FRENCH MOVEMENT IS WIDELY DEPLOYED

American Government Powerless to Make Peace

REPARATIONS CRISIS TODAY FINDS OUR GOVERNMENT WITHOUT ANY SETTLEMENT

OR AN OPPORTUNITY FOR HELPFULNESS IN SITUATION THAT IS TENSE

GERMANY UNABLE

To Make Actual Reparations to Those Powers Participating in Ruhr Occupation

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Developments in the reparations crisis in which further complications loom, with the declaration of Germany that she is "not in a position to make actual reparations to those powers" participating in the Ruhr occupation, today found the American government still without hope for any immediate opportunity for helpfulness in the situation.

With French occupation of German territory an accomplished fact, administration officials evidently were prepared to await developments before making any further move in the reparations crisis. Official comment was denied, even the understanding as to the move of President Harding in ordering the American troops home from the Rhine which Premier Poincare expressed in the French chamber failing to unseal official lips.

It was pointed out, however, that recall of the troops apparently had unanimous approval in the United States. It also was admitted that their retirement from the Rhine would prevent even the possibility of embarrassing circumstances in connection with French operations in Germany. On the direct question as to whether the Washington government had warned Paris in advance that occupation of the Ruhr would lead to American withdrawal, no comment whatever was forthcoming. There was no present plan of calling home William Boyden, American official representative on the reparations commission.

While in the official viewpoint here further discussion of the form and method of the American suggestions to France for an attempt to solve the reparations difficulty with the aid of international financiers is regarded as of little value since the march of events already has swept far beyond that point, considerable information on the subject became available during the day. It now appears that Secretary Hughes, in advance of his New Haven address, conferred several times with Ambassador Jusserand, and that replies of Premier Poincare dealing with specific points in the American suggestion were discussed at these meetings. At least two cablegrams of this nature were received by the ambassador.

The ultimate conclusion of the French authorities, it was indicated, that little was to be gained along the line of action pointed out from Washington, rested in part at least on the expressed belief that the council of premiers in Paris would reach an accord. There was nothing to indicate any further French interest in the American proposal after the premiers failed to agree.

Speculation as to what is next to be expected from the situation in Germany turned last night to the effect that expiration of the German moratorium January 15 might have in the crisis.

Dr. Otto Wiedfeldt, the German ambassador, late yesterday presented to Secretary Hughes the formal protest of Germany to occupation of the Ruhr by the French, but the text of the communication was not made public here.

Berlin dispatches, however, indicate that Chancellor Guno intends to refuse further reparations payments to France, Italy and Belgium on the grounds that they are "treaty-breaking powers."

There was interest exhibited here in the exact meaning which underlay

UNMISTAKABLE FEELING OF RELIEF FIRST TWENTY-FOUR HOURS PASSES BY.

Without Breach of Peace Evident in Any German City in Occupied Territory in Vicinity of Essen.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Unmistakable feeling of relief was felt that the first twenty-four hours of France's Ruhr adventure passed without a breach of peace was evident here although the French movement continues to be widely condemned and deplored there was no general desire to see Great Britain's ally involved in conditions which would seriously add to her burdens and above all which would lead to bloodshed. This attitude was reflected in some comments in the morning newspapers which mention with approval conciliatory tone of General DeGoutte's proclamation to the Ruhr valley inhabitants.

ESSEN, Jan. 12.—All factories will close next Monday morning from 11:00 to 11:15 in protest against occupation. The committee directing the demonstration represents all political parties. Railway traffic will stop ten minutes at the same hour. Ringing of church bells and blowing of factory whistles will voice cities indignation.

ESSEN, Jan. 12. General DeGoutte issued a proclamation from Dusseldorf establishing a state of siege throughout the newly occupied territory. German law, it was stipulated, would remain in force.

ESSEN, Jan. 12.—Germany's richest industrial section of the Ruhr district was in the hands of the French troops last night owing to the failure of the Germans to live up to the stipulations of the treaty of Versailles.

While the occupation is not actually spread over the entire district, its leading city, Essen, is occupied and the 600,000 inhabitants of the municipality are now subject to the supervision of soldiers with fixed bayonets and full field equipment.

The proclamation of General DeGoutte, in command of the French army, which is addressed to the residents of the city, says that the Franco-Belgian troops are being sent into Ruhr to assist the allied engineering commission in obtaining the coal required from Germany on their reparations account. It announces that German social and other laws, including that providing for an eight hour day, will remain in force. The German officials are requested to appear at their customary duties and the press is advised that it will not be interfered with so long as it does not publish articles libelling the occupying armies.

Posts and telegraphs will continue "fundamentally" the same.

ESSEN, Jan. 12.—General Rampon, commanding the cavalry in the French Ruhr expedition, made official entry into Essen yesterday afternoon, escorted by a squadron of cavalry, six armored cars and a detachment of cyclists. The French commander was driven directly to the city hall, where he was received by Dr. Hans Luther, the burgomaster.

General Rampon informed Dr. Luther it was his desire that the local officers facilitate to the utmost the work of the economic mission the French were installing in Essen to control the work in the Ruhr region. On being assured that the mission would have the sincere co-operation of the municipal authorities, the French commander announced, the withdrawal of most of his troops. He said he was leaving the smallest number possible in the city to maintain order, as the French were unwilling that Essen should be levied upon to support a military occupation.

The soldiers received orders to remain in barracks and avoid the streets. Belgian troops have reached the outskirts of the city and are holding the sector north of Essen. The city is quiet.

STATE CAPITOL IMPROVEMENTS TAKE LABOR

INTRICATE SCAFFOLDING AND CHANGING OF DEPARTMENT OFFICES

(By The Associated Press) TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 12.—The state capitol is now a thing of intricate scaffolding and changing departmental offices, incident to the approximately $250,000 worth of improvements and extensions, work on which was started several months ago. Predictions are now that the last vestige of the countless carpenters, masons, painters, electricians and the like will have been removed by March 1. That will give the building one month in which to display its new dress before the coming of the legislators in biennial convulse.

The work on the building has moved much faster in the past several weeks, following a period of some delay.

Under the original contract, it is understood, the building was to be completed by December 1. Delays, however, are not unexpected in these days of uncertain labor and material supply.

The daily visitor to the capitol these days gets the impression that the various departments are paying hide and seek with him. Figuratively, they are here one day and there the next. All the shifting about is necessitated by the progress of the work. Two or three of the departments are now in their permanent quarters and have proudly hung out their sign. They include the joint department of the State Board of Control and the State Plant Board where Secretary J. T. Diamond holds sway in the absence of members of the board. The offices of the superintendent of public instruction are also permanently located. The comptroller's department—some of it rather—is housed in new quarters. The attorney general's department is in part of its new quarters while a portion is held temporarily by the governor.

It is the east wing addition that appears to be in the most undeveloped stage of construction. Work is nearing completion on the west wing. The home chamber will occupy the third floor of this wing and it seems to be virtually complete, at least in the rough. No furnishings have yet been installed.

The present construction marks the second extensive alterations the state building has undergone. It was remodelled during the term of the late Governor Jennings. The building was erected in 1846, the year Florida entered the statehood. Work towards its erection had been started 20 years before during the territorial days.

BOLE WEEVIL POISON PLACED ON FREE LIST

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Senator Harris requested President Harding today that calcium arsenate, used to fight the boll weevil, be placed on the tariff free list under the president's discretionary authority given in the new law.

yesterday and left there a formal protest against occupation of the Ruhr by France.

After reciting that the German government protested against "oppression applied toward Germany in contradiction with the treaty (of Versailles) and international law, the ambassador said the Berlin government did not intend to "meet violence with violence not to reply to the breach of the treaty with a withdrawal from the treaty."

"As long as the state of affairs contrary to the treaty exists," the protest read, "Germany is not in a position who have brought about this state of affairs."

BUILDING OPERATIONS ON HIGH GEAR IN THIS CITY; MUCH BIG WORK STARTS

RUM FLEET IN NEW YORK HARBOR TODAY

READY FOR BUSINESS WHILE NAVAL SQUADRON BEING ORGANIZED

HIGHLANDS, N. J., Jan. 12.—A great fleet of twenty-two vessels which rolled up yesterday off Sandy Hook while the New York naval squadron was being re-organized was still standing off Aspinwall channel tonight this morning ready for business as usual. Although observers ashore estimated thousands of cases had been landed last night the rum fleet had not yet begun to dispose of its bidders putting out from shore in small boats.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 12.—Bitterness of the St. Louis Cardinals will leave for the team's training camp at Bradenton, February 21, a week earlier than was originally planned, Branch Kiekey, manager, has announced.

WILL JAIL "IN-LAW" WHO CAUSE FUSSIES

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—Mothers-in-law who are found guilty by Judge Joseph Schulman, on charges of family quarrels will be given jail sentences. Judge Schulman made this announcement yesterday when a mother-in-law was arraigned before him on a charge of kidnapping her three-year-old granddaughter from her daughter's home.

MATERIALS FOR BUILDINGS IS ARRIVING AND WORK WILL START AT ONCE PROSPECTS BRIGHT

For Great Summer Here With all Buildings and Street Improvements on the Way

The steel is arriving and other materials needed are arriving for the six story First National Bank building and the four story Puleston-Drumby building and glass and other materials for the Meisch building and the new Milane theatre building, the Phillips building and all the other buildings in the business portion of the city of Sanford.

Hunt's Pharmacy has already opened up in the Meisch building and the store room has no windows in it yet, but business is so brisk in Sanford that merchants must move in long before the building is finished in order to save the trade. The other store rooms in the Meisch building are being finished but all of them lack the glass windows in front. The Cafeteria is all ready to open as soon as the windows are in place. Foundations are being made at the Milane theatre lot and the concrete mixer is on the job the same crew of the Gallespie company that worked on the Meisch building now at work at the theatre.

In fact, every building in the business portion is assuming busy aspects and the visitors to the city are greatly surprised at the amount of work going on at every corner of the city. The big city improvements will start soon as the contracts for street paving will probably be made some time next week and the work will begin at once. With the boat basin and pier and bulkheads on the lake front and the chimney good for the starting of the big tourists hotel early next fall this summer promises some real activity in Sanford and there will be no dull periods in any line of business.

DEATH PENALTY WAS CAUSE OF ACQUITTAL

OF YOUNG MEN AT FORT LAUDERDALE FOR ALLEGED ASSAULT

(By The Associated Press) FT. LAUDERDALE, Jan. 12.—The acquittal of Floyd Williams last night by a jury after two days deliberations automatically disposes of the case of three other young men held in the city jail of charges preferred by two Seminole Indian girls. Acquittal is said to be the result of the death penalty existing in this state for this sort of a crime.

TO INVESTIGATE

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Notice was served on railroads of the country yesterday by the Interstate Commerce Commission, that it intended to proceed immediately to investigation of their expenditures during recent months on maintenance of equipment and the methods they have followed in providing freight car service for shippers.

Through the commission's order instituting the investigation said that no formal complaint had been made as to railroad expenditures on maintenance, informal petitions asking for an inquiry have been filed recently by the International Association of Machinists and other associations which had been involved in the general shop-craft strike which began last year.

TONIGHT'S BASKET BALL GAME ONE OF IMPORTANCE IN SEASON'S RECORD

Orlando Tigers Undefeated and They Have Defeated Other Strong Teams That Should Be State Contenders

The Orlando Tigers have never yet defeated Sanford on the Sanford court and advance dope coming up from the Tigers' camp is to the effect that the Bengals will be here all primed to administer defeat to Sanford. So far this season Orlando has not lost a game, and neither has Sanford, and it is safe to predict that both teams will put up all the fight they have to hold their records clean.

One of the important features of tonight's game is the fact that Orlando defeated St. Augustine, a team that had not been defeated until that time. St. Augustine has a team rated as amongst the state's best, and should Sanford win from Orlando tonight it will show Sanford's superiority over St. Augustine as well as Orlando. It will be remembered that last year the Orlando team won from Sanford on the Orlando court by a large majority but their games in Sanford went to the Celery Feds by the close score of four points.

This year finds quite a few changes in Sanford's camp and a good coach at the head, with plenty of talent material to pick from, and although Orlando has a better team this year than last, so has Sanford, and this game at the Parish house tonight should prove a real hummer.

The Orlando girls will be here also, and their team, too, is rated as strong as the average girls' teams of the state, and inasmuch as Sanford always has had a good team of girls, and this year is no exception, the game, in addition to the boy game, will make up a bill that no one should miss who likes basketball or any one that knows any one that likes basketball.

These two games will be played at the Parish House court tonight, the first game starting at seven sharp. The hour of seven was decided upon on account of the dance that will be held later in the evening and these two games must be completed in time for the dance.

Competent officials will have full charge of things tonight, and will see that the games are rushed thru in proper style, giving the fans an exhibition of good, clean basketball. The doors will open about 6:30, the admission will be 35 and 50 cents and the curtain goes up at seven sharp. We'll meet you there.

FOR THE MOVIE FAN

Now that one of the largest crowds ever witnessing any one show in any local theatre is through with Colburn, attention is turned to the extra for movie play tonight and tomorrow.

CELERY SEED

There will be a hot time at the old court tonight.

And we are not talking about the circuit court—we mean basketball.

Sanford and Orlando, with records clean, will meet to see who is who and why.

And the girls will take care of the pair ones from Orlando, also. A double header that should be the best of the season.

Keep the change of time in mind so that you will miss none of it. It was necessary to change the starting time to seven on account of a dance that follows.

The Florida State League must be adjourned to make room for a dance. Disasters often on the probable outcome of this meeting. There are some that are sure the league will go on and then there are some who have their doubts.

But no matter what the Florida State League does, Sanford will have basketball this summer and they will play in a new baseball park.

And the Sanford team will be made up of players that can play, and these players, will be backed up by fans that are fans. The fan that has been getting an eye full without paying for it will have a seven foot fence to climb this year or not.

The Sanford High School, forging ahead in other forms of sports, will also have a baseball team this year, according to some of the wise 'uns, and why not, they have some baseball players going to high school this term.

There is something in the wind out the Country Club way and we understand that a tournament will be arranged to settle the question of the club champ for this season. Better keep those clubs from getting rusty.

Wadbrook Talks About Possibilities of Golf Course

Interviewed by Boston Paper Gives Some Real Facts

E. E. Wadbrook, on his recent trip north, gave out the following interview in the Boston Herald:

"In six months Sanford, to the surprise of all expert golfers who have visited the course, has produced one of the prettiest and most sporty courses in Florida. We know this is a large order, but it is so, and we invite you to come down and demonstrate. We have nine holes completed, with wonderful fairways running thru beautiful pines and groves. You start from No. 1 tee, amongst the oranges, and you finish on No. 3 with the yellow fruit, golden with Florida's sunshine at your side.

"While every hole is universally admitted to be excellent, it is also conceded that three of the nine are what is generally known among golfers as A-No. 3 holes. This is a large percentage in a nine-hole course, but No. 3 is the prettiest hole in the United States, and also a mashie pitch hole unbeatable. No. 6 is as fine and as beautiful a water carry as there is in this or any other country, and No. 8 as a mid iron test of 150 yards is not to be surpassed. Our water hazards are such as to test the best golfers, beautiful lakes, circled with majestic pines, with an occasional black bass or trout, as the Floridians call them, leaning from the palucid water.

"Anyone who has ever played golf at Pinehurst, N. C., and practically every golfer has, will find himself completely at home with many similarities in fairways and general environments, and you will find our stimulating atmosphere tempered with the warmth of the Florida sun.

"Each hole has been designed for a golfer's test of clubs and skill in their respective uses, and when you arrive at the clubhouse, after a perfect round of par (35) or as near thereto as you can get, the best of cooking and creature comforts await you in the old grove house of 10 years ago, renovated to meet the most exacting requirements; then talk over with your foursome just how you did it."

STATE LEAGUE'S ANNUAL MEETING THIS AFTERNOON

The annual meeting of the Florida State League will be held here, this afternoon in the office of Walter W. Rose, president of the circuit. Election of officers and other important business will be brought up at the session.

There is a possibility that the league may decide to disband, but most of the club officials are viewing the matter optimistically, expressing the belief that a solution of the organization's problems will be obtained and that the 1923 season will find the same old organization handling the organized baseball affairs of the Peninsular state.

If Mr. Rose refuses to serve another term as president, as he is expected to do, it is the general belief that Al Lang, former mayor of St. Petersburg will be elected to succeed him. Mr. Lang is said to have the support of several clubs and, so far as is known, his name will be the only one presented unless Mr. Rose is persuaded to consider another year. —Orlando Sentinel.
