

Boy, 12, Describes Rescue By Firemen

EDITORS NOTE—Tommy Raymond, 12, a seventh grader, was trapped for 20 minutes in his second floor classroom at Our Lady of Angels' School. Here is his story.

By TOMMY RAYMOND
As Told To UPI
CHICAGO (UPI)—I hesitated on the window sill thinking about jumping—and how I would look dead—when firemen shouted to me to wait and they'd save me. Most of my other classmates had got out and I was the last one. But when I walked into the hall the smoke was so thick I ran back into the room. I ran to a window in the room and threw some books out through the glass to break the window. Its funny, but I remember the books—my reader and some text books. After the window broke I got on the sill and began thinking about jumping. That's when the firemen down below started shouting at me not to jump, but they'd come and get me. So I got back off the sill. Now that I think back to when it started, I remember we were having a singing lesson. We didn't know anything about the fire until all of a sudden we heard a lot of screams. We couldn't make out what the screams were for a moment, then we knew it was the eighth graders yelling, "Fire, fire, fire."

Oviedo Annual Reunion At Lee Ranch Held

By Marian R. Jones
The annual Thanksgiving reunion of the Lee family, held at the home of the C. S. Lee ranch, here, this year, had 74 members in attendance. Local families represented at the reunion, other than the Lees, included Wheelers, Lawtons, Martins, Evans, Carters, Shaffers and Moons. Those attending from local communities were Mr. and Mrs. Z. B. Hatfield, Marvin Gombel, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Boudney and children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Lee and children, Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Carter and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lee Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ira E. Southward, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Williamson Lawton Jr. and sons. Travelling some distance to be here were Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Lee Jr. and daughter, Clarksville, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Ned Covington, Ft. Myers; Rev. and Mrs. John L. Jones and daughters Jacksonville; C. D. Tripp, Melbourne and Mrs. John T. Lee, III, Augusta, Ga.

Requests Soaring For New Tax Year

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—State officials say budget requests for the next biennium are running nearly 23 per cent ahead of funds provided in the current two-year period. And a few more budgets are yet to come in. Budget Director Harry Smith said requests so far total a staggering $684,411,692 to operate state agencies, institutions and schools. That's $127,619,781 more than was appropriated for the same purposes in 1957. Budget for new construction total $102,700,261, but may run another 25 million dollars or so. Requests have not been filed for buildings for existing and four proposed new junior colleges, the state hospital, South Florida Mental Hospital, Livestock Board. The last Legislature appropriated 100 million dollars for buildings, but a financial pinch forced the Budget Commission to cut off some 42 million dollars. The Budget Commission begins hearings Dec. 17, and is expected to make several cuts to get requests within anticipated revenues from present taxes. Most legislators are pledged to vote against new taxes next year and the Commission said it will submit a "balanced budget," leaving the final decision to the Legislature.

Alliance Church Holding Services

The Alliance Church is having a series of evangelistic services this week at 7:45 p. m. The Rev. J. W. Alford, pastor, Charlotte, N.C. is the speaker. The public has been invited to attend by the Rev. David S. Carney, pastor of the church. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Reynolds entertained twelve for Thanksgiving dinner at their home, including Mr. and Mrs. Bud Reynolds and son, Doug, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Milford (Albion) and children; and Kenneth Sullivan. Mr. and Mrs. Dusehan Lukas were hosts for another large family Thanksgiving gathering, the dinner being served on their spacious lawn of their new home. Mrs. Charles T. Sibley probably has had the longest Thanksgiving trip, travelling to New York on a wonderful tour. She is expected back this weekend.

Walter Derres, 72, Dies In Hospital

Walter Derres, 72, died Saturday in the Memorial Memorial Hospital. Mr. Derres had been spending his winters in Osteen for the past two years. His home was in Belfast, Maine, where he was in the lumber business until his retirement in 1951. Mr. Derres was a 32nd degree Mason, a member of the Shrine Club and a member of the Eastern Star. Survivors include his wife; two sons, Maurice and Homer, both of Belfast, and several grandchildren. Remains have been sent to Belfast for services and interment by Rehbaum Funeral Home in Mount Dora.

Top-Ranked Teams Win Cage Openers

By TIM MURPHY
United Press International
The first returns of the new college basketball season indicated Kentucky, Cincinnati, Kansas State and West Virginia are ready to pick up where they left off last March. Although Coach Archibald Rupp used three sophomores in his starting lineup, Kentucky's defending NCAA champions opened their campaign Monday night by rolling to a convincing 91-63 victory over Florida State. Cincinnati, led by All-American Oscar Robertson, 41 points, breezed to a 93-54 triumph over Indiana State. Bob Hooper totaled 45 points as Kansas State turned back Purdue, 96-83, and West Virginia, voted the No. 1 team in the nation by the UPI Board of Coaches at the end of last season, opened with a 76-67 victory over Furman. Rupp Not Pleased Kentucky got off to a slow start against Florida State but managed to open a five-point lead at halftime and then smothered the Seminoles in the second half. Johnny Cox, the lone holdover from last season's starting five, led the Wildcats with 27 points. Rupp, who admitted he did a "poor job of substituting in the first half," wasn't too pleased with Kentucky's debut. "We didn't play nearly as well as we are capable of," said the coach. "Our defensive work was bad and our offense wasn't too solid." Robertson, the nation's leading major college scorer last season with a 25.1-point average, helped Cincinnati run up an 11-1 lead in the first six minutes against Indiana State. The Hoosiers held a 43-31 advantage at halftime and led by 20 points throughout most of the second half.

Florida Southern, Stetson In Finals

LAKELAND (UPI)—Florida Southern and Stetson University both won opening games Monday to advance to tonight's finals in the Citrus Invitational Basketball Tournament. Florida Southern defeated Rollins College, 79-61, while Stetson edged by a scrappy Tampa University, 71-64. Bob Goring led Southern with 47 points as the Moccasins built an 11-21 lead by halftime. Boyd Coffee of Rollins was high scorer for his game with 29 points. Ralph Miller dumped in 21 points to pace Stetson, while guard Jim Perry sparked Tampa's attack with 17 points. Tampa spotted Stetson a 15-point lead in the game, and came back within four points of tying the contest. The Hatters went into a freeze to clinch the victory. Stetson led at halftime, 35-27. Southern plays Stetson tonight for the championship, while Tampa and Rollins meet in a consolation match.

20-Year-Old Plans To Run For Office

TAMPA (UPI)—Douglas T. Abernombie, 20-year-old salesman, said he will run next year for a post on the City Board. Abernombie admitted he has never had political experience but said he always had a "keen interest in politics." He also pointed out he would be 21 by the time election day arrives.

'Know Anything About My Little Boy?'

By FRANK SPENCER
CHICAGO (UPI)—"Does anybody know anything about my little boy?" The slender woman in the camel-hair coat walked into the little candy store across the alley from Our Lady of Angels rectory Monday night. She looked hopefully at Terese Gorski, who works part time at the store after school. "Does anybody know anything about my little boy?" she repeated, this time giving his name and grade. Terese, one of the children who escaped the blaze that killed more than 85 of her school mates, replied she thought everyone in the boy's class escaped. Taken To Rectory A policeman walked up to the woman and, speaking softly, led her to the rectory where the Red Cross had set up a missing children's desk. She took her place in line with other mothers and fathers who had come to look for their children. "We'll notify you as soon as we learn something," the heavy-set man with the small mustache said, taking names and telephone numbers. The men and women paraded before him in all manner of mid-

Compromise Seen On Space Agency

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Reports circulated today the Army has agreed to a compromise of the proposed transfer of its top missile scientists to the new civilian space agency. The compromise, according to the reports, will be submitted to President Eisenhower's National Aeronautics and Space Council at a White House meeting Wednesday. The agreement, in effect, would relieve the council of the task of resolving the issue raised when the new National Aeronautics and Space Administration asked for transfer to its payroll of Dr. Werner von Braun and nearly 2,100 other Army scientists at Huntsville, Ala., and Pasadena, Calif. The Army strenuously objected. Just how the dispute was settled was not clear, but sources said the Army has approved an agreement which also is satisfactory to NASA. The Army was known to be willing to permit the scientists to devote almost full time to the civilian agency's space projects, provided they retained their Army identity. Von Braun himself objected to the transfer mainly on the ground that it would break up a scientific team that has developed some of the country's most important missiles and that launched the successful Explorer satellite.

Nixon Takes Over Rebuilding Of GOP

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, pointing today at shoring up the Republican Party structure in his own vineyard. Post-election forecasts that Nixon would take over the GOP organization in the wake of his Nov. 4 debacle bore first fruit in a series of huddles with California Republican leaders here. Nixon met individually with 15 county and state leaders from his home state at his office Monday. Then he conferred with the entire group until midnight at his home. He invited GOP State Chairman George Milias and his 14 associates to dinner. Milias who said the group didn't even discuss presidential aspirations with Nixon, reported the talks resulted in a Republican organizational program for California. Nixon's action made it clear he intends to be a takeover party leader in his own state, at least to the extent this is satisfactory to his fellow-Republicans. Milias said he had asked the vice president to confer with the state leaders. It has been clear since the congressional elections that Nixon would have to assert his own leadership and shore up the GOP in his home state in advance of the Republican national convention in 1960.

Seven Persons Die In Two-Car Crash

DOTHAN, Ala. (UPI)—Seven persons, three of them soldiers, were killed early today when two cars collided head-on about five miles west of here. The highway patrol said one of the cars was on the wrong side of the road at the time of the high speed smashup. The accident occurred shortly before 1 a. m. Three of the persons were injured, not seriously, the highway patrol said. Officers said a car driven by Richard Ray Lockname, 23, of Ft. Rucker, Ala., smashed into a car driven by Clifford C. Fowler, 29, of Dothan. Dead in Lockname's car were Lockname, John A. Janney, 20, and Roy Ralder, 22, all soldiers stationed at nearby Ft. Rucker, and Ruth A. Moreland, 27, of Dothan. Injured in Lockname's car were Joe Mac Ward, 28, and Charles N. Starnes, 17, both of Ft. Rucker. Dead in Fowler's car were Fowler, George H. Bragan, 23, and William C. Whitaker, 23, of Dothan. Injured in Fowler's car was Donald Ray Cheek, 29, of Dothan.

Church Gets Steeply

BOSTON (UPI)—The church attended by one of America's oldest congregations has a new steeply, a replica of the one damaged by hurricane Carol in 1954. The congregation is the First Church (Unitarian) of Roxbury. It was founded in 1630 and one of its first leaders was John Eliot, known as the apostle to the Indians.

Schools Disrupted By Bomb Scares

TAMPA (UPI)—Three more bomb scares disrupted Tampa schools Monday, bringing to eight the number of such instances reported in the past month. Chamberlain High School and Oak Grove Junior High School were evacuated and Henderson Elementary School for Negroes was forced to delay the opening of classes while officers searched for bombs reported hidden in the buildings by anonymous telephone callers.

U. S. To Launch Five-Ton Moon

Acceptance Is Greatest Gift, Psychologist Says

"Acceptance is the greatest gift one individual can give another," Dr. Melvin I. Reid told the Southside School PTA last night.

The imminent child psychologist added that "an individual's self-confidence can be restored if someone else will accept him as he is, imperfections and all."

Reid centered his talk around the question, "What Can We Do As Parents To Prepare Our Children For Better Learning?" In this respect he pointed out that the important fact is how a child feels about learning, emphasizing that parents should help him want to learn.

Love, importance and significance, and security were established by the speaker as the basic emotional needs of all children.

"If we love a child, we respect him as an individual, yet we forget this fact constantly," said the speaker, as he pointed out the numerous variances in the development of children.

"Parents should dwell on the individual needs of a child rather than the problem created by the child because of his needs," said Reid, as he urged parents to consider the motive for a child's behavior.

Reid, chief psychologist consultant for the Bureau of Mental Health for Florida, declared that a child does not "rebel" until he is ready, and that it might well be "children learn in spite of parents, rather than because of them." However, he declared that anyone who can provide the aforementioned emotional needs can "raise kids."

He urged parents to show the same amount of interest in all of the children's activities, rather than putting emphasis on one specific point. "A child who lives in fear of failure cannot do his best," he said.

He urged his audience to be "the kind of parents children will confide in."

Dr. Reid's appearance here was arranged by Mrs. Bill Kirk, program chairman of Southside PTA. Program co-chairman, Bill Kirk, thanked the speaker and also announced the meeting of March 5 when Mrs. Beth Johnson, tripartite, will be the guest speaker.

'Beeps' Bothering Tracking Station; Could Be Red Moon

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (UPI) — Lockheed space scientists admitted today they were puzzled at the origin of a Sputnik-like signal picked up last week by their satellite tracking instruments.

The source of the signal coincided with a report by Frank Bergant, a member of President Eisenhower's scientific advisory team, that the Russians had fired a missile which bypassed the moon.

Bergant, speaking in Pittsburgh Tuesday said he believed the Soviet satellite "could probably be tracked on its way past Mars into the asteroid belt."

Their instruments picked up the signal for a 10-minute period beginning at 2:35 p.m. Nov. 20 on a frequency of 20,000 megacycles. Sputnik I, which burned up shortly after its launching late last year, transmitted on 20,000 megacycles.

Bergant said he believes that the Soviets launched a satellite missile which bypassed the moon on Sept. 24.

He said that on Sept. 24 a tracking post at Cape Canaveral, Fla., picked up signals for a three-hour period. He said these signals were beamed on 40,000 megacycles.

But Dr. John P. Hagen, director of the Vanguard project, said in Washington that "as far as we know there is nothing" to report the Soviets have a new rocket in space. A spokesman at the Naval Research Laboratory said no radio signals or other reports from a rocket were received by this country's 11 tracking stations around the world.

Space Experts Say Animals Will Ride

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon announced today that a program of earth satellite launchings that may put a five-ton man-made moon in orbit will begin on the West Coast in about 30 days.

The first satellite vehicle will be launched late this month or early in January from Vandenberg Air Force Base in California. It will weigh 1,200 pounds. Present American satellites do not weigh more than 32 pounds.

Roy W. Johnson, director of the Pentagon's space agency, said satellite launchings from Vandenberg may be expected at a rate of about one a month in 1959.

He said the program has been designated "Project Discoverer," and that its main purpose is to develop "useful information" for putting a manned vehicle into orbit around the earth.

Animal Round-Trips

All of the West Coast launchings will be aimed toward the South Pole. Johnson said the program will include putting animals into orbit and returning them safely to earth.

The space director said the first launching will be conducted with the Air Force's 1,500-mile Thor intermediate range missile, plus a second stage. He said he also expects the 3,500-mile Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile to be used during 1959.

Johnson said that with the Atlas, plus a high-energy upper stage under development, the United States expects a satellite weighing as much as 10,000 pound (five tons) can be put in orbit. Russia's Sputnik III weighs a ton and a half.

He said present plans do not include putting a man into orbit in 1959.

Johnson said the animals being prepared for orbit include mice and "primates," presumably monkeys.

2,000 Fight Blaze In Movie Colony; 40 Homes Burned

MALIBU, Calif. (UPI) — Two thousand men today fought a roaring brush fire that scorched 15,000 acres of valuable watershed and destroyed some 40 homes, including the ranch home of actor Lew Ayres.

Movie personalities joined their neighbors in setting up hoses from their homes in the hills near this fashionable beach resort city. The flames that broke out Tuesday swept in every direction on gusty winds that reached 60 miles an hour. At least nine fire-fighters were hurt, four seriously.

The jagged Pacific Coast highway bisecting the Malibu movie colony was jumped by the fire that sped rapidly along, touching off spectacular flames when eroded telephone poles and tunderly ancient oaks were reached. The poles burned like 60-foot matchsticks, the gnarled oaks virtually exploded.

Actor and onetime child star Jackie Coogan passed up his local television show Tuesday night to assist his threatened home and help his neighbors as voluntary fire aides.

More than 2,000 residents of homes in the Santa Monica Mountains some 25 miles northwest of Los Angeles were evacuated to schools, Red Cross emergency control points and facilities set up by civil defense units.

'Bomber' Urged Rabbi Be 'Strung Up'

ATLANTA (UPI) — A witness testified today that George Allen Bright, on trial in the bombing of the Jewish Temple here, once said "we ought to string one of them up" when he heard that the Temple rabbi was to speak at a Baptist church.

Bright was the first of five men to go on trial in Superior Court for the October blast that caused more than $100,000 damage to the Temple on Atlanta's famed Peachtree Street.

Bright's next door neighbor, Richard Carl Johnston, testified that the defendant came to his house in August and showed him an advertisement stating that Jacob Rothschild would speak at the First Baptist Church in Atlanta.

Johnston said Bright told him: "None of us want Negroes in school, and now they are trying to put Jews in church."

Abandoned Project

Johnston quoted Bright as saying that "a bunch of us" planned to break up the First Baptist meeting and asked if he wanted to go along.

The witness said he told Bright he did not want to participate.

Higginbotham Gets Committee Post

Larl Higginbotham has been appointed to the Executive Committee of the Committee of 100, according to a release in the Senate Chamber of Commerce's "Sem-0-Gram."

Other members of the committee include W. Scott Burns, chairman, George Touhy, vice chairman, T. E. Tucker, finance chairman and Francis Roumillat Jr., membership chairman.

Drive Continued By Concert Group

The membership drive of the Mutual Concert Association continues through this week.

Results of a meeting Monday showed only half of the tickets needed for the program have been sold.

Winter Music Festival

The Winter Music Festival will feature three performances by nationally known artists. This is the only cultural program brought to Sanford by any group. The selections were made by the committee to appeal to all age groups.

The "Chanteliers," Nelson and Neal piano team and Dance Drama were chosen because of their popularity with people who prefer semi-classical and modern entertainment.

Workers Still Calling Those Who Bought Memberships Last Year

Workers still are calling those who bought memberships last year. They will be contacted before the week is out. Those who have not bought in the past, or new members, are asked to call Mrs. F. Cooper Felt 2-0481 or Mrs. Don Fletcher Felt 2-0480.

Frank Mebane Jr., Chairman of the Association, Said, 'This Is a Community Project, as Much as the United Fund or the Committee of 100. The Winter Music Festival is Proof to Those Interested in This Area That We Do Have Planned Functions for Entertainment.'

Five Dollars for a Membership is Very Inexpensive, and the Money Will be Repaid Many Times in Pleasure.

COLLECTOR AT 14 — Charlie Carlson Jr. displays the jaw teeth of a mammoth, his mother and sister, Doris, hold pieces of pottery and arrowheads collected by the youth. Young Carlson has acquired quite a collection of relics along the St. Johns River. (Herald Staff Photo)

Boy, 14, Student Of Ancient Culture

From the time he was a small tot, young Charles Carlson Jr. has collected Indian arrowheads, petrified bones and pieces of ancient pottery.

Charlie is only 14 now, but according to O. P. Herndon, clerk of circuit court, and a collector himself, the boy has done a remarkable job in identifying and amassing the odd specimens.

Pride of the collection, perhaps, is the mammoth tooth from a very old elephant, who lived more than a million years ago. The tooth has smooth grooves, clasping it with vegetable-eating animals which grind their food.

Other teeth in the collection are from flesh-eating animals which tore their food several million years ago—in a time when prehistoric monsters roamed the St. Johns River area.

Spear and arrowheads made of flint; birdshot made of quartz and bits of pottery are among the collection. Charlie says that these were made by a people prior to the time of Christ's birth.

Human and animal life have been recorded on one bit of clay, depicting an Indian chasing a deer with a bow and arrow. According to Herndon and Charlie, these people preceded the Seminoles by several thousand years.

Fragments of pottery, with designs etched into the clay, support the theory of an ancient culture.

Charlie Carlson is a freshman at Seminole High School. He spends all his spare time digging in the Indian mounds and along the St. Johns River. Frequently accompanied by his mother, he has developed his knowledge of archeology far beyond just that of a hobby. He reads books by the dozen on natural history, and is becoming an expert on this area.

The boy was commended by Herndon for his interest. "We would never have to worry about juveniles if they all were like Charlie," he said.

Herndon says this was all a salt marsh sixty million years ago. No one has come forward with evidence to prove him wrong.

Millions Spent, Produce Nothing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The armed forces told a House subcommittee Tuesday that the government owns nearly one and a half billion dollars worth of industrial plants that are producing nothing.

Reports submitted to a House armed services subcommittee by the Army, Navy and Air Force showed that the unused plants originally cost the government $1,499,391,222 but would cost much more than that to replace now.

The reports said the government is spending about $1 million dollars a year to maintain the plants.

'Ideal Marriage' Nearer Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The "ideal marriage" of singer Eddie Fisher and actress Debbie Reynolds might reach the divorce courts this month.

Attorneys for the couple said Tuesday that agreement on a property settlement may come within a week, leaving the way clear for the 26-year-old Miss Reynolds to begin divorce proceedings.

The couple, parents of two children, separated last September after Fisher's public date with actress Elizabeth Taylor in New York.

Special Services Set At Nazarene

Special services will be conducted at the Sanford Church of the Nazarene beginning at 10:45 a. m. Sunday and continuing through Wednesday night.

The Sunday night service begins at 7:00 p. m. and the week-day services begin at 7:30 p. m.

The Rev. W. A. Soward, formerly of Chattanooga, will be the special speaker, bringing timely messages in a unique teaching ministry. Having pastored and evangelized for more than 20 years and written two books on the theme of the second coming of Christ, Rev. Soward is well qualified to share with his audience these messages concerning "the blessed hope."

The Rev. R. L. Spear Jr., pastor of the Sanford Church of the Nazarene, has stated that these messages are not sectarian nor denominationally biased.

"It is the desire of the local church to give the people of this area an opportunity to hear a specialist in his field so that the people might be better informed on this great Bible theme, the second coming of Christ," he said.

Yul Brynner Dons Power's Costumes

MADRID (UPI)—Yul Brynner stepped into the costume of the late Tyrone Power today and went out to fight a movie battle against the armies of Egypt and a real-life battle against the forces of superstition.

The brawny film star, his bald head capped with a luxuriant wig, was certain to win his first fight — in the script. He said he was going to win the second as well and bring to a triumphant conclusion the Biblical epic for which Power gave his life.

Today was Brynner's first appearance on the set of "Solomon and Sheba" outside of a brief visit Monday to chat with co-star Gina Lollobrigida. By chance then he walked by the spot where Power fell dying of a heart attack after a dueling scene 17 days ago.

"I am, very cognizant of the superstitions involved," he said. "I will do my best to dispel them."

In five furious days packed with behind-the-scenes drama, the dynamic star has gone a long way toward convincing extras and technicians that the film, 70 percent completed when Power died, bears no hard-luck taint.

Social Security Official To Visit

A representative of the Social Security Administration District Office in Orlando will be at the City Commission Room, Sanford City Hall, Dec. 10 and Dec. 24, between the hours of 9:00 a. m. and noon.

This service is made available to those who wish to apply for old-age and survivors insurance benefits, social security account numbers, or obtain information about the social security program.

Burglars Hungry; Take Impressive

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Burglars who broke into the Mission Day golf course restaurant early Tuesday gorged themselves on 12 cherry pies, a gallon of chocolate ice cream, a half gallon of orange juice, two quarts of milk, a pot of coffee, several sandwiches and two boxes of candy.

Incidentally, they stole $6.41.

Mrs. Kasner Gets Autographed Book

Mrs. Harold Kasner recently received a book "Ribbon Creek," autographed by Brig. Gen. William B. McKean, the author. The autograph reads "To Mrs. Viola Kasner, whose son, Hughan, made Weapons Battalion a better place to live."

Hughan Kelley designed the recreational building for first class privates at Parris Island. While Kelley was painting three large murals for the building he was released from service, but remained three weeks longer on his own time to finish the work.

"Ribbon Creek" is the story of the Marine Corps on trial. The author has spared neither the Corps nor personalities involved in an account of the controversial march which resulted in the drawing of six men, and trial of the platoon leader.

He Liked Sanford, Came Here To Stay

The operator of a new service station in Sanford has a very simple explanation of why he came here from New York. Ernest Baumel, operator of Ernest's Standard Oil Service, 120 South Park, came to Sanford three years ago for a vacation. He liked it. In June, he returned to stay.

"I'm not just here for a few months, I'm here to stay," Baumel said. He has bought a home and moved his two sons, John and Ernest, in schools.

Classes Interesting

FAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—An English language training program, part of the work being done by Michigan State University's mission to the University of Tsukuba on Okinawa, proved so popular that a group of visiting construction workers from Japan began attending the classes uninvited. The interlopers were discovered when they were called back to Japan.

Baseball May Return; Sanford Deserves It

Will organized baseball return to Sanford next year. There is a possibility that it will.

Peter Schaal, secretary of the Florida State League, said that Julian Jackson, League president, expects to head an eight-team league in 1959.

Sanford is one of five cities which has received overtures. The others are Clearwater, Bradenton, Deland and Sarasota.

Schaal, former sports editor of The Herald, quoted Jackson as saying that developments at the National Association meeting in Washington on Saturday are expected to assure the league of eight teams.

These developments include proposals for farm club operators to receive larger cash benefits from parent clubs, and the additional possibility that the Major Leagues will pay entire salary of the manager assigned to the farm team.

Palatka, Cocoa, Daytona Beach, St. Petersburg, Orlando, Gainesville and Tampa appear to be "set" for another season.

It would be a most welcome event, the return of organized baseball to Sanford. We believe that Sanford would support a team in the Florida State League. Sanford was a good baseball town, it could become so again.

With the growth of Sanford and Seminole County in the past few years, the drawing potential is much higher. We believe that local sports fans are hungry for baseball again. With Daytona Beach and Orlando near enough for spirited rivalries, we think baseball would be a paying proposition.

Sports enthusiasts throughout the area would benefit should Sanford land a team in the League. It would be another giant stride toward a balanced top-notch recreation program.

Perhaps the San Francisco Giants will honor its minor league training base with the farm club. Every effort should be made by local officials to obtain the team. Baseball fans in the area should encourage these officials to wage an all-out bid to secure a representative live in the League.

Baseball is America's national sport. To ardent baseball fans, there is nothing like spring and the sound of a bat meeting a baseball, solidly.

Good Will Ambassador

Charlie Morrison has been named a "good will ambassador" for the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

As public relations director for the Chamber, Morrison will visit all new business firms in Seminole County. He will conduct a year-round campaign for the Chamber.

Mack Cleveland Jr., Chamber president, is to be commended for his decision to appoint a public relations director. Too, he could not have made a finer choice.

Morrison is well-known to most residents of Seminole County. His hearty greeting has become something of a trademark in Sanford. His cheerful outlook on life is certain to spread optimism and good will for the Chamber.

The value of public relations cannot be overlooked in any type of business. In years past, the Chamber has worn the "Sanford" tag despite its effort to be a county-wide organization. Perhaps the Committee of 100 and Morrison can mold the Chamber into an association which represents all areas, all merchants, from the standpoint of participation.

Dixie's Lighter Side

United Press International
The case of Tim Bull's shoes and the thoroughly confused thief unfolded in Memphis.

Tim is a basketball player at Memphis State University. He had two pairs of basketball shoes in his locker. One pair turned up missing.

Then one shoe from that pair reappeared in the locker, and one shoe was taken from the other pair.

At this point, the thief apparently gave up. Because he didn't get a matching pair, despite his perseverance.

The first time, the locker locker got a size 10 shoe for the right foot and an 8 1/2 for the left. And on the return trip, he wound up with two size 10s — but for the same foot.

Shoe thieves shouldn't pick on Tim. Because of mismatched feet he wears 10 on the right and 8 1/2 on the left.

Authorities declared an open hunting season on elk in four Virginia counties this month for the first time in 13 years. Somebody's mule was among the first casualties.

Not all football coaches are the hard-bitten type. It is reported from Baton Rouge that the strongest epithet used by Louisiana State mentor Paul Dietzel is "what a shame."

But then, his team didn't lose a game in 1958.

Name of the Week: Precious Eilton Ross Jr., young athlete from Greenville, Miss., just signed to a baseball contract by the Kansas City Athletics.

Reason of the Week: Mrs. Curdell Austin told county officials she had been "led by the Lord" to apply for a permit to sell beer in her store near Tampa.

Catch of the Week: Four big bass by Paul Wingate, near Baldwin, Ga., who was trying for catfish at the time.

Four catfish booked themselves on his trotline. Then the bass swallowed the catfish and couldn't disgorge them.

You may fight a bull in Tampa if you wish—but you'd better not win by too wide a margin.

A circus received permission from the city to stage a bullfight Jan. 8, but its owners had to promise the bull would not be harmed. No such guarantee was required on behalf of the bull fighter.

30-Day Forecast Warm In Florida

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Weather Bureau's 30-day forecast for December.

Temperatures to average below seasonal normals over the northern half of the nation from the Continental Divide eastward to Atlantic Seaboard. Above normal temperatures are indicated for the California coast and Florida.

In other areas about normal temperatures for the season are in prospect.

Precipitation is expected to exceed normal along the Gulf and Atlantic coast over the northern plains and along the West Coast.

Over the northern half of the nation much of the precipitation will be in the form of snow. Subnormal amounts are expected in the southern plateau, the Southern Rocky Mountain states and the central plains. Otherwise near normal precipitation is indicated.

CENTURY OF PROGRESS

Too Late To Classify

By Russell Kay
If the average television viewer feels the same way I do about the type of commercials being fed to us by the networks and local stations I'm inclined to feel that unless the advertisers and agencies come to their senses they will find they have killed the proverbial goose.

Not only are most commercials too long and too frequent, but they insult our intelligence, and tend to destroy our faith in advertising itself.

I realize that competition is keen in the field of merchandising and that in order to hold an account an advertising agency has to get smart, not talk and out-sell his client's competitor.

Maybe there is a "best" cigarette, a best detergent, a best toothpaste or a best headache remedy as you believe but as we listen to claim and counter-claim we can't help but reason that somebody is lying. We don't know who, so we naturally assume that everybody is in on the game.

Very Simple Job
Carpenter Avers

A Herald reporter recently addressed a portly gentleman who seemed to be boss of a group of carpenters working on a job.

Upon query it turned out that the man was a "sidewalk superintendent" who knew nothing about the building under construction, who was building it, or what it was for.

At this point one of the workers came over and told the story about the carpenter who was ordered by his employer to demolish a store front. But boss, the carpenter said, "I don't know how to do that job." "Don't worry about that son," said the boss. "Just lay your tools out on the ground, pick up a hammer, and some son of a gun will come along and tell you how to do it."

Everyone laughed, including the sidewalk superintendent, who never flinched. He was still there an hour later.

our business and pay little or no attention to all the stupid idiotic drive-in blasted at us from morning till night.

Maybe there are new ingredients such as SL-60, XP-20 or IKOL, with which products are fortified, but I'm not a bit impressed and personally this kind of an appeal reacts with me as pure unadulterated hog wash and hokey.

No I can't brush after every meal but I am not worried about it enough to be looking for an invisible shield. I hear that some remedies work twice as fast as others and even faster. I have watched the little bubbles on their way to the blood stream, but since I probably have "tired blood" I am not anxious to burden it with additional duties.

I am well aware of the fact that a flock of doctors, dentists and food carriers have conducted innumerable scientific tests and recommend this and that and my only reaction is to wonder how much they got paid.

I know all the washing manufacturers always include a package of Whitley or Clearola in their machines at the factory but when the wife bought one it was as empty as the head of the guy who wrote the commercial.

In view of the fact that just about everything from shoe polish to axle grease contains a goodly gob of lanolin I am wondering how the poor sheep stand up under this tremendous production problem.

Looking back over the years before the copy writers and bright-eyed Madison Avenue boys went stark staring mad, I'm wondering how I managed to stay alive without the aid of all these absolutely imperative ingredients that the television screens at me about.

Either I am disgustingly healthy and extremely rugged or the claims made for the various and sundry products are a lot of lanolin impregnated hog wash fortified with G.T.70 for my teeth are sound, my hair is doing alright, my breath is not too offensive and baths with just any old kind of soap seem to keep me smelling fairly acceptable to my fellow men, or maybe they just won't tell me.

Maybe some day a smart advertiser will kick his agency advisers in the pants and simply advise listeners that he welcomes this opportunity to provide them with a good television program and feels confident they will appreciate it and buy his product, a good product, so good in fact that it isn't necessary to interrupt your program or annoy you with stupid palaver in an effort to impress you. That kind of an appeal

I would go for and so would millions of others.

Fred Othman Says

BY FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
WASHINGTON—This is my final report on the sinus-suffering historian, Virgil Carrington Jones, who got in the mail the wrong proofs from his publisher.

Instead of his own book, Jones received from Henry Holt and Company the proofs of "Folk Medicine," by Dr. J. C. Jarvis, telling how early Vermonters used apple cider and honeycomb as a cure for numerous ailments, including sinus trouble. Jones tried it and his nose troubles vanished. So I wrote a piece about this, and from all over I've been getting requests from sufferers for further word on his cure.

He reported that when he last visited his doctor, who'd scheduled an operation, the latter was amazed. The Jones head was normal. The doctor cancelled the operation and announced that he would try the same treatment on some of his other patients.

Jones still takes an occasional swig of vinegar and he chomps honeycomb like chewing gum, but he says this merely is precautionary; his head hasn't hurt since the wrong book appeared on his desk.

A number of correspondents, particularly city folks in New York, report that they can buy vinegars, all right, but nowhere have they been able to buy honeycomb.

They can buy the honeycomb with honey inside of it and this won't hurt 'em. Dr. Jarvis claims that honey is good for people, too.

The publishers report that his book suddenly has boomed in sales, but the pleasant word comes from my old friend, Walter H. Hildick, president of the Sterling Cider Company of Sterling, Mass.

His specialty used to be production of pure cider. He'd let nature take its course and eventually bottled a product with bubbles like champagne, and a kick, like ditto. This was an elegant beverage, but you know Congress and the way it writes law.

The law, as interpreted by the Alcohol Tax Unit, classified sparkling cider the same as sparkling wine and required payment of a tax similar to that of French champagne. Hildick appeared before the Ways and Means Committee some years ago when I first met him, and charged that the government was taxing gas.

He said if he were taxed for putting bubbles in the cider, then the bottlers of soda pop should pay the same excise.

The lawyers were sympathetic, but they did nothing to help Hildick and sadly he returned home to turn the cider mill into a vinegar works.

"The prospect seemed bright at the time," Hildick continued. "The vinegar business at the time was a sorry one. It still is, for that matter, as most of the so-called cider vinegars sold in groceries is made from apple peelings, cores and trimmings. This made vinegar production cost from four to six times cheaper than ours, which used fresh, whole apples. Had it not been for a few discriminating customers, who put quality above price, we would have been out of business by now."

Came then Dr. Jarvis' book, extolling the virtues of real cider vinegar for man and also beast, and here lately Hildick's vinegar works has been humming.

"Now when I look back a few years to what seemed like a disaster," he said, "I am reminded of the old adage: 'The stone which the builder rejected has now become the cornerstone of the building.'"

Grandma's Fruit Cake Recipe Is Modernized

By CLAIR COX
 NEW YORK—(UPI)—When a housewife boasts of using a recipe handed down in her family for generations, she has more to brag about than many persons might think.

Adapting my great-grandmother's recipe—the always-used old-fashioned term "receipt"—to a modern gas oven with thermostat was a neat culinary trick.

The fruitcake recipe, as passed to me by my grandmother, listed most of the basic ingredients in pounds or ounces, and gave no baking degrees or time. Grandmother said she just knew when the oven was right.

That meant a do-it-yourself course in weights and measures for me.

But once I got started, everything was much easier for me than for my predecessors.

I go to the nearest supermarket and buy four-ounce jars of candied fruits already cut into tiny pieces. The nuts come shelled. My mixer does the most tedious part of the task.

I put the batter into disposable pans bought at the five-and-ten-cent store or left over from purchases of store-made cakes in tins. I line the pans with aluminum foil and grease it. I leave enough of the foil overlapping so it can be folded over the cake after it is done.

My oven has a thermostat, and I have a timer to alert me at crucial times during the baking.

Now for the recipe. Here it is, freely translated from the pre-electric kitchen language of cooking:

- 12 eggs
- 1 pound butter
- 2 cups sugar
- 4 cups flour
- 2 pounds seedless raisins
- 2 pounds currants
- 1 pound citron (4 jars)
- 1/2 pound orange (1 jar)
- 1/2 pound pineapple (2 jars)
- 1/2 pound candied cherries (2 jars)
- 1/4 pound lemon peel (1 jar)
- 1/2 pint molasses
- 1 pound whole pecans
- 1 pound almonds
- 2 tablespoons each nutmeg, mace, cinnamon

Guests Entertained Tuesday At Tea Honoring Mrs. Tully

The annex of the Sanford Civic Center buzzed with conversation yesterday afternoon as more than 100 guests were entertained at tea in honor of Mrs. Joseph Tully. The Tullys will leave this month for Washington, when Cdr. Tully returns from the Mediterranean.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. L. M. Rowell Jr., Mrs. Charles Donnaud, Mrs. H. H. Osborne and Mrs. Louis Hoop. The guest of honor and hostesses were Mrs. Joseph Tully and Mrs. Charles Donnaud. The serving table was covered with white linen, and centered with an arrangement of red and white carnations in a silver bowl. Flanking the centerpiece were silver candelabra with white candles. Tiny sandwiches and petite fours were served from silver platters.

Long tables on either side of the room were centered with silver magnolia leaves, poinsettias and white candles in silver candelabra. A large white candle burned on the table behind the reception line.

Serving from silver services at either end of the center table were close friends of Mrs. Tully. Presiding during the afternoon were Mrs. Vincent Roberts, Mrs. Lionel Arthur, Mrs. Clifford McKibbin, Mrs. Robert Osterholm, Mrs. Hugh O'Hara, Mrs. James Hamage and Mrs. Dave Tammy.

Toy Selection Guide Helps Parents Decide

The secret in purchasing toys for children is to fill the toy to the youngster's stage of growth or interest.

Here, from the December issue of Better Homes & Gardens magazine, is a guide to typical toys in each category.

Children up to 18 months of age enjoy rattles, squeaky rubber or cuddly animals and dolls, toys that fasten to the side of or across the crib. They like small colorful blocks, nested boxes of cups, float toys, cloth picture books or books of rhymes, and jingles to read or sing to him. Small wagons; push-pull, roller, or simple take-apart toys are also excellent choices.

Those between 18 months and three years of age love active physical play, they imitate grown-ups, work with their hands, and have a great interest in sounds. So, the magazine says, choose toys such as these: Push-pull or pedal toys, trucks to straddle, wagon, wheelbarrow, small slide-swing-climb sets, and balls.

Also, play table, chairs, dolls, doll furniture, toy telephone, child-size stove and ironing board, take-apart toys, building blocks, modeling clay, paints, crayons, little animals, cars, and boats. To satisfy their musical tastes, there are tambourines, tom-toms, musical tops, horns, toy pianos, and records.

Children between three and six are interested in words, numbers, and creating. They enjoy a more dramatic form of imitative play. And their growth requires bigger equipment.

The magazine says some good toys for this age group are: Indian or cowboy outfit; doctor's or nurse's kit; hand puppets; equipment for cooking, laundry, house-cleaning and storekeeping; and all kinds of dolls and doll clothes.

Also blackboard, chalk, counting frames, paints and clay, different shaped blocks, easy construction sets, puzzles, and story books. They also need large tricycles; big sturdy trucks; gardening sets; and larger swings, teeters and slides.

Children six to nine years of age want things "true to life." Some good choices might be: mixer, iron, sewing machine, typewriter, etc. that really work; doll house and furniture in correct scale; workbench with good tools and wood; electric train; chemical or printing outfits; word and number games; and more difficult puzzles.

To accommodate their more vigorous play, select gym apparatus, athletic equipment, roller and ice skates, sled, skis, stilt, or a bicycle.

Nine to twelve year olds have an interest in hobbies and crafts. They like handcraft outfits; model kits; sets for study of soils, rocks and chemicals; magnet, telegraph set; sound effects outfits; and stamps.

To provide them a mental challenge, choose games based on history, geography, science, and art; checkers, chess, cribbage; more intricate construction sets; and train equipment.

The magazine says they have an urge to compete and perfect skills, so select dart games, or equipment for archery, target shooting, table tennis, basketball, and handball.

When shopping for beef, remember that the top grade and most expensive cuts are not necessarily the best buy or high in nutritive value. Different grades use a cut suit different cooking uses. First think of how you plan to cook the meat, then select grade or cut accordingly.

9 Seniors To Start Last Game

By JERRY COVINGTON
Nine seniors will be starting their final football game for Seminole High in the Celery Bowl here Friday night.

The two exceptions are tackle Charles Boggs and halfback Ray Lundquist. Six linemen and three backs will close out their prep careers against the Apopka Blue Darters, a team which Sanford bottled in a scoreless deadlock in a heavy downpour of rain during the regular season.

Co-Captains Cecil Dandridge and David Stanley will be set to close their personal record books with a few added facts and figures that have come from their great play. Both are three-year veterans and although they finish here Friday night, it is doubtful that this is the last to be heard of these two players. Stanley probably has been scouted more than any lineman in this section of the state. He is a sure bet to make the lineup of some major college. Dandridge weighs only 135 pounds, and he is one of the best little ball players to attend SHS in many years. He, too, has been approached by colleges.

Coaches will meet here tomorrow night to pick All-OBCC teams and there are several other Seminole seniors almost sure of selection. The play of ends Gerald Jones and Alan Swain have put them into strong contention for OBCC honors.

Another senior in line for OBCC honors is halfback Vernon Kirk. He found the going rather tough the first three games, but when the conference foes were faced the speedster began to find the way. His most impressive contest was against Winter Park where he piled up over half of the Seminole yardage. He also enjoyed good nights against New Smyrna, Leesburg, and Lakeview. He is the leading scorer with 42

Seminole Cagers Defeat Oviedo In Opening Game

By JERRY COVINGTON
The Seminole basketball team opened the new season here last night with double victory over the neighboring Oviedo Lions.

The junior varsity used the sharp shooting of John Marsh and John Taylor to squeeze by the JV's from Oviedo, 33-28, in the preliminary contest and the varsity came through after trailing by nine points in the third period to defeat a strong Oviedo team, 57-52.

A large crowd was on hand for the opening contest. The lead changed hands several times in the JV contest as Marsh hit several long set shots and racked up 12 points, closely followed by Taylor's nine.

In the varsity contest the Lions held a 21-19 halftime lead on the sharpshooting of Mike Duda who dropped in 23 points, high for the game. They picked up a nine-point lead at the end of the third period, but the Seminoles caught up.

Bophomore George Perides began to hit long set shots and Jim Gracey hit eight of his 14 points in the final period as the Seminoles began to gain ground. Perides broke the Lion zone defense with his shooting and with two minutes remaining in the contest, the score was deadlocked. Big Charles Oravates dropped in a jump shot from the sideline and from here on out the Seminoles held the lead.

Red Sox, Indians Complete 2 Trades

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Boston Red Sox and the Cleveland Indians have turned the current baseball meetings into a trading mart.

Both American League teams completed two separate deals Tuesday and the San Francisco Giants are expected to get into the act today when they attempt to close a deal with the Cincinnati Reds.

The Indians are after second baseman Johnny Temple of the Red Sox and may have to surrender three players to get him, including first baseman Bill White.

The Red Sox completed their two transactions within the space of an hour late Tuesday night. They obtained first baseman Gary Wertz and pitcher-outfielder Gary Geiger from the Indians for outfielder Jim Piersall and peddled catcher Len Barber to the Detroit Tigers for right-handed pitcher Herb Medor.

The Indians, in addition to their trade with the Red Sox, also sent second baseman Bobby Avila to the Baltimore Orioles for pitcher Russ Homan.

All four trades were straight player deals with no cash involved.

Stetson Captures Tournament Title

LAKELAND (UPI)—Stetson University overcame a one-point halftime deficit to defeat Florida Southern 81-73 and win the Citrus Invitational Basketball Tournament here Tuesday night.

Sharp-shooting Gene Wells, who dumped in 25 points to lead the Hatters to victory, was chosen the tournament's most valuable player.

Southern held a slim 44-43 lead at intermission, but Stetson pulled ahead in the final half to clinch the verdict. High scorer for the game was Southern's John McNamara with 33 points.

In an earlier game, Tampa beat Rollins 91-83 in a consolation contest that went into two overtime periods.

Gary Sullivan connected for five points in the final overtime period to put Tampa ahead. Both Lamont Craft and Sullivan had 17 points for the winners.

Boyd Coffey had 24 and Dick Bishop had 22 points for Rollins. Tampa led 34-33 at halftime, but Rollins pulled even with a 73-73 deadlock at the end of the regular contest. The two teams swapped baskets in the first overtime, ending still tied at 75-75.

From Hero To Goat

BROOKLYN (UPI)—Cookie Lavagetto, who achieved baseball fame when his ninth-inning pinch-hit double for the Dodgers spoiled a non-hitter by Bill Bevens of the Yankees in the fifth game of the 1957 World Series, struck out the next day when he pinch-hit in the ninth inning of the sixth game.

Coach Tom Nugent, enjoying the fruits of FSU's best season in history, predicted a high-scoring game with lots of action.

Both teams scored 73 won-loss records. Each have played in three bowl games.

Looking at statistics alone, Florida State presents a formidable picture. The Seminoles piled up 212 points in their opponents' 109, accumulated 151 first downs to opponents' 131, and ended the season with 216 net yards to opponents' 232.

Florida State, which may run one play from the tricky "F" formation this shift to the split "F" for the next, brought loyal fans to their feet with early scores against both Georgia Tech and the University of Florida.

Speed Emphasized By Florida State

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Florida State, fast-rising Southern independent, will depend largely on speed and wide-open offense when the Seminoles meet Oklahoma State in the inaugural Blue Grass Bowl game at Louisville, Ky.

Coach Tom Nugent, enjoying the fruits of FSU's best season in history, predicted a high-scoring game with lots of action.

Miami Tapers Off For Oregon Game

CORAL GABLES (UPI)—Miami began tapering off practice today with more work on offense in preparation for Saturday's televised meeting with Oregon.

The Hurricanes end their season with a home stand to be viewed on a national hookup.

Coach Andy Gustafson said two Miami backs will be making their first starts of the season against the tough Oregon invaders. They are halfback Steve Markowski and halfback Larry Digiammarino.

Sophomore Tom Murray of Tampa was moved up the playing squad Tuesday to help out with the kicking.

Four FSU players won honorable mention on the 1958 United Press International All-America football team. They were halfback Bobby Rynn and fullback Fred Pickard, end Tony Romeo and guard Al Ulmer.

Rynn, a speedster who set three new career records for the school, served as co-captain of the team with quarterback Vic Prinzl. He was a draft choice of the Cleveland Browns.

Yawkey Threatens To Quit Baseball

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Multi-millionaire Tom Yawkey has threatened to pull out of baseball because of major league player demands while equally angry International League officials said today they will operate "with or without" their players if they go out on strike.

Yawkey, who has poured many of his millions into the Boston Red Sox, was only one of numerous major and minor league officials to express shocked indignance over the increasing number of requests for more money by players of every stripe.

"If the players decide not to play, they know the consequences under baseball rules," Shaughnessy said, implying that the players would be ruled ineligible to play in any other professional circuit.

"We're simply not able to meet their demands and their threat doesn't frighten me a particle. We'll operate with or without them, and I don't care what they say."

J. Norman Lewis and James Duranin, attorneys for the players, insisted they meant business.

Gators To Have Speedy, Fast-Breaking Cage Team

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—Look for a hard-running, wide-open, fast-breaking brand of ball from the Florida basketball squad this season.

"We're trying something entirely new," said Coach John Mauer, recently named to the basketball Hall of Fame.

The Gators have generally employed a slow-break, deliberate type of offense in which the players take plenty of time in setting up a scoring maneuver. Mauer is shunning this formula because of a lack of team height and because some speedy sophomores came up from last year's freshman squad.

Schooling Starts For Dogs Tonight At Sanford Club

Official schooling races start at 7:30 tonight at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club where some 700 lead greyhounds are waiting to take their qualifying runs in preparation for the track's official opening night, Dec. 13.

The public is invited to watch the pre-season contests, which will continue nightly, except Sunday, through Dec. 11.

A total of 23 races are on tap tonight, sending 13 greyhounds into action. The names of many fast steppers appear in the lineup but the two events that appear to offer the most excitement are the fourth and 22nd contests. They are booked almost solid with Grade A greyhounds.

LeBaron To Retire After '59 Season

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Eddie LeBaron, one of the greatest ball-handlers in the history of the National Football League, will retire after the 1959 season, he told United Press International today.

LeBaron said he definitely had decided to quit professional football after his current two-year contract with the Washington Redskins expires.

The NFL's smallest quarterback and most bewildering current faker will graduate from George Washington University Law School next year.

Tampa Faces Suit On Bob Hope Show

TAMPA (UPI) — Producer Coy Poe said the city, not he, is liable for the financial losses sustained during the Bob Hope show here last month.

CITY authorities, alarmed at the amount of money lost in the venture, earlier had been seeking Poe to arrange a settlement.

But he charged the city should pick up the tab for a total of $20,000, including $12,500 due him for his work, because Mayor Nick Succio was co-promoter who proposed the show and who hired him to produce it.

He said he would sue the city if necessary, blaming city officials for not providing enough tickets and for allowing traffic to become so snarled that many persons gave up rather than negotiate the lines of cars backed up from Al Lopez Field.

Snow Slated Again In Midwest, East

United Press International
A clash of cold and warm air over the Great Lakes region will scatter snow flurries through the Ohio Valley, Pennsylvania and New York today.

A cold air mass moving south from Canada was expected to chill Tuesday, warming over the upper Mississippi Valley, but elsewhere in the nation temperatures were to remain about the same.

Scattered showers were predicted for the South Atlantic Coast states and the far Northwest, where light rain fell Tuesday.

There were reports of more than an inch of snow Tuesday near the southern shores of Lake Superior, and light snow also fell from the eastern Dakotas to Lake Michigan.

The Chicago weather bureau said the cold air mass would push southward into Tennessee by tonight, bringing falling temperatures to the region, that had warming of from 15 to 20 degrees Tuesday night.

The mercury dipped to its lowest nationwide point in northern New England Tuesday night, as near zero temperatures were recorded. It hovered in the 20's and 30's in the Ohio Valley and the mid-Atlantic Coast states.

Over a span of 33 games from 1890 to 1891, the Yale football team scored 1,273 points and its opponents none.

The Puerto Rican stationed Faron is primarily equipped and staffed to service propeller driven aircraft. Cdr. Post Office: Heart Of Yule Frenzy

When the 50-foot mail truck dumps its load on the platform of the Sanford Post office, bedlam is any day of the year. The room is crowded in this building that has long since outgrown its quarters.

Multiply the truck by two, and add special deliveries of extra mail, no more room and the picture of chaos comes up. This is the Sanford post office at Christmas.

A chain of calls helps post offices on a line. Coming south, Deland will call Sanford and say that the mail truck has just left with 10 or 100 sacks—make room for it! Sanford will call Winter Park, in the same way.

The amount of Christmas mail is growing. Service personnel and retired people make the load much larger than in comparable towns of Sanford's size. They all write home, or send packages—the neighbors up north want to know how the weather is—established families have their relatives here. They can call or run around the corner to ask them questions.

Sanford Postmaster Joel Field estimates that the big Christmas crush will begin Dec. 8. To cope with the happy season, the post office will stay open Saturdays and Wednesdays. Extra help will be hired. There will be a table of Christmas cards in the post office lobby. There the cards may be mailed out of town, in town, air mail east, west, north or south.

An important hint from post office employees: tie your Christmas cards together whenever possible. It makes them much easier to sort and they will get faster attention. All do the easier thing first and the men who go through heat, snow, slush and floods are no exception.

And, don't get out-of-town cards mixed up with local mail. The out-of-town mail is sorted first and rushed to the train. Cards may arrive much later than anticipated if confused with local greetings.

As for packages—postmen throw up their hands when they see the way people try to pack Christmas presents. Delicate objects should not be wrapped in underwear or other clothing. Wearing apparel does not make proper packaging material in any postman's language.

Excelsior or newspaper can be used to better advantage. And mark it fragile. Sometimes 70 pound sacks are piled 25 feet high—if a transistor radio, milk glass, bonbon dish or grandpa's glasses are on the bottom, they're had it.

A lot of gift-givers send fruit. This should be properly marked and ventilated. Fermented applesauce instead of juicy red apples is no fun for the recipient.

We asked the mailmen if they send Christmas cards. Yes, they do, to everyone they know, including those in the office. Must be like asking a bartender if he imbibes.

Every year the sanitary land fill gets fuller from cards and letters sent without stamps, proper addresses or adequate postage. Thousands of cards are taken to the land fill from the post office at Christmas. So, always use the proper address, put the return address on it, and send it first class.

Naturally, no pre-Christmas conference with the postmaster could leave out one of the most important things—mail early. Even though this is stressed year after year, there are still thousands of people who mail at the last minute. The postmen will not work on Christmas day. Only special deliveries will reach their destination in time.

Packages should be mailed by Dec. 10 for out-of-state delivery—by Dec. 15 for Florida delivery. And come to the post office before 10 a. m. and between 1:30 and 3 p. m. to avoid sitting on your delicate parcel while waiting in line.

Perhaps one of the most forgotten items about the post office and mailmen at Christmas is thanks. This department does a wonderful job, and a cheery smile and "thank you" is part of their season too.

Moisture Limited By Building Code

Long, healthy lives and lasting comforts are virtually assured for future homes as the result of a new building code provision.

It places a 19 per cent moisture content limit on lumber going into homes and other buildings. It also establishes minimum lumber size standards. The measure has been approved for inclusion in the Southern Standard Building Code, which has been adopted locally.

According to M. A. "Poots" Yarrington, local building official, here's how the code revision aids and protects home owners and lumber buyers:

The most important part of the house is its structural framework. Its strength determines the ability of the home to weather severe storms, like hurricanes. Its durability determines how long the house will live. The quality of the structure also determines the extent of future maintenance, the degree of comfort the occupants enjoy—in short, just about everything the owner experiences as long as he lives in the house.

A trouble-free home existence depends on the structure being strong and sound. In the average house, the structure contains between 2,000 and 3,000 pieces of lumber. They should be of uniform quality and in the case of wood, high quality means "dry".

Lumber is used to build the house structure because of its great strength and resiliency. These assets are made permanent when wood is properly seasoned.

Proper seasoning means careful air or kiln drying at the mill before lumber is surfaced to the site of end use. The process doubles the natural strength of wood.

It also pre-shrinks lumber, thereby eliminating the danger of shrinkage occurring after it is in place in the house structure.

If lumber with excessive moisture content is placed in a home, eventually it will dry out and further shrinkage is inevitable. This loss of size can cause a thousand headaches: nails that pop, joints that weaken, floors that squeak, windows and doors that stick, cracked walls and ceilings that require costly repairs.

To protect all future home owners against these risks, the Southern Building Code Congress has approved a 19 per cent moisture content on lumber going into homes and other buildings.

Dry lumber is available in Southern Pine, Douglas Fir, in fact all wood species. But all lumber is not properly seasoned. Therefore, it was decided to extend the blanket protection of a building code provision.

Not only does the measure set up a "dry" standard for lumber, but it also requires that lumber conform with American Lumber Standard sizes. ALS sizes provide yardsticks by which the consumer purchases and uses lumber. By setting up the ALS minimums as "dry" and hence pre-shrunk sizes, the Code gives the buyer assurance that when he asks and pays for a load of lumber, he will get what he asks for and not something less.

What's more, the use of good quality, well-seasoned wood actually saves the consumer a good deal of money both in the short run and long run.

The cost of lumber amounts to such a small proportion of the total house cost that the difference, if any, in cost between seasoned and unseasoned wood is negligible.

Large amounts can be saved during construction because "dry" lumber is dimensionally stable and therefore much easier to work and fit.

But the biggest dividend of all from the use of "dry" lumber is the permanent comfort, the secure, long-lasting, low maintenance service a good home provides. These are ultimate savings that can run high in the thousands of dollars.

NEW YORK—British actor Kenneth more on bus stop becoming the gauge for an actress's success.

"The idea that girls can get to the top on bosoms is extraordinary. I like a little bit of wit and polish, but that kind of actress has sort of died out due to the bosom cult."

HOLLYWOOD — Dramatic actress Barbara Rush on her desire to play the role of a sexy siren:

"Having languid, sexy parts are the easiest of all because an actress can be a female animal doing what comes naturally ... All Brigitte Bardot does is take off her clothes—and I do that every day of my life."

CHICAGO — Deputy Coroner George Connor, on the stacks of bodies of children who died in the tragic fire in Our Lady of Angels School:

"It will be worse when the parents come to identify these tots."

LONDON—The Daily Herald, on protests by other newspapers over the "baby doll" marriage of 14-year-old Barbara Scraggs, of St. Mary's, Gls., who has joined her sailor husband in Britain:

"Dusybodies—shut up!"

HAVANA—The Fidel Castro rebel radio, on alleged U. S. "meddling" in Cuban affairs:

"Enough is enough. We're tired of being branded as Communists by the American State Department."

WASHINGTON—Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy, saying he doubted a report that Russia was test-flying the world's first nuclear-powered aircraft:

"If it is true, it would be a tremendous jolt to us in this country."

Triangle: Debbie, Liz And Eddie

(What next for the figure involved in Hollywood's most explosive triangle in years—Elizabeth Taylor, Eddie Fisher and Debbie Reynolds? How will it affect their careers, their personal lives? This is the first three dispatches probing their personalities with an eye to the future.)

HOLLYWOOD—UPI—Once upon a time, there was a beautiful little girl named Elizabeth Taylor. She had lots of money, no problems, and everybody said she would be the biggest movie star in the world some day.

She didn't need any Prince Charmings to come and take her away from it all because she had it all. But they came anyway—in droves.

When she graduated from high school at the age of 17, only one beau, Nicky Hilton, son of hotel magnate Conrad Hilton, was permitted to attend the ceremony.

"None of her other boy friends could come," said her mother. "We didn't have enough invitations."

There still aren't enough. But Liz doesn't mind. She likes men almost as much as men like her. And that, above all, is the reason for the greatest joys—and tragedies—in her life.

It is a far more important reason, for instance, than the legend that she has a "father complex"—a legend which is exploded by a careful look at the ages of the men she has dated.

"Just show Liz a man over 45, and she flips," a friend once said. But Eddie Fisher, who announced he was leaving Debbie Reynolds after dating Liz, is only 30—four years older than the raven-haired beauty.

Arthur Lowe Jr., whom she also dated since the death of her husband Mike Todd in a plane crash last spring, is a young man.

True, Todd and her second husband, Mike Wilding (43 to her 23 when he married her), fitted the "father" legend.

But Wilding was only 24 when he became her first mate. And football hero Glenn Davis and William Pawley Jr., son of a former ambassador to Brazil, were in their 30's when they courted her.

A statistician could go on and on pointing out that Stanley Donen, Howard Hughes and others were far older than she when they dated her.

But the only thing that stands out in any figuring is that there is no figuring Liz when it comes to men. She simply likes them all when they appeal to her. And what is wrong with that?

"That's what I want to know," said entertainer George Jessel, who spoke the eulogy over Todd's grave.

—who was never deprived of any material asset during a pluck upbringing in England and Hollywood—has managed to get herself involved with men who sometimes were otherwise involved at the time.

"It's nothing intentional or mischievous on her part," says a close friend. "It's just that she's so used to having everything she wants that she can't have some thing. And with her beauty, nobody else stands a chance."

Until now, the men in Liz's life have not slowed her ascent as a star. And it's doubtful if even her alleged involvement with Fisher at the time of his marriage to Debbie will hurt her.

"Liz is a motion picture actress and should be judged as that alone," said Jessel.

As a performer, she is in great demand than ever. Only days after the Eddie-Debbie breakup, she signed a contract to make "Two for the Seesaw" for $500,000 and 10 per cent of the gross.

She has come a long way from the girl who was awarded a trophy by the Harvard Lampoon for "so gallantly persisting in her career despite her total inability to act."

If, as the bright boys say there is no such thing as bad publicity, then the widow Todd is a genius. Continued success seems a certainty in her future—almost as certain as the men who will help her enjoy it.

(Next: Has Eddie's Halo Slipped?)

The father complex business is nonsense. Most of our experts are too apt to get mixed up with Freud. What's wrong with a normal, healthy instinct?

Nothing, in general, anybody would agree. But in particular, Liz

HEADED FOR SANFORD — Santa Claus waves goodbye to his reindeer as he prepares to board the City of Sanford at the North Pole. Santa has a couple of stops to make along the way before his annual ride through downtown Sanford on Saturday. It's much too warm in Sanford for his sleigh so he left today on the plane.

Plane Departs To Bring Santa

The Christmas parade route will be lined with eager children Saturday when Santa Claus comes to Sanford. The jolly old gentleman will ride atop the Jaycee float, waving and calling to his young admirers. With the temperature in Sanford still very warm, Santa's early visit will be made via The City of Sanford, a sleek MD Skywarrior. The jet aircraft has been sent to the North Pole to keep Santa from exercising his reindeer too early in the season.

No Trace Is Found Of Lady, Or Cash

NEW YORK (UPI)—Police could find no trace today of a nice-looking little old lady who robbed a midtown Manhattan bank of $3,000 by threatening to throw acid in a teller's face. The woman, about 60 years old, staged the robbery so quietly Wednesday that there were no bank guards gave her no attention and about 75 customers in a First National City bank branch who stood behind her in line were unaware a holdup was in progress.

As she strolled out of the bank, Louis Basile, 25, stepped on an alarm buzzer. The guards rushed into the street but the little old lady had disappeared. Basile said the woman patiently waited her turn in line, and when she stepped up to the window she held a glass with some liquid in it with one hand and handed him a note that read: "I have acid in this glass. If you don't give me what I want, I'll splash it on you. I have two men in here and someone will get hurt. I want all your lives, tens and 20's. Hurry."

Woman Is Injured In Two-Car Crash

Mrs. Virginia Cook Sikes suffered broken ribs and other injuries last night when her car was struck by an automobile driven by Edward Edmond Blazek, 20, of VAIL-HI, N.A.S., Sanford. She is in "fairly good" condition this morning at Seminole Memorial Hospital, officials said.

Crews Work Feverishly To Get Satellite Ready

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI)—Scientists, engineers and construction men worked feverishly here today to ready this huge new Air Force base for "Project Discoverer," a program aimed at putting a man-carrying satellite into space. The Defense Department announced Wednesday that the first shot in the program to find out how to put a man into orbit and get him back safely will be fired in about 30 days.

Sanford To Honor Navy Dec. 13

Star To 'Shoot,' One To Steer By

On the quarter deck of a ship, or eight miles above the sea, the North Star remains a sailor's best friend. During the bombing derby, heavy attack wing one aircraft will be sailing over the same waters that brought Columbus to American shores in 1492. They will be guiding their flight paths by the same stars that guided him. Methods and accuracy in celestial navigation have been improved greatly but the same principles apply. As useful as stars are to navigators they are not sign posts to the uninitiated. Only hard work and many hours of study enable men like Aviation Machinist Mate Second Class Wall Carlson to be confident of fixing his position on the earth at any given moment.

Man Versus Bull? No, 'Steer' Clear

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Florida's attorney general has ruled thumbs down on plans to stage a bloodless Mexican bull fight in Tampa next year. Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin advised the city Wednesday to "steer" clear of any exhibitions involving a man and bull, regardless of whether the bull is stabbed or even touched. His advice followed an announcement by the Christian Brothers, who wanted to hold the bull fight next January to raise funds for the Cuban Club of Tampa. Ervin said the Supreme Court has never ruled on a statute which imposes a maximum sentence of $5,000 and five years in prison for any pugilistic exhibition or encounter of man versus bull. But he said he was convinced the law included all such exhibitions, regardless of whether sword or other lethal weapons are used. In another ruling, he advised comptroller Ray P. Green that officers and employees of the quinquennial Commission of Penitentiaries are eligible to come under the state and county retirement system. And he said the state Board of Therapeutic Examiners cannot exempt chiropractors who are 65 or older from educational work required by Florida law.

Florida Symphony Sets Concert Here

The Florida Symphony Orchestra will play in Sanford, March 20. Arrangements have been made to bring the 50-piece orchestra here by the Sanford Recreation Department in a afternoon concert for children and an evening performance will be given in the Sanford civic center auditorium. Admission prices will cover expenses of bringing the orchestra here, announced Recreation Director Ronald Perry this morning. "We want to give young and old alike an opportunity to hear symphonic music at the lowest possible cost." A larger response by the public could make possible an annual concert in Sanford, Perry said. "Profit would be set aside for the benefit of the recreation program." The Florida Symphony Orchestra is in its fifth year, under the leadership of Conductor Frank Miller. Headquarters are in Miami. Tickets will be available later through all civic clubs and at the recreation office.

County Will Rule On Road Closing

Seminole County Commissioners will make a final decision Dec. 16 on the proposed replat of North Chulohua. The replat includes the closing of certain roads in the area. The land is owned by the Chulohua Land Development Corp. The Commission drove to Chulohua late Tuesday to inspect the roads after a heated meeting in which residents of the area protested the closing.

Weather

Clearing and continued mild today and tonight. Friday partly cloudy and turning cooler. High today 74 to 82, low tonight 53 to 62. Variable winds 5 to 15 miles per hour mostly northeast and west.

Rights Probers Ready; Alabama, Too

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—The Civil Rights Commission today was expected to issue more subpoenas in advance of a hearing here Monday into complaints Negroes were denied voting rights. Subpoenas have been issued in five counties—Macon, Barbour, Bullock, Dallas and Lowndes—where Negroes have claimed they were discriminated against in voting. Vice Chairman Robert G. Storer, dean of Southern Methodist University, has been designated as chief interrogator. Commission sources emphasized their mission was strictly "fact finding." There will be questions, they said, but no cross-examination. The plan is to start the hearing promptly at 9 a. m. and recess at noon for a two-hour lunch. The session will then resume again at 2 p. m. Sources expect the hearing to run about three days.

$7,500 Ruled Cost Of Tall, Cool One

BOSTON (UPI)—A federal court jury in effect placed a $7,500 price tag on the pleasure of drinking a tall, cool one at the end of a hard day. The decision was rendered Wednesday in favor of Hans Furburg, 38-year-old New Bedford fisherman. Furburg's attorney, Harry Kisloff, told the jury that because of cleaning fuel fumes inhaled accidentally aboard the fishing vessel Moushagh, Furburg could never again partake of alcoholic beverages. This is a hardship, Kisloff said, especially on a sailor. "I'd like to see a drink myself after a hard day," the attorney said. With a nod towards Judge Charles E. Wyzanski Jr. he added, "I've even known judges who live to take a highball." The jury decided that forced abstinence was indeed a hardship and awarded Furburg $7,500 at the expense of Moushagh Productions, Inc., owners of the vessel.

England Protests Churchill Statue; Called Gorilla-Like

LONDON (UPI)—critics assailed a new statue of Sir Winston Churchill today as gorilla-like caricature. They said its like hasn't been seen since his 60th birthday portrait that some people said made him look like a turtle. The new controversy over an artist's portrayal of Britain's great leader centered in a $10,000 statue which has not yet been unveiled. It was commissioned by Churchill's constituents in the Westford district which he represents in Parliament, but critics doubted it ever would be installed as a monument to the former prime minister. A picture of the $100, 6-inch statue published in the newspapers brought denunciations from all parts of Britain. "Gorilla-like," said some. "A caricature," said others. "It's a disgrace." "We don't want it here." "Fancy using our money for that?" ran live comments in Woodford.

The local businessman who contributed to the fund called the "head, ears and feet all seem to be to big." The statue shows Churchill as a grim, severe, forbidding old man with an angry scowl. It shows him hairless and wearing a lounge suit leaning slightly forward, head bowed aggressively and left hand pulling back the flap of his suit coat as if he is reaching for his pocket watch. Sculptor David Metcal of London said he expected some criticism of the statue but nothing like the current reaction. "I have attempted to portray Sir Winston as a man of intellect," he said. "I wasn't making a toby jug, you know."

Chamber To Honor Derby Dignitaries

More than 100 men will attend the stag luncheon planned by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Dec. 11 in honor of visiting Navy and government officials here for the sixth bombing derby of Heavy Attack Wing One. Local businessmen, city officials and representatives of the Navy will be invited to the dinner at the Mayfair Country Club at 6:30 p. m. Others will dine at the Orlando Country Club as guests of Gov. Collins. The bombing derby will begin Monday and climax Dec. 13 with the presentation of awards to winning crews. An open house will be held at the Naval Air Station that afternoon.

Along For The Ride

WARHAM, Mass. (UPI)—Ed Lincoln spear gunned a shark off Cape Cod and swung to the line as the fish pulled him through the water. So fast did the shark travel that it took a boat traveling at 14 knots about 600 yards to overtake the pair.

No March Played At This Wedding

TORMARTON, England (UPI)—Lord Altrincham, outspoken critic of the royal family and foe of other established traditions, married Marion Campbell here Wednesday without the "vulgarity" of a wedding march. "I consider the two wedding marches," the Wagner and the Mendelssohn, to be absolute monuments of vulgarity," the 27-year-old nobleman said. "I simply hate them both."

Get In The Mood

Appreciation Day Plans Being Made

Navy Appreciation Day once more will be held in Sanford. This time, the celebration has not been instigated by a threat of closing the Sanford Naval Air Station. As Chairman Art Harris put it this morning, "We just want to show the Navy people here that we're glad we have them." Sponsored by the Senior and Junior Chambers of Commerce, Navy Appreciation Day will be held Saturday, Dec. 13 in Fort Mellon Park, from 12:30 to 3 p. m.

A luncheon of chicken and rice will be served to an estimated 5,000 people. Invited are all Navy personnel and their families. Entertainment will be provided by the famous Rebel Quartet, singing a variety of gospel and popular songs. A country music band will play before and after the appearance of the Rebels. Few specialties are planned, with only brief remarks on the agenda. This will be a day when Sanford honors its Navy families who have always enjoyed a sincere welcome. There will be games and contests for the children, directed by Ronald Perry, Sanford recreation director. Committees were appointed today at the Jaycee luncheon by Co-Chairmen Art Harris and Bill Brumley. Five hundred chickens have been donated by the Winn Dixie Stores for the luncheon; one thousand pounds of rice will be given by the Keebeck Milling Co. The masses of food will be cooked by Cotton Brown in the kitchen of the San Francisco Giants dormitory. Navy Appreciation Day was last held in Sanford, March 30, 1957. At that time 1,700 men, women and children were served by the Jaycees and members of other civic clubs. John Krider, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, expressed the hope this morning that the big day would become an annual affair.

Lake Mary Plans Christmas Party

Committee chairmen were appointed for the annual Lake Mary Community Christmas party at the monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last night. Mrs. William E. Gray, over-all chairman, appointed Mrs. Robert Martin general party chairman. Others were Frank Evans, Santa Claus; Donald Coleman, music; E. L. Zimmerman and Earl Tomlin, tree and decorations, and Hank Demers, cleanup. Announcement was made that anyone wishing to volunteer assistance for the event may contact Mrs. Gray or Mrs. Martin. In other business brought before the Chamber, Hank Demers, Scoutmaster of Lake Mary Troop 242, announced that the boys are sponsoring the sale of desk pens as a fundraising venture for the erection of a Scout hut at the Park. Demers also requested appointment of a new committee to work with the Scouts.

$100,000 Jewels Reported Stolen

NEW YORK (UPI)—A $100,000 jewel robbery — the third East Side haul in 140 weeks — was reported Wednesday night by socialite yachtman E. J. Parkinson. Parkinson told police that the gems, including his wife's $25,000 diamond necklace, disappeared from his whole floor Fifth Avenue apartment sometime between Monday and Wednesday noon. There were no signs of forcible entry. Parkinson had been in a bathroom closet adjoining the master bedroom of the 12-room apartment. He said that in addition to the necklace, a diamond and an emerald ring worth $12,500 each, a $17,000 pearl necklace, and $6,500 diamond and sapphire bracelet were missing. The Parkinson apartment is five floors below that of Mrs. Julius Ochs Adler, widow of the vice president and general manager of the New York Times, who reported $12,000 worth of gold jewelry missing from her apartment Tuesday.

Twirlers To March As Unit In Parade

Girls participating in the Sanford Recreation Department's Saturday afternoon class will march in the Christmas parade Saturday afternoon. This will be the first appearance of the group. A large percentage of the more than 100 girls who have been taking the lessons will make up the marching unit. They are asked to report Saturday morning at Southside playground for final instructions concerning the parade.

Dinner Is Planned For Navy Officials

Leading military figures from defense installations throughout Florida will be the guests of Gov. Lettow Collins Dec. 11 at the Orlando Country Club. The Military Appreciation Dinner will coincide with the Heavy Attack Wing One bombing derby here next week. Capt. James D. Ramage, commander of the Heavy Attack Wing One, and Capt. Lionel Arthur, commanding officer of the Sanford Naval Air Station, will be among the guests. The two men are co-hosts for the bombing derby, which will attract high ranking naval personnel and government officials. Mayor Merle Warner will represent Sanford at the dinner honoring military personnel. Ranking dignitaries from Florida Naval installations attending will include Commodore Gilbert F. Parsons, Chief of Naval Air Training; Rear Adm. W. G. Switzer, Commander Fleet Air, Jacksonville, and Rear Adm. John Daniel, Commandant, Sixth Naval District. Gov. Collins has been invited to attend the public open house at the Naval Air Station Dec. 12, the final day of the bombing derby.
