

Income Tax Primer:

How To Keep Records

This is the second of eight articles in the Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Income Tax Primer.

By Richard A. Mullens and Charles W. Schoeneman. If you are an employee, independent businessman, doctor, lawyer, salesman, or corporate officer and you do not properly substantiate your travel and entertainment expenditures, either you, your employer, or both may be denied a deduction on 1963 tax returns.

You should keep a diary, notebook, or other record of the time, place, amount, and "the business purpose" of all such expenditures and of all business gifts you make.

In addition to the diary or the record you should have canceled checks and bills, or bills marked "paid" for all major expenses.

The Internal Revenue Service has published detailed rules to enable the taxpayer to know exactly what will be required.

A diary is a recommended means of abiding by the law. In the diary should be the dates of each business trip and business entertainment.

The city or town where the taxpayer stays, where he eats and where he entertains must be noted.

The amount of every expense item must be noted. The only exception is where the items are repetitions or "contemporaneous"—as where you make five telephone calls in a day, and where a series of cocktails or one meal for a group is served. Cash fares can also be grouped together. So can tips. Ball game tickets, diner and drinks would each, however, be separate items unless they were one check.

Items should be entered at least once a day.

But even noting all expenses in a notebook or diary is not enough for the more expensive items. For these, canceled checks plus the check or a check marked "paid" will also be required.

The business purpose must be noted in the diary. This means the intended business benefit from either a trip or entertainment. Also, the law requires that the "business relationship" to you of the person entertained be noted.

If you pay one check for three customers and yourself at your home town, and if you have no breakdown available of the total, then the IRS would divide the total by four to test whether that one-fourth is allowable to you personally. It would not usually be deductible while at home.

If you use a charge account or credit card you must still maintain itemized records as set forth above. A total charge from the credit card company will not satisfy. Keep individual vouchers from the company.

An employee reimbursed for expenses is, of course, subject to these requirements but can ultimately satisfy them by an adequate accounting to his employer (i.e., by turning over the records to the employer). The employer must in turn maintain adequate records and require proper accounting by the employees or lose travel and entertainment deductions.

Armed Forces Pay Boost Proposal Brings Dissent

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A dissent by AFL-CIO trade union leaders today foreshadowed a probable attempt in Congress to revise Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's proposal for a $1.7 billion military pay increase.

Meany, a member of President Kennedy's commission on federal pay, doesn't like the idea of providing a smaller percentage increase for draftees and first and second year recruits than for more experienced servicemen.

In general, however, McNamara's proposal announced late Thursday appeared to face smooth sailing in Congress. It would be the first military pay raise in five years.

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, (D-S.C.), whose House armed services sub-committee will first to consider the legislation, predicted "fast action by Congress." He said the raise was long overdue.

McNamara did not release his detailed recommendations, but a Defense Department source said the raise for draftees and recruits would be below 14.4 per cent average for the services.

The department sought to concentrate the biggest raises on men who are making military service a career, and who are not near retirement age.

A recruit who starts at $75 a month and gets $83.20 after four months could get an increase of $8 to $10 under the proposed scale. A four-star general drawing $1,875 a month could get a boost of $108.

In addition to boosting the pay of the 2.6 million members of the armed forces, the proposed legislation would provide small increases in part-time drill pay for one million civil reservists and more than 280,000 persons drawing military retirement pay.

The proposal also would increase from $47.88 to $77.10 a month the subsistence allowance for officers. The higher rate already is being paid to enlisted men in off-post areas.

Meany's views were disclosed when the nine-man commission on federal pay systems, headed by former steel executive Clarence B. Randall, released a report simultaneously with the Pentagon announcement.

Bulgarian Free Of Spy Charge

ROME (UPI)—A Bulgarian pilot, cleared of spy charges that could have landed him in prison for 24 years, arrived in Rome today and said he would return to his homeland as soon as possible.

The pilot, Lt. Milutin Solakov, 23, came from Bari, in southern Italy, where he had spent a year in jail. He was freed Thursday by an examining magistrate who ruled there was no ground for a trial.

Bulgarian diplomats met him at the train in Rome and whisked him off in an automobile to his legation. "I am going back to Bulgaria right away, very right away," the well-dressed young aviator told newsmen at the Rome station.

He declined to answer any other questions but warmly embraced one of the Bulgarian officials. When he was released from prison Thursday he told newsmen: "I am glad that the truth has triumphed and that I can finally go home." The Solakov case began last Jan. 20 when the 23-year-old pilot crashed his Russian-built Bulgarian MIG 17 in an olive grove near a secret NATO missile base at Acquaviva, Italy. He was captured, charged with spying and jailed to await trial.

But examining magistrate Dr. Ferdinando Altiero ruled Thursday that Solakov was "not guilty" of political and military espionage and there was no case for trial. He ordered the pilot released from Bari Prison and handed over to the Bulgarian Legation in Rome. Solakov always denied he was spying. He long maintained that he sought asylum in the West. But this apparently was belied by his seeming enthusiasm over his impending return to Bulgaria. The Bulgarian government maintained the pilot lost his way in bad weather over the Adriatic and strayed into Italy.

Patty Glenn Johnson Named Entry In Annual 'Jeanie Contest'

Interest locally and throughout Central Florida is focused on the announcement of the selection of Patty Glenn Johnson as a contestant in the 12th annual Jeanie Contest. Sponsored jointly by the Florida Federation of Music Clubs and Stephen Foster Memorial Commission, the statewide event will be held Feb. 16 on the Suwannee River at White Springs.

Sanford born and presently a member of the senior class of Seminole High School, Miss Johnson is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. (Pat) Johnson of 2540 Palmetto Ave. Her singing career began in elementary school and has been fostered with appearances at school, church and civic organizations.

The local artist is vice president of the SHS Glee Club and a member of the Triple Trio and Chorallers. In the tenth grade she achieved the distinction of being the second sophomore in the history of Seminole High to win a Superior rating at state contest.

Other school activities include membership in Future Teachers of America, faculty of the 1963 Balmagundi staff and is captain of the Girls' Athletic Association. At the Jeanie Contest, the 17-year-old soprano will represent the Wednesday Music Club of Orlando and Winter Park. Skybolt Program Layoffs Total Nearly 1,000

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Douglas Aircraft Co. said 600 employees of an expected 4,000 would be laid off today because of the government's decision to scrap the Skybolt missile project.

A spokesman for the firm said 596 were laid off Thursday.

Fourteen Southern California aerospace firms sent representatives to explore the possibility of hiring some of the employees and the California State Employment Service and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration also held job interviews.

NASA spokesmen said openings exist at such facilities as the Marshall Spaceflight Center at Huntsville, Ala., and the Manned Spacecraft Center, Houston.

In Ulica, N. Y., General Electric Co.'s Light Military Electronics Division announced that the cancellation of the Skybolt missile program will result in immediate layoffs to several hundred employees.

G. T. Garber, manager of employee and community relations, said Thursday that other layoffs will extend over a long period and eventually affect more than 1,000 persons.

Skybolt cancellations also will hit the Burlington, Vt., area, GE, a subcontractor on the Skybolt, said it will lay off some 700 employees in the northern Vermont unit, partly because of the cancellation.

Drive-In Food Store Latest In Convenience

Business Briefs

The latest innovation in the field of drive-in services is a drive-in food store, the first in Sanford.

The radically new store is located at 2545 French Ave. and is easily noted with its bright orange roof and modernistic A-frame type construction, which was designed by Wade Tye, local architect.

The convenient new facility is the brainchild of owner Bob McKee, who said that the drive-in store is designed so that customers need never leave their cars.

"There are drive-in window doors on each side," he said, "We invited you to drive up and just order what you want... we'll bring it right to the car for you."

Items in the new store include the most convenient sizes of best brands of bread, milk, ice cream, soft drinks, cigarettes, toilet articles, coffee, tea, many canned and cooler-type foods too numerous to mention.

McKee, who plans to operate the new facility from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m. everyday, including Sunday, is a local businessman. He makes his home at 202 Oakland Drive in Sunland with his wife, Betty and three children.

President Goes To Kerr Funeral

PALM BEACH (UPI) — President Kennedy puts vacation pleasures aside today for a sad journey to Oklahoma to attend the funeral of Sen. Robert S. Kerr, (D-Okla.).

The White House announced that Kennedy will meet at the winter White House Saturday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Thomas K. Finletter, U. S. representative on the NATO council. They will discuss strains within the Western alliance over nuclear policy and other matters.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield was included in a small official party accompanying the President to Oklahoma. Sen. George Smathers, (D-Fla.), said he would be going along. Smathers is secretary of the Senate Democratic Conference but has said he wants to abandon that job and concentrate on activities in the Senate Finance Committee — where Kerr had shown great influence.

Order To Meet. The Order of the Arrow, Hialeah Chapter, will meet at 7:30 p. m. Jan. 8 at the DeLand Scout Hut.

Mrs. Kennedy On Fashion List As Symbol To 'Average Woman'

ing put in the annual competition. NEW YORK (UPI) — The United States' First Lady is the world's first lady of fashion.

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, wife of the president, mother of two, headed the annual list of best dressed women of the world in 1962—a list announced today by Eleanor Lambert, a public relations consultant.

Mrs. Lambert said the list was compiled from "an international poll of 2,000 style observers."

This appearance marked the third consecutive year for Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy on the list which currently called her "as a symbol of fashion leadership to the average woman everywhere."

Placed right near Mrs. Kennedy on the list was Mrs. Lou Guinness, the Mexican-born brunetta beauty married to a British financier, who made her fourth consecutive appearance.

The two Hall of Famers are Vicomtesse Jacqueline de Ribes de Paris, and the American-born Countess Alme Quintanilla, of Madrid.

Two women appeared on the list for the first time. They were Mrs. Frederick Eberstadt, a New York socialite and daughter of poet Ogden Nash, and the Baroness Ernst Thyssen-Bornemisza, of Lugano, Switzerland.

Others on the latest list of those celebrated for their clothes know-how were: Mrs. Gianni Agnelli, of Turin, Italy, wife of the head of the Fiat Co.; Mme. Herve Alphonse, wife of the United States Ambassador to Great Britain; Mrs. Gloria Vanderbilt Lumet, actress and socially prominent New Yorker; Mrs. Walther Moreira-Salles, a Brazilian living in Paris; and Mrs. John Barry Ryan III, of New York.

The listing was correct in citing Mrs. Kennedy's fashion leadership—her bouffant hairdo, her pillbox hats, her sleek, long formal gowns and her simplicity of dress in general all have left their mark on Main Street, USA.

The listing elevated two women to permanent status in a Fashion Hall of Fame, which means that they're so permanently ennobled as chic that there is no point in their being

Road-Canal Line Proposed

A proposed highway across Volusia County from DeLand to the Indian River might be the key to the Sanford-East Coast canal if a plan suggested by John Brumley, Sanford, takes root with Sen. Bernard Parrish's navigation committee which had its organizational meeting Friday.

Brumley's idea is to align the canal from a point on the St. Johns River on the Sanford end of Lake Harney to the right of way for the proposed road, and use the canal westerly as fill for the new highway.

This would shorten the distance for the canal to 15-18 miles, rather than follow the river south to a point opposite Cocoa and then dig east to the coast.

Under Brumley's proposal, the canal would come out north of Mims, and enter the intercoastal Waterway. Traffic would move south to the now abandoned canal across Merritt Island near Courtenay which would be widened and deepened through to Mosquito Lagoon to a point opposite the proposed locks just south of Cape Canaveral.

According to John Krider, also a member, with Brumley, of the senator's committee, this would eliminate a lot of maintenance for a channel down the St. Johns, and greatly reduce the cost of the canal.

The navigation committee met to work out a way to secure organizational legislation from the legislature at this coming session. The purpose of the group would be to determine a feasible alignment for the canal from Sanford to the Indian River and also determine a method of construction.

Another meeting will be held Friday at the Angelbilt Hotel in Orlando, which will be attended by representatives from the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers and representatives of a number of engineering firms.

A meeting of the Florida Waterways Commission, of which Krider is a member, will be held at the Mayfair Inn later this month to work on both the Sanford-Coast waterway and the Cross State Canal project.

County Employment Up

Total employment in Seminole County for 1962 rose to 13,500, an increase of 13.4 percent over the previous year, Joe Foy, manager of the State Employment Service, reported today.

Records revealed also there were 500 unemployed last year as compared to 600 for the previous year.

The opening of citrus and vegetable season in the fall was largely responsible for the rise in employment figures here at the tailend of the year.

During the year, employment advanced in most industries except agriculture, where fall bean harvesting was reduced considerably by cold weather, Foy said.

Accelerating agricultural activity caused farm forces to advance 700 to 1,800 by November of last year. Employment in non-farm establishments rose by 700 workers to 9,000 by mid-November, Foy said.

Tax, Rules Battle Lines Set As Congress Opening Nears

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The 88th Congress will convene Wednesday facing immediate battles over its rules and long-range proposals by President Kennedy for income tax cuts and new spending programs.

Kennedy's first big battle will be fought on opening day when the House decides whether to hand control of its legislative machinery to a conservative coalition. A conservative triumph, Kennedy feels, would "emasculate" his legislative program.

Administration forces are favored to win by a razor-thin margin, but the outcome is uncertain.

The senators also will become embroiled at the outset in a rules fight. Senate liberals hope to lighten up the Senate's curb against filibusters. Again, the outcome is uncertain and the battle could go on for weeks.

Hoffa Jury Bribe Charge Probed

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—A special federal grand jury will convene here soon to investigate charges that close associates of Teamsters boss James H. Hoffa attempted to bribe jurors in the labor leader's $1 million conspiracy trial.

Selection of the grand jury is scheduled to begin the last of this week.

Names of 100 prospective jurors will be drawn by the jury commission from a box containing 300 names. The 100 whose names are drawn will then appear before Federal Judge William E. Miller in an open court session, and from their number 21 will be chosen.

Miller said the grand jury will investigate fully and completely three "shameful" attempts by associates of Hoffa to influence jurors or prospective jurors.

If violations are found, the jury will be asked to return an indictment charging interference with the administration of justice, a felony punishable by up to five years in prison.

Gunshot Wound Fatal To Man

A 48-year-old Sanford man died from self-inflicted gunshot wounds Sunday night in the bedroom of his home on Myrtle Ave., Corcorer Hugh Duncan ruled today.

The man was identified as Guy Bailey, who according to his wife, had been "despondent" the last few days.

Bailey was found by police at approximately 9:15 p. m. slumped over his bed. Duncan said he apparently shot himself in the back of the head with a 25 caliber pistol.

Lake Mary C Of C Handles Full Agenda

By Frances Wester

The Chamber of Commerce of Lake Mary concluded three months unfinished business at its regular monthly meeting last Thursday night with a good turnout of members so that a vote could be taken on the matters at hand.

It was voted to change the one word "twenty" to read "ten" in Article 14, Section 2, of the by-laws. Thus, 10 per cent of the membership will constitute a quorum. This will give the Chamber the power to act sooner on community issues.

On the recommendation of the nominating committee, Robert Martin was voted into a post on the board of directors to serve to the end of this chamber year.

It also was voted to accept advertising to appear on the Lake Mary map brochure to help defray publishing costs. This advertising brochure will have a street map of Lake Mary on one side and an area map on the other showing the state of Florida and the location of Seminole County and Lake Mary.

A report on the recent Christmas Tree Party was given by Mrs. Leonard Dunn. More than 200 children attended along with many adults. The Nativity Scene was portrayed twice on the same day with two representatives from each church in the community taking part.

Mrs. Dunn expressed thanks for cooperation received in preparing for the party and also to the ministers for their cooperation.

A standing vote of appreciation was given to Mrs. Dunn and to Dr. and Mrs. Frank Leone after Frank Evans expressed thanks to Dr. Leone for leading the children's singing until Santa Claus arrived. Otis Sjoblom was also commended for his help in many ways to the Chamber.

Plans for making the Beautification Committee a continuous project were given by Clifford Nelson, president. Members will be changed but the committee will be continuous. Present members are Dr. Leone, Clarence Donaldson, Mrs. Evans, S. A. Dobbins and Clifford Cordes.

A letter was read from Randall Chase in regard to the Chamber's sponsorship of Boy Scout Troop 242 expressing the great need for some interested people to act in the troop's interest. The Chamber has been helping with money but the boys need more active sponsorship and guidance in their activities.

It was voted to form a committee to help. Volunteers are preferred for this type work. The nominating committee plans to investigate the requirements and start some action soon.

Plans for more social activities in the Chamber were also discussed and helpful suggestions given from the floor by Dr. Leone and Mrs. Catherine Gehr. A Valentine dance may be on the agenda.

The annual election will be held the first Thursday in March. Candidates will be submitted by the nominating committee and also from the floor. Further committee reports will be heard at the February meeting.

THIS CAR WAS PARKED on the road near Big Tree Park with lights turned off.

THIS ONE STRUCK the parked vehicle, but the driver luckily escaped injury.

Parked Car Causes Accident; $7,000 Damages Done To Trailer

A car belonging to Patricia Cordi of Orlando was severely damaged early Sunday morning when it was struck by one driven by Donald Clark of Sanford, at the Big Tree Road intersection with the highway, the Highway Patrol reported.

The Cordi car, driven by an unidentified man who had borrowed it earlier in the evening, was stopped without lights in the northbound lane of the highway and Clark, northbound, struck the parked vehicle from the rear, knocking it across the highway and into the ditch.

Witnesses told Trooper C. E. Tomlinson that the driver was seen to leave the Cordi car and run into the woods. A suspect was picked up in Longwood about three hours after the incident.

No injuries were reported, although the damages to the Cordi car totaled $1,000 and to the Clark vehicle over $600. When caught, the driver of the latter car will be charged with parking on the highway, leaving the scene of an accident and failure to report an accident, Tomlinson said.

Friday afternoon, a car driven by R. V. Pottelger, 78, Lake Ellen Drive, Casselberry, pulled out onto Hwy. 17-02 in front of a tractor pulling a 53 foot house trailer driven by Julian Cracraft, Daytona Beach.

Cracraft tried to take evasive action to avoid hitting the Pottelger vehicle, but lost control and flipped both tractor and trailer over onto their sides across the highway. Damage was estimated at $3,000 to the tractor and $4,000 to the trailer. Pottelger was charged with failure to yield the right of way. There were no injuries, according to Trooper Tomlinson.

Record Party Ends In Death

WEST DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—A rock-and-roll party ended in death Sunday when a 15-year-old boy playfully hid some "twins" records from his host.

Police held Dale E. Birmingham, 21, on an open charge of murder after he admitted placing the barrel of a loaded 30-gauge shotgun against the temple of Danny Rawlins, 15, because "I thought I could get my records back quicker that way."

Rawlins killed outright by the shotgun blast, was clutching a Chubby Checker record album when police arrived.

Police said Rawlins and two other 15-year-old boys were guests at a record playing session at Birmingham's apartment and the shooting occurred after Rawlins had hidden some records.

Police said the youngsters had gathered at the apartment on previous occasions and "This was not the first time records had been playfully hidden and the gun had come into view" although the weapon had never been discharged before.

Lyman Boosters To Sponsor Father-Faculty Basketball

By Jane Casselberry
The Lyman Athletic Boosters Assn. will sponsor a basketball game between the fathers and the male members of the school faculty on Jan. 18 at 8 p. m. in the school gymnasium.

This annual sporting event is one of the major fund raising projects of the Boosters Assn.

Lyman dads with basketball experience are urged to take their muscles out of mothballs and turn out for the first practice at 8 p. m. today in the gym. Still smarting under the memory of last year's 62-43 defeat, the dads are determined to even the score.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Daily, weekly, monthly or seasonal housing accommodations for visitors are plentiful in Seminole County. In addition to numerous hotels, there are many motels, some in downtown areas, others on major highways and many conveniently located on the St. Johns River for boat travelers.

Lyman coaches are barred from playing on the team but Walter Daurus will coach the fathers and Dutch Campbell will coach the faculty. Coach Buck Metts will serve as an official.

County School Superintendent R. T. Milwee whose son, Tom, is a sophomore at Lyman, will play on the dad's team. Principal Ralph Diggs, though eligible for both teams, will stick with the faculty.

A touch of glamor will be provided by some of the mem-and female teachers who will be serving as cheerleaders.

Spoon Fed?

You can find a host of theories about the causes of juvenile crime. The trouble with most of them is that they seem only partial explanations.

For example, such usually cited factors as poverty, bad housing, broken homes, racial discrimination and poor schooling obviously don't play any role in the substantial amount of crime committed by well cared for youngsters in U.S. suburbs.

The playwright Arthur Miller, writing not long ago in Harpers, searched hard for a real common thread, one which would bind together juvenile crime not just in this country but all over the world. It runs high in Europe—even in the Soviet Union.

Miller believes he has found the bond. He thinks it is an all-pervading boredom, a strange kind of emptiness of the mind and spirit.

This, he says, is not the boredom of idleness alone, though there can be little doubt that the joblessness of ill-trained youngsters contributes.

The emptiness he speaks of comes from an absence of challenge, a lack of genuine, meaningful conflicts, a failure to test the individual's will and capacity.

The poor man's son sees the government, with some erratic exceptions, providing welfare checks. The rich man's son sees his father providing cars, television sets, cameras, and the asking.

When does either young man learn he must earn the rewards of life?

In this grand age of excuse and permissiveness, the youth, rich or poor, is forgiven virtually all his errors by the courts, the welfare agencies and social workers, the indulgent parents. Few if any demands are made upon him.

In this situation, it is suggested, he manufactures excitement by venturing into daring and often brutal crime. The "senseless" assaults perhaps makes sense only as a momentary release from boredom.

Parents, indeed the whole adult world, cannot be relieved of heavy responsibility for creating the vacuum in which today's youngsters threaten about—often so wildly. But neither can the young be absolved of blame.

One individual who seems to see things this way recently addressed teenagers through the columns of a Washington newspaper. To young folk bemoaning their sad lot, he wrote:

"GO HOME! Hang the storm windows, paint the woodwork. Rake the leaves. . . Shovel the walk. Wash the car. Learn to cook.

"Help the minister. . . Visit the sick. Assist the poor. Study your lessons. And then when you are through—and not too tired—read a book.

"Your parents do not owe you entertainment. . . The world does NOT owe you a living. You owe the world something. . . your time and energy and your talents, so that no one will be at war or in poverty, or sick, or lonely again.

"In plain simple world: GROW UP. Quit being a crybaby. Get out of your dream world. Develop a backbone, not a wishbone. And start acting like a man—or a lady. . ."

For parents and children alike, these words make a cracking good reading lesson with which to begin a new year.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NRA)—There will be a special session of the United Nations General Assembly next spring to consider new ways to finance the world organization's peace-keeping operations.

This has been one of the major objectives of American foreign policy at the UN. It has been one of the most troublesome issues for the U. S. at the UN, particularly as it relates to financing peace-keeping in the Congo and the Near East.

A 21-nation committee will try to work out new formulas for financing such operations in advance of the special assembly. This will be in compliance with resolution adopted by a 76 to 27 vote, with 26 abstentions, at the close of the 1962 session.

It endorsed the World Court opinion that all UN members must pay their assessments for peace-keeping operations. This is the key not only to preventing UN bankruptcy but also to making the world organization an effective peace enforcement agency.

The nations which did not vote for the General Assembly resolution on financing were 19 Communist countries and Cuba, France, Jordan, Portugal, Saudi Arabia, Syria and South Africa.

As of Jan. 1, 1963, 39 countries will be in arrears on their payments for 1961 and 1962. This could cause them to lose their votes in the coming special session of the General Assembly, if they do not pay something on account before it convenes.

Seven are Latin-American countries—Argentina, Bolivia, Cuba, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras and Paraguay. The others are Hungary, United Arab Republic and Nationalist China.

UN accounting is so complicated that the position of Russia is unclear. The Soviet has refused to pay assessments for the Congo, Near East and other special funds.

Russia was $30 million in arrears for 1960 and 1961. Its assessments for 1962 are about 15 per cent of the total UN budget. They include, in round numbers, a regular assessment of $11 million, a Congo assessment of $16 million and an emergency fund assessment of $3 million on a full year basis. The total is around $30 million, but the record of payments for 1962 is not yet complete.

The Russians would have to become more than $30 million in arrears for 1961 and 1962 to lose their vote in 1963. It is not considered likely they will allow this to happen.

They are expected to pay up enough to prevent being counted out, even though they do not co-operate on UN peace-keeping operations.

There has been an increase of such operations in the past year. New UN "peacekeepers" were established in Western New Guinea, Oman, Yemen and on the Thai-Cambodian border. The Palestine refugee relief operation, which was to have ended in 1962 was extended for two more years with better Arab-Israeli co-operation.

The American idea for sending out-man observation missions to report on conditions in Portuguese Angola and Mesambique was opposed by both Portugal and the Afro-Asians. But at the General Assembly session just ended, the U.S. delegation was able to walk a diplomatic tightrope without angering either side or falling into either camp.

The American delegation's record on colonialism—still one of the most controversial issues before the UN—was mixed. Many of the Afro-Asian nations went along with the U. S. proposal to get target dates out of a general resolution supporting freedom and independence for all territories. The assembly set responsibility on Southwest Africa, not so well as Rhodesia.

On an assembly resolution supporting the right of any country to nationalize foreign-owned properties in its territory, the American proposal that there must be just and prompt compensation was softened to a provision that the seizure must be in accord with international law.

UNFINISHED CUBAN PRISONER STORY

Phil Newsom Says . . .

Red Breeding Ground

Back in 1960, Britain and members of the commonwealth set up a program known as the Colombo plan.

Its aim was to aid the economic development of the countries of South and Southeast Asia, most of whose populations were desperately poor but which embraced a total of more than 600 million people, soon to be close to a billion.

The United States joined the plan in 1961, and with the addition of others, the total finally stood at 21 nations. It did not include Nationalist China in Formosa or South Korea, which were geographically outside the area and already were receiving substantial help from the United States.

Recently, a Japanese spokesman took a look at the area to see how it was doing. He found the results only "moderately encouraging."

The spokesman was Ambassador Kazuo Okazaki, Japan's permanent representative to the United Nations.

His own country had shown the most spectacular growth in national output—a whopping 9 per cent.

Formosa came next with 8 per cent, and other good ones with growth rates of 5 to 6 per cent were the Philippines, Thailand and South Korea.

Unfortunately, the lowest growth rates were recorded by nations with populations exploding at a rate nearly nullifying the gains they made.

This is an area of glamorous names—Nepal, Ceylon, Malaya—but known to the great majority of Westerners only from the geography books.

Unlike Western Europe when U. S. Marshall Plan funds helped restore a stricken continent after World War II, much of it is almost totally lacking in technical skills.

Interestingly, the ambassador's plea was not for increased governmental handouts, which for Asia in 1962 totaled $1.5 billion, but rather for increased private investment. He used as examples the Philippines and the Federation of Malaya, which is to come to being this year.

The Philippines have achieved their high growth rate with the help of U. S. investments, which have jumped from $149 million in 1950 to $439 million in 1961.

Malaysia has a pioneer industries act which provides investment guarantees, free convertibility of funds and five-year relief from income taxes.

Ambassador Okazaki was saying that the anti-communist world must indeed be one world. If Asia is not included he saw this grim alternative: "A stagnant Asia is already a dangerous breeding ground for chaos and Communist imperialism, which will cost us far more in blood and treasure than economic development."

Actually, the boys were so frightened they didn't know fully what they were doing.

But they were striking back in futile fashion at adults who had tricked and deserted them.

Parents, beware, for it is never wise to leave children in your home, unattended by some competent baby-sitter.

For fires can break out and overwhelm youngsters in a matter of minutes.

But far greater damage than fire is this psychic "trauma" or mental and emotional injury that will scar the personalities of children when they feel deserted.

For example, Peter, aged 2, had previously been a care-free, extroverted younger son. He hadn't been afraid of strangers and would wander around the neighborhood to play with other children.

But his personality changed radically from this very morning. For he clung to his mother's skirts constantly thereafter.

He cried and refused to let her out of his sight. And this continued for three months till she finally brought the matter to my attention.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CASE O-425: Joseph and Peter are brothers, aged 3 and 2.

Their mother drives their daddy to the railroad station each morning to catch a train to his office.

But recently the boys were sleeping soundly so Mamma decided to leave them, since she would be gone only 10 minutes.

Alas, no sooner had she left the driveway with their daddy than the two little boys awakened.

Maybe the sound of the car's motor served as their alarm clock. At any rate, they stumbled downstairs.

But daddy was not there. And when they called "Mother," they also got no response.

The boys suddenly realized they were all alone in the big house—deserted by their parents.

And this scared them. For youngsters become devastated very easily at the thought they are deserted.

Emotional insecurity is thus the most disturbing factor in the childhood of any boy or girl.

Joseph and Peter were in a panic of hysterical fright and desolation.

Almost bereft with terror, they jerked open the cupboard doors of the kitchen cabinet and then dumped the coffee in the middle of the floor. Next, they found the can in which sugar was stored.

Frying off the lid, they poured it upon the floor, too. And they were just starting on the flour when Mamma returned.

"What are you doing?" she sternly demanded.

Moreover, his pleasant, co-operative spirit was also altered. For now he would say, "No, no" to any suggestion offered, even though he was asked if he wanted ice cream or candy or a ride on a pony, etc.

His chronic negative attitude had even made his daddy call him a "Yes man" on vacation.

But it all dated to the moment when he felt deserted by his parents.

Beware of such psychic trauma to your children. So send for my "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a stamped return envelope plus 30c.

They contain 200 points and are also ideal discussion material for PTA meetings.

Thriftway Sets Biggest Local Sale Of Beef

The biggest beef sale ever staged in Sanford has been promised starting today by Thriftway, which will sponsor a week-long promotion of its choice meats.

The market will feature every cut of beef in the business during the week in what Joe Gazil said will be an effort "to get the finest beef on the market into the hands of Mr. and Mrs. Consumer."

There will be an unlimited amount of U. S. Choice grade beef available in the Sanford Thriftway, with the delivery of a carload scheduled today.

The special promotion will be handled by Carl Alford, who personally hand picks all the beef bought for the Thriftway stores and Gazil said that each cut of beef will be sold on a strict money back guarantee if the customer doesn't think it's the best money can buy.

Alford explained that all the Thriftway cattle are grain fed for a period of 140-180 days in preparation for the market to insure top quality beef cuts.

Each animal is hand picked for the Thriftway group. This week will be the first of six weeks of promotion of Thriftway beef, Gazil said. "Prices will be so attractive during this beef sale that we will have to restrict purchases to our retail customers and not allow wholesalers or other retailers to buy," he pointed out.

Kennel Club Opener Sets Record

After a record-breaking opener Saturday, the Sanford-Kennel Club moves into its 92-day season with a fast 10-race card tonight.

Darold Robertson's Pretty Best, a young Greyhound only 20-months old, schooled so brilliantly in the pre-season tests that she is certain of strong fan backing when she goes to the post in tonight's featured ninth race, the season's second main event.

Pretty's Best had three schooling starts with a score of two firsts and a second. In her third try, just a week ago tonight, she was clocked at 31.53, the second fastest schooling time turned in by any greyhound.

Despite her tender years the fast 7-pounder does not lack experience for she climbed to Grade A competition at Jacksonville last summer and won five of her twelve tries.

Another brilliant pup in tonight's feature is Pat Reed's Darling Darlene, who took three of her four schooling starts. She raced well at Great Falls, Mont., last summer.

Rounding out the field for tonight's top attraction will be Erma Eastman, Rapid Roy, Refuel, O. B.'s Speaker, Trusted and Diamond Star.

The Sanford-Orlando Track's annual Scholarship Night is scheduled Tuesday night.

Fred Whitehead's great champion, Mac Tray, legged back for a little while then turned on the steam down the back stretch to win Saturday night's 20th running of the Inaugural Handicap at the track.

An all-time record SOKC crowd of 8,310 spectators turned out and established an opening night mutual handle record of $128,837 more than $10,000 above last year's record total of $110,024. The fine turnout was 500 more than last year's opening night attendance.

Carl Tracy's Barnacle Bob finished second to Mac Tray and Tom Sweeney's Mrs. Mop's finished third.

HOME FROM OVERSEAS, Bill Vincent Jr. got right back in the groove he likes best—fishing. He and his wife caught these seven shad in the Mullet Lake area.

By JACK TRIM

During the rush of the shad fishermen to the St. Johns this past week, a man got in and out of one of the camps with a 10½ pound bass and nobody remembered to ask his name or where he caught the fish.

That's the biggest bass reported around here in a good while and I wish that gentleman would let us all know who he is so we could give him full credit.

Limit catches of shad were not as frequent this past week as the previous few days, but good strings continued to be landed.

Bill Gray and Wilf Carter of Winter Park had 13, which was one of the top strings Friday, just about time the fishing seemed to slow down.

The number of fishermen hadn't slowed down at all though and the river was lined with boats.

Maxine and Bob Hancock of Pinecrest Inn have made a nice gesture to create good will among our winter visitors and, although they did it without any publicity, I think it's worth mentioning as a good example that all of us should be doing anything we can to encourage the tourist trade.

The Hancocks have distributed cards inviting tourists and other visitors to have a cup of coffee on the house.

"If you're passing through or stopping overnight be our guest for a free cup of coffee . . ." the card reads.

A lot can be done in this county if everybody would realize that the people who come here for the shad season, for instance, can pack a lot of influence on the economy if they're made welcome and asked to come back.

I mentioned the other day that Bill Vincent Jr. hadn't returned with the fish he went out to catch just after his arrival home from overseas duty in the army.

Well, Bill came back with seven nice shad he and his wife, Barbara, caught in the Mullet Lake section and he had a picture as he promised. So he fulfilled his first assignment as a member of The Herald staff very pleasantly.

A fellow in North Little Rock, Ark., is trying to breed a two-tailed fishing worm and has succeeded in developing two so far.

"If I can produce them in quantity, I'll revolutionize fishing," said Ed Skinner. "Two tails will create twice as much wriggle as one and the fish are bound to rise quicker to the bait."

Oviedo Scores 58-44 Victory Over Lyman

A big fourth quarter gave Oviedo's Lions a resounding victory over Lyman at the Lyman gym Friday night. The visitors came through with 15 points in the final stanza to drop the home team by a 58-44 count.

With the exception of the first quarter, when Lyman had a 11-10 advantage, the Oviedo quintet never was headed, scoring 20 points in the second canto to Lyman's 14, which gave the Lions a 30-25 lead at half time.

They won the game in the big last quarter when they went into a strict ball control program and had the Greyhounds powerless to score.

Jimmy Jones was high point man for the visitors with 18 tallies and Don Smith led Lyman with 17 markers for scoring honors.

Rogers Hornsby Funeral Tuesday

CHICAGO (UPI) — The body of Rogers Hornsby, the man the late John McGraw called "better than Babe Ruth," will lie in state tonight at a North Side mortuary.

Funeral services were scheduled at 3 p. m. Tuesday. The body will be taken to Hornsby's old home town, Hornsby's Ben, Tex., near Austin, for burial Thursday.

Hornsby, baseball's greatest right handed hitter, who set the modern major league batting record of 424 in 1924, died Saturday of a heart attack while apparently recovering at a hospital from eye surgery and a stroke.

Hornsby was an active player in the major leagues from 1915 to 1937 with the St. Louis Cardinals, New York Giants, Boston Braves, Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Browns.

Lions Win Rough Pro Playoff Tilt

MIAMI (UPI) — What could have been the NFL Playoff Bowl's finale in Miami turned out to be perhaps its finest hour Sunday when 36,284 fans defied drizzles to watch the Detroit Lions overpower the Pittsburgh Steelers, 17-10.

Officials said the turnout—10,672 more than last year—probably saved the game for Miami's Orange Bowl.

Had not at least 35,000 attended, the game probably would have been shifted to some other city.

But now, National Football League owners, who meet later this month at Miami Beach, are expected to continue this Playoff Bowl which started here in 1961 before 28,362 persons.

The crowd that came, splattered by rain as it watched a bruising contest, was not disappointed.

Milt Plum's pinpoint passing and Kenny Webb's running told the difference as Detroit's big line—the "Fear-some Four-oms" that handed world champion Green Bay its only loss this year—held Pittsburgh to 10 points.

It was a rough-and-tumble game with Pittsburgh's John Henry Johnson starting to swap punches at one point and three players being knocked groggy in two successive plays.

LEADING FIRST-BAGGER CINCINNATI (UPI) — Ted Kluszowski led the National League's first basemen in fielding five straight years from 1951 through 1955 as a member of the Cincinnati Reds.

MIKE WOODRUFF pushed this goal through for two of his 16 point total against Lakeview Friday night.

DON MCMURRAY hooked in this goal in the Seminoles' win over the Red Devils.

Seminoles Take 2 Weekend Contests

Sanford's Seminoles racked up two cage victories during the weekend, taking an OBC tilt from Lakeview by a 53-32 score and easing past New Smyrna Beach by 75-42.

The Saturday night game was switched to the Sanford gym when repairs on the coast gymnasium were not completed.

The Seminoles leaped out front with a 23 point first period against New Smyrna to lead 23-8 and never were threatened.

Mike Woodruff had a good night for Sanford, leading the scorers with 19 points. Don McMurray had a total of 18 and Barry Barks netted 13 for the winners.

The Friday night contest with the Red Devils of Lakeview found the Seminoles icing the game with another big one-quarter scoring binge, this time in the third period.

The Seminoles swished in 20 points in the third quarter while holding Lakeview to a mere two goals. The final score was 53-32 and recorded a conference win for Sanford.

The third period brought the Seminoles out of the shooting doldrums after they had held only an 8-5 lead at the end of the first quarter and 21-17 at the half.

Woodruff fattened his scoring total in the Friday game with 16 and Barks had 10.

The Seminole Jayvees won both their games during the weekend action to run their season string to six straight. They beat the Lakeview juniors 51-33 and took the baby Barracudas by 52-31.

Casares 'Passes' Lie Detector

CHICAGO (UPI) — George Halas, owner and coach of the Chicago Bears, and fullback Rick Casares disagreed today as to whether any more players on the team would undergo lie tests to clear themselves of point-shaving suspicions.

Halas said the "investigation can end now because I'm convinced that not a single one" of the Bears has ever tried to shave points or otherwise fix a football game.

But Casares, who revealed he had taken and "passed" two lie tests at the request of Halas and National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle, said he believed "one or two more" Bears would take the tests.

Joey Archer Gets Another Bout

NEW YORK (UPI) — Middleweight contender Joey Archer of New York, an impressive victor in Saturday's television fight, may be matched today with Blair Richardson, champion of Canada, for Madison Square Garden Feb. 16.

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner said: "Archer proved himself perhaps the smartest boxer in the middleweight division by outpointing Denny Moyer Saturday night.

BROMELIADS

What are Bromeliads? Do they grow in a garden? Do they belong to the orchid family, or are they just house plants?

These questions are heard frequently, because now bromeliads are in every flower show. Bromeliads are gaining world wide recognition, especially here in Florida, plant fans are including at least one or more members of this group for a new interest in their gardens.

Those attending were her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dorus Norwood of Gainesville; two daughters and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hamilton of Enterprise, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Tindall of Lake Monroe, and another daughter, Miss Norine Norwood.

Also a grandson and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Tindall, of Elder Springs and a granddaughter, Mrs. Odell Small and children of Lake Monroe.

Most bromeliads have an amazing adaptability that makes them a more flexible type plant to welcome into your individual garden requirements. In nearly every Florida garden there can be found a spot where some kind of bromeliad can become a decorative addition.

Sun and shadow, light and shade, tree or rock gardens, all are situations that are greatly enhanced by the addition of bromeliads from the genera: Dyckia, Hechtia, An-anas, Billbergia, Quessnelia, and certain Neoregelias, or Aechmeas.

If you have a planter area in which you would like some dignified contrast that will not grow out of space too soon (as some leafy plants do) then bromeliads are for the gardener's answer to the green-thumb prayer and thrive more if they have a shower at least twice a week provided the planter allows good drainage. Due to the natural shape of the leaves which form water-tight cups their own water-level is maintained by certain of the bromeliads built in water systems; so they can even be neglected now and then.

A boulder garden seems to be one of the bold, new, advanced looks in gardening; actually the concept is a very old one in Oriental gardens, but now there is a trend here emphasizing boulders, and bromeliads can be used in association with these rocks in a most complimentary fashion.

Suitable bromeliads for the rocky comes from rocky native habitats in genera such as the Dyckia, Hechtia, Bromeliad and Ananas; other genera such as Neoregelia, Aelmeia, Quessnelia adapt themselves to the boulder garden admirably and give lively spots of color when in bloom, especially Dyckias and Quessnelias, while Neoregelias give a constant show of color

Are we letting it fade away?

In the Communist slave nations, all businesses — large and small — are owned by the Government. Merchandise, prices and ingenuity are all government-controlled.

In America, however, we enjoy the blessings of free enterprise. All men — whether they be butchers, bakers, candlestick makers — are free to succeed to the limit of their initiative and ability. Because the free enterprise privilege extends to all, they must compete successfully with other businessmen in order to show a gain on their investment. This healthy competition results in better products, better service and lower prices for the consumer — a sharp contrast to the high-priced, low-quality, short-supply economy of the government-controlled Communist world.

America's investor-owned, tax-paying power companies — operating under the free enterprise system — have made this nation the world's most powerful electric nation, bar none. And as in all sound businesses, the program for product-improvement continues. That is why we are now engaged in the greatest expansion program in our history. Plant expansion projects for the 6-year period 1962-68 are adding a total of 1,875,000 kilowatts — virtually doubling our system in an all-out effort to help make Florida ... and America ... even more powerful!

Together with other Florida power companies, we are expanding and strengthening our interconnecting network of transmission lines to assure plenty of dependable power for Florida's growth and expansion.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who gives me the silent treatment for weeks at a time. Sometimes I don't even know what he's mad at me for. His whole family is that way. They can hold a grudge for years. We have been married for 33 years, and I think that out of every month he has been silent for two weeks. Our children are married and gone and it gets very lonesome around here. In these some way I can make this man get over his pout and talk to me?

LONESOME

DEAR LONESOME: If your husband has been silent for two weeks out of every month, during your 33 years of marriage, he has accumulated a sulking record of more than 16 years! (I know a lot of women who would be overjoyed by such a blessing of peace and quiet.) If you can't kid, coax or humor him out of his mental hibernation, let him sulk. A half a bear is better than none.

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 and think I should have the privacy of my own trouser pockets. Every night if I have over 25 cents my mother takes it to pay the paper boy or something. I earn my own money delivering groceries after school. How can I keep my mother out of my pockets? She never pays me back either.

BROKE EIGHTH - GRADER

DEAR BROKE: It's probably an old habit she acquired going through your father's pockets, but that doesn't make it right. If your mother needs your money, perhaps you ought to offer it to her so she won't have to help herself.

DEAR ABBY: We let our son have a fourteenth birthday party and he invited ten of his school-mates to the house for supper. We left the house for a few hours. When we returned the boys were weak from hysterical laughter. It seems one of them got the bright idea to make a long distance telephone call to The White House! They got through, too, but didn't get to talk to anyone of any importance.

DEAR ABBY: I am the kind of wife who tells her husband everything. His mother is the kind of person who tells her friends everything. Now everyone in town knows all my business. How do you get a man to keep his mouth shut? Or should I tell his mother to keep hers shut?

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Last November, 16 of the best pairs of bridge players in the United States completed in the trials to determine the American team which will play for the World's championship this summer. When the smoke of battle had cleared away the three winning pairs, in order of finish were: G. Robert Nail of Houston and James O. Jacoby of Dallas, Robert Jordan and Arthur Robinson of Philadelphia, and Howard Schenck and Peter Leventritz of New York.

Jim's victory can be partly ascribed to the fact that he must have been the happiest man in the tournament. His wife, Judy, gave birth to their first child, James Oswald Jr., just two days before play started. James Jr. is also my first grandchild, so I am just about the proudest combination of grandfather and father around today.

Judgment in close situations is the test of success in top flight competition and Jim and Bobby gained a good score when Jim converted Bobby's takeout double of three hearts into a penalty double by passing.

Bobby opened the king of diamonds and the defense promptly cashed two diamonds and three spade tricks and still had to make a trick. Of course, if Jim had elected to bid three no-trump he would have made a game, but Jim had no way of knowing that Bobby held the king of hearts. Jim's queen and one heart could not stop the suit by themselves.

We The Women: By Ruth Millet

How do you greet your husband when he comes home at night—with enthusiasm or a tale of woe?

When hubby asks that routine question, "Well, how did your day go?", it won't brighten his homecoming to have to listen to a dispirited string of little worries and aggravations that may have plagued your day.

You know that you'd like him to be cheery after a hard day's work, but do you ever stop to think what he would like to hear?

In the first place, he'd like a little excitement on your part—not just at the sight of himself, but enthusiasm over something that happened during the day. It could be just that a flight of birds paused in the back yard in the morning before heading south, or that junior came home from school with a star on his homework.

In the eight or 10 hours that your husband has been at work, you must have done or seen or thought something worth telling him about.

One thing he doesn't want to hear is complaints: about how tired you are or how impatient the children have been or that some appliance broke down.

He had his own troubles at the office. He wants to forget them and not take on any of yours—at least, not right away.

There may be some bad news he has to hear, but if it isn't earthshaking, the moment of greeting isn't the time. Wait until he's had a chance to relax, to eat a good dinner, to settle back into the comfort of home life before you ask him to face anything unpleasant.

That way, he'll be better able to take it in stride.

All a wife has to do to know how to greet a homecoming husband is to put herself in his place.

If she can do that, she'll know he wants a warm welcome and a cheerful smile from a wife who has something new and pleasant to tell him, no matter how inconsequential it may seem.

Enthusiasm is infectious; chances are he'll react in kind.

Previous Freezes Also Put Crimp In Seminole Agriculture

The recent freeze, which was the worst since 1940 in Seminole County, brought about many comparisons to previous cold weather in this area.

Randall Chase of Chase and Co. wrote an interesting article back in July of 1947, in which he traced cold weather up to that time and its effect on the county.

Here is that article.

FREEZES

The first dependable record of severe cold in Florida dates back to 1853. References made to severe colds prior to that time mention some of DeSoto's men freezing to death—this cannot be verified. In 1853 there seems to be reasonably complete records of temperatures which at St. Augustine reached approximately 10 degrees above zero, and the St. Johns River is reported to have frozen several yards from shore.

Undoubtedly other cold waves occurred at various intervals, probably of less severity.

In the History of Orange County we find recorded the following affidavit, made by the late Captain E. M. Robinson, one of the pioneers of Orange County, (which then included what is now Seminole County) who at that time lived near Sanford at Fort Reed. The affidavit is dated Feb. 9, 1890, and reads as follows:—

"That on the night of Dec. 20, 1884, a freeze occurred in Florida by reason of which the entire crop of oranges and other fruits in the County of Orange and other counties was ruined and lost; That afterwards, to-wit, on the night of the 7th of February, 1895, a still greater freeze occurred, in fact the greatest ever known in the history of the state, the thermometer reaching as low as 18 degrees above zero, by reason of which second freeze, almost all of the orange trees in Orange and other counties were killed to the ground.

"That this affidavit is made and asked to be recorded for the information of future generations."

You will note that the first phase of this freeze occurred on December 28. Official temperatures at Jacksonville recorded 14. About 45 days later the second, or another, freeze occurred on the night of Feb. 7-8, when the temperature at Jacksonville was again recorded at 14 degrees. The weather between the December and February freezes was warm, with good rains, which caused trees to put on new growth and appear well on the road to recovery. People felt encouraged, they fertilized and cultivated their groves. When the February freeze came the trees were full of sap and in a flourishing condition, which made them very vulnerable.

Many of the big trees burst during the freeze. This disaster was a body blow to the economy of the state. Up to that time the citrus industry had developed rapidly, and Florida was the largest citrus producing state in the Union, shipping 5,035,307 boxes, compared to California's 2,200,000. The year following the freeze the shipments from the state were only 147,000 boxes, and Florida did not until 1910 produce 5,000,000 boxes.

Nearly everyone in Florida was directly or indirectly dependent on the citrus, and many businesses failed. The tourist trade had hardly started. Banks closed and people deserted or left the state by the thousands. The railroads reduced the freight rates by one half, in order to help. The county commissioners of Orange County voted a substantial relief fund in order to provide funds for orange growers and those who were thrown out of work. It is to the everlasting credit of the citizens of Orange County that not a single dime of this money was ever asked for. Those sturdy pioneers went to work with the resources they had and not only rebuilt a citrus industry but started new enterprises. It was about this time that raising celery around Sanford was started. The first plantings we can find a record of are in 1896. An early shipment consisted of 45 crates from Meltonville—which is near the site of the Mayfair Hotel.

On Dec. 13, 1902 there is a record of two small car lots of oranges being shipped from Sanford, the first car lots in eight years, or since the freeze. That gives some idea of the complete devastation which occurred. From 1895 until the season of 1945-46 California produced and shipped more citrus than Florida. For the season 1946-47 Florida again produced more citrus than California or any other state in the Union, with a total of over 100,000,000 boxes.

The winters that followed 1894-95 were severe—28 and 28 degree temperatures with heavy frosts were frequently recorded. In 1899 the lowest temperature was recorded since the Weather Bureau was established—the official temperature at Jacksonville was 10 degrees at Tallahassee. It was reported to have gone below zero. Jacksonville had considerable snow, with traces occurring as far south as Orlando. After the disastrous freeze of 1895-96, vegetable growers endeavored to find a frost-free area. In 1899 Mr. Henry M. Flager, builder of the Florida East Coast Railroad, in order to develop tonnage for that road encouraged the planting of vegetables on the Cape Sable—the southerly tip of the Florida mainland. These vegetables were to move by boat to Miami, and thence by rail to the northern markets. So far as any one knew at that time frost had never occurred there. The freeze of 1899 killed all tender vegetables in that area and frost was recorded as far south as some of the Keys.

Other cold waves, or freezes, occurred in 1903, 1904, 1908 and then skip from that date until 1917 before another very damaging cold occurred. By that date the citrus production in Florida had reached 8,370,000 boxes. In 1917-18 it dropped to 5,381,309 boxes. The next cold occurred in 1927, again in 1934, and again in 1940. Production of citrus continue to increase in Florida until in 1947 the crop was estimated to be in excess of 100,000,000 boxes. The February 1947 freeze was not severe in terms of temperature. The morning of Feb.

5, and for several morning thereafter, the temperature was near or below freezing.

February had been preceded by the warmest winter on record for the prior 75 years. This warm weather put the citrus and vegetable crops in a soft, susceptible condition so they suffered severe damage. The citrus loss was estimated at 25,000,000 boxes.

When citrus trees are shocked, even though the fruit on the trees has not been ruined, the tree will sometimes draw juice from the fruit in order to revive itself. Tests have been made to prove this by injecting color matter into oranges and tapping the limbs or trunk of the tree later and find the coloring matter. Such a shock doesn't have to come from a freeze. It might follow a hurricane, severe drought or other unfavorable growing conditions.

Income Tax Primer:

The New Tax Form

This is the third of eight articles in the Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Income Tax Primer.

By Richard A. Mallens

The first thing you may notice about your 1962 income tax return is that the place for printing or typing your name is longer. If you look at the space next to it you will notice that the spot for your Social Security number is being emphasized by bold-faced print.

This new importance given your Social Security number is part of the preparation for the use of electronic automatic return processing. The Internal Revenue Service for '62 requires all persons with Social Security numbers to use them.

In the case of a joint return of husband and wife, in most cases only the Social Security number of the husband is required. However, if the wife has a separate income of more than $600 (or $1,200 if she is over 65, or if she has self-employment income (or most other income paid to her alone), her number must also be on the return.

For filing purposes, everyone covered or not covered by the Social Security Act, must have a Social Security number.

If an individual does not have a Social Security number and is not furnished a form to obtain a number by the Internal Revenue Service during 1962, he must apply for one. Form is available from any district director of Internal Revenue or from any district Social Security office.

Another innovation in your 1962 return is the option to have any overpayment applied to the purchase of series E United States Savings Bonds.

And do bear in mind these often-overlooked items about filing your return:

SIGN IT—Now, on the long form 1040 on page 2 instead of page 1, husband and wife must both sign on joint returns. Even if you use a separate schedule for such items as rents, dividends, or interest, in preparing your return make sure you transfer the total to the applicable lines on the return itself. The Internal Revenue Service also requires for the first time that your Social Security number be entered on all attachments to your return. The penalty for failure to submit your Social Security (or other account) number on your return is $5 for each violation.

Q—Under what conditions can the short form (1040A) be filed?

A—If your gross income was less than $10,000 (including your wife if you file a joint return), and if your (and your wife's) total income (except for no more than $200) was from wages or salary on which tax was withheld by your employer.

Q—When must the long form (1040) be used?

A—If you were self-employed you must use the long form. But even if you are an employee, when you have over $10,000 total income or you have more than $200 from sources other than wages and salary subject to withholding, the long form is for you. Also, if you are claiming the status of either "Head of Household" or "Surviving Spouse."

"LET'S TALK DRY CLEANING"

By WOODROW CASH

The start of a New Year is always a time for brave new resolutions, for taking stock, for starting with a clean slate. So here's a thought from one who specializes in "clean slates."

Sort through your "holiday best" clothing. Check each piece carefully for those accidental liquid stains or that small spot left by a stray bit of cranberry sauce. Odds are that lady's party dresses, and every man's best suits, were worn much more than usual during the holidays.

Don't just tuck them back into the closet on a hanger and forget them. One good rule to remember about clothes care is that spots and stains of whatever kind shouldn't be allowed to harden and become fixed in the fabric. That makes them even more difficult to get out.

So bring in your best finery now for our expert spot cleaning, for the thorough overall cleaning we give to every garment, and the expert pressing that will take out those wrinkles and creases to make your clothes look like new. It pays to take good care of your good clothes. We pick up and deliver...

Hutchison Heads County Board Again

New County Commissioners Lee Gary, District 4, and John R. Alexander, District 2, were seated officially at today's meeting of the commission.

Vice chairman James P. Avery Jr. called for the qualifications of the new commissioners and Clerk Arthur Beckwith certified their credentials.

Following the calling to order of the new board, Atty. Harold Johnson took the chair and conducted the election of officers which resulted in the unanimous re-election of Chairman J. C. Hutchison and Vice Chairman Avery.

Avery read greetings from the chairman, who is in Seminole Memorial Hospital, which said, in part, "I want to express my warm appreciation for the services rendered by the outgoing members, and I feel the county is richer for their service."

A warm welcome was also extended to the new members. Both Williams and Dunn in their parting remarks said it had been an honor and a pleasure to be of service to the people of the county, and Williams said he was sure the county has the service of the best qualified men available for the job.

Encephalitis Danger Cited

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — A State Health Department official warned Monday that another outbreak of encephalitis like the one that hit the Pinellas County area last summer could strike again in Florida in 1963.

The meeting on Jan. 16 between John Krieger and the DeBary Chamber (or should it say boxing match) has been cancelled.

President Morris Hale of Orlando Junior College denied this morning that there was any truth to the rumor that Seminole College was going to pull out of North Orlando. Said it was news to him, and added, "These false rumors get going and they are hard to stop. But, we will have big news for the area shortly."

Under a new plan for the City of Longwood all thoroughfares running east and west will be designated "avenues" while those running north and south will be "streets."

Inquiry Asked Into Viet Nam Forces Action

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes, (D-Fla.), called Monday for an inquiry into the Viet Nam war as one of the first orders of business in the new Congress.

Sikes, from Crestview and third-ranking Democrat on the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee, said he was shocked by defeat of South Vietnamese forces at Ap Bay by an outnumbered force of Communists. He said "we cannot risk American lives" if the Vietnamese refuse to fight, as they were accused of doing in the battle.

"We must get some assurances that the Vietnamese will fight, and get some officers who will command," Sikes said.

County Judge sure getting fancy. First a special sidewalk from the Sheriff's office to the office and now Vernon Mize wants an intercom system. He'll get it too to the tune of $145.

Sanford Atlantic Bank directors meeting today and Bill Hemphill and Scott Burns will probably be named new directors.

County Aide Opposed

County Commissioner John Alexander today asked the commission for serious consideration against hiring an administrative aide and voiced his objection to the need for the $15,000 appropriation.

Alexander declared that he was not convinced of the need for an aide, and he emphatically said he thought the board should give further thought to the step.

The commission included $15,000 in the new budget for the proposed aide, to include his salary, the salary of a secretary and his office expenses.

Alexander's opposition came just a few minutes after Vice Chairman Jim Avery had said in the course of another discussion that in his opinion the employment of an aide to assist in the administrative work of the commission was a necessary step for the commission to take.

Alexander also succeeded in having the next meeting of the board postponed so the new commissioners could attend the seminar for commissioners at Tallahassee. The board decided to meet Jan. 29, instead of the regular date, Jan. 21.

In other business, the repair of the Longwood-Markham road was discussed and also the grading of Little Wekiva Road from the Longwood-Markham thoroughfare to Sandhills Springs.

At Alexander's suggestion the matter was deferred until the new commissioners have an opportunity to inspect the roads under discussion. Engineer Hill Bush's estimate of the cost to repair the two right angle curves in the Longwood-Markham road was $5,000, which did not include drainage facilities.

A letter from Golden Gem Growers, Umatilla, urgently requested that all grove land in the county be re-evaluated for tax purposes since the big freeze, because most of the trees under 12 years of age had been heavily damaged.

The commission agreed, at Avery's suggestion, to defer the matter to the next meeting.

It was also decided to accept the bid of General Motors Corp. for the two new dump trucks needed by the road department. The accepted bid was for a complete dump truck at $5,829.94 and a cab and chassis unit to be used with a body now on hand for $3,087.88, or a total of $8,917.82.

A bid for 300 gallons of hand soap at $1.60 a gallon was approved for the Atlantic Chemical Co., and Lyman School athletic department was given permission to make their selection of bids on baseball equipment.

Seat Belts Urged
TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Cabinet urged today that all state agencies install seat belts in their automobiles in an effort to save lives.

Plans for a half-million dollar retirement and nursing center to be built in DeBary were announced today by Dr. Leonard Munson, president of Retirement Life, Inc.

The new corporation, composed of Sanford and DeBary business and professional men, is preparing to build a 92 to 112 bed home, with 88 beds in the main building and several duplex cottages, designed especially for retired couples.

"This new retirement-nursing home will be unique in the state," Munson said, "and rates will be within the limits of the Blue Shield Senior plan, and also within proposed social security retirement pensions."

The new center is to be situated on a lake, near the site of the new DeBary Medical Center, and will meet accreditation standards of the American Hospital Assn., the American College of Surgeons and the American College of Physicians. It also will be built to 1962 government standards and specifications, Munson said.

Munson said that Architect Jim Chapman, who is one of the members of the corporation, already has plans and drawings for the 32,000 square foot, one story building well on the way and is beginning to draw up specifications for building requirements.

No date has been set for beginning construction, but the center is expected to be ready for occupancy this summer, Munson said.

The officers and executive board members of the newly formed corporation are: Munson, president; Robert Hesserer, secretary; Tom Armano, treasurer; W. G. Miller, Delray, builder; attorneys Eugene Lefler and William Hitchcock; architect Jim Chapman and Dr. Mack Lipton, retired nose and throat specialist from DeBary.

Munson, who is a fellow of the College of the American Geriatrics Assn., asserted that the retirement center and nursing home is not planned as a place to "just vegetate," but residents will be encouraged "to stay active and busy, and take part in as many social and recreational activities as they have strength and inclination.

"There'll be nothing fancy, but everything will be planned along the lines of simplicity, safety, good care, and an active, enjoyable life," he said.

Within the center will be facilities such as a library, music room, arts and crafts, photography lab, beauty shop, barber shop, concession center, laundry, hobby supply center and a fully landscaped recreational area out of doors, with shuffleboard, lawn bowling and other sports.

Physical therapy will be available, with particular attention to the needs of arthritic residents, and they will be free to come and go and take part in the civic, religious and social affairs of the community of DeBary.

Residents will be under the care and advice of their personal physicians, but routine medical checks at regular intervals will be given by the supervising medical staff.

The entire facility will be air conditioned and every safety factor will be provided.

Munson noted that residents will be allowed to bring their own bed and personal belongings if they so desire, and if they are safe. Semi-privacy is planned in the use of the cottage residences for couples, with as much personal freedom as is permitted by physicians, but with the security of prompt nursing care, aid and help, if needed.

"We are aiming for a retirement life in which the individual keeps as physically active as possible, always mentally active, living in the present and not in the past," Munson emphasized.

Cuban Invasion Force Is Urged

MIAMI (UPI) — Four recently released Cuban invaders, charging that America has "acted like a second-class power" in vain efforts to overthrow Premier Fidel Castro, today urged formation of a new, "large-scale" Cuban invasion force outside the United States.

The four, who described themselves as spokesmen for a minority faction among the invasion veterans, said President Kennedy's Dec. 29 call for unity among Cuban refugees was "a smokescreen to cover up the fact that the United States really has no plan to solve the Cuban problem."

They also assailed "false leaders" of the Cuban refugees—a shift clearly aimed at Jose Mito Cardona and his Cuban Revolutionary Council.

The four are Enrique Llaça Jr., Sergio Galeano, Manuel Camargo and Enrique Rodriguez.

They say they represent 100 of the 1,113 invasion prisoners ransomed by the United States for $12 million. These 100 ex-prisoners boycotted Kennedy's Orange Bowl welcome to the freed Cubans.

The four spokesmen said they have resigned from Invasion Brigade 2506 "to prepare a new plan of action against the Castro regime." They said the brigade should be disbanded because it was organized "for a purpose that failed."

The brigade's leaders, Manuel Artimo, Jose Perez San Roman and Eneldo Oliva, support Mito's council.

The four called on the United States "to declare whether it is willing to give Cuban refugees as much aid to free Cuba as Castro has received—from the Communist bloc—to enslave it."

They emphasized that no American or other foreign troops were wanted. They said Cuban refugees could "free Cuba through our own efforts without need of foreign intervention that would jeopardize world peace."

"The United States cannot continue participating in our liberation efforts in the same vacillating and half-hearted way it has been doing so far," the group said.

"By assuming, directly or through mediocre Cuban leadership, the total responsibility for our cause, the United States has unwittingly served the interests of Soviet diplomacy."

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — The United States and Russia, over Cuban opposition, Monday night reached a compromise settlement of the Cuban crisis which brought the world to the brink of nuclear war less than three months ago.

The settlement did not satisfy the U. S. demand for "adequate inspection" of the removal of Soviet offensive weapons from Cuba and guarantees against their return.

Bryant To Decide On New Session

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant said today he expects to make a decision this week on a special session of the legislature to deal with reapportionment.

Whether he announces the decision here or at a news conference in Sarasota Saturday will depend on his success in getting telephone commitments from legislators.

The governor, who took a firm hand in negotiating with legislators this week after leaving the preliminaries to house and Senate leadership, said he has not thus far contacted enough lawmakers on which to base a definite conclusion.

Of the ones he has contacted, and he refused to tell newsmen the number, only two have turned him down, he said, and they qualified the rejection with a promise to go along if nothing better is possible.

He said he is asking for commitments for a Senate reapportionment on a formula of either the present 39 seats or an increase to 42. In the House, he is pushing for an increase from the present 85 to 144.

Meanwhile, House Speaker Mallory Horne continued to press for inclusion of federal-state relations matters in any special session called for reapportionment.
