ENGLISH ADMIT DEXTERITY OF GERMAN FLEET IN FAMOUS FIGHT OFF JUTLAND COAST IN MAY 1916

Historic Battle Described In New Terms By British Admiralty In Its Official Account Sea Engagement Battle Is Given 120 Pages in Recent Book

Surprising Strategy of German Admiral Completely Upeet British Calculations

BOSTON, Dec. 5.—What went on behind the mists that hung over the North Sea while the British Grand Fleet and the High Seas Fleet of Germany fought the Battle of Jutland on May 31, 1916, is described in new terms by the English Admiralty eight years later, and its official narrative of this outstanding naval engagement of the World War, recently issued, conforms to an American version of the facts.

It had been announced by the admiralty at a time when controversy was rife in high British naval circles, that no official account of the Jutland engagement would be given out. A Blue book in 1920 had contained the original British charts and reports. But when Lord Sydenham, raising a formal question in the House of Lords, pointed out that an American historian, Captain Thomas G. Frothingham, U. S. R., of Boston, had made clear certain essential facts of the battle that called for a change in the British official charts, renewed attention was given to the battle details.

The British admiralty's own narrative issued now as an official document of 120 pages with new charts and new conclusions is the result.

It was surprising strategy of Admiral Reinold Scheer, commander of the German forces, in executing three times within a space of 42 minutes, twice in defense and once in attack, a battle manoeuvre which the British high command had declared impossible of execution, that upset all British calculations as to what had occurred. This manoeuvre was a simultaneous turn of 16 battleships like the aboutface of marching men.

It was the Yankee historian, an army officer during the World War, who first brought to light the facts of Admiral Scheer's amazing strategy and tactics in a monograph, "A True Account of the Battle of Jutland." How the American learned what went on behind the mists at Jutland, he has not divulged, but it is understood that study of the original battle charts, in the light of his knowledge of the sea and ships, supplied the first clue.

The official narrative takes up its more important phrases of review at 6:15 P. M. It was at that hour that the British forces joined Admiral Jellicoe with his full strength now available to hear against inferior German forces, turned to deploy on the port wing to form a line of battle on a course southeast by east, with an advance fan of cruisers and destroyers stretched between the German fleet and approach to their base. The British narrative says, "The enemy could only be seen fitfully through the mist" and adds that no battleships could fire for many minutes together because observation was so poor.

These were the conditions, with the Germans steaming at a speed of 17 knots, sinking the Invincible Detonator and Warrior and striking mortal blows to the Black Prince as they went, when Admiral Scheer had first recourse to his uncomprehended manoeuvre to save his fleet from envelopment.

The German fleet reversed direction three times in a series of movements that look on the combined chart like a whirling, and this is now brought out and described by the admiralty narrative as it was described by the American historian. The admiralty narrative's observations of the causes for each of the several "swinging abouts" by the German fleet take issue with the strategic motives given in Admiral Scheer's report.

DUTCH HEARTILY IN FAVOR PLANS OF DISARMAMENT

Recent Address of Professor Against Militarism Meets Hearty Approval Crowds; Will Seek Arms Reduction

THE HAGUE, Holland, Dec. 5.—If the deafening applause that greeted Professor Van Embden's recent anti-militaristic address is any indication of the general feeling of the country, the people of the Netherlands may be said to be virtually solid for disarmament.

The spokesman for the abolition of the army and navy met General Snyder, formerly commander in chief of the Dutch army, at a public debate before a packed audience in the biggest assembly hall of the Dutch royal residence. Thousands of people belonging to all classes of society eagerly followed the arguments on both sides. A battery of sound amplifiers had been installed for the benefit of a multitude outside which had been crowded out.

Both speakers agreed that despite the Geneva convention the menace of war had not been wholly lifted from the world and they envisaged Holland's position in the eventuality of another great war in the light of the fact that the country had miraculously escaped from being dragged into the last world conflict. How could Holland's future safety be best insured they asked.

By total disarmament, the professor argued. Never by disarmament but by adequate preparation to keep the enemy out, declared the general.

Professor Van Embden made his audience shudder by recounting the horrors of gas warfare, citing reports by Brigadier General Amos Alfred Fries, chief of the American Chemical Warfare service, Major General William Luther St. Bert and General Tasker H. Bliss. "If the next war finds us an armed nation, we shall be utterly and irretrievably lost," he declared.

General Snyder agreed that Holland coveted nothing, and that the next war could never be an aggressive one as far as Holland was concerned. He pointed out that Holland was an agricultural, not an industrial country, and therefore ill equipped for the production of warlike material. As to gas warfare, his opinion was that it had come to stay, and timely defensive precautions, were essential. He said that injuries by gas were not necessarily more horrible than those produced by red-hot shell splinters. How, he demanded, could the country be saved from being overrun by a belligerent unless it possessed the means of resisting encroachments.

Prospects of further heavy military expenditure, as foreshadowed in the budget estimates, had not missed their effects on the audience. General Snyder's appeal for preparedness was punctuated with shouts of "No more money for war" and the end of his speech was drowned in tumult. The meeting broke up with the audience singing anti-militaristic songs.

Opening of A New Country Club Section And the Bowman Hotel Project

Announcement is now made of the first offering of plots in the Coral Gables Country Club Section—Parts 3 and 4, with the most important building features which have thus far been undertaken in Miami's Master Suburb. The first of these great features is the immediate building of the Miami-Biltmore Hotel at Coral Gables, to surpass in beauty and splendor even the Atlanta-Biltmore and Los-Angeles-Biltmore, now owned by the Bowman Hotels Corporation of New York City.

Mr. John McE. Bowman in announcing the scope and plan of his project, states that it will positively exceed $10,000,000 in cost. Besides the Miami-Biltmore Hotel at Coral Gables, it includes the Miami-Biltmore Country Club now under construction and to be completed early in the year, the fine eighteen-hole golf course now under construction and to be opened for play next month, six polo fields, three additional eighteen-hole golf courses, tennis courts, bathing pools and bathing beach.

It is Mr. Bowman's determination to build around the Miami-Biltmore Hotel at Coral Gables the greatest high-grade sports center in America. Plots and homesites now offered in the Country Club Section for the first time adjoin and surround the great Miami-Biltmore project. They also adjoin the present Country Club Section—Parts 1 and 2 which were first offered to the buying public last February and entirely sold out within six weeks.

In the Country Club Section are now under construction the fine new Congregational Church costing $150,000; the College for Young Women being erected by the Sisters of St. Joseph of St. Augustine to cost $250,000; the Casa Loma Apartment-Hotel to cost $125,000, and more than fifty of the finest homes in Coral Gables ranging in cost from $25,000 to $200,000.

The investment opportunity in the New Country Club Section is one of the greatest presented since the inception of Coral Gables. It is a highly restricted area located in the highest part of the suburb, and will be developed with more elaborate landscaping and other improvements than any section of this beautiful property. Price of plots in the sections offered last February have increased greatly and larger improvements now planned and the tremendous scope of the Miami-Biltmore project assures a splendid return to investors at this time.

The big free sightseeing trip to Miami and Coral Gables is one of the most delightful of its kind which Florida offers to visitors. Comfortable and luxurious highway coaches leave this city from the Coral Gables Office every week on these trips. Early reservations are necessary. Call at the local Coral Gables Office to receive complete information.

Research Bureau To Compile Facts About Moral And Social Questions For Benefit of Council Of Churches

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 8.—The churches want to know the facts about moral and social questions, and for this reason have established a department of research and education, according to a report made to the fourth quadrennial meeting of the Federal Council of Churches today by Dr. William Adams Brown of New York, chairman, and the Rev. F. Ernest Johnson, executive secretary of the new commission. It is an outgrowth of some preliminary work undertaken by the commission on social service in 1918.

Men of Presbyterian Church Plan Social

The men of the Presbyterian Church will have a social meeting Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. H. J. Lehman, chairman of the social committee, has arranged a program of entertainment, consisting of impersonations and music of some of the best talent of Sanford.

Mr. H. R. Stevens, chairman of the refreshment committee, promises to look after the inner man. All the men of the church and their near friends are expected. The meeting will be entirely informal.

Pipe Organ Club Holds Weekly Meeting

The Pipe Organ Club met Monday afternoon with Mrs. I. E. Estridge on Palmetto Avenue. The Christmas bazar to be held Dec. 19 and 20 in front of Mrs. Connelly's Hat Shop was the subject most discussed. Many lovely articles were turned over to the bazar chairman. The rummage sale Saturday afternoon.

At the conclusion of a most interesting business session the hostess served a delicious lunch. The next meeting will be with Mrs. W. D. Gardiner in the Welaka Apartments.

Lake Monroe

Howlett Fletcher was taken to the Fernald-Laughton Hospital last week and operated upon for appendicitis. His condition is improving rapidly.

Rev. David Douglass of Sanford conducted services at the Baptist Church here Sunday. Rev. E. L. Smith of Orlando, relieved his pastorate here in October after having been pastor for a number of years. Rev. Smith was well liked throughout this community and friends here regret to learn of his departure.

J. C. Cates of Jacksonville is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Barton Mann.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs spent Thanksgiving at their former home at Chuluota.

Mr. and Mrs. Keeley and niece, Miss Thelma Lake of Louisville were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Keeley are now touring the west coast before returning to their home.

Mrs. Robson Honors St. Agnes Guild

St. Agnes Guild was most pleasantly entertained by Mrs. J. N. Robson at her country home Monday afternoon.

The business of the afternoon included reports of various committees and of the Christmas bazar which was most successful and a discussion of ways and means for raising the organ fund.

After the business meeting Mrs. Robson served chicken pilau potatoes, hot biscuits and coffee. Those attending were Mrs. J. N. Robson, Mrs. W. P. Fields, Mrs. B. L. Perkins, Mrs. Paul Biggers, Mrs. A. R. Key, Miss Brenda Morrison, Miss Totman, Mrs. Julius Tackach, Mrs. R. W. Pearman, Jr., Mrs. Mildred Peabody, Mrs. Ralph Derby, Mrs. Raymond Phillips, Mrs. W. S. Leak, Mrs. B. F. Whitner, Jr., Mrs. Miller and Mrs. John McKee.

Congregational bazar and supper Saturday afternoon and night in the rooms formerly occupied by Miller Furniture Store, Dec. 13.

TO ASK AID OF CONGRESS

KEY WEST, Dec. 9.—Congress is to be asked to complete the roadway from Key West to the mainland of Florida. The request probably will be placed before the next long session, if plans backed by the Key West Chamber of Commerce materialize. Backing of the American Automobile Association and the South Atlantic Coastal Highway association is expected in support of the proposition, which it is declared, will be put before congress as a military necessity. Suggestions have been made to have Senator Fletcher introduce the measure in the senate.

ANCIENT CITY WINS

ST AUGUSTINE, Dec. 9.—Official notification has been received here awarding St. Augustine the national senior women's swimming championship meet the first time the honor has been awarded to the southern district of the A. A. U., it is announced here. The meet will be held Feb. 9-13.

Miss Garrison Hostess To Sanford Club

Elizabeth Garrison of Sanford entertained the Sanford Club of Stetson University at a social given at Ponce de Leon Springs last week as a means of carrying out the program of the club of keeping the persons of Sanford in close touch with each other. A few guests were also present.

The party left the Chaudoin Parkers soon after school closed and drove to DeLeon; and after strolling around and looking at many interesting things, went to the picnic tables and had a delightful meal prepared by Miss Garrison. All present were very much pleased with the results of the first social of the club.

Those present were Miss Elizabeth Garrison, Miss Lucile Newby, Miss Iris Britt, Miss Virginia DeCoursey, Miss Charlotte Smith, Mrs. S. I. Brown, Douglas King, Hewen Lazzeter, Ed. Clark, Ed. Henderson, and Kerfoot Bryant.

GATORS REACH GRID PINNACLE IN PAST SEASON

One of South's Outstanding Elevens Is Best Team Ever Turned Out at University; Much Credit Due Van Fleet

Mercer Defeat Only Blemish on Record

Performance in Past 3 Weeks Regarded as Best Playing Of Team During the Season

GAINESVILLE, Dec. 9.—With the shouting and the tumult of the remarkably perplexed 1924 Southern Conference season having gurgled and died, and fandom resigned to gaze upon things in a gentle and unpassioned sort of way, the thought arises that Gainesville and Florida owe a great deal to the University of Florida, and James A. Van Fleet for making not only one of the South's really outstanding elevens, but the greatest football machine that ever fought a fight in this land of sunshine and flowers.

Florida in 1924 reached the pinnacle of her football fame. The season just closed brought forth the finest football squad that ever banded together to carry forth the Orange and Blue of Florida University. Beat Freshmen First. Florida started out by trouncing the freshmen 25 to 0, an annual field meet for the varsity winners.

Then came Rollins over to fill the date Florida cancelled with Stetson. The Tars were game, but Florida ran roughshod and un molested to a 77 to 0 triumph.

Then came the acid test. Florida headed into the far Southwest to meet Texas. It was a bitter trip. The conditions were hard on the men and the Texas coach had primed his Longhorns for the one and expressed purpose of beating Florida, the Gators were held to 7-7 no-decision affair. The reaction of that trip, the longest a Florida ever took, told on them the following week, when they met Southern college in Gatorland.

Then came the greatest shock to Florida followers that has been received in several seasons. By every rule of football, by every rule of "dope" Florida was slated to win from Mercer hands down, but she didn't.

Florida's third inter-sectional foe, Drake from Des Moines, came to Florida and was doped to win a bitter fight. But Florida played again like champions of Dixie

AMERICANS WIN OVER BRITISHERS ON TAMPA LINKS

Bobby Cruikshank and Johnny Farrell Defeat George Duncan and Abe Mitchell in 36 Hole Match on Sunday

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 8.—Great Britain went down in defeat 3 and 2 here Sunday when Bobby Cruikshank and Johnny Farrell routed George Duncan and Abe Mitchell, who are touring the United States, in a 36 hole match. The British stars lost their game in the putting greens. Neither Duncan nor Mitchell could benefit by a beautiful long game when they neared the cup. The putts repeatedly refused to drop for them. Duncan got some small satisfaction out of his own game by tying the course record held by Henry Holsta pro at the Palma Ceica club where the match was played, with a 98 in the afternoon round, five under his morning play and two under the two seventies which Cruikshank registered.

The invaders outdrove the Americans on practically every hole. Mitchell in particular placing himself in a position good enough for a win on several holes. His drives averaged fully 250 yards, many of them touching close to 300 yards.

STORMY SESSION IS EXPECTED AT BASEBALL MEET

Clash Between Johnson and Landis Evident on Eve of National League Meeting; Club Owners Backing Landis

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—One of the stormiest winter baseball sessions on record with Commissioner Landis and President Johnson of the American league as the centers of a controversy that has gathered increasing vigor ever since the world's series and the Dolan-O'Connell bribery scandal, was in prospect Monday night on the eve of the annual major league meeting.

The National league, at its session Tuesday, is expected to take the first important step by adopting resolutions pledging the senior circuit's unqualified support to Commissioner Landis, endorsing his action in handling the scandal and, by inference at least, condemning the attacks made upon the veteran jurist by Johnson.

The American league's annual gathering is slated for Wednesday night and there were strong indications that Johnson would face another fire, directed by members of his own organization. Clark Griffith, president of the Washington club, has disclosed that a majority of American league magnates intend to adopt resolutions supporting Landis and criticizing their leader's antagonism to Landis, together with Johnson's failure to attend the world's series.

Assured of virtually unanimous National league backing and apparently well supported in American league ranks, Landis, in the opinion of observers, is strongly entrenched for the final act of the drama, scheduled for the joint major league meeting Thursday. A year ago at Chicago, Landis was understood to have been given a vote of confidence after threatening to quit his position as a result of criticism from Johnson and the latter's supporters. It was believed in some quarters here that this week's sessions would produce a final show down in the disputes between two of the game's leading executives.

There was some doubt Monday night whether Commissioner Landis would be here for the joint meeting, because of the illness of Mrs. Landis, but it was said authoritatively that it would be held regardless of his attendance.

Johnson had been expected to arrive Monday for several conferences with American league men but changed his plans and now does not plan to reach New York until Wednesday, the day of his organization's meeting.

There would play Duval. TAMPA, Dec. 9.—The Summerlin football team, comprising of the Lakeland High School team, an overwhelming score last week, now want a chance to scalp the Duval Tigers, according to G. D. Appling, business manager and assistant coach of the team. He says the result of such a game would leave the state championship title in NO doubt, and that he is anxious to see the best team in undoubted possession of the title.

TWO PUGILISTS READY FOR BIG FIGHT TONIGHT

Tom Gibbons Meets Hard Foe in Kid Norfolk; Interest Scenters in Ring Contest

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Tom Gibbons, St. Paul light heavyweight, and Kid Norfolk, Baltimore negro, who meet for 15 rounds in the feature bout of the annual Christmas fund boxing carnival at Madison Square Garden Tuesday night, Monday were declared by their managers to be fit for the fray.

Gibbons is a strong favorite, from his record of boxing skill and iron-jawed reception of the best that good men could give.

Another interesting argument is seen in the matching of Johnny Wilson, former middleweight champion, and Tiger Flowers, Atlanta negro, who has been advancing pedily in the last two years. This bout is scheduled for 10 rounds.

Possibly the Baltimore negro who has been denied competition with the best of the whites is confident of humbling Gibbons, but boxing followers are inclined to believe that the same feet and legs which bore Gibbons so gallantly in his meeting with Champion Dempsey at Shelby, Mont., for 15 rounds, will sustain him Tuesday.

Norfolk has the power and the punch; Gibbons the greatest defense of any of the heavyweights and a heart that never has failed under fire.

Season's Chief Record Holders

Three of the outstanding athletic notables of the past season were Sybil Bauer, back-stroke swimmer of Chicago; Jackson Scholz, New York sprinter, and Harold Osborne, high-jump star of the Illinois A. C.

Recently the A. A. U. officials, in annual conference, accepted as official marks made by this trio of performers during the 1924 season. Miss Bauer was the pre-eminent swimming star of the year, with a total of 18 new A. A. U. records to her credit. She was actually credited with 21 records but the officials accepted only 18.

Scholz ran the 200 meters in 29-9-10 seconds in the final Olympic tryouts last summer. That mark has been accepted as an A. A. U. and a world record. The same is true of Osborne's mark in the high jump. Osborne leaped 6 feet 8-1-4 inches at Urbana, Ill., last May. The A. A. U. lords thought well enough of the evidence presented to accept the record.

Cruikshank and Farrell played the 15th and 16th holes Mitchell's drive and approach put him about four feet from the cup. His putts were missed, both holes being halved as a result and the game ended on the 16th green.

On the very edge of the fairway, Bobby put his colors four up on the fourth hole of the afternoon. Sebring-Planer and specifications completed for construction of concrete pier.
