day you did that!"

Klan Marks New Governor
Jackson's constituents have become disenchanted with his attitude toward the Klan. His successor, George C. Leslie of Lafayette, who will be inaugurated January 14 had strong support of the Klan and of Jackson and Coffin in his campaign.

Jackson promised McCay, the new Governor, testified in criminal court, that if he would appoint him to a position favorable to the Klan the Klan would help him in his financial trouble which landed him in Federal penitentiary awaiting the trials to determine his fate. McCay refused to listen to the Klan's demands during this period that will be exposed through the Gilliom investigation.

State Will Charge Fraud
Gilliom's original petition alleged that the Klan was admitted into the state under "false and fraudulent representations by its officers" as to its character. The complaint branded as false the pretension that the purpose was "to teach patriotism and respect for law." Its activities have harmed the business, social and political interests of the people of the state, he averred, and have brought disgrace to Indiana.

The true intention of said corporation and its officers in seeking admission into Indiana, he said, was to secretly gain control of and to utilize constituted offices occupied by members of said organization to conduct government in violation of constitutional guarantees applicable to citizens who are ineligible to its membership and in accordance with legislative officers controlled by said corporation and its officers," states the bill.

The Attorney General has filed a number of interrogatories which must be answered by the Klan and which will reveal its national scope.

Stephenson Gives Statement
The most recent deposition was that taken from Stephenson in his cell in the State Prison at Michigan City, where Gilliom visited him on October 16. Stephenson said that Dr. Hiram W. Evans, imperial wizard, had informed him that Jackson's election "meant more to the success of the Klan than anything else that could happen" and that thereafter the full strength of the Klan political machine was used in behalf of the man who had issued them their charter. Dr. Evans paid $90,000 of the cost of the campaign and Stephenson said he personally paid the remainder.
