Steel And The Public

No matter how the present controversy between management and labor in the steel industry is setting mineral side will be satisfied and it is already appearant that the mineral sufferer will be the general public. Unless negotiations are successful a major steel strike is scheduled for Fag. 23 which could have a crippling effect on the defense effort. It is reported that an offer will be made to management and the unions by the government in an effort to avert the atrike. The workers will be offered a 15 cent housy increase, while management will be promised a $2.40 to $3.00 per ton review increase. A general wage and price boost in an industry as basic as steel will mean another spiral upward in the cost of living. Those who must buy steel at higher prices will demand, and probably get price boosts for their products. Higher costs for consumers will mean more demands for wage increases and the cycle can only be carried out indefinitely to final misery for all.

There is a good deal of talk about holding the line on prices and wages, but few people pay more than lip service to the cause of halting inflation. Until management, labor and the general public become determined that inflation must not spread, until they realize that it is a false propertity which could destroy us, all the control laws and wage and price stabilization boards will be of no avail.

Answer To The Klam

Ten Ku Klux Klansmen have been arrested by the FBI in North Carolina. The gents believe that terror and threats have kept other victims in recent months from informing on the Klansmen.

The power of the Klan is not nearly as great as it once was. Courageous southern leaders have defied it and for the most part have smashed its power. But the principles of hate and bigorry for which the modern Klan standa are still revived in some places from time to time.

But it should not be forgotten that one does not necessarily have to mask his face with a hood to be a bigor, or was. Courageous southern leaders have defied it and for the management of the course of the day of the search of the course of the day of the hood week. A century ago the low tariff advocates seemed to have won their fight. They got their way in the 1846 act, which gave such satisfaction that rates were cut further in 1857. Them came the War Between the States, forcing a higher tariff as a revenue raiser. The new protective policy, then thought temporary, was not overthrown until the days of Woodrow Wilson, and then only for a few years. The present situation seems more lasting.

high scoring Jimmy Taylor, who was sick. Center Jimmy Hawkins took command of the scoring laurels by dropping in eight points on four field goals.

Goard Bob Bowen tallied five markers for his highest single game total this year. The Gordlemen broke out with a rash of tallies early in the contest and were never headed.

The Junior Feda' win yester-day gave them a 7-1 record for the season. They beyon't lost a single game since the start of the season when Oviedo defeat-ed them 31-19. However, the Gordiemen avenged that by edging Oviedo 18-16 in an overtime here. The winning skein in-cludes double wins over Enter-prise, Winter Park, Winter Garden and a split with Oviedo.

The Junior High aggregation plays Lyman here Thursday night. plays Lyman here Thursday night.

The Sanford Freshmen fought hard but the superior game-experienced Parkers edged out a five point win in the initial game yesterday. However, in defeat the local frosh showed improvement. In the last tilt between the two quintets in Winter Park, Sanford lost by 19 points.

Larry Bates and Ralph Flowers each led the losing scoring effort with four markers aplece. Mentzer of Winter Park topped the scorers in the game with eight points. The Parker Frosh led all the way in sinking the Sanford Freshmen Five for the fifth time in five outings this year.

The internal revenue office here told me that the 18 month plan was included in the 1831 Revenue Act, passed by Congress. It provides that U. S. citizens who become bona fide residents of a foreign country for Sib full days of an 18 month feriod are exempted from paying U. S. income taxes for that period; (That permits citizens to visit this rountry for about 37 days during the 18 months.)

The provision was reportedly to accourage oil and sireraft workers to accept assignments in far-off places. Now movie firms and agents have been studying the plan as a means of landing huge, virtually tax-free salaries for stars, and directors. Of course, the talent would be required to pay income taxes in the countries where they reside, but in many lands that would be negligible.
