

LANDSLIDE FOR WILSON IS VERDICT

JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES SUMS UP THE POLITICAL SITUATION

Chicago, Oct. 31.—The following optimistic forecast of the success of the Democratic ticket is given out by John Temple Graves:

There are symptoms abundant of a political landslide which will return Woodrow Wilson to the White House by the greatest majority given to a Democratic candidate since the civil war.

It is in the popular mind everywhere in the factories, on the farms, and in the country lanes. You hear it joyfully on the lips of Democrats. You hear it cautiously confided by hundreds of Republicans who are going to quietly vote for Wilson, but do not care to make public proclamation of breaking their political ties in this election.

The big straws whirling in the political wind tell best of all the direction of the political cyclone.

Ohio seems actually as safe as Georgia. Ohio has never known the equal of this campaign for forehand knowledge of the result. The Democratic leaders are not gushing or enthusiastic. They are simply sure.

Their organization is perfect, their votes are counted. Neither money nor persuasion can change Ohio. Even the Republican Governor fails to claim the state for Hughes. The keenest politicians, is well nigh as to know that the only reason Indiana is classed as doubtful is because, with an organization less perfect, the forecount in Indiana has not been made. But the people are the same, their interests are the same, their inclinations and intentions are identical.

With the Republicans of Wisconsin split into three factions and the Democrats a unit—with the powerful voice of LaFollette pleading the Wilson cause and the land all that way, and the atmosphere in orthodox accord, there is every logical reason to think that Wisconsin will surely sustain the administration.

Scott Ferris showed me today at the national headquarters a tabulated count of the voters of Arizona, which gives a rousing majority for Wilson. And Arizona is a fair type of the west.

In the east the impromptu and spontaneous tribute paid to the president on his western bound tour last week have settled the Empire state Democracy in the faith that even the up-state is falling away from Hughes, and that with scores of business men like the great Knickerbocker brothers, employing thousands of laborers, deserting the Republican colors for the "safety, security and prosperity" which they foresee under Wilson, makes New York's great electoral vote safe for Wilson.

The Connecticut Republicans are thrown into consternation by the development that the influx of 50,000 workmen into the state within the last two years is two-thirds for Wilson and that they are more than enough to offset Connecticut's scant normal Republican majority of 15,000.

West Virginia's leading Republican nominee for presidential elector has thrown up the sponge, resigned from the ticket, and declared that the great general interests of the country draw him irresistibly to the support of the Democratic administration.

Maryland is safe, and with the 152 electoral votes of the solid south unbroken in the Democratic column, the situation is seen to be safe, and the status quo, which is the crowning unanswerable argument of the administration, appears to be sure to be vindicated and triumphantly maintained.

And, beyond all these, the more definite and altogether complete indications, there flutter in thousands the minor but not less convincing symptoms among the people of all parties and all conditions which portend the landslide of November the seventh.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan Jewett have moved into their new home formerly occupied by Mr. Cobb.

Methodist Church Services

At the Methodist church Sunday the regular services will be held. All members and attendants are urged to be present and take part in the worship. Services begin with Sunday school session, 1:30. Sacramental service and sermonette, 11:00.

Evening sermon, "The Bread of Life," 7:00.

Senior League, Miss Nellie Elder, Intermediate League, Marie Bragg leader, 6:30.

Junior League, Edward McCalley leader, meets Friday, 3:00 p. m.

All the services are usually well attended and the congregations are growing since we are comfortably domiciled in our new quarters. Attention, Methodists! Only five weeks until the Annual Conference meets in Ocala. Have you done what you planned to do this year? The time is short. Now is the time.

First Car of Vegetables

The first car of vegetables left Sanford yesterday being a car of romaine shipped by C. Stothoff of the west side. The car was shipped to John C. Vorhees of New York, through his representative G. I. Louckes of this city. There will be about five more cars of romaine leave Sanford this week and from this time on the Sanford vegetable will be going north to supply the markets that are bare of green stuff.

FLETCHER WILL SPEAK AT GENEVA

FATHER OF RURAL CREDITS WILL EXPLAIN TO FARMERS

Senator Duncan U. Fletcher will address the people of Geneva and the county at large tonight at 7:30 in the town hall. The "father of the rural credits law" will tell all about its workings and as there are many people here interested in the subject of rural credits there will be many from Sanford go over tonight. Senator Fletcher was not scheduled to make this address in Seminole county but he will visit his brother-in-law, Hon. J. H. Huddleston of Geneva today and has been prevailed upon to make this address upon rural credits for the benefit of the farmers of Seminole county.

The direct road to Geneva is bad at present on account of the new fill at the river and the road being torn up for brick roads, but the road via Oviedo is said to be passable and it is probable that the Sanford delegation will go to Geneva via Oviedo, stopping at Oviedo enroute and making our neighbors of this thriving city a friendly visit.

Since the Sanford Board of Trade is vitally interested in the rural credits law and there are so many of our farmers interested there will doubtless be a large delegation from this city at Geneva tonight.

Virginia Goes Dry

Richmond, Va., Nov. 2.—Virginia was added to the column of dry states Wednesday. The new state wide prohibition law went into effect last midnight, the change being accomplished with practically no disorder. Revelers crowded the streets of the larger cities throughout the night in Halloween garb, and others straggled in the saloons for the "last drink." But few arrests were made. The passing of legalized liquor selling was variously celebrated. Enthusiastic prohibition workers held services of prayer and jubilation in the churches, bells were chimed and many attend elaborate "watch parties." Clubs and hotels held "open house" and in some cases liquor that remained was dispensed free of charge.

Bank Holiday

Tuesday, November 7th, 1916, General Election Day, being a legal holiday the banks of Sanford will not be open for business on that day.

Mrs. A. W. Fitts, Jr., Mrs. R. S. Sheldon, little Martha Fitts and Mr. Statler have returned from a motor trip to Valdosta. Mrs. Alice Statler, Mrs. Fitts' aunt returned with them.

W. V. KNOTT WAS THE CANDIDATE

First Primary Count Shows That Majority Voted For Knott

PLANT CITY COURIER

The election is a week away. The campaign has been tiresome. Many things have been said that doubtless were not founded on fact, and opinions have unquestionably been formed on misrepresentation.

Every man has a perfect right to his opinion, but every man who wants to do the right thing by his fellow man—and nearly all men we believe, want to do right—should seek the facts before he arbitrarily assumes that his opinion is a fixed opinion, unyielding to logic, impervious to reason, fact or what not.

We have in mind one—good men beyond reproach in every sense of the term—who, months ago, formed the opinion that Rev. Sidney J. Catts was the choice of a MAJORITY of the voters who participated in the primary of June 6th. How did they form that opinion? Most likely on the statement of candidate Catts that he was the nominee—that he received more votes than any other man in the race. Rev. Catts may believe that, but such was not the case.

Go back, for a minute, to the June primary and examine the full first count as certified to Tallahassee. Take the expression of the voters as to first and second choice for all the candidates for Governor and we find that William V. Knott was beyond all doubt the choice of the largest number who participated. This true, the second choice votes accorded Mr. Knott by persons who voted first choice for Rev. Catts could not be counted in the final analysis, because of the provision in the law which eliminated all second choice votes which the two high men received from each other's ballots, but the fact remains that if a man expressed first choice for Catts and second choice for Knott, he meant what he said on that ballot. The same rule applied where Catts received second choice votes from persons who voted first choice for Knott. By the original returns, before the second choice votes the two high men received from each other's tickets were eliminated as required by the primary law, Mr. Knott was by far the choice of a large plurality. There was no majority expression at the primary, because the five candidates split the vote all to pieces. Messrs. Farris, Hudson and Wood combined received more votes than either Knott or Catts, which prevented either of the two high men getting a majority. Rev. Catts, for instance, did not come within 14,250 of receiving a majority of the votes cast, and subsequent corrections or errors showed that he did not receive a plurality of the total vote.

But going back to the total vote for all candidates, as shown by the first count, we find the following to have been the result:

Candidates	1st	2nd	Total
S. J. Catts	30,092	7,031	37,123
I. L. Farris	13,649	6,334	19,983
F. M. Hudson	7,410	10,673	18,083
W. V. Knott	24,720	15,855	40,575
F. A. Wood	7,701	9,708	17,409
Total	83,572

Of course, the second choice votes from Catts to Knott and from Knott to Catts had to be deducted from the totals, but the expression remains, and that expression showed Knott to have received 40,575 to Catts' vote of 37,123.

That, we believe, was a fair expression of the people's choice. The recount later showed Mr. Knott to have received a plurality of such votes as could be counted under the primary law.

The supreme court, in passing upon legal phases of the contest, compelled inspectors to reassemble and do their work right, and later the state canvassing board reassembled and canvassed the returns as amended and Knott was shown to lead Rev. Catts.

The state Democratic executive committee has endorsed Mr. Knott as the nominee.

Governor Trammell, Treasurer Luning, Secretary of State Crawford, Attorney General West, State Superintendent Sheats, State Auditor Amos—all the cabinet officials, United States Senators and Congressmen have endorsed the Democratic ticket, including Mr. Knott as the rightful nominee of the party.

Are you, Mr. Voter, going to disregard all this evidence by expression and manifestation of belief in that expression, and loyalty to party allegiance, to follow one who, in one sweep of the hand, and with a single blanket declaration, tells you to rally to him?

Look at the matter calmly from the viewpoint that you would want to judge, and act accordingly.

Capeland Acquitted

Galveston, Nov. 1.—John Capeland, bank cashier, who was charged with the murder of William Black, an anti-Catholic lecturer was acquitted after a lengthy trial. The jury was composed of ten Protestants and two Jews. Black was killed at Marshall, Tex., in February, 1915.

DEMOCRATIC SPEAKERS MON. NIGHT

HON. E. W. DAVIS WILL EXPOUND SOME DEMOCRATIC DOCTRINE

The last rally of the present campaign will be made here on Monday night, November 6th at eight o'clock when several prominent speakers will be present, among them Hon. E. W. Davis, former prosecuting attorney of the Fifth Judicial District and one of the prominent attorneys in this part of the state.

Mr. Davis has made a careful study of the political conditions of the state, has the facts and figures to present the voters and can be depended upon to give the facts and figures in a manner that will convince the most skeptical. Mr. Davis is not a political spell binder, is not a demagogue, is not a rainbow chaser and does not give his hearers a political harangue but he is a life long and consistent Democrat, a man who has been honored by his party at various times, has proven true to his trust and a man that is loved and respected on account of his high ideals and unswerving devotion to duty.

Those who wish to attend the big Democratic meeting here Monday night can be assured of a quiet and orderly meeting and one that will not only be interesting but instructive as well. Perfect order will be maintained and the ladies are especially invited to attend and stay to the end. Mr. Davis brings a message to you from other counties, from other parts of the state, from his own broad ideas of justice and truth and fairness. Every voter in Sanford and Seminole county is urged to be present on Monday night and hear the speakers on the issues of the day.

The meeting will be held at the corner of Park avenue and First street and in case of rain in the court house. Throw aside all partisan feelings and hear the real issues of this campaign.

Pastor Russell Dead

Canadian, Tex., Oct. 31.—Charles Tase Russell, an independent minister who was widely known as "Pastor Russell," died aboard an Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe train at Pampa, Tex., near here late today. His death was attributed to heart failure. Pastor Russell was president of the International Bible Students' Association of London and the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society of Pennsylvania, and an author of studies on the Scriptures. He was born in Pittsburg February 16, 1852.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fox are expected home today.

MERCHANT SUBMARINE HERE AGAIN

DEUTSCHLAND MAKES SECOND TRIP LANDS NEW LONDON

New London, Conn., Nov. 3.—The German merchant submarine Deutschland, which arrived here very early Wednesday morning from Bremen, Germany, is now elaborately guarded by a large number of marines and sailors from the intrenched German ship Willehad. Large crowds gathered in the vicinity of the dock soon after daylight when the morning papers announced the arrival of the vessel, but detectives kept the curious at a distance and visitors were not allowed to go near the undersea craft. The Deutschland is protected on one side by the Willehad, which is also made safe by a floating fence. The pier and river bank afford protection on the other side. Wires connected with an electric gong in the pier office are stretched between the piling underneath the pier, so that secret approach to the vessel is next to impossible. The Deutschland is supposed to have brought another large cargo of dyestuffs.

Contents of Cargo

New London, Conn., Nov. 3.—The German submarine Deutschland, which arrived in port here last night, brought from Bremen a cargo of 750 tons of dyestuffs, medicines and chemicals. The captain and crew declare that every one of the twenty one days were uneventful and that no hostile vessels were sighted. Preparations were being made this morning to unload the cargo as soon as the official permission is granted. Captain Koenig, the commander of the Deutschland, and Captain Hirsch of the Eastern Forwarding Company were uncommunicative about the trip other than to say that nothing of moment had occurred. They promised to see the newspaper men later. The crowds thronging the dock have been growing in size, but they are unable to see the vessel.

Knott Will Be Elected

Jacksonville, Nov. 1.—Geo. P. Rainey, chairman of the executive committee of the Democratic party, in a statement made this evening, claiming a big victory for the Democratic ticket, including W. V. Knott for Governor in next Tuesday's election:

"Hon. W. V. Knott and the entire Democratic ticket will be elected on November 7th. Information received at headquarters during the past four or five days from reasonable and conservative Democrats from nearly every section of the state shows this to our satisfaction beyond all reasonable doubt.

"As soon as final reports are received from seven or eight of the counties we will be able to give out a forecast of the state election which will be based upon facts, and will contain no wild or unreasonable claims such as appear in the forecast appearing in the press today from the Catts Independent Prohibition headquarters. The claims in this forecast last referred to, will satisfy any reasonably informed man that it is nothing less than an effort to inspire hope in a cause that has failed. It is safe to say that Mr. Catts will not poll as many votes in the general election as he received first choice votes in the primary.

"Democrats of this state, however, are thoroughly aroused to the situation which confronts them and have rallied to the support of the party in such a way as to insure the election of Mr. Knott on November 7th."

Mrs. B. A. Howard returned last week from Michigan.

STATE MOTHER'S DAY

Schools Observing Mother's Day All Over Florida

The last session of the legislature passed a law requiring all public schools to observe the first Friday in November of each year as Mother's Day. Following out the instructions of this act Superintendent Lawton has advised all the teachers of Seminole county to observe the day with fitting exercises.

AMONG THE THEATRES

Chit-Chat of the Play Houses in Sanford

"The Eye of the Night"
A remarkable series of scenes in the new Triangle play, "The Eye of the Night," in which William H. Thompson is presented as star, show an ocean transport rocking in a raging storm, with officers and crew on duty.

At Lyric Friday.

"The Upheaval"
A five-part story of power and supreme suspense, produced by Rolfe Photoplays, Inc., for the Metro Program under the direction of Charlie Horan.

On Jim Gordon, a serious minded young college graduate, falls the political mantle of his father, "Big Jim" Gordon. The father has been the leader of a corrupt political ring, but the son determines to be true to the teaching of his dead mother, and use his position only for good.

However, he is not given credit for any altruism. It is taken for granted both by the general public and by the politicians whose leadership he has inherited that he is a grafter, as his father was. He succeeds in getting the Utilities Bill passed. The "New American," a newspaper under reform management warns the public against what it calls his hypocrisy. When he gets the water rate bill passed, they still accuse him of having some nefarious scheme "up his sleeve" to defraud the public.

Gordon's only mistake is in making Sidney Benson Director of Public Safety. Benson is a fraud, who is posing as a reformer to further his own ends. He is engaged to Joan Madison, a girl of unusual charm and intelligence. Joan is interested in the passing of the Sanitary Bill, to provide for further conditions among the tenement dwellers. She goes to Benson for aid in the matter, but gives an evasive answer. She then goes to Benjamin Waters, the editor of the "New American," and he asks her to write a series of articles exposing local conditions. She consents but goes to a mountain resort for quiet in order to write. Gordon, too, feels the need of quiet and goes to the mountains not far from Joan's refuge. He helps her in a slight accident, and falls in love with her. Joan is interested in the stalwart stranger. Then business begins to "pick up."

Some wonderful sunrise effects are shown in the new Triangle play, "The Eye of the Night," in which William H. Thompson is presented as star. The camera man was up at 4:30 each morning to catch them. Lyric Theatre Friday.

"The Ballet Girl" Features Two World Famed Stars

Patrons of the Star will have the opportunity on Thursday of seeing two of the most popular stars of the screen—Miss Alice Brady and Holbrook Blinn, collaborating to produce another World Film masterpiece, "The Ballet Girl."

This picture deals with one of the most fascinating subjects of the time—the perils and temptations that beset a young woman who ventures to win success on the stage. It gives an intimate picture of life behind the scenes and conveys a message of unusual appeal to every mother's heart.

Hundreds of young girls have been lured to destruction by the call of the great city, and hundreds more are feeling the call every day. The lesson taught by the little heroine of "The Ballet Girl" should prove the salvation of many a young ambitious girl about to take a similar step.

Attempts to Keep Daughter off the Stage

If William A. Brady, the noted theatrical and motion picture producer had had his way, the stage and screen would have missed one of their brightest stars, Miss Alice Brady, the noted manager's daughter. For years Mr. Brady fought against his daughter's natural leanings toward the histrionic profession. In fact, it was not until Miss Brady got her Irish up and stamped her foot in her father's presence and "declared herself" that the producer began to weaken.

Miss Brady was about to graduate from the college of St. Elizabeth in Madison, N. J., at the time. As soon as she finished school she came to her father and announced that she was ready to "go on the stage."

"Go ahead," said Brady, "but don't expect me to help you. You will have to make a success through your own efforts before I'll turn a finger for you."

And that's just what Miss Brady did, first in the revivals of some Gilbert and Sullivan operas and then in a good part in "Little Women." Her success reconciled Mr. Brady to her determination to pursue a stage career and he became her guide and manager.

Gideon Trask.....Frank McGlynn
Gloria Stafford after being ill for many days with pneumonia begins to convalesce under the skillful treatment of Dr. Stephen Royce, an old friend of the family who dearly loves Gloria, though the latter is entirely infatuated with Richard Freneau, a thorough cad who has had affairs with a dozen different women. One of Freneau's old flames learns of his intrigue with Mrs. David Stafford, Gloria's sister-in-law and writes an anonymous letter to Stafford, warning him to watch his wife. David prepares a trap for his wife, by announcing that he is going south for week or more, and she immediately plans to take a little trip with Freneau during her husband's absence. Meanwhile old Gideon Trask, whose daughter Freneau had wronged, rises from a sickbed in the hospital long enough to tell his daughter, Nell, the address of Freneau, and the girl appeals to him for aid, but is ordered out of the house. To escape the reproaches of Mrs. Stafford, with whom he is honestly trying to break off relations, and to avoid suspicion by Gloria, Freneau, at the suggestion of Mulry, his partner, prepares a lot of letters on the stationery of various hotels, tells Gloria he is called away on a business trip and arranges to have Mulry mail the letters from the various cities he is going to visit while on a real trip through the middle west. Freneau then plans to join Lois Stafford for one last fling, trusting to luck that Gloria, who continues to convalesce, will never learn of his deception. Lyric Tonight.

story, an entire circus (with its background of billowy canvas, the freaks, the managerie, the balloon ascent and the parachute drop) was given a decidedly novelty to the production; aside from the presentation on the screen of the celebrated Hula Hula dance, in which Miss Pennington distinguishes herself in the Folies and in which she performs in the role of the circus dancer. The Rainbow Princess contains strong drama too, and a tender love story that brings the little circus dancer into the lives of old Judge Warren and his adopted son and happiness to them all.

"Little Schoolma'am"

The story of Nan Cartright, a southern girl who becomes a school teacher in a small western town, is told in the Little Schoolma'am, the new Triangle play starring Dorothy Gish, which is to be seen at the Lyric Tuesday.

Dorothy Gish in "The Little School Ma'am" Lyric Tonight

There is only one grade in the school, which contains children of all ages and sizes. The little teacher mothers them all. Outside of school hours, however, she is very lonely. Her life is made still more unhappy by malicious gossips who resent her "southern airs," and spend their time spying upon her in the little boarding house where she lives.

One evening she goes alone to the brook to have a good cry. There she is found by Howard, a young playwright from her native state who is visiting in the village. He attempts to offer her his sympathy, and she accepts him as a friend. Before long there is more than a friendship, and Howard becomes a frequent visitor at the school house where the children take a great fancy to him. Of course the scandal mongers soon find in Howard's calls at the school an opportunity to say unkind things about the girl.

For a time she pays no heed, but one evening when she has gone for drive with Howard, their horse runs away and the two are thrown out. It takes them until morning to find their way home in the dark, and the school board soon afterwards requests the teacher's resignation.

This leads to a stirring series of events and an interesting climax.

In the supporting cast are Elmer Clifton, George Pierce, Jack Brammell, Howard Gaye, Josephine Crowell, Luray Huntley, Millard Webb, Hal Wilson and George Stone, leading man of the "Triangle Kiddies."

Dorothy Gish in the "Little School Ma'am"

the very latest Triangle play, takes you back to your boyhood days who barefooted you tramped the lane to the little red school house, or as a shy maid brought wild flowers to the village school teacher.

You'll enjoy this picture more than any you've seen in many a long day, for it brings back the spirit of youth—of the days when there we no cares or worries.

You'll love the twenty little Triangle kiddies at work and at play, and you'll love the sweet romance of the dainty village school ma'am—still young and pretty. Lyric Tues day.

Broke His Hip

E. C. Bowman, lineman and electrician for the Sanford Light & Water Co., fell from the roof of a building on Sanford avenue and broke his hip and was otherwise injured. Mr. Bowman will be incapacitated for some time as a result of the accident.

To Avoid Colds.

In brief, if you wish to be absolutely immune from colds of all kinds, and their more serious sequences, here is the recipe: Eat abstemiously of non-stimulating food. Fast occasionally. Avoid table salt. Wollen underclothing and foul air, and harden the body by exposure to the air and sun, and occasionally to cold water.

True Politeness.

"Civility costs nothing" is a common saying, but the truth is, it goes without saying, for it is self-evident. But incivility often costs much. It has been known to cost a man his position, or his opportunity for advancement, or his chance for promotion, and many other things besides. A churlish answer, or forbidding manner, is often the turning-point which brings disappointment and disaster. "Courtesy first" is the motto of a certain large establishment in a western city. All the employees, clerks, and others, associated in the enterprise, wear bright buttons with these words upon them, and it is a genuine pleasure to be waited upon by any of them. The atmosphere throughout the whole building breathes good will. Perhaps the courtesy does cost something—some self-denial, some patience and forbearance, but the returns overpay any such outlay. And let us always remember the definition: "True politeness is to do kind say. The kindest thing in the kindest way."

Mirage.

Mirages are most often seen in hot climates, especially over sandy deserts, and also frequently in the Polar regions, the cause being assigned to sharp variations in the atmosphere. They are also visible at times in the temperate zones, the general opinion being that the objects seen are reflected on minute particles of dust in the air. The same effect has been witnessed in mists or fogs, the supposition being that the reflection is carried on the tiny globules of moisture then contained in the atmosphere. If you noted the weather conditions at the time the mirage was visible, you will probably find the explanation in the reason last mentioned.

Pencil Stubs.

Thrifty persons are advised to save the "stubs" of lead pencils to avert a threatened pencil famine, owing to diminished supplies used in making these daily necessities. The stubs, which almost everyone has been in the habit of throwing away, can be fitted into a holder and used to the extreme end.

A Potato Masher.

Bilson—That new cook of yours is a very handsome woman, isn't she?
Jilson—You bet she is. Why, all she has to do is to smile at the potatoes and they are mashed.

AN EXPERIMENT

The commission man had remarked that most of the evil manifested in a man's character resulted from an imperfect realization of the defect on the part of the man himself. He had a habit of throwing off little gems of thought like that.

NATURE WARNS Against Using Colomel The sickening, nauseating feeling that follows the use of calomel is the natural result of disarranging your entire system. Doctors everywhere are agreeing that the action of colomel is much too strong, and leaves the body sick and weakened. LIV-VER-LAX is a wonderful substitute for calomel, that has all of its good effects and none of its bad ones. It acts soothingly but thoroughly on the liver, cleansing it bile, and ridding the entire system of stagnating poisons. LIV-VER-LAX is strictly harmless vegetable compound, and is guaranteed to give satisfaction or your money will be returned. Insist on the original, bearing the Libbey and signature of L. K. Libbey. Van Swearingen is making a strenuous campaign for Catts in this district and saying many complimentary things about Swearingen. Does this mean that Van intends to run for congress next time?

Volusia county is in a political stew and every man's hand is against his neighbor. Even the newspapermen are under suspicion and the preachers will come next. Verily, the world is going mad and all over nothing.

The National Association of Nut Growers meets in Jacksonville on Nov. 22. Good thing they waited until after Nov. 7th for there ought to be several recruits for the association from some of the politicians after that date.

The question of a city hospital for Sanford will be left to a vote of the tax payers which is really the proper manner in which to deal with this matter. It is not the initial cost of a hospital that is worrying the aldermen but the annual sum that the hospital will need each year from the city funds.

It is passing strange that a Catts meeting in this city always gets a respectful hearing and there is no disturbance but any speaker who comes here against Catts cannot have a quiet meeting. This is food for reflection to the non partisan voter and he can stick a pin in the paper right here.

The sympathy of the state press is being extended to T. J. Appleyard in his hour of sorrow, the late loss of his loving wife and helper for a long span of years. Especially in Sanford where the Appleyards resided for so long is this sympathy extended. Sad, indeed, is the death of a wife who has lived with us in all our joys and sorrows for many years. We give you our sympathy, Bro. Tom. Only the Lord can assuage your grief and deep suffering.

The Herald has called the attention of the street officials to the numerous worthless curs that roam the streets at all times of the day and night. Other cities have placed a ban on dogs roaming the streets and Sanford could do the same. There is a dog tax and a dog ordinance or if there is none there should be one. Several cases of dogs biting children on the streets have been reported and the dogs on the streets are a general nuisance and they should be killed or kept at home. We will not call attention to them again. There are other means that will be taken.

THE EAST COAST CANAL

Major Ladue refused to recommend the purchase of the East Coast canal by the government. The Major's recommendations were based on the showing of business and the cost of necessary improvements added to the purchase price, and had nothing to do with what might be termed the ethical question involved. Army engineers very properly are not expected to be influenced by matters of this kind. Thus the engineer's report shows that the purchase of the canal would be a bad piece of business for the government from a business standpoint, and there has never been any doubt that it was bad from a moral point of view. The Reporter-Star would like to see the government take over the East Coast Canal and develop it. We do not think that it will ever amount to much as a traffic waterway under state supervision, but we could not favor the payment of five million dollars or more, for a waterway by the government when the state has already paid for its construction and the promoters have once received their compensation. There should be some way to make the promoters put the canal in navigable condition or turn it over to the government. Major Ladue's report reflects credit upon him as an upright official. -Reporter-Star.

IT ALL DEPENDS

It all depends on how you line up anyhow in this campaign. The Catts papers will boost the Catts paper and the Knott papers will offer apologies for the Knott organ and the disgusting feature will be over with November 7th for which we will be greatly thankful and after all the "I told you so's" are said we expect to see the newspaper boys of the state back in line boasting one another discarding the peculiar bed fellows some have unconsciously and unwillingly made during this campaign, and what is it all for? Do you suppose one half of the politicians ever appreciate what the newspapers do for them? Right now many are letting the newspaper carry the bill from the last June primary because they were not elected or some other foolish reason, and we have about come to the conclusion of Bob Holly that we are not going to tear our shirt any more for any politician. It is lots of fun, however, but a newspaper is instituted to print the news and our efforts have always been and we hope always will be to take care of that feature first and let politics take care of itself. However, we don't want our position to be misunderstood and this is if we believe in a principle, that principle is not one of politics but an opinion of what is right in our own mind. -Lakeland Star.

WHY SUPPORT KNOTT

The above caption has been used by many editors during the past few weeks, due to the strife that has been engendered in the present campaign, but the Arcadia News uses it over the following very feasible and commendable editorial:

"We could easily give many reasons why we think that the people should elect the Hon. William V. Knott for Governor of the state of Florida over the Rev. Sidney J. Catts, but will give only one. This reason is the one we have been giving ever since the election, namely, that we believe Mr. Knott received more first and second choice votes in the Democratic primary June 6th, than did Rev. Catts. If all the precincts could have been recounted as they should have been, we believe that Mr. Knott would have easily won by not less than 600 votes. As it is won, he has won by a small majority, even when all questionable votes are thrown aside. For this reason, and for the further reason that we agreed to support the Democratic nominees, our vote shall be cast for Mr. Knott.

Again Mr. Knott is a high class Christian gentleman, a trustee of Columbia College at Lake City, the Baptist College of the state, and a man of known integrity and ability. He has done more for the Baptist cause of the state of Florida than has the Rev. Catts. William V. Knott is also a temperance leader of known ability and integrity. We received a letter from the Anti Saloon League prior to the primary stating that Mr. Knott's candidacy was absolutely satisfactory to that organization. His conduct since that time and before fully justifies this high endorsement as a temperance man. We need have no fears with such a man in the executive chair. He is one of Florida's best native born citizens and good enough for us. We would despise ourself until the day of our death did we not at this time bear this unimpeachable testimony in behalf of our much libeled Democratic nominee." -Plant City Courier.

THE DRIFT OF THE TIDE

The political skies are beginning to look very bright for re-committing to the hands of Woodrow Wilson the steering of the ship of state through the perilous times that now confront us.

Mr. Thos. H. Harris writes that Duluth, Minn., for the first time will give a majority for the Democratic ticket, and that Proctor, a railway suburb will give Wilson a majority of twenty to one.

We noted in our issue of Saturday that the Chicago Examiner has jumped over, and now occupies almost a front seat on the Wilson band wagon. It is a Hearst paper.

Mr. J. G. Botts, a traveling salesman for a big flour manufacturing concern reads us a letter yesterday from his son, who is a member of a stock brokers' firm in Chicago. In which he said that ex-Governor Martin H. Glinoff of New York, who was comptroller of New York state when Charles E. Hughes was Governor, armed with official facts and figures he had at his finger tips, combined with his eloquent, magnetic and logical manner of presenting them, converted one of the Republican districts of Chicago to an enthusiastic endorsement of Woodrow Wilson.

Governor Dunne of Illinois is now sanguine in the belief that Illinois will pile up a majority for Wilson running into many thousands.

Mr. Raymond Robbins, who is stumping Colorado for Hughes, frankly confesses that it is impossible to stay the Wilson tidal wave.

There is no defection in the south The re-election of Wilson will unify and solidify the sections, will obliterate the hyphen when applied to Americanism and will place a big premium on loyalty.

It will be a notification to the world that America stands for America first, last and all the time.

It will give a more pointed and emphatic fullness to the sayings of Commodore Decatur: "Our country! In her intercourse with foreign nations may she always be in the right; but our country, right or wrong."

Those who adore the flag, those who are too patriotic to be sectional, those who hate hypocrisy and honor plainness of speech and loyalty and devotion to duty, will hail the re-election of the sublimely patient and courageous man in the White House as a day of jubilee—a triumph for all that makes for the good and safety of our republic. -Ocala Banner.

THE DIFFERENCE

When Sidney J. Catts came to Lakeland recently several hundred Knott supporters stood in the park and listened quietly and respectfully during his entire speech. In that speech there were glaring mis-statements and perversion of the truth, and Mr. Knott was abused and slandered in the most shameful way. But never once was Mr. Catts interrupted, even by a question. He was treated as this paper suggested he be treated, as a guest of the city of Lakeland entitled to a courteous and respectful hearing in the representation of his case.

But when Mr. Knott—not in a public park, where all had an equal right, but in a hall hired, and paid for by Mr. Knott's friends—essayed to speak, he was interrupted by irrelevant questions, by jeers and catcalls, by misconduct and rowdiness that called the blush of shame to the cheeks of those citizens of Lakeland who felt any regard for the reputation of this city as an orderly, hospitable community.

It is true that most of the disturbance was made by people who were not residents of this county, and we are glad indeed to be able to state this. The principal disturber was a notable Socialist of Tampa, who had no right to open his mouth in a Democratic meeting, but it is of such political rag-tag and bob-tail that Mr. Catts' supporters are largely composed. A gang of hoodlums evidently had been sent up from Tampa to disturb and harass Mr. Mr. Knott and if possible to break up the meeting. We are glad to know that these, and not local people were responsible for the disgraceful conduct which disgusted decent people last night and which will add many votes to the big list which will be piled up for Mr. Knott on Nov. 7th. Of course, Lakeland has her proportion of hoodlums, and some of these joined in last night's demonstration; but these poor irresponsibles do not represent Lakeland sentiment, nor the element which makes Lakeland such a splendid city.

The difference in the conduct of the two crowds well illustrates the difference in the two men who are offering for Governor, and the contrast that may be anticipated from their respective administrations. Mr. Knott, dignified, quiet, clean, courteous, gentlemanly; Mr. Catts, coarse, vulgar, brazen, blatant. The Knott auditors quiet, respectful, courteous; the Catts crowd noisy, intolerant, disorderly. The character of the man and the kind of crowd he draws to him is the best gauge of what his administration would be like. Therefore the choice is presented to the people of this state as to whether rowdiness, intolerance and lawlessness, as represented by Sidney J. Catts shall be in the saddle or whether peace, order and progress, as embodied in W. V. Knott shall obtain. -Lakeland Telegram.

Church of the Holy Cross
The announcement of something has been made that will mean one of the greatest things for the people of Sanford. Rev. Fr. Huntington, Superior of the Order of the Holy Cross is coming to Sanford the latter part of next January to hold a "Mission," which consists of special services and preaching by him every day and night for a period of two weeks. Father Huntington, being one of the most noted and eloquent preachers in America has a nationwide reputation. He is greatly sought after and has a waiting list of appointments for two and three years in advance. The metropolitan churches of New York City, Chicago, Philadelphia and San Francisco as well as other of our largest cities demand his time as well as the time of all the other priests of the Order. Sanford is very fortunate in getting him to come. Announcement of dates and schedules will be made later.

There will be the following services in Holy Cross Church on Wednesday and Thursday of this week as follows: Wednesday, Nov. 1, All Saints' Day, 6:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Nov. 2, All Souls' Day, Requiem Celebration, 6:30 a. m. The birthday bank of Holy Cross Sunday school was opened after "Rally Day" for the third time after its institution three years ago. With the increased and larger Sunday school it was not so surprising that the amount contained was the largest yet. Holy Cross Sunday school is educating a Filipino lad at the Church of S. Mary, Sagada, P. I. by the name of Filiplio.

Temple Services

The services at the Baptist Temple Sunday were unusually well attended, beginning with the Sunday school at 9:30 in the morning and evening with the evening services Sunday evening. The people did not seem to mind the unpleasant weather and the seats were well filled at all services. At the Sunday school Sunday morning especial effort was made to impress those present that were without the church to try to be present at all the evangelistic meetings to be held this week. Dr. Hyman delivered a masterly sermon Sunday evening, outlining in some degree the possible length of eternity, and showing the difference between a life with Christ and a life without Christ. This message was merely a forerunner of the meetings that are being conducted at the Temple this week, and was received and appreciated by the large audience. Dr. Owens of Humboldt, Tenn., assisted by the pastor is now conducting a ten days series of evangelistic services at the Temple. Seating arrangements have been made that will easily and comfortably seat over four hundred people, special ushers have been provided and all the people in the community are especially and cordially invited to take part in the meetings.

The Pirates nearly signed Harry Wolter, once the Yankee's center fielder, two weeks ago.

Fleider Jones has cut loose from another Brownie player. He sent Pitcher Bill Fincher to Memphis, in the Southern League.

Edlie Plank is a patient bloke, even if he did have to wait until he was forty-one years old before he became an Iron man.

Garry Herrmann, president of the Reds, is the proprietor of an open air concert garden in Cincinnati and is making money.

Artie Butler, St. Louis Cardinal shortstop, will be sent to Los Angeles next spring in exchange for Pitcher Oscar Horstman.

That Del Howard, Oakland manager, will protect the signing of Ted Easterly, catcher, by Salt Lake, is expected in Coast league circles.

Speaking of names, there's Rowdy Elliott's. After looking him over, the Cubs dubbed him Bunny. He is almost as ferocious as a rabbit.

In an effort to bolster up the pitching staff of the Reds, Christy Mathewson has sounded the recall of Stanley Dougan of Salt Lake City.

SAFETY FIRST

WHICH MEANS THAT PEOPLE SHOULD GUARD THEIR HEALTH

The advice has become more valuable since it has been coined into the popular slogan. It has been placed in public places every where as an ever present reminder to everybody who can read; street car drivers have it impressed upon them constantly—in fact, it is emphasized everywhere for the prevention of physical accident and mishap to human beings.

Isn't it about time that we give a wider application and make to safeguard human life and health against mistakes and accidents and blunders and ignorance which prevent or cause disease?

Accidents happen, usually, through lack of foresight. Most accidents are unnecessary because they might be prevented. Blunders and ignorance, which result in accident are inexcusable.

Apply these generalities to the occurrence of disease among human beings. One-third of the deaths probably more than one-third in Florida are from preventable diseases. One third of the babies born in Florida don't reach voting age one quarter die before they are ten years old, and one in five don't reach his first birthday. Such a wastage is frightful, all the more frightful because it isn't necessary.

Preventable diseases are called preventable, because their cause are known; each particular disease germ and its method of transmission, its life history and the means to prevent its ravages are all known, and how to control these ravages. Because they are not controlled through carelessness, neglect or ignorance does not change the result, and such neglect and ignorance is come inexcusable. There is no consolation to the weeping wife or mother or father in the demoralizing fact that the lost one might have been saved by simple precaution through a little easily acquired information that was offered, free in air.

The awful death rate among children—young children—is due largely to two general causes—unhygienic parentage or to criminal incapacity or ignorance attending childbirth. More than one half of the blindness in the United States is caused by the neglect of simple precautions at birth, administered to counteract the effect of venereal disease of either parent.

No law has ever been written in the statute books of Florida to prevent marriage of persons, man or woman, who are contaminated by disease transmissible to the next generation. Popular sentiment is not yet ready to sanction that. The law demands proof of the physical fitness of any person to marry. Safety for unborn generations cannot be secured through such regulations—not yet—and the possible evil results of parental impurity must be, and can be to a larger degree, counteracted in either ways and by other means.

Typhoid fever can be prevented, and malaria and tuberculosis, as well as certainly as yellow fever and small pox and bubonic plague. Medical science has not yet advanced to the reasonably sure control of all diseases, even of those which are more or less common in the United States, but classified knowledge, which is the concrete product of science, is sufficient to reduce Florida's death rate from approximately 15.5 per 1,000 per annum by one-third, and with a ratio between 11 and 11 per thousand, Florida would be the most healthful and inviting country of equal area on this terrestrial globe.

DIAMOND NOTES

Fleider Jones says he has a star in "Hank" Severid, catcher.

Lee Hobbs, the young shortstop the Reds secured from Dayton, looks like the goods.

The battling of Larry Doyle this year is a joke. Last year he topped the National League.

Speaking of strikes reminds us that the best kind are those you make on a bowling alley.

The Pirates nearly signed Harry Wolter, once the Yankee's center fielder, two weeks ago.

Fleider Jones has cut loose from another Brownie player. He sent Pitcher Bill Fincher to Memphis, in the Southern League.

Edlie Plank is a patient bloke, even if he did have to wait until he was forty-one years old before he became an Iron man.

Garry Herrmann, president of the Reds, is the proprietor of an open air concert garden in Cincinnati and is making money.

Artie Butler, St. Louis Cardinal shortstop, will be sent to Los Angeles next spring in exchange for Pitcher Oscar Horstman.

That Del Howard, Oakland manager, will protect the signing of Ted Easterly, catcher, by Salt Lake, is expected in Coast league circles.

Speaking of names, there's Rowdy Elliott's. After looking him over, the Cubs dubbed him Bunny. He is almost as ferocious as a rabbit.

Shower for Rest Room

Under the auspices of the Welfare Department, a rest room will be maintained this season in the court house block with Madam Harriet in charge. The room is being papered and painted and while not yet completely furnished will be ready for opening tomorrow (Wednesday). The public are cordially invited to visit the rest room in which comfortable chairs and couches will be found. Tea and sandwiches will be served for a modest sum and an exchange will be conducted. Within the next ten days there will be a shower for the equipment of the rest room at which time, the committee hope there will be a generous response in articles suitable to fully furnish the room. In connection with the shower will be a cooked food sale. Salads, cakes and home made delicacies will be sold. Mrs. Harry Pilkington is chairman of the rest room committee.

Personal Mention

Mrs. Fred Wilmot spent the week end in Tampa, combining business with pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Peterson of Romney, West Virginia, who have been visiting Mrs. J. C. Cowan on Crescent Heights left Friday for Sanford City, where they will spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Eldridge arrived last week from Dilwyn, Va., to spend the winter in Sanford as usual.

Miss Helen Shelton who is attending school at Rollins College came home on Saturday for the week end.

A congenial party that motored to Orlando last Thursday for a day's shopping were Mrs. L. M. Telford, Mrs. Carraway, Mrs. J. W. Coleman, Mrs. Will Hoolihan and Mrs. J. F. Hoolihan.

St. Agnes Guild

A very delightful meeting of St. Agnes Guild was held Monday afternoon with Rev. Arthur Searing Peck assisted by his mother, Mrs. Peck, at the rectory. Plans were made and date settled for the play that will be given early in December for the organ fund. Miss Gretchen Schultz will direct and coach the cast. The Guild presented Mr. Peck with a check for three hundred dollars to be applied on the Pipe Organ Fund. Those present were Mrs. Archie Betts, Mrs. Takach, Mrs. Fry, Misses Gretchen and Olga Schultz, Saidee Williams and Charlotte Hand. The next meeting will be with Miss Hand.

Surprise Party

Miss Margaret Davis was the gracious hostess at a delightful dinner party on Saturday, evening in honor of the birth day of Miss Marian Gove. Green and gold blended harmoniously in an attractive color scheme which was effectively carried out in the dainty appointments of the table. The birthday cake with its lighted tapers graced the center of the table, surrounded by asparagus fern. Two silver candlesticks with their golden shades stood sentinel on each side of the cake, extinguishing the candles afforded the guests a merry time. Enjoying the charming hospitality of their hostess were besides the guest of honor, Misses Helen Hand Ruth Hand, Lucille Hines; Messrs. George McLaughlin, Henry Purdon, Kenneth Murrell, Roby Laing and Mr. Gregory. Music and games were enjoyed throughout the evening.

At the Woman's Club

At the regular meeting of the Woman's Club tomorrow afternoon an interesting report of the Biennial meeting which was held in New York in May will be given by Mrs. Wm. Stephens and Mrs. Browne of Deland. It is through these reports and the visits of members and officers from other clubs that we get inspiration and fresh enthusiasm. Also owe a courtesy to the women who accept the club invitations to give us of their time and interest and should greet them with a large attendance. Our president, Mrs. Galloway urges that every member of the club be present tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock at the Woman's Club.

Cecilian Music Club

There was a large attendance and most enjoyable program given almost entirely by the little folk members at the Cecilian Music Club meeting at Mrs. Munson's studio on Saturday afternoon. Each number was rendered in an easy and finished style especially notable from the little folks was the six handed duet played on the piano and a number arrangement by Mary Elizabeth Puleston and Olive Newman.

Mrs. R. C. Maxwell's readings were a delightful ending to the afternoon's musicale. Her selections were chosen by the younger club members in keeping with the larger part of the program. Her natural and talkative manner in interpretation of child story was most pleasing. Mrs. Munson gave an informal talk on Charles Wakefield Cadman with her usual grace and impressive manner. The program follows:

Bennett—Dean

Wednesday at the home of her parents—Miss Hazel Viola Dean became the wife of Mr. Edgar Henry Bennett of Sanford. The marriage ceremony was performed at noon in the presence of a few intimate friends and the immediate members of the family.

A few minutes before twelve the guests assembled in the parlor which was a bower of ferns and handsome pot plants. The mantelpiece was banked with white roses, and a large white wedding bell was suspended from an arch which had been constructed of asparagus ferns and delicate white jessamine.

On the stroke of twelve Rev. Father Golden took his place and a moment later the bridal party entered the room. The bride in a beautiful crepe de chine gown and carrying a shower bouquet of white roses, asparagus ferns and tulle leaned on the arm of her father. Next came the groom in conventional black and Mr. Deems Herring, who was the best man, followed by Miss Theresa Dean, the maid of honor, in a charming white gown with corsage bouquet of pink roses. The bride and groom elect with their attendants took their places beneath the arch and the priest proceeded with the marriage ceremony of the Catholic church.

Immediately after the ceremony all repaired to the dining room where a bountiful wedding repast was served. The room was artistically decorated in pink and white. An immense basket of pink roses formed the centerpiece from which emanated festoons of pink and white ribbons reaching to the corners of the room. Garlands of pink roses and asparagus fern were draped over the windows while the mantel and buffet were decorated with masses of the same pink roses.

After receiving the congratulations and good wishes of the guests

Goblins Were There

Yes, the goblins were there sure enough, twelve of them! Ghostly, spookey, with cold, clammy hands whose clasp gave one the shivers and those twelve goblins persisted continuously in shaking hands. It was creepily awful but the ghosts survived the ordeal and Mrs. Abernathy, at whose charming home the Halloween silver tea was given has scored another success as the originator of novel entertainments.

Guests were received at the door by a black clothed witch with streaming hair, and just within were eleven ghosts, white robed and moaning and groaning in an agony of the spirit and then! an introduction to the "dear departed" in a tomb like cell! Ghosts poured tea and ghosts served refreshments but it was lots of fun and everyone present rather enjoyed the ghostly ministrations. The decorations were quite in keeping with the Halloween idea for festoons of black and yellow draped the ceilings and jack o lanterns hung from the chandeliers and shaded the lights. Cosmos and other yellow flowers were used in profusion. In the dining room where refreshments were served, small Jac aaaaaa surrounded a tall vase of cosmos upon a reflector. Broad bands of yellow crossed the center over the handsome drawn work cover.

Robbing for apples was a ludicrous contest between the ghosts, while for the guests at large there was a square of white, a needle black thread with which to "sew" cat. Heroic efforts were made but to Mrs. W. P. Carter fell the honor of outlining a real, symmetrical figure of the Carter cat, at least she said it was, thereby winning a bouquet of garden flowers. Mrs. J. K. Mettinger drew the "What is it?" or guinea pig or ground hog or something, and was given a black cat equally peculiar in construction for the booby prize. Mrs. Carter's delight was expressed in one long cat-a-wail, lustily echoed by those blessed ghosts who were Mrs. H. H. Hill, Mrs. L. P. Hagan, Mrs. Geo. Watson, Mrs. Zeb Rathiff, Mrs. W. S. Thornton, Mrs. C. H. Smith, Mrs. Tom Williams, Mrs. Fields, Mrs. Fort and Miss Nellie Elder, with Mrs. Telford a gentleman ghost and Mrs. John T. Brady, the "dear departed." The witch was cleverly impersonated by Mrs. S. O. Shinholaer. A pleasing program of music was rendered by Mrs. A. Phillips, Mrs. Claude Herndon, the "dear departed" and Miss Virginia Brady.

Pipe Organ Society

The Pipe Organ Society met with Miss Edith Stewart yesterday afternoon, spending the hours pleasantly with needlework and planning for an entertainment to be given the latter part of November for the pipe organ fund. Other present beside the hostess were Mrs. James Taylor, Mrs. W. C. Bray, Mrs. W. E. Betts, Mrs. M. Maines, Mrs. M. M. Stewart, Mrs. Robert Rows; Miss Jeanette Laing, Martha Fox, Clara Millen, Minnie Stewart. Guests of the society were Mrs. G. R. Bernreuter and Miss Ella Dillon.

Mr. Adam Mettinger arrived from the north on Friday with his granddaughters, Mrs. W. L. Morgan and Miss Ruth Mettinger.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hill arrived home yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Hill will be remembered as Miss Anna Le Gette.

Mrs. Ernest Molnar recently of Baltimore is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Takach at the Pico.

Mrs. G. R. Bernreuter of Perry, Fla., is visiting her cousin, Miss Martha Fox.

Mrs. Wood arrived from New York on Monday to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Dickens.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Barn who have been the guests of Mrs. John Melach have gone to housekeeping in the Johnson house on French avenue.

Madam Harriet has returned to Sanford after an absence of several months and will have charge of the rest room on Park avenue, where she will be glad to see her many friends.

Mr. A. B. Wallace was one of those attending the football game between Tennessee and Florida at Tampa on Saturday.

Mrs. George Upchurch who has been visiting Mrs. Geo. Shipp is now the guest of her mother, Mrs. Lewis at Longwood.

Miss Bessie Long has returned from a visit of several months with friends at Athens, Ga.

Success
My boy, seek not the easy path
To get to wealth or fame,
But earn your way in work or play—
Be worthy of your name.
He cannot keep his honors long
Who wins them by deceit,
And soon or late the demon Fate
"Dethrones the cunning cheat."

Success is not a sudden thing—
It comes not over night,
Though you may see what seems to be

The victor in the fight,
And know that little has he toiled,
His downfall is begun.
His gold is brass, his fame will pass,
If they're not fairly won.

The road is long and hard and rough
That leads to lasting joy;
Time quickly stains what cunning gains—

Remember that, my boy!
And you must earn by honest toil
Whatever you'd possess,
'Tis from the heart that you must start

A recent investigation made by the United States public health service in connection with studies of rural-school children, showed that 19.3 per cent had defective teeth, 21.1 per cent had two or more missing teeth and only 16.9 per cent had had dental attention. More than 14 per cent never used a toothbrush, 58.2 per cent used one occasionally, and only 27.4 per cent used one daily. Defective teeth reduce physical efficiency. Dirty, suppurating, snaggle toothed mouths are responsible for many cases of heart disease, rheumatism and other chronic afflictions. The children are not responsible for the neglected state of their teeth. The ignorant and careless parent is to blame for this condition—a condition which hampers mental and physical growth and puts a permanent handicap on our future citizens, school teachers can do and are doing much in inculcating habits of personal cleanliness on the rural school child, but this will fail of the highest accomplishment unless parents cooperate heartily and continuously. This is a duty which we owe to our children.

I understand that the man who ran into the horse and wagon of Prof. Maris the other day was careless in his driving and this brings to mind the fact that about nine tenths of the auto drivers today are careless. They round the corners of this city without ever thinking of blowing their horns or giving the other vehicles a chance. Another bad thing is the bright lights of the average auto at night. They have as large a light as they can get and the glare of these lights blind the other cars, vehicles and pedestrians on the roads and streets and all drivers should be forced to use dimmers or other appliances in the city and on the country roads. No automobile feeds the bright glare that they now possess. In the old days the oil burner allowed them to keep the road all right but as the auto progressed the owners demanded brighter lights and now they want a light that will throw a glare for a mile down the road. The city and county officials should make the car owners dim the lights and avoid accidents.

The hospital is about as live a subject as the Catts-Knott controversy and the board of aldermen do not seem to want to handle this question all by their lonesome. The hospital is not always a dividend payer in various cities and prove to be white elephants before the tax payers are done with them. It seems that the initial cost of a hospital is like the initial cost of an auto. One does not get started good on the paying end of an auto until after he has run one for several months and the compound interest of the cost of upkeep stares him in the face every month. The hospital is the same thing according to other cities who have one and for this reason the city council are shy of the project and would like to have the people vote on the question of whether they want this burden or not. This is wise on the part of said aldermen.

SWERINGEN SPEAKS HERE

Ex-Mayor of Jacksonville Drew Large Crowd for Catts
Hon. Van C. Swearingen, ex-mayor of Jacksonville made an address here last Saturday night and had one of the largest crowds that have gathered here during the campaign on the second round for Governor. Mr. Swearingen spoke in behalf of Sidney J. Catts and unlike the meetings here in the interest of Knott and other candidates the crowd was very orderly and no one interrupted the speaker, demonstrating that those who are continually trying to break up political meetings here have either been warned by the police or have been heartily ashamed of themselves and decided to cease their horse play.

Mr. Swearingen is a most forceful speaker and during the course of his remarks roasted the lawyers, the state executive committee, Knott and the Knott men, the Catholics and in fact every one that is not a Catts supporter. He did not give the crowd any inside information upon the subject of the recount other than what has been put out before and his tirade against Knott did not make any votes. In fact, if the hired speakers who come here for both Knott and Catts would cease calling Knott and Catts names the average voter would be able to judge the men much better. What the voter wants is facts and he has not been able to get them as yet. The Catts men call Knott names and attempt to prove that he stole the nomination and the Knott speakers call Catts a gruffer and attempt to prove that he is not the nominee but the majority of the speakers use innuendo instead of facts and the non partisan voter is left with his mind beclouded as before.

BIG BOMB EXPLODED

Attempt of Executive Committee Minority Falls Flat

Jacksonville, Oct. 28.—The widely advertised meeting of the minority members of the state Democratic executive committee was held in this city this morning. The committee did not meet in the customary meeting place of the committee as had been announced in the published stories, but gathered in the Catts Campaign Headquarters. It was indeed a minority meeting. Two members of the committee and three proxies were present. Resolutions were adopted calling for the state committee to render an accounting of the expenditure in the fund in the hands of the committee's treasurer. The state committee will not pay any attention to the demand. There are fifty two members of the committee. At the last meeting Mr. Catts was able to render eleven votes, at today's meeting, which was a fizzle, he had but five votes, three of them being proxies. Gen. P. Raney, chairman of the state committee issued the following statement demanding the ludicrous demands of the "Minority."

At the August meeting of the state Democratic executive committee the accounts of Mr. R. L. Eaton, Treasurer were examined, audited and approved by a sub-committee appointed for that purpose. On September 9th, 1916 Mr. Eaton, the treasurer of the committee published in the Tampa Daily Times an itemized statement of all receipts and expenditures, June 12th, 1912 to August 12th, 1916 showing a cash balance on hand of $3,204.22. By reason of the fact that the meeting of the state committee held on August 7th was the fourth during the present year it was ordered that the actual traveling expenses of each member of the committee in attendance at the last meeting should be paid by the treasurer. Some of the members have not yet availed themselves of this but I presume that the cash in the treasury was thereby reduced several hundred dollars.

Section 29 of the primary election law authorized the use of money in the treasury for the purpose of meeting legitimate expenses and maintaining the party organization and the state campaign committee will, of course, pay no attention to the ridiculous demands set forth in the resolutions adopted by two members of the committee and three proxies. At the next regular meeting the accounts of the treasurer will of course again be audited as usual. As much of the money on hand will be used as the state committee deems advisable for the purpose of meeting the expenses of this campaign, certainly the support of the Democratic candidates when they are assailed by independents and Republicans is necessary to the proper maintenance of the party organization.

It was a minority meeting all right—the eleven votes which Mr. Catts was able to muster on October 7th dwindled to two with three proxies today. Of course it is apparent to every one that the so-called "meeting" of the minority committee was the cheapest sort of politics—not intended in good faith to ask for any accounting, but concocted by a few members of the committee who are opposing the Democratic candidate for Governor, and who have thereby forfeited their right to participate in affairs of the Democratic party.

Livestock Institute Will Occupy Four Days

The Livestock Institute which will be held at the University of Florida, Gainesville, in January has been extended one day. It was formerly scheduled for three days but owing to the greater interest stockmen have shown, it will cover four days, January 16 to 19 inclusive.

John M. Scott, animal industrialist to the Experiment Station will have charge of the program. He will have a tentative plan of the meeting ready within the next few weeks. Tick eradication is one of the most important and interesting subjects before livestock raisers at present and it will receive considerable attention during the Institute.

Forage crops will be another important topic for discussion. It is well known that better feeds will be supplied when ticks have been driven out. Better animals will be raised, and stockmen realize that it will be to their interest to provide better grades of feed.

Other topics of timely interest will be discussed. Some of the best livestock men of the state and nation will attend the meeting and give lectures. These meetings will be in position to give valuable suggestions and no stockman can afford to miss the meeting, since in no other way will he be able to obtain or command such information.

Truckers to Have Special Crop Estimate Agent

The work of the Bureau of Crop Estimates in Florida will be reorganized within the next few months. A special agent will be detailed to the state during the trucking season. This agent will follow the trucking season up the coast through Georgia, the Carolinas and Virginia, after the season is over in Florida. C. C. Hare, field agent for Florida, has been made special agent for citrus fruits. Mr. Hare was informed of the changes during a recent visit of Nat C. Murray, assistant chief of the Bureau, to the University of Florida. The Bureau will report citrus estimates in boxes hereafter. Mr. Hare will have charge of the entire work of the state, but other crops will occupy only a small part of his time. The truck crops agent will relieve him of that part of the work.

The truck crops agent will be able to give more detailed information on the production of vegetables than the growers have ever received before. He will be a specialist in that branch of agriculture and he will have no other crops to handle. With Mr. Hare spending at least 90 per cent of his time on citrus crops, growers will receive more valuable reports than they have ever had. Under the new method of estimating the growers will be able to interpret the reports more intelligently.

Lung Worms Prevalent in Florida Hogs

Lung worms are quite prevalent among Florida hogs. According to Dr. A. H. Logan, veterinary field agent for the Bureau of Animal Industry, who is stationed at the University of Florida, the worms are spread through the discharge of eggs from the nostrils of infested hogs during coughing. The eggs, coming in contact with the feed or water, find entrance to the system, either before or after hatching, through the digestive tract. They may reinfect the same animal or other hogs.

They are hard to eradicate, once they have gained entrance to the body, and consequently prevention and sanitation are the best remedies. Dr. Logan advises against feeding or pasturing a large number of animals together. The pastures should be rotated frequently, and it is advisable to cultivate and seed them if possible. All grass, leaves and other material used for bedding should be raked and burned once a week. The surface of sleeping quarters and pens should be sprinkled liberally with air-slacked lime.

The feeding troughs should be washed once a week with strong water, rinsed thoroughly and placed on the fence to sun. Automatic warerers, which can be attached to a barrel are satisfactory and sanitary.

Spray the pens once a month with a 3 per cent solution of some of the creolin products. Add sufficient lime to show where the spray has been applied.

In case of infestation the following is suggested: 1 teaspoonful spirits of turpentine for a 100 pound hog, given in a little moist chop, thoroughly mixed, once a day for three days; withheld six days and repeat even a third or fourth time if necessary. Do not give turpentine to pregnant sows.

Farm Loans Will be Based on Earning Power of Land

The loans which will be granted on farms under the Federal Farm Loan Act will be based largely on the earning power of the land. According to a lecture by Senator Duncan U. Fletcher before the Citrus Seminar at the University of Florida, loans will be made up to 50 per cent of the value of the land. The land will be appraised to determine its true value. In many cases appraisers will be unable to assess the true value of the land. Respective borrowers should make an inventory of their property and then keep an accurate set of books so that the real earning power can be determined. This is the only way in which to learn what the farm is earning. With such records the farmer can receive a just valuation and show definitely the results he has obtained.

Whether or not a farmer intends to join a loan association, records will be invaluable to him. In no other way can he know what his capital is earning or what particular part of his equipment is not paying dividends. A system of bookkeeping is as necessary for intelligent farmers as it is for the conduct of any other business.

Replant Unthrifty Strawberries

Strawberries may be planted up to November 10 almost anywhere in Florida with the assurance of a good crop from them, according to A. P. Spencer, district agent for the University of Florida Extension Division. Plants that have not made satisfactory growth after three weeks from planting should be replanted.

Unless they do make a vigorous growth within this early period after planting they will not likely give a good crop. The date given is the latest probably at which it is safe to set even replants. Growers who have set their main crop should go over the field and replace any that are not thriving before it is too late. The plants should be cultivated until frost to conserve moisture. Growers in strawberry sections offer the best sources for plants, since they usually know the best varieties and will furnish good plants.

FOOT BALL FRIDAY

Sanford and Kissimmee Will Try Their Strength

One of the best games of the season will be played here next Friday. We should have at least 500 people to attend the football game between the Sanford High School and the Kissimmee High School Friday, Nov. 3 at Holden Park.

So far as we know this is the only remaining game to be played in Sanford by our boys, the other games will be played in the towns of their opponents.

Against a team of much heavier and more experienced fellows the Sanford team held St. Augustine to a single touch down, and with an even showing as to weight they will certainly give the spectators their money's worth of real football.

Owing to the bad weather, the Association lost $50.00 on the Augustine game, and the patronage for this remaining game must make up the deficit.

LeGette-Hill Wedding at Naylor
The marriage of Miss Anne Sara LeGette and Mr. William Charles Hill of Sanford, Fla., was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 3:10 at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Lola LeGette at Naylor.

The ceremony was performed in the parlor by Rev. Dixon, of the Methodist churches of Naylor and Milltown. White and yellow formed a lovely color scheme. Tall palms and ferns were used as a background for the wedding party while mantels and cabinets held graceful baskets of fluffy yellow chrysanthemums shaded by tulle bows. Pink and green formed a contrasting color note in the hall where the presents were displayed. Roses and ferns were combined with pleasing effect and windows and doorways were outlined with southern smilax.

Mrs. John Stewart LeGette of Albany played the wedding march and the bride's only attendant was Blanche Rose of this city, who preceded her into the parlor where the ring ceremony took place. An informal reception was held and at the close of the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Hill left on a motor trip to points of interest on the east coast of Florida. They will be at home at Sanford, Fla., after November 2.

The bride was girlishly pretty in a purple velour coat suit with hat to match. Touches of gray on the hat and gray boots and gloves formed a charming contrast. Her waist was of flesh georgette trimmed with yellow beads and she carried a bouquet of bride's roses with valley lily shower.

Blanche Rose wore a lovely frock of blue taffeta trimmed with pink rosebuds and her slippers were pink.

Mrs. Hill was a popular member of the college set while attending the South Georgia Normal here. She is a niece of Mrs. E. P. Rose and made her home with Dr. and Mrs. E. P. Rose while a student in this city.

Mr. Hill is a prominent hardware and lumber man of Sanford, Fla., and has numbers of friends there who will extend a cordial welcome to Mrs. Hill.

Among the out of town guests, at the wedding were Dr. and Mrs. E. P. Rose and family of this city, Mr. and Mrs. J. Stewart LeGette and Mr. Howard LeGette of Albany, Ga., Mr. E. F. LeGette of Nashville, Tenn., Mr. Lawrence LeGette of Lakeland, Fla., and Miss Lila Thomas of this city.

Mrs. W. A. Smith, Mrs. E. P. Rose, Mrs. J. S. LeGette and Miss Lila Thomas assisted in receiving. —Valdosta Times, Valdosta, Ga.

Hallowe'en Masquerade Party

The first of the Hallowe'en festivities was given on Saturday evening by Mrs. Zeb Ratliff, in honor of her young sister, Miss Mollie Abernathy; the event being a costume masquerade party, in which the young people were cleverly disguised.

Spanish beauties flirted with a handsome matador while fascinating Dutch maidens jostled celebrities of other nationalities and a black cat, quite an original costume, just yowled and sputtered at modern young ladies and the yellow kid, adapted to Hallowe'en models. A charming little lassie winning one of the costume prizes was James Nite Schaal, while Florence Henry won the other. Winning prizes in the contest were Frank Purdon first and Anna Mason the booby prize. Apple bobbing and various Hallowe'en games were played and refreshments typical of the season were served.

The decorations carried out the Hallowe'en idea. The color note of black and yellow contrasting with the vivid costumes of the gay young merry-makers. Laughter, fun and frolic marked the passing hours. Assisting Mrs. Ratliff were Mrs. Abernathy, Mrs. Geo. Watson, Mrs. Ed Lane and Mrs. Fred Fort. Enjoying the gracious hospitality of their hostess were Misses Eleanor Herring, Florence Henry, Ethel Henry, Serita Lake, Dorothy Rumph, Martha Brown, Weima Graves, Vera Terheun, Esther Miller, Helen Gonzales, Ellen Chappell, Helen Shelton, Helen Peck, Carolyn Spencer, Mollie Abernathy, Elizabeth Steinmyer, Robert Holly, Joe Gonzales, Lee Peck, Alfred Robson, Leslie Roller, Walter Connelly, Hawkins Connelly, Henry McLaulin, John Musson, Frank Purdon, Waverly Abernathy, LeClare Irwin and James Nite Schaal.

Four Score Years and Seven

A charming occasion of Friday afternoon was a gathering of friends at the home of Mrs. Henry Wight, who entertained in honor of her father, Dr. L. B. Bouchelle in celebration of his eighty-seventh birthday. Few would ever guess that the genial Doctor had attained such an advanced age for he is hale and hearty and popular with a host of friends both old and young, by whom he is held in high esteem and who deem it an honor and privilege to call him friend.

Mrs. Wight and her daughter, Miss Margaret Wight met their guests informally in the reception hall, while Dr. Bouchelle received congratulations and greeted his friends in the parlor.

The autumn season was suggested in the attractive arrangements. Little green booklets adorned with autumn leaves and inscribed "The Book of Ages," contained within its covers a guessing contest whose words included ages and was the original poetry of the hostess. Souvenirs of the happy occasion that will be treasured by the owners for their originality and personal association. A potted plant with autumn colorings further suggested the season and was won by Mrs. R. A. Terheun.

In the dining room where a seated luncheon was served, red and green were combined effectively, with place cards of autumn leaves. The perfectly appointed table was centered by a brass candelabra which held a row of red candles, while red candles burned in their brass candlesticks on the mantel and sideboard. Eighty-seven red candles, burning brightly, formed a pyramid of glowing beauty upon the sideboard and also, while jokes and anecdotes, repartee and laughter passed from one of the other gathered about the hospitable board, a pretty incident was the presentation of the "candle to grow on" by the tiniest member of the family, Dr. Bouchelle's great grand daughter, little Billy Bouchelle Wight. Four generations of the family were represented at the feast, the guest of honor at the head of the table, his daughter, Mrs. Wight who presided at the coffee urn; Miss Margaret Wight serving refreshments and Miss Billy Bouchelle Wight who shared attentions and admiration with her great grandfather. Guests departed reluctantly, with warmest good wishes for the doctor, several expressing the wish that he would grow younger with each succeeding year. Enjoying the honor of being present upon this delightful occasion were Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pattin, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Berry, Mrs. J. D. Davison and Mrs. R. A. Terheun.

Daughters of Wesley

Mrs. Grover Spearing delightfully entertained the Daughters of Wesley on Thursday evening at her home on Sanford Heights. Plans were completed for the bazaar and supper which will be given by the class Nov. 25th. Following the business period an enjoyable social time was spent with games and refreshments. Present were, Mrs. J. D. Roberts, Mrs. T. D. Hayes, Mrs. Dwight Babbitt, Mrs. Brown and Misses Bessie Zachary, Laura Lee, Edna Middleton, Lola Evans, Elizabeth Musson, Gertrude Brown and Albine Frank.

Birthday Musicale

Mrs. C. H. Smith and Mrs. W. S. Thornton charmingly entertained at the home of the former on Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Smith's birthday, although this latter fact
