HOROSCOPES

In the year ahead, you could begin to see stress and frustrations caused by a number of circumstances beyond your control diminishing. You could now be lucky in the very areas where you've previously failed.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Think about formulating your future plans on a greater scale today, because you are now in a cycle where you could pull off some rather large endeavors. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2.75 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10158.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Through an indirect source of some kind, a financial opportunity might drop in your lap today. It could be engineered by someone who has your best interests at heart.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) All financial endeavors based on a practical foundation have excellent chances for success at this time. Do what you can to bring about something for your cause.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) With Lady Luck stepping in to help you with situations out of your control, you're now likely to garner the greatest benefits from these instances.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your hopes and expectations should be elevated today as something exciting develops involving one or more good associates or friends. They'll be instrumental in bringing this to fruition.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Some constructive shifts could be in the offing today concerning your career or earnings, so don't despair if things haven't been too favorable for you lately.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Whether you believe it or not about your social life being up to par, it could become even more exciting at the time. Some fascinating new friends could be waiting in the wing to make an entrance.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) A situation you felt needed a change not only for your benefit, but for someone you care a great deal is about to begin to make a move in a desirable direction. It starts today.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) If Cupid hasn't been too attentive to you of late, take heart. It looks like he'll start to double his efforts today on your behalf to make up for any neglect.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) You may begin to experience a shift in conditions that portends benefits for you careerwise or financially today. The change that transpires could be big.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) As of today, you might start to feel a growth in your popularity and influence where your social life is concerned. Make the most of this propitious cycle.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) In several matters you've been anxious to bring to fruition, the obstructions could now be suddenly lifted. As each obstacle is eliminated, jump in and finish what you need to do.

WIN AT BRIDGE

More on simple overcalls

By Phillip Alder

We are looking at simple (nonjump) overcalls and takeout doubles. Why overcall? Well, perhaps your partnership should be winning the auction. If so, someone has to get your side into the bidding, and it might as well be you. Or maybe you have a profitable sacrifice. Or perhaps you can disrupt the opponents' bidding, pushing them either too high or into the wrong contract. Or you might point partner toward the bidding lead (which, as you well know, he would never find without your help).

Still, even when partner hits the right lead, it does no good if you cannot produce the best defense. How should East plan to defeat three no-trump in this deal after West leads the spade nine? In competition, a jump by responder to three no-trump shows 12-15 points. You would use a two no-trump to invite game with 10-12 points. In both cases, of course, responder has one stopper or more in the overcaller's suit.

The spotlight is immediately on East. If he plays the spade queen, South ducks and the contract makes. But if East plays the 10 (or eight), not the four, which would be discouraging, the contract should die. South must win with the jack and play on clubs. West wins the first club trick and returns his second spade, setting up East's suit while he, East, still has the club ace as an entry.

When establishing a suit in which the opponents have two tricks, try to make them use up one of those tricks as quickly as possible. The first round isn't too early.

ASK DR. GOTT

Which supplements are necessary?

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm 66 years old. Should I be taking extra vitamin C? How about beta carotene and folic acid?

DEAR READER: Despite the hoopla surrounding the supposed benefits of vitamin C supplements, no scientific study has yet shown that long-term use produces any health advantages. In fact, a Finnish study showed that smokers who took beta carotene had a HIGHER rate of lung cancer. Thus, beta carotene and vitamin A supplements are not recommended for general use.

Similarly, beta carotene was a slight benefit in smoking women a few years ago, based on preliminary studies that seem to show that it protected against heart disease and cancer. These official results were not confirmed, unfortunately. In fact, a Finnish study showed that smokers who took beta carotene had a HIGHER rate of lung cancer. Thus, beta carotene and vitamin A supplements are not recommended for general use.

Folic acid is a different story. It is recommended for all pregnant women, is a dose of 400 micrograms a day, to prevent neural tube defects in unborn babies. Furthermore, folic acid supplements have been shown to decrease levels of homocysteine, a substance that is often associated with heart disease. Consequently, many authorities are now recommending folic acid supplements for any person with cardiovascular risk factors (such as high homocysteine levels) or with established coronary artery disease. Finally, a recent study at Harvard Medical School showed that daily folic acid supplements greatly reduced the risk of colon cancer.

DR. GOTT

As long as we're on the subject of supplements, let me remind you that calcium and vitamins B are important nutrients that help protect against osteoporosis. The recommended daily calcium intake is 1,000 milligrams for men and postmenopausal women, 1,200 mg. for other women. For vitamin D, the appropriate daily amount is 200 international units for people 50 and younger, 400 IU for those 51 to 70, and 600 IU for persons older than 70.

DEAR DR. GOTT: When my partner divorced, I was 25 years old. At that time my menstrual cycle became very irregular. Can a tranquilizer help regulate the cycle? How I can 18 and still irregular?

DEAR READER: Stress can alter the menstrual cycle. Calm, stress and relaxation techniques have been associated with more regularity of the cycle. Once the stress has subsided, the cycle usually returns to normal. As the stress and your periods are related, the stress usually returns to normal. As the stress and your periods are related, the stress usually returns to normal. As the stress and your periods are related, the stress usually returns to normal.

Save the rain forests

By Lindsay Schwab
SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

I think people shouldn't cut down the rain forest for many reasons. First people and animals need oxygen to breath. Without trees, there wouldn't be enough oxygen in the air for everything that needs to breath air.

If people cut down rain forests, what would people look at? A fake plant? In a rain forest you can look at colorful flowers, strong, tall trees, and the dirt would be covered with growing plants and leaves that have fallen from trees. Wonderful creatures are all around. If the forest is chopped down, where would all the beauty come from.

The last reason that I can say of not cutting down the rain forest is that it's millions of animals homes. If you cut down the rain forest, where will all of the animals go? Then the animals will have a hard time finding the perfect home again. What if it was you that got kicked out of your home? Would you like it? I wouldn't think so. So don't cut down the rain forest because of all those needs for it.

Everybody needs a little K.F.C.

By Shawn Delaney
SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

One day Miss Cowern walked in the class room and sets down lightly a big brown bag. Nobody knows what is in the bag, but everybody wants to find out. So they walked up to the bag and looked in and it was the most funniest, most weirdest thing. It was a little baby chicken, so everybody laughed.

Then the chicken flew out and every single one of the kids in Miss Cowern's fourth grade class jumped up and tried to catch it. Nobody could catch it and it was too late anyway Miss Cowern had walked back in the room.

She looked so mad, but she wasn't. She told us that her husband was the Kentucky Fried Chicken guy. Then she called him and he sadly killed the chicken, but he fried it the Kentucky way and we had some chicken. Everybody needs a little K.F.C.

Getting to see my new baby brother

By Christina Kirby
SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

The day my mother had my baby brother was the most exciting day of my life. From my parent's phone call to my dad's car, I was in the car until my dad took me to the hospital. It was one adventure after another.

When we got home, we started setting up my brother's new room. We pulled out all our old baby toys and filled up a basket with them. My dad helped my sister and me clip a mobile of bright animals to the side of the crib. When I went to sleep that night I knew that in a few days I would have my own baby brother, at home, to care for.

Remote control for the Martians

By Justin Brown
SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

Dear Marty the Martian, I am going to teach you how to use a remote control. First to turn the TV on or off, you must push the red button that says power on the remote. You will find this button on the top right hand corner. Your remote may have it somewhere else. Then you will be able to turn on your TV. There are two ways you can switch channels. One way, you have to press the buttons that have up and down arrows. If you are at Channel two and you want to get to 32, you have to press the up arrow button many times until you reach channel 32. The other way to switch channels is to press the numbers of the channel you want, and you will get there right away. If you follow those instructions you will be able to switch the channels.

To turn the volume up or down, push the buttons that are also shaped like arrows. These buttons are located in the middle of the control. The volume buttons are two buttons and the arrows will be up and down. If you press the one facing up, the volume will get louder. If you press the one facing down the volume will get softer. The color of the volume arrows are usually gray. I hope you have learned a lot about a remote control by these instructions.

P.S. I hope you write back asking me if you have anymore questions or if you used your remote control yet and if you like it or not.

It was one of the most interesting days of my life

By Justin J. Brown
SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

One day, when I was watching T.V., I saw two men digging up something that they found. Just by looking at them, I suddenly got the idea of being an archaeologist. So I said to myself, "Tomorrow morning, I will tell my Grandpa that I want to be an archaeologist."

The next morning, I went over to Justin's house and I told him my idea. He said that it was a great idea. So we grabbed a shovel and a backpack and we went wherever we found it. Then we got on our bikes and head to the State Park.

Right when we got to the State Park, we looked over to the sandy area. We took the shovel out of the backpack and started to dig. While I was digging with the shovel, Justin dug with his hands, so we could get it done faster. We kept on digging until we heard something, so, thank! So right away, I reached for what ever I hit and pulled it out. It was a bottle with old stones in it. It was a little dirty, so we rushed home to clean it off.

When we got home, we cleaned it off. It looked interesting. So we put it in Justin's garage since his was cleaner than mine. Also as it wasn't get a lot of dust.

That day was probably the most interesting day of my life. I don't really find things that cool even though I'm an archaeologist. So Justin and I were just lucky.

Trying to take care of Oofy

By Erin Boyle
SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

Ring! Ring! Ring! I picked up the phone. It was Grandma! My heart rose, thinking that she was going to bring her cookies over. Instead she was going to Tampa, so she asked me to baby-sit her parakeet. I love animals, especially Oofy, my Grandma's parakeet. My Papa named her. I was surprised, but I was pleased to do it. So I said yes.

It was Saturday when I heard the doorbell. Ding! Ding! I rushed to the door practically flying. There, standing at the door were my grandparents and Oofy. Grandma gave me a very long list of how to take care of Oofy. I took Oofy in delight and said bye. I was so excited, but my mom...well she was making a very, very long list of what would go wrong. I just ignored her. I set down the cage and took out Oofy. Oofy couldn't fly so I felt safe taking her outside.

I decided to make an obstacle course. Thinking it would be fine, I put Oofy in a fake tree while I made the obstacle course. Bonk! Skwawk! Skawki! I jumped up as curious as could be. I walked over to Oofy, glad that she was all right, at least I thought. I put Oofy next to me. She tried walking but she couldn't! That's when I got scared. I never knew Oofy was clumsy. While I was putting a bandage around Oofy's leg I thought that after Grandma found out that Oofy hurt her leg, I would never be able to eat Grandma's cookies ever again. How dreadful! Two days later I took Oofy outside after it had rained. I slipped. Bang! I landed on my leg. Oofy was fine, but I wasn't. I burst out in tears. Before I knew it I was in the hospital. My leg trembling in pain. It was broken. I was in the hospital for another two days. I hated it.

Finally I went home in crutches. The first thing I did was get Oofy out of her cage. I set her down on the floor. She walked normally. I signed in relief. For the last two days I kept Oofy in and rarely out of her cage. All of a sudden I heard a loud Ding! Dong! I got up I felt like I could run, but I got my crutches and went as fast as I could. It was Grandma and Papa with arm loads of cookies! I could see their eyes widen as they saw me in crutches. I got Oofy and handed her to them as they gave me the cookies. My grandparent couldn't say anything except bye, and I hope your leg gets better. I was very and I mean very happy that Oofy left!

Soccer teams advance to Regional Finals

By Jeff Berlinicks
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

CASSELBERRY - A win is a win, even though Lake Howell girls soccer coach Didier Menard wasn't too impressed. "We used up our get out of jail free card tonight," he told his team after the Hawks pulled out a 2-1 win over perennial state power Orange Park of Jacksonville.

The Hawks (20-2-5) will host Tampa-Gaither, which beat defending state runner-up University 1-0 Tuesday. Friday night at Richard Evans Field at 7 p.m. The game will determine who comes out of the Regionals for a trip to the Final Four. Already, the Hawks have gone further than any Lake Howell team in history, but Menard said his team can handle the challenge.

"These girls know how strong a team they are," Menard said. "They know what it takes to beat anyone."

To beat Orange Park, the Hawks had to do it without their best player, Nandi Pryce. Pryce is a member of the U.S. National Team which is currently practicing at the Disney Wide World of Sports Complex. Pryce missed the Orange Park game and Menard said the national coach is recommending that she also skip Friday's regional Finals.

In her place, Patricia Brinkman stepped in and the team didn't miss a beat despite some poor play from its midfield which had Menard cautious afterwards.

"We didn't come out and play with a lot of intensity, especially at midfield," Menard said. "We were at a disadvantage because of that but, in games past, if we didn't play well, we knew we would lose. Now we can still win."

Taking the field without Pryce, the Hawks came out sluggish as Orange Park dominated play early, but Lake Howell drew first blood 16 minutes into the game when Dana Wilcox scored on a goal off a feed from Randi Holcomb. That gave the Hawks a jump-start and the defense responded. Goalkeeper Carol Lewis turned the tide by halftime.

In the second half, Lake Howell made it 2-0 when Holcomb converted a loose ball into a spite out of the Orange Park goalkeeper's reach, but it wasn't quite over.

A minute later, Orange Park cut the lead to one when Erica Lewis scored on a free kick. Lake Howell's defense hung tough as the clock wound down and dominated possession over the final 15 minutes.

Lake Mary teams sweep in Tallahassee

TALLAHASSEE - The Lake Mary soccer teams did not let a little four-hour bus ride deter their drives toward the state championships as they swept past Lincoln High School.

In the boys' game, star players Don McIntosh and Dan Wymer scored in regulation to send the game into overtime tied at 2-2.

The score stayed the same. Please see Soccer, Page 2B

Lake Howell's Mindy Muivhili (No. 21) battles an Orange Park player for possession during the Silver Hawks' 2-1 Regional Semifinal victory Tuesday.

Rams leave many good impressions

LAKE MARY - It's over. That's really hard to believe after three years of winning, success and great basketball. The season, however, is really over for the Lake Mary girls' basketball team and the seniors who have dominated Seminole County for years have played their last basketball game for the high school.

Instead of sulking because we won't get to see them play again, I have decided to focus on what I learned from them. See, I had never really watched a basketball game before I started covering their games. I actually learned basketball by watching these girls work their way from state runners-up to state champions.

There was a lot more to learn, however, from this team and by looking at each senior and the coach, the examples that they have shown will live on for quite a while not only in my mind, but at Lake Mary.

Ashlee Ballance, the best point guard in the county, is the embodiment of heart. Ask anyone and they'll tell you what sets her apart from the rest is that she not only plays with her head, but with her heart, which is something everyone could use more of.

Center Lauren Bradley, without question one of the most talented players to come out of Seminole County, uses what other teenagers may see as embarrassing...great athleticism, height and a complete understanding of the game...to dominate the game with a combination of pure talent and finesse. We should all take advantage of our strong points and not worry about things we wish we could do but can't.

Mary Leah Sutton is not afraid of anything. For three years she has gotten herself open for the tough shots, submitted her body to just short of torture and done all of the dirty work for her team. All of that has paid off with incredible defense, too many rebounds to count and continuous point totals in double digits. Sutton shows that fear is not allowed, which it shouldn't be.

Nothing of worth is gained in life without taking risks. Becky Pedro shows that every time she goes onto the court. Last year, Pedro couldn't miss a three-point shot. She took the chances and the payoff was there waiting for her. This year, she traded a little of her shot making for much improved defense, another risk for an offensive player.

Lauren Musser oozes teamwork. While a very talented basketball player, she didn't get a lot of playing time with the likes of her fellow seniors on the team. Yet every time you saw her, she was smiling. When she came out to warm up, when she was cheering her teammates on from the bench, when she was playing in the game and when she left the court, she never complained about having fewer minutes than the other seniors and worked to be an integral part of the team in whatever capacity. Instead of always looking for the big recognition, all of us could take a lesson in teamwork from Musser.

Finally, coach Carl Brown has perhaps the best lesson to share with his example. There is a sign in his office that sums up his character quite well. It reads, "Never accept not trying." He lives by these words. His class, character and dedication have made his players not only champions on the court, but in life as well.

This team will be sorely missed. These girls and their coach were a class act and few will be able to fill their shoes.

Congratulations, senior Rams. That fact that your season ended early has no bearing on the champs that you are.

Lyman, Oviedo advance

By Kellie Werner
CORRESPONDENT

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS There was a lot of excitement at Lake Branley High School for the opening of the Boys' Class 6A-District 3 Basketball Tournament Tuesday night.

No one was as excited as the Lyman boys basketball team.

The Greyhounds pulled out an incredible win over the host Patriots, 49-46, to advance to the meet Lake Howell.

"This was a very big win for us and I have to give all the credit to my kids," Lyman coach Norm Reedy said. "They took our plan and executed well. The defense was really working for us tonight."

Lyman started off slowly, allowing Lake Branley to go up 16-6 in the first quarter. The Greyhounds were holding their own but the Patriots were shooting much better and not allowing Lyman's aggressive defense to bother them.

However, something happened to Lyman in the second quarter. About halfway through the period the Greyhounds got a spark. They went on an 8-1 run that left them trailing by only two at the break.

"I have no idea why they started off so slowly," Reedy said. "That could really get us into trouble if we come out the same way tomorrow night."

Lyman came out strong in the second half, tying the game up twice before taking the lead late in the third period as James DeLaughter, who scored 15 in the game, came to life.

By the fourth quarter, Lake Branley was on the losing end of a 32-36. Two ties with less than a minute left sent both sides of the gym to their feet. But Lyman, thanks to some impressive free throw shooting by Chris Harmon, was able to close out the victory.

Reedy has one game plan in mind for his cross-town rivals in tonight's semifinal game.

"Defense," he said. "We have to rely on our defense and play as a team. If we set the tempo with our defense then we stand a good chance."

The Lyman-Lake Howell game will be the second game tonight at 7:30 p.m.

The 6 p.m. will feature No. 1 seeded DeLand against Oviedo, which ousted Lake Mary, 61-53, in the first game Tuesday.

Oviedo came out strong, going up 9-0. Lake Mary was forced to play catch-up the rest of the way and just wasn't able to overcome the early deficit.

While their defense was good, the Rams just couldn't seem to find a shooting groove or get into sync as a team.

"We reacted to things instead of making things happen," said Lake Mary coach Mike Gaudreau. "I tried everything, changing the line up, changing the plays. They just couldn't get it together."

With his season over, Gaudreau focused on the fact that he has a fairly young team with a lot of talent.

"I just told the kids in the locker room that I know how much this hurts," Gaudreau said. "But only one team finishes the season happy and that's the state champion."

Griffith strong in Oviedo debut

By Tony DeSantis
CORRESPONDENT

LONGWOOD - Of the many questions facing the Oviedo High School baseball team heading into the 1999 season, the most pressing had to be "Where would the Lions find pitching?"

Last year, the Lions had one of the area's top staffs, headed by Baltimore Oriole-singer Ben Knapp. But except for Pat Strameyer, all of the 1998 pitchers graduated.

With that question looming, the Lions opened their 1999 campaign Tuesday in the Lyman Invitational against the same team that ended their 1998 season, the Winter Park Wildcats.

Last May, the Wildcats beat Knapp and the Lions, 1-0, in the first round of the state tournament and eventually finished as the state runner-up.

Thrust into this unenviable circumstance was Jeremy Griffith. And he responded better than anyone could have expected, pitching 4 1/3 strong innings to lead the Lions to a 12-2 thrashing of the Wildcats.

Griffith was supported by a 13-hit attack that featured home runs by Larry Grayson, Paul Lubrano, and Javier Alvarez. "Jeremy did just an outstanding job," said Oviedo coach Kenne Brown. "He stepped in against last year's state runner-up and pitched a great game. He showed a lot of poise in his first varsity start."

Griffith carried a shutout into the fifth inning, when he gave up a one-out, two-run home run to Jeff Epperson. After Brad Gangwisch followed with a double, Griffith was lifted for J.C. Blass, who retired the two batters he faced.

The game was stopped after five innings by the 10-run mercy rule.

Grayson kick started the Oviedo offense with an impressive first inning at bat. After the count reached 3-and-2, Grayson fouled off five consecutive pitches before launching a two-run home run.

Alvarez's three-run homer down the left field line highlighted Oviedo's five-run rally in the third inning while Lubrano's two-run shot to right came during a four-run fifth.

Every player in the Oviedo lineup had at least one hit. Blaine Schulte led the attack by going 3-for-4 with a double and a run scored. Kenny Starting doubled, singled, and scored two runs. Lubrano also added a single and a run scored to his homer.

Also contributing for the Lions were Jered Goodwin (double, two RBI, run), Justin Holmes and Brett Murphy (single, RBI, and a run each), Strameyer (single, run), and Jeff Knapp (one run).

SANFORD - An familiar face came home to haunt the Seminole Community College baseball team on Tuesday.

Former Oviedo High School star Andy Neufeld singled twice and scored two runs, one in each of a three-run first and third innings, to help lead Manatee Community College from Bradenton to an 8-6 victory over SCC at Raider Field.

SCC fell to 2-11 with the loss but will look to start a winning streak today when it hosts

Palm Beach Community College from Lake Worth on Rinker-Stenstrom Field at Historic Sanford Memorial Stadium starting at 5 p.m.

The Lancers (9-2) scored three runs in the top of the first inning as Rencik and Corbell both singled to open the frame. After a strike out, Neufeld was hit by a pitch to load the bases.

After another strike out, Miller walked to force in a run and Corri followed with a two-run single to center.

The Raiders got a pair of runs back in the bottom of the second inning as Ben Johanning and Kareem Morton hit back-to-back home runs.

Neufeld led off the top of the third inning with a single and Lovengood followed with a home run. Miller then doubled and later scored on a suicide squeeze by Combs.

SCC answered with three runs in the bottom of the fourth inning on singles by Morton and Jose Martinez and a three-run homer to left by Johnny Outeppe.

In the top of the fifth inning,

Miller homered with one out for MCC. The Lancers added another run on a two-out walk to Johnson and singles by Combs and Rencik.

The final run of the game came in the bottom of the sixth inning. With one out Outeppe singled and Sean Stalton went in to run. An out later, Adam Shorts ripped an RBI double to left to score Stalton.

Miller had a home run and a double for MCC, while Rencik and Neufeld added two hits each for the winner's.

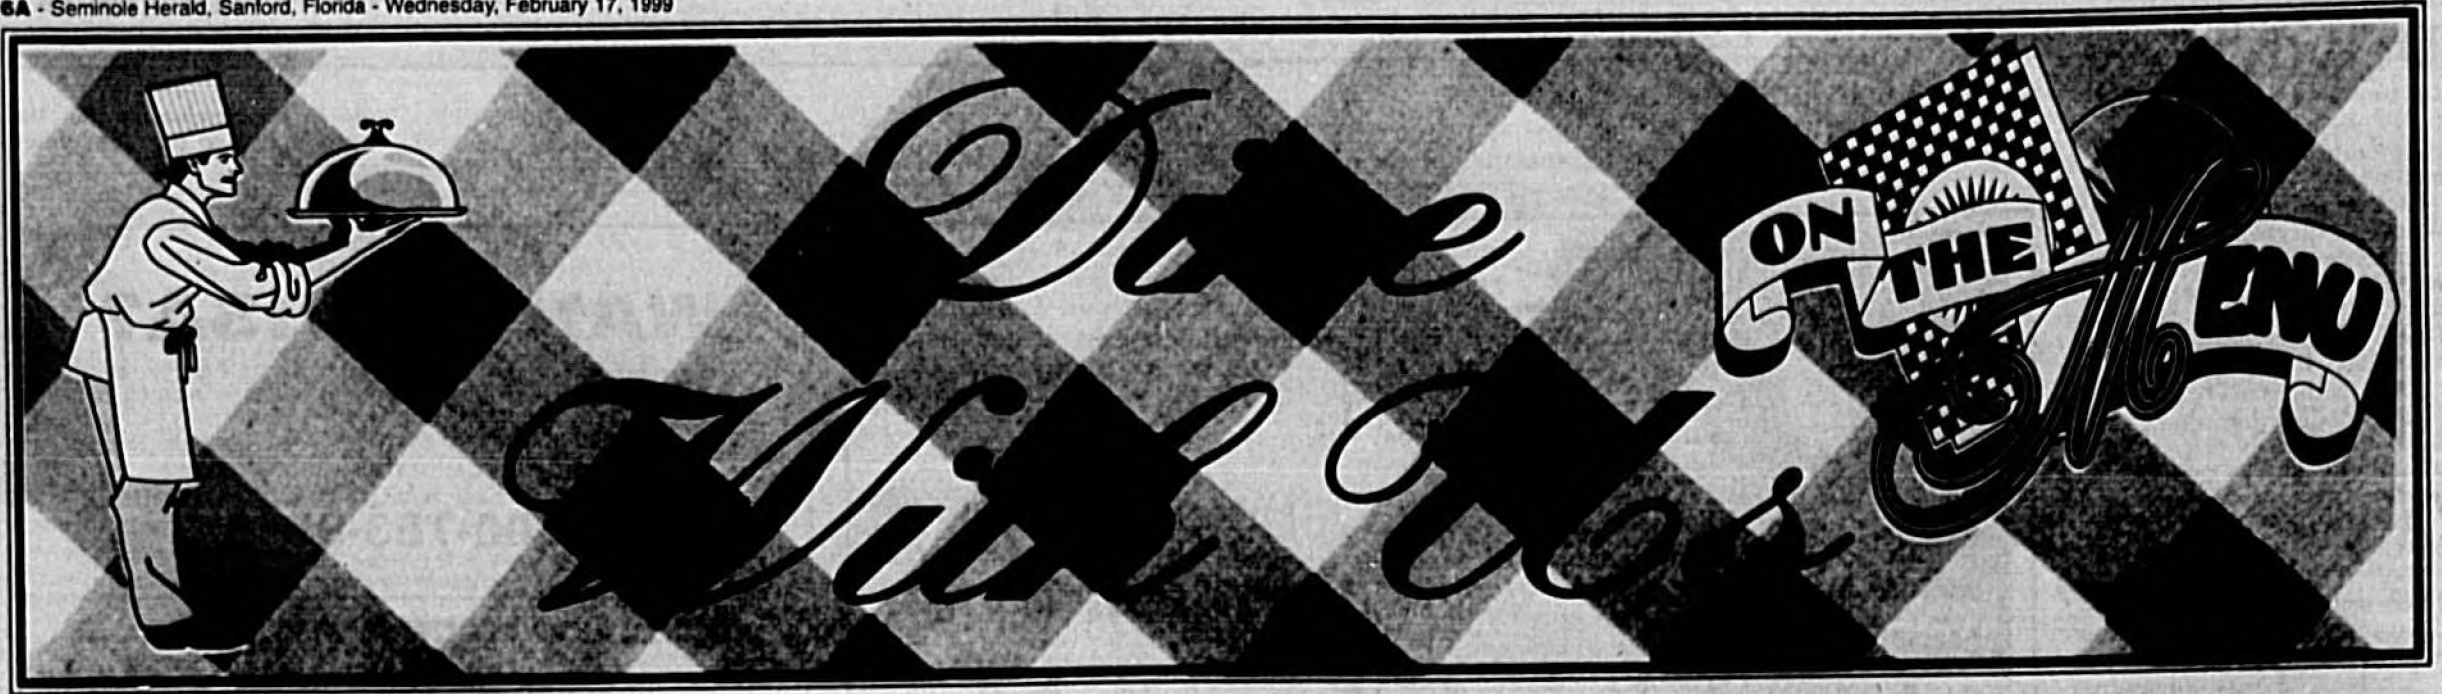

Providing the offense for the Raiders were Outeppe (2-for-4, home run, run, three RBI), Morton (2-for-4, home run, two runs, RBI), Johanning (2-for-4, home run, run, RBI), Shorts (double, RBI), Martinez (single, run), Kentrelle Evans (single) and Stalton (run).

How to make a perfect fondant

I am not one of those home cooks who go all-out on dessert. I do make a killer sorbet, and I like to serve fruit or fruit salad; but when it comes to cakes and pastries, my talents and energies are limited. So, on occasions that call for something sweet and special I tend to panic.

I first tasted this dish at Ariel's, a wonderful restaurant in Brookfield, Vt. Called a chocolate fondant, it's a cross between a mousse and a soufflé, served with chocolate sauce, candied citrus peel and whipped cream. I found myself licking the plate. The chef, Lee Duberman, volunteered that it was from the cookbook "Dessert Circus," by Jacques Torres, who hosts a cooking show on public television and is the pastry chef at Manhattan's famed Le Cirque 2000. In the book, Torres says that fondants are among the most-requested desserts at his restaurant.

CHOCOLATE FONDANTS

For the chocolate sauce:
1 cup whole milk
10.5 ounces bittersweet chocolate, chopped
1/2 cup heavy cream
2 tablespoons unsalted butter
1/4 cup plus 2 tablespoons granulated sugar

For preparing the pans:
cover 14 individual very soft butter granulated sugar

For the fondants:
1 cup plus 3-1/2 tablespoons unsalted butter, cubed

17.5 ounces bittersweet chocolate, chopped
1/2 cup plus 1-1/2 tablespoons unsweetened Dutch-processed cocoa powder
1 pinch salt
8 large egg whites
1/2 cup meringue powder (optional, but recommended)
1/2 cup granulated sugar

For serving:
1 cup heavy cream, whipped to stiff peaks
candied grapefruit or orange peels

FOOD

MARIALISA CALTA

To make the chocolate sauce: Pour the milk into a 2-quart, heavy-bottomed saucepan, place over medium-high heat and bring to a boil. Remove from heat and make a ganache by adding the chopped chocolate. Whisk well, stirring into the edge of the saucepan to combine until smooth. Set aside.

In a 1-quart heavy-bottomed saucepan, combine the heavy cream, butter and sugar. Place the saucepan over medium-high heat and bring to a boil, stirring occasionally, until the butter is completely melted and the sugar is completely dissolved. Once the mixture has come to a boil, pour it into the warm ganache.

Place the sauce over medium-high heat and bring to a boil, stirring constantly with a whisk. As the sauce cooks, it begins to thicken. When it reaches a boil, remove it from the heat and pour it into a clean, dry bowl. Cover with plastic wrap directly on top of the sauce to prevent a skin from forming. Allow to cool to room temperature before storing in the refrigerator for up to 3 weeks. (Or freeze, well-covered, up to 2 months. Thaw in the refrigerator before proceeding.)

Prepare the pans: Use a pastry brush to evenly coat the inside of 14 individual 3-ounce molds with softened butter. Disposable aluminum molds are fine. Make sure they are well-coated. Fill each mold with granulated sugar, swirling it around to coat the bottom and sides. Pour out excess.

Make the fondants: Melt the butter in a 2-quart, heavy-bottomed saucepan over medium-high heat. Remove from heat. Add the chopped chocolate, cocoa powder and salt, and stir until all the chocolate has melted and ingredients are well-combined.

Place the egg whites in a large mixing bowl and whip with an electric mixer on medium speed until foamy. If using the meringue powder, combine it with the sugar in a small bowl. The meringue powder contains a high quantity of albumin, which will add strength and allow for a stiffer meringue. Increase the mixer speed to medium high and add the sugar-meringue powder mixture (or the sugar alone) one tablespoon at a time. Whip the egg whites to stiff — but not dry — peaks.

Gently but quickly fold the warm fondant mixture into the meringue until combined. Be careful not to deflate the mixture, or your baked fondants will be flat and heavy. The mixture should be homogeneous in color, but if you can still see a few streaks of meringue, that's OK.

Place the batter into a large pastry bag with a large opening (no tip). The bag will be easier to handle if you fill it half-full, and refill as needed. Pipe the molds 3/4 full with batter. (At this stage, they can be stored in the freezer for 2 weeks, well-wrapped in plastic wrap. Thaw in the refrigerator for 2 hours before baking.)

Preheat the oven to 400 degrees. Bake the fondants until they have risen about 1/2-inch over the top of the mold, 7 to 10 minutes.

To serve: While fondants are baking, warm the chocolate sauce in a microwave (30-second intervals at medium-high, stir until liquid but not too hot) or on the stovetop over medium heat. Place the whipped cream in a pastry bag fitted with a star tip, and pipe rosettes onto each serving plate. Garnish the plate with candied grapefruit or orange peel. Remove the fondant molds from the oven and immediately invert each one over the center of a plate. Lightly tap the bottom and shake slightly to allow the fondant to drop gently from the mold. Cover with barely warm (not hot) chocolate sauce and serve. When you cut into a fondant, the center should still be somewhat liquid. Yield: 14 servings.

Mother should warn new neighbors about her 'dirty old man'

DEAR ABBY: Please help us to make a decision. Our 81-year-old father likes women — females of any age.

In the past, he pursued a teenage neighbor girl to the point that her family moved away. His adopted granddaughter calls him "a dirty old man" and won't come near him. As I understand it, he pursues, looks, touches, hugs, kisses, but doesn't rape.

My mother tries to save face. Our problem is that Dad and Mother have moved to another state, away from us. They are now living next door to a wonderful young couple who have a 3-year-old girl.

So far, Dad just watches the child when they visit and he only gives the young mother elaborate hugs and makes risqué remarks. Mom admits that "she wishes him like a hawk" when she baby-sits the little girl.

Abby, we are worried the day will come when he is alone with the child or the parents make the mistake of asking him to baby-sit. Do we warn the parents and ruin the neighborhood camaraderie? Talking to Dad won't help, as he seems to think he has no problem. What do you think?

DEAR HIS FOUR CHILDREN: If the fear of you and your mother think your father has a problem, then he has one. The child's safety must come first.

ADVICE COLUMNIST
Dear Abby

Tell your mother that if she doesn't tell the neighbors about your father's background, you will. If your father tried to do something inappropriate to the child — or any other — it could cause enormous damage. You would have moral liability for his behavior, and, of course, your father could go to jail.

DEAR LEARNED THE HARD WAY: You said it — and eloquently.

DEAR ABBY: Is it appropriate for a couple to host their own housewarming party? Or should someone else host it?

D.C. IN DALLAS

DEAR D.C.: Traditionally, housewarming parties are hosted by the new homeowners.

Why midlife gets wasted

Midlife has just about passed me by - and like a fool, I have not taken advantage of what researchers now say is the most fulfilling period of one's life.

My breathing is worsening, my waist expanding and my hair is thinning (except for the hair in each ear).

It has been almost 40 years since I dunked a basketball, my jumper stinks and full court games are out of the question.

And they call this fulfilling? I do have a red sports car, but my wife won't even let me think about dating younger women. Or older ones.

My blood pressure is good because I have very thin blood. My cholesterol count is higher than Ty Cobb's lifetime batting average. My disposition is about the same as Cobb's - nasty.

Kids wearing their baseball caps the wrong way annoy me.

I do love my dog, "Sneakers." One Sunday, I took her for a ride in my red sports car.

My idea of recreation is doing the New York Times crossword puzzle each Sunday. I never did crosswords until after turning 50. Now I can't stop. I'm not sure if I would want to go back and be 20 or 30 again. Been there, done that. No one gets a second chance at being young. Not even Cher.

As a teenager, I had a pair of blue suede shoes and drove a 1949 Ford. I also had acne and big ears.

By 20, I had sailed the ocean blue in the Navy. Homeport was Villefranche on the French Riviera. It was tough but honorable duty.

Getting married was the best thing I ever did. My wife is from British Columbia, Canada. We've been married 32 years and have two grown sons. Canadians are terrific - they make wonderful wives and they win faceoffs.

My wife likes the expression that "Today is the first day of the rest of your life." That's the way we should live. Satchell Paige used to say "Don't look back, cause someone might be gainin' on you."

F. Scott Fitzgerald wrote a marvelous short story called "The Curious Case of Benjamin Button." It was about a baby who was born old and became younger each day of his life.

It was pretty scary for the nurses who saw this wrinkled up old man in the delivery room. "Who's the father?" they asked. "Who could have done this?"

Little Benjamin Button retreated into a very happy and productive life. He had his midlife crisis and went on to be young man, who gained from his old experiences. Mr. Button lived 80 years or so and died an infant death.

For the rest of us mortals, it doesn't work that way.

Which 'Heroes' stars are living?

Q. My husband and I enjoy watching "Hogan's Heroes." How many of the cast are still alive? — P.B., Oswego, N.Y.

A. Quite a few. Still with us are Werner Klemperer, Robert Clary, Richard Dawson and Ivan Dixon.

Q. Can you tell me if I'm dreaming or what? Was there a movie called "Sunday Dinner For a Soldier"? I think it starred John Hodiak, Anne Baxter, and a small child and a grandfather. It was made in the 1940s. I saw it once years ago. — L.K., Miami, Okla.

A. That was no dream, it was real. That movie, from 1944, starred Hodiak, Baxter, Bobby Driscoll and Charles Winninger.

Q. I have a question of Elvis' movies. (The writer lists 31 of them, with an asterisk next to No. 15, "It Happened At the World's Fair"). The asterisk refers to the one I have to have to complete the list above. I need to know what other two movies Elvis made. — R.S., Ishpeming, Mich.

A. You have the complete list of Presley's films. There were two movies made of his in-person performances — "That's the Way It Is," from 1970, and "Elvis On Tour," from 1972. You should be able to complete your collection, as "It Happened At the World's Fair" is available on video.

Q. What happened to Gloria Jean? Are any of her movies on video? — M.S., Seaford, Del.

A. Now 72, Gloria Jean is enjoying retirement. Her only film on video is one she made with W.C. Fields, "Never Give a Sucker An Even Break."

Q. I need you to please answer this question to settle a bet. Nancy Stafford is not the same actress who plays the female lawyer in "Walker, Texas Ranger," because her name is Sheree J. Wilson. Please set my husband straight! — D.G.H., Little Rock, Ark.

A. We can't figure out which position your husband takes on this issue, but we can tell you both that these are two separate and distinct ladies.

Q. I saw this movie on TV about 20 years ago starring Martin Sheen and Vic Morrow. Morrow played a small-town police chief and Sheen was a young man with a hot rod passing through. I think the name of this movie was "California Kid." Is that the right name or not? — W.R.E., Easton, Mass.

A. You just forgot the article. It was "The California Kid" and it was a TV movie from 1974.

Q. Do you know where the movie, "The Trouble With Angels," with Rosalind Russell, was filmed? There is a large estate which is seemingly located in a small town. I'm curious about the actual location. It's beautiful. — G.F., Hanson, Maine

A. All we can tell you is that it was shot in Pennsylvania, but, sorry, we can't give you a specific location.

Census

that can hold at least 15 people who could comfortably sit and have access to a table top for testing.

Bailey said the Census Bureau's schedule is flexible, and they would need to occupy the room for three hours.

Mike Kirby, director of the Sanford recreations department, recommended that the Census Bureau use the Cultural Arts Center at the Class B rate of $97 for each date, a lesser rate for government agencies. Other government agencies, such as the U.S. Postal Service and the Internal Revenue Service have leased city facilities for the Class B rate, Kirby said.

Dale said the nature of the Census Bureau's work is different than that of the IRS, arguing successfully in favor of letting the Census Bureau use the facilities for free.

Eckstein said that the Census Bureau would do the same quality job whether they use the facilities for free or pay for them.

"We're going to be paying for lighting, electricity, water, and other expenses," Eckstein said. "It doesn't make sense."

An Invitation

Open House To Discuss The Proposed Underground Natural Gas Pipeline Project

Please join me and members of our team at an open house to discuss a proposed underground pipeline project for supplying clean burning natural gas to the proposed Duke Energy New Smyrna Beach Power Company LTD., L.L.P. plant.

You'll have the opportunity to learn more about the proposed pipeline project and how it may affect you. We'll share with you the most recent information on the project and answer any questions you may have. More importantly, we will have a chance to hear from you about how the project can align with community interests and priorities.

The proposed pipeline project will contribute to the reliability of the power supply system for the state of Florida including the city of New Smyrna Beach. Natural gas provides a reliable and abundant power supply resource with environmentally friendly technology. The project will enable the reuse of water from an adjacent wastewater treatment plant. This project will also enable natural gas to be available for other residential, commercial and industrial opportunities.
