Students Do Not Think Much of Diamond, Gridiron, Etc. SERVICE HEROES

FALL FLAT IN CURRENT HISTORY TESTS AND REALLY BIG MEN COME FIRST.

This was the result in the Sanford schools and the pupils seemed to be more concerned and more familiar with the national figures in current history than in the movie or baseball idols.

NEW YORK CITY UNEMPLOYED MEN FORM NEW UNION

1,000 JOBLESS SEAMEN FAVOR TAKING CAPITAL TO SUPPORT LABOR

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Organization of an American "Union of the Unemployed" to be governed by the workers' council system of representation which prevails in Soviet Russia, was attempted at a meeting of 1,000 jobless seamen, at the seamen's church institute here today.

Leaders announced that the movement would be carried to every city in the country, in an effort to compel government and capital to "provide work or supply the jobless with compensation at union wage rates."

To guard against any attempt at violating during a "demonstration" advertised to proceed the meeting, several hundred mounted police, at-rol, reserves and detectives, paraded the Battery district.

The demonstration, however, was confined to one tattered soldier of the army of unemployed, who marched to and fro along the waterfront, sandwiched between placards exhorting the jobless to join him.

Isidor Amter, who said he was secretary of the unemployment council, was the principal speaker. Another was P. J. McCarthy, who was introduced, as a recent worker for Irish freedom.

Formation of a workmen's council, among the jobless with direct and indirect affiliation with organized labor, taxation of capital to provide work and sustenance for the unemployed, complete disarmament, opening of the Munitions along Fifth Avenue, "while the owners are gunning themselves at Palm Beach with Mayor Hylan" were advocated as means of relieving the situation.

It was announced that other branches of the "union of the unemployed" were being formed in Brooklyn and the Bronx.

ONE OF THE PRETTIEST SUBDIVISIONS EVER OPENED IN CITY OF SANFORD

The Buena Vista Estate will be opened to the public tomorrow by the National Realty Company who have opened offices in the T. J. Miller corner. This beautiful subdivision is probably one of the finest tracts of lands that have ever been placed on the market in Sanford. On Celery avenue and Melonville avenue, high and dry, in the center of the farming industry, just far enough from the city to be a high class property, in that part of the city that is growing very rapidly, this property is bound to be sold quickly.

Read the big advertisements in this issue. Go to Miller's store and have a talk with the gentlemen who are in charge of the sale and then attend the opening sale tomorrow where over 1,000 useful presents will be given away absolutely free together with a Ford Touring car and two fine building lots.

NEW BLOC IN CONGRESS TO REDUCE ARMY

REPRESENTATIVES ORGANIZED TO SEEK SMALLER FORCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Demand for a reduction in the size of the army to 100,000 enlisted men, or even to a maximum of 75,000, will be made in the house when the annual army appropriation bill comes up for consideration members of the subcommittee, which is drafting the measure predicted yesterday.

A formidable bloc of representatives of the subcommittee members declared, was preparing to wage a determined fight to limit the army's size to 75,000 men while others who favor reduction had indicated they would be satisfied if the maximum was fixed at 100,000. Other factions among the house members were said to favor a 125,000 maximum or to oppose any reduction in the present size which under a limitation for pay of enlisted men approximates 137,000.

ST. PETERSBURG WOMEN PROTEST BATHING SUIT PARADE TO BE INDECENT

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 14.—Protests were filed with Mayor Frank Pulver today asking that the bathing suit parade proposed as a feature of a gala week here in March be prohibited. This protest came from three women's organizations, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, the Woman's Town Improvement Association and the League of Women Voters. Violation of a city ordinance forbidding the wearing of a bathing suit on the streets was cited in the protests, which declared further that such a "display would be indecent unless exhibited on lay figures."

FLORIDA AND HER RESOURCES

INTERESTING STORY OF SANFORD'S EARLY DAYS AND J. E. INGRAHAM'S VIEWS ON EARLY DEVELOPMENT

From the Manufacturer's Record

The shipment of a box of oranges of unusual size and flavor to President Harding as a Christmas reminder of the many pleasant trips he has made to this city and state, and also as a reminder of the great food producing possibilities of this section, has called forth from Mr. James E. Ingraham, the vice-president of the Florida East Coast Railroad, an interesting letter, in the course of which he said:

"It has seemed to me a very strange thing, in my forty odd years' residence in Florida, or since 1876, when I came here from St. Louis with my wife and young baby, full of ambition but very limited means, that other people should not see the state and its resources as I saw them, and I could not understand why they did not, and don't now understand; but more than all else, during all of this period, while I have had much to do with development in different parts of the state, with the three men who have done more than any other three men to develop Florida, it has been a puzzle to me that the government—the administration, it did not make any difference whether Democratic or Republican—should pay so little attention to Florida, its vast possibilities, boundless resources, and incalculable advantages, one of the greatest being its nearness by rail to all the important cities in the United States. If the government would have done one small part of its duty towards Florida, in the way of drainage, that it extended to irrigation in the far West, Florida would have three or four millions of people here instead of one million, and its attractions for health, pleasure and business would be as well known, or better known, than California. It is very probable that distance lends enchantment to the view, and that is where California puts it over on us.

"The box of oranges which you sent the President was almost as good as the box of oranges which I had picked from General Henry S. Sanford's grove at Belleair, near Sanford, and packed and given to Gen. Grant, when he turned the first shovel of earth, beginning the construction of the South Florida railroad. This box was a standard box and contained 60 oranges, all picked from two trees.

"Gen. Sanford's work was the beginning of all interest in Florida by men of vision, enterprise and means.

After he bought the Sanford grant in the early seventies and established the town of Sanford at the head of navigation on the St. Johns river, he built the Sanford House, the first tourist house in what was then known as South Florida, and planted the first big citrus grove in the state, of over one hundred acres of trees, about three miles from Sanford. He established as well the fact that pineapples could be grown commercially in Florida, and pines were shipped from the pinery at Belleair Grove to No. 8 Covent Garden Market, London, in the early eighties, very successfully, but after they were planted commercially on the Indian river further south, Mr. Sanford dropped them, but he imported quantities of high grade pines, slips and suckers, from India and Persia, for which he paid very high prices. He also imported a large number of high grade orange trees and among other trees, the Villa Franca lemon, which established itself in Florida. He entered upon the first colonization scheme of importance, bringing over five hundred Swedes, men, women and children, whom he established near Sanford and in the vicinity of his great orange grove. He established a large store in Sanford, called the Sanford store, the first general store, probably in Florida, and carried on business through his agents, from Tampa to Punta Rasa and Punta Gorda on the west coast, to Titusville on the Indian river, and Lake Harney on the St. Johns river. He always contended that Florida was really so close to New York that it should be considered at the entrance to the New York harbor. Mr. Sanford did a great deal of real philanthropic work, as he gave of his knowledge and the results of his investigation of fruits freely to his neighbors, and to any one who desired them he would sell, at merely nominal rates, cuttings for budding purposes from his fruit trees, or if they could not pay for them he would give them away.

It is surprising, and has been for many years, as stated by Mr. Ingraham, that the National government has never seemed to grasp the almost infinite value of this state to the entire country, and therefore it has never given to Florida a hundredth part of the attention which is given to the

SHOOTING BREAKS OUT IN BELFAST DISTRICT TODAY NO CASUALTIES REPORTED

Four Children Are Reported Wounded in Yesterday's Attack

BELFAST, Feb. 14.—Shooting broke out again in North Howard street area this morning but no casualties reported. Four children wounded in yesterday's bomb attack in Weaver street died during the night. Twenty-two persons injured. Deaths in disorders since Saturday night now sixteen.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—The Irish situation since the raids over the Ulster border has steadily become worse and no secret is made of the grave alarm with which it is viewed in official circles in London. Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary for the colonies, declared in the house of commons this afternoon that the shooting of the Ulster special constables at Clones has greatly aggravated the situation.

The Evening Standard asserts that Ireland is on the brink of civil war and quotes a member of the government as saying that while the government hesitates to do anything which the Sinn Feiners could interpret as provocative, swift military preparations have already been made to prevent an armed invasion of Fermanagh and Tyrone.

In the light of the developments of the last few days much significance is attached to the suspension today of the evacuation of British troops from Southern Irish ports. The Irish office explains that the suspension was ordered pending a decision regarding the extent of the reinforcements to be sent to Ulster. Sir James Craig, Ulster premier, announced tonight that the Ulster garrison of British troops was to be increased from ten battalions, the previous number to fourteen.

BELFAST, Feb. 14.—Snipers continued in the disturbed sections of Belfast today and by mid-day the death roll since Saturday was increased to eighteen and the wounded were placed at fifty.

Confidence Men Will Be Held by Heavy Bonds

Indications are the authorities will pile up charges and bonds on each until the total sum is too great for them to pay.

OUTSTANDING FEATURE IS FARM LABOR BEING PLENTIFUL AND WILLING TO WORK

GAINESVILLE, Feb. 14.—Florida is getting ready to plant the largest watermelon acreage in history according to Federal Bureau of Crop Estimates here in a weekly review of crop conditions in the state. From all sections farmers are reported to be preparing to produce a crop the coming season that will eclipse anything ever known in the state. The Bureau also declares the cantaloupe acreage will be increased. The outstanding feature of the review is the statement that farm labor "is plentiful and willing to work."

AGAINST ANY CUT IN MINING PRICES BUT PREVAILING ONE

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 14.—The wage scale committee reported to special convention of the United Mine Workers here today declared "in most emphatic manner our opposition to any reduction in mining prices and insist that the present basic wage schedule be maintained."

NO MORE PROGRESS IN TAYLOR PROBE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14.—The investigation of the slaying of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director reached by officials as "waiting for the unexpected." It was admitted that no progress had been made toward establishing who fired the shot which killed the director in his home February 1. District Attorney Woolwine said he had checked up on "countless" clues which had been brought to his attention, but without definite result.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Mabel Normand's father, Claude G. Norman, of St. George, Staten Island, announced tonight that his daughter had wired him that the Los Angeles authorities, grand jury, district attorney and police, had absolved her of all blame in the killing of William Desmond Taylor.

The same wire, he said, stated that all her letters to the director had been returned by the district attorney.

FT. WAYNE MAN ARRESTED IN JAX. FOR ALLEGED THEFT

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 14.—Local police today announced arrest of Chas. Warrell, Fort Wayne, Indiana, wanted there in connection of theft last November from Mrs. Martha Shordon of six thousand in currency, and nineteen thousand in liberty bonds. SEN. HARRISON CHARGES VIOLATE CIVIL SERVICE LAW

SAYS PRESIDENT HARDING OVERSTEPPED BOUNDS IN APPOINTMENT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Charges of violating the civil service law were made against President Harding Saturday in the Senate by Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, in an attack upon Republican management of Government affairs.

In appointing French Crow as postmaster of Marion, Ohio, his home city, by executive order, Senator Harrison said Mr. Harding had "stamped" the law under foot. The appointment, which Senator Harrison announced he would oppose and urge de dismissed on the floor of the Senate, was, he declared, "the most glaring incident in the history of civil service in the United States."

"How can followers of civil service have any faith or confidence?" he asked. "This is the beginning of destruction of the civil service system."

Senator Harrison also attacked Chairman Lasker of the shipping board, declaring he had made statements regarding its alleged economy of administration which had not been born out, and also criticised an appropriation bill provision extending the annual $25,000 travelling allowance fund of the President for use for official entertainment purposes.

Chairman Warren, of the appropriations committee, defended the travel-entertainment fund and called attention to the expenditures aboard of former President Wilson. Senator Warren said that "some millions of dollars" had been spent by Mr. Wilson "and no accounting made for it yet."

That Senator Harrison was seeking to inject partisan politics into the discussion was charged by Senator Warren, while Mr. Harrison countered with the statement that Senator Warren had raised the question of partisanship.

Civil service administration also attacked again by Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, and others. Senator Caraway read a letter from the commission denying his recent charges that examination marks had been raised arbitrarily, and then reiterated the charges, citing alleged instances in Arkansas postmaster cases. Senator Caraway also charged that former service men had been "turned down" in seeking positions as postmasters.

Senator Harrison said that it was "a farce the way postmasters are appointed". Other appointments, he added, were subject to the same indictment. Without Republican political influence, he declared, there was "no chance to get a job under this administration." This condition, he said, in his opinion resulted from orders "from above."

Finance Corporation Says Prices Now Are Satisfying Farmers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Optimistic views of improved conditions in the country's basic agricultural industries are warranted by reports received by the War Finance Corporation from its field agencies, according to a statement issued tonight by Managing Director Meyer.

"Corn is now selling at country elevators in Nebraska and Iowa at forty cents a bushel, as against twenty cents four months ago," he said. "Hogs command a good market, and reports indicate that farmers are getting the equivalent of eighty to ninety cents for corn that is marketed on the hoof. The market for sheep is stabilized. They are selling in large quantities and at prices considered satisfactory to the growers and feeders.

"The cattle market is no longer demoralized; the breeding herds are being held; the young stock is no longer being sacrificed and the feeding and fattening business is proceeding in good volume and with fairly satisfactory returns. There is a broad market for wool and hides at good prices.

"The grain markets are showing a good consumptive demand. The movement of cotton has been larger this season than last year and the prices are much fairer to the producers. The large cotton co-operative marketing organizations have demonstrated their ability to conduct their business on a sound basis and have proved to be a stabilizing factor.

"All this means that the farmer is being put in position to liquidate his debts gradually and that his normal purchasing power—so vital to the commercial, transportation and industrial interests—is being restored."

WILLIS POWELL STEPS IN SPOT WITH NEW STORY

(By The Associated Press)

TAMPA, Feb. 14.—The sense of humor possessed by the late Viscount Bryce, formerly British ambassador to the United States, who passed away recently in England, was strikingly illustrated at a banquet tendered the statesman here some years ago by the Tampa Board of Trade.

The orchestra at the hotel where the banquet was held was composed of Tyrolese, none of whom could speak English. Willis B. Powell, formerly widely-known middle western and eastern newspaper and advertising man, then secretary of the board of trade, was charged with the preparation of the musical program and he undertook to instruct the orchestra leader that when the toastmaster did the honors to Great Britain and the ambassador and the assemblage arose and lifted glasses for the toast, the orchestra should play "God Save the King." To be certain that the leader understood his instructions Powell whistled a few bars of the British national anthem.

The auspicious movement arrived. The toastmaster feelingly spoke of the cordial relations between Great Britain and the United States. Proposed a toast to the mother country and her ambassador, the company arose—and the orchestra burst out with "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight."

The guests were struck dumb and all eyes turned toward Mr. Bryce. That gentleman began to laugh. He laughed until the tears streamed down his face.

When the orchestra concluded its rendition of the air so popular with the army and navy during the Spanish-American war the party applauded loudly and the musicians, feeling highly honored by the acclaim, played it again.

Mr. Bryce was so greatly amused at the incident he took steps to see that the newspapers in Great Britain recorded it, and from that source it went all over the world.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Further decrease in retail food prices shown statistics today by department of labor from twenty-seven countries largest cities month ending January fifteenth.

FARM SUGGESTIONS FOR 1922

(From College of Agriculture, Gainesville)

Corn: It is not recommended that the Florida farmer plant corn as a money crop by itself. A liberal acreage of corn to supply his own needs has its legitimate place in any rational system of farming in Florida. This should be planted on well-prepared land and properly fertilized. Along with the corn always should be planted cowpeas or velvet beans.

Sweet Potatoes: This is a crop which has not been properly appreciated in the South. With good management there is no reason why sweet potatoes cannot become a money crop in this state. Certainly farmers are justified in growing sweet potatoes even as a food and feed crop.

Peanuts and Velvet Beans: These are profitable crops and especially so, if we consider their soil-improving qualities. As a hog and cattle feed there is a big point in favor of the bean, and the peanut is possibly one of the best fattening feeds for hogs. As soil-improvers these crops are almost essential to the farm and no rotation system in the South should exclude them.

Home Gardens: Special attention should be given this year to the home garden. The land to be used for a garden should be specially prepared and highly fertilized with farm manures. It should be convenient to the home and well-fenced from hogs, cattle and chickens. Some plantings should be made in this garden practically every week in the year and the cultivation should be regular and thorough.

Pork Production: Florida is buying several million dollars' worth of pork annually. Every farmer should have one or more sows and provide them with green, growing crops and sanitary surroundings. Farmers should not give up the raising of hogs, even the present market conditions are discouraging. People must eat, and pork is a staple food.

Other Livestock: The most economical way of marketing many crops is by feeding them to livestock. Every farmer, therefore, should strive to maintain his livestock, especially good beef and dairy cattle, so as to have a sufficient number to consume the surplus feed on the farm. Where advantageously situated, farm dairying will prove profitable. Livestock will not only pay a good profit for feed consumed, but will very materially increase the supply of farm manure, thus saving the fertility that otherwise would be sold from the farm.

Poultry: Florida is not growing anything like the poultry that is needed in the state, and it is recommended and urged that much more attention be given to this valuable branch of the livestock industry. It will pay.

Bee Culture: The proper handling of a few hives of bees upon every farm will prove both profitable and interesting. These few colonies of bees will furnish the farmer and his family with an abundance of delightful, nutritious food at the minimum cost and a ready sale can be found always for any surplus and at a profitable way.

MEMBER THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

All out for the big fair at Orlando.

Valentine day today. Send her one.

Send your vegetables and fruits to the Seminole exhibit.

Three Chinese were shot in the Tong Wars in various cities. This is absolutely fatal we suppose.

Our county is the greatest county in the state for the growing of vegetables. Let the world know it at Orlando this week.

They have had eagles down in Chile. Press dispatch says that in a fight between a soldier and an eagle the eagle pulled the trigger of the soldier's rifle and killed the soldier.

We saw several domes in Tampa last week, but the one we missed most at the press breakfast belongs up Sanford way.—Reporter-Star. Thanks, Clement. We don't eat breakfast any more.

Frank Miller is working like a Trojan to make the Seminole County exhibit a success. He has willing assistants but he should also have the assistance of every grower in the county.

This seems to be an "off season" for wire-tappers. The cruel world is getting after them on all sides and they have no place to lay their bundle. Their lot is almost as hard as that of the movie picture actor at Los Angeles.

As soon as the state Democratic Executive Committee has met in Jacksonville the county committees will meet and then the races will be on. There is very little flutter in Seminole over the spring campaign. We are all too busy with the crops to fool with candidates this spring.

We like the way the City Commissioners acquiesced to the proposal to make some charter changes and to call an election for bonds for city improvements and the future municipal ownership for Sanford. The city commissioners are working in perfect harmony for the promotion of a bigger and better city. Their attitude last night showed their whole-hearted support in anything that the people of the city ask in reason.

Lake front improvements, new streets, sewers, golf links, Rod and Gun Club, municipal ownership, new tourist hotel, boat basin and many other things will take up our time and attention this summer and it looks as though there would be no summer vacation for any of us. Sanford will take such a spurt this summer that the summer vacationists will not know the old town when they return in the fall. Let's go!

THE SPIRIT OF LINCOLN

Lincoln's birthday this year inevitably reminds anyone familiar with Lincoln's career of his wonderful Second Inaugural Address, and its famous conclusion:

"With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us finish the work we are in, to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and his orphan, to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

Here are words of living light, and of inescapable application. Here is a mandate, from the greatest of Americans, calling upon a new generation to do what he sought to do for his own. The two situations are strangely parallel. History repeats itself, not in detail but in the general nature of the tasks that come to succeeding ages, and the spirit in which they must be met.

Here is the Great Emancipator urging his countrymen again to "finish the work we are in", the work of reconstruction following a great war; "to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations," a duty with which the nation is engaged at this moment, but which remains imperfect and incomplete.

Above all, he urges the handling of big, human problems, domestic and foreign alike, "with malice toward none, with charity for all." This is the spirit in which the world's problems are to be solved, in this year of grace if they are solved at all.—St. Augustine Record.

THE FUTURE OF FLORIDA.

It is heartening to read in the Palm Beach Post something so perfect in line with what the Reporter-Star has been advocating with reference to general farming and stock raising in Florida and protecting the home market. The Post says:

"By degrees the necessity of growing staple crops in the Everglades impressed upon those who are interested in this section.

It is not to be charged to slow comprehension about a community of purpose in making a conditions that progress in this respect has been tardy. Rather, it has been inability to bring about a community of purpose in making a condition that could be dealt with in the concrete.

Hence, the article in this issue of The Post from Dr. Thos. E. Will in regard to establishing a grain elevator is of immediate and intimate interest to every farmer in the Glades, whether or not he is interested in the growing of grain. Whether the planter be engaged in citrus or avocado culture, it is of concern to him that an opportunity for having a ready market for corn is permitted to pass. It seems that Dr. Will has investigated this enterprise with much thoroughness, and the elevator will be built if the farmers will grow the corn.

Dr. Will points out that as much corn has been produced in this territory in a single season as would be required to secure the building of an elevator, but the acreage was scattered and unquestionably was not of much profit to the planters.

Now comes the chance—the big chance—to have a grain elevator. The party at interest proposes to build if assurance is given that from 75,000 to 100,000 bushels of corn is produced for his enterprise.

Fair enough. This brings the market to the farmer, and the farmer should be willing to do his part. The initiative taken by Dr. Will should be followed up by community action.

The machinery for such action already exists in the community council. Florida has thousands of acres of productive land lying idle that ought to be producing crops. And a market should be provided for those crops right here in Florida. Grain warehouses and cold storage are two things greatly needed in Florida.—Reporter Star.

CULTIVATING THE BOYS

While so very much of necessary attention is being given to the cultivation of the soil, in order that products for supplying the food needs of the human family may be assured, it is most gratifying that, in recent years, especially, more and more attention is being given to the cultivation of the boys in order that they may, in due course of time, supply the manhood of the country. This is a most praiseworthy work. It is bearing fruit in appreciable abundance and of excellent quality.

The Boy Scout work is boy cultivation. It is taking what may be called "raw material," as much of it is, in every sense of the word, and by practical work producing a "finished product" or, at least, going very far toward that achievement. The Boy Scout movement and work is worldwide. It is accomplishing results that are altogether commendable. It is developing the better instincts and activities of the boys that when they arrive at the age where they step over the line that divides boyhood and manhood they are the better prepared to assume the cares and responsibilities of the latter period, the one in which their greatest usefulness to themselves and to their fellow men will be called for, when will be determined their capacity and their ability to take up the duties that will fall to their lot.

How thoroughly practical this Boy Scout cultivation work is regarded, how necessary it is held to be, is indicated by the support that is being given, in Florida, as elsewhere, to the movement which has for its single purpose to get the boys started right on their way to manhood. Just observe the Boy Scout and see what a manly fellow he is, even after comparatively brief association with the organization. He is distinguished among boys. He "stands up" better in every respect than those who are not Scout members.

The Rotarians, as an organization, have been quick to observe this, to note the benefit boys who are Scouts are deriving from the work and play of the organization. That is why the Tampa Rotarians, as stated in a recent dispatch appearing in the state news columns of the Times-Union, last year backed their Boy Scouts financially to the extent of $5,000 and why, this year this financial support has been increased to $7,000, every member present at the meeting voting in favor of the expenditure of this amount of money for the worthy purpose. Rotarians elsewhere have similarly come to the realization of the good that is in the Boy Scout movement and are giving it their practical, whole-hearted support.

Not only Rotarians but people generally see the good work that results in proper cultivation of the boys by the Scout method. They are giving to this sort of cultivation more and more attention. Even those who are enthusiasts in the matter of "better breeds," as in the cattle industry, are coming to appreciate the fact that "better boys" are even more important if in the coming years we are to have men of the "better" type. Likewise, those who are planning and striving for improved machinery, for advancement in business methods, in the sciences and professions, are coming to appreciate what it means to develop the boys along right lines, for the common good of the human race. And with this appreciation comes increased and more general effort to make the Boy Scout movement the success that it will be with proper cooperation and wise direction.

Parents are seeing the beneficial results that are coming to their boys who are Scout members. Boys themselves are not slow to realize what it means to be a Scout. Thus the good work goes forward. It has scarcely started. It needs and demands encouragement and practical assistance. The Boy Scouts are the nation's civilian marines, to be depended upon in every emergency. May their number increase until millions of the youth of this country will be enrolled as Boy Scouts.—Times-Union.

ROTARIANS CELEBRATE VALENTINE DAY TODAY

The Sanford Rotary Club celebrated Valentine Day today by passing around envelopes in which were comic valentines and each member was required to read his valentine provoking much merriment. Songs by the general songbirds and chalk talks by Charlie Britt together with several very interesting reports of committees passed away a pleasant luncheon hour. It was decided that the entire club should be present at the bowling contest between the Rotarians and the Men's Club tomorrow night and all those who are absent will give a dinner to the ones who play. The game is expected to be filled with thrills and many rheumatic pains.

Passage of the bill also is advocated by the federal board of hospitalization with the recommendation that a clause providing that $500,000 be expended in enlarging Mount Alto hospital, at Washington, D. C., be eliminated.

A copy of a resolution unanimously adopted by the board which has been studying the Government hospitalization program, and approved by the President, was transmitted today to Mr. Langley. ## PERSONALS

April showers today.

Valentine Day is a real February day, sunshine and showers.

Did you get your valentine? The banks will send you one if you have been slighted.

City Commissioners held a very interesting meeting last night. The proceedings will be published later.

Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Lillard expect to move into their new home opposite Rose Court about the first of March.

J. S. Maxwell, superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Co., with headquarters in Jacksonville was in the city a few hours Saturday afternoon.

Buena Vista Estates are creating much furor today and there promises to be a big crowd at the sale starting tomorrow.

F. A. Huston, general manager of the Southern Utilities Co., with headquarters in Palatka is in the city for a few days looking over the plant and mingling with his many friends.

Thos. J. A. Reidy is among the new attorneys to hang his shingle in Sanford. Mr. Reidy is a graduate of the Stetson Law School and will have his office over the Seminole Bank. He will be welcomed to the city by his brother attorneys and the citizens generally.

Miss Katherine Aycocke has joined the Herald force and will be one of the makers of printing and publicity.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Neel left in their car this morning for Okeechobee City where Mr. Neel will be absent for several days on business connected with the Okeechobee News.

A. J. Quigley, general manager, and C. H. Goodpasture, superintendent of the National Sales Co., are in the city and have opened offices in the T. J. Miller corner for the sales of the Buena Vista Estates.

Reg Holly returned last night from a visit to Ellenton, Palmetto, Bradenton and Tampa and reports the growers in those sections as having a fine season with early spring crops already set out in the fields.

Curtis Barber left last night for Gainesville to resume his studies. Curtis was vaccinated some time ago and his arm became infected and after a week confined to his room came home and spent a few days with his parents and friends before again taking up his studies.

G. W. Spencer, jr., Allen Jones, Robert Mason and Curtis Barber are among the University of Florida boys spending the spring vacation here with home folks. All of them are making fine records at the University.

Col. G. W. Knight and Admiral W. T. Donnelly went hunting yesterday and within a half hour's ride of the city of Sanford and jumped a fine deer thirty minutes after they had entered the timber. Mr. Donnelly thinks this is sufficient reason for sportsmen coming to Sanford in the winter and a very good reason for a big game preserve near this city.

Thanks to the enterprising merchants of Sanford the Daily Herald started off with eight pages this week and will continue in this form as long as the advertising lasts. The Daily Herald now goes to more than 1,000 homes here and elsewhere and is advertising the city as nothing else could do.

BAND CONCERT EACH NIGHT

Through the kindness of Messrs. Hood, Meisch and Connelly, the Knights of Columbus have been granted the privilege of using the vacant lot on First Street, next to the Post Office, for their carnival. This carnival will be running full blast three nights, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, Feb. 21, 22, 23.

The Sanford Band, one of the best in the State of Florida, will play a concert each night. The concert the first night will start at eight o'clock and the remaining two nights at seven thirty. It is expected that the new uniforms will be here by then and they will appear all dolled up for the first time in the new uniforms at this carnival. Which recalls that the present band gave its first open air concert for the K of C carnival last year on Oak Ave.

Huge preparations are under way to make this carnival and festival a big affair. There will be at least twice as many attractions as any home talent carnival of the past. And one of the beauty features of this carnival is the price. There prices are going to be kept within the reach of all. The shows, while as good, and maybe better, than the ordinary home talent show, will only cost 35 cents. The theatres are being built to accommodate, comfortably at least 400 people and from the class of entertainments and the price is predicted that the tents will be filled to capacity each night.

The cafeteria supper will be served each night by the Catholic ladies. All the cats will be home cooked stuff and will be sold at very attractive prices. Make your plans to eat supper down town at the carnival grounds each evening.

"The Booby Cruiser", "The Kiddies Paradise," the Athletic Show, "The Bake Shop", "The Merry-go-round and shooting gallery are some of the new attractions this year, and taking all in all, Feb. 21, 22, and 23 promises to be big nights for Sanford.

Hospital Shower Should Receive Your Attention

Public Institution Will Have Annual Linen Shower February 25th

The Fernald-Laughton Hospital, which is your hospital, will have the annual linen shower on February 25th and everyone who can donate something for the shower is urged to do so. You have given generously to all kinds of appeals for all kinds of charity but the greatest of these begins at home—you own hospital—where you and your loved ones may have to be taken at any time and where you should and will receive the best of attention. But it is up to you to see that the hospital has everything in the linen line and everything in every other department in order that the patients should have all the comforts and conveniences all the time.

DR. HYMAN RETURNS

Dr. George Hyman returned from Tampa last night where he preached two sermons in the First Baptist Church Sunday. Upon his return here Dr. Hyman found a letter from Dr. Cox of Cox College near Atlanta Georgia, offering him the position of Co-President of that college. Mrs. Hyman is a former student of Cox College and at present there are several hundred girl students and Dr. Hyman has always been especially interested in college work and his first year after graduation was teacher of bible in the Houston Baptist School, preparatory school of Mercer University and is deeply interested in that institution. It is not known what his decision will be in regard to this latest offer to go to Cox College but his many friends here are hoping he will remain as a citizen of Sanford.

F. F. DUTTON RESIGNS FROM AMERICAN FORCES —IN BUSINESS AGAIN

Among the changes in business on produce row is the resignation of F. F. Dutton, as Sanford manager of the American Fruit Growers to enter into business for himself at his old headquarters in the Seminole Bank building annex. W. M. Scott has taken the position formerly held by Mr. Dutton with the American Fruit Growers. Mr. Scott is no stranger to Sanford or to the trade and has many friends in the southern states where he was connected for several years with government work in experiment stations and in studying the growing, packing and shipping of fruits and vegetables. He has been with the American Fruit Growers for the past two years. F. F. Dutton is one of the most prominent growers and shippers of fruits and vegetables in Florida and has been located at Sanford for many years. He is now operating under the old firm name of F. F. Dutton.

arid lands of the West, though the returns from money invested by the National Government in the deepening of Florida's rivers and in the drainage of some of its overflowed lands would have been returned many-fold in profit as compared with the profit from the irrigated lands of the West, upon which the government has spent so many millions and tens of millions of dollars.

Mr. Ingraham's well merited tribute to Mr. Sanford suggests that if he can ever be persuaded to write of the many and varied philanthropies of Mr. Flagler, with whom Mr. Ingraham was intimately identified, he could give to the public the most interesting chapter in all the life work of Florida's greatest constructive genius.

It was mainly for the purpose of emphasizing to President Harding and the country how large a part Florida is playing in feeding the country, and how vast are the food potentialities of the whole South, that the writer sent to the president a box of the largest oranges which he had ever seen, accompanied by the following letter:

"As a reminder of the Christmas season and of your many visits to the Daytona section of Florida, I am sending you by express a box of Florida navel oranges of somewhat unusual size, weighing each from a pound to a pound and a quarter or more. I doubt whether there has ever been shipped from California, the supposed home of the navel orange, a box of oranges averaging as much in size and weight as these Florida oranges. They have thin skins and are full of the finest flavored sweetness that the glorious climate of Florida, with its rains and its sunshine, can pack within an orange skin. I am sending you these, not merely as a reminder of your many pleasant visits to Daytona, but to suggest that these oranges are simply typical of the limitless food producing resources of this state, and of the quality of its products.

"Florida is even now, though but in the infancy of its development, annually shipping more than 50,000 carloads of foodstuffs to the North and West, contributing, thus, greatly to the welfare of the entire country thru furnishing in the mid-winter season, when most needed, this abundant supply of winter grown fruits and vegetables.

"In addition to the 12,000,000 or more boxes of citrus fruits which are annually shipped from this state to other sections, fruits that are essential to the maintenance of the health of well people and soothing and comforting to those on beds of sickness in homes or in hospitals, Florida annually ships thousands of carloads of early potatoes, cabbages, celery, lettuce, tomatoes, strawberries and other winter grown foodstuffs. It is in this way contributing immensely to the food supply of millions of people in the North and West who are now able to have fresh vegetables throughout the winter. And yet Florida's development has scarcely begun.

"This state has an area seven times as great as that of Massachusetts, but only one-third as large a population as Massachusetts has. It has vast areas of overflowed or wet land awaiting drainage, in addition to the great areas which through the enterprise of state and of individuals have been drained and put under cultivation. The drained lands and those to be drained equal in fertility the richest on earth. As the reclamation or drainage work is continued, enormous areas not now under cultivation will be made available for enlarged food production for the nation. There are also millions of acres of good cut over lands from which the timber has been taken, and which have not yet been utilized for agriculture, although these lands, too, are in most cases exceedingly productive when properly handled, for the growth of citrus fruits, for a wide variety of vegetables, and in many cases for general agricultural purposes.

"In view of the great interest which you recently expressed in your annual message to congress in regard to the importance of the reclamation of the wet or overflowed lands and the cut-over pine lands in the South, I am taking the liberty of mentioning these facts merely as indicative of what this one state is already doing in the way of supplying essential foodstuffs to the entire country. With a continued increase in population, with the utilization of the idle lands available for cultivation, the contribution which Florida can make to supplying foodstuffs to the country can be increased many-fold before the limit of its productive power is reached. It may not be amiss in this connection to say that the available reclamation lands in the South, if drained and put under cultivation, could easily be made to produce from $2,500,000,000 to $5,000,000,000 annually of foodstuffs, live stock included.

" Hoping that the flavor of the oranges which I am shipping will remind you of the charms and the glories of the climate of this state and cause you, when burdened with the mighty responsibilities which rest upon you to seek again in this heaven favored land rest and invigoration and new strength for the larger duties of the future, I am etc."

Mr. Ingraham's letter brings to memory, however, some interesting facts connected with the great leaders in business, who with a vision of the potentialities of this state concentrated their work many years ago upon its development. Mr. Ingraham himself is one of the most most conspicuous in this work; one who identified with the state for nearly half a century has lived to see some of the fruition of his own work and that of the other men with whom he was very closely associated in the past.

Probably no other man in Florida has had so unique an experience in connection with the railroad and development work of this state as Mr. Ingraham, who is vice-president of the Florida East Coast Railway Company, and also president of the Model Land Company, the latter owning some hundreds of thousands of acres of land secured years ago by the railroad in its early days. The Model Land Company has been one of the leading agencies of the state in opening up large areas of farming land, and now is largely interested, as the heaviest owner of property, in the Lake Worth Drainage district, recently described in the Manufacturers

Mr. Ingraham's connection with Florida dates back to its early days of railroad construction activity, and he has the unique experience of having been intimately associated with the three Henrys who stand out as the most conspicuous development forces in Florida's business life. These were Henry S. Sanford of Connecticut, and Henry B. Plant of the same state, and Henry M. Flagler, who, while he called New York his home was for the last thirty years of his life more of a Floridian than a New Yorker, for to the development of this state he gave the fullness of his life's work and for several years before his death he registered as a citizen of Florida.

Mr. Ingraham built the South Florida railroad from a point near Sanford to Kissimmee for the R. M. Pulsifer Co., then the owners of the Boston Herald, who became greatly interested in the potentialities of Florida, and we believe were the first newspaper men in this country on their own individual account to undertake the building of a railroad and the development of a large territory. This road ran from Sanford to Kissimmee. Mr. Ingraham was president of it, and afterwards sold for Messrs. Pulsifer & Co., a three-fifths interest in the road to Mr. Plant, then president of the Plant Investment Company; and the South Florida Railroad was extended to Tampa and Port Tampa, and in connection therewith a line of steamers was put on between Port Tampa, Key West and Havana. Mr. Ingraham continued as president of that company for twelve years, until Mr. Flagler commenced his operations south of Daytona, having up to that time confined his work to railroad hotel operations between Jacksonville and Daytona.

An offer from Mr. Flagler to Mr. Ingraham was accepted, and he resigned his position under Mr. Plant and became identified with Mr. Flagler's operations in 1892 and undertook all of the pioneering work for all of the great development operations carried on by Mr. Flagler south of Daytona from that time on.

In his early life Mr. Ingraham was first a clerical then general agent for Henry S. Sanford, who bought what was afterward known as the Sanford Grant, at Sanford, Fla., built Sanford House, the first tourist hotel in what was then thought to be Southern Florida; and while associated with Mr. Sanford, Mr. Ingraham laid out and handled the development of Sanford for eight or nine years under General Sanford's operations. Sanford is now the center of one of the greatest celery and lettuce growing sections probably in the world.

Thus with three of the leaders in Florida's development, each having the Christian name of Henry—Henry Sanford, Henry Plant and Henry Flagler—Mr. Ingraham was intimately associated, dating his experience back to the time when he built for Pulsifer & Co., of Boston the railroad from Sanford to Kissimmee. Certainly this is a varied and unusual experience for any one man to have had! Probably there is no other man in the country who has held such a relation to the forces which have been so powerful in the building up of the interests of any one state.

The memory of the writer in connection with Florida goes back to the time when Pulsifer & Co., then among the business forces of New England, were identified with Florida's development. In those early days Florida commanded the attention of farseeing men, who planned great things and dared to do great things, recognizing that the time was coming when Florida would be appreciated as one of the chief assets of this nation, not only because of its superb climate for health and pleasure, but because of its limitless agricultural potentialities.
