HUNGER ARMY FAILS TO GAIN END IN CAPITAL

Is Refused Entrance To Congress And To White House To Present Its Demands

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(A.P.)—A band of 1500 demonstrators which paraded peacefully about Washington yesterday failed in its announced purpose of presenting demands for unemployment relief to President Hoover and to the Senate floor.

In fact, as a result of their steps along and their hand silent they had not officially made their program known either at the White House or to Congress.

At both places, their leaders refused to enter in their demands after police blocked their entrance. A committee of six did enter the headquarters of the American Federation of Labor but filed out quietly after President William Green said emphatically, "The marchers represented communists."

Only a moment or two before, a leader of the parade, Herbert Benjamin, threatened that if the committee did not return from the White House in five minutes, the demonstrators would be turned loose on the structure.

There was no outbreak, however, as the six reported the denunciation Green had given them. The committee protested the attitude of the President in opposition to the march.

Ten Are Killed, 13 Hurt In Peruvian Fight, Say Reports

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 8.—(A.P.)—A Trujillo dispatch to El Comercio newspaper here has been killed and wounded yesterday in fighting between officers and police at Trujillo, near Arequipa.

What of the dead and wounded, the dispatch said, were members of the Peruvian army, which supported Victor Belandier, who is in the presidential campaign for the presidency of Peru against Lieut. Col. Luis M. Sánchez Cerro.

A strike which was started on heavy armor states had spread to Trujillo, it was noted.

Colonel Sánchez Cerro will be inaugurated as constitutional president of Peru today.

It will be a triumphant return to power, for he resigned under pressure nine months ago as head of the junta that overthrew former President Leguía in 1930 and for a time was in exile.

He is the man that overthrew the eleven years dictatorship of President Leguía, he was accused of trying to elect himself president by the army and a revolt of several military garrisons.

His new regime will come into power with the military administration in Congress.

His cabinet, which was announced last night will be headed by Dr. German Amos as president of the council and minister of public works, railways and health.

Appropriations For Veterans Predicted

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(A.P.)—Immediate appropriation of $200,000,000 to meet demands for payment of veterans loan certificates was forecast today by Representative Byrnes, Democrat, new chairman of the House appropriations committee. Byrnes disclosed that the veterans administration has recommended an appropriation to meet obligations under legislation of the last session allowing loans up to 50 per cent on service certificates. This appropriation is the only one he expects to be enacted before the Christmas holidays. He said many applications for loans are being held up because of a shortage of funds with which to meet the payments.

GREATER CHARGE FOR POSTAGE IS SEEN NECESSARY

Huge Deficit In Post Office Department Calls For Action

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(A.P.)—A precedent-shattering deficit for the post office department led its chief yesterday to insist again that more ought to be charged to carry letter-mail.

The annual report of Postmaster General Brown showed that department came out $146,066,189 behind last year. This is almost $48,000,000 more than the gross deficit the previous year.

As to a way out, he repeated to President Hoover his recommendation that the two-cent rate for carrying a letter be raised by a half cent when the letter goes out of the locality. This, on the present volume, would bring in $50,000,000 a year additional.

The report went on: "A 1/2-cent rate would, however, obviously fall far short of producing adequate revenues at the present time. The deficit for 1931 attributable to strictly postal operations was more than $28,000,000, and if present trends are maintained the net deficit for the current year will be in the neighborhood of $150,000,000. This raises the question whether, in view of the already overtaxed condition of the postal service, it is feasible to raise the rate for carrying a letter by a half cent when the letter goes out of the locality."

Leffler Elected As Nineteen Go To Polls

"The quietest election in years" was the term given today's general municipal election by Jay H. Beck, clerk of the election board, which will late this afternoon count the ballots cast in favor of City Commissioner W. A. Leffler, who is an opponent in the race for the three-year term he seeks.

At 2:00 o'clock this afternoon 19 persons had cast their ballots, four of whom were the members of the election board.

Girl Writes Letter To Santa Claus And Asks About His Wife's Health

One little Sanford girl, writing a letter to Santa Claus asking for several gifts this Christmas evidences a high regard for the woman's part in influencing a man by including in her letter a reference to Santa's wife and her good health.

Little Anne Laird is the writer of the letter which also includes a postscript which reads "Don't forget the poor children. He is what Anne writes to Santa:

"Dear Santa Claus: If it's not too much, I want a doll in the Santa-Bearish catalogue. It's a doll in a trunk and her name is Daisy. Daisychick doll. I want a bicycle if it's not too much. We will have the door open for you so you can get in if you will let me have it. Of course I want some nuts, candy and fruit too. How is your wife? Did you know I love you? So much love to you and your wife, Anne Laird."

Ernest and Hazel Stiles, who live in West Third Street, write Santa an interesting letter which reads as follows:

"Dear Santa Claus: We are two good little girls, Ernest and Hazel Stiles. We help mother with the dishes and we try to bring in some good money every week and a good boy talk and a good airplane. I am sure you will say I will, the airplane and the frog. Goodbye."

PROBE URGED OF HOOVER'S NAVAL STAND

Gardiner Says President's Attitude Is Due For Congressional Investigation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(A.P.)—Returning to the attack, William Howard Gardiner, president of the Navy League said today that President Hoover's naval attitude called for a "congressional investigation into the entire conduct of naval affairs."

Chairman Hale of the Senate naval committee said he planned to introduce a bill calling for the building of the Navy to the limits of the London treaty.

He estimated it would ask authorizations for new ship costing between $800,000,000 and $900,000,000. There is little doubt that in shifting this and other naval legislation, the entire dispute will be reviewed.

SPEAKS HERE

Coach Charles W. Bachman, of the University of Florida, one of America's outstanding football mentors who spoke to members of the Sanford Rotary Club at noon today, and who will be the guest of the combined Seminole High School Hi-Y clubs at a banquet honoring members of Coach Leonard McLera's football given at the school tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

BACHMAN TALKS TO ROTARIANS AT MEETING TODAY

Predicts Wonderful Football Year For Gator Team In '33

Coach Charles W. Bachman of the University of Florida, speaking before members of the Sanford Rotary Club and several guests today, answered those queries of American college football who are openly charging professionalism and commercialism as being the rule throughout the nation, by asserting that there is absolutely nothing wrong in helping a worthy boy through college provided the boy is willing to accept long hours to learn.

In the final analysis this idea of individuals or organizations lending aid to a student boils down to two points: Is the boy deserving of assistance and is the school giving him such aid as will fit him for a profitable and successful career, said Coach Bachman.

Coach Bachman predicted that a meeting of members of the Southern Conference football association at New Orleans within a few weeks, some of the most drastic and revolutionary changes ever known to football will arise and be accepted by every college represented. These changes will deal principally with the definition of professionalism, the coach's role, and will find the South taking the lead in proclaiming that a worthy boy who seeks an education should be allowed to receive financial aid.

STUDENTS OF CHINA PROTEST JAP ACTIVITY

Criticize Chinese Authorities For Failure To Oppose Japanese Aggression

SHANGHAI, Dec. 8.—(A.P.)—Chinese students left their studies in all parts of China today and participated in a demonstration condemning authorities they charged with failure to oppose Japanese aggression in Manchuria. The students sent a communication to President Chiang Kai-Shek at Nanking threatening to proceed there and conduct widespread agitation against the government unless Dr. Wellington Koo was removed from the foreign ministry and unless the government stopped what they charged were direct negotiations with Japan over Manchuria. They also demonstrated for the furtherance of a Chinese boycott against Japanese goods.

Fresh activity by Manchurian "bandits" was reported by the Japanese yesterday.

A colliery official and his family at Nyuhaiwei were captured by raiders and held as hostages.

A government spokesman at Tokyo declared it was up to Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang, deposed governor of Manchuria, to prevent armed conflict at Chinchow.

In Paris some progress was reported in the League of Nations council's attempt to arrive at a settlement, but many barriers remained.

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Dec. 8.—(A.P.)—Renewed activity by what the Japanese termed "bandits" was reported by army headquarters last night.

NEGRO IS HANDED LIFE FOR ROBBING JOHN DIAMANTIS

Imprisonment at Raiford penitentiary for "the balance of his natural life" is the penalty Sheriff Anderson, alias "The Tampa Kid," negro prize fighter, must pay for his part in the robbery and subsequent slaying of John Diamantis, Sanford grocer, on the night of Nov. 29. Joe Williams, alias "Red," who pleaded the mercy of the court for his part in the affair, received a 20-year sentence at Raiford.

Those sentences were the most severe of several imposed by Circuit Court Judge Wallace W. Wright in court this morning, and they caused an excited buzz of comment among the throng of negroes gathered to hear Judge Wright pass sentence: upon several colored law-violators.

Anderson and Williams entered the Locust Avenue grocery, of John Diamantis at about 10:30 o'clock Sunday night, Nov. 29. They robbed the grocer of about $40, and in a tussle with him, Anderson fired a shot from a .38 Smith Smith and Weston pistol the bullet entering Diamantis' (Continued on Page Four)

Urges Increased Taxation Along With Program To Cure "Credit Paralysis"

(By The Associated Press) President Hoover's prosperity program:

Decreased appropriations and increased taxes to assure the stability of the government.

Creation of a Reconstruction Corporation to make advances to needy industries.

Provision to release assets frozen in failed banks.

Further treasury subscription to the federal land bank.

Establishment of home-loan banks to make home-owning easier.

Liberalization of currency banks rules to make more paper negotiable.

Revision of interstate commerce laws to help solve the railway question.

Revision of anti-trust laws to prevent burdensome inequalities.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(A.P.)—To balance the treasury books and hasten better days, President Hoover recommended increased taxation to Congress today along with a many-pointed program to cure "credit paralysis."

Unless taxes go up and expenditures down, he said, the government will have run behind $4,400,000,000 by the end of next fiscal year. He did not specify the method of the revision, but suggested it be made effective in only two years.

As for the significant feature of President Hoover's program, it is similar to the old war-time corporation, headed by the President, proposed to help business. The agency would advance money to needy industries.

Resolute in his third annual message to Congress, he advocated that it:

Subscribe more funds to federal land banks.

GANGSTER PARTS IN MOVIE PROVE TOUGH BUSINESS

Players Receive Only Small Salaries And Run Risk To Limbs

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Dec. 7.—(A.P.)—The movie fan who crouches in his seat, gazing into the cold, fishy eye of a gangster on the screen and feels a chill creep slowly up his spine does not pause to think that perhaps this human gorilla has a story. He has. The business of being a movie gangster is a tough racket.

A prizefighter, while his lock is with him, can fight ten rounds, or wait them, and in one night earn money running from three to six figures. But a movie mug mixes in a free-for-all and gets out of it $7.50 to $10 a day, with maybe a week in a studio hospital with broken ribs and a nose pushed awry.

Still they come back for more—tough, tough, scared men with cauliflower ears and barrel chests. Men who can fight with fists, clubs or pistols, or play a rhapsody on a machine gun.

They put realism into "The Public Enemy," "Little Caesar," "The Big House," "The Secret Six" and more. Several times it has been announced from Hollywood that the public no longer liked gangster pictures. But there still is work for the shock troops to do, although the talkies reduced their number.

"In the silent pictures days we had no end of tough types in our files," said Dave Allen, executive in charge of the casting bureau. "They were hard boiled fellows who would scare a man half to death. But some of them had tender voices, and high tenors at that. The talkies dealt them a blow."

"They come up here, these gorillas, and pipe out in a shrill treble. 'Any work for me today?' sometimes it's hard to keep from laughing."

An interesting personality who played the role of Monk Manilla, a gangster, was Robert Wilber. Studio records show he was a member of the old car barn gang which disbanded New York in 1910. Leaving the gang during the World War, Wilber became a first lieutenant in the Marine Corps, won the congressional medal of honor, the distinguished service cross and was awarded by three bullet wounds.

In the same film were Frank Goddard, 210 pounds, a European fighter with some 40 knockouts to his credit; Jack Perry, who once put away Jack Britton; Charles Sullivan, former lightweight champion of the A. E. F. and Sailor Vincent, a navy champion for 12 years.

Mr. Collins spoke briefly at the luncheon reception, welcoming Miss Harding, her director, Tay Garnett and the RKO-Pathé staff to Florida. He predicted that Florida would become the third motion picture center of the country, stating that a thorough investigation had convinced officials that Florida had much to offer that could not be found in other parts of the country, pointing out that Director Garnett stated the Myakka River site for the filming of the jungle scenes for "Miss Harding's pictures and a second one starring Helen Twelvetrees exceeded all expectations.

plained this morning, and because of the splendid co-operation of Francis Meriwether, Kent Rosenthal, John Brumley and other neighbors, most of the furniture on the ground floor was saved, although the rest of the furnishings and the house itself were completely destroyed. The loss was partly covered by insurance.

Friday afternoon a small gasoline pressure stove caught fire in the second floor room over Coleman's Filling Station, Sanford and Geneva Avenues. Only a slight damage to the walls was reported there.

Shortly before midnight Friday, a telephone call to the Fire Department headquarters carried the information that the Atlantic Coast Line railroad trestle just off the Orlando highway on the road to Ovidis was burning. A fire alarm was dispatched to the scene but on arrival found that the blaze was caused by the burning of several groups of cross-ties set afire by road crews earlier in the day. A grass fire as well as further danger to the trestle was avoided by the firemen who used chemicals.

promulgated by Lena and other bridge masters. Culbertson refused to join them in what they regarded as unification to avoid confusion.

A controversy between Culbertson and the "official" group led to a challenge by Culbertson last September. The contract for the match provides that the side which triumphs shall give the winners to specified charities.

Never has a card game attracted such attention. The four corners of the United States and bridge players of England have arranged to obtain details promptly. Even the newspaper organ of the Labor Party in London has been devoting space to the contest.

It is stipulated the match shall end by Jan. 15. There will be play Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights beginning at 9 o'clock. The rubber of a session must begin before 12:30 A. M. If necessary for a finish within the time limit, the referees may order afternoon sessions. The players hope to complete eight rubbers nightly. They estimate the match will involve 1000 hands.

The Culbertson drawing room, in which play will start, is about 50 feet long, with a fireplace at one end and at the other and windows look out on a quiet court. Windows along the side open out on a street, 10 stories below, on which there is little traffic in the evening. The Culbertsons live at a hotel on a side street, half a block from Park Avenue.

white light and a bow-like shade, throws the light up, instead of down. The shade can be adjusted at any angle.

They'll play at an ordinary folding card table, but the chairs are something for a bridge player to dream about.

They are copies of eighteenth century English chairs, fairly high, with backs that curve just right, and arms for resting one's elbows on. The seats are fairly deep and softly cushioned.

There'll be plenty of cigarettes and plenty of tea trays.

"We've got 75 back seats," Mr. Culbertson chuckled, "and a butler who is a discreet kibitzer. I always insist that our butler be a bridge player himself."

FEDERAL WRIT PUTS CRIMP IN TAMPA STRIKE

ous until communist agitators from other cities arrived and incited the workers to riot.

Early in November, the petition said, it was discovered that readers in the factories, reading to the workers at their benches, were reading communist propaganda, and stirred the workers to such an extent that strikes in three factories resulted and it was impossible to carry on the industry.

The union was organized, the petition says, "known as the Red Union," and Red international songs were sung. It continues that school children were encouraged in a belief against organized government and to leave their classes.

Workers' homes were invaded, the petition says, and workers announced publicly, "This is no strike but a revolution."

The injunction became effective immediately in temporary form, with service through Tampa newspapers. The 140 enjoined were summoned to Federal Court Dec-

16 to show cause why the injunction should not be made permanent.

Federal Court took jurisdiction in the case because the petitioner is a corporation organized under the laws of New York and the defendants are citizens of other states.

The petition stated that about 5000 workers had signed membership in the communist union here.

A committee of the union told Mayor E. E. L. Chaney Saturday night that they would withdraw demands against three factories if all factories would be reopened for a week, employing the same forces as work before the general walkout Nov. 27.

The manufacturers in a statement to Mayor Chaney yesterday said they would be glad to reopen their plant and give employment to as many as possible. They refused to recognize the union, however, and said the demands against the three factories first must be withdrawn by the workers.

Connelly Company Handles Several Real Estate Deals

Sanford is soon to have a small manufacturing plant, according to an announcement by A. P. Connelly, Sanford realtor who handled a transaction which resulted in a transfer of Sanford property.

The new firm, headed by Amos Nowell, trustee of Boston, has purchased the building north of the Crown Paper Co. plant on North Elm Avenue. Machinery will be installed within a few days, Mr. Connelly said. An announcement is forthcoming as to the type of article to be manufactured in the new plant.

Other important transactions recently concluded by the Connelly firm include the sale of both the Rose Court and San Lanta Apart-

Seminole Co-Operation

The remarkable efficiency with which the various Chamber of Commerce committees are attacking the problems of the Progress Day celebration, and the splendid co-operation which these committees are meeting from the merchants and all public spirited citizens of Sanford bespeak the outstanding success which we now feel sure will characterize every feature of this day.

Progress Day has been arranged in Sanford for the purpose of expressing in some measure the joy which the citizens of this community feel over the three primary achievements of this year. The inauguration of a new line in freight service on the St. Johns River, the dedication of a new airport, one of the finest which central Florida boasts, and the opening of a new canning factory, are markers on the highway of progress seldom passed by any city all at one time.

The publicity which this day of celebration has been accorded in the press of the state is of untold value to the future development of this city. It is of the sort of benefit which money cannot buy. It is confidently expected that at least ten thousand visitors from neighboring cities will congregate in Sanford to see the parade, to hear the Governor's address, and to take part in the other features of the celebration.

Outstanding in the characteristics of the arrangements for Progress Day has been the fine spirit of co-operation and willingness-to-serve in whatever capacity may prove helpful which everyone has manifested. It is a splendid tribute to Karl Lehmann who after three months of service among us has succeeded in so welding all opposing factions that an event of this kind can be held with the undivided support of the entire county.

As a fourth cause for celebration we might add on this Progress Day the new spirit which is permeating the whole of Seminole County, co-operation, greater perhaps than boat lines, airports, or canning factories.

Congressman-At-Large

State politics are gradually assuming the proportions of a pre-election campaign. John Martin's recent announcement for governor served as the opening gun not only for the launching of his own campaign but apparently also in launching those of others. It has been an unusually warm fall in Florida, and judging from the weather one might almost be inclined to think it is still summer, but the calendar tells us the winter season is already upon us.

So we can expect other announcements in rapidly increasing numbers. It is rumored that Cary Hardee will issue a formal announcement before Christmas. And last Sunday that veteran war horse of the Fourth District, Joe Seers, formerly of Kissimmee now of Jacksonville, tossed his battered old sombrero into the ring in opposition to John Aloop and Senator Bell for congressman-at-large.

Seers is a rugged fighter, an experienced campaigner in politics, and knows the by-ways and hedges of much of the Florida backwoods as well as any politician in the state. He is particularly strong in the fourth district which he represented in Congress for some twelve or fourteen years. In 1920 he defeated Ruth Bryan Owen in her first race for that office, no mean accomplishment in itself. In 1928 he bowed his head in graceful defeat.

Since his retirement from public office Mr. Seers has been practicing law in Jacksonville, where John Aloop presides as mayor and might be expected to be particularly strong. The race for congressman-at-large, in spite of the frequent mention of General Sumner's name in this connection, and the occasional reference to others who may be thinking of competing with him, will probably end up in a duel between these two Jacksonville contenders.

THE ISSUE IN THE New Jersey Congressional District, which converted a normal Republican majority of 35,000 into a Democratic majority of 1500, was strictly the record of the Hoover administration. Both nominees declared for prohibition modification, so the wet and dry question didn't figure in the voting. Mr. McLean, the Republican candidate, stated his campaign on an unequivocal endorsement of the national administration; Mr. Stewart, the Democratic candidate, attacked the administration. There was a change of more than 25,000 votes. The remarkable result is indicative of national sentiment. The nation, now, is Democratic. Will it be that way next November?—Tampa Tribune.

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

It is said that much of the spirit of revolution in China is due to students educated in foreign lands. China had to send young men abroad to keep step with other nations, and now the young men are endeavoring to make old China march along.

Not less than $50,000 was the fee received by Clarence Darrow for his services in defending the McNamara brothers in the Los Angeles dynamite case, according to a declaration made by Frank Marjorie, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, and custodian of the McNamara defense fund.

Judge T. P. Warlow, of Orlando, was a visitor to the city recently. Mrs. Charles Bell and little son, Frederick, have returned to their home in Atlanta after spending several weeks here with the firm's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Schuyler.

Miss Beulah Schuyler entertained at bridge recently in honor of Miss Dorothy J. Hayes, Miss Hayes won high score prize and Miss Charlotte Keller was awarded second high score prize. Jay Kistelin and E. R. Jones were presented with the most prizes. The Misses Dorothy Hayes, Charlotte Keller, Nell Whitner, Rene Dillman, Elizabeth McLaughlin, Violet Yester, and Frank Miller, Stanton Perkins, R. E. Deas, Jay Kinloch, Willie Miller, W. J. Tappan and Mr. Walker.

The city council has resolved the license for selling near beer and same will go into effect next October when the present license expires. This means that the near beer will have to go.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Worthington had as dinner guests last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Edwards, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Justin Worthington.

More than three cartons of lettuce are being shipped from Harry Ward's Beardsall farm this week. Joe Cameron, W. W. Miller, J. P. McCalland and others are shipping lettuce.

JACKSONVILLE BUSY IN NOVEMBER

FLORIDA TIMES-UNION

November, with rather dry, warm and perhaps somewhat disagreeable weather, was nevertheless enjoyed by the people of Jacksonville. The many visitors in Jacksonville from all parts of the state and from other states, attending conventions and meetings, found the city most comfortable to visit, and the weather, which was so favorable, was also so agreeable. The annual convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was one of the most important events of the past month, and the fourth annual meeting of the Florida Federation of Arts was another occasion bringing to this city many people who enjoyed their visit.

With the business people of the city the month seems to have been satisfactory, with a revival of activity along almost all lines.

Tourists and winter residents are now coming in steadily, and the hotels and apartment houses are indicating added population, with the newcomers much in evidence in the parks and shops and almost everywhere. At the post-office the seasonal advance is noted, with receipts considerably higher for November than October. It was remarked by the postmaster that receipts for last month were more than $5000 ahead of November, 1930. This is an excellent index to business. The increased patronage is considerably in account of newcomers, but is also affected by increase in general business. Bank clearings for last month were reported at $25,000,000. This is somewhat less than October, but will no doubt show up better in December, as at this time anyone undertaking to judge that Florida will ever again desert the Democratic party in a national campaign.

The Tampa Tribune likes the suggestion at the Marianna meeting that only "seasoned Democrats" be sent as delegates to the national convention but suggests that "all-season Democrats" Democrats in November as in June" would be a better term.

The Orlando Sentinel and Reporter-Star welcomes the next state-wide party conference to its city, commenting that the "Miami meeting, taken in its broad aspect" was a "notable success." It particularly approves the move to enlist the women of Florida in the 1932 and future campaigns and endorses the various resolutions adopted at state sessions.

The Sanford Herald believes the conference will prove of "incalculable value," recalling its stand for a platform-making convention, against nepotism and the mixing of public and private business interests and for national delegates who are committed to true Democratic principles.

The Fort Myers News-Press says the conference "justified no fears and realized most hopes." It was scrupulously careful not to exceed its unofficial authority in any respect and avoided itself wholly in the advertised purpose of promoting party harmony, unity and loyalty. In this it was eminently successful.

So the schism ran, throughout the state. There can be no remaining doubt that the Democratic party in Florida in 1932 will be an awakened, purposeful body of citizens.

Detroit Newsboys Get Vengeance In Gangster Fashion

DETROIT, Dec. 8.—(A.P.)—A "vengeance squad" from a club of newsboys shot to death 15-year-old Joe Przystas yesterday because, they claim, he had beaten one of their younger members.
Stanley Orlanski, 14, president of the club, admitted, police said, that he fired the shot that killed Joe, but claimed he had intended only to frighten him. He is held with Joe Sawicki, 14, and Longin Jendzyenski, 11.
It was Longin, police said, who named Stanley as the lad who fired the rifle shot which sent the boy tumbling down an outside cellar stairway at his home. He was found dead by his sister.
Longin also named the Sawicki and Mazur boys as other members of the trio whom he had taken to Joe's home to avenge a beating. Joe was not a member of the club.
Police were undecided what would be done with the youthful slayer and the boys held as his accomplices.

Winter Cracks Whip Over Eastern Areas

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—(A.P.)—Winter cracked the whip a biting north-west gale over the East today. A wind which at times at- tained a velocity of 60 miles an hour pushed the thermometer down into the twenties where it will stay for a while, meteorologists said. The storm caused delay of from 24 to 36 hours to six one liners scheduled to dock. Only one liner managed its way through the storm. In Cuba a practice pro- vices felt the coldest weather in the season. Prince Albert recorded 28 below zero and Winnipeg 15 below. One death from exposure was reported in New York.

Get Rich With Ritchie In New Slogan That Is Coined At Meet

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—(A.P.)—A voice rising from the floor of the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday may have given the United States the latest thing in presidential campaign slogans.

"Get rich with Ritchie," rang out in the midst of an oration being accorded Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland when he and his party were introduced from the gallery.

Without complete suspension of trading for three or four minutes, the floor ran, marked the governor's state.

Here to address the annual dinner of the Illinois Manufacturers Association tonight, Ritchie was frequently reminded, at other times in places, of his eligibility as a 1932 Democratic presidential candidate.

A group of 200 men which would have passed for a comprehensive "who's who of Chicago" greeted the Maryland governor at luncheon and reception tendered by George F. Gatz, millionaire coal dealer, sportsman and personal friend of Ritchie.

Mayor Cermak, Lieut. Gov. Fred D. Bunting of Illinois, Melvin A. Taylor, banker and himself mentioned as a presidential possibility, all spoke encouragingly of Ritchie's chances to become the Democratic party's candidate next summer.

Ritchie declined to give news-people his views on economics, preferring to save most of that for his address to the manufacturers.

He did, however, lament the situation in which wheat and cotton growers find themselves as a result of activities of a federal "board" in those commodities.

He criticized the lack of protection given railroads from such competition as pipe lines, barge lines and buses and trucks.

Governor Ritchie's statement that "we forget that we can't cancel foreign debts really, for when we do it passes on to the American taxpayer the full cost of the war" brought applause.

"War of all haves inaptitudes," Ritchie said, "is the prohibition situation. I am proud that Maryland stood up for what it believed and never did pass an enforcement act. Instead of promoting temperance and moral things, as it was designed to do, we find after 17 years that it is promoting intemperance and immoral things and is not being enforced."

Greater Charge For Postage Is Seen Necessary

(Continued From Page One) tion of the general treasury, it would not be advisable, pending the return of normal conditions, to fix a 3-cent rate for letter mail.

Such a rate would have balanced the budget for 1931 and would have reduced the probable operating deficit and the corresponding drain upon the treasury from $150,000,000 to about $50,000,000 for the fiscal year of 1932.

It cannot be overlooked that in 1931 one-sixth of the treasury deficit was attributable to the loss of post-office operations. It is the opinion of the postmaster general that the adoption of a 3-cent rate on non-local letter mail should be given careful consideration by Congress.

Turning from gloomy figures, Brown found cause to praise the operation of the airmail service.

With mail diminishing in volume generally, he said, there was an increased use of airmail.

Two new transcontinental routes were established during the year, one mileage route from 14,007 miles on June 30, 1930, to 23,400 miles on the same date in 1931.

"It is especially encouraging," Brown said, "to note the program made by the air transport companies generally in the development of commercial traffic to supplement their mail payments.

The department believes that within the next few years a stable passenger and express business will be developed to such proportions as to justify the gradual elimination of the aviation subsidy to a factor in air mail pay."

The postal savings system had a growth beyond all precedent. Total deposits of $1,222,222,222 were on deposit at the end of the year, an increase of $1,222,222,222. The largest increase recorded was in 1931 and amounted to $1,222,222,222.

Receipts from stamp sales amounted to $234,234,234, or a decrease of $40,404,404 under last year's total.

In addition to recommending the increase in letter mail rates, the postmaster general proposed that the rate for registered mail be increased from 10 cents to 15 cents.

Remove Limitations Upon Extension of Star Routes

Increase the limit of postal savings balances from $2500 to $5000. Authorize the postmaster general to require rural carriers to perform additional duties.

Permit railroad and electric car companies to haul mails by motor vehicles.

Remove limitations upon extension of star routes.

Authorize the postmaster general to fix the fees for domestic money orders.

The department already has gone before the Interstate Commerce Commission to request a revision upward of parcel post rates. The commission has consented to a larger size for parcel post shipments.

PROBURGED OF HOOVER'S NAVAL STAND

The Navy League head centered upon a proposal by Mr. Hoover over a year ago that food supplies should be immune from interference in time of war.

Gardiner said it was inconceivable that anyone who understands the situation could have made such a suggestion.

Gardiner's original charges caused Mr. Hoover to name a committee of prominent men to investigate.

The committee's verdict was distinctly unfavorable to Gardiner. It charged him with false assumptions and misrepresentation by the Navy League stood by its head.

Gardiner referred yesterday to what he termed Mr. Hoover's "organized effort to discredit the Navy League" but said he preferred to devote his attention to the Chief Executive's "misconceptions" of naval duties.

Gardiner said the President's Navy Day statement that the Navy was adequate and should not be increased for fear of arousing ill will was in effect a repudiation of the platform on which Mr. Hoover was elected.

Secretary Adams of the Navy Department in his annual report said many high naval officers felt that appropriations have not been sufficient to maintain an adequate Navy.

Indications that Navy needs will be gone over in Congress does not mean that the administration lacks strong support there for its feeling that the department can operate efficiently on less than some of the admirals believe is possible.

Negro Is Handed Life For Robbing John Diamantia

(Continued From Page One) arm and foot causing painful and fatal injury. Both negroes were arrested the next day by members of Chief of Police Roy G. Williams staff, assisted by Constable Bob Wilcox, and both pleaded guilty to a charge of "robbery by persons armed."

Elmo James, negro, who pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to commit first degree murder, was sentenced to 16 years at Ralston.

Roosevelt Johnson, Willis Curry, and Willie Staley, who each pleaded guilty to breaking and entering several Sanford homes with the intent to commit a felony were given five year sentences.

Henry Hall who pleaded not guilty to four charges of larceny, changed his plea to guilty, and was sentenced to three years on one indictment, and three years on an other, the sentences to run concurrently. The other two indictments were nolle prossed.

Henry Bibb, negro, who pleaded guilty to the larceny of an automobile, was sentenced to four years at Ralston.

Faced with David Russell, another negro who pleaded guilty to the larceny of an automobile, Judge Wright declared "People ought to have the right to leave their automobiles on the streets during the day or night without having someone stealing them, and I'm going to see to it that this practice is stopped," and sentenced Russell to five years at Ralston.

Court was to have progressed during the day in Judge Wright was hearing the case of Raymond Baker, colored who had pleaded not guilty to a charge of breaking and entering with intent to commit a misdemeanor, and Julio Williams, colored charged with assault with the intention to commit first degree murder.

Their attorneys asked leave to have their clients change their plea to one of guilty to a lesser degree. The motion was granted and Baker was sentenced to 18 months at Ralston, while Williams was sentenced to 12 months at Ralston.

No other criminal cases were tried today, Judge Wright dismissed

Backman To Rotarians At Meeting Today

In his interesting talk, Coach Backman expressed his pleasure over coaching the 1931 eleven which, although it lost a number of games, has given him reason to believe that within two years Florida will have a team second to none in the South.

"These members of my 1931 team were easier to handle than any I have ever known and their spirit and willingness to learn has hardened me considerably," Coach Backman said, "so much so that I feel no hesitancy in declaring that our team next year will be back where so many of our teams were, in the front rank of the nation's eleven."

Coach Backman traced the growth and popularity of football from its earliest days and pictured the numerous elements which had combined to make it the one national game which exemplifies all of the truly American elements of which we are so proud.

He pointed out that modern American football contains the enthusiasm and fire of the French; the rugged aggressiveness of the Irish; the clean sportsmanship of the English, plus many other national characteristics including the democratic spirit of America.

Before concluding, Coach Backman predicted that the University of Florida would, within five years, assume the ranking position as the South's leading school from not only an athletic but an academic viewpoint.

"Since 1928 we have graduated many boys from Florida who have since gained much prominence as members of coaching staffs of Florida's high schools," he said, "and we are now noting the effects of their training because all the boys who are coming to us yearly as football candidates are far better trained and have a better understanding of the fundamentals of our system than in former years. That means outstanding teams, students, and players year after year."

He termed Coach Leonard McLucas of Seminole High School, "one of the best boys we have ever graduated from the school," and intimated that Sanford members of various athletic groups at the University at the present time will give splendid accounts of themselves because of coaching received from Coach McLucas.

The Club was officially notified through Dave Howard, Altamonte member, that William Warner, one of the three honorary members of the Club, had died at his Jersey home today.

The meeting was under the leadership of President N. G. Gray, with Rotarian G. W. Spencer in charge of the entertainment. Members of Coach McLucas' eleven were special guests as were members of the Kiwanis, Lions and Chamber of Commerce, Ed Larson, Gainesville, secretary of the Student's Aid Society of Florida was also a guest.

Growers at Sales To Opening Sales

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 2.—(A.P.)—Kentucky's tobacco problem became more complicated yesterday as berry growers, irate over low prices, halted opening sales at four warehouses here by shooting them down. Dark leaf growers similarly halted sales last week at Owensboro, Henderson and Scottsville.

The reopening of the three dark tobacco markets forced to close last week was attended by slightly better prices than a week ago. Aside from some verbal protests over warehouse charges for selling, there was no interruption.

The entire Kentucky tobacco production has been estimated by the United States Department of Agriculture at 502,500,000 pounds, 35 per cent more than last year and 53 per cent more than the average production from 1925 to 1929.

Police who attempted to arrest George Welner, a leader of the protesting farmers, here were ejected from one warehouse without their intended prisoner.

Sales had not been in progress long yesterday afternoon when a group of farmers favored earlier protests and marching from one warehouse to the other, congested the floors and forced the auctioneers to stop the sales.

The four warehouses indicated they would resume sales today, if possible, with police aid. The 18 other warehouses here have scheduled sales for today.

Approximately 1500 growers took part in the demonstrations. It was estimated more than 3000 farmers were here yesterday for the sales.

Warm Weather Has Beneficial Effect Upon Berry Crops

PLANT CITY, Dec. 2.—Rain and warm weather over the week-end combined to shatter early season records here yesterday as growers marketed close to fifty thousand pints of strawberries and sent two express refrigerator cars rolling northward last night. The carlot movement, launched yesterday, was four days ahead of the earliest season on record of two years ago and close to a month ahead of last year, when the first solid car was forwarded on January 2.

Local offerings, augmented by berries from Dover, Lakeland, Galloway and Kathleen, made up the two cars forwarded by R. W. Burch, Inc., and Harry W. Hayner, respectively. Ninety pony refrigerators were also forwarded, to bring the day's total of berries out of here to an estimated forty-five to fifty thousand pints. The two cars carried approximately 17,000 pints each.

The yard price average yesterday was said to be approximately 10 cents the pint, nearly $5,000 for the day's shipments. With warm weather holding a continued heavy early season volume is expected.

Farley Arrives In Warm Springs To Talk To Roosevelt

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Dec. 2.—(A.P.)—James A. Farley, chairman of the New York State Democratic Executive committee, arrived here last night hoping he could spend some time "alone" with Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt so "we can clear up a lot of minor state affairs."

Mr. Farley, who conferred in Washington with Congressional leaders, reported his prediction that Governor Roosevelt would be nominated by the Democratic presidential choice in 1932 on the first ballot.

He made his report several days after the election of Governor Roosevelt in New York. A previous dinner engagement with Governor Richard B. Russell in Atlanta, prevented Governor Roosevelt's presence here when Mr. Farley arrived. A short conference however, was in prospect late last night upon the return of Governor Roosevelt.

At a meeting yesterday of the newly organized Savannah-Seattle highway association, Governor Roosevelt said he believed "one of the causes of the present depression was the overlooking of money against improvements that have no long life value."

The governor, who was elected honorary president of the association, said he believed that after a state reaches a certain point in the building of a primary system of highways, there "should be a limit to count out of the capital funds."

In New York, he said, he would "not" build a road that would "not" pay for itself in 10 years. He said he would "not" build a road that would "not" pay for itself in 10 years.

Chicago Arrests In Wisconsin Town

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—(A.P.)—Frank McErlane, "public enemy" and gunman sought since Oct. 7, when his wife and her two pet dogs were found shot to death in his automobile was arrested yesterday at Madison, Wis., police said last night. He was rushed to Chicago by police squads under the command of Pat Roche, state's attorney investigator.

McErlane called by police Chicago's "toughest gangster" was captured in a farmhouse near Madison.

McErlane's whereabouts had been a mystery since he disappeared coincident with the slaying of his wife, formerly Marion Miller of St. Louis. She was found shot to death in his car, abandoned on a South Side prairie. Police described her shooting and the slaying of her two dogs, whose bodies lay beneath her in the tonneau of the automobile as one of the most brutal and cold blooded in their memory.

In February, 1930, McErlane was wounded by gangsters in a hospital while recovering from an other gangland shooting scrape a short time before. The racketeer and gangster at that time fired several shots at his assailants with a pistol he kept beneath his pillow.

For some weeks after McErlane disappeared, police said they believed he had been slain at the same time as his wife and his body carted away for disposal. Lately, however, the gangland "underground telegraph" had sent word the gunman was still alive and well.

Northern Man Buys Altamonte Property

W. H. Haas, of Springfield, Ill., has purchased from H. L. Williamson, a 65-acre tract of land near Altamonte Springs, and will move to Florida with his wife about Jan. 1.

This property contains 20 acres of grapefruit, 20 acres of oranges, and a splendid home with all modern conveniences. It is located in Altamonte Springs on the Appoka Road. There was a $20,000 iron blast furnace involved and the title was closed through the Title Guaranty and Mortgage Company of Sanford.

Local offerings, augmented by berries from Dover, Lakeland, Galloway and Kathleen, made up the two cars forwarded by R. W. Burch, Inc., and Harry W. Hayner, respectively. Ninety pony refrigerators were also forwarded, to bring the day's total of berries out of here to an estimated forty-five to fifty thousand pints. ### Fascist Secretary Resigns Post For Another Position

ROME, Dec. 2.—(A.P.)—Offered up as a sacrifice on the altar of duty and state unity, Giovanni Gerioli resigned yesterday as secretary of the Fascist party.

He will transfer his authority as the second most powerful figure in the blackshirt movement to Alfredo Starace, vice secretary of the Fascist party.

A formal announcement granted Starace the right to resign his post as secretary of the party and to be succeeded by Gerioli.

It was recalled that when Gerioli resigned, he was succeeded by Starace as secretary of the party.

How many FRIENDS have You..

There are so many attractive sections of the city in which to live, that your friends are sure to be scattered, and of course many friends and relatives live in distant cities. Keeping these friendships alive, however, is easy with a telephone in the home.

Whether it's just a social conversation with a neighbor in the next block, or a voice visit using the quick and extensive long distance telephone service, calling with friends by telephone is a convenient way to visit from home.

Of course the modern family uses this telephone for many other purposes. The day's groceries are ordered, an appointment is made with the dentist—just at the office and mother or how discuss some little problem—and all without the bother of a trip in person. Should some danger threaten—the doctor, the police department and the fire department are quickly available at those times when minutes are important.

With all the countless ways in which it serves through the routine of daily life, and with its presence an assurance of help in emergencies, modern telephone service is so low in cost that it really doesn't pay to try to do without it.

ECONOMY... YES, NOT COSTLY, BUT FAST, CLEAN, COOL AND SURE

It's not always what we make, but what we are able to save that leads to prosperity. It is astonishing the tremendous waste there is in improperly cooked food. Cooking equipment of an obsolete or worn out type causes excessive consumption of electricity and an over exertion of human energy. For economy you will make no mistake in installing a Hot point in your kitchen. A small down payment puts a Hot point in your home, the balance in eighteen monthly payments.
