

Cattlemen To See Soil Conservation In Brooksville

Various types of new grasses will be inspected by a number of Seminole County cattlemen and member of the Veterans-on-the-Farm Training Class when they visit the soil conservation nursery at Brooksville next Thursday.

Cattlemen or other interested persons who wish to make the trip are urged to contact George Harden, chairman and vice chairman of the Seminole Soil Conservation District, Francis Meriwether or Len Jacobson before Oct. 19 as arrangements can be made for transportation.

During September, 23 soil and water conservation plans were prepared for growers and farmers in this district, it was announced today by C. A. Wales, chairman of the board of supervisors of the Seminole Soil Conservation District.

Schools, which cost $45,000,000 a year in 1947 cost $48,000,000 this year, an increase of $3,000,000, he pointed out.

During the 15 years prior to the last five years only two new dormitories were built at the University of Florida by the WPA and by revenue certificate financing, he asserted, pointing out that several new buildings have been erected there in the last five years by the State.

58 Group Air Force Bill Is Voted In House

Agreement Reached On Farm Measure; Wallgren Named For Power Board

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—(AP)—The House today approved a compromise bill limiting minimum wages in interstate industry from 40 to 75 cents an hour. The vote was 121 to 19. Sponsors claim the bill will mean raises for as many as 1,500,000 workers at an estimated annual cost of $300,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—(AP)—A compromise $15,585,861,498 military appropriation bill passed the House by voice vote today and went to the Senate.

Passage of the big money bill helped clear the way for final adjournment of this session of Congress. Congressional leaders now hope to get away tomorrow.

The bill had been bottled up because the Senate and the House couldn't agree on Air Force funds. The House insisted on a 58-group Air Force. The Senate wanted 48 as did President Truman. The House won. The difference is about $740,000,000.

But the Senate chalked up a partial victory by getting the House to agree to a cutback of $100,000,000 in the stockpiling of defense materials.

The Senate wanted a $275,000,000 cutback but the House voted otherwise.

Coroner's Autopsy Adds Ironic Note In Shooting Accident

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—(AP)—A coroner's autopsy report today threw a ironic twist into the story of a police officer who fired a "mercy bullet" into the head of his ten-year-old brother who lay bleeding from a gunshot wound inflicted by a few minutes before.

Dr. Frederick Newberry, county autopsy surgeon, disclosed yesterday that the first shot destroyed half the brain of Robert James Elliott, 10, and that he would have died in a few minutes.

Richard Manning Elliott, 16, told police Sunday night that he could not bear to see his brother suffering so, fired a second bullet into his head "to put him out of his misery."

Dr. Newberry's report said the bullet entered the brain.

Clothing Items $10 Or Less Not To Be Taxed Says Comptroller

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 18.—(AP)—You may buy $10 shirts by the dozen without paying Florida's new sales tax on them.

Or you may buy every item in a clothing store with a price tag of $10 or less tax free.

But you'll have to pay the 3 percent tax after Nov. 1 on each single piece of clothing that is priced at more than $10. A suit will be considered a single piece. You couldn't get away with buying the pants, coat and vest as separate items for a tax-free $30 suit.

That is the latest and "definite" ruling by Comptroller C. M. Gray on the clothing exemption clause in the sales tax bill.

It is contrary to his first interpretation of the law that brought protests from legislators that they hadn't meant to have it say that. Comptroller Gray has proposed a ruling that the tax would be payable on any combination of sales of clothing at a single visit to a store when the total bill ran above $10.

He said at first he read the law to mean a $10 shirt would be tax-free, but three $3.50 shirts bought at the same time would be taxable for the whole $10.50 bill.

Yesterday, though, the Comptroller said discussions with "a great many members of the legislature" had convinced him the legislative intent was to have the $10 clothing exemption apply to each individual article with a price tag of $10 or less.

The law says there shall be no tax on "articles of clothing x x x where the price at which such article is sold is $10 or less, on any single item thereof."

However, at another place, the law defines "single sales" as the total sales x x x made to a customer or combination of customers.

Action On House Critics Term Issue Is Deferred New Citrus Law By Rotary Club

The Rotary Club again deferred action on the City's request to vacate the Tourist Center pending further clarification of the status of the Yacht Club and method of repayment of the cost of renovation and removal, following a report at the regular luncheon of the club yesterday by G. W. Spencer, chairman of the house committee.

President George Touhy announced that Congressman George Smathers of Miami will be the principal speaker on the program next Monday and expressed his hope that that not more than 1000 tourists would be accommodated at the Tourist Center in that time.

Yesterday's program was conducted by Charles Morrison who acted as club master and presented prizes to the winners. A unique feature of the program appeared in the presentation of the challenge for each person being quizzed and who more often than not, proved to be winning himself.

Prizes were won by H. L. Perkins Jr., J. Jacobson, Sam Minton, Andrew Stine, Dr. George Miyakawa, Dr. A. W. Epps Jr. and Bobby Newman. The prizes were presented by the club members, Seminoles County Motors, McCarty, B. J. Perkins & Son, Hummell & Anderson, Margaret Ann Greer, Hill Hardware, and the San Juan Cigar Co.

In reporting on the housing situation, Mr. Spencer said that the City's answer to the Rotary Club's questions were both unsatisfactory and unacceptably delayed. Pointing out that the City had not yet answered the Rotary Club's specific questions, Mr. Spencer expressed his hope that the Rotarians could be expected to move to the building that was already under lease to three other different parties.

He said that the club was sympathetic toward all efforts of the City to encourage tourist activities, but thought that the matter of housing for the club, as well as for tourists, ought to be handled in a businesslike way. He said that the club was expected to bear the cost of renovating and maintenance of the Yacht Club, and of removal of supplies and furnishings to it, at 10 cents per cubic foot.

21 Are Lost As Carrier Albion Hits Freighter

British Warship And Coal Ship Maystone Collide During Gale In The North Sea

BERWICK, Eng., Oct. 18.—(AP)—The British aircraft carrier Albion and a small coal freighter collided in a gale in the North Sea today. The freighter sank swiftly and eight hours later only three of the 24 crewmen aboard were known to have survived.

Lifelines fought the foaming waves landing survivors near the Laine Islands off the northeast coast of England.

The newly built 18,300-ton Albion was manned by a civilian crew and was in tow to drydock for completion. The collision riddled a hole in the carrier and she was reported taking water.

The Albion had aboard three survivors from the freighter, the 2,025-ton Maystone, carrying coal to London. A spokesman for the owner of the Maystone, said lifeboat crews still at sea had some hopes of picking up other survivors.

The collision occurred eight miles off England's northeast coast, near the Anglo-Scottish border, a part of the coast guard station put out into rain and wind-tossed waves to hunt for survivors.

Three of the Maystone's crew were reported rescued by the Albion and British press association said some others were rescued by Coast Guardsmen.

The Albion, being towed by a tug, was on her way from a drydock at Rosyth, Scotland, for construction work before being turned over to the Royal Navy.

The freighter was reported held on her port side near her propeller.

Seamen Rescued As Schooner Burns In North Pacific

SEATTLE, Oct. 18.—(AP)—A government vessel carried out the dramatic rescue of 17 seamen in stormy weather last night after they abandoned their flaming schooner.

The officers and men were picked up in the North Pacific by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service vessel Black Douglas just as one of their two lifeboats was swamping and sinking. The schooner, the Salina Cruz, caught fire yesterday.

The Douglas reported today all the sailors had recovered from their ordeal, and she was proceeding to her home port of San Francisco. Arrival there was expected Thursday.

The rescue was carried out in heavy seas kicked up by a 25-knot wind. Coast Guard search planes that had been circling overhead throughout the day spotted the Douglas to the scene.

Two of the men in one of the open lifeboats had managed to keep afloat without difficulty. They were the first ones spotted by the Douglas. An hour later, the second boat had sent up a flare.

Britain Asked How To Repay U.S. Loans

Loan Payment Due In 1952 On War Loan; French Premier Is Still Unchosen

LONDON, Oct. 18.—(AP)—The British government was asked today to tell Parliament how it proposes to make the first payment of principal and interest on the 1946 United States loan, due in 1952.

The loan of $1,750,000,000 is to be repaid with interest in 50 annual installments.

Mr. Frank Sanderson, a conservative, asked Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade, to make the explanation in the House on Thursday. Sanderson, in his question, said the 1952 payment of $40,000,000 at the pre-devaluation rate ($160,000,000) was in excess of indicated exports to the United States for 1949. In addition, he said, it comes due in the year that Marshall Plan aid ends.

In Paris the business of picking a new French premier looked a little like a game of tag today, with few of the politicians wanting to be "it."

Socialist Jules Moch gave up the job last night before he could even pick a cabinet, because he couldn't get a set of ministers that would agree on policy.

This morning President Vincent Auriol offered the job to Francois de Menthon, a leader of the strongly Catholic Popular Republican Movement. De Menthon turned it down and said he would rather stay in his post.

De Menthon's refusal was a setback for the 13-day-old government crisis. Then Auriol asked former Finance Minister Rene Mayer, a member of the Radical Socialist (Moderate) Party, to take the job.

Mayer told newsmen that he would try immediately to hand the job to Henri Queuille, whose cabinet he would form.

POTATO QUOTA

Farmers desiring to grow Irish potatoes for commercial purposes this year will have to obtain an acreage quota in order to qualify under the government price support program, Oris Mathias, county administrative officer of the Production and Marketing Administration of the USDA, announced today.

"Inasmuch as there have been no commercial crops in this county who have qualified under the Irish potato program, the growers who apply would be listed as new potato growers and would receive very small quotas," he stated.

U. S. Government Has Devious Ways Of Piercing Russia's Iron Curtain

By EDWARD R. BOMAR
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—(AP)—The United States apparently is still able to get a lot of information from behind the Iron Curtain despite Communist efforts to plug leaks.

Disclosure of a series of official reports indicated today that the State Department announced yesterday it had reports "contradicting" the Soviet mass deportation of thousands of Greeks and other foreigners from the Caucasus area of south Russia.

Others, which the department has been sure of, told of talk in the Balkans of plans for launching a Communist guerrilla war against Yugoslavia.

These came on the heels of General Omar N. Bradley's testimony before a House committee three days ago that the Russian Red Army had 176 combat divisions and could raise the number to 500 in a few months.

Three weeks ago there was President Truman's announcement that Russia has succeeded in setting off an atomic explosion. Incidentally, some unofficial reports have said the explosion took place in the area now declared to be the scene of the mass deportation.

The State Department's information almost certainly came by official channels from its envoys. Collecting and forwarding all (Continued on Page Six)

$4,800 Donated To Health Unit By School Board

The County School Board Thursday increased its annual appropriation of $4,800 to the County Health Unit to $4,800 after Dr. Frank Quillen, director of the unit, pointed out that the City had discontinued its annual appropriation of $600 to the unit, thereby greatly reducing its efficiency.

Prof. J. R. Leach, director of the Orange County Vocational School, explained in detail to the Board the operation and purpose of the school, and pointed out that several pupils from Seminole County were attending at average monthly tuition cost of $21.

The question of whether Seminole County should assume the cost of the tuition of these pupils was debated at some length, Supt. T. W. Lawton reported. It was pointed out that most of the pupils had completed at least high school, and were taking courses similar to those of college students, and therefore it seemed inconsistent for the local system to pay their tuition. The matter was referred for further consideration.

B. J. Overstreet offered to replace in school buses all fire extinguishers which were found to be defective at a cost of $28,000. The Board granted the request (Continued on Page Six)

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—(AP)—CIO President Philip Murray today said he "suspected" that the recent steel strike represents a bankers' conspiracy to destroy not only the United Steel workers union but the trade union movement as a whole.

Murray, at a news conference prior to speaking in nearby Gary, Ind., tonight, said this "conspiracy" is spearheaded by the House of Morgan. It is difficult to understand why the industry should resist the modest demands of the union, the Fact Finding Board and the President of the U. S.

Air Secretary Says Publicity Given Inter-Service Row Endangers Defenses

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 18.—(AP)—James C. Stahlman, publisher of the Nashville Banner and a former captain in the Naval Reserve, today jumped into the thick of the Air Force-Navy controversy over the B-28 bomber. Stahlman said Air Secretary Douglas H. Sycamore apparently is referred to as "hooker" and "blow" by him which completely explodes the myth of strategic bombing.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Air Secretary Symington hit Navy criticism of the Air Force today as old "false" tales, and said it would be a good idea to increase the Air Force now that Russia has the A-bomb.

Symington was before the House Armed Services committee, defending the flying service against the barrage of charges the Navy has heaped in 10 days of charges.

First off he capped the assault for ever blaming the inter-service row over military policies into the open. He said it has resulted in letting possible enemies know "how this country would be defended."

In a statement and in a question and answer session with the committee members, he made these main points:

"It is not true," as the Navy charges, that the Air Force "lavish mass atomic bombing of citizens."

"It is 'grossly false' that the Air Force is over-empowering the A-bomb carrying B-28 long-range bombers." (Continued on Page Six)

Police Begin Drive On Traffic Violators

Police have started a new drive against traffic violators on account of the many serious accidents which have occurred recently as a result of excessive speed, carelessness and drunkenness, Police Chief Roy G. Williams announced this morning.

The docket of City Court Friday was full of names of violators, many of whom received stiff fines. One driver drew a $150 fine for driving while drunk, another was fined $25 for following a fire truck too closely.

"Anyone driving to a fire should not stop closer than 300 feet from where fire trucks have stopped," Chief Williams warned. In order to aid in the law enforcement against reckless drivers a new motorcycle officer, Sherwood Spence, has been added to the force.

One of the most common violations listed on the court docket in driving past stop signs or signals.

Fission And Fusion

The Atomic Energy Committee of Congress has made a formal report exonerating the Atomic Energy Commission of charges of mismanagement and this report might be expected to be quite comforting to the American people...

The fission of the atom was not accomplished in an operation of party politics. When the first bombs were dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki, it is not recalled that the political affiliation of the bombardier influenced the results of the explosions...

Citrus Law

(Continued From Page One) A three-judge federal court will hear arguments October 21 in Orlando to determine whether to keep the state from permanently putting the greater part of the law into effect...

Much of the suit's attack on the law today was directed at what it calls discrimination against fruit grown on so-called lemon stock in light soils in favor of fruit produced on sour root stocks in heavy soils...

The light soil area, said the suit, generally includes DeSoto, Hardee, Highlands, Hillsborough, Lee, Manatee, Pinellas and Polk counties.

The citrus code was passed by the Legislature as a result of pressure and political influence brought by growers and packers from the heavy soil section of Florida...

A large part of the early fruit, it continued, cannot be shipped, forcing it into canning and concentrate plants and denying growers the right to market it as fresh fruit.

Attackers of the law also said the law discriminated against growers of seeded grapefruit raised largely on sandy soil and benefits seedless varieties of grapefruit.

The suit took the law to task for saying tangorines had to be a yellow color before they could be declared ripe. It related that the color of tangorines is red or a "tangerine" color...

It brought out these other points: 1. Vast quantities of mature fruit are going unpicked right now because of "excessive and unfair standards" though "there is already market for this fruit."

2. Large amounts of ripe fruit are deteriorating and lots of it will have to be destroyed. A large investment is at stake. "Unemployment is serious and growing" in "plaintiffs' groves, packing

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

But we should be very sure before we miss any one out of his place. Good men have been defamed. Men shall clap their hands at him, and shall hiss him out of his place.—Jl. 27:23.

Jerome Chaffee Grant, a flier in the last war, died in New York the other day at the age of 36. He was a great-grandson of President Ulysses S. Grant.

Another argument which the Air Force might use against the Navy's super-carrier is the collision of the British carrier Albion with a freighter in the North Sea. If the British had adopted the U. S. Air Force plan, there wouldn't have been any carrier, hence no collision.

More people are suffering from nervous breakdowns and mental disorders than ever before in American history. Mrs. John Barr, celebrating her 98th birthday in Pittsburgh yesterday, gave this rather sage advice: "Let the future take care of itself. I never was a worrying woman." A friend of ours once told us that the things he worried about the most were the things that never happened. So why worry?

We are fascinated with the exigencies of Florida's new sales tax law. You can buy $100 worth of clothing without having to pay a single cent of tax, but if you buy a $10 shirt you have to pay a 3 percent tax. However, if you buy a dozen $10 shirts, you don't have to pay any tax. If you take a bunch of friends in the drug store for a Coca Cola and you pay the bill, you have to pay the tax too; but if you give them each a nickel and let them pay for their own, no tax. Isn't it wonderful?

Further devaluation of American currency by President Truman is hinted as other nations throughout the world cut the gold content of their paper money, thus intensifying the inflationary wave which is one of the causes of economic dislocations everywhere. However, President Truman couldn't devalue the American dollar without an act of Congress, and it is not likely that Congress will go along with him on that as it did with President Roosevelt. Other governments do not have to go to their parliaments, or people, for authority on matters like that. Fortunately, the American government does.

One of the most amazing things we have seen in the news in a long time was the question of Sir Frank Sanderson who asked the President of the British Board of Trade in Parliament the other day how in the world Britain was ever going to repay the $3,750,000,000 U. S. loan which is due in 1952. Why, he must be just an old fashioned, most backward reactionary! Doesn't he know that nobody worries about those things any more. If they did, some of our government officials would be having a nervous breakdown worrying about how they are going to repay that $250,000,000,000 they have borrowed from U. S. taxpayers.

We have been warning for a long time that the government's fiscal policies could lead to economic ruin for the people of this country. Others have said the same thing until now. Warnings are no longer news. It is news when the President's own economic adviser, Dr. G. Nourse, an economist who knows what he is talking about, and a liberal who is not known for political motives, says that "fiscal profligacy is causing the nation to slip toward economic disaster."

It is one thing to say that you must have more money. It is quite another to say that you must have more money than you can use. It is one thing to say that you must have more money. It is quite another to say that you must have more money than you can use.

Prospect For Colleges

Dr. Raymond Walters, president of the University of Cincinnati, has reported the results of his annual analysis of the enrollments of colleges and universities throughout the nation. There is one particularly bright spot in the report. This is the fact that although enrollments in most institutions are five to ten per cent lower than last year there is an exception in teachers colleges as a group, which have little or no decrease.

Although not so much has been heard recently about the teacher shortage there still is a great need for qualified educators. The continued high enrollment in teachers colleges indicates that this need will be met about as fast as the capacity of the colleges permits. Possible trouble ahead for small private liberal arts colleges is seen by Dr. Walters. These receive a substantial part of their income from endowment investments, and that kind of income is not rising as operating costs of the schools go up. The general decline in enrollments is causing a corresponding drop in tuition income. Hence some of these smaller schools may find themselves in a financial squeeze before long.

Most institutions in ordinary circumstances, however, will find the small decline in registration more of a relief than a source of worry, since their campuses have also been overcrowded for the last two or three years. Yet they also must give thought to financial problems for the future. The costs of schooling must be kept in line with the ability of students to pay. If the halls of learning are to be kept comfortably filled and giving their maximum service.

The Convicted Reds

It would be easy to attach far too much significance to the conviction of eleven Communist Party leaders on charges of conspiracy to advocate violent overthrow of the government. It would be a foolish blunder to assume that this event rocks the American Communist Party back on its heels, or causes despair in the Kremlin. The party faces the temporary loss of eleven of its professional leaders, but doubtless there are twenty-two others waiting to take their places. Even the permanent loss of eleven workers would be a trifle to the Kremlin.

The intent of the convicted to appeal to higher courts, if carried through to the end, may lead to a Supreme Court interpretation of the application of sedition and conspiracy laws to the operations of Communists and the Communist Party. That would be of very great value in dealing with the problem of Communism, and with the question of whether additional laws are needed to cope with that problem. The great question has been: How can American freedoms be protected against such attacks as those of the Communists, without destroying freedom itself with the measures used to destroy Communism? We may now be nearer to an answer.

Meanwhile there is no cause for celebrating the end of the Communist problem. The problem remains, and is little changed.

Big Harvest

The nation is harvesting its second largest volume of crops in history, second only to the bountiful crops of last year. It can be remarked with considerable assurance that it may be some time before any such harvest is gathered again, not so much because of the uncertainties of the weather, as because of the virtual certainty that government crop controls will hold down the planted and harvested acreage of many crops for a few years.

Under a system by which the chief fruit of an unusually big crop is unusually heavy government expenditures to support the market, the financial logic is reducing future crops is plainly to be seen. But human logic is missing. No matter how high the piles of government-owned cotton and wheat and eggs and such may be made, they will never be high enough to hide the pinched and cold faces of those, a few in our own back yards but most in other lands, who have neither enough clothing nor enough food.

During the years I served as editor of the Florida Grower Magazine, one event I always enjoyed was the annual meeting of the Florida State Horticultural Society. Although I have not been closely associated with horticultural and agricultural activities since leaving the Grower, I still have many warm friends who are, and I am looking forward keenly to the meeting of the Society which will be held in Tampa, Nov. 1, 2, 3.

The Florida Society is one of the oldest and strongest in the United States and over the years it has performed a most valuable service in advancing the welfare of horticulture and agriculture in Florida. The Society has always attracted able leadership and is especially fortunate at this time to have Frank Sterling, citrus grower of Davie as its president. Frank is one of the finest men I know. Long an active member of the Society, he has consistently given of his time and effort to advancing its welfare.

An exceptionally fine program has been arranged for the coming meeting and it will be time well spent for everyone who attends. Whether you are a grower of fruits and vegetables or flowers and ornamentals, you will gain much from attending the sessions and listening to the talks by eminent authorities on the many interesting subjects to be discussed. Of even more value will be the friendships and contacts made during the meeting, the exchange of ideas and experiences with fellow growers which is always worthwhile.

Special attention will be given during the coming session to such problems as the control of nematode with chemicals, the application of soil fumigants, use of dusts, effects of residues remaining on plants after insect control operations, compatibility of spray materials and chemical treatments, present status of spray and dusts, proper methods of fertilization for various crops, the effect of soil pH upon the growth of various crops, and the use of various types of fertilizers.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the strange stories of our time has been unfolded by Dr. Lorenzo Dow Turner, negro professor of English at Roosevelt College, Chicago, who has uncovered survivals of African culture among the quarter million negroes inhabiting the Rice Islands off the coasts of South Carolina and Georgia.

These negroes are descendants of slaves who were brought to America at the time of the earliest settlements. Some of those living on the islands never have been on the mainland or seen a white man at close range. They speak the language which includes many words brought by their ancestors from the jungles of Africa.

Dr. Turner found that some of the words in the Rice Islands language had their origin in Liberia. I was particularly interested in this because in 1942 when I spent some time at Fisherman's Lake, Liberia, I was astonished to find an American colloquialism dating from slave days. It happened like this:

Just at the time of the American invasion of North Africa, November 7, I started to fly from London to the middle East. Because the flight normally would take us near the scene of the fighting, the plane was diverted to Liberia. From there we crossed Africa to Khartoum and then down the Nile Valley to Cairo. I got hung up in Fisherman's Lake, where there was an American military headquarters for several days, and spent considerable time peering about the neighboring jungles.

As you will recall, the state of Liberia grew out of the labors of the National Colonization Society of America, which was organized in 1816 to free American negroes and colonize in Africa. Some 12,000 "American" Liberians now live in the republic and they are descendants of American slaves.

Well, I was tramping about among some native huts in the jungle when I came across a native woman sitting in front of her home and spoke to her. I really didn't expect to get an answer, and was surprised when she replied in good American. I stopped to chat with her and during the conversation she employed a very old U. S. colloquialism, which led me to ask her where she learned it.

"My great grandparents were slaves in America," she replied, "and came here when the American settlement was made. I learned my English from them."

This woman, who was about forty, never had been away from the jungle, but the language and customs of her people were handed down to her. She spoke a dialect which probably meant they too were descendants of American slaves.

Talking of slavery, you wouldn't expect to find it in Liberia, especially after the vigorous housecleaning of nearly a score of years ago. Back in 1931 an international commission disclosed that slavery had existed in Liberia. The United States and the League of Nations negotiated with the Liberian government and in 1938 the League reported that slavery was rapidly disappearing.

However, I was told on very good authority that some slavery was being practiced in that isolated jungle area. Girls were being auctioned off for manual labor, though I didn't hear that anything of the sort went on in the town of Liberia.

Speaking of the American invasion far to the north, that and a peculiar repercussion in the Liberian jungle. As the landing under way word was telegraphed from the north town through the length and breadth of Africa by means of the ancient native drums. The message—inspired by German agents—was that the Americans were going to drive southward, killing and burning as they went.

Gloomy View Of 81st Congress

Nation's Businessmen Find Congress' Bark Worse Than Its Bite

By SAM DAWSON NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Businessmen who were so gloomy when the 81st congress was elected last year are finding today their bark worse than its bite.

But, as the first session moves to a wrangling, uncertain close, many businessmen find their outlook a mixed blessing. Many of the things they dislike most are put off until January. Businessmen were not united, either. Few were the measures before Congress that didn't find businessmen appearing on both sides of the issue.

Congress failed to fulfill businessmen's worst fears of a year ago. For example, Congress didn't pass a mixed Hartley law, or increase taxes. And it sidetracked health insurance, the Brannan farm plan and social security extension, all of which had bitter opponents in the business world. But most of these issues are likely to come up again in January.

Huge appropriations for foreign aid and both American and European rearmament made for a drop in exports and in factory and mill orders than businessmen had braced for this year. However, these same appropriations mean continued high taxes. Some companies wonder whether their gains as suppliers equal their loss as taxpayers.

Most of Congress' acts tended to brake deflation or to promise future inflationary pressures. And their aim total higher expenditures and lower tax collections—tended the treasury to deficit financing, which many regard as the most inflationary item of all at the present time.

The public in general, however, appeared to lose interest in threats of future inflation, despite some warnings these were increasing, and to concentrate on signs that deflation was being held in check.

Just who will gain and who will lose by individual measures—in dollars and cents, without questioning their political or moral benevolence—is hard to say.

Most firms with goods to export feel that the Marshall Plan extension will help keep world trade moving. Exceptions with taxes to pay and no market to sell to. The majority of those directly engaged in exporting and importing hope to gain by the extension of reciprocal trade agreements, but some domestic manufacturers see only competition in their particular fields. Most exporters deplore the need to continue export controls as an expensive nuisance.

The military budget, both domestic and foreign, will spread orders among many industries. Taxpayers will suffer but most of them believe it necessary. Most farmers favor some farm price subsidy plan. Many businessmen and city dwellers fear that some of the plans put forward will be too heavy a drain on the treasury and keep the cost of living unnecessarily high. The bill to build crop storage bins is mostly shrugged off as a necessary part of the existing parity plan. Many businessmen think the international wheat agreement is unworkable, but most wheat farmers seem to hope it will help.

The minimum wage hike will help rebalancing power more than it hurts business, in the view of labor leaders. But many businessmen see it as inflationary and tending to hamper some industries with extra costs.

JACK VICE JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Police Capt. J. H. Allen, back on duty after a 15-day suspension rising from the city's war on vice, got right back in the thick of the campaign today.

Allen testified in city court against three men he arrested in two raids. But only one was convicted. Judge Charles Miller fined Joseph C. Bateh, 29, $200 for possession of a slot machine.

Allen again to start the worry-fest all over again.

Junior Feds Win Over DeLand Bullpups, 13-6

50 Yard Kick Return Set Up Early Score For Fred Ganas "B"

By OLAF ZEWADEKI
The Celery Fed "B" squad racked up its second win of the season last night by out-pointing an equally good DeLand Bull-Pup team, 13-6.

The Junior Feds, playing the season's first home tilt to the largest gathering of fans ever to attend a "B" game in Sanford, opened to receive the opening kick-off.

Fullback Chester Harper caught the ball on his 20-yard line, ran to his 35 and laterated to left half Stanley Oglesby, who carried the ball to DeLand's 30 yard stripe before he was downed.

In two plays Harper and right half Wes Spencer moved the ball to the Bull Pup's one yard stripe and Charlie Lee, on a quarterback sneak, dove over for the score.

The try for the extra point was no good.

Right half Hearn took Sanford's kick on his 115 and ran it back to his 47 yard line. Sanford gave DeLand a first down on penalties and fullback Franco charged his way through the Fed's line to the 7 where they stalled out and the ball changed hands on downs.

Oglesby of the Feds swived his way to the 20 and Harper shook loose after two no-gain plays for an 18 yard drive and a first down as the quarter ended.

Franco of DeLand intercepted Harper's pass on the next play and ran the ball back to the Fed's 30 before he was stopped by Wheelchel, center for the Feds. And Sanford took over the ball.

DeLand recovered Sanford's fumble and Register of the Bull Pups passed to quarterback Drury for 8 yards and again for 7 for a first down on the Sanford 28. Franco drove off tackle for 9, then bucked for another first down to the Fed's 15.

Register's pass to Taylor was no good and Franco charged to the 5 for a third first down, then smashed over for the tying 6 points. Franco's pass for the extra point was incomplete.

Register of DeLand kicked to Lee on his 15 and he tared to the 46 before he was thrown out of bounds.

Lee was hurt on the play and substitute quarterback Taylor on the following play twisted through the DeLand secondary to the 18 for a first down.

Harrison and Taylor, in four tries moved the ball to the 5 just as the whistle blew ending the half.

Bulldog fullback Franco received the Sanford kick off on his 25 and moved to his 44 before he was stopped by Routh, right tackle for the Feds.

Allen punted for DeLand on the 4th down and Spencer ran the ball back to his 45.

Harper drove his way to the Bull Pup's 42 for a first down. Sanford fumbled on the next play and DeLand recovered on its 35 yard stripe.

DeLand's Register kicked on the 4th down and Butler returned the ball to the Bulldog 40.

The Feds moved to DeLand's 25, but the Bullpup's held for the downs and DeLand took over as the third quarter ended.

The Fed's line held and DeLand kicked out to Spencer who ran back to Sanford's 48 yard line. Oglesby fought his way to the Bulldog's 31 for a first down. Oglesby carried again, moving behind nice blocking, to the 19 putting Sanford in a scoring position.

Harper hit the center for a first down on the DeLand 6 yard stripe and Oglesby, on a hand off from Harper, plowed over into the end zone to score.

Harper's line back for the extra point was good putting the Fed's in front 13-6.

With four minutes remaining, Sanford kicked to the Bulldogs who took to the air in a vain effort to knot the score, but were forced to kick on the 4th down.

The Bull Fed's took over at the DeLand 40 in four plays and kicked to the Bulldog's two as the game ended.

Attendance was estimated at 450 persons.

Starting lineups were:

Sanford	DeLand
Gano	L.E. Jaas
Swaggerty	LT
Skates	LG
Wheelchel	C
Schiffel	RG
Routh	RT

Kentucky Primes For Tilt That May Spoil Bowl Chance

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Kentucky prepared today to carry its hopes for an unbeaten season and an almost certain bowl bid into the Southwestern Conference Saturday.

Southern Methodist University, whipped by Rice in a wild and woolly upset, apparently is the only major barrier to the Wildcats' goal.

If the Kentuckians can squeeze by SMU, they can just about coast the rest of the way against relatively weak teams—Cincinnati, Xavier, Florida, Tennessee and Miami.

Both coaches, meanwhile, were laying the proper psychological background for the contest.

Kentucky's Paul Bryant, after putting his charges through snappy drills in sweat clothes, observed yesterday that SMU would be the "best team we've encountered since I've been here." And he's been at Kentucky since 1946.

Bryant said he feared that the SMU upset would prompt the Mustangs to get mad "and take it out on us."

As for SMU, Coach Matty Bell just said sadly, "there's no use practicing if you are going against something unbeatable. Even so, Bell sent his boys through a good and stiff workout."

Meanwhile, the other teams in the Southwestern Conference scampared through their usual light Monday afternoon drills.

The battered Vanderbilt Commodores just went through limbering up exercises after their narrow escape from a rambunctious Florida team. Vandy meets Arkansas Saturday.

As for the Florida Gators, they were highly pleased with their showing against Vanderbilt and worked light heartedly for their test with Georgia Tech.

While Tech was rated a favorite, the Gators were making sure that the Yellow Jackets would know, come Saturday night, that they had been in a football game. The Gator injured list was clearing, too.

After its rougher than expected game last week against Auburn, once rated the weak sister of the Conference, Tech took life easy yesterday, working out in sweat clothes.

Auburn was preparing to meet a team on the rebound from a terrific shellacking, Tulane.

Bill Davis, the Auburn half-back who sprinted 68 yards against Tech, obviously was being groomed for heavy duty.

Alabama was grooming its squad after a disappointing 7-7 tie

Bucky Harris To Manage Senators For Third Time

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19—(AP)—Bucky Harris returned today to manage the Washington Senators baseball team for three years at a reported $25,000-a-year salary.

It is the first time in major league history that a manager has handled the same club on three separate occasions.

Harris managed the team in 1924 and 1925 and from 1935 to 1942. Under the one-time "boy wonder," the Senators captured two American league pennants and a World Series championship.

Harris was brought back to succeed Joe Kuhel, who was released on Oct. 3 at the end of his second season as manager. The club wound up in the league basement this year, 47 games behind the American league pennant winning New York Yankees.

The signing of Harris was announced by Clark Griffith, President of the Senators, after a day of face-to-face dickering. Griffith previously had said that Harris had the inside track for the job.

While the terms were kept secret, they were reliable reports that Harris will get $25,000 a year pay. Harris, who will be 53 years old next month, managed San Diego of the West Coast league this season. He guided the club into the final round of the Coast League playoffs, losing to Hollywood in a six-game series.

Harris broke into the major leagues as a second baseman with the Senators in 1919 and five years later, at the age of 27, he became a playing manager.

When his first Washington team won the League pennant and the World Series, he was dubbed the "boy wonder" of baseball.

Harris spent 20 straight years in the big leagues as pilot for the Senators, Detroit and Boston in the American league and the Philadelphia Phillies of the National circuit.

He shifted to Buffalo in 1944 to pilot the Bisons in the international league and moved into the front office as general manager there in 1946 and 1946.

with Tennessee for a homecoming game with Mississippi State. Coach Red Drew was expecting his players to be in good shape physically.

But that was not true of Mississippi State. Coach A. W. Morton faced the game with seven of his first stringers on the injured list.

"Our manpower situation is an critical," said Morton, "that we may have to make a hurried shift to the single wing offense."

Leading Mentors Discuss Football's Platoon System

NEW YORK, Oct. 19—(AP)—College football is on a point-a-minute binge, but leading coaches disagreed today on what is responsible for the astronomical scoring trend.

"It's the platoon system," chorused one group of mentors, including Ivy Williamson of Wisconsin, Matty Bell of S.M.U., Jess Neely of Rice and J. V. Sikes of Kansas.

"The platoon system has nothing to do with it," argued others, such as Earl Blaik of Army, Henry Frka of Tulane and Biggie Munn of Michigan State.

Most of them agreed in an Associated Press survey that the sport has become definitely "offensive minded," that coaches make no special effort to roll up impressive tallies and that the liberal substitution rule plays a big part in keeping the scoreboard busy.

They traced the assembly line point-making also to "sugar make" substitutes who, thrown into a game to open the gates of mercy, clock the gates instead with a hungry effort to make good.

Recently college scores have followed the pattern of the pros, reaching basketball proportions.

"We're getting ten or twelve more plays a game now," said Sikes, whose Kansas team was mauled by Oklahoma Saturday 48-28. "I think the two platoon system is a contributing factor."

Oklahoma's Bud Wilkinson attributed the scoring rise to intricate offensive maneuvers and added: "A defense cannot adequately cope with all formations."

"Not long ago a team would use either the straight angle wing, double wing or Notre Dame box," he said. "Then a team prepared a defense for one offense. Now a team will use ten or 12 variations of one formation. Nebraska, for example, has 14 off the T. A team can't get ready for that many."

Notre Dame's Frank Leahy, whose Irish walloped Tulane 46-7, said he never believed in running up a big score and always threw in the subs after building up a lead.

"On the other hand," he added, "reserves play hard to become regulars and they can't be told not to run, block or tackle. Against Tulane we used 54 boys, threw one pass after the first half and the regulars took over only once in the second half."

Leahy said coaches generally are concentrating on offensive play and acknowledged he himself worked "overtime on the scoring department."

Frka of Tulane dissented. "I don't think the two-platoon system can account for high football scores," he said. "Neither do I think reserves, trying to make a good showing, can be the reason."

Large scores usually result from the ability of the winner to get there fastest with the mostest, to use Nathan Bedford Forrest's analysis of victory on the battlefield.

Blaik, whose Army forces stormed over Harvard last week 54-14, agreed with Frka that the platoon system couldn't be credited with the point-making spurge.

"All the proof you need of that is that Notre Dame doesn't use it," he said. "The only reason for these big scores, in my opinion, is that the teams beaten were not as good as they were supposed to be."

Fighting Gators Spoiling For Win Over Georgia's Rambling Wrecks

By Associated Press
The Florida-Georgia Tech game at Gainesville Saturday is a sell-out and well should be, for more reasons than one.

For one, a lot of the record 27,000 who have bought tickets are Floridians who want to see their Gators in action at a big homecoming.

For another reason, it could be a very good ball game.

Coach Ray Wolf and his Gator charges are all popped up over the close 22-17 shave they gave Vanderbilt and their 14-14 tie with Auburn. They are out to make it even hotter for the Yellow Jackets.

Then, when you remember that uncomfortable afternoon Auburn gave the Techmen last Saturday, you get the point.

Tech got a pretty bad bruising in that Auburn fray. Four of Bobby Dodd's stalwarts were still limping yesterday and at least four of the seven injured were back in harness yesterday, but three were not and are not likely to be by Saturday.

That's not good at all when the Auburn crew has to go up against a Notre Dame-beaten, but not a humbled Tulane Greenie squad.

The Greenies, obviously irked over the stiff icing by the Irish, were out to make amends. Coach Henry Frka decided a healthy pass defense was important against the Plainmen and acted accordingly.

Frka explained that he had worked "overtime on the scoring department."

Frka of Tulane dissented. "I don't think the two-platoon system can account for high football scores," he said. "Neither do I think reserves, trying to make a good showing, can be the reason."

Georgia's Wally Butts is in high spirits over the prospect of turning Flovid Reid loose against the University of Miami Friday night. Reid, out of action since Oct. 12 with an ankle injury, was in old form running from fullback in yesterday's scrimmage at Athens. The Bulldogs will entrain 46 strong tonight for Miami.

Vandy's Commodores worked out for Arkansas and the battle-weary Mississippi Rebels for Texas Christian.

Knutte Rockne, famed Notre Dame football coach, also was the first official track coach ever to serve at the Irish institution.

Tennessee football teams have won 61 and lost 19 Southeastern Conference games in 15 years—top mark in the loop.

Nine Ole miss seniors are in line for their fourth football letters this season.
