"A Chief is Among Ye Taking Notes, and Faith, He'll Prent 'Em"—
So Says Saunterer.

A newspaper is not altogether published to tell the people what they would like to know, but has to give much of its space to telling them what they wish to know.—Greely.

Special Correspondence to The Herald.
GOOD MORNING:—Did you know that Sanford is going to celebrate the Fourth?

A Northern friend sends me the following little poem with this greeting:
"Your Saunterer is so fine. With your consent I drop a line."

The Pressman
"May I print a kiss on your lips?" I said,
And she nodded her sweet permission;
So we went to press and I rather guess
We printed a full edition.

"But one edition is hardly enough,"
She said with a charming pout;
So, again in the press the form was placed
And we got some extras out.

Said this charming maid, no longer afraid,
"I do not wish to be slighted;
So desire to say, in a friendly way,
My kisses are all copyrighted."

Agreed," I replied, "I am well satisfied,
Many thanks for your gracious permission;
We were speedily wad; ever since be it said,
Each day we get out new edition.

The man with a perpetual frown ought to be suppressed. He's a nuisance that none should tolerate. About the only exercise some men take is after a hearty meal prepared by a patient and good wife, is to sit back in an arm chair and growl about it, and everything about the house. The society for the prevention of cruelty to humanity ought to make examples of all such men, and hale them up for punishment. An indeterminate sentence of from two to fourteen years in a boarding house of the fourth class, or a lower class if there is any lower class, with a diet of fried-to-death beefsteak, soggy bread, potatoes soaked in cottonseed oil warmed over three times, canned food of all sorts (cheapest in the market), green hay tea, ten-cent coffee warmed over and lukewarm at that, and malted shavings for breakfast. If this punishment does not cure the man with a frown, the guillotine may then be used.

Let every lover of neatness help on the work of making good sidewalks and improving the sanitary condition of the city.

If you hear a person making disparaging remarks about the home merchant, the high price of goods, poor quality, etc., depend upon it he owes the home merchant and has just received a bill. This calls to mind my old friend B. M. Tench of Gainesville now in the shoe business. Upon his bill heads in red ink he has the following lines: "You were not mad when you made this bill and you should not get mad when asked to pay it."

What is the matter with the progressive element among our Sanford church people? Why are they not keeping up with the procession and showing themselves wide-awake to the latest methods in their line of work? Why is it that they have not fallen victim of that other craze which is going its course, and set apart a week to "live as Christ would live"—were he here? By the way, another question: why limit the time to one week, why not make it a continuing matter? I don't like to suggest such an idea, but is it possible that they think one week of correct conduct will be enough to absolve them from their blunders during the rest of a lifetime? Or do they think that the attempt to break away from their bad habits will require so strenuous an effort that they will have nervous prostration at the end of the week?

Well it will be quite a strain on some whom I could mention to carry out such a resolution for even one week. Take the man who ordinarily goes uptown on Sunday morning and comes home at noon after a morning session of poker, kicks about the dinner being late, scolds the baby for spoiling his nap, gets mad because his wife tries to tell him the gossip of the neighborhood and then leaves the house as soon as he can swallow his supper, so as to get back into "the game." And when it comes to the next six days, if every man sticks to the letter of his resolution, and does as "Christ would do" were he in the same situation, there will be a whole lot of trades spoiled, and many a man would find himself with a lot of unsealable stuff on his hands. Come to think of it, I guess that one week of that kind of thing would be about long enough for the first time in so many years.

And what about that demure little personage who seemed to be all devotion, and whose appearance seemed to tell of the spiritual rather than of things earthly, who seemed so sweet and so innocent that you would suppose she never had a thought in which lingered the least suspicion of unkindness or self-pride or egotism or any other feeling which angels do not entertain, that is, as you watched her from your place in the far corner of the church. You will hate to believe it, but that look of self-effacement and of innocence and hyper-gentleness will have disappeared by the time she has put off her wraps, and when she makes her appearance in the family circle on Monday morning it will repose peacefully among the perfumed handkerchiefs and toilet accessories during the remainder of the week, to be resurrected when again needed to keep up the farce. And while waiting for this resurrection it would be well for the family cat to keep at a goodly distance lest he find himself suddenly lifted into the middle of the street. And what is liable to happen to the cat is also a sample of what will be meted out to many another unfortunate devil before it is again time to assume the mask and pose before a gullible public. Come to think of it, I am quite sure that one week will be long enough to try it the first time. But I hope it will be tried here, for it would produce a show worth the price of admission. I would go farther to see its practical workings in some cases than I would to hear the Rev. Bill Sunday. It is sometimes intimated that the tribe of "pharisees and hypocrites" has not perished from off the face of the earth, and I would like to know the truth about it. By all means try it.

There are more lies told in the sentence: "I am glad to see you," than in any other six words in the English language.

Not Original Package
"I always like your jokes," she said
"They are so full of life."
Then added with incisiveness
That cut him like a knife.
"And still your wit and humor, sir,
I really don't begrudge,
Yours jokes are always full of life
And Punch and Puck and Judger."

One of our handsome business men was lately asked by a young lady: "Are you a married man?" He answered affirmatively. "She dropped a tear as big as a walnut," is the way he tells it.

A Washington special says that all the employees at the White House are to be uniformed at once. Probably there will be one exception to that rule.

The Day We Celebrate
Right glad am I that an effort is being made to have a tremendous Fourth of July celebration in Sanford. It is hard to estimate the benefit to a trades-centre that is derived from one of these annual celebrations. They bring thousands of visitors to the town and then our merchants are able to show the advantages to be derived by returning when they have purchases to make. By all means let us have a great celebration—one that will eclipse all former efforts.

Easter comes on the first Sunday following the full moon, immediately after the spring equinox. It falls on April 11 this year. Cut this out and paste it in your bonnet.

Another Sanford Poet
A prominent young lady, who will not admit that she wrote it herself, although The Saunterer suspects that she did, has sent in the following little gem indicative of the fact that we have another budding poet in our midst. A young lady of Sanford recently took a short trip on the Atlantic ocean, and while on the ship she indulged in the following reverie:
I am leaning on the rail;
My face is very pale.
Am I looking for a sail?
Oh, no!
I'm my father's only daughter,
Casting bread upon the water,
In a way I hadn't caught it,
That's what!

Matches are made in heaven; marriages everywhere.

Neal Dow, the temperance apostle, left an estate worth $350,000. He never spent any money for drink—see what he saved. When Philip Best of Milwaukee died, he left a matter of $10,000,000. He was a brewery king. He drank and spent lots of money. Still, Dow is my favorite.

When a young lady tells a fellow that she dreamed of him the night before, it is time for him to step high and look where the bear trap is set.

It appears to me that the "woman with a past" is becoming base. The commencement of the new era is marked by the announcement of a play entitled "A woman with a future." I presume it will have something to do with babies. "The woman who did" we have—or say we have—read, long ago. "The woman who didn't" is now being boomed—mainly by the friends of the author. A lady who veils her identity under the pseudonym of "Lucas Cleve," has just published "The woman who couldn't," and I am now looking for the story of "The woman who would have liked to, but didn't dare." The series will possibly be completed by the history

"The man who said it was all rot, and he was sick of it."

Do Not Be A Knocker
If your neighbor is prosperous, let him prosper.
Do not growl or grumble.
Say a good word for him, and let it go at that.
Do not be a knocker.
Your turn will come.
No man is the whole show.
If you see that the city is moving along nicely, feel good about it.
Help things along.
Shove a little.
Push. Try and secure some of the benefits yourself.
Do not stand around like a cadaver.
Do not waste time feeling sore because someone has a little more sand and stone than you have.
Do a little hustling yourself.
If you can say a good word, say it like a prince. If you are full of bile and disposed to say something mean, keep your mouth closed.
Do not be a knocker.
No man ever became rich or happy minding everybody's business save his own.
No man ever helped himself up permanently by knocking his neighbor down.
Give a kind word. Give it liberally. It will not cost you a cent, and you may want one yourself some day.
You may have thousands today and next year be without money for a shave.
So, do not be a knocker.
You cannot afford it. It will not pay. There is nothing in it.
If you want to throw something at somebody, throw cologne, or roses. Do not throw brickbats, or mud. If you must kick, go behind the barn and kick yourself. For if you feel that way, you are the man who needs kicking.
But whatever you do, do not be a knocker.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Letters and Communications on Various Timely Topics.

COLUMN DEVOTED TO PEOPLE

In This Department will be Found the Views, Opinions and Comment of Practical Writers.

We invite correspondence on five topics from all sections of the County, also news items of interest...

Regarding Celery Crates. To the Editor of The Herald: I notice an article in last week's issue of The Herald, from Mr. A. T. Rossetter...

I wish to correct any wrong impression that might be created by this article. Realizing the necessity of better marketing the celery crop...

Now as to the Union which Mr. Rossetter seeks to belittle, I wish to say that the Sanford Celery Union is organized on the same principle as the Orange County Celery Growers' Association...

Referring to the mass meeting last season, which Mr. Rossetter claims was bolted by our own people, will say that, it is well remembered how the meeting was packed by brokers and commission men...

As to the advertising by the distributing agents of the Union, in which they claim a ten per cent larger cubic measurement for the ten-inch crate...

On Tuesday night, 9th inst., the writer was asked to meet Mr. Preston, of the Produce News, and some of the growers, to demonstrate the pack of the eight and ten-inch crates...

Now, Mr. Rossetter, didn't you have that crate packed for this special purpose, take it to town in your wagon and stop on the way and borrow a ten-inch crate from Mr. E. L. Brown for this purpose?

The members of the Union are satisfied with the results of last season and highly pleased with prices received for this season's crop up to the present. The Union and the ten-inch crate are here to stay...

Good Showing of Peoples Bank. The Herald has just finished a neat 4 page folder for the People's Bank showing a statement of the increase in depositors and cash received in the three years of its establishment...

Planting time is here. M. M. Smith will sell you land on easy terms.

FLORIDA'S GREATEST NEED

Is Immigration of the Proper Kind—Give Them Facts.

Under the above heading the Florida Times-Union has something to say about the encouragement of immigration into this state. Our esteemed contemporary remarks:

"The proper effort to secure immigration will cost money, and the legislature should not hesitate to make a sufficient appropriation. Florida now has only about eleven inhabitants to the square mile. Georgia has forty-five without the attractions that Florida offers...

"We doubt if there is any state in the Union—any spot on earth—where a given investment or a given effort will yield as good results as in Florida, and yet the people of the state are land poor. An immigration such as has flowed into Oklahoma during the last ten years would quadruple the value of land in this state...

In our opinion we do not think the comparison to Oklahoma is apt. The conditions attending the opening up of that territory to settlers were radically different from anything that exists in Florida. Land, and rich lands at that were given away. California has not so many people as Georgia, yet it is a vastly richer state...

We do not believe an assisted immigration will ever help to develop and enrich any community. Enterprising people are always ready to go to any state or country where they believe they can materially improve their condition. When they can be shown that it is to their advantage to come to Florida to live they will do so without urging.

The best way to show them is to give them facts—not fairy tales. The state should compile these facts relating to soil, climate, products, markets, manufacturers, industries, in plain, unadorned language and distribute it through the consular service abroad.

As our contemporary says, it will cost money, but if the money is expended along the right lines, as suggested here and not in chromo-lithographs, we believe it would be effective. The people would come, but they wouldn't come with a rush—to go back again with stories of disappointment to discourage others from coming.

In Memoriam. Mrs. Louise C. Vaughn was born in Decatur county, Georgia, on the 27th of August, 1826, and moved to Florida in 1840. She died at the home place, near Sanford, on the morning of the 16th of March, 1909.

She has gone from this earthly home to await a grand reunion of this large family in the heavenly home.

To Buy Entire Output. We hear rumors of a big organization that is to be formed in this city, backed by men high in the business and financial world, for the purpose of buying all the output of Florida growers...

CALIFORNIA SEASON OVER

New York's Celery Supply a Hundred Cars Behind Last Year.

New York, March 13.—The California celery deal this year is practically over. Three or four cars of Orange county stock are rolling, and what little there will come will be from the northern part of the state. The abundance of the Florida article, and the more favorable prices at which it is selling, are driving the trade toward using the Florida stock, and it is likely that all of the crop of northern celery, except a few cars, will be marketed in western cities.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS

At the solicitation of many of our subscribers on the R. F. D. Routes and those who reside in the neighboring towns at a distance from Sanford we have decided to change the date of publication of THE HERALD from Saturday morning to Friday morning. This will insure the paper getting into the hands of every subscriber in Orange County before Sunday.

Advertisers and contributors will please send in their favors before Thursday morning if possible, to insure insertion in the current week's edition.

THE SANFORD HERALD.

Are you with us in a great Fourth of July celebration?

Jacksonville shall not have all the attractions this year. Sanford is going to celebrate the Fourth.

The Kissimmee Gazette in a plea to the citizens for money for advertising purposes, states that it will take at least $500 to properly advertise the resources of Kissimmee. It will take that and a little bit more.

The fact that we are experiencing the benefits of trade incident to an early spring, is apparent in many directions. Many merchants are enjoying a handsome patronage, and big lots of goods are being sold.

Sanford merchants are well prepared to meet the demands of customers, and there is every reason to believe that an auspicious season awaits the enterprising merchant.

Printers' Ink, the leading advertising journal, in its issue of March 10th, makes the following favorable comment:

"THE SANFORD HERALD, the paper started by R. J. Holly about six months ago, is one of the brightest papers of the state. It positively maintains its published rate for advertising to all comers."

As Printers' Ink is the advertising man's bible, its praise for THE HERALD is praise indeed.

Jacksonville is making strenuous efforts to organize an association for a great state fair. Of course the date will be the same as the Tampa Fair, and likewise neither one will amount to anything. Unless the whole state combines to make a state fair there is no need to talk about a successful exposition. The two failures this year is proof enough that Tampa and Jacksonville should not try the same racket on the same dates.

THE HERALD is compelled to apologize for being unable to supply all its numerous patrons with copies of the paper during the past few weeks.

The demand for the paper is steadily increasing, and while we have increased the supply, and each week print hundreds of extra copies, we have still been unable to supply the demand. In the future we hope to be able to remedy the fault, and beseech our friends who have failed to secure all the copies desired, to be patient, promising them that the shortage will not occur again and we will endeavor to make the supply equal the demand.

We thank the good people of Sanford for their hearty appreciation of our humble efforts, and will ever strive to richly deserve their confidence and praises.

The Lakeland News has been "lambasting" the government printing office for soliciting job printing from business men in the way of printing return cards on envelopes. The News calls a spade a spade in making this warfare, and we help wield the cudgel by quoting approvingly from that paper as follows:

Every man who believes in a square deal and fair play will discountenance this warfare on a legitimate industry by the government, which maintains a factory at the public expense in a notoriously wasteful manner, costing the country millions of dollars annually. The local printer helps make the town. He helps pay taxes, build churches, maintain schools. What is paid him remains in the local channels of trade—and is not swallowed up in the maelstrom of a stupendous graft. People who are really patriotic and wish to combat a colossal and unjust trust will not grudge him the trifling difference between this legitimate price and the cut-throat rate of a would-be monopoly.

A CITY OF THE FUTURE

This week witnesses two innovations that mean much for the future of Sanford and places the city at once in the front ranks as one of the most progressive cities in the South. This is the brick paving and the laying of the new street railway that will form a belt line around the city. When these two improvements are completed our city will have taken a rapid stride forward and Sanford will have the proud distinction of being the only interior city in Florida having a trolley system.

The many wonderful improvements that have been made in Sanford during the past year and many that are contemplated are causing much favorable comment in the South and also throughout the North, and the great wealth that is pouring into the city this season from the abundant crops and good prices for same will push the city and its suburbs forward and give it an impetus that no calamity however great can ever retard. Such a remarkable growth has caused much conjecture as to the future of the city and public opinion is a unit in the belief that with the advent of new railroads and future developments Sanford will be one of the most populous cities in the state in the next ten years.

The location of the city upon the St. Johns and the fine transportation facilities afforded by the different lines of railroad makes Sanford the ideal site for factories and large industries. Even if the number of these should be curtailed the rich farming section that surrounds the city is bound to increase the growth in business and population and this steady growth can be relied upon even more than the manufacturing interests. Sanford in weal or woe can be depended upon to thrive as never before and the start already gained can never be retarded for long.

Lucky Sanford it is and lucky Sanford it shall remain to the end of the chapter.

The following is from the Orlando Reporter-Star:

"The Ocala Star reprints our editorial on the late winter events and the prospect before us and winds up thus: 'The Reporter-Star is agitating a county fair. Says it won't be priggish and if Sanford wants a hand at it, it will be welcome. It will be the thing for Orange county.'"

"That's what. We have never been priggish in county affairs. We believe in Orange county. Not simply in the part of it in which we live, but in the entire county giving a fair show to every portion of it. Other counties are restless and talk of division. Orange is the most naturally and happily bounded county in the state, with every variety of soil and products. By judicious management she possesses the finest of public buildings and the best roads without any bonded indebtedness. 'Her people should be friendly and homogeneous and above all things contented. A county fair will assist materially.'"

THE HERALD is in favor of a county fair but we have not decided upon the location as yet. The section that pays the most taxes ought to have the fair and we leave it to the tax assessor. As far as county division is concerned—well, the taxes will enter largely into that also. At the present time Sanford is too busy paving streets and building street railways to talk about either of these questions.

Down in Orlando the inhabitants have nothing to do but sit on store boxes and discuss the weather and kindred subjects.

THE HERALD is gratified to learn that all of Sanford's public-spirited citizens favor the project of holding a great Fourth of July celebration in this city this year. Now let an organization be effected at once with some good hustling, Sanford-loving man at the head, and preparations be made for such a celebration as will forever reflect a credit upon our municipality as an enterprising people.

Of course it will take money to run such a great affair but we understand this will be promptly forthcoming. One enterprising citizen has already subscribed a large sum toward the fund and others have signified their willingness to do likewise.

THE HERALD will do all in its power to aid the project, and herewith proposes to furnish at least a hundred dollars worth of advertising for the event. We will give two pages of a special edition to the announcement and mail papers containing the same, all over the country tributary to Sanford. If necessary, we will do more.

Sanford must prosper!

The following is from the Jasper News: "The Sanford Herald, Starke Telegraph and Kissimmee Gazette are bragging about the fine celery lands at their respective places. We believe every word they say, but what in the world any one wants to cultivate and eat celery for, when dog fennel grows wild all over the woods, is more than we can tell."

You never can account for the taste of some people. The editor of the News probably ate clay and pine bark in his youthful days and had to cultivate a taste for celery and olives at his first press banquet.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

Washington's New Senator.

When Wesley L. Jones, the new senator from Washington, took his seat among the "conscript fathers" he had merely to walk from one end of the capitol to the other. For the past ten years he has represented his state in the so called lower house, and when his term as representative ended he was qualified to don the toga. Senator

WESLEY L. JONES.

Jones won his seat at the primary elections of last year when he overwhelmingly defeated Levi Ankeny, whom he succeeded.

Senator Jones is a fine example of the successful young man in politics. He has had to work hard, and he won on his merits. Lacking the wealth that smooths many political pathways, he succeeded through sheer force of character and because the people believed in him. Ten years ago, when he was first nominated for congress, his opponents sneered at him.

The new senator from Washington is a native of Illinois and is forty-six years old. After being admitted to the bar in his native state he wandered west and finally hung up his shingle in North Yakima, Wash., where he has since resided. Senator Jones has a wife and two children. The eldest, a boy, is now a student at the University of Michigan.

Sir Walter Barratt's Chess Feat.

An extraordinary feat was recently accomplished by Sir Walter Barratt, professor of music at Oxford university. Sir Walter, who is an enthusiastic chess player, challenged two of his friends to play against him simultaneously and volunteered to render on a piano any piece which might be selected by those present.

Not only did he keep his word, but also carried on a conversation with several bystanders who did their best to distract him. The pieces which he was called on to play were selections from Bach, Mozart, Beethoven, Mendelssohn and Chopin.

Marse Henry and the Bottle.

An enthusiastic agent for a vacuum bottle firm once cornered Colonel Waterson and endeavored to sell him a sample of his wares. He launched into an elegant description of the article, winding up with the statement:

"It will keep any liquid either hot or cold for seventy-two hours."

"Don't want—don't want it at all!" shouted Marse Henry, raising his hands in protest. "If I have anything worth drinking I don't want to keep it seventy-two hours."

Governor of California.

Between pressure from Washington and anti-Japanese sentiment in his state Governor James N. Gillett of California has been leading the strenuous life of late. That he maintained a cool head under the circumstances seems proof enough of his fitness for the high office he fills.

Governor Gillett got his early training in the woods. When little more than a stripling he lumbered in Wisconsin, studying law in his hours of respite. Born in Wisconsin in 1860, he there received his education and was admitted to the bar. In 1888 he left his native state and settled at Eureka, Cal. In a few years he was appointed city attorney and after six years in that office served two years in the state senate.

His service in the state legislature was so pleasing to his constituents that he was nominated and elected a member of the Fifty-eighth national congress in 1902 and re-elected two years later. On the expiration of his second term in 1906 he was chosen governor of the state. Mr. Gillett has always been a Republican in politics. While in Washington he was a warm supporter of the policies of President Roosevelt.

Wisdom of Youth.

"Here's a dime, my boy. Now, what will you do with it?"

"Why, I'm goin' ter hustle right off ter some trust company, of course, an' buy a thousand-dollar first mortgage bond!"—St. Louis Republic-Dispatch.

The End of the Recitation.

"And I—I am that little chap, curly and brown."

A Narrow Escape.

—Harper's Weekly.

He's From Missouri;
You Have to Show Him.

Governor Folk is from Missouri. He's regarded as a pretty good citizen himself. See what he says about a certain sort of citizen:

"I do not believe in the mail order citizen. IT IS BETTER THAT WE SHOULD HAVE A THOUSAND TOWNS THAN ONE LARGE CITY. If a place is good enough for a man to make his money in, it certainly should be good enough for him to spend his money in. The merchants have a just right to all the business of the town in which they have their stores, and every good citizen will help them to get it."

LUCAS PAINT

Used in Uncle Sam's Paint Shop
During the past year the U. S. Navy has consumed 691,000 pounds of

Lucas White Paint
and 278,700 pounds of LUCAS COLORS, sufficient to produce more than 100,000 gallons of paint, equivalent to 50 carloads of 200,000 gallons each, and which would make a train more than one-half mile long.

In addition to this Uncle Sam has used during the past year more than 25,000 gallons of LUCAS VARNISHES, ENAMELS and other products.

Uncle Sam's preference is not a matter of favor, but of QUALITY and RESULTS.

In Uncle Sam's service, as in everybody else's, LUCAS PRODUCTS have an unbroken record for satisfactory results.

Hats as Aids to Matrimony.
 "The wise woman is as careful about the choice of a hat as she is about the choice of a husband." The celebrated author who uttered this dictum may have exaggerated a little, but not much. And allow me, a woman, to tell you solemn men whom I see sneering at the "frivolity" of my sex that often the cleverest among you chooses a wife for no better reason than that the woman thus selected has herself chosen a becoming hat!—Mme. C. De Brontelles in Grand Magazine.

Seeking Relief.
 Darcy (boarding a train)—I heard 'bout your wife dyin', Jim. What you gwine now?
 "I's off to join de Mormons. Hit keeps one woman bustlin' too much to support a heavy eath lak me."—Life.

A Pointer.
 "You can always tell an actor whose season has not been prosperous," said Mr. Stormington Barnes.

How?
 "He won't talk with you five minutes without saying that the public doesn't appreciate art."—Washington Star.

You've Met Him.
 "How do you like your new neighbor?"
 "Oh, he's the kind of man that saves his longest story to tell while we are holding the front door open for him to go."—

Right on the Job.
 Indignant Citizen (to office boy)—Your confounded paper had an outrageous attack on me this morning, and— Office Boy (briskly)—Yessir. How many copies will you have?

Highly Esteemed.
 "Do you think that most people nowadays worship money?"
 "No; I won't go as far as that," answered the home grown philosopher, "but I will say that the love of money is seldom platonic."—Washington Herald.

Limited Love.
 "When your parents first refused me your hand, I was so wretched that I wanted to throw myself out of the window."
 "And why didn't you?"
 "It was so high!"—Lustige Blatter.

In Doubt.
 "That's a curious looking mule you're driving," remarked the man who was whittling a pine stick.
 "Yassir," answered Erastus Pinkley. "He is kind o' cur'us."
 "What will you take for him?"
 "What'll I take for him? Say, boss, is you referrin' to dat mule as a piece o' property or an affliction?"—Washington Star.

True to Her Training.
 "Where was the new star discovered?" asked one dramatic critic of another.
 "In a laundry," was the reply.
 "Ah, well, she can't forget her old calling. She's mangling the part."

An Attractive Guest.

Sanford has a soloist of rare ability this week in the person of Mrs. J. L. Meek of Atlanta, who is visiting her cousin, Mrs. H. P. Driver. Mrs. Meek hitherto spent her winters in Orlando, where her talent was a valuable addition to the concerts and musical circles. Having visited Sanford for the first time this season, Mrs. Meek is greatly attracted by the advantages of the city as a winter resort, and will hereafter make the Sanford house her winter home.

Sanford society will suffer a decided loss in a few weeks by the departure of Mrs. Keelor and Miss Charlotte Keelor, who depart for their home in New York to spend the summer. Only the hope of an early return in the fall will lessen the void left by their departure.

English Musical Program

The program of "Selections from English Composers" will be given in the studio parlors of Mrs. Fannie Stenbridge Munson Thursday evening, March 25. Besides piano and vocal there will be a male quartette, double and mixed quartette, ladies' trio, violin solos by Miss Tennie, violin obligatos by Malcolm J. Wade, a chorus of twenty from Sanford's many pretty and attractive young girls. All are cordially invited. Admission, 25 cents. Benefit of music club and program expenses. Program commences at 8:15 o'clock promptly.

The semi-monthly reception of the Welaka Club last week was more than interesting from the fact that such a fine musical program was rendered as follows:

- Violin Solo..... Mr. Wade
- Recitation..... Mrs. R. C. Maxwell
- Vocal Solo..... Mr. Geo. Derry
- Recitation..... Miss Charlotte Keelor
- Piano Solo..... Mrs. D. L. Thrasher
- Vocal Solo..... Mr. Weedon
- Recitation..... Miss Simmons
- Violin Solo..... Mr. Wade

A success in every way. All responded to encores. At the close of the musicale, Messames Brown, King and Smith served a two-course supper.

In Honor of Mrs. Meek.

Mrs. H. P. Driver gave a course luncheon on Tuesday in honor of her cousin, Mrs. J. L. Meek, of Atlanta, one of the prominent visitors to the city this week. Those present were Mrs. W. L. Palmer and Miss Antoinette Slemmons of Orlando, Mr. Hamilton and Mrs. Harrison.

New Factory Progressing

The large two-story building being erected by the Sanford Carriage Works is assuming larger proportions and will soon be ready for occupancy. The front of concrete and white pressed brick presents a good appearance and ample space inside will give this factory facilities for a large output. W. H. Underwood, the proprietor, may add an auto garage to the factory as Sanford will soon need more storage room for the many new automobiles that are being purchased.

Negro Will Hang

The negro, Jesse Willis, who murdered Section Foreman Hammock last November will be hanged in April. The Reporter-Star has the following regarding it:

"The death warrant for Jesse Willis has been received by Sheriff Kirkwood. It will be remembered that Willis murdered Section Foreman Hammock at Paola last November. The time for the hanging is April 16th, between ten and two.

More New Residents.

C. C. Whittaker and W. T. Burnett of Camden, S. C., have arrived in the city and will make it their future home. Mr. Burnett has purchased the Capt. Whitner place on Silver Lake for a residence, and has also purchased some valuable celery land on Beardall avenue. Several other families from Camden are expected to arrive later.

Sanford an Automobile City

The smoke wagons are getting to be numerous in Sanford, and soon will be so common that even an editor can ride in one. In the past few weeks six new cars have been added to the list, and ere long Sanford will become an automobile center. A new garage will soon be erected to accommodate the new influx of cars. Verily, prosperity is upon us.

One Hundred Cars of Celery

According to the amount of celery that has already gone forward this week, Sanford will ship over one hundred car loads in six days. The price still remains firm at $1.75 per crate.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL

Prices of Seats to be Increased Without Further Notice

The committee of the Jacksonville Spring Musical Festival give notice that the associate membership tickets which are now being sold at $5, and which entitle the holder to one seat at each of the four concerts on April 19th and 20th, will be withdrawn from sale at any time without further notice, and the regular-price tickets, costing between $6 and $8 will be substituted. If any reader of The Herald has postponed his or her reservation of seats, immediate application should be made to the secretary, Mr. T. T. Elmore, Jacksonville, and funds should accompany all applications.

The railroads will place on sale reduced tickets from Sanford to Jacksonville, thus everyone will have an opportunity of taking in the festival at a nominal investment.

The festival will consist of three big features: Walter Damrosch and the celebrated New York Symphony Orchestra, four world-renowned soloists, orchestral, miscellaneous, artists, and "The Creation" sung by the Jacksonville Choral Society.

The New York Symphony which will appear in Jacksonville is becoming more and more the national American orchestra. No other orchestra in the world ever achieved the feat of giving three hundred concerts in one season. This splendid organization has been on a permanent basis for four years, and is the crowning feature of Mr. Damrosch's twenty-five years of activity in the interests of orchestral music.

Pamphlet of Sanford

Descriptive of Sanford, celery center and progressive city, The Herald has just gotten out a beautiful pamphlet and is sending copies of the text matter broadcast through Florida to the various resorts for distribution. The pamphlet deals with the history of the Celery City and the marvelous growth of the past few years, and is handsomely embellished with a number of cuts showing the principal business enterprises, residences and glimpses of fruitful landscape. In Tampa a number of these pamphlets have been received at the city ticket offices of the Coast Line, and they are being distributed to callers by city ticket agent Y. R. Beasley and his assistants.—Tampa Tribune.

Mistrial in Webb Case

The case of E. E. Webb which occupied the attention of the criminal court last week, resulted in a mistrial, and will come up again at the next session of the criminal court, May 24.

Col. Palmer of Tampa and A. M. Thrasher of this city represented the defense. County Solicitor Warlow was assisted by Hon. J. M. Cheney of Orlando. This case promises to cost the county a neat little sum before it is settled.

Will Build on Sanford Avenue

Realizing the need of more store rooms in Sanford and that the trend of business will be along the line of Sanford avenue, J. M. Stumon, the restaurant man, is arranging to erect two stores on his property on the avenue at an early date. The building now on the lot will be moved to a lot on Fourth street and put in first-class condition for residence purposes. The new stores will be modern in appearance and suitable for almost any class of business.

The Florida Blossoms.

(Orlando Sentinel)
Messrs. George Adams and T. W. Pesson, of Sanford, and Mr. Jim Hammond of Orlando were at the Pastime Theater last Friday and Saturday nights. Everybody seemed to enjoy their latest jokes and songs. They certainly made a hit in Orlando, and we would be glad to see them back at the Pastime any old night.

Road Gang at Work

The county road gang has finished the work on the Munry road and are now working on the road to Sylvan Lake. It is to be hoped that the county will build a good road all the way to Sylvan Lake, as this road is traveled extensively and would prove a great convenience, and induce more trade to come to Sanford.

Making Pressed Sand Bricks

The Pope Contracting Co. now have their new brick making machine in operation and are turning out a fine quality of pressed sand brick. These can be sold to the trade at a very low figure and the Pope Contracting Co., expect a fine trade in this line.

Ladies Take Notice

Albert Gramling, proprietor of the tonorial parlors in the Fico block, opposite the express office, announces that he is now prepared to do ladies' hair-dressing as well as ladies' facial massage. Experts are employed, who will be sent to the homes of all making request. The prices are reasonable, and only white people are catered to. 31-1f

ALL AROUND FLORIDA

The General News of "The Land of Flowers"

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain.

George J. Gould and party are enjoying themselves in Florida waters this month in Mr. Gould's $2,000,000 palace steam yacht.

Wm. D. Gonzalez, 18 years old, died of lockjaw in Pensacola last week. Some days before he had broken an arm by a fall from a trapeze at his home. Although the injury was painful, nothing serious was thought of it until symptoms of lockjaw set in.

The Baptists of Palmetto Beach have organized a church. Rex L. D. Geiger presided over the meeting. The organization is the result of revival meetings recently held by Rev. Mr. Sims.

The quartermaster's department at Washington has authorized the contract for the construction of a $23,500 barracks building at Fort Barrancas. The building will be 180 feet long and two stories high and will be erected near the present barracks building. The department has also authorized the following contracts for buildings at Fort Barrancas: One mess hall, to cost $5,200; lavatory, $3,800; plumbing for the same, $3,600; one double fireman's quarters, $5,385.

An unoccupied building in West Tampa, used occasionally for storing tobacco, was destroyed by fire last week.

The dead body of Felipe Fraga, a cigar maker in Tampa, was found hanging from a limb of a tree that projected over the river a short distance above the city one day last week. It was evidently a clear case of suicide, judging from a note pinned to his shirt bosom which read: "No one is responsible for this but me."

The Geiger grove at Lakeland was recently sold for $13,500 to Major Webb of Baltimore, Md.

The Florida State Sunday school convention is to be held in Tampa next week, commencing Tuesday and continuing Wednesday and Thursday. The sessions will be held in the First Baptist church.

T. J. Appleyard, of the Lake City Index, has purchased the plant of the Capital City Publishing Co. of Tallahassee, and will take possession April 5. It is understood that the state printing is included in the deal.

St. Petersburg is to have a new Government building. The site has been selected and cost $7,500. The lot is 100 feet square, and is between First avenue and First alley north.

The three-masted schooner Mystic, lumber laden, Jacksonville to New London, Conn., has reached the port of destination after a stormy passage of twenty-one days, in which she lost most of her sails and rigging and a portion of her masts. During the gales encountered she was blown 180 miles off the coast.

Thieves last week broke into the store of H. W. Grady at High Springs and got away with about $600 worth of goods, mostly clothing. Later, three men were arrested at Live Oak, who had a portion of the stolen goods with them.

At a meeting of the Florida head camp Woodmen of the World, Division V, held in Tampa last week, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: J. Mack Towne, Tampa, head consul commander; Dr. T. S. Anderson, head advisor; R. E. Bray, head banker; J. E. Davis, head clerk; Eppes Tucker, head escort; Charles S. Noble, head watchman; Louis Johnson, head sentinel. Miami was selected as the next place of meeting; time, second Tuesday in March, 1910.

For the week ending March 6, 6,250,000 cigars were made in Tampa.

Capt. Joseph Price of Palatka was elected vice junior commander of the Blue and Gray association at the annual convention held in Fitzgerald, Ga., last week. The gathering was an enthusiastic one although lacking in numbers, on account of weather conditions.

Miami is to have a new Government building to cost $180,000 exclusive of the lot, which cost $15,000 and is 150 feet square.

Engineer W. H. Caldwell has been furnished from the Government service, at his own request, indefinitely, to become manager of the Florida Bridge and Engineering Co., a corporation with $75,000 capital, with headquarters at Tampa.

The railroad between Arcadia and Plant City is being rushed to completion. The company is advertising for 500 more laborers.

Fofoest fires in the vicinity of Gainesville are doing considerable damage to fences and other property.

Upton Sinclair, author of "The Jungle," which caused the Chicago packing house investigation some years ago, is ill at a hospital in Tampa.

For running a gambling house in Tampa, A. Alvarez is sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and costs and serve three months in jail.

The Palm avenue Baptists of Tampa are to build a new church to cost $30,000.

Lakeland is to have a $40,000 tourist hotel to be completed in time for the next season's guests. Dr. J. L. McKay and Mrs. L. Falls of King's Mountain, N. C., are to furnish $30,000 and the citizens of Lakeland the other $10,000.

Charles Petty, a former resident of Key West, shot and instantly killed his wife at Sparks, Nevada, last week. He is under arrest.

While explaining how to repel the attack of a highwayman, A. B. Gebhardt of Pensacola shot and killed John Waxwell, an honored guest at his home. It was another case of didn't know it was loaded.

ARTESIAN WATER OF FLORIDA

United States Geological Survey Cautions Against Waste

Following information is taken from the United States Geological Survey Bulletin: "The ease with which flowing wells can be obtained by drilling in many localities along the East Coast of Florida has caused them to be regarded as sources of inexhaustible supply, and deep drilled wells from which the water is allowed to waste may be seen at many places in this part of the state. The effect of this waste of water on the flow of the wells has recently been studied by geologists of the United States and Florida geological surveys in connection with a general investigation of the ground-water supplies of the state. A comparison of some wells that are shut off when not in use with others that are allowed to flow without regard to waste shows a decline in the head or volume of water from the uncapped wells after a few years. In localities where wells are far apart the decline may be so slight as to be unnoticeable; but where many wells of nearly the same depth have been drilled in the same town the amount of water now flowing is decidedly less than it was originally. This condition is shown by wells at Jacksonville, St. Augustine, New Smyrna, Daytona, Palatka and elsewhere.

Experience in other artesian areas should serve as a warning to users of the Florida wells. In Indiana where water flowing out between the casings of hundreds of abandoned gas wells has been allowed to waste for years, many of these wells have ceased to flow. In California and elsewhere farming districts once made fertile by irrigation from flowing wells have now become desolate through their reckless misuse.

The exhaustion of the artesian waters of Florida is not, perhaps, imminent, but it is easy to understand that when the water flowing out of the ground exceeds in amount that supplied from its ultimate source, the flow will gradually diminish, and that every well from which water runs to waste lessens the common supply of neighboring wells. Owners are therefore urged to see that wells are capped or otherwise shut off when not in use.

Ponce deLeon Celebration

The next event of note to take place in Florida will be the Ponce deLeon celebration at St. Augustine on March 31 and April 1 and 2. This celebration commemorates the 397th anniversary of the finding of Ponce deLeon, the founding of the city of St. Augustine by Menendez and the change of flags, and in past years has been one of the most spectacular events ever presented in this country. This year it will be on a much larger scale than ever and the various nations will be represented in costumes that are historically correct. Every visitor to Florida should remain in the state long enough to attend this celebration. The various transportation companies will give low rates from various points in Florida for this occasion.

The Herald is on sale at T. J. Miller & Son's store, and the City cigar store.

BRICK PAVING TO START

Granite Curbing Is Being Laid This Week

PAVING WILL START AT ONCE

First Street Will Soon Present A Fine Appearance And A Most Busy Thoroughfare

The plans and specifications for the brick paving have been approved by the City Council and the work of placing the granite curbing is being done this week. The workmen are now laying the curb west of the railroad at the intersection of French avenue and the work will be carried through to Sanford avenue. When the curbing has been laid the real work of brick paving will start and the company that has it in charge propose to rush it to completion.

It is not now known whether any other streets will be paved or not, but should the Council so decide at its next meeting this work will be taken up before the contractors leave. The merchants on First street are jubilant over the prospect of a paved street as this will eliminate the dust that formerly made life a burden and at times necessitated the closing of the front doors.

With the brick paving and a street railway Sanford has left the primar class of small cities and joined the larger cities of the states.

The need of good streets for Sanford has been a long felt want, and the city council should devote their attention to the other streets of the city and place them in better condition.

FOR A SOUTH FLORIDA LEAGUE

Sanford Will Get In The Game With A Good Club

The great national game will receive a new impetus this summer, and several South Florida cities will form a league. Sanford will have a first-class ball park along the route of the new car line, and preparations should be made at once to organize a strong team and get in the game. As there are to be other amusements at the park, it would be well for the citizens to meet and discuss the subject, and organize for the common cause. The ball diamond could be made in the center of the proposed half-mile track, and both could be made at the same time. When there are no games scheduled to take place the horsemen could have races, and in the evening other amusements could be arranged for.

Regarding the proposed league, the Tampa Tribune has the following:

"Declaring that Bartow, St. Petersburg, Arcadia, Lakeland, Orlando, and possibly Plant City, are already prepared for entering a South Florida baseball league, B. B. Marquis of Bartow, one of the most enthusiastic promoters of the national game, spent yesterday in Tampa talking over matters with those who are interested in the game here, and before leaving for his home declared that he believes it is certain now that South Florida will have a league.

"During his stay here Mr. Marquis talked over the situation with Fred Ball and Dad Groves, two of the most enthusiastic devotees of the game in Tampa. Both of these gentlemen assured Mr. Marquis that they will see to it that Tampa has a club in the field this year, and that there are several others, among them Dave Woodward, who stand ready and willing to give Tampa the fastest ball team that it has ever had.

"It is proposed to play two games in each city every week, if the schedule can be so arranged, and to have a strict agreement as to the transferring of players, and the jumping of contracts. So far as is possible, the league will be made up of amateur players, but it will be necessary to import some talent to fill in the weak places.
