Supreme Court To Rule Ehrlichman Discounts Break-in Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — John D. Ehrlichman testified toda that President Nixon ordered his aides "to take such steps as were necessary" to crack the case of the Pentagon Papers leak, but did not in express terms authorize any burglary. And the former domestic affairs adviser to Nixon said White House assistant Egil Krogh Jr. might well have considered his instructions as contemplating extraordinary steps to get information about Daniel Ellsberg, who leaked the Pentagon Papers which recounted the secret history of the Vietnam war.

After a long lawyers' debate in which his attorney contended the President may have a reservoir of power permitting the use of burglary in foreign intelligence cases, Ehrlichman faced detailed questioning about the break-in at the office of Ellsberg's psychiatrist in September 1971.

Oil Pinch For Heaters Anticipated

WASHINGTON (AP) - Despite indications that the gasoline shortage is easing, an oil industry economist has warned of a possible heating oil pinch in the winter.

Dr. James S. Cross of Sun Oil Co. said Tuesday that the gasoline shortage eliminated the reserves the oil industry had built up to deal with the heating oil requirements. "If this winter is any more severe than last, there will be a more serious problem," Cross

The mild winter last year left the industry with a 16-million-barrel reserve, he said, but the head start was lost when refineries had to concentrate on gasoline production to meet summer needs.

Meanwhile, a national survey by the American Automobile Association showed larger gasoline supplies were available for the third consecutive week. Of 4,053 gasoline stations polled, 48 per cent were operating normally - selling gasoline full time and allowing motorists to have their tanks filled. Last week, 47 per cent were operating normally. The AAA said many gasoline station owners have taken advantage of the shortage to reduce their operating hours, eliminating less profitable operating times while selling as much gasoline as normal.

Altamonte Trees Fall For Road

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS-An impassioned plea to save the trees on Boston Avenue became an issue after the fact when landscape architect Bart Cook, who spearheaded the objections, advised city council Tuesday all but two of the towering water oak trees had been destroyed. The tree removal was authorized June 26 at a cost of

$2,600, borne by area developers, because of street widening. Mayor Lawrence Swofford told Cook the tree removal was imperative because it was impossible to build a road between the trees and ontain 24 feet pavement. He continued the city acquired $25,000 from developers for the street improvement and council had done nothing secretive in authorizing the tree removal as had been implied Swofford admitted the area residents were "upset" and asked them if it were their desire that he fire Supt. of Public

'Loner' Nixon Is Hurt By Watergate

It is the desire of most Americans, all those except the professional "Nixon haters," to trust their president. However, when 71 per cent of those polled say Mr. Nixon long ago had some knowledge of Watergate, he is in rather serious trouble.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, in a recent television interview, may have put his finger on why the President is in trouble. "He's a loner," were substantially Gold water's words, "and this causes him difficulties."

This urge not to communicate with the public, except at his own narrow terms, is not new with Mr. Nixon - and it caused him deep trouble once before. It was in 1960 when he was waging his whirlwind, though unsuccessful,

He was uncomfortable with the campaign press entourage and in the last two weeks of the drive for votes he cut himself off from newsmen, even from several of his most trusted advisers.

This isolation cost him deeply at a time when he could have taken a dramatic step to salvage some of the generally "Kennedy" Negro vote. It was the occasion when the late Martin Luther King was thrown in jail in the South, soon to be freed on the plea of John F. Kennedy. Asked later why Mr. Nixon hadn't beaten the Kennedy campaign to the draw on this matter, one of his top aides said, "We tried to get him to act, but we really couldn't get to him.

It is a different kind of isolation that Mr. Nixon has chosen for himself in events before, during and following the Watergate burglary and cover-up - and all this presumes that he had no knowledge of any of the shenanigans until the March 21, 1973, gate he has mentioned, that knowledge subsequently announced by him on April 17.

Other Thoughts

A Supreme Court decision threatens to do away with help-wanted ads arranged in columns showing whether the employer seeks a man or woman for the job. In the name of equal rights, the court may subject job-seekers to a lot of unnecessary reading, calls and interviews to find an opening worth checking out.

We really doubt whether many women are interested in combing through job listings that would require them to change a tire on a four-ton truck. A mechanic will get impatient reading all the ads for manicurists as he searches for an

This isolation concerns complete and perhaps naive trust in all those about him, including the most trusted servants who had been part of his political life for a long time. Or, it is an isolation born of preoccupation with Leonid Brezhnev, Chou En-lai, the North Vietnam Reds and others in the realm of foreign affairs that he prefers to the day-by-day operations that keep American domestic life moving forward.

Whichever the case, this role as a loner (no real public communications excer, on his own TV or printed statement terms; no healthy give once again betrayed him.

What Baker seems to be striving for is a report that may, then, be suggestive of where blame lies - without asserting it in the manner of a grand jury handing down an indict ment. Even if Chairman Sam Ervin and his committee accept this approach, it may be hard to bring off. Press response, tending always to quick black-and-white interpretation, is likely to turn "fixing of responsibility" into finger pointing blame.

Nevertheless. Baker wants to try to keep the committee in its proper investigative role and away from the posture of a super-grand jury imposing upon the judicial realm.

EDITORIAL Separatism drift among the blacks

Whatever it is that doesn't love a wall seems to be getting

The lumps have been rising to the surface of the melting pot for a long time now as many Americans show an increasing tendency to withdraw into the comfort and security of ethnic groups. Despite the fact that the phenomenon has been noticeable among Poles, Italians, Irish and just about every other nationality, it has been most evident among blacks, for a lot of reasons.

And a recent study indicates that the trend toward black separatism is increasing. The study on "racial solidarity and separate education" was conducted by William J. Wilson of the University of

Writing in the University of Chicago School Review, they eport that although there is still considerable division in the black communities of the two cities they studied, 56 per cent of their random sample oppose busing of schoolchildren, 38 per cent favor black control of community schools and 22 per cent say that only black teachers should be allowed to teach

The problem is not that separatism is a reflection of black pride. Rather it is a negative expression of frustration, or resignation to the fact that the white-dominated society is not serving the needs of its black minority.

It is one thing to say, "Black is beautiful." It is quite another thing to say, "White is ugly." That is why is it important to differentiate between the relatively healthy growth of ethnic pride in this country and

Overcoming adversity seems to be the growing trend for the folks who run the show for the Florida Citrus Open Golf Tournament. Latest on the tourney is that Eastern Airlines has withdrawn its co-sponsorship which will mean a loss of $25,000 in tourney funds. But the Citrus Folks were not too surprised by the move by Eastern, which really was anticipated prior to the 1973 event. Because of the "advanced warning signs" the Citrus people went ahead with a "plan" to help fill the gap left by the departure of Eastern. That plan was to increase the number of Gold Sponsors from 150 to 170 and at $1,000 per it would mean an increase of $20,000.

TV Coverage Seen

And added boost for the 1974 event would be the inclusion of the Citrus into the Television coverage, which the tourney had in 1971 when Jerry Heard won the tourney and also the 1970 event won by Arnold Palmer.

The tourney always attracts the top names on the tour and in addition it has an ideal time location on the calendar with the '74 event slated or the week of Feb. 25.

Tournament chairman Sid Gaines and cochairman E. M. "Ernie" Kelly, Jr. along with the other members of the Citrus tournament committee are hard at work mapping out all details for the next classic which will be the ninth annual Citrus.

Quick Glances

HERALD STAFF writer Gary Taylor says Hank Aaron is a changed man-much more willing to not only talk of his pursuit of Babe Ruth's home run record but even willing to converse as to the actual figure, above the 714 mark, he expects to reach this season. In Atlanta for the Dixie 500 stock car race, Taylor heard over the radio that the "Hammer" had pounded his 699th homer on Friday and decided to take in Saturday's game. And afterward G. T. sipped some bubbles with those in lucky few in the Atlanta locker room. Boy, do we ever appreciate his sportsminded thinking.

RAYMOND BRACKEN, son of Andrew J. Bracken of 2017 Grandview Ave., Sanford is attending the fifth annual Davidson College Football Camp conducted by Davidson head coach Dave Fagg. The Bracken name is well known around the North Carolina school with Dave Bracken of Sanford having played a lot of halfback for the Wildcats in 1971 and 1972.

And it was not professionals who accomplished it. Dan Sanguinetti and Joe Ferrari, playing in a foursome in a junior golf tournament each aced the 145-yard eighth hole at the Van Buskirk Park course in Stockton, Calif.

Secretary's duty

has gotten out of hand

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: For 20 years my employer, his wife, and I have been good friends. Mine has always been one of those "dreamy" jobs. I ran the office, had everything my way and the pay was great.

Recently we added a young divorcee to our staff and it's apparent that she and my boss are carrying on an affair. This girl has him wrapped around her little finger and he is walking around in a daze. His wife is suspicious. She calls and asks me all sorts of questions. Of course I cover up for him, but it is making a wreck of me. I can't keep my lies straight and I am popping tranquilizers like

To leave this job would be a big sacrifice for me. Besides I dislike having this girl run me off. Should I keep taking tranquilizers and hope this affair will end soon? Or should I just quit? Don't suggest I talk to him. I already have and he is so far gone, it's hopeless. MEDICAL SECRETARY

DEAR SECRETARY: It's too late to tell you that it would have been far better for all concerned had you and your boss [and his wife] maintained a strictly professional relationship. Now you're trapped because you're more than an employe-you're a trusted friend. Your only solution is to try to wait her out, and lay off the tranquilizers before you become so "tranquil," you're carried off for dead.

DEAR ABBY: My stepdaughter is 19 years old. She works in an office and pays us $15 a week room and board. She doesn't do one thing to help me with the house. All she does is wash and iron her own clothes. On weekends she sleeps until 2 or 3 in the afternoon. She says she doesn't have to help me in the house because she pays for staying My husband says she doesn't have to do anything. Who is right? She moved out once for three months and begged to come back. Of course she said she would change, but she Please print this with your answer. If I am wrong I won't say anything more to my husband about it.

DEAR HOUSEWIFE: The problem here is that you and your daughter do not have a clear-cut understanding with regard to what she should do to "help" you. You say she promised to "change." Spell out exactly what is expected of her. And if she agrees and then fails to live up to her word, you can complain.

DEAR "NAG FEVER" IN JERSEY: No horse can go as fast as the money you bet on him. Try Gamblers Anonymous. You sound like a compulsive gambler to me.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A.,

POLLY'S POINTERS Nail Polish Brushes

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY - One of my Pet Peeves is with the tooshort brushes in many nail polish bottles that will not reach the bottom or corners. In my opinion, nail polish is like cot "good to the last drop" - that is when you can reach it.

Polly's Problem ===== DEAR POLLY - The kitchen carpeting in the house we recently moved into has black stains that I believe were made by bubble gum. Will someone please tel me how to remove this bubble gum from nylon carpeting that is attached to the floor with an adhesive glue?

DEAR POLLY - Mrs. A. C. B. wanted to know how to clean a 65-year-old white angora goatskin coverlet. I imagine rom her description that it is made of the same kind of angora as a white muff I used to have when I was a child The length of the hairs and the pure white next to the hide sound so similar. My mother kept my muff in perfect condi-tion by rubbing commeal into the fur and then shaking and combing it out. - MRS. H. L. R.

DEAR POLLY - I hope I have help for Mrs. A. C. H. who wants to clean her heirloom goatskin coverlet. There are several dry shampoos on the market that work well on such things. My mother used flour to clean things that water would damage. It works like a dry shampoo, just sprinkle it on very thickly and brush back and forth until powder has absorbed the soil. Shake and gently brush the flour from the skin but never, never use water. - ARDIS

DEAR POLLY - Nancy wanted to know how to return the sharp creases to her husband's wash-and-wear slacks. She might sprinkle three tablespoons of water mixed with one tablespoon of WHITE vinegar on them and then steam iron Also the white vinegar and water may be used in reverse to remove many creases. - IRENE

Whom are we to believe regarding Watergate? Those who are testifying before the Senate Committee? Many of us would feel so Jay Green Stamps 〇 much more comfortable if it were all to be cleared by the one man who has the power to do so-Mr. Nixon.

In his statement of May 22 on the Watergate affair, Mr. Nixon said that he would not invoke executive privilege "as to any testimony concerning possible criminal conduct or discussion of possible criminal conduct" in matters relating to the Watergate investigation. His refusal to permit the committee the opportunity of hearing those "tapes" is a ending July 1 showed Florida with a $21 million surplus and potential for even more leftover funds in preparing next year's budget.

Administration Department figures released today revealed that state income exceeded even last-minute revenue estimates by $21 million for the 1972-73 fiscal year.

If the surplus holds during the year,

it would mark the second straight year the state has had excess funds. The 1972 Legislature had a $267 million surplus to spend.

An Administration Department

the just-ended fiscal year could be greater or less than $21 million. Precise calcuations will be ready within several weeks, he said.

L. L. Qualls, economist for the Senate Ways and Means Committee, said unchanged economic conditions for the rest of the year could cause income to run $40 million to $50 million ahead of estimates. This figure, coupled with a $21 million carryover, would give the 1974 Legislature a surplus in the neighborhood of $70 million, Qualls said.

Because of uncertain economic conditions the last Legislature delayed reductions. One would have expanded the property tax homestead exemption for the elderly while the other would have increased the intangibles tax

Administration Secretary L.K. Ireland Jr. said the $21 million was about one per cent above the estimated income. Collections for the general revenue fund totaled $1.8 billion, he

Sales tax collections accounted for $14.2 million of the increase. Some $1.04 billion in sales tax was taken in during the last fiscal year, about 1.4 per cent more than estimated.
