 ed. Our wealth had been great beyond measure. This wealth, we predicted, must be brought back. We still lagged in our hearts the delusion that we all could be rich without working. We shut our eyes to the fact that our whole economic structure had been undermined.

Some say that the ancient system has broken down. It hasn't. In our madness we loaded it beyond its capacity to carry. Positionism is still a common word, yet positionism always follows on the heels of such delusions as we have gone through. Our delusions of unending wealth have given place to delusions of unending gloom. One is as unreal as the other.

The time has come for us to cool off. The time has come for us to speculate. No word in all our language has been more abused and less understood than this. To meet us, it means to observe, to see, that is, to study, to contemplate what has happened in relation to what is now to come. The true speculator is he who, having studied, sees what is to come and is prepared to act before it occurs. Now, we are in the process of examining critically our emergency legislation, in order to absorb and fit into our permanent system that which is good. No laws, by themselves, will get us out of our troubles. Natural laws cannot be opposed successfully by legislation for long. Spiritual and moral values must be restored, and common sense and simple honesty must return. We must realize that we have

Real Estate Activity

According to Professor Edwin W. Kemmerer, professor of economics at Princeton University and an international authority on monetary matters, the trend in the United States for the next few years will be distinctly inflationary. Whether our government actually resorts to the printing presses or not in its efforts to increase purchasing power, its borrowing and spending program, by which it is seeking to expand credit, will produce the same results, though to a somewhat lesser degree.

As a consequence of these policies, Professor Kemmerer points out that "Both prices and interest rates will tend strongly upward. From this it follows that the cautious investors, instead of lending money now through the purchase of bonds, should use his money for the purchase of durable commodities, real estate, and corporate securities. Carefully chosen common stocks now, as an investment category, are preferable to first grade bonds."

The reason for this is not difficult to see. As prices rise through the greater circulation and wider distribution of money, prices of real estate, stock and commodity holdings also rise, but the prices of high grade bonds, mortgages and so forth are fixed. A thousand-dollar bond is a thousand-dollar bond whether the price index is at 50 or 100, but the value of real estate buildings rises or falls proportionately with the price index.

It is for this very reason that many persons who still have a little cash or other liquid assets are converting them into real estate. From the more active centers of the Florida real estate market come reports of vastly increased real estate business, particularly in Miami Beach and St. Petersburg are there distinct indications of the beginning of another real estate boom. Reports indicate that there are approximately three times as many sales being recorded as last year at this time.

While there is no overwhelming evidence of a revival in the real estate market locally, we have no doubt that this will come before many months have passed. Thousands of northerners will soon be coming to Florida as the winter season gets under way, and many of them will be looking for investments. As Professor Kemmerer points out, there is no better investment in these times than real estate.

 Also annual convocation Oct. 20-Nov. 1.

Chamber of Commerce officials have been advised by telegram from C. B. Treadway of the State Road Department that bids for the completion of the lakefront boulevard will be called before the first of the year. Federal funds will be used to pay for construction, it was understood.

"Vote As You Please, But Vote" is the Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce suggestion which will be called to the attention of downtown pedestrians this week by signs posted at all street corners. Jaycees officials will take no stand for or against any of the amendments which are to be voted upon. Their sole interest is in getting out the vote, in reminding the public that it should exercise its privilege.

With the reminder that midnight Friday brings the end of the time for casting absentee ballots at the office of County Judge J. G. Sharon in the Court House, announcement also was made that less than 10 persons have so far cast ballots. Persons who do not expect to be in the county on election day should visit Judge Sharon's office before Friday night, he stated today. Ballots may be secured from him.

Greens Academy opened its home football season by scoring an 18 to 0 victory over Pausden Academy team of Ocala at Municipal Park on Thursday afternoon. Halfback LaFair's play for Greens was a feature of the game which saw him score two touchdowns. Captain Patrick scored a single touchdown. Greens will play the tough St. Augustine team here next Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Witches' Night

Residents on the heights sitting up at night with loaded revolvers waiting for some pick burglar to stick his head in at a window should look twice before shooting for the next two or three days at least. Not every noise which comes a-tapping on a window pane tomorrow and Wednesday night will mean a jimmy is being used to pry open a window. Not every funny face which appears from behind dark shadows will be a big bad wolf ready to tear you limb from limb.

But hobgoblins will be out in plenty. Headless horsemen may dash promiscuously about, and witches will boo at you from behind hollow trees. Mysterious scratching may be followed by bloodcurdling screams, but that won't mean another racketeer has been put on the spot or a gangster's moll taken for a ride. Soapy window panes will be an unhappy hangover but no suggestion from the Ku Klux Klan that they need washing.

For Halloween is coming. Beware of the spooks which will walk these nights. Look out for the witches, ghosts, and haints that will lurk behind the bushes ready to snatch you. Look out for them, but don't shoot.

Sanford and New Smyrna

Sanford and New Smyrna business men are understood to be considering an attempt to have an office department for the establishment of a star route between the two cities. Closer relationship between the East Coast and Central Florida points would benefit, it is pointed out, because of a speeding up of mail service. As almost everyone knows, mail sent from Sanford to any point on the East Coast, including Miami and Key West, first must go to Jacksonville by early morning or early afternoon train. The same holds true of mail from the East Coast to Central Florida points. If a star route is established, mail would be taken directly to New Smyrna for delivery within a few hours after being posted here.

Attendance at Sanford's white protestant churches on Sunday again maintained the high average set earlier this month when large numbers of the people attended "Loyalty Day" services on the first Sunday in October. The First Christian Church still leads other churches in the percentage of its membership attending a single service for 72 percent of the membership attended the morning service and 35 percent attended the evening service. Other figures: Congregational, 47 percent morning, no evening service; Episcopal, 45 percent morning, no evening service; Presbyterian, 41 percent morning, 32 percent evening; Methodist, 32 percent morning, 18 percent evening; Baptist, 30 percent morning, 19 percent evening.

A Sanford Seminole High 4-H Club was organized at Seminole High School last week with 86 members, and the following elected as officers: Ruth Williams as president, Grace Clark as vice-president, Autumn Shannon as secretary; Elizabeth Turner as junior county council delegate, Madeline Polts as reporter. Others in the organization are the Misses Edith Ray, Opal Garcock, Lottie Sharpe, Margaret Kinlaw, Grace Evans, Vivian Grant, Fay Henderson, Clara Williams, Estelle Lee, Catherine Greer, Selma Carlson, Louise Harden, Frances Stevens, Pauline Fortier, Doris Patterson, Katherine Harrison, Ouita Bridgman, Annie Cook, Cor-

 Old woman, your grandson, say where is he riding?
 Old woman, your grandson, say where will he go?
 My grandson, poor orphan, will ride on the warpath
 With the other young men, though he has not a bow.
 Old woman, your grandson, what will he be doing?
 When he comes face to face with the dangerous Crow?
 My grandson, poor orphan, will shame all his comrades,
 He will not hang back, though he has not a bow.
 Old woman, who is leading the march of the victors?
 Old woman, who is bringing the scalp of the Crow?
 My grandson, poor orphan, was foremost in battle;
 He struck with a stick for he had not a bow.
 Old woman, old woman, what is that you are singing?
 What is that you are singing, as he rides past so slow?
 My grandson, poor orphan, was bravest of the warriors;
 He charged all alone, though he had not a bow.

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

The Sanford High School is to have a football team this year. The boys have already organized and are practicing hard every afternoon. More athletic spirit is being shown in the school this year than ever before. Those trying for the team are: Shepherd, Routh, Spencer, Murrell, Brown, Pope, Wickham, A. Green, Arthur, and Fry. Several games have been arranged, one of which is with St. Augustine.

Misses Mary and Lucia Chappell were the gracious young hostesses at a beautiful dinner party Tuesday evening in honor of Misses Julia and Rebecca Wicker of Newberry, S. C. A delicious six course dinner was daintily served. Those enjoying the hospitality of the Misses Chappell besides the honor guests were: the Misses Estelle Purdon, Margaret Davis, Louise Harris, Linda Connelly, and Leslie Sample, Beth Woodruff, Thomas Getzen, Sam Yount, Howard Swartz, J. Rowland Wildman, A. M. Chase, and Mr. Grovnestein.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Parrish gave a house-warming to their friends last Thursday night to celebrate the completion of their beautiful new bungalow on French Avenue. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Henry and daughters, Ethel, Florence, and Ruth; Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holly and son, Robert; Mrs. Jones, Miss Hoskins Jones, Will Leffler, Josef DeMont, Henry Purdon, and Mr. and Mrs. Parrish and son, Harvey.

Miss Alma Pagenhart returned this week from a very delightful summer spent in Virginia, Maryland, and Washington, D. C. Among the pretty sights to be seen in Sanford this season is a gorgeous red dahlia growing in the garden at Mrs. Henry Wight's residence on Park Avenue. The bush is unusually tall and has more than 25 rich, beautiful blossoms.

Wagner Would 'Fine' Counties For Lynching

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 30. — (AP)—Senator Robert F. Wagner said last night he would reintroduce in the next Congress the anti-lynching bill he sponsored at the last session and that he was "very confident" it would be passed.

It provided that persons accused of lynching could be tried in the federal courts, that the county in which a lynching occurred could be fined, the money to go to the heirs of the victim, and that local officials if lax in failing to prevent a lynching, could be prosecuted by the federal government.

California GOP Uniting In Rallies

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30. — (AP)—Republican forces, mobilized by leaders calling for delivery of a death blow to "communism in California," rallied yesterday for the last phases of the latter gubernatorial campaign.

Disputed at the critical point by stalwarts of the New Deal and by virtually all influential leaders of the Democratic party, House Minority leader Charles McNary, of the New Deal, and Governor-elect Earl Warren, of the New Deal, were the main points of contention.

PREVENTIVE FOR

Fluid Said To Be 100
 Percent Effective,
 Experiments Show

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
 Associated Press Science Editor

BOSTON, Oct. 29.—(AP)—A newly discovered preventive for surgery's worst death risk, peritonitis, was announced to the American College of Surgeons here.

The preventative is a vaccine, called amniotic fluid, and its discovery came from the study of babies during Caesarean operations. In these operations, Herbert L. Johnson, M. D., of Boston, noticed that the mothers suffered fewer abdominal adhesions than usual.

Several years study led to virtual certainty that the protection was due to the amniotic fluid which surrounds a child before birth. The same, or a similar fluid, is present in the higher animals.

Thus animals would furnish a source for the fluid if it could be used in other than Caesarian surgery. Animal experiments were carried on for years. In the animal work, Dr. Johnson was assisted by Dr. Rhinda Warren and J. Stewart Rooney of Boston.

A concentrated fraction of amniotic fluid was developed, its source being cows. Clinical work, the tests on human beings, went

JAPAN WILL NOT SWERVE FROM VIEWS

Delegation At Naval Confab Again Will Say Nation Demands Equality In Tonnage

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(A.P.)—The Japanese delegation to the naval conversations, it was learned authoritatively today, will inform the Americans late today that there can be no surrender on the question of the principle of naval tonnage equality. The Japanese will make it clear it was learned, that unless Britain and Americans are willing to confer on equality there is virtually no hope for an agreement. The British and American delegations have rejected as impossible suggestions made by Ambassador Bullis of Japan in Washington that Japan be granted naval tonnage equality on the installment plan. A spokesman for both the British and American delegations has asserted that tonnage equality will not be approved under any conditions since Great Britain and the United States stand firmly behind the continuance of the present five-five-three ratio of the three nations.

Trade Body Group Urges People To Okey Enabling Act

The Executive Committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce has voted unanimously to recommend to the people of the county that they vote for Constitutional Amendment No. 2 at the polls on the ballot for the election of Nov. 6.

This amendment, if carried, would enable the people of Jacksonville and Duval county to hold an election to determine whether they wish to merge their municipal and county governments.

The Executive Committee points out that if the election should carry and the experiment is made of merging the two governments in Duval county, the success or failure of the experiment would determine whether such a move would be wise in other counties in Florida.

Harry M. Papworth, president of the meeting which was held yesterday, reported that a delegation of local dairymen had waited upon him requesting that attention of the people be called to the fact that the law of the state prohibits any one selling or giving away milk from any cows except those in an authorized and inspected dairy.

Mr. Papworth stated that there is a heavy fine for those purchasing or accepting milk which has not been properly inspected in accordance with the regulations of the State Dairymen Control Commission and the State Board of Health.

The committee also voted to approve the recommendation of the organization's Publicity Committee that signs and road markers now in use be repainted and put in use for the fall season; to purchase 1,000 copies of the special edition of The Sanford Herald, and to arrange for a general membership meeting in the near future which would serve to present and discuss the various problems served free.

Those attending the meeting in addition to Mr. Papworth, W. H. Williams, Sam Meisch, Br. B. F. Johnson, W. E. Schmidt, S. G. Gray, Arthur Brown, W. S. Coleman and others.

JOHN MEISCH, SR. IS OPPOSED TO EXEMPTION PLAN

Says Schools Will Be Hurt With Bondholders Will Benefit

Declaring that the adoption of the Homestead Exemption Amendment will hurt the county funds and hurt the schools, John Meisch, Sr., chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, today urged Seminole County citizens to vote against the amendment.

"If you want your schools to close," Mr. Meisch declared, "you will vote for this amendment because there is no way they can operate after losing so much money until some other source of revenue is found. In the end, a sales tax, and no telling how many other taxes, will be levied and the little home owner will have to pay a bigger bill than he does now."

Mr. Meisch said that the amendment looks good on the surface, but that if you will take a pencil and paper and do some figuring you will soon find it won't benefit the little fellow. "If it would," he said, "the bondholders wouldn't be for it."

Declaring there was not the slightest chance that the Supreme Court would allow the homes to be exempted from taxation to pay bonds, Mr. Meisch said, "What we would really be doing in adopting this amendment would be giving the bondholders a first mortgage on our homes instead of a second mortgage. At present the first tax pay operating expenses, but if the homes are exempt from operating levies, then bondholders will get it all."

RETAIL TRADE IN SOUTH UP TO NEW HIGH

Activity During Past Month Is Best In Past Four Years, Bank Survey Shows

ATLANTA, Oct. 31.—(A.P.)—Retail trade in the sixth federal reserve district with seasonal adjustments rose in September to a figure higher than that for any other month in the last four years. The monthly review of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, released yesterday, shows that retail trade in the district in September was 26.5 percent greater than a year ago, and increased 2.6 over August.

Based upon reports from 90 firms, wholesale trade increased 7.5 percent from August to September. Wholesale trade was 15.2 percent greater than in September last year and higher than for any other month since November, 1930.

Building permits issued at 9 reporting cities declined 2.5 percent from August to September, but were 1.3 percent greater than in September last year, and for the nine months have been 6.2 percent greater than in that part of 1933. Contracts awarded in the district, however, increased in September over August.

A decline of 2.6 percent in September compared with August was shown for cotton consumption by mills in Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee, and 2.3 percent less than in September last year, largely because of the textile strike. Production of cotton declined 1.1 percent in both periods. Employment at the reporting mills at the end of September was 18.1 percent less than a month earlier and 14.1 percent less than a year ago.

The Oct. 1 estimate by the United States Department of Agriculture, its review, also indicates that the cotton crop in the six states located wholly or partly in the district, will amount to 3,224,000 bales, an increase of 4.4 percent from the September estimate, but 4.4 percent less than 1933 production. October estimates increased somewhat over those for September for hay and tobacco, but declined slightly for corn.

At weekly reporting banks in seven of the larger cities, an increase of 4.5 million in total loans between Sept. 13 and Oct. 10 was only partly offset by a decline of 2.5 million in holdings of government securities. Demand deposits at these banks declined during this period, but were 25.3 million greater than a year ago.

Total production of Florida citrus fruits for the 1934-35 season is estimated at 56 million boxes. The growing season, the review pointed out, has been unusually favorable so far.

RATIFICATION OF SUPERVISORS OF AMENDMENT HELD MARKET WILL BE AS UNWISE MOVE NAMED MONDAY

Fletcher Thinks Those Who Vote For It Are Misled As To Result

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 31.—Floridians who vote to ratify the proposed Homestead Exemption Amendment do so because they have been misled as to what the results of the amendment's provisions will be, in the opinion of United States Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, dean of the Florida delegation in the Congress of the United States.

Senator Fletcher expressed his views on the amendment and as to national affairs yesterday just a few hours before he boarded the Tamiaki of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad for Washington, where he will be busy on senatorial matters until the next Congress convenes early in January.

National Lottery Plan In Balance

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—By 1 P. M. Tuesday the gamblers will have a pretty good idea whether the United States ever will have a national lottery or whether they will have to keep on playing the Irish sweepstakes.

DENVER MOB GATHERING FOR NEW RIOT

Blood Shed In Streets Of Colorado Capital Tuesday In Protest Against FERA Plan

DENVER, Oct. 31.—(A.P.)—A mob that clashed in bloody riots with police yesterday and threatened to "Meet bullets with bullets" started forming in suburban Englewood today for a march on Denver to protest.

The anti-FERA police was doubled to a force of about 12 men, and 60 Denver officers armed with machine guns and tear gas, and held ready within the Denver City limits about four blocks away for reinforcements if necessary.

The mob numbered about 200 but others were gathering. First-aiding men and women who shouted protests against curtailment of federal relief work flung anarchist bludgeons in Denver's streets yesterday.

Dispersed once after a wild battle with police, the 300 agitators gathered again within the shadow of the Colorado capitol and scattered before swarming police sticks only after being exhorted to change from fists to bullets today.

Four police were injured. One may die. One agitator was in a critical condition. Twenty others were hurt less seriously. Authorities alleged communists were involved.

"If police want bullets, we will meet them with some of our own," a speaker told the crowd which had been permitted to gather at Denver's famous civic center near the state capitol building.

"Get him," belted one of the agitators. Fights broke out. Police then dispersed the crowd but strike leaders threatened to renew activities today.

Jennings Predicts Amendment's Defeat

DAYTONA BEACH, Oct. 31.—Florida will repudiate the Homestead Exemption Amendment next Tuesday, Frank Jennings of Jacksonville, president of the All-Florida Protective Association, predicted here last night.

Jennings, who came here under the auspices of the Young Democratic Club of Volusia County, which is impartial on the amendment, said he had not before made a prediction on the outcome of the vote on the measure, but that he was convinced the rapid swing of sentiment within the past 10 days meant victory for its opponents.

Local weather yesterday: High 70, low 54.

The City Brierley offers many happy returns to Jennie May Edgerton, and others whose birthday anniversaries will be observed tomorrow.

Indicating the beginning of the citrus fruit movement by boat is the fact that during the past four days, 17,000 boxes of fruit from Central Florida groves were shipped from Sanford by boat. This number is the equivalent of nearly 48 freight car loads of fruit, or a good sized train load.

The St. Johns River Line Co. handled the 17,000 boxes. Last year, the company handled over 1,000,000 boxes of citrus during the season.

Regular meeting of Celery Camp No. 825, Woodmen of the World, will be staged at Woodmen Hall tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock. ## RESTORATION OF PAY CUTS TO BE URGED

Roosevelt Would Have Federal Employees Back On 1932 Wage Basis By Next July

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(A.P.)—Full restoration of government pay cuts next July 1 will be recommended by President Roosevelt. The President made this announcement today at his press conference.

This means a five percent increase in all government salaries which will make them reach the 1932 level.

Mr. Roosevelt said the pay increase would be urged in expectation of an increase in values and prices by July 1.

He does not feel the increase will be warranted by Jan. 1, but is confident of an upward trend by the time new government year begins in July.

Upon taking office, the President brought about a 15 percent cut in government pay. The last Congress restored 10 percent of this reduction.

Kiwanians Seek Stetson-Rollins Game Here Dec. 25

Seeking to raise funds for the Boy Scout camp building and at the same time effect a re-establishment of the football rivalry which once existed between Rollins College and Stetson University, officials of the Sanford Kiwanis Club have invited the two teams to meet at Municipal Park on Christmas Day.

Athletic Director H. R. McQuillan and other officials of Stetson have already signified a willingness to meet Rollins on neutral ground, and a desire to effect a reconciliation of existing differences between the two schools as quickly as possible.

Kiwanis officials will make every effort to induce Rollins College to meet with Stetson officials in conference on the subject at an early date. Word has been received here, Kiwanis officials say, which indicates that heads of the two schools are amenable to the plan.

It was indicated here today that if assurance is received that the two teams will meet here Christmas Day, steps will be taken at once to improve Municipal Park and erect bleachers sufficient to accommodate as many as 5000 persons.
