Student Drug Testing Worries Rights Advocates

From Staff and Wire Reports

Concerned parents and educators who advocate drug testing of public school students are on a collision course with the Constitution, some attorneys say.

A legal confrontation in Seminole County was avoided earlier this school year when a Lake Mary High School anti-drug use contract, which includes a provision for drug testing, was made voluntary. The American Civil Liberties Union had threatened to sue when the contract was to be mandatory for all students at the school who wished to participate in extracurricular activities. it contended the tests violate students rights to privacy and protection from unreasonable search and seizfire.

in the contracts students would promise not to use drugs, to encourage others to avoid drugs and agree to submit to drug testing should their behavior exhibit indications of substance abuse.

At a meeting at the school in August, parent Hal Noyes said he objected to the tests because inexpensive urinalysis for signs of drug use have up to a 60 percent failure rate according to the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta. Even expensive drug testing. he said, has only a 98 percent accuracy

"That means if you test 1,000 students, 20 will have positive readings." even if they had no contact with drugs. And, he said, there are many substances and non-prescription medications that could cause false readings, such as cocoa leaves and terbal teas.

Still, many believe drug testing is a viable method for combatting drug abuse, feared to be epidemic.

Such tests are already in the offing for new employees of the city of Sanford.

But would such mandatory testing violate constitutional rights? And, perhaps as importantly, would they sour students against a system that so intrudes into their privacy, randomly without probable cause?

Dr. Warren Carmichael, superintendent of public schools at Bristow in northeastern Oklahoma, has said random testing of students involved in extracurricular activities will be considered at a school board meeting there

Carmichael said the testing was suggested by school football coach Bill Scott, who wanted to determine whether his players were involved with

The proposal calls for random testing of students in the seventh through 12th grades who participate in extracur-

Shopping On Upswing In Sanford

Herald Staff Writer The holiday feast is just over, and merchanis are giving thanks for business as much as 60 percent increased over last year.

Stylish "sweats" for young people, VCRs for adults and laser tag games for children are the hot items this year, along with pets for the family, according to a dozen or so local merchants. Some interesting books are also selling out in downtown Sanford.

Local merchants are saying their business is good, despite an early trend of traffic to the mails. They say the big influx will come the week before Christmas, but by then many of the things people want may be in short supply.

Talking about the peopled Pitecia or domintown parmora was Margie Beine, president of the Sanford Historical Downtown Waterfront Association and owner of Olde Tymes Connection, an antique shop off Magnolia Mail. She said sales downtown had been somewhat soft for a few months, but the recent week has heartened shop owners tremendously.

'it was very, very slow for a while; maybe it's the hot weather," she said. "It's hard to get motivated for the holidays. But Friday was very good for most merchants.

Everybody seems to agree things have been kicked-off very well. We try very hard to motivate people to come downtown because we just have so much to offer that you don't get anywhere else - 11 's our personal service and the friendly atmosphere you don't get in a mail."

Sometimes an overlooked ft for Christmas might be a book someone would like. But apparently people are thinking of that item for special people on their list this year.

Clint Rhodes, owner of Freeland Books downtown Sanford said his sales have soared since Thanksgiving. "It's just been marvelous," he said.

And what are the books people are picking?

How about James Harriett's Christmas Kitten...Christmas 1940 by Eleanor Roosevelt, virtually sold out in his store. Then there's Christmas Southern Living 1986, and Christmas Ideals: And, a little surprise, new this year: The Words Of Christ, listing Christ's sayings from the Bible and carrying illustrations.
"Everybody's getting in the spirit." said Rhodes.

One of the popular points for Seminole shoppers - J.C. Penney's - reported sales had "far exceeded" last Thanksgiving week business. Manager Judy Gillis said people headed off from the starting gate as if someone had shot a gun.

"We had hundreds of kids waiting for Santa to arrive on his firetruck, before the store even opened," she said. "We have been very happy with our sales and the results of our advertising.

She said people are buying a lot of clothing this year - "the popular sweat-wear for teens and young adults, and a lot of career type clothing for adults: you know, suits and quality sweaters. For men, the flannel shirts are always a big seller. and for women, the fragrances and fashion jewelry are going

"We also have this little talking bear that repeats what you say and people seem to love it this year," she added.

Another popular haunt for holiday lovers is the traditional card and gift shop. Brent Carli.

owner of Carli's Hallmark, said he doesn't know why but his business had jumped 60 percent over last year.

"I guess we have done the job of convincing people to stay in town, that they don't really need to go to the malls if they don't want to."

Some of the Items he is selling quickly include the traditional Christmas ornaments with personal inscrip-tions, and a really big one this year - the "Precious Moments" spiritual figurines in pastel colors. He is also selling plush stuffed animals and brass candleabras.

Serious shoppers usually stop at the flea markets, too. and Sid Levy of Flea World said they had 70,000 people there over the three-day holi-

Man Dies As Truck Hits Pole

A Fern Park man driving a small pick-up truck died instantly Saturday night when he apparently lost control of his vehicle and struck a utility pole on State Road 434 west of Ovicdo. A passenger was treated and released at Florida Hospital Altamonte.

A Florida Highway Patrol spokesman said this morning the accident report indicates the single vehicle accident may have been alcohol related, however a Medical Examiner's office spokesman said early today tests had not been completed.

According to the Medical Examiner's office, the man died instantly from multiple fractures of the skull, which resulted in a massive hemorrhage of the brain. Dead is Todd Trimble, 20, Fern Park. His 26-year-old passenger John Corbitt, Longwood, was treated and released from Florida Hospital Altamonte, according to a hospital spokesman.

According to the Highway Patrol, Trimble's 1982 Toyota pick-up truck was westbound on State Road 434 west of Ovledo at 11:26 p.m. Saturday, when the vehicle left the road on the north shoulder. The report indicates Trimble may have overcorrected trying to regain control of the vehicle, before it slammed into a utility pole.

Trimble was the 33rd person to die on Seminole County roads

According to Lt. Chuck Williams of the Orlando Florida Highway Patrol office, 33 persons died on Florida roads during the Thanksgiving holiday driving period, which started at 6 p.m. Wednesday and ended Sunday at midnight. The FHP had predicted 41 Florida drivers would die, he said. He said 14 of the highway deaths were apparently alcohol related, and seven of the dead were using seat belts. -Paul C. Schaefer

Youth Shot Turkey Hunting Gives Thanks

Jeffrey Hudson, 17, rests at home while recovering from gunshot wounds to his legs.

By Deane Jordan Herald Staff Writer

A Sanford youth shot by an berienced hunter Thanks-every Day said today he has a lot to be thankful for — he could be dead instead of just wounded in both legs. He's also grateful the incident gives him an oppor-tunity to speak out for mandatory hunting classes.

Hudson said he was hunting turkey and sitting against a tree with his knees up in the 52,172-acre reserve when a turkey answered his call. At the time, his father and brother were about 400 yards away hunting other game.

Hudson, dressed in camouflage, said he moved his legs after hearing the call and was shot from a distance of 25 to 30

Hudson, a senior at Liberty Christian School in Sanford, said he began hollering that he had been shot. He said the 17-yearold hunter and the men with him came over and tried to help.

'48 hours' To Restore Credibility

Report: Bush OK'd Aid For Contras

MIAMI (UPI) - Vice President George Bush authorized two sides in 1984 to assist in building a network of aid for the Nicaraguan Contras and was briefed. regularly on their efforts, a newspaper reports.

Meanwhile, in Washington Sen. Daniel Moynihan, D-N.Y., said Reagan has about 48 hours to restore his credibility or it will be lost. The Miami Herald, quoting administration sources, reported Sunday that Bush authorised his national affairs security adviser. Donald Gregg, and an aide, Lt. Col. E. Douglas Menarchik, to cooperate with Lt. Col. Oliver North in building the network to aid the rebels fighting Nicaragua's Sandinista govern-

That network kept the rebeis alive

after Congress cut off assistance in 1983 and then barred the CIA from providing aid in 1964, the newspaper said.

The Herald said both Gregg and Menarchik were aware of or had helped North structure the private supply operation based in El Salvador, which Contra sources now say was funded by profits from a U.S. arms sale to Iran.

The Salvador supply network was reponsible for launching the ill-fated mission of a weapons-laden C-123 cargo plane that was shot down by Sandinista oldiers Oct. 5, the Herald reported.

The newspaper, citing unidentified administration, congressional and rebel sources, reported that Bush was briefed regularly by North and Contra leaders during the time North sought alternate supply sources for the rebels.

But the sources could not confirm that Bush knew North played a role in diverting $10 million to $30 million from the arms sale to iran to pay for weapons and services for the Contras.

In Washington, Democratic leaders say Reagan is facing a critical period in the Iran arms-Contra aid scandal and his effectiveness as president - if not the fate of his presidency itself — depends on fast and full disclosure in Watergatestyle investigations.

Applications Sought For New Statewide Prosecutor

The Florida Supreme Court Judicial Nominating Commission is seeking qualifled applicants to fill the newly created position of Statewide Prosecutor.

During the November, voters adopted a constitutional amendment authorizing the position of Statewide Prosecutor. Previously enacted legislation, which will become effective Jan. 6, 1987, establishes an Office of Statewide Prosecution in the Department of Legal Affairs and prescribes the powers and duties of the office, according to The Florida Bar.

The JNC will nominate not less than three persons to the Attorney General who will appoint the Statewide Prosecutor for a term of four years. Applicants must be a voter in the state, a member of the Florida Bar for the preceding five years, and must devote full time to his duties and not engage in the private practice of law.

The Statewide Prosecutor is prohibited from running for or accepting appointment to any state office for a period of two years following vacation of the office. The salary is to be set by the Attorney General. Additional information concerning the powers and duties of this position can be obtained from Bill Bryant. Deputy Attorney General. Department of Legal Affairs, Taliahassee. 32301, 904-487-1963.

Applications for the position can be obtained from Vicki Russell, in care of the Florida Bar, Tallahassee, 32301-8226, or call 904-222-5286. Ten copies of the completed application with attachments must be received by Ms. Russell no later than 10 a.m. Dec. 18.

The names of all applicants and the contents of their applications will be available to the public immediately following the filing deadline. All interviewing of applicants will be done in open session, according to the Bar.

Serving on the Supreme Court Judicial Nominating Commission are: Fletcher Rush, of Orlando; Bill Colson of Miami; Charles Wilson of Tampa: Frank Soler of Coral Gables: William Clark of West Palm Beach; Dr. Jere W. Annis of Lakeland; Sammy Cacciatore of Melbourne: Marvin Urguhard of Panama City: and, Mrs. Philip B. Phillips of Pensacola.

Hollywood Mourns Cary Grant

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) - Hollywood coninued today to mourn the death of Carv Grant, epitome of the suave, elegant man of he world who dazzled many of the screen's nost beautiful actresses in three decades of ilms. He died Saturday of a stroke. He was

Grant died late Saturday night in Davenbort, lowa, after being stricken during a rehearsal of his one-man show, "A Conversation With Cary Grant." His body was returned to Hollywood Sunday.

His wife, Barbara, was at his side at St. Luke's hospital when he died, Dr. James Gilson said. The actor had become ill during rehearsal, returned to his hotel room and from there was brought comatose to the hospital and never regained consciousness. Gilson said.

Grant's attorney, Stanley Fox, said in accordance with the actor's wishes he would be cremated and there would be no funeral or memorial services.

In one of his last public appearances. Grant read a message from President Reagan at a recent Hollywood tribute to actor-mayor Clint Eastwood. The show was taped and aired on network television Sunday night.

Although his last film, "Walk, Don't Run," was made in 1966. Grant kept in the public eye with his traveling one-man show and appearances at charity affairs, glittery social events and White House state dinners. He received the Kennedy Center's award for excellence in performing arts in 1981.

Grant, a one-time child acrobat, rose from the vaudeville stage in the 1920s to eventually became one of America's favorite romantic actors, appearing in 72 films in roles ranging from the perfect leading man to the raffish scoundrel.

Among the beautiful actresses who shared top billing with the darkly handsome Grant were Grace Kelly in "To Catch a Thief," Mae West in "She Done Him Wrong." Ingrid Bergman in "Notorious" and Katharine Hepburn in "The Philadelphia Story."

"He was the most handsome, witty, and stylish leading man both on and off the screen," said Eva Marie Saint, who starred

President Reagan and his wife, Nancy, said they were "very saddened" by the death of their old Hollywood friend.

"He was one of the brightest stars in Hollywood, and his elegance, wit and charm will endure forever on film and in our hearts." Reagan said. "We will always cherish the memory of his warmth, his loyalty and his friendship, and we will miss him dearly."

Actor Charlton Heston called Grant "one of the screen's last gentlemen."

Singer-actress Polly Bergen, who had known him for more than 30 years, said, "We have just lost the man who showed Hollywood and the world what the word class really means. He was the one star that even other stars were in awe of."

In 1969, the suave soft-spoken actor who had never before received an Academy Award was honored with a special Oscar in recognition of his 34-year career.

"I think he was overlooked by the Academy all these years." said Doris Day, who starred with Grant in "That Touch of

"He was really a genius at what he did." Day said. "He had the looks, the charm, and he was the classiest man I ever met.'

Some of his other films included "Topper," "Gunga Din," "An Affair to Remember," "His Girl Friday," "The Awful Truth." "Bringing Up Baby," "I Was A Male War Bride," and "Operation Petticoat."

Born Archibald Alexander Leach in Bristol, England, on January 18, 1904, Grant became a U.S. citizen in 1942.

Since his retirement from films, he had served on the corporate boards of MGM. Faberge and the Hollywood Park race track. He also spent much of his time at his 4-acre Beverly Hills estate with his fifth wife, Barbara, and his only child, 19-year-old Jennifer by a former wife, actress Dyan Cannon.

Grant was also married to actresses Virginia Cherill and Betsy Drake, and Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton. During one of his rare interviews, he said the oft-quoted "Ju-dee, Ju-dee" was actually started by an unknown impersonator. But it became a stylistic symbol of his Cockney-but-classy accent.

Asked which of his movies was his favorite, Grant said, "I've enjoyed them all." but he admitted particularly enjoying making "Indiscreet" with Bergman.

The role he liked the least was that of the bungling young nephew in "Arsenic and Old Lace," which he considered his worst acting because of the comedic nature of the popular stage play.

His favorite director was Alfred Hitchcock. who guided him in the thriller "North By Northwest," and whose presence Grant said was felt and reacted to by everyone on the FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) - A $15 million lawsuit involving an AIDS victim who was fired from his job as a Broward County budget analyst may set a precedent for future cases involving other victims.

Goldberg, Faulkner Good In Longwood

Well, Longwood city government certainly has had its problems these past several months. And apparently there are no simple solutions, but one of the bottom line areas in need of quick repair is the apparent inability to study problems in depth, then take a direction that is best for the majority, rather than bowing to the demands of a vocal few whose requests have gotten the commission into hot water.

Yet, talk to some of the Longwood city commissioners and they'll tell you the city seems to be on the right path now. That the city commission is beginning to function more in step with proper procedures which should lead to improvements in several areas.

Tuesday, registered voters of Longwood will get an opportunity to participate in bringing order to city government. Two city commission posts come open and there are three candidates in each of the two districts in which that occurs. Should none of the candidates in each race receive more than 50 percent of the votes cast, there'll be a run-off election Dec. 16.

In the District 3 race is incumbent Perry E. Faulkner challenged by Lynette Dennis and Irene Campbell. In the District 5 race, incumbent Larry Goldberg, who serves as mayor, will be challenged by David R. Gunter

Mr. Goldberg has a minor problem, but one that he can get a handle on if he's a mind to. Apparently Mr. Goldberg tends to ignore the protocol involved with allowing a city administrator to run the city's various departments, carrying out city commission policy. Mr. Goldberg likes to involve himself personally, apparently, sticking his nose into the affairs of the city administrator, weakening that official's ability somewhat to carry out his duties effectively. Minus that problem, Mr. Goldberg's a pretty strong city commissioner. No one would like to see the city get off dead center and move ahead as much as he would. His tactics may come into question. but his heart and mind are in the right place. We hope he can temper his enthusiasm on the next go-round: The Sanford Herald endorses Mr. Goldberg for the District 5 city commission post.

In the District 3 race there are two viable candidates worthy of mention. Incumbent Commissioner Faulkner has been a strong voice in city government, and he often finds himself alone when voting on important issues. Not that that's necessarily a bad trait for a city commissioner, especially since Faulkner often has been on target while his colleagues have not. He hasn't been afraid to

The other viable candidate we see is Lynette Dennis. She says she can bring order and harmony to a city commission that's had some trouble in that area of late. She's got a pretty decent track record that indicates she just may have the right stuff, if we can coin a phrase. Mrs. Dennis has served as chairman of the Charter Advisory Committee, is co-chairman of the Longwood Historical Commission and has been active in the PTA for the past 15 years. Mrs. Dennis has a reputation among her colleagues of dealing with complicated issues in a mature and thorough manner.

The Sanford Herald endorses Mr. Faulkner for re-election, but feels Mrs. Dennis could also serve the citizenry well.

Top Reagan Advisers May Be On Borrowed Time

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There are growing high-paying position in public relations on Wall signs that by January many of President Street. Speakes is talking to the Merrill Lynch Reagan's top advisers will be gone.

Right now, despite the bombshell of financing Nicaraguan rebels with money from Iran arms

The "Irangate" flap would not be the cause of sales. Reagan's key advisers are hanging in his departure since he was discussing leaving Nicaraguan rebels with money from Iran arms there. None want to leave under a cloud.

Besides, Secretary of State George Shultz and White House chief of staff Donald Regan like centers on Anne Doar, undersecretary of the their jobs. Both are multimillionaires who could treasury and wife of feisty talk show impresario retire to the golf course, but they prefer public John McLaughlin.

While the White House is not in a hunkereddown Watergate syndrome, there is an air of bewilderment that a possible scandal could mar the president's second term.

Some wags are calling it a "third rate arms transfer" referring to press secretary Ron Ziegler's remark during the Watergate scandal that it was a "third rate" burglary.

Meanwhile, speculation on his replacement

Friends of Doar, who also served in the Nixon administration, say she has coveted a Cabinet job. But serving as the first White House spokeswoman for the president will give her power and prestige.

James Brady, who was shot in the head during an assassination attempt on President Reagan on March 30, 1981, will keep the title of press secretary. Brady has been promised that by Reagan and the title was never conferred on press secretary Larry Speakes resign to take a Speakes, although he has presided at the podium for most of Reagan's presidency.

Some reporters observe that Speakes has already departed. He smiles more and he is less combative when asked questions he dislikes. Moreover, he is operating with freedom, telling reporters he won't answer certain questions "because I don't want to." When he was asked whether he had been briefed on possible personnel changes, he replied: "No, sure

"Why not?" he was asked.

"I haven't asked to be," he said. Speakes had not been clued in on all the facets of the Iranian operation and the ramifications that were later revealed. "What good are you as a spokesman if you don't know what's going on," he was asked.

"Oh, I'll be all right," he said. Later, the Mississippi-born Speakes said: "I'll be OK. I didn't get off the potato wagon yesterday in this town."

Reagan Faces Ordeal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An "Irangate," fueled by the presidential penchant for secrecy, is doing in the Reagan presidency.

The president is in trouble no matter how the crisis sorts out. If he did not know that his operatives in the National Security Council were funneling funds to the Nicaraguan rebels from secret arms sales to Iran, he should have.

As delineated by Attorney General Edwin Meese, national security affairs adviser John Poindexter and his deputy "mystery man," Lt. Col. Oliver North were the only U.S. officials privy to the deal.

That defies the imagination, particularly in view of what was involved, including supplies from American bases, planes needed to transport, CIA agents to deal with Swiss banks and so on.

Reagan claims he was not "fully informed." If Reagan was one of the last to know, he must be doing some soul searching on his own style of governing.

The penchant for secrecy has afflicted every president. But Reagan has approved of more plans to classify more documents than any chief executive in recent times. He has been trapped by believing that he can only inform the American people of what he thinks they "need to know," as he has put it.

His goal in Central America to overturn the Marxist-Sandinista government in Nicaragua has been notable for its covert ramifications. When Congress was saying no to military supplies for the Contras, Reagan's aides in the NSC were finding ways to involve private donors to keep the pressure on Managua.

As he heads into the last two years in office, Reagan's foreign policy is in disarray. Allies are astounded. Friends are skeptical. And the distancing of himself from administration actions puts in question the role of Secretary of State George Shultz who knew of the secret dealings with Iran and continued to publicly denounce states dealing in terrorism.

Meese, the president's close friend and point man, says that "what you have here are things concealed from the president."

The question is did the president ever ask what happened to the money from the sale of weapons to Iran? Did he ever seek full details? Reagan has taken responsibility for the debacle that has ensued from the Iran deal. But there is no question that his credibility has suffered and his administration has been severely damaged.

"REMEMBER TO WALLD IT WISELY, OH MIGHTY ONE"

ROBERT WAGMAN Credibility Plummets

LONDON (NEA) - The consensus among Western allies in Europe seems to be that it will take much work to repair the breach in U.S. foreign policy - and it might not even be possible as long as Ronald Reagan sits in the Oval Office.

While the only item on the official agenda of the recent Common Market foreign ministers meeting here was anti-terrorist sanctions against Syria, the main topic of private conversation was the issue of U.S. credibility.

From the European standpoint. doubts about the impact of U.S. foreign policy began to develop after the Reagan-Gorbachev summit in Iceland in early October.

The United States had a longstanding commitment to its NATO allies not to bring the subject of medium-range European-based missiles to the bargaining table without first consulting with them on a unified defense strategy.

On his way home from Reykjavik. Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze "stunned" NATO ministers by reporting that "Euromissiles" and Russia's short-range missiles based in Eastern Europe had been at the center of the talks.

There followed a period when Ronald Reagan — on the campaign trail stumping for GOP candidates seemed to change daily his account of what had been discussed. In the United States, this was simply viewed as another example of Reagan being Reagan. but it had sinister overtones in Europe, where it was seen as Reagan's attempt to cover up what had actually been discussed.

This view was reinforced by the United States' belated admission that Shevardnadze's version of the meeting was essentially correct. Some governments were willing to accept the U.S. explanation that it was Gorbachev who raised the issue - before revelations concerning U.S. arms shipments to

For the last five years, the United States has urged its ailies to take a hard stand against any nation that sponsors terrorism - Iran being considered a leader in the field.

That the United States - while condemning the slightest attempts by an ally to deal with states supporting terrorism - was negotiating with Tehran and facilitating the shipment of U.S. arms caused a lirestorm of protest throughout Europe.

... While taking a reserved, stance publicly, several major Western governments say flatly they were lied to by Washington. As one member of a delegation attending the foreign ministers meeting put it: "The reports directly contradict what we were told by (Secretary of State George) Shultz. Either he was lying or he simply didn't know."

Some of the nations are implying the United States even went beyond lying. Italy, for example.

Italy would probably be an all-out supporter of Iraq, but it has remained neutral, mainly at the urging of Washington. Italian government sources say that within the last year the United States had asked Italian Premier Bettino Craxi if he would be willing to look the other way when private arms shipments bound for Iran went through Italian ports.

Supposedly Craxl took the request to his cabinet and, after consulting with them, rejected it outright. But the Italians believe that, despite the rejection, the United States went ahead with its plan. Craxi has ordered a probe into reports Danish ships picked up arms at a port north. of Rome and took them to Iran.

Reagan has asserted the U.S.-Iran dealings involved only a small amount of non-offensive weapons. mainly spare parts. You would be hard pressed to find anyone in Europe who believes that statement. Most here think the White House orchestrated large-scale shipments through Israel and private arms dealers.

When Can Doctors Refuse?

UPI Science Writer

BOSTON (UPI) - As the public becomes better educated about medicine, doctors are increasingly faced with patients who insist on treatments physicians may be uncomfortable delivering.

To assist doctors, two researchers have developed a set of general guidelines they hope will clarify such difficult decisions.

"These guidelines are intended only for situations in which differences cannot be satisfactorily reconciled," the researchers wrote in a recent issue of The New England Journal of Medicine.

According to Dr. Allan Brett of the New England Deaconess Hospital in Boston and Lawrence McCullough of the Georgetown University School of Medicine in Washington:

 Doctors should not be obligated to make treatment available if there is no objective indications the therapy is needed. "These interventions can be considered to be useless, and physicians are under no obligation to render useless 'care' ... just because a patient requests it," they

 Decisions about whether to provide requested care should not be made "on the basis of economic considerations unless the society has developed formal guidelines for the use of the medical resource in question."

 But when doctors deny treatment, they are obligated to explain their decisions and offer alternatives.

 When a treatment is refused. second opinions should also be offered "so that the patient may test the objectivity of the reasons for not granting the request."

"It is obviously preferable that physicians and patients engage in mutually rewarding relationships that do not sacrifice the patient's # autonomy, the physician's integrity, or medicine's goal of beneficence, the researchers said.

Patients are more willing to demand treatment today because doctors are seen less as authority figures, are better educated about medicine, and drug therapies that alleviate symptoms are more ? common, the researchers said.

"Situations abound in which patients make demands that physicians think are inappropriate." they said. "The resulting tension between a patient's exercise of positive rights and clinical judgment permeates daily medical practice."

Allies Sold Weapons To Iran For Years

By Jack Anderson and Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON - You don't have to approve of President Reagan's secret arms deal with Iran to be contemptuous of the criticism that has come from some of our European allies. After all, they've been seiling weapons secretly to the Ayatoliah Khomeini for years.

In August we reported that the Reagan administration was secretly selling arms to Iran, and we also gave chapter and verse on some of the "outrageous weapons deals made by Western European nations with the terrorist states in pursuit of appeasement and profits."

France, we disclosed, had secretly sold hundreds of thousands of artillery shells to Iran. So much for Premier Jacques Chirac's loud pro-testations of friendship with Iraq, whose soldiers and civilians have been on the receiving end of those

West Germany agreed to supply Iran with four diesel submarines, we reported, with the result that Lufthansa had become the safest airline to fly, with the possible exception of El Al. which relies on Israeli security measures, not appeasement of terrorist-sponsoring governments.

We can now report that a crucial link in the chain of Bonn's support of Tehran was the close relationship between West German Foreign Minister Hans-Dietrich Genscher and Iranian diplomat Sadeq Tabatabai.

A relative of Khomeini. Tabatabat is one of Iran's most active weapons buyers. He also remains in close contact with terrorist organizers in both Iran and Western Europe. Our sources say Tabatabai's friendship with Genscher was partly responsible for the Iranian's quick release following his arrest four years ago in Dusseldorf for opium amuggling.

The West German government has also authorized arms sales to Moammar Gadhasi's Libya. This meant that, when the U.S. Sixth Fleet approached the Gulf of Sidra last March, German-built gunboats were among those sent by Gadhafl to challenge the Americans' right of free passage. Furthermore, West German instructors had taught many of the Libyan crews their radar skills.

Greece is another nation that regularly sells weapons to the anti-American, terrorist-sponsoring regimes in Tehran and Tripoli. A NATO ally in little more than name, Greece barters huge quantities of arms to Iran in return for oil, which is then either refined in Greece or sold on the world market at a sizable profit.

Earlier this year, for example, an oil company in Athens swapped 20 American-made F-4 jet engines for a shipment of Iranian crude. The engines had been illegally exported to Greece by American arms On Sept. 25, we have learned, a high official in the government of Greek Premier Andreas Papandreou met with Gadhafi in Tripoli to close some secret arms deals. Gadhafi's shopping list included sophisticated anti-aircraft guns manufactured by the Hellenic Arms Corporation of Greece, plus a variety of other weapons - some of West German design manufactured in Greece under license.

For those interested in the sordid details of the deadly trade in arms. we can reveal that the going price for delivery to terrorist-sponsoring countries through Greece is $20 per artillery shell and $3,000 for an American-made TOW anti-tank missile (the United States sent a thousand of these to Iran, according to President Reagan). When cash is involved rather than bartered oil. the currency is delivered to a high-level official in the Greek Ministry of Defense.

Escaped Convicts With AIDS Said To Be No Health Threat

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI) - Three convicts who escaped from an AIDS treatment unit at the maximum-security Trenton State Prison should be considered dangerous, but they pose no immediate public health threat, authorities

The inmates, along with a fourth prisoner who was captured, broke out of the prison Saturday night by cutting through a wire mesh fence and climbing a 15-foot wall. Police organized a statewide manhunt for the men and

At King's Tomb: Plea, Roses

ATLANTA (UPI) - Britain's Labor Party leader, speaking at the tomb of Martin Luther King Jr., issued a plea for "mandatory and comprehensive" economic sanctions against South Africa because of its apartheid policies.

Bitter and bloody experience has taught that the white minority regime does not voluntarily make concessions: It does not concede to cajolery," Neil Kinnock said Sunday. Kinnock, 44, is making a weeklong unofficial visit to the

Study: Teens Face More Violence

WASHINGTON (UPI) - A Justice Department survey shows teenagers are twice as likely as adults to be the victims of violent crime, and their assailants are often casual friends or relatives.

Steven Schlesinger, director of the Bureau of Justice Statistics, said Sunday the survey found that between 1982 through 1984, young people 12 to 19 years old were the victims of about 1.8 million violent crimes and 3.7 million thefts annually. Those crimes were 2.2 times more frequent than for persons 20 years old or older. About one-third of all violent crimes against younger teenagers and 83 percent of the thefts occurred at school, he said. The study found that older teenagers - 16 to 19 years old - incurred 42 percent of their thefts and 14 percent of their violent crimes at school. Thirty-five percent of violent crimes against older teens were in a street or

Nixon Papers To Be Released

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Former President Richard Nixon sought to keep about 1.5 million White House documents he believed "ought to be burned" out of the public eye but he has lost the battle to keep the material private.

None of the papers, to be released for the first time today from the White House central and executive files, are expected to contain any bombshells from the Watergate era, said Jill Merrill Brett, a spokeswoman for the federal archivist.

America's Oldest Woman: After 113 Years, 'World Hasn't Changed At All'

LANDSDALE. Pa. (UPI) - Florence Knapp's earliest memory is of traveling with her parents to an exhibition in Philadelphia when she was 3 years old.

Nothing unusual about that, except that the year was 1876 and the event was the American Centennial.

The Civil War had ended just 11 years earlier. The president was Ulysses S. Grant. And the nation was still reeling from news of a massacre of U.S. troops at a place called Little Big Horn.

To Florence, who at 113 is listed by Guinness Superlatives Ltd. as the oldest person in America and the second oldest person in the world, it doesn't seem so long

"Things haven't changed. I don't think the world has changed much at all," the tiny, wispy-haired woman said recently from her recliner at the Dock Terrace Nursing Home in Towamencin Township,

The fact that Florence is a living emissary from the Grant era makes her something of a historical figure in her own right. And although her hearing and eyesight have grown dim, her mind and her memory still

He was fired when it was publicly disclosed that Iran arms sales profits were diverted to the rebels, a CIA-formed force trying to topple Managua's Sandinista government.

"This could constitute obstruction of a congressional investigation," the aide said. "But first we need more facts."

The Senate intelligence committee plans to examine North's connection to the network and statements that McFarlane, who directed the NSC staff as President Reagan's national security adviser, made to the panel in late 1985, a committee aide said

McClanahan For District 3 Post

There are two candidates for the Sanford city commission District 3 race who impress us as worthy public servants: A. /. Mc-Clanahen and A. B. "Bart" Peterson.

The District 3 commission seat is currently held by Milton Smith whose term expires this year. Mr. Smith has been an able public servant during his six years on the commission, but Mr. McClanahan is a stand-out candidate for this post. Voters will cast a ballot for just one of their choice out of the five candidates vying for the District 3 commission seat. The Sanford Herald considers Mr. McClanahan the better qualified to serve. Should none of the five candidates -Mr. Smith, Mr. McClanahan, Mr. Peterson, Eddie Keith or Martha Yancey - get more than 50 percent of the ballots cast in the Tuesday election, there will be a run-off election Dec. 16 pitting the two top voteAt 61, Mr. McClanahan has been a Sanford resident for 33 years and during that time carned a bachelor of science degree in business administration, then completed the necessary course work for a master's in criminal justice from Rollins College.

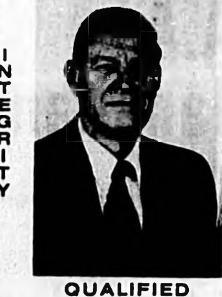

No stranger to public office, Mr. Mc-Clanahan was a Sanford city commissioner from 1972 to 1978. He was a colorful commissioner who kept his colleagues on their toes with probing questions concerning issues that bothered him enough to pursue them more thoroughly. If he was dissatisfied with the answers, he asked for more study before wanting to commit his vote. We have no reason to think Mr. McClanahan won't continue functioning the same way this time out. There's another side to Mr. McClanahan, that impresses us: His caring about the less fortunate. Mr. McClanahan is the founder and executive director of the Seminole Self-Reliant Housing organization; chairman of the Kiwanis underprivileged children's committee, and he's served as a director on the Seminole County Mental Health Board.

Tie all of that to a good working knowledge of the problems Sanford is faced with because of the current growth rate and what it will be faced with as that growth continues and you've got a prime candidate to help us through that period.

Mr. McClanahan's previous service as a city commissioner and his on-going involvement in public affairs gives him the edge.

The Sanford Herald endorses A. A. Mc-Clanahan for the District 3 commission seat.

Secret Iranian Arms Deal

'Safe House' Reported In London LONDON (UPI) - A retired U.S. Air Force general worked from a "safe house" in London to arrange secret deals that supplied American weapons to Iran, the Sunday Times

Another newspaper, the weekly Observer, reported Sunday that an Israeli arms dealer with offices in London supplied Iran with U.S. weapons for the last six years with apparent official sanction from Jerusalem.

"With the knowledge of the British government, London has become the center for the lucrative arms trade which keeps the Iranian war machine supplied," the Observer

The Sunday Times, citing "a Washington source intimately involved with the deal" said retired Air Force Gen. Richard Secord "was part of a team brought to London at the end of last year."

Israeli Dealer Admits Role

JERUSALEM (UPI) - A Cabinet minister denied Israel skimmed off funds from sales of U.S. arms to Iran, and an Israeli arms dealer admitted he took part in contacts that freed a U.S. hostage in Lebanon.

The Cabinet was briefed Sunday for the first time on Israel's go-between activity in selling U.S. arms to Iran, and Communications Minister Amnon Rubinstein denied any Israeli role in moving receipts from the arms sales to Nicaragua's Contra rebels.

Cabinet Secretary Eliyakim Rubinstein said Israel has not received an official U.S. request to investigate Israel's part in the affair, but added if one is received, a "decision"

Arms dealer Ya'akov Nimrodi, a former Israeli military attache to Iran, told Israeli radio he had not made even "a tiny deal" with Iran since the fall of Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi in 1979 but did help free American hostage, Rev. Benjamin Weir, in September 1985.

'Berlin Wall' In South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) - Government crews are erecting a concrete barrier separating the black township of Soweto from white areas of Johannesburg - a structure two newspapers dubbed a new "Berlin Wall.

"The police said the wall was being erected by the Department of Transport," two major newspapers, the Sunday Star and the Sunday Tribune, reported with a picture of a wall 7 feet high built with picket-style concrete

A Transport Department official told the Citizen newspaper in a report published today that the reinforced concrete fence was designed to prevent pedestrians from crossing the highway between Soweto and a white

Aquino Passes Major Test With Honors

By Paul Anderson

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) -President Corazon Aquino, who admitted she sometimes was seen as weak and indecisive, removed one of the "daggers aimed at the heart of her government" by sacking rebellious Defense Minister Juan Ponce Enrile.

A second "dagger" - the communist insurgency - was blunted, but not yet removed, by the signing of a 60-day cease-fire in the 17-year-old rebellion.

The firing of Enrile on a quiet Sunday afternoon caught nearly everyone in the Philippines off guard and stood unchallenged when Armed Forces Chief of Staff Gen. Fidel Ramos threw his support behind Aquino.

The nation, battered by repeated rumors of coup plots against Aquino's 9-month-old government, breathed a collective sigh of relief and went about its business. No incidents were reported in the aftermath of Enrile's dismissal.

The government also announced it would begin peace talks in January with Moslem rebels in the southern Philippines.

Presidential spokesman Teodoro Benigno indicated the Enrile's sacking came after the government learned of the coup plot that would have placed Marcos loyalists in power.

"One of the three daggers aimed at the heart of her government has already been removed," Benigno said.

The other "daggers" were named by Benigno as the communist insurgency and the nations economic crisis.

SENTINEL ENDORSES McClanahan

McClanahan, stand out in Sanford race

A.A. "Mack" McClanahan in District 3 has experience, independence and the courage to ask hard questions. In District 4, Whitey Eckstein has a keen sense of city needs and the courage and ability to fight for them.

In District 3, there are five candidates. When the measuring stick of knowledge and ability is applied, however, the field narrows to two: Mr. McClanahan and Bart Peterson III.

The other three are sincere and have Sanford's interests at heart, but more is needed. They are Milton Smith, the incumbent; Eddie Keith, a former commissisoner; and Martha Yancy, a civic activist. None possess a great deal of depth or grasp of issues needed to serve on the commis-

Mr. McClanahan, 61, on the other hand was a commissioner seven years before his defeat in 1979. His job — administering a federal "sweat equity" housing program - keeps him exposed to people of all walks of life. Further, his performance in a short but stormy term on the Sanford Housing Authority is proof he is not afraid to take unpopular stands.

Sanford is facing its greatest spurt of growth in history and has made a good though at times stumbling start at grappling with its problems. Strength and balance are needed on the city commission. Fortunately, these two candidates offer that. The Oriando Sentinel recommends the election of A.A. "Mack" McClanahan in District 3

Pope Arrives In Seychelles

VICTORIA, Seychelles (UPI) -Pope John Paul II arrived in the Seychelles today from Australia on the last leg of a grueling Asian and Pacific tour.

The papal Quantas 747 jumbo jet put down at the international airport on Mahe Island 6 miles outside the picturesque capital of Victoria on schedule at 12:45 p.m. (3:45 a.m. EST) for a six-hour stopover en route to Rome.

The pope had come to the Indian Ocean archipelago from Perth, Australia, where he said goodbye to the island continent at a 30-minute ceremony that featured 4,000 cheering schoolchildren and a goodbye from Prime Minister Bob Hawke.

During his six days in Australia, the pope traveled 6,800 miles, chatted with aborigines, cuddled a koala and toured a steel mill and a maternity hospital.

Gators Extend FSU 'Probation' To 6th Year

By Benton Wood

Special to the Herald TALLAHASSEE - The Florida Gator football team ended its final year of probation Saturday night, but Florida State and Bobby Bowden had their probation extended for a sixth

Bowden, who lost to the Gators for a sixth consecutive time, may have his toughest setback to digest. With one exception, the Gators in the past five seasons inflicted a quick, but fatal blow to the Seminoles. Bowden knows all too well they all hurt - but when you lose 35-3, 53-14, 27-17 and 38-14 there is always one good excuse. You must have lost to a better team.

Bowden wasn't armed with that same thesis when he arrived to the post-game press conference Saturday night. His Seminoles held a 13-10 lead midway in the final quarter and were driving to a game-clinching score. But instead of a champagne-celebrated victory. Bowden had to answer for a 17-13 setback to Florida.

"I thought we were the better football team this year." Bowden said. "I should say we were about even. But we had them at home, so I thought we could win this one.'

Even so, Bowden was prepared for the worst. He knew before The Game Saturday night that he might be faced with another rap session with familiar scribes asking the same questions as years past. Why? How?

"I made some resolves this week as to what I would say this time," Bowden admitted. The questioners sympathized with Bowden. They knew he would have to answer tougher questions for the next year - from Seminole fans, students, alumni, sup-

Even though Bowden won't find any consolation in it, the Seminoles proved they belonged on the same field as Florida this season. In fact, after the first quarter, Florida State moved the ball on the ground at will. The 'Noles ran for 200 yards, with 116 coming from former Apopka standout Sammle

Football

That total, however, doesn't include a would-be 52-yard touchdown run which undoubtedly will go down as one of the most memorable plays in the history of this feud. Or at least one of the most forgetable for Seminole

Florida State, trying to snap a 10-10 tie, had a critical third-and-two at its own 48 on the opening drive of the second half. Smith proved at the end of the first half that the Gators couldn't stop him on the ground, especially on the aweep right.

When Smith saw a swarm of Gators on the right side, he cut back to the left, broke a couple of tackles and found himself dancing in the end zone. But split end Herb Gainer was called for holding, and Florida State was unable to find the end zone again the rest of the night.

"We just made too many mistakes to win the game." Bowden said after his team committed a school record 15 penalties for 116 yards. "If they hadn't called that touchdown back, we probably would have won the game."

Although Gainer's penalty was the most costly, a roughing the kicker penalty may have been the most telling. After Florida scored its goahead touchdown, kicker Jeff Dawson hooked the extra point to the left, but he was knocked down after the kick and got a second chance, which he converted.

The play proved to be meaningless. but it had a lot of meaning for Bowden. It was another signal that few things have gone right for Florida State in Its last six efforts against the Gators.

Bowden came with his bag of tricks for Florida, but none of them had any magic. Five plays after Smith's touchdown was nullified, the Seminoles attempted a fake punt, but fullback Dayne Williams fumbled the snap. Florida State's first play of the night was a fake reverse good for a loss of eight yards. Darrin Holloman did pick up 14 yards on a reverse in the third quarter, but Bowden was hoping to gain more than just a first down with three trick plays.

Surprises didn't help Florida State the past five years, either, and Bowden knew better than anyone else Florida State's top priority had to be stopping Kerwin Bell.

The Seminoles got some help from Mother Nature, and Bell only could complete 8 of 17 passes for a mere 65 yards. But Bell's final completion, an 18-yard touchdown pass to Ricky Nattiel, extended Florida State's frustration another 365 days.

"That dadgum Bell to Nattlei," Bowden muttered. "We were scared to death of Bell - on every single down. And then out of all that running, Bell and Nattlel sneak out one time all night and that was it."

It was just another chapter to add to Bowden's collection of nightmares. with the Gators supplying the main character. "I'll stay up pretty late, but when I finally go to sleep and wake up.

Arnsparger Keeps Past, Present A Mystery BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) - Bill Arnsparger is keeping his future as much a mystery as his reasons for retiring.

"I'm not sure what I'll do, but it will be what I want to do, and it will be exciting," said the Louisiana State football coach, who declared Saturday he would retire after the Jan. I Sugar Bowl game against Nebraska. "Even if it's just sitting off the oack of a boat.'

Arnsparger made his surprise announcement moments after Saturday night s victory over intra-state rival Tulane that gave LSU a 9-2 scason. Sunday, he denied reports he had agreed to become athletic director at the University of Florida, and said he might withdraw from athletics entirely.

The 59-year-old coach said he would not speculate whether one of his assistants would succeed him.

AUSTIN, Texas (UPI) - Having fired Fred Akers, who won 73 percent of his games with the Longhorne, Texas must mow find a football coach who can do better.

"If I had the record Texas had, I'd be the mayor of Houston." said Rice coach Jerry Berndt, who called Akers' dismissal travesty of justice."

"Here's a coach who seemed to be a class guy and has one of the best records in the nation, and some people don't like him." "That's what happens when a few wealthy alums and a bunch of politics get involved in college football." said Fred Curry, a 1957 Texas graduate who has helped organize benefit golf tournaments for Akers. "I think we look extremely bad and very foolish. It's a crying shame. But that's the type of society we live in."

Akers was dismissed Saturday following a 10-year career in which he posted the third-best winning percentage in the Southwest Conference.

Bell toll next for tollner?

One major college coach was fired over the weekend, and another retired. For whom does the bell toll next? According to speculation, Southern Cal's

Ted Tollner.

The University of Texas dismissed Fred Akers Saturday after the Longhorns closed out its first losing seasonin 30 years with with a 16-3 loss to Texas A&M. Southeastern champion and sixth-rated LSU trounced Tulane 37-17 Saturday night. and within hours, Coach Bill Arnspargen informed his players he was resigning after the Jan. 1 Sugar Bowl game against Nebraska.

Rumors were rampant USC Coach Tollner needed a victory over arch-rival Notre Dame to keep his job, and when the Trojans blew a 17-point lead in the fourth quarter Saturday and lost 38-37, Tollner's chances of retaining his position took a turn for the worse.

Southern Cal. 7-4, meets Auburn New Year's Day in the Florida Citrus Bowl, and USC officials are not committing themselves as to Tollner's fate.

"We still have another game to play," a school spokesman said Sunday.

Wilson's Career Best Bounces Buccaneers

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) -Backup quarterback Wade Wilson played the best game of his pro career Sunday in leading the Minnesota Vikings to a 45-13 victory over the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

But quarterback Tommy Kramer, whose sprained thumb is getting better, is expected to be ready for what should be a tough game against the Packers In Green Bay next Sunday.

It would take a miracle for the Vikings (7-6) to make the playoffs. The Chicago Bears (11-2) have clinched the NFC Central Division title. But the Vikings want to win their last three games - at Green Bay and Houston and at home against New Orleans — for 10 victories.

Wilson completed 22 of 33 passes for a career-high 339 yards and three touchdowns against Tampa Bay in the Metrodome Sunday. Kramer said his thumb feels better and he might have played if necessary, but he wasn't needed.

"I thought Wade played well," Vikings Coach Jerry Burns said. "Sometimes when we have the backup in there, everybody plays a little bit harder. "If we weren't moving the ball, Football

Falcons Intercept 4 Passes, Ground Miami To End Skid

MIAMI (UPI) — The Atlanta Falcons followed a time-tested formula to beat the Miami Dolphins 20-14 Sunday and end their losing streak at five. "We knew to beat Miami we had to do two things, and that was to control the ball on the ground and stop the Miami big play." said Falcon Coach Dan Henning, a former Dolphin assistant.

Marino did manage two touchdown passes. One was 54 yards to Mark Duper and the other was a 20-yarder to Jim Jensen, which pulled the Dolphins to within a touchdown with 1:50 to go. Miami tried an on-sides kick, but Falcon wide receiver Stacy Bailey grabbed it on one bounce to secure the victory.

"Our offensive line has had a couple of bad games but we stressed the running game all week and it paid off today." Henning said. "They were opening the holes for Riggs all day and we were able to control the ball."

Riggs happily agreed with the praise of the offensive line.

'They have criticized the line a lot in the past few weeks, but today they blasted off the line and didn't come close to allowing a sack. They were the key to us winning," Riggs said.

Defensively, Henning said his "philosophy was to stress coverages. It seems any time a team tries Moseley, signed last week by Cleveland, kicked a 29-yard field goal with 16 seconds left to hand the Browns a 13-10 overtime victory over Houston.

Nick Lowery, selected by Marv Levy to replace Jan Stenerud as the Kansas City kicker six years ago, missed a field goal in the final minute that allowed Levy's new team to escape with a victory. At Chicago, the Bears improved to 11-2 and clinched their third straight NFC Central title. Butler, who had missed a 28-yard field goal with 58 seconds left in regulation, kicked the game-winner to cap a Bears' drive that began at their 49. Chicago elected to kick after winning the coin toss at the start of overtime.

Butler also missed field goal tries of 52 and 50 yards, and converted a 39-yarder in swirling wind at Soldier Field.

The wind wasn't the problem, I just wasn't kicking good," he said. "The one that I kicked that won the game was farther out than the one I

At St. Louis, Zendejas' second field goal of the game improved he Redskins to 11-2. Washington opened a half-game lead over the New York Glants in the NFC East before a crowd of 35,637 in a constant misty rain and fog. The Giants are 10-2 entering tonight's game at San Francisco.

Zendejas, who struggled earlier this year, particularly on extra points, was relieved by his winning kick.

"It means a lot to kick us into the playoffs," Zendejas said. "I wanted to get the chance. This is wonderful. It will give my teammates and coaches confidence in me."

At Cleveland, Moseley paid immediate dividends to the Browns, who signed him during the week after losing Matt Bahr because of an injury. The victory put the Browns, 9-4, one game ahead of Cincinnati in the AFC Central. Cornerback Frank Minnifield intercepted two passes from Houston's Oliver Luck in overtime, and returned the second one 20 yards to the Oilers' 38.

"I really didn't know what was going to happen to me," said the 38-year-old Moseley. "I figured I was basically unemployed and really had to think about getting a job. It feels very, very good about getting the game-winner."

'New' Montana Won't Scramble Against Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) - Jod Montana leads the San Francisco 49ers against New York tonight minus a dimension he used to beat the Giants in four of the five previous meetings. The game will be televised by Orlando's WFTV-9 at 9 p.m.
The "new" Montana hardly scrambles.

Until this season, the 49ers quarterback was one of the most dangerous in the league when flushed from the pocket. He possessed the uncanny ability to pick out receivers downfield while eluding rushers, and the practice deflated even the best iefenses. Then came came this season's back surgery, and his remarkably swift recovery.

Bill Belichick, the Giants defensive coordinator, says Montana no longers puts himself into a position where he is forced to scramble.

Mentally Tough Becker Turns Back McEnroe In AT&T Finale

ATLANTA (UPI) - Boris Becker credited "mental toughness" for his victory Sunday over John McEnroe in the $500,000 AT&T Challenge. McEnroe blamed his 3-6, 6-3, 7-5 loss on officiating.

McEnroe said two "missed" calls by an official cost him the match in the third set. Trailing 4-3, Becker opened the eighth game with two straight aces, both of which McEnroe argued were faults.

The umpire refused to overrule the calls, and McEnroe eventually got to break point. But Becker held serve to win. "I really had the momentum at 4-3." McEnroe said. "It's unforgivable that a guy should miss two straight calls. I was ready to win that match today and those people changed the whole momentum of that match."

Becker, who won $150,000 to McEnroe's $100,000, diasgreed that the calls allowed him to come back and win.

"In such a match, you get bad calls in the first and second sets, too," he said. "I'm sure he got as many bad '

McKinney Goes Atop Standings

PARK CITY, Utah (UPI) - Tamara McKinney, bolstered by new coaching and equipment, climbed atop the World Cup overall standings after the first season-opening meet held in the United States.

McKinney, from Olympic Valley, Calif., scored 29 points to take the overall lead, finishing second in Sunday's slalom and seventh in the giant slalom Saturday.

"The last couple of years weren't great," said McKinney, who credits in part new head coach Chip Woods for her resurgence. "I learned a lot about myself. I have great boots now and great skis. They're so sweet they make me want to dance.'

Corinne Schmidhauser of Switzerland won the slalom at Park City Sunday on the PayDay run, a change from the much steeper Men's GS run where teammate Erika Hess had won the past two seasons.

Brother, Sister Fall In Golf

TARPON SPRINGS (UPI) - Nicky Goetze of Hull, Ga., and sister Vicki both fought their way to the finals of the boys and girls flights of the American Junior Classic Sunday but lost their championship matches.

Nicky was beaten 4 and 2 in his finals match with Bryan Pemberton of Pleasanton, Calif.; and Vicki lost to Stefania Croce of Milan, Italy, 4 and 3.

Nicky had reached the finals with a 1-up win over Dave Stockton of Redlands, Calif., and Pemberton had beaten Rob McKelvey of Lawrenceville, Ga., 4 and 2 in the semifinals.

Vicki earned her finals berth with a 4 and 2 victory over Michel Lyford of Redlands, Calif.; and Croce beat Debbi Koyama of Monterey Park, Calif., 5 and 4.

Kerrigan Leads Grey Cup Win

VANCOUVER, British Columbia (UPI) — Mike Kerrigan spent four years losing at Northwestern University, and another three years warming the New England Patriots' bench. Now, he's found a home in the Canadian Football League as quarterback of the Grey Cup champion Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

Aided by a defense that forced eight turnovers, Kerrigan threw two touchdown passes Sunday to lead Hamilton to a 39-15 upset of the league-leading Edmonton Eskimos in the 74th Grey Cup CFL championship.

Kerrigan, a 6-foot-4, 215-pound Chicago native, joined the Tiger Cats this summer after realizing his career was at a dead end in the United States.

Duke Kicks Into NCAA Semis

DURHAM, N.C. (UPI) - Tom Stone scored with 4:51 left Sunday to propel Duke into the NCAA Division I soccer semifinals with a 2-1 victory over previously unbeaten Lovola (Md.)

Duke, 16-5-1, advances to meet Harvard, a 2-0 winner Sunday over Hartwick. The time, date and site of the semifinal will be announced Monday.

Loyola, 17-1-4, had its unbeaten streak snapped at 30 games. Joe Koziol scored for the Greyhounds 10 minutes into the second half.

Zoeller Pockets Fast Cash In Skins Game

LA QUINTA, Calif. (UPI) - Fuzzy Zoeller should consider quitting the PGA Tour.

After all, it took him about 10 months on the 1986 circuit to earn $358,000. He won three tournaments, with his victory at Pebble Beach accounting for his largest check, $108,000.

Zoeller has since remembered a much faster way to support his family: play the $450,000 Skins Game. It took him only two days and 18 holes to defend his title and win $370,000 - the biggest payday in American golf history - and that included $135,000 for a measly five-foot putt for par.

The Skins Game is a 4-year-old event in which each hole is a tournament in itself. The first six holes are worth $15,000, the middle six $25,000 and the final six $35,000. If there is no winner on a hole, the prize, or "skin," carries over to the next, where it soon becomes Fuzzy's Funds. So when the Skins Game returns to PGA West next year, you can bet Zoeller will be there, too. To Lee Trevino, Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, the trio he bested this weekend, Zoeller said: "I'll come back. Tell you what I'll do, just for you guys. I'll send a limo for you." Zoeller can buy the limousine with Sunday's loot. In addition to the $135,000 putt on No. 13, he sank a 26-footer for $140,000 on No. 17; an eight-footer for $60,000 on No. 4; and a tap-in for $35,000 and a new car on the final hole. You would think Zoeller would have played certainly not so. On the 13th, Nicklaus missed a routine six-foot putt, allowing Zoeller to pocket the day's first skin. Four holes later, after Zoeller made his long putt, Palmer misread a four-footer that would home. "I did not hit the ball well today," admitted Zoeller, who won all three skins on Sunday's back nine and one of three on Saturday's front side. "I didn't hit one sweet spot.

"It was just a case of being in the right spot at the right time; just one of those days when I happened to skin well."

For the second straight year, Zoeller struck it rich on the par-3s. In 1985, he earned $150,000 on a par-3 en route to a then-Skins Game record $255,000. Three of his four skins this year came on par-3s.

Trevino, playing in the two-day tournament for the first time, collected $55,000 for holing a 68-yard wedge for an eagle during the first round. Palmer earned $25,000 while Nicklaus was blanked to extend his Skins drought to 35 holes.

Louisville Tumbles Third Time

United Press International Pervis Ellison is 3 for 3, and his team is 0-3. Ellison, the Most Valuable Player in last season's NCAA championship game as he led Louisville to a national title, fouled out of the Cardinals' first three games this year, in the Great Alaska Shootout. Louisville, No. 1 in the preseason rankings, lost each time.

"I told you we weren't very good," Coach Denny Crum said. "But no one would believe me."

The 1986 national champions lost 74-70 Sunday to Texas after losing 84-80 Saturday to Northeastern, 84-80, and 69-54 Friday to Washington. Crum said the loss of last year's senior leaders — guards Milt Wagner and Jeff Hall and forward Billy Thompson - has left the Cardinais punchless.

"The people around him are not doing the same thing they did last year," Crum said of Ellison. "As there is more pressure, the more you try to do, leaving more room for error."

In other action Sunday in the Great Alaska Shootout, No. 15 lowa defeated Northeastern 103-80 to win the tournament title.

Tournament Most Valuable Player Roy Marble scored 29 points for the winners, and Northeastern's Reggie Lewis. who scored 29 points in the title game, had a tournament-record three-game total of 84 points.

No. 19 North Carolina State earned third in the Shootout with a 94-82 victory over Utah State, and Division II Alaska-Anchorage stunned Washington 77-75 for fifth.

In other weekend games involving Top 10 teams, No. 2 North Carolina routed Hawaii Loa 118-80 to win the Thanksgiving Festival title, No. 3 Nevada-Las Vegas captured the NIT Classic with a 96-95 double-overtime victory over Western Kentucky, No. 4 Indiana routed Montana State 90-55, No. 5 Purdue deseated Stetson 97-65, No. 6 Kansas beat Tennessee-Martin 88-69, No. 8 Kentucky defeated Austin Peav 71-69, No. 9 Pittsburgh topped Indiana (Pa.) 108-49, while No. 10 Georgia Tech lost in the final of the Central Fidelity Classic in overtime to Richmond 67-62. At Honolulu, Kenny Smith and Joe Popson each scored 6 points to key a 20-6 burst at the outset of the second half, powering North Carolina over Hawaii-Loa. The Tar Heels fell behind in the first half, 22-13, before scoring 10 straight to take command.

At New York, Freddie Banks hit a 3-point shot with 13 seconds left to lift UNLV. Banks finished with a game-high 31 points.

At Bloomington, Ind., Steve Alford scored 24 points to lead Indiana over Montana State in the season opener for both

At Lawrence, Kan., Danny Manning scored 26 points to power Kansas over Tennessee-Martin. The victory was the 600th of Jayhawks Coach Larry Brown's college career.

At Lexington, Ky., Irving Thomas hit a 12-foot jumper with 19 seconds left to lift Kentucky over Austin Peay. which had rallied from a 12point deficit to take a 69-68 lead with 40 seconds to play.

At Richmond, Va. Richmond's Ken Atkinson hit 3 free throws in overtime to lead the Spiders over Georgia Tech. Duane Ferrell of Georgia Tech led all scorers with 20 points.

KESSLER LEADS GEORGIA

SAVANNAH, Ga. (UPI) - Chad Kessler scored 28 points and grabbed 9 rebounds Sunday to lead Georgia to a 79-62 victory over Armstrong State.

The Bulldogs, 2-0, went ahead for good 22.20 on Patrick Hamilton's short jumper with 9:20 left in the first half and moved to a 40-35 halftime lead.

Tim Sellers paced Armstrong State, 0-3, with 26 points and 6 blocks. Toney Mack added 18 points for Georgia.

'Guilty' Wilkins Makes Amends Portland took an 82-81 lead with United Press International about nine minutes remaining.

Pangs of guilt spurred

Atlanta's Dominique Wilkins to create a game-winning, 3-point play Sunday night in the closing stages of the Hawks' victory over the Kings at Sacramento.

Wilkins snapped a 103-103 tie with a twisting jumper from the baseline with 79 seconds left. Atlanta's acrobatic forward was fouled on the play, and conwerted the free throw to send the Hawks to a 113-109 victory.

"I felt I had to do something," said Wilkins, who scored a game-high 27 points. "I let Eddie Johnson get a couple of offensive rebounds for easy baskets in the last few minutes. I felt I owed it to the team to make up for it."

The victory was the sixth in who lead the NBA Central with a throws to subdue Indiana. rebounds.

If the initial random test is positive and a second test also shows drug use. the student would not be allowed to take part in the activity until he testo negative. The school also would arrange for counseling.

But attorneys involved with the proposal say it is unconstitutional.

"The thing that I find most offensive about (testing) is that it infringes upon a person's right to privacy." said Karen Long, an attorney for the Oklahoma Education Association, which represents classroom teachers.

"Under the guise of doing something noble, it just gags me that they are doing things to these students that will affect them for the rest of their lives."

Carmichael said similar testing has been conducted this school year in Texas, California and Tennessee, and educators are happy about the results and response to the programs.

Coleman Stanfield, superintendent of the Hawkins Independent School District in East Texas, said he is pleased with results of his testing program.

in Gallatin, Tenn., high school football players were tested for drugs before the season. Results were not disclosed, but school officials declared the experiment successful.

Voluntary testing also was conducted at Banning High School in the Los Angeles area.

The testing programs have been developed this fall as the country rides a high wave of anti-drug feeling, triggered by President Reagan joining his wife, Nancy, in her long campaign against drug abuse among teenagers.

and former Gov. Pierre DuPont, R-Del., said in announcing his candidacy for the 1988 Republican presidential widespread drug testing of public school students.

Carmichael said he is aware the plan must tiptoe through a constitutional mine field but he said it would withstand a court challenge because it applies only to students involved in extracurricular activities.

Assistant Superintendent Darold Ritchie said in the past two or three years, about half a dozen students who tested positive and one who refused to take the urinalysis were suspended from school.

Carmichael said there is "tremendous community support" for the proposal, which he calls "a caring by the Education Department. 'Are you telling me our schools are so ill-prepared to deal with student nomination that he would order conduct that they are justified trampling on people's right to privacy, right not to provide evidence against themselves and right against unreasonable search and seizure?" she asked.

"That would be like saying we don't want to have criminals here in Bristow. so from here on out we are going to go about randomly searching everybody's house for contraband."

Federal courts have been loathe to allow any public entity to conduct random, voluntary or mandatory drug testing, but there apparently are only two decisions relating to drug testing in public schools.

In one case, a New Jersey school board's decision to include urinalysis But Long disagrees, and she is joined as part of a mandatory physical was struck down two years ago. In the other, a voluntary testing program in Arkadelphia, Ark., was ruled unconstitutional. Lauren Siegel, spokeswoman for the American Civil Liberties Union in New York, said the organization is "very nervous" about the trend toward drug testing of public school students, despite those two court decisions.

Education Department spokesman Tom Lyon said the department has no firm policy on drug testing of public school students because, "The law is still evolving on this issue."

"I think we generally take the position that you've got to have some kind of probable cause" to conduct any kind of drug testing, Lyon said. Howard Carroll, a National Education Association spokesman, said studies have shown there is little drug abuse on school grounds and educators resent using schools as "collecting stations" to test for drug abuse.

The Jesse Fields Celebrate 60th Wedding Anniversary

Dec. 1 marks a special day for Viola and Jesse Field, 2317 S. Sanford Ave., Sanford, who were married 60 years ago today. The Fields exchanged their wedding vows in 1926 at the Messiah Lutheran Church, Williamsport, Pa. The Rev. R.G. Bannen was the officiating clergyman for the traditional ceremony.

The couple are the parents of two daughters, Phyllis A. Sanchez of Melbourne, and Shirley G. Lesher of Williamsport. They have eight grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

in celebration of the cherished diamond anniversary, the couple's granddaughter. Elaine Christian, entertained at a family dinner at her home in Palm Bay. A festive anniversary motif was carried out in the home decor, appointments and dinner.

The Fields have lived in Florida for 33 years with the last 13 years spent in Sanford. He has always been self-employed in his own service stations where he was also an automobile mechanic. Today, he still repairs automobiles.

Mrs. Fields has been a homemaker during her entire married life and her hobby is needlework. What makes Viola and Jesse Field tick when it comes to home, health and happiness? Mrs. Field said, "We don't drink or smoke. Oh. we have our spats, but we get along fine. We have two lovely daughters and we take care of each other." Her advice to others who desire a long, happy marriage: "Overlook each other's faults." — Doris Dietrich

Reagan Untouched By Past Scandals

By Helen Thomas UPI White House

Reporter WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Reagan has been untouched by scandal during his tenure while some top appointees have quit or been dismissed under fire, a record that inspired his critics to call Reagan "the Teffon president."

None of the accusations of illegal or questionable conduct have directly rubbed off on Reagan, whose personal popularity ratings in the public opinion polls have remained high.

Rep. Pat Schroeder, D-Colo., dubbed Reagan's apparent invulnerability to the problems of the men and women he chose to help run the government as a "Teflon" coating.

There are many reasons why Reagan has not been tarred by the misdeeds of his appointees. One is his atyle of operation; he favors more of a board chairman than a chief operating officer, delegating authority rather than wielding it himself. Another critical reason is his staff's ardent desire to guard Reagan against unpleasant developments, sometimes appearing to give him information only on a "need to know" basis.

There's No Excuse For Tobacco Habit

DEAR DR. GOTT - I am male. 40, a paramedic and studying to become a registered nurse. I use smokelesa tobacco, but do not spit. I don't think that dipping on the job is any more offensive than smoking, eating and poor oral hygeine. What do you think?

DEAR READER - As a paramedic, you should know better. Smokeless tobacco causes cancer of the mouth and upper intestinal tract. I hope that as you continue your training, you will come to see that tobacco in any form is harmful. The use of tobacco is a habit best left unstarted.

In the meantime, I pity anyone on whom you have performed mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

DEAR DR. GOTT - Every time my hands get cold, even after I've run them in cold water. they get big splotches of red on them, itch and feel hot. What could cause this?

DEAR READER - The sudden 24 See duck application of cold to the hands can cause an unequal constriction of blood vessels or a rebound type of blood-vessel widening called vaso-dilatation. in some people, this seems to be due to an allergy or confusion of the nerves that open and close the capillaries in the skin. Check with your doctor to see if there is a way for you to control these unpleasant symptoms.

DEAR DR. GOTT - For the past 10 months I have had a recurring sore throat, my tongue feels raw and I get severe night sweats. My doctor treats me with antibiotics, but the symptoms keep coming back. I have a tooth with a chronic abscess. Could this be the problem?

DEAR READER - Yes. it could. Infection in the mouth can cause sore throat, raw tongue and night sweats. Have the tooth attended to and see if your symptoms disappear.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am a diabetic on 35 units of insulin a day. Several months ago my whole left side became numb from top to bottom. All kinds of tests were done and nothing showed up. My diabetes doctor told me it was due to diabetes. Do you agree with his diagnosis? DEAR READER - I'm afraid I'd take issue with your doctor. consequence of diabetes, such as this common problem. Send $1 a second opinion in hope of

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Today's deal was published by master Krzysztof Wagrodski in a Polish magazine. When the deal occurred in the team championships, none of the best players made the siam. Can you find a way to make six hearts, looking at all the hands? The contract is a good one, needing only a 2-2 split in hearts or 3.2 in diamonds. Even if diamonds divide 4-1, the defender holding three hearts might also hold the four diamonds, enabling declarer to ruff the fourth diamond with dummy's heart nine.

In fact, declarer ruffed the opening lead, cashed A-K of hearts, then played a diamond to dummy's queen and cashed his A-K of diamonds, East discarding two spades. Declarer led a fourth diamond, ruffing West's high dia-mond in dummy. East overruffed and played the spade ace. Declarer ruffed but was still left with a club loser, since he had no entry to dummy's good spade king.

Is there a winning line? Sure After A-K of hearts, let declare play A-K of diamonds. As before East will refuse to ruff, signifying that he probably holds the clui king. (If he does not have tha card, he should ruff and play club.) So let declarer play the third diamond to dummy. Nov declarer simply ruffs anothe spade and plays anothe diamond. When West plays ht high diamond, the spade king thrown from dummy. If Wes now leads a club, declarer wil play low from the dummy an East-West will not get a clui trick. If West leads anothe spade, dummy will trump an declarer will chuck his losin club 10.
