MIAMI (AP) — If a 24-year-old Vietnam veteran enrolls as a freshman at the University of Florida this summer and wants to visit his girlfriend in her dormitory room, he'll be out of luck — he can't get past the lobby.

That dilemma and many more caused a storm and disapproving head shakes among Florida's university college presidents Monday when the Board of Regents voted 42 for a restrictive new dorm visitation plan. The presidents will be responsible for enforcing the complicated rule.

The vote followed a May 3 ruling which slammed that an open-door policy in effect several years.

The Monday compromise prohibited any freshman from enjoying the regents' term the privilege of visitation.

It also excluded all students under 20 at the time they registered for their dorm room and any student who did not have parental consent.

"This policy will not make for a better university system," Florida State University President Stanley Marshall told the board before the vote.

"It will be very difficult to enforce and will make our job more difficult," he said.

He then urged the rule makers to adopt the Council of Presidents' plan which would have wiped out any age restriction.

Tax Increase Program Askew Cuts Back

By RICH OPPEL
Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Reubin Askew Monday will cut back his tax increase program to $100,000,000 and call for substantial change in a $30 million educational funding program Wednesday, sources indicated.

The going gets rougher. The house has given approval to a 2 per cent sales tax on services — such as for lawyers, accountants, engineers, dry cleaning — but it was not a part of the governor's original tax program.

Best guess, said sources, is that he will endorse it. The $31 million proposal has not passed the Senate and may run into difficulty there.

"This is something I'll want to review," he told newsmen at a briefing Friday.

Askew, however, reportedly has strong reservations about accepting the House-passed $37 million eighth-cent gasoline tax, or the Senate-passed $19.3 million cigarette tax increase.

Extended Session Favored By Askew

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Reubin Askew Monday was reported considering an extension of the 16-day special session on taxes and spending to deal with the financial burdens of the cities.

Pressure from the cities for relief from the fiscal strictures imposed by the 16-month property tax ceiling and property assessment moratorium in the state and through the political process.

It was considered likely that the governor would extend the call of the special session to call government financing if the Legislature was able to move rapidly on the state finance and appropriations issues facing it.

Cities, however, contended local government finance could be considered without an extension.

In search of answer to a question by the City of St. Petersburg, the Florida League of Cities issued a paper on the Legislature's action requiring cities leaving in excess of the 16-month ceiling to return to the limit by Jan. 1, 1972.

"Should the Legislature choose not to extend the millage cap, the only other reasonable option available is to provide replacement revenue to the cities," the league said.

Having his hand on a 1961 opinion by then Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin — now a Florida Supreme Court Justice, the league concluded consideration of replacement revenues would be within the scope of the present session.

Askew, however, still was considering that legal point, according to Senate Committee Chairman Marshall Harrell, D-Miami.

He said the governor would call Monday Askew would call for $100,000,000 in new taxes.

The governor's options are not plentiful.

He will, of course, include the severance tax which already has become law. But that is expected to produce only $1.25 million the first year.

He almost surely will include a 2 per cent sales tax on motor vehicles and industrial machinery from 3 to 4 per cent. It has passed both houses in different forms.

And he is squarely in support of a 2 per cent sales tax on vending, which would yield some $3 million. The bill has passed the House, but faces probable difficulty in the Senate.

After that initial $30 million,

Got more than a few calls about our question yesterday... Why is a barber pole red and white?

Was told that there's also a blue line and that in early days, the barber was also the surgeon... so, red was for the blood, white for the bandages and the blue for the vein.

(Hm, now I understand about those nicks when I go in and get clipped... only kidding, Otto... only kidding.)

DOCTORS MAKE UNETHICAL CLAIM

The term "lack of communications" covered a multitude of subjects at last night's special meeting between the Seminole Memorial Hospital Board of Trustees and members of the Seminole County Medical Society.

The group met in the auditorium of the hospital and reviewed previously aired problems, but specifically on the termination of the present contract with pathologist Dr. Fred Ionata, to the hiring of his replacement Dr. G. V. Garay.

The Seminole County Medical Society presented a proposed resolution which in part stated that an objection was submitted pertaining to the new contract with Garay which was "definitely unethical and possibly illegal."

Frederick continued that Dr. Ionata is presently serving out his 90 day termination clause in his contract and that at the end of that period, he (Ionata) would not be under contract to the hospital as a pathologist, unless the Board of Trustees changed its position.

Charles Lansing, chairman of the Board of Trustees, said, "We're under contract with Dr. Garay. I'll discuss the happenings of this meeting at our next regularly scheduled meeting; but there is no way that we would now back out of our contract with Dr. Garay."

Hail Ruins Vegetables; Loss Into Thousands

By FRED VAN PELT

Vegetable crops, almost ready for harvesting, were virtually wiped out by hail along Highway 4 between Sanford and Interstate 4 during a thunderstorm late yesterday afternoon. Crop loss was estimated by two growers at $38,000 while others also reported losses.

David DeVoll, county extension agent, surveyed the area for The Sanford Herald and reported shortly before noon today that eggplant, peppers, cucumbers, cabbage, cantaloupe, some tomatoes and other miscellaneous produce crops were ruined. He said most damage was north of SR 46 but there was extensive damage south of SR 46, west of Sanford and east of 14.

JOE SHAW examines a head of cabbage which gives the impression it was hit by a shotgun blast, following a hail storm in Sanford late yesterday.

Autos Also Hit

DeVoll said damage to automobiles and loose paint also was noted. And he said there were reports of hail in the vicinity of Sanford Avenue in downtown Sanford.

Harold Kastner estimated loss to his crops at $46,000. He displayed peppers and cabbage with holes caused by the hail. DeVoll quoted Joe Routh as having a loss of $12,000, while quite a bit of it in cantaloupe. DeVoll said other growers reported lower losses.

The extension agent reported, however, that lima bean and blackeyed pea crops will be salvaged.

DeVoll said that the U. S. Weather Bureau instruments at the county agricultural center officially recorded 2.16 inches of rain in an hour-long period at the dinner hour Tuesday. The Weather Bureau at Herndon Airport said there were winds up to 33 mph, with reports of stronger gusts in the Sanford area.

Ronald Partridge, 105 Vinewood Drive, Loch Arber, said lightning toppled a tree onto the roof of his home. A boat had been moved to escape the storm and the tree damaged it, also.

The sadists broke into the county facility some time during the night and smashed the hip of one of the confined animals. The dog had to be put to sleep by the animal control officer. One of the other dogs had its tail severed and the dog apparently was burned loose. The shoulder of one of the other dogs was dislocated. Sheriff's deputies are investigating the incident.

The brass look The see-through look. Hot pants, tank tops and muscle shirts. Mustaches, sideburns and other hirsute adornments.

The topic of discussion at a fashion coordinators' convention perhaps but also the topic of discussion yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Seminole County School Board was the issue of a dress code for the county's three high schools.

Yesterday the board members adopted the first reading of a policy statement that was drawn up by a group comprised of eight adults, including two women, one a teacher, and two students, one girl and one boy.

Yesterday, John Mercer presented to the board the recommendation for a county-wide dress code. As it is a matter relating to county school policy, it will be brought up again at the next School Board meeting.

The text of the committee's recommendation is divided into three statements:

"All dress will be modest and becoming of ladies and gentlemen. Suggestive clothes create the illusion of the reality of immaturity, therefore: 1. There will be no brassieres look in dresses. 2. There will be no tank tops or muscle shirts worn at school. 3. Shirts must be buttoned. 4. No see-through clothing will be worn by either male or female without proper undergarments. 5. Short shorts, excessively short skirts without shorts under them, hot pants or cutoffs will not be worn to class.

"Habits of cleanliness include the following: 1. Hair must be combed and clean regardless of length. 2. Boys must be clean shaven. This is not to exclude mustaches, sideburns and other hirsute adornments, as long as they are well groomed."

Chambers Disappointed

DeLaud (Special) — Disappointed Seminole and Volusia Chamber of Commerce officials learned here Tuesday afternoon that no progress has been made on what was to have been a "fast two-week study" on extending a proposed commuter train service from St. Petersburg to Daytona Beach.

Joe Masada, engineer with the State Department of Transportation (DOT) district office in Deland, who had been assigned the task, told Chamber officials he has not done anything with it yet.

"They told me from Tallahassee that they wanted the study done but I haven't heard from them since and they haven't defined just what information they need," Masada reported to John Kridler and William Bohn, of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

"As I understand it, the DOT chiefs are trying to get the Seminole-Volusia section of the study included in the larger study for which the

They said the principals made some recommendations before and now it is up to the board to make a decision.

Douglas Stenstrom, the School Board's attorney, was asked by the dress code committee if the dress code would stand up to a court test. Stenstrom replied that is of the opinion that it would stand the test in most of the lower federal courts but the references to mustache, sideburns and hair probably would be rejected by the U. S. Supreme Court should the matter ever reach the nation's highest court.

After the motion to approve made by Mrs. Bryant was passed by all four members of the board present, Chairman A. F. Keith read a letter from the absent members, A. P. (Pat) Buih, in reference to the dress code. Keith prefaced the reading of Buih's letter by saying that he had not read the letter before the matter had been voted on because members are not permitted to vote in absentia and he did not want to prejudice the voting.

Buih's letter stated, "Blatant dress codes are a way to tell our children we do not trust their judgment." In the conclusion of his letter, as read by Keith, Buih said, "We, as parents, are the best example for our children's dress and deportment."

Special Annexation Election At Oviedo

By LIZ MATHEUX — For the re-submission of a tentative plat by a different owner, further business brought about the establishment of definite cost for plats and tentative plats. In addition to the fee, the following fees will be required when filing the final plat: (a) 2 to 40 Lots—$35; (b) 41 to 100 Lots—$35, plus $2 per Lot in excess of 100 Lots; (c) 101 to 200 Lots—$15, plus $1.75 per Lot in excess of 200 Lots; (d) 201 to 400 Lots—$30, plus $1.50 per Lot in excess of 200 Lots; (e) more than 400 Lots—$20, plus $1 per Lot in excess of 400 Lots. (f) The fee for recording a previously recorded final plat to acreage shall be $25. These plans also were accepted by the council.

A letter was received from Don Hoover, subdivision of Commerce relative to a luncheon scheduled for Thursday at Fern Park for the purpose of establishing closer relationships and a better working system between and among the surrounding Public Officials. One representative was requested from each vicinity: Mayor C. D. Thompson and Councilman Ben F. Ward Jr. will attend as representatives of the City of Oviedo.

A letter from the Dade County League of Municipalities relative to county-wide computer service was tabled until a later date. A letter from the office of County Tax Assessor D. Guy Allen was received, pertaining to the renewal of the contract with Allen's office for the fiscal year 1971-72.

A petition from Nathan Blank, et al. for the annexation of certain properties of Chapman Road were submitted for council approval. The council accepted the petition and requested Davis to study a report which is scheduled for June 17 at 7:30. The council will also be meeting with city engineers at this time.

Al Clark, the developer of Oviedo Oaks and Richfield, submitted two plats to the council for its approval, seeking advice on a tentative plat with variance in sidewalks and placement of proposed homes.

Council voted to give $100 for the 4th of July fireworks. The next regular meeting of City Council will convene on June 29. This meeting will be a public hearing on the change of zoning.

It was voted by the council that if a holiday comes on a weekend city employees would be given the following Monday.

Soviet Space Station Success Sounds Alarm

Remember those "doo-beeps" of Russia's Sputnik I which startled the world and woke up the American government to the challenge which the Soviet space program had thrown at the feet of United States scientists in 1957?

Those were the days when lethargy had gripped our imagination so far as space was concerned and when the educational world was thrust into the search for scientists which unbalanced the normal in a way which is not yet stabilized.

Today the Russians have put into space the Salyut-Soyuz space station and have three of their crews in a spectacular space station breakthrough in a spectacle which can only be rated as a major warning.

It comes at a time when the American space program has been cut back severely, more hampering the two superpowers. A new and updated look at what the space program means in terms of national security and national ability to bring about that era of international peace so greatly longed for is very much in order.

We can and do stand tall and proud when the space achievements of the 60s are lined up for final parade. The first man on the moon was an American. Americans have revisited the lunar surface and others will expand and increase the global knowledge of that formerly mysterious terrain.

We believe, however, that when the future of the nation, when the capacity of the great complex which has been centered at Cape Kennedy and in Houston is honestly evaluated, the expansion and not the retrenching of the space program is essential.

Hanging like a dark cloud over this bright promise is, correspondingly, the contribution of the satellite war and the Nixon administration's policy to keep throwing more and more billions into the bloody morass of South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos.

This wastage must be stopped. The resources of men and money must be re-directed into fields where good can be accomplished and realized by Americans in every walk of life and in every area of human activity.

Those who live in or near the Cape Kennedy area are advised to visit that sprawling NASA operation. Take the guided tour and glimpse some of the landmarks which can be seen as the space vehicles and the space missiles pads come into sight.

Even such a cursory view exposes the magnitude of the resources which the United States now has and where even greater resources can be developed. Such a visit and such an experience, as we recently enjoyed, makes the impressive statistics, the number of scientists once employed, the facilities which once hummed with human activity and the great possibilities waiting only for a chance to bring the American space accomplishments into and beyond those of any other nation a living, breathing fact.

We do remember "Sputnik I" and its "beep." We do understand the spat and enter response by the American leadership in government and in education, to that challenge.

What the Soviets did then, even unwittingly, for the American space program they may have done again in this Salyut-Soyuz space station accomplishment.

We believe that inspired leadership is the great need. An inspired leadership which will turn America's resources in men and money away from the "nightmare" war in Indochina and towards the skies and beyond into the bright and promising world of space!

Industry Facing Many Problems Air Traffic Will Triple In A Decade

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Associate Writer

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP)—America's aviation industry faces a decade of growth with passenger traffic expected to triple by 1981. To meet the challenge it must solve many problems, from noise and pollution to safety and air congestion.

For three days, many of the nation's leading aviation experts have been discussing the future of U.S. air transportation at a meeting here sponsored by the Federal Aviation Administration and American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

Most forecast that air traffic, slowed by an economic recession, will begin to pick up late this year and that the annual growth rate of domestic air transportation should return in a year or two to a normal 11-13 per cent. This is based on an anticipated upturn in the economy and a recovery in air travel.

They predict more than 430 million passengers will be carried by U.S. domestic and U.S. international carriers in 1981, compared with 160 million in 1970. The number of commercial jets flown by U.S. airlines is expected to increase in that period from 1,800 to 3,200.

About 10 per cent of the 1981 fleet will consist of new type planes — supersonic transports and short take-off and landing (STOL) jets. Unless the United States revises the recently killed SST program, the supersonic craft will be Russian TU-144s or British-French Concorde.

Here are other major conclusions and recommendations of the conference: — Aircraft manufacturers and airlines are under severe economic stresses because of the slowdown in the economy, rising labor and financing costs and pressure from the government, public and airports for better service and increased air traffic performance and maintainability.

The projected rise in passenger travel, plus elimination of unprofitable routes should ease the economic strain.

—The Boeing 747 wide body jet has started a trend toward lowering the direct operating cost of an aircraft. But it is essential that research and developments in fuel consumption, lift systems, materials and reliability.

Taxes And Spending Occupy Legislators

By JOHN VAN GIESON
Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Florida legislators convene in 10-day special session today to do what they couldn't do in 60 days of regular session: Pass an appropriations bill and about $100 million in taxes to fund it.

How much to spend and what taxes to levy to do it were the major topics to which Gov. Reubin Askew was to speak in his joint session address opening the special session.

Major efforts to bring the houses together on other issues, most notably the $32 million education bill, have been stalled in the House bill, were pursued by Askew and legislative leaders at the governor's mansion Tuesday.

Askew said his tax and spending recommendations would fall somewhere between the House and Senate bills, and reflect "what I think is attainable."

That, apparently, doomed the full $32 million House education booster. Appropriations Committee Chairman Marshall Harris, D-Miami, said he anticipated a $20 million compromise.

Compromising appropriations is the easy part of the special session. As Harris and Senate leaders have pointed out, taxes are the tougher issue.

The governor, a state senator last year who began his legislative career in the House in 1962, has moved into the role of peacemaker between the warring houses.

"My intention is to bring the Senate and House together," he said.

The Senate has voted out a $1.1-billion spending package and $45 million in taxes, while the House approved $1.385 billion in spending and $125 million in taxes.

But the House Appropriations Committee has prepared a $1.175 billion bill incorporating $10 million in reductions agreed to by the abortive Appropriations Conference Committee last week.

Ivy League, Alias

Yale, Harvard and the other six Ivy League schools are losing popularity, although they don't appear to be in danger of having to lock the doors.

After several years of steady growth, and despite extensive recruiting efforts, the number of applications for admission declined this spring by an average of 7 per cent. Yale suffered the largest drop. Almost 20 per cent fewer high school seniors applied than a year ago. The smallest loss was taken by Princeton, down 4 per cent.

Registrars generally blamed the decline on the rising costs of attending each of the schools. More families are having to scramble to lay out $4,470 for a year's tuition, room and board at Harvard. In addition, there are clothes, books and bundles of mad money that must come from somewhere.

A Harvard spokesman said many of his school's applicants were frightened away by the financial picture. A Yale official said the decline was little more than a natural leveling off after a sudden growth when the school went co-ed.

One admissions officer seemed to have the picture in focus. He said: "You don't have to go away to go to a good school anymore. And it's cheaper to stay near home anyway."

This may pose problems for the Ivy League, but it is encouraging news to the rest of the country. — Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser

Political Notebook: U. S. Needs Sense Of Direction

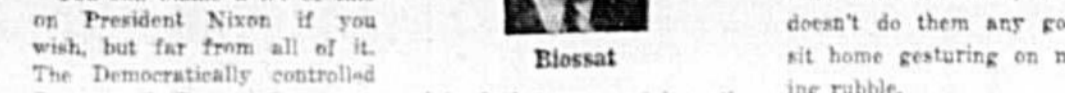

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — If Washington is the mirror of the nation, then Americans do not know where they are going — and may not even have a sense of just going.

You can have a lot of this on President Nixon if you wish, but far from all of it. The Democratically controlled Congress isn't earning any respect. Understand, it is producing, it is managing to seem quite unproductive.

Anybody who has ever talked to Nixon's men knows the President. Understand, it is need for some kind of uplifting of the American spirit. But at least one side quoted him as saying, with remarkable in-house candor that he doubted he was the man to provide it.

Most of the time, Nixon hasn't bothered to invent slogans and labels to create an illusion of goals sought after. Playwright Eugene O'Neill's plays convey in long, searching passages, that men live by illusions. In 1971, they're not even getting that kind of nourishment.

Of course, the President's State of the Union message said that the American revolution. But nobody picked up the torch when he quickly explained that reorganizing the bureaucratic leviathan of government was a key part of the revolutionary change.

Dean Acheson, the waspish former secretary of state, took care of that one when he kuffed that, when you're engulfed in mediocrity, "it doesn't do any good to organize it."

The liberals still talk glibly about new billions to "rebuild the cities." They really haven't the faintest idea how to do it or where to get the money. The big federal dollar avalanche is sliding toward the aged, the infirm, the poverty-ridden. The money sustains life, but they took office in 1969. They said flatly that faith in government, and presidents, could not be restored until something solid filled that hollow center. Well, it hasn't happened.

Does that mean that American life in the 1970s is unmanageable?

Today many of the country's major cities are considerably worse off than they were in the 1960s. They are not and are five gutted their cores. Mayors are running around the land like crusaders, since it doesn't do them any good to sit home gesturing on mounting rubble.

They want massive infusions of money. The President, the men in Congress and lots of others know they need it. But the hard-nosed types like W. Bush Mills don't trust them to spend it well. Billions already have vanished beneath the rubble.

The liberals still talk glibly about new billions to "rebuild the cities." They really haven't the faintest idea how to do it or where to get the money. They said flatly that faith in government, and presidents, could not be restored until something solid filled that hollow center. Well, it hasn't happened.

Does that mean that American life in the 1970s is unmanageable?

Don Oakley Says: Dishonesty Is Best Policy?

By DON OAKLEY, NEA
Editorialist

Employment in American business stood between 48.5 and 510 billion in 1968. About $4 billion of this is theft in cash and merchandise from retail establishments.

"Shrinkage" of merchandise alone amounts to approximately 5 per cent of the yearly sales of American retail establishments, with the stores' own employees actually stealing three times as much as do shoplifters.

Most retail establishments have some kind of internal security system to discourage dishonest employees, but the rate of prosecution is low. For the dishonest employee, crime obviously pays. Or does it? Ask industrial psychologist Lawrence H. Zeplin.

As he points out in an article in Psychology Today magazine, if we divide the total amount of merchandise stolen by employees (about $3 billion a year) by the total number of people employed in retail establishments, the amount stolen per person is approximately $300 a year, or only about $1.50 each working day.

For management, says Zeplin, this is a bargain.

How so? Because most retail jobs are boring. Advancement is usually limited. The typical worker has little freedom of action or scope of decision-making. Pay is low. Employee dissatisfaction is rife and turnover is high.

Management can do two things. It can enrich the jobs by providing increased responsibility and opportunity for advancement, or it can increase pay and benefits to the point where the job is too good to leave.

But management, charges Zeplin, has chosen, largely by default, to reject both approaches, so workers have taken matters into their own hands.

When the average retail employee becomes dissatisfied, he doesn't quit; he starts stealing from his employer. He gets back at the system, and the challenge of stealing is a "rewarding" enrichment of his job.

Thus by permitting a controlled amount of theft, at the cost of $1.50 per worker per day, management can keep decision-making in its own hands and can retain workers without having to reorganize jobs or raise wages.

Domestic Commentary American Mistake In Laos

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — A long-time friend who has been operating for years as a guerrilla in northern Laos has sent very bad news indeed.

The Meo underground, developed with care and finesse, has been shattered. Much of the Meo in northern Laos has been killed or captured.

Not long ago, top American specialists in guerrillas were had great hopes for the underground operations in northern Laos. It was not like Vietnam, where we have attempted to fight a guerrilla war with conventional armies. In Laos, the underground war was fought as guerrillas in Laos were almost impossible for Hanu's armies to pick off.

We had turned the tables on the North Vietnamese. The Meo guerrillas in Laos were almost impossible for Hanu's armies to pick off.

Meo irregulars made life increasingly difficult for the invaders. They were using Mao Tse-tung-Ho Chi Minh tactics — and using them effectively.

Gradually, a small Meo group here and another there were given guns and told to defend themselves and their homes against anyone. This they did with enthusiasm.

The countryside in the north and gradually to the south became dotted with these underground irregulars. They were the Meo. They were the Meo. They were the Meo. They were the Meo. They were the Meo.

It was decided to support them regularly with air strikes. They were provided with some artillery.

This brought change. It meant larger units, established positions, supply lines, coordinated operations. Instead of moving in swiftly against the enemy, the Meo began to wait

The Lighter Side Three-Day Rainy Holidays!

By BUCK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — I don't know who was the first to hit upon the idea of shifting certain holidays around to create three-day weekends. But if they ever catch him, I hope they string him up.

On second thought, hanging's too good for the rascal. Let the punishment fit the crime.

Let him be sentenced to spend three days of his home on some rainy holiday weekend.

The possibility that holiday weekends might be perverted with precipitation apparently was not perceived by members of Congress at the time they were rearranging the calendar.

Which seems a curious oversight, considering that the natural laws of rainfall pervasively were formulated more than

Strikes And Spares

Before we get around to introducing you to some more new bowlers who have done remarkably well during the first couple of weeks of the summer bowling schedules, let me give you a quick reminder about the sweater this Friday. Remember the initial success of two weeks ago when we had the 5 game handicap sweep, and we had such a good response? We promised that it would be run again in short order. . . so, this Friday at 6 p.m., it'll happen all over again. There's a $50 guarantee for first place. . . and first place is the high series with handicap. Second place is high scratch series. . . third and high handicap series, etc.

And now, let's talk about some of those new bowlers. Take the Sunday evening D & B Fence Mixed League, as an example. I know that there is a goodly number of bowlers who have to wait a long time before they get to roll their first 200 game, much less even think about a 400 series. As a matter of fact, for the 600 sets, some keepers have been known to go for years before they finally crack the ice.

It was the second week of their summer league when John Bryant made his charge for recognition. . . opened with a 231, dropped a "vee bit" to a 106 and then found the range for the finale with a 202. Just enough wood to add up to an even 600 series.

Others from this same league worthy of our attention are Duane Gombel 192, Jim Bissard 182, Jewell Kaufman 176, Gene Dow 207/506 and Grace Starr 176.

That's not to say that he hasn't been a big bomber on other occasions. But, right now, he's in one of those bowler ruts where you get tangled over and over again. Unfortunately, he doesn't get rattled and does convert the spares. . . only indicating he is a good bowler.

Introducing Ruth Schmeyer. Wanna say it again? Schmeyer? Ruth bowled in the Monday night Ateck Hi-Lo League and on first hearing her name, we made mention that up in our former slapping grounds of Reading, Pa., that happens to be a very well-known name. People up there bake the most delicious rye bread. . . called and known throughout the eastern part of the entire state as Schmeyer's Rye. . . and we wanted to know if she had ever heard of the bread?

There were others who also pocketed teaching. . . Don Lee bagged a 177 and teammate Jimmy Carter rolled a 202/506. Reggie Sigmon 221/542, Spill-aki 201/772, Gerry Flowers had more strikes and spares in that one game of bowling than he had the entire previous Fall League, so she says. . . 151, 167, 177/489, Gordon Lynch has been improving weekly. . . 191/539.

A LEAGUE DOESN'T GROW by itself. . . usually, you'll find that it's the guiding light of a competent and popular individual. More than likely this person is the league secretary. And a perfect example of what I'm talking about is the Friday Morning Women's League.

Violence is Factor Is The End Near For High School Sports?

By PAUL CORCORAN

(Third of a Series on High School Sports)

Schachter, whose Los Angeles High School plant was almost destroyed in the February, 1971, earthquake, contended that "things are worse now than they have ever been. And it is not just here, but all over the country."

The principal is head of a special study group which is attempting to draw up guidelines for crowd control for Los Angeles City's 40 high schools.

Radical proposals have been made to meet the problems when boys attack rival teams, rock cars and buses, exchange blows and hurl stones at student "fans." Schachter said that they include:

- Holding all athletic games in the daylight hours, including basketball. "It has been suggested we have games start at 11 a.m.," he said.
- Hold athletic contests on Sunday.
- When there is reason to believe there is "action between schools, hold athletic contests at neutral sites with police guards. This already is being done in isolated instances — minus fans — in the California area and elsewhere.

There is no comparison between prep and professional athletic crowds, however. "There is no drinking permitted at high school events, and the type of incidents that arise at pro games are entirely different," Schachter said.

Pre teams take special steps — particularly in such cities as San Francisco where there have been incidents in the stands and along the runways to the locker rooms — to protect the players.

Butcher, while looking on are the champs — Dawn Gail and Kevin Spokal. Also on the winning team was Mike Laubert.

Basketball fans at Florida Tech were elated at the news their cage forces would be afforded the chance to play top flight opponents next season.

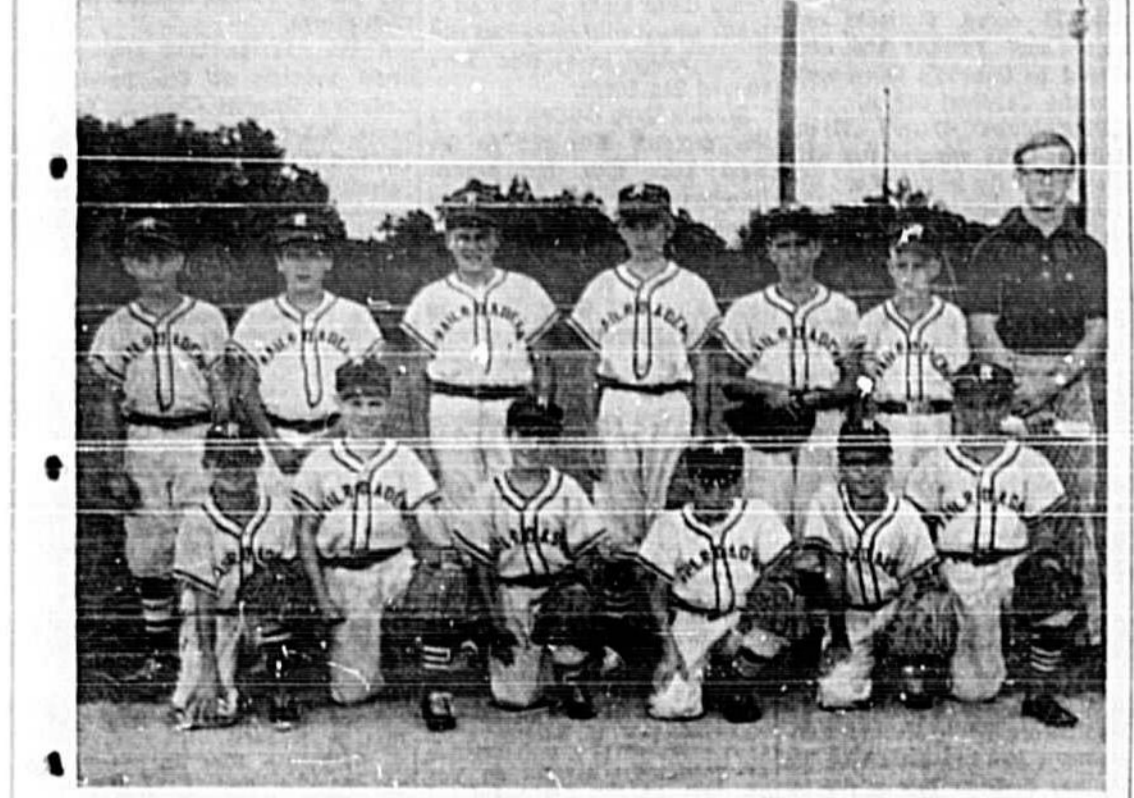

One of those new foes will be cross town rival Rollins. The two schools have a December 8th meeting on tap.

Very few followers at FTU sports are aware of the loss their school will suffer with the departure of William Proctor, former Dean of Men at FTU.

During his stay at Tech Proctor was not officially connected with sports but did take part in many activities which concerned sports.

Hole-In-One 'Tourney' Underway

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP) — The dream of every golfer is to score a hole-in-one and it's a dream that will come true this year for 12,600 Americans, duffers and pros alike.

These figures are furnished through the courtesy of James and George Studart, Ltd., of Dumbarion, Scotland, distillers of spirits, who run a game called Hole-in-One Sweepstakes.

At the end of the year the names of all the players who have scored aces are placed into a big drum. The one who gets $1,000 in cash, a trip for two to Scotland and a chance to play famous Scottish courses such as St. Andrews and Carnoustie.

Richard M. Nixon qualified for the contest in 1961—the year after he was beaten by John F. Kennedy for the presidency. He sank a tee shot at the Bel Air Country Club in Los Angeles.

After receiving a special tag for his golf bag, Nixon wrote Tom Scott, director and general manager of the distilling firm: "I thought you might like to know that despite the hole-in-one I ended up with a 91 and lost three dollars. But, I must admit, it was worth it!"

Safe Boating Quiz
Q. What should a small craft skipper do when he finds himself caught in a rapidly rising sea?
A. He should (1) head into the waves at an angle (2) reduce speed, have passengers sit close to the centerline on the bottom of the boat and head for shore (3) use a sea anchor to keep the boat pointed into the waves if the motor fails. No skipper should ever leave the boat without proven life jackets or flotation gear for everyone aboard, say the boat safety experts.

Hot Hand Hank Spurs Braves

By KEN RAPPOPORT

The Atlanta Braves are up to their old hanky panky with Hank Aaron supplying the spark and Chief Nee driving the sprint.

Hank Aaron moved over the 300 level for the first time this season with a four-hit night Monday and padded his mark to 313 with Tuesday night's work.

Not bad, considering Hank's right knee has fluid in it and it is painful, says Aaron.

In the other National League games, Chicago nipped Pittsburgh 10 to 2 in 12 innings, Los Angeles stopped Philadelphia 4 to 2, Montreal whacked San Francisco 10 to 3. New York turned back San Diego 6 to 4 and Houston whipped Cincinnati 2 to 0.

Aaron's hitting string included a single and home run Tuesday; Detroit 8, Milwaukee 1; Boston 5, Oakland 1 and New York 3, California 6.

FAMILY AFFAIR — Millie and Jack Rogers made it a family affair in capturing two of the top awards in the late Toyota Bowling league this past season. Mrs. Rogers took high single game, scratch, with a 222 while her husband had high scratch series, 620. The Rogers lived in Oviedo.

It's not going to give our No. 1 pick the Washington Monument," said Short, "but I think we can make it attractive enough to get him to come to Washington. I think the opportunity to play at the major league level tends to minimize the financial considerations."

The Senators can offer a player right out of college that opportunity because of their desperate need for hitting help—a search that has not been completed in the draft. The name of pitcher Dick Bosman has been mentioned as a means to acquire hitting help in trade talks.

"They've thrown Hosmer's name about because he's our best pitcher," Short acknowledged. "We covet him, but if they come him high enough they might get him. So far we've had pretty good offers, but we've rejected them. But Ted has always said we'll make any trade to help the club."

The key is the June 15 trading deadline now less than a week away, with Short obviously hoping that the offers will get better as the deadline gets closer.

At Banquet - Picnic League Presents Trophies

By HEIKY CUSH

Herald Sports Writer

The Late Toyota Mixed Bowling League officially closed its season last Sunday with the presentation of trophies at a unique banquet-picnic held at the home of league member, Al Bowling.

Finishing first in the league were the foursome of Min Burtschy, Ed Mitchell, Marge Augusto, and Gil Pflieger. None of these team members were in attendance at the Sunday presentations.

In full force at the award presentations were the runner-up Horn's quartet of Helen and Jack Finch and Rose and Andy Patrick.

Finishing third in the league were the Wiggs. Team members were Kathy and Leon Arthur and Vicki and Wally Geesey.

Geesey, The Wiggs came within a whisker of finishing second but the four game loss to the Radiators dumped them into third place at the end.

Drewna Lewis had the high scratch series for women on the season with her 590. Jack Rogers took the men's award in that category with his booming 620.

Scratch single game trophies went to Millie Rogers for her 222 and Wally Geesey for his 246.

High series with a handicap went to the legions of Charlie Miller for his 661 and Jan Nash for her 637. Single handicapped winners were Gladys Clayton and Sue Williams, each with a 214 and Lester Bush with a 211.

Kathy Arthur, a key member of the Wiggs team, reported

Senators Want To Get Ellis

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Washington Senators were expected to draft outfielder Bob Ellis of Michigan State today and package him for immediate shipment to Manager Ted Williams of the Yankees. A contract that doesn't include the Washington Monument.

The last-place Senators were expected to tap Ellis, a 406 hitler with 14 homers for the Spartans, in one category of the secondary phase of the draft, and club owner Bob Short is on record as wanting him in uniform for Thursday's game against Kansas City.

"I'm not going to give our No. 1 pick the Washington Monument," said Short, "but I think we can make it attractive enough to get him to come to Washington. I think the opportunity to play at the major league level tends to minimize the financial considerations."

U. S. Could Free POWs In Month

By LEE BYRD
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Defense Secretary Clark Clifford says American prisoners of war could be home within a month if the United States would set a Dec. 31 deadline on its military involvement in Indochina.
In addition, he said Tuesday, "I have reason to believe the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong would agree... to refrain from attacks that would threaten U.S. personnel during the withdrawal."
Clifford would not specify his sources, saying only the information was drawn from private discussions with "both American and Vietnamese officials."
The thrust of Clifford's statement was echoed somewhat by Rep. Robert L. Leggett, who said Viet Cong negotiators in Paris had promised him that if President Nixon to have U.S. negotiators get confirmation of the position change, and then set the date, he recommended Christmas.
A State Department spokesman told newsmen Hanoi and the Viet Cong had received last month similar reports on a shift in their positions. At the White House, presidential press secretary Ronal L. Ziegler commented: "Anything they or the other side has to say they could say directly to us."
Ziegler said Nixon would consider any plan for complete withdrawal by Dec. 31 as precipitous and unacceptable, regardless of the prisoner's issue. Asked about withdrawal next month, hence, Ziegler replied: "I'm not prepared to discuss that."
Clifford's remarks came in an emotion-laden address Tuesday night to several hundred antiwar lobbyists who were working hurriedly this week in behalf of proposals in both House and Senate to cut off U.S. funds for the war Dec. 31.

Principals Shuffled At Seminole Hi

By LARRY NEELY
Only two of the five administrators for Seminole High School this past year will be remaining on the Sanford school's staff for the coming year.
Yesterday afternoon the school board approved the transfer of Principal Richard Barnett to the position of coordinator of social studies. Supt. John Angel recommended Barnett's appointment to the administrative position.
One of the two assistant principals who will be remaining on the staff at Seminole is William Daugherty. He has been appointed to the principalship at the new Lake Brantley High School which will not open until the 1972-73 school year. Daugherty will serve out the coming year at Seminole while working on the new school's plans.
The other assistant principal at Seminole who will be remaining on the school's staff will be Willie Ashley. Ed Buckner has been transferred to a post at Lyman High School while Don Reynolds has been transferred at his own request to a classroom teaching post at Seminole.
In other personnel recommendations acted upon by the school board yesterday, Dan Darg, assistant principal at Lyman High School this past year, was appointed to the post of director of secondary education. Jack Heister was appointed by the board to the position of assistant principal at Lyman High School.
The school board made 17 teacher appointments, 10 teacher transfers, approved one extended professional leave of absence and three maternity leaves, and accepted five teacher resignations.

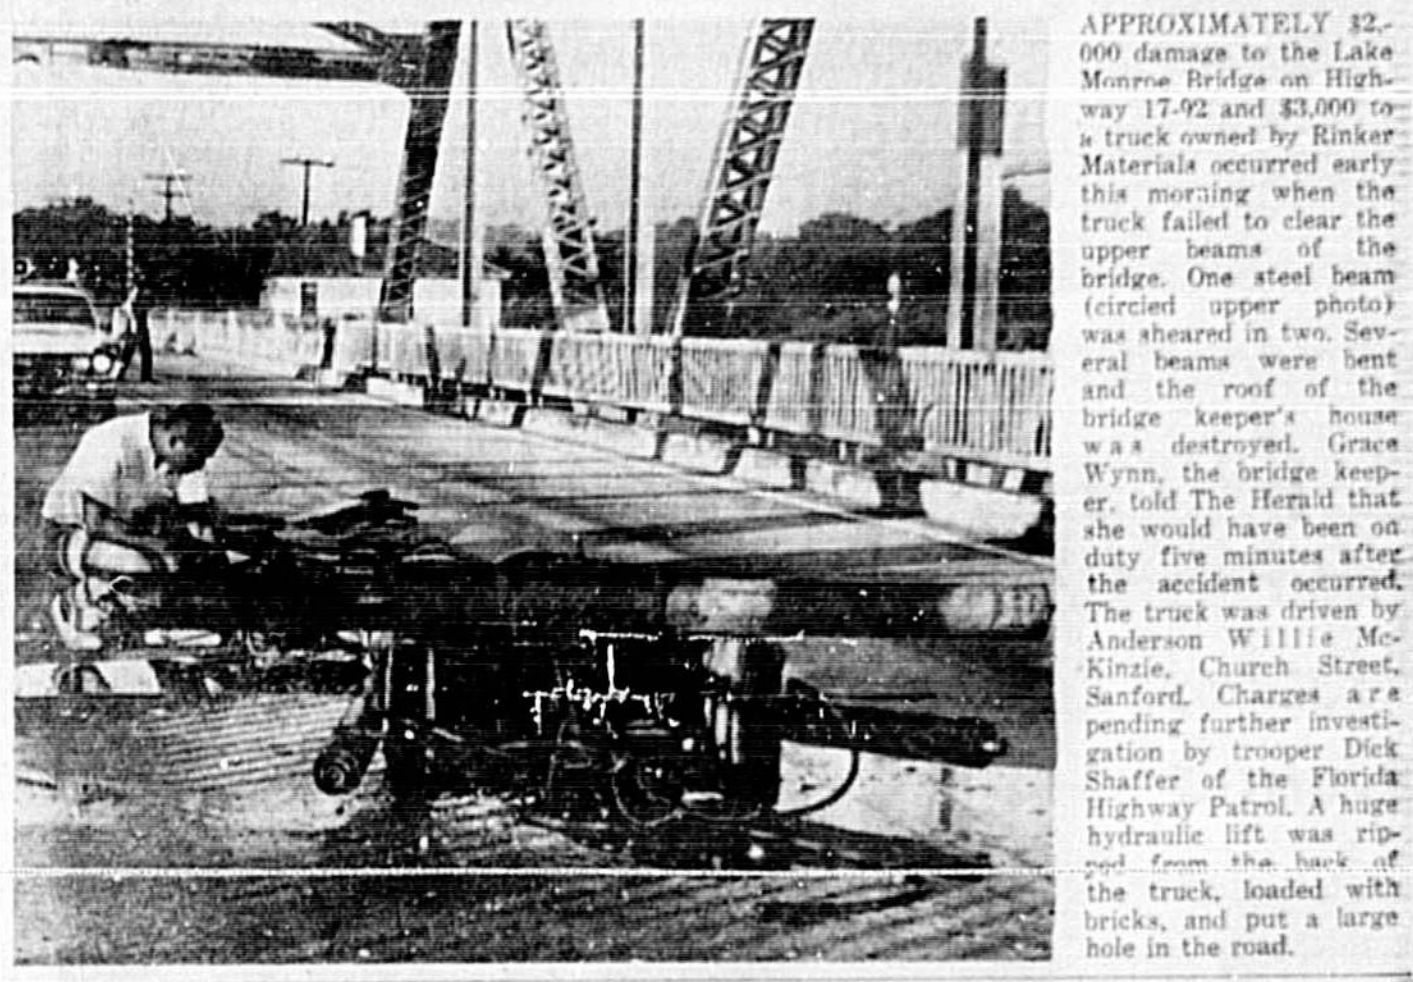

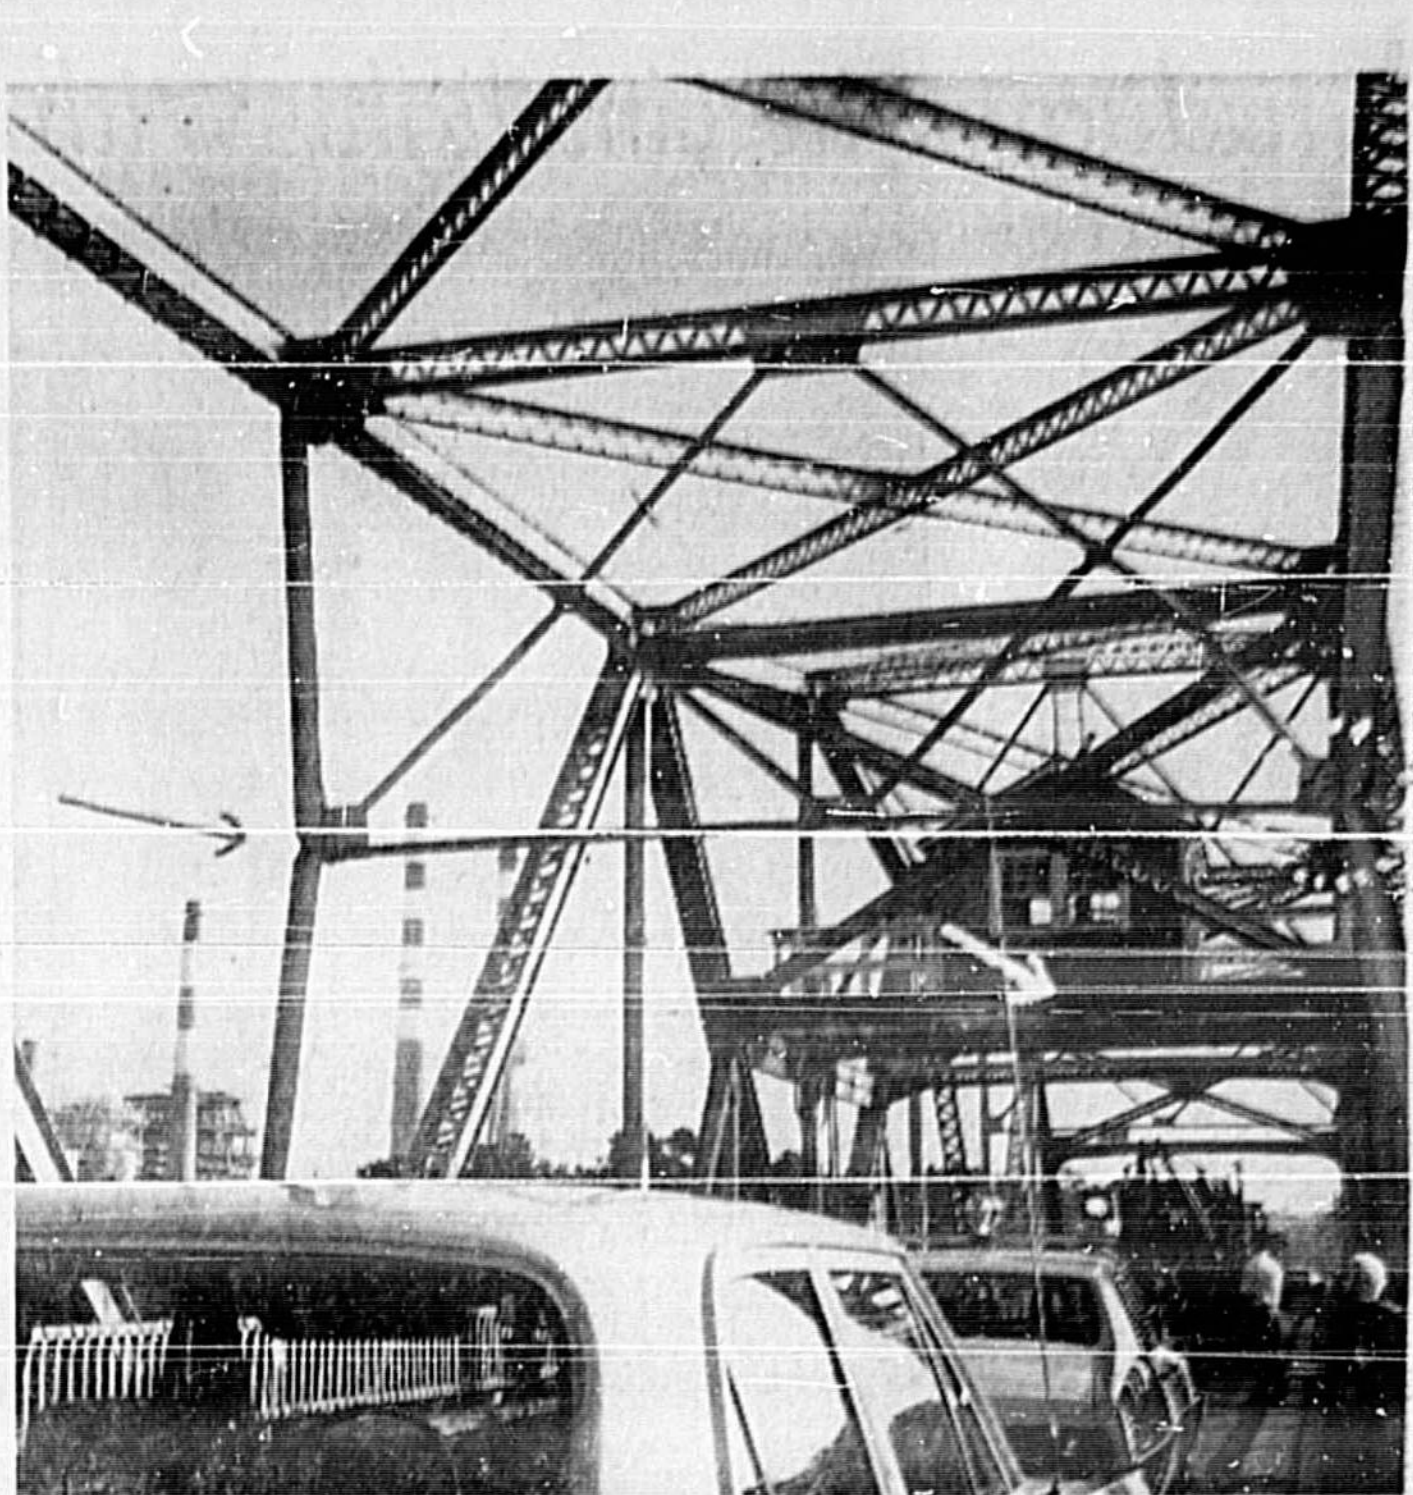

Relief Near Fire Base

By BERT W. OKLEY
SAIGON (UPI) — A South Vietnamese relief column has fought its way to within 200 yards of beleaguered Fire Base No. 5 in the Central Highlands despite a heavy North Vietnamese artillery attack, military sources said today.
The sources said five South Vietnamese paratroopers were killed and 20 wounded when a barrage of at least 100 82mm mortar rounds, some spewing tear gas, hit the airborne units.
The Communists followed up with a second shelling attack later but details were sketchy.
The base itself came under sporadic shelling Tuesday and a Vietnamese Air Force helicopter trying to bring in supplies to the defenders was hit by Communist groundfire but did not crash, the sources said.
Fire Base 5 is near the Laotian border 220 miles northeast on Saigon. It has been under siege for several days.
South Vietnamese spokesmen also reported a Viet Cong attack at dusk Tuesday against a Saigon government militia outpost 45 miles southwest of the capital. They reported 70 Viet Cong killed in the fighting which included air strikes and artillery called in to drive off the attackers.
In a communique from Phnom Penh, the Cambodian command reported heavy casualties on both the government and Communist sides in one of the heavier battles of the war 11 miles east of the capital.
Lt. Col. Am Rong, the official Cambodian military spokesman, said bodies of 100 North Vietnamese troops were sighted after a "five-hour battle Tuesday. At least 80 Cambodian soldiers were killed or wounded in the fighting for the strategic highlands along the Mekong and Tonle Sap rivers.

Pointer Absent From Outfit; First In War

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — A young West Point graduate ordered to Vietnam is missing from his unit in Germany, the Army says, and may have fled to Sweden.
The Army said it last Lt. John B. Vequist, 24, of Pittsburg, Kan., has been absent without leave since May 29. Pentagon sources said the Army believe he may be with his wife in Sweden where an estimated 25 other American servicemen have sought refuge.
Vequist who graduated in 1969 near the top of his West Point class, automatically will be classified as a deserter if he is missing more than 30 days.
Army spokesmen said they could not recall a case involving the desertion of a West Point graduate since the beginning of the Vietnam war.
A few years ago another West Point officer, also under orders for Vietnam, was AWOL from his post in the United States but turned himself in a few days later.
Vequist's father said in a telephone interview from his Pittsburg, Kan., home he was surprised to be notified about five days ago by the Army of his son's disappearance.
"Until I understand more about it, I'd rather not comment," said the father, David G. Vequist.
When he dropped from sight, Vequist was assigned to headquarters, 9th Artillery at Kaiserslautern, Germany. The Army said he received orders March 29 directing him "to depart for Vietnam no later than October 31."
A spokesman said the Army had no information to indicate that Vequist was opposed to the Vietnam war.
Following graduation from West Point where he finished 222 out of a class of 800, Vequist attended the Army Air Defense School at Ft. Bliss, Tex. He went to Germany in December 1969.
The Army desertion rate has soared during the Vietnam war, doubling over the past four years from about 27,000 in 1957 to nearly 66,000 last year.
According to the Pentagon, 7,724 Americans from all branches of the services have sought asylum in foreign countries since July 1966. About 730 of these had been returned to U.S. military control.

John Lacey was installed as president of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce by Rev. J. H. Chambers.
Other officers installed: Donald Jackson, vice president; Mrs. C. J. (Kay) Bassman, secretary-treasurer; and John Carl, Andrew Maggard, DeLore Lash, Edwin Aiken and Homer Glason, directors.
Brief reports were presented on the proposed incorporation of Lake Mary by James Collins and on the Community Center by R. M. Richard.

Recruits Get $5,328

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate approved a military pay raise Tuesday that would pay the basic pay for a raw recruit to $301.50 per month and, with other allowances, swell his annual income to $5,328.43.
The $2.6 billion pay increase is designed to attract enough volunteers into the service to eliminate the draft.
The House already has passed military pay legislation with an identical pricetag even though President Nixon at least publicly—said he wanted only a $1 billion first installment Tuesday's 31 to 27 Senate vote.
The Senate's action practically guarantees that Congress, despite an advertised mood of holding the line on defense expenditures, will have added $1.6 billion to the defense budget for the business year which starts July 1.
This means that the $78 billion defense budget—which includes $30 billion in original 31 billion military pay increase request, becomes a $72.4 billion budget before Congress starts reworking it in the next week.
First and second year men would be the primary beneficiaries of Tuesday's action. A recruit, who now gets $2,242.87 a year in pay and allowances, would receive $3,228.43 a year when the new raises are in full effect, exclusive of regular cost of living allowances now granted to all U.S. employees.

Lynn Pruden Entertained At Tea

By CECILIA FARMER
The lovely Gentry Avenue home of the Neil Prudens was the scene of a recent graduation tea honoring their daughter, Lynn. Hostess for the social afternoon was Lynn's grandmother, Mrs. Lloyd Brake who flew down from Sunbury, Ohio for the graduation.
The living area, which is a decorator's dream without party adornment, was further enhanced by arrangements of gardenias, pink roses and fruit in a high pair of brass scales.
The refreshment table was overlaid with an imported lace cloth and the centerpiece was a large arrangement of blue and green tinted daisy mums.

Among pleasant memories of her high school days, Miss Susan Spotts will have one more memorable event to add to her list. Mrs. Paul Brown and Mrs. Ralph Spotts were co-hostesses for a graduation swim and supper party honoring the high school senior at the Brown home, 207 Floyd Avenue, Lake Mary. Laura Meyer and Kris Spotts served as floating hostesses.
A picnic supper was served on the patio which was decorated in a festive theme with blue and green crepe paper streamers and 30 lighted candles on lining the pool. Colored lanterns were strung overhead and the table centerpiece was a floral arrangement of blue and green tinted daisy mums and greenery.
The young people enjoyed a supper of hot dogs, potato salad, corn on the cob, relishes, chips and dips, fruit punch, watermelon and cake. The cake was decorated with a cap and gown and the inscription "Congratulations Susan." Hostess gifts were a gold wrist watch and gold monogram pin.
Guests enjoying the picnic supper, swimming, ping pong and other games during the evening included, the honoree's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Individual tables held blue candles and greenery in small heavily scented. The menu included deviled eggs with bread, cheese souffle, corn beef casserole, assorted fruits and melon balls, French breakfast puffs, orange juice and coffee. The hostess gift to the honoree was a sportswear.

Sherry Rogers, Friends Gather For Tea

Mrs. Larry Watson and Mrs. Frank Williams entertained at the Watson home in Woodruff Springs at a tea Sunday, June 6, honoring Miss Sherry Rogers, a 1971 graduate of Seminole High School.
The class colors of blue and green were carried out in the decor and refreshments.
Receiving white carnation corsages from the hostesses were the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Evelyn Baldree. Also the hostesses presented Sherry with a gift of lingerie.
Centering the refreshment table, which was covered with a blue cloth, was an arrangement of white carnations tipped in blue and green. Gracing the table was a crystal punch bowl green rosebuds. Crystal appointments attractively arranged with tea fare and blue and green napkins completed the table decor.
Approximately 50 guests called during the appointed hours, 2 to 6 p.m.

Happiness Is Being A Member Of Sanford Junior Woman's Club

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI
Using a theme, "Happiness Is Being A Member Of Sanford Junior Woman's Club," and employing the characters from the Snoopy cartoon to emphasize the pertinent points, Mrs. Klaus Koch, Junior Director of District 7 of FFWOC, conducted a most interesting and effective installation of the new officers of the Sanford Junior Woman's Club.
Mrs. Koch explained that Snoopy is the mascot of the Florida Juniors for this administration. Using Linus and his blanket for security, Linda (Mrs. Bill) Reek was informed that according to "Linus," happiness is paying bills on time, which she must practice as a treasurer.
"Lucy" reminds Dorothy Ann Williamson that happiness is keeping in touch with others as a good corresponding secretary should. Linda (Mrs. James) McKee, recording secretary, was advised by "Sally" that happiness is having someone to talk to and that a good record of the meeting, chairmen and finance chairman for the club, was admonished by "Charlie Brown" that happiness is hitting high C with harmony within the club.

And dear old "Snoopy" advised the new president, Mrs. Margaret (H. W.) Sobel, that happiness is different things to different people and that she as president, would be responsible for promoting happiness both within and outside the organization.
As each officer took her vows of service, the outgoing president, Mrs. Jan (Ed. Jr.) Villien, presented each with a long stemmed yellow rose which is the flower of the club. Following installation ceremonies Mrs. Koch conducted initiation ceremonies for new member Mrs. Eva Glavin Grabtree.
Certificates of appreciation and recognition were presented by Mrs. Villien to the following outgoing officers: Mrs. Fred (Charmie) Leese, Mrs. Susan (Mrs. Reek) Mrs. McKee, Mrs. Kirshhoff and Mrs. John (Stanley) Gil.
In voting for most outstanding member of the club, the members selected two and there being no way to break the tie, two members, Mrs. Kirshhoff and Louise Gill are the "winners" in their home on Kingswood Dr.
With the ceremonies concluded, members and their husbands and the school sponsor, Mrs. Art Brown and her husband, enjoyed a delightful and tempting cooking punch and other party fare at the reception which followed with Bill and Linda Reek serving as hosts in their home on Kingswood Dr.

Three-Bean Salad Hits The Spot

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Something new to serve with hamburgers—a pickle bean salad using chick peas, red kidney beans and pinto or white kidney beans.

As much a relish as a salad, this combination seems to please everyone. Do garnish it as suggested in the recipe because the sliced egg and pickles allow each their own attractive colors to show.

This is a make-ahead salad because it should chill from three to six hours to let the flavors marry. The only work in preparing the salad comes from dicing the pickles and fresh vegetables that are added. How fast you can dice determines the time it will take to make.

PICKLE BEAN SALAD
1 can (16 ounces) chick peas
1 can (15 1/2 ounces) dark red kidney beans
1 can (16 ounces) pinto beans or 1 can (1 pound, 4 ounces) white kidney beans
1/4 cup salad (not olive) oil
1/4 cup sweet pickle liquid
1/4 cup cider vinegar
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 large clove garlic, peeled and minced
2-3rd to 1/2 cup thinly sliced scallions (3 medium with part of green top included), not packed down
1-2rd cups diced celery
1 cup diced sweet fresh cucumber pickle slices
1-2rd cup thinly sliced radishes
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon white pepper
2 or 3 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
Pickle slices
Into a colander turn all the beans and rinse thoroughly under cold running water; drain well.
Into a large mixed bowl turn the oil, pickle liquid, vinegar, Worcestershire and garlic. Mix well with a whisk or a fork. Add drained beans, scallions, celery, diced pickles, radishes, salt and pepper; toss until mixed. Cover and chill for 3 to 6 hours.

At serving time drain salad and mix with a whisk or a fork; garnish with egg and pickle slices, alternating and overlapping them around the edge of the salad. If you like you may line the serving bowl with crisp greens before adding the beans.)
Makes 6 to 12 servings.

1/4 teaspoon dried crushed oregano
Salt
Remove stems from tomatoes; wash, dry and chill. In a 10-inch skillet, over moderate heat, heat the oil; add tomatoes, garlic and oregano. Cook, shaking pan and stirring up oregano until tomatoes are hot through and skins begin to split—3 to 5 minutes. Sprinkle with salt. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

STRAWBERRY FRUIT SALAD
A creamy strawberry mixture makes a delightful no-alcohol.
1 container (8 ounces) small-curd cream-style cottage cheese
1 container (1/2 pint) commercial sour cream
1 package (10 ounces) frozen sliced strawberries, thawed and drained
Fruit salad
Watercrest and lettuce cups
Thoroughly stir together cheese and sour cream; stir in strawberries; cover and refrigerate—makes about 2 cups.
At serving time arrange fruit salad—use a combination of such fruits as oranges, bananas, melon, pineapple, peaches and pineapple—on individual plates with the watercrest. Add strawberry mixture spooned into lettuce cups. Makes 6 servings.

Broiled Flank Steak

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
In "The Complete Book of Outdoor Cooking" by James Beard and the late Helen Evans Brown there is an interesting paragraph on flank steak:
"Flank steak is a much misunderstood cut of meat, as most people think it has to be braised to be good. Not at all. A broiled flank steak is unbelievably delicious. It is known in good eating places as a London broil. The secret is to have a good grade of meat, cook it rare, and serve it à la minute in very thin diagonal slices."
No more knowable words have ever been written on the subject. We agree with them wholeheartedly.

To elaborate on the broiling technique, you can treat flank steak to a marinade and then cook the meat. That's just what is done in the following recipe, and we've never eaten a better flank steak.
The marinade calls for a number of pantry shelf ingredients. One of these is liquid gravy seasoning and browning sauce. This sauce really does a good job so it's well worth including. In our recipe the directions given are for broiling in the kitchen range. To charcoal-broil "The Complete Book of Outdoor Cooking" suggests that you use a good fire and broil for about eight minutes, turning once.

SAVORY BROILED FLANK STEAK
Barbecue Glaze, see recipe below
2½-pound flank steak
Make up Barbecue Glaze. Trim excess fat from steak and make several shallow criss-cross slashes on both sides.
Brush with Barbecue Glaze and let stand in refrigerator for at least 4 hours.
Place steak on lightly greased rack in broiler pan. Brush with Barbecue Glaze and broil close to high heat for 4 to 5 minutes. Turn, brush with glaze and broil 4 to 5 minutes.
To carve, slice very thinly, on diagonal, across the grain.
Makes 6 servings.

BARBECUE GLAZE
2 large green onions, bulb part only
1-3rd cup salad (not olive) oil
¼ cup lemon juice
¼ cup catsup
¼ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon cracked pepper
Dash of tabasco sauce
2 tablespoons liquid gravy seasoning and browning sauce
Turn all the ingredients into an electric blender; blend until smooth—a few seconds. Pour into a small saucepan and bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer 8 to 10 minutes. Makes about 1 cup.

DINNER FOR FOUR
Spanish Chicken
Rice
Salad bowl
French Bread
Vanilla Ice Cream

SPANISH CHICKEN
5-pound broiler-fryer, cut up
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons peanut oil
2 tablespoons butter
¼ cup water
1 can (8½ ounces) small young green peas
1 can (4 ounces) pimientos
Coat chicken with a mixture of the flour, salt and pepper. In a 12-inch skillet heat oil and butter; add chicken and brown. Add water and cover tightly; cook rapidly until tender, watch so as not to scorch and turn as necessary; chicken should be very brown at end of cooking—10 to 15 minutes. Remove chicken to serving platter and keep warm. Add peas and quartered pimientos to skillet, including liquid in both cans. Stir over low heat with a wooden spoon to get up browned particles; add a little water if necessary to thin sauce. Pour over chicken and serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Rose Petal Omelet Delightful

By TOM ROGGE
Associated Press Writer

William Spry set out to be an architect, spent five designing church windows, then wound up carving himself a niche in the world of cookery.

"My native Ireland is a land where the food is fine and varied," said the urbane, 45-year-old executive chef of New York's Barclay Hotel. "As a result I became interested in cooking and enrolled in the caterer's school in Shannon, Limerick. I left my native Cork and journeyed to London to pursue my career."

"I learned a good deal about French cooking in the British capital," recalled Spry. "The same operated a completely French kitchen. Only French was spoken and the cooking was all French style."
In New York, Spry had to shift gears. For instance such specialties as oxtongue and jugged hare were banned in America by Board of Health regulations.

But the clientele of the Barclay is international and in the course of the day, he gets requests from guests for specialties of the Middle East, Asia and Latin America, as well as Europe.

This happened recently when a dignitary from New Delhi asked Spry to whip up a new petal omelet. After securing the neighborhood for some crystallized rose petals, Spry produced the dish to the delight of the guest.

Since then, Spry has created some of his own omelet variations, notably an omelet benedict that features Hollandaise sauce and truffle topping. Here is his recipe for the rose petal omelet, which was reportedly a favorite of the late Aga Khan III.

ROSE PETAL OMELET
2 eggs
1 oz crystallized rose petals
1 teaspoon superfine sugar
— Before making this omelet, heat your broiler. Separate egg yolks from whites, then beat whites well, but not too stiff. Beat yolks and add to whites, gently stirring both together.
— Pour mixture on a well-heated, buttered frying pan and stir for a few seconds. Allow to set over heat for about five seconds, then remove.
— Add crystallized rose petals and a little superfine sugar to the frothy outside of the omelet. Then place it under the heated broiler until top side begins to rise and color lightly.
— Remove from the heat, fold and place atop the omelet.
— Spry said me that this omelet would go well with a glass of chilled champagne and makes an excellent Sunday brunch.

FAMILY DINNER
Pork Chops Sweet Potatoes Broccoli Salad Bowl Banana Nut Bread Beverages BANANA NUT BREAD
One of the best recipes for this popular loaf:
1½ cups unsifted flour, sift to aerate before measuring
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
2½ cups sugar
2 large eggs
1 cup ripe banana-pear
¼ cup (¼ of a quart-size stick) butter or margarine, melted
¾ cup coarsely broken walnuts
On wax paper thoroughly stir together flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt and sugar. In a medium mixing bowl beat eggs slightly; beat in banana puree and butter; add flour mixture; stir just enough to combine. Fold in walnuts. Turn into a buttered loaf pan (9 by 5 by 3 inches). Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—about 35 minutes. Turn out on wire rack; turn right side up; cool. Wrap tightly with transparent plastic wrap and store overnight before slicing thin. Serve with butter or cream cheese.

NOTE: To make the banana puree use the electric blender or force through a strainer.

Fruit Is Cool On Hot Days

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

A refreshing fruit combination headed by tart red raspberries is a perfect invitation to a meal. Combine raspberries with fresh or frozen pineapple, pile into cantaloupe quarters and serve with a pink dressing made with cream cheese, raspberry syrup and sour cream. Top with chopped mint, if desired. Red raspberries grow primarily in Oregon and Washington and now are available frozen year round. Watch mid-June through July for fresh raspberries. A Raspberry Melon Salad makes a light lunch on a hot day.

LADIES LUNCH

Fruit Salad

CHEESE BREAD RING
4 ounces Fontinella cheese
1 wedge (8 ounces) Parmesan cheese
4 1/2 cups unsifted flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup (1/2 pound stick) butter or margarine, at room temperature
1 cup warm (110 to 115 degrees) water
2 packages instant-blended dry yeast
6 eggs, at room temperature
Shred cheeses medium-fine and leave at room temperature. In smaller electric mixer bowl at low speed beat together flour, sugar, salt, pepper and butter. In larger mixer bowl dissolve yeast in water; add half the flour mixture, then the eggs. Beat at medium speed for 2 minutes. With a wooden spoon stir in remaining flour mixture, a little at a time, alternately with cheese. Cover and let rise in a warm place until doubled—66 to 90 minutes. Gently stir down batter. Let rest 15 minutes. Turn into well-buttered 16-inch tube pan; smooth top. Let rise again as previously until batter comes to within 1 inch from top of pan—about 45 minutes. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven on rack below center for 20 minutes; cover with foil or brown paper to prevent excessive browning and continue to bake 20 to 30 minutes longer. Place bread in pan on wire rack to cool for 5 minutes. With a metal spatula loosen sides and around tube; turn out onto rack; with another rack turn right side up. Serve warm. Leftover bread will taste delicious toasted.

Add egg yolks, lobster, onion, Worcestershire sauce and mustard; mix well. Beat egg whites until stiff; fold into lobster mixture. Shape into 16 patties. In a large skillet melt remaining 1/2 cup margarine. Add patties and cook evenly until golden brown on both sides. Serve with lemon wedges. Makes 6 servings.

Free Bananas

FULTON, Ky. (UPI)—This Tennessee border community celebrates an International Banana Festival with Latin and South American dignitaries attending and free bananas on the street.

Fulton and it's twin city of Fulton, Tenn., is a recruiting point for bananas shipped by rail to northern cities. City officials say most of the bananas from Latin America are re-packed and routed through here.

Oriental Vegetable Salad Tops

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Cooked cold vegetables make top salad fixings for a summer meal. A very different combination includes cauliflower, Chinese pea pods and water chestnuts served with a special dressing. Serve this on a fresh lettuce leaf for an attractive accompaniment to sliced ham or roast beef.

ORIENTAL VEGETABLE SALAD

1 small head cauliflower
1 package (7 ounces) frozen Chinese pea pods
1 can (15 ounces) water chestnuts, drained and sliced
1/2 cup olive or salad oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 teaspoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
1/4 teaspoon ground white pepper
3 tablespoons diced pimiento
Break cauliflower into florets (makes about 1 cup). Cook an amount equal to water in cover for 7 minutes or until just crisp tender. Remove from boiling water; drain thoroughly. Put into a bowl; set aside. Cook pea pods in 1 inch of boiling salted water for 1 minute; drain well. Add to cauliflower along with water chestnuts. Cover and chill thoroughly. Just before serving, make dressing. Combine oil with vinegar, sugar, salt, garlic powder and white pepper. Pour over vegetable mixture; toss well. Add pimiento; toss gently. Makes 4 portions.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Don't worry if the meat around the bones of some chickens looks reddish brown even after cooking. It's safe to eat, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture poultry inspector. Redder tones tend to show this effect because they're marketed young, at 3 to 4 weeks. Their bone marrow has not fully hardened, and the red blood cells are still in the surrounding meat, causing a deep red or brown color.

When buying fresh asparagus, look for stalks that are old and have a moist but end. Keep the stalks cold and moist until cooking time. Standard size stalks run about 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 per pound, and 1 pound serves three persons.

For breading meats and poultry, mix instant potato flakes with equal amounts of flour and cornmeal. Before breading, dip meat into beaten egg and milk or buttermilk.

Pimientos from an opened can or jar can be stored for some time in a refrigerator if they are completely immersed in water in a covered jar or if a teaspoon of vinegar is added to the pimiento liquid before the container is covered tightly.

Orange rind and juice add flavor and color to rice mix. For 1 (8-ounce) package of long grain and wild rice mix, prepare as label directs, but substitute orange juice for 1/4 cup of the water. Before serving, add 1/2 cup of sliced, salted celery and grated rind of one orange.

What Does It

NEW YORK (UPI)—The principal laundry detergent ingredients are a surface active agent (sulfonate) and phosphate, says the Soap and Detergent Association. The surfactant is a wetting agent which lowers the surface tension of water and improves its penetration so that soil can be loosened from fabrics and other surfaces.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What can you say to a 25-year-old daughter who has decided to live with her boyfriend? We brought Maria up as a moral Catholic. Her father and his wife are legally separated. They have three children.

I have tried to tell Maria that if her friend really loved her he would get a divorce and marry her. We have other children, but Maria is the oldest and the apple of her father's eye. This affair is just about killing us. Until this happened Maria never gave us any trouble. We were so proud of her. She graduated from college with honors. Now she is a teacher and a mother.

We are so ashamed to know that she is living with a man. Maria reads your column. Maybe there is something you can say to her. I've tried everything I know. Thank you, MARIAN'S MOTHER.

DEAR MOTHER: I have nothing to say to Maria because she didn't ask me for any advice, but I have something to say to you, Mother. You reared your daughter to the best of your ability, and you are not responsible for her decisions. Those who know you and love you will not think less of you because of your daughter's actions. Hold your head high, and if anyone says "She is not a daughter," you say "She is my daughter, and we love her, even though we disagree on many things."

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have six daughters. Never have we sacrificed enough, fighting wars and supporting kids and females, without submitting to castration. Very truly yours,

DEAR ALL MAN (FOREVER): It takes more of a "man" to submit to surgery than to ask his wife to do it.

DEAR ABBY: I am a domestic embezzler for a very prominent family and I realize that I must keep myself clean and tidy at all times, which I most certainly do.

I am a member of a church club and every Christmas the women swap gifts. Last Christmas I got a bottle of deodorant! The lady who gave it to me is a very nice person and can't imagine why she would give me such a gift. I would never give a gift like that to anybody.

Will you please tell me what to do with the deodorant? PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: Use it. What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Have you written letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

DEAR GRANDPA: After six girls, I don't blame her. I have seen several letters in your column lately about an operation called the "vasectomy" which is done on a man in order to prevent him from getting a woman pregnant.

As a male, I object! If a woman doesn't want to get pregnant, let HER have an operation.

When you use weak two bids, keep in mind that you have told your partner a great deal about your hand. In most instances he will take charge from then on.

One exception to this is when he responds two no-trump and rebids to three no-trump. In this case he tells you that he prefers no-trump, but that you should go back to your suit if your hand is very self-oriented.

On the other hand, if he jumps to three no-trump in response to your weak two, he is telling you he can make three no-trump. Let him play the hand there.

North wanted to bid four hearts, but respected his partner's judgment and passed. It was well he did. Four hearts would not make and South made 12 tricks at no-trump.

Worry Clinic By Dr. Crane

CASE Q-375: Melvin A., aged 42, has a sex problem. "Dr. Crane," his wife began, "Melvin's business reached a crisis last fall. "So he put in long hours and grew so jittery that he started taking tranquilizers. "And for the last six months, our marriage has been platonic. "Could those tranquilizer pills be the cause?"

In fact, tranquilizers not only reduce your brain's activity, but they even kill your gastric hunger at the dinner table.

Plus your desire for erotic calories in the bedroom!

But many things are actual tranquilizers, though not considered in the category of such drugs as barbiturates or morphine.

For example, a jittery school child prefers chewing gum because it lets him chew vigorously.

And any muscular activity drains off surplus nervous energy from the brain, thereby reducing inner tension.

Actually, it would be medically tranquilizing to eat a stick of chewing gum to every pupil, both in the morning and afternoon, too.

In fact, many psychiatrists prescribe chewing gum for neurotic kiddies.

But tobacco is also a tranquilizer.

As the cigarette is waved back and forth, the muscles of the arm and hand drain off inner tension.

Smokers thus kill much of their gastric appetite.

But their hunger for bousoir calories is likewise reduced, which is why many chain smokers are impatient before they pass the age of 40.

In fact, laymen may not have realized it, but one of the reasons why cigarettes were urged upon our men in World War I was that World War II was to serve as a mild form of chemical castration.

For the smokers were thus likely to get into trouble with the French girls or other native women!

Melvin's sex problem, however, actually preceded his use of tranquilizers.

For he confessed to me that he had grown progressively platonic even before the crisis at his firm.

Then the prolonged worry over threatened bankruptcy merely complicated his erotic decline.

And the tranquilizers finished his bousoir ardor.

But the basic cause of his impotence was fear.

For he had secretly worried over his waning erotic verve for several years before his wife noticed any marked change in their bedroom behavior.

Remember, fear is the greatest cause of platonic husbands! Stopping his tranquilizers and cigarettes will not revive Melvin's virility until his wife banishes his inner fear of bousoir failure.

But a seductive wife, who becomes more aggressive in the bedroom, can soon restore a man's virility.

She must realize that requires more stress on bousoir, "cheese cake" than on roast beef in the dining room!

When she streamlines your figure till you regain the classiest chassis of your youth.

Adopt a new perfume and diaphanous nighties. Be amorously aggressive.

Take the initiative and seduce your own husband!

So send for my booklet "How to Prevent Platonic Marriage," enclosing a hot stamped, return envelope, plus 20¢.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Certainly no day or evening to take any chances especially where your emotional or romantic life is concerned. Don't get upset if some plan you have been counting on is changed and you have to carry through with some dull chore — it's good for you to get it behind you at this time.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Getting into policy matters with associates is very wise now, since this will pave the way for more success in the future. Find out what you stand with others. Don't get further.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get busy at this work ahead of you whether at home or elsewhere and it is soon done. Take your interest in improving both the quality and versatility of your wardrobe. Make others sit up and take notice of you.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Consult your best friend or barber for that new look you want that can be so becoming to you. Time spent with romantic life can lighten your spirits tremendously. Extravagance is not wise, though.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Anything you want to do to please kin is fine and being precise adds much to harmony. Being objective in discussing relative positions brings the finest results. Remember that too much familiarity breeds contempt, even at home.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get busy gathering information you need so that you can put good ideas to work successfully. Plan that short trip for some worthwhile reason now and don't forget all the small details.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Making the repairs necessary to property will add much to its intrinsic value. Better analysis of financial position shows you just what should be done to improve it. Don't think negatively.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Go over your methods of operation and see whether you are making the progress you want, otherwise make changes fast. Much friendliness toward others is necessary if respect is to be improved both ways. Cur temperance as a mild form of chemical castration.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You need to think more and work harder if you are to get that project on the road properly. An advisor can be of great help to you. Make sure that all your facts and figures are correct.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Contacting good friends and improving relationships guarantees they will be in your life in the future. Talk over ideas that can be mutually helpful. Avoid bringing up some controversial subject that could lead to big argument.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You know just what has to be done to improve your profit, so take necessary steps. You have been procrastinating too long. Buy the gadgets that make your work load lighter, easier to perform.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she would be one of those fascinating young people with a very active mind who wants to know about everything, so be sure to give him or her a good education.

Then the excellent promise in this chart will come to fruition. Big business, especially in or with foreign countries, shipping, the stock market, etc., are particularly fine outlets for your gifted progeny. I just neglect foreign languages when in school.

The Stars impel, they do not compel! What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Polly's Pointers By Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY: I have help for Dorothy who has one-half each of two blankets salvaged from a fire. If they are fairly new, bind on all four sides and use for baby blankets or make a rough throw for chilly evening watching. If they are not in good enough shape for that, if these ideas are for you, setting — M.H.H.

DEAR POLLY: If I were Dorothy I would cut one of the blanket pieces rescued from the fire as it is even after washing and using contrasting yarn and colors with a zigzag crocheted stitch. Embroider big, colorful flowers and a few leaves and branches on it and have a nice sign of interest to use in the car.

Such blanket pieces could also make baby crib blankets or could be used to make a portable fold in hall or in current size cut out a circle for the neck and either side with elastic tape or crocheted around the neck and bottom. These are great for football games and other outdoor wear. Blankets could also be cut in pieces about 15 by 15 inches, sew two pieces together, leave one side open (insert a pillow, sew and close) and have a good outdoor or car pillow — HELEN

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY: I have many baby diapers and pants that are in very good condition except for the snaps. Does any one know of any way these snaps can be removed so they will stay closed — CAROL

DEAR POLLY: To use curtains that are too short for a window, place the rod below the top of the window to give the needed length and then cut a valance at the top (on an other rod) to hide the gap.

A cardboard tube from waxed paper or towels makes a good storage place for candles.

To remove the odor from plastic containers, I pour coffee grounds in and fill the container with water to the top. Let stand several hours and then wash with soap and hot water — MRS. R.H.E.

Sanford GI Saves AF Officer's Life

Sgt. James L. Baker, a 1966 graduate of Seminole High School, is a good fellow to have around in a tight situation. Baker, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker, of 2400 Narcissus Avenue, displayed how valuable he is when he saved the life of an Air Force officer dying from an epileptic seizure.

While walking down a street near the base in Tan Son Nhut, Sergeant Baker grew curious at a large gathering of Vietnamese and Americans who were crowded around a taxi.

Upon closer inspection, Baker found the officer in the back seat of the auto, crumpled-up and unconscious.

Baker related, "I saw he was in serious trouble. He had stopped breathing. There was a bit of blood and froth on his mouth and he had swallowed his tongue, which was suffocating him. I cleared his throat and began giving artificial respiration and external heart massage to revive him."

The action by Baker was described by the attending physician at the hospital as being as professional as could have been given by a trained medic. According to the emergency assistance, it is a near certainty that the officer would have died of suffocation.

Baker, an education specialist with the 377th Headquarters Squadron, said that he "saw someone in trouble and did what I could to help. I'm glad it was enough."

In case you didn't know... the fuz is the Sanford Police and all proceeds will go towards the benefit of "The Village" Half Way House in Sanford.

Why even our good city commissioners will play a part in this drama... and be the umpires. (Of course we need five umpires...)

Seriously, if you can do nothing more than just drive by... leave a buck or two for these deserving people. I promise a complete future column on the good and the necessity of Half Way Houses dotted all over America in order to try to cope with this tremendous drug problem confronting each and everyone of us.

And don't kid yourself... even if your kid doesn't take the stuff... what about those around him or her? Wouldn't you rather be some sort of a program underway, trying to help those in need? Rather than have the problem rear its ugly head right in your own home?

Think on that for a moment... and you'll see why it's important that you and I clout our share of the idea that it won't happen to us... get involved right now and be prepared to do something constructive, and more importantly... lend a helping hand, rather than just be a critic.

Each year there's one thing I look forward to more than almost anything else I can think of... vacation, you ask?

Nah... it's the Open House set for this Saturday at Sunny Sands Mobile Home Village in Pierson, Florida.

Gotta make sure that my vacation is in slip-free shape, you Gotta go and get my blood pressure checked, too!

You see, according to this reminder which just "burned" its way through the mails to my desk... "With the increasing popularity of mobile home parks, a mobile trailer park seems almost 'natural'... everyday living couldn't be more heavenly."

You betcha, buddy... you betcha. (Mustn't forget to carry some Murine, too. Wouldn't want something to get into my eyes.)

How Cum... missing teeth look so cute on children and so sad on older people!

Teenager Is Held In Theft Of Tape

A 17-year old Altamonte Springs youth, Alphonse Mann, was arrested over the theft of a tape yesterday by Seminole County sheriff's deputies after Mann was observed trying to sell a tape deck to a motorist at the intersection of Highway 17-92 and Dog Track Road. According to the sheriff's report, the youth admitted a 4-cassette deck and a tape deck, valued at $90, from the parking lot at Winter Park Mall.

Girl Graduate Captures Top Honors At Florida Tech Engineering College

What makes a young lady decide to achieve the highest honors a university has to offer? Engineering forces you to be logical and think, rather than just remember."

Joy says she feels that through engineering she can directly aid society through advancements and coming up with absolute answers to problems. "I think I could directly help people through my engineering, and retain a greater feeling of accomplishment," she says.

"I would like to teach college somewhere," replied Joy, when she was asked what she plans to do with a PhD in engineering. "I have no particular plans as to where I would like to teach," she chuckled. "That's a little far in the future for me to think about."

Joy says that being a girl is no handicap in engineering "but I will admit there aren't too many of us around." There is only one other girl graduating from the college of engineering this month.

Joy, who radiates an air of quiet intelligence, said that her social life had to be somewhat curtailed in order to maintain her grades. "I still get out a couple of times a week and don't feel that I have really deprived myself of much," she adds. "I guess it's just a matter of placing your values on what you feel is important. I just put the emphasis on my education."

"We have some fantastic professors here," she is quick to add. "Some of these teachers make the courses interesting just by the way they present the information. If they are really interested in it, and are interested in getting the information across they usually succeed."

Joy has nothing but the highest praise for FTU. "We have an excellent university and I have no qualms about going to Purdue, or any of the other schools I gained here. I'm proud to be graduating from FTU."

Federal Grant Requested $135,000 Crime Study Is Eyed

By FRED VAN PELT

A request for a $100,000 federal planning grant for a proposed three-month study of projected law enforcement needs of the seven counties in Central Florida has been submitted to the U. S. Department of Justice's Law Enforcement Administration.

Sheriff John Polk, Seminole County's member of the Fourth Regional Law Enforcement Planning Council, reported today.

Polk said the seven counties would add $35,724 to the federal grant and added that the study would include all phases of law enforcement, including courts, juvenile detention centers, etc. He said the study is needed because of the anticipated normal growth of the area and the impact of Walt Disney World, slated to open in October. The study, he said, would be used for planning purposes, such as budgetary requirements.

Working in coordination with officials of six other counties in Region IV of the Governor's Council on Criminal Justice, the Orange County Board of Commissioners has agreed to be the sponsoring agency.

If approved, the study will provide invaluable information on the area's law enforcement impact with recommendations for crime prevention programs, additional and more effective use of existing facilities and the addition of more law enforcement officers in the seven-county area.

The study will be conducted by a professional consultant firm with experience in the law enforcement field.

Total cost of the study is estimated to be $135,724, of which $100,000 will be federally funded and the remaining $35,724 will be in-kind services contributed by the areas involved.

The three-month study, if approved, will give the commissioners and planners of Orange, Osceola, Seminole, Lake, Flagler, Volusia and Brevard counties factual data to determine future law enforcement needs with special emphasis on the following four areas:

1. Jail and juvenile detention.
2. Modernized correctional center organization and construction.
3. Improved probation and parole.
4. Community based correctional programs.

It is hoped that the results of the study could be used to provide a more coordinated law enforcement system to this Central Florida "Impact Area" to enhance and improve the now existing correctional and crime prevention programs. The recommendations of the study could lead to multi-county use of certain facilities.

The goals of the proposed study were outlined in a 20 page application submitted to the Atlanta based Justice Department office. Region IV officials are confident the study will be approved and the consultant can be hired to begin work by July 1. In this way, the study would be completed at about the same time as Walt Disney World opens in October.

At the present time, a subcommittee of the Governor's Council made up of representatives from the counties involved are meeting to determine what items will be included in the request for proposal to the possible consultants.

10-Mill Tax Cap Opposed

By LARRY NEELY

A resolution requesting the state legislature to delay the 10 mill ad valorem tax ceiling which is set to go into effect this year was adopted by the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce legislative and national affairs committee. The committee's resolution requests the solons to delay the 10-mill cap until suitable replacement revenues can be found.

The committee members said they are asking for the delay for several reasons. They cited the revenue shortage crisis that would face many of Florida's cities if the tax cap is implemented without other sources of revenues being found. They said that the legislators indicated the guaranteed annual wage proposal introduced by Rep. Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.), which would establish a guaranteed annual income of $2,400 for a family of four, whether a parent is working. The bill was passed by the House ways and means committee under closed rule which prevents the bill from being amended. As it stands it must be passed or rejected in its entirety.

The committee members said they oppose the measure because, as the guaranteed income level rises, more people become eligible for the family assistance plan. In turn, leaves fewer taxes necessary to guarantee it's high annual income.

Tornado Tosses Trailer

Tornado winds destroyed this $12,000 mobile home late yesterday afternoon at Mullet Lake Trailer Park. The owners, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Newton, 214 Highland Drive, Fern Park, said the winds lifted the 10-by-35-foot trailer a distance of about 70 feet. The home was unoccupied at the time of the accident. Flying debris from the Newton trailer patio caused $100 damage to a nearby mobile home owned by Richard L. Farmer.
