

Hints To Housewives

By Anna Mae Sikes

Buttonholes are often to blame when a home-made dress lacks the tailor-made look, says Margaret Smith, clothing specialist in the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics. The following small details make a big difference, Miss Smith advises home dressmakers: If horizontal buttonholes are meant to march down center front stronger, bound buttonholes lines starting 1/16th of an inch from center front.

Measure and mark a perfect line-up; all buttonholes the same distance from front edge of dress, the same distance apart, and all parallel to the waist.

But buttonhole style to work material and style of dress. Worked buttonholes are always suitable and are the best choice for a wash dress, since they are stronger. Bound buttonholes make an attractive finish for dressy rayons, wools, and silks.

If a dress fabric frays, take the precaution—before cutting buttonholes—to run four parallel rows of machine stitching, two on either side of the buttonhole line, close to the cutting line. Then, when the hole is cut, the inner row of machine stitching on either side helps prevent fraying, while the outer row forms a guide for the width of the completed buttonhole. If a material frays badly, it is better to choose a style that does not call for buttons or buttonholes.

Whether worked or bound, for a good effect, completed buttonholes should be narrow, that is, not wider than 1/16th of an inch from the cut line. To keep the cut straight and flat, set stitches very close together when working round the buttonhole end.

If your buttonhole technique is weak, remember blanket stitch, which is easier than conventional buttonhole stitch and makes a satisfactory substitute if stitches are worked close together. A sewing machine attachment can also take over the buttonhole stitching, and is particularly good for home-dresses, children's clothes, and sturdy summer frocks.

UN Awaits Major Red Attack During Next Three Nights

Van Fleet Believes Full Moon Period Critical; Slashing Air War Continues

SEOUL, Sept. 14—(AP)—"This is the full moon," General James Van Fleet said today. "Tonight, tomorrow night and the following night are extremely critical."
"So the dopsters tell me," he added with a smile.
Van Fleet, commander of Allied ground forces in Korea, made that comment on a possible Communist offensive in an interview at a nearby air base. He was there to bid farewell to President Syngman Rhee of South Korea.
"The past-performance boys have the record book on their side," Van Fleet said, "for the enemy has always waited until he had a full moon before launching any major offensive. But there has been many full moons of the moon since last May."
President Rhee arrived in Seoul this morning and had lunch with Van Fleet. The chief executive of the Republic of Korea and the Eighth Army commander then took off in a light airplane to visit a Korean army training base.
"The training my men are receiving is wonderful. They are full of confidence in themselves and know their weapons," Rhee said.
Meanwhile United Nations doughboys wrestled a towering peak from bitterly raining Red north of the bloody battle of the hills' ground on in Eastern Korea.
On the other end of the peninsula, six Russian-type T-34 tanks and two self-powered guns were spotted west of Yoncheon. They were immediately attacked by U. N. artillery, planes and tanks.

Prime Minister Tells Japanese He Won't Rearm

Leader Advises His Country To Keep Faith With West

BY NATE POLOWETZKY
TOKYO, Sept. 14—(AP)—Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida, the little, cigar smoking statesman who guided Japan along the road to independence, told the Japanese people today he would refuse to rearm this vanquished nation.
The 72-year-old Yoshida's stand was viewed in some quarters as indicating that he would step out of office just as soon as the historic U. S.-Japan security pact is ratified and becomes law.
He instructed his countrymen to keep faith with the Western world.
Yoshida made his remarks at a news conference only three hours after he returned from San Francisco where he saw Japan once again take its place among the nations of the world.
He spoke in the beautiful prime minister's residence behind the Diet (parliament) building.
Yoshida was asked point blank whether Japan would have to rearm after the security pact goes into effect.
Yoshida answered in almost inaudible tones.
An Associated Press Japanese reporter said he heard Yoshida say:
"That's up to Japan. But as far as I am concerned I won't carry it (the rearmament program) out."
The Japanese news agency Kyodo quoted Yoshida as saying, "I am not thinking to rearm."
Other translations varied. But the inference was clear: The Japanese government would not personally see to it that guns were put back into the hands of his fellow countrymen.
Yoshida's remarks have predicted for some time that Yoshida will resign in favor of Ichiro Hatayama, founder of the Liberal Party who was deposed recently.
The Japanese news agency said he arrived at 11:40 A. M. bringing back with him one of the softest peace treaties ever granted a conquered nation.
His arrival was carried out with the strictest security regulations, seen in Tokyo in several years. Even photographers were forced to take the lens out of their cameras as they entered the airport terminal building. Then they were forced to undergo an inspection.
American intelligence officers refused to say what the reason was for the extraordinary precautions.

France Agrees Germany May Recruit Army

Compromise Reached On Touchy Issue; Inflation Is Seen As Growing Danger

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—(AP)—France was reported today to have agreed to let Western Germany begin recruiting troops for a proposed European army before all details of that army are worked out. The first contingents may be raised by early 1952.
Officials said the Big Three foreign ministers conference, which wound up a five-day meeting today, worked out a compromise on the touchy issue.
Under it, France retreated from its former position that the European army would have to be fully organized before any German men were called up.
The French were called to have agreed instead that German troops could be placed under an interim form of international command while final arrangements were being made for the European army envisaged by French Premier Rene Pleven.
Both French and American officials told newsmen of the compromise here but said they could not be quoted by name. Earlier in the day a French government spokesman in Paris first confirmed reports that Foreign Minister Schuman had consented to the "immediate raising of German contingents" and then said the information was wrong. The confusion appeared to center largely on the issue of timing.
Officials who discussed the matter here said no timetable has been agreed to but that the hope is for sizeable German troop contributions by early next year.
Presumably they would be integrated into the Western European defense force being organized by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.
France has not retreated from its insistence that any German troops be "European" soldiers rather than the nucleus of a German army.
Meanwhile the United States, Britain and France discussed (Continued on Page Two)

Gross Found At Atlantic City Track

Apparently unconcerned by the disappearance had caused, bookmaker Harry Gross was a witness in the mass trial of 18 New York policemen, to found missing a "holiday" from his guards at the Atlantic City, N. J. track. He said he was "tired of having police following him around." Gross, purported head of a $20,000,000 gambling racket, escaped the custody of two officers while paying a visit to his wife at Atlantic Beach, N. Y. He was held on charges of interstate flight in avoiding giving testimony. At right is William Finney, a state police detective, and at left, race track Police Capt. Robert Ryder. (International)

Tax Collector Fired By Truman Charged With Taking Bribes

Italy Moving To Break With Red Czechoslovakia

Diplomatic Offices Closing On Order Of Italian Govt

ROME, Sept. 14—(AP)—Italy moved closer today to an outright diplomatic break with Communist Czechoslovakia.
The situation was intensified last night when the Foreign Ministry announced Italy had called her consul general home immediately from Bratislava and ordered the consulate closed. That consulate reopens in Milan by tomorrow.
A firmly worded announcement by the ministry declared "a long series of offensive actions" by the Czechoslovak government "practically impossible to operate" at the Bratislava consulate.
Sources at the Palazzo Chigi, Italy's foreign ministry, told reporters that Italy would no longer put up with "this treatment of her diplomats."
They said "offensive actions" at Bratislava, capital of Slovakia, included:
1. Frequent police detention and interference with the Italian consul general himself.
2. Constant and rigid surveillance of the consulate under the guise of a police post.
3. The institution and interference with employees of the consulate.
4. Refusal of normal advice—(Continued on Page Three)

Witness Testifies Boyle Helped To Obtain RFC Loan

Democratic Chairman Got $1,671,000 For St. Louis Company

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—(AP)—A diary-keeping witness told senators today that William M. Boyle, Jr., helped arrange an RFC loan for a St. Louis printing firm early in 1949 after three previous loan applications by the company had been turned down.
John E. Toole, an official of the American Lithofold Corporation, offered this sworn testimony today before a Senate subcommittee investigating charges that Boyle, Democratic National Chairman, influenced reconstruction Finance Corporation loans.
Boyle has denied that he so arranged loans for the St. Louis printing firm although he said he did some "legal work" for it before he became Democratic National chairman.
Toole gave his testimony after the subcommittee released details by Herley Hix and Walter J. Dunham, former RFC directors, that they ever had been influenced by Boyle in a loan matter.
Both directors said in closed-door testimony yesterday that the RFC did, however, get well-paying jobs on the boards of directors of some RFC borrowers for persons recommended by Boyle.
Toole, who took a job with American Lithofold in 1948 after it borrowed $1,671,000 from the government agency which he managed until Feb. 28, 1949, said he opposed the firm's entry into the RFC.
Boyle at that time was working at Democratic National headquarters but was not national chairman.
Toole said he attended a conference in Boyle's office presumably at Democratic national headquarters on Feb. 28, 1949. With him, Toole said, were James P. Finnegan, since ousted from his federal job as collector of Internal Revenue at St. Louis; J. Blum, then head of the printing firm; and Cecil Green, Washington representative for the printing firm.

Ex-Revenue Agent Is Indicted By Grand Jury For Accepting Influence Pay

Mayor Fred Dyson Declines To Run For Re-Election

BOSTON, Sept. 14—(AP)—Dwight W. Delaney, fired by President Truman as Massachusetts collector of Internal Revenue was indicted today by a Federal grand jury on charges of accepting $1,500 from individuals to influence his official decisions.
Delaney also was charged with making false certificates certifying that tax claims totaling at least $170,000 for three individuals and one corporation had been audited in full when the said Delaney W. Delaney will know the said taxes had not been audited in full.
The indictment later counts on the first charge and three on a second charge of making and signing a false certificate.
Delaney collected taxes in 1941, was indicted June 25, 1949, and was fined $10,000 and 10 years in prison. More than 10 years ago he appeared before the grand jury on a charge of the same of the $1,500 and was acquitted.
Delaney at one time was a WPA laborer, worked his way to the $100,000-a-year post of collector after years of political activity, (Continued on Page Three)

Stringer Is Praised For His Work With City Recreation

Thomas Stringer, city recreation director, was highly commended by members of the Seminole County Children's Committee today for his work in the organization of the summer recreation program for Sanford's youth.
Mrs. E. C. Willis, secretary of the committee, stated today: "More than 20 representatives of county organizations which are concerned with the welfare of children and youth in the county attended the meeting in the Court House."
Mr. Stringer outlined his program, pointing out its objectives and areas of success achieved in spite of the fact that funds were not received from the State Department of Education to pay his assistants for full time work.
Mrs. Roy Ray gave a short report on the Regional Conference on the Juvenile Court Act held in Titusville in August.
M. N. Cleveland, Jr., representing the American Legion, reported on the Boys' State and on the Legion-sponsored boys' baseball team.
G. A. Herrine, South Seminole Youth Center chairman, told about the young people's part in Casselberry's recent Street Lighting Celebration. She also told of their participation in the Freedom For Youth contest.
Mrs. Margaret Graham, county speech correction supervisor, reported that one Seminole County boy had been sent to the Gainesville Speech Camp this past summer.
Mrs. A. J. Peterson, chairman of the Seminole County Children's Committee, urged more study of the Seminole County Summary in Florida's Report in the White House Conference on Children and Youth last December. She also asked for the help of the Committee members in filling out the Florida Children's Commission questionnaire about child-care institutions, day nurseries, nursery schools, etc.
Attention was called to the new time of meeting for the Seminole Committee—the third Monday of the month, from 8:00 to 9:00 P. M.
It was announced that at the October meeting, Judge Douglas Blumentritt will direct a discussion of the opening of the new Juvenile Court law in the county.
Miss Ruth Reed, county supervisor of elementary schools, was asked to prepare for the November meeting a short program entitled "The Family in the Community." It was suggested that a short filmstrip on some family problem be used as part of the program.

Mother Of 4 Killed In Highway 17 Wreck

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 14—(AP)—A mother of four children was killed today when she was struck by an automobile on U. S. Highway 17 a half-mile north of Imeson airport.
She was Mrs. Louise Miller, 67, of Jacksonville. Police said she and her husband, Thomas Miller, were on their way to a telephone after their car got stuck in the sand when the accident occurred. A driver had stopped to assist them and they had started across the road when another machine driven by Miss Wanda Reavis, 31, hit Mrs. Miller.
Miss Reavis was charged with manslaughter and released under $5,000 bond.

Researchers Find Older Workers Have Fewer Accidents Than Youths

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 14—(AP)—Evidence that older workers are less likely to have accidents than younger ones was offered today by three Ohio State University researchers.
Dr. S. L. Pressey and two associates said this was shown in a survey of records of a large department store and of an industrial firm each having some employees in the 60's.
They told the Second International Gerontological Congress this and other factors demonstrate the "worth of the older worker" in business and industry, especially in this time of defense effort.
"In business and industry there are significant restrictions in the hiring, upgrading and retention of older workers—men and women 45 years of age and over."
"Many reasons have been given to explain the reluctance of employers to hire older workers. It is claimed that older workers are slow, increase production costs, have a higher accident rate, are a poor investment. There is very little evidence to justify these complaints."
"It is less likely to have accidents and not very much more subject to illness."
They added that while older workers were laid up a little longer when they were sick, they were ill only a little more frequently than younger workers in the two firms surveyed.
At the same meeting, doctors Irving Lorge and Jacob Tuckman of Columbia University declared: "In business and industry there are significant restrictions in the hiring, upgrading and retention of older workers—men and women 45 years of age and over."
"Many reasons have been given to explain the reluctance of employers to hire older workers. It is claimed that older workers are slow, increase production costs, have a higher accident rate, are a poor investment. There is very little evidence to justify these complaints."

Sanford Negro Is Charged With Crime

CORTLAND, N. Y., Sept. 14—(AP)—A 34-state alarm was out today for George Stevens, 70-year-old Negro from Sanford, Fla., wanted on a charge of first-degree manslaughter.
The indictment returned by a Cortland county grand jury accused Stevens of inflicting fatally another Negro, John Archie Gibson, 33, of Jacksonville, Fla., on Aug. 17. Gibson died two days later.
Stevens being charged Stevens with striking Gibson during a brawl at a migrant workers camp 10 miles south of here.

Sanford Negro Is Saved From Chair After Chili Row

D. Williams, Sanford Negro, who on Aug. 25 was found guilty by a jury in Circuit Court here of a charge of first degree murder in the shooting of Willie Wallace, night club proprietor of Goldsboro on Dec. 29, 1949, was saved from the electric chair by action of the State Pardon Board.
The verdict of the local jury had resulted in a death sentence. A motion picture of the scene was made by the jury.
Karl Housholder, attorney for Williams, then moved for a new trial but this was denied by Circuit Judge M. B. Smith. An appeal was made to the State Supreme Court which upheld the Circuit Court decision.
Mr. Housholder then took up the matter with the Pardon Board and with the intention of saving the Negro from the electric chair, requested them to review the case.
The shooting took place shortly after 8:00 o'clock on Dec. 29, 1949, back of the Peewee Grill on West Thirteenth Street. Smith. An appeal was made to the State Supreme Court which upheld the Circuit Court decision.

Civil Air Patrol Plans Police Work

In line with their program of civil defense the Civil Air Patrol squadron decided at a meeting Wednesday night at the City Hall at 8:00 P. M. Sept. 13, to request the Police Department to train their members in auxiliary police work. Capt. David Bentley dated this morning.
It is planned to have the first training flight in 30 hours a month, and it is requested that all members of the squadron fly as soon as possible. He declared.
A group of C.A.P. members are going out to St. Johns Beach, at the airport at Longwood, Sunday morning at 8:00 o'clock to finish building the banger for the plane, he said.

Crusade For Freedom Coming To Sanford

The Crusade for Freedom movement will be in Sanford Monday at 1:00 P. M. as first guest, according to Mack Cleveland, chairman of the county drive.
The movement, consisting of a sound truck and decorated truck will have a master of ceremonies, who will entertain and release two helium balloons. One of these being used in Europe to carry leaflets behind the Iron Curtain.
"This is an opportunity to see and learn just how effective was individual effort, as far as our fight against Communism by becoming a member of the Crusade for Freedom drive," Mr. Cleveland said.

Mrs. M. MacNeill Appointed Teacher

On recommendation of school trustees, the County Board yesterday appointed Mrs. Malcolm MacNeill as a teacher in academic work to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Ode Hooey, teacher and football coach, every day.
The Board adopted a school calendar providing for 180 days of school attendance, and 300 days for teachers to be on duty.
Any days lost on account of storms, conventions, etc., will be added to the final month of the term, said Supt. T. W. Lawton this morning.
Holidays for pupils will be observed as follows: Oct. 15 when the Florida Education Association meets; Armistice Day celebration on Monday, Nov. 13; Thanksgiving holidays Nov. 22-23; Christmas holidays, Dec. 16 to Jan. 2, and Good Friday on Apr. 11.

Installation Slated For Legion Officers

Fashion World's Dream Boys Argue New Look For Men

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK, Sept. 14—(AP)—Fashion is a wonderful thing. And good for business, too. This year the fashion dream-boys have their eyes on the whole family—and the kids, as well as mother, who's been a willing victim for years.

No one's much surprised to hear that women are going to be subjected this fall to such things as "The Bluebird Silhouette"—which men suspect is another word for bustle. Then there's "The Roll of the Sea in the Shape," and "Tea Caddy" evening dresses. The last sounds a little like the old bubble skirt. And no one wants to keep his mind too long on the roll of the sea.

But the "Wido Decollete" is another matter. Men presume this means that the neckline, having plunged as far south as feasible, is now going to take off to the east and west.

Dad's own attire has been a little too decollete for some in the suit industry. They shudder now at the word "casual" which they once welcomed as opening up a new field. The trouble is that once dad got comfortable, it was hard to get him into regular suits again. Makers of casual clothes are well satisfied but the traditional clothing industry is disturbed because an unprofitable number of men have discarded vests, ties, hats, undershirts, socks, and pajamas. There's an all-out drive planned to get dad to look less like an unmade bed.

There's quite a haul over several vital issues. Should men be soft shouldered or padded shouldered? The existing industry is not too sure. The existing industry is not too sure. The existing industry is not too sure.

Then there's the revival of the side vent in coats, and the outside ticket pocket. Younger men hail that as a new fashion.

And now a storm is brewing between the small-hat and the big-hat boys, with sectional lines being drawn. You might think a gent could choose his hat to suit the cut of his features. But, no, about the middle of August a flight of new lightweight felt hats descended upon city stores. They're abbreviated with narrow ribbons, and your head and features better fit.

Merchants say they are beginning to catch on now in the East. In the West, the men-are-men citizenry like big hats, and are reported taking a di-hat stand against the new fashion.

But with the women it's a different story. The full-skirted fashion borders on the hoop skirt, or hoop-style taffeta, not to mention the "lumpshade silhouette" is one idea that's going over big with the youngest set. Circular-cut starched organdie, or hoop-style taffeta, not to mention the "lumpshade silhouette" is one idea that's going over big with the youngest set.

The garment boys are talking about the "demi-petticoat," or "skirt bulk," or maybe just "multi-layered skirt." It translates into more fabric per outfit, and the textile industry can use a fashion that cuts their fabric inventories.

For the Hon-Along-Cassidy set, fashion is dreaming up something it calls "the costume for the child to wear at home," all the way from smocks for toddlers to layered, skirted pinafores for schoolgirls. Little girl television viewers should wear short trousers or corduroy if they want to keep up with the Jones children. Even the at-home pinafores are different from the at-school pinafores, according to those in the know.

The crimline look implies waistline control. Stores report that waist nippers are selling well and that younger customers, with naturally small waists, have been the first to respond to promotions.

Paris chimes in with a rather expensive fashion. Seems that sum of the latest gowns "simply require" two diamond earrings to wear in each ear.

Oh, yes, one last thing about game in Paris Dec. 7, 1950.

Kelly and Schlichtman appeared before the grand jury yesterday and placed $1,000 on a table to give to charity. They had signed voluntary immunity waivers before their grand jury appearance.

Their attorney, Robert Kavanaugh, quoted them as saying they received the money from Melchiorre but thought it was a gift. He said they did not attempt to do anything.

Melchiorre and Preece also appeared before the grand jury after signing immunity waivers.

Boyle Probe

had to wait nearly 40 minutes, but when they got inside Boyle picked up the telephone and called Hise, then RFC chairman.

Boyle, it is said, told Hise on the telephone that "some friends of Jim Finnegan in my office" wanted to talk about an RFC loan. Senator Mundt (R-SD) later developed by questions that in less than a week the previously rejected loan was approved by the RFC.

Boyle said he had opposed asking Boyle to arrange a meeting with Hise because Toole had worked many years at RFC, knew Hise personally and thought he could get the loan without outside help.

Hise and Dunham both denied talking with Boyle about any RFC loan.

In the testimony released today, Hise said flatly: "I don't recall that he (Boyle) ever contacted me with reference to any specific loan."

Dunham said he "assumed" the RFC got daily calls from the Democratic National Committee concerning loans and other RFC matters, and that E. Merl Young, a one-time White House frequenter, was "the liaison man" between the Democratic headquarters and his office.

A Senate Banking Subcommittee capped a recent investigation with accusations that the RFC had yielded to political pressures from an "influence ring" in which White House staff members, along with Young and Boyle, were important members.

Cited as an example was the time recently when the Italian consul general needed to consult a specialist about a heart disorder. He finally had to go to Prague, Italiane said, because Bratislava doctors refused either to call at his home or take his case for treatment.

Informants said that another time the consul general was held by police when he was driving from Bratislava to Prague to meet an Italian diplomatic courier.

Several stores are planning to stress "masculine cosmetic" bars for the Christmas trade.

Yep, fashion is a wonderful thing.

They that whisper in the dark conspire against decency and the moral order. They fear the light.
All that hate me whisper together against me.—Psalm 117.

The U.S. Department of Commerce reveals that 2,903,000,000 gallons of alcoholic beverages were consumed by the American people last year at a cost of $8,747,000,000 and the number of chronic alcoholics increased 29 per cent from 1940 to 1949. Also that there are over 50,000,000 people in the United States who drink. That is to say, there are about a hundred million who do not drink, or about two to one.

We see where scientists have finally discovered a remedy for the common cold. It is called dimethyl glutamine, or something like it.
We have often wondered why doctors have met with such meager success in stamping out malaria, smallpox, tuberculosis and the great plagues of former centuries and yet apparently haven't been able to do anything at all about such common complaints as the ordinary cold, headache and cough. May be dimethyl-glutamine will provide the answer.

Sanlando Springs and Central Florida have received far teaching publicity as a result of the misadventure of the "Mrs. American" contest. Mrs. Peggy Creel did win the title, but she did win third place, and she came so close to winning first place that some of the judges thought she had.
The resultant dispute has been carried over the leased wires of all three major services to thousands of newspapers all over the country, and they being newspapers, and having an eye to what their readers like to read, have been publishing all they could get out of it. It is safe to say that millions of people who have never heard of Sanlando Springs before now know all about it.

We don't know how you feel

Army Chief of Staff in war and as Secretary of State, as Sec-important special missions. He is one of the Marshall Plan, and one of the so-called Truman doctrines. He is the man who has been the backbone of our

Invitation To Death

It is a peculiar fact that persons who have a conscientious and intelligent respect for other laws often will have exactly the opposite attitude toward traffic laws. The driver who is one of these persons seems to think that traffic rules were intended to be obeyed only if a policeman happens to be near. If he thinks about the speed limit at all, it is to reflect that surely no official in his right mind would expect him to drive so slowly. And he sees no reason at all for halting his machine at a stop sign if the way appears to be clear. There seems to be a general notion, perhaps followed by many drivers who are not consciously aware of it, that traffic laws are not important.

The evidence of accident records refutes this notion. Statisticians say that almost nine-tenths of all highway deaths are caused by the violation of traffic laws. Does this mean that if all drivers and pedestrians scrupulously obeyed the law traffic deaths could be reduced to a tenth of the present figure? Such a conclusion does not necessarily follow, for fatalities are often misleading. But it might be so, and the thought is staggering.

Over the past year or so Americans have been dying more than three times as fast in traffic accidents as in the war in Korea. The comparison does not make the war deaths less tragic, but emphasizes the magnitude of the traffic toll. Any substantial reduction of this great waste of lives would be well worth the small effort of adhering to traffic laws. If we should become a nation of habitual observers of these laws, we might improve our prospect for long life.

In Time Of Need

When we remember the Biblical parable of the Good Samaritan who stopped to aid a fallen traveler we often wonder whether such people still exist. It is easy to grow cynical and to question the goodness of people, but every so often we read of something that warms the heart and reaffirms our faith in people.

In Wausau, Wisconsin, a disabled veteran of World War II seemed to be dogged by misfortune. He returned to his farm after the war with the idea of modernizing it to support his family better. A farm accident, in which he lost his right eye, and financial difficulties combined to frustrate his plan. It was here that his neighbors decided to lend a hand.

About two hundred of the neighbors helped in the construction of a new house, cleared fields, planted gardens, and made the lawn. Experts from the University of Wisconsin gave aid and advice on the project. Industrial groups, service clubs and chamber of commerce organizations all displayed their desire to help the veteran get back on his feet.

The story of the help given this farmer by his neighbors is inspiring. It helps us to realize that we are never truly alone and that neighbors are other human beings with the same joys and sorrows. We extend the hand of friendship to a neighbor, and someday we may need the strong hand of a neighbor to steady us in our own time of trouble.

Useful Learning

Attorneys from all over the country gathered in New York to take a course in medicine designed to give them a better background in injury litigations and similar legal actions where medical knowledge might be useful. While it is hardly likely, nor is it intended, that the course will enable an attorney to diagnose a peptic ulcer or treat a common cold, the course may accomplish much good. The idea of training attorneys in some fundamentals of medicine in born of an awareness that all information can be useful to any man in his daily life. An understanding of medicine helps a lawyer; an understanding of law helps the doctor, newspaperman or the labor leader; an understanding of government helps every citizen. Nothing that one learns is useless, and much of what one learns may be applied to everyday living.

Writer Sermonizes On Money And Sin In America Today

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Oh, don't tell me how we are right in America, but tell me how we are wrong.

A strong man knows his real strength by his weaknesses, and so must we. We have muscles to waste. But where are our gliders? Talk to our land, the deep valleys and the high mountains of America.

Oh, and the money we are making, and there's the government always grabbing for a deeper share. Can't they let us alone and permit us to enjoy just one generation of quiet? Can't it guarantee us either the enjoyment of our riches, or the wealth of our sons?

No, never. There is no real security in the world of today, and there was no security in the world of yesterday. Duty must always teach us poverty, the snail of having something to do we haven't yet done, rich or poor.

Yes, there we are, prisoners of prosperity, and the prosperity turns us toward sin. And why? Because having money makes a man more nervous than having virtue. Yes, it is so.

A man with money commits more sins than a man without money, because he is more frustrated and uncertain. The simple path of duty, as he has been taught duty, no longer draws his feet.

Oh, I tell you many men know about this who never prayed in church. They have learned the difficult way that freedom is obligation. And once a man lifts up a burden in this world he will not let it down lightly.

Oh, I tell you, temptation

Oh, I tell you, temptation

melts the bones of the strongest man. But there is a beat, beat, beat of repentance, a throbbing, throbbing of guilt to keep a man steady. And he bows to that. There may also be the secret listening to of other drums in the dark, the steady tom-toms of desire. Oh, but if a man opens his ears and heart to these, he is hard to regain again. He is, brother, he is. The dark deep sometimes swallows him, and he leaves his god and kind. Oh, my perished brother, live again and look for God. Time, that seems to age you, shoves you up. We die at night to be reborn tomorrow. Faith is a far taper, oh, my brother, oh, my brother. You must light that candle with your faith.

Even then, oh my brother, it will not be easy. For sometimes you must sit under the burning candle and let the light of life go by.

Oh, my friend, my friend. Action is for the young, doubt is for the middle-aged, wonder and resignation are for the old.

Let us bend like the clover, and await the scythe.

Air Force, Army Bicker Bitterly Over Problem Of Tactical Support

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The Army is a house divided when it comes to the feud with the Air Force over close air support of ground troops.

No one in the Army is airing these differences publicly. But there is a well-placed officer group which is arguing quietly that it would be a grave mistake for the Army to lean too heavily on the Air Force for front-line firepower.

General Mark Clark, chief of the U. S. ground forces, has said an Army commander should have full operational control of all tactical aircraft that are assigned to him for close support missions.

Close support means that the planes use their bombs, rockets and machineguns in direct support of the men in the foxholes.

Clark and others think these tactical aircraft should be controlled more directly by the ground commander—a view which the Air Force does not share. At present the two services operate under a system of joint control of tactical operations.

But the Army has no solid front in this controversy. There are combat veterans who are disagreeing with the Army-control idea and siding more with the Air Force point of view.

The thinking of this group goes much light that candle with your faith.

Even then, oh my brother, it will not be easy. For sometimes you must sit under the burning candle and let the light of life go by.

Oh, my friend, my friend. Action is for the young, doubt is for the middle-aged, wonder and resignation are for the old.

Let us bend like the clover, and await the scythe.

Gambling Course Is Latest Addition To Basic Training

CAMP ATTERBURY, Ind., Sept. 14.—(AP)—The Army has added a course in gambling to its basic training at Camp Atterbury. The object is to persuade soldiers that gambling is hard on a slim pocketbook.

The best game to play is horseshoes, the instructor, Pvt. Tim Mulroy, tells his students. But for those who persist in gambling, Pvt. Mulroy emphasizes the danger from the professional gambler.

"You can spot 'em by the way they hold the deck of cards when they are dealing," Pvt. Mulroy tells his classes in the Army's special services branch.

"A professional gambler holds his index finger on top of the deck when he deals. It's necessary for him to do this so he can deal the way he wants."

"An amateur's index finger remains at the side of the deck when he deals. It's the natural way to hold a deck."

He advises cutting a deck into three stacks—"I'll upset any set deck."

The 23-year-old private was plucked out of the ranks to teach the course because he was a professional magician and card trick artist in civilian life.

He shows his GI classes how used."

This officer is one of those who believes the Army should take a more critical look at its own training and use of firepower. These men are convinced that—except in special situations—the Army's own firepower should be able to give the doughboy all the support he normally needs within 1,500 of the foxholes.

One of this group contended that under special conditions, the Air Force "must give us the support we want—and be trained to do it."

He listed these conditions as those in which the ground troops do not have their usual artillery support—such as airborne and amphibious operations, breakthroughs in which the infantry outruns the artillery, and mass assaults by the doughboy.

But he noted these conditions as the exceptions rather than the rule.

Arguments for greater air support for ground troops have been spurred by the Korean war. Tactical airpower undoubtedly saved the U.S. Eighth Army from being destroyed by the Reds in the early days of the war.

Ground commanders came to depend on air support to halt the enemy. They did not have the massed artillery fire they now have and the troops had not become skilled in the use of their weapons.

The Marine fliers—trained especially for close-in fighting—won the admiration of many Army ground commanders. And the Marines' work has raised the argument that the Air Force should follow the Marine pattern more closely.

The Air Force contends it is ready and willing to give the Army the same kind of close support used by the Marines but that the weight of tactical air power must be thrown into gaining air superiority and in destroying enemy tanks, guns and troops before they reach the frontlines.

While the Air Force has its Army supporters in this view, the Army people feel the Air Force has agreed only reluctantly to give more close support to ground forces.

In the midst of this dispute, there is an influential group within the Army which is saying: "Let's look to ourselves first before we call in the Air Force for close support. We already have the weapons for the job if we use them properly."

Mr. Roland L. Dean: Editor The Sanford Herald Dear Mr. Dean:

As we come to the end of another Church School year, I wish to express to you and your staff our gratitude for all the nice publicity you have given us during the year. I have been publicity chairman for the daughters of Wesley Sunday School class. Especially, do I wish to commend you on your promptness in publishing the articles I have turned in, which has helped make my service to my class a pleasure to me.

Your respectfully, Mrs. C. M. Flowers

a professional gambler—or two amateurs working together—can cheat at poker, blackjack or gin rummy.

"Dice," Mulroy tells them, "is the most ridiculous game of them all. A man shouldn't even play with his mother."

"The odds against rolling a seven the first time are 35 to one."

"And the odds are 1,000 to one against you if you're gambling with a professional."

SEMINOLE HI BY NEVILLY GRAY

Tonight is the night! That's right, if you're planning to attend the Blue Jean Ball, (and we hope you are) just year your oldest jeans and come on down to the drag. Eight o'clock is the time since there is a football scrimmage before the dance. Plan to watch the team do their best and then go to the Blue Jean Ball. This will be the first time the football boys have played. The scrimmage is at 7:30. Dance at 8:00!

Garden Gate

POINSETTIAS SHOULD BE CUT back by Sept. 15. Well established plants in full sun and protected somewhat from unseasonal chill winds will likely bloom by Thanksgiving and are certain to be in full bloom for Christmas. Pruning delayed until October will prevent the plant from being in their best full sized bloom by Christmas. Heavy September winds will do much less damage to plants which have been cut back.

Try and Stop Me
By BENNETT CERF

An outstanding social event of the Sewickley, Pennsylvania, season was the hunt given by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pursglove, Jr., to fete "widows, widowers, and orphans of the hunt." The general idea, read the invitation, was to recognize the plight of unfortunate to whom "brush means Fuller, giving tongue is wife's noiser, a good fencer parries thrusts with a rapier, a rising scent is inflation, a waving stern is a sinking ship, whip means prunes, and drawing a covert is caused by a sudden drop in the temperature at night."

(HE SICK AND TIRED OF WAITING HERE)

An irate customer in a crowded restaurant grabbed a waiter by the lapel and roared, "I'm sick and tired of waiting here." The waiter answered, "As a matter of fact, so am I."

Kader Announces His Candidacy For City Commission

Jeweler Is Former President Of Seminole Co. Jaycees

John L. Kader, local Sanford business man, today announced his candidacy for City Commissioner in Group No. 1, subject to the primary election to be held Nov. 8.

Mr. Kader is a veteran of World War II, having served in the United States Army Air Force in the Atlantic-Pacific Theater as a bombardier under the command of Curtis LeMay, Commanding General, 29th Air Force. He was awarded the Air Medal, the Asiatic-Pacific Theater ribbon with four battle stars, the American Defense ribbon and the Victory Medal. He was released from active duty in 1946 as a first lieutenant.

Mr. Kader is a member of the following organizations: Disabled American Veterans, now serving as Chaplain; American Legion; Seminole County Senior and Junior Chambers of Commerce, having served until recently as president of the Jaycees; and the Sanford Lions Club.

Mr. Kader is a member of the First Baptist Church of Sanford. He graduated from the Seminole High School and attended the University of Florida until 1939, at which time he entered the employment of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad. He left the Atlantic Coast Line in 1941 to volunteer in the Air Force. Upon his return from the Army, he became a partner in William A. Kader Jeweler.

Mr. Kader is married to the former Nellie Cunningham and they have two children, Sandra Lee and Patay.

"Should the people of Sanford elect me to serve them on the

In the air war, Allied planes roared through Korean skies on close support missions for the infantry and slashing attacks at Red supply lines.

Ground action was concentrated along the spiny ridges of Korea's Eastern front.

The U. N. foot troops captured a towering mountain peak there after getting reports that it was thinly defended.

But die-hard North Koreans repulsed a U. N. attack on another mountain to the west.

City Commission." Mr. Kader said, "I promise to give the same consideration and energy to the operation of the City's business as I do to my own. There is no reason why sound business practices cannot be just as effectively used in government as they are in the operation of every business and every family."

"Desirable but not essential projects should be carried out until such time as necessary services are provided," he continued. "I think it is obvious to everyone the need for a more adequate sewerage system in Sanford, and to this project, I pledge careful attention."

"I firmly believe that these things can be accomplished without increasing our tax burden. I also believe that we can actively carry through plans and by action procure for us suitable industry which is desirable for a healthy economy. I also believe that after industry has been induced to locate here, we should devote the same energy to keeping them here and having them feel a part of the community as we did in seeking their location here."

"From time to time as the campaign progresses, I hope to talk about our city government. I trust that each of us who are residents of Sanford will regard the duties of citizenship highly enough to register and participate in the coming election."

A briefing officer said Allied troops on the mountain were receiving "an unusually large amount" of Red mortar fire. The Red tanks in the West were spotted West of Yonchon, about seven miles north of Pansiel 38. It is on the main north-south road from Seoul to Chonwon.

Three were seen on a road in the valley, and three others and the two guns on a nearby ridge. An Allied tank force moved up to within 2,000 yards and opened fire.

Warplanes roared down in screaming dives attacking the tanks. Air observers made no immediate claims. One report said that after the first air strike, the tank crews broke from cover to replace camouflage knocked off by the blast of explosions.

The vehicles were dug in, with only the tops of their hulls and hoods showing above ground.

TOKYO, Sept. 14—(AP)—Korean armistice talks remained ruptured for the 23rd day as the U. N. command and the Communists today awaited answers to their latest notes to each other.

The Allied board of strategy wants the Red reaction to the U. N. apology for the strafing of the Kaesong conference site early Monday morning.

The Reds want Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's reply to their rejection of his suggestion that the truce talks be moved to another site.

Ridgway's headquarters disclosed for the first time today the Communist high command's refusal to meet in a new place.

The message from North Korean Gen. Kim Il Sung and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-Huai was delivered to a U. N. command liaison officer at 8 A. M. Wednesday at Panmunjom, Communist outpost southeast of Kaesong.

There was no explanation from the Supreme Allied Commander's Office why the U. N. command waited more than two days before disclosing the contents of the Communist note.

The Communist high command has been adamant in its stand against moving the talks from Kaesong. It told Ridgway his plan was "completely unsatisfactory and unacceptable."

It said the only way the conference can be resumed "on a normal and equal basis" is for the U. N. command to "put an end at once to the incessant acts of violations of the agreement" and deal with the numerous provocations against which our side has lodged protests.

The Communists have claimed air and ground violations of the five-mile neutral zone around Kaesong by the U. N. Allies. The U. N. command has admitted only one of them—the strafing early last Monday.

Peiping radio said last night the armistice negotiations "could start again immediately" and

Colorado Couple No Longer Hand Magazines To GI's

Troop trains no longer stop by a little house by the railroad track in Ordway, Colo. in order that an elderly couple may supply service men with magazines. W. R. Williams, realtor and former chief petty officer in a Naval construction battalion during World War II, learned today.

Recalling the other day, the unique event when the train on which he was traveling in 1945 to Camp Parks, Calif., stopped by the little house at Ordway and the service men were supplied by the couple with magazines, Mr. Williams decided to write them.

He was saddened to learn from the widow, Mrs. Fred Able, that her husband had died three years ago, and that her health will not permit her to pass out magazines any more to service men.

"I'm proud that I still live in the little house by the R. R. tracks," she wrote, "but just makes me sick to see the service trains go by, which hasn't been many so far." She added that she had received many cards and letters from former service men and that she had answered every one.

Mr. Williams pointed out that during World War II the War Department had allowed the trains to stop at Ordway, and that so famous had Mr. and Mrs. Able become the people from eight states had supplied them with magazines to give to the soldiers and sailors.

Reds Retreating In Ridge Fight Slashed By Allied Artillery

Wild Counterattacks Fail As UN Troops Grind Forward In East-Central Area

TOKYO, Tuesday, Sept. 18 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway notified the Communist high command Monday he was still ready to resume cease-fire negotiations broken off by the Reds. However the supreme allied commander made a 12-hour flying trip to Korea to confer with his Eighth Army commander, Gen. James A. Van Fleet, in case his offer was again rejected. He also saw the Commonwealth Division Commander and returned to Tokyo Monday night.

By JOHN RANDOLPH
U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEAD-QUARTERS, KOREA, Tuesday, Sept. 18—(AP)—A North Korean battalion was slashed by Allied artillery late Monday after failing to gain in a series of wild counter-attacks on the East-Central front.
In all-day fighting, the Reds got as far as a saddle between a Red-hill and an Allied-held ridge.
The Allies have dubbed the location north of Yangju "Heartbreak Ridge" because of the many attacks and counterattacks there.

As the Reds fell back down a trail toward the southwest, they came under heavy artillery fire.
An Allied officer said results were "excellent". It was not known how many, if any, of the enemy escaped.

On the western front, Allied troops supported by heavy artillery fire seized control of a hill northwest of Chorwon. The Reds withdrew after a two-hour battle, then fired artillery onto the hill.
Patrols clashed at several points along the front. Allied air observers reported a decrease in enemy activity, particularly vehicle movements.

Could rains sweeping across the peninsula bring about a cease-

Truman Says Soviet People Fear Kremlin

President Seals U. S. Constitution In Pro- tective Case, Talks To Postmasters

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17—(AP)—President Truman likened the Kremlin to "a beast of prey" today. He spoke at a ceremony in which the United States Constitution and Declaration of Independence were sealed in new protective cases.

Mr. Truman said the freedoms embodied in the yellow parchment documents are growing throughout the world except in the Soviet Union where, he declared, both "their citizens in terror and bondage."

"The Soviet citizens live in fear," the President told the audience at the Library of Congress, through which the naked power of the government grows like a beast of prey, making all men afraid."

The precious 178-year-old Declaration of Independence and 184-year-old Constitution were locked away in glass-filled, glass and bronze containers to preserve them for centuries.

Scientists had worked for more than a decade designing the new cases to protect them against moisture, vermin, harsh light and other hazards while keeping them still visible through double panes, for many future generations.

Mr. Truman said the pieces of parchment are more than historical relics. "They are a living force in our life today," containing ideas which will never perish. "These documents," he said, "express the highest principles of political life. That all men have certain unalienable rights, that governments are set up to provide for the welfare of the people, and that the rule of law stands above government and class alike."

"These ideas have a life of their own. They have been a dynamic force in the history of our nation. They have inspired all men around the world to create new and independent governments, and to improve the conditions under which they live."

Then Mr. Truman gave a knock-knock description of "tyranny" under Soviet rule. He said the Soviet Union's Constitution has "a lot of fine language" similar to that of the U.S.—guaranteeing freedom of speech, press, and religion, and the right to a fair trial.

Attorney General
Addresses Meet Of State Pilot Clubs

Mrs. George A. Stine, Mrs. Verne C. Messinger, and Miss Madeline Ramsey attended the fall council meeting of District Four, Pilot Clubs International, at Wakulla Springs last weekend. They were accompanied by Mr. Billie Hamilton, president of the club, and Mr. Richard Ervin who based his speech on the Pilot theme for the year, "Truth and Vision for Peace and Freedom."

Mr. Ervin said the truths embodied in the concept of freedom contain faith in God, one another, and democratic institutions. "We must pay more than lip service to our Bill of Rights," he asserted. "One vision is to understand the dangers of the 'something for nothing' attitude."

The Attorney General urged representatives from the 26 Pilot Clubs throughout the state to "carry to all quarters of the world the value of Christian concepts. We can attain peace," he said, "if we are fair, tolerant, patient, enlightened and good citizens."

Plans for statewide programs for the coming year were outlined at the Sunday morning session presided over by Mrs. Lea Tavares, district governor, of Panama City. Guests were welcomed by Miss Carolyn Krentzman, president of the Pilot Club of Tallahassee and the invocation was given by Mrs. Messinger, president of the Sanford Pilot club. Mrs. Edith McBride Cameron, with the Extension Department of the University of Florida, and a director of Pilot International, acted as moderator at the round table discussion which immediately followed the business session.

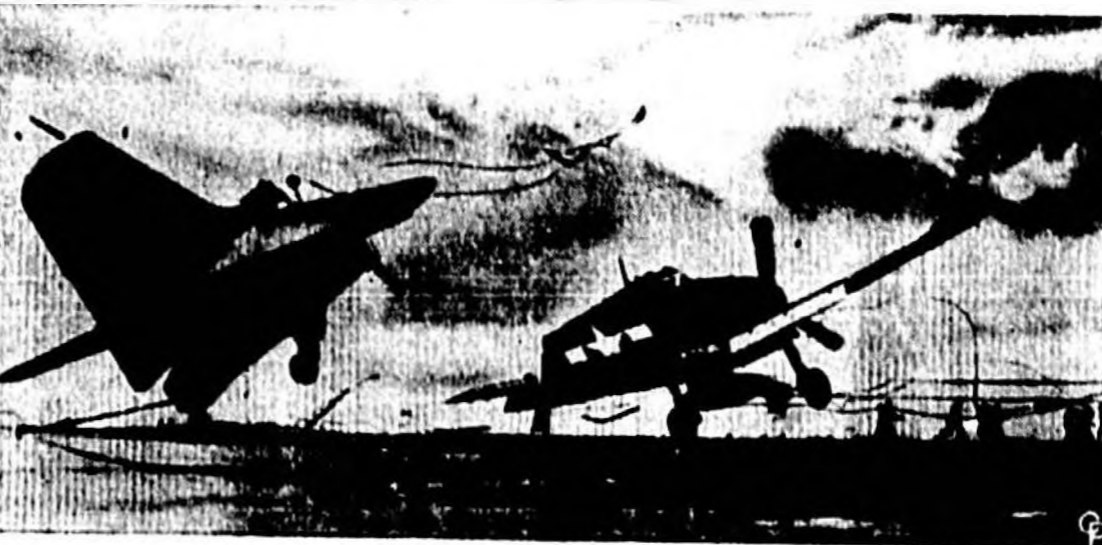

Over 300 Florida members and club pilots registered for the two-day conference. Saturday's activities included glass bottomed boat tours, the "Jungle Cruise" and the banquet that evening.

Dramatic Two-Point Landing On U. S. Carrier

THIS ON-THE-SPOT PICTURE WAS MADE after an unidentified pilot of a F-6F plane received a signal to cut the throttle when he anticipated a wave-off from the landing signal officer aboard the carrier U.S.S. ### Difficulties Of Get- ting U. S. Message Over Are Explained

"Voice of America" programs in Europe are doing the best job they can be done under the circumstances. If Eugene Davis of Kalamazoo, Rotary Foundation scholar, who has just returned from a year of study at the University of Grenoble in France, told the Rotary Club today.

"America is very popular with the upper classes, the industrialists, and the capitalists," he said, "and has many supporters among the lower classes."

C. E. Ironside Of Sanford Joining Rollins Faculty

Charles Edward Ironside, 1911 Magnolia Avenue, Scotch scholar and lecturer, and last year a visiting professor at Stetson University, has been appointed to the Economics and Sociology Department at Rollins College. It was announced Thursday by Acting President Hugh F. McKean.

Dr. Ironside, who has lived in Sanford for the past three years, received his M. A. degree from Aberdeen University, Scotland, and his Ph. D. from Columbia University, New York.

Once a member of the London County Council, London, England, he also acted as director and lecturer of student and teacher travel abroad. His lectures dealt with the historic and cultural background of places visited.

During World War I he served with the Gordon Highlanders, 61st Division, popularly known as "Ladies from Hell" under Robert Burns. The Scotch poet he entertained children at the Sanford Grammar School last year and, eliminating the talk, appeared in full Scotch costume playing the bagpipes. He recently received new bagpipes and plaid kilts from Scotland.

Mrs. Ironside, who was born in Louisiana, is a graduate of Columbia Teachers College, and has taught at New York Teachers Training College as a teacher of educational sociology and in the experimental Commerce and Toxicology High Schools. She also has lectured to groups of students and teachers, traveling abroad with them.

Gas Buggy Leads As Old Jalopies Near Finish Line

NEW YORK, Sept. 17—(AP)—The Stanley Steamer today beat its gasoline-powered rival in their Chicago-to-New York race between the two ancient automobiles. The race was ended unexpectedly about a quarter of a mile from the city line. With a final gasp of steam, the winner rolled to a stop before waiting spectators.

A small group of bystanders cheered. Previously the finish line of the 1,000-mile race was to have been Rockefeller Center in midtown Manhattan. However, the sponsors, Popular Mechanics Magazine and the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry, apparently changed the plans during the final hours of the contest.

Railroad Engineer Grand Chief Dies

CLEVELAND, Sept. 17—(AP)—Alvaney Johnston, 70, who was grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers for the quarter century before his retirement last year, died early today.

He suffered a heart attack at his home in suburban Shaker Heights last night, and died in his sleep this morning.

BACK FROM KOREA

Cpl. Lawrence Cooper, Jr., of Sanford was among 96 Florida combat veterans who landed in Seattle over the weekend from Korea aboard the Navy transport Gen. St. C. Meigs. He is the son of Hattie Cooper of 612 East Fifth Street.

14 Burned Or Trampled To Death In Mexico City "Can Can" Cabaret

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 17—(AP)—Fourteen persons were burned fatally or trampled to death when flames, touched off by fireworks, flashed through the crowded "Can Can" cabaret yesterday. The victims included one U. S. business man.

Ten of the dead were women—mostly hostesses. The American was identified as Read E. Goodridge 61, Baltimore, Md., dealer in rare books.

McKinley Asks Jail Sentences For Cuba Sellers

Says Racket Would Not Exist With- out "Protection"

Jail sentences for Cuba sellers was advocated last night by the Rev. J. E. McKinley in his regular Sunday evening sermon at the First Methodist Church in which he discussed the findings of the Kefauver Crime Investigation Committee and called upon the community to rise and put its foot down.

Pointing out that there are ten or more "big shots" in the Cuba racket in this county and perhaps a hundred others who are acting as sellers, the Rev. McKinley quoted from the Kefauver report which said that large scale rackets cannot exist without protection and without an indifferent public.

Violations Seen In Air Show Tragedy

FLAGER, Colo., Sept. 17—(AP)—A Civil Aeronautics Board of flying says CAA regulations obviously were violated in an air show plane crash which killed 20 persons.

Seventeen persons were injured. A stunt plane plunged into a crowd of parked cars and spectators during the air show in this small farming town Saturday.

Regional CAB chief R. P. Parrish, directing a probe today, said "It was obvious the pilot was too close to the crowd."

He described the crash as the worst tragedy involving a small aircraft in this country's aviation history.

He said it would be five days before it will be known if there is to be a public inquiry. The decision, he said, will be made in Washington.

Divorce Dismissed

BARTOW, Sept. 17—(AP)—Circuit Judge Dan Register has dismissed a divorce action brought by Mrs. George B. Chesnut, 37, against the man charged with trying to kill her. Mrs. Chesnut herself asked that the suit be dropped.

She filed the action soon after Chesnut was charged with burning down their house, assault with intent to murder, aggravated assault and simple assault. Trial is still pending in those criminal cases.

The night dark cabaret was crowded with Mexicans celebrating their Independence Day when a firecracker set fire to the strips of red, white and green paper—Mexico's national colors. Earlier reports had said the blaze was set by an exploding skyrocket. Police gave this version of the disaster.

During the night a group of men at one table had been amusing themselves tossing lighted firecrackers at the feet of the dancers. Sparks from one firecracker touched off the paper decorations and flames shot up the left wall of the long, narrow room.

There was a rush for the door, which was less than three feet wide. In front of it was a solid screen so passers-by could not look into the cabaret. The crowd piled up against this. A stream-

Veterans School Members Donate For Blood Bank

More than 42 pints of blood have been donated by members of the Central Florida Blood Bank of Orlando. Dr. George Starke, colored physician, announced today.

The donations were made at a clinic held by the Blood Bank on Sept. 4 and 14 in the old Gatchel Building.

Forty-two persons, all connected with the school with the exception of John Jeff, made the donations. The Negro Veterans School was started in February, 1948 with 18 pupils and now has an enrollment of 285.

Lightning Strikes Tip Top Market

Lightning, striking a three foot high brick tower above the front entrance of the Tip Top Food Market, Fourth Street and Sanford Avenue shortly after 8:00 p.m. last night, set off a fire that spread to the streets within a 70 foot radius.

Other than blowing a fuse in the store and producing a small crack in the stucco finish of the building, no other damage has been found. A wire, holding a string of colored light bulbs over Sanford Avenue, remained fastened to the small remaining portion of the tower.

Franchot Tone Loses Fight But Wins Blond Who Finally Says Yes

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 17—(AP)—Franchot Tone, the suave screen lover, lost a fight over a shapely blonde but apparently he won the girl. Actress Barbara Payton says he proposed and she said "yes."

Thus the ultimate loss of a pre-dawn movie colony brawl is masculine Tom Neal, who threw the punch which pulped Tone's patrician profile and hospitalized him with a brain concussion.

Neal took it hard. "I was very much in love with the girl, and still am today," he admitted. "I hope she and Tone will be very happy."

Tone, his doctor reports, is on the road to rapid recovery. He proposed marriage yesterday to Miss Payton during her second five-minute visit to his room.

"I love him very much," the 25-year-old film player said after-ward to her first cordial interviewer. "I've never been in love before."

"I knew yesterday that I would marry, but today he asked me."

All of which leaves but one question unanswered in the aftermath of the Friday morning blood-letting in Miss Payton's patrician name.

Will Tone press charges against Neal, the bull shouldered actor and weight lifter, or will all three principals be content to let the matter drop? Apparently the answer to that one hinges on further conferences between Tone and his lawyer.

Neal recovered from concussion last night to announce his intention to sue.

American Lithofold Co. Got Loans Of $564,000 In 1949; Prince Is Witness

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17—(AP)—A recently fired RFC official testified today he accepted a number of gifts from an official of American Lithofold Corp. after helping the company get RFC loans.

The witness, Frank Prince, a nephew of Rep. Harkin (D-Iowa) made the statement in a Senate investigation of charges that Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle used political influence to get loans for American Lithofold, a St. Louis printing firm.

Prince said that then vice-president of American Lithofold, R. J. Hamor, presented him with a turkey, "one small ham," a box of oranges, a box of perfumes and a camera. Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) a member of the investigation committee said the camera was worth $100.

Prince was the second RFC witness to acknowledge accepting favors from an association with American Lithofold.

Oliver E. Kraft, assistant manager of the agency's St. Louis office, testified last Friday that his 1949 vacation expenses were paid by the house of the printing firm. RFC Administrator W. Stuart Symington immediately fired Kraft for "improper conduct."

American Lithofold received RFC loans totaling $564,000 in 1949.

Prince also gave testimony that committee members said seemingly contradictory sworn statements made in a closed session by Fred A. Green, Washington representative for American Lithofold.

Senator Strom Thurmond (S-South Carolina) questioning Prince as to the best of his recollection he never contacted anyone in the RFC with regard to the Kansas City company. The Associated Press and the McClure-Douglass Co.

Prince, confirming entries in an office diary kept in his secretary, Mrs. Margaret Wells, said that Green had contacted him often in connection with the affairs of American Lithofold. (Continued on Page Six)

Police Hunting Nurse's Slayer In College Town

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 17 (AP)—A twisted killer who kidnaped an attractive blond nurse to death on a two-lane road street was hunted today throughout the college town.

But police are virtually without clues to the identity of the person who struck down Pauline Campbell, 41, early Sunday in front of her rooming house. Her skull was fractured with two blows from a blunt instrument.

Officers are checking reports of other recent molestations of women in the dimly lighted neighborhood. It is a half block from several large University of Michigan women's dormitories, just now opening for the fall term.

Women in the area sought cautions as a walk-out home together Sunday night, expressing fear that the slayer might attack again.

The motive for the slaying was listed as "possible robbery or sex." But police sergeant Claude Damon said the killer evidently was a maniac. He expressed the belief the man was still in the city.

There was no indication of rape, police said. But known sex deviates are being questioned in search of a clue.

Another possible clue came from Barbara Ferguson, another nurse who lived in the same house (Continued on Page Six)

JOHN R. BRIGGS announced his resignation from the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission as a wildlife officer.

During the next few days, he said, he will take over the operation of Jimmie Wolf Station, 3500 Second Street and Park Avenue. It has been operated by James Singletary since Dec. 1949.

Mr. Johns, who formerly operated the station, has been with the Wildlife Service since December 1947.
