Bombs and Dynamite Used by Rebels in Effort to Capture Train Heavily Guarded by Federal Troops.

ATTACK OCCURS

At Dolores Station About Fifty Miles South of Jimenez Where Several Cars are Looted and Several Casualties Result.

By The Associated Press. EL PASO, Jan. 31.—Direct rail communication with Mexico City from the border again was severed Thursday by rebel forces operating near the city of Jimenez, in southern Chihuahua, advices received in El Paso stated. Casualties occurred on both sides when a passenger train was attacked, according to the south.

Bombs and dynamite were used by the rebels in their effort to capture the train, according to the report. The attack occurred at Dolores station, about fifty miles south of Jimenez. The train was heavily guarded by regular soldiers, but the rebels attacked in such force that they looted several cars and destroyed the road in such a fashion that the train could not continue and was forced to return to the south.

U. S. Warcraft to Vera Cruz. WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The light cruiser Omaha and the six destroyers accompanying her were ordered by the navy department Thursday to remain at Vera Cruz until further orders. The ships had previously been instructed to rejoin the fleet in southern waters and were expected to start south today. If they have started south, Secretary Denby said, they will return at once to Vera Cruz.

Mr. Denby said the order directing the ships to remain at Vera Cruz temporarily was a precautionary measure without particular significance. He would not further explain the change in plans.

It was recalled, however, that state department advices both from Vera Cruz and Mexico City during the day reported the capture of Esperanza by federal forces and that the Obregon troops were closing in on Orizaba. It appeared possible that the American war craft had been instructed to remain in the vicinity of Vera Cruz because of the possibility of military operations between federal and rebel forces in that vicinity, following the federal victory on the Vera Cruz line.

In that event the Washington government would desire to have war craft in the region to look out for the interests of American nationals during the struggle.

Rebels to Start Guerrilla War. MEXICO CITY, Jan. 31.—(By Radio via Fort Worth Star-Telegram by the Associated Press.) Revolutionary forces around Vera Cruz are preparing to inaugurate guerrilla warfare following the capture of Dolores at Llanos Grande, Boca Del Monte and Esperanza, according to wireless messages sent to Gen. Dieguez in Jalisco by Gen. de la Huerta, revolt leader, which were intercepted and given out by the war department.

The messages carry the plain intimation that anti-government propaganda, which the de la Huertistas plan to inaugurate since the purchase by the government of arms and munitions in the United States will accuse the president in violent terms of being a corrupt encouragement of attacks upon Americans on the ground that the United States is interfering with Mexican affairs with the ultimate purpose of domination. In Mexico City dodgers making similar charges in huge type have been secretly printed and distributed.

Complete official reports on the Esperanza victory still are unavailable although the war department has announced that 16 engines and 132 cars were captured during the recent offensive, including 60 cars loaded with food and ammunition and 57 with horses and automobiles. Railway service along the eastern front has been extended from Mexico City to Oriental, the department announces. The fighting is proceeding in the vicinity of Poncitlan, upon the vanguard under Gen. Amaro is engaging the rear guard of the rebels under Gen. Alvaro, according to press dispatches from Celaya, headquarters of Gen. Obregon.

The bridge over the Zulia river burned during the rebel retreat, which makes it impossible for federal military trains to follow closely. The royal advance guard, Gen. Esteban's column has reached Acambaro, the specials add and is pursuing the enemy who have retired to Morelia.

PRESS BREAKFAST. (By The Associated Press.) TAMPA, Jan. 31.—The Tampa Rotary club has sent out invitations to leading newspaper men of the state for its annual press breakfast, a feature of the club's annual program. Writers of prominence from all parts of the country meet with the representatives of the press on these occasions and enjoy an exchange of ideas and sentiments. The event is scheduled for Feb. 3.

DISCUSSIONS HOT FORD'S SHOAL BID

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Heated discussion of Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals, which Wednesday marked the executive session of the house military committee, is expected to be resumed Thursday when the committee reconvenes.

With rejection of an amendment to the McKenzie bill, which authorizes acceptance of Ford's offer, advocates of the Detroit manufacturer's bid declare they will continue to oppose any changes in the measure. Mr. Ford, they contend, said that he stands by his offer, and any amendments probably will not be acceptable to him.

LIEUT. GRIFFIS IS FREED FROM BADEN PRISON

American Officer Who Tried to Kidnap Bergdoll, Draft Dodger, Now at Liberty

By The Associated Press. BERLIN, Jan. 31.—Corliss Hoover Griffis of Hamilton, O., imprisoned in Baden for his part in the attempt to kidnap Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, American draft evader, at Elberfeld, last summer, was released at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening and left immediately for Stuttgart. He was accompanied by American Vice Consul Magnuson.

Throughout the day the foreign office denied that final action with regard to the release of Griffis was imminent and even contended that the appeal in his behalf was unchanged. In view of negotiations alleged to have been going on with Washington through the German embassy.

The Badenese minister of justice at Karlsruhe also declared that there were no developments in the case, when asked earlier in the day.

Griffis Most Surprised. MOSBACH, Germany, Jan. 31.—Although aware that efforts were being made to obtain his pardon, Lieut. Corliss Griffis was the most surprised man in this place when informed by his jailer Wednesday that he could pack up his belongings and go whither he wished. Neither the state's attorney nor the jail warden was apprised until later that the release of Griffis had been granted, as the appeal in his behalf was still strongly opposed on the grounds that it should not be acted upon until the United States government announced its attitude toward Frederick W. Biscoff, convicted in 1918 of conspiracy against the American government, who it was thought was to be traded off against Griffis.

The American lieutenant lost no time in leaving the jail and he caught the 9:00 o'clock train for Stuttgart. His departure took place so hurriedly that most of the villagers first learned of it after he was on his way. Vice Consul Magnuson accompanied him.

Karl Sperber and Faust Gagarin, who were implicated in the attempt to kidnap Bergdoll, are still in the jail at Mosbach.

Formal Opening of 'Mayfair' Will Be Held On Thursday

The formal opening of Sanford's latest subdivision "Mayfair" will be held Thursday afternoon and night of next week, it was announced Wednesday by Harry T. Bodwell, head of the firm which recently purchased the Pace property and converted it into one of the most desirable subdivisions in this city.

The presentation of "Mayfair" to the public is to be opened by a program of music together with talks by Mayor Forrest Lake on "The Future of Sanford" and R. J. Holly on the subject of "The Opening of Our City Eastward." In the evening from 8 to 10 o'clock open air dancing will be enjoyed with music furnished by a Sanford Orchestra.

To this opening the people of this city are cordially invited, according to Mr. Bodwell, who stated that because of the splendid reception which his firm has received since opening here, 30 lots, exclusively for Sanford people will be offered for sale.

"Mayfair" is situated within 12 blocks of the business center on a gentle rising slope commanding a panoramic view of Lake Monroe. Its location is ideal and it bids fair to become one of the most attractive residential sections of Sanford.

Restrictions will be placed upon the construction of the homes in order to guarantee increased values. Homes built here must cost $4,500, it is announced. The lots will be offered for a bargain and will be disposed of on easy terms.

Boos Greet Labor Secretary J. Davis

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 31.—Howls and boos greeted James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, when he was introduced by President John L. Lewis to the biennial convention of the United Mine Workers of America here Thursday. While the tumult proceeded Lewis again took the floor and shouted at the top of his voice "The honor of your organization is at stake, exercise self restraint in order that our organization may not be publicly shamed."

COMMITTEE HAS PROVISIONS FOR TAX CUT IN 1923

Income Tax Payers to Receive Reduction in 1923 Taxes Payable This Year According to Plan.

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Secretary Mellon regards an amendment feasible the plan of the Republican members of the House Ways and Means Committee to make the proposed income tax reductions effective on 1923 payments which taxpayers will remit to the government beginning Mar. 15. He believes the step would entail no difficulties on the treasury.

Under the optional plan of paying taxes in four installments probably 90 per cent of taxpayers would take advantage of the privilege of retaining moneys that might otherwise be turned into the treasury in a lump sum on the first tax paying date.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Income tax payers would receive a reduction in their 1923 taxes payable this year under a provision voted Wednesday by Republican members of the house ways and means committee.

The amount of reduction has not been determined but Chairman Green, author of the proposal, said it might be as high as 25 per cent. It would apply to the taxes after they have been computed and to all personal income taxpayers. Treasury experts estimated that a 25 per cent cut would mean a saving to taxpayers of $235,000,000.

For Immediate Relief. Mr. Green explained the reduction was aimed at immediate relief, whereas application of the rates in both the 1922 and 1923 taxes would begin on this year's tax. The action was the first taken on new income rates which the Republican members of the committee decided today to write themselves and put through in committee by a majority vote.

Representative Hull of Tennessee, a member of the committee, and chairman of the Democratic national committee, announced last night that Democratic members of the committee intended to present a similar proposal but to perform a joint resolution which could have been taken before the house and senate for independent action before March 15, when the first installments on last year's taxes are due.

Part of Revenue Bill. Under the plan adopted today the reduction will be made a part of the revenue bill. If it is approved after March 15, Mr. Green said, refund on those taxes already paid.

Prior to the meeting of majority members, the full committee had considered further technical details of the revenue bill but Chairman Green adjourned the committee subject to call when it reached the income rates, the heart of the tax revision program.

Green Explains Decision. The decision of Republican members to write their own income rates was explained by Green's statement by Chairman Green as resulting from the "refusal of Democratic members of the committee of our offer to compromise and their evident intention to support unchanged the so-called Garner plan." The latter plan, of which Representative Garner, Democrat, of Texas, is the author, proposes to reduce the surtax rates, which the committee reached just before adjournment, to a maximum of only 54 per cent from the present 60 per cent instead of to 25 per cent as proposed in the plan of Secretary Mellon.

Mr. Green's statement brought a retort from Representative Garner, who declared the former's "premise that we have refused to consider a compromise is not correct."

The action of the majority members of the committee forecasts a stubborn fight on the bill when it reaches the floor.

Representative Garner has declared the Democrats were united for the rates proposed in his plan and would vote for them on the floor. Amendments to the rate Continued from Page 8

PROHIBITION OFFENSIVE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Plans for a nationwide "Prohibition offensive" will be worked out at a meeting in New York tomorrow of a committee of 1,000 formed to carry on work of the Citizenship Conference here last October prior to Governor's conference on law enforcement.

Love Letters of Asa Candler, Coca Cola King, Are Read In Open Court in Mrs. De Bouchel's Breach of Promise Suit

(By The Associated Press.) ATLANTA, Jan. 31.—The second day of the trial of the half million dollar breach of promise suit brought against Asa G. Candler, Sr., Atlanta, by Mrs. De Bouchel of New Orleans, opened at 10 o'clock today with the introduction of letters alleged to have been written to the plaintiff by the defendant. Both were present when the court opened in a crowded room.

The contention that Mrs. de Bouchel was legally married to the time she was engaged to Mr. Candler, and the announcement that both principals are barred from taking the stand in their own behalf marked Wednesday's session of the trial of the suit for $500,000 damages for breach of promise filed against Mr. Candler by Mrs. de Bouchel.

Mrs. de Bouchel, with several New Orleans friends, sat with her attorneys. She paid close attention to the trial.

Mr. Candler was present while the letters were being read. The court room was crowded, about half of the audience being women.

In a statement to the jury, which was selected in five minutes, Mr. Howell outlined the plaintiff's case, detailing various stages and the courtship preceding the engagement, the alleged breaking of the engagement by Mr. Candler and his subsequent refusal to name persons, who he charged, had given him information to the effect that Mrs. de Bouchel had been visited by two men in her room at a hotel in Atlanta during a Confederate reunion in 1910.

Mr. Howell opened the plaintiff's testimony with the reading of the letters Mr. Candler was said to have written to Mrs. de Bouchel. He had not completed reading the letters when court adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Of 13 letters introduced in evidence today, eight addressed Mrs. de Bouchel as "My Dear Sweetheart," "My Very Precious Sweetheart," "My Own Dear Sweetheart," "My Dear Sweet," and "My Own Sweetheart."

Mr. Howell announced that those he was reading were only representative letters selected from a number written almost daily to Mrs. de Bouchel over a period covering several months.

The first letter read to the jury was dated Feb. 6, 1922, a few weeks after Mr. Candler and Mrs. de Bouchel were married. (Continued on page 8)

Internal Taxes of Last Year Show an Increase Over 1922

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Internal taxes brought more money to the government in the last six months of 1923 than in the corresponding period of 1922, showing, in the opinion of treasury officials, a healthier and more active business condition generally inasmuch as the domestic taxes are levied on scores of different industrial and commercial pursuits. Statistics of receipts between July 1 and Jan. 1, last, as made public Wednesday night by the internal revenue bureau, showed payments to the government of $1,339,797,452 from all internal levies, including income and profits taxes. Receipts for the corresponding period in 1922 were $1,167,646,452.

Income and profits paid their usual large share of the total, $821,259,551 coming from that source, while in the last six months of 1922 this source yielded $678,795,120. There was an increase also in the "miscellaneous" taxes, covering all of the other assessments under the internal revenue law, the comparative receipts being $518,537,900 for the period ending last January 1 and $490,850,308 for the six months ending Jan. 1, 1922.

The receipts include payments of the third and fourth installments on income and profits taxes in the respective years and, these being smaller than receipts from the first and second installments, the total for the first six months of any year always is larger. Official opinion, however, was that the increase as between the two periods reflected greater prosperity in business effort that could be proved in no better way than that generous returns to the owners developed greater payments of taxes.

New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois in order furnished the greatest amount of taxes. Collections from New York amounted to $344,153,387; Pennsylvania $126,081,444; and Illinois $104,981,193. Total taxes paid by the states and territories for the last half of 1923 include: Alabama, $3,911,455; Florida, $7,015,097; Georgia, $8,673,460; Louisiana, $9,270,260; Maryland, $2,504,986; Mississippi, $1,954,678; North Carolina, $75,418,022; South Carolina, $9,948,293; Tennessee, $8,452,203; Virginia, $22,916,814; West Virginia, $9,028,143.

Disorder and Riot Occurs Among Tokio Legislators Dissolving Imperial Diet

(By The Associated Press.) TOKIO, Jan. 31.—The imperial diet was dissolved Thursday following scenes of the greatest disorder in which water flasks were thrown and fists used. The disturbance resulted from attempts of opposition to interpellate government regarding the attempted wreck of a train at Nagaya carrying opposition leaders to Tokio. Turbulent scenes occurring in the lower house made business impossible. The outbreak came shortly after the representatives had taken their seats.

The interpellating government in connection with a train wreck in which three prominent opposition leaders escaped injury—

Work Is Begun On Berlin Finances

BERLIN, Jan. 31.—Scene of inquiry into German finances shifted to the capital at Reich Thursday as first committee experts, headed by Brig. Gen. Daves, settled down to work on Germany's budget and currency problems. Assurance of complete co-operation with government financiers and banks, it appeared, would make the experts task chiefly that of formulating their conclusions from the vast amount of data before them.

REPUBLICANS RESPONSIBLE FOR TEAPOT SCANDAL

Blame is Placed at Door of G. O. P. by Mrs. Blair, Vice-Chairman Democrat Executive Committee.

(By The Associated Press.) CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 31.—Direct responsibility for the Teapot Dome "scandal" rests with the Republican party and President Coolidge and nothing can prevent it from being made a campaign issue in 1924, Democratic women attending a "school of democracy" here were told tonight by Mrs. Emily Newell Blair of Missouri, vice-chairman of the party's executive committee.

She characterized the Washington government as "an administration of scandals" and said that honesty in government was certain to be one of the major questions submitted to voters in the coming campaign. The Republican party claims credit for its achievements, she declared, and likewise must be held responsible for its failures.

"Mr. Coolidge is not merely Calvin Coolidge," she declared, "he ran as vice-president on the Republican ticket of 1920. He is a part and parcel of the Republican administration. More than that, he sat in the cabinet or Mr. Harding, which Mr. Harding approved. In fact, he went so far when he took office as to say that he would carry on Mr. Harding's policies. Surely that gives us a right to assume that he knew what those policies were."

"Parties do not make issues. The issues are made by events. What parties determine their positions on the questions put up to us by events. Here we have a situation of maladministration, of dishonesty in high places, not alone the Teapot Dome, but others—the Veterans' Bureau, Bureau of Engraving and others on their way to investigation for scandal, Philippines, etc."

Declaring that it was no accident that a Republican fathered the Teapot Dome scandal, Mrs. Blair said it was "due to that 7,000,000 majority, it went to their heads."

Republicans thought they face an inept in effectual minority, she said, urging that minorities be kept extant as a check on the party in power.

It was a day of criticism of Republicans and their deeds. Other speakers had deplored the "barrening away" of oil leases and criticized alleged corruption in irrigation and forest reserve administration and former Senator Atlee Pomeroy of Ohio, in an afternoon discussion delivered a broadside of condemnation of administration policies.

Republican administration of the civil service, the existent tariff laws and the attitude towards the league of nations all felt the barb of his criticism. He did not mention the Teapot Dome incident, however.

Pinellas County To Furnish Gladiolas For Press Dinner

As a further indication of the interest and enthusiasm that is being manifested in the All-Florida products dinner to be given the press of New York during the Madison Square Garden Exposition, the following telegram was received Wednesday from L. L. Eddy, secretary of the St. Petersburg Chamber of Commerce:

"Mail full information as to date, place, etc., of the Florida products dinner during the Madison Square show. Will there be opportunity for one or more of our representatives to attend? Can furnish gladiolas spikes for table decorations. Mail shipping directions for same and wire acceptance. Necessary for us to know at once."

PROMINENT SPEAKERS.

(By The Associated Press.) MIAMI, Jan. 31.—Several speakers prominent in the religious world will be on the program of the sixth annual session of the Southern Bible Conference which will open here Feb. 10 for a two weeks meeting. Dr. John Roach Straton, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church New York, will be the first speaker, delivering addresses the first three days. He will be followed by Dr. S. D. Gordon of Boston, and Dr. Curtis Lep Laws and William Jennings Bryan.

President's Counsel Installs Affirmative Action Toward Annulment of Teapot Oil Lease

MOVE IS MADE TO OUST SECRETARY

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Move to attach the Robinson resolution calling for the resignation of Secretary Denby to the Walsh oil lease annulment measure was made today immediately after the senate convened. The amendment was sponsored by Secretary Trammell, Dem., Florida, immediately opposition was voiced by Senator Lodge, Republican leader, Massachusetts, who declared he would "resist very strongly" such declaration by congress. He said the only way to remove a cabinet officer was by impeachment.

NEW MINISTER WANTS NATIONS TO BE FRIENDLY

MacDonald Writes French Premier Asking That Strained Relations Be Settled.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—Prime Minister MacDonald recently sent a personal letter to Premier Poincare in which he expressed a desire for a settlement of the difficulties between Great Britain and France, and for a complete Anglo-French understanding and Mr. Poincare replied sympathetically, according to statements printed by the Daily Telegraph, and the Daily Express.

By this action the new head of the British government picked up the thread of Franco-British relations at the point where it was broken after the interview between Mr. Baldwin and Premier Poincare in Paris last autumn, says the Daily Telegraph.

It adds that the letter was dispatched in accordance with the British statesman's avowed intention to try the method of diplomacy and his preference for more direct means of negotiations. The letter, written as soon as Mr. MacDonald was installed in Downing Street, was delivered through Lord Crew, British ambassador at Paris.

It informed Mr. Poincare that the new government had been organized, says the newspaper, and remarked with perfect candor that relations between the two countries for several well understood reasons had ceased to be as friendly as formerly and that public opinion in Great Britain viewed the French policy with a certain degree of suspicion, being somewhat nervous about what might happen in Europe.

The prime minister then, according to the Daily Telegraph, expressed a willingness to meet Poincare half way in an attempt to achieve a final complete and sincere agreement. He voiced the hope that the French government, in the same conciliatory spirit, would be able to discuss all outstanding questions. Mr. Poincare's answer, asserts the newspaper, was awaited with some anxiety lest the approach be not well received. It seems that the answer was sympathetic, however, giving rise to a hope for a better atmosphere for a discussion of troublesome issues between the two nations.

Washington News

(By The Associated Press.) The cruiser Omaha and six destroyers were ordered to remain at Vera Cruz until further orders. Postmaster General New announced that hereafter newspapers would be given the same treatment in the mails as letters.

The state department was informed of the release from a German prison of Corliss H. Griffis, who attempted to kidnap Grover C. Bergdoll.

Republican members of the house were announced to be voting for a reduction on all personal income taxes payable this year.

Physicians told the senate oil investigating committee that Albert B. Fall was in no condition to appear and the committee decided to appoint its own doctors to examine him.

Silas H. Strawn, one of the special oil prosecuting counsel selected by the President conferred with Mr. Coolidge, while awaiting the arrival of Thomas W. Gregory, the other attorney chosen.

Rear Admiral Lutimer, Judge Advocate General of the Navy, told the house navy committee he informed Secretary Denby it would be legal to enter into contract with the Bohony interests for the construction of oil tankage at Pearl Harbor.

The army air service announced the around-the-world flight would start from Clover Field, Santa Monica, near Los Angeles, about Mar. 15.

Indictments against Benedict Crowell, former assistant secretary of war and others in connection with war time commerce building were held invalid by the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia.

The treasury reported that internal taxes brought more money to the government in the last six months of 1923 than in the corresponding period of 1922, indicating a healthier business condition.

SPECIAL LAWYERS SELECTED TO PROSECUTE THE OIL CASE

Resolution not yet Reached as to Rejection of Amendment Designed to Modify Its Language and Constituent Debates.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The Walsh resolution directing the President to move for the annulment of the naval oil lease tangled in a net of Senate delay examination on evidence developed in investigation while waiting the arrival of former Attorney General Gregory who will set up him. The House Naval Committee continued the inquiry as to the disposal of royalty oil. The Senate committee held no session today despite the request of Edward T. Henry for further hearing, but will meet tomorrow to receive the report of physicians on Fall's condition and are expected to receive the oil magnate then.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Affirmative action looking to the annulment of the naval oil lease was initiated Wednesday while the senate still was engulfed in a swirl of debate over the Walsh annulment resolution.

Silas H. Strawn, who will be in charge of the oil case, has been selected to prosecute the oil case conferred with President Coolidge and then began examination of evidence collected by the senate committee.

Although it failed to reach a final vote on the Walsh resolution, the senate rejected three amendments designed to modify its language and then launched an inquiry into further and bitter discussion which forced the measure over until Thursday.

Senator McKellar, Dem., Tennessee, interrupted debate long enough to introduce a proposal to bar as special government counsel in the oil cases, any person who has been connected with any oil company, as counsel or observer.

Starting an oil inquiry of its own, the house naval committee heard two amendments, one of whom, J. L. Latimer, Judge Advocate General of the Navy, testified that he had informed Secretary Denby in December, 1921, that it would be legal to enter into contract with the Bohony interests for the construction of oil tankage at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, in conjunction with their lease of the California reserve.

Demands for the resignation of Secretary Denby for his part in the oil leases were renewed in the senate, while Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, stated that he would continue to fight the case. (Continued on page 8)

Joseph T. Lange To Speak at Luncheon In Sanford Friday

Joseph T. Lange of the educational department of A. W. Shaw Company, publishers of "Systems" will address the Sanford Chamber of Commerce at its weekly luncheon Friday noon at the Valdes Hotel on the subject "Service Is Selling."

Mr. Lange will arrive in Sanford Friday morning and while here will be the guest of members of the Chamber of Commerce who will entertain him with a ride around the city and through the county fields.

Mr. Lange has appeared before scores of organizations in this country particularly throughout the south speaking upon various subjects. His address which he will deliver to-morrow is perhaps the best one that he gives and one which has caused much favorable comment.

His reputation as a speaker is widespread and as the Atlanta Journal has testified him, is one of the most forceful and interesting speakers—that has addressed the Advertising club of that city for years. "Service Is Selling" will be an illustrated lecture with blackboard sketches used to make his talk more interesting and serve to bring out the main points more vividly.

Every merchant and business man of this city is cordially invited to hear Mr. Lange, according to an announcement made Thursday by R. W. Pearman, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Those who attend are promised just what an entertaining address as was made by W. H. Farley, editor of the "Nation's Business," who addressed the organization two weeks ago.

Contributions Are Still Coming For Harding Memorial

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 30.—Joe Choyenski of Second Avenue, New York City, contributed 10 cents through an East Side savings bank, and J. Morton Howell, American minister to Egypt, sent in his personal check for $150. These were the low and high contributions in one day's mail at the headquarters of the Harding Memorial Association. Warren, Ohio, was the only town in President Harding's native state to forward a group subscription. The money was contributed by the Rotarians of Warren.
 Rosemary Hall, an exclusive girls' school at Greenwich, Conn., sent in a check for $111. The garage hands of Stamford, Conn., sent in two dollar bills. Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Elliot Wadsworth asked that the $100 contribution from Mrs. Wadsworth and himself be credited to Boston, his "ordinary residence."
 "Our membership is scattered over the entire United States and its possessions," wrote Doss V. Ponder, secretary of the Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, army post, explaining the tardiness of the lodge's check.
 The Tall Cedars of Lebanon, Exchange Clubs, Girl Scout Troops, military and naval units, women's clubs, the Order of the Eastern Star, the Kiwanis and the Lions were represented in the same mail.

London Papers Sell Front Page Position

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Advertising space appears to be at a premium in London.
 London newspapers devote their front pages to advertising, and the Daily Mail announces it has already sold its front page space for every issue in 1924 and for a number of the 1925 issues. The price of this front page is approximately $5,000 a day.

 would do the same thing again; and that he would not resign even if the Robinson resolution demanding that he do so were adopted.
 At the cabinet meeting, the President and his advisors discussed in every detail the course of the administration, and it was apparent tonight that the two law-yers to be employed as special counsel in the annulment suits virtually had been selected. Announcement of their names probably will be deferred until congress acts.
 On the senate floor Rep. Leventhal of the oil committee, revealed that Mr. Coolidge had been informed in advance of the sensational testimony given a week ago by Archie Roosevelt relating to charges of a $68,000 payment to the foreman of Former Secretary Fall's ranch.
 Senator Willis, Republican, Ohio, then stated that on the same day Mr. Fall and his foreman, Thomas Johnson, had been placed under surveillance by the agents of the Department of Justice who were instructed to prevent their departure from the country.
 Advised that Mr. Fall was unable to appear before it today because of a threatened nervous collapse, the oil committee decided to examine his physicians tomorrow before deciding whether to accept an invitation to question him in his sick room.
 The senate's debate on political features of the oil disclosures, after centering most of the day about Mr. Coolidge and members of his cabinet, finally brought into the discussion the name of President Harding. Defending Mr. Harding for transferring control of the reserves to the Interior

Department, Senator Willis declared the dead president would not knowingly have violated any law, and the statement was accepted on the Democratic side.

Partisan charges and counter charges also figured in a brief house debate centering around a request by Secretary Daniels during the Wilson administration for congressional approval of the drilling of offset wells in the naval reserve.
 As the senate proceeds with its debate tomorrow in the hope of reaching a vote before adjournment, the house naval committee will examine Secretary Denby and other naval officials and interior department officers with a view to determining whether the Sinclair and Doherty leases are in best interests of the government.
 A resolution similar to that offered by Senator Caraway, Dem., Ark., and proposing cancellation of the leases without going into the courts, was introduced by Rep. Fairchild, Rep., New York. The resolution declared the leases to be "fraudulent and against the public interest."
 In all of this whirlpool of developments, the one element most frequently on the surface was the effort of the Democrats to drive from the cabinet Secretary Denby, the one remaining officer whose signature is attached to the oil leases. In announcing he would not reire, Mr. Denby said he wanted a record vote on the Robinson resolution and the Democratic leader told the senate he would make every effort to obtain one as soon as possible.

 and he gasped audibly. But the crowd's eyes were on the jury foreman and they did not see Anderson.
 "Do you find the defendant guilty as charged in the indictment?" the clerk drawled.
 Again the answer was inaudible, from the whole room now knew, from the nature of the question that the "dry" crusader had been declared guilty on both counts of the indictment.
 The jury discharged, there was a departure from the usual procedure. Anderson was not required to answer the questions usually put to convicted men as to their age, occupation and various other items concerning themselves. The brief scene ended with the excited crowd surging through the doors.
 It could not be learned tonight whether or not Anderson would be tried on the four indictments still pending against him, charging grand larceny and extortion. These indictments were based upon the "split" commission episode and on Anderson's collection from the league payment on the $24,700 which he claims to have advanced the organization for publicity purposes in 1913-14.

RECTOR REFUSES TO BAN SYMBOLIC DANCE

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Bishop William T. Manning of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York today received a letter from the Rev. Dr. William Norman Guthrie, rector of St. Mark's in the Bowery, refusing compliance with or rejection of the bishop's demand that symbolic dancing in St. Marks be discontinued. A similar letter was sent to the bishop by the vestrymen of St. Marks.
 Insisting upon the righteousness of the services which were declared to be not incompatible with the book of common prayer, the letter suggested that the rites be tested by a jury of 5 persons, including laymen and clergymen.

TO SELL COIN COLLECTION

By The Associated Press.
 LONDON, Jan. 30.—The world famous coin collection of the Danish merchant, M. Bruuns, is to be broken up and offered for sale. The English and Irish collectors which contain many coins manufactured by the Danish Vikings in England have been acquired for the Royal Coin and Medal collection.
 The other sections, it is understood, will be offered for sale at public auction.

TO ENACT LAWS

By The Associated Press.
 KOENIGSBERG, Jan. 30.—New laws are being formulated that will give East Prussia complete control of the amber output within its borders. The laws, designed to protect the amber industry, will deny to tourists the privileges they have enjoyed for many years of hunting for amber along the Baltic beaches. All nearby countries bordering on the Baltic sea have laws protecting the amber industry.
 The East Prussia amber output last year from beaches and mines operated by the government amounted to 800,000 pounds.

NOTICE

We are going to run a series of articles on food and food values and how to plan correct menus by Miss Mary Zachery. Miss Zachery is a graduate of the Home Economics Department of the State College for Women at Tallahassee and for the past two years has taught Domestic Science in the Sanford High School. Each article will deal with some problem of interest to mothers and housewives.

What the Day's Food Should Provide.

A. Mineral materials—These are needed by the body for building materials and are found in all parts of food. They also produce certain substances within the body which counteract acids formed in the body in the course of digestion of meats and cereals. Meats without fresh fruit and vegetables lack mineral substances. Milk is rich in the mineral lime and should always be included in the child's diet.

B. Protein—This serves as a food for the body and also provides a certain important element nitrogen which builds up the body tissues and repairs them. Meat or meat substitutes such as milk, cheese, eggs, legumes, etc., supply the protein.

C. Starch—This is one of the chief fuels of the body and is supplied mainly by the cereal foods.

D. Sugar—This serves as a fuel for the body and to flavor foods. It is found in milk, fresh fruits and many other materials. Small amounts of sugar, syrup or honey should be included in the daily diet.

E. Fat—This also serves as body fuel and also improves the flavor and texture of food. It is found in meats, nuts and especially pure fat as butter, oil and cream.

F. Cellulose—This material makes up the frame work of the plants. It gives bulk to the diet and tends to relieve constipation. Fruits and vegetables and some cereals contain cellulose.

G. Certain newly discovered substances in very small amounts which are believed to play a most important part in keeping a person well and in promoting growth. Milk contains a large quantity of this material and is needed by children for growth. Meats, milk, eggs, fruits and vegetables are needed by persons of all ages because of the vitamins or life giving properties they contain.

H. Flavorings and condiments—These add to the flavor and attractiveness of our food without furnishing the body any nourishment. Any kind of food contained one or more of the substances above. A satisfactory diet contains all of them and each in its proper proportion and the problem of planning a meal is really choosing foods that will do this.

IS THIS BEING DONE IN YOUR SCHOOL?

In every public school in the state it is compulsory to teach for one-half hour each week during the school term kindness and justice to and humane treatment and protection of animals and birds and the important part they play in the economy of nature.

The purpose of this Act is to lessen crime and raise the standard of good citizenship. Such humane education shall be given in the public schools of this state and shall include kind and just treatment of horses, dogs, cats, birds, and all other animals. See Chapter 9142 (No. 24) of the General Laws 1923.

Let your citizenship committee visit the school this week and find out if this law is being complied with. If it is not ascertain why not?

DYER MEMORIAL AMPHITHEATER

The many Seminole County Federation women who knew and loved Susan Dyer will be glad to know that a Dyer Memorial Amphitheater will be located on College Point at the end of Kentucky Avenue at Winter Park on the most charming and picturesque place on the shore of Lake Virginia. The amphitheater will face the lake and the stage 60x40 feet will have as a background a great colonnade of Greek pillars with the blue waters of Lake Virginia in the background. This amphitheater is planned to be the center of the musical clubs of the state.

TEN WAYS TO KILL A CLUB

1. Don't attend the meetings.
2. If you do go, go late.
3. If the speaker doesn't suit you, don't think of going.
4. If you do attend a meeting, find fault with the officers and members.
5. Never accept office, as it is easier to criticize than to do things.
6. Get sore if you are not appointed on a committee, but if you are, don't go to the meetings of the committee.
7. If asked by the chairman to give your opinion on some matter, tell him you have nothing to say; after you leave, tell every one how things should have been done.
8. Do nothing more than is absolutely necessary, but when members use their ability to help matters along, howl that the institution is being run by a clique.
9. Hold back your dues, or don't pay.
10. Don't bother about getting new members. Let "George" do it.

BIRD PROTECTION

As the time draws near for the reopening of the public schools of Florida, those of us who worked for educational betterment at the legislative session just closed began to take stock of the measures passed by that legislature in order to co-operate with any added school course and to assist those interested in seeing that it functions.

When the game bill, for statewide protection, died on the Calendar, those of us interested in the conservation of our natural resources hastened to get what we could for the next two years by pending minor bills, or by local action in counties.

Some of the progressive legislators turned their attention to counter game bills, as a last resort, with the result that a number succeeded in passing them, notably Hillsborough, which county secured a law which provides a closed season on deer, turkey and quail for four years, a fine measure.

Volusia county was made a bird sanctuary, the first in the state to be set aside by a state law. The Times-Union in commenting upon the fact said it would become highly popular with the feathered songsters, who would repay their friends with unmatched melodies carrying abundant praise. The Titusville Star Advocate commented upon it, saying every city should be made a bird sanctuary. It added that city councils have the power and bird lovers should see to it. Pinellas county stands for what should be accomplished in each of the 62 other counties. It has the first chair of bird sanctuaries established in the United States. This was the work of the Florida Audubon Society, and the 16 cities, towns and hamlets in the chain were separately created by municipal action, a strenuous process, and the one sponsored by the editor of the Star Advocate above.

As so many requests have come to me as to manner of procedure it may not be amiss to give that information this time, and it will save much time, labor and postage, in a busy life.

We will take it for granted that every city should be a bird sanctuary. Had the Lindsay game bill, with its Audubon clauses, passed the last session, in Florida they would have become so automatically with all public parks, cemeteries, etc., included. Now that it has not become a state law it is up to the Federated clubs and Audubon Societies to co-operate and bring this about.

City Statute books already carry an ordinance against shooting in the city limits, and in order to prevent the cluttering of the books of repetitions, only resolutions are presented to the governing body, commissioners, council or whatever it may be, asking them to declare the place a bird sanctuary and to give the right of posting as such. In some places where I have obtained this right the highest governing power was the Woman's club, as in Ozone, where the women raise the funds for fighting the town, repairing the pier and for running the town generally. A woman's power was vested in a Parent-Teacher's Association, which passed the sanctuary resolution and assumed the task. These places are both in the Pinellas county chain of bird sanctuaries.

The following is the form used: Resolution. That the corporate limits of the city of _____ be, and they are hereby designated to be a bird sanctuary. Passed by the board of city _____, in regular session this _____ day of _____ A. D. 1923.

Attest: _____ Chairman.
Secretary.
Approved by me this _____ day of _____, 1923.

Mayor.
You should obtain a copy and have the clerk certify to and sign same.

The forming of junior Audubon classes in the schools of the state has gone hand in hand with the creation of bird sanctuaries, all backed up by legislative action where possible. The Junior Audubon classes in the past have been voluntary work and not all teachers were fitted to carry it on, and in some instances did not have the interest. And it is a matter of satisfaction with which we state in spite of this handicap that Florida has stood eleventh of the 18 states of the union in Junior Audubon classes and members.

At this psychological moment comes a most helpful law, passed by the last legislature, which provides a course of study in the public schools of the state relative to the protection of birds and animals.

It rightly holds that such study will raise the standard of good citizenship, and inculcate the spirit of humanity. It makes compulsory the teaching of the important part the birds and animals fulfill in the economy of nature, and leaves to the teacher the division of the time required during the week.

When addressed on the subject both Superintendent of Public Instruction W. S. Cawthon and Inspector R. M. Sealey, were most enthusiastic, and had the bill not carried it was considered to extend the nature study existing in the first three grades up through the next three to insure this instruction when the child most needed it. The new study will be included in the manual next year.

Many supervising principals, of those qualified to act, are preparing their own syllabus for their schools. Mr. R. J. Longstreet, of Daytona Beach is one of the number. Mr. Longstreet is much interested and has for years been working on a popular book of Florida Birds. It is his purpose to use it when finished in his school work.

"Planting Trees."
The sixth by Khadra Culpenner. "What Do We Do When We Plant a Tree?"

The fifth by Elizabeth Davis. The first, second, third and fourth by concert work which showed good training.

The program closed by singing "Woodman, Spare That Tree." At the close of the program the P. T. A. called a business meeting. The most interesting meeting. At this meeting it was decided to give a chicken pie supper Friday night, Jan. 18. The supper was successfully given $51.50 being cleared.

The Seminole County Teachers' Club met at Ocoola Friday, Jan. 25. The meeting was called to order by President J. T. Jacobs. After opening exercises, the roll was called with about 40 teachers answering.

The club was invited to Monroe for a strawberry feast for the February meeting, which will be held Feb. 22.

A discussion was heard as to whether teachers would rather have a whole day for the Orlando fair or a half day for the Teachers' Club. The vote decided in favor of the latter.

Prof. Cameron and Mrs. Babbitt who had charge of the program had arranged a most interesting time for the teachers.

The program consisted of Echoes from the F. E. A. convention at West Palm Beach, W. C. L. reports were all impromptu. Prof. Jacobs was eloquent in his praise of Mr. Elder of Coral Gables, who so beautifully entertained the Seminole County Teachers.

Prof. McKay said Amen to Prof. Jacobs' talk and told us how much he enjoyed the speeches of our great educational men.

Mrs. Arrington, as is always the case with her talks, gave the primary teachers something to take home and think over. She likened the mental growth of a young child unto the tender curls on the fern fronds if the curl is injured the growth of that particular mental development is stopped.

Supt. Lawton was the next called upon. He said he would like to say a few things before he began to talk. He first made the announcement that examinations would be held Feb. 7, 8 and 9 in Sanford. He had some very interesting work for his teachers.

He then told the teachers what a privilege he considered it to listen to men like Dr. Burton and Dr. McCracken and gave a most wonderful definition for "Education" which follows: "Education is the application of the past to present, of the benefit of the future." Also that leadership is "To find out what people need and teach the people to want it and how to get it."

Your value to your community was most beautifully unfolded and made all teachers anxious to be of more service in their communities.

At the close of Supt. Lawton's talk refreshments were served which consisted of chicken salad, sultanas, nut bread sandwiches, pickles, cake and coffee.

Prof. Cameron and wife and Mrs. Martin were voted royal entertainers.

That pressing need. Did you ever notice that often you need a certain thing or a certain person at a certain time?

The need is urgent, pressing and must be met at once if you would accomplish the end you have in view.

Whenever you find yourself up against such a situation, do not fret and scold and complain—for there are ways provided to meet just such emergencies—they are Herald WANT ADS.

The next time you need extra help quick; you must have expert assistance at once—or you must immediately sell something you have.

STIRRING TALK MADE TO PUPILS OF HIGH SCHOOL BY MRS. DEFORREST

Mrs. A. M. DeForest, regent of the Sallie Harrison Chapter, N. S. D. A. R., who is offering a prize for the best essay on the subject, "The Constitution of United States," how it was made and by whom and its effect on the world spoke at the Chapel exercises of the High School Monday morning. Mrs. DeForest said:

"To the Principal, Teachers and Scholars of the Sanford High School: as Regent of the Sallie Harrison Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, I have been requested by our Board of Managers to come before you today and personally present to you the subject on which we offered the prize last summer, for the whole school. We feel that it was very strange that you did not compete for it since it was presented to you by Mrs. R. C. Maxwell and was published in The Sanford Herald repeatedly.

We have but two papers from this large school sent in and neither gave the subject correctly or wrote upon the subject we gave you, consequently we have been unable to award the prize. Last week we submitted to your principal the privilege of reopening the contest until Feb. 15, but when we learned it had not been submitted to you and also that the school has examinations this week, we knew you could not give the study or thought necessary in such a limited time.

Saturday night we called a meeting of the Board and we decided to postpone the contest until Feb. 20th post-pone the awarding of the prize until a later date instead of at a party on George Washington's Birthday. We came to this decision because we felt you should have a better chance and because we as a Chapter do not wish to deprive you of the privilege.

Our National Society has been trying to have the Constitution read and studied in our schools and in our homes and it is really amazing the number of good loyal citizens in our country who have never read this document. A document which has never had an equal in any country or nation. A document which revolutionized the laws and the government of every progressive nation.

Possibly some of you do not know what our Society stands for. We are the daughters of the men who suffered hunger, lack of cloth-

I wish I might impress on your minds what the study of the constitution should mean to you in the future, regardless of the prize offered. You would then realize that our Chapter is striving to aid you to be good loyal citizens and Americans."

ACTIVITIES OF THE CLASSES IN HOME HYGIENE AND CARE OF THE SICK.

In July past the Red Cross put on a course of instruction in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick. These classes were of great interest and benefit so much so that the desire for more work like it was expressed, however, the local chapter could not finance the work further.

Certificates were issued, of two classes, modified and standard; the modified were issued for those not taking the examination on completion of the course. The standard were issued to those taking the examination, the latter group being of a class to form health aid or volunteer service, and while some have not received their certificates, we are desirous of placing them, at the same time having a get-together meeting of all who took the course of instruction, that we may put into use some of the good points derived through our efforts. A meeting is called of all those having obtained their certificates of the white classes, and those not having obtained their certificates, on Saturday of this week, Feb. 2, in the Welaka Lobby, at half past four o'clock. The chairman is issuing cards to all who were in the classes, but begs of the women reading this to heed the call, that she in turn must "get from somewhere," so let us have the Loan Closet—the service point.

Mrs. E. M. Galloway has charge of that phase of the work, and will meet with us to outline and develop a definite work. In the examination of pupils in our schools, and in the health clinic just ahead of us, we who have taken this course can certainly give 18 hours service every two months. The time can be spread out, or given in two or three days work, as is the pleasure of the helper, to the nurse, we can surely give this much, and if we will just organize, register, so Miss Doudney knows who she has to depend on it will mean we have accomplished big things in a health way in our community. It is an appreciated fact that our women are busy women, and they give liberally of their time, and funds, but the greatest privilege we have is to serve, and somehow there always seems to be time to give and do just a little bit more.

Oviedo had a splendid class, as did Geneva, and they are working with Miss Doudney, and Oviedo is establishing a very complete Loan Closet, that is an inspiration for the women of Sanford, and Oviedo has volunteered this work, and will in the near future be organized so the chapter of Red Cross will have full credit for all they are doing. We want the women in the social service work of churches and clubs to join us at this meeting, because they can afford splendid assistance in the Loan Closet work especially, and, too, give Miss Doudney a greater co-operation.

Saturday, Feb. 2, in the Welaka Lobby, 4:30 o'clock, please. Cordially, MRS. W. E. WATSON, Chairman.

CLOGGED THROATS

When your wind is shut off and breathing difficult you try to raise the phlegm by suddenly contracting the lungs and forcing air through the throat. This is hard on your lungs and your throat and dilates the blood vessels. Clogged throats are easily and quickly opened, phlegm raised and the throat is soothed and healed by Leonard's Cough Syrup (Creosote). It relieves straining, hacking and has an absolute antiseptic action. Best remedy for coughs, colds, bronchitis, croup, and whooping cough. Pure and pleasant. At your druggist.

The Straight Line

When a railroad is constructed from one town to another engineers strive to make the line as straight as possible. Because a straight route is shortest, quickest and least costly.

Business furnishes a parallel case—the line between the man who makes something and the man who wants something.

Advertising provides a short cut between the manufacturer and you. Advertisements make it possible to tell you in a few minutes all you want to know about the services or articles you need.

A glance through this paper enables you to sift out the things that interest you, and in a moment you know just where and when to go for what you want.

Figure how many steps, how much needless walking and talking the advertisements save you and your neighbors. Then you will realize the great economy of advertising.

CHICKEN AND EGG CLASSES TOLD BY SETH SHOEMAKER

By SETH W. SHOEMAKER, Director, School of Agriculture, International Correspondence Schools, Scranton, Pa.

From the beginning of time there has always been a desire to know what things are made of, and the poultryman is no exception to this rule.

The chemist's analysis shows us that there are varying amounts of water, ash, protein and fat present in the body of the various classes of poultry. The accompanying table shows this in detail.

	Water	Ash	Protein	Fat
Hen	65.8	3.8	21.6	17.0
Pullet	55.1	3.4	21.2	18.0
Capon	41.6	3.7	19.4	32.9
Fresh Egg	65.7	12.3	11.4	8.9

In this table it may be seen that the body composition of a hen is about the same as that of a pullet. The different specimens and classes, however, differ quite as much from one another as do those of the hen and pullet in the table.

A capon, or fat cowl, has less water and protein in its composition and considerably more fat than a laying hen or pullet.

The body of a fowl consists of lean meat, fat, bones, feathers, etc., and the food consumed by it must contain all the materials of which these different parts are made up or the fowl will lose weight and die.

A second table gives the analysis of some typical poultry foods:

	Total	Carbo-	hydrat-	incl.	fat
Water	11.0	1.9	7.9	76.4
Corn	11.9	3.0	9.2	56.8
Meat Scraps	10.7	4.1	65.2	31.1
Green Clover	71.0	2.1	2.9	10.4

The bones of the fowl are largely made from the ash in food and the lean meat is obtained from the protein, while the carbohydrates and fat furnish the animal heat and energy.

All of the different food principles are necessary for the formation of the eggs and for the growing of the chicks. The feathers of a fowl are made from the nitrogenous foods and mineral matter.

Germany Planning to Feed Its Own Hungry

DUSSELDORF, Jan. 30.—Unemployment in the occupied area of the Ruhr, which persists to an extraordinary degree despite the agreements between the French authorities and German industrialists, has had the effect of stimulating a feeling of responsibility for feeding the hungry among well-to-do Germans who heretofore have had the reputation of being more or less indifferent to suffering.

Within the last two months the better class families realizing that the municipal authorities were practically helpless to cope with the spectre of hunger, have responded generously, with the result that most of the penniless unemployed are receiving at least one substantial meal a day.

St. Petersburg To Have Tourist Ball

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 30.—A movement is on foot here among the visiting tourists to organize a tourist baseball league. The Ohio Society, called upon all Ohio men to prepare to defend baseball honors of that state; Pennsylvania visitors have tentatively agreed to join, and efforts are being made to bring into the league New York, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Maine and others.

If the league is organized it is planned to begin play early in February.

British Cotton Trade Is In Bad Condition

MANCHESTER, Jan. 30.—The serious state of the cotton trade in England was mentioned by Sir Charles Macara, a former Chairman of the Committee of the International Federation of Master Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers Association, in an address to the Provisional Emergency Cotton Committee here.

He stated that for more than three years a large number of mills had shown no return whatever to those who had invested their money in them, and extra capital was being called up, only to be dissipated owing to the inactivity and want of unanimity among those who controlled the employers' organization.

The effect both on Lancashire and the country generally was most disastrous. This was shown in most revenue returns just issued. It was stated that there was up to the present a deficiency of $250,000,000.

Unless this great loss was stopped by getting the cotton trade on a profitable basis again, he concluded, it was difficult to see how the deficiency could be made good before the end of the present financial year.

Shareholders in cotton mill companies have never experienced such a disastrous year as the one just closed, it is asserted. Only 90 of a total of 310 companies have been able to make a return on their capital. The total paid up share capital of the 310 companies controlling 33,000,000 spindles, was more than $242,000,000 and during the year they distributed $4,120,180 in dividends, or about 1.7 percent on the total called up capital. Sixty-five companies paid 1.48 percent against 8.95, but 170 firms have now worked two years without paying any dividends whatever. During the year 28 companies have made calls on their members for a portion of the uncalled capital.

HIS LAST ROUND-UP.
(By The Associated Press)
SHERIDAN, Wyo., Jan. 31.—With the death at Buffalo, Wyo., recently of J. C. (Hardwinter) Davis, passed the man at whose invitation Owen Wister came to Wyoming and wrote "The Virginian." Davis rode the ranges of Wyoming and Montana with Theodore Roosevelt and later visited him in the White House. "Hardwinter" also built the Sahara irrigation project in northern Wyoming, and was the first man to prospect for oil in the now famous Salt Creek field.

Davis and Owen Wister were said to have been boyhood chums. He was born at Mulford, Del., in 1867, and served in the lower house of the first Wyoming legislature.

HOW THE HOME GARDEN SAVES

Paying for the family dinner becomes more and more of a problem in this era of high prices. Together with high prices is the constant problem of varying the diet. Thousands of families, particularly in the city and suburban districts, have a ready means of reducing living expenses by utilizing backyard space. Besides reducing the price of food in dollars and cents the back yard offers a means of providing variety and quality that cannot be secured readily by the stores.

Almost any kind of ground that has sunlight for the greater part of the day will grow vegetables of some kind providing only that it is not permeated with gas or composed of tin cans and ashes. No one who has as much as five feet square of available ground need go without some fresh home-grown vegetables.

The only price that doesn't go up is the price of seeds. They are always the same and from five to 10 cents will provide seed for the smallest plot. For those who are more fortunate and have a lot 50 by 100 or 150 the problem is easier. They need not be without vegetables for the entire summer of a quality that money cannot buy. By the first of May they may have radishes, young onions and spinach.

And so on throughout the season, following with green peas, sweet corn, sugar, that cannot be bought, tender and stringless string beans, young carrots, young turnips, tomatoes, Lima beans, always an expensive luxury, and last and most gratifying of all the vegetables, sweet corn that is really sweet.

If the lot is only half the size mentioned there is still opportunity for a bountiful supply. On smaller plots, the family must limit its list to only those vegetables which most appeal to its appetite. It would be foolish for a family which did not care for egg plant or string beans to waste space on these vegetables.

In several communities where the lots were small a happy arrangement is made whereby each owner grows and specializes in one crop and then they divide the produce, furnishing a liberal supply of several vegetables in this season. However, it needs to be a neighborhood of particularly kindly and unsuspecting dispositions when it comes to picking sweet corn or green peas for distribution in order not to start trouble. But the arrangement has worked out nicely in several places.

Even a plot five by five feet will grow half a dozen tomatoes trained to single stems which will furnish a family with fresh tomatoes to slice for the table for two months. The plot before the tomatoes are ready to function will furnish a goodly supply of radishes and young onions, planted closely, so intensive culture is possible in such a small plot. A few half hours a week will be all the time needed for the average back yard garden after the preliminary work of preparing the soil has been done.

CHILDREN'S FATAL DISEASES.
Worms and parasites in the intestines of children undermine health and so weaken their vitality that they are unable to resist the diseases so fatal to child life. The safe course is to give a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge. It destroys and expels the worms without the slightest injury to the health or activity of the child. Price 25c. Better Thought for Today: A better thought for today is a dry morsel of quietness therewith, than a whole full of sacrifice with strife. Proverbs 17:1.

Your Favors Now: When I am dead, forget me, dear, for I shall never know, though o'er my cold and lifeless hands.

What saints we are when we are dead: But what's the use for me of praise that's written on a tomb?

And faults that now are hard to bear: Oblivion then shall win; our sins are soon forgiven us.

Believe in Sanford! And that belief will react to your benefit by increased rewards.

Now that Lenin is dead and Greece has been recognized, perhaps Russia will be able to slip in.

Some golfers are practicing every day for the coming tournament. Are you?

The celery growers are planning to hold up the shipment of celery until there is a price for it. But it will require co-operation.

The little girl down the street says many a man doesn't really get his pick until he starts digging ditches.

It seems that Coolidge is about to jump on somebody's neck regarding the fall of a certain secretary. If he comes down hard enough he may land in the presidential chair for another term.

It is reported that Bryan, if not elected to the Democratic convention from Florida, will go as the proxy of his brother from Nebraska. Floridians well know that Mr. Bryan is too good a man for a substitute.

A "dark horse" is not considered probable in either national presidential convention; but if the splits continue to widen who knows but a little "black flivver" may not drive into either of them at a critical moment!—Palm Beach Post.

The House has appropriated one hundred thousand dollars to investigate the recent actions of a former secretary of the interior. The cost of running the government is nothing compared with the expense of finding out how the government is run.

Sometimes folks send things to this office which are in every way worthy of publication. We may not be able to see any reason of being ashamed of them, but when the authorship is withheld we figure there must be something in connection with them which we don't understand.

H. C. Sparkman, gifted editor of the Daytona Morning Journal, announces his candidacy for delegate to the Democratic National Convention. Mr. Sparkman "resents" Bryan's suggestion to nominate Dr. Murphy and states that he is for Underwood. Mr. Sparkman is mistaken when he thinks that the majority of Florida Democrats are for Underwood as the votes at the June primary will show. The people will no doubt prefer advice from Mr. Bryan.

"Loyalty" the Most Important Word.

What is the most important word in the English language? Members of the faculty and officers of Princeton University have arrived at the conclusion that "Loyalty" is the one word which should be placed at the top of the column of "most useful" words. This decision was only arrived at after a careful study and deliberation over the subject.

At Princeton, we are told, this subject had been under discussion for several weeks, when, Professor Christian Gauss, of the department of modern languages, suggested that it might be settled by a vote. When the vote was taken the word "Loyalty" was selected by a big majority.

Other words were suggested as sanity, sportmanship, altruism, self-knowledge, duty and courage.

About the most dispensable man today is the one who is not loyal to his country, his home or his friends, yet we find glaring examples around us in our every-day lives of men and women whose outward actions might well be classed in this category.

Much of the present-day lack of loyalty is no doubt due to the failure of our educational institutions to install this spirit in the rising generation.

It is easy enough for anyone to be "loyal" when it comes to the duties of war but the greater "loyalty" lies in the pursuits of peace, in the solving of our present-day problems and in devotion to the welfare of the home as well as the state.

The Princeton professors did well in choosing such a word, but they will better serve the country by placing a greater emphasis on its real meaning.

Who Gets the Sap?

Gasoline is now selling in Sanford for twenty-six cents a gallon. Just a few weeks ago the price was twenty cents. Then it jumped to twenty-two cents. In a few more days it was increased again and to twenty-four cents. And now up it goes to twenty-six cents.

Will it stop there or will it go on in the near future to twenty-eight and thirty cents? The Herald doesn't know what the cause of this rapid rise in price is. The people in general do not know why it becomes necessary for the price of gasoline to be pushed up so rapidly.

Somebody ought to do a little explaining and furnish a good reason for the new prices.

But the whole proposition resolves itself to the same old story. The people are glad to pay. They are accustomed to digging down in their pockets and paying any amount asked of them.

But who gets the extra six cents on each gallon of gas that is sold? Is there any good reason why the price should be increased nearly thirty per cent in so short a time? The roads are not being improved very much nor is the quality of the gasoline any better as far as can be seen.

Yes, the people like to pay! And the big oil companies like to make them pay!

Kiwanis—Nine Years Of Age

Wednesday the Kiwanis Club of Sanford celebrated the ninth anniversary of the organization of Kiwanis, International. A suitable program was given by the members of this popular civic club.

Kiwanis has grown in the nine years of its existence to a membership of over eighty-five thousand in more than eleven hundred cities of the United States and Canada.

It is each year growing bigger and stronger and new clubs are being established in cities all over the country.

Kiwanis clubs are composed, from one end of the land to the other, of a very high class quality of citizenship. In its ranks are found earnest, intelligent and aggressive leaders of all sorts.

Kiwanis has given a fine accounting of itself so far. It has every reason to be proud of its record on its ninth birthday. It has big plans for the future.

The Kiwanis club of Sanford is a power for progress in this community. Civic organizations of this character mean much to a growing city.

WHAT IS PROPAGANDA?

Those twin villains, Mr. Edward Bok and Miss Esther Lape, having been summoned before Senator Reed and questioned and generally bullied in the best Missouri manner, it would seem as if enough glorious victories had been won by the irreconcilables.

But there remains, of course, the speech that Senator Reed will graciously condescend to make before the Senate, damning Mr. Bok and Miss Lape and the outrageous crime they have committed of inciting the American people to think. This notable effort to keep the American people from being sold in chains to the League of Nations will then be printed at the taxpayers' expense in the Congressional Record.

It will thereafter be reprinted by the government in pamphlet form and can be mailed under Senator Reed's frank to Americans hither and yon—at the taxpayers' expense.

There are, it will be seen, important differences between the wicked propaganda of Mr. Bok and the lofty oratory of the Senator. For one thing, Mr. Bok pays for his propaganda, whereas the taxpayer pays for the Senator's. For another, Mr. Bok can be summoned before the Senator and badgered and insulted; the Senator is immune—so long as the voters of the State of Missouri like his kind of Senator.

Thus we reach a clear understanding of what is propaganda and what is not. Propaganda is publicity that a man pays for out of his own pocket and for which he can be abused by a United States Senator. Propaganda is not what a Senator distributes at the public's expense while making life as uncomfortable and disagreeable as possible for all who disagree with him.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

A friend from the North had gone to visit a gentleman who lived in the swampy bottoms of Louisiana. There was no netting over the bed, and in the morning when the negro came with the water and towels the tortured visitor asked:

"Sam, why is it that you have no mosquito bars? Don't the olonel have any in his room?" "No, suh," replied Sam. "I don't see how he stands it."

"Well, suh," said Sam, "I reckon it's dis way: In de first part of de night, suh, de olonel's most gen'ly so intoxicated he don't pay no 'tention to de skeeters, an' in de last of de night, suh, de skeeters is gen'ly so intoxicated dey don't pay no 'tention to de olonel."

As Brisbane Sees It

If Theodore Were Here, Coolidge Will Go Through. Rockefeller and the Atom. Religion and Truth. Copyright, 1923

CAN YOU imagine what Theodore Roosevelt would be doing about now if that Teapot Dome scandal were uncovered in his administration? He would have all the liberal givers of cash before him, he, personally, inspecting their satchels.

He would have a battleship on its way to France to bring back Sinclair, if the law would let him and whether it would or not. His teeth would be snapping and his hair bristling. There would be real fireworks, and how he would enjoy it. President Coolidge will proceed quietly, but he will go all the way through to the end, undoubtedly.

THE ATTORNEY General, declining with good taste, to prosecute Mr. Fall, who was his associate in Mr. Harding's Cabinet, suggests that President Coolidge select two "outstanding lawyers" to deal with the navy oil land scandal.

Senator Borah is a lawyer. Why not make him one of the "outstanding" counsel? He would stand out as an individual that bribe-giving corporations and their representatives could not "get."

PRESENT COOLIDGE should be careful for the sake of his campaign in 1924 not to select two outstanding corporation lawyers.

The people have seen the big corporations buying navy oil lands with bribe money. Now they want to see somebody "quite apart" from corporations looking into the matter and punishing those that are guilty.

HIRAM JOHNSON and Senator Borah, both lawyers, would make excellent "outstanding counsel" in this incident, Senator Reed, of Missouri, added.

Senators Johnson and Borah would lend a desirable non-partisan touch and please the public.

The important thing is not to have any of the "lady finger" type of corporation lawyer that begins to shiver and bow as soon as he comes within fifty feet of a million dollars.

THE MOST interesting thing on earth at present for those that think at all, is the construction of the atom, bewildering marvel of the infinitely small. Most enlightened is the Rockefeller contribution of $40,000 to the laboratory in Copenhagen of Dr. Bohr, who leads in the study of atoms.

His study may lead to release of a power more important to the world than use of steam or electricity.

IF THE atom interests you, get Bertrand Russell's little book, "The ABC of the Atom." A few years ago the atom, a word that in Greek means "not to be cut," was supposed to be the ultimate possible smallest particle of matter.

Now we know that the atom is an infinite small reproduction of our solar system. At the center, like our sun, a nucleus charged with positive electricity, electron charged with negative electricity, revolving around it like the planets around the sun.

THE SMALLER the size the higher the speed, is the rule throughout the universe. The earth goes around the sun once in three hundred and sixty-five days.

One giant planet goes around the sun once in fifty years. Inside the atom the electron goes around the nucleus—conceive it if you can—SEVEN BILLION TIMES IN ONE SECOND.

What we call radium and other forms of radio activity represent tiny electrons breaking loose from the nuclei that hold them and shooting off into space.

THE ROCKEFELLER contribution indicates that the Rockefellers are not afraid of competition. If science could release for use in industry the power that keeps the electrons in a handful of atoms revolving around the central nuclei we could make power so cheap that it wouldn't be worth while to draw oil from oil wells or gasoline from the oil.

INTO THE dispute between the Modernist and the Fundamentalist clergymen Mr. Guthrie injects this sound observation: "Feeling, not truth, is the aim of religion."

Religion represents man's longing to know what can not be known, except through the test of faith to substitute some established comfortable belief for everlasting doubt.

If the truth were known, religion, as we understand it, would not be necessary.

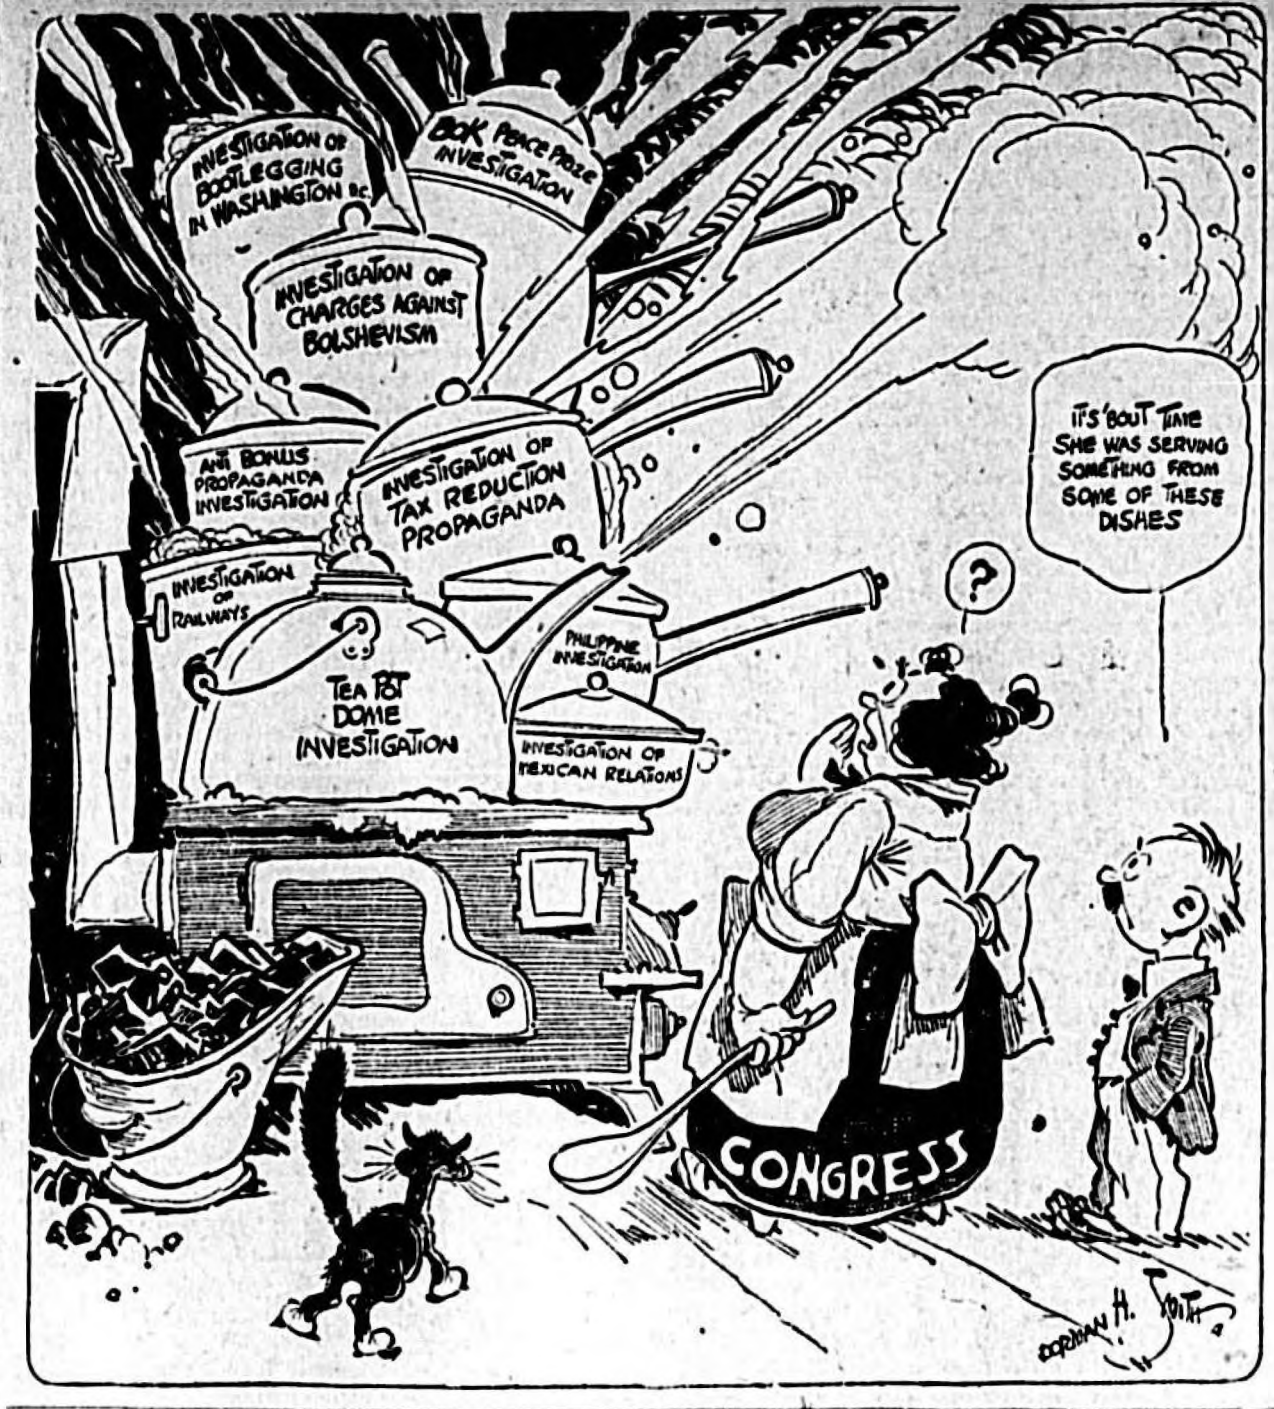

WE DON'T need any religion about the telephone because we know all about the telephone.

If we knew as much about this universe, its creation, the power back of it, as we know about the telephone, the majority of religions would die off.

GOVERNMENT ACCUSES eight corporations of combining and conspiring to monopolize the supply of radio apparatus.

That need not worry you since the basic radio patents are just about running out so that anybody will be able to manufacture the stuff. The main danger would be a monopoly of the field, or rather a monopoly of the ether above by the big telephone company. But that isn't likely.

BUBBLE, BUBBLE, TOIL AND TROUBLE

TRUTH, NOT MUDSLINGING

THE TAMPA OBSERVER

A man's private record belongs to the people. It is always a legitimate subject for discussion. When the light of publicity is given to official records, there are those who, to blind the issues, cry out "Mudslinging," "Dirty politics," etc.

When the late Napoleon B. Broward showed that the Florida East Coast railway had raised $100,000 to defeat him for governor, the Florida Times-Union and other Florida papers said "Broward is 'slinging mud.'"

When United States Senator Fletcher exposed the official record of Sidney J. Catts, the followers of Catts cried "Fletcher is slinging mud."

Telling the truth about the official record of any man aspiring for office is never "mudslinging." It is only the truth told about the man, AND THE PEOPLE SHOULD KNOW THE TRUTH IN ORDER TO VOTE INTELLIGENTLY.

As to John W. Martin's private life The Observer knows nothing derogatory. It is John W. Martin now seeking the office of governor on his record as mayor of Jacksonville, and in the opinion of The Observer, Martin's record should not only be known to every Florida voter, but should be discussed honestly and fairly.

The Observer believes that unless the people know this record Florida will be created with a governor, in political principles, not one whit better than Sidney J. Catts.

John W. Martin endorsed Catts' gubernatorial record when he voted for Catts against Duncan U. Fletcher.

The Observer would not do Mr. Martin any injustice. It has no abuse to heap upon him. It presents facts which convince it that John W. Martin possesses the same proclivities of Catts and as he made a poor mayor, it is not unreasonable to predict that he will make a poor governor.

The Times-Union, now supporting Mr. Martin, once year published that Jacksonville had been overrun with gamblers and bootleggers under Martin's administration, and placed the blame on Martin. The Times-Union is owned and controlled by the Florida East Coast railway, and must do the bidding of its owners, and is now supporting Martin.

When the government of the United States declared during the war, that Jacksonville, which had 110 saloons, must vote these saloons out of business, or the quartermaster's camp would be removed from that city, business men organized to dry Jacksonville with MARTIN WAS THEN MAYOR, and it was under his administration that the vices complained of existed. Martin's mayor, refused to join the business interests in drying Jacksonville, and when censured for his action, he published over his own signature that he "was mayor of the wass as well as the dries, and could take no part in any such fight." Is this mudslinging? He was mayor at the time and signed his excuse as mayor.

As mayor of Jacksonville he went to a meeting of firemen, who were on a strike, and who left the post of duty and let the city to the mercy of flames, and aided and encouraged the strikers. While he was making his speech, business men, lawyers and doctors left their stores and offices and gathered at the fire stations to work as firemen if the emergency arose.

The Times-Union published an account of the meeting of the striking firemen and Martin's address. Mr. Martin never denied the published report until he became a candidate. The reporter who attended the meeting and wrote the report of the same was a friend of John W. Martin. He was a trained newspaperman, who had established a reputation for accuracy. This reporter is now Arnold Heidt, of the Tampa Morning Tribune, who has recently informed the writer that the report of the meeting was correct in every word.

TAKE HEART

The stormy wind has blown off the dark and rainy sea; the wind has past the window, the snow has fallen, the only song has been the moan of the wind made in the willow-tree.

is the summer's burial time; he died when dropped the earliest leaves; cold upon her rosy prime; direful autumn's frosty rime; I am not as one who grieves—well I know o'er sunny seas; the bluebird waits for April at the roots of forest trees; mayflowers sleep in fragrant case; and violets hide their azure eyes.

By winds of grief o'er-blown; some summer's golden cheer! thy birds are only of the sky, blossoms sleeping, tearful down, greet thee in the immortal year!

SUBSCRIPTION BRIDGE PARTY

The Welaka Lobby was the scene of a very pretty party on Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. Harry Walsh and Mrs. John Schirer entertained at a subscription card party for the benefit of the O. of C. Hall, Bridge and 500 were the games played.

The spacious lobby is an ideal place for entertaining and never looked lovelier than on this occasion, vici-colored flowers in wicker baskets were effectively arranged around the room, and baskets of sweet peas were also used to advantage.

Scores were kept on tallies done in floral designs and after a number of absorbing games of bridge, scores were counted and prizes awarded. The prize for high score, a luster glass vase, was awarded Mrs. Bertha Fark.

A European visitor comments that America has taxis without limit. Also, it might be remarked, taxes in the same volume.

WHAT'S WHAT, AND WHO'S WHO IN FLORIDA CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

At the meeting held recently in Orlando, of the executive committee of the Florida Christian Endeavor Union, further plans were made for the state convention to be held in Tampa, June 13-16.

At the conclusion of the card game, Mrs. Miller served a tempting salad course with coffee.

The guest list included Mrs. A. J. Richardson, Mrs. A. P. Connelly, Mrs. G. D. Bishop, Mrs. George DeCotes, Mrs. A. B. Wallace, Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, Mrs. Harry Lewis, Mrs. F. A. McPherson, Mrs. Claud Howard, Mrs. Cecile Butt, Mrs. Bodwell, Mrs. W. J. Thigpen, Mrs. D. L. Thrasher, Mrs. F. Gonzalez, Mrs. I. P. McCuller, and Mrs. Floyd Palmer.

Among the distinguished visitors in Jacksonville in attendance upon the board meeting of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, are Mrs. E. M. Gallaway of Sanford chairman of press and publicity, Mrs. Jack Pryor of Haines City, chairman of the department of state beautification, and Mrs. William V. Wilson of Panama City, vice president of section 1. While here these charming visitors are guests of Mrs. Frank E. Jennings in her home in Riverside. Mrs. Jennings is the new chairman of the international relations committee succeeding Mrs. W. R. O'Neal of Orlando, who recently passed away. Jacksonville Times-Union.

its active life to world-wide movement with over 80,000 societies with a membership of many millions. It is an organization that has had an influence not only upon the religious life of young people but it has also influenced the relations of men in industry and in citizenship, in the press and through school and college life.

In the early days of Christian Endeavor, a pastor of a church having a well organized society answered the question as to how he would train young people for Christian work, by saying, "Just as you teach young puppies to swim, Chuck 'em in chuck 'em in." From a humane viewpoint it might be suggested, however, that any one interested in a puppy's really learning to swim would stand by and lend a hand if the puppy, blinded and confused by his "sudden" "chucking in" struck out for dangerous depths of water.

So, while in the Christian Endeavor Societies young people have been "chucked in" by thousands, there have been those standing by and lending a hand. There are committees for that purpose; there are the officers of the society, and the officers of the church, who have themselves participated through the "chucking in" process; or "back of all, not in remoteness but in sympathy and wisdom, the pastor who keeps constantly before his young people their obligation to "seek first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness."

While the Christian Endeavor organization observes this year its forty-third anniversary, Florida Union will this year hold its thirty-sixth annual convention, but though younger than many state unions, Florida stands well up at the head of the list in its accomplishments. This year in addition to its leading the Dixie group of states, Florida was the first state union to try in full its pledge for Christian Endeavor extension for foreign fields. Recently through the persistent efforts of state subscription manager, Robert A. Greene, Sanford, this state won in a nation-wide contest for subscriptions to the Christian Endeavor World.

Mr. Green appreciates the value of a good periodical for every business enterprise, and knows he is strengthening the working power of the societies as well as the individual members when he fulfilled his aim to have a Christian Endeavor World in every Christian Endeavor family.

William Shaw, publisher of the Christian Endeavor World, is spending the winter in Florida, more or less in retirement, in an attempt to win back part, at least, of his former vigor and power of accomplishment. A serious automobile accident, followed by a succession of operations and bone graftings, made almost complete wreck of his physical strength, but nothing can weaken his sublime faith nor damp his determined will. No one familiar with the Christian Endeavor movement would in any way take from Dr. Clark the honor and love due him as leader in the great movement.

he gave the world. His vision of the service of youth in the church and his ability to provide systematic programs of training for this service have singled him out as a leader without a peer. But "standing by" for nearly forty years was William Shaw, physically powerful, steadfast as the rock of Gibraltar, a giant in faith, and as persistent as though his life's motto "Either I will find a way, or make one" was knitted into every fibre of his being. He served successfully as treasurer of the United Society, advertising manager for the Golden Rule, as the organization periodical was then called, publication manager for the United Society, business manager of the Florida Christian Endeavor World, general secretary for the United Society and World's Union of Christian Endeavor, and publisher of the Christian Endeavor World. Though leaving school at the age of twelve years to become a bread winner, and having no further opportunity for study until after he was twenty-one when he attended night school, by his means, a course in public speaking, and the training he received in the Christian Endeavor Society work, his business ability and his proficiency in literary channels greatly influenced his associates in the various departments of the Christian Endeavor World. Many of the associates have become nationally famous in their special line of work. Among them may be mentioned Frank A. Arnold, publisher and editor of Sabbath Life; William T. Ellis, widely travelled and well known newspaper correspondent, and Gary W. Colman, founder of the Ford Hall Forum and Boston president of the National Forum, and now president of Babson Institute. The gradual development from a different, extremely self-destructive young man who shrank from the publicity of platform work into a leader of the great Open Forum is credited by Christians to the training of Christian Endeavor, as is the idea of the Open Forum adapted from the Christian Endeavor open conference.

Florida has been greatly helped by the labor and influence of a number of prominent men who have been trained and have trained others in Christian Endeavor. First in the list must be mentioned Dr. Geo. M. Ward, president of Rollins College. Dr. Ward, then a young lawyer just admitted to the bar, was the first treasurer of the United Society, and a year later was elected general secretary, which office he resigned three years later to prepare for the ministry. As president of Rollins College and preacher in Royal Palm Beach, Dr. Ward's life work has been an inspiration to young and old. Wm. J. Bryan has been prominently identified with Christian Endeavor since the early days of the movement. He was the first president of the first society organized in Lincoln, Nebraska, nearly forty years ago.

Roger W. Babson paid a remarkable tribute to Christian Endeavor when he stated: "All that I am and all that I have, I owe to a little Christian Endeavor society in Gloucester, Massachusetts, of which I was once a member. I owe more to this society than I do to any college or any banking institution or any business organization with which I have ever been connected."

Christian Endeavor is proud to claim Marcus C. Farr as one who has been influenced by training in the society. Mr. Farr began in the Junior society, thus is one of the few older Endeavorers who has had the training in the successive grades. He is one of Florida's most loyal friends and represents the state union as World's Union vice-president.

Duncan H. Curry, represents typically one of the class of Christian Endeavorers who was "chucked in." Finding himself as president of the Florida Union as his first experience as an executive in any union work, he gave his state five years of leadership (besides one year as honorary president, during the war) that put the state at the top of the Dixie division. Eight years as chairman of the All-South Extension committee, and an exceptional capacity for Sunday school organization has stamped him as one of the outstanding laymen of the Southern Presbyterian Church.

Karl Lehmann is a genuine product of Christian Endeavor. It was all his training, all his business, all his thought, all his life. Fifteen years service as field secretary, speaking three, four, and five times a day, traveling by night into every state of the union, into Canada, and down to Cuba, no other man in the organization has had such intimate association with the younger generation of Christian Endeavorers, or directly led such hosts of them into active service for the church through the society's training. He carries the same inspiring qualities of leadership into his business, and as chairman of the highway beautification committee of the state development board, conducting a beautification campaign that is characteristically aggressive and result producing.

Make Your Dollars Stretch

The purchasing power of a dollar bill has shrunk considerably in the last ten years. There has never been a time when discriminate buying paid bigger dividends.

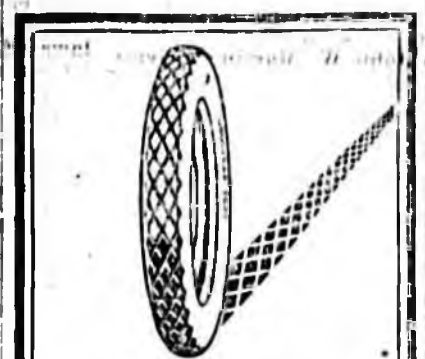

Every day this newspaper contains information that you should have to increase your buying power. The advertisements are intimate little lessons in every-day economy. They teach you how, when and for what your dollar will go farthest.

To those who know how to use it, newspaper advertising is a watchdog of dollars—a continuous source of economy and satisfaction.

Merchants tell of their bargains through the advertisements. Almost every new opportunity is offered through an advertisement. Practically every unusual buy is advertised.

You can stretch your dollar to its elastic limit by keeping abreast of the opportunities to get full value.

Miss Collett Meets Mrs. Hurd In Finals of Bellair Tourney

BELLAIR, Fla., Jan. 31.—Miss Glenna Collett, of Rhode Island Country Club, and Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd of Merion Cricket, both former national golf champions, will meet here in the final round of the women's annual January tournament Thursday. Both won their matches yesterday rather easily. Miss Collett was matched with Mrs. G. H. Stetson of Huntington Valley, and defeated her by a margin of six and five, while Mrs. Hurd was successful over Mrs. George E. Morse, of the Rutland, Vt., champion by four and three. Had it not been for one or two bad breaks, Mrs. Morse, who is playing exceptionally fine golf this season, might have prolonged the match still further. Mrs. Hurd went around in 79, playing a steady careful game. She was out in 40 with a birdie three on the eighth hole. The Philadelphia woman won the tenth hole and became four up holding this lead to the end.

Miss Collett did not display the brilliant gold today that she did in her first round against Mrs. Fox. She was slightly wild from the tee and her short game was uncertain in spots. She was out in 42, while Mrs. Stetson required 44. The Providence girl won the third hole and gained an advantage which she never relinquished. She was two up at the ninth and then took four holes in succession, ending the match on the thirteenth green.

BIG MOMENTS OF SPORT

The N. Y. U. football team was in a promising way for a defeat by its arch rival, Fordham, last fall when one of those plays which change complexion effectively and suddenly was tried and executed, executed with undoubted success.

The third period was on, and more than half of it had been played. N. Y. U. was leading, 3 to 0, but that in football is a margin as thin as a gnat's wing. It was especially thin and gauzy on this occasion, for Fordham had the ball and was pounding fast toward the Violet goal. Fordham had developed a second half strategy.

The punch was in full force when a respite in the shape of a fumble came to N. Y. U. A N. Y. U. man snatched up the ball on his own 20-yard line. The N. Y. U. men lined up right formation as if for a running play, but there was guile in their minds.

The quarterback called for a quick, close-the-line kick, and the Fordham defense was caught off guard. Toorock kicked over the backfield, the ball scampered toward the Fordham goal and Frank Howley, left end for N. Y. U., was after it hot foot. He made a diving tackle, squeezed it on Fordham's half-yard line, a play which not long ago would have been a touch-back, but under the present rule was a first down for Fordham. Fordham kicked to her 27-yard line, and N. Y. U., inspired by the change of fortune, broke loose and in three plays had made a touch-down.

N. Y. U. went on and won, 20 points to none, and the Toorock-Howley play was one of the best of the season.—W. B. H.

RICHEST MAN IN AUSTRIA OFFERS TO AID SCHOOL

VIENNA, Jan. 30.—Commonly reputed to be the richest man in Austria, Samuel Bosel has offered to finance the University of Vienna until conditions permit it to balance its affairs. It is estimated the initial phases of his undertaking will amount to $2,000,000 a year, yet up to 1915 Bosel was selling haberdashery as a clerk in a small shop on the Quay.

His rise illustrates the paradoxical conditions that have prevailed in this country since the war. On the one hand has been a bankrupt government, the masses of the people in want up to recent months, and all of every kind pouring in from other lands. On the other there have been accumulated fortunes vast even in America, and Bosel is said to lead them.

In 1915 he got into the war supply contract game and when the armistice came he was said to be the king of army contractors, holding a monopoly in certain branches of supplies. After the war he entered finance and is now one of Austria's greatest bankers.

Recently he bought the parked triangle adjoining the Balplatz, or Foreign Office, which visitors will recall as affording the much painted view of the famous Minoriten church. The price he paid the government is not stated but it is probably the most valuable plot in the city. On it he will build a magnificent residence and has also offered to build for the government a hall of archives.

Sisler Talking Of Playing Again As His Eyes Improve

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 31.—George H. Sisler, manager of the St. Louis Americans, who has been out of the game because of defective vision, declared in a letter received here that he is working out daily in California and that when the team reports for spring training, he hopes to be in a position to play.

The letter states that his workouts consist of batting, catching, throwing and running. "I don't want to say that I positively will be able to play," the letter said, "and I certainly will not say that I will not be able to play. In fact, in my own mind, I am sure that everything eventually is going to get all right, but just exactly when I do not know."

The letter says that his vision impairment bothers him more in batting than in catching.

Treasury experts have compiled an explanation of the Mellon tax plan which occupies two newspaper pages, but it's easier to understand the plan than the explanation.

McTigue Finds Is Still Obligated To Jacobs As Manager

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Mike McTigue, world's light heavyweight champion, who believed he was free of all contract obligations after purchasing his release from Joe Jacobs, his former manager, now finds that he is still obligated to fulfill conditions imposed under that management including matches with Gene Tunney, Tom Gibbons and Ad Stone.

McTigue, according to information revealed today, automatically bound himself to fulfill the old contract when he removed it from Jacobs' hands, despite belief that it made him a free agent.

Jacobs had signed with Tex Rickard for fights with Gibbons and Tunney and for a match with Stone, the "fighting marine," at Philadelphia.

McTigue, it was said, would carry his latest fistic dilemma to the state athletic commission for an interpretation.

One of the new Congressmen recanted an editorial reference to the law of compensation, thinking it was an illusion to the proposed bonus law.

Geologists Studying Formation of Islands in Palm Beach County

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 30.—Herbert Gunter state geologist and recently appointed assistant, Stuart Mossom, have returned from a trip to Palm Beach county where they went at the invitation of representatives of the United States Geological Survey, for the purpose of investigating certain islands lying in Lake Worth, the titles to which have become involved. There is no contest on over the matter, however, and the two state geological experts went to discuss informally with the federal experts the various phases of the question, and to examine with them rock formations of the islands, etc.

Among the islands in question are Long Cabbage, Lone Pine, Hunter's Island, and one known as No. 11.

Conclusions as to the origin and age of the rock underlying these islands will be among the factors in determining title to the land. There is no doubt as to the age of the rock forming the islands, according to Mr. Gunter's opinion, but he says the water level in Lake Worth has undoubtedly been subject to change, depending on the periodic opening and closing of the inlet to the Atlantic ocean.

Dr. C. Wythe Cook and Albert Smith, Jr., represented the United States Geological Survey in the investigation.

Experts Study Rubber Industry Philippines

MANILA, Jan. 30.—Members of the mission sent by the United States department of agriculture to study the question of rubber production in the Philippines, methods of planting, labor problems and the feasibility of extending plantation work to various sections of the archipelago, have begun their investigations on the island of Basilan.

After studying the methods employed on the few small Basilan plantations the party will proceed to Cotabato province, where rubber also is grown in small quantities.

Plans Are Elaborate for Tampa Carnival

TAMPA, Jan. 30.—Instructions are being given committee men preparing floats for the Gasparilla parade Monday, Feb. 4, to spare no expense. A committee representing the Merchants' Association is working under orders to make its float the finest in the whole parade, and other organizations have issued similar instructions, making competition keen for the $500 gold prize for the most beautifully decorated vehicle. In addition to floats that will be entered by various organizations here, Sulphur Springs is sending five floats and Oldsmar will enter two.

press his resolution for such resignation at the first opportunity.
The senate oil committee was told by four physicians that the present condition of Former Secretary Fall made it inadvisable for him to appear at a public hearing but the committee decided to appoint a medical commission of its own to examine him.
E. L. Doherty returned of Washington with a request that the committee hear again and he probably will take the stand at the next session on Friday. He declined through his counsel to reveal the nature of the statements he intends to make.
The senate appropriations committee reported favorably the house measure carrying $100,000 for the employment of counsel to prosecute the oil suits, but it added an amendment requiring confirmation of such counsel by the senate.
The McKellar proposal to bar as counsel persons who are or have been in any way affiliated with oil companies is designed as an amendment to the appropriation resolutions. Its approval by the senate was forecast, but whether it would affect in any way the President's selection of counsel did not appear.
Senator McKellar said it was not directed at either Mr. Gregory or Mr. Strawn as he had no information that either had ever acted as counsel for an oil company. He added, however, that he believed such a prohibition in the appropriation measure would be wise.
Some color to speculation as to the possibility of a hitch in the employment of Mr. Strawn or Mr. Gregory, was given, however, by a visit to the White House by Assistant Attorney General Holland, who has been observing the senate inquiry. He conferred with Secretary Simpson on the question of counsel and Mr. Simpson afterwards had a long conference with President Coolidge.
Running its course for the third successive day, senate debate was marked by bitter exchanges between Republicans and Democrats which culminated in a personal tilt between Chairman Lenroot of the oil committee and Senator Walsh, Dem., Montana, who has the leading role in the inquiry.
Both Mr. Fall and Secretary Denby were assailed during the debate by Senator Trammell, Dem., Florida. He declared Fall should be prosecuted and made an example for other men "who may be called to positions of trust."
"Fall will be prosecuted," Senator Trammell said, "but what about the secretary of the navy? He has shown a reckless disregard of his duties."
Senator Trammell said the senate should express its condemnation and he argued against any changes in the Walsh resolution.
Senator Underwood of Alabama joined in the debate with the statement that he regretted there was not an opportunity to vote upon a resolution directly declaring the leases void.

Representative Longworth, Republican floor leader, in urging a compromise in committee on the Mellon rates, has said that, if the committee raised the Mellon surtax rates enough support could be gained for the bill to assure its passage without material changes and without a long fight on the floor.
Green's Statement.
In accordance with the evident wishes of the people of this country, the ways and means committee has for several weeks been diligently at work upon a tax reduction measure. The basis of consideration was the recommendations of the secretary of the treasury, and in his letter to the chairman presenting these recommendations the secretary stated the subject of tax provision was a non-partisan one. That it ought to be so is obvious. The bill to date has been considered on a non-partisan basis, and the Republican members are strongly of the opinion that this course should have been pursued to the end with the entire bill, including surtax rates.

Approves Time for Marriage
A letter on March 15 states "your suggestion of time and place for our marriage is approved, and let us hope nothing will occur to interfere.
"I will want to be back in Atlanta on May 15 if possible."
On May 8 a letter to Mrs. de Bouchel described an investigation alleged to have been made by a nephew of Mr. Candler's regarding her reputation in New Orleans. It states that he was "well satisfied by the testimony" given him regarding her character, "the leftness of your life and respectability of your associates and the legality of your decree—hence I let myself love you with my whole heart, and thank God that you have allowed your love for me—but alas! others have questioned some of the above. I do not concede them any right or duty to me to have done so."
"It is what we put into our life that renders our happiness rather than what we take out," a letter on May 18, 1922, stated. "Let's put all we can in and be contented. That is the big word of your last letter. 'Contented' companionship, how very good."

ANOTHER POPULAR HOT DISH BY HELEN H. DOQNING

Don't be bothering you all at this time of the evening, you're busy getting ready to go to bed. I'm not on my way to bed on his way from the town tonight," said Elizabeth to her just a little older and domesticated sister, Helen. "I'm going into the kitchen, and talk while I finish the dumplings," said Helen. "You know," said Elizabeth, "I'm actually tired of eating home lately. I'm simply tired of eating at home. That's just why I stopped at something." "I'm having to see what I am having to do on the kettle on the stove," said Elizabeth. "What a delicious one on a cold night, a beef or veal stew, with tender dumplings, or home noodles. Have you made any lately? If you haven't I'd like to see you surprise John with a real soon." "I've tried them once," said Elizabeth, "a little doubtfully, and weren't very good." "I'm not discouraged," said Helen. "If they haven't raised when made before, or if they're heavy—just try my recipe. Two pounds of boiling beef is cut in small cubes and slowly in four cups of cold water for an hour. To this add dumplings. Here is a secret from a friend. Don't put the gravy until the dumplings are done, as they don't cook in a thick gravy, though many people don't know this. Remove dumplings before thickening gravy and return them after thickened.

Dumplings.
2 level teaspoons baking powder,
2 level teaspoon salt,
1 cup milk,
1/2 cup lard, steaming hot water, salt, 1/2 cup flour, 1/2 cup sifted flour, baking powder and salt. Add milk slowly, mix with a knife until a soft dough is formed. Quickly drop by spoonful into the steaming beef broth. Place on a lid which fits tightly and steam for fifteen minutes. If the beef stock boils dumplings break apart. Thicken with one-half cup water. Remove dumplings to a warm bowl and add the flour to hot cooked stock. Boil two minutes or until it is thickened. Serve hot over dumplings with the beef or out.

Or, if you would prefer noodles, here is a recipe, which is a good one. They are easily made and kept for some time if you keep an extra supply. You may use them in any vegetable soups stew," said Helen.
Noodles.
About 2 cups flour,
2 level teaspoon salt,
1 egg, 1/2 cup water, and
1/2 cup salt, and
1/2 cup flour to form
dough that may be kneaded and stuck to the board.
Roll for 10 minutes on a flour-board. Roll out very thin, in fact, just as thin as possible. Cover with a cloth and let for 30 minutes in a cool place. Cut up loosely, over and over, and cut into strips one-eighth of an inch thick. Let dry another 10 minutes, and then cook for 20 minutes boiling soup. If the noodles desired for gravy, creamed or any other thick mixture, cook them first for 20 minutes in boiling, salted water. They are done, and may be merely reheated in the food with which they are to be served.
Elizabeth made careful note of the recipes and directions, and went to her room. "Your dinner looks delicious," she said, "and I'm going to surprise John tomorrow."

SWIMMING MEET
WEST PALM BEACH, Feb. 1.
—Tank teams of the West Palm Beach Swimming Club, the West
Palm Beach Central High school and the University of Florida will compete in a dual meet here some time during February, with the crack swimmers of the two first named institutions pitted against the "Gatorsmen. The arrangements were completed by W. S. Gramling, Jr., University student, with local interests.

TAMPA, Feb. 1.—Here's a modern parallel of the talents.
Under the supervision of Mrs.
Mary S. Allen, home demonstration agent for Hillsborough county, 40 cents grew to $11.70 in three months: At the Brandon rally last Aug. 31, six dimes were given to that many club members. Each wanted to see how much he or she could earn with the one dime by Nov. 25. Four reported; one grew vegetables and turned in $1; two made candy and turned in $2; one together made a buffet set of linen with tatting and ruffled it off, making $8.70. At the rally this

"BIG TOMATO SHIPMENTS."

MIAMI, Jan. 31.—The Winter tomato section of the lower east coast of Florida has thus far shipped more than 500 carloads of tomatoes to northern markets during the present season, according to figures obtained here, which do not take into consideration the innumerable smaller express shipments, and exclusive of the Lake Okechobee region. The tomato acreage for the lower east coast is variously estimated at from 12,000 to 15,000 acres, with federal government figures holding to the higher group.
