Brave Words Those were brave words of Prime Minister Winston Churchill who spoke on a world-wide radio broadcast Sun-day afternoon. "We must stand alone in the breach." he day afternoon. said, "and face the worst that the tyrent's might and en-mity can do. Bearing ourselves humbly becore God, but conscious that we serve an unfolding, purpose, we are ready to defend our native land against the investor by which it is threatened."

We are fighting by ourselves alone. But we are not fighting for ourselves alone. Here in this strong city of refuge, which ensurines the title deeds of human progress and is of big con-sequence to human civilization here girt about by the seas and oceans, where our navy reigns, shielded from above by the prowess and devotion of our airmen, we await undismayed the impending assault.

Perhaps it will come tonight. Perhaps it will come next week. Perliaps it will sever come. We must show ourselves equally capable of meeting a sudden, violent shock, or what is perhaps a hurder test, a prolonged issue. But be the ordeal therp or long, or both, we shall seek as terms, we shall tolerate no parleys, we may show mercy-we shall ask none.

Should the invader come to Brit will be no placid lying down of the people in m mission before him, as we have seen come to pa in other countries. We shall defend every willing in other countries. We shall defend every value, every town and every city. The vast mass of London itself, fought street by street, could easily devour an entire hostile army, and we would rather see London laid in ruins and sches than that it should be painfully and abjectly en-slaved. I am bound to state these facts because it is necessary to inform our people of our intes-

it is necessary to inform our people of our inten-tions, and thus to reassure them. We have no doubt that Mr. Churchill means exactly what he says. He surely would defend England to the last drop of blood, until every city, village and hamiet is laid in ruins, until every man, woman and child has been destroyed. His own life he would be among the first to give. To men who believe in democracy, in liberty and freedom, life without it is not worth living. For a free The Cocos Tribune advises: freedom, life without it is not worth living. For a free man to become a slave is something no free man could en-dure. Of course he would prefer to die and see England

But are there enough other men in England like Win ston Churchill? In almost every other country which hit-ler has invaded freedom has been surrendered for a mess dea of becoming a province of pottage. Traitors, spies, fifth columnists, cowards, and pro-Germans, in key positions, have so undermined the courage of the people and the will to resist that the battle was lost almost before the shooting started. Heaven help England if all such vermine have not already been placed in concentration camps!

.Time was when men marched off to the battlefield to spite of smaller attendance year, the World's Fair is as off old debts. The advent of the airplane has changed all that. Today men at the front know that airplanes which they are power-less to stop, are flying over their heads to drop bombe behind their lines upon the heads of women and children in their homes.

Due thing about the lister in their homes. Reports from France reveal that at the most crustal moments of the Battle of France. French officers left in most of armor for British sol-their commands, hurried to their homes to help evacuate their families to places of comparative safety. Why is there can say he would not have done the same thing? It will be hard for men on the southern coast of England to remain at their posts wondering what is happening behind their backs. But it is the end of England if they don't
