KLAN RESPECTS EDICT OF GOVERNOR WALTON

SEEKING CAUSE OF WRECK OF SEVEN U. S. SEA HORNETS ON CALIFORNIA COAST SATURDAY

DEATH LIST HAS BEEN INCREASED TO TWENTY-NINE

OFFICIALS SILENT

Treachery of Sea and Air Were The Main Factors

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Sept. 11.—The death list in the disaster which sent seven naval destroyers crashing on the rocks on Point Honda, 75 miles north of here, Saturday night, had increased to 29 last night, according to a message from a correspondent of the Santa Barbara Morning Express.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 11.—Treachery of the sea and air were the main factors in the wreck of seven of Uncle Sam's sea hornets, destroyers of the Pacific fleet, which pitched at twenty knots an hour on to the jagged rocks of La Honda, 75 miles north of Santa Barbara, Saturday night, according to the belief of naval experts here. Twenty-two lives and seven war vessels paid the toll.

Four hours previously the Pacific Mail liner Cuba had pulled up on San Miguel Island, 35 miles away and the air was filled with radio messages telling of her plight and directing the work of rescue.

In the meantime, the destroyer squadron eleven of the fleet was cruising south in a heavy fog, 19 clean cut craft, breasting a choppy sea in column formation and steering behind their leader, the Delphy, under dead reckoning and wireless compass directions from ashore.

The shore directions are said to have become garbled with the flood of air passages on the Cuba wreck and the speedy destroyers squadron was left to the fog—and the sea.

The evil genius of the latter added its quota to the sea fighters' dilemma and cross currents swept the flotilla out of its course to fling seven of the leading vessels on to the La Honda cliffs, an estimated twenty miles from the ocean lane they believed they were following.

The Delphy crashed first within a few moments six of her sister ships, Chaney, Young, Woodbury, Fuller, Lee and Nicholas were impaled with her on the rocks. A heavy surf swung them back and forth against the reefs, pounding the frail sides of the navy's speed boats into sieves; the Young turned over and imprisoned 19 of her crew below decks in berths that became their tombs.

Three of the Delphy's company also went to sailor's grave, while three more of their shipmates went adrift on a raft. Their fate still is in doubt.

The Woodbury rammed another craft and listed heavily. The Fuller joined her on the seaward side of the same rock. The Lee grounded close inshore and the Nicholas came to her bow pointed landward.

As the Delphy touched bottom and a moment later crashed, her shrill siren split the fog in warning to remainder of the squadron. The whistle blast probably saved eleven of the flotilla but six of the leaders of the column behind the Delphy were too close to avail themselves of the warning and plunged forward to their doom. The other destroyers of the flotilla had taken a different course.

With the grounding of the craft, their fires were banked, searchlights were dark and the only illumination of their tilted decks were occasional flashlights.

FROM NEW YORK TO LOS ANGELES BY AUTOMOBILE

47 CARS AND 150 PERSONS WILL ATTEMPT JOURNEY.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—What was said to be the largest American coast-to-coast automobile caravan comprising forty-three cars carrying 150 persons, including women and children, set out from New York Monday for Los Angeles and Santa Monica, California. The party, it was expected, would be joined by four additional cars in Philadelphia.

Most of the tourists carried tents and equipment, planning to camp out along the way and to reach their destination by October 15.

ITALIANS MAY BE COMPELLED TO USE FORCE

Jury is Selected by Judge in Record Breaking Time

ROME, Sept. 11.—The best informed opinions here are that Italy will refuse any mediation in the settlement of the Fiume question with Jugo-Slavia as proposed by the latter. Italy, it is declared, intends to settle directly with Jugo-Slavia in line with demands more recently, and setting September 15, as the date for reply, even employing forceful means if necessary to end that which she regards as an intolerable situation imperiling peace of both nations.

PARIS, Sept. 11.—It is understood from information gathered from reliable sources that Premier Mussolini will proclaim the annexation Fiume to Italy within a week, probably about September 15. The government of Jugo-Slavia is reported as being aware of Mussolini's intention and as intending to make no serious protest provided Porto Barros and Sussaka adjacent are not directly affected.

The conference between the French ambassador and Chancellor Stresemann will be continued. Any proposition received by France from the chancellor will be communicated immediately to the British and other allied governments.

HARDWICK IS CALLED AS WITNESS

In Trial of Alleged Ring Leaders in Georgia Floggings

(By The Associated Press) MACON, Ga., Sept. 11.—The name of former Governor Thomas W. Hardwick was called as a witness when the city court today took up the cases of three of the alleged ringleaders of the series of local floggings. The cases called were those of Dr. C. A. Yarbrough, J. E. Bloodworth, and J. D. Patrick, all are charged with rioting. Solicitor Moore announced, however, that he would try Yarbrough first. The first charge he faced was for flogging J. F. Mills in January of last year.

The jury to try Dr. Yarbrough, a prominent dentist here was quickly selected, each juror was required to state over the vigorous protest of the defense to swear he was not now and never had been a member of the Ku Klux Klan. Mills, testifying first identified Dr. Yarbrough as the man who took him from the car preparatory to the flogging. Bloodworth and another man held his hands, he said, while another whipped him. He said all wore masks but he later saw them disrobing. Mills said he wrote a letter to Gov. Hardwick asking protection but the executive never received it. A few days after sending the letter he was approached by a man giving the name of Payne, who described himself as from the governor's office. This man he identified today as J. P. Durkee an organizer of the Klan who was arrested yesterday and who has been here several weeks purportedly as an investigator for the Klan in helping the officials run down the floggers.

WHEREAS: State Road No. 3, known locally as "The St. Johns Scenic Highway" recognized as the most important arterial highway of Peninsular Florida, is rapidly nearing completion with the exception of a stretch in Clay county, and

WHEREAS: The citizenship of Green Cove Springs and Clay county desiring to secure the completion of this important highway in their county, have set Thursday, September 13th as "Good Roads Day" in that county, at which time they desire the assistance of Jacksonville, Palatka, Crescent City, DeLand, Sanford, Orlando, and other cities and villages along the route of this highway, in solving their problem and have issued invitations to participate, to the Civic and Commercial Bodies and the City Officials of these Cities, and

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The Alabama Power Company today agreed to extend the time within which the government must determine whether or not it will sell to the power company its interest in the Gorgas unit and transmission line of the Muscle Shoals properties. The company granted ten days extension. Meanwhile it is expected a reply will be received from Henry Ford as to whether he is willing to exclude the Gorgas plant from the property in his offer.

ROTARY CLUB HELD MEETING AT VALDEZ TODAY

VISITORS PRESENT GAVE SOME FACTS ABOUT BOY SCOUTS.

The Rotary Club held their regular meeting at the Hotel Valdez today. President Knight being out of the city vice president R. J. Holly presided and called on Will Carpenter for the invocation. After the reading of several communications by Secretary Haynes the visitors present were asked to stand up and be recognized. They were Roy Bachman of Tampa and Perry Wetmore of St. Petersburg. Roy is the Boy Scout executive of the Rotary Club at Tampa and he was called upon to tell something of the work in his department. He gave a comprehensive outline of the great work being done by Tampa Rotarians and said that Tampa Rotarians had contributed the sum of $8,000 last year for the Boy Scout work.

Perry Wetmore is in charge of the bird sanctuaries and the preservation of aligrets in south Florida for the government and being called upon gave a most interesting account of his work and the great assistance he receives from his Sea Scouts who are graduates of the Boy Scouts and have very important duties conferred upon them. They also assist him in the hunting season by acting as game wardens for the protection of the aligret and other plumed birds.

Harry Stevens, chairman of Boy Scout work in Sanford made a report on the good work being accomplished here.

Will Carpenter having recently returned from a trip to many points north was called upon to give a few details of his trip and responded by telling of his meeting with the Macon and Baltimore Rotary Clubs and of the excellent manner in which they conducted their meetings, the good music and many other good points. He also proposed the name of a Methodist minister who could tell the club something about his experiences with Sears-Robuck & Co., and Raymond Key who has charge of the entertainment next week will probably have this gentleman on the program. Other matters of interest were transacted by the club and with the singing of songs and reports of committees the club adjourned.

OKLAHOMA OFFICIALS OF KU KLUX KLAN FORBIDS MASKED GATHERINGS OR PARADES

CHARGED WITH ARSON, DEAN IS IN JAIL

Texas Man Will Probably Have To Answer to Murder Charge.

(By The Associated Press) DECATUR, Texas, Sept. 11.—Answer Dean, is in jail here charged with arson, and a charge of murder may be placed against him today, according to officials. A fire which started yesterday destroyed the home of W. H. Miles near here, and burned to death H. T. Jones, 85 years old, an employe of Mills. The charge made by Mills is substantiated by his daughter. The daughter says she was awakened and discovered Dean in the house. As he fled he set fire to the house in which ten persons were asleep.

SETTLEMENT OVERTURES BEING MADE

No Definite Offer Yet, But Negotiations Have Been Opened

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Sept. 11.—Conversations that are now taking place between Jacquin de Margerie, the French ambassador to Germany and Chancellor Stresemann in Berlin are considered by the French government as leading toward a settlement of the reparations question, although it is stated the Chancellor has not yet made a definite offer, either respecting the cessation of resistance in the Ruhr or what would be proposed afterward.

UNCOMPLETED COUNT OF DEAD MADE BY JAPS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The dead counted by Japanese authorities up to September 7 numbered 47,000 in Tokio and 23,000 in Yokohama, the foreign office in Tokio reported last night to the Japanese embassy.

The message said 150 foreigners had been killed "so far as has been ascertained."

About 316,000 houses, or 71 per cent of all, were destroyed in Tokio, while 70,000 of the 85,000 houses in Yokohama met a similar fate. Police of Tokio, according to the message, estimated 1,356,000 persons homeless there, constituting 87 per cent of the total population.

Five of the leading banks opened for business on September 8, the dispatch said, while the ministry of finance and the Bank of Japan were striving to re-establish the financial affairs of Tokio.

The foreign office building was reported only partly destroyed but owing to the dislocation of communication not more than half the staff was able to reach the office.

"Better efficiency in foreign communications would be attained within a few days," the message predicted.

IS ANNOUNCED BY N. C. JEWELL, GRAND DRAGON OF THE STATE KLAN

WALTON READY

To Use State Militia to Enforce His Orders of Yesterday

(By The Associated Press) OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 11.—Bowling to Governor J. C. Walton's edict against mask assemblages, state officials of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan issued an order here early last night forbidding Klansmen in Oklahoma to hold masked parades or meetings.

The decision of the Klan to abide by the executive's decision was announced by J. C. Jewell, grand dragon of the Oklahoma realm of the Klan.

It came when preparations were under way by Governor Walton to use troops, if necessary to prevent a series of Klan demonstrations scheduled over the state this week, the first of which was advertised for Bristow last night.

been instructed in the day to shroud a Adjutant General B. Markham had been instructed in the day to hold national guard units in readiness for movement to the counties in which the Klan parades were planned.

"The Klan is for law and order, first, last and all the time. Because of this fact any masked parade or meeting of any kind in the state of Oklahoma is absolutely forbidden," said the statement of Grand Dragon Jewell.

TO PREVENT GOUGING OF COAL USERS

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 11.—Speaking as the chief executive of the only anthracite producing state, Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, called upon the governors of thirty states to join him in seeking methods of safeguarding coal users against higher prices during the coming winter.

In a letter to the governors, in which he told them he is directing an investigation in his own state of "means or methods of any and every kind which could be used to prevent gouging of the consumer he suggested similar studies in each of the other states looking toward a personal conference concerning joint action later.

As an initial step in his own investigation, he conferred with Chairman W. D. Ainey of the Pennsylvania Public Service Company and to President Coolidge in a letter last night, he would ask to make a study of the reasonableness of anthracite freight rates within the state. He suggested to the president that the Interstate Commerce Commission make a similar investigation of transportation rates on hard coal with a view to their readjustment.

Plans for a joint conference of governors are indefinite and dependent, it was indicated, upon the results of the action they might take in response to Governor Pinchot's letter. No immediate preparations will be made for meeting and it was said at the time capital none probably would be made until the return to Harrisburg of governor who left late yesterday a two weeks' vacation.

tion of influence and power which she has resigned in order to accept the call from New York, just as she has laid aside her newspaper work in this state to enter a larger field.
The magazine of which Miss Rich is to take charge is the Independent Woman, the official organ of the National Federation of the Business and Professional Women's clubs. Miss Rich, through attendance at all the national conventions which have been held since the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs was formed in St. Louis several years ago, has gained the national viewpoint, and when Mrs. Elizabeth Sears, editor of the Independent Woman for the past two years or more, decided to resign that work and enter another field, Miss Rich seemed the logical choice of the powers that be in the National Federation to fill the vacancy.

There are many clever newspaper women who stand high in the membership of the federation, so the national executive board has paid Miss Rich high compliment in choosing her for the position. Florida has supported the Independent Woman splendidly and some of the clubs in the state have the reputation of being one hundred per cent subscribers to the magazine, which carries club news from every part of the country, and tells inspirational stories of women who are doing things in various parts of the United States. With the appointment of Miss Rich to the editorship of the periodical, Florida clubs and those of other Southern states are expected to take an even keener interest in the publication, and to stand more solidly behind the magazine.

CECIL B. DE MILLE'S NEW PICTURE IS A MARVEL OF REALISM.
Genuineness and absolute realism are two factors in the enormous success which Cecil B. De Mille has attained as a motion picture director. These qualities are present in "Male and Female," Mr. DeMille's latest Paramount-Artcraft picture, which was adapted from Sir James M. Barrie's famous play, "The Admirable Crichton" and will be on view at the Princess tonight (Monday). It is Mr. De Mille's desire that every property or furnishing used in his production be the best that can be bought. Properties used in his latest picture total thousands of dollars in value. One toilet set alone cost five hundred dollars, and the gorgeous gowns worn by Gloria Swanson, Lila Lee, and Bebe Daniels, who are in the cast, are worth a handsome price.
The story of Crichton, the butler in the family of English nobles who was wrecked with his master's yachting party at sea and became their leader, has long delighted thousands. Under the master hand of Cecil B. De Mille it is a screen masterpiece. Thomas Meighan plays the leading role, and Theodore Roberts, Raymond Hatton and Guy Oliver are included in the cast.

THRILLS OF DERBY SEEN IN "COUNTERFEIT LOVE"
They're off!
The greatest "hoss" race of the year will be seen tonight at the Milane Theatre when "Counterfeit Love" a Playgoers Special produced under the direction of Ralph Ince and R. S. Sheldon, will be shown on the screen.
All the thrills of the Kentucky Derby, Saratoga Special and Preakness Stakes thrown into one, best describes the big race scene in this thrilling drama of chivalry, crooks and the Sport of Kings.
When Ralph Ince, the master film director who has never produced a failure, first saw the script of "Counterfeit Love," he realized that there was a story which offered an opportunity to film the biggest race scene thrill on record. And when Ince strives for realism he achieves it, as you'll acknowledge after seeing this wonderful race scene.
It is not the race alone that provides the big "punch," however. It is what depends upon the outcome of the race. A girl's happiness, the honor of her family and the clearing of her brother's name, are involved.

Here is hoping some Sanford man or woman will get that $100,000 offered as a prize by Edward Bok for the best essay on World Peace. We know many men who could get it.

Conditions in Greece and Italy must be pretty bad. It is difficult to make a choice between either government for one is not much better than the other. Both should be ashamed of their actions.

Where will you find a city of the size of Sanford in which so much money has been put into circulation during the summer months. And now that the farmers are pressing their work, paying good wages, the merchants and working men round about town should be flush with money.

Well, it will soon be over with anyway. After he is elected, unless he is looking for some office higher up, he will not know us or ask concerning our prosperity. Should our mother-in-law pass on it would make no difference to him. Why should we get so excited about the election of a man who cares so little for us?

Old John Barleycorn is getting the funds in the bank for an assault on the prohibition law. John never made an honest fight in his life. Three weapons he invariably uses—money, political promises, and intimidation and murder. He knows how susceptible to the attractiveness of gold the average law maker is, and John knows how to wisely use it, too. Look out.

Governor Pinchot has conferred a boon upon the users of hard coal by wisely piloting both miners and operators to a peaceful settlement of their troubles. Why in the name of uncommon sense has the country to be rent and torn at almost every change of the moon over this coal question? Now it seems the power back of these disturbances lies in the heads of some Russian Reds. There would be little weeping if Uncle Sam hung a few of that sort whether they be Russians or Americans.

MR. PEPPER'S APPRECIATION.

To be elected President of the Florida Associated Dailies is a distinct compliment and the managing editor and owner of this paper feels that he was highly honored when, at the Sanford convention of this Association, he was chosen to be its president for the ensuing terms.

With perhaps two exceptions, Florida has more newspapers, according to population, than any state in the American Union and those newspapers, whether weeklies or dailies, are far and away above the average. With our population of a million people we have more dailies than has Georgia with its nearly three millions. We have more than any state in the South. Our newspapers constitute a mighty power for the upbuilding of this favored state. They, more than any other single influence, stand for progress and prosperity. The newspapers have been largely the moving cause of Florida's upward trend and will continue, unselfishly, to lead it on to its final great destiny.

Those of us who work with Mr. Pepper and under him and who know his high character, his goodness of heart and his sense of justice, rejoice at the honor done him.—Gainesville Sun.

THE MAP FUND COMPLETED.

The Babson map fund for Florida has been raised and the money sent to Mr. Babson. Except for four voluntary subscriptions from nearby towns, the $1,200 required was collected in Tampa and it is Tampa's gift to the state of Florida. Although the Babson map will be an advertisement for the entire state, no contributions were asked from other sections of the state. The Tribune was asked to raise Florida's quota in Tampa—and The Tribune did.

"BUBBLE, BUBBLE, TOIL, AND TROUBLE"

All the subscribers are Tampans except the Men's Club of Auburndale, the Sumter County Chamber of Commerce, J. E. Wothington, of Lake Wales, and John H. McQuade, of Punta Gorda. Their assistance is gratefully acknowledged.

Florida is thus assured fine representation in this great relief map, which will show the United States as it has never before been shown. Located at Babson Park, near Boston, it will become immediately recognized as the most accurate and accepted authority on the topography, resources, possibilities and potentialities of every state and every section of the every state in the Union.

The Tribune thanks the generous subscribers who made it possible for Tampa to do this worthy and valuable thing. It will be worth millions to Florida.—Tampa Tribune.

GROWTH OF THE TREASURY.

Somebody has called attention to the fact that September 2 was the anniversary of the founding of the United States Department of the Treasury; it was established 145 years ago. Its development from the hazardous, working out a way through mountains of trouble, illustrates, like the pony express, the advances which we as a people are fond of celebrating and the review of which gives us confidence in the future.

Taxation appears to have been unpopular in the early days as at this time. Custom duties were imposed as early as 1791 and in that year yielded only $1,582,000, but had grown to $10,751,000 in 1801. And showing the growth of the treasury collections from that period down to the present time the following figures are given:

"In 1800, the customs duties amounted to $9,081,000, the internal revenue to $809,400; in 1830, customs $21,923,000, internal revenue $12,161,000; 1870, customs $194,538,000, internal revenue $184,302,000; 1900, customs $233,165,000, internal revenue $295,316,000; 1912, customs $312,311,000, internal revenue $321,616,000; 1916, customs $213,186,000, internal revenue $512,723,000; 1918, customs $179,108,000, internal revenue $3,698,956,000; 1920, customs $407,580,000, internal revenue $5,407,580,000; 1922, customs $356,433,000, internal revenue $3,197,451,000."

NO EXCUSE NOW FOR NOT HAVING A STATE ROAD SYSTEM

Representative Frank O. Miller, of Duval county, president of the Jacksonville Motor Club, one of the small band of original good roads enthusiasts in this state and probably the best authority on highways in Florida, estimates that with the new gasoline tax now in effect, promising to produce $2,000,000 a year, and with other highway assets available, the State Road Department will have not less than $11,000,000 to spend for the construction of permanent highways in the next two-year period. That is a lot of money. Wise expenditure by the department ought to bring Florida wonderful results. It may be said on behalf of Judge Phillips, chairman of the board and his fellow members, that they have been doing good work, have been devoting time and thought to the great problem of highway transportation and have achieved more during their term of office than any preceding board, taking advantage of resources of which former boards were deprived. There is every reason to believe that this coming two-year period will mark the completion of many of the important state roads. Fortunately the road department is pinned down to a definite program by action of the state legislature, although in justice to the members of the board it ought to be said they had already agreed that the proper course to pursue is the completion of the official state highways. The action of the state legislature simply fortifies their refusal to entertain proposals for the performance of work elsewhere. With ample funds now available it may reasonably be expected that the department will complete those projects already underway so that month by month completed sections may be linked up, enabling the motoring public to get somewhere when they start on a journey instead of, as at present, traveling a few score miles of good highway to suddenly discover that "the bad road begins here." Judge Phillips realizes the situation better than anybody else. He knows that all of the dissatisfaction registered against Florida's highways has been the result of this very policy of half doing things.

Nothing to be gained by harking back to the gasoline tax which went into effect recently but so far nobody has been able to give even an opinion as to why the legislature tacked on that extra cent for the counties. The majority of motorists would be much happier if they knew that all of the three-cent tax went to the State Road Department. However, that fiasco is now ancient history. We can at least enjoy the prospect of watching and waiting to see what will be done by the counties with that estimated $12,000 per annum for the county road fund.—Lakeland Star-Telegram.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION.

There has been a campaign throughout the country to persuade boys and girls to continue school; in thousands of communities there are organizations taking to heart, as it were, the vital interests of the young people, and where no organizations existed they were formed for this purpose, and help has been extended where it was necessary and would be accepted.

We need not go beyond our own community to verify this statement, and in siring up the things worth while done by this spirit of helpfulness, nothing will stand higher on the list of benevolent activities.

Many people have an impression that education is not necessary in the field of commerce, and that as it can be of no practical use, the years passed in attaining a better scholarship are wasted, when they might have been utilized in beginning a business career. A writer on this subject points out some striking illustration of the contrary view when he says: "Education is obviously useful and practical. Some of the branches of higher education supply the means of bettering the most 'practical' conditions under which men and women and children live. "Education has purified the milk supply through the work of Pasteur. Education through the researches of Lister and his following have made possible the wonderful work of the surgical room. The same line of thought carries the mind through the school room to the laboratory and the experiment station. Education enriches the farmers' land and reaches down into the mine to make safer the life of the deliver. "The 'practical mind' sees nothing in the study of astronomy. But it was an educated mind that went to the rim of the sun and at the tips of flames 80,000 miles high discovered helium and gave that discovery to the practical heroes who go aloft in the great dirigibles. The gift is practical in that with helium to support it the huge ship of the air will never horrify the world by bursting into flame and dropping like molten plummet.

"The uneducated man goes through existence scorning the things that are denied him through his blindness. To him the wisdom, the philosophy, the beauty and the art of the ages are subjects for scoffing. But the scorn is but a protective covering. It is assumed for defensive purposes. It is a confession of envy and of deep regret.

"Success in life is relative. It is not power. It is in what man makes of himself as he sees himself as no one else can. Education will clarify that view."

SANFORD AN EXAMPLE OF SELF-RELIANCE.

Some Florida towns are entirely self-supporting; others are not. The latter are in a small minority. Included with the majority is Sanford. If anyone ever becomes pessimistic and blue about a state into which thousands are flocking to make a living, that one should take a trip over the so-called Sanford delta. This delta was formed in past ages, probably even before Bob Holly was born, by the mighty St. Johns which evidently covered a vast expanse of territory now bordering on the shores of Lake Monroe, which lake is nothing more than a bulging or swelling of that famous river, one of the very few on the North American continent whose course is northward. The waters left rich deposits of black loam which are now being turned to good account in the raising of food for man. Most of it is brain food—celery,—although lettuce is now playing an important part in the trucking industry. Nothing is to be gained by worrying over statistics as to how many million celery plants are even now ready for transplanting from the seed beds to the thousands of acres of prepared soil, level as a billiard table, highly cultivated and ready to receive the tender plants so soon to grow and mature into a product in such great demand in mid-winter throughout the United States and Canada that the celery and lettuce move out, not by the carload but by the train load. A few million more or less would make little difference where the industry has developed into such stupendous proportions. The point is that all this development has come about through hard and systematic work, both head work and body effort. It did not simply happen. The Sanford of today is the best evidence of the success that has attended the efforts of the men and women who have wrested from the soil such a rich return. The substantial character of the suburban homes indicates that there is some degree of truth in statements made that the successful growers net anywhere from $300 an acre on up, principally up, with the average mostly around $700 to $1,000, an acre for their "wares."

The millions of dollars that are received in return for these products are being used in the upbuilding of Sanford. The city stands convicted before any competent jury, of being guilty of having brought about prosperity. Proofs are not lacking of this guilt. Substantial bank buildings, commercial structures, pretty homes, all bear testimony to the fact that Sanford is prosperous. That prosperity is a made-at-home prosperity. Nobody from the outside with millions to use in development, has yet stopped off in Sanford long enough to contribute any appreciable amount to the total county and city valuation. The banks, the stores, the homes, have come from the soil. Sanford is a self-made city.

CANNER MUST USE FRESH VEGETABLES

Out of the garden into the cans" might be a homemaker's preserving motto, suggests home demonstration workers. After the vegetables have been gathered, the longer they stand before being put up the greater the chance of spoilage. To get an early start in the morning, some homemakers may gather their vegetables the night before, and let them soak over night. They may even go as far as to shell the peas or cut the beans the night before they are canned. Other women wait till the morning to gather the vegetables, but their day is so full that they are not able to get at their canning early, so the vegetables are left for hours in the hot kitchen, or lying in cold water, or standing in the jars before they go into the canner or in the water bath, steamer, or cooker until they have cooled.

All of these things may cause the result known as flat sour. This is caused by organisms which develop between the time the vegetable is picked and when it is canned. Sometimes the food is spoiled before it is canned. All canning processes should be carried thru as quickly as possible. As soon as the cooking of the jars is completed they should be removed from the canner, sealed, washed, and set in a cool place, but not too cold, because too great a change from the heat may cause the jars to break.

SETS NEW MARK FOR SPEED IN AIR

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—A new mark for speed in the air was claimed last night by the bureau of naval aeronautics which announced that Lieutenant L. H. Sanderson of the marine corps, piloting the plane which will represent the navy in the Pulitzer races in St. Louis in October, attained 238 miles an hour over a measured course yesterday at Mineola, L. I. The official record is now held by Lieutenant R. L. Maughan of the army air service, who raced through the air at 236.58 miles an hour at Dayton, Ohio. The mark yesterday was made during builders' trials in a straightaway flight, without the advantages of diving from altitude to attain momentum) and the timing, the announcement said, was accurate, and according to standard practices. Known as the Navy-Wright fighter, the plane was built under navy specifications. It is a biplane developing 700 horsepower, streamlined and with one seat. A description of the machine given out at the navy department said it is "in effect an airplane built around an engine to convert tremendous power into speed," and that it proved that a motor designed to carry 2,000 bomb could be rendered adaptable to the utmost refinement of construction and made to compete with the fastest airplanes ever built.

Health is Wealth Health is one of the greatest things your family can possess. It brings happiness and success. But health must be safe-guarded by good wholesome foods that are prepared from the purest ingredients. This is especially true of bakings. If they are not properly raised, we all know that they are not easily digested. Many times when self-rising flour is used in place of good plain flour and dependable baking powder—the results are flat, soggy and heavy foods. Don't take chances! Use a reliable brand of baking powder and plain flour. Then you will be sure of healthful bakings that are easily digested. Remember, science has never found anything to take the place of the tried and tested method of using plain flour and good baking powder in preparing bakings. Millions of housewives now know by actual experience that many preparations that are claimed to take their place are worthless and dangerous to health. There is no comparison. Calumet, the Economy Baking Powder, is known to be one sure and positive aid to successful bakings that are always pure, sweet and wholesome. That's the reason its sales are 2 1/2 times as much as any other brand. PACKED IN TIN —KEEPS STRENGTH IN

EXPOSE OF ALLEGED PLOT TO CONTROL THE LABOR UNIONS OF THE UNITED STATES BY "REDS"

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—"Through the encouragement of industrial strife and the breeding of distrust between employers and labor unions," American agents of the Communist International at Moscow have undertaken to gain control of labor unions as the first step toward revolution and the establishment of a Communist regime on this continent, the United Mine Workers of America alleges in the second article of an "expose" of a widespread "Red" plot it claims to have uncovered.

In carrying out this program the Communists are as much the foe of the trade unions as they are of the employers, say authors of the miners' document.

"There are persons who charge that the United Mine Workers is a 'Red' organization," the document continues, "and that it works, sympathizes, co-operates with, and is dominated by Communists and Communist influences." But the union "has no sympathy with the Communist movement in any of its phases. In fact, Communists recognize the miners' union as their strongest and bitterest enemy in America. That is why the Moscow masters put forth such a tremendous effort to cripple and seize the organization."

It is asserted that eight months before the general coal strike of April 1, 1922, Gregory Zinoviev of Moscow, president of the Communist International, began secretly instructing his American agents "to foster and encourage the threatened breach between the operators and the mine workers" laying his plans "with the strategy of a field marshal."

Meantime local operators had carefully watched the trend of the open-shop campaign and it had been apparent for some time that as soon as this movement was sufficiently entrenched in industry an effort would be made to cripple the miners' union in the hope that there might be a lower labor cost within the coal industry. Coal in the ground does not deteriorate and losses caused by a strike can be added to the price of the coal when it is finally mined. Consequently, the coal operators has nothing to lose, and possibly much to gain, when a strike is precipitated.

Fully cognizant of the attitude of both sides in the impending strike, Zinoviev, it is claimed, sent to his agents just prior to April 1, 1922, this communication:

"The Central Executive Committee of the Communist Party of America must direct its particular attention to the progress of the miners' strike in America. Agitators and propagandists must be sent to the strike regions. It is necessary to rouse striking coal miners to the point of insurrection. Let them blow up and flood the shafts. Shower the strike regions with proclamations and appeals. This arouses the revolutionary spirit of the workers and prepares them for the coming revolution in America."

The mine workers' chronicle continues:

"In this troubled situation the Communist group of America was to create a condition within the strike which would eventually eliminate the officials of the miners' union and enable the 'Reds' to extend the strike into a great industrial upheaval, involving as they hoped, all labor unions and all industry."

"Thus the United Mine Workers of America was attacked by an underground enemy at the same time that it was engaged in a tremendous contest with the coal operators. It was a significant coincidence that the two elements should attack the miners' union at the same time."

When it appeared the strike would be settled the Communists urged the miners to refuse the terms obtained by their leaders and began to propagate distrust and suspicion of the union chiefs. Coal regions were flooded with revolutionary documents most of which "originated at Cleveland, where the Communist organization had concentrated $1,100,000 sent into the country by Zinoviev and his associates."

"They (the Communists) did not want a settlement of the strike by orderly process," the United Mine Workers declare. "They wanted a continuation and enlargement of it, with themselves in control, that would finally engulf the whole American industrial structure."

In the Trade Union Educational League, founded in Chicago in October, 1921, with money and a program furnished by Lanine, Zinoviev and Lesovsky of Moscow, the Communist sought a new method or "boring from within." The existing organizations had "failed to bring about an uprising in conjunction with the steel strike of 1919 and the outlay switchmen's strike of 1920" and "Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor had given back the wave of Communism to the union."

William Z. Foster is alleged to have been designated to organize the league by its Moscow sponsors, and to have written the "one big union" plan shortly promulgated by the organization at Chicago. Then the American Communists were ready for the 1922 strikes.

There follows in the miners' chronicle a long citation of names of alleged Communist leaders and cities where they made headquarters as well as coal region towns where they were most active. Data gathered by officials in raids on the headquarters of Fred Merrick at Pittsburg are described in detail. C. E. Ruthenberg was in charge of the Cleveland office.

"Agents from New York and Chicago, as well as Cleveland, poured into the coal fields," continues the miners' article. "The New York headquarters was in the office of Carlo Tresca, an anarcho-Communist and political refugee from Italy who was sentenced to the penitentiary at Atlanta for violation of war-time laws. Tresca was 'field supervisor' who executed the 'boring from within' plans in the Eastern district as they came to him from the Communist 'inner circle.' The Chicago headquarters was largely under the direction of Jack Carney, editor of the Communist organ, VOICE OF LABOR."

Activities are reported to have been concentrated in Uniontown, New Salem, Brownsville, Charleroi and Avella, in the center of the Pennsylvania coke regions, with a field stronghold at Bellaire, Ohio. The American Civil Liberties Union, which during the coal strike championed the cause of numerous public speakers who fell into the hands of the authorities, was "concerned primarily with keeping the Communist agents out of the jails and prisons of southwestern Pennsylvania after they were sent out by the revolutionary organization."

CHANNEL SMUGGLING BEING REVIVED

DEAL, Sept. 10.—Smuggling traffic is being revived along the lonely stretches of Kent and Sussex coasts, according to sea-faring men.

Many years ago this and nearby ports were headquarters of cross-channel smugglers in brandy, lace, and silks, and now the possibilities of big profits through depreciated French exchange and a reduction in strength of the coast-guards, has tempted many to take up this exciting work again.

ACTORS DEMAND DAILY PAY.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—Singers and actors in the countries affected by the slump in exchange have adopted a new method of collecting their salaries. The artists now demand that they be paid at the conclusion of each day's work, and at the rate of exchange paid for seats that day.

The artists have refused to sign contracts except on this basis, as they claim that the fluctuation of the exchange makes their salary practically nothing at the end of the month.

The South Financing and Building Many New Enterprises

BALTIMORE, Sept. 11.—A bond issue of $3,000,000 on a hotel costing $6,500,000, now being erected in Atlanta, has been taken by Southern banking houses. This is indicative of the ability of the South to begin on a large scale to finance its own interests just as the building of the hotel costing $6,500,000, with 550 bed rooms, is indicative of the spirit of construction and development work prevailing throughout the South.

Reports for the past week to the Manufacturer's Record, covering this and other enterprises, show that within a radius of twenty miles of Greenville, S. C., $10,000,000 is being spent by New England interests in the building of a $5,000,000 cotton mill, a $1,000,000 bleachery, a $1,000,000 worsted company, etc., in addition to the $165,000,000 or $18,000,000 recently invested by New England interests in the purchase of existing mills in that vicinity.

Bids have been invited by the Highway Commission of Virginia for projected roads to cost about $800,000. Brewster county, Texas, asks for bids for the construction of twenty-four miles of highways, and Vernon Parish, La., will vote on a bond issue of $500,000 for highway construction.

Kansas City officials have authorized the construction of a new water works plant at an estimated cost of $11,000,000.

Bids have been received by Boston architects for the erection of additional buildings at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., to cost between $2,000,000 and $4,000,000, the latter figure being probably the amount of this expenditure.

A hydro-electric company of Louisville, in connection with the government, is working out plans for the reconstruction of a dam at Falls of the Ohio river where the company plans to develop from 75,000 to 100,000 horsepower.

Port Utilities Commission, Charleston, S. C., let contract at $542,896 to build cargo pier on concrete piling.

Raleigh, N. C., contemplates voting on $1,250,000 bonds for street, sewer, and water improvements. A company in Baton Rouge, La., plans to expend $500,000 for improvements and extensions, and the city will vote in September on granting franchise.

Again "Miss America"

Miss Mary Katherine Campbell, Columbus, O., chosen as "Miss America" in the 1922 Beauty Pageant at Atlantic City, was awarded the same honor this year. Her selection for the second time came as a great surprise to other contestants.

Friday night, on the Polo Grounds, Messrs. Jack Dempsey and Angel Firpo will lock horns in what is expected to be the greatest fistie affair in 1923.

And that'll be going some—to be the greatest of 1923. Because we have had some swell fights in America this year—many of them hard to heat—so this one must a corker.

And the great thing about this scrap is that we need it in doubt as to whether it is to be pulled off or not on account of financial conditions like the Dempsey-Gibbons affair which was in doubt up until the last moment. The kale is coming in at a fast rate under Tex Rickard's supervision.

The only thing that seemed possible to mar the fight was Harry Wills, negro pugilist, who tried to stop the fight by means of legal entanglements—but these attempts failed when Justice Hagarty of the supreme court denied Wills' application for injunction.

Babe Ruth's home run marked the only game in the American League yesterday. So again Ruth and Williams are tied in the home run race for '23. If we were betting we would bet on a tie. It would be safer.

While the Pirates and Reds scrap, quarrel and argue among themselves as to who shall occupy second place, the Giants slug themselves to a greater lead over both. Time for a frame up now.

The football field was "nice and muddy" yesterday and a fine practice was held considering the drizzling rain, wet uniforms and Coach's slippery paddle.

The Seminole Athletic Club is showing up fine in practice for their game with S. H. S. here on Hood Field on the last Thursday afternoon in September. They are practicing on the Ninth street park every afternoon. Though not having as many men out as the High School brigade they have an exceptionally good bunch in Oscar DuBose, Frank Purden, Johnny Meisch, Peewee Tillis and a number of others.

A West Palm Beach football fan is up here boasting of West Palm Beach's chances this year. Well, we hear that they never won a single game last year. But oh, well, last year is last year and S. H. S. didn't win the state championship last year but they are going to this year.

This bird is trying to get a game with S. H. S. up here on Thanksgiving Day as that is one of our open dates. Well, we can eat West Palm Beach up that day as well as turkey.

Two high school football teams of championship calibre last year have been weakened considerably this year. Gainesville has lost ten letter men by graduation, and Miami's Heys-Cats have lost their stellar backfield excepting one man. Miami has also lost Coach Woods who is going to make an attempt to make a real squad out of some of West Palm Beach's rawest material.

Sanford High Warriors Continue Practice Yesterday

Orange and Black Gridders Out in Full Force Despite Rain and Mud.

Sanford High School's football prospects were considerably brightened yesterday when the men showed their good spirit by coming out to practice though it was drizzling rain and the field was muddy. Coach Wilkinson was also on the field undaunted by rain which promises to keep the field wet for several days.

Scrimmage was engaged in, tackling the dummy and passing a slick wet ball kept the fellows pretty warm. The backfield showed up exceptionally strong in scrimmage making good gains on nearly every play.

About twenty-six men appeared on the field though it was a bad day. Twenty-six is pretty good but there are a whole lot more men that should be on the field every afternoon if they expect to make the team this year. Coach Wilkinson says the man that fights every day is the man that will probably be put on the lineup for the games. Fellows who start coming out last days of practice before game have very poor chance of making the team and are therefore urged to make their appearance on the field now.

Hunter Her to Get Football Game With Sanford High

Douglas Hunter of West Palm Beach arrived here Sunday morning and remained until today giving the town the once-over and to arrange with Coach Wilkinson for a game with West Palm Beach in Sanford on Thanksgiving Day. He says the West Palm Beach grid squad is very anxious for a good game here to avenge the defeat that they suffered at the hands of the Celery Seeders last year.

GERMAN TELEGRAPHS ARE PARALYZED

BERLIN, Sept. 10.—Telegraphic communications in Germany have been swamped ever since the mark began its downward swoop. Since January of this year the amount of business handled by the German telegraph lines has been double that of the corresponding period for last year.

Telegrams now travel more slowly in Germany than letters, and the telegraph administration has appealed to the public to equalize its business and use the wires as sparingly as possible.

Why Are Some Store-keepers So Obstinate?

I am an old-fashioned buyer of the necessities for my household. I go to the store myself. To me this work is not irksome. In fact, I like it. I like to look at the shelves so full of cans and packages of so many colors. I like to do this for the same reason that I don't mind being in a crowd.

When in a crowd I look for familiar faces. When I see them I am delighted. When I am in a store I look for familiar goods and when I see them I buy. Those goods have become familiar to me through advertising and I have noticed that the grocery men who have the most of those familiar packages somehow or other seem to always go ahead.

I went into a store not of my own choosing but with a friend who, among other things, asked for a very well known article of food which is packed in a can, although she did not ask for any specific kind. I always buy—and instinctively I told her that was the kind she should ask for.

The dealer overheard me and said, "Madam, I never sell that article, I sell instead something very much better—my own brand."

Then he launched into a five-minute talk on why this article was better than the one I had named. But somehow my friend had been convinced by what I had suggested and she did not buy that can which the grover offered.

And I thought as I walked out how stubborn and obstinate that man was. He had lost a sale, had probably taken his first step toward losing a customer, and had certainly lost a good deal of time, especially since some other people were standing around waiting to be waited on.

If that grocer had sold advertised goods he would certainly have had the brand I suggested and he would have made a sale; incidentally, he would have bid us good day cheerily and we would have been satisfied.

Familiar faces are wonderful. To me, in my capacity as a buyer for a fairly large household, familiar things on the shelves of the stores I visit are only a little less wonderful, for those familiar things help me in doing better and more economically the job which I must work at every day.

Those advertised articles which I buy and which I always buy I know have been submitted to the criticism of both competitor and consumer. This subjection to almost world-wide critical examination demonstrates to me that the manufacturer has supreme confidence in his goods. He cannot tell a falsehood about the things he makes, because there are too many in the world to find him out.

Constant advertising of any product proves that product has stood the test of scrutiny. Is it any wonder then why I, as one of several million women in my same position, prefer articles with which I am acquainted to products about which I have no knowledge and about which the manufacturer does not seem to have the courage to enlighten me?

"THEY DIDN'T NEED TO ADVERTISE"
Under the above caption, an advertising agency recalls the disappearance of Pearline from the market and the reason for its eclipse, and then points the moral of the story as follows:
"Do you remember Pyle's Pearline?"
"Once it was the most popular washing powder in America."
"In 1907 Pyle's Pearline ceased advertising. They did not have to advertise, advertising was no longer necessary, Pearline was a good product and everybody knew about it."
"In 1914 the Proctor and Gamble company bought Pyle's Pearline at their own figure to save it from bankruptcy."
"In seven years the public forgot Pearline. You have got to do more than make a good product. You must tell your dealer and consumer, and keep on telling them the advantage of your article."
"If people did not die, if people did not move, if new generations did not grow up, if customs and habits did not change, if competitors did not compete, if people were not open to suggestion and receptive to new ideas, then there would be no need, no use in advertising."
"But until then advertising is the surest safeguard for the established product, the most certain hope for the new idea."—Daily Lake Region.

NOTED STAGE SUCCESS
FILMED BY FRED NIBLO
A famous stage play, Walter Hackett's "Captain Applejack" filmed under the title of "Strangers of the Night," will be at the Milane today. It has been produced by Fred Niblo, who directed "The Three Musketeers," "Blood and Sand" and "The Famous Mrs. Fair," and is presented by Louis B. Mayer through Metro.
Niblo was given free reign to build magnificent settings and the cast is made up exclusively of players entitled to be classed as stars. Matt Moore, Enid Bennett, Barbara La Marr and Robert McKim have the four principal roles while such favorites as Emily Fitzroy, Otto Hoffman, Mathilde Brundage and Thomas Ricketts share honors in the secondary group of popular players.
The story concerns a timid Britisher into whose life comes pirate romance on the crest of a storm. Bess Meredith adapted the story to the screen and it was photographed by Alvin Wyckoff.

ROAD PATRIOTISM.
"Honor the flag; it is the symbol of your country. There is no better, nor can there be one better."
Thus are children taught, and truly. But they should also be taught that while no man may improve the flag, all men may strive to improve the country for which the flag stands. Why should this, the greatest Nation, have the worst roads? Why should the children of the most enlightened Nation, have the greatest difficulty of getting to the best idea in education the world has ever seen, the public school?
The children of today are the voters, the legislators, the officials, one of them the President, of tomorrow. Building an adequate system of National Highways for the United States is not to be accomplished overnight. It is a matter of years . . . years and education.
Therefore, teach children not only to honor the flag which all revere, but to make the country for which it stands even more worthy of honor, by building good roads through its length and breadth, that all may have the social, moral, economic, and humanitarian benefits which come from quick, easy, inexpensive, and rapid transportation.

IS GAS TAX "PAINLESS?"
A set of tires costing one hundred and fifty dollars may run for ten thousand miles on average roads. The same set will run double the mileage on improved highways. The average car travels ten thousand miles per year. Therefore, the average tire cost supposing average size and quality of tires are purchased, is $150 per year on dirt roads and $75 on fine roads.
Ten thousand miles of running, at an average of 16 miles to the gallon, requires 666 2-3 gallons of gas. If gas is taxed 2 cents a gallon, the average runner of ten thousand miles pays $13.33 per year in gas tax. In a state where there are 100,000 automobiles (which is less than the average, California, for instance, has about a million), the net income from the gas tax, above outlined, would be $1,333,000.00.
At twenty-five thousand dollars per mile, that sum will build fifty-three miles of improved highways. If there are a million cars, five hundred and thirty miles of improved highways could be built a year from the tax.
If the gas tax was 4 cents, 100 or 1,000 miles a year, respectively, could be built.
Where the roads are unimproved, the 100,000 car owners spend $7,500,000 a year on tires, which they otherwise would save. The million car owners would spend $75,000,000 on tires they otherwise would save.
Proponents of the argument say that a tax on gasoline, spent on roads is the one and only "painless tax."

CONVICT STRIKE IN BRADFORD COUNTY IS NOT VERY EXCITING
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 10.—State prison authorities and the road department awaited further word today from State Road Camp No. 12 in Bradford county, concerning the strike of 24 convicts employed there which Capt. J. S. MacNeill reported late Friday.
The telegraph company reported Friday night that a telegram addressed to Prison Inspector T. B. Johns, instructing him to proceed to the camp and make an investigation, was undelivered, and information that he had been located had not reached the prison office up to closing time Saturday. The message was sent to Johns and Jasper.

FLORIDA HAS SPENT AN IMMENSE SUM FOR ROAD BUILDING
(By The Associated Press)
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 10.—Florida's road-building bill since organization of the state road department in 1915 to the end of July, this year, totals $10,552,006.11, according to information just compiled by the department. Figures showing the mileage in completed roads has not been brought up to date. The department had, however, constructed 724.37 miles of roads at the close of last year, 250.54 miles of which were hard-surfaced highways; 180.24 miles semi-hard-surfaced, and 293.59 miles were merely graded and drained.
Many miles have been completed since the beginning of the new year, while numbers of contracts have been let and construction work is now in progress.
Seventy-five and a half per cent of the money expended by the department went directly into the construction of roads, and a fraction less than 11 per cent was expended on road maintenance, while 7.13 per cent went towards payment of engineering costs, and 1.53 per cent for administrative purposes.
The department had an investment in equipment that equaled 8.36 per cent of the ten and a half millions.
When Carpet, Bahia, Dallis and Vasey grasses and Japan clover, or lepedeza, have established themselves in Florida on an equal footing with the common wiregrass, that day will be a great day for the stockman.

EAST COAST CANAL SOLD FOR $985,000
In what is called the "termination of a friendly suit" the trustees of the Rhode Island Hospital & Trust Company, as trustees of the estate of the late George L. and Helen M. Bradley, bought over the Florida Soast Line Canal and Transportation Company, which was sold under a decree of foreclosure Monday, September 3rd. The sum of $985,000 is said to have been paid for it.
In spite of the first Monday in September being a legal holiday the September rule day was observed.
According to dispatches from Fort Pierce, the proceeding is designed to clear up the title to the canal holdings preliminary to the transfer of the business to a new company organized by J. B. McDonald of West Palm Beach. The new company, according to Mr. McDonald, proposed to improve the waterway and place in operation thereon a line of freight boats.
Meanwhile East Coast chambers of commerce and civic organizations are gathering data to be presented to the federal government with a view to inducing the government to take over, improve and operate the waterway. The open navigable portions of the waterway are already under federal supervision.—Titusville Star-Advocate.
