Central Index For Service Agencies Set

A central index registry for local service and social agencies is being established by Mrs. B. F. Ganas, executive secretary of the United Fund of Seminole County.

"The service is designed as a confidential file, to be used only by participating agencies to better coordinate services and promote efficiency in the handling of cases by eliminating duplication," Mrs. Ganas said.

"In many instances, the file would tend to expedite aid to those in need," she added.

Local agencies included in the central index registration include the Mental Health Association, the Salvation Army, the Seminole County Welfare Department, the Seminole County Health Clinic, the State Department of Public Welfare, Seminole County Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, the Probation and Parole Commission, Veterans County Service Office, Seminole County Vocational School, the Ministerial Association, and the Seminole County TB and RD Association.

State Employment Service Manager Joe Foy has indicated his full cooperation in assisting in the placement of any individuals with whom the various agencies are working.

"This is another example of the many services performed for the people of this county by the United Fund," said Mrs. Ganas.

Injunction Seen In Annex Row

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI)—Circuit Court Judge P. B. Revels was expected to rule late today on a request for an injunction to halt work on the Daytona Beach courthouse annex—a new move in the 33-month-long county seat relocation fight.

In a surprise move recently the East Volusia Relocation Committee, a group which is fighting to move the county seat from DeLand to Daytona Beach, was allowed to amend its injunction petition and switch to an all-out attack on the county commissioners.

Kennedy Asks Businessmen For Support

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy sought today to enlist the support of prominent businessmen for the civil rights program he plans to send Congress next week.

The President scheduled a 5 p.m. (EDT) meeting at the White House with 100 executives whose firms operate widely through the South. Kennedy had hoped to get his special civil rights message to Congress today, but administration sources said he had postponed the legislation to await conferences—such as today's—which he and Atty Gen. Robert F. Kennedy feel are vital to success of the program.

One of the proposals under consideration is reported to permit the attorney general to file suits on behalf of Negroes excluded from public schools and other facilities. Another would forbid racial discrimination in business dealing in interstate commerce—presumably hotels, motels, some stores, theaters, restaurants and such.

Involved in today's meeting were representatives from chain stores, restaurants, hotels and theaters, the target of many Negro demonstrations recently.

Among those invited to the White House meeting were Mrs. L. Claughton, president of Cloughton Theatres, Miami, and L. Finske, president of Florida State Theatres, Jacksonville.

The President leaves Wednesday on a speaking and inspection trip to the West Coast. He will return to the White House Monday morning for final work on the civil rights message and the accompanying legislation.

Lake Mary UPW Holds Last Meeting Of Current Season

By Frances Wester

Mrs. A. E. Crocker was hostess to the UPW Association of the Community Presbyterian Church of Lake Mary for the last meeting before adjourning for the summer months of June, July, and August.

Mrs. John Pilley opened the program with a Devotional relative to the program subject "Medical Missions." Her invitation to the group to participate in the discussion by naming a personal blessing gave a special thoughtful interest in her presentation of the subject. The discussion closed with the Mizpah benediction.

Mrs. Rowland Goble, president of the association, presided at the business session which primarily concerned the plans for the Fall Bazaar. Concentrated work on this will be resumed in September.

The hostess served refreshments of cake, punch, and coffee during the social hour.

Other members present were Mrs. Don Smith, Mrs. W. B. Harrison, Mrs. Millard Rice, Mrs. John Ulmer, Mrs. Ray Cross, Mrs. Joe Snathers, Mrs. Frank Evans, Mrs. Robert Rugenstein, Mrs. H. M. Negroes Set 'Rights' Push

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—Negro leaders hoped the presence here today of James Meredith, the first Negro student at the University of Mississippi, would bolster a civil rights push that already has resulted in the jailing of 570 Negroes.

Meredith told more than 1,000 Negroes Sunday night, in what he said was his first formal speech, that he had dedicated himself to the purpose of aiding "underprivileged Americans."

Negro comedian Dick Gregory, who has led civil rights marches in Greenwood, Miss., and Birmingham, Ala., was to arrive today to aid the movement.

Confident GAINESVILLE (UPI)—University of Florida President J. Wayne Reitz said this weekend he was confident the Legislature would provide additional university construction funds during its striped session.

Cuban Experiences Shared With Casselberry Methodists

By Jane Casselberry The congregation of the Casselberry Community Methodist Church gained more insight into what the Communist takeover in Cuba meant to the Methodist school and churches there when three speakers shared their personal experiences last Sunday night.

Jose and Rosita Martinez told of the many kindnesses shown them when they were forced to flee Castro's wrath with their three children aged three weeks, 18 months and three years.

Dave Rankin, son of Rev. and Mrs. Victor Rankin, Methodist missionaries to Cuba for many years, who is now in the United States to further his education, also told of his experiences in Cuba.

Rev. Delmas Copeland introduced the Martinezes, telling of their friendship and how their lives had been a real inspiration to him.

Tears came to Senora Martinez' eyes when four members of the Cherub Choir sang "Jesus Loves Me" in Spanish with the whole congregation joining in on the next chorus... "Christo me ama..."

Lovely Senora Martinez, known to TV viewers as Senorita Rosita, formerly taught in a Methodist school in Cuba where Chinese Communists are now teaching the doctrine of Marx.

The Martinezes were among the few who were not deceived by Castro's promises. When she told the truth about Communism to her pupils instead of propaganda, her home was searched repeatedly, allegedly for "mosquitos."

When it became obvious that their lives were in danger and that they must leave the country, a Methodist minister in Winter Garden became their sponsor and sent them airline tickets for the trip.

They turned their backs on their lovely home and, with limited funds and the possessions they could carry, came to the United States. Rosita could not speak any English at that time and with great foresight, Jose told his pretty wife to answer all questions by pointing to him and saying, "Thees ees my husband."

Rankin told of going to Cuba at the age of six years with his missionary parents to build a school and churches and to train Cuban ministers.

The Rankins left Cuba when it became obvious that because they were from the U. S. the lives of Cubans with whom they associated were being endangered. In 1960 many of the native ministers also were forced to leave.

The educational system in WASHINGTON (UPI)—Indications today were that President Kennedy probably will have to by-pass the House Ways & Means Committee to get his controversial medical care bill through Congress.

That HIFA agent who was coming here from Atlanta to look over the situation for a port terminal feasibility study loan must have gone by way of China. Two months ago it was reported he would be here in two weeks. Now, those who should know report "I don't know."

However, there is some consolation about that loan. It's been reliably reported that local guns are preparing their ammunition to convince the HIFA man we need the loan. They'll point to the jet fuel pipeline, the new Jacksonville-Sanford barge line, other facilities already installed, the proposed Sanford-East Coast canal.

Village Buys Fire Truck

Definite steps to provide fire protection in North Orlando were taken Tuesday evening when the Village Council voted unanimously to put a $200 binder with the Union Park Fire Dept. for another truck and authorized Fire Chief Bill Hahn to go ahead with reorganization of the volunteer fire department.
A total price of $100 is being asked for the 1918 Ford truck which comes with an 800-gallon water tank and a 20-foot extension ladder. It is dual wheel, has good rubber and is in good running condition but will need an auxiliary pump at a cost of $325. Even so, it was the decision of Council and of those inspecting the truck that overall costs would be less than those needed to put the present 1929 vintage equipment in working order.
Council authorized Mrs. Irene Van Espoel to contact Chassin Insurance Agency on the possibility of getting coverage for the volunteer firemen at the same time police are written for the volunteer police after it was decided to get action started for the firemen.
Mrs. Fred Salter was asked to check with Sanford Atlantic National Bank concerning a missing title for the village police car and Councilman Art Rhodes was asked to report to the proper authorities that the police department's gun is missing, as are the spotlight, badges and other items of needed equipment.
A request for variance on building restrictions at 110 Lombardy Rd. was tabled for further consideration at a special council meeting to be held at 7:30 p. m. next Wednesday.

Overpopulation Considered Peril

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Historian Arnold J. Toynbee told a 10-nation food conference today that when mankind has conquered pestilence, war and crop failure it will still face a fourth peril—the "thundering tramp" of overpopulation.
His two-fold solution: — Establish a worldwide agency to administer production and distribution of food. — Extensive birth control.

Alaskan Crash Is Probed

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) — Bits of wreckage and human remains from the crash or ditching of a Northwest Orient Airlines DC7 in the Gulf of Alaska were expected in Ketchikan today aboard the Coast Guard cutter Sorrell.
Preparations for an investigation of the third worst air disaster involving predominantly military personnel will get under way at the Annette Island Coast Guard Station.
Although the Coast Guard said no conclusions could be reached yet about what caused the plane to fall into the gulf Monday, a spokesman said whatever happened was fast.
"It appears either the impact was tremendous or there was an explosion," Lt. Col. Owen Siler, directing Coast Guard operations at Ketchikan, said.
"Whatever happened happened very quickly because the plane didn't answer two minutes after it made its position report," he said.
Siler said the possibility of a bomb aboard the aircraft "could not be ruled out." He said he did not believe any of the bodies found so far were intact.
A Royal Canadian Air Force plane first spotted the floating debris about eight hours after the DC7's last radio contact. No survivors were found.

House Debates Finance Plan

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The House kicked off debate on the Governor's $125 million bond financing program today but bogged down in arguments over proposed changes in the plan.
Rep. Earl Faircloth, of Dade, sought to alter the proposal to back any bond issues for higher education construction with general revenue bonds. Under the Senate-passed plan, bonds would be backed by a pledge of revenue from the $22 million gross receipts tax on utilities.
Faircloth said putting a pledge of general state funds behind the bonds would reduce interest costs. He said if the State could save only one-half of one percent in interest, it would mean $18 million on the overall issue.

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The House did an about-face today and impeached Pasco Circuit Judge Richard Kelly by a vote of 89-28.

Politics, Military Tied - JFK

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI) — President Kennedy said today the Cuban crisis had demonstrated that military policy and power must be tied closely to political and diplomatic decisions in the future.
The President is on the first leg of a five-day inspection and speaking trip which the president extended at the last minute to include Hawaii.
In a commencement address at the U. S. Air Force Academy Stadium here, Kennedy told the young Air Force officers that the nation would need military commanders "who can foresee the effects of military moves on the whole fabric of international power."
"We need men who can cope with the challenge of new political situations as well as new enemy weapons — who can keep their forces flexible as well as reliable, and alert without being trigger happy," he said.
"For we live in a world where the principal problems are not susceptible of military solutions alone."
In his prepared remarks Kennedy attacked the suggestion that an Air Force career was "mortgaged to an obsolete weapons system, the manned aircraft."
The President said there was no truth to the forecast that Air Force officers of the future would be "nothing more than so-called 'silent sitters'."

Bored Students' Needs Studied

By David Nydick
 UPI Education Specialist
 Much has been written about children being bored because they are not challenged. Perhaps some school programs are not properly designed to meet the needs of all students. Actually the problem is more involved than just a weak program. The bright student will have little difficulty with the normal work of any program. He could be given advanced work.

Travel Bureau Spending Probed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Capitol Hill is a major tourist attraction, but I doubt it would currently be recommended by the U. S. Travel Service. Six officials of the service made a trip up the Hill recently to testify before a House appropriations subcommittee. Judging from the transcript of the hearing, which was released this week, I imagine they now regard the place as having something in common with the Black Hole of Calcutta. The Travel Service, created within the Commerce Department to attract foreign visitors to the U.S.A. is seeking a $12 million appropriation to carry on this work in fiscal 1964. However, there appeared to be some question in the minds of the subcommittee members as to whether the program thus far had operated with optimum results.

Junior Golf Tourney Scheduled June 14

Sanford-Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its junior golf tournament June 14 at Mayfair Country Club. This will be an 18 hole medal tournament. There will be three age groups, 9-12, 13-15 and 16-17 and an entrant must not have reached his 18th birthday by Aug. 15.

The winner of each of these divisions will be sent to the state junior golf finals at Umatilla June 24-26. The four low scores at Umatilla, regardless of age, will be sent to Midland, Texas, to participate in the International Jaycee junior golf championship as the Florida State Team. Trophies will be awarded. Registration blanks may be picked up at the Jaycee building on French Avenue.

All amateur golfers who have not reached their 18th birthday by Aug. 15 are encouraged to register and compete in this tournament. Jim Chapman is chairman of the local tournament.

Maury Wills Off, Running And Dodgers Winning Again

By United Press International
Maury Wills is off and running again—and it's no coincidence that the Los Angeles Dodgers are back in the win column again.

The National League's most valuable player of 1957 was sidelined two weeks ago with a toe ailment that made the Dodgers hurt all over to the tune of eight losses in 12 games, including five in a row up to Tuesday night.

Then, the man who set an all-time major league record of 104 stolen bases in one season returned to action. His chance of challenging his own record are gone for this season, but he has a more important quality: the ability to make the Dodgers win.

The end of the Dodgers' five-game losing streak came with a 5-1 victory over the Houston Colts and the "odd run" was Wills' run—scored in the third inning when he singled, stole second and tallied on a single by Ron Fairly. Wills also scored the Dodgers' other run when he walked in the first inning, went to third on Junior Gilliam's double and tallied on a wild pitch by Dick Drott.

Bob Miller pitched five-hit ball for eight innings to win his fourth game as the ninth-inning relief aid of Ron Ferraro. The Dodgers advanced to within three games of the first-place San Francisco Giants, who were beaten by the surprising Chicago Cubs, 6-1.

The Milwaukee Braves rallied after 22 1/2 consecutive scoreless innings for three runs in the ninth inning to beat the New York Mets, 3-2, in the only other NL game. Cincinnati and Pittsburgh were rained out.

The Dodger victory was a typical "Wills win" because the erratic-hitting Los Angeles club was held to three hits in seven innings by Drott. It was the old story of the light-hitting team needing something extra — and the 1952 story of Wills' speed producing that something extra.

In the American League, the Baltimore Orioles beat the New York Yankees, 3-1, the Cleveland Indians downed the Detroit Tigers, 6-4, the Washington Senators edged out the Boston Red Sox, 1-0, the Minnesota Twins shipped the Kansas City Athletics, 5-0, and the Los Angeles Angels nipped the Chicago White Sox, 1-0.

The Cubs scored their eighth victory in their last 10 games as Bob Buhl pitched a five-hitter against the Giants.

for his fifth win of the season. Billy O'Dell, who had won eight straight games, suffered his first defeat against a 10-hit Cub attack led by Ron Santo and Ernie Banks with three hits each.

Relief pitcher Glen Cisco walked in the tying run and forced in the winning run when he hit pinch-hitter Mack Jones with a pitched ball to present the Braves with their win over the Mets. Carlton Willey, ex-Brave, had shut out the Milwaukee swingers with two hits until the ninth. Relief pitcher Claude Raymond notched his fourth win for Milwaukee while the loss was Willey's fifth against four wins.

VACATION FISHING paid off recently for Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Harper Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith, of Sanford, operating on Capt. Bob Owens' "Honeychillie" out of West Palm Beach. Polly Smith (left) brought in this seven-foot, four-inch sailfish, while that of Harper (right) measured seven-foot, 10 1/2 inches. Smith also pulled in one measuring six feet, eight inches. The vacationers also hooked plenty of bonita and other species.

Twitch In The Left Shoulder Gives Yankees Pain In Neck

By United Press International
A slight twitch in Steve Barber's left shoulder explains today why the New York Yankees have a very large pain in the neck.

A 24-year-old left-hander who can throw a baseball through the side of a barn, Barber felt the twitch about three weeks ago. He informed Baltimore Orioles manager Tommy Hitchcock then and there that he would rely henceforth on his fast ball.

The six-foot, 100-pound Barber couldn't have caused more grief among American League hitters if he had announced that he was going to fire 50-caliber dum-dum bullets out of a machine gun at them. Because Steve's fast ball is just about all any pitcher needs—as evidence his 6-4 record that makes him the first AL pitcher of the season to reach nine victories.

A crowd of 37,137 in Baltimore saw Barber move the Orioles into first place Tuesday night with a 3-1 victory over the Yankees.

Barber's ninth win enabled him to equal his entire total of 1952, part of which he spent in the Army, and made him a leading candidate to become a 20-game winner this season. That would make him the first 20-game winner in modern Baltimore baseball history.

Barber struck out six and walked three in 5 2/3 innings before Dick Hall emerged from the bullpen to retire El-

Yank Golfers Being Topped In British Amateur Golf

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland—(UPI)—Only 14 of an original 30-man American contingent remained in contention for the British Amateur golf championship today after two days of action.

Nine Yanks failed to survive their opening tests Monday and 16 were chucked to the sidelines Tuesday, including U. S. champion Lahron Harris, of Stillwater, Okla., and fellow Walker Cuppers Billy Joe Patton, of Morganton, N. C., and Bob Gardner, of Essex Falls, N. J.

Seven of the U. S. survivors were scheduled to play second round matches this morning. The lucky ones will join the seven other Yank contenders in third round play this afternoon.

Five U. S. Walker Cuppers avoided elimination during the first two hectic days of firing over St. Andrews par-3 old course. They were defending champion Dick Davies of Pebble Beach, Calif., Charlie Smith of Gastonia, N. C., Dick Sikes of Springdale, Ark., Dr. Edgar Updegraff of Tucson, Ariz., and Downing Gray of Pensacola, Fla.

Canadians Seen As 'Hollow Shell'

MONTREAL (UPI)—The once awesome Montreal Canadiens hockey dynasty is only a hollow shell today following the passing of four more Habs from the scene through trades and waivers.

The Canadiens, who built what was once one of the best hockey machines ever to grace a National Hockey League rink, Tuesday traded away Jacques Plante, a 24-year-old goaltender considered by many the best netminder the league has ever seen, and smooth-skating forwards Donnie Marshall, 31, and Phil Goyette, 30, to the New York Rangers.

In exchange, the Canadiens received another 34-year-old goalie, Lorne Gump Worsley, and three nondescript forwards, Dave Halon, Leon Rochefort and Len Ronson.

Slugfest Staged At Lakeland

By United Press International
Leading Sarasota, rained out again, lost another half-game Tuesday night, but they had a real, old-fashioned tilt in Lakeland.

The Miami Marlins walked away with a 12-11 victory — after a marathon 3 1/2-hour game that saw 38 hits and 17 walks.

No less than nine pitchers led the mound during the game.

Slick Andrews and Ray Kerkendall led the Marlins, each with four singles to drive in two runs.

In other league action, Fort Lauderdale beat Tampa 10-3 and Orlando beat St. Petersburg 8-3. The Daytona Beach Sarasota game was rained out at Sarasota, home of the league leaders.

Third Baseman John Miller hit a bases-loaded triple in the fourth to lead Ft. Lauderdale to victory in a contest shortened to seven innings by rain.

Don Semon twirled a three-hitter and sided his own effort with a two-run triple in the fifth.

Orlando batters got to two pitchers in the third for six straight hits, five singles and a double. When the smoke cleared, six runs were across the plate.

Bill Wagner and Al Menke each singled in two in the third, and Wagner returned to the plate in the sixth to single in two more.

Tonight, Miami is at Lakeland, Ft. Lauderdale at Tampa, Daytona Beach at St. Petersburg and Orlando at Sarasota.

Track 'War' Would Hurt U.S.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, president of the U. S. Olympic Committee, and champion miler Jim Beatty joined Gen. Douglas MacArthur today in deploring the latest outbreak of hostilities between the NCAA and the AAU.

Wilson urged that MacArthur call the opposing sides together "in the very near future" to forestall another track "war" that would weaken the U. S. team for its dual meet against Russia in Moscow next month.

The Olympic leaders said in Chicago that the current dispute "apparently has come out of a difference of interpretation of Gen. MacArthur's March 12 ruling" when the five-star general first mediated the AAU-NCAA squabble over control of track meets.

Beatty asked the warring factions to discontinue their feud because "it would be a shame if this summer in Moscow the men's track and field team of Russia defeated the U. S. men's team for the first time."

The latest eruption was caused by the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference (ECAC) announcement Monday that member schools should not participate in AAU-sanctioned track meets unless sponsors of these events obtained sanctions from the U. S. Track and Field Federation, a wing of the NCAA.

This immediately produced an outburst from MacArthur, since a new war could pre-

Keystoneers Get Harness Racing PHILADELPHIA (UPI)

The horse players of Pennsylvania, surrounded by states with legalized betting, can do it at home with the full blessing of the law beginning this Friday.

Liberty Bell Park, the Commonwealth's first licensed harness racing track with pari-mutuel betting, writes Keystone State history when it opens a 90-day meet, and the bettors can hardly wait.

Actually, they have been waiting for something like 150 years for just such an occasion, the result of a 1959 law passed by the Pennsylvania Legislature. However, flat racing still is locked in the stable.

A federal grand jury in Chicago indicated Hoffa and seven other persons Tuesday on charges alleging they fraudulently obtained $20 million in loans from a Teamster pension fund and used more than $1 million of it for themselves.

Society Slayer Has Baby Girl

BOSTON (UPI) — The blond, sociable niece of actor Montgomery Clift Monday night gave birth to a 7-pound 2-ounce girl—the baby of the man she admitted killing.

Boston Lying-In Hospital officials said today both the mother, post-debutante Suzanne Clift, and the still unnamed baby are "well."

Miss Clift, 21, was admitted to the hospital Monday night after being driven in a beach wagon from the Massachusetts Mental Health Center.

She has been confined to the mental institution since being allowed to plead guilty to manslaughter in the shooting death of Piero B. Brentani, 37, an Italian-Swiss electronics engineer, whose body was found last October in her padlocked bedroom.

Superior Court Judge Lewis Goldberg allowed her to plead guilty to manslaughter and placed her on probation for 10 years on condition that she enter a mental institution.

Citrus Budget Hearing Slated

LAKELAND (UPI) — The Citrus Commission's budget committee was to meet here today to discuss next season's operating expenditures. Homer Hooks said the budget would be subject to change after the October crop estimate. The full commission will discuss the budget at its June 12 meeting.

It was the seventh time since Kennedy and Hoffa first tangled while Kennedy was chief counsel for the Senate Rackets Committee that Hoffa has had court actions filed against him.

The action Tuesday came after two years of investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Justice Department. It came in the form of a 25-count, 65-page indictment.

As the indictment was handed down, a 10-count mail and wire fraud indictment against Hoffa was dismissed on motion of Kennedy's department in Tampa, Fla.

U. S. District Judge Joseph P. Lieb dismissed the indictment involving Hoffa's connections with a Florida real estate firm, Sun Valley Inc., so the case could be coupled with the Chicago prosecution.

The Chicago indictment accused Hoffa of deceiving fellow trustees of the Central States, Southeast and Southwest Areas Pension Fund, headquartered in Chicago, to obtain loans for favored companies in six states. Most of the companies are in the Miami, Fla., area.

The indictment cited loans for financing of hotels, motels, shopping centers and other projects in Florida, Louisiana, Alabama, Missouri, New Jersey and California.

Pension fund trustees once were told, the grand jury said, that $2 million in loan funds was used to build a North Miami hospital whereas a "substantial portion" of the money was diverted to other uses.

The indictment said Hoffa used "fraud, deceit, misrepresentation" to obtain approval of the loans by the seven other union and eight management representatives who run the pension fund.

Others named in the indictment were:

Benjamin Dranow, 66, former owner of the John W. Thomas Department Store, Minneapolis, Minn., now in prison for mail fraud and income tax evasion; Abe T. Weinblatt, 67, retired Miami Beach, Fla., businessman and former associate of Dranow; S. George Burris, 65, New York City accountant who was a stockholder in Sun Valley Inc.; his son, Herbert G. Burris, 41, New York City attorney; Samuel Human, 60, Miami Beach, a real estate operator who refurbished two large old Key West hotels; Calvin Knevens, 39, Miami Beach builder who was convicted of a housing loan fraud last year; and Zachary A. Strate Jr., 43, New Orleans builder and real estate man.

More Industry Seen In State

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — More industry should come to Florida in the wake of a U. S. Supreme Court decision upholding the state's prohibition of agency shops, according to the president of the Associated Industries of Florida.

"This once and for all declares it illegal for any Florida employer to enter into an agreement with a union which requires his employees to join a union, to not join, or pay a union if he decides not to join," said William Shands of Gainesville.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 45 years old and have been married almost 15 years. My wife is a good cook, a good housekeeper and a good woman. She has one bad fault. She will spend lots of time watering her African violets, her one passion in life, but she never asks me if I want a drink of water. I am well able to get myself a drink of water, but it would be nice if she would offer it to me once in a while. Am I wrong?
MR. R.T.K.

MAN WITH A HOBBY
keep everybody happy?
DEAR MAN: No one can keep "everybody happy". But for a start, tell Sweet 16 (sweetly) that she should spend more time on her homework and less on your shop work. P. S. Tell "wifey" to grow up, too.

DEAR ABBY: Is it correct for a wedding to be held in the groom's church? The bride's church is a small one in a rural section, and has no place for the reception. The groom's church is very large and has a huge basement where receptions are held. Please print your answer because about 800 people are directly involved.
EDNA

DEAR EDNA: The wedding setting is the bride's choice. Traditionally, the bride is married in her own church, but if she prefers to be married in the groom's church, it is proper to have it there.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ELEANOR: He doesn't need to be told that he is burning the candle at both ends. He is only interested in where he can get more wax.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

All deccivers don't go around selling gold bricks. Some operate at the bridge table.

South was more of a duplicate player than a rubber bridge man so instead of being properly thankful for the small favor of a spade lead which insured his contract, South went out after everything that he could gather in.

He came to his hand with the jack of diamonds at trick two and led the queen of hearts. Meanwhile East had been engaged in a little quiet thought. Obviously South held four spades so that if the suit were headed by the ace

South would have responded one spade, not one no trump. In that case South would have the ace of the clubs among his securities and there would be no way to keep him from making also tricks unless East could instill a real feeling of confidence.

Accordingly, East lost no time letting the queen of hearts hold and when South led a second heart dummy's ten was allowed to hold that trick.

Now South was ready to make five odd. He led a spade from dummy. West took his ace and led the six of clubs. East's jack forced south's ace and South promptly led a third heart and finessed dummy jack.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Most women have a card file or notebook filled with the very best recipes of their friends, recipes under such headlines as "Mary's Brownies," "Dad's barbecued chicken," "Alice's upside-down cake."

as you are, how are you able to do so many nice things for so many different people? "What have you done to make your family such a happy, companionable, loyal clan?"

These borrowed recipes in time become their own prize recipes. They never hesitate to say to a friend who has served them something special, "I've got to have this recipe. Will you give it to me?"

You might not want to ask these questions, though there would be no harm done. But you could, by putting your mind to it, figure out just how your friends have happened to succeed in special ways, or just how they have developed their outstanding qualities.

Why don't we women, then, go a step further and "borrow" our friends' most pleasing traits and outstanding qualities?

Once you have come up with the answers, what's to prevent you from borrowing their best "recipes" for living?

We might hesitate to ask for such personal recipes" as, "How have you managed to get your work so well organized that you always seem to have plenty of time for yourself?" "Busy

The only card file you would need is a mental one. It would serve to remind you that the traits and qualities you admire in your friends you could-and should-borrow to make your own life easier and more pleasant, and to make yourself more

Highlights

TV Time Previews

7:30-9 p. m. NBC. The Virginian. "If You Have Tears." (color) (rerun). Occasionally this series skirts routine western action to come up with a good dramatic plot and performance. This is one. The Virginian heeds the call of a pal who swears he is innocent of a murder charge. It's the murdered man's wife he suspects and wants the Virginian to help prove it. But the Virginian falls for the doll and believes her innocent. Dana Wynter supplies much of the excellent emotion of the victim's wife, with Robert Vaughn, Nancy Sinatra and Britt Lomond. James Drury stars.

7:30-8:30 p. m. ABC. Wagon Train. "The Barnaby West Story." This episode introduces Michael Burns, youngest star of the now-defunct "It's A Man's World" series, as an added regular for next season. He portrays Barnaby West, whom the wagon train picks up after he seemingly has journeyed over 2,000 miles to reportedly meet his father in Sacramento. The lad's courage and integrity ring true, but his story does not. Bill Hawks (Terry Wilson) likes the lad and tries to determine whether he is running to or away from his parents. You'll recognize the father in later scenes as veteran actor Stuart Erwin. Practically no physical action, but interestingly warm.

9:30-10 p. m. CBS. The Dick Van Dyke Show. "Where Did I Come From," a question from young Richie, sets the pace for this show and it turns out to be fast, furious and very funny. Rob's explanation, in flashback scenes, shows his mad haste to get Laura to the hospital, complete with lost trousers, black eye and a smashed automobile. It's Van Dyke at his tastefully zaniest and easily ranks with the better shows in the series, despite the absence of the star's co-workers Buddy and Sally.

10-11 p. m. CBS. Circle Theater. "Secret Document X228." This is more in the nature of a primer on government security than anything else, although the producers did take some care to insert enough dramatic emphasis to make it appealing TV fare. A secret document turns up in a West German beer hall ten days after it was supposed to be burned and its destruction officially certified. The program's object is to show how security forces operate in the maze of facts and fiction they encounter in their search for the responsible parties.

10-11 p. m. ABC. Naked City. "Hold For Gloria Christmas." (rerun) Burgess Meredith and Herschel Bernardi make this a notable presentation and tonight's best bet. The story is told in flashbacks after the murder of a eloquent, entertaining and egotistical poet, played by Meredith. An alcoholic, he sells some of his works to a bar owner before being hospitalized. When he escapes from the hospital, he returns for his poems but is refused, so he decides to steal them. The excellence of the performance by these two is further enhanced by a supporting cast, equal to the task, including Sanford Meisner and Eileen Heckart, Paul Burke and Maurice McMahon star.

Pope Prayed For Unity Of Christians

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — With his final words, Pope John XXIII called prayerfully for Christian unity.

"Ut unum sint," he said. "That they be one."

After uttering the Latin words Pope John lapsed into the final coma that ended his life.

"Ut unum sint" were the words of Jesus Christ at the Last Supper.

BOB ORWIG, ceramics instructor for the City Recreation Department, was surprised with an "end of class appreciation party" in the Arts and Crafts building in Fort Mellon Park. Orwig sits in the maple rocking chair presented to him by the class. Surrounding him are some of his students. From left: Mrs. Gladys Fowler, Mrs. Robert Zittrower, Mrs. Dolly Cherry, Recreation Director Jim Jernigan, Mrs. Orwig, Mrs. Ann Gracey and Mrs. Sarah Roberts. (Herald Photo)

Throughout the agony of death Pope John repeatedly voiced words of comfort and inspiration.

"Death is not an ending," he told one of his doctors, Pietro Valdoni. "With death a new life begins, a glorification in Christ."

Arnold Palmer Back On Tour

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Arnold Palmer, one of professional golf's biggest money-makers, said today he feels "just great" and is anxious to get back on the tour after a three-week layoff to rest up and reshape his game.

Palmer, voted the PGA player of the year in 1962 after banking $81,448 in official earnings, took a break after he lost his golden touch last month.

Coming out of a coma unexpectedly June 1 and asking doctors for a cup of coffee, he quipped: "Well, we are still here."

"The time still has not come. The Lord wants the offering of my suffering. The Lord's will be done." Speaking the night of June 1 to Eugene Cardinal Tisserant.

Nicklaus Eyed For Grand Slam

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus and not Arnold Palmer is the only man who possibly could make golf's coveted "grand slam," their fellow professionals agreed practically unanimously today.

But, they added, it is in the realm of fantasy to believe that any man could sweep the big four—the U. S. and British Opens, the Masters and the PGA—under current conditions.

Drops In Ratings

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UPI) —The World Boxing Association (WBA) today automatically dropped Harold Johnson of Philadelphia to third among contenders because of his loss of the world light heavyweight championship to Willie Pastrano last Saturday.

When Luck Runs Out

Now and then a nation surfeited with news of automobile fatalities hears of a traffic mishap with real shock value. The question is whether the driving public learns from it.

Such an event was the multiple crash of 17 vehicles — 14 of them trucks — on the New Jersey turnpike, a major toll artery with a generally very good safety record.

In that frightening disaster six trucks and drivers were killed and a number of other persons hospitalized with injuries.

What is the lesson in this for all motorists?

Basically it is simple. Most drivers do not allow a proper margin of safety as they move about on streets and highways.

The New Jersey accident occurred in thick nighttime fog. Only 45 minutes earlier, police had turned on electric signs reducing the speed limit from a normal 60 miles an hour to 35.

The crash was a typical chain reaction, one truck or car piling after another into the tangled mass. Some vehicles were buried two or three deep, suggesting speeds above the prescribed maximum may have been observed. It takes a lot of impact to put one car atop another.

Fog obviously should dictate extreme caution. But so should "normal" conditions on today's modern express routes.

On most of these, the whole heavy flow of traffic moves at a swift pace. Few drivers can see very far ahead, and not many try.

Few maintain adequate distance between their car and those ahead and behind. Everybody trusts to luck that nothing will happen.

This isn't good enough, and the proof is in the chain reaction mishaps, worst of which was the California affair involving 200 cars.

But there is more to it than keeping sensible distance and trying to judge the traffic situation far ahead.

Just as serious a failing, and very common, is chronic inattention on the part of drivers. Recently, on a high-speed road, a woman going 50 in heavy traffic turned her head for several seconds to kiss her baby on the nose. If she had crashed in those critical seconds, the report would have said "the car went out of control."

Worse still is failure to control the vehicle effectively. The business of driving with one arm out of the window, of keeping no more than a wrist or a couple of fingers on the wheel, should stop for good and all. If observed by police, it should carry automatic penalty as reckless driving.

The people who don't attend to the road, who don't control their cars, or who drive when they are either drunk or in an over-wrought emotional state, are the villains in the accident picture.

They make thousands of mistakes at the wheel every day. Luck gets them by much of the time, so they get a false sense of security. But when luck runs out, they have no margin.

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

Pressures Miscalculated

President Kennedy miscalculated the civil rights pressures by so wide a margin that he finds himself now confronting a dangerous and frightening emergency.

The emergency is both dangerous and frightening because it threatens civil disorder, riotous mobs in city streets, civil disorders spreading in the South. There is the solemn threat of it in Northern cities. The capital, itself, has been put on notice by Negro spokesmen that racial conditions must change in Washington to prevent a race riot.

Kennedy's miscalculation was political. The 1960 Democratic presidential platform carried to extraordinary extremes the promise of legislative and administrative action in behalf of civil rights. Negroes applauded the platform and voted for Kennedy. He probably would have lost some big states and the presidency without their support.

Kennedy decided to postpone civil rights legislation during his first two White House years to avoid arousing Southern members of Congress. Their angry reaction would have delayed and perhaps killed much of Kennedy's other legislative proposals. Meantime, the President moved fairly hard and fast with administrative measures in behalf of civil rights, with special emphasis on the right to vote.

The Kennedy administration's biggest play for the Negroes, however, was in the field of emotional propaganda. Some Negroes were named to relatively high federal office. Negro leaders were welcomed socially at the White House. The President dropped in unexpectedly one day on a group of college women who were having lunch. News stories and newspapers kept the nation informed of the President's attention to Negroes.

The political play seemed to be working well until this year when it suddenly fell apart. Negro leaders who had accepted Kennedy's early civil rights strategy as a political necessity for him, suddenly became disenchanted.

Even the President's best friends began to tell him. His anxious telephone calls to Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr. on those occasions when her husband was jailed in the South were effective for a time. But just the other day, the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. was telling a California audience that the President had not done enough to outlaw segregation.

The Kennedy administration continues to support with armed men the ambition of James H. Meredith to study at the University of Mississippi. But Meredith is on record now that Kennedy is not doing enough. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy peculiarly has identified himself with civil rights. Negroes with whom he met a few days ago to discuss the situation were unimpressed. They pronounced RFK naive and lacking in understanding of the race situation.

The end result of the political situation is that Kennedy evidently will move hard and fast now for civil rights legislation. The frightening question is this: Is it already too late to prevent riots in the streets?

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Dr. Jim asks a very surprising question. Discuss it at your men's luncheon and in your Women's Club meetings. See if anybody can offer a better answer to Dr. Jim than the suggestion below. For winning a political campaign is now an advertising contest, requiring previously popular "brand names."

tests beginning with 1000 when Teddy Roosevelt was on the ticket. Again, Teddy ran in 1904 and as a Bull Moose candidate in 1912.

Then F. D. Roosevelt ran as vice-presidential candidate with Cox in 1920, as well as for president in 1932, 1936, 1940 and 1944.

CASE P-457: Dr. Jim is a very talented dental surgeon in the South.

During my address before a big dental convention in New Orleans, I administered my famous "Advertising Test." For it reveals the five basic laws for influencing people by words.

And "words" nowadays are just as vital for building up a medical or dental practice as are the doctor's trained surgical fingers.

"Dr. Crane," I was asked by Dr. Jim during the forum discussion following my address, "it seems to me that politicians should be even more interested in these five laws."

"So how would you suggest they be used in political campaigns in order to promote Americanism vs. Socialistic trends?"

"For example, suppose you were nominated for the presidency. What would be your first use of Applied Psychology?"

Well, that was a surprising question, but I didn't hesitate. "I'd want a very popular 'brand name' on the ticket with me as vice-presidential candidate," I replied.

"So I'd prefer John Roosevelt, of New York, the youngest son of the late F. D. R.?"

The audience laughed at first. Then they began to realize the full implication of what I meant by a popular "brand name," so they started nodding their heads in agreement.

For the name "Roosevelt" already has had at least a BILLION dollars worth of publicity in previous political campaigns.

For it has already appeared in EIGHT presidential camaignments!

Nor can the usual meager $5,000,000 campaign kitty in 1964 make a local name a family byword all over the entire U. S. A.

It takes a lifetime of nationwide press agency via newspapers, radio, TV and the school teachers to produce a political "brand name" that is sure to win.

So send for my booklet "How to Save Our Republic," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. It offers further strategy for preserving constitutional government.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Bernard J. Cigrand, a school teacher of Wisconsin, sometimes is called the "Father of Flag Day" because of his lifetime efforts for an annual national observance of such a day.

And he comes from New York state, which has the largest electoral vote!

So don't think I was merely joking when I said my FIRST task as an Applied Psychologist would be to ask John Roosevelt as my running mate.

For we can no longer elect sturdily talented men who have relatively unknown names.

Remember, you can't foist an unknown name on America in a mere 2 years or even 10

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The World Food Congress of 1,200 delegates from more than 100 nations, meeting in Washington June 4-18, has set for itself a tremendous job. It is to blueprint a plan insuring that everyone will have enough to eat in 200 A. D.

This is the 37-year long goal for the next generation. The more immediate goal is to insure that there will be no world food shortage crisis by 1980—a mere 17 years away.

World population today is three billion people. One third of them or about a billion people are considered undernourished and from 300 million to 600 million are underfed. World food production has been increasing at the rate of about 3 per cent a year since the end of World War II. World population has been multiplying faster than that, so there may be two billion undernourished people in 2000 unless planning and action are begun now.

An adequate diet is considered 3200 calories for a man, 2400 for a woman. Anyone having less than that may not be facing starvation, but there is a new concept of hunger—hidden hunger. It comes from an insufficiency of proper food. It is malnutrition.

A man may have enough rice—starch—and water to fill his body. He may not feel hunger. But he lacks milk and meat, green and yellow vegetables—protein, fats and vitamins. Lacking them, he does not raise healthy children. A five-foot-ten man with hidden hunger raises children who grow up to be five-foot-two men weighing only 120 pounds, says V. T. Krishnaswamy of India, secretary general of the World Food Congress. Furthermore, he declares that a face of five-foot men with hidden hunger has no fight in it to oppose dictators and despotic tyrants which is even more important.

Viewing the world by continents, North America, Europe and Austria-New Zealand are the only areas with surplus food. Only Argentina and Uruguay in Latin America have enough food and to spare. Africa and Asia and particularly Red China are the great food deficit areas, although individual countries may have a surplus of one foodstuff to export, like Burma's rice.

The developed countries that have food surpluses have exported and shared their abundance with the underdeveloped countries. But it is pointed out that if all the world's surplus food could be evenly distributed to food deficit countries, it would feed the hungry for less than a month.

Also, for an underdeveloped country to depend on food loans and grants from more developed countries is dangerous business. The important thing is that the underdeveloped countries must be taught to produce their own food. Planning now to do that is an important objective for the World Food Congress.

The United States in the last 25 years has multiplied its food production five times. The Department of Agriculture and the land grant colleges, established just over a century ago, brought the knowledge of how to produce more and better food to farmers. All this knowledge is available to the underdeveloped countries but it is not applied.

This emphasizes another goal to be discussed by the World Food Congress—the creation of more agricultural colleges to train enough technicians to teach underdeveloped natives how to grow enough food and feed themselves and have some surplus to tide them over the bad crop years.

At the end of the congress of 12 working days, the hope is that the 1,200 delegates will have half a dozen or more basic policies adopted to help them solve their problems. They must have plans for education and public relations to inform their people on what the problem is and how to attack it, for the development of adequate supplies of improved seed, fertilizer and pesticide, for a budget on what all this will cost on a world-wide basis and for each developing, food-shortage nation.

The World Food Congress is being conducted under the auspices of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization. Its director general, K. B. Sen of India, will open the congress on June 4 in the departmental auditorium and will summarize the results of the conference at its final plenary session June 18.

The congress will be addressed by President Kennedy, President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan of India and UN Secretary General U Thant at the opening session. U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman will also address the Road Builders Face Massive Job Problems

ATLANTA (UPI)—Massive engineering problems are confronting builders of the interstate highway system in the South.

—A new bridge across the Mississippi River at Memphis that must wait until a shifting channel stabilizes before piers can be sunk into the river bed.

—A tube beneath Mobile Bay.

—A bridge 75 feet high over the Miami River.

—Tunnels through mountains.

A solid road foundation through Georgia swamps.

These are a few of the biggest barriers. But none can surpass the problems created by the cities that lie in the path of the cross-country highways that are marked with the blue number signs.

Despite all the delays in getting the huge program under way, Rex Anderson, division engineer for the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, believes that almost half the total mileage planned for seven Southeastern states will be completed by Jan. 1, 1965.

That's the half-way point in the 15-year program to build 41,000 miles of interstate and defense highways that will lace the country in every direction. About one-third of the route is now open to traffic. Target date for completion is 1972.

North Carolina is far ahead of other Southern states with half of its 700 designated miles of interstate route open to traffic.

Anderson said the work is progressing "fairly close" to schedule in the Southeast.

He said about 12 so-called downtown connectors in cities are providing some of the most baffling engineering problems. All of them are making some progress but only one—Jacksonville—has the work completed.

The Florida port city got a head start on the program by use of bond issues which provided the money to get the work done fast.

Florida is regarded in "good shape" on the total program except in the northwest where little has been accomplished. Both Miami and Tampa are well along with connectors.

In Tennessee, Memphis, Nashville, Knoxville and Chattanooga all have connector problems and all are under construction. Chattanooga has about half of its program "under rubber" and is much further along than its sister cities.

Atlanta has one of the most complex downtown projects in the South. It is 75 per cent under construction and all of it is being engineered. Completion of that city's connector will open an interstate route from Duluth 25 miles north of Atlanta, through the city to connect with the divided highway to Griffin 30 miles to the south. Target date for opening the Atlanta connector is late this year.

Alabama's bright spot in city construction is at Mobile where two-thirds is under way, but both Montgomery and Birmingham have a long way to go.

Jackson, Miss., also has the major portion of its downtown work to complete.

In South Carolina and North Carolina, the system dodges most of the large cities and both states have completed much of their open road mileage. It is now possible to drive on super roadways from northwest of Spartanburg to near Charleston on the coast.

Many long sections on Interstate 85, 95 and 40 are open to traffic in North Carolina.

Rainstorms Hit Northern States

United Press International
A sprawling rainstorm soaked its way slowly across the North Atlantic states today. Scattered thunderstorms rumbled over the Great Plains.

Tornadoes spun through the night sky above Nebraska and Texas. Snow fell at Ely, Nev., when the temperature dipped toward freezing.

Pessimistic reports of a decline in real estate activity in Seminole County were spiked today by Wally Dietrichs of Wally Dietrichs & Associates of Seminole Realty. Wally said today that his firm has sold 12 homes, and possibly a 13th in the last 10 days. "General conditions are looking up all around," said Wally.

Activity already is started on the four-laning of Highway 436 from Highway 17-92 through Altamonte Springs to a point beyond Interstate 4. State Road Department has commenced negotiations for obtaining the necessary rights-of-way to widen 436.

By popular demand the Seminole Sports Car Club will present its "Rough and Rowdy" driver-navigator rally on July 12. First car will leave at 5:01 p.m. from the Farmers Market parking lot on French Avenue, running approximately 150 miles in about five hours, and will finish at the Mayfair Country Club.

Altamonte Mayor Lawrence Swofford, suffering from a pulled muscle in his back, took his seat around the council table promptly at 8 p.m. Wednesday along with Town Clerk Jim Palmer. A couple minutes later Councilman Frank Gerhardt joined them. The three men waited for something like 15 minutes, Swofford turned, looked at the clock and said, "Let's go home... I'm tired of waiting on these men to fill a quorum!"

Swofford, to The Herald reporter, says he didn't appear to be particularly angry... rather, just as he said, "tired of waiting."

Meanwhile, important business of the town, which is just getting a $250,000 water works underway, goes begging as does the routine business. At this time, no special meeting of the council has been scheduled and it'll be two weeks before another regular meeting is scheduled.

Minutes after Swofford and Gerhardt drove away, Councilman Stuart Fritch showed up but there was no sign of Gene Stephenson or Keith Nixon although someone did say something about Nixon being on vacation.

WHAT DAY IS SO GAY as the last day of school, with vacation ahead and its swimming, picnics, "no books or teacher's sassy looks," time to be carefree and no worries of homework or report cards. Some 14,000 Seminole County school children will pour out the school doors today in the final rush to "get away from it all" and commence that long-awaited summer vacation. These school kids Wednesday happily enacted for Herald photographer Bill Vincent Jr. their own expressions of the last day of school as it will be in reality for all school kids today.

Verily, today is the big day... and Sept. 3 is so very far away from today in the very young minds.

JFK Asks School Equality

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—President Kennedy today called for an educational system which would guarantee equal opportunity for a Long Island banker's son and the offspring of an Alabama Negro sharecropper.

"Our goal must be an educational system in the spirit of independence, a system in which all are created equal—a system in which every child, whether born a banker's son or a Long Island man, or a Negro sharecropper's son in an Alabama cotton field, has every opportunity for an education that his abilities and character deserve," the Chief Executive said in an address for commencement exercises at San Diego State College where he also received an honorary degree.

Kennedy flew here this morning from El Paso, Tex. After the college ceremony he planned to embark on the aircraft carrier Kitty Hawk for an overnight cruise off the coast of Southern California.

Mindful of a new civil rights crisis building at the University of Alabama where Gov. George Wallace has vowed to block the court-ordered entrance of Negro students next Monday, the President said it was time the nation "faced up more frankly" to such questions as "whether every American child has an equal chance for a good education."

The President renewed his call for action on his educational legislative recommendations pending in Congress.

The program includes federal aid for college construction, expanded student loans, higher teacher salaries and federal assistance in construction of additional public secondary and elementary school classrooms.

Solons Approve Teacher Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A House education subcommittee Wednesday approved a bill that would provide $34.5 million to train teachers for physically and mentally handicapped children.

The three-year program was one of the items requested by President Kennedy in his education message this year. The funds would go to colleges to use in preparing the special teachers.

Military School Will Open In September

The Sanford Military Academy, with an estimated 250 cadets enrolled in grades six through nine, will commence operations with the fall term of school in September.

Mayor Tom McDonald announced the City of Sanford and the directors of the MacFadden Foundation reached a final agreement by telephone Wednesday afternoon.

The City will receive $100,000 for 18-plus acres of land at Mellonville and Colety Avenues. The San Francisco Giants will receive $275,000 for its holdings, land and dormitory building. The City dropped its down payment figure by $150,000 to $125,000.

Wiegars said Col. Harry J. Furman, now of the faculty of the Foundation's Castle Heights Military Academy, at Lebanon, Tenn., will arrive here Monday to assume the superintendency of the new school and to commence operations.

Wiegars, who will arrive here in 19 days to two weeks, also stated "the directors of the Foundation are extremely pleased that the negotiations have been completed and that we will commence our school operations in Sanford. We have had mail from throughout the United States urging us to complete the transaction and to get the school under way."

Work still to be completed shortly, Wiegars added, in remodeling the Giants' dormitory building and in the construction of a swimming pool and an academic building with eight classrooms and an auditorium. He said he could give no estimate of the cost.

In a year or so, he stated, the school will add a new gymnasium building. One of three buildings obtained from the City will be used temporarily as a gymnasium.

Of its $100,000, the City has agreed to pay to Seminole County $15,000 from the Foundation's deferred payments for the County's equity in 12-plus acres of the 18-acre site.

This, too, had been a stumbling block in original negotiations between the City and County. The County had granted use of the land to the City for recreational purposes, with a reverter clause in favor of the County.

The City felt the County should reciprocate and give this land free of charge.

However, the County held out and finally agreed to accept $15,000 for its equity. The City, anxious to have the school established, agreed to that figure.

The County had asked as much as $25,000. The City pointed out it had given the County gratis the sites for Seminole Memorial Hospital, County Health Department

'Mix' Cases Set For Hearings

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The U. S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals said Wednesday it will hear desegregation suits involving public schools at Birmingham, Ala., and Albany, Ga., on June 26 in Montgomery, Ala.

Negro plaintiffs in the Birmingham suit have asked the court to overturn a ruling last week by U. S. District Judge Seymour H. Lynn who refused to order integration on grounds the Negroes failed to exhaust legal remedies under state laws.

In the Albany suit, Negroes are seeking desegregation of schools and other facilities operated by the city and county.

Castroites Hit U. S. Mission

CARACAS (UPI)—Castroite terrorists raided the U. S. military mission here Wednesday night, forced six unarmed Americans and four Venezuelan army guards to strip and stole their uniforms and the Venezuelans' guns.

The terrorists then set fire to the mission building causing $20,000 damage, burned a U. S. flag and a portrait of George Washington and fled.

"Next time we won't be kidding," one of them snarled as he fled.

Eight Injured

MIAMI (UPI)—Eight persons—seven of them children—were injured Wednesday when a station wagon loaded with nursery school children went out of control and crashed into a house.

Bryant Gathers Forces

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Farris Bryant's forces sought five votes today for a favorable reconsideration of the 80-33 vote by which the House killed his $125 million bond plan Wednesday.

The House met at 9:30 a. m., and was expected to jump back into the bond program which is aimed at financing university and junior college construction in coming years.

Since the constitutional amendment would be voted on by the people in a special election this fall, the measure needs a two-thirds vote, or approval of 91 representatives. That's five more than voted to pass the bill.

Rep. Osee Fagan, Alachua, a proponent of speedy advancement of higher education in the state, said he would work throughout the night to get the five votes needed to okay the Senate-passed bill.

Bryant, who earlier Wednesday won his $38 million cigarette tax battle in the Senate, said he hoped he could muster enough votes to push through the plan on second try.

He said that two members who had been counted on for "yea" votes were not present Wednesday when the tally was taken. This and the 13-member Republican delegation in the House, he said killed the bill.

The governor and many legislators have warned that the defeat of the bond plan would put the state in such dire need for finances to back the record $387 million spending program and could result in an across-the-board sales tax including groceries. Bryant has indicated he will not pass any grocery tax.

The governor's cigarette tax hike of three cents on a package shot through the Senate easily although it was amended and sent back to the House for approval of the change.

The Senate changed the tax measure, which shaves revenue from five to eight cents a package, to raise the discount given wholesalers from 3.125 to five per cent.

SANFORD MILITARY ACADEMY site is pictured. With agreements reached and final papers being signed, the MacFadden Foundation, represented by Col. Harry J. Furman, superintendent of the new school, will commence next week in refurbishing the present buildings and preparing for new construction. All the land and buildings within the white line have been acquired by the Foundation. School will open in September.
