Critics Begin To Retract Some Of Their Assertions About Schmeling's Ability

Sports Writers Believe They Were A Little Hasty In Proclaiming German To Be Slated For Championship

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service
Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Self-observation being a policy that still is well thought of in many quarters, it isn't at all surprising that quite a few of our alert minds are beginning to "play off" some of the extravagant finger bets they have made on Max Schmeling becoming the heavyweight champion of the world, forthwith and pronto. Johnny Risko hadn't quite discovered the location of his corner in the ninth round the other night, aided slightly by a sheriff's posse, when most of our alert minds uttered a gibbering shriek, leaped high in the air—and forgot to come down. Without further ado, they then and there pronounced Herr Schmeling the champion in everything except name. Now, in the eyes, cold light of another day, they seem to feel that they may have been a bit hasty. I would venture, offhand, that they are looking for an "out" in case Herr Schmeling up and dives on his pal, the next time out as he did with Larry Gaines and Gypsy Dennis.

On the other hand one observer remains so impressed with Schmeling that he predicts Tunney will retire from retirement to save the nation, which I am sure will come as interesting news to Tunney. Complaining that Schmeling doesn't weave so that he may hit, as does Dempsey, one critic adds today: "Schmeling will have to hook up his hitting more intimately with his weaving. Balm weaving won't get a man anywhere unless he is in the knit goods business."

I might add that I consider this a very wise crack and a very unwise observation. However, let us pass over to the next exhibit, which features a complaint about what was alleged to have been an inability to "push an advantage" and to a third, which frankly stated that, in the opinion of this particular writer, Schmeling "looked like a terrible bum for six hours." There was considerably more of this sort from other quarters and it need not bear repetition.

The man is wasting his time who tries to find any great resemblance in the fighting styles of this pair. There virtually is none. Schmeling weaves so do a dozen others, without recalling the slightest illusion of Dempsey. As a matter of fact, Jack and the German are essentially different types of weavers. Max walks in nothing but a head-feint, who uses the artifice to draw a lead, which he thereupon counters or attempts to counter. The gesture also serves to afford a moving target for any man who fancies a straight left. Lead a left hook at him and he covers. Schmeling is a forcing fighter. He is a defensive fighter, with a punch and, as such, the weave has served to make him good.

The critic who saw him as a bum for six rounds had plenty of good eyesight, as far as my unshaded glasses were concerned. It is possible that he even saw more than Risko did. However, the critic did seem to hit the nail on the head with fair accuracy when he thought Schmeling wasn't altogether indifferent about punches received in and upon the mezzanine level. The young man, in my opinion, might take an awful snuffing down there. Form some of our real body punchers.

SHARKEY WILL GO EASY IN TRAINING FOR THIS WEEK

Stribling Begins Hard Work At Night To Retain Present Weight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 4. (INS)—Jack Sharkey continued today the general impression that K. O. Christner had given him quite a battle in their room fight a week in Madison Square Garden. His bout with Bill Stribling is a little more than three weeks away, but Sharkey feels that the Christner engagement was enough exercise, that he will not have to start strenuous work for another week yet.

The sailor will devote a week to golf before settling down to the grind of getting ready for Stribling. Stribling, on the other hand, who may weigh in as much as 10 pounds lighter than his Boston opponent, must keep in shape without losing too much weight. With this in mind he will start his first real workout under the starshot tropic, at night skies rather than the warmish sun of midday. He will begin to ready up for the fight with a session of road work tonight.

The athletes spent their Sunday in contrasting moods. Sharkey attended the dedication of St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Miami Beach and followed that with a quiet afternoon. Stribling journeyed to Coral Gables with Jack Dempsey, where Stribling took part in a swimming pool stunt. He played fisherman while a life guard at the end of Stribling's line played fish.

Dempsey was at the fight offices early today, trying to figure out how to make a certain number of front row ringside seats take care of a certain larger number of requests from celebrities who are wintering in Miami Beach or in this neighborhood. The demand for tickets continued in such strength that William H. Carey, treasurer of Madison Square Garden, directed that the ticket office at Miami Beach and Miami remain open all day Sunday.

George Harsh maintains indifference over death penalty. ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 4.—(INS)—Even the hovering shadow of the electric chair fails to bring George Harsh, condemned "habit" murderer, out of his emotional lethargy. Even in facing death, they say, he is unconcerned. Harsh, the son of the late Milwaukee Milwaukee, Wis., shoe manufacturer, is under sentence to die in the electric chair on March 15 for the slaying of William Smith a grocery store clerk, in a dining hall up here in October last.

INDIANA WOMAN'S MURDER IS STILL BAFFLING POLICE

Prosecutor Will Not Enter Body Until Mystery Is Solved

ELKHART, Ind., Feb. 4.—(INS)—The time-splintered remains of Mrs. Genevieve Smith, 31-year-old party "South Beach beauty" tourist, are not to rest in a glass until the low has found the first-time young woman's slayer according to the decision of Glenn Sawyer, prosecutor of Elkhart County, who failed to convict Harvey L. Smith, 31-year-old former private detective of the murder. Prosecutor Sawyer announced immediately after the jury in Superior Court here had acquitted Smith that he would retain the skull and other bones which are believed to be of the same woman.

Mrs. Smith, in the hope that she may be able to identify the body, was buried in a wooden coffin in the Elkhart cemetery. The body was found on the road near the home of Mrs. Smith on the night of Feb. 1, 1928. The body was found in a ditch near the home of Mrs. Smith. NAVY MEASURE TO OBTAIN BIG FLEET IS SURE

An International News Service poll indicated at least 80 votes in favor of the measure. This would insure its adoption by a two-thirds vote. Some administration leaders, however, predicted a close vote. On final passage of the bill, the vote will be overwhelming. The same poll showed 70 senators in favor of the bill and less than 10 opposed, with the others undecided or absent. A number of senators, opposed to the time clause, announced they would vote for the bill even if it were retained.

George Harsh Maintains Indifference Over Death Penalty

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 4.—(INS)—Even the hovering shadow of the electric chair fails to bring George Harsh, condemned "habit" murderer, out of his emotional lethargy. Harsh, the son of the late Milwaukee Milwaukee, Wis., shoe manufacturer, is under sentence to die in the electric chair on March 15 for the slaying of William Smith a grocery store clerk, in a dining hall up here in October last.

Card Will Be Presented Here Thursday Night

It is possible that Harsh may not go to the chair on March 15. The counsel have indicated that they will appeal to the court for a stay of execution, and this will automatically stay the death sentence until the high tribunal can act on the plea.

GATOR FRESHMEN CAGERS TO PLAY IN JAX TUESDAY

Yearlings Will Open Season Against The Strong Cohen Five

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, Gainesville, Feb. 4.—Athletic News Bureau.—The University of Florida "Baby Gators" make their basketball debut at Jacksonville Tuesday night, meeting the strong Johnson Blues quintet. It is likely that these Jacksonville boys will meet Coach Joe Holsinger's starting lineup, Far Marsh, forward, Luke Dwyer, and Jack Johnson, guards. Holsinger and Dwyer started by high school level, while Johnson played independent ball.

With his squad reduced to three, Coach Holsinger has been concentrating the work on team play, having given thorough instruction in fundamentals during the three weeks following Christmas. A fine piece of work is being accomplished by Mentor Holsinger, and his 1929 edition of "Baby Gators" should be able to tackle their eight games schedule with confidence.

As announced by Graduate Manager James R. Boyd, Jr., the official freshman date is as follows: Feb. 5—Cohen Blues, at Jacksonville; Feb. 8—"Y" Blues, at Jacksonville; Feb. 11—Stetson Frosh, at Lakeland; Feb. 12—Leesburg Independents, at Leesburg; Feb. 13—Orlando All-Stars, at Orlando; Feb. 14—"Southern Frosh, at Lakeland; Feb. 16—"Y" Blues, at Gainesville; Feb. 20—"Y" Blues, at Gainesville; Feb. 28—Cohen Blues, at Gainesville.

Chief officer Harry Manning says: "Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet."

"WHEN I climbed aboard the 'America' after those cold, strenuous hours getting the men off the freighter Florida, there was nothing I wanted so much as a Lucky—'By George,' it tasted wonderful! A Lucky is always refreshing. My tense nerves relaxed, my aching throat was soothed and the whole thrilling adventure just seemed a part of the day's work. As time goes by, and as I look back to that memorable night, I'll always remember the wonderful taste of that welcome Lucky. As I went around to visit the men we'd rescued, I found many of them enjoying Luckies, too. We really couldn't wait to get back to our ship and 'Luckies.' As an actual fact in returning to the 'America' I noticed one of our men rowing with one hand and lighting a 'Lucky' with the other. There's no flavor to equal toasted tobaccos, and I always prefer Lucky Strikes. There's wisdom in the saying: 'Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet.' It helps a man to keep physically fit and we who follow the sea must always be prepared for any emergency."

The man mentioned by Chief Officer Manning was Boatswain's Mate Aloys A. Wilson.

No throat irritation

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other cigarettes compared. This surely confirms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.

Senator Clegg's committee on the Panama Canal is expected to report in a few days. It is believed that the committee will recommend that the canal be operated as a public utility.

Drainage And Aviation

Newspaper readers have noticed during the past few days two interesting items bearing unusual significance for Florida. With the feeling prevalent that this state is set on its way toward normal business conditions, people are ever on the lookout for any announcement which may mean new industry, improved conditions, or real development.

Information to the effect that Hoover will make a survey of the Okeechobee area, and Lindbergh's flight from Miami to Panama, are as encouraging as they are singular. For the state of Florida to secure federal aid for anything would be an event almost revolutionary.

Since last November, however, all Floridians and many Republicans have been wondering just what consideration might be accorded this state in return for the compliment paid Mr. Hoover at the polls. The handsome majority it gave him on its premier appearance in Republican ranks would seem to call for some special sort of recognition.

As for Colonel Lindbergh, that wizard of the air has urged the aviation eyes of America toward Florida by his latest feat in flying from Miami to Panama, not much of an achievement in itself, as flying goes today, but of vast significance, as it marks the beginning of a new air mail route.

With Miami the nearest hopping off point for Havana, Panama, Caracas, Lima, Valparaiso, Buenos Aires and Rio, and as our business relations with Latin American countries become more friendly and more profitable, this state is sure to become the hub of tremendous airway interests.

What the drainage of the Everglades and the linking of this fertile area to populous South American cities means to Florida, does not require the prophetic eye of any infallible crystal gazer. Anyone, conversant at all with the signs of the times, can see only a brilliant future for the state so admirably located and so exceptionally favored by nature.

Working Together

A house divided within itself will fall. A committee split into two factions cannot operate successfully. It has recently been brought to our attention that such a committee has been trying to operate in Sanford.

Harmony and unity of purpose are essential to achievement. There are, of course, some things worse than discord. It is not well, for instance, to be too harmonious with sharpers.

We are reminded of a little jingle which preaches a great lesson. It goes like this:

Two fool Jackasses say: "Get this rope. We're tied together with a piece of rope." Said one to the other, "You may come my way while I take a nibble at the new mown hay."

To which the Marianna Floridian adds, "And what's true of the Jackasses is true of human beings. The hay is ever at hand when people work together instead of pulling against each other."

Sanford people, too, are being given a wonderful opportunity to show just how well they can pull together. There is no reason now why there should not be in every undertaking in this city a wholehearted spirit of co-operation.

THE ONLY WAY TAMPA TIMES

It was a mistake to pass along the streets yesterday without running into a group of from two to a dozen men discussing the order of Governor Carlton to the sheriff of Dade county that gambling in connection with races being run there must stop and the governor's supplementary statement that the order will stand and must be enforced as long as he is in office.

The Florida law against race-betting is strong and plain. An ordinarily intelligent 8-year-old boy ought not have any trouble comprehending the terms and meaning. So when information, presumably from reliable sources, was vouchsafed the governor that this law was being violated in connection with the Dade county tracks there was nothing else he could do but what he did.

So far as we are able to judge sentiment in Florida is most predominantly in opposition to race-gambling. Such being the case, the law against it ought to be vigorously enforced. We doubt that a single citizen in the state would urge the repeal of the law against race-gambling.

This Afternoon by JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES II

If we had some more, we could have some more, eggs, if we had some more, eggs, if we had some more, eggs...

At any rate, General Edwin's recommendation amounts to an official recognition of Florida's need and Washington's duty, and that is a big step.

General Jadwin should have been present at the Singing Tower ceremony last Friday to hear Mayor Carlton's graceful intimation to President Coolidge that Florida is now become a federal asset.

Commander Boyd is no respecter of persons. It is a respecter of all persons. He is a respecter of all persons. He is a respecter of all persons.

Professor Einstein's latest theory represents "the fusion of geometry, mechanics and electro-magnetism in the form of twenty independent field equations connecting sixteen fundamental quantities."

Last Friday was "Al Smith Day" at the Hialeah race track in Miami. Without going any further why the comparison, Republicans and Democrats will agree that A. Smith's temperament and type are considerably more suited than Herbert Hoover's to the sort of entertainment Miami likes to give and knows how to give distinguished guests.

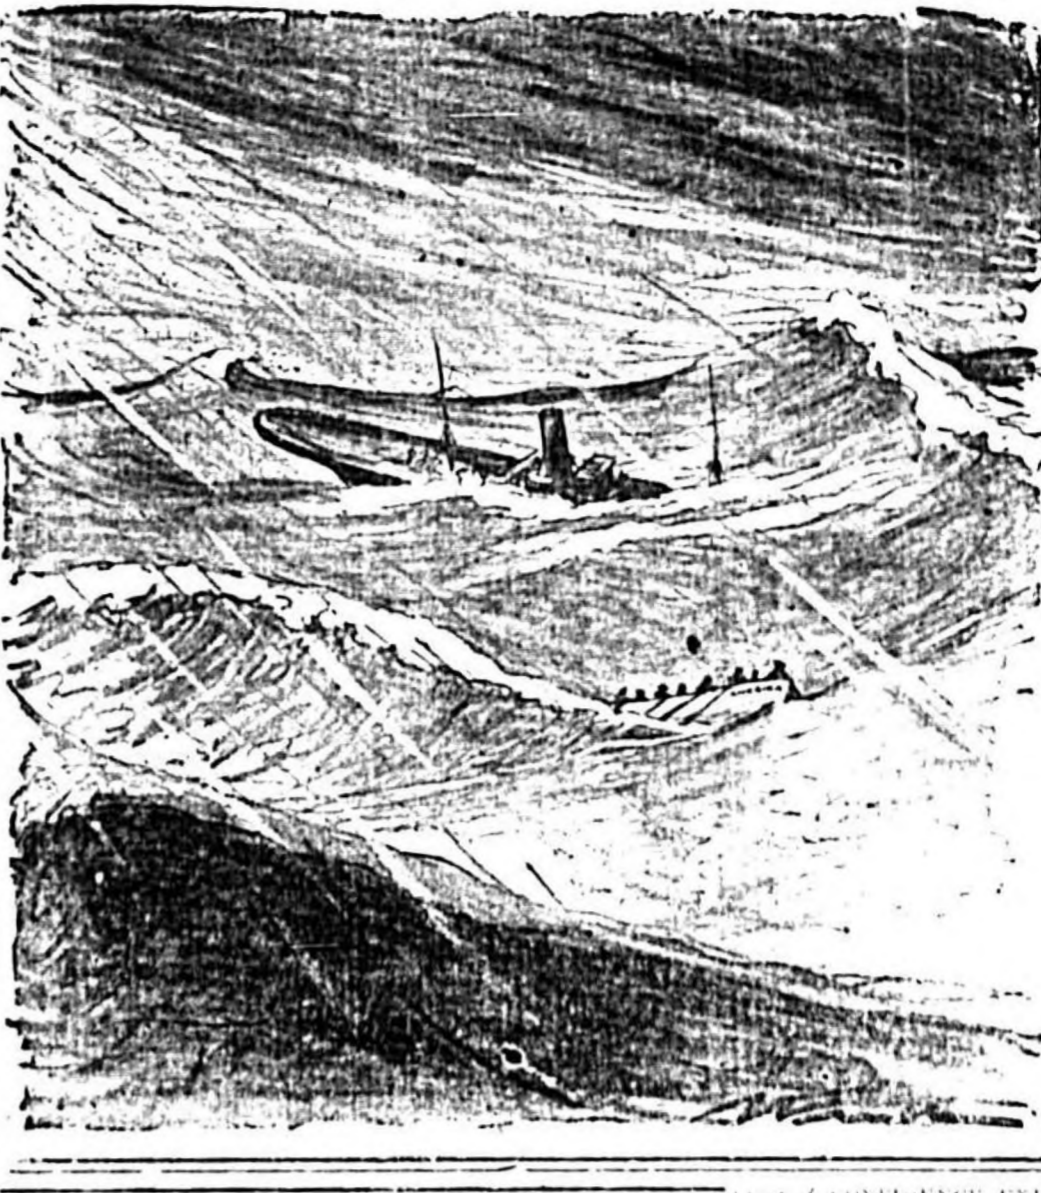

If Mr. Mellon persists in refusing to accept the $24,000,000 Congress wants to give him for additional enforcement of the liquor law, Florida would be glad to take $2,400,000 of this amount off the federal government's hands for the state's share in General Jadwin's Everglades plan.

Intense excitement is being caused apart from this section by what is said to be the largest and longest run of kingfish in the memory of veteran fishermen. The fish began to run in a school extending from Boca Raton to Fort Lauderdale.

estimate what the majority favorable to the present law, or even stronger, would be. Such being the case the law and the people's will should be carried out without let, hindrance, fear or favor.

We cannot conceive of race track gambling as a thing desirable. Passing by the fact of whatever of a moral question there is involved in it, as a business proposition, it is a snare and a delusion. We do not believe there ever has been an instance in which legitimate business was permanently helped by it, or that there ever will be.

IN THE MIND'S EYE, TO-DAY.

PALM BEACH COUNTY'S DEBT

By Joe Earman

Hold on, West Palm Beach. You are a HUGE, in fact might be called a COLOSSAL DEBT. You cannot pay its debts now in full and by an interest thereon.

During the next few months the DEBT will come about. This means that from a financial standpoint this city has REACHED THE CROSS ROADS. To our creditors it may be said that they bought our bonds for two reasons as an investment.

The first being that they considered our bonds safe from a monetary value, and also that we are an HONORABLE people having INTEGRITY that means our debts will be paid no matter if we swine much.

Our intentions are GOOD. Everybody knows that "HELL IS PAVED WITH GOOD INTENTIONS" and inhibited by many who lived on earth, and some lived in West Palm Beach. THAT'S THAT! There is a way to pay our debts.

Said way will require fifty years at a lower rate of interest. Otherwise, SHYLOCKS, TAKE YOUR POUND OF FLESH. In this connection it can be said that some folks, probably very few, have paid their taxes and ALL ASSESSMENTS, in which event I don't believe that any court that functions will deprive any man of his property to pay a debt FOOLISHLY incurred and the proceeds FOOLISHLY WASTED.

Our city commissioners hired and paid a big price to a financial expert whose name was Gaylord Cummings. All that he could tell them was what any PRACTICAL man would know and which was to take the income, the probable income, the debt, add the interest of said debt and then pay as the ability to pay was shown.

WHICH WOULD REQUIRE ABOUT FIFTY YEARS. If we want to inspire the confidence of our creditors, we will have to GET RIGHT. We have got to CUT the operating expenses of the City of West Palm Beach RIGHT DOWN TO THE BONE.

At this time the operating expenses of this city won't even make a MARK ON THE CIVIC FLESH. We have got to eliminate, any talk of intention, to legalize punch boards, or gambling in any form, which will corrupt school children. Nobody has any confidence in any community or government that does not protect children, who are the MEN AND WOMEN OF TOMORROW, and after all is said and done, WILL PAY OUR DEBTS.

and Dade Counties than any other part of the world.

These precious stones still exist, but they don't exist in the hands of the 50,000 owners who bought them.

I know one man who has approximately a QUART of them and now he has lost faith and is ready to sell them. A man in South Africa has been found who has a million of them. He has a million of them, but he has a million of them, but he has a million of them.

He says that it is indeed a matter with him. I find this owner of a quarter of a million of them, but he has a million of them, but he has a million of them.

What the exchanges ask "What? The men of the Deal? Well, mostly they are buried in Tampa (Fla.) Times.
