Long Life and Security

THE Metropolitan Life Insurance Company began publishing "Health Hints" for its policyholders in 1871 and ever since has carried on its efforts toward better health.

The Company cooperated with government officials in a campaign against a threatened cholera epidemic in 1892 and thus began its cooperative work with public health organizations.

In further developing its activities in the field of health, the Metropolitan organized its Welfare Division in 1909 and, at about the same time, a nation-wide nursing service was established for Industrial policyholders.

Subsequent health records demonstrate the value of these services.

During all these years the Company has worked shoulder to shoulder with national, state and local health organizations to stamp out preventable disease.

New low mortality figures were recorded in 1934 for practically all of the diseases against which public health forces have directed special preventive efforts—notably typhoid fever, tuberculosis, diphtheria, infant mortality and maternal mortality. During this year the good record of previous years continued to obtain among Metropolitan policyholders.

Long Life and Security

THE Metropolitan Life Insurance Company began publishing "Health Hints" for its policyholders in 1871 and ever since has carried on its efforts toward better health.

Subsequent health records demonstrate the value of these services.

The Company cooperated with government officials in a campaign against a threatened cholera epidemic in 1892 and thus began its cooperative work with public health organizations.

During all these years the Company has worked shoulder to shoulder with national, state and local health organizations to stamp out preventable disease.

In further developing its activities in the field of health, the Metropolitan organized its Welfare Division in 1909 and, at about the same time, a nation-wide nursing service was established for Industrial policyholders.

New low mortality figures were recorded in 1934 for practically all of the diseases against which public health forces have directed special preventive efforts—notably typhoid fever, tuberculosis, diphtheria, infant mortality and maternal mortality. During this year the good record of previous years continued to obtain among Metropolitan policyholders.

Free Schooling Races To Be Held At Longwood Oval

Everything Nearly Ready For Opening 2 Week Race Meet

Activities at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club greyhound racing track near Longwood during the past week tonight will have reached the stage nearest to opening night—schooling races in which dogs are studied as to speed and condition and handicapped for future reference.

Opening night is scheduled for Friday, and nine races, involving eight fast greyhounds in each race, are listed for presentation. Nearly 200 dogs now are at the track, representing the pick of the dogs which have raced in Miami and Jacksonville this season.

Greyhound racing is presented Friday night and for the next few weeks, makes its first appearance here in five years. Sponsors of the track anticipate record crowds, and preliminary arrangements are being directed toward that end.

Tonight's schooling races, scheduled to begin at about 7:30 o'clock will be under the direction of presiding Judge J. F. Quinn, veteran of tracks operating in all parts of the country. Associate Judge is F. L. Edmonson, while Carl Coffman has been retained as racing secretary. The short season is under the full supervision of the Florida State Racing Commission whose members are lending co-operation to the new track operators by recommending most of the important officials needed during the meeting.

The part-hotel system of watering will be employed, with Racing Commission added checking all figures. Ben Costello is master of the mutes, while local and Orlando men will be employed as ticket sellers and cashiers. The schooling races are free to the public. Regular admission to the track during the meeting is 25 cents per person.

Draw Decisions Given In Boy Boxers' Bout

Seminole Boys' Athletic Club members were unable to satisfy judges at the Fourth Street Arena last night. Seven bouts of six rounds each were bitterly fought but all were declared as draws.

An added attraction found eight boys engaging in a four round battle royal.

Announcement was made that the next meeting of the club is on Friday night when at 6:45 o'clock boys are expected to gather for a practice period. Contestants last night: Joe Johnston and Joe Morrison, Billy Hoolihan and Duane Tillis, Lindbergh Hall and Billy Harrison, Laurence Harrison and Buddy Ervers, Clarence Harrison and T. H. Willis, J. R. Ellis and Clifford Williams, and Charles Thurston and John F. Hall.

Seminole Board Outlines Policies Needing Attention

R. Searcy of Longwood, S. F. Long of Orlando and W. B. Williams of Orlando, Board Attorney, Householder, State Senator J. J. Parrish of Titusville who again promised full co-operation of his office, and County Clerk V. E. Douglass.

Holmes Thought Law Must Keep Step With Times

He participated in more than one-third of the total number of decisions handed down since the "A" was formed.

One of the secrets of his greatness—his life spanning such a long and restless period of the nation's history—was his recognition that life and the times were always changing and that he must keep in step.

He battled against accepting precedents, for precedents "talk alone, and once said: "Our forms of contract, instead of being made new for all, like a yacht, on lines of least resistance, are accidental relics of early nations.

"As a judge he believed that his first business was to see that the game is played according to the rules, whether I like them or not."

But he did find that the "rules" could be construed liberally.

He said in one of his opinions:

"The interpretation of constitutional principles must not be too liberal. We must remember that the machinery of government would not work if it were allowed a little play in its joints."

Though noted for his independence of thought he felt that private opinions of a judge were not a measure of legality.

"It is a misfortune if a judge," he said, "reads his conscious or unconscious sympathy with one side or the other prematurely into the law. . . ." And, again: "We need to learn to transcend our own convictions and to leave room for much that we hold dear to be done away with. . . ."

As a judge he became an outstanding exponent of the constitutional guarantees affecting the rights of man.

He called the Constitution "an experiment, as all life is an experiment," and in his powerful dissent in the Baugh case—In re the Baugh case—in which Mrs. Schwimmer was denied naturalization by the majority—he said:

"Surely it cannot show lack of attachment to the principles of the Constitution that she thinks it can be improved. I suppose that most intelligent people think that it might be."

His role as "the great dissenter" was personally disliked by him.

His court life was not unlit by humor. He often would amuse his associates and spectators with a merry quip and on one occasion, when counsel was using rather indiscriminately the terms "realtor" and "real estate dealer" in arguing a case, the presiding officer, Chief Justice Taft, asked if there was any difference.

Holmes interrupted with: "A realtor gets a higher fee than a real estate man."

War Veterans Critical Of Peace's Views

Design Wars Chief Says Steel Company's Position Is Monumental Gaffe

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14.—The wrath of World War veterans was poured out upon Eugene Grace, president of the Bethlehem Corporation, for his attitude toward the demands for payment of soldiers' bonuses.

Francis Vanzant, Commandant of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, testifying before the House committee on the veterans' bill, said that the committee should not be misled by the propaganda campaign to take the money out of the hands of the veterans.

The strongest denunciation was made by the committee's chairman, Representative Carl Albert, who said that the committee has in its long investigation never been misled by any propaganda.

Weather Map Shows End Of Bad Conditions

Mississippi Valley Area Fearful Of Devastating Effect Of Major Flood Due

By The Associated Press

Moderate weather was returned to most sections of the United States today following a series of quickly changing events featured by snow, rain, and windstorms.

The United States Weather Bureau at Atlanta reported that the weather moderating in the Great Lakes although scattering snow still was in evidence.

From the Great Lakes southward to Montgomery, Ala., light showers fell in some sections but the Weather Bureau said there had been no striking change in temperatures east of the Mississippi.

Snow was predicted from Jersey to southern Maine along the Atlantic coast tonight.

Appeals for funds, plans to solicit the aid of thousands of relief workers and new reports of destruction cropped up yesterday in the widespread flood area.

The Mississippi River surged out of its banks between two levees at Charleston, Mo. The Mid-Western division of the Red Cross at St. Louis appealed for monetary assistance in caring for 4000 refugees driven from their southeastern Missouri homes by the overflow of the Black and St. Francis Rivers. Water was ten feet deep in parts of Popular Bluff. At Kennett, Mo., the street was expected Thursday. The stream reached a record stage of more.

Mendieta Out To Find Men Back Of Strike

Government Claims Revolution Broken; Strikers Return To Work In Havana

HAVANA, Mar. 14.—(AP)—A general revolutionary strike threatening it apparently broken, President Mendieta's government yesterday started hunting up those it believed responsible for its troubles.

The "fanatical" bands of street car goons and omnibus boys raged through streets that echoed Tuesday night to rifle and pistol fire as most lines of business returned to operation approaching normal.

Police carted hundreds of strikers, among them many government employees, off to police stations and prisons in army trucks, and 50 or more suspected revolutionary leaders were held at Cabañas fortress.

The latter group, it was understood, included Alfredo Canal, prominent ABC society leader and secretary to Juanita Martinez Saez, ABC chieftain and former secretary who is now in the United States.

Later police released all old employees of the treasury they had detained after they signed resignations.

The seeming collapse of the strike movement, which began several weeks ago with the walk-out of an estimated 300,000 students and teachers, rans after the Mendieta government, supported by Army Commander Batista, exchanged its policy of diplomatic negotiation for vigorous repression.

Its steps, punctuated by frequent arrests, included the following:

WHAT TO DO? WHAT TO DO?

That's what Senator Huey P. Long seems to be asking himself as he looks over the pile of mail which he says has come flooding in on him since he made his speech replying to Gen. Hugh S. Johnson. Long Appears As Block To Vote On Bill

Huey Prevents Senate Action On Work-Relief Measure; Night Session Seen

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14.—(A.P.)—The Senate today rejected an amendment to the $4,800,000,000 work-relief bill by Senator Huey Long, proposing an additional $100,000,000 to give needy youth a college or other educational training.

Long prevented virtually a one-man filibuster in Senate action on the work-relief program.

The Louisiana threat of filibustering until absentee Senators returned from Atlanta and other points was averted by being counted in the ballot in prevailing vote issue conference session as Senator Glass of Virginia said right position would be held if necessary to forestall action.

From the appropriations committee the House received and passed a measure on the $112,000,000 supply bill for running the agricultural department during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Secretary Morgenthau called for the payment on June 15 of the entire issue of the Treasury's outstanding first Liberty loan bonds, in aggregate of nearly $2,000,000,000.

The vote against the Long amendment to the work-relief bill was 55 to 37. The Senate previously had voted 73 to 3, a 2-1 margin, providing $1,000,000,000.

Administration leaders concluded that the Emergency Relief Administration already had been authorized.

The President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, presided at the luncheon, which was attended by members of both Houses of Congress and other guests.

The President made a short address, in which he spoke of the achievements of George Washington and the importance of his legacy to the United States.

Dignity Of Supreme Court Often Set Aside By Holmes

Jurist Loved A "Good" Fire, A Characteristic Which Always Marked His Unofficial Life

By The Associated Press

This is the fifth in a series of articles.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14.—(AP)—"He seems like a fire," a soldier-at-large, white-haired, dragon-mustached Oliver Wendell Holmes turned from his companion and the capitol grounds they were crossing to watch an engine race by.

"Mind if we go?" Holmes asked. "I always like to take in a good fire."

They started out, but again Holmes turned to his companion. "You wouldn't mind running, would you? I always run to a fire."

So was the dignity of the supreme court justice cast aside? Not once but often—at Holmes, frequently accompanied by his wife, would race to a fire.

Charles Henry Butler, court reporter and lawyer, was the companion on this excursion and that night, at the Holmes' house, he told Mrs. Holmes about the adventure.

"Yes," she replied sternly. "I heard about it—but I resent having been left out."

Butler promised to call them whenever he learned of a "good fire" and one night phoned to say that he had a tract for them. He stopped by their home, drove out Massachusetts Avenue, and stopped at the naval observatory.

U.S. Attorneys Ask Court To Uphold Rail Pension Act

Efficiency, Safety To Be Promoted, Argue Federal Lawyers

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14.—(AP)—Government lawyers yesterday urged the supreme court to uphold the Railroad Pension Act with the argument that efficiency and safety would be promoted through the compulsory retirement of elderly employees.

Harold M. Stephens, assistant attorney general, and Harry Shulman, counsel for the Railroad Retirement Board, also contended the measure would make possible the consolidation of rail facilities with consequent savings without increasing unemployment.

The case justice listened in silence. They faced a packed court room reminiscent of the gold case hearings.

Although the case was continued so important that five hours were allotted for oral argument, in place of the customary two, not one question was asked during the session.

Better Hurricane Warning Service Sought For U. S.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14.—(AP)—An increase of $20,000 for better hurricane warning service was asked by the Appropriations Committee today in its bill for expenses of the Agricultural Department.

Dr. Willis Gregg, chief of the Weather Bureau, recently decried the "daylight haze" of the present service and declared the bureau wanted to organize an exclusive, detailed service comprising continuous observations day and night, the assignment of qualified forecasters to stations at New Orleans and Jacksonville, and the installation of a teletype service connecting 11 float gage stations.

Harry M. Pappworth, president of the Seminole County Chapter of Commerce announced this morning that the organization, through its board of directors, had accepted itself as sponsor of the Sanford Elks Lodge in its efforts to secure the establishment of the organization of the chapter who attended the meeting last Sunday.

Many of the officials attending the dedication, Mr. Pappworth stated, were members of Elks lodges in many parts of Florida, and all of the facilities of the local club were placed at their disposal.

Kiwianians Hear Address On Race For Armaments

ARMY conferences have consistently failed because their participants have failed to recognize the real source of war—nationalistic efforts to gain selfish advantage in world trade.

Mrs. Rolland L. Dean told members of the Sanford Kiwanis Club during an address delivered at the 35th annual hotel yesterday noon.

Mrs. Dean was a principal speaker at the convention and her address was the most interesting and most timely in the program.

Ernest Lewis, field representative of Kiwanis International, Walter Hawkins who recently was elected as president of the new DuPont Club, and E. M. Ford, of the Kiwanis Club, also were speakers.

Kiwanis judges estimated the value of the Kiwanis fund at $25,000 and the Kiwanis fund at $25,000.

Kiwanis W. E. Cooper's motion picture, "The Race for Armaments," which Mrs. Dean has the honor of presenting in Kiwanis program, was shown at the club with a copy of her address for publication in Kiwanis magazine, was adopted unanimously.

Introduced as a new member was Arthur D. Schertz, Jr.

Kiwanis W. F. Dunbar, president, and 45 of the club's 50 members were present.

Government Tests New Mystery Plane

OAKLAND, Calif., Mar. 14.—(AP)—The government's big "mystery plane," home from one successful test flight, returned yesterday to another in a series expected to culminate eventually in a history-making hop to Hawaii.

Eugene Vidal, of the commerce department's bureau of aeronautics, declined to say when the long jump will be attempted, but he admitted a pioneer test flight between the Pacific coast and Honolulu is the eventual goal.

Farley Strikes Fresh Blow At Foreign Lotteries

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14.—(AP)—A fresh blow at foreign lottery operators was struck today by the Postoffice Department as Postmaster General Farley denied 500 permits issued in participation in those enterprises the right to use the mails.

A new series of fraud orders was issued against persons who had addresses in Canada, Cuba, Irish Free State, Italy, Bermuda and France.

The campaign started two months ago when the postal inspection service reached the conviction that such enterprises, ostensibly lotteries, were fabrications.

The new blanket brings to 1500 the number of those proscribed.

It is estimated that $2,000,000 was spent by Americans on foreign lotteries last year, and a prediction was advanced that the current drive would cut this figure in half this year.

Life Insurance New Gains In February

NEW YORK, Mar. 14.—(AP)—A gain of 11 percent in new life insurance production in February was reported by the Association of Life Insurance Presidents yesterday.

This followed an increase of 24 percent in January over the same month last year.

February new business of all classes amounted to $719,500,000 against $649,675,000 in the same period last year.

For the first two months of the year the total new business was $1,369,175,000 in contrast with $1,319,530,000 in 1934.
