Student Transfer Protest Is Lodged

A petition bearing 102 signatures from parents of South Seminole children attending Spring Lake Elementary School was delivered to Seminole County District School Board members late Tuesday afternoon at the conclusion of a special meeting.

The petition stated parents object to moving their children from the Spring Lake facility to another school for the 1970-71 term.

A stay in the move was requested for the following reasons: "Our children have been in three separate school facilities in the past three years; we believe that the instructional program developing at Spring Lake Elementary School . . . how our children to benefit more and more; the PIA board and parent aides for teachers planning time are staffed by approximately 50 per cent of the parents who might be involved in the move."

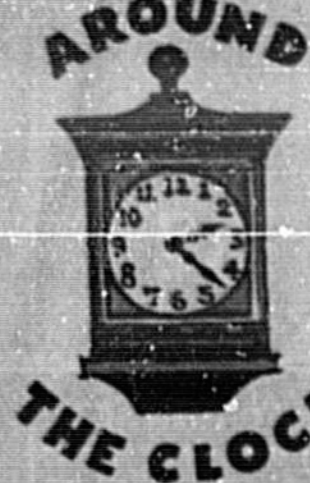

This morning at his weekly news conference, Sept. John Angel answered questions concerning the reliable report that children in the area of Druid Hills, Bretton Woods and Hidden Estates will be bused to schools out of their neighborhood.

Angel said the plan for zoning schools is nearly completed and will be given to the board for perusal and implementation.

He said he met with these parents Friday night and attempted to explain the school situation involving an organizational plan based on school capacities.

Angel mentioned the problem of students attending English Estates having to be sent to a Matiland church for school because of the 4-crowded facilities, and advised that county has other elementary schools with not enough pupils in attendance at the same time.

"If anyone has knowledge of how we can solve problems so we don't have to transport pupils, this is desirable," Angel commented.

We've been told to look out for the really, really big opening for the Seminole Turf Club. Latest to be making the rounds is that an invite has been extended to Dean Martin and Frank Sinatra? (Oh, come on now . . . both of 'em in the same room? Just couldn't take it, Dad!)

Meant to do this a long time ago . . . congratulations to those folks in the English Estates area. Your "Town Crier" is just what the doctor ordered in helping to keep the interest high within a particular neighborhood . . . and it's being done professionally, too.

The ads of the shirtmakers extol the virtues of their "ferpuffiness," "horn-tailored" collars with their shirone details. I wonder if these fellows have recently looked at the form or the torso of the well-fed male of this age of abundance. The mid-section is Button-poppers, that's what those shirts are!

If they haven't already done it, those County Commissioners are gonna be faced with a decision that often aggravates the public servant. For a newly described job of "Administrator" what type fellow will be considered; the educated, experienced specialist in political division management? Or the "local" fellow, ol' buddy-buddy who's a nice guy, knows the local power groups, has no desire to get involved in anything that might cause controversy, or more especially, animosity? Long ago, most businessmen hereabouts have urged that a business as huge as that of the county be run by a well-qualified BUSINESS administrator. The political chips should fall where they will, but especially not in the way of efficient operation of the county's affairs.

Even without the current emphasis on "pollution" as an adverse element in our everyday living, the granting of permission to establish sub-divisions without insistence on COMPLETE responsibility of the developer for ROADS, SEWAGE DISPOSAL, DRINKABLE WATER, POWER should have been paramount as Commissioners granted permission to file a plat. It gets increasingly important now. And the developer who is shoe-stringing or is unwilling to provide these essentials for sound expansion just must not be sincere — and his plat denied.

'I'm Hurt And Offended . . .'

Paulucci Resigns From CATV

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI

"I'm leaving for Duluth today . . . and I'm hurt and offended."

Sanford resident and industrialist Jeno Paulucci freely expressed his comments regarding another newspaper's report, wherein the term "ultra liberal" was used in describing a particular applicant for Community Antenna TV at Monday night's Sanford City Commission meeting.

"What a short-memory some people have. How about my being an ultra liberal and getting the Sanford Airport for the City for $1? And when it came time for some help for the port, who was it that got the money . . . one-half a grant and the other one-half as a loan?"

"And when someone had to get the EDA to designate this area appropriately to receive federal benefits, they didn't hesitate to call on Jeno, now did they?"

"And the building in which Dynatronics is presently located . . . here again I helped out."

"So, now I'm tagged with a 'red herring' by being an ultra liberal. Well, who knows . . . I just might be supporting a Republican for Governor . . . and I'm still an ultra liberal!"

"All I'm interested in is the best for the City of Sanford and its people."

Paulucci violently disagreed with the interpretation of the meeting and vowed to withdraw as a stockholder of the corporation in order that he might be able to "follow it as a disinterested citizen." He further stated, that if needed, he would initiate an injunction against all parties in the event the awarding of the contract was not made on the basis of who's most professional to operate the CATV as well as the best financial reward to the city.

Just prior to press time, the Sanford Herald received the following telegram:

Mr. L. T. Contella — Sanford Community TV Corp. 489 W. Washington St., Orlando.

"Am most disturbed over what I read in Sentinel Section of Orlando papers where it states that Sanford Community TV Corp. should not be considered because of ultra-liberalism of Times-Life. Have discussed the matter with some of the city council and the newspaper here and have insisted the city council make its decision of who should be CATV firm not on the basis of politics or friendship or red herring, but rather what's best for people of Sanford on the basis who's most professional to operate the CATV as well as the best financial reward to the city."

"I have told the city fathers here as well as the newspaper that I am withdrawing insofar as my personal participation so that I can objectively see to it that the selection by the city fathers is made on the basis of what's best professionally, and financially for the city. I cannot do so if I have a financial interest in one of the applying firms."

"This does not mean that my application should not be considered by the city, I am just giving up my share and you folks can distribute it amongst Times-Life and others because it is more important to me that the selection by the city of Sanford be made on a professional basis and financial basis which I am going to follow through by being not involved financially."

"Good luck."

County Ponders Assistant

By MARION BETHEA

The possible hiring of an administrative assistant was discussed by Seminole county commissioners yesterday.

The duties of the assistant were enumerated by Commission Chairman John Alexander as being "assisting in administrative procedures as well as organizational ones, assisting department heads in instituting new procedures, co-ordinating departments in county functions, compiling statistics and information relating to county government, preparing factual reports on studies and surveys, conducting special programs authorized by the board of commissioners, handling correspondence, assisting with the agenda, scheduling meetings (conferences and work sessions), co-ordinating board action with other government agencies, assisting with public complaints, . . . to investigate and channel the appropriate departments, to be available to the public for advice and information on county policies and matters, to supervise maintenance and repair of county property, to administer and maintain the county personnel program, to assist the employment board in selection and placement of personnel, to administer the county central purchasing procedure, to give strong assistance to the board in executing responsibilities and to be of general assistance to the public."

Chairman John Alexander advised that the assistant "will earn his money" and his employment will not reduce the time commissioners spend in involvement in county issues.

Alexander continued that the assistant differs from a county manager in that the manager is over 2nd in charge of various departments, while the administrative assistant is not in charge and only works with and assists the departments.

'LEADING LATEST POLL,' HOPEFUL CLAIMS

DEMOCRATS FETED gubernatorial hopeful Sen. John E. Mathews at a "recognition dinner" last night. One hundred and fifty-two persons paid $50 a plate to attend the fund-raising affair to finance Mathews' campaign for the Democratic nomination

Mathews Claims 'In Lead'

By BILL SCOTT

Democratic gubernatorial hopeful John E. (Jack) Mathews last night blasted Gov. Claude Kirk before an estimated assemblage of 152 Democrats and "enlightened" Republicans who paid $50 a plate to attend a "Recognition Dinner" at House of Steak.

With Senator Verle Pope, former president of the State Senate, as emcee, Mathews said, "Happiness is a new governor for Florida, and accused Republican Gov. Kirk of being a comedian or showman."

Mathews said, "I don't have the ability to compete with Claude as a comedian or showman, but I can outwork him or any other candidate 10-to-one in trying to do things for the people."

The politician said Florida is the greatest state in the world, but he added "We're not doing everything to be No. 1. What we need is a new quarterback to make sure we're No. 1."

Mathews said the governor should set the moral tone for the state but indicated that precinct the state is without it.

Referring to his last unsuccessful campaign to get the Democratic nomination for governor, Mathews commented, "I know how hard it is to run for governor. I've run before and I know what's in store."

He said it looked "real good" for his campaign now and indicated there had been an upsurge in the last couple of months.

The first two polls showed someone else ahead, but with the third poll just taken, we are in the lead," Mathews advised.

The hopeful said he had 14 of the 27 Dade County mayors in his camp and this with possibly "two other governor candidates from Dade County."

Mathews said he felt he could make inroads in the Republican influence now in Central Florida and indicated northwestern Florida is his strong point.

Mathews was introduced by Mack N. Cleveland Jr., former state senator, who related that Mathews and Gwendolyn, his wife, are frequent visitors to Sanford to fish.

The Democrat was presented with a rod and reel by Sanford Municipal Judge Roger Berry at the conclusion of the dinner.

Fire Protection Hike Protested

By MARION BETHEA

Vernon Dunn, commissioner-secretary of the Suburban Fire Control District, appeared at a meeting of Seminole County commissioners yesterday to remonstrate against a discussion held at a work session of Altamonte Springs City Council regarding contract renewal.

Mayor W. Lawrence Swafford had stated that the fire protection was costing the citizens of Altamonte more money than the district was paying and recommended that a three-year contract be executed with the district in which payment would be $25,000, $27,500 and $30,000 for each of the three years. Currently the district is paying the municipality $10,000.

Swafford had continued that the millage levied in the district was cheaper than other districts and that if the commissioners in the fire control district did not want to levy enough millage to give adequate fire protection they should quit.

Dunn read a letter to the county commissioners in which he called the actions of Altamonte's City Council "arbitrary."

Dunn continued that for the years 1968, 1969 and 1970 the district's payments amounted to 43.45 per cent of the total appropriation for the fire department or 57.79 per cent of the operating cost, or an average of $202.70 for each response to fires.

In an allusion to the cheaper millage in other districts, Dunn mentioned that the Suburban District's contracted service may be terminated at the end of any contract year while the other districts have a continuing investment in lands, buildings and equipment.

Dunn further stated that the district is willing to pay a proper amount, but would not accede to an arbitrary demand for up to 200 per cent increase over the contract price for 1970 and made "for obvious reasons."

Dunn stated in the letter that the issue is being used for "political campaigning purposes."

Dunn asked the county commissioners if the fire commissioners could be permitted not to submit a budget for contracted fire protection service for the ensuing year leaving the district without such service until other provisions could be made, and pending such other provisions could millage be levied for a security capital outlay fund for the purchase of a vending machine at the Casselberry firm and a quantity of cigarettes, food and bread was removed from the Handy store.

Tornado Continues A Major Puzzle To Scientist

By JAY PERKINS
NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — It comes bolting out of the black sky, a swirling snake of turbulence, and when it hits, man's accomplishments become so much chaff scattered on the wind. No one knows exactly what it is. And no one knows how to stop it.

For each inch the most powerful of nature's windy children, the tornado is by far the most capricious.

Skipping and dancing across the sky, the whirlwinds sometimes carve a crooked path through miles of farm fields, demolishing, playing havoc with homes and turning trees into lumber. Like a petulant child who has grown tired of his toys, the National Severe Storm Laboratory here has been studying the killer winds for 10 years. Dr. Edwin Kessler, director of the facility, said scientists still are not sure just what creates a tornado.

And, he says, they're certainly not about to try and destroy one.

"We don't feel we know enough about them to tamper with them," he said. "So I think we had just better leave them alone and let it be God's work for the time being."

A tornado, basically, is a wind wrapped in a near vacuum. Several factors are present each time a twister is born, but their presence doesn't insure a successful birth.

Kessler said a tornado is created under conditions similar to boiling water in a sauce pan. There's the earth's surface, which is being heated by the sun, the low layer of moist air and an upper layer of dry and cooler air.

The moist, hot air suddenly becomes heated enough for it to break through the upper layer — much like a bubble breaks the water's surface. The surrounding air rushes into the resulting vacuum, and the cold upper air is pulled downward.

This is the process that creates thunderstorms and — under the right circumstances — tornadoes.

It's much more complicated than that, Kessler explained. Heat interchange plays an important role. And it's possible that atmospheric electricity has a function.

"When we get down to the nitty-gritty, we're not sure," he said. "It may be a matter of degree."

The center of a tornado — the near vacuum — is created by the sudden upsurge of warm air. But no one is sure what causes the winds to wrap around it.

"Basically, the whirling is present in all air," Kessler said. "If rotation is not present initially, it doesn't develop. But the air is always rotating because the earth is rotating."

The winds of a tornado are believed to move faster than those of a hurricane — about 300 miles per hour, Kessler said. But the tremendous destructive effect comes not from the pressure but from the rapid pressure changes.

The action causes houses to literally explode.

Most tornadoes occur in the Great Plains area, and Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas and Missouri are known as "tornado alley" from April to June.

Other areas of the nation have different periods in which tornadoes are most frequent, depending on when the warm, moist air from the Gulf of Mexico collides with the colder northern air.

There were 607 confirmed tornadoes in 1969 — 31 of them in Oklahoma.

The worst series of tornadoes on record occurred on March 18, 1925, in Missouri, Illinois and Indiana, when 680 people died and 1,800 were injured.

In 1969, 1,000 lives were lost in deaths are down, largely due to better detection measures and warning procedures.

The U.S. Weather Bureau has launched a SKYWARN '70 program to identify areas where conditions favor the formation of tornadoes and issue warnings where necessary.

In addition, the Weather Bureau tracks all storm cells on radar and issues warnings when a twister is confirmed by radar.

Observations are made through a network of ground stations, the use of radar and through aerial survey.

Some of the projects at the NSSL this year include determining if electricity has any part in the formation of a tornado, charting the internal movement of a storm cell, and determining the speed of a tornado.

Oklahoma State University has a project under way to listen to storms. Scientists hope to learn if storm development can be predicted by the electronic static given off.

The average tornado is about a quarter of a mile wide and seldom lasts more than 16 miles. However, a tornado that killed 101 persons in Oklahoma in 1947 was estimated at 170 miles wide.

And in 1917 a tornado traveled 253 miles across Illinois and Indiana.

And Codel, Kan., was hit three successive years — from 1916 to 1918 — and each time on May 26.

Marines: We Could Win Vietnam War In 48 Hours

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI
(Part II)

The second day of our VIP tour of Camp Lejeune was one where we would be exposed to the thinking... the "training" of the Marine's enemy in Vietnam, the VC or "Chinks."

Following an early morning breakfast, our motorcade escorted us into the Headquarters, 2nd Marine Division area of the camp where we would be shown counter-guerrilla warfare. Even to the point of entering a completely built-to-scale... My Lai Village.

And it was here that we would learn that more U.S. casualties receive their wounds (or death) as a result of a booby trap, than might be shot by the enemy.

We were put into a concealed position where it would be possible for us to watch a "friendly" convoy proceed down a same path which we had just traveled, and watch the black pajama-clad VC's try to wipe 'em out. From mortars dropping smoke bombs, the harsh rattle of machinegun fire to the friendly Marines who were dropping cause they were in the "kill zone"...

It scared the hell out of you, and you realized that tough attitude before the first shot was fired suddenly disappeared and you wanted to crawl under any protective covering, regard less of how thin the branches of the bushes might seem.

We reboarded our means of transportation and entered the VC village. Leading us "up" over a rope-marked pathway was one of the many heroes we met during our visit.

His name was Corporal E. Rowe, a resident of Cleveland, Ohio. This was the right man to "lead us," what with the fighting with the Marines in Korea and Vietnam.

As a matter of fact, all of the instructors were battle-tested veterans.

Rowe, who was the victim of three different booby traps, reminded us that the enemy is more interested in wounding our men. Their reasoning is that it takes three more Marines to care for the wounded man... not to mention the fact that if they had three to shoot at now they had three in the future.

None of the traps were electronic woodens, but did involve those items most accessible for guerrilla use — bamboo, hardwood and pointed bamboo sticks.

They're always dipped into some sort of poison, whether it be cow dung or human excretion... just to make certain that when it penetrated the victim, additional discomfort and pain would follow.

Some of the traps were cleverly-concealed pits, about four feet deep, each with these pointed arrows facing whomever happened to drop through. And when he screamed, and his two or three buddies came to his aid... BOOM! A grenade or two would go off as the rescuers tripped a hidden wire.

Or the appealing bridge spanning a narrow creek, which would hold the light-weighted natives without any apparent effect. The Marine wouldn't have to get his feet wet. But you put the average Marine on it who weighs around 160 pounds, and this is just enough for two battery connected wires to touch and another BOOM!

Or how about that tempting sign which says... "Yankee Go Home." Naturally, you'd reach up to yank it off the tree... and BOOM!

As smart as Corporal Rowe was and his exposure to these death traps... remember, he got it three times.

...a little more than one-half hour it took us to cross through this area, there were more than 70 booby traps.

99 per cent of which we didn't see — EVEN THOUGH WE WERE TOLD TO LOOK FOR plus a whole chestful of 'lectures.'

To my way of thinking this is a real, honest-to-goodness here.

Perhaps the most frightening aspect of all, even the fear of the dog with your name on it finally finding target, is that you don't really know your enemy.

The following are real-life examples which should have a great deal on helping you to understand the problems of 'incidents' over there.

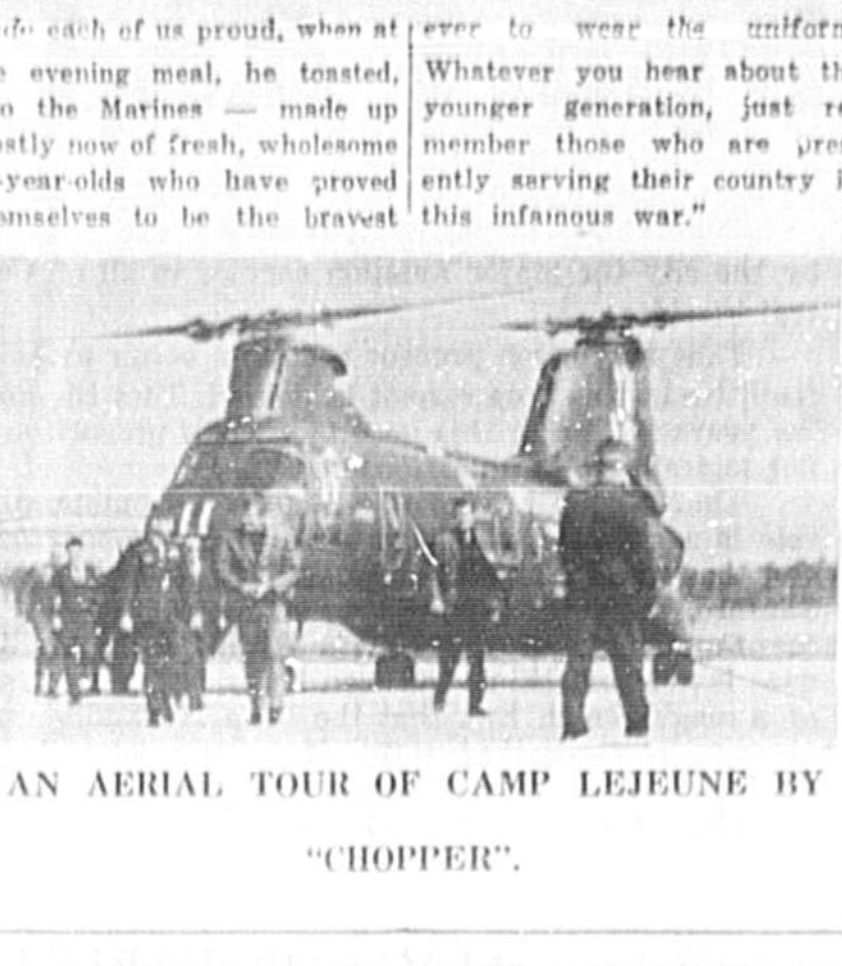

Lt. Colonel Richard Halpelt, who was stationed here at Camp Lejeune, related the incident of the time his camp was attacked by a subunit team. Well, some of 'em made it as far as the barb-wire surrounding the camp before they were cut down.

One of those on the wire was Halpelt's personal barber, a civilian who had worked on base for a number of months. You never know... Or, as Captain Wilson told it: "We picked up this elderly woman to airlift her and a number of other adults and children out of the fighting area. About two hundred feet in the air, she was noticed to be feeling under her blouse. An alert Marine saw two grenades, with their pins pulled out... and that's what happened to her!"

About halfway down to the ground, she and the grenades went off and the remaining 30-odd humans went on their prescribed air.

It's not a very pretty picture, but then, what war ever was?

Major General H. Tompkins

AN AERIAL TOUR OF CAMP LEJEUNE BY "CHOPPER."

These were a few of us who were privileged to receive a Marine flight. As a former Air Foreman, I'm proud to have been able to be exposed to the dedication, integrity and love of our country which was demonstrated by the Corps during this visit.

Thank God that there are men, willing to serve as a Marine, and farther, that there is a U.S. Marine Corps.

Wallace's 3rd Party: 'No Hope Of Winning'

By TED SIMMONS
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Two years ago George Wallace of Alabama won a place on the ballot of all 50 states as a third party candidate for president.

He did it through the efforts of a group of state organizations using various names, but referred to generally as the American Independent party (AIP).

At the peak of his campaign there was speculation that Wallace's organization conceivably could form the nucleus of a more permanent third party effort in state and local candidates and competing with Republicans and Democrats in some areas.

As the 1970 elections draw closer, however, the AIP, almost everywhere, is suffering from a lack of funds, a lack of organization and from intra-party squabbles. Its chances, according to a national survey by The Associated Press, of electing anything more than a handful of local and/or state officials are extremely remote.

In many cases where candidates are being offered this year, party spokesmen acknowledge that they have little hope of winning. Even in the Southern states which Wallace carried in 1968, AIP activity is either fragmented or nonexistent.

In Wallace's home state of Alabama, ironically, there is no AIP. In his presidential campaign Wallace used the regular party machinery there—Gov. Albert Brewer was one of his electors—and Hubert H. Humphrey was listed as the candidate for President of two splinter groups the National Democratic Party of Alabama and the Alabama Independent Democratic party.

Wallace and Brewer are now fighting for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Sanford Airport And The National Spotlight

Striking air traffic controllers have so upset the already harassed aviation world that public attention now must zero in on that transportation facility...

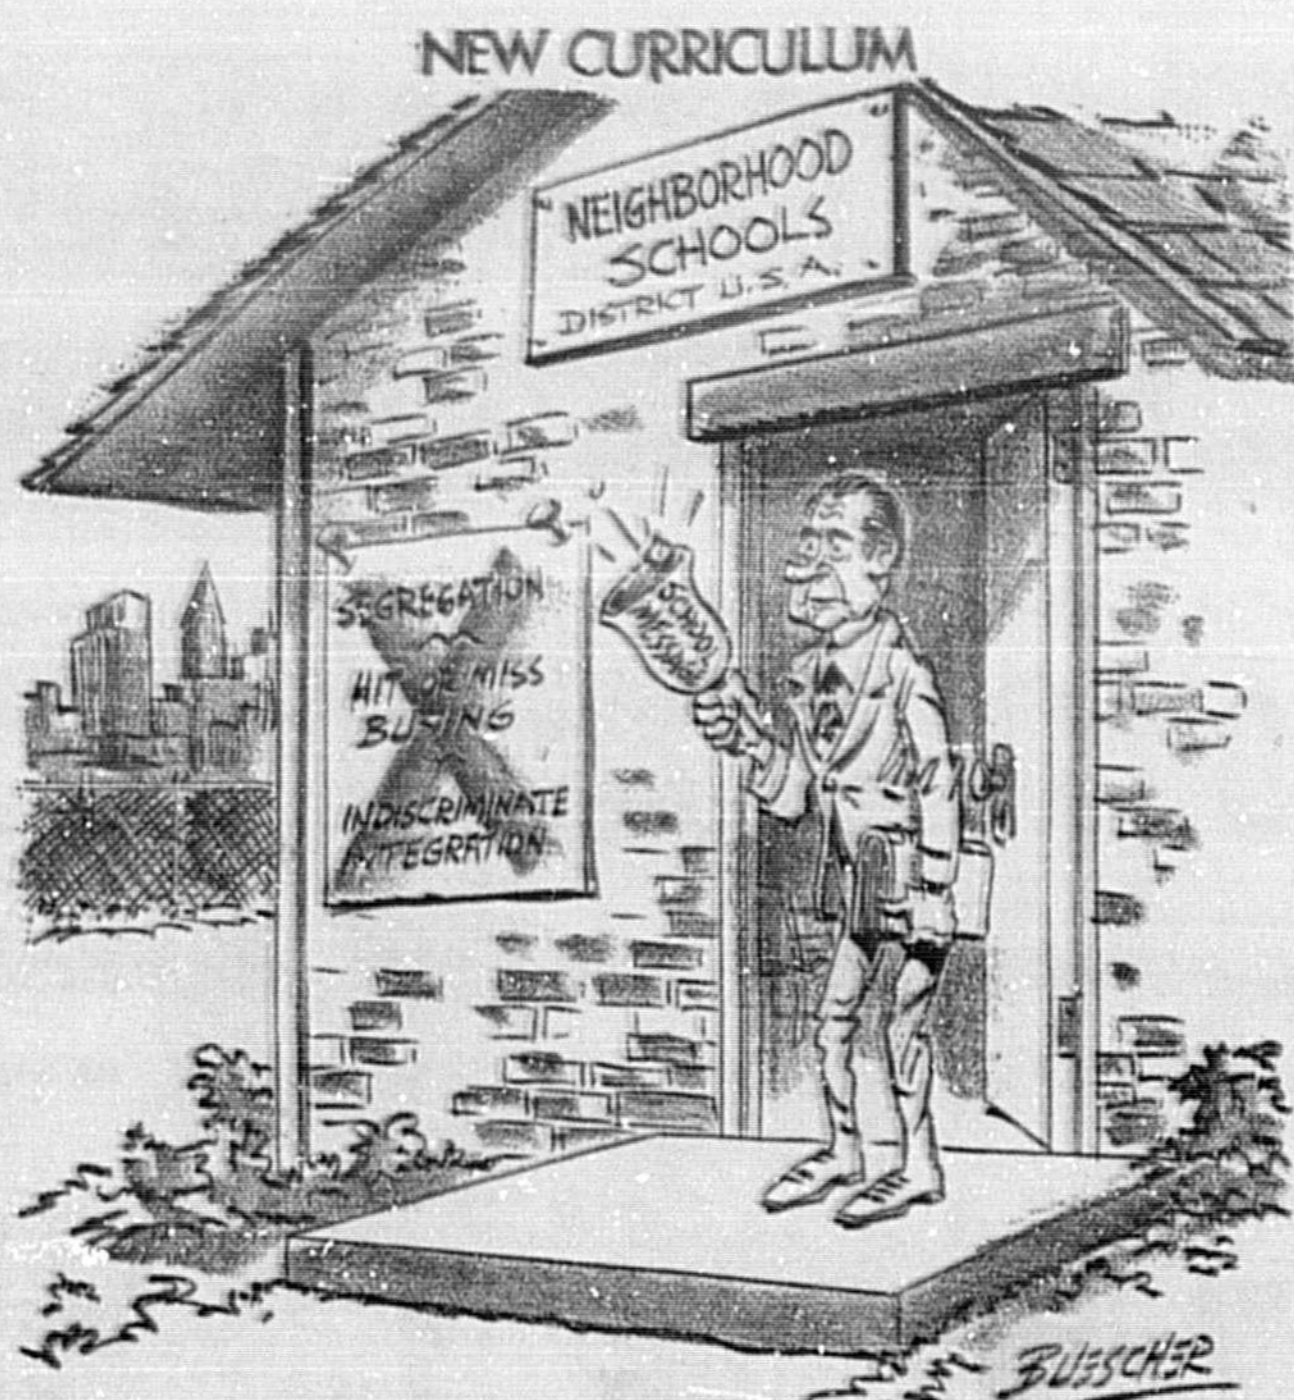

Airport where the Navy for years prepared its "Vigilantes" for global duty, is now being prepared by the city for major aviation service to all of Central Florida.

Navy services gave him specific knowledge about all of the facilities which were in use then. Among this are the primary and essential factors which allow instrument approach by airplanes.

This is the attraction of air-oriented industry. We believe that this alone is a big enough challenge and a rewarding enough operation to deserve the attention and secure the full support of both the Sanford Industrial Commission and the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

Worst Dressed Originator Attacks Fashion Designers

By ARLEEN ABRAHAM
AP Newsfeatures Writer

That maverick of the fashion world, designer Mr. (Richard) Blackwell, says this year, for the first time in a decade, he suffers "terrible images of conscience" composing his annual list of worst-dressed women.

"Was that I worried about being accused of hating anyone's feelings—I adore having people hate me—but I felt why blame the women," explained the flamboyant handsome former movie actor. "The blame should fall on those designers who have intimidated and brainwashed these women into wearing their clothes."

As he passed to comb his graying sideburns and adjust the show collar of his black tuxedo coat, he reflected upon the public figures he had named to the list this year: Queen Elizabeth II, Barbara Streisand, Raquel Welch, Jacqueline Susann, Goldie Hawn, Carol Burnett, Doris Day, Shirley Temple, Mae West and Ann-Margret.

"Let's take No. 1, Queen Elizabeth," continued the Los Angeles resident. "Let's not blame the queen; let's blame her dressmaker, Hartnell, who I feel is terribly antiquated in his fashion concepts."

"Granted the queen's position influences her fashion choices. I agree with keeping her dresses to the knee but that doesn't mean the cut and line can't be modern. And protocol doesn't demand she wear only the one strand of pearls. Nor does tradition specify military 30 years behind the times or call for the big, over-sized satchels, which she calls a purse," he elaborated.

"Balenciaga is the designer he would choose to dress the queen. He'd make her look like a royal lady, a royal figure who represents an extremely fashion-conscious nation."

Although Blackwell claims to be in one hand and fast for getting on his worst-dressed list—"the problem is to be dressed"—he cites a woman's "total disregard for her own image, age and position in life" as being most offensive.

Elizabeth Taylor and Zsa Zsa Gabor, both named to his hall of fame for making the list three consecutive years, share a common disregard for individual figure problems, he says.

"Miss Taylor never acknowledged her size problem. For too many years, she's squashed her own clothes too small for her figure."

Zsa Zsa, he points out, "wears dresses from the waist down and exaggerates her figure

ROMANTIC SPRING SUMMER EVENINGS

(Left) Mr. Blackwell's crystal-pleated empire gown in lilac crepe with a deeply V-ed jeweled bodice says "I am beautiful" to the woman who attires for the ultimate in femininity. (Right) Double woven cotton plaid, white with little red squares, is Mr. Blackwell's idea of what a woman should wear for a stroll. The boulevard coat dress has an empire-fitting waistline, long sleeves, a belted back and a swinging skirt.

most designers have lost sight of their role. "We're here to be of service to women, to make them more beautiful by dressing them in the best way possible, uncluttered styles," maybe emphasizing a special technique or a vivid color.

A woman who wishes to be well dressed, he says, must learn to disregard the dictates of fashion snobbery and be real, he herself. "She should concern herself with who she is, what she is, her particular figure problems and her position as a woman in view of her husband's role. No man wants to come home to 'New Sam' Laurence's decision of what a woman should look like," Blackwell comments.

"In essence, 'For 50 per cent of American women, the total concept of high fashion is wrong. Small portions of haute couture should be applied, however, to the woman's looks of today."

Blackwell, who says he loves making fashion sense, claims more than he enjoys creating his beloved fashions, elms.

The Margiold and Sunflower seeds planted at that time were also peeping through the soil of the pots. Mrs. John Linahan of the Margiold Circle of the sponsoring Delany Garden Club and Mrs. Charles W. Man of the Amoryville Circle conducted the program.

Plans were made for the next meeting which includes the making of May baskets.

Televised Sex Education Stirs Storm In England

By TOM CULLEN

LONDON—(NEA)—"Sex for toddlers" is the way one London tabloid headlines the sex education lessons which the British Broadcasting Corporation has prepared for 8- and 9-year-old school children.

The lessons consist of three television programs and two radio programs (film strips plus tape recordings) to be used in Britain's 21,000 primary schools as supplements to classroom instruction.

They show naked men and women, call attention to anatomical differences, name sex organs in describing conception, gestation and birth. Whatever the outcome of the present controversy the films have aroused the storm has taken an unusual turn.

The TV programs, two of which have been shown to the BBC's regular viewing audience, have been branded by some as pornographic. The BBC itself has been accused of "rubbing the bloom from the cheek of childhood innocence."

A Catholic bishop has banned the TV film in his diocese. Dr. Louise Eckhoff, a Birmingham psychiatrist, has described it as "outraged." Dillon McCarthy, chairman of Christian Fellowship Union, an interdenominational group of laymen, likewise has damned it.

"There is no need whatsoever for films of naked men and women, or even naked children, to be shown to eight-year-olds," says McCarthy.

On the other hand, the sex education films have found favor with a significant number of school principals and teachers. Over 3,000 primary schools have already bought the television film strips and are using them as part of their curricula.

A majority of junior schools are expected to tune in when the TV sex series is shown early this summer.

Young parents, too, approve. A Gallup Poll last year showed that three in five people aged between 16 and 24 were in favor of sex lessons for under-10s. Older people and those whose children were grown up were less enthusiastic.

"We are not putting out a do-it-yourself sex kit," explains John Robson, secretary of the School Broadcasting Council, which commissioned the films from BBC. "In spite of what our critics say, those are simple lessons in physiology, and not in how to have sex."

Robson maintains (and he claims the backing of child psychologists) that disturbed children will experiment with sex anyway, and that they are not likely to be influenced one way or another by films of the type the BBC has prepared.

The Federal Broadcasting Commission's advisory body, composed of school principals, teachers and representatives of local educational authorities, as well as of the Ministry of Education. It advises the BBC on matters of educational policy.

The BBC sex programs have been criticized because the word love is never once mentioned, and sex is presented outside the marriage context. (Mrs. Mary Whitehouse, a self-appointed TV watchdog, objects to one picture showing a couple making love because the woman was not wearing a wedding ring.)

Eight-year-olds are simply not emotionally involved, nor are they interested in morality," Robson replies. "Our experience shows that they are far more interested in pictures of the baby when it arrives in the world than in what went before."

Robson points out that the sex education material prepared for 15- and 16-year-olds deals squarely with the moral problems raised by sex and marriage.

"As I recently told a group of women editors, the sex film for eight-year-olds must be viewed through the eyes of the main points out. The minute you start teaching geography, you arouse the desire to travel."

The chief objection, however, is that the BBC's sex lessons will lead to a premature loss of innocence, to which the BBC replies that innocence should not be equated with ignorance. Far from living in a carefree world of innocence, young children of sex, only to be told, "Well, just thought I would ask. Jack comes from Liver-pool."

Another strong objection is that the lesson try to teach too much, and that primary school children are not ready for this kind of information.

Critics recall the customary tale of the child who asked his mother where he came from. The mother, therefore, launched into a long, technical explanation of sex, only to be told, "Well, just thought I would ask. Jack comes from Liver-pool."

Critics recall the customary tale of the child who asked his mother where he came from. The mother, therefore, launched into a long, technical explanation of sex, only to be told, "Well, just thought I would ask. Jack comes from Liver-pool."

Another strong objection is that the lesson try to teach too much, and that primary school children are not ready for this kind of information.

Mr. & Mrs. Oscar Perez Host Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar A. Perez celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary, March 28 at their home, 203 Laurel Drive, with a dinner party. A group of friends gathered to help them observe the gala event starting at 8:30 p. m. with an authentic Cuban dinner featuring paella (a Spanish meat dish) and all the other delicious Cuban food that only a native Cuban knows how to prepare.

The lovely Perez home was filled with gifts and floral arrangements. From friends ever before the guests arrived. A beautiful arrangement of red roses with greenery sprayed silver and a large red bow adorned the piano and red and white candles with silver greenery and given in a white milk glass container graced the TV set. Many unusual porcelain art objects were placed on the table. The main dining table was covered with a white lace cloth and in the center was a four tiered cake, iced in white, trimmed with white roses and silver 25 emblems on each tier and topped with the traditional bride and groom standing under a silver branch. Flanking the beautiful cake were two silver candle holders with tall white burning tapers.

On one end of the table was an arrangement of white mums and carnations with green and silver foliage in a white container and on the other end stood a large cut glass punch bowl and matching cups filled with sparkling champagne punch. All appointments were silver and many silver bowls, plates and trays, all gifts from well wishing friends, completed the table decor.

One of the most beautiful silver bowls, with a blue plastic inset for protection during serving, was a gift from Mrs. Perez's nephew and his wife, Mrs. and Mrs. Angela Campan, who came from Montevideo for the celebration. One of the many gifts from her husband to Mrs. Perez was a lovely crystal chandelier above the table.

Mrs. Perez greeted her guests wearing a silver lace gown trimmed with rhinestones, matching accessories and an orchid corsage, sponsored by Mrs. another gift from her husband.

Other friends invited to join in the celebration included, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cox and Mrs. and Mrs. John Hadcock, Orlando; Mrs. Celeste Colera, Tampa; Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Goodreau, Mrs. Vivian Capriola and Mrs. Viki Dill, DelRay, and Mrs. Theresa Borrero, formerly of Cuba, now of Sanford.

'Not Guilty' Of Accepting Bribe Orange County Aide Held Innocent

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — A suspended investigator for the Orange County solicitor was acquitted Tuesday night on charges of conspiracy, extortion, and accepting a bribe from cosmetics millionaire Glenn Turner. Defense attorney, Edward Kirkland sought an immediate trial for the suspended Orange County solicitor Colin White, held on the same charges, after a six-man jury returned the innocent verdict in favor of Herbert Waters. Waters, 62, and his former boss were charged Aug. 4 with accepting $10,000 in bribes from Turner. Kirkland asked White's pending trial be set for Monday. The jury found Waters innocent of the charges after an eight-hour deliberation Tuesday. Judge Russell Seay Jr. did not set a date for White's trial. A conspiracy charge against White was dropped because of the verdict. During sequester, the jury requested a replay of tape recordings made by Turner during meetings July 15 and July 23 with Waters. Waters and White had testified that the tapes had been altered before being introduced as evidence. In final arguments, assistant prosecutor Tom Brown said the disputed tapes showed "conspiracy, extortion and bribery" on the part of Waters. A jury request to see transcripts of the recordings was denied by Seay on grounds the evidence was presented orally. The defense had argued that Waters was working on White's orders to "set up" Turner for bribery charges. White filed an information against Turner minutes before he was suspended, but the charge was later dropped. Kirkland said the trial was as much at stake in the outcome of the trial as Waters.

FP&L Books Ordered Opened

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The Public Service Commission today ordered Florida Power & Light Co. records be opened to "officially reasonable" company officials should not object, says Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth. The commission turned down Faircloth's first attempt to examine certain records on grounds it was too vague. The PSC also cited a State Supreme Court decision that blocked the City of Miami from access to Public Service Commission records and are available to others who meet the lawful requirements. "I hope to prove if they are or not," he said. "Nobody is ever into the books to examine them." # 'Phone Rate Hike OK'd

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Southern Bell Telephone Company's service has improved considerably, the Public Service Commission said in granting the firm a $2 million rate increase. But it noted that some service problems continue in Dade and Broward counties. "We are assured that the company will have its service problems within acceptable limits within 12 to 14 months," the commission said. J. M. Brown, vice president and general manager of Southern Bell in Florida, said at his Jacksonville office that the rate increase would allow the company to continue to improve service. But he added, "I am disappointed in the fact a tremendous gap continues to exist between the $2 million that I believe is essential for us to carry out our responsibility to provide telephone service in Florida." "To keep pace with the dynamic growth of Florida we need earnings that will enable us to continue to attract the money required to carry out the massive construction program and to continue the billion dollar investment which we personally have in the State of Florida," Brown said. "In the absence of such a showing, we do not believe that intrastate toll rates should be increased while interstate toll rates are being reduced," the commission said. The Federal Communications Commission has ordered the national Bell System to reduce long distance tolls by about $10 million.

Reds Shell 115 Allied Posts

By WALTER WHITEHEAD SAIGON (UPI) — North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops shelled 115 Allied posts and 14 airdrop bases in the area against more than 14 positions Tuesday night and today in their strongest offensive effort in nearly eight months. The targets of the bombardment included the American air bases at Da Nang and Cam Ranh, the headquarters of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division at Phuoc Vinh, U.S. Marine headquarters at Dan Nang and 11 of the nation's 43 province capitals. Communiqués said U.S. casualties in fighting Tuesday and early today totaled at least 28 killed and 184 wounded. Military sources said South Vietnamese army losses were at least 77 killed and 313 wounded, with Viet Cong and North Vietnamese losses approaching 400 dead. Four Americans were killed and 81 wounded in the shelling. The most significant assault was what military spokesmen called "a very intense attack" against a defensive position of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division 75 miles northwest of Saigon and five miles from Cambodia. The Americans killed 25 of the attackers at a cost of 19 dead and 43 wounded—the heaviest casualties for an American unit in a single action since last August when 19

Air Guides Still Strike

By DON McLEOD WASHINGTON (AP) — A slight back-to-work trend developed today as the Federal Aviation Administration reported that traffic controllers' strike went on today despite a call by union leaders to end the sick-call action that has crippled air travel for a week. At the same time, attorney Lee Bailey, executive director of the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization, and two other PATCO officials, were called to answer contempt charges before a federal judge. The judge ordered Allen removed, the trial proceeded without him and the defendant was convicted and sentenced to 19 to 30 years in prison. If a defendant ignores the judge's admonition that he should behave and make for their proceedings, he can be forcibly removed. If the judge decides the best way to deal with a rebellious defendant is to bind and gag him—that's all right, too.

Hillsborough Purge Probe Is Underway

By ORVAL JACKSON TAMPA (UPI) — A five-day probe into the Hillsborough County courthouse and doesn't mind shuffling at old ladies and judges. He dislikes judges so much that when he was elected county supervisor of elections in 1968, he refused to be sworn in with the other politicians. Instead, the former wall paper hanger who wears his shoulder-length hair in a pig tail, threw a party at a Ybor City restaurant. He donned a red, white and blue sports coat to take the oath of office from a notary public at midnight. The courthouse gang knew things would never be quite the same again. The 37-year-old son of a prominent Tampa family, who cut ties with his relatives and changed his name after getting a discharge from the Navy after World War II, considers himself a bridge in the generation gap. Fair was jailed in 1967 for contempt of court. He had been loudly arguing against a bridge being built to Davis Island. While in jail he let his beard grow and wrote. His "Prison Poems" were published later. "I would like to think that I can be the one to close the generation gap as well as be the peaceful mediator between the haves and have-nots," said Fair, who once sought asylum from his wife of two years. A perennial political candidate before winning his first election in 1968, Fair for years has been battling public officials, utilities and corporations.

If someone would pile all the "free" coupons offers in a stack on the floor of the deepest part of the ocean, it would be quite all right. A cynic is a fellow who knocks opportunity. The Royal Air Maroc flight from Agadir, an Atlantic resort in southern Morocco, to Paris with a stop at Casablanca, carried 25 passengers and a crew of six. Among the passengers were 26 tourists returning from a stay at the Club Mediterranee vacation colony at Agadir. Debris was scattered over an area of nearly a mile. The wings were found 350 yards apart. The tail of the plane was 300 yards from the main part of the wreckage. Most of the survivors were believed to have been sitting in the tail section which was spared from fire after the craft tore apart under the impact. # Skyjackers Still Hold Jet

By JAMES KIM SEOUL (UPI) — South Korean and Japanese officials held fast today against the threat of 15 hijackers to blow up a jetliner with 100 hostages aboard unless it was freed to fly to North Korea. Japan's ambassador to Seoul, Masahide Kanayama, made repeated appeals by message to the 15 bomb-carrying Japanese radicals to release their hostages — 93 fellow passengers and seven crewmen — and let two new pilots come aboard for the 15-minute flight to Pyongyang. The reply, unfortunately, was that the Japan Air Lines Boeing 727 would be blown up unless it was released to go to the northern capital. (North Korea in a broadcast statement today said it would guarantee the safety of the plane once it crossed the border and would treat the passengers and crew humanely. It said it could not be responsible for anything that happened aboard the aircraft on the way. The way of nerves that began when the plane landed in Seoul Tuesday entered its 24th hour at 3:16 p.m. (1:16 a.m. EST), with the Japanese and South Korean governments apparently banking on the hijackers' unwillingness to sacrifice their own lives to carry out their threat. Two trays of sandwiches were all the hijackers and captives had had to eat since the plane left Tokyo at 7:10 a.m. Monday EST) on a domestic flight to Fukuoka. The hijackers took control midway through the 475-mile journey. Japan dispatched its transportation minister, Tomihiro Hashimoto, to Seoul this afternoon to take charge of all the Japanese efforts in the case and to report back to Prime Minister Eisaku Sato, who will make the final decision whether to release the airliner with the passengers aboard. The two relief pilots—Toshinari Kobayashi, 47, and Tomio Matsuo, 40—were ready to take over should the hijackers give in to the airlines' request for new crewmen to replace the exhausted original crew. Everyone aboard was said to be Japanese except for two Americans—the Rev. Daniel S. MacDonald, a Roman Catholic priest from San Francisco, and Herbert Brill, an executive of Pepsi-Cola International stationed in Tokyo.

57 Killed In Crash At Casablanca

CASABLANCA, Morocco (AP) — A Moroccan twin-jet Casablanca crashed within two miles of the Nouasseur Airport while coming in for a landing today. Airline officials said 25 of the 82 persons aboard survived the crash and a fire which roared through the front part of the plane. The Royal Air Maroc flight from Agadir, an Atlantic resort in southern Morocco, to Paris with a stop at Casablanca, carried 25 passengers and a crew of six. Wall Street Chatter NEW YORK (UPI)—The long and severe bear market has fully discounted such possible negative developments as further brokerage house failures, further widening of anarchistic "action" groups and "widespread inconvenience and confusion resulting from unrelenting stock stoppages." Biaggi Bros. & Co. said. From now on it feels, such early recognizable negative news developments are apt to be less depressing, as stock market influences that their forced situations would be stimulating. Investor confidence has been severely shaken by the long bear market and will require time to level. Standard & Poor's observes. Although the market appears to have reached an important bottom, the firm says, investors should hesitate before recommitting the bulk of their money. But "short-term" investors are likely to begin a sustained advance immediately.

Raiders One Hit NY 9

By GARY TAYLOR
 Herald Sports Writer
 Yesterday wasn't Desi Zaffuto's birthday, but nevertheless, he had a party. He was as sharp as a razor-blade as he played the part of the spoiler, not once, but twice. In both games of the double-header between New York Community College and the Seminole Junior College Raiders, Zaffuto laced two out singles in the sixth inning of both contests to ruin no-hitter attempts by Ron Harry and Dennis Fats. Harry was the opener 9-2 and Pitta took the second game 4-1. Both were route jobs.

After three and one half innings of the opener the Raiders found themselves trailing 1-0. But they blew it open in the fourth with a free-run rally. Skipper Senkark led off and reached on an error. He moved to second and Mike Peha reached first on a Texas-Leaguer base hit. Steve Shumaker used his eagle eye to work the pitcher for a walk and then, Bill Dancy went out on a long running catch by the right fielder. The bases were still loaded, but with one out. Mike Peha then watched four straight balls and trotted to first as Senkark danced across the plate with the tying run. Pitcher Ron Harry also saw four straight balls and he was credited with forcing in the lead run. Tommy Austin then attempted a squeeze play and pulled it off as Nolan scored and Austin reached first. But there was a mix-up in the fielding of the ball and Rudd also attempted to score, but was cut down for the second out. Steve White drove in two runs with a single up the middle. Mike Ferrell popped out to pitcher Luis Lopez to end the inning.

The second game was a little closer, but the Raiders led all the way. The Raiders scored in the first inning when Austin walked, stole second, advanced to third on a hit by White and then scored when Senkark reached on an error.

infield fly rule.

Pitta lost his perfect game in the fourth and his no-hitter in the sixth.

Senkark and Rudd had two hits each in the opener and Foster and Dancy each had two in the second game. Pitta was the only Raider to hit safely in both games.

Today the Raiders travel to Stuart to meet St. Joseph's College of Jensen Beach. Gene Griffin is expected to start for the Raiders.

County Battle Today

The Lyman baseball team will trek to Sanford this afternoon at 3:30 p.m. to dual the Croons Panthers in their 14th outing of the 1970 campaign. The Greyhounds will be out to even up their 6-7 record for the upcoming week.

Last week the Greyhounds had a Thursday afternoon dual with Croons postponed because of wet grounds at Lyman. Over the holidays a Saturday game with Ocala was rained out also. The last game the Greyhounds played was a week ago yesterday. In this district dual the Greyhounds lost a heart-breaker to the Seabree Sanders by a score of 3-1.

The Lyman baseball team and Terry Baker, hurried a two-bitter, but Greyhound field mistakes and mental errors were the deciding factors. In 1970 the number 11 wasn't very lucky for the Greyhounds.

The Croons Panthers are a tough baseball team and the Greyhounds are looking to a rugged match. The Greyhounds hope to begin the month of April with a big win and momentum for Saturday's tough match with Deland.

The 1970 season has brought to Lyman a double A schedule and the team has done well against the Metro schools and hope with the experience they have acquired after the Easter holiday rest, that they can display better baseball for all Central Florida and Lyman High School.

Williams Has Job Offers

JOHNSVILLE, S.C. (UPI)—Joe Williams, the young coach who guided Jacksonville University from basketball obscurity to second place in the NCAA tournament, hasn't been short of job offers since the feat.

But, for the present, Williams isn't revealing any of his future plans.

Williams leaves Greenville today after conferring with Furman University officials, who have offered him the school's head basketball post and a reported $6,000 more than he makes at Jacksonville.

"I've been contacted by several schools, but I am considering only three — Furman included," he said. Williams said he was not sure which other schools he would visit.

Frank Selvy, who as a Furman player set a number of national scoring records in the 1950s, resigned as Furman's head coach last month after his second season as a coach, a 15-11 record.

Furman officials said at the time Selvy's resignation was announced that they were looking for a top-flight coach.

Torque 75' Features Big Engines Racing

By FRED COXON
 Herald Staff Writer

BERNARDVILLE — The first annual "Torque 75," a 75 lap Unlimited Late Model race, was quite a show as two 427 cubic inch "Big Blocks" ran against a host of "Small Blocks." One of the big engines, Chevy got its doors "blown off" the other went on to win.

The fastest Late Model to qualify was Wayne Suggart of Jacksonville in the 427-powered '64 Chevelle No. 66. Suggart went on to win Sunday's "Torque 75" at Barberville Speedway. Suggart also captured the first place check for $300 and a three foot tall trophy.

Thinking second and third were Larry Flynn and Jim Thrush respectively to beat the local boys who run the Barberville track on a weekly basis. These two drivers were the only ones in the same lap with the leader.

The first qualifying heat race was won by Jim Shimp in promoter Pete Parrish's No. 17 Ford. Shimp jumped into the lead and was never headed. Ken Norton (ex-mechanic for Snokey Yunkis) driving Steve Phillips' '64 Fairlane was second and Bob Gilmer driving his '60 Studebaker "Super Clyde" finished third by holding off several strong challenges from Joe Morrison.

The second heat was won by Joe Grub in his '67 Ford. Grub was followed home by John Gamble in the Big Block No. 86 after Gamble and Fox lost on the last turn of the last lap. Paul Crown of Jacksonville came in third and fourth. The Mini-Stocks were also on hand to put on a show. The Mini-Stock race was won by Billy Mathen in the Little No. 12 Volkswagen. Jimmy Heffer and Lake Mary's own Red Harper put on a great battle for second place that was not settled until the checkered flag.

Strikes And Spares

BY JOHN A. SPOLSKI

Whatever else might be said about tournament participation in this area, there just aren't any complaints that the adults don't like to get their feet wet while bowling with the youngsters.

This past Saturday was the first of two Saturdays where we had an adult bowling with a youngster as a partner and all 20 lanes on both the 3 and 5 p.m. squads were filled.

May I remind you that if you'd like to take a chance and feel the excitement created by a youngster in competition and actually bowl in one of the two squads this coming Saturday... then for goodness sake give 'em a call at the lanes and get your name on the dotted line (providing there are any vacancies left, that is).

There aren't too many pairs separating the top three teams — from a 3rd spot of 1111 including handicap, to the current leaders and their 1203.

The combination of John MacGregor and Bobby Barbour have a temporary hold on the first place prize of individual trophies, while the fearless duo of Reggie Sigmon and Verdie Butcher with their 1185 are in second place.

The father and son combo of Terry and George Waldrop are in third place with their 1141 set.

There are also individual trophies being presented to those top three children for high game with handicap.

Here again the name of Terry Waldrop comes to the fore with his 255 heading the list. In second spot is Ricky Payne with his 241 and Jim Link's 218 earning the number three positions for him.

All of these scores are in competition with those bowlers who'll take to the lanes this Saturday at 3 and 5 p.m.

Look At Those 600 Sets

It seems like the members of the Deak's Classic League are starting to believe all of the propaganda we've been writing 'bout them lately. That they're pros and all the other good stuff, etc.

Last week's Strikes and Spares carried the news of some big 600 series and this week again the pins were being exploded from the decks.

One Witt of the Otto Hofbrau Haus-trip came through with his second 600 series... and remember, he didn't have his very first 600 until last week, and here he is at it again... this time with a 388, 215, 300/606.

Coming a notch or two higher was Sanford Electric's Chuck Stumley with duplicates of 213, 215, 314 and 362 for a fine 818.

Next in line was Woody Wilson of the Seminole Printers team, when he started like a terror with a 231 and added 223 right after it. A little bit of spillover in the third effort lowered his overall series to a 633... very commendable, indeed.

I'd suppose it was the night for the lefties to bowl, though, cause Jim Lamb of the Tennessee team gave an indication of things to come when he unloaded a 245 for an opener. Lamb did get off "strike target" in his second game a little bit and he dropped to a 184.

The third one was back on the beam for "Jinbo," cause he was plugging that one-toe pocket for the next ten frames to finish with a 227... making it a 656 for all three.

Now there is still one more "lefty" to be heard from — this one on the Inland Materials threesome.

Ah, no sense in building it up cause everyone knows that he should be shooting 300 all the time, what with him being at the lanes, etc.

So, all I'll say is that Spilski got real lucky and tied three of 'em together for a 665... including games of 236, 225 and 216.

Braves Best Spartans

By ARTHUR MACNICOLA

Last night, the Sanford Junior High Braves visited the Milwee Spartans at Cooper Field near Five Pridemore.

It was a real pitcher's duel that saw 28 strikes out in the seven inning game. Frank Sloan was the winning pitcher for the Braves as they preserved their undefeated 5-0 record with a 4-2 win.

Sloan was too much for the Spartans as he fanned 16 batters. For 5 1/2 innings Sloan was untouchable as he pitched a "perfect game." He lost it in the sixth when he gave up a walk.

In the seventh inning the Spartans looked like they might try to make a come-back and they almost did. They ruined Sloan's shutout and Ron Russell dumped a "Texas Leaguer" that cost Sloan a no-hitter. It was the only Spartan hit of the game.

But Spartan pitcher Alan Osborne was also tough. He held Sanford scoreless until the fourth and struck out 12 during the course of the game. Bonnie Montgomery led the Braves with two hits. Willie Wall sparred the fourth inning rally by the Braves with a two-run triple. George Griffin and Frank Sloan also hit for the Braves.

Milwee will take a week's rest before the trek to Slavia next Tuesday for a 4 p.m. matchup. Sanford will tangle with the Leokary High JV's in Sanford this Friday at 4 p.m.

The tinheads of these two schools will tangle up at Milwee tomorrow in a ten-way meet.

8-Way Track Meet

The ever-improving Seminole High tinheads will host a seven team track meet today at the track behind the school. The field events begin at 3:30 p.m. with the running competition beginning at 4 p.m.

Competing in the Sanford Invitational will be Deland, Lyman, Croons, Ocala, Wildwood, Clermont and the host Tribe.

Coach Tom Perrin and his assistant, Jerry Posey, look for a fine showing by the Seminoles today. They are looking toward improvement in the sprint medley as they have added Duane Rogers to the team. Tim Perrin is running a strong 200 with a 2:06 time. David Cochran is running strong legs in the mile relay. Tom Hanson and Wade Singletary look to be strong contenders in the discus throw and shot put, respectively. Benson has thrown the discus 124 feet and Singletary best Lyman's Rick Browne last week in the shot with a toss of 44 feet. The Seminoles look to show great improvement today and place high in this big meet.

Skeet Shooting

MARGATE, Fla. — The controversy that's been exploding over proposed gun legislation has contributed to the rapid growth of the skeet shooting sport, according to John Gella of Margate, Fla., recently named All Around Champion for 1969 by the National Skeet Shooting Association.

"The issue has been brought before the public eye," he said. "And with so few places left to hunt, more people began to realize that the range was the place they could go to enjoy sport."

Shopp-top activities on the part of conservationists also have added to the number of trap and shoot participants. An interesting development, considering that both these sports originated in the past century as informal shooting practice for upland hunters who wanted to simulate field shooting.

Denson has broken the school record in the high hurdles at 13.3 seconds, and Rick Browne has twice broken the shot put record which now stands at 90 feet 10 inches. The school's only half over though and the Greyhounds are optimistic about breaking more records. Bruce Knoechel, the Lyman star mile runner, nipped his school record at Deland but came in second in the race. Knoechel is hopeful of shattering his mark before the end of the season. In the high jump the Greyhounds are hoping to erase the 5-foot-10 record with the skills of senior Gordon Denson and junior Paul Crouse.

For the most part the rest of the Greyhounds are hoping to be full of erasing the shot put record which now stands at 90 feet 10 inches. ## Seminoles Edge Daytona Sandcrabs

Seminole High's baseball squad pulled out a last minute victory Tuesday afternoon against the surprising Seabree Sandcrabs by a score of 7-1.

In the first inning Tommy Greasy started the scoring for the Warriors by singling, stealing second and then raising the 1-0 lead with a double.

Seabree's pitcher, Steve Brantley, pitched a 7-0 game in the top of the seventh as the Tribe came up to bat. Greasy singled to put the potential winning run on base. Wagner sacrificed to end the inning. The Sandcrabs, under the direction of coach Guy Garret, sacrificed Bradley to second and a sacrifice by short stop Richard Harris moved him to third. With two outs and Bradley on third, power-hitter Greasy came to the plate. Greasy belted a single past the Seabree short stop, pushing the runner in. Greasy then attempted a squeeze play and pulled it off as Nolan scored and Austin reached first. But

Florida Bests 'Nooga'

A peach pitching performance by Larry Sheffield of Florida gave the Gators a 2-0 victory over Chattanooga Tuesday.

Other college baseball games involving Southeastern Conference teams, Mississippi defeated Southern Mississippi 4-1 and Louisiana State beat Southeastern Louisiana 7-0. Vanderbilt beat Purdue 3-1 in the opener of a triple-header but lost to Murray 2-1 in the second game, and Tennessee defeated Bradley 6-2.

A single by Tom Dapper in the fifth inning ruined Sheffield's no-hit bid. The Gator scored on an error in the sixth and a single by Lon Bloodworth in the sixth. Sheffield allowed only three home runs, the others on a walk and an error. LSU scrambled from behind with back-to-back three-run innings to beat Southeastern Louisiana. Craig Burns and Steve Collins homered for the Tigers in the seventh.

A two-run homer by Tom Iseninger powered Ole Miss to victory in the first game. Iseninger pitched a three-hitter. Rebel football star Archie Manning, playing at shortstop, drove in two runs in the ninth.

Freshman Alex Tompkins scattered six Purdue hits and worked his way out of two late-inning jams as he pitched Vandy to victory in the first game. In the second game, Vandy got only one run out of six hits in the first two innings. Then Ryan White Murray batted lead-off and Murray hit a home run. Murray beat Purdue 1-0 in the third game.

Tennessee won its third straight game and swept the series with Bradley. The Vols broke a 2-2 deadlock in the fifth inning with three runs. Phil Garner hit a double and Steve Long smashed a triple after one man walked and another struck.

University Problems Explained

By JANE CASSIDHERY
The speaker pointed out that the burden of multiple reviews by various state agencies was compounded by the 1969 Governmental Reorganization Act which made the state universities caught in a bureaucratic quagmire lighter than any other area of state government.

While other sections of education in the state operate in relative administrative freedom, the universities are subjected to a series of duplicating checks in practically every area, particularly those of budgeting and personnel. The result is decreased efficiency, delays, increased red tape and costs.

Dear Cecily: I've tried all your recipes for refrigerator-rising bread and my family has enjoyed them. Do you have a similar recipe for a coffeecake type bread? One that can be made into a ring and a bread?

—Home Baker

Dear Home Baker: Glad you were successful with the breads. Here's the new recipe you want. From one batch of refrigerator-rising sweet dough you can make one Cinnamon-Peanut Ring and one Cinnamon-Peanut Bread. Or if you prefer, you can make two Cinnamon-Peanut Rings or two Cinnamon-Peanut Breads.

Stuff Chicken In An Old-Time Way

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

One of the best stuffings for roast chicken is one of the simplest: just an old-fashioned combination of bread, butter and seasoning.

But there's a technique to the preparation, and the following recipe gives you the details.

Roast chicken... it has an old-time bread stuffing that's roasted in a new-fashion shallow pan with a non-stick surface and a V-shape rack.

Give Ground Beef A New Twist

When you want a sure-to-please family combination, start with ground beef and tomato sauce. The flavor of one ingredient just seems to bring out the best in the other.

Here is a brand new beef combo... mix chopped, cooked spinach with the ground beef before shaping it into generous patties. Brown patties, then cook them in a flavoured tomato sauce (ground beef with the goodness of ripe tomatoes). Try other beef-tomato soup combinations. Stir tomato soup into meat loaf, add it to your favorite beef stew. Make a fancy tomato soup-broccoli sauce to spoon over hamburgers. Any time you want extra-good flavor in a main dish, do it with tomato!

Along with Surprise Beef Patties, serve a yellow vegetable and an apple-grape-salad salad. End the meal with a

 A new way to use ground beef.

Phyll's Meatballs and Eggplant Salad Bowl Bread Tray Apple Pie with Cheese Beverage Phyll's Meatballs

1 slice bread, crusts removed and crumbed
 1/4 cup hot water
 1 egg
 1 tablespoon instant onion
 1/2 teaspoon mixed herbs
 1 tablespoon minced parsley
 Salt and pepper to taste
 1 to 1 1/2 cups ground beef round
 Paprika

In a 12-inch skillet heat the oil; brown meat balls in it. Add onion and eggplant so onion is at bottom of skillet. Cover lightly and simmer, turning eggplant midway, until eggplant is tender - about 30 minutes. Juices will collect in pan; if they don't add a few tablespoons of water. Makes four average servings.

Now is the Time for a Menu Pick-Me-Up

The gentle art of souping dishes to perfection is one that is prized by gourmet cooks. You can become proficient at this art in minutes by using condensed soups for sauces. You have a choice of 45 double-rich, double-thick condensed soups... each one is calculated to enhance a main dish, casserole, or vegetable. For example, condensed Cheddar cheese, cream of chicken, or mushroom soups make versatile cream sauces for vegetables and meats. Tomato soup can be blended with sour cream to make a piquant sauce for chicken or veal.

When your menus need pick-me-up, turn your days into gay days. Serve Ham-Broccoli Soups on Cashew Rice. A perfect follow-up dessert is old-fashioned baked apples. Fill apple centers with raisins, butter, and brown sugar; bake.

Custard Pudding With Rice

FAMILY DINNER
 There's an ample amount of custard atop the rice in this pudding.

Ingredients:
 1 cup cooked rice
 1-3rd cup raisins
 2 large eggs
 1-3rd cup sugar
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 1/4 teaspoon vanilla
 2 cups milk, scalded

In a one-quart round glass casserole (6 1/2 by 2 1/2 inches) or similar baking dish, with a fork mix the rice and raisins. Gradually stir in the scalding hot milk; pour over rice-raisins.

Place casserole in another pan and add enough hot tap water to the pan to come up high. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until a knife inserted about 1 1/2 inches from edge comes out clean or with only a few strands of custard clinging to it—50 to 60 minutes. Makes six servings. There will be a thick layer of custard at top of pudding.

SUNDAY SUPPER

A party-stuff vegetable is used in this salad.

Cheese Souffle Club Rolls
Green Bean Salad
Baked Apples Beverage
GREEN BEAN SALAD
 1 can (1 pound) whole green beans
 2 tablespoons olive oil
 1 tablespoon red wine vinegar
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon onion salt
 1/4 teaspoon white pepper
 1/4 teaspoon prepared mustard
 1/4 teaspoon sugar

Letters and pinpoints:
 Drain beans. In a shallow container with a fork, beat together olive oil, vinegar, salt, onion salt, pepper, mustard and sugar. Add beans and spoon marinade over them. Cover and chill for several hours, turning beans once. Allow to stand at room temperature for 15 minutes or so before serving. Serve on lettuce and garnish with pinpoints. Makes four servings.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Moralists accuse the modern man of a growing tendency to avert his eyes from the fallen stranger and to shut his ears to the cry for help. When a "Bad Samaritan" is pressed for an explanation he will usually say:
 "I didn't want to get involved."
 All too often what he really means is:
 "I didn't want to get sued."

This fear of a lawsuit has gotten out of hand. The fact is that, in terms of legal liability, getting involved is simply not that dangerous. A successful suit against the person who lends a helping hand is actually a rarity. The notion that he is responsible, in case anything goes wrong, is just not so.

True he can usually be held liable for, say, gross negligence—just as we all can in our everyday activities. For instance, a motorist taking an injured pedestrian to the hospital may be held liable if, by driving recklessly, he causes a collision that worsens the injured man's condition.

But if there is no negligence, there is no liability. Take this case:

A woman getting off a stool at a lunch counter lost her balance and fell to the floor. Two men, coming to her aid, tried to help her over to a chair. But she suddenly gave faint and slipped out of their grasp, falling again to the floor.

Could the two men be legally liable for the woman's fall? A court ruled they could not. The court said that since they had made an honest effort to be helpful, and had used reasonable care in doing so, they bore no blame in the eyes of the law.

Of course, in a particular situation, a bystander might have a legitimate motive for not helping. For instance, a doctor who has been trying to tackle an armed robber, might be deterred from giving first aid.

Fondue Pot Is Popular

By TOM HOGG
Associated Press Writer

In olden days, our forefathers often ate out of a communal stew pot, dipping chemically into the bubbling mix to pluck forth choice morsels of buffalo, venison, or whatever game had been bagged that day.

Aside from the unpleasantness of an occasional burnt finger, the procedure fastened together and saved a lot of dish washing.

Today, the fondue pot is about the only communal eating container still in use, in the Western world at least, and its popularity is growing daily.

The Swiss generally are credited with inventing fondue and for a very logical reason. Bread and cheese are an integral part of the dairy nation's diet. In early times the Swiss made these staples in summer and fall and squirreled away the leftovers for the winter.

The idea was sound. But after several months in the cupboard, the bread got hard as wood and the cheese became pretty chewy.

Then someone hit on the idea of melting the cheese in a big round pot, the Swiss call a caquelon and dipping the bread crusts into the gooey mix. Later another enterprising soul discovered that by adding white wine to the cheese, wonderful things happened. A little nutmeg and a dash of kirsch made it even tastier.

While the Swiss were experimenting with cheese and bread, the French grape pickers in Burgundy's famed vineyards found a way to ease their without interrupting their labor.

Legend has it that one worker suggested dunking pieces of meat in a pot of boiling oil with one hand; thus leaving the other hand free to gather the grapes. It sounds a little hectic, but the legend still is linked to a succulent dish the Swiss picked up and called Fondue Bourguignonne.

Soon imaginative chefs in Europe and the United States were making fondues featuring anchovies, lobsters and even chocolate. They also discovered that a fondue pot can be a fine container for a hot punch, like melted claret or buttered rum.

The classic fondue, however, is the cheese and white wine mix that the Swiss have developed into a social triumph.

Guests are asked to help dice the cheese. (Always dice it or grate very coarsely because it melts more smoothly that way.) Finally when the mixture is bubbling—meanwhile the guests have sampled a few glasses of wine to get into the spirit of things—the first guest spears a hunk of bread with a specially designed fondue fork and swirls it in the melted cheese. When it is coated to his satisfaction, he eats it.

According to tradition, if a male guest drops his piece of bread into the fondue he must buy a bottle of wine. If a lady misses she must kiss all the men at the table. It's all part of the togetherness theme.

The fondue pot usually is heated with an alcohol burner, canned fuel or butane gas. Just make sure you have enough fuel to complete the operation. Otherwise your social evening may fizzle out.

SWISS CHEESE FONDUE

1 pound Swiss cheese (or 1/2 pound Swiss and 1/2 pound Gruyere)
1 clove garlic cut in half
2 cups dry white wine (or dry vermouth)
1 tablespoon lemon juice
3 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons kirsch or cognac
Dash tobacco
Nutmeg to taste
2 loaves French bread cut in fork size cubes.

Dice the cheese and place in a bowl. Rub fondue pot with cut side of garlic, discard and pour in wine. When wine is hot—but not boiling—add lemon juice. Dredge cheese lightly with flour and add slowly to hot wine mixture; stir until it melts. Add kirsch or cognac and tobacco; then stir in nutmeg and any other spices you desire until it blends smoothly. Spear the bread and swirl. Serve with white wine. Serves four.

"Take It Off"

MANCHESTER, Vt. (AP) — Shivers at Bromley Mountain kept telling one gorgeous girl on the slopes "take it off, but she wasn't offended. She was dumb. An attraction is a popular "It Off" girl.

She said she believed that they're "cognitive me," she said.
