

Eari Long Storms On Comeback Trail

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Former Gov. Eari Long stormed down the comeback trail to landslide victory in the Louisiana governor's race Wednesday, leaving the administration of pro-Eisenhower Gov. Robert Kennon in the dust.

Mayor deLesseps Morrison of New Orleans, the only candidate in the five-man field in the Democratic primary who could have forced the race into a Feb. 21 runoff, conceded at 2 a.m.

Building his lead constantly as late rural returns trickled in, the 69-year-old Long rolled toward the majority vote needed to avoid a runoff with the second-place candidate.

Unofficial returns from 1,725 of the state's 2,039 precincts showed: Francis Gravernberg 30,710; Eari Long 340,702; James McLemore 33,843; deLesseps Morrison 139,103; Fred Preaux 84,473.

The San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge is the longest bridge in the world over navigable water.

Mississippi's population declined 2.4 per cent between April 1, 1950 and July 1, 1954.

U.S. Pushing Electronic Brain

LEXINGTON, Mass. (AP) — The United States is pushing the building of an electronic brain — a computer that will meet the present threat of potential enemy bombers and the future menace of long-range missiles.

Under test at the Lincoln Laboratory here is the prototype of an eventual chain of such units — in which computing machines, radar warning systems and communication networks will provide, automatically and almost instantly, information needed for waging air battles.

Officials of the laboratory, run by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, said work on other centers will be carried on even though operation of the first unit still is in test stage. They told visiting reporters that "critical nature" of defense needs required immediate start on other installations.

The laboratory, under contract with the Air Force, has developed the complex system called "SAGE" — named from the words "semi automatic ground environment."

It is a system built around a new type of electronic, digital computer which, among other things, can store up statistics in its "memory" tube and feed them out at a split-second speed to provide answers.

The computer, operating at a rate termed "hundreds of thousands of times faster than man," receives information flashed from radar stations on the ground, on ships, in the air and on offshore towers.

A commander at SAGE system sector headquarters thus would have before him a constantly changing picture of the course of a battle between invading bombers and interceptor planes, anti-aircraft guns and anti-aircraft missiles like the Army's Nike.

In a command post room, illuminated only by dim blue light, reporters saw the television-like screens of cathode ray tubes. On these black faces blinked green light traceries of maps, of location of defensive forces, or simulated planes bound on "saturation" raids toward Cape Cod and the New England coast.

Synthetic and humorous, changing continuously as the "brain" received and produced new information, presented a composite, up-to-the-minute picture of the air situation over scores and hundreds of miles.

The SAGE system, when fully operational, not only will receive information and "recommend" procedure to commanders. It also will steer intercepting planes to approaching enemy bombers, and, after the "brain" has decided everything is ready, it will fire the missiles or rockets of the interceptors.

Cost estimates for building a continental system range from laboratory officials' figure of "more than a billion dollars" to two billions or more, as given in congressional committees.

Civil War Gets Into TV Story

James Stewart New Top Star At Box Office

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The new top man at the movie box office is lanky James Stewart, and Hollywood is agreed that it couldn't have happened to a nicer guy.

The solid citizen from Indiana, Pa., was named the leading money-maker in the Motion Picture Herald's annual assessment of film stars. It's nice to know that being a sane, hard-working actor can pay off in terms of popularity.

Stewart, who served his country notably in World War II, has never had a breath of scandal connected with his name.

How does he feel about being No. 1?

"I'm very, very happy about it," he said. "It was a surprise, but I did think if I was ever going to make it, this year would be the time. I had some pretty good monteymakers out.

Recruiting Station Is Offering Deal

Want to go on active duty for two years in the Marine Corps? That's the kind of deal now being offered at the local recruiting station.

Under a new policy announced by Headquarters, U. S. Marine Corps, men 17-26 may apply for immediate assignment to active duty for two years.

This new policy, however, does not change the recruiting program for the regular Marine Corps. Recruit enlistments for three and four years will continue to be accepted.

Additional information on the two year program may be had by consulting the local Marine recruiter at Post Office Building in Sanford each Wednesday.

Princess Alexandra Reigning Glamour Girl Of Mayfair

LONDON (AP) — "Alex" has become the new reigning glamour girl of Mayfair.

Succeeding Princess Margaret, Princess Alexandra has taken over as leader of the gayest young crowd in London's fashionable night life.

Margaret, now 23, has abdicated gracefully in favor of her 19-year-old cousin with the misty blue eyes.

Most of Margaret's escorts and friends of other years have married and settled down to raise families. Though she still goes to parties with them, the time is more sedate.

For two years Alexandra moved in Margaret's shadow but now the Duchess of Kent's pretty daughter has come out on her own. Society columnists for the past few weeks have heralded her as "The Princess of 1956."

"Yes, I've seen just about every star in Hollywood working here," D. W. Griffith made "Topsy and Eva" on the lot. Harold Lloyd did "Movie Crazy." Doug made most of his great pictures — "The Iron Mask," "The Black Pirate." We've had them all, from William S. Hart to Marlon Brando."

He pulled out a drawer that contained the name plates for stars' dressing rooms. "I've always kept them," he said. "You never can tell when they might be coming back."

He flipped through the cards and read off the names: John Barrymore, Fredric March, Rod LaRocca, Vilma Banky, Gary Cooper, Eddie Cantor, Groucho Marx, Ronald Colman, Loretta Young (she did a film there 23 years ago, is now back doing her TV shows), Jean Simmons, Frank Sinatra, etc., etc.

Did he have any favorites among the stars?

"No," he replied. "But I did find one thing: the bigger they are, the nicer they are. The ones who raised a fuss were generally the small-time actors."

He did look back with fondness on the days when Doug Fairbanks ruled the lot.

"Oh, he was a live one. He was always bouncing around and playing jokes. He was full of fun, and sometimes I think that was why he and Mary broke up."

Sam Hill Begins On New Trends Of Leisure Life

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sam Hill has begun a new life of leisure after 31 years of caring for one of the most famed studios in Hollywood.

Sam, a big, craggy-faced man of 65 years, has retired as superintendent of Samuel Goldwyn Studio. He takes with him a wealth of memories about a lot which has been a rich segment of Hollywood history.

As he was winding up his duties at the studio, Sam reflected on his years there:

"I came to take over the place in 1923. Broncho Billy Anderson had built the studio a couple of years before, then Doug Fairbanks and Mary Pickford took it over. Mr. Goldwyn moved in in 1928. He did the place over then, and again in 1935.

"Yes, I've seen just about every star in Hollywood working here. D. W. Griffith made 'Topsy and Eva' on the lot. Harold Lloyd did 'Movie Crazy.' Doug made most of his great pictures — 'The Iron Mask,' 'The Black Pirate.' We've had them all, from William S. Hart to Marlon Brando."

Current Heat Wave Causes Problems

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Copacabana is a beautiful beach. It's world-famous. The only trouble is getting to it.

Traffic to the beach is a mess. In Rio's current 100-degree heat wave, people stand in long lines to get aboard buses for the shore. Then the loaded buses wait in long lines in file into the tiny area behind the beach. Coming back the lines are longer and the day hotter and junior tired.

The trouble is that Copacabana is a long, narrow area — three miles long and three blocks deep — jammed in between the mountains and the sea. All traffic has to filter along three streets parallel with the beach.

The heat wave traffic jam touched off complaining editorials in Rio papers. The editorials fired up plans to improve traffic. Buses are barred from the street along the beach. Each of the other streets will be made one way to carry buses and streetcars. (In a town where a Buick costs $12,000 and the average wage is $100 a month, streetcars and buses carry most of the traffic.)

No thought has been given to really speeding up the beach front traffic. A driver likes to go slow so he can look at that tanned girl in the red bathing suit.

Salzburg To Lead In Musical World

By KURT W. HAMPE

SALZBURG, Austria (AP) — Salzburg will lead the entire musical world in the coming weeks in celebrating the 200th birthday of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart on Jan. 27.

To honor its greatest son, born here as the seventh child of a court musician, the medieval city is preparing a Mozart week filled with concerts, opera performances, chamber music evenings and mailings.

The festivities will end with a performance of Mozart's opera "Idomeneus" by the Vienna State Opera company on the birthday night. Earlier that day, ceremonies will be staged in the house where the composer was born. Commemoration Masses will follow in several of Salzburg's churches.

Three leading orchestras — the Vienna Philharmonic, the London Philharmonic and the Bamberg Symphony — will play Mozart's compositions.

Emergency Disaster Loans Suggested For Truck Farmers

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — Department of Agriculture officials surveying Dale, Broward and Palm Beach counties have recommended emergency disaster loans to truck farmers because of the prolonged cold wave. Gov. Collins said Tuesday night.

The cold caused millions of dollars worth of damage to crops in those counties and elsewhere in South Florida.

Collins, stopping here briefly en route to Miami, said he was advised of the recommendation by William F. Snaddick, state director of the Farm Home Administration which would make the loans.

ARRIVING IN NEW YORK aboard the liner Berlin, young German farmers and agricultural students wave from the ship's deck. They will spend a year in the United States studying American farming methods while working in rural areas. At bottom, Karl Johan, and his bride, the former Asta Reimer, both 22, of Iruuheim, Norway, also arrived on the Berlin. They came to the U.S. as part of a Norwegian farm study group of ten. Mrs. Johan is the only woman in the group. The honeymooners will study and work for about a year on a farm near Columbia City, Ind. (International Exclusive)

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

ONE HAPPY NEW YEAR, Joe E. Lewis met a big spender from Havana who took him on a round of the drinking spas himself, but only drink two of them. "What's the idea of always leaving two martinis untouched behind you?" asked Joe. "Those things cost money."

"It's worth it to me," answered the spender. "After a long time drinking martinis I learned one thing: the first two always taste terrible."

A Los Angeles resident answers to "Try and Stop Me" that when he was visiting the owner of one of Guatemala's richest coffee plantations, he was served a cup of java so rich-tasting and satisfying he exclaimed, "I wish I could get this Guatemalan coffee back to L. A."

The plantation owner scoffed, "Guatemalan, my eye!" and produced a one-pound vacuum tin of one of those "instant brews" advertised on TV about eighteen times a day. "I import it," explained the Guatemalan happily.

With Elections Coming Shortly Voting Machines Worth Trying

On the edge, somewhat, of the coming year, a new method of voting procedure that will be utilized in a neighboring county.

This method has been talked about for some time and on the last presentation our county was not in financial position to undertake the installation of such a procedure.

However, should the method of using voting machines be considered by our county, there is to be considered the saving that would probably be realized from the use of the mechanical method of voting.

Brevard County, we are informed, will try out the voting machines in a number of its precincts during the Primary election this year.

It will use, according to the news item we read from Brevard County, five of the machines that will be provided by the Voting Machine Company of New York.

With an election coming up that will include numerous candidates for many of the various offices for our nation, State and County, this would be an excellent time to take a look at the mechanical voting machines.

The larger precincts that take hours upon hours to tabulate the total votes should be given the privilege of using the machines to find out if such an investment would meet the approval of the individual voters in our county.

It would be worth a try anyway

Filip Relaxing Moments

Free time is wonderful, if those who have free time could have something to do during the period of recreational relaxation.

We are speaking primarily of children. They spend a big part of the day in school, most of them studying hard, learning well, and behaving themselves. But all during this time of study, learning, and well behavior, there is being stored up within that child a veritable powerhouse of energy, energy that will be released the moment the "last bell" rings.

They come scampering from school rooms to buses, homes, and downtown streets, actually, for the most part, looking for something to do.

Our biggest need, at the present time, is to combat idle time and the search for something to fill those relaxing moments, is a Recreational Director for Sanford.

We have a fine recreation program for summer, and the brief span of weeks that join the end of school with the beginning of school, but we overlook all of the time that exists during the nine months when school is in progress.

Well laid plans for recreation activities of our young people would be an asset to our city. An actual saving of money in the years to come.

Should we wait until our population has increased so much that the forming of such plans would be burdensome?

We will never be able to estimate the number of lives saved in the character-building plans of such a program. The ultimate gain for the community could well run into a sum so big that no adding machine could carry the balance.

Waiters Never Spill Bowl Of Soup

NEW YORK (U)—One of my favorite rebel dreams is to see a waiter at the Ritz spill a plate of soup on a celebrity.

"How often does this happen?" I hopefully asked Steve Torsano, the maître d'hotel there.

Steve, who has been a high priest to two generations of international gourmets, lifted his eyebrows in horror.

"Never," he exclaimed indignantly. "It could not happen. At the very worst a waiter might drop a hot plate to the floor. But spill something on guest? Never! Never! Never!"

To Steve, who can spot a wrinkle in a napkin at 40 paces, such a thing would be a greater tragedy than the collapse of the Leaning Tower of Pisa. Particularly if it happened while he was on duty.

While he is on the job food is his religion, service is his god.

Except for 28 stomach-rearing months in an Austrian prison camp during the first world war Steve, who was born in Italy, has spent the last 47 of his 61 years in Ritz hotels, first in Buenos Aires, then in New York. When the old Ritz was torn down several years ago, he and most of the staff moved up Madison Avenue to the new Ritz restaurant in the plush Carlton House.

Steve deplores the hurried habits of today's hurried diners, remembers fondly the days when people took their meals more leisurely.

"No meal should be eaten in less than an hour," he said firmly, "and it should be accompanied by a good French wine. Then you will live longer."

Many of Steve's longtime guests refuse even to look at the menu. They insist that he select for them.

To him a good meal is like a table symphony.

I asked Steve, who has selected hundreds of thousands of meals for notables, his idea of a dream meal—"the perfect dinner." His eyes sparkled at the thought.

"First, assorted hot canapes à la Ritz with a dry martini," he began dreamily, "followed by some black caviar and a nip of aquavit.

"Next, a cup of petite marmite, a soup made of chicken, beef, beef marrow and fresh vegetables,

Business Life Insurance Soars

NEW YORK (U)—Business in the last year took out three billion dollars worth of life insurance policies on owners and top executives and key employees. This brought to more than 20 billion dollars the total of such insurance naming as beneficiary a corporation or partner or business associate.

Annual purchases have tripled in the last five years.

Good times may have furnished the money to pay the costs, but high taxes and stiff competition that puts a premium on top management ability have helped push the purchases to new heights.

The aims of such insurance are usually to offset the business loss involved in the death of key men, or to ease the transfer of ownership at death, or to insure continuity of business during a turbulent financial period.

The Life Insurance Agency Management Assn. of Hartford, Conn., reports that its quarterly buyers surveys show that more than 120,000 business life insurance policies were bought in 1958. The association reports that about a tenth of all adult ordinary life insurance purchased in recent months was for business needs.

Similar surveys it made in 1949

Veterans Corner

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to four questions of interest to former servicemen and their families:

Q. I have a lapsed World War II GI term insurance policy. Since it hasn't reached the end of its term period, I want to reinstate it and, at the same time, convert to a permanent plan. How much money will I have to pay?

A. You will have to pay one monthly premium at the term rate plus your first premium payment at the new permanent plan rate. Any VA office can tell you the amount due.

Q. I have just paid off my GI home loan in full. Will my GI loan entitlement now be restored to me in full, if I want to buy another house under the GI bill? My GI loan was guaranteed for $4,000.

A. Under the law, your entitlement may not be restored in full, even though your loan has been paid in full. But you may be entitled to an additional $2,500 guarantee—the difference between the $4,000 you already used and the maximum, which is $7,500.

Q. I am taking Korean GI training in a trade school that is not operated on a semester basis. My entitlement is due to run out before I complete my course. Will I be allowed to finish it under the Korean GI Bill anyway?

A. You will be allowed to continue your course as long as you have completed the major part of the course. You may train either to the end of the course or for nine weeks—whichever is the shorter period.

Q. I am a Korean veteran, but not operated on a VA pension for a total and permanent non-service-connected disability. Would I be permitted to train under Public Law 854, even though my disability is not service-connected?

A. No. Under the law, Public Law 854 training may be taken only by veterans with service-connected disabilities, if they need it in order to overcome the handicap of their disabilities.

Veterans living in Central Florida who wish further information about their benefits should write the VA office at 42 E. Central Ave., Orlando.

Dulles Shows No Nervous Signs

WASHINGTON (U)—How does a secretary of state conduct himself when he walks into a room packed with nervous newsmen for straight answers on a situation for which he has been roundly criticized?

From a physical standpoint Secretary of State Dulles did very well at his news conference Tuesday. He showed no signs of nervousness. But his replies left a lot to be desired. He too-danced, verbally.

This was the situation which brought into the State Department's auditorium more newsmen than at any time since Dulles took office in 1953.

Life magazine, after a special interview with him, declared that three times in the Eisenhower administration this country had been brought to the brink of war. And it quotes Dulles directly:

"The ability to get to the verge (of war) without getting into the war is the necessary art." It was this sentence, perhaps more than anything else in Life's article, which got him a deluge of criticism, particularly from Democrats.

When the magazine appeared last week, Dulles said of the few paragraphs which quoted him directly: "The statements specifically attributed to me do not require correction from the standpoint of their substance."

What did that mean? He was either quoted accurately in Life, word for word, or he wasn't. If he wasn't, where was the difference between what he said and what Life quoted him as saying? He hadn't made that clear with his statement.

Newsmen yesterday wanted answers to that and to other questions raised by Life. They got many vague answers. Dulles said the quotation about the art of getting to the brink of war was ambiguous.

He said it was not word for word the way he would put it for publication although it is substantially what he thinks. He said he himself had neither reviewed nor seen the story before it appeared.

Life magazine said in a statement the article was reviewed by one of Dulles' aides and it has "every conviction we quoted him accurately."

There is one way of settling the question. Dulles could let newsmen see the transcript of his conversation with Life's reporter, James Shepley. Dulles said such a transcript had been made but he wouldn't release it.

He said he did not want to be brought into a discussion of the Life writer's views but at the same time he would not spell out for newsmen where his views in the story ended and Life's began.

He was asked specifically to clarify some of the points. He would not.

Dulles didn't repudiate the Life article, which attempted to portray him as one of the greatest secretaries of state in history, but he did cast doubts on its accuracy. He discounted it without saying precisely what was wrong with it.

Experts Can Correct Cleft Palate And Lip

COOPERATION of specialists in many fields is needed to correct the physical defects and speech impediments caused by cleft palate and cleft lip. Experts in plastic surgery, hearing, breathing, dentistry and speech re-education can work together to cure this mistake of nature.

A cleft palate or a cleft lip occurs when the tissues forming the lip and palate fail to grow together.

A cleft lip generally occurs on the upper lip, either on one or both sides. In addition to distorting the appearance of the child, it also makes it difficult for him to breathe and speak.

Malformation of the hard palate, the roof of the front of the mouth, and the soft palate, the roof of the back of the mouth, prevents them from carrying out their functions.

A cleft palate permits the stream of air we use for speech to go up and out the nose. This is what causes the nasal speech characteristic of persons with cleft palate or cleft lip. Since the roof of the mouth is not complete, the tubes leading to the middle ear cavity are exposed. The result is poor hearing.

The defect usually can be repaired completely by a plastic surgeon.

A special dental device inside the patient in controlling sounds for speech as well as improving his appearance. The other specialists then contribute their efforts toward complete cure.

If your child is born handicapped with a cleft palate or lip, do not blame yourself. These malformations are an error of nature.

Hereditarily does appear to play a part in their development, but we do not know the actual cause.

It is usually advisable to begin repairs fairly early in childhood, although each is an individual case. Sometimes a doctor might advise that closing of a cleft in the palate be delayed for months or even years.

But whether corrective steps are begun now or are postponed by your doctor, do not worry. Cleft palate and lip usually can be repaired.

It is also a good food from the point of view of supplying various nutrients, such as calcium and iodine.

Tennessee Speaker Tells Of Citation For DAR Family

On Jan. 18 the Belle Harrison Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution met with Mrs. A. W. Lee, Mrs. P. P. Campbell and Miss Barbara Rupprecht were co-hostesses. At the close of the meeting they served delicious refreshments.

Following the usual patriotic ritual, led by Mrs. H. W. Rucker, Regent, Mrs. A. R. Key announced that she had paid National Dues for 42 members and that there are four Associate Members.

Mrs. Roy L. Oiler, Regent of the Jackson-Madison Chapter of Jackson Tenn. was introduced. She told about a member of her Chapter, Mrs. A. B. Reynolds who had received a national citation at the last Continental Congress because she had seven daughters who are also active Daughters. This is the largest DAR family known by the National organization.

A letter was read from the Pure Water Association of America asking that the Chapter endorse the program for pure water with the addition of no chemicals by the water companies. No action was taken, but members were asked to inform themselves so that they could vote on this question at the next business meeting. Letters were read from Tennessees thanking the Chapter for the Christmas donations.

Mrs. Miriam Russell spoke highly of the cooperation she had received from the Seminole County Chapter. She outlined the plans for the National Essay Contest.

Mrs. Rucker, Mrs. Key and Mrs. F. E. Roumillat were elected as delegates to the Florida DAR meeting in Orlando in March. Alternates elected were Mrs. Russell, Mrs. C. R. Dawson, Mrs. J. P. Hagen and Mrs. C. L. Park Sr.

Mrs. Hagen called the attention of the members to the Silver Tea, for the benefit of the General Sanford Memorial Library Fund to be held at her home in February. The tea will be open to the public from 4 till 8. Mrs. Robert Jennings, Mrs. Rucker and Mrs. Mary Sue Compton will be co-hostesses. The regular meeting of the Chapter will be held before the tea. Members were requested to wear Colonial Costumes.

Mrs. Key, National Defense chairman, introduced R. L. Ladd, recently retired third in command in FBI in Washington, D. C. Mr. Ladd now resides in Geneva.

Mr. Ladd stated that Communism is the single greatest threat to the United States and Democracy. He outlined the history of Communist organization in Russia and how in 1938 and the immediate years following the FBI found 1,171 Communists among 14,000 enemy aliens in the United States. The aim of Communism is to gain the world belief in its ideology and it works through the military, economic forces, political bodies, foreign policies and scientific inventions. It gains its strength from the declared communist, the concealed Communist, the "fellow traveler", the sympathizer, the opportunist and the innocent dupes, he stated. In the United States the greatest danger is from saboteurs, and guard must be kept, in spite of the continued hope for International Peace. He also pointed out that while 52 agreements had been made with Russia (Communists) only two had been kept. All were warned against "front" organizations.

Those present learning from Mr. Ladd and enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Lee were Mrs. A. W. Lee, Mrs. R. W. Roumillat, Mrs. A. R. Key, Mrs. Ed Meisch, Mrs. P. P. Campbell, Mrs. C. R. Dawson, Mrs. Raymond Smith, Mrs. H. Brewer, Mrs. Mary Sue Compton, Mrs. L. P. Hagan, Mrs. C. B. Brown, Mrs. Charlie Parks, Mrs. R. M. Mason, Mrs. H. W. Rucker, Mrs. R. E. Daytona Beach Speaker Gives Hibiscus Talk

The Hemerocallis Circle of the Garden Club met recently at the home of Mrs. C. F. Lind and enjoyed a delicious covered dish supper for which Mrs. Lind and Mrs. Ben Wiggins served as hostesses.

Speaker for the affair was Mr. Teagle of Daytona Beach, One time president of the American Hibiscus Society, the speaker spoke on hibiscus and charmed his listeners as he brought out many interesting and important points to be remembered. He stated that they should be cut back around the middle of February, they like acid soils as do camellias and azaleas, and recommended that hibiscus be grafted rather than rooted. Hibiscus are subject to nematodes, therefore grafting is more feasible with the common red variety suggested as the basic plant stock to use.

"If we apply fertilizer in order to harden the wood, we need not be afraid of freezing temperature," Mr. Teagle reiterated. During the freezing weather experienced recently in this state, the guests told his listeners that he suffered no losses among his 350 varieties of hibiscus. One other point made was that the discussed business meeting following the northeast to receive winds from that direction.

Mrs. C. H. Moss conducted the informative talk and minutes were read by Mrs. S. J. Nix. The chairman brought out that she hoped the circle would be able to send a representative to the flower show school.

Present were Mrs. F. B. Adams, Mrs. J. C. Hall, Miss Ethel Riser, Mrs. M. H. Smith, Mrs. E. L. Vilen, Mrs. M. T. Baker, Mrs. Bea Newsome, Mrs. Miriam Vinson, the Misses Edna and Laura Chittenden, Mrs. J. C. Sykes, Mrs. S. J. Nix, Mrs. C. H. Moss, Mrs. Juanita McKnight, Mrs. Ben Wiggins, Mrs. C. F. Lind, Mrs. C. Florida Symphony Orchestra Slated To Play In Orlando Saturday Evening

Florida's only 100 piece all-professional symphony orchestra this week will open its five-concert Daytona Beach subscription series at Peabody Auditorium tonight and present an all-Mozart program Saturday night in Orlando Municipal Auditorium.

In its first out-of-town appearance of the new season, the Florida Symphony Orchestra under Frank Miller will perform Brahms' Symphony No. 1, Verdi's Overture to La Forza del Destino, Divertissement by Jacques Ibert and Manuel De Falla's El Amor Brujo.

The orchestra this past Saturday chalked up another milestone in its educational program for the youth of Central Florida with a sellout performance for students only of the popular Tchaikovsky Aurora's Wedding and Rosini-Rosignoli La Boutique Fantasque ballets.

Approximately 100 students of the Royal School of Dance and the Eben School of Dancing were afforded the unique opportunity of dancing with a full symphony orchestra and more than 3,000 youngsters were given a taste of fine music and colorful dancing.

Rollins College's renowned Bach Festival Choir under the direction of Robert Hufstader will join the Florida Symphony at 8:30 p.m. Saturday to salute the Mozart bicentennial year with an all-Mozart program.

They will perform the mighty Requiem. The orchestra will be heard in the Symphony No. 40 in G minor and the gay and witty Overture to the Marriage of Figaro.

Next week Tuesday, Jan. 24 at 2 p.m. in Cocoa High School Auditorium the orchestra will play the first of 27 youth concerts designed to bring the world's great music to 30,000 youngsters.

The Florida Symphony is now in its sixth year as one of the most potent cultural attractions in the state, recognized by such leading critics as the late Olin Downes, dean of New York music critics, and Peggy Glanville-Hicks of the New York Herald Tribune. It has brought artists of international repute to Central Florida and this year will present Leonard Rose Feb. 4, Jorge Bolet Feb. 13, Alexander Schneider March 3 and Rudolf Firkušny March 17.

Florida Products To Go On Display

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Florida products go on display throughout the state today in the start of a month of emphasis on what Florida grows and manufactures. The first annual Florida Products Festival is sponsored by the State Development Commission. It is timed near the height of the tourist season to acquaint visitors with the fact that Florida has much more than sunshine, surf bathing and fishing. Gov. Collins says many Floridians will be surprised to learn the variety of products turned out here.

Workers May Look For Missing Men

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—Doctors and refinery workers may step on the charred, smoldering decks of the oil tanker Salem Maritimes today to search the sahes for the remains of more than 20 missing seamen. An spokesman for the Cities Service Oil Co., which owned the tanker that exploded late Tuesday night, said the on-deck search would begin if the flames died down as he expected. So far, according to Dr. J. W. Crookshank, Cities Service medical director, searchers have taken from the Calcasieu River "three almost whole bodies and enough pieces to make about 25 more." He guessed 19 other seamen were unaccounted for, but gave no identification.

"Throughout our state there will be many exhibits of agricultural and industrial progress and hundreds of stores will feature items native to Florida, with many special sales giving us added incentive to know and appreciate our own products better," he said.

Auto Sales Abuse Public Hearings To Get Underway

WASHINGTON (AP)—Backed by a poll of retail auto dealers, a Senate subcommittee launches public hearings today on charges of abuses in auto sales. Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.), chairman of a Commerce subcommittee on automobile marketing, released in advance of the session a poll of retail dealers showing widely held views that "bootlegging," "phantom freight" and other practices must be curbed. The subcommittee's questionnaire was answered by 19,113 of the nation's 42,000 dealers. Of those who replied, 13,749 endorsed "congressional study or federal legislation with regard to automobile dealers' problems." Called as the first witness was George Romney, president of American Motors Corp., which makes Hudson and Nash cars.

(Continued From Page One) a person is killed or injured or property damage totals $50 or more. The law also provides that such collateral must be posted regardless of fault, pending settlement of that question by the courts. In addition, an uninsured motorist must furnish proof of future financial responsibility, in the amount of $25,000, for three years, before his motoring privileges will be returned, even though he has settled all just claims for the accident. Insured motorists are completely exempt from the law after their insurance company has filed proof of proper and adequate coverage.

Condemning Florida's traffic accident record, both during the year and particularly over the Christmas holidays, Mr. Larson declared he had taken to the air "to speak out frankly, and even bluntly, about the present and the future—to help those who will listen, but to warn the willful few who will not." He said Florida was among the states having the worst traffic accident record during the past Christmas season and added:

"Not even Florida, with all of its God-given and man-made blessings and advantages, can tolerate that kind of a reputation—and it won't." Mr. Larson complimented the "great majority" of Florida's motor vehicle owners and operators who, "as usual, have respected both the letter and the spirit" of the law. To the "small but dangerous" minority which, "also as usual" has not, he served notice that the law will be enforced with the utmost impartiality. To emphasize this, he predicted that if the December rate is maintained, probably 60,000 owners and operators will receive notice of suspension in 1936 for failing to meet the security requirements of the law within the 30 days period of grace. Of this number, however, Mr. Larson said, a great many will actually be immune from the law, by virtue of having insurance, but failed to notify their insurance agent or insurance company about their accident promptly enough for the company to get the required information to the State Treasurer's office before suspension became mandatory. He pointed out that of the 6,331 who received suspension notices in December, 4,983 rushed in with proof of insurance when the notice was received.

This fact alone, Mr. Larson declared, is proof that many motorists are still confused about the law and could, therefore, suffer serious hardships which are wholly unnecessary. As a result, Mr. Larson said he would gain endeavor, as he did last September, to inform the public about the mistakes that are being made under the new law during the next few weeks. He has received assurance of cooperation in this effort from the Florida press and radio and television stations.

Mr. Larson called blunt attention to the fact, however, that during December alone 848 Florida owners and operators actually lost their motoring privileges under the new law. He warned that licenses and registrations thus suspended for non-compliance would not be returned until the offending motorists have paid for damages they caused and in addition furnished proof of financial responsibility in the amount of $25,000 for the succeeding three years. This, he said, should be sufficient notice to "the willful few" that the state is in dead earnest about firm and uncompromising enforcement.

As a parting reminder to chronic accident causers, Mr. Larson declared that even insurance will not protect them against the Financial Responsibility Law for very long.

"It is not a license to drive recklessly and become involved in accidents," he said. "Insurance companies will not continue to protect motorists after they have become involved in several or more accidents; or perhaps even one, if serious law violation is involved. That is the second great purpose of our new law—to get chronic accident causers off of our roads, both as owners and operators, and keep them off for the greater safety and security of the vast majority of sound and lawful motorists, as well as the pedestrians. "Insured or uninsured, keep out of accidents by driving carefully and lawfully, because insurance isn't for the protection of the reckless or lawless. Our Financial Responsibility Law has been enforced, is being enforced, and will continue to be enforced, firmly and without fear or favor, to the end that the dreadful and unnecessary cost of carelessness should be curbed."

With a camera, anyone can be an artist in either black and white or color. Beautiful scenes like this are yours for the taking.

You Too Can Be An Artist—With Your Camera

In this post-Christmas season, there are many new cameras in action. And we are almost envious of those of you who are new camera users, because so many wonderful things are before you. Such are the wonders of a camera that in practically no time at all everyone who takes pictures responds to its challenge and fascination. And it doesn't matter what type of camera is involved, for even the simplest box camera possesses the happy faculty of serving as a third eye. Not many of us may be able to paint a landscape or write a play, but given a camera we can describe a scene or actively with remarkable clarity and detail. What's more, we can share our personal record of an experience with as many other people as we wish to. A whole kaleidoscope of picture opportunities is presented to us with every tick of the clock. Just take a look out the window. Perhaps you can see a view of a familiar street. Think of it as it looks at dawn when the shadows are long—and again at dusk when the warm glow of lighted windows pierces the gloom of twilight. Or perhaps you prefer to remember the interesting pattern of reflections made by rain on the pavement, or the complete change of mood made by brilliant beams of sunlight streaming down the walks. Even at the very same moment, a scene will exhibit different facets for a dozen observers. A half a dozen picture-takers snapping the same view simultaneously can record a half a dozen very different pictures. For a camera is merely an extension of one's own sight. It sees only what you see in the viewfinder. And what you see will be affected by such things as distance, light, shutter speed, lens opening, and camera angle or viewpoint. The ability to judge all these factors is one that naturally grows with experience. But, more often than not, the necessary information will be found right on the pack of film you buy. Always read it carefully before you start shooting. It's put there to help you get the best possible pictures every time. —John Van Guilder

Selling To Minors Hit By Sheriff; Crackdown Staged

Seminole County Sheriff J. Denver Cordell, this morning warned tavern, bars, and grills selling alcoholic beverages that they are being watched carefully and consistently relative to the selling of alcoholic beverages to minors.

Sheriff Cordell revealed this morning that a bartender at the Blue Bird Tavern, Rupert William Lainsinger, had been arrested and charged with "selling whiskey to a minor." The Blue Bird Tavern is located on 17-23, south of Sanford and is licensed under the name of Blue Bird Grill. It is owned and operated by Joseph Garry.

Sheriff Cordell said, "The Blue Bird Tavern came under suspicion when I found too many automobiles parked there for the size of the place," he said, "I have been watching the place for several weeks and found too many young people going in and out."

In announcing the arrest of the bartender, who has been released under a $500 bond, Sheriff Cordell said that a boy, 15-years-old went into the tavern and bought a half-pint of whiskey. "I stopped the boy at the door," the Sheriff said, "and in the company of the boy's father the youth admitted buying the whiskey and the bartender admitted selling it to him."

"We are having too much trouble with minors," said Sheriff Cordell, "and a lot of it is due to the selling of alcoholic beverages to these youngsters."

The bartender, according to the Seminole County Sheriff, said that he did not check the boy's identification saying, "he looked like he was 21."

Cordell emphasized, "I am watching everyone of these taverns and am warning them that they must not sell to minors."

Antitrust Action Is Said Strongly

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 19—Antitrust action against Foremost Dairies Inc., taken in Washington yesterday by the Federal Trade Commission, came as a complete surprise to company officials, they said last night.

Wellington Paul, vice president, and George Milam, counsel, said they learned of the action only through queries of newsmen. There was no investigation or notification from the government, the officials said.

The FTC called Foremost the country's "most acquisitive" concern. It has absorbed 38 other dairy firms and 21 of their subsidiaries since 1931 in a "constant and systematic elimination of actual and potential competitors," the FTC said.

Rev. Miller Praised For Service

The First Baptist Church of Sanford commends the services of the Rev. John L. Miller former Minister of Education at the local church who was called to a full time pastorate of the Hypoluxus Mission of the First Baptist Church of West Palm Beach recently.

In a resolution, approved by the officials of the local First Baptist Church, the membership of the church "gratefully acknowledges the forward looking Christian leadership of the Rev. Miller in directing the full time educational program of the church."

The resolution read, in part, "that the First Baptist Church of Sanford, hereby commends the Rev. Miller, a native son of Sanford, for his leadership and especially for his fine record of accomplishments in his own church."

It is pointed out, in the resolution, that since the Rev. Miller came to the First Baptist Church as Minister of Education, the church has grown from a single department for each age group to multiple departments in both the Sunday School and the Training Union.

Under the leadership of the Rev. Miller, the Elder Springs Mission was organized in February 1954. The Mission program now includes Sunday School and Church Service each Sunday morning and a weekly prayer meeting.

Miller was instrumental in organizing and was superintendent of the Vacation Bible School in 1954 and 1955 and under his leadership the church sent increased from 200 to 500.

The resolution, released today by the First Baptist Church of Sanford, also commends Mrs. John L. Miller, wife of the former Minister of Education, for the "fine way Mrs. Miller contributed to the carrying out of the entire Church Program."

McKendree Given 15-Year Sentence At Court Hearing

Judge Vassar Carlton, of the Ninth Judicial Circuit, sentenced three men this morning who had been found guilty by juries during the winter term of court hearing criminal cases.

William Oscar McKendree, 32-year-old Tama carpenter, who was charged with the first degree murder of R. Keith Cochran in a tavern shooting last summer, was found guilty of manslaughter by a 12-man jury, earlier this month.

This morning, Judge Carlton sentenced McKendree to 15 years at hard labor at Raiford State Prison after hearing a plea from McKendree's counsel, Tom Watson, for a presentence investigation.

Watson, in making the plea for presentence investigation, said, "I believe he (McKendree) is entitled to some consideration of the court."

State's Attorney Murray Overstreet told Judge Carlton "We are not in a position to join in the recommendation and we do object."

Before handing down the sentence, Judge Carlton said, "We had a good jury, acceptable to both sides, and we had a fair trial. The court feels that from the evidence in the case the defendant received a fair trial."

McKendree was in the court room when the sentence was pronounced. She covered her face with her hands and with tears streaming down her face, gently sobbed. McKendree showed no evidence of emotion when he heard the sentence.

Ben Joe, 37-year-old negro tavern operator, was given three years at hard labor at Raiford State Prison. Joe was found guilty of "shooting into a dwelling." Before pronouncing sentence on Ben Joe, Judge Carlton reminded the negro of his long record which included petit larceny, reckless driving, brandishing firearms, and assault and battery.

John Riley alias James Riley, found guilty by jury of "attempt to commit rape," was sentenced to 10 years at hard labor at Raiford State Prison. Riley, represented by negro attorney Paul Perkins, was charged with the attempted rape of a 10 year old white child last year.

Finally she peeled off 18 one-dollar bills and handed them and the pint over, directing the men to "take them back to the liquor store." That she did.

Cola G. Parker NAM president, replied in a telegram last night: "I regret that Mr. Meany has chosen to make an ill-tempered attack on the NAM as a contribution to the labor-management peace and understanding we seek."

Meany spoke last night at a dinner of the National Industrial Conference Board, a business and industrial fact-finding organization.

Blonde Robmoll Calmly Guns Store

DETROIT (AP)—A blonde gunmoll calmly robbed a liquor store and then forced two men to take her for an hour's automobile ride about town last night.

Dressed in a Navy peacoat and blue skirt, the blonde stunk up Andy's Liquor Store, looting the cash register of $100 and pinching a pint of booze.

Customers Paul Crowe, 22, and Thomas White, 18, ran after her. When they caught up, they were looking into the barrel of her pistol. She forced them into White's car and then directed their hour-long cruise.

More Than Safety To Be Stressed In Organization Of Bicycle Club

"There will be more than just safety stressed when the Bicycle Safety Club is organized Saturday," said Mrs. Frances Murray, chairman of the committee bringing boys and girls together to teach the fundamentals of bicycle safety.

"We will also have plenty, winter coats, bicycle hikes, and many other interesting adventures during the summer months and on weekends," she said.

The Bicycle Safety Club will be organized Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, in Fort Mellon Park, just to the east of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Building on Seminole Boulevard. An area will be roped off for the event in anticipation of a huge crowd of youngsters of every age.

Each child registering for the Bicycle Safety Club, said Mrs. Murray, will receive a membership card, a decal to put on their bicycle, and a booklet on bicycle safety.

When the boy or girl registers Saturday morning, each one will be given a bicycle safety test which is to be conducted under the direction of the Sanford Police Department and Police Chief Roy G. Williams.

Then the bicycle will be inspected by a group of citizens to insure that every bike is in perfect condition for the utmost in safety. Those inspecting the bikes will be Bob Murray, Ed Christensen, W. W. Tyre, and Sidney Vihlen.

Also cooperating will be Good-year Service Store, Robson Sport-Goods, and Western Auto Associates Store. Stanley Bicycle Shop will inspect bicycles free of charge following the registration Saturday.

A group of ladies will assist in registering each bicycle for the Bicycle Safety Club. They are Mrs. Frances Murray, Mrs. Fran Smith, Mrs. Alice Willink, Mrs. Sally White, Mrs. Candy McClanahan, Mrs. Ralph Brown, and Mrs. J. T. Haggerty.

Although not required for registering and membership in the Bicycle Safety Club, registration tags will be available if boys and girls would like to have them. The cost for registering the bikes and receiving tags will be 50 cents. When the bike is registered, the serial number is placed on record at the City Hall which makes the bike easy to identify in case of accident or if the bicycle is stolen.

Many safety minded citizens acclaim the Bicycle Safety Club as one of the forward steps in safety for children. Hundreds of children ride bicycles to school and after school. With the dissemination of safety rules and proper bike riding and care through such an organization, the safety of children will be enhanced.

Parents are urged to have their children at Fort Mellon Park Saturday morning for the initial step in the creating of the Bicycle Safety Club.

McGraw's Wife Is Present

Rev. R. Spear Offers Prayer

George Barr's Umpire's School got off to an auspicious start for the 20th time at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Ward's Hotel, Longwood, the site of the school for the past several years. Nearly 80 students from all sections of the country were greeted by Dick McLaughlin, Southern representative for the school who introduced the Rev. Robert Spear Jr., pastor of the Church of the Nazarene to offer the invocation.

McLaughlin expressed particular pleasure at the presence of Mrs. Blanche McGraw, widow of the late Hall of Fame baseball manager of the New York Giants. Mrs. McGraw has been a regular attendant at the school openings for many years and was given an ovation by both the students and the many visitors from Longwood, Sanford and other points in Central Florida.

After painstakingly introducing the visitors, McLaughlin called on the "old man" to take over and from the reception accorded him, George Barr knew that he was off to a good start. Missing humor or with his serious demeanor, Barr told the students just what would be expected of them and just what they might expect from the staff of the school. Emphasizing the slogan of the school to be "expect he play and you'll call it," Barr told the group that curfew would be conspicuous by its absence but "if you come in late, be tolerant of the wishes of those who have already retired. Gambling will not be permitted," he said, and he urged the students "not to borrow from each other; to dress decently when going in for meals and to eat at the hotel as you would at home, for this is your home while you are at the school. You'll find Longwood and Sanford friendly places but don't get the idea that we'll tolerate over-friendliness on your part to the extent that you'll be whining and giving well-calls at any young ladies you pass. You came here to be umpires and we expect you to be gentlemen," he concluded.

The Rev. George Granger, Vicar of Christ Church, Longwood, welcomed the assemblage and also offered the closing prayer.

Grim Search Made For 'Mad' Killer Sentenced To Die

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Police in three states searched grimly today for Lullie Irvin, described as a "mad dog" killer who escaped from jail while under sentence of death for one murder and indictment for five others.

The hunt was concentrated in the Evansville area and in nearby sections of Kentucky and Illinois.

Illinois state police put out a state wide alert for Irvin last night after authorities at Watkeville, Ill., said they had reports he had been seen in a Watson tavern.

Meanwhile, law officials said Irvin's murder trial would be given police guards as they awaited the 31-year-old former Evansville pipefitter.

Irvin, convicted of killing an Evansville man and charged with killing two Indians, was transferred Monday to the Indiana State Prison at Michigan City to await execution in the electric chair June 12.
