

There are Three Great Stages In the Life of any Development

THE PLANNING AND CONCEPTION

THE CONSTRUCTIVE DEVELOPMENT

AND THE COMING POPULATION

L OCH-ARBOR is now in the second of these stages. Already has it passed the important stage of planning and conception and the rises resultant from this have been apparent. Following closely upon this is the process of constructive development, when the placing of improvements and the spending of considerable sums of money further enhance the worth of the property. And it is this stage which Loch-Arbor has now reached.

C ONSTRUCTIVE development of the first magnitude has been taking place for some time. There has been massed the machinery and the men necessary to accomplish in the best possible manner the great task before them. Appreciable results are already in evidence and as the development has progressed, so in a similar manner have the values of this property.

B UT the greatest rises, those accompanying the actual coming of the people who are later to form the residential life of the community, are yet to come. Then, when this last stage is reached, Loch-Arbor in a large sense, will have attained its maximum, but until that time, and especially while development works continues to be in progress, the opportunity for gainful investment is paramount.

PITTSBURGH RUNS ROUGHSHOD OVER "NITTANY LIONS"

With Gustafson Playing Star Game, Pitt Plays Superb Contest, Being Excelled in Passing Department

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Riding roughshod over the Penna. State College Thursday afternoon, the University of Pittsburgh gridgers closed their 1925 season with a dazzling 23 to 7 victory. Their record for the year showed only one defeat. State excelled in only one department—forward passing.

Pitt, with big Andy Gustafson in the star game, showed its attacking early. A patch of mud 30 yards from the State goal line aided Pitt to make its first touchdown in the opening period. Rozpke, in position for a punt, slipped in the mire the ball striking him in the face. Salatska, a Pitt guard, scooped it up and ran 25 yards for the score. Gustafson adding the point. A moment later Welsh, Pitt halfback, got around the State right end for 60 yards and Gustafson booted a 33 yard field goal.

Michaliske, West Virginia's star, then opened with State's most effective punter. On a fake forward pass, Rozpke ran 15 yards for a touchdown. Welsh added the point. This was State's only tally.

Pitt scored again in the second period, gaining the ball on State's 40-yard line. Welsh and Gustafson plunging the ball half way down the gridiron. Gustafson carried it over and also added the point.

Six points were added by Pitt in the third period. Unable to fair State punted. It was Pitt's ball on their own nine-yard line. After several plunges by Harding, Gustafson shot a pass to Welsh who ran 45 yards for the score. Gustafson's boot for the point was wide. This ended the scoring.

State endeavored another aerial assault late in third period and advanced to within a foot of the Pitt line, but there found a brick wall.

Again State lacked the punch early in the last period. A Pitt punt was weak and State got the ball ten yards from the coveted line. A forward pass was the play, but the Pitt men caught the receiver before he took a step. This was on the fourth down and it was Pitt's ball.

At this stage Pitt used practically a new team.

So many whales inhabited the waters around the Revilla Gigeo Island off the coast of Mexico that the explorers called the place the "Cow Pasture."

Protector

Carl Wolfe of Rutgers College is the best droppicker on the football squad, but is so near-sighted he cannot see 10 feet away without glasses. But with glasses he couldn't take part in scrimmages, so Coach Jack Wallace solved the problem by having a cage prepared for him. Photo shows Wolfe with the cage on, ready to display his stuff.

Nebraska Gridders Give Rockne's Team Drubbing Thursday

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Nebraska's crimson hosts realized the hopes of a year Thursday by drubbing Knute Rockne's Notre Dame football team 17 to 0.

The bitter defeat suffered last year at South Bend was avenged, the all time record was evened, and Rockne was proved a prophet as well as a coach—for he predicted two defeats for his team this year, and Army gave it the other one.

To the line-chopping tactics of "Choppy" Rhodes, the far-kicking toe of Captain Ed Weir, which netted four points, and the staunch defense of the whole cornhusker line was Nebraska's victory due.

Forty-five thousand persons jammed into Memorial Stadium which was built for 38,000—the greatest football crowd of all time in Nebraska. Nor was it an all-Nebraska crowd. Special trains brought supporters of both teams.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Intrigue in high society will figure in Congressional debate this winter. Thus:

Count Carolyni played a prominent part in overthrowing monarchism in Hungary. In turn, he was driven into exile when Admiral Horthy got the upper hand and set up in Budapest a despotism of his own, nominally as "regent"; really as almost absolute ruler. Naturally Horthy, the virtual czar disapproves of Carolyni, the republican.

In exile Countess Karolyni wanted to lecture in the United States. Many prominent American society women sponsored her. The government raised no objection. She fell ill here. The count wanted to come to her. At this Secretary Hughes, then State Department head, balked. Finally he let the count come, on his pledge not to talk while in this country. The countess recovered. She and the count returned to Europe. Recently the countess accepted an invitation to spend a few weeks at the home of R. B. Strassburger, rich Norristown, Pa., publisher. This time Secretary of State Kellogg refused to let her into the United States, whether she talked or not. Protests, by Strassburger and others, availed nothing. The countess appealed to the American society women who had indorsed her before. Now, peculiarly, they ignored her.

The explanation the State Department's Congressional critics will try to develop is this:

That Horthy's seeming influence with the department is not political, but social; and that he exercises it through his minister in Washington, Count Szechenyi, and the latter's wife, who was Gladys Vanderbilt.

There you have it—if the critics are right—the Vanderbilts' social prestige!—and millions!

Nebraska's advantage was gained in the opening quarter when, with Rockne's second backfield, or shock troops, bearing the brunt, Coach Ernest Bearg played his stellar offensive. When Rockne's big punts were net off, a fresh cornhusker reserve force withstood the shock.

The advertised handicap in the loss of Flanagan, star Rockne back was offset in the charging O'Boyle who proved to be the most consistent ground gainer for Notre Dame.

Neither could Notre Dame's aerial attack work. But two of a dozen passes hit and four times an alert busker intercepted them to stem serious advances.

CHARGES DISMISSED

Frank Taghmini and James Catta, the latter a negro, were exonerated by United States Commissioner Williams when arraigned before him yesterday on charges of violating the prohibition law. Federal prohibition agents alleged they found the two in possession of several bottles of liquor. Commissioner Williams discharged them for lack of sufficient evidence.

(Continued from page 1.) M. Gilbreck, a registered nurse, of New York City, who is desirous of obtaining a small piece of land where she can "spend her time in rest and peace away from the noise and din of a great city." Mrs. Gilbreck stated that she was not familiar with the location of Sanford, but had seen advertisements of the city and heard her friends speak of it as an ideal wintering spot for a person of moderate means. Many communications are being received from factories and commercial houses, it was stated, and the speedy efficient handling of these inquiries by the Chamber of Commerce is expected to result in Sanford's acquisition of many new enterprises, Secretary Pearman said.

COMMERCE BODY DISCUSSES NEED OF BETTER ROADS

(Continued from page 1.) the construction of the cut, which come in with a subsidy to complete he alluded to as the most important project supported by the Chamber of Commerce in many years. In a discussion of the advisability of placing electric signs at the entrances to the city, Mayor Lake stated that he considered the improvement and construction of good roads leading into Sanford more important at this time than the erection of electric signs at the city limits, and this opinion was supported by Howard Atkinson and F. P. Forster, who described the highways leading into the city.

TO THE CITIZENS OF SANFORD
 I wish to announce that I am a candidate for the office of City Commissioner to be determined in the regular Municipal Election to be held on the First Tuesday after the First Monday in December of this year. Your consideration will be appreciated.
 E. F. HOUSHOLDER.

from Lake and Volusia counties as being in a deplorable condition. In reply Secretary R. W. Pearman stated that the Chamber of Commerce had done everything possible for the improvement of these roads and declared that the condition of highways in this section was due entirely to the delay in delivery of shipments caused by the rail embargo. Trade Body Make Appeal Mr. Pearman said that the Chamber of Commerce had appealed to every authority from the governor down, and was co-operating and assisting in every way for the improvement of the DeLand-Sanford and Mt. Dora-Sanford roads. President Edward Higgins supported Mr. Pearman's report of the highway situation, and added that nothing whatever could be done until the lifting of the rail embargo allowed the delivery of materials.

In this connection he read a telegram from F. H. Harrison, traffic expert, representing the commerce body at the Jacksonville conference, stating that the embargo on intra-state shipments of sand, clay, gravel and rock had been lifted, and the carriers instructed to move capacity shipments. Delegation To Visit Counties Following a brief talk by F. P. Forster suggesting such action, Mr. Higgins stated that he would ask all members of the Chamber of Commerce to accompany him to Lake and Volusia counties for the purpose of requesting co-operation in the immediate improvement of the highways connecting Sanford with Mt. Dora and DeLand. In the motion of A. P. Connelly, it was decided to request the county commissioners to take immediate action in connection with the improvement of Sanford with a view to a point near Joe Saucer's property, approximately seven miles from the city.

In a brief closing address, F. P. Forster, who has recently returned from New York, told the commerce body that the nation was entering a flying age, and asked for local support in developing the old aviation grounds into a modern landing field for the air mail planes that will eventually stop here, he said. He praised the work accomplished on the Hotel Forrest Lake and told of the many visitors that its completion would bring here.

"RED" BECOMES PRO AND GETS $20,000 IN GAME

Forty Thousand People See Football Star Perform in Turkey Day Game Against Another Professional Team

Deaffening Applause Greeted Grid Warrior

Two Teams Play A Scoreless Tie, Grange Stopping Attack By Intercepting Pass

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Harold "Red" Grange stepped Thursday from college hero into business life as a professional football player, gained the hearty applause of a crowd of over 40,000 some $20,000 as his share of the receipts and a black eye. His team, the Chicago Bears, played a scoreless tie with the Chicago Cardinals, their bitter rival of the south side.

"I never played against a more expert team of football players," said Grange after the game. "I don't remember how I got the black eye, but I never saw a bit of intentional roughness, and I enjoyed my first professional game immensely. I did my best but was unable to practice with the team only a few days."

The Cardinals made every effort to keep their punts out of Grange's hands, but he managed to get hold of three which he ran back for 14, 25, and 30 yards. His longest gain from the formation was but six yards and that was the next to the longest of the game for either side. He made one of the two first downs for his team. Joe Sternaman, also a former University of Illinois player made the other.

Paddy Driscoll, former Northwestern star, made the only first down for the Cardinals and the famous redhead stopped him then with a five-yard run. Grange's only tackle of the game.

The Cardinals only tried that one time around Grange's end. Driscoll once attempted a 43-yard dropkick, the ball sailing into a goal post. Later from the 64-yard line his attempt was blocked.

Grange rested for a few minutes near the close of the second period and the start for the third, but rushed back into the game when the Cardinals reached the 19-yard line, in time to intercept a pass under the goal posts and head off a touchdown. The Bears' only good chance for a score came later in the third period, but Sternaman fumbled on the 12-yard line in a drive through guard and the Cardinals recovered.

Grange opened up with passes in the last few minutes of the game, but all were knocked down by the Cardinals.

In fourteen plays, Grange gained a total of 40 yards and added 69 more in running around end in one of his characteristic runs when the pistol cracked, ending the game at midfield.

Thousands swarmed on the field to reach him, but police rescued him, and later formed outside the dressing room door to control the crowd.

Officials of the teams refused to give out the total attendance and receipts, but the paid attendance mark and the receipts around $20,000, according to estimates Grange's share was 40 per cent of the receipts, it was understood, his own net income being 45 per cent of the 40 per cent.

ALABAMASHARES HIGH HONOR WITH TULANE ELEVEN

Crimson Tide And Greenbacks Emerge From Hard Season Undeafened; Generals Shove Generals To Fourth Place

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Alabama and Tulane were left supreme in the southern conference after games yesterday in which two undefeated and untied teams in the conference were topped from the heights. Alabama won, going away from Georgia 27 to 0. Tulane wound up its season with a 14 to 0 victory over Centenary but had finished its conference schedule last Saturday.

North Carolina released its percentage of 1,000 and suffered a debit mark on the ledger by failing to win from Virginia, the eleven from the Old Dominion getting a draw with the tar heels 3 to 3.

Washington and Lee was shoved into fourth place when the Florida Alligators stopped the Generals in a free scoring game 17 to 14.

Another game in which there was no like of scoring punch gave Kentucky a 23 to 20 victory over Tennessee with the "Old Charred Keg" as a side trophy.

The conference close brought ties in two games by the same scores, Georgia Tech and Auburn and Maryland and Johns Hopkins finishing in 7 to 7 dead locks.

Vanderbilt trailed Sewanee for a time but finished with a drive that gave the Commodores a 19 to 7 triumph over the Purple from the mountain.

V. P. I. defeated V. M. I. its ancient rival in a game that ran through form by developing into a real battle, the score being 7 to 0.

Clemson went outside the conference to take a licking from Furman 26 to 0, this marking the Hornets third victory over conference teams and making Furman winner of the mythical South Carolina state championship.

"Ole Miss" was able to defeat

Millsaps 21 to 0 and gain the runner up position to the Mississippi Aggie in state warfare.

Mercer, reporting the South in the only intersectional game of the day, was rebuffed 30 to 0 by Marquette at Milwaukee.

MIAMI SHORES AMERICA'S MEDITERRANEAN

Do You Believe in Miami?

YOU HAVE come to this beautiful Southland. The lure of the waterfront must have made it appeal to you. Miami's gorgeous moonlit nights and starlit skies, and the majesty of glorious Biscayne Bay in all its beauty must have impressed you. Possibly you are looking about, wondering where in all this beautiful country you may find the most delightful homesite for your ideal Southern home—or perhaps for you it is a matter of maximum investment opportunity, where it is within your means and increased profit may be made, while at the same time you may have the satisfaction of a feeling of security.

We submit that

embodies all of these advantages

It is 600 acres in area; it will have within it a beautiful lake; there will be a golf course and delightful recreation park. By virtue of the fact that it is an island, this property enjoys the maximum enhancement of value, inasmuch as Biscayne Bay is the great, dominating and final arbitrator of all real estate values in the Greater Miami District.

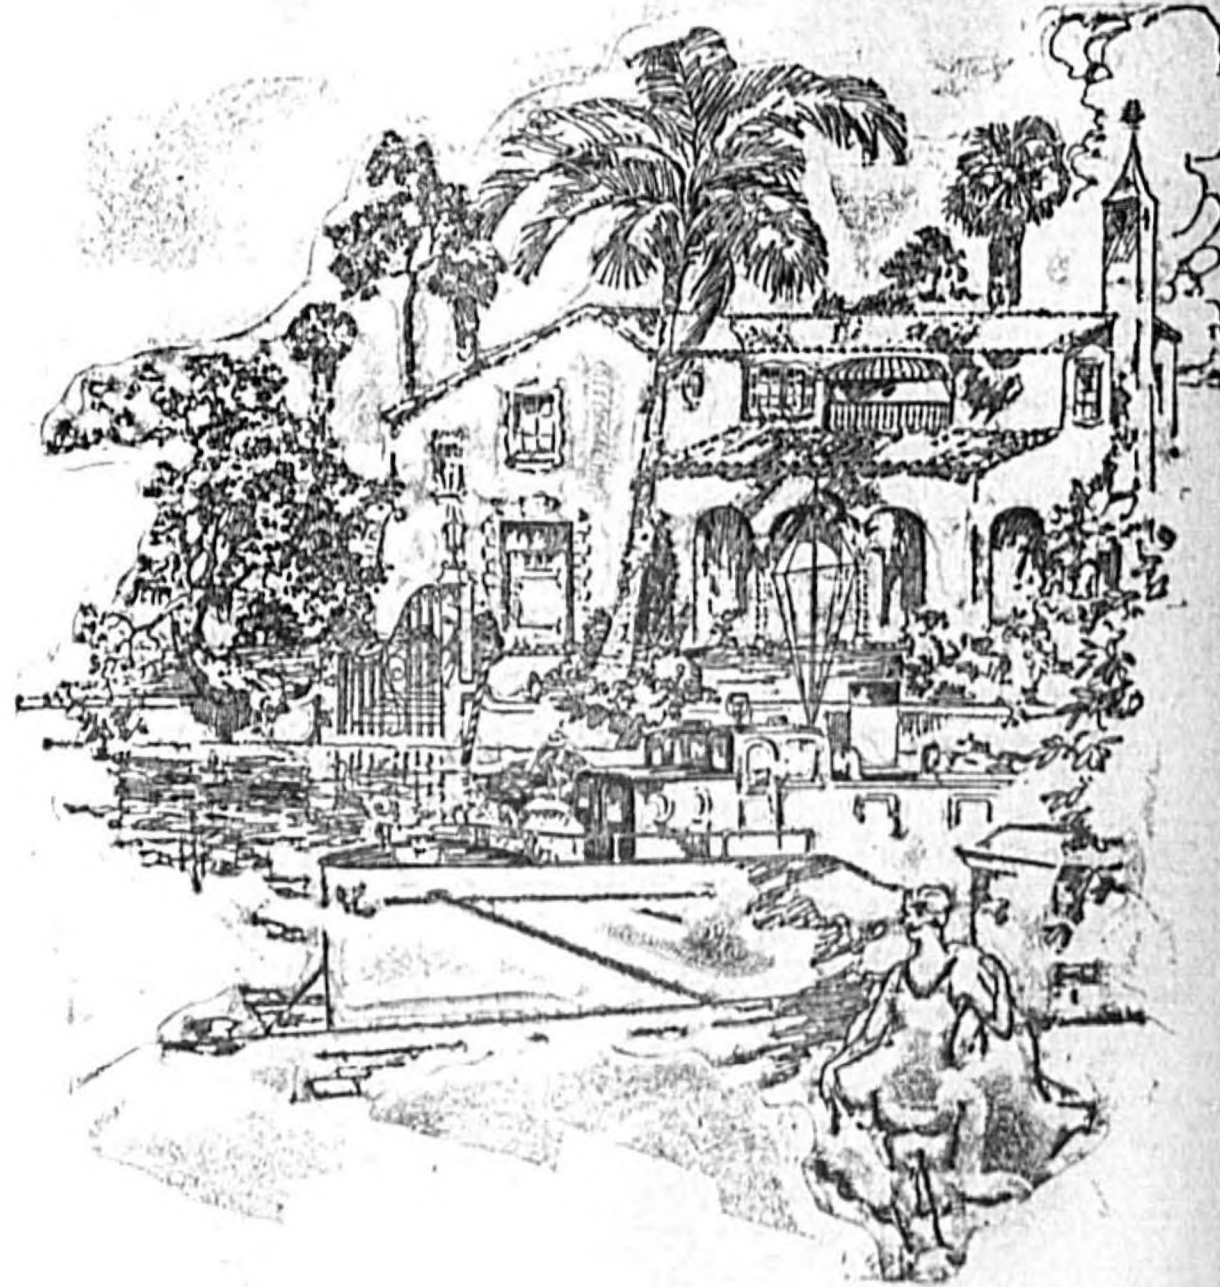

Even if every lot on the Miami Shores Island is built upon, it can never become congested. Moreover, there are apartment and hotel sites on this island with added value and profits incident thereto. What more can we say?

Here is a property to be connected with the mainland by a magnificent 100-foot wide causeway and to be connected with Venetian Isles by the Drive of the Campanili.

No Wonder

—well informed investors have already expressed their appreciation of this remarkable investment opportunity by purchasing. Miami Shores Island will be all sold out before long and it cannot be duplicated, because there is no like location available, and

PENNSYLVANIA IS VICTORIOUS OVER GIL DOBIE'S TEAM

Quakers Outrush Utica Team To Win By Score Of 7-0; 45-Yard Dash Of Rogers Responsible For The Score

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Before a crowd of 70,000, the greatest that ever witnessed their annual holiday classic, Pennsylvania conquered Cornell Thursday 7 to 0, in a spectacular battle.

The Quakers outmarshed nearly two to one and outplayed for the greater part of the game, won by capitalizing the only "break" in their favor, a fumble by Tilton, Cornell halfback, in the final period, which Charley Rogers, fleet Penn ball carrier, plucked out of the scrimmage and converted into the only touchdown of the game with a 45-yard dash.

This sudden turn of fortune decided the game but Pennsylvania's stonewall defense within its own ten yard line saved it, for the big red machine constantly threatening, was checked three times inside that mark, losing the ball on downs each time with a touchdown seemingly in their grasp.

Cornell gained almost twice as many yards as Pennsylvania, 255 to 147, and registered 15 first downs to nine for the Quakers, but in the final analysis it was the lack of a decisive punch when within sight of Pennsylvania's goal line that cost the Ithacans a triumph.

Two of Cornell's big drives were stopped in the final quarter after Rogers scored for Penn. A sustained march of 63 yards in which off-tackle smashes were mixed with several short passes, came to naught on the five-yard mark when Pennsylvania held for downs.

Shortly afterward another Cornell attack in which two passes gained 31 yards was halted on the 8-yard line and the last big opportunity of the Ithacans was gone.

Howard Wins Over Rollins Eleven In Hard Fought Game

WINTER PARK, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Rollins College observed her fortieth Turkey Day celebration here this afternoon by holding Alabama's powerful crimson line as represented by Howard College to the surprisingly low score of 7 to 0 in the face of odds favoring the invaders from two to four touchdowns.

Billy Bancroft, hailed as the Red Grange of S. I. A. A. was unable to make any appreciable headway in the Rollins territory as the Tars trailed him with deadly effect.

This contest was the first S. I. A. A. game played in Florida this season and the final of the Rollins Tars on their home ground. With a tremendous rush the Howard Bulldogs made every effort possible to score in the first quarter. During the second period, after a determined march down field the completion of a pretty pass over the goal line, the first and only marker was chalked.

In the third and fourth periods Rollins threatened to score on the Bamans through telling line plunges and by several long passes, but these efforts were unsuccessful and the ball was in the middle of the field when the game closed.

The Tars showed themselves a greatly improved machine and put up one of the best fights of the season which has been featured by one of the hardest small colleges scheduled in the south, under the guidance of their All-American mentor Howard Tallman.

Defects In War Stocks Disclosed By Chief's Report

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—(P)—Defects in the war stock of army ammunition now held in reserve are disclosed in the annual report of Major General C. C. Williams, Chief of Ordnance, made public today. They are due, it said, not alone to deterioration in storage, but to "hurried war design or hurried war production," and have been discovered as a result of the careful inspection system including laboratory tests set up since the war.

explosives, to permit new and more expeditious methods of manufacture of existing types, and to use new methods in loading the explosives.

The condition of the reserve stock of ammunition has been a growing source of worry to the War Department and a project for building up the reserve through a year replacement program has been worked out which involves around $300,000,000.

Efforts during the year to develop a cross-country, ditch jumping catapillar tractor car for reconnaissance work were without success. General Williams said, but remarkable results were obtained with "a Ford touring car chassis, equipped with balloon tires, bucket seats and a low speed auxiliary transmission. The machine "apparently fills the military requirements," he report said.

A "noteworthy achievement" through application of X-ray apparatus to study the structure of steel and other metals was reported from Watertown, N. Y., Arsenal. Defects not otherwise discernable have been discovered in castings running up to two and one half inches in thickness, the working having been extended to experimental testing for commercial concerns with the arsenal apparatus. The new pressure steam power plant line near Boston was among those so examined.

At the Aberdeen, Md., proving ground, General Williams said, important research was being conducted by means of a camera. Obscure in a scientific study of the flight of bombs dropped by aircraft. The experiments were started as an incident to the testing of the bombs but have disclosed data which "will permit the plotting of the trajectory and development of a suitable range table for use by aircraft troops."
