The fisherman with the largest snook, largest fish and largest total catch each will receive trophies, said event assistant Al Gittin. Fifteen local boaters will serve as captains and about 20 Lions members will be on hand to help, Gittin said.

This is one of the few times we actually come face to face with the people we support," Gittin said. "It's really heartwarming."

'House that Children Built' focus of area clean-up

By VICKI DeSORMIER
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — Don Nolt, who is with Habitat for Humanity in Seminole County, thinks the children of Seminole County really care for people in need.

He wants to translate that caring for others into adequate living accommodations for those in the county who are living in sub-standard conditions.

Nolt and his companions at Habitat for Humanity have begun to lay the groundwork for a program called the Houses That The Children

Build. Children will be organized into sponsored neighborhood work parties to clean up parks or streets.

"They'll get businesses or individuals to sponsor their work for a dollar an hour or whatever the sponsors find appropriate and that money would be used to build houses in the area for those who cannot afford to live in more acceptable housing," he said.

The idea began when the organizers were trying to devise a positive activity for children to take their minds off the Gulf War.

"There was an imbalance of war in their lives," Nolt said. "Of course that's history now, but we still feel the youngsters need something positive to focus on."

Job service busy from hard times

By LAURA L. SULLIVAN
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — Hard economic times have stepped up traffic at the local Job Services of Florida office this year at a rate that may reach 75 percent by July, according to Seminole County Job Service manager Cheryl Maughan.

In just over eight months, nearly 24,000 people have applied for employment through the Job Services offices in Sanford and Casselberry, Maughan said. If traffic continues at that rate, she said, those offices will have seen a 75 percent increase in applicants by the end of the fiscal year June 30.

Last year 19,000 people applied for work through the service, she said.

During the same period, Maughan said, job openings have decreased. At this rate, she said, the county will have seen a 19 percent decrease in openings at the fiscal year end.

"We have a lot of skilled trades professionals who are not being used to their full potential and we didn't use to have jobs," said Maughan. "Carpenters, construction workers and other highly skilled workers are seeking jobs in large numbers," she said.

"We also have many professional, white collar types who didn't have before," she said.

And prospects for the near future don't offer much relief, Maughan said. Her office is bracing for streamlining of state and local government.

Job Service in Seminole County placed eight percent more workers this year than last, but the office is now working with more applicants and fewer job openings, Maughan said.

Although Job Service offices are serving more people, Maughan said, a move toward automation has helped make serving large numbers easier and more efficient.

Job Service of Florida, located at 2400 Park Ave. in Sanford, offers job placement services at no fee. The state agency is funded by the Federal Unemployment Tax Act.

SANFORD — Sometimes career day at school can be pretty dull when you're in middle school. But not when Carol DeNicole comes to talk as students at Lakeview Middle School, 21 Lakeview Dr. in Sanford, discovered on Thursday.

DeNicole, a math teacher at Fruity Preparatory School, is also involved in educational programs at the Kennedy Space Center.

"She's very involved with the Teacher in Space program and was a candidate to be one of the teachers who would have been on the space shuttle," said Gloria Padawer, a guidance counselor at the school and a friend of DeNicole's.

Students who expected to hear the same old presentation about how the space shuttle works and how Lang was developed for the space program were surprised by DeNicole's presentation.

She told them about the difficulties of going to the bathroom in CAPE CANAVERAL — A tiny split on a replacement for Discovery's cracked door hinge isn't serious enough to keep the space shuttle grounded, a NASA official said.

"It's not a big deal. It's certainly safe. It's a little bit of crack," William Lenoir, head of NASA's space flight program, said Thursday.

"Little starter cracks don't affect the operation, the structural integrity or anything. They make you scratch your a gravity-free environment and about the magnetizing food that astronauts have to contend with.

It's not the kind of thing you'd hear on a NASA film," Padawer conceded.

DeNicole told the students that her first love is teaching. Though she is involved in the space program, it is as a teacher and not primarily as an astronaut.

Padawer said DeNicole travels extensively throughout the country speaking about the space program to groups of students, teachers and scientists.

"She's a dynamic teacher," Padawer said. "She could teach anyone anything."

The students at the Lakeview career day were enthusiastic in their response to DeNicole's presentation.

She involves the students in every aspect of what she talks about," said Padawer who said that middle school students respond most favorably to hands-on presentations like DeNicole's.

"They can't help but learn from her," she said.

Festival in DeBary expected to jam U.S. 17-92 Saturday

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald Staff Writer

DEBARY — The fun, food and facts of old Florida is the theme of the 11th Annual DeBary Spring Festival Saturday at Lake Monroe Park.

Due to traffic congestion in the stretch of U.S. Highway 17-92 north of the St. Johns River into Orange County, motorists traveling north from Sanford should take Interstate 4 to DeLand and planes beyond. Two other festivals are scheduled in the DeBary-Orange City area Saturday that will make U.S. 17-92 a stop-go proposition for any motorist venturing through the area.

Deputies from Volusia and Seminole County will be on hand to make the best of the traffic situation.

Formed in 1978 as a celebration of old Florida, the theme of the festival this year, which honors the town's namesake, Frederick DeBary, who built DeBary Hall in 1931. DeBary served host of the transition to the wealthy friends, including the Agnes, the Gables and the Vanderbilts.

A Stephen Sondheim concert presented by the Sanford Symphony Orchestra will begin at 10 a.m. with the Sanford Symphony. The DeBary Beach Band will play old-time music throughout the park. A Dixieland band will play old-time music throughout the park. See Festival, Page 5A

Surgeon General invited to Daytona's Spring Break

Associated Press

DAYTONA BEACH — Statements made by U.S. Surgeon General Antonio Novello have prompted local officials to issue an invitation to visit the East Coast's spring break capital to see that it's not a drunken party. County Commission Chairman Big John wrote to Dr. Novello saying her statements about the use of alcohol by spring breakers caused distortions in the national press and broadcast media about the true nature of the event.

"Spring Break has become synonymous with excessive and binge drinking by our young people," the surgeon general said in a March 5 press conference. "Today's average college student spends more money on booze than on books."

She asked the alcoholic beverage industry to quit promoting its products in a way which appeals to young people.

John, also a member of the chamber's Spring Break Festival Task Force, sent the surgeon general a letter Tuesday asking her to come and get a firsthand view of how Spring Break is managed.

"We have learned to appreciate our spring breakers and to understand them," John said. "We will play host this year to more than 400,000 spring breakers. These are the future leaders of our country."

Attorney missing seven years reported alive and doing well

Associated Press

DAYTONA BEACH — A Wisconsin attorney who vanished seven years ago is alive and living under an assumed name, but no details have been released on where he went or why he disappeared, officials said.

Eugene Messina, now 46, vanished on March 1, 1984, after awakening his wife and telling her that he was going swimming. They were vacationing at a Desert Inn here at the time.

Messina apparently wrote a letter to his mother in Miami. Daytona Beach Police Sgt. Larry Lewis confirmed Wednesday. Messina's attorney, David Lasker, of Madison, Wis., told Lewis that Messina is alive and is living under an assumed name, but he refused to provide further details, citing client-attorney privilege.

Investigators learned Messina apparently had $6,000 with him when he left his motel room.

His family and friends haven't heard from him since, according to Lewis, who was involved in the original investigation and has kept in touch with the legal representatives for Messina and his wife.

Jail trusty charged with possession

Sheriff's department buckles down on policy

By VICKI BOBROWER

SANFORD — Timothy Delnor Neighbor was found unconscious in his cell at the John E. Polk Correctional Facility on Feb. 10.

A syringe and a bottle containing an unidentified brown liquid was found on his person, authorities say. He was transported to Central Florida Regional Hospital where he spent a day under surveillance before being sent back to jail.

He was charged on Thursday with introducing a contraband substance into his system and with possession of a contraband substance after a criminal investigation into the incident was completed.

Neighbor, 27, who was sentenced to a year in jail on charges of grand theft, was working as a trusty at the Seminole County Animal Control department at the time the overdose occurred.

The investigation revealed that Neighbor had injected himself with Pentobarbital, a drug used in the euthanization of animals.

He had gained access to the substance at the Animal Control department when he was cleaning the cages and water bowls of animals housed at the shelter.

The investigation into the incident by the Seminole County Sheriff's Office revealed that during the two months he had been assigned to the job at the animal shelter, Neighbor had access to the drug and used it on a regular basis.

The investigation revealed that Neighbor had been told by Animal Control employees that the drug was very potent and that introducing even a small amount of it into his system could be fatal.

The drugs were allegedly kept under lock with only Animal Control managers having access to the key. It is still unclear how Neighbor was able to gain access to the locked container.

Frank Kirk, acting director of the Animal Control department, said that Neighbor had free access to the room in which the drugs were kept, but did not have access to the drugs.

'Double life' for child's death

By NICK PFEIFAU
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — Carl Robert Alvarez, 26 of Casselberry is today being held at the Central Florida Reception Center in Orange County, awaiting transfer to federal prison following his sentencing Thursday to two terms of life imprisonment.

He had been charged in the child abuse and death of his step-son, 7-year-old Joshua Boynton in December 1989. Alvarez was sentenced to two consecutive terms of life imprisonment, each with a minimum of 25 years before parole could be considered, which prevents him from requesting parole for the next 50 years.

The sentences for the two guilty verdicts involving first degree murder, and aggravated child abuse and sexual battery of the young boy who died on December 7, 1989 were handed out yesterday by Circuit Judge Seymour Benson, at the conclusion of the trial held at the Seminole County Courthouse.

The trial was the second held for Alvarez. The first one, which began in late January of this year, ended on February 5, with the jury voting 8 to 4 in favor of the death penalty. Assistant Public Defender Arthur Haft, who was handling Alvarez's defense, requested a motion for a new trial, claiming the verdict was based on circumstantial evidence, plus several other objections including comments made during the case to members of the jury. The motion for a re-hearing was approved.

The second trial began the afternoon of March 5. During the trial's progress, a number of persons called to testify, spoke in favor of Alvarez. Even letters commending Alvarez on such matters as his good character at his place of work were entered into evidence for the defense.

Members of Alvarez's family were adamant in their belief that he could not have been responsible for either of the two charges against him. They vowed to make an attempt to have the investigation continue and hoped for another trial.

Alzheimer drug's fate weighed

By PAUL REGER
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON — The Food and Drug Administration is considering approving the first drug proposed for the treatment of Alzheimer's disease, even though the agency questioned research on the drug last January.

The drug, called tacrine or THA, has left a trail of controversy through more than five years of research and an FDA hearing was scheduled today to evaluate the results of new studies at 16 different university hospitals.

Sources familiar with the studies say THA has shown it can improve the thinking processes in some Alzheimer's patients, but, at the same time, the drug can pose a serious risk of liver damage if misused.

"It's going to be a close call," said a researcher who spoke on condition of anonymity. "It's really a question of tradeoffs."

Although THA may help the thinking processes of Alzheimer's patients, the researcher said, there is no evidence that it stops the disease process itself. In effect, he said, the drug treats only the symptoms of memory loss typical of the brain disease.

"It's going to be a close call. It's really a question of tradeoffs."

-Drug researcher

A study published by Dr. William K. Summers of Arcadia, Calif., in the New England Journal of Medicine in 1986 said THA was found to ease the Alzheimer's symptoms in 17 patients.

The report set off a demand for the drug, which is available overseas, and the government later banned its importation while clinical trials in this country were under way.

In January, the FDA published a sharply worded criticism of Summers' study, saying it "led many to believe that a major breakthrough had been made in the treatment of Alzheimer's."

The agency said an investigation "has revealed deficiencies of sufficient importance to raise major questions" about Summers' conclusions.

Furthermore, the FDA questioned whether THA actually relieved Alzheimer's symptoms and said any possible benefit from THA could be offset by the drug's tendency to cause liver damage.

Alzheimer's disease is the fourth leading cause of death among American adults, killing more than 100,000 annually. About 4 million the U.S. are thought to be afflicted.

The disease causes a slow deterioration of mental function, such as memory. Eventually patients lose control of body functions, become unable to care for themselves and then die. The disease process may take 20 years, causing an immense financial and emotional burden on families.

Researchers and pharmaceutical firms have been scrambling for years to find a drug to treat Alzheimer's, and THA is the first proposed for FDA approval for that specific use.

Warner-Lambert Co., parent firm of Parke-Davis, is seeking approval to market THA under the brand name Cognex.

Clinical trials have been under way at 16 university hospitals under the sponsorship of Warner-Lambert. At one point, the studies were halted when liver damage was detected in a number of patients. The trials resumed, however, when dosages were reduced.

School superintendent: I'm under house arrest

By JOE BIGHAM
Associated Press Writer

DELANO, Calif. — Seven months ago, Fred Mendoza was an eager new school superintendent. Today, he feels like he's under house arrest.

Delano High School trustees have had trouble getting along with their superintendents for at least a decade. But Mendoza is the first superintendent relieved of his duties and ordered to stay home from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on school days in case a school official needs him.

"I've never heard of a superintendent being told to stay home by the phone and told the hours he has to stay there," said Kelly Blanton, superintendent of schools in Kern County, said Thursday. "It's bizarre."

Kern County includes Delano: Its superintendent's office provides services and advice to local school districts within the county.

Mendoza's critics on the board and in the school administration think the assignment is reasonable.

"He's not under house arrest; that's illegal," said A. Herbert Murray, an assistant superintendent. He wore a "Support the Board" lapel sticker at Tuesday's meeting when trustees relieved Mendoza of his duties.

"He was just reassigned, that's all," Murray said. "The board told him to go home and be available for the board and staff. The district is still paying his salary."

The trustees also ordered Mendoza not to speak publicly about the matter. That worked, for the most part. In a 10-minute telephone interview from his home, Mendoza was reticent on the subject, though he did say he feels like he's under "house arrest."

Mendoza, who will be paid until his contract expires in June, said he's consulting a lawyer to find out if his reassignment and gag order are legal.

He also pointed out the school has had about nine superintendents in 10 years. Blanton confirmed this, noting some appointments were temporary replacements.

Trustee Manuel Ochoa said the 3-2 board majority "lost confidence and trust" in the 51-year-old Mendoza over budget problems in the 3,000-student district. Blanton said the county administration warned the Delano High district might have a $1 million deficit this school year, which ends June 30.

"We've tried to build a team. He (Mendoza) tried to undermine that," Ochoa said.

Trustee J.R. Teasley, who opposed Mendoza's removal, blamed the school's problems in part on Delano's ethnic and racial variety.

"It's a turmoil, no doubt about that, when there is so much change in the administration," Teasley said. "I suppose it is related to the change in the structure of the community."

A sign at the edge of this farming town 125 miles north of Los Angeles declares Delano "The International Community."

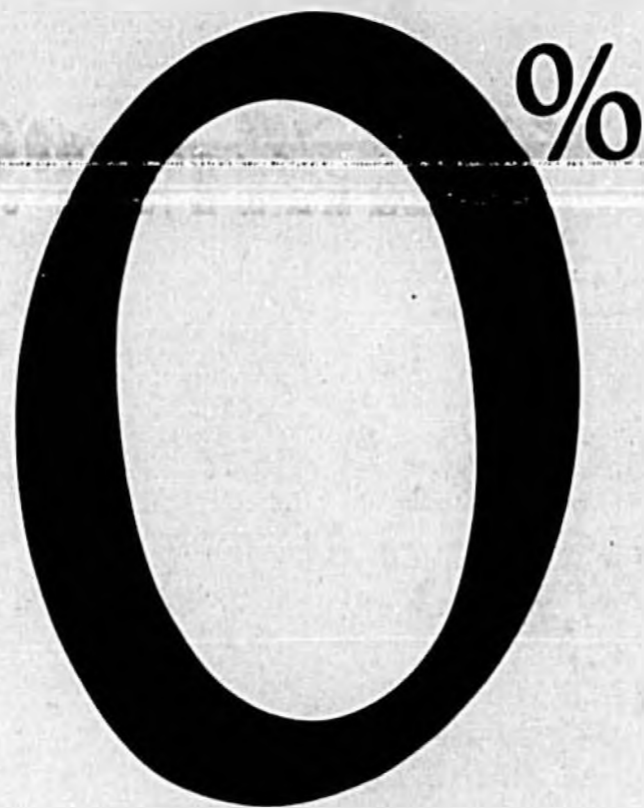

Its 22,000 residents are a mix of Filipinos, Hispanics, blacks and whites, including descendants of European immigrants who generations ago planted the area's famous table grapes.

Flower shop owner Dorothy Kasiner believes the school board never will be able to satisfy everyone.

The amount of personal loan interest that's tax deductible in 1991.

The amount of closing costs you pay on our home equity loan.

Two Reasons For Getting A Barnett Home Equity Loan That Have Nothing In Common.

As many of you probably already know, the tax laws have changed. And as of January 1991, the interest on most personal loans is no longer deductible.

Just about the only personal interest that is deductible is that which you pay on your home.*

That's where a Barnett Home Equity Loan comes in. Not only do you get a loan with tax deductibility, you also get one that's very flexible. You can use it to pay for a car, a boat, a vacation or tuition.

You can even use the funds to make certain investments or consolidate other loans into just one payment.

That's not all.

Now through May 15, Barnett will pay the closing costs associated with the loan.** That can save you hundreds of dollars right from the start.

To make things even easier, you can have your loan payment automatically deducted from your checking or savings account. And if you have recurring borrowing needs, ask about Barnett's Home Equity CreditLine.

So come in to your local Barnett office and find out how a couple of things that have nothing in common can actually save you money.

*Subject to certain important qualifications, generally, interest paid on home secured loans is tax deductible. Please consult with your individual tax adviser for the tax consequences of any financial transaction.

Dog sled race rushes toward finish

By JULIA RUBIN
Associated Press Writer

NOME, Alaska — While other mushers turned back in a blizzard, Rick Swenson plowed ahead through thigh-high snowdrifts and headed for a record fifth win today in the Iditarod Trail Sled Dog Race.

Swenson, of Two Rivers, started the 22-mile run to the finish line in Nome with a big lead over defending champion and fellow four-time winner Susan Butcher, who lost the lead Thursday when she reversed course during the blizzard.

Swenson left the final checkpoint at Safety at 9:55 p.m. Thursday.

He had gambled that his team could find its way through the Arctic storm and overcome the one-hour lead Butcher had held.

Butcher, 1989 winner Joe Runyan and Tim Osmar lost the trail and returned to the White Mountain checkpoint, 77 miles from the finish line. They headed out again just before 9 p.m. Thursday.

Swenson said he took shelter from a whiteout in an abandoned cabin along the trail. But he trusted his dogs to find their way.

"They have confidence in themselves, and I had confidence in them and the fact they were here before," Swenson said. "They never laid down on me and said, 'No, we're not going any farther.' I think they trust me."

"I knew there were an awful lot of people pulling for me and I wasn't going to let them down and turn around," he said.

Swenson won the race four times between 1977 and 1982. He has run 15 Iditarods — more consecutive races than any other musher — and placed in the top five all but once.

Swenson was second to Butcher in 1987 and 1988.

Wind in the White Mountain area Thursday gusted from 46 to 57 mph and the temperature was about 20 degrees below zero, officials said.

The 1,163-mile Anchorage-to-Nome race recreates a historic 1925 relay by dog sled carrying lifesaving serum during a diphtheria epidemic. It is named for an old mining town along the route.

The race usually lasts 11 to 14 days. It started March 2 with a record 75 mushers and more than 1,400 dogs.

The winner gets $50,000.

Rebel: Iraqi troops hit civilians; U.S. troops reported redeployed

By JOHN RICE
Associated Press Writer

NICOSIA, Cyprus — Kurdish rebels said today that Saddam Hussein's loyalists used warplanes and helicopter gunships to attack civilians in an effort to crush a spreading rebellion.

President Bush warned Saddam that using the combat helicopters could delay a formal cease-fire in the Persian Gulf War. A U.S. newspaper reported that American troops were re-taking positions they abandoned deep within Iraq, seeking to pressure Saddam.

Shite Muslim leaders accused the Iraqi president's elite Republican Guard of damaging some of Islam's holiest shrines during clashes in southern Iraq on Thursday.

Since the allied offensive two weeks ago that crushed Saddam's army in Kuwait and seized a large portion of southern Iraq, Baghdad has been struggling to maintain control over numerous insurgencies.

Jalal Talabani, head of the Patriotic Union of Kurdistan, said Iraqi troops rounded up residents from government-held parts of Kirkuk and then strafed them with helicopters. He claimed hundreds of people were killed or wounded.

The rebels claims have been impossible to confirm, because no Western reporters have been able to reach the fighting in recent days.

Talabani, who spoke in Damascus, Syria, also claimed the government used warplanes to attack protesters in other parts of Kurdistan. He said Iraqi forces set four oil wells ablaze before being forced out of eastern Kirkuk, a major oil center.

He said Dohuk province bordering Turkey "has been liberated" by the rebel forces fighting for autonomy from the central government.

On Thursday, Bush said U.S.-led allied troops, who control 20 percent of Iraq's territory following the Persian Gulf War, "are not going to be—all of them—out of there until there's a cease-fire, a formalized cease-fire."

Elements of the 101st Airborne and the 1st Cavalry Army divisions were reoccupying their most advanced positions in the Euphrates River valley, the Los Angeles Times reported today.

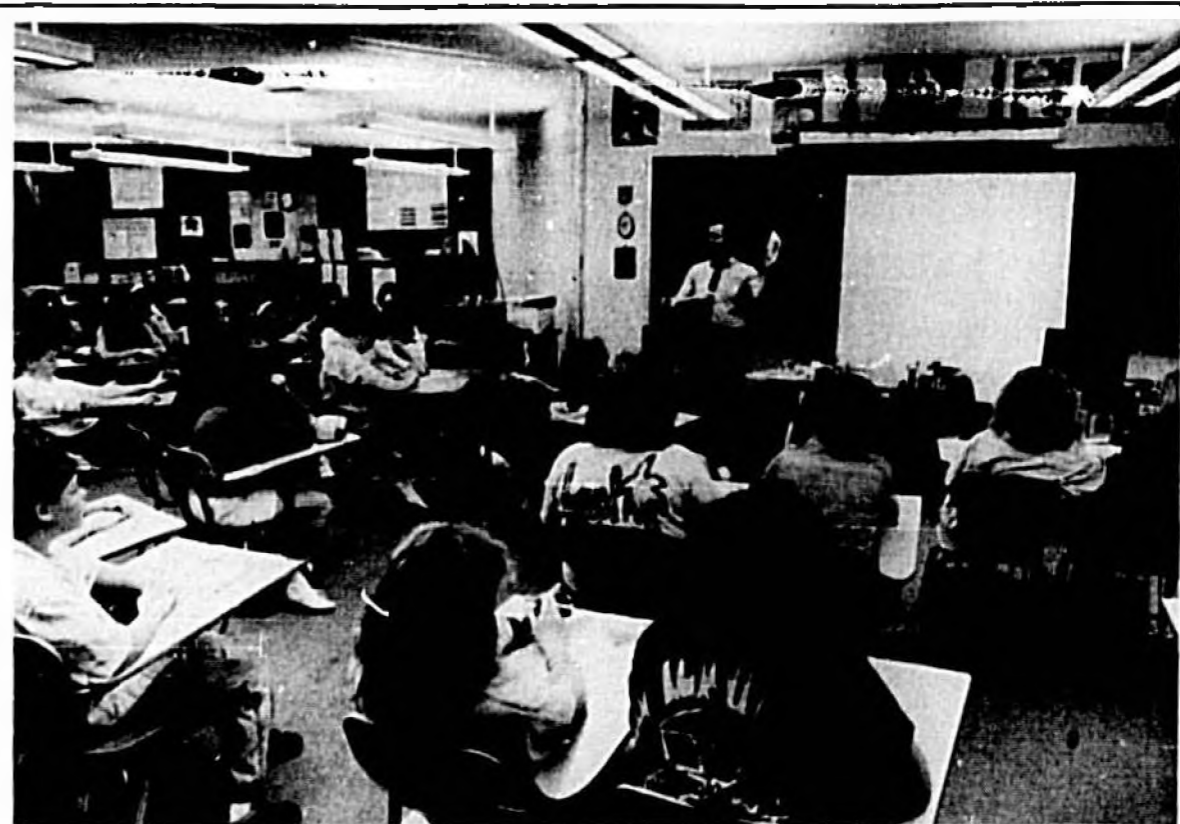

The dispatch from the Saudi capital of Riyadh quoted Marine Brig. Gen. Richard Neal, deputy director of operations for the U.S. Central Command.

"The purpose is to maintain a presence until the cease-fire is agreed to," Neal was quoted as saying in an interview with the newspaper.

Troops are pushing as much as 30 miles northward from the southern Iraqi region seized during the four-day ground war that drove Iraq from Kuwait, the newspaper reported.

Although fighting has stopped, Iraq has yet to meet all the United Nations requirements under which a permanent cease-fire would take effect.

In other developments, the Red Cross handed over 499 prisoners of war to Iraqi officials today after a four-day delay because of the chaos in Iraq. Twelve Red Cross-chartered buses drove into Iraq after the prisoners were handed over near the Saudi desert town of Arar.

Talks stall on implementing cuts in the European forces

By BARRY SCHWEID
AP Diplomatic Writer

MOSCOW — U.S. and Soviet negotiators are finding "common ground" on the Middle East but report little progress on implementing an already signed treaty to reduce tanks and other non-nuclear weapons in Europe.

Secretary of State James A. Baker III and Soviet Foreign Minister Alexander Bessmertnykh held a second session of wide-ranging talks today after telling aides Thursday to work out differences on implementing the Conventional Forces in Europe, or CFE, agreement and report back today.

The wrangling is delaying action on another treaty to curb long-range nuclear missiles and could impact on setting a date for the next superpower summit between President Bush and Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev.

"I don't think there was very much progress..." Baker told reporters this morning while posing for pictures with the Soviet foreign ministers. "We've got to thrash through that and straighten it out."

He said negotiators will continue working on resolving the disputes through his three-day stay here.

Bessmertnykh said that during talks Thursday night, the two sides found "a lot of common ground" on the post-war Middle East. He said both sides were eager for a settlement and had similar approaches to the problem while also having "differences, which is natural."

"We talked for two hours, devoting practically 90 percent of the time to discussing Middle Eastern issues and the gulf situation," Bessmertnykh said.

Baker gave Bessmertnykh a report on his five-nation trip to the Middle East. The Bush administration is determined to have the Soviets play a role in efforts to reconcile Israel and the Arabs.

On that front, Baker's visit already is productive. He was scheduled to meet later today with Gorbachev after the morning session with Bessmertnykh, their second since Baker's arrival Thursday from Syria.

The United States, which long sought to keep the Soviet Union out of Middle East diplomacy, has promised the Kremlin a postwar role in the Middle East peace process, but has not defined what it wants that role to be.

Some Soviet military officers have voiced concern about the potential growth of American influence in the region following

Women sweep doubledip to extend streak

By PHIL SMITH, Herald Correspondent... SANFORD - Seminole Community College extended its winning streak to eight games with a sweep of a doubleheader with the Santa Fe Community College Saints, 7-6 and 4-1, Thursday afternoon in North-Central Conference women's softball action.

The Raiders overcame a shaky start when they committed four errors in the first two innings that staked the Saints to a 5-1 lead. SCC then settled down and busted out for five runs in the third inning.

Julie Barton, Gerry McCroy and Denise Howell each singled to load the bases in the third inning before Jennifer Colbert singled in Barton and Ginger York singled to score McCroy.

By BILL KERNS, Herald Correspondent

SANFORD - After spotting Lake Highland Prep a 5-0 lead in the top of the first inning, Seminole came back to pull out a 15-6 victory in a high school girls' softball game played Thursday afternoon at Fort Mellon Park.

It was the third win in four games for Seminole, 3-4, after opening the season with three consecutive losses.

Lake Highland jumped on top with five runs in the first inning. Christine Parrish, Ceall Quinn, and Kelly Ashton singled for Lake Highland while Seminole committed four errors.

The Tribe then settled down

Florida Manor beats Town and Country R.V. to claim title

From staff reports

SANFORD - When play began in the final evening of the regular season of the Sanford Recreation Thursday Polar Bear Softball League at Chase Park last night, there was a chance that the league could end in a three-way tie.

That possibility lasted all of an hour. Florida Manor, which began the night with a one-game lead over Grace Apostolic and First Baptist, took care of business in the first game and clinched the league title outright with a 12-2 win over winless Town and Country R.V.

Grace Apostolic and First Baptist both won their games to finish tied for second, Grace Apostolic slipping by Dunbar's 11-10 and First Baptist rallying by Gator's Docksides 6-5.

Florida Manor finished the season with an 8-2 mark while Grace Apostolic and First Baptist both finished 7-3 ahead of Gator's Docksides (5-5), Dunbar's (3-7) and Town and Country R.V. (0-10).

Bryan Hartman collected a double, two singles and a run scored to lead Florida Manor's 12-hit attack. Ron Lesage added two singles and two runs scored while Kirk Reninger singled twice and scored once. Kyle Brubaker had one single and scored three runs.

Table showing statistics for Town and Country R.V. and Florida Manor.

Also contributing for Florida Manor were Rick Poore and Joe Ferpes (one single and two runs scored each), Joe DiBartolo (single, run scored) and Kent Brubaker (single).

For Town and Country R.V., Gilbert Galarza and Peter Galarza each singled and scored a run. Collecting one single each were Jimmy Ramos, Willie Lopez, Edwin Rivera, Mark Sanders, Jim Marzuarlo, Jose Galarza and Leo Marrero.

Grace Apostolic, which had only nine players take the field, broke a 10-10 tie with a run in the bottom of the seventh to claim its win. After Otis Raines reached on a fielder's choice, Al Campbell advanced him with a single. Mike Edgecombe then tipped a double to score Raines with the winning run.

Edgecombe led Grace Apostolic's 17-hit assault with two triples and two runs scored to go with his double. Campbell also had a double, another single and two runs scored while Thad Brooks chipped in with a double, two singles and one run scored.

Other contributors included Arthur Jackson (triple, single, two runs scored), Mike Eason (two singles, two runs scored), Ron Wise and Raines (each with a single and a run scored) and Russell Hallman and Anthony Freeman (one single each).

For Dunbar's, which rallied from deficits of 6-3 and 10-8 to tie the score twice, Mike Gray tripled, doubled and scored a run to highlight a 17-hit effort. Dave Sowers doubled, singled and scored two runs while Steve Abar singled twice and scored two runs.

Also chipping in were Tim Gillis (double, single), Andy Jones (three singles), Ken Perry (single, two runs scored), Wayne Kelly (single, run scored), John Norman (double), Bob Kirschner (two runs scored) and Tyrone Wilson, Al Settler and Tim Davis (one single each).

In the nightcap, Gator's Docksides scored three runs in the top of the sixth inning to turn a 4-2 deficit into a 5-4 lead. First Baptist tied the score with a run in the bottom of the sixth and scored the game-winning run in the bottom of the seventh.

Robert Hirt opened the seventh inning for First Baptist. See Softball, Page 2B

Avoid side effects of asthma drug

DEAR DR. GOTT: My 6-year-old son has asthma for which he takes Sio-bid twice a day. It frightens me to give him medicine constantly, yet if I stop, his condition worsens. Are there long-term side effects?

I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Consumer Tips on Medicines." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their names and addresses to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

(C)1991 NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

DEAR READER: Asthma, a chronic lung disorder marked by cycles of difficulty in breathing, is ordinarily treated with bronchodilators, medicines to release bronchial constriction. The medicines are available in pills, liquids and inhaled aerosols.

Sio-bid (theophylline) is a timed-release oral bronchodilator. It is an effective asthma preventative but is not recommended for children under 1 year of age. According to the manufacturer, the safety of Sio-bid has not been established in children younger than 12. Therefore, there is no scientific answer to your question.

In my experience, however, the drug can be safely used by children your son's age, providing the doctor orders periodic blood levels to determine the concentration of the drug in your son's body. Excess theophylline can be dangerous because it leads to nausea, vomiting and serious heart irregularities.

Because you are justifiably concerned about the potential consequences of this medicine, I urge you to discuss the situation with your son's pediatrician.

Perhaps another kind of drug, such as an inhaler (with fewer side effects), might be more suitable. If the pediatrician is unable to alleviate your concerns, ask for a referral to a pulmonary specialist. There are other medications your son could use, and many — such as inhaled drugs to relieve acute asthma attacks — might be more appropriate.

To give you more information,

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Is bridge a simple game? Of course not. There are so many facets to it; and I don't just mean bidding, play and defense. When you are declarer, you are busy counting your tricks, checking your losers, watching the opponents' cards and trying to count their points and suit distributions. It is tough to do everything simultaneously. And then, just when you thought it was safe to go back to the table, you run up against a hand like today's.

After this straightforward auction, West leads the heart king. How would you try to bring home three no-trump?

It looks too simple. Unless diamonds are 4-0, there are nine guaranteed winners: three spades, one heart and five diamonds. But there is a snag that is easy to overlook.

When this hand was given to a class, all Souths won the first trick with their ace of hearts, cashed the three top diamonds and then stopped dead in their tracks. When they led a fourth diamond, it was won by dummy's nine-spot. They still had the four-spot in hand as their ninth trick, but there was no way to get back to cash it. They couldn't do better than cash the top spades and concede one down.

The answer is to look more closely at those diamond spots before playing to trick one. If you unblock the six, eight and nine under the ace, king and queen, you can stay in hand because the four will draw dummy's two, leaving you able to cash the three-spot.

Would you have seen the danger in time?

HOROSCOPE

By Bernice Bede Osol
YOUR BIRTHDAY
March 16, 1991

Your social life will take on new significance in the year ahead. A number of new relationships will be established and two old friends could re-enter your life.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Several friends are now likely to take active roles in matters that could be personally meaningful to you. Their input will be constructive and they will help you accomplish what you couldn't do alone. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Something important is stirring behind the scenes which could affect you at this time. Don't be fearful, though, because it could turn out to be very beneficial.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You are entering a cycle that looks encouraging where your hopes and expectations are concerned. You should begin to see signals that verify this trend as early as today.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's time for you to start elevating your financial and career goals and objectives. Clarifying your aims will enhance your possibilities for success.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) There are strong indications that your faith will be strengthened over the next few weeks in regard to your philosophy of life. This will also add qualities to your character that others find appealing.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) This is a good time to take serious measures regarding a matter that could provide you with a second source of income. It is closer to becoming a reality than you may realize.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) There is a good chance at this time that you'll enter into a partnership which will provide benefits to both your social involvements as well as your commercial affairs.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Two important matters you have not been content to conclude to your satisfaction could be advantageously finalized over the next several weeks. Keep your goals in mind.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) As of today, your popularity may start to ascend to new heights. And, if you haven't been too lucky in the romance department lately, prepare for a change.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Over the coming months, your chart indicates that you might experience a number of financial highs and lows. But, you are not moving toward an elevated point.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Ventures that you personally conceive or control should live up to your expectations in this time span. Don't be afraid to experiment with your ideas, even the ones that seem a bit radical.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Focus your efforts and energies on matters that could contribute to your financial well-being at this time. If you apply yourself properly, this could become your strong suit.
