Umbilical Colic Caused By Nervous Disorder

By William H. Bennett, M.D.
MOST parents believe that once a child reaches the age of three or four months, he will never have colic again. While intestinal colic generally does not persist beyond this age, there are other types of colic which can cause trouble at just about any age.

These attacks may last only a few minutes or may continue for several hours with frequent respite from the pain. They can occur every day or at irregular periods. Sometimes these attacks will continue for months or even years.

Lcdr. Kidwell To Take Part In Navy Project

Lcdr. Robert R. Kidwell Jr., USN, son of R. R. Kidwell, Daytona Beach, has recently been detached from the Navy's famed "Hurricane Hunter" squadron assignment at the Naval Air Station in Jacksonville. He will report to Experimental Squadron Six (VX-6) which is stationed at Guonast Point, R. I., where his duties will involve flying the Navy's Super Constellation. In August the squadron will deploy to Antarctica for Operation Deepfreeze. During this time, Lcdr. Kidwell will take part in the Navy's project of photographing the entire continent by air.

Lcdr. Kidwell's Naval career began in May, 1948 and upon completion of flight training at Corpus Christi, received his wings and was commissioned an Ensign in November, 1948. In addition to over 1100 total hours in the Super "Constellation", he has had experience in over 20 different types of Navy aircraft—including both prop and jet planes.

He reported to VW-4 in June 1950 in time for the hurricane season and, during that year, gained experience flying the Super Constellation and was qualified as Patrol Plane Commander for the WV-3 aircraft in January 1957. During the past season, he made several penetrations into the eyes of hurricanes and many reconnaissance flights into suspicious storm areas. He devoted many untiring hours to the task of tracking Hurricane Audrey so that thousands of lives might be spared from Audrey's devastating effects. Lcdr. Kidwell, as a Hurricane Hunter, worked untrillingly and diligently throughout the two years he was associated with VW-4 giving generously both his time and efforts so that the Gulf Coast and Eastern United States might be forewarned of any approaching hurricane threat.

Lcdr. Kidwell is married to the former Gladys Wright of Sanford.

Braves Come Out On Top In Game

In a Rotary League baseball game Tuesday afternoon the Braves and the Tigers waged a bitter battle with the Braves coming out on top of the 3 to 2 score.

The final turn at bat for the Braves was a spine-tingling ten minutes. Trailing by one run the Tigers had to come out when Graven slugged, Emerson dumped a slow roller to pitcher Alex McKibbin and the outplay tossed to second base on a move that had "double-play" written all over it. But the ball swished into centerfield and the first two sacks were occupied. Ruffer walked to load the bases.

The Braves moundman worked on Brown and after four fouls on the third strike, threw the next one past him for the second killing.

Waters with two walks for two trips to the plate was the next batsman to face McKibbin and trying to work him for another pass he went out on strikes to close out the hectic struggle.

The Symbol Of Heroic Sacrifice To Be Distributed Saturday!

Saturday Is Poppy Day!
Actually, there is much to be done prior to the annual Poppy sale.

The American Legion Auxiliary's Poppy program begins in the summer when the manufacture of the poppies is started by disabled veterans in government hospitals and in special convalescent workshops maintained by the Auxiliary.

The disabled men are given profitable employment shaping the little red flower. They are paid for the flower they shape and if not too badly disabled they can earn a fair wage. The work is adjusted to meet prevailing hospital rules, and is given the disabled hospitalized veterans upon the approval of the medical officer.

The Poppy-making has a beneficial effect in addition to the money it enables the veteran to earn. The hours for sick men in hospitals are long and monotonous and in idleness their minds are prone to dwell on the hardships of their families or on their own disabilities, causing mental depression. When fingers get busy with the bright red poppy, recovery results and the hours are made shorter and they are given a new interest in life.

The idea of the poppy as a memorial flower for the World War dead sprang up as naturally as the little flower itself grows in France and Flanders Field.

The flower was the one touch of beauty which survived amid the hideous destruction of war. Along the edge of trenches, beneath tangled barbed wire, about the rugged shell holes and over the fresh graves — the millions of little red blossoms seemed to be the one immortal thing in that region where death reigned. The soldiers of all nations came to look upon it as the living symbol of the sacrifices of their dead comrades.

Success of the poppy program each year is dependent on the activities of the local American Legion Auxiliary units. The local units must order and pay for the poppies which are offered on the streets Poppy Day — and for the material for the poppies which is supplied for the disabled workers by the Department of Florida, American Legion Auxiliary. The Department pays the wages of the men weekly throughout the manufacturing period.

It is the hope of the Auxiliary to place the symbol of heroic sacrifice above the heart of every true American, giving at the same time, an opportunity to aid the war's living victims.

No price is fixed on the poppy. The newsboy's penny and the businessman's dollar are equally acceptable.

The Bigger Dream Is Imminent

When Vermont's Senator Aiken told Congress recently that it ought to be thinking about the four-day work week as a possible standard for the future, he drew attention once more to a stimulating question: If millions of workers spend only four days a week on the job, what are they to do with their added leisure time?

An unthinking man's response to this might be to chuckle and say that he, for one, wouldn't have a bit of trouble finding things to do on that extra day of leisure. He'd do more fishing and bowling; he'd get the yard in apple-pie shape; with a three-day weekend, he'd take the kids on a lot more trips; he might even try his hand at building a boat.

As far as that sort of thing goes, it's fine. But is that enough — are more fun and games, more indulgence of pleasant hobbies, more weekend trips for the family the be-all and end-all of existence? We submit that the American dream is far bigger and more wonderful than this mere pursuit of more pleasure.

If the four-day work week ever comes — and very likely it will, as production lines and machines do a growing share of the work — it will give millions of Americans an opportunity that in previous history has been denied to all but the privileged few. It will give them more leisure for development of mind and spirit, for expansion of informed concern to encompass the whole race of mankind struggling for peace and freedom and security.

The catch is that, before such a dream can be realized, there must be education in the use of leisure time for something besides quick and easy pleasures. It is not too early to begin such education now.

In the meantime, as we study the possibilities of the four-day week, here in Sanford and Seminole County the problem of filling the jobs that are open now must be met and solved.

Sanford and Seminole County continues to grow — more jobs are made available because of the expansion. It's wonderful to know that "business is good" in Central Florida.

Other Editors Are Saying...

Grants, N.M., Beacon: "It might be logical at this stage to say that if the schools were as bad as the critics painted them in the first post-Sputnik days, the U.S. would never have got a space rocket off the ground. We believe, as a matter of fact, that it has been wholesome to take a long-critical look at the U. S. education system. "But we doubt if all the breast-beating and hair-pulling was necessary. The U. S. has been raising a pretty fair crop of scientists after all."

Certification Laws Bone Of Contention In School Debate

WASHINGTON (UP) — Dr. James R. Millian Jr., president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and science adviser to the White House, is recognized throughout the world as a leading educator.

But he is not legally qualified for a permanent license to teach science in any public high school in the United States.

The reason is that Millian has never taken the college courses in educational methodology that are required by every U. S. state and territory for certification as a public school teacher.

These certification requirements have become a main bone of contention in the controversy over what's wrong with U. S. schools.

The National Education Association (NEA) contends that certification laws have helped to raise and maintain "professional standards" in teaching. It says that "on the average" present state requirements for courses in teaching techniques are "not excessive."

Critics contend that professional educators, spearheaded by the NEA and its affiliates, have used certification laws to set up a closed shop in which no one can get a job unless he has a "union card" degree from a teacher's college. They say that most of these colleges turn out graduates who have been stuffed with "professional" training in how to teach but have been starved for general education in what to teach.

In this controversy, as in many others, facts are harder to come by than opinions. However, here are some pertinent facts, gathered from a study of the teacher certification laws in force in 48 states and our U. S. territories: —All 52 states and territories specify that applicants for a regular teaching certificate must have completed a certain minimum number of semester hours of college work in professional education courses. A college graduate who lacks these courses can get a temporary or provisional teaching license in most states. But he will have to go back to college to make up the required education courses if he hopes to get a career teaching certificate.

Soviet Russia, Red China and Yugoslavia are engaged in the biggest Communist Party dispute in years.

The dispute centers on the persistent refusal of President Tito of Yugoslavia to abandon his policy of independent communism and submit himself once more to Kremlin domination.

Involved also, however, are other issues which appear to include:
1. The dissension in Soviet leadership between Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and the still-powerful "Stalinist" faction in the Communist Party Presidium and Central Committee.
2. Relations between Russia and Red China.
3. Negotiations between Russia and the Western allies for a summit conference on means of reducing world tensions.

Highway Deaths Drop For Fifth Consecutive Month

CHICAGO (AP) — Highway deaths dropped for the fifth consecutive month over corresponding months a year previous, the National Safety Council said in issuing its March report.
The March total of 2,630 deaths was the lowest since the 2,608 traffic fatalities of March 1955, the council said. March last year, 2,800 persons were killed in traffic accidents.
The council's report Tuesday night noted that big cities that had been leading the way in reducing highway deaths. The March figure this year was down 14 per cent from last March in cities of 10,000 persons or more, the council said.
An improvement in driving safety was noted for the first quarter of 1958. The 7,750 total compared with 1957's first quarter tally of 8,350 deaths.
The council said Memphis, Tenn., Rochester, N. Y., and St. Paul, Minn., were the three largest of the 483 cities with perfect records in March.
At the end of the first quarter, there still were 240 cities that had not reported a traffic death. The three largest in this group were Hartford, Conn., Bridgeport, Conn., and Kansas City, Kan.
Only 13 states reported increases during March, 31 reported no change, and 31 showed decreases. Vermont, New Hampshire and Rhode Island, with respective decreases of 65 per cent, 64 per cent, and 48 per cent, led the nation.

Here's why Plymouth, America's favorite family wagon, is

TODAY'S BEST BUY-TOMORROW'S BEST TRADE

You get more wagon for your money today... more money for your wagon tomorrow!

Any way you look at it, you can't find a better wagon buy than Plymouth! So big — it carries more, does more, provides more room for family fun. So beautiful — just look at those long, year-ahead lines. So economical — Plymouth is priced right in the low-price "B", yet you can't buy a bigger wagon at any price. And further proof: Plymouth beat every car in the low-price class in the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run; Plymouth's second consecutive victory!

Get the biggest wagonload of value at a price far lower than you would expect. See your Plymouth dealer today.

FIVE BIG REASONS WHY YOUR NEXT WAGON SHOULD BE A PLYMOUTH

1. Biggest of the low-price "B". Big as wagons costing thousands of dollars more. You can't buy a bigger wagon at any price!
2. Holds so much more than the "other two". Over 7 cu. ft. extra passenger and cargo space. Optional "secret" luggage compartment available in 6-passenger models.
3. Rear-facing 3rd seat. Folds flush into floor. You don't store it outside when it's not in use. Easy to enter, has convenient back step.
4. Disappearing rear window. Rolls down into the one-piece tailgate. Doesn't jut out. Only on Plymouth wagons in the low-price "B".
5. Torsion-Aire Ride at no extra cost. Only Plymouth has it in the low-price "B". No sideways on turns... no nose-dive on stops.

They don't come any bigger than Plymouth station wagons

Conning The News

Thought that May would bring the end of the social whirl in Sanford, but I see it is not so. A benefit ball will be given June 13 at the Civic Center for the establishment of a mental counseling service in Sanford.

The Officers Wives are also planning a dance in June at the B. O. Q. Guess everything doesn't stop just because it gets hot and one feels in the need of a siesta. Almost wrote fiesta, and that is probably what it will be.

The big Armed Forces Day parade is coming Saturday. This is one of the best, in my mind—the feeling of patriotism is prevalent and it signifies the beginning of summer. Open House will be held at the Naval Air Station. Even if you've seen it all before, the kids love to look in the planes.

Leaving Thursday for Tampa and the Jaycees Convention are Tom and Lou McDonald and Audrey and George Andrew Spear. Leaving Friday are Sonny and Beaufie Raborn, Bill and Kitty Brumley, Art and Irene Harris, Dave Kinzenamy, Ed Darr and Mason Wharton. That is, Mason will go if Sylvia doesn't (go to the hospital). Almost time.

Big deal in Tampa is the grand race between "Flash" Spear, "Strak" McDonald, and "Cool" Their Heels" Wharton. In full regalia the trio will vie for the championship of "we're not too old" horse.

Chatted with George the other day as he ate a light lunch guaranteed to increase his speed a couple of knots. Final results will be rushed over United Press, I'm sure.

An open meeting will be held tonight at the Deanna School of Dance for ladies who wish to enhance their appearance or personality. Molly Kay Enterprises are entering into a charm school, and tonight (Wednesday), is registration night. If you are merely curious, come on out to 2603 Hawthorne Ave. You will be under no obligations.

The gala say the proposed ten week course will include hatmaking, make-up, charm, diet—with individual attention on each. The classes will be held once a week and will last from two to two and a half hours. Might be fun for Navy wives who wish to transform themselves.

Junior High and High School girls are invited to come, too. Afternoon classes may be planned if enough are interested. Molly and Kay will keep the girls up to date on fashion notes of interest. Lectures by various teachers will include tips on perfume, accessories and color combinations.

Teaching modeling will be professional Pat Howe, who is known to many here in Sanford. She trained the models in the recent fashion show at the Sanford Civic Center. The meeting, incidentally starts at 7:30.

It beats me how the June graduating class can keep up with studies, take exams and attend all the parties going on. Must be the power of youth. Should think they would be a bit worried about their figures, with all that good food.

Mrs. Griffis Chosen Head Of H.D. Club

Schneider, White Have Know-How Edge On Trenton Drivers

Trenton, N. J.—Frank Schneider and Ben White of Silver Spring, Md., should have a definite "know-how" edge on the other regular NASCAR members in the Trenton race on Memorial Day, May 30, at Trenton Speedway's "miracle mile." Schneider and White recently completed three days of high speed testing on the Trenton asphalt oval testing a new type of rubber for one of the nation's leading manufacturers (Goodyear) who is endeavoring to build a tire that will take the excessive heat and wear developed in 500 laps around the course. Schneider, one of New Jersey's best stock car drivers for many years, and White, a three-year veteran who gained his early training by following Schneider around the country, have until May 30 to fine tune their entries to be eligible for NASCAR's championship points. The national NASCAR champion picks up some 6000 in bonus and...

Today's Sports Parade

NEW YORK 25—You gotta have heart. That was one of the punch lines in a memorable musical. Memorable mostly because it tells a fanciful tale of how Washington was and the Yankees lost the pennant. It is extremely doubtful whether such a classical condition will arise this season but Washington has, at least, come up with a young fellow who has gone of that legend known as "heart."

It is extremely doubtful whether such a classical condition will arise this season but Washington has, at least, come up with a young fellow who has gone of that legend known as "heart." No Albie Pearson and he had to have "heart." Because if anybody smaller than Albie ever came in the majors—made from the major who once was a member of the late and unlamented Browns—nobody comes able to pin it down.

Major Tom I. Brown-eyed Albie is listed on the Washington roster as being five feet, six inches tall. "That's stretching me a little," he grins. "Actually I'm five feet, five and three-eighths inches. Sure, three-eighths. But that ain't come to one-half, now does it?" A Californian, the miniature man hails from a section where there are a number of race tracks. But he never considered becoming a jockey. "After all," he muses, "most of them were bigger than I was." Pearson, in case you have forgotten, is the ball player's gain champion. Just to prove a point, he won the title this spring in Florida by beating Johnny Gray of the Phillies in the Snails. Gray is six feet, four inches tall. The mighty mite for a long time debated whether to be a professional golfer or a baseball player. On the fairways he was good enough to shoot a pair of 8's on a full-sized course and the pro golf life looked good. Money needed. "But baseball was a bigger challenge," says the "heart" man. "Besides, to play pro golf you need a certain amount of money until you can establish yourself. This way I didn't have any financial trouble while I was working my way up."

V. Pinson Sent Back To Minors

By UNITED PRESS
It's back to the minors for Vada Pinson, the major league's outstanding rookie during the spring training season. The Cincinnati Reds optioned the 23-year-old outfielder to Seattle of the Pacific Coast League subject to 36-hour recall after his batting average nose-dived to .184. Pinson, who played Class C ball last year, batted the ball at a better than .250 clip this spring and impressed Manager Birdie Tebbits so much with his speed that he won a starting spot in the Reds' lineup on opening day. In Detroit, the Tigers purchased right-handed pitcher George Sussie Jr., from the Red Sox and optioned veteran reliever George Spencer to Charleston of the American Association. Sussie compiled an 18-14 record with Boston in three seasons, winning seven games and losing three last season. Spencer, formerly with the New York Giants, came up from Charleston earlier this season and had a 1-0 record in relief with the Tigers. Other major league clubs also began paring down in anticipation of Thursday's deadline for the 25-player limit. The San Francisco Giants optioned pitcher Paul Glat to Phoenix of the Pacific Coast League on 36-hour recall. Glat, a former football star with Minnesota, spent two seasons in the Army and returned to the Giants last year. Manager Bill Rigney said the 25-year-old right-hander needs more steady work. The Giants are still three players over the limit. $1,000 lab examinations were given in 1956 at the Seminole Memorial Hospital, $1,500 were given in 1957.

STOCK CAR RACE SET

ROANOKE, Va. 25—More than 20 top ranked drivers are expected to take part in the first Grand National stock race program here Thursday night. The field will be led by three NASCAR champions—Buck Baker of Spartanburg, S. C., Bob Welborn of Greensboro, N. C., and Jim Reed of Rockhill, N. Y.

RIVALRY RENEWED

SYRACUSE, N. Y. 25—Syracuse University and the University of Maryland have renewed football relations, with the first game scheduled for Archbold Stadium here, Oct. 3, 1956. The return game is scheduled for College Park, Md., Oct. 7, 1956. The two schools last met in 1955.

Whatever Happened To

Joe Burk
By UNITED PRESS
Joe Burk, former University of Pennsylvania oarsman, turned single sculling after leaving Penn in 1954. He became one of the world's greatest, once winning 27 straight races. In 1955 he became the first oarsman ever to win the Sullivan award to amateur athletes. Joe twice won the diamond sculls at the Henley Royal Regatta and three times captured both the U. S. and Canadian singles crowns. Whatever happened to Joe Burk? He is in his eighth season as crew coach at his alma mater, Pennsylvania. He '58 Penn won the Eastern sprint title and at Henley captured the prized Grand Challenge Cup.

Here's a really different mayonnaise!

It's new! It's Mrs. Filbert's special recipe Mayonnaise

...in a useful new refrigerator jar!

If you think all mayonnaise is the same, there's a real surprise waiting for you at your local store. It's Mrs. Filbert's Special Recipe Mayonnaise... and it really is special! We make it with those special extra touches you reserve for your own special recipes. You know, that extra care in the making... those special, costlier ingredients. For instance:

1. Extra egg yolks. We use premium-priced, whole eggs... then we beat in extra egg yolks for extra richness.
2. Special seasoning. The flavor "heart" of choice spices, imported from across the seas, give our special recipe mayonnaise its unique zest.
3. New tanginess. We add a delightful, new tang with real lemon juice... aged apple vinegar. Natural ingredients that synthetic flavors cannot match.
4. Choice salad oils. Never heavy... never oily... our special recipe calls for fresh-pressed salad oils.
5. Expert blending. We have a certain knack for blending all these delectable ingredients. Then, we whip them up to just the right firmness. Note that distinctive "dimple" when you open the jar.
6. Useful refrigerator jar. We put our new special recipe mayonnaise in a new reusable jar with a rich red-and-white label. Has straight sides so you can scoop out every last bit. Handy for leftovers... preserves... so many household uses.

The Filbert Family Guarantee:
We do everything we can to make this a fine product. We take extra care in the making, and use the finest ingredients to make sure you will enjoy Mrs. Filbert's Mayonnaise. If for any reason whatsoever this mayonnaise does not live up to what we have said about it, we will cheerfully give you double your money back.

HEART OPERATION PARTY—Secretary Miller, 5, shares a special treat at Jewish Hospital, Brooklyn, N.Y., with her cat and dog before leaving for home after a heart operation. Secretary was secured of "full recovery" after 21 hours in the intensive ward of her heart was closed by 49 stitches. A team of 15 doctors, nurses and technicians performed the operation on March 6. During the heart-bear surgery, an artificial heart and lung machine was used to bypass the heart and pump blood.

SOSS FLORETTES
Choose your best-looking chaffers, sauté and spread 2 cups of chopped sautéed spinach over the bottom. Make six depressions in the spinach with the back of a spoon and break an egg into each hollow. Heat a can of cream of celery soup to the boiling point, then turn out the gas flame and add a cup of shredded process cheese. Pour the mixture over the eggs, sprinkle a little more cheese over the top and bake in a gas oven, preheated to 350 degrees for about 20 minutes. Serve with a crisp roll, sliced tomatoes and strawberry shortcake.
Electronic devices in an all-weather interceptor plane use enough tubes and bulbs to supply 50 home radios.
There were 14,651 days of care in 1956 for patients in Seminole Memorial Hospital. The figure climbed to 20,000 in 1957.

Children Raising 4 Baby Possums

The children of Osteen School are learning their nature studies the practical way.

They are raising four baby possums.

The possums are kept in a cage and are given every three hours with a doll nursing bottle.

They are very tame and will crawl up an arm or hang from one's fingers.

The teacher, Mrs. Margaret Harris, says she wonders "if adult possums make good pets."

The twen benefited last year with the location here of Johnson Electronics Inc.

The Chamber of Commerce has a membership of 160 resident people, and it is the unanimous opinion that we should not lose this service.

During the "Open House" at the Sanford Naval Air Station...

Some of the high lights of the day include a simulated air rescue by a Navy helicopter...

At least eight different types of combat aircraft will be on display for inspection by the general public.

This year for the first time all visitors are urged to bring their cameras aboard and special areas and aircraft are being reserved for "shutterbugs."

The purpose of an Armed Forces Day Open House celebration is to give the people of the country a better understanding of the personnel, equipment, and tasks performed by the military.

All citizens of the Central Florida Area are cordially invited to come out and visit the Sanford Naval Air Station on this day.

Waterways Meeting To Begin Today

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chairman John Krider of the Florida Waterways Committee...

Krider, manager of the Chamber of Commerce at Sanford, Fla., also is a state vice president of the Rivers and Harbors Congress.

Krider said the state group would discuss a long-time development problem of linking all parts of the state together in an inland waterways system.

The group may also attempt to agree on the name of a Florida as a candidate for a south Atlantic regional directorship of the Rivers and Harbors Congress.

Krider said the state group was interested particularly in the Sanford-Titusville canal project to connect with the St. Johns and Indian Rivers...

The organization's membership is studied with senators and congressmen to whom rivers and harbor development is important politically.

Congress soon will decide whether to override or uphold President Eisenhower's veto of a bill authorizing appropriations for a large number of rivers and harbors and flood control improvements.

Stans said Eisenhower "regretfully withheld his approval" of the bill because "it included some projects which did not meet the requirements of sound projects."

Building Permits Show Increase In Casselberry

CASSELBERRY—Building permits issued as of May 12 this year are running only four behind the total number issued during the entire year of 1957...

A total of 25 permits for residences were issued during the year 1957 as compared to 21 already issued thus far this year.

Other permits issued in 1957 included one each for a motel, a motel addition and a city sewer, the latter having been installed in the Queen's Mirror South Addition.

At present an extension of the sewer project, included in the original permit, is being installed in the Lake Triplet section where a majority of the new homes are under construction.

Mrs. Allen said that one commercial permit has been issued this year, covering a filling station which is to be erected on the Southeast corner of Piney Ridge Road and highway 17-99.

Construction of the new homes is divided among the following building contractors: Darwin A. Shea, E. C. Heinzen, George S. Hammond, C. A. Brattain and Herman R. Joyce.

The twen benefited last year with the location here of Johnson Electronics Inc. in the former Casselberry Industries Building and Murphy Ready Mixed Concrete, located at the ACL siding.

Letters sent to the Railroad Commission in Tallahassee, to the office of Frank Howard, Leeburg and to the Town Council read in part "We have been informed that request is being made for the elimination of trains 80 and 89. It is the desire of the Longwood Chamber of Commerce to protest this action, and we request a public hearing regarding same, before it is approved by your commission."

We feel that our express shipments, especially fern shipments, will be crippled should we lose an opportunity to make shipments of express during daylight hours.

Meanwhile the new budget director warned the National Rivers and Harbors Congress today to go slow on demands for water resources development.

"I want to urge upon you that we must keep a sense of perspective about our national problems and the budget," Maurice H. Stans said in a speech prepared for delivery before the group's 45th annual convention.

MOSCOW (UP)—The Soviet Union today successfully launched a third satellite—the third weighing one and a half tons. It was more than twice as large as any previous earth satellite.

The newest satellite is a cone-shaped object 11 feet 8 inches long and 8 feet 8 inches wide at the base. Its weight was given as 2,372.48 pounds.

The announcement by the official Tass News Agency said the satellite was making an orbit of the earth every 106 minutes and that its greatest distance from the earth was 1,187 miles. It was in an orbit of 63 degrees in the equatorial plane.

The huge satellite dwarfed the satellite that carried the dog Laika into space. It was about 100 times heavier than the biggest U. S. satellite.

In Bonn, Germany, the Soviet embassy said there was no living animal aboard the Sputnik but that it contained "very important" apparatus.

The new Russian Sputnik also was orbiting higher than either of the two Russian efforts which preceded it. Its maximum height of 1,187 miles compared with 1,056 miles for Sputnik II and about 630 miles for the pioneer Sputnik I launched Oct. 4, 1957.

Six Times Heavier Russia entered the space age when the first of the Russian satellites went up on Oct. 4, 1957. The second rose less than a month later, on Nov. 3.

The first of the Soviet satellites weighed 1,422 pounds and was about 23 inches in diameter. The second was more than six times heavier and weighed 1,120 pounds. Here is how the three American satellites, all still in orbit, shape up:

Explorer I, the first to orbit successfully, weighs 32.8 pounds and is 80 inches long and is tube-shaped. The Navy's Vanguard I weighs 3.85 pounds and is a sphere 6.5 inches in diameter. The Explorer III weighs 31 pounds and is a tube 19 inches long. Explorer II was a failure.

Packed With Equipment Today's official announcement said the new west Sputnik was packed with equipment enabling it to carry out the following research along its entire orbit:

"Pressure and composition of the atmosphere in the upper layers;

"Concentration of positive ions;

"The magnitude of the electrical charges in the satellite and the intensity of the earth's electrical field of the earth;

"Intensity of the sun's corpuscular radiation;

"Composition and variations of the primary cosmic radiation;

"Distribution of photons and heavy nuclei in cosmic rays;

"Micrometeoroids;

"Temperature inside and on the outside surface of the satellite."

Port Canaveral is a part of the "Cape," he said, but operated by civilians. "It is through the Port Canaveral that the Navy will operate its missile ships."

The AFMTC with 12 to 15 missile tracking stations, personnel of 2,500 military people and 13,000 civilians along with a capital investment of $400 million "has an impact on the economy of all Central Florida," said Captain Childers. "It is very obvious that the AFMTC is there to stay and has been accepted as an integral part of the community," he added.

Turning to the technical side of the missile test center, Captain Childers said "We're never satisfied at anything less than 100 percent success but important information and data are secured from those projects which are considered flops."

"As a representative of the Navy at the AFMTC I wish to emphasize that we have gotten nothing but the finest cooperation from the Air Force," Captain Childers stated.

A description of the various missiles was given by Captain Childers using films for the actual operation of the new weapons.
