

BRYAN MAKES STATEMENT REGARDING SENATE MATTER LOOKS LIKE A REFUSAL

Says Record is Known and He Will Not Enter into the Contest

BUT HE IS READY

AND WILLING TO SERVE THE PARTY AT ANY TIME HE IS CALLED UPON

(By The Associated Press)
MIAMI, Feb. 15.—William Jennings Bryan responding to inquiries today as to whether he would be a candidate for the senate from Florida issued a statement saying, "If the Democrats of Florida felt that as senator I could render service to the state and to the party in the nation sufficient to justify them in calling upon me to represent them at Washington I would consider the matter from the standpoint of duty and in connection with other claims upon me, but I have no thought of entering into the contest for office."

The statement said he preferred to continue to serve the public without cares of office.

"No friend will expect me at my period of life and when my political record is known to all, to solicit support or to take the risk of alienating those pledged to aspirants. I am looking forward to congenial association with Florida Democrats who have been my collaborators for a quarter of a century. I am sure our relations will be pleasant so long as my plans do not conflict with ambitions of others or with their personal preferences."

FORT PIERCE, Feb. 15.—Boxing bouts are being held in numerous towns and cities of this state, although a state law prohibits them, but none will be staged in St. Lucie county.

The local post of the American Legion has prepared an elaborate program of athletic events to be held from time to time as a means of obtaining funds toward the erection of a clubhouse here and recently announced that boxing exhibition would be a feature. Sheriff Ruffner informed the Legion he could not permit boxing and the exhibition has been cancelled.

"I regret it, but the law is strict with reference to boxing exhibitions and I can do nothing but enforce the law," said the sheriff. "It is one of Section 5084 of the General Statutes of Florida reads as follows:

"If any person or persons shall voluntarily engage in any pugilistic exhibitions, fight or encounter, with or without gloves, between man and man, or in an exhibit in or fight between man and bull, or between man and any other animal, for money or anything of value or upon the results of which any money or anything of value is to be collected, acquired, bet or wagered or to see which any admission fee is charged, directly or indirectly, shall be punished by a fine of not less than two thousand five hundred, nor more than five years."

TWO PROBABLY FATAALLY INJURED AT OKEECHOBEE

OKEECHOBEE, Fla., Feb. 15.—Cadet Fowler, of Carlstrom Field, Arcadia, was seriously, and Spurgeon L. Clements, business man of this city probably fatally injured yesterday when an army airplane piloted by Fowler and with Clements as a passenger crashed on the shore of Lake Okeechobee here.

Fowler was injured internally and Clements in addition to severe internal injuries had both legs broken. Two planes from Carlstrom on a cross country flight stopped here, and Clements was taken by Fowler for a short ride. The cause of the crash has not been determined but witnesses said the plane attempted to rise and suddenly dived. The machine was wrecked beyond repair.

"BIG FOUR" DIVIDES INTO TWO GROUPS

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 15.—The "Big Four" railroad brotherhoods have divided into two groups, each of which will conduct separate negotiations with the railway managers in regional conferences. W. G. Lee, president of the trainmen and Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the engineers, announced tonight.

Engineers will meet the railway executives jointly with the brotherhood of locomotive firemen and engineers, while the brotherhood of railroad trainmen and the order of railway conductors will conduct their conference jointly.

It is the intention in the future, the announcement said "to handle wage questions through our regional associations, as was done prior to the national negotiations carried on during the war period."

It was understood that this means that concerted action on wage matters which have existed several years, is ended for the present at least. The brotherhoods now will deal with the railways in three regions—eastern, western and southern—instead of as a whole through the labor board. It was declared. This is understood to be agreeable to the railway executives.

The first of such conference will be held in New York Thursday between representatives of the trainmen, conductors and the eastern group of railroads. Another conference next Monday will bring together the same delegation of railway executives and officers of the brotherhoods of engineers and firemen and engineers.

FARMER'S EXCHANGE PRE-COOLING PLANT NOW IN OPERATION

WILL WORK TRANSFORMATION IN PACKING AND SHIPPING OF SANFORD VEGETABLES

By the time this article is published there will be completed and in full operation, the large pre-cooling plant of the Sanford Farmers' Exchange. Acknowledged to be the most progressive movement, from an agricultural standpoint, ever attempted in this section, it will eliminate the gamble which has entered so largely into the marketing feature of Sanford's great agricultural industry.

The pre-cooling idea was originated by the Florida Citrus Exchange, and adopted by the Sanford Farmers Exchange, which is affiliated as a corporation with the former organization. The plant was financed and built by the Sanford Farmers' Exchange and will be operated by them. Its membership consists of the largest farmers of the Celery Delta controlling over four hundred acres of this productive area. The Exchange owns ten acres of land, and the plant covers approximately two acres of the property. It is located on Beardall avenue, east of Sanford, on one of the principal sidings of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad and is convenient to the member growers of the Association. The space in the building devoted to washing, packing, pre-cooling, crate storage, and crate making is 325 feet long by 210 feet wide, and to date indications point to the necessity of increasing this space to three times its present size. Another portion of the building houses two 150 horse power generators furnishing current for lighting and ice making and pre-cooling. Production capacity of ice is 40 tons per day and the plant, when in full operation, will be able to pre-cool from 12 to 16 cars per day. The building also contains storage room for 600 tons of ice and provision has been made whereby six cars of produce can be stored. In the event of low prices, caused by glutted markets, this combined storage space will provide enough storage room to keep from 35 to 40 cars of perishables. All cars will be iced at the plant before shipment, and a special icing platform running the full length of the loading platform has been built for this purpose.

The rapidity with which the plant has been constructed is considered phenomenal. Ground was broken November 28th, 1921, and on February 2nd member growers began delivering to the plant. The necessary facilities having been completed, washing immediately started, and on February 3rd the first car was shipped, followed by another on the 4th. These shipments consigned to two different markets, arrived in perfect condition, and brought premium prices of from seven-five cents to one dollar per crate.

Both the quality and pack created a sensation upon arrival at destination, and obviously those who put over this project are justly elated at this initial success. No individual in this section will attempt to prophesy as to the limitations of the great possibilities the adoption of pre-cooling will bring to Sanford growers.

While the production of celery and other produce in this section has reached as near a scientific basis as possible, the methods used in packing, shipping, and marketing are practically the same now as when the industry first started. They have not kept pace with modern ideas, as successfully adopted by the important vegetable producing sections of the west, and as a result the element of gamble still plays too large a percentage in the marketing of the product.

All produce contains a certain degree of latent heat, which when augmented by that of the sun, before being loaded into cars, will cause decay to start unless the shipment is iced at intervals before reaching destination. Failure to re-ice often occurs, resulting in the shipment arriving in poor condition and consequently bringing little or no returns to the shipper, who, notwithstanding, has paid for this service. Pre-cooling obviates the necessity for re-icing and saves the shipper this cost which is thirty-five to forty dollars per car, the original icing being all that is necessary to insure the shipment reaching the market in prime condition. No attempt of any consequence has been made heretofore to ship a standardized package from Sanford. Celery, packed in the field, was shipped to the large markets, where in turn it was stripped, washed and re-packed, and re-shipped at a greater price, some of it finding its way back to Florida.

The Sanford Farmers' Exchange will combine these processes through which celery passes from producer to consumer, at their pre-cooling plant. After the member growers have hauled their produce to the plant in field crates, it will be stripped by expert celery workers, washed, graded, packed and pre-cooled. The time consumed for these combined operations is approximately one and one-half hours per car. The present maximum load per car for celery is three hundred and fifty crates, loaded according to standard refrigeration regulations in order to assure perfect refrigeration. Pre-cooled packages can be loaded to a figure greatly in excess of the present maximum, conserving the space in the car which is now necessary for the circulation of cold air.

The application of the pre-cooling process to green corn will open up another channel of income to the member growers of the Exchange, as it will permit them to put this much desired edible on northern markets when sweet corn in that part of the country is still a thought of the far distant future. Heretofore it has been impracticable to ship this commodity in any quantity, due to its extremely perishable nature. Hereafter the production of corn in this section will no doubt become as potent a factor for producing revenue, as is celery at this time.

Inasmuch as the Sanford plant has been in operation but a short while, exact costs for pre-cooling are not yet available, but officials of the Exchange are agreed that comparative costs with similar plants in other sections of the country will show lower costs in favor of Sanford. The principal factor supporting the contention of these officials, is the great number of flowing artesian wells found in this section, and which will keep pre-cooling costs down.

Sanford's new pre-cooling plant is practical evidence of the progressiveness of the member growers of the Exchange. Not only are they large in their holdings, but broad in their visions. The continued success of their efforts, as exemplified in the plant they have built, and are now operating, will instill modern methods and thereby greater stability in marketing the products of this great agricultural section. It is a foregone conclusion that other pre-cooling plants will be operating in this section before any great amount of time has passed, for, as previously noted, the member growers are seriously considering increasing their plant to three times its present size. Pre-cool-

TO SPEED UP BASEBALL, PERMITTING THEFT OF FIRST, IS BEFORE JUDGE LANDIS

Scientific Pitching Makes the Game Too Tame for the Fans Now

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—(By The Associated Press).—Speeding up baseball is a suggestion that has Judge Landis guessing today. The Baseball Commissioner received a letter from Newton C. Gillham, a Kansas City attorney, in which he suggests theft privilege of the batter would offset scientific pitching which he thinks slows up the game from the fans' viewpoint. Gillham believes scientific pitching often makes an inning a stale affair with the batsmen being mowed down, one, two, three. "Let the batter steal first base and this advantage of pitcher over batter will be equalized," he wrote.

SENATE AND HOUSE ARE FRAMING BONUS BILL WITH NO RESULT ing will eventually be as primarily important to the marketing of Sanford products as its system of sub-irrigation, aeration, and drainage is to the production of them, and those growers who have had the initiative to put over this innovation are deserving of the congratulations of every one in this section.

"Stag Brand," the name of the Exchange's pre-cooled product, has already made its debut on northern markets and been received with acclaim. Having blazed the way, it will only be a matter of time when all produce from this section will be handled the same way, bringing greater returns to the grower, greater wealth to the section, and greater renown to the City Substantial.

NO LONGER REASON FOR IRISH LEAGUE IN THE UNITED STATES

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The reasons for the formation of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic, no longer exists, in the opinion of Edward L. Doheny, president of the association, who announced he favors the Irish free state.

Mr. Doheny had taken an active interest in the association, founded by Eamonn de Valera. He underwrote the recent $4,000,000 Irish relief fund has been one of the largest individual contributors in America to the Irish cause.

"I am in favor of the treaty," he said, "and I think the vast majority of Irishmen are. Give the new arrangement a chance. In twenty or thirty years from now, after a neighborly relation has developed between Great Britain and Ireland, then it will be time to strike out for the republic, if the people want it."

Considering Necessary Funds That Must Be Raised

HARDING WAVERS

IS NOT CERTAIN JUST WHERE THE MATTER WILL START OR END

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Senate and House committees charged with framing bonus bill continued to mark time today in consideration of how necessary funds should be raised in expectation of receiving from presidential formal expression his views.

President Harding thinks it is impracticable to raise by a bonus issue at this time a large sum of money to finance the soldiers' bonus, it was stated today at the White House and he is unalterably opposed to the suggested eight point tax program or to a return of any of the taxes that have been repealed.

The executive was represented as being favorably disposed toward the bonus legislation and it was emphasized that when he appeared before the Senate last July to ask that its enactment be deferred he had not taken a position of hospitality. It also was stated that promises made by Republicans in the 1920 primary had not been lost sight of, but it was pointed out that no exact time had been fixed for the passage of an adjusted compensation bill.

The attitude of the executive, it added, had to be that of finding a same condition of the fulfillment of the promises made on the one hand and having regard for restored ability on the other.

Holding that there was a question whether there was the same sweeping determination at this time that there was during war's responsibility, when the Government could have raised almost any sum he President was said to doubt the possibility of obtaining now through a bond issue the sum required for the soldier's bonus without an advance in interest rates and the disturbing of the financial tranquility of the country.

In this connection attention again was called that in the next fifteen months the Government must refund some six and one-half billions of dollars of pledges in the shape of Victory notes and certificates of indebtedness. Secretary Mellon and other fiscal officers of the Government have taken the position that the refunding operations would be handicapped by any additional issue of bonds or short time notes connected with the soldier's bonus.

PAID 100 PER CENT BUT TRUSTING POOR WILL DROP $7,000,000

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Raymond J. Bischoff, taken into custody yesterday afternoon involuntary proceedings in bankruptcy had been instituted against him by creditors, today admitted that he owes about $4,500,000, representing the savings of six thousand Chicagoans mostly foreigners. Less than one million dollars worth of oil and gas stock of doubtful value is available to meet the obligations, it was announced.

Bischoff whose financial operations apparently rival those of Charles Ponzi, the Boston "wizard" expressed relief when taken into custody by deputy marshals. He had received threats from those he is alleged to have fleeced, he said, and was afraid to venture into the South and West side district where most of his victims live.

The Central Trust Company was yesterday appointed receiver for Bischoff, Felix Streyckman's attorney for the creditors, said he believed Bischoff's liabilities will near $7,000,000 and that the receiver will be lucky to realize half of the face value of the stock held by him. Bischoff is 25 years old.

By paying large returns on money borrowed in a few particular instances he gained a reputation as a financial wizard among the people with whom he dealt according to federal agents. Profits of forty per cent on short term loans were said to be common and Bischoff is said to have paid as high as 100 per cent interest.

According to Mr. Streyckman only the creditors that objected to long waits were paid in actual cash. The rest, he said, were content to accept their alleged earnings in more notes. Some of the people sold almost all they owned to give Bischoff money. Mr. Streyckman said. One man, he said, sold his home for $7,000 and turned over $6,200 to Bischoff?

James J. Kelley, attorney for Bischoff, today asserted that his client had violated no law but simply lost money by speculation.

Creditors may receive ten cents on the dollar, Mr. Kelly said, when Bischoff's holdings are liquidated. Federal authorities intimated there was no basis for prosecution.

BROKER SETS NEW BANKRUPT RECORD

Chicago Man Owes More Than 4 Millions—Has $1,000 To Pay

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Raymond J. Bischoff, whose financial operations are alleged to have ruined thousands of poor investors, was trusted him with their life savings, today told Federal Judge Landis at an inquiry that "I owe $4,500,000 and I have less than $1,000 in cash."

Bischoff declared he was only 25 years old and that he had accumulated liabilities estimated by a receiver appointed Saturday as totaling approximately $5,000,000 in less than two years. He described his business as "general financial business, brokerage and oil," and said that he started it in the spring of 1919 with $10,000.

Asked where he obtained the money Bischoff said he had made part of it working in the stock yards and that the rest was the result of stock speculations. He declared that he had no previous business experience, that he lived at home at the time and that the only other work he had done was in connection with obtaining members for the Boy Scouts.

Under questions from Judge Landis, he maintained that his operations were legal, that the money entrusted to his care was given him for speculation and that while it was unfortunate that he should have lost it, he felt that he could have recovered all of his losses if the receivership proceedings had not interfered.

Despite Bischoff's protestations that all of the millions he had handled had been lost, a search was begun for all possible assets and Judge Landis issued restraining orders preventing Bischoff's relatives from disposing of two flat buildings, two houses, a farm, four automobiles and the contents of several safety deposit boxes.

MINERS THREATEN STRIKE

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 15.—Continuation of the present wage for soft coal miners and increase of 20 per cent for the anthracite workers, backed up with a threat of a general strike in all fields was the wage scale proposed today to the United Mine Worker's of America by its scale committee composed of the 27 district presidents.

DEMPSEY TO FIGHT

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Jack Dempsey, world's champion heavyweight fighter, departed today for New York in response to what he said was an urgent message from his manager, Jack Kearns, that he was about to sign the champion for a match in London or Paris, presumably with George Carpenter. Dempsey arrived here from the Pacific coast and told of Kearns' message between trains.

TO PROBE EXTORTION CHARGE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Federal investigation is being made of alleged extortion practiced upon negro former service men at the Tennessee Farm and Training School at Nashville. Director Forbes announced today. If the charges are proved, Mr. Forbes said, he would remove the 200 former service men from the institution within 24 hours.

WOULD OPEN UP RIVER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Transportation facilities for remote sections of Alabama and Tennessee to convey their products to Ohio, Mississippi and Gulf regions would be afforded under the plan put forward by Henry Ford for completion and operation of the Muscle Shoals, Ala., power project. W. B. Mayo, representative of the Detroit manufacturers, today told the house military committee.

Navigable limits of the Tennessee river would be increased 90 miles, Mr. Mayo said, by the construction of two dams at Muscle Shoals. In answer to questions he said that without doubt the price of fertilizer would be materially reduced for the farmer.

WOULD EXTEND RESTRICTION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—A bill extending the life of the 3 per cent restrictive immigration law until June 30, 1923, was ordered reported today by the house immigration committee.

JITNEY BUSES CANNOT OPERATE ON MAIN STREETS

(By The Associated Press) MIAMI, Feb. 15.—Operations of the jitney buses have been restricted by the announcement of City Manager Warton that he planned to enforce an ordinance prohibiting the conveyances from operating on streets served by the municipal street railway system.

The jitneys will be permitted to continue service in sections of the city not reached by the electric cars, either financially or otherwise for the two utilities on the same street.

Miami, it was asserted, at this season of the year, has more automobiles, per capita, than any other city in the country, and traffic congestion was a major element in his decision to restrict the buses, Mr. Warton said.

TOLL BRIDGE RECEIPTS $10,000 PER MONTH

(By The Associated Press) JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 15.—Receipts from the county toll bridge across the St. Johns river here were $10,339.87. With a balance of more than $9,600 on hand the first of January the sum of $16,550 was transferred to the bond trustees, making a total of $72,300 of the earnings since the bridge was opened last July that has been applied to payment of interest and retirement of bonds from which the fund for building the structure was derived.

DRESS OF PREHISTORIC TIMES

Remarkable Frocks Worn at a Recent Display Staged in the City of London.

Wearing a dress copied from a rock-drawing found in Altamira, Spain, Lady Warrenden appeared at a pageant of dress in London, and the most remarkable thing about this costume was that it might have come from a fashionable modiste of today, so near to present-day fashion did it seem, according to the London Daily Graphic.

Lady Warrenden's frock was estimated to represent fashion existent any time between 20,000 and 200,000 years ago. One young lady wore a Spanish dancing frock believed to be a replica of one worn at least 200,000 B. C. Instead of painting her arms and chest, she wore brown tights under a little skirt of buff-colored cloth, covered with real plumage, and feather anklets to match.

The Daily Graphic describes the attire professing to copy that worn by Queen Boudicca (whose statue stands on Westminster bridge, close to the houses of parliament). This embraced a straight, full tunic, in royal blue woven cloth, over a plumed tartan skirt, similar in character to those colors still worn by the highlanders. Round the tunic were bands of parti-colored embroidery, while a graceful wrap of dark gray cloth was draped over the shoulders and fastened with a huge circular brooch.

AMERICAN TREES IN GREECE

New Verdure for Barran Hills Around Athens Expected to Influence the Annual Rainfall.

Mrs. P. Martineau, the expert on horticulture and tree planting, has just returned to England from a visit to Athens, where she has been advising the king and queen of the Hellenes in the culture and laying out of gardens. She has spent a good deal of time in California and has found that the drought-resisting trees and flowers of that country are particularly suited to Greece soil.

The queen has formed a small society among her friends with the object of furthering tree planting in the country. All the streets of Athens have been planted with pepper trees, the light green foliage of which, with clusters of berries, is very effective. The pepper tree, an evergreen, is a native of California. Another tree seen there is the maritime pine, with which the queen hopes to clothe the hills of Greece as far as possible. Some of the small hills surrounding Athens are already covered with this drought-resisting tree, which is particularly suited to a soil which is practically lime and dust. The maritime pine grows very quickly, and Mrs. Martineau thinks that the covering of the hills around Athens may have the effect of bringing more rain.

Incident Boys Will Long Remember.

Trapped in the center of a railway bridge spanning Tassopack creek, Pa., two boys, each aged twelve years, miraculously escaped death when they laid down between the rails and took chances with a limited train on the third rail system of the Wilkes-Barre and Hazleton railway passing over them. They won, for the train went over them in safety and the boys were unhurt. The train came upon them so suddenly and either end of the bridge was so far away that to attempt escape by running would have meant death. To have jumped thirty feet into the creek would have been equally perilous. The engineer saw the boys and signaled to them to lie down between the rails. The boys curled as close as they could to the ties, turning their heads sideways, shut their eyes and prayed.

MEMBER THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Seminole County Day at the Fair.

Hope they have more on the exhibit than was there yesterday.

If they keep up that killing of Irishmen there will be few policemen left for New York's finest.

The Orlando Sentinel has a trained horse selling papers on the streets. Not so bad when you consider the paper.

Our people are late with their stuff this year. On Tuesday, the opening day, there was nothing in the Seminole booth.

Booze running and smuggling of Chinamen into the United States are the chief indoor sports of the Gulf of Mexico these days.

The Orlando Chamber of Commerce is opposed to the soldier's bonus but goes on record as favoring the Vocational Training Schools. How do they get that way?

Strains of a wedding march played by the Highlanders band at St. Petersburg caused a man to take his life. The Municipal Band of Sanford is better than that.

The tolls for the bridge over the St. Johns at Jacksonville total more than $10.00 per month. A toll bridge over the St. Johns river at Osteen ferry would soon pay for itself.

Florida will not get that additional Federal judge says a dispatch. This was a nice fat plum for some Republican jurist. Wonder where the new Republican paper stands on the question? No pie, no offices, no emoluments?

Seminole's exhibit at the Orlando fair started yesterday with two stalks of celery and one head of cabbage. We are hoping for more stuff today. The exhibit should not be neglected even if the vegetables have to be purchased outright.

Shooting your wife for a burglar seems to be the latest thing in the accident line. And yet it could be done. It is always safer to ask about the intruder in your home even if he gets away. Better to get away than to shoot your only wife.

President Harding is for the bonus but is against any special tax, is against bonds, against any returns in taxes that are repealed, against the fence, on top of the fence and all over the fence on this all-pervading and most important question.

If Sanford can get all the needed improvements here this summer there will be a big influx of new people next fall. Sanford also needs new money for investments. There should be enough money here for the erection of those hundred houses needed right now.

This is not the way to advertise Seminole County. With all of the many and various resources here we should at all times have the largest and best exhibit at Orlando. It is not too late to bustle the staff down there today and make Thursday the greatest day of the week.

The Grape Growers will meet in Orlando this week. We want to want Bill Glenn and the Brossiere Twins to stay away from it. Wine is a mocker and grapes will soon become raisins, yeast is filled with vitamins and shine is filled with roaches, yeh verily, selah, au revoir and souvenir!

And if the idea of Seminole county's exhibition at Orlando does not appeal to the people they should say so the first of January or sooner and let the county commissioners and the Chamber of Commerce know about it. There is no reason in the world for any failure on Seminole's part. It is up to the people.

The grand old battleship, Oregon, will not be scrapped but will be preserved for future generations. Her guns will be scrapped and all her warlike equipment but the old ship will be made as natural as possible and kept as a floating memorial of victory. The Spanish War might not have been so much but the American fleet was covered with glory all during the short "unpleasantness" with Spain.

It is laughable to a newspaper man to note that every fake scheme of advertising that comes to Sanford is patronized by those merchants who never take an advertisement in the newspaper. How they save their conscience or make peace with their better judgment is more than we can understand. The Chamber of Commerce has tried to help the merchants of Sanford to avoid these schemes but they are like the victims of the wire tappers—they just want to be fleeced—so why should we worry?

When people insist upon saying unkind things of others it would be well for them to contract the habit of talking to themselves. Then they could let off steam in large quantities without doing any material harm. We are never quite accurate in our judgment of others, because we are not fully acquainted with the reasons which actuate them. Under such conditions the person who is slow to pass judgment is most to be commended. He may at times be prone to condone faults, but even that is preferable to passing censure where there is a possibility that it may not be deserved. A closed mouth is far better than an open one. Words once spoken may never be recalled.

MR BRYON OF FLORIDA

William Jennings Bryan may be a candidate for U. S. Senate. His many friends out of the state seem very anxious for him to make the race. He no doubt has many friends in Florida who would support him for the place. But when it came to making a change from Trammell to Bryan there will not be so many that you could notice them for Trammell has given general satisfaction and aside from the magic of the name there are none that would say W. J. Bryan could do more than Park Trammell as Senator. The Lakeland Telegram sums it up as follows:

"Some of the newspapers, mostly out-of-state papers, which are boasting Mr. Bryan for the senate, are handing out the astonishing information that the great commoner has been 'practically' a resident of Florida for the last eight years.

That is truly a free translation of the fact. Within the last eight years, as the press has kept us advised, Mr. Bryan has been just as 'practically' a resident of Texas, where he owns, or did own, a big ranch, and spent many pleasant days, and of Asheville, N. C., where he is also said to have a home, to say nothing of his legal residence in Nebraska, where he voted, ran for office and manipulated the political slot machine.

His constituent would have been surprised and pained two years ago, when, after a hard fight, they elected him a delegate to the national convention at San Francisco, if he had greeted them with one of his famous smiles and told them he was 'practically' a resident of Florida.

The truth is, Mr. Bryan has been domiciled in Florida less than a year. He will be a qualified voter at the primary this year, but that is all. It is not to his discredit, but it is a fact which can not be shunted aside if the senatorial primary ticket should happen to leave his name on it. And, with the kindest feelings in the world for the silver-tongued lecturer, the Telegram does not believe that this state will seriously consider exchanging a genuine Florida senator for a senator at large."

OUR BONUS IDEAS

Since everyone seems to be having a guess on the bonus idea the editor of the Herald will give his ideas on the subject. As one who had a son in the service and one who saw and transported and talked with thousands of soldiers and sailors in the service in this and other countries the writer would say that the ex-service men are not begging for alms. They are not now and never have been asking the American public for any special favors. While the boys were in the service getting the meagre sum of $30 a month the more fortunate youths who for some reason or other never explained, remained at home in lucrative employment making their $10 a day and the profiteers were milking the people and making millions. The American government can never repay the men who fought that fight that the stay-at-homes might be protected in their money making. But the American government without upsetting the government machinery and Mr. Mellon's treasury could work out some plan whereby those boys who would like a few hundred dollars to go to farming or into some business venture could do so with a government loan of some kind. There could be arrangements whereby the regional banks could let loose some of those many millions they have on cold storage and have not used for any purpose as yet defined. The regional banks could help the local banks with a fund for ex-service men and right here in Sanford many an ex-service man could be assisted to a fine paying business by $500. A meagre sum for the government to pay for these men who risked their lives and few of them have come home the same boys that went away. We who have been all through it and had boys in the fray, know what we are talking about. The men who fought in the war are at least entitled to a loan from the banks when they show a disposition to go into business. If they cannot get a loan, they should get a lump sum from the government. They are entitled to all they get and only the stay-at-homes are against it. It is no one's business how the boys spend their money even if they were disposed to spend it. The boys who rushed into the shipyards and government work were not asked how they spent their money. The old vets of the civil war were not asked how they intended to spend their money. They were allowed to spend it as they pleased and now that the youngsters of the world war are about to receive a miserable pittance there is a great cry about them spending the money. The truth of the matter is that about 95 per cent of the ex-service men will invest their money wisely and well. It is up to the government to let the boys have something NOW. They need it worse at the present time than they will ever need it again. They should have it by some means. At least arrangements should be made right here in Sanford whereby ex-service men could get a loan to go into farming or business and let the government stand back of the loan. This would not entail any disruption of Mr. Mellon's treasury or upsetting of his fleshpots and ninety per cent of the men accepting this loan would pay it back in a specified time. It would help our community that much and help the feelings of the boys who fought and their parents who shaved while they fought and suffered the tortures of the damned while they were away. We want the government officials to ponder over this and act at once.

BARNUM WAS RIGHT

"Ask your banker" is a mighty good thing to remember, and likewise to apply especially so when it comes to handing over your life earnings to a comparative stranger. A few weeks ago a tourist named, Cohen, hailing from Philadelphia, stopped over in Orlando; two weeks later he turned over $12,000 to confidence men, regardless of the fact that his banker had warned him not to do so and also notwithstanding that a deputy sheriff followed him to prevent him from losing his money. Cohen, however, knew it all, he dodged the deputy sheriff, jumped into an automobile, visited the headquarters of the confidence men, turned over his $12,000 to them and then reported to the sheriff's office. Cohen, with enough left to buy a ticket to Philadelphia, returned home. Cohen believed that a stranger with whom he had recently come into contact would increase his wealth from $12,000 to $100,000 overnight through a fake gambling deal (buying stock on a tip). The chances are Cohen will tell his friends that he lost his wealth in Florida, but he won't tell them how. There are millions of Cohens—that's why wiretapping remains a profitable source for those criminally inclined.—Lakeland Telegram.

THE MISSION OF THE NEWSPAPER.

Dr. George Stuart was not knocking the newspapers when he said that too many of them gave too much space to nonsense and too little space to sense. He charged that there seemed to be an inclination on the part of some to get off cheap jokes on sober subjects. In these statements Dr. Stuart did not knock any newspaper true to its mission. He, in these charges complimented the newspapers that refuse to turn their columns over to junk dealers by way of copy.

With many large dailies there is a tendency to strive after volume rather than quality. With the smaller city papers, there is too often a weakness for canned goods. The cheapest, trashiest stuff that will do for filler is bought from syndicates that are not at all discriminating, and in many cases are paid propagandists of vice and evil interests. This propaganda is cunningly cloaked so as to get a reading without the evil influence back of it being revealed. Better an 8-page paper well-filled with good and wholesome news than a 16-page paper or a 48-page paper filled with this canned stuff only fit for the garbage can. Then too, as stated by Dr. Stuart, all too many newspapers gauge their editorial columns by their advertising columns. They pussyfoot on every subject that they think will affect their advertisers. This is a false and foolish attitude. People read the newspapers that have a definite editorial policy and fearlessly strike out in line with that policy. Advertisers want to get before the people and they will use the paper that gets a reading regardless of whether they agree with the editorial policy or not of that paper.

The editor who depends on the mails and the shears to fill his editorial columns serves no very useful purpose and will soon find the reading public leaving him. The people who read the newspapers have a right to expect something more than cheap jokes and syndicated filler. The liberal use made of these by many of the newspapers of the country has brought general criticism on the press. If ever there was a time when the world needed a clean cut, independent, untrammelled press it is now. This is what Dr. Stuart, Irving Bacheller and other great men of the platform are demanding; and in this they speak for the best people of this generation.—Reporter-Star.

IS PRIVATE LIFE SACRED?

One Florida newspaper appears with a lengthy argument for the sacredness of private life.

It's argument is directed against another Florida newspaper which, it would appear, had published some inside facts about some of the citizens of the offended newspaper's city.

But is private life sacred? Must it escape the blazing sun of publicity? Certainly it is sacred, if the individual preserves its sacredness.

But if the individual first robs private life of its sacredness by his public actions and parades his dirty linen before the public, he has destroyed the sacredness of that private life and without entering into the larger question of what to print and what not to print, the right to do so is not to be argued.

No newspaper worthy of the name pries into the private affairs of any man unless that man first brings to public notice the very private life which Florida newspapers would hold sacred.—St. Petersburg Times.

"LISTEN TO ME" A TUNEFUL EXTRAVAGANZA

Coming to the Athens Theatre-- DeLand

The brilliant musical show with a score of melodious gems that obtained instantaneous popularity with its smart cast supported by a bewitching chorus of wonderfully clever gaiety girls and bewildering scenic production of silks and satins,—proving the foremost success of the season, is Le Conte and Flesher's new extravaganza, "Listen To Me", coming to the Athens Theatre in DeLand Tuesday night, February 21st.

The book, lyrics and music are from the pen of Charles George, who is an author and composer of the first rank. Mr. George designed the costumes, superintended the construction of scenery and staged the production, which is an endorsement to any musical organization. In fact, he was largely responsible for the direct success of this charming extravaganza.

"Listen To Me," touches splendor in every respect. The scenic display from the roof tops of Times Square—New York, through Satan's palace in hades, to the arctic region of the north pole melting into candyland, shows the fins of a master, while an entrancing fantastic story is beautifully imbedded mid an enticing score of wonderful gems. The score contains the title selection: "Listen To Me?" "Our Bungalow In Wintertime," "Where is the Girl for Me?" "Kewpie Kandy Doll," "Doctor Cupid," "The Devilish Blues," "Letters" and many others. Seats on sale at Athens Theatre DeLand next Saturday. 279-1tp

FORD'S ENGINEERS TO FACE BARAGE TODAY BEFORE COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—W. B. Mayo, chief engineer officer for Henry Ford, and J. W. Worthington, the man who is understood to have conceived the possibilities of developing the government's $100,000,000 properties at Mussel Shoals, Ala., were prepared tonight to appear as the personally authorized representatives of the Detroit manufacturer before the house military committee tomorrow.

Chairman Khan, who is directing the committee's investigation into the Ford offer before it is reported to the house for acceptance or rejection by that body, indicated that the committee would seek information from them on several important provisions of the offer respecting which conflicting precedents.

Other committeemen made it plain that they intended through Mr. Ford's spokesman to establish beyond doubt the much-disputed point regarding the obligations said to be imposed under the contract and the intentions of the Detroit manufacturer with regard to the manufacture of fertilizer. Witnesses also heard have stated that Mr. Ford would not manufacture that commodity at a loss, would not bind himself to produce it over a given number of years and that the pending offer contained no provision to guarantee delivery of the product to the farmers at a cheaper price than is paid at the present time.

THINK ONE OF GANG AT LAUDERDALE, MAY HAVE SKIPPED BAIL

No Liberty Until He Is Proven Innocent; Seek Others Too

FORT LAUDERDALE, Feb. 15.—Michael O'Flannigan, one of twelve alleged wiretappers arrested here several days ago, will not be allowed bail until Newark, N. J. authorities have determined whether he is wanted there for skipping a large bond sometimes ago, local officials said today.

Four members of the alleged band released yesterday on cash bonds ranging from $7,500 to $15,000 have raised the money to release the remaining prisoners, it was said today, and will offer cash bonds for them tomorrow. In the meantime, however, notices were received from the chief of police at Dallas, Tex., asking that the men be held until he could arrive here in an effort to identify them as men who operated in that city to the extent of $200,000.

Additional requests for photographs of the men were received from Maine and New Jersey city officials.

TO THINK SOLDIERS VOTE CAN BE "BOUGHT BY DOLE" OF $500" INSULTS THEM

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Industries of the country oppose cash appropriations for a soldier's bonus "as being socially unwise an economic absurdity and politically preposterous" according to a statement issued tonight by John E. Ergerton, president of the National Association of Manufacturers.

That millions of former soldiers, he declared, "can have their votes at the November election bought by a poultry dose of $500, of $600, payable $50 a quarter, beginning at some time in 1923, is such an insult to their intelligence, and an outrage to their sense of decency, that in my opinion, it will defeat for re-election every member of congress, house or senate, who supports this iniquitous measure." He added, however, that the industries of the country were not opposing "the most generous and liberal care" for the disabled veterans of the world war or the dependents of those killed in it.

Only in the movies is it possible to clear the atmosphere with a Hays.

YANKS EXPLORE ARCTIC, TROPICS

Forsake Home Comforts Seeking Specimens and Data World Over for Scientists.

SEARCH FOR "MISSING LINK"

Stefansson Expedition Is Mapping Little-Known Boundaries of Wrangel's Island, North of Siberia—Seek "River of Doubt."

New York.—Comforts of home weigh little when cast in the balance with the interests of science, it is declared by museum experts and learned societies. Expeditions have gone forth from the United States and foreign countries into the frozen arctic, the blistering areas of Africa and to the varying climes of Asia, South America and other lands in quest of animal and vegetable specimens and data to add to the knowledge of man.

Some of the explorations have not stopped with the earth. Conan Doyle recently claimed to have talked with his dead relatives, and not a few wireless operators assert that kindred souls on Mars were trying to wireless folks here.

Hunt "Missing Link." Among the expeditions now at work are:

The third Asiatic expedition of the American Museum of Natural History, which is to remain five years in the Orient hopeful of finding the "missing link," and of gathering a wealth of scientific data.

The Stefansson expedition which is mapping the little-known boundaries of Wrangel's Island, north of Siberia, where polar bears are most numerous. This party of Americans and Eskimoes expects to remain away two or three years, and Donald B. MacMillan and his comrades are exploring Baffin's land.

An expedition to hunt gorillas is trekking in Africa under the direction of Carl E. Akeley of the American Museum of Natural History. Recently he reported having bagged a family of five.

Seek "River of Doubt." The Mulford biological expedition, now in South America, is exploring the headwaters of the Amazon, seeking Colonel Roosevelt's River of Doubt, and gathering rare plants and herbs desired by chemists and the medical profession.

The British expedition which climbed to within 9,000 feet of the world's highest summit, Mount Everest, in 1921, expects to finish the job this year. Minor expeditions are working in Peru, Ecuador, Bolivia and elsewhere, most of them being American.

Roald Amundsen, who is quite used to cold weather, having spent many previous years in the Arctic, will set forth in the spring on a trip to the north pole.

HENS SURPASS MINE OF GOLD

South Dakota Birds Produce $30,000, 000 Yearly—Homestead $6,000,000.

Sioux Falls, S. D.—Although South Dakota is classed as one of the gold-producing states of the Union—owing to the fact that the famous Homestead mine in the Black hills is one of the great gold producers of the world—it will be a surprise to many to know that the hens of South Dakota each year produce many times the value of the Black hills gold product.

The production of the Homestead mine is estimated at $6,000,000 a year. The hens on the farms of South Dakota, figures show, produce $30,000,000 a year. For every dollar of South Dakota gold the South Dakota hens lay down $5. The record made by the hens of the state is believed to make a record for states with no greater population than South Dakota. South Dakota has no great poultry farms. There are now about 9,000,000 chickens in South Dakota.

DUELIST'S CHIVALRY BARED

Argentine Politician Refuses to Fire on Adversary—Reconciliation Is Then Effected.

Buenos Aires.—The popular fancy has been captivated by the details of a duel which has been fought here by Dr. Rodolfo Moreno and Senator Fernando Saguer.

Doctor Moreno is an eminent conservative politician, while Senator Saguer is a no less prominent radical politician. The dispute arose over the phraseology of a radical election poster. They met with pistols. Both fired at the signal, but neither was wounded. Doctor Moreno's seconds noted that Senator Saguer had fired at the ground, and they then insisted that Doctor Moreno should stand up unarmed to receive another shot, but Senator Saguer refused to fire upon him. A discussion resulted in a reconciliation.

WHALE TOWS TWO MEN OUT TO SEA

They Harpoon the Monster But He Refuses to Play the Game as They Figured.

SLAPS CAPTAIN OUT OF BOAT

Vallant Southampton Veterans Have Exciting Time When They Go to Assistance of Brothers Who Had Caught Whale.

Southampton.—For the second time in two weeks fishermen took to their boats and went out after a whale. They had him hooked, too, and if the dura thing hadn't up with its tail and knocked Cap'n Silas Edwards out of the boat just as he was about to spear it, there might even now be a dead whale on the beach.

The whale was sighted by Captain Frank H. White, the sea-bitten old mariner who tends the life saving station here. When he first saw the whale it was about two miles off shore and moving out to sea with the Cooper brothers from Water Mill.

As a matter of fact the Cooper brothers had caught the whale. The only trouble was that, having caught it, they didn't know what to do with it.

It was some time earlier in the day that the Cooper brothers had seen the whale and started out in their little motor boat to capture it. They had with them a lance bomb gun, an instrument highly recommended for whale hunting. This gun is supposed to save wear and tear on the animal by exploding a charge inside it and thereupon rendering it more or less horsed de combat.

Starts for Somewhere. So the Cooper brothers went after the whale and had the good fortune to be in excellent firing position at a moment when it saw fit to come to the surface to blow the water out of its nose.

"That she blows!" yelled the Cooper brothers, who had taken a correspondence course in whale hunting, and bang! off went the lance bomb gun. The lance struck the whale squarely in the tongue and the fishermen waited expectantly for the dull explosion which would indicate to them that their quarry was about to roll over and ask to be taken home.

No such explosion happened. The fishermen waited and waited. All in a wink the whale started for somewhere. And the Cooper brothers, having lodged their harpoon securely in the whale, found themselves accompanying it.

They tried reversing the engine in the hope that by so doing they might convey to the whale their lack of interest in any extensive sea voyage. The motion was entirely lost on their captive, who kept right on.

The Cooper brothers then tried to increase the speed of the boat so that they might overtake the whale and explain the situation, which, in a word, was this:

The line connecting the boat with the whale was taut, and the fishermen could not free themselves. As fast as their boat went the whale went faster. There was nothing to do but admire the scenery as it passed them.

Captains to the Rescue. They had gone about a mile and a half, and were still going, when Captain White saw what was up and piped all his trusty whale hunters to their posts. In response to the call came Captain Silas Edwards, Ed White, Frank Burnett, William Bennett and Erastus Howard.

They launched a boat and headed for the whale and its regretful captors. By the time they reached the scene the whale had its mind on something other than additional whale hunters, so they were able to get up close to it. They even circled around once, looking for a soft spot for the lance they intended to toss into it.

Then standing himself in the bow of the boat, Cap'n Edwards rose to the best of his sixty-five years of ability and stood poised with a long lance in his hand ready to end everything. Just at this moment, however, the whale came out of its reverie and smacked the bow of the boat a gentle tap with its tail. Cap'n Edwards being in the bow of the boat he was next seen struggling in the water and yelling for some one to take him out.

The Cooper brothers made use of the momentary respite to loosen their harpoon line. And the whale went on its way. The whalers then devoted their attention to rescuing Cap'n Edwards, and to expressing in broad terms their desire for vengeance.

CHECK DOGS; IGNORE BABES

Berlin Theaters Provide Accommodations for Patrons' Pets But Not for Children.

Berlin.—Pet dogs have become so popular among the feminine population of Berlin that theater managers have been compelled to install rooms where the dogs may be checked. Some patrons complain that none of the theaters has made similar provision for checking babies, and think this is an unwarranted discrimination.

During the intermissions the women repair to the "dog room" and feed the animals with bits of sandwiches which it has become the custom for theater goers to cut between the acts.

TRAPPERS FIND GOLD

Reluctant About Discoveries Made in Kootenay District.

Bring in Fine Specimens of Ore Showing Visible Course Gold Obtained From Carbonate Vein—May Be Lost Vein.

Nelson, Can.—Two trappers arriving from a district adjacent to Kootenay lake—they will not be so specific—have brought in a fine sample of ore showing visible course gold obtained from a carbonate vein. The state the snow fell too early for the trappers to locate the vein from which the ore came, but consider it could easily be traced, as there is very little ore in the locality. The advent of these trappers with a bulky specimen beyond suspicion of any "doctored" has fired old-timers with enthusiasm. Some of them predict a minor stampede when the snow melts.

As in the olden times, the view of the find is carefully guarded, but it is known to be within fifty miles of Nelson, and near the lake—which narrows the field of speculation, guessers are busy.

Old-time prospectors believe it may be the vein discovered by two prospectors many years ago round Kootenay lake, whose very names other than sobriquets are forgotten but it is recalled that they took $12,000 worth of their claim in two months, and "blown it" riotously. One of them was killed in a gambler's quarrel at Kootenay. The other stole an Indian squaw in the Crow's Nest and fell right of vengeance to the red man's rifle. Tom Proctor, after whom the town of Proctor is named, was to have been his partner, but himself died before a deal was struck. So the whole transaction was blotted out, and even the source of the gold faded into the land of legends.

Many prospectors have searched for the lost vein, and the idea is growing in Nelson that the two trappers have found it.

This history ringing as an echo of an almost forgotten past has fired Kootenay prospectors more than anything which has happened in the last two years. The report, however, is unimpeachable, and is endorsed by prominent members of the British Columbia Prospectors' Protective Association to whom the trappers are known and who are familiar with the ancient tragedy.

BIG WIRELESS TYPEWRITER

University of Illinois Students to Re-Arrangement at Electrical Engineering Show.

Urbana, Ill.—A wireless typewriter, designed and rigged up by students in electrical engineering at the University of Illinois, will be one of the features of the university's electrical engineering show to be held following the spring vacation.

Electrical engineers will pound the keys of a special typewriter and the results will appear in the electrical engineering laboratory, half a mile distant.

The scheme includes a regular wireless equipment set which operates a series of relays which automatically make the contact for the magnets which drive the keys. The magnets by means of the relays are arranged so that only the desired key functions at the time set for functioning.

Suggestion That Poet Be Honored Was Fabre, the Great Entomologist.

Paris.—It would seem that all the ruin and devastation of the great war had filled the soul of France with an insatiable desire to conserve the habitations and relics of her sons, be their claim to immortality ever so humble. The chamber decided that the farmhouse or cottage at Serignan in Provence, where the great entomologist Jean Fabre lived and died should become national property.

But the Provencaux was not yet content. They now demand a like honor for their great Mistral, whose name is at Milliane. Mistral's widow still resides there, as does the poet's pet spaniel, which wears a collar with the proud inscription, "I am Jougnot, the dog of the poet Mistral."

Men Students to Raise Child.

Orono, Me.—The home economics department of the University of Maine has temporarily adopted Frances Pauline, four months old. The 16 young men students of North hall in caring for the infant will use the latest scientific methods. Little Frances is in perfect health and sleeps and takes nourishment on a well-defined schedule.

Crow Poison Rejuvenates Old Dog; Puppy Again

Paris.—A farmer in Noyon who wished to destroy his old dog gave it some crow poison. The farmer watched sadly for the death of his old companion, but to his surprise the dog jumped about and barked furiously. The poison, for some extraordinary reason, had completely rejuvenated the animal, and it is now full of fun and vigor.

Gareth Hughes as Little Eva

Yes, the "little girl" is Gareth Hughes. That's as he appears as Little Eva of Uncle Tom fame in "Little Eva Ascends," a clever film.

Budding Railroad President

This Australian lad promises to be head of a great transportation system some day. A goat, a toy wagon and a few scraps of leather for harness serve as his means of delivery for a grocery. He's banking his money.

GLAD HAND FROM "JOHN L."

How Defeated but Still Great Pugilist
Made Firm Friend of Young Newspaper Man.

Theodore Dreiser, writing in the Bookman, recounts his youthful experiences as a reporter in St. Louis. One of his assignments was an interview with John L. Sullivan:

"Aw, haw! haw! haw! I can hear him even now when I asked him my favorite question about life, his plans, the value of exercise (5), etc.

"He wants to know about exercise!
You're all right, young fella, kinda slim, but yuh'll do. Sit down and have some champagne. Have a cigar. Give 'em some cigars, George. These young newspaper men are all right, to me.
I'm for 'em. Exercise? What I think?
Haw! Haw! Write any d--d thing you please, young fella, and say that John L. Sullivan said so. That's good enough for me. If they don't believe it bring it back here and I'll sign it for yuh. But I know I'll be all right, and I won't stop to read it neither. That suit yuh? Well, all right. Now have some more champagne and don't say
I didn't treat yuh right, 'cause I did.
I'm ex-champion of the world, defeated by that little dude from California, but I'm still John L. Sullivan—uh! that right? Haw! haw! They can't take that away from me, can they? Haw! haw! Have some more champagne, boy."

"I adored him. I would have written anything he asked me to write. I got up the very best article I could and published it, and was told afterward that it was fine."

PATCHING UP KING'S SPEECH

Serious Omission Recently Gave British Parliamentary Authorities a
"Bad Fifteen Minutes."

William Cobbett, who used to complain of the bad grammar and the indifferent English of the king's speeches to parliament, surely never contemplated the omission which marked the king's speech at the opening of the recent session. The speech itself was remarkably short—139 words all told—and it came to a sudden stop without the usual invocation of God's blessing on the labors of parliament. When the king had departed, the officials were horrified at the omission; and hastily sent up a verbal addition to the press. Some of the newspapers used it and some did not.
Nor was this all, for when the lord chancellor in the house of lords and the speaker in the house of commons read out the speech at the afternoon sitting, the invocation was there, but the words were different from those supplied earlier in the day. The secret history of all these changes would make interesting matter for a modern Pepsy.

Future Monarch Reared Simply.

In an article describing the training of the fourteen-year-old prince of the Asturias, King Alfonso's heir, the Madrid Herald says he is being brought up in the atmosphere of home life that his parents love. Queen Victoria, as well as King Alfonso, dislikes all forms of ceremonial, and the prince is being trained as simply as possible. He has many tutors with whom he visits factories, dockyards, engineering works, newspaper offices, museums and all centers of culture and activity. The customs of the Spanish court have prevented him from entering a university or military college, but he will probably be sent later on to a military academy.
The prince is fair with blue eyes, and for this reason he has the appearance of a "foreigner," for Spain is a country of dark-eyed people. But those who speak of his foreign appearance maintain that he is thoroughly Spanish. He speaks English and French fluently and takes an active interest in science and art.—London Daily Mail.

Fashion's Pilgrimage Begins.

What the fastidious both feminine and masculine will be in North America next May may be known now by anyone who is in Buenos Aires. A news letter from the South American metropolis announces that all the spring styles from Paris and London, too, are to be seen in the shops there and on the streets. The straw hat of 1922 is there, beginning its march northward, arriving at Havana in January or February, New Orleans and Palm Beach by March, Atlanta and Charleston in April, and the rest of the continent in May.

All the fashionable world in Buenos Aires can furnish advance information on fashions, colors and modes, and an enterprising correspondent or two could very well supply interesting pointers to the caprices in the midst of our northern snowdrifts.

Studies Ant Control on Ships.

An odd assignment given to a scientific research worker is that of making a study of the control of ants on shipboard. As guest of the Pacific Mail Steamship company, Warren T.
Clarke, professor of agriculture extension in the University of California, has sailed on the steamship Columbia on a two months' trip through the Panama canal, coming on by way of Havana to Baltimore, to study the problem at first hand.—New York Evening Post.
