Committee Chairman Sees Better Chance Of Passage After Elections Are Over

Wage Hour Bill Is Called Fair

Representative Dies Opposes Measure As Against The South

WASHINGTON, Apr. 28.—(AP)—Chairman Mansfield (D-Tex.) of the House Rivers and Harbors Committee said it was unlikely Congress would act at this session on legislation to authorize the completion of the Florida ship canal.

Although the committee has taken no formal action on that point, the chairman said it was "extremely doubtful" the rules committee would be willing to give it the right-of-way in the House.

The rivers and harbors group, he said, had indicated no desire to seek its consideration. A bill, seeking the authorization for Army engineers to complete the $200,000,000 waterway, received a favorable report by Mansfield's committee last year.

The report will stand only until the end of the 75th Congress, but Mansfield said the project would stand a better chance of favoring action by Congress next year than this year.

He said some members told him they are willing to vote for the canal before the elections because they feared political consequences back home.

Chairman Norton (D-NJ) of the House Labor Committee declared today that the revamped wages and hour bill was "the most fair and equitable" one his committee could draft.

Chairman O'Connor (D-NY) of the Rules Committee, told the newsmen no decision would be made until tomorrow on Mrs. Norton's request that the bill be given a preferential status.

Meanwhile Representative Martin Dies (D-Texas) said "in my judgment the South is not opposed to a wage and hour bill in line with the Democratic platform (Continued on Page 21B1)

Candidates Will Speak In Rally At Court House

All Seminole County candidates have been invited to speak at a political rally to be held in front of the Court House Friday night beginning promptly at 8:00 o'clock and under the auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, according to J. E. Rowland, Jr., president of the Junior Trade Body.

Mr. Rowland stated that each of the candidates or speakers for candidates will be allowed to speak about eight minutes and also that a sound truck and microphones will be used to amplify the addresses for the benefit of the listeners.

In discussing the rally, Mr. Rowland emphasized the fact that the organization of which he is president is an interested party in the election and that its chief interest is to see that the public interest is being served.

He stated that at the rally, efforts will be made to induce eligible voters who have not registered to do so before the deadline Saturday night.

Candidates will speak at a similar rally and will appear in radio spots.

In this rally, all candidates have been invited to speak for about fifteen minutes and their addresses will be given to the community through the medium of the radio.

The first public meeting of the First Citizens Radio Company yesterday to raise the building fund in the Federal Theater and to erect a new radio building is scheduled for 8:00 p. m. at the Federal Theater.

'CHAIN LETTER PROPAGANDA?'

Waving aloft some of the missives he said he has received, Rep. John Taber, Republican of New York, accused Harry I. Hopkins, WPA Administrator, of inspiring "chain letter propaganda" in President Roosevelt's pump priming program.

"On the bottom of some of the letters," said Taber, "was a line saying 'make one copy for your congressman and send this to four other persons'."

Henry Ford Says Drivers Safety Tests Are Taken By 206 Persons

NEW YORK, Apr. 28.—(AP)—Henry Ford, fresh from a conference with President Roosevelt, told interviewers today the President "is trying to do the best he can like anybody else."

The remark was prompted when someone commented that Ford had never appeared to be in such genial mood. Was it because he came away from the White House with new optimism?

"Well, you never heard me say anything about the President, 'did you?'" the automobile manufacturer smiled. "What's the use? He's trying to do the best he can like everybody else."

Of the conference itself he would say nothing. Conditions generally are going to change for the better, he said, and he doubts that there will be war in Europe despite gloomy dispatches from abroad.

For an hour the President and Ford talked at luncheon yesterday in the little "family dining room" at the White House and continued the conversation for another hour in the President's study, the oval room upstairs.

Then, with associates showing newspapermen aside, the motor magnate left the White House, took his place in a gleaming limousine and drove to Union Station to keep an engagement in New York.

"What did you talk about?"—How did you get along?—Did you give him any advice? The reporter shouted at Ford during his scramble across the broad front porch of the White House.

"We don't do that," was Ford's reply, and he waved his questioners away with jerky little gestures of his right arm. He apparently meant that he didn't divulge his discussions with the President.

Sholtz Will Speak Over Radio Hookup

Dave Sholtz will have an important message for every WPA worker in Florida in his state-wide broadcast tomorrow night, 8:00 to 11:00 p. m., at the home of Samuel K. B. Wilkinson, 1001 N. E. 1st St., Jacksonville.

The broadcast will originate in Jacksonville and the following five stations will participate: WJMR, Jacksonville; WQAM, Miami; WDOX, Orlando; WDAF, Tampa; and WCOA, Pensacola.

Sholtz will discuss his fight for the welfare of Florida and the program he proposes to support if sent to the Senate. Mr. Wilkinson declared.

TO RAZE BUILDING

A permit was granted to the First Citizens Radio Company yesterday to raze the building next to the Federal Theater and to erect a new radio building.

Bishops Okey Union Moves Of Methodists

Bishop Dobbs Reads Commendation Of Unification Plan In Important Talk

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Apr. 28.—(AP)—The Union with northern Methodists described by opponents as likely of church destruction, was "commended" to the Methodist Episcopal Church, south today in a history-making address from the College of Bishops.

Headed by Bishop Hoyt M. Dobbs of Shreveport, La., the Episcopal address embodied recommendations of the bishops to the general conference, and "commended" the unification plan to be formally presented tomorrow as worthy of "through consideration and such action as is fitting the most important action" before the church since its organization following a split in 1844 over slavery.

Actual debate on the plan of union tentatively is scheduled for Friday morning. A two-thirds majority is required for passage, following approval of the required three-fourths of those voting in the annual conference.

Refusal of the North Mississippi conference to adopt the union plan will be the basis for a legal attack on unification if the conference votes for the merger. All other annual conferences of Southern Methodists approved the merger.

Bishop Denny cited the racial issue as a primary danger of unification, in an address last night before the laymen's organization for preservation of the Southern Methodist Church.

Bishop John M. Moore, senior active bishop in the church, took issue with his colleague concerning the negro question, contending it was not an issue in unification.

"Race relations are not concerned," he said, forming the plan of union "Southern in origin," and providing assurance of "integration of the best Southern tradition."

The plan of union would place the 360,000 negro Methodists in separate jurisdiction.

Sound Movies To Be Featured At Fair For Schools

Free sound movies will be one of the features of the entertainment planned for the Seminole County school fair and carnival to be held in the Seminole High School on May 6 and 7.

The films will be projected on a screen erected on the campus and the new Junior High School sound projector will be used in addition to the comedies, educational pictures will be shown depicting methods of instruction, particularly the technique of visual education.

All of the schools of the County will participate in the affair which is sponsored by members of the Seminole Chapter of Future Farmers. Prizes will be awarded for winning exhibits entered both by classes and individual students.

In addition to the exhibits, games and other entertainment will take place on the athletic field for the entertainment of the visitors. A small admission charge will be made.

Canning Specialist To Give Exhibitions

Exhibitions will be "Tomatoes and Tomato Products" and "Canned Corn Products."

JAPAN STRIKES AT RUSSIAN AID TO CHINA

This map shows where Japan has launched a new campaign in northern China, designed to cut off supplies from Russia to the Chinese armies. Arrows indicate the direction of the Japanese advance. The ultimate objective is to seize Lanchow, the concentration point for Russian planes and motor convoys. Most of this campaign was fought in Shensi province where the Chinese attack began last Oct. 1.

New Occupational License Statute Hikes Revenues

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 28.—(AP)—Florida's new occupational license law "with teeth in it" has produced more than half a million dollars for the treasury since last Oct. 1.

The comptroller's office reported collections of $529,169.81 for the current license year, against $306,238.83 received in the previous full year. Some additional collections may be received before this year expires Sept. 30.

Some licenses were increased by the 1937 Legislature, accounting for some of the increased collections. However, officials here said enforcement provisions of the law probably were responsible for most of the increase.

Legislative sponsors said the state needed an occupational license law "with teeth in it." They wrote a law which provides, among other things, that the tax collector, state comptroller, state treasurer or other official to whom the tax is payable may issue warrants for delinquents and arrest and require sheriff to levy upon real estate or personal property for the amount of license unpaid.

The Occupational License Law of 1937 contained for the first time the so-called "hook" license provision under which roadside fence hells must pay $100 a year. The supreme court upheld the exemption from this license law, as well as exemption from other occupational licenses, for crippled, deaf and dumb persons, or invalids physically incapable of manual labor, and of Civil War veterans of the Civil War who use their capita only, not in excess of $300. A doctor's certificate is required to establish cause for exemption.

Paul Redfern Was Killed In Crash, Explorer Declares

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, Apr. 28.—(AP)—Theodore J. Waldeck, New York explorer returning from four months of perilous search for some trace of Paul Redfern, missing American aviator, declared today that Redfern was dead.

"I found the place where his plane crashed and definite proof that the gallant aviator is dead," Waldeck said.

Redfern disappeared in August, 1927, in an attempt to fly non-stop from Brunswick, Ga., to Brazil.

$2,000 Collected In Fund Drive Of Salvation Army

Over $2,000 has been secured in the Salvation Army drive for funds, Capt. R. E. Rose announced today. This is $1,500 short of the goal of $3,500 set at the beginning of the campaign but Capt. Rose said he is confident that most of the quota will have been secured when the final reports are made.

No report has yet been received from Fern Park, Ovidis or Ocoee, Capt. Rose said. He expects these to swell the total considerably.

Hillard Castleberry of the Fern Park Committee stated, Capt. Rose said, that every white and colored man, woman and child of the Fernwood had agreed to donate wages to the amount of one hour's labor to the Army's fund. How much this will amount to, he did not know.

Capt. Rose urged all workers in the city who have not made reports on the canvass to do so at once. Funds cannot be allocated, he asserted, until the campaign is finished, and the campaign will not be over officially until all reports have been made.

Capt. Rose expressed his appreciation for the efforts of General Chairman Fred R. Wilson "who has very ably steered the campaign work" and also for the splendid assistance he has had from various others.

J. I. Ingley, vice-chairman of the drive, also received the commendation of Capt. Rose for his assistance and cooperation.

The Salvation Army leader said that in behalf of himself, Mr. Wilson and Mr. Ingley, he wished to publicly thank The Herald for its cooperation in the drive.

Anglo-French Diplomats To Complete Pact

Close Military Alliance Is Seen As Function Of Paris, London Activities

Japs Advance On Sino Rail Center

Rebel Forces Drive Against Sagunto In Face Of Rains

The council in London's busy Downing Street became the pivot of European diplomacy today while the world's war brought fresh Japanese success in China and a new insurgent drive in Spain to "pocket" a strategic sector of the government's eastern coast.

British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, French Premier Edouard Daladier and their foreign ministers, Viscount Halifax and Georges Bonnet, met to put the finishing touches on a plan of closely coordinated military activity.

The version of the functioning of the London Paris axis was that it would gear France and Britain so closely together that one could not go to war without the other.

Czechoslovakia, having refused the demands of Konrad Henlein, leader of the Nazi Sudekian Germans for neutralization of its foreign policy, would like to see Britain and France issue a strong declaration on the central European situation.

Japan's invigorated south Shantung army was reported to have driven within 100 miles of the Lanchow railway after regaining ground lost early this month in its greatest reverse.

The Japanese reported a hole had been blasted in the Chinese lines some 50 miles east of the vital rail center, Shchow, and that their artillery was within range of the Lanchow railway, the backbone of the 500-mile central China front.

The war in Spain was slowed up by heavy rains but, despite the weather, General Jose Varela's insurgent army drove against Sagunto, threatening to "pocket" government forces facing the frontal push north of Castellon de la Plana.

Yesterday's wave after wave of attacking Loyalists, mostly youths in their teens, were reported annihilated by insurgent machine gun fire south of Alcalá de Chivert on the coastal highway to Valencia as they were pushed forward by "execution" squads.

Insurgent authorities at Alcalá de Chivert, claiming documentary evidence, said a barrier of reserves with machine guns and rifles was thrown up behind the attacking youths with orders to fire on their comrades if the latter retreated "without superior orders."

Few of the Loyalists faced the fire of their men, the insurgents said, because whole lines of government men were wiped out by insurgent machine guns and hand grenades.

Gen. Miguel Aranda's nationalistists, after shattering the counter assault, were reported to have pushed southward upon Tortosell, threatening that coastal communications center, and reaching a point barely 10 miles from Castellon de la Plana. Castellon is 30 miles north of Valencia along the coast.

For six hours the government hurled solidly manned troops against nationalist trenches near Alcebre, through driving rain and ankle deep mud, in an effort to stem Generalissimo Francisco Franco's drive down the coast upon Castellon de la Plana and Valencia.

THE POET

A poet lived in Gallies,
Whose mother dearly knew him—
And his beauty like a cooling tree
Drew many people to him.

He loved the speech of simple
men,
And little children's laughter,
And came they always, came
again,
As went—they followed after.

He had sweet-hearted things to say,
And he was solemn only
When people were unkind . . .
That day
He would stand there straight
And lonely.

And tell them what they ought
to do;
"Love other folk," he pleaded,
"As you love me and I love you!"
But almost no one heeded.

A poet died in Gallies,
They stared at him and slow ly
What would they do to you and me
If we could say we knew him?

Spain as soon as the war is over is about to be as good as Politics holds the spotlight in Seminole County this week, what with political rallies in Orléans, Lima and Sanford. By Saturday night, most folks should know how they are going to vote

. . . except those who vote like the last fellow they talk to.

Business men who heard Senator Pepper say that if they wanted to borrow a hundred dollars from the RFC and couldn't get it, to just let him know and he thought he could do something about it would do well to let him know before election day.
It has been our experience that you can get more action out of a politician before election than you can afterward.

Realists are warning Americans that if they do not use their pennies more they are liable to lose the use of the altogether. Men all at their desks all day, they sit down when they drive to work in their cars. They sit down when they ride in street cars or on buses or subways. They sit in chairs, or at the work bench.
And then they go home to sit by the fire and think. No wonder there are so many "sit down strikes."

Some chap writing in the Tampa Tribune wants to amend the constitution so that only those who contribute to the financial support of the government can vote.
The "golden rule" set up about 25 years ago—that seems to be adequate for the purpose. No. 1. Deal with a better way would be to eliminate hidden taxation, raise government revenues by direct taxation. Why let the little man live believing they aren't taxed?

LaFollette of Wisconsin
is expected to be the "Big Navy"
candidate in spite of the obvious fact that he is taking issue in every other way with the country in the world. He is sure to be a shock to many.

More War Talk

There was more war talk in the United States yesterday than has been heard in a long time. Senator Wheeler asserted that the "Big Navy" program of the Administration is dangerously designed "to police the world", while Senator Pittman of the powerful Foreign Relations Committee, declared that the best way to keep out of war is to be prepared for war.

Meanwhile thousands of college students from one end of the country to the other went on a strike against war, listened to oratory against war, and took the revised "Oxford oath" to preserve the peace. They dramatized their peaceful aims with such stunts as the Boston Tea Party and a mass exodus to the South Seas in the event of war.

No doubt the attitude of these college students is reflected in the hopes and opinions of every other young man in America who would find himself called into the first draft in the event the United States should become engaged in war. And we haven't the slightest doubt that there isn't a sane man in America who does not fervently hope that this country can remain at peace with the world.

What we have to keep in mind, however, is that peace is not a one-sided act. We can't just resolve to be peaceful ourselves and then expect necessarily to avoid war. Unfortunately it doesn't take two to make a war; one can do it. All the peace societies in America, all the student pledges not to fight, all the "Neutrality Acts" Congress can devise, and all the good intentions of the Administration, cannot keep this country out of war, if we are attacked by another nation.

There are in the world today certain nations which are definitely "on the march", certain nations which are armed to the teeth, and like mountain brigands, are moving stealthily around looking for something they can steal, whether it be the property of their own nationals, the territory of a neighboring country, or the foreign trade, rights, or property of other nations. To say that they would not attack, or affront, the United States is silly, for they have already done so.

It may be that the best way to do under such circumstances is to swallow pride, abandon our rights in China, give up our interests and property in Spain, Central Europe, and other parts of the world, adopt an isolationist policy. But if we thus showed ourselves to be so cowardly to the rest of the world, is there any guarantee that their aggressions would stop there? Knowing that we would not fight, would they not next be in the Philippines, Alaska, South America, or within our own borders?

Under existing world conditions, is not the best way to preserve peace for ourselves to make ourselves so terribly strong, in the air, and on land and sea, that no nation, no matter how bold or mad, will dare to attack us?

A Sound Warning

Prospects for the renewed construction of the cross state canal in view of the latest pump-priming program of the government in Washington have given rise to many warnings throughout the southern part of the state that those who are against the construction of this canal should be everlastingly on their guard. Not the least of these is the following from the Herald, published in Sarasota where celery growing is almost as important as it is here:

"Of course there is no great demand for a ship canal across Florida except on the part of Jacksonville land speculators and some of the up-state politicians who will control the expenditure of the money," the Sarasota paper says. "The shipping interests have said that they would not use the canal. The people of Florida would get no advantage out of it, except very incidentally. About the only interests, aside from the real estate speculators and the gravy dispensing politicians, who would get anything out of it are the oil and farm and grove shippers of Texas.

"It would enable them to get their products to the eastern market at cheaper rates, the latter in competition with Florida farm and grove interests. As a national enterprise it is in a class with the projected Quaddy project in Maine to utilize the tide to produce power that New England does not need and cannot use, at the expense of the general taxpayers.

"This canal project assumes special importance at the present time because Sen. Claude Pepper is for it with his usual 100 percent enthusiasm. If he is endorsed at the polls on May 3, as the candidate of the party for the senate, he will again join the President in fostering the canal on the program of public improvements which are to absorb the millions the President has asked the Congress to appropriate to bring back prosperity. It is estimated that the canal will cost $175,000,000. Some engineers put the figure much higher.

"If the government has $175,000,000 of the people's tax money to allocate to Florida, it need not go far to find other, and much more desirable and much more useful, projects to which to devote it. At all events it may be well for the voters of Florida to give a little thought to the matter as to whether or not they think it a good idea to send Claude Pepper back to Washington to help the President to put over this comparatively useless and altogether wasteful project."

LIFT THE FOG!

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON — Notes on state-
manship.

Note-of-confusion: More than one person has come from the White House convinced by the affable Roosevelt manner that he has won approval for his ideas
when such is not the case. If no harm results, the President lets
the confusion continue.

The other day Representative Scott of California came from the White House confident that the President had approved his resolution calling for a public listing of nations which had violated
treaties to which the United States was a party.

The President could not let that stand. He didn't want to be put in the position of initiating a move to put the nuisance nations on the spot. He told a press conference emphatically that he neither approved nor disapproved the resolution—that he just declined to pass on it.

A Snap Judgment
Note - of - suspense: President Roosevelt is getting a pair of suspenders from one of the toppest ranking style designers in America
—Elizabeth Hawes of New York.
It came about this way. Secretary of War Woodring was conferring with the President, and in a moment of deep thought permitted an idle thumb to slip under one of his suspenders. A loud and vibrant "snap" was the result as he pulled the elastic strap out and let it smack back against the secretarial chest.

The President was delighted no end and asked the embarrassed secretary where to get such resounding suspenders. Mr. Woodring said he would get the President an even nobler pair. Miss Hawes designed them, a creation

Pepper Preaching Hymns Of Hate Is Charge Of Wilcox

JACKSONVILLE—Mark Wilcox
candidate for the United States Senate, speaking yesterday in Palatska, St. Augustine and again here last night, charged Claude Pepper with "preaching hymns of hate" in his effort to get re-elected to the Senate.

Declaring that the country is in another "economic tail spin," Wilcox said "this is no time to sit up strike between labor and industry, or to array one class of our citizens against another."

He said that Pepper apparently would put business in a "strait-jacket," thus adding to the confusion and uncertainty existing in the country and causing additional unemployment.

"Instead of hymns of hate," Wilcox declared, "we should be striving for a spirit of conciliation and cooperation between employer and employe."

Wilcox asserted that the forces which caused the recent great depression were again at work and now more than ever it is imperative that strong, courageous men be sent to the Senate. He said it is doubtful if the nation could survive another "economic collapse"
such as it experienced in 1929.

The speaker again denounced what he characterized as the "mendacious use of solid money for political purposes" and charged that WPA workers are being payed on the payroll to campaign for Pepper.

"Ragunomics of the outcome of this election," he stated, "depended on the fact that the country is in a state of confusion
of the whole nation."

in blue with golden stars to hold up the Presidential pants.

Prayerful note: Two senators stepped off the senatorial trolley
and hurried toward the senate floor.

"We are late," said one. "I guess we will miss the benefit of Reverend Phillips' blessing."
"Oh, he prays all over the universe," replied the other "so he'll reach us."

The Show Goes On
Swing Note: Representative Earl McHenry of Michigan took his four-year-old grandson into the House chamber to get a close-up of the members in operation.
The House was at its best with one member in front flailing the air with his arms and shattering the air with oratory, while the other members continued their more or less rhythmic drone of conversation. The child took one look at the circling tops of seats
and the orator at the podium.

"Granddaddy," he asked
"where's the architect?"

Reciprocity note: At the same time Horace Russell, general counsel of the Home Owners Loan Corporation, was sending out those much-criticized franked letters in behalf of former members of the agency's legal staff, his friends were writing letters to senators recommending him for a newly created place on the District of Columbia circuit court of appeals. Our best information is that he knew the letters to senators were being sent out, but that he did not prompt them. Russell was well liked by his colleagues in federal employ. After his resignation under house fire for alleged misuse of the free government frank, he planned to return to Atlanta to practice.

pledge of 1936 which specifically called for joint action by the states and the federal government. It was upon this platform that the Democratic Party went to the country and the nation rejected the kind of wage and hour
bill that the Democrats pledged themselves to enact.

"The South is so much opposed to sweep shop conditions, child labor, low pay and long hours on any other action of the Country," the Times continued. "While we do not have the terrible conditions that prevail in the mine and tenement quarters of the East, we naturally sympathize with those opinions and would like to all things to do away with this terrible condition as well as help our own working class."

NATURALLY SUSPICIOUS

"We are naturally suspicious of any measure which vests wide discretion in some bureaucrat like in Washington. Our experience with boards and commissions has not been very encouraging. For instance, the Federal Reserve has been accused of being more than they are in the South."

The WPA which claims we are discriminated against to the point of being Southern workers and that the WPA workers are paid less than in the North is just what we have been warned about on many occasions
and we are naturally suspicious
of it.

It is a fact that the WPA is a very important part of the government and we should be suspicious of it.

"Was it pleasant?" a reporter

"Sure."

The White House was equally firm about declining to say what the two had talked about.

"There will be no statement
here, either now or later," said Stephen T. Early, the President's secretary.

But G. Hall Roosevelt, a brother instrumental in arranging the meeting, and was one of those present, told the reporters the discussion involved "nothing that smacked of commercialism."

"It was just a pleasant family

ferring to the old Massachusetts
hostelry which Ford recently re-

(This political advertisement

It has come to my attention that doubt exists as to my relation to the Townsend Plan. It is true that in a previous campaign I directed some criticism toward the national officers, but I have always been wholeheartedly in favor of the Townsend Plan,
which is Bill H. R. 4199,
now pending in Congress.
You know that there was a change in certain national offices following the time I made such critical statements.
I am now able to say that the present officials of the Townsend Club, including Doctor Townsend, meet with my hearty approval, and if I am elected I will support
all legislation which will aid
the ultimate nation-wide passage of the Townsend Plan, as I am 100 percent
for the Townsend Plan.

With tears in his eyes, this prisoner is shown in Denver, Colo., as he told police he is Leonard Joseph Zolotky, a fugitive from a Florida prison where he was serving a life term for the slaying of Detective H. WHITNEY'S BROTHER WITNESS IN SEC PROBE

TOTTERING WALL HAMPERS RESCUE WORKERS

Rescue work in the wreckage of a building that collapsed in the business section of Phenix City, Ala., and killed 20 persons was hampered at first by the tottering wall (right) which threatened to crash into the ruins. Many of the doctors who were called to the scene feared the death toll would rise still higher.

STREET OF 14 STEPS...
Rue de Degres, Paris is the narrowest street in France's capital. It is so narrow that it is hardly a street at all in the common sense of the word. This odd little avenue is composed entirely of 14 steps that lead up to a ramp between two tall houses and it is so broad that a horse-drawn carriage can pass through the Rue de Degres. There are no shops, restaurants or numbers along it and it has no place in the Paris of today.

SLAVERY STILL EXISTS...
Abraham Lincoln said of the slavery situation "We have finished the job."
He referred to the Thirteenth Amendment to the U. S. Constitution which includes these all important words: "Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist in the United States."
Strange as it seems, the Amendment passed in 1865, actually legalized slavery in that important exception—as a punishment for crime. Prisoners sentenced to hard labor (convicted) are slaves under the Federal Constitution.

Horseless Carriage vs. Horse and Buggy!

Sanford's first automobile owner set out one day to show-up a group going to Orlando by horse and buggy. He chugged proudly past them as their horses reared in terror; later had to tinker desperately over his stalled machine while the horse drivers rolled by him. Six times more this happened. The horse-drawn party reached Orlando first.

But the automobile's enthusiasm for doing things the modern way is the kind of spirit that built this area. Ever more progressive, our orange growers have attained the greatest production per acre in the state—are among the top four counties in shipment. Our celery growers plant 52,000 plants per acre and get stalks famed for quality—lead all other celery regions in quantity. Our truck gardeners and poultry raisers are fast gaining important positions.

The Atlantic Coast Line Railway division headquarters are here. This has become truly the Port of Central Florida. Lumber and planing mills have been built here, crate manufacturers, paper wrapper plants, the world's largest initial training plant; distributing organizations for groceries, oil products and other goods; seed companies—a number of businesses. These things show how Sanford now does things the modern way.

Climax Mother's Day Entertainment With Refreshments

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
Climax the Mother's Day entertainment with refreshments served from a tea table brightened with spring blossoms.

Be careful not to overload the tea table. It's small plan to serve only the beverages from it. Arrange the glasses and cups around the punch bowl or tea pot, so the pouring will be easy. Provide a background of colorful flowers and candles. Then arrange the sandwiches, cookies, cakes, mints and nuts on an adjoining table.

Sherbet is refreshing for spring serving. Pass it in small glass cups. If the group is small and the day isn't too warm you might even serve it out of a large bowl at one end of the table.

A gallon of sherbet (or punch) will serve about thirty persons. Sandwiches are almost a necessity. They're easy to serve and as simple to prepare as you wish to make them. They should be wrapped in a damp cloth and stored in a cool place until tea time. Allow four sandwiches to a person.

Here are some suggestions for sandwich fillings:
Ham relish. Mix half a cup of chopped, cooked ham, a third of a cup of diced celery, a tablespoon of minced sweet pickles, a teaspoon of minced onion and a fourth of a cup of salad dressing.

Fruit delight. Combine half a cup of crushed pineapple, a fourth of a cup of orange marmalade, a third of a cup of cottage cheese, two tablespoons each of currant jelly and cream. (Note: Use on Boston brown bread.)

Flah delicacy. Add half a cup of tuna and four tablespoons of salad dressing to a third of a cup of celery, and two tablespoons each of minced pimientos, stuffed olives and pickle relish.

Cucumber piquant. Combine a third of a cup each of diced cucumbers and celery, two tablespoons of diced green pepper, one tablespoon of minced parsley and four tablespoons of mayonnaise. Add a little salt and paprika.

Cheese melter. Mix a fourth of a cup each of white cream cheese, pimiento and cottage cheese, a fourth of a cup of diced celery, a tablespoon each of pimientos and olive. Add two tablespoons of salad dressing. Spread on brown or graham bread.

Buckwheat bread. Nut, date, prune, bran, orange and various fruit breads are all available.

Cakes and cookies may be served plain or frosted with pastel-colored icings decorated with candies, coconut, nuts or candied fruits.

Salted nuts and mints add a festive note to the table. Nuts should be heated for ten minutes in a slow oven to assure crispness.

MOTHER'S DAY CAKES

2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or other shortening
2 cups granulated sugar
4 eggs, well beaten
4 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once. Measure. Add baking powder and salt. Sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly. Add sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, and beat well. Add flour, alternately with milk, add a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Bake in greased pan, 15x22 inches, in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 35 minutes, or until done. When cold, cut into different shapes. Frost. Decorate with sweetened coconut, tiny colored candies, silver dragees, or bits of citron.

SEVEN MINUTE FROSTING

2 egg whites, unbeaten
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 tablespoons water
1/2 teaspoon light corn syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla
Combine egg whites, sugar,

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gelaster have returned to their home in Pittsburgh after spending the winter in Miami and Fern Park.

Local friends of Gordon Barnett, candidate for re-election to the State Legislature are watching his campaign with interest and wishing him the best of luck. Mrs. Geo. Kingley and Miss Perkins of Altamonte Springs called on several friends here Monday.

Fern growers are busy this week with Mother's Day orders. The Women's Club is making great preparations for their annual picnic to be held Saturday at Sandal Springs. It bids fair to be a happy community event.

Mrs. Prudence Brena is very busy with her adult classes and is making good contacts with those seeking education.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Merrill expects to spend some of the summer in Mexico.

Miss Scardfield is taking her house with wood fibre which greatly improves her rooms.

Ms. A. D. Reeves is back again after a long visit in St. Petersburg.

A half-dozen negro church desecrators who had come to blows over the hiring of a preacher, were hauled into the municipal court at Kissimmee last week. Taking his text from the Book of Matthew, Mayor Judge A. F. Crosby preached them a sermon which had them shouting "Amen" at its conclusion and which resulted in an old time prayer meeting and a grand reunion at the Church.

G-Men Bunch 16 Hits With Four Errors To Take Contest 22 to 1 Bloom Hurls Two-Hit Game For Gainesville To Take Initial Encounter Of Two Clubs In '38

The Lookouts last night dropped a contest to the heavy hitting Gainesville G-Men before a large gathering at Harris Field by a score of 22 to 1 as the two teams clashed for the initial time this season. The Lookouts used three pitchers during the contest and the trio gave up 16 hits while Art Bloom, hurling for the victors, held the Sanford aggregation to two hits, both of them recorded by Willie Paz, the Lookouts' new catcher. G-Men, Lookouts Clash On Local Diamond Tonight

The Gainesville G-Men and the Lookouts clash on the local diamond at 8:15 o'clock tonight for the first encounter of the two teams in this city and for the final game of the first two-game series between the two teams this season. Manager McShane of the G-Men said last night that either Hooten or Lefty Joe Sparkman will do the hurling for Gainesville while Manager Guy Lacy plans to use Charlie Atwater on the mound. The game will be a test for Atwater as he has hurled in three previous hits this season and has been victorious in each. The line-up for Gainesville included Russ Looney in left field, Whitey McMullen on first base, Skeets Gahnger on third base, Hooter Hry in center field, Lou Rogino on shortstop, Ike Livingston on second base, Jack DuVincini in right field, Jake Gray behind the plate and other Hooten or Sparkman pitching. Rogino will lead off for the Lookouts and be followed by M. Daniels in left field, Lou Adly on second base, Pete Mihalek in center field, Wm Brown in right field, Willie Paz catching, Manager Lacy on first base, Buck Hodgers on shortstop and Atwater will do the pitching.
