

STATES TO PERMIT BEER AT MID-NIGHT

Many Jubilee Parties Are Being Planned; Some Speak Against Unbridled Carnival

A large part of the country goes off the near-beer standard at 12:01 A. M. local time tomorrow.

In 1933, and the District of Columbia the sale of beer containing 3.2 percent alcohol by weight or four percent by volume becomes legal at that time.

However, some of those states that do not allow beer as soon as it becomes legal, while others, such as New York, at midnight, may have their beer laws changed before breakfast time.

The states that do not have beer laws at midnight still have laws on the books which prohibit the sale of beer until 12:01 A. M. The states that do not have beer laws at midnight still have laws on the books which prohibit the sale of beer until 12:01 A. M.

But it is apparent that legal beer will flow into states in many other states after the midnight hour, as other brewers throughout the nation are expected to have their beer on the shelves by that time.

August A. Busch, Jr., president of Anheuser-Busch, only associate member in St. Louis, said he "can't imagine" support for a "dry" party in the early morning hours.

King, McCreech and Elinas Royal, both of Miami, winners in the national contest sponsored by the P. T. A., were among other speakers.

"Never in the history of the public schools has there been such a need for school services," said James B. Rickard, executive secretary of the Florida Education Association. "Privation found in many homes today makes it mandatory that the schools continue their program that will guarantee the future welfare of our children."

"The Child Tomorrow" was the theme of the address by Mrs. Selby in the opening address. Mrs. Malcolm McClelland, Jacksonville, was made president. Mrs. W. Hunter Corey, of Daytona Beach, and Mrs. Harry Humphries, of Jacksonville, were named vice presidents.

Chairman of the various activities appointed by the board of managers were: Mrs. H. B. Hatchison, Tampa, parent-teacher publications; Mrs. James Cox, Pensacola, Child Welfare magazine; Mrs. Wallace Barbour, Miami Beach, safety; Mrs. Harry Caswell, Orlando, radio education; Mrs. John Campbell, Miami, legislation.

Mrs. George Smith, Daytona Beach, thrift; Mrs. E. T. Thomas, Miami Beach, program planning; and Mrs. J. A. Austin, Miami, character education. The convention will end today.

Roosevelt Order Provides Severe Penalty For Gold Hoarders After May First

WASHINGTON, Apr. 6.—(AP)—President Roosevelt fanned out for the persistent gold hoarders yesterday with a formal order providing penalties after May 1. In the same drastic decree he put the national gold supply under federal license, providing a controlled relaxation in the present embargo for legitimate domestic and foreign transactions.

Virtually all persons holding more than $100 in gold or gold certificates were directed by the President to turn their supply over to the Federal Reserve Bank or face a maximum penalty of $10,000 fine or 10 years imprisonment, or both.

The President was represented as elated at the expression of confidence by the public in re-

Speaker Deprecates Any Economizing On Education Of Pupils

HOLLYWOOD, Apr. 6.—(AP)—Operation of the public schools in a manner for maximum benefit for the child was discussed by the Florida Congress of parents and teachers in session here yesterday.

"I would rather live in a hut and wear rags than economize on the education and character building of my children," said Mrs. Howard Selby, West Palm Beach, president, in opening the session. "There must be better into the lives of our children the strength of character that will permit them to become leaders of the nation."

Discussing the value of education Alfred H. Waga, of West Palm Beach, state chamber of commerce president said: "Anyone can quit but it takes a man to battle life until he wins."

"Years ago," he said, "we began to build a beautiful state with wonderful opportunities and heritages. Now it is our heritage to go on."

F. P. L. COMPANY GIVES ANSWER IN RATE FIGHT

No Reduction At Present Time Possible, Says Manager In Explaining Position

The Florida Power and Light Co.'s answer to the City of Sanford's demand on Mar. 8 that a new schedule of electric rates that are "reasonable, just and proper" be submitted within 30 days, is that "It is difficult for us to consider a rate reduction at this time."

This answer was made orally before members of the City Commission meeting in special session at the City Hall with H. M. Coleman, local manager of the power company as spokesman.

The answer was accepted with but little comment upon the part of the Commissioners who listened intently as Mr. Coleman, for more than half an hour presented figures, estimates, charts, and cost decisions as he outlined some of the reasons why a reduction in rates "is difficult for us to consider."

Mayor V. A. Speer did most of the talking to the Commissioners. His questions related mostly to a reduction in commercial lighting and power rates. He said that if the company would reduce rates in those classes of service it would gain many new customers and a larger volume of business from the present users of power and commercial lighting. Finally, just before adjournment he said "We are certainly sorry that your report offers us no relief at this time."

Mr. Coleman's presentation of the company's case had to do with a history of electric rates in Sanford, the general subject of rates, analogous situations that found courts taking the side of utility companies, and finally, a plea for closer consultation of the problems faced by both the producer and consumer.

It pointed out that in 1920, before his company took over the local power plant, the top rate in Sanford for general lighting was 15 cents per kilowatt hour and nine cents per kilowatt hour for cooking. In 1934, the general lighting rate was reduced to 13 cents per kWh, the top rate for large power was reduced to five cents per kWh, and the top rate for cooking and power remained at nine cents per kWh.

"In 1925," he said, "which was the time when we commenced operation of the Sanford plant, the top rate for general lighting was further reduced to (Continued On Page Four)

Beer Bill Brought Up At Tallahassee

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 6.—(AP)—A bill to legalize 3.2 percent beer and two bills to provide state conventions for ratification of repeal of national prohibitions were introduced in the House today. The beer bill was introduced by Reps. Lewis and Beas of Palm Beach, Booth of Pinellas and Kanner of Martin and was referred to the committee on finance and taxation which called a meeting to consider the measure this afternoon.

The beer bill as introduced by the group of legislators calls for the immediate sale of beer at 3.2 percent alcohol by weight. Governor Rhett advocated such action in his message Tuesday. The beer bill would legalize the possession, manufacture, sale, and transportation of "beer, lager, beer, ale, port wine, and similar fermented malt or vinous liquor of fruit juices" containing not more than 3.2 percent alcohol by weight. It would impose taxes on all such beverages sold in Florida. All taxes collected under the act would be paid into the public free school funds and failure to pay taxes would be made a misdemeanor.

The Florida Senate today unanimously passed a bill extending the 1932 tax payment deadline from June 1 to June 15, 1933.

The Board of Public Instruction of Seminole County yesterday joined a state-wide appeal to Florida's legislators and Governor Dave Sholtz that careful consideration be given to any measure that will in any way impair the efficiency of the state's public school system.

In monthly session at the Court House, the board approved two letters that will be sent to all legislators within a few days. Reading of these letters occupied almost the entire session, although a discussion of the local system's financial condition also was made.

The first letter, which ends with an expression of "Thanks for efforts in behalf of our boys and girls," asks consideration of the following proposed legislation affecting the public school system of the state:

"1. The continuance of the $7,500,000 state appropriation disbursed to the 67 counties on the 'Teacher-Unit' basis.

"The board declares that 'to abolish this appropriation would necessitate the raising of county millage to a point far beyond the ability of the citizens to pay together with a substantial reduction in the school term.'

"2. The continuance of an appropriation by the State to meet the Federal appropriation for vocational instruction."

The board believes that "Discontinuing this appropriation would result in a loss of $4000 to this county, also the abolition of part-time vocational instruction, all agriculture instruction, and the curtailment of the teaching of Home Economics."

"3. A Constitutional amendment providing for a new set-up in the educational system of the State to provide for a state board of education elected for four years, with overlapping terms, having the power to select and appoint a State Commissioner of Education, supplanting the office of State Superintendent of Instruction. Further, to provide county boards of education of five members elected for four years with overlapping terms, with power to select and appoint a county superintendent of education with qualifications prescribed by the State of Florida."

The second letter that will be sent to all legislators within the next 10 days again set forth the views of the Board, which opens the letter with the statement that "in our public schools for the next two years and perhaps for a longer period depends on this session (Continued on Page Two)

Among them were bills to abolish the state game department and place its work under sheriffs and constables, abolish the state hotel commission, repeal the state barter law, abolish the motor vehicle department, and place the work under the compliance office; limit bondholders bringing mandamus action against cities, counties, and taxing districts to their share of funds available rather than allowing them to collect funds in full at the expense of other bondholders; to allow taxing districts to purchase their own bonds below par, to abolish all ad valorem taxes for state purposes, to require counties to pay titles one-half of the road and bridge tax collections.

BILL EXTENDS DEADLINE FOR TAX PAYMENTS

Senate Passes Measure Setting Final Date On June 15; Short Session Out

Salvation Army Drive Workers Turn In Reports

At sundown yesterday a total of $1084 in cash and pledges was turned in by the local army of men and women volunteer workers, in the annual budget appeal for the local Salvation Army Post 19 requirements for the coming year. Fifty percent of this sum was in cash.

Tomorrow morning two divisions of women workers from the First Christian and First Presbyterian churches will make another follow-up drive in an effort to secure further contributions toward the $2500 goal that has been set. The drive is expected to continue through Saturday. A big day today will be conducted on downtown streets that day in a final effort to reach the quota that has been named as representing the actual needs of the local post for another year.

STATE WITNESS'S CREDIBILITY IS PUT UNDER FIRE

Counsel For Negro In Attack Case Begins Fight To Save Him

DECATUR, Ala., Apr. 5.—(AP)—Credibility of the state's principal witness last night was attacked as counsel for Heywood Patterson, first of the nine negroes in the "Scottboro case" charged with attacking two white girls, took up the fight to save him from the electric chair.

The state rested after the noon recess, after calling only seven witnesses, among them one of the alleged victims of the attack. Six other persons corroborated details of her testimony given Monday.

Patterson is the first of the negroes to face retrial since the United States Supreme Court set aside death sentences imposed two years ago on seven of them.

The defense called witnesses to contradict portions of the girl's testimony concerning her movements in Chattanooga on the night of Mar. 24, 1931, and the following day up until the alleged attacks aboard a freight train in Jackson county, Alabama.

Dallas Ramsey, Chattanooga negro, testified he had seen two white girls in the "hobo jungle" near the Southern railway water tank on the morning before the attacks. He identified the accusing witness as one of the girls.

One of the two, Ramsey said, asked him when a train for Huntsville would pass, and he told her 9 o'clock.

"We came up here hunting a job," the negro said one of the girls told him, and he referred them to the hosiery mill where he had been employed a month before. They persisted they would return home aboard a freight, and he testified he told them to "hobo back was a pretty hard way."

Later he said he saw the girls in company with a white man near the spot where the hoboes usually caught freights, and then saw them and a "whole crowd of white and colored boys" board the train.

Evidence of a conviction of the girl witness on a charge of adultery in Huntsville municipal court was ruled out.

State witnesses yesterday included W. H. Hill, station agent at Paint Rock, where a little more than two years ago the negroes and the two alleged victims were taken from the freight train. Hill told of the arrival of the train, and the removal of the negroes from it by a posse numbering between 50 and 60 men, who lined up to the water tank.

The second victim of the alleged attacks is missing. Her mother has stated that she has not been kidnapped.

ties was completed and it was headed for the House.

Leaders in the Senate said meanwhile they would consider the House bill to safeguard secret diplomatic codes in order to assure freedom of the press. The measure was referred to the foreign relations committee for consideration today.

While demands came from many directions for investigation of the Akron disaster, the Senate granted sweeping power to its banking committee for an inquiry into private banking.

The Senate Judiciary committee also voted for a delay in prosecuting Joseph W. Harriman, New York banker.

The Senate voted to continue today consideration of the five-day week, six-hour day legislation and agreed to limit debate in order to speed action on it.

During the day an amendment was adopted, with consent of the bill fared as the House failed to exclude from provisions of the bill farmers and other processors of perishable foods. Another amendment, to exclude newspapers, was offered by Senator Tydings, Democrat, Maryland.

Senator Robinson, Democratic leader, said he might propose today a modification limiting labor to 35 or 36 hours a week and predicted the measure would pass in that form.

From Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, however, came a proposal to eliminate the two-year limitation on the bill. After the Senate's decision to continue with the 30-hour week measure, its agriculture committee voted favorably on the plan for refinancing mortgages.

Arthur Dean, New York, who who said he represented "a number of investors," said the proposed bill for investigation of private banking was "a mistake."

The prospect for speedy enactment on the $500,000,000 relief bill fared as the House failed to consider the measure passed by the Senate last week, on technical grounds.

Two Veteran Ball Players Secured For Local Outfit

Manager Joe Barnes of the 1933 Sanford Celery team that will be entered in the Central Florida Baseball League, made two announcements this morning.

He said that he has secured the services of two veteran baseball players for his 1933 infield—Charlie Abbott, of Pensacola, and Shorty Maltby, former State League star who was with Winter Park last season.

He said that his team will meet Jim Harper's Orlando team in an exhibition game here next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and that either Tige Minor, Otis Curry or Cal Dennis will pitch.

Barnes sent his players through a brisk workout at Municipal Park Monday afternoon. Yesterday afternoon they worked out without him. Today he declared that they are in "pretty good" condition and that they will be ready for actual competition by Sunday.

The probable starting line-up for Sanford next Sunday will find Bert Chapman catching. Barnes at first, Maltby at second, Abbott at third, Higgins or Eddie Moore at third, Harrison, Newcomb, and Tillis in the outfield.

Newcomb is the lad who batted 370 for Clearwater in the West Coast League last year. Barnes said that since he had only one

Admiral Moffet Had Firm Faith In Dirigible "Akron"

WASHINGTON, Apr. 5.—(AP)—Rear Admiral William A. Moffet's own firm faith in the Akron took him on the great ship's last and fatal journey.

From the day of its beginning, Moffet has been unshaken in his devotion to the huge craft's worthiness. Yesterday, Secretary Swanson disclosed the Navy's chief of aeronautics made the last flight at his own insistence.

"The Navy will indeed have lost a very fine man if it has lost Admiral Moffet," Swanson said.

Moffet drove the golden rivet that marked the official start at assembling the Akron in 1929. At its Christening in 1931 he said it represented a work of which everyone connected with it "should be justly proud."

For 12 continuous years Moffet has served as chief of the Navy's bureau of aeronautics. Ordinarily his term would have expired Mar. 13. Moffet received orders continuing him in office beyond the usual tour of duty since he was to retire for age shortly. The House naval committee had recommended the extension of service.

and citizens as a mark of the regard in which they hold Senator T. G. Futch, Leesburg, president of the 1933 Senate. Large floral pieces decorated the president's rostrum while bouquets were laid on the desks of every senator.

The formalities of organization were completed rapidly. Justice Clegg Turrell, justice of the Florida Supreme Court, administered the oath of office to the new senators, four at a time.

Senator W. C. Hodges, Tallahassee, chairman of Moneys night's Democratic caucus reported the action of the caucus in nominating Senator Futch for president of the Senate and Senator Herbert F. Cahn, Pensacola, president pro-tem, and the nominations were ratified. Senate employees were elected and Justice Turrell then administered the oath of office as president and president and president pro-tem of the Senate to Senators Futch and Cahn.

Senator Whitaker relinquished the presidential gavel to Senator Futch.

Everyone accepts the fact that Bayer Aspirin is the safest form of relief for headaches, neuralgia, neuritis, periodic pain, and other suffering. If you've tried it, you know. But no one need hesitate to take these tablets because of their speed. They are perfectly safe. They will not depress the heart. They have no ill effect of any kind. The rapid relief they bring is due to the rapidity with which they dissolve.

So, keep these tablets handy and keep your headaches free from pain or discomfort. Carry the pocket tin for emergencies; buy the bottle of 100 for its economy. The new reduced price has removed the last reason for trying any substitute for genuine Bayer Aspirin—each tablet stamped with this cross:
