

School For Adults To Open Sept. 8

The evening Adult High School which meets at Seminole High School, Sanford, will open at 7 p. m., September 8, 1964.

An organizational meeting will be held at that time to determine what classes will be offered. Present plans call for courses in English I, II & III, U. S. History, Civics, General Mathematics, Algebra I & II, and General Science. Additional courses will be offered if there are as many as 15 persons interested in each course.

The instructors will be Harold Heckenbach, principal of Pinescrest School; Archie Cannon of the Seminole High faculty; and Ralph Brewer of the Lyman High faculty. The enrollment fee is $2.00.

Laundry

Laundry isn't strictly a woman's job. Ask the Army, Navy, Marines. Since males take to machinery and precision-products, why not to a washer and dryer? Male patronage at self-service laundries is enormous. Look around next time you visit your coin-laundry center. Take a hint, back-to-schoolers—give Mom a hand!

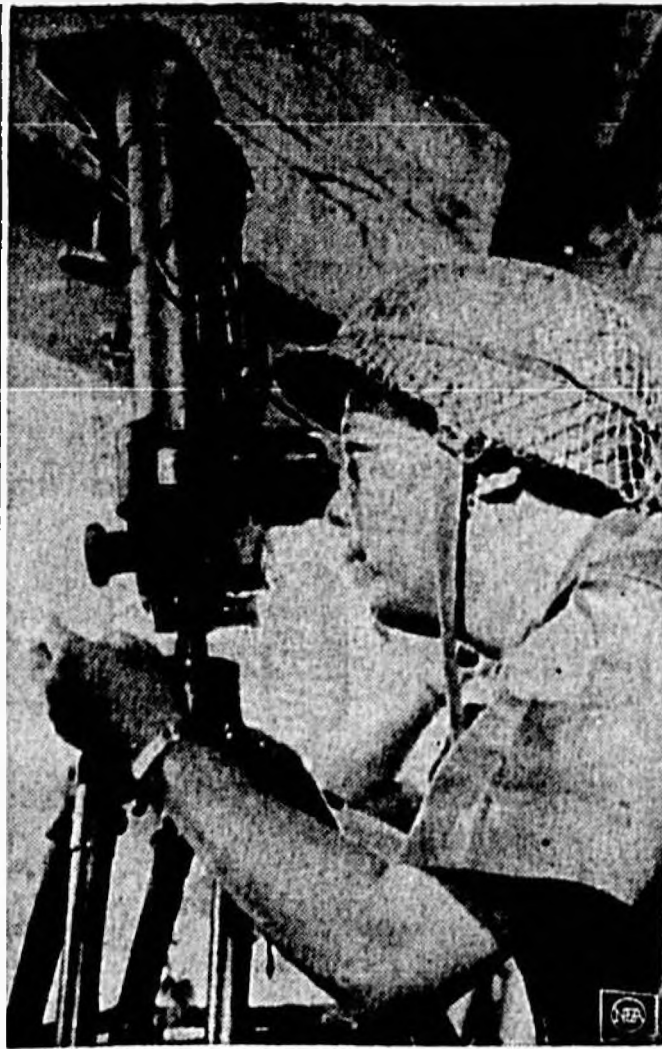

and books are sold to students at cost.

All instructors hold Florida teaching certificates covering the subjects they teach. These courses can be taken for credit leading to an Adult High School Diploma or as a refresher. Credits transferred in from any accredited high school will be accepted.

Jewelry Can Be Practical

A jewelry gift is especially welcome because it's a constant reminder of your love and affection as well as being a practical helper during his school and years afterwards. The Jewelry Industry Council recommends these teenage favorites. A dependable watch is necessary. Another gift is a fine pen and pencil set. A portable typewriter to help him increase marks.

And for the very important business of being well dressed, some personal jewelry of his or her liking. Whatever you choose, a jewelry gift is a memorable gift for school folks and one that will remind them of home and your affection.

Uneducated Today, Unemployed Later

ATLANTA, Ga.—"The uneducated of today are the unemployed of tomorrow," Regional Director Henry A. Huettner of the U. S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions pointed out in reminding employers of the child-labor standards provided in the Fair Labor Standards Act.

"These standards are not intended to keep young people from working," he said, "but are designed to give them an opportunity to get an education in this age of automation. The man who has left high school before graduation will earn an average of $50,000 less during his working lifetime than the high school graduate."

Huettner urged employers to encourage boys and girls with summer jobs to go back to school to equip themselves for a useful and satisfying life. Part-time employment outside school hours is permitted under the Act for 14- and 15-year olds in a variety of jobs, such as sales, office, or clerical work.

Minors in and over may be employed in any occupation other than those found and declared hazardous by the Secretary of Labor. An 18-year age minimum applies to hazardous occupations such as driver or driver's helper on a motor vehicle, elevator operator, logger or sawmill operator, operator of certain power-driven machinery and some excavation work.

Huettner said that employers can protect themselves against unintentional violations of the child-labor provisions by obtaining and keeping on file an age certificate for each minor employed, showing him to be the legal age for the occupation in which he is working.

The Fair Labor Standards Act applies to employment in interstate commerce or in the production of goods for commerce and in certain large enterprises engaging in or producing goods for such commerce.

Additional information about the Act's child-labor provisions may be obtained from the nearest office of the U. S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, located at 219 Carline Building, 12490 N. E. 7th Avenue, North Miami, Florida. Rufus L. Stokes, Supervisor, State labor and school officials will provide information about the state child-labor laws. Huettner said that the higher standards should be observed if federal and state laws differ.

GOOD ADVICE

Always wear glasses when driving if you need them. Be sure that your car mirror or mirrors give you as full rear view vision as possible. If the mirrors are inadequate for this purpose, replace them.

FOOD HELPS

The youngster who leaves for school each day after having eaten a nourishing breakfast stands a better chance of becoming a good student than the one of skips or skimps on this meal.

Nineteen years ago today Japan surrendered to the Allies and World War II ended. It's a happy thought to recall the day hostilities ceased. But there's still that remembrance of the thousands of American men who had made the supreme sacrifice.

Sylvia Williams, Seminole High's head majorette, wants us to recall SHS girls that majorette practice starts at 9 a. m. Monday at the school. She also has invited any girls who have had experience in twirling to try out for positions on the "A" and "B" Corps of the "Twirling Seminoles."

The Sanford Lions have changed their Tuesday noon meeting place to the Lake Monroe Inn, President Howard Hood has announced.

Kiwanis Annual Kids Day this year is going to be something different—something big and exciting. Larry Liberator, former University of Florida Gator quarterback, now with the Orlando Broncos, will be here. In addition there will be a magician, a hill-billy band, and some upcoming predictions and run-throughs by a local football coach. The big event will be held at Municipal Stadium, next Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

Lady Luck has smiled on the Kiwanis Club and they have been able to get clearance for a guided tour through Cape Kennedy. The trip has been set, tentatively for Sept. 2, when the local club will be received at the Cape, loaded on an air-conditioned bus, with an official guide and given the grand tour, right up to the launching pad.

Mrs. Beverly Adams of Sanford became quite disturbed by the news Wednesday that the body of a California youngster found frozen in a box car of honey dew melons in Miami was to be buried in potter's field. The boy's parents were unable to bear the expense of shipping his body back to California. Mrs. Adams made several long distance calls Wednesday morning to see if something could be done to send the body home. A couple of hours after her call to the Miami Chamber of Commerce, United Press International carried the story that South Florida groups had arranged to fly the body back to California. "I don't know if my call had anything to do with it or not," said Mrs. Adams when The Herald notified her after she had earlier phoned the newspaper. But she added, "If something hadn't been done I was going to phone the Governor."

City Gets Fund Requests From Two C. Of Cs.

By Dottie Austin
City Editor

Sanford City Commissioners, expecting to wind up budget hearings Thursday night had a scheduled appearance of members of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce with a request for funds, was followed by an uncheduled request from the Sanford Chamber, also requesting funds.

The Seminole County Chamber, assembling an impressive delegation of committee chairmen was led by President Karlyla Housholder. The group requested an additional appropriation of $5,000 over the allotted $10,000 already budgeted.

No money had been budgeted for the Sanford Chamber, but they also put in a request for $5,000.

The Seminole County Chamber presented the chairman of each committee who outlined the activities of their group over the past year and their plans for the future.

Primary item which sparked the request for additional funds is a huge 12 foot by 40 foot highway billboard to be installed at ten locations on major highways all over Florida. The billboard advertises "Sanford, on the St. John's River, the Nile of America."

Commissioners, openly impressed with the billboard sign, which they declared "beautiful" . . . "impressive" unanimously expressed themselves in favor of the added appropriation, "if we can find the money."

Appearing for the Seminole Chamber to outline past progress and future plans were Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr., chairman of the Armed Forces Committee, who emphasized the importance of the Naval Air Station, with its expansion and improvements and its impact on the economy of the area.

Brack Perkins, Chairman of the Sanford Merchant's Association division of the Chamber, who said that for the first time, the group has full membership of all merchants and needs all the help it can get.

Conservation Week Outlook Brightens

"Florida Conservation Week," a pilot program in Seminole County with the expectation it will become an annual event, is mushrooming into what officials say could be the biggest project of its kind in this county.

Representatives from a variety of state and county agencies as well as city officials met Thursday noon at Jim Spencer's Restaurant to map plans for the week scheduled for Sanford from Oct. 26 to Oct. 31.

Heading the local effort is the Sanford Chamber of Commerce. Officials conferred with leaders of state groups and planned a full schedule of exhibits, demonstrations and "static displays."

The demonstrations will include such fields as tagging fish, fire fighting, tree planting, field trips for Audubon Society members and others interested in this endeavor, nursery displays, movies, art exhibits and many more, officials said.

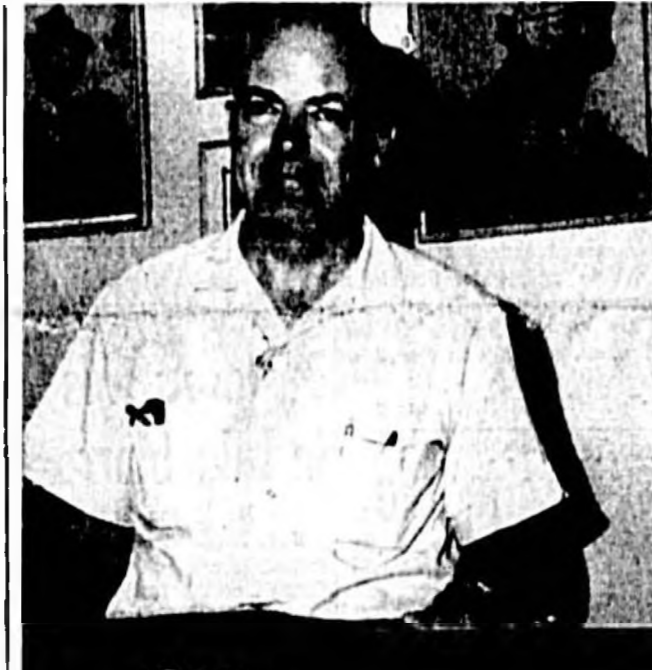

J. H. Sayas of Tallahassee, manager of the Recreation Department of the Florida Development Commission, reported he has received assurances from many state groups that they will participate.

He listed some of these as the Board of Conservation, State Forestry Service, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, State Department of Agriculture, Florida State Museum, Southwest Florida Water Management Commission, the State Audubon Society and Florida Sportsmen's Association.

Many other groups, such as the Women's Club and Garden Club affiliates, have also expressed interest in the program, it was pointed out.

The decision was made to allot each phase of the complex conservation program a definite schedule. These will include physical demonstrations utilizing the lakefront, the Lake Monroe Industrial Park, the Civic Center and its grounds.

Gov. Farris Bryant has proclaimed the Oct. 26-31 period as "Florida Conservation Week" and state officials will watch the success of the lo-

Feasibility Study On Area College Asked

By Julian Stenstrom
Associate Editor

The initial step toward obtaining a community college for the Central Florida area was taken Thursday afternoon when the Seminole County Board of Public Instruction voted to request the State Department of Education to make a feasibility study.

If the study is favorable it could provide the basis upon which Seminole County's legislative delegation could ask for an enabling act during the 1965 session of the Legislature.

R. T. Milwee, superintendent of schools, told the board that if a junior college were to be established the county's portion of the cost of financing the school would be approximately $20,000, or five percent of Seminole minimum foundation funds.

The board also approved a contract with the State Board of Health for the Seminole County Health Department to service the system's schools, inspected new additions to

Seminole Tax Raise Coming

Will taxes be increased for Seminole County residents during the 1964-65 fiscal year?

Yes. Despite the fact that the Board of County Commissioners held the line at 6 mills, taxes will be more during the coming year.

This was the word from Mary Earle Walker, county tax assessor, who today reminded property owners that the county school system's millage was increased from 8.25 to 9.32.

While the 1.07 millage hike affects all taxpayers in the county, actual total increases depend upon where a property owner resides.

Mrs. Walker said that taxpayers living in the Lake Mary fire control district will be assessed at the rate of 15.47 mills which included .15 mills applied only to this area.

Residents in the flood control district will be assessed at a 16.07 millage rate. This includes .75 of a mill for flood control.

Can't Finance 2 CCs, City Says

Sanford City Commissioners, besieged at budget hearing Thursday night by requests from the Seminole Chamber of Commerce and the Sanford Chamber, expressed themselves as being unhappy with the idea of having two chambers paralleling each other, and urged that the two "get together and coordinate their efforts."

"I think their efforts could be coordinated somehow. We don't need two Chambers," said Mayor A. L. Wilson.

"I would like to see the two chambers work together, one a division of the other," said Commissioner J. H. Crapps.

"These two groups are both doing good work, but they are paralleling each other. All of their projects are good, and they have worked hard on them, but the City of Sanford simply cannot support two chambers," said Commissioner Earl Higginbotham.

"All the money has to come from the same place, and we just don't have it," he added.

"I don't see how we can appropriate a separate fund for the Sanford Chamber, but perhaps we can help them along a little with their more worthy projects," said Commissioner Joe Baker.

Trying to find funds for an across-the-board cost-of-living raise for city employes, after hearing the requests from the two chambers, commissioners turned back to begin squeezing the budget a little tighter and instructed City Manager W. E. Knowles to "work it over again."

Knowles said his computer was "red-hot and smoking." Commissioners' early hopes of somehow finding money to a little raise for themselves went glimmering, also.

Final budget hearing will be held on Aug. 24.

"You can quote me as saying," Commissioner Crapps told a Herald reporter with a grin, "we ain't gonna raise no taxes!"

Sanford C. Of C. Asks $5,000

Members of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, led by former mayor, Tom McDonald, making an uncheduled appearance at Sanford City Commission Thursday, asked for an appropriation of $5,000 to be set aside for their needs.

The group proposed that that amount be earmarked, but left in the city's treasury, so that they could present projects which they deemed worthy for the commissioners' approval.

Two projects which the group said it has coming up are a Conservation Week to be held here Oct. 26-31, with dozens of displays set up in the Industrial Park and in the Civic Center. They expect to attract 100,000 persons to the area to view the displays," McDonald said.

The second project is a Sanford display from Jan. 16 to Feb. 16, 1965, at the Florida Showcase in Rockefeller Center in New York. McDonald said that the showcase has been reserved for Sanford at that time.

Commissioner J. H. Crapps and Joe Baker told the Sanford Chamber that they thought the ideas were good and they would try to help underwrite them if possible, but not to the tune of $5,000.

Demo Session, Like GOP, Faces Delegation Seating Problem

Two Southern Groups Seek Recognition

ATLANTA (UPI) — Almost each day brings new tidings that may cause the Democrats some embarrassing moments during their national convention in Atlantic City this month.

Most of the developments involve the status of Negroes and the seating of Negro delegates and in this regard the Democratic convention will not be much different from the GOP convention last month.

The Democrats, practically on the eve of their convention, find themselves faced with such things as a "position statement," and the "Mississippi Freedom Party," and the "Alabama Democratic Conference Inc."

All three forbode trouble. The fact that so many southern governors, and delegates are opposed to the fair employment and public accommodations section of the civil rights laws is sign enough of the handwriting on the wall.

The "Mississippi Freedom Party" is composed mainly of Negroes who have held a state convention and selected a delegation which the group wants seated at the Democratic convention.

The Freedom Party says the regular Democratic Party in Mississippi does not represent Negroes. But the Freedom Party's delegation is composed mainly of Negroes and many whites in Mississippi, to put it mildly, feel such a delegation would not represent them.

And in Mississippi there is seldom a middle road. Now come Alabama Negroes who have formed the "Alabama Democratic Conference Inc." which will send "observers" to the Democratic convention. If the regular 31-member Alabama convention refuses to pledge solid support to President Johnson, then the observers will try to step in and become delegates.

The conflicting positions are apt to end up before the convention's credentials committee chaired by David Lawrence, or perhaps before Georgia Gov. Carl E. Sanders who heads the rules committee.

All this might be termed just more intra-party bickering were it not for the fact that several non-South state delegations have agreed to back a credentials fight on the convention floor to keep the regular Mississippi delegation from being seated.

Rev. McDaniel To Be Guest
By Maryann Miles
The pulpit at Bear Lake Methodist Church will be filled this Sunday by Rev. William McDaniel of Orlando in the absence of the substitute minister, Rev. William Bookman who, with his wife, Susan, is in Emporia, Va., where he will be guest speaker for homecoming services at St. Andrews Methodist Church, his former pastorate.

This week will be the last time for the congregation to meet at Bear Lake Elementary School as services, beginning Aug. 23, will be held from the new church building on Bear Lake Road. Church School will meet at 9:45 a.m. with worship services scheduled at 11 a.m., one-half hour later than has been the previous schedule.

Circle To Have Kitchen Shower
The regular monthly meeting of the Bear Lake Methodist Church WSCS Circle will be held at 8 p.m. next Thursday at the home of Mrs. Johnny Morgan in Sanlando Estates.

Pentecostal Bible School Sets Program

By Donna Estes
Graduation and closing exercises of the Evening Vacation Bible School currently being held at the First Pentecostal Church of Longwood are planned for Saturday beginning at 6:45 p. m.

The program will open with the Salute to the Flag and the Bible and prayer. Each class will present a resume of handiwork and memory work completed.

The Vacation Bible School Choir and Sunshine Choir will present a special program of music and Miss Sibyl Grant will give the graduation message.

Following the ceremonies the audience will adjourn to classrooms to inspect handiwork on display. Refreshments will be served in the annex to conclude the program.

Rev. E. Ruth Grant, pastor, has extended an invitation to parents and friends to attend Saturday's ceremonies.

Day Camp Set For Sunbeams

A day camp for Sunbeams of Central Baptist Church will be held Monday at the home of the Sunbeam director, Mrs. J. H. East, in Lake Mary.

Children between the ages of three through eight years are welcome to attend and should meet at the church at 9 a. m. for transportation.

The day will be spent in study, recreation and worship with the program to tell of work being done by Baptist Missionaries in the United States. Handicraft projects will be made by the children to bring home as reminders of the lessons learned.

Lake Mary VFD To Have Picnic

By Frances Wester
The annual summer picnic for the Volunteer Firemen of Lake Mary, their families, and the members of the Womens Auxiliary and their families, will be held this Sunday, starting as soon after 12 noon as possible, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Abel on Broadmoor Ave.

The women are to bring a covered dish and table service for their family. The men will furnish the fish and hush puppies. Games have been arranged for the group to play and swimming also will be enjoyed during the afternoon.

Groundbreaking Set For New Pastorium

By Donna Estes
Groundbreaking ceremonies to be conducted by Rev. Jack Lindsay, pastor, for the new four bedroom pastorium of Longwood First Baptist Church will take place this Sunday following the morning worship service.

The congregation of the church will assemble on the Oxford Street property on Lake Wildmere to witness the groundbreaking at 12:15 p. m. Construction of an annex to the educational building of the church and of the Love Southern Baptist Mission at Chulota, which is sponsored by the by the Longwood Church, is scheduled to be completed within the next few weeks.

Knights Of Columbus Install New Officers

Film Revival Week Planned At Elder Springs Church

Beginning this Sunday, Elder Springs Baptist Church will launch into a new and different type of Revival, capitalizing on the latest in communication methods. Sound motion pictures will be shown every night next week to communicate the Gospel Story.

Clarence Carter, Film Evangelist of Orlando, will be in charge of the services with Pastor, Billy Hamilton Griffin, leading the music.

Sunday night's film will be "The Tony Fontana Story," the unbelievable yet true story of a famed singer who turned his talent to full time Christian work after suffering an automobile accident in 1957 which brought him to the point of death.

The first Christian dramatic musical ever produced, the 70-minute color movie was two-and-one-half years in the making and presents Fontana's personal testimony, showing to teenagers and adults alike that answer to life and the hereafter is found only in the person of Jesus Christ.

Fontana acquired nationwide success when his hit record, "Cold, Cold Heart," sold more than a million copies. Other hits include "Syncopated Clock," "Bring Back the Thrill" and "Vanity."

Other films scheduled during the week are: Monday, "Centerville A Wake n' Sing;" Tuesday, "Go with Steady;" Wednesday, "Play for Keeps;" Thursday, "The Harvester;" Friday, "The Family That Changed the World;" Saturday, Aug. 22, "The Accuser;" and Sunday, Aug. 23, "In His Steps."

Starting time each day will be 8 p. m. A nursery will be provided for children up to three years old.

The film presentations will be open to the public.

Firemen Face Knotty Problem Involving A Trio Of Nuts

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Five firemen had a knotty problem Thursday: How to remove a nut that a friend put on a cocktail waitress' finger. "It all began when this friend and myself were in a neighborhood bar," said shapely Helen LaRosa. "He saw this big nut on the bar and put it on my finger, saying it was a wedding ring."

"He bet me I couldn't get it off, and he was right. I tried soap and water, butter and soaking it, but it wouldn't come off. When I went to work someone said I should call the fire department."

"I felt like a nut myself," said the brunette. "When all those men with helmets pulled up at the restaurant."

Dove took a spool of thread and wound it tightly around the exposed parts of Miss LaRosa's finger.

"We got these cases with kids all the time," Dole said. "But this was the first time with a 22-year-old girl. Two of my men stood by to hold her in case she fainted and I guess the other two were taking notes."

When the girl's flesh became compressed enough from the tightness of the thread, the nut was removed.

"You should find that guy that put it on and shove it down his throat." Dove assertedly told the girl.

"I think you're right," she said.

State Debt Stands At $484 Million

WASHINGTON — In fiscal year 1963, the state government of Florida took in $630 million in general revenue and paid out $676 million in general expenditures. The state borrowed $68 million and paid off $15 million in indebtedness. State government debt outstanding at the end of fiscal 1963 totaled $484 million, all nonguaranteed long-term debt payable solely from earnings or special earmarked sources.

These figures are from a report on state government finances in 1963 published by the U. S. Commerce Department's Bureau of the Census. State taxes provided $582 million, or 71 per cent of general revenue of Florida; $172 million came from local governments in the state and the federal government, predominantly from the latter; and $68 million was supplied by miscellaneous sources, such as earnings on property and investments, fines, donations, and from charges at state operated educational institutions, athletic contests, hospitals and the like.

The state took in 7.1 per cent more general revenue in fiscal 1963 than in the year before, 8.1 per cent more from taxes, 8.7 per cent more from federal payments, and 22.6 per cent more from charges and miscellaneous sources.

General sales and gross receipts taxes provided $181 million (up 3.3 per cent), license taxes $100 million, and property taxes $22 million.

Florida general revenue for fiscal 1963 was equivalent to $146.85 per capita, somewhat below the 50-state figure of $150.48. Collections from all Florida state tax sources amounted to $104.77 per person, as compared with the 50-state average of $117.81. The state's revenue from the federal government amounted to $28.55 per capita, well below the national average of $41.72.

Of the $676 million total general expenditure of the state in fiscal 1963, $323 million went for education (10.6 per cent more than in 1962), $230 million was for highways (up 42 per cent). Public welfare took $84 million (up 13.9 per cent), and hospitals accounted for $44 million.

The population of Florida on July 1, 1963, was 5,652,000 as estimated by the Bureau of the Census. Total personal income in Florida in calendar 1962, as estimated by the U. S. Department of Commerce, amounted to $11,158 million, or $2,044 per capita. Estimated personal income for all 50 states was $2,363 per capita.

State tax revenue of Florida per $1,000 of personal income was equal to $33.07 as compared with the 50-state average of $50.39 per $1,000.

Casey Has Eye For 'Business' But No Ear For The Bell

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Casey was watching a strawberry blonde as the telephone rang on.

Casey is a loyal Democrat who works at the Capitol and the last thing he would do would be to keep his leader waiting. But Casey did just that and as a result he does not want his real name made public.

The incident occurred Wednesday evening in the caucus room of the old House office building. Casey was a guest, as he often is, at one of the numerous cocktail parties held there.

This was a typically intimate Washington affair: 200 persons were invited to honor the appointment of John P. White of Winchester, Mass., as a deputy assistant secretary of state. About 800 showed up.

Because of the chin-to-chin chatter the telephone ringing behind the horseshoe-shaped committee table was hardly heard.

As the story is told by reliable, but red-eyed, veterans of the capital cocktail circuit, the telephone sounded for at least 15 minutes before Casey stopped ogling the blonde, put down a wittling cracker and anchovy and lifted the receiver.

Caucus room veterans said this was unusual since no one bothers to pick up ringing telephones during a party.

Casey says that the caller asked, "Is Larry O'Brien of the White House there?" O'Brien is the White House congressional liaison man.

Casey glanced at the shoulder-to-shoulder crowd, sighed and agreed to take a look.

After cutting a precarious trail past jutting cigarettes, cappases, Casey returned to the telephone.

"Sorry, I can't find him," Casey said.

He said the caller was patient, telling him, "The switchboard has been trying to get through and no one's been answering the phone. Have Larry call me as soon as possible."

"Well, who is this?" Casey asked.

"This is the President," Casey was told. "Have Larry call me as soon as possible."

Geneva Baptists To Hear Talks By Stenstrom

Julian Stenstrom, who served as student pastor at Geneva Baptist Church while attending Seton University and has often been a visitor at the church since that time, will be guest speaker there this Sunday for both the morning and evening worship services.

Visitors are always welcome at Geneva Baptist and invitation to attend services is extended by the congregation to all interested persons in the community and to those from surrounding areas.

Central Baptist GAs Advance To Maiden

Three members of the Girls Auxiliary of Central Baptist Church, the Misses Barbara Maples, Kathy Hodges and Judy Hodges, recently were promoted to the step of "Maiden" in the advancement system of the organization.

The reviewing council met to hear and grade the girls on reciting and telling the meaning of scripture verses and on other requirements including the watchword, the star ideals, the allegiance, the emblems, reading a mission book, taking part on GA programs and attending meetings.

Each of the requirements must be committed to memory and recited by the girl who advances by promotion.

Members of the reviewing council were Mrs. Maybelle Hayes, WNU president and Mrs. Phyllis Nash, Mrs. Alice Smith and Mrs. Edna Giles, GA director.

Highlights

7:30-8:30 P.M. ABC. Hootenanny. (Rerun) A lively show, with the Brothers Four and the Gateway Trio providing the group folk songs. Bob Gibson and Marilyn Child the solos and a duet, Trini Lopez, the folk-tinged bouncer and Jackie Vernon's Deadpan comedy, the only sobering note.

7:30-8:30 P.M. NBC. The Lieutenant. "A Touching of Hands." (Rerun) The theme of wagging tongues most easily destroying the pure in heart is usually reserved for soap operas, but here it gains stature with an excellently written script and sincere acting far above routine efforts.

8:30-9:30 P.M. CBS. The Defenders. "The Colossus." (Rerun). The performance by guest star Leo Genn in this episode is outstanding in a difficult part. He plays a famed scientist accused of murdering his wife but believing that his status elevates him above laws.

8:30-9 P.M. NBC. Joey Bishop Show. "Joey, Jack Jones and the Genie." (Color) (Rerun). The only way Joey can pass muster as a rock 'n' roller is via a dream sequence, which also gives guest Jack Jones a chance to act.

9-11 P.M. NBC. Saturday Night at the Movies. "The Journey." (Rerun) (Color) Starring Deborah Kerr and Yul Brynner. The supporting cast is important in this tale of refugees from the 1956 Hungarian revolt. Jason Robards Jr., Robert Morley and E. G. Marshall are the refugees, with Brynner playing a stern Russian officer who is melted by another refugee, Miss Kerr.

9:30-10:30 P.M. ABC. Hollywood Palace. (Rerun) Though host George Burns takes his singing seriously, the funniest spot on the show may well be vaudeville duet between George and guest Sergio Franchi.

10-11 P.M. Gunsmoke. (Rerun) Marshal Dillon (James Arness) does quite a bit of head-scratching here and so will you, wondering why it takes so long to tell such a simple story.

ly apprehended a wild game killer, Lassie goes on to the rescue of her two ranger pals (Robert Bray and James Noah) who are buried under an avalanche of snow.

7-7:30 P.M. NBC. The Bill Dana Show. "The Hiring of Jose." (Rerun) If you can imagine anyone mistaking our hapless Jose for a celebrity, this flashback episode should kill you. Mr. Phillips' (Jonathan Harris) reaction when he learns the truth is worth the price of the show.

7:30-8 P.M. My Favorite Martian. (Rerun) A consistently enjoyable, very imaginative plot. At least, you'll discover that Martians can suffer from vitamin deficiencies. Our Martian (Ray Walston) makes up for his malady by drawing energy from humans. The only trouble is his hypnotic eye puts them to sleep.

8-9 P.M. CBS. The Ed Sullivan Show. Recording Star, Della Reese headlines with "I'm Nobody's Sweetheart Now" and "His eye is on the Sparrow." Fresh from the New York's Latin Quarter will be the Rays Sisters, a British vocal trio with a medley of songs about London.

8:30-9 P.M. NBC. "The Magnificent Montagues." Nat Hiken, who succeeded with the Sgt. Bilko series and "Car 54," thought he had another winner here. But this farce pilot film about a Shakespearean ham actor whose lack of employment forces him into television doesn't make it, despite funny moments.

8:30-10 P.M. ABC. Arrest and Trial. (Rerun). "Call it a Lifetime." The "Arrest" half is much more exciting than the second "Trial" Half. Ben Gazzara stars as the arresting officer and Chuck Connors as the defense attorney.

10-11 P.M. NBC. Du Pont Show of the Week. "Don't Go Upstairs." (Rerun) (Color). A shaggy-dog type of horror story by Roger O. Hirson which is effectively suspenseful as long as it follows a direct course of action. But, possibly Hirson wrote himself into a corner and his attempt to escape under the guise of fantasy lacks conviction. Connie Scott plays a 14-year-old girl who fancies that her mother has been murdered by her father.

BOOTH CHAIRMEN for the Church of Nativity's Parish Festival have been named and are making plans for the Oct. 3 event which will be held on the church grounds. In top photo, Rev. Hugh V. Catholic Women Plan Fund Raising Events

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democratic National Committee will hold the first portion of its platform hearings in Washington, beginning Monday.

House Democratic Leader Carl Albert, Okla., and Connecticut secretary of State Ella T. Grasso are co-chairmen of the resolutions and platform committee.

The list of hearings show that a number of groups have been scheduled to testify and may be expected to clash sharply on such issues as foreign policy, civil rights, national defense and labor. But as is customary with the party in power the final shape of the platform will be largely determined by the White House.

Business Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hunt will represent Hunt Lincoln-Mercury Company in New York City Aug. 17-18 at meetings with executives of Ford Motor Company and a preview of the entire line of 1965 Lincoln-Mercury Division products.

George P. Montagnet, Lincoln-Mercury Division Jacksonville district sales manager and coordinator for the trip, noted that approximately 100 Lincoln-Mercury dealers and wives will attend the two-day New York meeting in preparation for the public introduction of the new Lincoln-Mercury products.

"In recent years, Lincoln-Mercury has led the industry in developing new products that are designed to meet the demands of a sophisticated, changing market," Mr. Montagnet said. "Along with these new products, it has provided its dealers with complete and comprehensive marketing programs. This New York meeting has been planned to provide our dealers with future marketing plans sufficiently far in advance so they may prepare for public introduction of our 1965 line," he noted.

Now! False Teeth Fit Beautifully!

Amazing dental discovery. "Cushion Grip"—ends sore spots—refits loose dentures to hold snug as a denture's mold! Tasteless! Nothing to mix! One application lasts months!

After years of research, modern science has developed a remarkable new way to make false teeth fit beautifully—stop looseness, slipping, clicking, relieve sore spots—without messy, old-fashioned pastes, powders and painful ill-fitting dentures—Cushion Grip is a soft, pliable plastic that holds false teeth snug as a denture's mold, through soothing suction—makes loose dentures fit properly again. Result: you can talk, laugh, eat anything without discomfort or embarrassment!

Custom Fit—no one-size-fits-all—no messy impressions to mix or measure! Simply squeeze!

Twin Bill At Drive-In

"Country Music on Broadway" will have its first showing at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre this Sunday as it begins a three-day stand. The color film features an all star country music spectacular with the greatest of the Grand Ole Opry stars.

Sharing the bill with it will be "Mail Order Bride" and starring Buddy Ebsen of the Beverly Hillbillies television show.

Continuing the filmfare Wednesday and Thursday will be another double feature, "40 Pounds of Trouble" with Tony Curtis and "Jason and the Astronauts." Both are in color. The Curtis movie was filmed in Disneyland.

For Friday and Saturday the Movieland management has obtained a triple feature. "Sniper's Ridge" opens the evenings and stars Stanley Clements; "Zulu" in color features Stanley Baker and Bette Davis is starred in "Dead Ringer."

Martian Does Slow Burn

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Ray Falston is beginning to wonder just how important talent and success really are. And the wonder is fast turning into anger.

He thinks he's a successful actor. I think he's a successful actor. And the public thinks he's a successful actor.

"But," says Ray, "it is quite obvious that the Chertok office doesn't think I'm a successful actor."

The Chertok office is the company that produces Ray's series, "My Favorite Martian." This half-hour of sophisticated silliness successfully bucked the Walt Disney competition last season.

Ray tried to get the producers to make a few changes in his five-year contract, after the resounding smash of the first season.

They turned him down flat. And, from the look in Ray's eyes, they didn't do it too gently, either.

"I think," Ray says, choosing his words carefully, "that I was in a large measure responsible for the success of 'My Favorite Martian.' I know that in at least 19 of the shows last season I had to use my acting experience to overcome bad scripts. And yet when I asked for these things, it was as though I had done nothing."

He pulled out a new "My Favorite Martian" game to illustrate another peeve. The box carried the legend, "Bill Bixby and Ray Walston, starring in CBS' comedy show." The words had the two actors as equals, and Walston is distinctly the program star.

"They brought this to me," he says, "and they told me it was a mistake. They say they caught it after a few hundred had been distributed. How ridiculous!"

All in all, he isn't happy about the treatment he is getting from the program's brass. Yet he continues to give his all.

"I came to Hollywood," he says, "with a reputation as an experienced and dignified actor. I'm not about to refuse to report to work — a tactic I understand you have to adopt to get your way around here — or come to work and then not do anything."

"I shall continue to act in a dignified way. But I would like to be treated with a little dignity, too."

Olivia At Ritz

After a six-year absence from Hollywood, Olivia de Havilland has returned to play the title role in Paramount's new thriller, "Lady in a Cage," which opens at the Ritz Theater Sunday and runs through Wednesday.

"Lady in a Cage" tells of ten hours of terror in the life of an elegant gentlewoman who is trapped in her home elevator when the lead-in electricity wire, a thread of civilization, snaps. During this long, hot, mid-summer day her well-ordered world is destroyed as the elevator, nine feet above the floor, becomes a torture chamber—a cage. At first, she faces only frustration as pleasure-bound

Jack Lemmon At Cinema

Jack Lemmon returns to the Seminole Plaza Cinema in Casselberry in "Good Neighbor Sam" as a helpful young husband with two "wives" in what Hollywood regards as one of the most hilarious marital romps ever brought to the screen. Involved are Viennese beauty Romy Schneider as the girl next door, and lovely blonde Dorothy Provine as Lemmon's wife.

The setting is a San Francisco suburb and the reason for all the excitement—and there reportedly is an amazing and hilarious amount of it—is the fact that Miss Schneider will inherit a multi-million dollar fortune if she is living happily with her husband. Since she has just quarreled with him, and he has moved out, Lemmon as her "good neighbor Sam" volunteers for the role. The masquerade not only upsets his own marriage, it also affects his career as an advertising man.

Edward G. Robinson guest-stars in "Good Neighbor Sam" as the proprietor of a dairy company. Lemmon's biggest account, who insists the people working for him be as wholesome as the products he sells. Hoping to pick up a million dollars for posing as Romy's husband, Lemmon also has to keep Robinson from discovering he is engaged in what looks suspiciously like wife-swapping.

Also starred in "Good

JACK LEMMON'S enthusiastic celebration of a promotion makes it necessary for Dorothy Provine as his wife and Romy Schneider, (right), as the girl next door, to come to his rescue. It's a scene from the David Swift production, "Good Neighbor Sam," new Columbia Pictures comedy release in color, guest-starring Edward G. Robinson, which is now playing at the Seminole Plaza Cinema in Casselberry.

Neighbor Sam," which was produced and directed by David Swift, as Michael Connors as Romy's husband who returns to his wife and is forced to move in to the Lemmon ménage and pretend to belong to Dorothy; Edward Andrews, as Lemmon's jelly-backed boss; Louis Nye, as the private eye who tries to prove Romy is not happily married to Lemmon so the laheritance can go to his clients instead of to her; and Robert Q. Lewis, as a suburbanite neighbor who watches Lemmon's increasingly complicated confusion and concern.

Based on the best-selling Jack Finney novel, "Good Neighbor Sam" was written for the screen by James Fritzel, Everett Greenbaum and David Swift. It is a Columbia Pictures' release, in color.

TABLE HOPPING

We'll start off this week by telling you where NOT to go for the next week or so.

The Day and Night Grill, one of the most popular spots in town, (especially in the wee smalls, since they stay open 24 hours a day) will be closing temporarily.

Inside, work will be going on, adding some new equipment, painting and redecorating, all to enhance the convenience and good service for their customers.

SOMETHING NEW has already been added at George's Tavern. Laura Stephens wants you to come in and see their newly decorated lounge area, which has been glamorized with plants, attractive wall paper and soft new lights.

Always a popular spot, we predict that you'll enjoy it even more now, when you meet your friends and enjoy your favorite mixed drinks or cold beer in the attractive lounge, or buy the fixin's from their well-stocked package room. Always a warm welcome in cool George's Tavern.

with Dottie Austin

Spaghetti House in Orange City, and proof of their skill as the arrival of repeat customers from all over Central Florida, who want the best in Italian cuisine. Cold beer and wines give that added touch to complete their reasonably priced meals. Parties, too, are welcome. Sorry, closed on Mondays.

COMPANY COMING? They'll think you are the world's best host and hostess if you take them to dinner at Jim Spencer's Restaurant and Cocktail Lounge. You know where it is — where French Ave. and Park Ave. join into South Orlando Drive.

Delicious lobster, (all you can eat), steaks, a very special prepared shrimp, and many other delightful dishes. And while you are waiting for your order to be prepared just the way you like it, help yourself to the tasty snacks under the umbrella. Always your favorite drinks of course, in the lounge or in the dining room before dinner.

FAMILIES are especially welcomed at the Tradewinds

Cafeteria in the Seminole Shopping Plaza at Hwy. 17-92 and SR 436 in Casselberry. There right before your eyes, a mouth-watering array of delicious salads, desserts, meats, vegetables, hot breads and beverage. Saturday night is always steak night, when you can have a nice big T-bone broiled the way you like it.

THE CARIBE has added something new, if you dare to try it! It's "ladies hours" between 4:30 and 6:30 p. m. and if you will tell them your age, that's all your drink will cost you. Isn't that nice? (I don't know whether they require a birth certificate or not).

We should be able to get ours for about 29 cents!

They also have a new bartender to fix those drinks for you ladies, and gentlemen.

And of course, there's always the delicious lunches and dinners you can order from Rose and Wilk's Restaurant next door. This popular eatery is heading into its second successful year, thanks to the warm personalities of your hosts, Rose and Wilk Bowman.

TC4-9A—It's a 1962 T. Bird

Of course, its Air Conditioned. All power. And the newest one around. Only 20,000 actual miles. A beautiful medium blue, with medium blue interior.

Baseball Business Or Sport? CBS Provides Answer

Buys Yanks For $10 Million

By Milton Richman
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Columbia Broadcasting System ended the question of whether baseball is a business or a sport today by purchasing the New York Yankees for an estimated $10 million.

The deal, which was two years in the making, immediately was assailed by two American League owners who openly wondered at the motivating reasons behind it.

While neither CBS nor Yankee officials were commenting on the transaction yet because of certain legalities still to be ironed out, it was learned reliably that the purchase was made primarily to give CBS a foot in the door for the television rights to baseball's projected new game-of-the-week on Monday nights.

As one baseball man put it: "It wouldn't surprise me in the least to see the National Broadcasting Company go out now and buy a ball club of its own."

Under terms of the sale, CBS purchased 80 per cent of the Yankees while the former owners, Dan Topping and Del Webb, retained 20 per cent. CBS also has an option to buy the remaining 20 per cent within the next five years.

American League President Joe Cronin said in Boston the sale had been approved by three-quarters of the 10 league club owners. The two who attacked the deal openly were Arthur Allyn of the Chicago White Sox and Charles O. Finley of the Kansas City Athletics.

Allyn was upset by "the high-handed manner in which it was conducted."

"It's a hell of a way to run a league," said the White Sox president. "I don't like to be called at 11:45 about something and be asked to approve it in three hours."

Allyn voted against the sale; Finley said he never had a chance to do so, but made it clear he would have.

Finley said this was "just another perfect example of the shenanigans of the American League President, Joe Cronin, and the New York Yankees. . . I can't understand the stupidity of some of the owners in voting for this. It isn't right."

Topping and Webb apparently thought it was, for the sale enables them to more than double their original investment.

The two of them, along with Larry MacPhail, bought the Yankees in 1943 for $2.8 million, and two years later Topping and Webb bought out MacPhail's one-third share for $2 million.

Since then, the Yankees have won 16 pennants and 10 world championships but even so, they've been having troubles the past two seasons.

Overall, they showed a profit of less than $300,000 last year when their attendance skidded to 1,308,920, the Yankees' lowest since World War II. To make matters worse, New York fans seemed to show a preference for the Mets, who drew 1,080,104 last season in the smaller and more antiquated Polo Grounds.

This year, the Mets are even outdrawing the Yankees at spanning new Shea Stadium right across from the World's Fair.

Quietly and without fanfare, the Yankees have been trying to cut expenses and although they don't publicize the fact, they stand to lose money this year.

Topping and Webb will split the $10 million right down the middle, 50-50.

For the purchase price, CBS not only obtains the franchise, but also the Yankee players' contracts; the lease on Yankee Stadium; the concession contracts; the Yankees' minor league holdings and the existing radio and television contracts.

Boat-A-Cade Set For September

KISSIMMEE—What in past years has proved to be "Florida's Greatest outdoor adventure" will be held Sept. 4-7 instead of in late October.

The Kissimmee Boat-A-Cade this year will give boaters a view of the new look of the Kissimmee River Valley where the Army Corps of Engineers has been doing considerable flood control work.

Hundreds of boats each of the past 14 years have participated in this outing which this year will have three over-night stops including 4-E Camp, Clewiston, and Ocala Camp.

Boaters may obtain further information by writing to Boat-A-Cade, P. O. Box 788, Kissimmee.

Cincy Departs On Road Trip Without Hutch

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — It must be extremely galling to see as highly competitive a man as Cincinnati Reds Manager Fred Hutchinson to have to sit helplessly at home, as he is doing today, while his team makes a crucial road trip.

The 6-foot-2, 200-pounder major league veteran obtained a leave of absence Thursday from the Reds until Aug. 25 when they return home.

Apparently the move is another in his fight to conquer chest cancer, which was discovered last December and treated in time for him to attend spring training with the team in Tampa, last February.

The stole manager said in slow, measured tones that he had asked owner and general manager Bill DeWitt to allow him to stay home while the third-place team plays at Houston, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Hutchinson said he had pain in the back, the same ailment which sent him to the hospital here in July for a week while the Reds were playing at Milwaukee and St. Louis.

"I feel it is to the benefit of the ball club and all concerned if I take this time to recuperate and get back in good health," he said. "Possibly by the time of the next road trip I will be feeling better."

Hutchinson does not plan to enter a hospital this time. He will remain at home with his wife and their four children.

Olympics To Feature Automated Scoring

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Originally the Olympic Games were simple.

In 178 B. C. a Greek cook named Corbus out-spurred his rivals over a distance of 200 yards, and that was that.

The athletic portion of the festival was over and everyone saw the winner.

Even as late as 1896 there were only 42 events, with 13 nations competing. This year in Tokyo there will be 4,000 events including trial heats and eliminations and more than 110 nations will take part.

The 1968 Olympics had a total entry list of 285 athletes. This year about 3,000 men and women will compete, with the United States alone sending some 400 participants to Japan.

To complicate the business of keeping score, as many as 25 events may be decided at the same time.

To handle the complex problem of keeping spectators, contestants and newsmen up-to-the-minute on results, the most advanced information network ever assembled for collecting, computing and distributing athletic scores will be in operation.

Installed by a leading manufacturer of computers (IBM) the system will allow immediate transmission of raw scores and other information from each of the 32 sites where contests will be held to central computers for processing. Within minutes—not hours or days later as sometimes in the past—winners, exact times, final rankings and records set will be announced.

Their judgment will be automatically tallied for the final score.

All computed results will also be punched in paper tape for immediate teletype transmission throughout the world.

Tough Choice

DALLAS — (NEA) — National Football League quarterbacks are beginning to envy Don Meredith of the Dallas Cowboys who has two of the best targets in the league this year—Buddy Dial and Tommy McDonald.

Someone recently asked Meredith how he will choose between McDonald and Dial. Meredith replied: "Aw, I'll just throw the long ball down the middle and yell 'Get it babies!'"

Stetson Sets Cage Schedule

DELAND — Stetson University Basketball Coach Glenn Wilkes has announced a 25-game basketball schedule for his Hatters during the 1964-65 season.

Highlighting the schedule are home and home contests with Florida Intercollegiate Conference champion University of Miami and road games with the University of Florida Gators and the University of Dayton Flyers.

The seventh annual Hatter Invitational Tournament is scheduled for DeLand Dec. 16 and 17 with Georgetown (Ky.), Mercer and Wilmington (N. C.) joining Stetson in the tourney field.

Sixteen of the 25-game schedule will be played in DeLand.

Legion Tourney Begins Second Round Of Play

STANTON, Va. (UPI) — The second round of the American Legion baseball championships for District Three kicks off today with West Palm Beach tackling Cayce, S. C.

Athens, Ga., plays Tuscaloosa, Ala., and Charlotte, N. C., takes on Churchland, Va.

In Thursday's action, Athens scored four runs in the top of the ninth to edge West Palm Beach 5-4.

Charlotte, on the throwing arm of John Richards who also walked the game's only four-bagger, took Cayce, 8-4.

Dick Balderson struck out nine and scattered four hits to hand Churchland a 4-0 shut-out over Tuscaloosa.

did, and lefty Al Downing wasn't sharp - but won.

Howard came to bat with two out, two on and the score knotted at 2-2 in the eighth inning Thursday night and drilled a Gary Peters' curve ball 410 feet into the left-center field bullpen at Yankee Stadium to give the Yankees a 5-2 victory over the White Sox.

"You don't go for a homer in that situation," the American League's most valuable player of 1963 said afterward. "I just wanted a base hit to win it but I knew it was gone when I hit it."

Downing went all the way, as Peters did, and was reached for 10 hits, the most he has allowed in any game this season.

"I've had better stuff. I wasn't as sharp as I've been in some other games," the 24-year-old southpaw explained while making it clear he was pleased with the victory. "I didn't have my good fast ball and I couldn't get the ball where I wanted it at times."

The defeat dropped the White Sox three games behind the pennant - hopeful Baltimore Orioles.

Baltimore crushed Boston 7-1, Minnesota defeated Detroit 6-3, and the National League leading Philadelphia Phillies suffered a 3-1 setback at the hands of the Chicago Cubs in Thursday's only other major league action.

The Orioles jumped on Boston starter Bill Monbouquette for five runs in the first inning and then coasted to victory behind the combined five-hit pitching of Robin Roberts and Stu Miller. Brooks Robinson belted his 17th homer of the campaign to highlight the five run uprising. The final two Baltimore runs scored in the fourth on an infield grounder with the bases loaded as the Red Sox were caught napping.

The Twins scored all their runs in the first two innings as Camilo Pascual picked up 12th victory in 21 decisions. Rookie Tony Oliva had two hits, including his 27th home, to hike his league-leading batting average to .355.

Cub righthander Ernie Broglio stopped the Phils on three hits for his fourth consecutive win. Ernie Banks had a homer for Chicago in the second and the Cubs added two more in the third on three singles, an error and a double play. The loss cut Philadelphia's lead to 3 1/2 games over idle San Francisco.

Mrs. Robert A. Williams Hostess To Bridal Luncheon Feting Miss Ludwig

Mrs. Robert A. Williams of Valencia Drive was hostess recently at the Imperial House to a bridal luncheon honoring Miss Judy Ludwig, bride-elect of Glynn Hodges.

The luncheon table, covered in white damask, was centered with a floral arrangement of white and yellow glads and dainty pom poms in a silver bowl accented on either side by silver candelabra containing tall white taper.

Mrs. Williams presented the guests with miniature white swans filled with delicate daisies, which marked their places. Judy's place was marked with a miniature bride doll made by Mrs. Williams, and she received a white carnation corsage from the hostess.

A delicious salad luncheon course was served consisting of melon ball appetizer, chicken salad, potato salad, assorted relishes, hot rolls, coffee and iced tea, complemented with petit fours laced in white with yellow roses and lime sherbet.

Judy was attired in a smart blue and white striped silk sheath, and Mrs. Williams' frock was fashioned from hot pink eyelet.

The bride-elect received a lovely set of white Madras linen guest towels from the hostess.

Others attending were Mrs. W. F. Ludwig of New York City, Mrs. D. C. Ludwig, Miss Carolyn Martin of Atlanta, Miss Patti Glenn Johnson, Mrs. K. L. Berry and Mrs. M. G. Hodges, mother of the future groom.

Senior Girls Enjoy Delightful Beach Vacation

Seven girls recently spent a delightful week at Daytona Beach at the Marriot Apartments before entering Seminole High School as seniors this year.

They had a "blast" with all the entertainment the beach offers, including surfing, and are already planning a similar vacation for next year.

Enjoying the fun-filled week were the Misses Donna Collins, Susan Perkins, Melanie Williams, Marion Weber, Susan Pierce, Cherie Pennington and Carol Torres. Also a former Sanfordite, Miss Valerie Atkinson, spent a few days with the group before returning to her home in Virginia. Chaperones were Mrs. W. E. Klinefelter, Mrs. C. L. Collins and Mrs. K. F. Harrison.

The Sabatinis Visit Colorful Southern Spots

By Maryann Miles
Mrs. James Sabatinis and daughter, Adrienne, of Highland Street in Altamonte Springs have returned from a most interesting vacation.

They motored to Guy Lombardo's famous "Port-o-Call" and from there to St. Petersburg Beach, where they saw a floor show at the Colony Restaurant.

On Monday they journeyed to Miami and were guests at the fabulous Fontainebleau Hotel, which they found so exciting they did not leave the hotel during their four days there. Later they departed for Fort Lauderdale to Pier 66, and at the Castaway viewed a Polynesian floor show. They also toured the studios of "Surfside 6."

Inclement weather prevented a trip to the Everglades, and they stopped en route at Elinor Village, where they were joined by Mr. Sabatinis and another daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Dickinson and Adrienne, of Bear Lake.

Other visitors at the beach were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Paulsen and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Pettinati and daughters, Missy and GIGI, of Howell Park.

Valorie Shea Home From Jet Flight North

By Jane Caseberry
Valorie Shea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Shea of 851 N. Triplet Drive, Caseberry, returned home last week by jet from the north where she spent a six-week vacation visiting friends and relatives.

She rode to Connecticut with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lovell of Fern Park who visited relatives there. She then traveled to North Wolcott, N. Y., to stay with her maternal grandfather, Rev. Ward Lusk. She attended camp meetings for two weeks at Elm Bible Institute at Lima, N. Y.

Valorie, who has a lovely singing voice, was asked to sing at the Women's Night Service and also served as an usherette.

She was a guest of old family friends, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent LaPlama, of North Hornell, N. Y., and of her uncle, W. R. Lusk, in Gaines, Pa.

In Utica, N. Y., she was the guest of Rev. C. Odour who drove her to the home of her uncle, Rev. W. A. Lusk, in Mt. Airy, Md.

The Savagettes To Picnic Monday At Rock Springs

A family picnic at Rock Springs Park has been scheduled by the Enlisted Wives Club, the Savagettes of RVAH-3, Monday.

All members of the squadron enlisted personnel are invited to bring the kiddies and head for the park about 10 a.m. Lunch will be served promptly at noon, a spokesman said.

Picnickers are instructed to bring enough lunch for their family plus soft drinks and table service, with a day of swimming and recreation in store for all.

Personals

Your Herald Society Editor and her daughter, Miss Mary L. Williams, have recently returned from Asheville, N. C., where they were called due to the death of husband and father. They express genuine gratitude for the warm kindness and consideration shown by their many friends during their time of sorrow.

Mrs. William Lucas and son, Alan Lucas, of Tangerine Drive, will depart this week end for California to visit their daughter and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Billy, and family and other relatives and friends.

Man Jailed In Kidnap

A Sanford Naval Air Station man is being held on charges of aggravated assault and kidnaping following his arrest Friday afternoon after a prolonged investigation by area police.

Did you know that until a week ago if you were able to get an ice cream cone in Washington, D. C., it was a "bootleg item"? Yep, in 1921 the District passed a law prohibiting the sale of solid milk products in any container smaller than one-half pint. But now President Johnson has signed a bill to make it all legal, even though for Eskimo pies, cones and the like the law really was never enforced. Why was the statute on the books, you ask? Because the Health Department decided that the filling of the little "jiggers" of cream for the coffee was unsanitary as it was done in the lunch counters and restaurants. So, you now can buy, legally, that is, an ice cream cone when you go to visit Congressman Sidney Herlong or any other of your buddies in "The District." Feel better now?

Oh yes, and did you know that the cone for ice cream was invented in 1904 by a Syrian, W. M. Hamwi, who used it in his concession stand at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis? Speaking of stalling up the Downtown Shopping Center (as a good many of our Clockwinders have been doing), have you seen the paint job being done on the Downtown Cleaners office on Palmette? "Right purty, eh?" There will be others "sleeking up" their shops, too, ah betcha.

Counties in Florida whose school systems maintain certain criteria concerning food services can obtain a "high standard supplement" from the State. The supplement amounts to one cent per Type A lunch which includes either milk or a high-strength fruit juice. Seminole County qualifies for the supplement. "It amounts," said Supt. R. T. Milwee, "to about $1,000 per month."

Don't let anyone tell you Confederate money isn't any good. You can get the face value of $1 and $2 bills, says Bill Durr, numismatist of Winter Park. $10's, $20's, and bigger denominations won't sell though.

The most valuable coin you can find is an 1856 Flying Eagle one cent piece. It's worth from $1,000 to $2,500.

The minting of money is about the biggest profit-making business of which we have heard recently. It only costs about 17 cents to make a hundred pennies; about 25 cents to make a 100 dimes, and only about 13 cents to make a silver dollar!

Did you know that the American Numismatic Association is the oldest permanently chartered non-profit organization in the United States? It was formed in 1892 and granted a Congressional charter in 1911.

OK kids! Get out those coonakin hats and Indian fightin' muskets. Today's the birthday of none other than Davy Crockett—the famed Indian fighter. He was born on this date back in 1786.

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida's 28 junior colleges graduated 3,699 students during the past school year, a whopping 47 per cent increase over the previous year, the State Department of Education reported today.

THIS GIANT BARGE tied up this morning at the Cities Service pier along the lakefront and began discharging a half million gallons of cargo for Allied Chemical Corp. The barge, 242 feet long and 25 feet deep, can carry a million gallons of cargo. The vessel is about twice the size of those normally seen here. The barge makes one trip every 21 days or so from Jacksonville to Sanford during the "normal" season, officials say. It draws 10 feet of water when filled to capacity. (Herald Photo)

Rusk Warns Platform Framers Against Alarming Our Allies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk opened the 1964 Democratic platform hearings today with a warning against reckless action which could alarm Allies and bring "irrational" retaliation from enemies.

Cuban Marchers Visit Sanford

By Dottie Austin
City Editor
Two sturdy young Cubans, Jorge Vazquez and Juan Garcia who are marching for Freedom for Cuba, passed through Sanford last Thursday on their way to Miami to join revolutionary forces.

MARCHING FOR FREEDOM of Cuba, with the American and Cuban flags flying on their field packs, are these two young Cubans, former university students, who passed through Sanford last Thursday. Two men walked from New York, heading for Miami to join counter-revolutionary forces there. They posed for photographer after telling their story to the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees through Dr. Luis Perez, who acted as interpreter. (Herald Photo)
