

Definite Offer Is Made To Professional Ball Club To Train In Sanford In Spring

Committee Votes As Unit In Deciding To Get Guarantee

Voting unanimously, the baseball committee representing the Chambers of Commerce and the various civic clubs in Sanford decided late yesterday to invite a professional baseball club to train in Sanford next spring. In voting the invitation the committee pledged itself to raise the required guarantee and to place the baseball park in good condition.

Negotiations with the professional club were left in the hands of J. H. Gansel of Orlando who was to wire the owner of the club late night or today, stating the guarantee figure and setting forth the charges local hotels would make for members of the team. Mr. Gansel said a reply should be received tomorrow.

The committee decided not to wait for the reply before "getting busy" on the guarantee, and decided to put in some work on that feature of the situation during the day, and to meet again at 8 o'clock this afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce offices. It will not be necessary to raise any cash now, Mr. Gansel advised the committee, but some money must be on hand by Jan. 1 when improvements on the park must be undertaken. That will not be expensive, he said.

"As to the guarantee," Mr. Gansel said, "you should not worry about that, because one good exhibition game should bring

Ball Club Rather Train Here Than In A Larger City

Owner Perry of the Indianapolis baseball club (American Association) told the baseball committee at its meeting in the Chamber of Commerce offices yesterday that Sanford is a much better place for a training camp than Miami, a city many times larger. He had been to Miami, but said he would not consider that city as a spring training camp location. It is too far away, he said, and it would be impossible to get exhibition games with other teams, while Sanford is in the center of the spring training ground.

In enough money to put you in the clear."

The guarantee does not have to be paid until the close of the training season.

President Perry of the Indianapolis American Association baseball club, who accompanied Mr. Gansel to Sanford yesterday, was invited into the committee meeting, but he declined to make any statement as to what sort of a guarantee he would want to bring his team here.

Attending the committee meeting were Arthur Hranan, chairman, Maxwell Stewart, H. R. Stevens, Geo. W. McIntory, H. M. Papworth, E. D. Kirchhoff, E. H. Laney, M. L. Raborn, E. C. Bludworth, W. H. Schmidt and Mr. Gansel.

City Golf Course Will Be Repaired For Winter Play

Commission Votes To Spend $365 On The Nine-Hole Fairway

The Sanford Municipal Golf Course will be put in shape for winter play. The City Commission so decided last night when it voted an appropriation of $365 for the purpose. The sum will be expended on half of 18 hole course as Andrew Carraway, manager of the course advising the commission that it would be impossible to keep the entire course open this season.

Mr. Carraway got all he asked for—$130 for fertilizer, $100 for 2,500 pounds of rye seed, and $135 for labor.

Last year's appropriation for the golf course was $1,000, but City Clerk Lamson reported that only $600 of that amount had been expended and that there is enough left over to take care of the new appropriation.

Mr. Carraway said there are now 75 members of the golf club, paying annual dues of $10 each, but Commissioner W. A. Laffler made the observation that the time is coming when the dues will have to be increased.

In making the motion that the Commissioner S. O. Shinkler said he did go for the reason that with the opening of the Mayfair Hotel there should be more use for the municipal course this year, and Commissioner H. J. Laney said that as municipal property the course should be maintained. The vote for the appropriation was unanimous.

Rat's 'Reasoning' Exceeds That Of 5-Year-Old Child

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 15.—(AP)—Adult rats show reasoning power superior to that of five-year-old children in laboratory experiments at the University of Michigan.

By reasoning power is meant the ability to recall several separate experiences and to combine them logically to solve a problem. Whether rats can reason has been a debated question. Their possession of this quality seems to be verified at Michigan, not only by the nature of the problems solved, but by medical tests afterward identifying the brain tissues they used in the solution.

As these tissues are similar to those in human brains, the animals offer means to a better understanding of the highest function of the human mind. The work at Michigan is directed by Norman Maier, Ph.D., assistant professor of psychology.

For the problem of children and rats, imagine a building shaped like a swastika. It is playground aim. Its interior is four tunnels crossing swastika fashion, so that child, or rat, can enter at any end and emerge at any other end.

Children and rats are taught to find their way through the tunnels, until they are able to enter at any end and come out at will at any exit they choose.

Then in one tunnel entrance is placed a toy the child wants. He is shown it, taken to another entrance and told to go find the toy. He is unable to reason out what direction to take in the tunnel. At the center of the swastika, where the passages cross, he has three possible directions.

He finds the right one by chance, by exploring one after the other. Not so the rats. Their sense of smell, which they cannot trace by smell. They are shown it, then like the children placed at a different entrance. The adult rats make the correct turn the first time 90 percent of the time.

Medical treatment of certain areas of their brain takes away this power in the rats. It does not abolish their power to learn or to remember. It affects apparently only the integrative ability which psychologists think is based on a law of mass action by the brain cells.

The rats in Dr. Maier's laboratory solve problems much more intricate than the swastika—problems which the children cannot touch at all. In these problems the rats learn four separate parts of a route to food.

Mills Charges That New Deal Is Destructive

Former Secretary Of Treasury Declares Some Of Its Laws Exceed Authority

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Ogden L. Mills, former Republican Secretary of the Treasury, said today that the "New Deal" in government can only destroy security, not assure it. He told the New York Herald-Tribune's annual forum on current problems that the Federal Administration is "violating basic principles of the Constitution" by which America has risen since it won its independence. Laws already enacted, he charged, usurp authority never granted the Federal Government by the Constitution.

Gut Tells Rotarians That Many Animals Now Extinct Once Lived In This County

Mammoth, Mastadon, Sabre-Tooth Tigers, Camels And Other Mammals Lived Here In The Pleistocene Age, He Says

Many animals now extinct once roamed Seminole County and other contiguous areas in central Florida, H. James Gut, of the A. P. Connelly & Son Insurance Agency, told the Sanford Rotary Club at the weekly luncheon of the Club in the Mayfair Hotel. Mr. Gut has made an extensive study of paleontology and his address was on the Pleistocene Age. A number of bones and teeth of many of the prehistoric animals that once lived in this section have been found by Mr. Gut in recent years, and some specimens from his collection were exhibited at the meeting of the Rotarians. In this collection are teeth and bones of the mammoth mastadon, deer, giant beaver, bison, ground sloth and peccary.

"The Pleistocene Age was the geologic period just prior to the one that we are in at present," Mr. Gut said. "The Pleistocene Age ended approximately 10,000 years ago and began approximately 1,000,000 years ago. The Pleistocene Age is the period during which the entire northern part of this continent was covered by four major and one minor glaciers, with their subsequent inter-glacial periods. During the glacial period animals from the North were driven into Florida, and the climate of Florida at that time was somewhat the same as that in southern Canada today. All the mammals living today in Florida were also living during the Pleistocene Age, but, with the exception of one species of bear and one of deer, none of the larger mammals has survived to the present."

Zachry Is Chosen District Governor Of Kiwanis Clubs

Sanford Man Elected At State Meeting In Ocala Tuesday

W. B. Zachry of Sanford was elected lieutenant governor of Kiwanis in Central Florida at the closing session of the annual convention of Kiwanis Clubs of the state in Ocala late yesterday. The local club put in a bid for next year's state convention, but merely went on record as wanting the meeting here some time, and centered its work on bringing to Sanford one of the important offices of the organization. Leland was chosen for next year's convention.

In addition to bringing the lieutenant-governorship of the district to Sanford, the local club also received honorable mention for its work for underprivileged children. The committee of the Sanford Kiwanis Club in charge of that work is composed of J. Dingfelder, chairman, Mayor I. L. Dumas, Sr., H. B. Smith and Capt. Farron of the Salvation Army.

James W. Norman of Gainesville, dean of the college of engineering at the University of Florida, was elected governor of Kiwanis. Other lieutenant-governors chosen are: J. Kenneth Williamson of West Palm Beach, southeastern division; Phil B. May of Jacksonville, northern division; John Marino Gov of Pensacola, western division; Jack Hovist of Fort Myers, southern division and Paul C. Albritton of Sarasota, southwestern division.

The convention condemned the sale of immature citrus fruits and urged growers, shippers and legislators to promote effective legislation to prevent its shipment. A resolution adopted yesterday recommended that Kiwanis Clubs arrange their programs in such a way as to bear both opponents and proponents of every debatable club subject. The convention urged that clubs refrain from taking sides "in order that the membership as individuals may vote intelligently."

The convention register showed the names of 470 men and 87 women.

Italians Give Cold Shoulder To Laval's Plans for Peace; Gains Made by Both Armies

Italy Will Continue War In Africa Even If Forced To Fight In European War

Church Leaders Greet Invaders

"Cordial Reception" Said To Indicate Church Division

ROME, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Italian government spokesmen said last night Italy would keep her course in Africa regardless of League of Nations sanctions and would fight "even a European war" if compelled.

These declarations in which the spokesmen, however, declined to predict war in Europe "come after a day in which the holy city of Aksum, called the spiritual rock of the Ethiopian empire, was occupied peacefully by the second Italian army corps under Gen. Pietro Mascagna, and in which Italian war correspondents in the Omageti Sett region of Ethiopia, near the border of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, reported the surrender of Ethiopian chiefs and their tribes.

Rome hailed the "cordial reception" which General Mascagna was reported officially to have received from priests of the Catholic Christian Church at Aksum as indicating a definite split between Emperor Haile Selassie and the Ethiopian church.

Official spokesmen here appeared confident the rest of the world "would eventually come to the Italian point of view" in opposition against Italy, they said, might be annoying, but Italy will not abandon its program because of them.

An official version of a broadcast from Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, and General Mascagna was widely repeated yesterday in Addis Ababa, at ceremonies in which the Abuna Theophilos, bishop-prince of the Ethiopian Catholic Christian Church, surrendered the keys of the city to Gen. Emilio D'Amico, commander of the Italian colonial forces.

The official radio broadcast said, "The Abuna (bishop-prince) informed General D'Amico that he was an honor and privilege to the Catholic Church leaders to give the holy city in Italian hands."

Fascist Force Drives Toward Interior; Selassie Warriors Evade Somaliland

Ethiopians Make 45 Mile Drive

"Never Surrender" Is Proclamation From The King Of Kings

Talk of peace in Ethiopia was heard in the capitals of Europe today, but it was a whisper as compared to the roars of war. The Fascist Legions of Il Duce were driving into the strategic interior of Haile Selassie's empire. In the south Ethiopian tribal warriors had invaded Italian Somaliland.

Premier Pierre Laval of France led the offensive for peace. In Geneva the Laval peace plan was outlined to the League of Nations as follows: Ethiopia would give all of northern Tigre province now held by the Fascists to Italy. In addition, Il Duce would have a mandate over outlying regions of Haile Selassie's empire—thus allowing Italy to build a railroad from north to south on the eastern border of Ethiopia, connecting his province of Eritrea on north and Somaliland on south.

But Laval's efforts were fruitless. The Italians, their East African armies driving south against Makale in northern Ethiopia and north toward strategically important Harar in the southern eastern sector, gave the Laval plan a cold shoulder.

Britain's minister for League of Nations Affairs, Captain Anthony Eden, worked energetically at Geneva for a "buy nothing" campaign against Italy. This next step in sanctions, following the outlawing of Italy financially and imposition of an arms embargo against it, had many other proponents, including Russia, Sweden, Belgium and other nations. No definite action of the sanctions committee was taken, however.

In Paris it was said that France and Great Britain were asking the United States what its position would be on such restriction on imports from Italy. These same authorities, it was said, were asking the same question of Germany, Japan and Brazil, which also are not members of the League.

Four thousand Ethiopian tribesmen, led by Colonel Siwanik, Dutch veteran of the Boer War, invaded Italian Somaliland and reported an advance of 45 miles. Penetration was made near Dolo. A second and larger force invaded Somaliland, 100 miles to the east, and occupied Odoor, 85 miles from the boundary. Somali tribesmen were said to be joining the invaders.

With Italian forces marching anew, Emperor Haile Selassie proclaimed to his people that Ethiopia was undefeated on any front.

Bible Verse For Today

GLORIOUS PRAISE—Make a joyful noise unto God, all ye that are earth; Sing forth the glory of his name; Make his praise glorious. Psalm 66: 1, 2.

The Literary Digest speaks of a prominent central Florida city now known as Ocala.

If Mussolini doesn't do, someone's liable to be forced off the front page. The news winning a little is no longer news.

We see by a business map of the United States that Florida is one of the bright spots of the nation... something, we are sure, which most business men will be glad to learn.

It may be all right to require a stamp to be placed on every potato bought, but just wait until they start putting stamp taxes on tea. Then the revolution will begin.

Mr. Gut insists there are as many fossils in central Florida as in any other part of the country. And though he produced a 15 pound tooth to prove it, we still believe in progressivism.

Comptroller Lee says plans are being made to operate no less than 20,000 slot machines in Florida in the near future. It will take a lot of nickels from little boys and girls to keep that many machines on a paying basis.

Bernard Baruch says that Adolf Hitler (not Mussolini) is the greatest menace there is to world peace. And at the same time the Jews and the Russians have a border clash in which blood is spilled and from which there are international reverberations. It's a friendly little world, isn't it?

Mussolini, it is said, has said that he is ready to make peace, or will be before the end of the month. He can lick the guns of Ethiopia, but he can't lick the trade embargoes of 51 nations. The sooner he recognizes this, the better it will be for the Italians he is supposed to serve.

The London "Spectator" is advised that Mussolini recently called the admirals of his navy together and told them they might have to fight the British fleet. Their reply is interesting. "You are sending us to our death," they said. "We will go, of course, but..."

Justice Buford certainly threw a bombshell into potential gubernatorial candidates when he asked why it was that any man should spend $50,000 to be elected to an office which pays only $7,500 a year, and can't possibly last for more than four years? Some of them are beginning to wonder if the good justice has never heard of "perquillage."

In attempting to prove that the United States should do away with its Supreme Court, one political commentator points out that to first rate European power tolerates such a political body. For instance, Germany, Italy, Russia, Bulgaria and Turkey, are not bothered at all by Supreme Courts. But then, who wants to be a Roman? Or a Turk?

Business just arriving in this country showing Premier Mussolini's recent nation-wide mobilization of persons gathered together in the Plaza di Venezia at Rome. One bank dropped from an airplane and landing in just the right spot would have wiped out half the population of Rome. But it is safe to say, if it had been, no such public gathering will take place in Rome again.

Comparatively Well Off

While Italy goes to war for the sake of a few coal mines and oil wells, while German scientists try to discover substitutes for certain foods which cannot be produced at home and which must be obtained in foreign lands, while England prepares for naval engagements in order to keep her "life line to India" open, knowing full well that life could not exist on the British Isles without help from the outside world, the United States, it seems, has more of practically everything than it can use.

Gold pours into this country from the far corners of the earth by the shipload. More than $300,000,000 worth of the precious metal has been shipped over here in the last few weeks. There is more gold in the United States today than was ever collected in any one country throughout the history of the world. More than ten billion dollars' worth now rests in the vaults of the Federal Reserve banks and the U. S. Treasury. Soon it will be buried in huge pits being dug in Kentucky and Colorado.

According to the National Association of Manufacturers, the United States has only 7 percent of the world's people to feed and clothe, but produces 60 percent of the world's corn, 56 percent of the world's cotton. It also produces 47 percent of the world's steel, 62 percent of the world's oil. This country possesses 35 percent of the world's railroads, with only 7 percent of the world's population to transport from one place to another.

In the United States are 62 percent of all the telephones and telegraph facilities in the whole world. Thirty-one percent of the world's developed water power is in this country. Our people own 71 percent of the automobiles now in use throughout the world, 44 percent of the world's radio sets. We consume one-half of the world's coffee, one-half of its rubber, three-fourths of its silk, one-third of its coal and two-thirds of its petroleum.

In 1934 there were 14 million American families who owned their homes. More than half of all the farmers in the five families owned their own farms. Every four out of five families owned at least one automobile. Two out of every three families had telephones and electricity and 40 percent of all families had radios.

In 1934 there were more than 38 million individual savings accounts in the banks and postoffices of this country. There were also nine million members of building and loan associations having assets of nearly 7 billion dollars. At the same time there were over 31 1-2 million ordinary life insurance policies in force having a face value of over 70 billion dollars.

So, while we may have our troubles in this country, while there are probably ten million persons who are unable to find jobs and who must be cared for, still it is a pretty good old country after all, and as compared with the rest of the world, it is certainly far and away in the lead.

A Terrible "Take"

That is the way the Tampa Tribune describes the "profits" from the operation of slot machines when it learns from the Comptroller's office that applications for license to operate slot machines in Hillsborough county have already reached the astounding figure of 2,932. The number of applications for the entire State of Florida is said to be around twenty thousand.

"A slot machine agent told a prospective operator," the Tribune says, "that he could promise a 'take' of from $50 to $100 a week for each machine, depending on the location. 'Take,' by the way, is the correct term. Accepting the minimum promised, 2,932 slot machines at $50 a week would 'take' $146,600 a week or $7,623,200 a year in Hillsborough county. That, we understand, is the amount staying in the machines and going to the operators, outside of the small change the 'one-armed bandits' return to the players.

"But, under the terms of the law, with the machines limited to one for each 100 population, only 1,590 machines could legally be licensed in Hillsborough county. From 1,590 machines, at the minimum of $50 a week, the 'take' would be $79,500 a week or $4,154,000 a year. So, if all the licenses permitted under the law are issued and all the licensed machines operate and yield the minimum 'take' promised by the agents, more than $4,000,000 a year would be taken from the channels of business and trade in this county and poured into the profits of the 'bandits'.

"Granted that the yield would be only one-half or one-fourth that estimated by the machine manipulators themselves, there still would be from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 a year which Hillsborough county would 'invest' in an enterprise that does nothing whatever toward building a community or making it a better place to live—that tends to pauperize rather than prosper the public."

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mrs. W. S. Jennings of Jacksonville, president of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, was the guest speaker this week at the meetings of the Woman's Club of Sanford. She was the house guest of Mrs. Henry Wright. To celebrate the discovery of America in 1492 and pay tribute to the members of Christopher Columbus, the local branch of the Knights of Columbus entertained their ladies and friends on Tuesday evening at the Catholic parish house with a most delightfully informal affair. Theodore Schmal, master of ceremonies, introduced the speakers, the Rev. Father O'Riordan and Father Berry of DeLand. Refreshments were served by Mrs. LaVern Hurt, Mrs. W. H. Peters, Mrs. James Higgins, and Mrs. T. L. O'Connor.

Mrs. and Mrs. George Fox have returned home after a pleasant summer spent in Virginia and Washington, D. C. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woodruff and two sons have returned from South Carolina.

In honor of Mrs. W. S. Jennings, Mrs. Henry Wright entertained with a brilliant reception this morning to which the officers and various committee chairmen of the Woman's Club were invited. Assisting Mrs. Wright were the members of the City Beautiful committee, Mrs. E. A. Newman, Mrs. H. E. Tinscher, Mrs. S. P. S. Baker, Mrs. W. W. Anderson, Mrs. G. D. Baker, Bishop W. W. Anderson, and Mrs. C. H. Dineen.

All of the well known and popular brands will be represented, as well as many imported lines of Scotch, Irish and other whiskies from European countries. There will be cognac and champagne from France, rum from Cuba, vodka from Russia, brandy from Italy, mescal from Mexico, and rum from the West Indies, Scotch from Scotland, and whisky from Ireland. Also, a variety of other fine liquors from France, Spain and Italy.

THE COMPASS

GEORGIA — SUCCESSION TO LOUISIANA By Arthur Dana

LA GRANGE, Ga., Oct. 16.—Georgia is politically alive. One does not have to travel far in this state to realize that the 1936 campaign is already underway. It is a marked contrast to the placid atmosphere of Florida, where the admirers of the President are jubilant and his opponents resigned. The state bids fair to succeed Louisiana as a battleground in the South. Indeed it looks as though Governor Talmadge would out-Huey Huey. At least, the late Senator of Louisiana never attempted to perform without his legislature, and his radicalism was in the interest of the common people.

Boe Georgia's executive is radical in both Liberal and Conservative directions. He swings to the uttermost left in his plans for operating the state after Jan. 1. The legislature adjourned without appropriating money for this purpose. This omission can only be remedied by the calling of a special session which the Governor refuses to do. He assures the public that the state will be run from the Governor's office in 1936.

Some Georgia papers charge him with planning a military dictatorship after Jan. 1, imposing taxes himself and collecting them by use of the militia. Just how this can be done in liberty-loving Georgia without civil war is not clear.

Another leftish sign is his recent proposal to amend the Constitution so that the federal government cannot collect income taxes. Like the rest of his platform, this would be in the interest of the capitalistic class. But they have been spreading the idea that anyone advocating any change in that sacred document is to be classed as communist. In order to escape similar indictments, Talmadge very cleverly parried the implication by calling the President a Communist in the same speech in which he advocated changing the Constitution.

With the exception of these extreme leftward leanings, Governor Talmadge bends radically to the right. The country is taxed, he says, the solution for unemployment is not even the Old Guard formula of providing a dole. He would provide nothing "let them go to work," he told me last May which translated in plain English means, find a job or starve. Just where the unemployed would go for work and how they would get there is not mentioned in his bill of particulars. Certainly the jobless in cities cannot raise crops on sidewalks, nor can those in the country do so without farm land, tools or seed.

"The best government is the best government" is his Jeffersonian slogan. Government should not interfere with a man's liberty to run his farm or his business in any way he sees fit. He condemns killing pigs, plowing under crops, paying people not to plant, taxing crops raised in excess of AAA allotments, compensating idlers and loafers for being idlers, building ball parks, etc. The penalty for all this, he claims, is high taxes and high prices.

He opposes all government in business. Public utilities, banking, in fact all capitalistic elements as well as many taxpayers would be inclined to cheer if they did not fear his extremes might create a reaction of the populace against them.

His program is a triumph in negation. He is a superman in denunciation; a spotlight on the hole instead of the doughnut. I personally hold no brief for a policy of high prices and scarcity. They do not solve the problem of distribution of the abundance we can create. Also I consider the Georgia Governor has done a real service in leading responsibility to that part of the Constitution which provides for its own amendment.

If, for the sake of argument, we concede to be true everything he says, he still leaves with us our two great domestic problems—distribution of the surplus he would allow farmers and manufacturers to produce, and employment of the millions which labor-saving machinery displaces and of those 400,000 young people who leave school every spring demanding jobs.

It isn't critics we lack—we have them by the millions. We need the fellow with a remedy. The voters may be pardoned if they hesitate to employ one whose record for favor is negation and condemnation.

DELAND, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Trial of Elmer Jones, former county prosecutor, charged with manslaughter as result of the death of Mary Suzanne Butler, Crescent City child, in an automobile accident north of DeLand last spring, was delayed indefinitely by Circuit Judge Herbert B. Fredrick.

The Supreme Court last week granted an order to Jones' attorneys directing the circuit judge to show his authority to conduct the trial, which was set for yesterday.

TVA Is Wiping Out Tennessee Disgrace

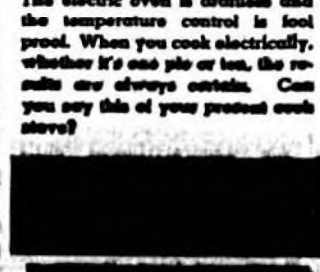

PAYETTEVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 16.—Predicting that the TVA will soon eradicate the "disgrace" of 50 out of every 100 farms in the Tennessee valley being without electricity, David E. Lilienthal, director of TVA, opened the farm lines in Lincoln county in a ceremony here today.

He told the Lincoln County Electric Membership Association that his organization would be successful because it operates on three sound business principles: 1. Low rates and plentiful use of power. 2. Town and country co-operation. 3. Keeping the profits at home.

Looking for features? Cooking features are not always the best of the ingredients you use. Clean, they are caused by the lack of control over oven temperature and moisture.

The electric oven is different and the temperature control is fast, good. When you cook electrically, whether it's one pie or ten, the results are always certain. Can you say this of your present oven stove?

with the consumers as partners in the solution. Declaring that 25 counties in west Tennessee will soon follow Lincoln's example, Lilienthal said: "And I don't hesitate to predict that the time is soon at hand when the disgrace, for it is nothing less than a disgrace, of having only two farms in the Tennessee valley out of a hundred electrified will be a thing of the past."

Supreme Court Holds New Law Does Not Apply

Hope Of Voiding Sale Of City Properties To Pay Judgment Is Blasted By Ruling

Ashton Judgment Is For $17,988

Sheriff Levied Upon Property One Week Before Law Passed

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 17. (AP)—The State Supreme Court late yesterday affirmed the Seminole County Court in dismissing the City of Sanford's motion to deny an injunction prohibiting the sale of Sanford city property on which Augustus T. Ashton of Philadelphia had obtained a levy and judgment.

In handing down the important ruling, the Supreme Court said that the 1935 legislative act prohibiting a levy for judgment against municipal property did not apply in this case because Ashton obtained vested right in the property before the act was passed.

When shown the above dispatch to The Herald, City Attorney Fred R. Wilson declined to make any comment, other than to say that he did not know if the City Commission would take any further action. The Commission is to meet in adjourned session Friday evening. The City attorney, did, however, recount the history of the case.

Ashton is the owner of City of Sanford bonds in the amount of $15,000, and on Apr. 18, 1932, obtained a judgment against the city in the sum of $17,988.25, principal and interest. Only July 15, 1935.

The Moultrie Observer said the negro killed in the rural section of this county was listed as "Bo" Brinson and that his family reported he was beaten severely by the enraged posse. Search for the negro, wanted in the slaying of a white man, Otis Gay, Tuesday night, continued.

Experts Studying Effect Of Canal On Water Supply

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—War department and geological survey officials said Wednesday they were co-operating to reach "the most scientific conclusion" on the probable effect of a Florida sea-level ship canal on the state's fresh water supply. W. C. Mendenhall, geological survey chief, and army engineers expressed surprise at a report that they were nearing an open battle in disagreement over the canal's geological aspects. Mendenhall termed the report "unfortunate."

The army engineers' forecasts have elicited findings of the President's canal board of review that effect on the underground streams by ocean pollution would be slight. On the other hand geological survey reported the pollution and diversion of the fresh streams might be severe.

Gen. Hugh Johnson To Speak In Orlando Next Armistice Day

Announcement was made today that Gen. Hugh Johnson, former New Deal NRA chieftan, has accepted an invitation to deliver an address in Orlando on Armistice Day, Nov. 11. The invitation was extended by Memorial Post of the American Legion in the Orange county central. Former President Herbert Hoover was also invited but an acceptance of that invitation has not as yet been received. Commander William T. Cooper, Jr., of the Orlando Post of the Legion, believes that the appearance of Gen. Johnson, first speaker for the New Deal, will mean that there will be a record-breaking crowd in the town on the holiday.

Churchill's Son For British Debt Payment

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The issue of Great Britain's unpaid war debts in the United States, usually a subject taboo for discussion in England, has been mentioned in passing by Randolph Churchill, son of Winston Churchill. In a speech on Anglo-American friendship, the son of the writer suggested that to obtain the cooperation of the United States with the British "the American debt should be settled at once."

Fire Chief Asks Children In Schools To Help Their Parents Prevent Fire

School children can do a great deal in preventing fire, Fire Chief Mac Cleveland told more than 400 boys and girls attending Seminole High School following a fire drill this morning. They cannot only help prevent fire at the school, the chief said, but they can be of great assistance in their homes by keeping their eyes open for possible fire hazards, such as waste paper in and about their homes, old rags and other waste, defective wiring, and loose gas connections. He asked them to be particularly watchful of electric lights and gas flames, and told his youthful listeners that they have a duty to perform in preventing fire. While possibly their job is not as great, Chief Cleveland told the high school boys and girls that they should consider their responsibility in preventing fire.

Seminole Bank Pays Dividend Of 1.8 Percent

Creditors Will Share In Distribution Of $21,926 Next Week, Liquidator States

Nearly $22,000 will be distributed next Tuesday to creditors of the Seminole County Bank, which closed its doors about eight years ago and which has since been in the process of liquidation. A dividend of 1.8 percent will be paid. This is in the aggregate sum of $21,926.10.

The dividend payments to creditors of the defunct bank will be made at the Sanford Atlantic National Bank in this city, between the hours of 9.30 A. M. and 2 P. M. but particular attention is called to the fact that all creditors must present their liquidation or proof of ownership after when applying for their prorata share of the dividends. Notice of the forthcoming payment to creditors is sent out by J. V. Chapman, as liquidating agent, the announcement of the distribution of funds being made by J. M. Lee, comptroller, and M. A. Smith, general liquidator. This will be the second dividend to be received by creditors of the old Seminole County Bank since it failed. E. H. Ashcraft was the first receiver and then W. H. Tunnicliffe took over the receivership for a short time and during his term a dividend of one percent was paid. That was about three years ago and it is said to have amounted to between $15,000 and $14,000 at that time.

Full School Term Is Prediction Gov. Sholtz Today

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 17. (AP)—Governor Sholtz today said he was "confident" the state fund for public school operations would total "apparently nine million dollars" this year regardless of the Supreme Court's decision on the chain store tax. Prospective increases in allocations of the state's general revenue fund, the Governor said, will make possible a payment of about three and a half million from that source in addition to five and one-half million expected from automobile licenses, the one-half property tax and interest on installment school funds. "I am confident the public schools will operate for a full term," the Governor said.

South's Growers And Truckers Invited To Use Facilities

Ten thousand notices have been mailed by County Farm agent C. R. Dawson to growers and shippers in Southern states, advising them of the opening on Monday, Nov. 4, of the State Farmers Wholesale Market in Sanford. Requests for information from points in the North have also been received, and these have been answered, an official here said. Whole-hearted co-operation by farm agents in other counties in Florida, and nearby states, was given Mr. Dawson all of them replying to his request for the names and addresses of shippers in their localities. He obtained an exceedingly long list of names by getting a copy of the report of all trucks stopped at the state boundary last season.

The information being sent to growers and shippers gives them a good picture of the market establishment in Sanford and the facilities it offers to both buyers and sellers of farm products. It explained that buyers can enter all fees are charged, and for platform space, stalls being rented by the day, week or month. It stated that the market is located by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The location in Sanford of the State Farmers Wholesale Market was brought about largely through the untiring efforts of the Seminole County Agricultural Club which worked successfully in its behalf. The market was erected and is operated under the supervision of the Florida State Agricultural Marketing Board composed of Governor Sholtz, Commissioner of Agriculture, Mayor and Market Commissioner Rhodes. It covers an area of 20 acres, donated by the city of Sanford. The main building is 50 feet long and 618 feet wide and, with improvements, cost approximately $100,000.

Florida Senator Hits Back At Critics Of New Deal Spending; Bank Credits Rise

Fletcher, Democrat, Florida, of the Senate banking committee, said today that "government activities and expenditures have restored about 10 billion of bank credit lost in the $1 billion dollar deflation of 1929-1932."

"Business is going to get the benefit of that," Fletcher said in an interview. "The money the government is putting out is getting into the banks. It is increasing purchasing power and likewise expanding the credit facilities of the bank."

The legislator expressed the belief that business was "reviving" and predicted many work projects would be of lasting value, particularly the ship canal now being constructed across north Florida.

France Won't Promise To Aid England Should Italians Attack Fleet

Unconfirmed Report Received Today Of Firing On British Corps By Italians

ZELAN, British Somaliland, Oct. 17. (AP)—Disturbances reported today to the district commissioner here that the Seventeenth British Camel Corps, guarding the Somaliland frontier, suffered casualties during the Italian advance in Ogaden desert.

At London, the British colonial office stated it was unable to confirm or deny the report, but officials said they did not believe it was true. Italian officials at Rome denied the report. Details of the alleged incident were lacking here.

The Desert of Ogaden runs along the border of British Somaliland close to the point where Italian Somaliland joins with British territories. Italian forces have been reported penetrating northward, close to the British Somaliland border, in a drive directed at Addis Ababa Djibouti harbor.

Pope Proclaims October 20 As Mission Sunday

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Pope Pius XI has proclaimed Oct. 20 as "Mission Sunday," at which time Catholics of every nation will be asked to pray for and contribute to the support of both the foreign and home missions of the church in the United States. The day will be observed by 21,000,000 Catholics in 15,000 parishes.

Plans for the observance of the event in this country have been formulated by the Pontifical Society for the Propagation of the Faith, under the supervision of the Right Rev. Monsignor William Quinn, director of the organization. The society's national headquarters is in New York.

In anticipation of "Mission Sunday," Monsignor Quinn is speaking each Sunday night in October on the Catholic hour (6 P. M.) over WEAF. The subject of his address is "What Civilization Does to Catholic Mission."

It is also appointed for the annual collection in all the churches of the diocese of the present offering of Peter's Pence. Cardinal Hayes has addressed a pastoral letter to all the priests in the diocese urging a "special response" to the appeal.

In view of the pre-eminence of the Holy Father, the link in the chain, the Cardinal wrote, "and the eminent honor conferred by His Holiness on your archbishop as his legate, I am going to be held enough to ask a special response to this appeal for Peter's Pence. I should like to make it a Eucharistic Congress offering to enable the Vicar of Christ to answer some of the overwhelming appeals to his paternal charity from every quarter of the globe."

In this unprecedented era of crushing taxation by government for maintenance, the church preaches no budget and imposes no burden on her people. As a mother she appeals to her devoted children to provide for the temple of God, the sanctuary of the soul, the school of Christ, and the center of christianity. All that is asked for is intended for the spiritual blessing of the giver."

Italian General In Ethiopia Said To Have Resigned

Opinions Of Il Duce And Those Of Bono Reported To Differ

ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The Ethiopian government issued an official communique today stating it was informed there were "grave differences of opinion" between Premier Mussolini and General Emilio De Bono, his commander in Ethiopia, leading the latter to offer his resignation. The official communique was issued shortly after Emperor Haile Selassie informed the Associated Press "I will not discuss peace while a single Italian soldier remains on my soil." This statement was given as a firm answer to reports of possible peace overtures.

Liquor Consumption Reported Decreasing

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17.—Less liquor is being drunk today than before or during prohibition, according to a survey made at the University of Pittsburgh. Data also revealed that rye is the East's favorite drink. Bourbon the West's, while gin is universally popular.

These facts were set forth by Morris V. Rosenbloom, student, in a term thesis. He became so interested in the survey that he broadened its scope and later had his findings published in a book entitled "The Liquor Industry."

During the period between 1915 and 1914 the public consumed an average of 1.46 gallons of liquor a year. Rosenbloom's survey revealed, and during prohibition consumption reached 1.53 gallons per person.

With the advent of repeal Rosenbloom said legal spirits consumption during the first year was only about 50,000,000 gallons—less than a half gallon per capita. But much illegal liquor is being consumed, he also found.

Despite the government's great expectations as to revenue to be derived from liquor taxes only $170,000,000 was collected the first year of repeal. As much as $600,000,000 had been predicted, Rosenbloom said.

Quoting figures compiled by Professor Paul Studenski, of New York University, Rosenbloom stated that a case of whiskey which cost $12.00 before prohibition now costs $33.00. He explained that the increased cost was due to higher taxes, higher production costs and other factors. He estimated a cost of $7.50 to make, barrel, store and bottle a case of bonded whiskey. The government collects $6, boosting the manufacturer's cost to $13.50. Rosenbloom said the price may be accounted profit taken by the various distributors.

French-British Pact Seems Endangered; Crisis Approaches

Definite Showdown

Britain Demands Promise Of Help

Laval Declines Aid Unless A Blockade Is League's Order

By The Associated Press Estranged relationship between Great Britain and France, due to the attitude of France toward punishment of Italy by the League of Nations for the invasion of Ethiopia, was rapidly approaching a definite showdown today.

It was authoritatively stated in London that the British had demanded of the French government its unqualified promise of French naval support in the Mediterranean in the event of an emergency arising from the imposition of blockades such as an Italian attack on the British fleet if a blockade should be instituted.

In Paris it was said that Premier Laval—who has been seeking fruitfully to effect a conciliation of the East African war had refused to promise French aid to the British fleet if the fleet should be attacked by Italy before the League of Nations orders naval enforcement of sanctions against Italy.

ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 17.—Emperor Haile Selassie last night ordered his cabinet members to prepare to join him in the field indicating his belief that the time to strike against the invading Italians is near.

Every one of the ministers—even the disgraced Foreign Minister Hailu Ghela Hermy and Minister of Justice Afework Atnafre—is a warrior in his own right with a feudal entourage pledged to follow him into battle and defend him to death.

The Emperor himself will command the sturdy, uniformed imperial guard of 3000 European-trained troops, Swedish, Turkish and Belgian instructors of the Ethiopian "West Point" have shaped these warriors into capable, disciplined regiments capable of utilizing modern weapons combined with traditional native guerrilla fighting.

The Emperor indicated he would lead the imperial guard to a field headquarters strategically located in relation to the main Ethiopian push.

When the Ethiopian high command will take the field is a secret known only in the circle of the Emperor and his closest advisers. The next attack is expected soon. Military encampments around the city are scenes of intense activity. Park roads are being gathered in huge herds and a half dozen American trucks which will carry the King of Kings and his entourage as far as the bumpy trail goes are being tuned and repaired.

Chiefs are having difficulty restraining thousands of wild tribesmen from the south earned outside the city. Anxious to be off to "drive the Italians into the sea," they find diversion in fighting with each other. Fifty were wounded in duels with knives, spears and staves.

Word was passed from the palace to each cabinet member to prepare. (Continued on Page Two)
