Oh, Santa, what's with the rain, dear?

By RUSS WHITE
Herald Staff Writer

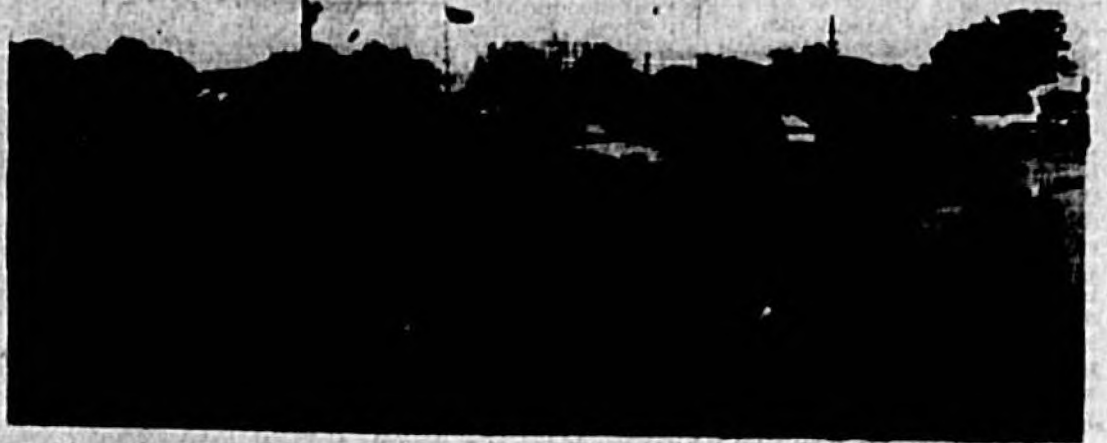

SANFORD - Santa may be arriving in an ark this year if the rain in Central Florida doesn't stop.

Orlando has had 3.3 inches of rainfall in December - a month when the average is 0.7. Sanford-Seminole County figures weren't available but are probably similar.

It's an extremely wet December and it's going to get wetter, said Dan Patterson of the National Weather Service in Melbourne. The pattern is clear, and the much-discussed weather phenomena named El Niño has much to do with it.

The weekend weather predictions for the area aren't pretty - Central Florida being at risk for severe weather early today and more

And God created Anthony

One family counts its Christmas blessings

By RUSS WHITE
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - Anthony Prevatt, 4-years-old, is singing "Jingle Bells" and getting excited about Christmas.

He has blue eyes, blond hair and a smily face.

Anthony can recite the alphabet, count to 10, tell you about his teacher, Mrs. Vickery, and about the school bus that picks him up each morning just after 7 and brings him home around 2 in the afternoon.

He can show you the blue helmet he wears and the handsome new wheelchair he received on his fourth birthday. It is candy-apple red down where Anthony's little feet are strapped. It was given to him by the Knights of Columbus in Sanford.

"I have cerebral palsy," Anthony says, trying to wheel forward and look in your eyes.

His grandma, Suzie Prevatt, says the family is grateful for the miracle of Anthony's life, and the opportunity that God has given them to love the little boy. He was born 10 weeks premature and twice he almost died.

A simple cough can become life threatening within 24 hours for Anthony Prevatt, four-years-old.

"We're not church going people but we're God loving," Suzie Prevatt said. "And we knew how much God loved us when Anthony was born. He's the center of our lives. All of us."

There are seven Prevatts, living in a small, concrete block home that Ronnie and Suzie have had for 28 years. Anthony calls them Grammy and Grandpoppy. Grammy is with Anthony until his parents - Adam and Cassie - get home from work. Anthony's uncles, Shayne and Matt also live at the house. Seven Christmas stockings hang ready for a visit from Santa.

Adam and Cassie were just kids themselves when Anthony was born on Oct. 24, 1993. Dad was then 17, mom two years older.

"I'm prejudiced, of course, but my son and daughter in-law are wonderful young people," Grammy Prevatt said. "They're working hard to make it. One day, they hope to have a home of their own for Anthony. Rent a place not far away."

Adam is in the excavating business, Cassie works at Blockbusters Video.

"Block...busters," Anthony calls out, triumphantly.

"You wonder what he's thinking when he sees the other children running and playing," Grammy Prevatt said just after helping him out of the wheelchair and onto the floor. "Wonder if he is asking, 'how do you do that?'"

Anthony's mother, she says, is convinced that one day he will walk.

All Anthony can do now is crawl. Crawl like a soldier does on the battlefield. The combat crawl. A four-year old fighting for what other youngsters perhaps take for granted.

"He's a remarkably happy and a bright child," Grammy said. "He's interactive, he

Rejuvenating Crooms Academy

By MARIA OREM
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - For possibly the first time in its history, Crooms Academy will hold a reunion on Dec. 18 at 7 p.m. during the regularly scheduled PTA meeting in the school's gymnasium.

"We are rejuvenating the school," said William Oimartin, chairman of the School Advisory Committee and a former student. "We want everyone who ever attended or was associated with Crooms to come back."

The school, with about 400 students in grades 6-12, this summer graduated its first senior class in 25 years. School supporters are seeking state accreditation to facilitate placement of future graduates.

"There's a lot going on at Crooms," Oimartin said. "We're sending science fair projects to the county level and we have many new programs here."

The science fair included more than 200 projects in 18 different categories in the areas of biology, physical science, mathematics and engineering. Ribbons were awarded in each category in each class. Winners will compete in the regional science and engineering fair in February. Science fair projects will be on display during the reunion, he said.

In addition, the Honor Guard will present the colors during an awards ceremony. The Crooms Academy Gospel Choir will perform a Holiday Songfest.

Guest speakers offering a history of the school will include Willie King Sr., Edward Blackheart, Emanuel Hilary and school principal Hardy Blake. Oimartin will speak about some of the school's most recognizable students including Tim Raines, Jeff Blake and Dallas Brown.

Oimartin said the presentation will focus on the past, present and future of the school.

"Kind of like Christmas, past, present and future," he said.

In other school news, Crooms students were recognized at a Nov. 11 Future Business Leaders of America

Vista holiday project helps abused spouses

By MARVA HAWKINS

SANFORD - Helping others during the holidays, Central Florida Legal Services Vista Project community volunteer, Caysa Gilchrist, was the producer of the S-O-S, Sell-Old-Stuff at the Kidstuff-Trade-A-Thon, gala garage sale. There were buyers from around the Sanford community who came to shop at this gala sale.

Proceeds were given to clients of SafeHouse of Seminole, a haven for abused spouses. Vendor mentors were Karen Thompson, Betty Sanders and Billie Goodman.

Highlights of the afternoon and entertaining the shoppers and jazz lovers were renowned singer Linda Cole and jazz musicians Tracy Alexander on drums, Doug Matthews on double bass, Charlie Bateman on keyboard. These noted musicians took time out from their busy schedules at Disney and other places.

Linda Cole works for Central Florida Legal Services of Daytona where she gives free legal service. Ms. Cole says her life as a musician has been since the age of 3. She is the cousin of the late Nat "King" Cole.

Linda Cole, along with her son, has appeared at Disney. At age 21 Cole was affiliated with Motown music. She says she comes from a musical

New Humane Society director has big plans for his furry friends

By MARIA OREM
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - As the new executive director of the Humane Society of Seminole County, Jeff Cashatt has some big plans for his furry guests.

First and foremost, Cashatt said the society will continue its long standing policy of keeping animals until they are ready to be adopted.

"You have to care about animals," Cashatt said. "Ours is a totally different facility. We are an alternative facility and I know we are in the minority when compared to most centers. This board's philosophy is that all life is precious."

Cashatt said the shelter will take in any animal with the exception of those too ill, too old or dangerous.

Established in 1973, the shelter at 2800 Good Homes Road in Sanford houses up to 200 animals at a time. Off-site foster providers accommodate animals such as horses and sometimes puppies that need specialized areas. The 12,000 square-foot facility was recently revamped following a fire in 1993.

"The Phoenix has risen literally from the ashes here," he said. Anyone desiring to adopt an animal must sign a contract with the shelter and must also have a good record of taking care of previous pets. Prospective pet owners must also agree to keep the animal as an indoor pet.

Adoption fees range from $40 for cats to $50 for dogs. If the animals are not spayed or neutered the cost is an additional $20. However, once the animal is spayed or neutered, pet owners are given a rebate certificate.

Cashatt, who retired from the United States Navy in 1993 after 20 years of service, said he also plans to increase the shelter's financial base and public awareness.

Contrary to what some people believe, the shelter is funded through donations. With 10,000 members currently on the mailing list, Cashatt said he would like to increase membership and donations through fund-raising events and special programs.

With a bachelor's degree in international relations from the University of San Diego, Cashatt, 44, has served as a Volunteer in Service To

Firefighters seeking donations

The Seminole County Firefighters are looking for donations for this year's bike drive. This event has grown that we are no longer able to repair enough used bikes to meet the demand, so we have teamed up with "Toy's-R-Us" to purchase new bikes and a helmet. For a $45 donation you can provide a new bike and helmet to a needy child for Christmas. Please make your checks payable to the Seminole County Firefighters and note Bikes for Christmas in the memo section. There will be a tag saying "Donated by ____". If you do not wish to have your name on the tag, please let us know.

Due to the short time period of this year's drive please call 407-298-FIRE (3473), or fax 407-293-3395 or page Tim Nicholson at 651-3364.

Thank you for help in spreading the Christmas spirit.

SCREA remembers children during the holiday season

By SHIRLEY E. BAKER
Herald Correspondent

The primary goal of the Seminole County Retired Educators Association is serving as a support group for fellow retired Seminole County Educators. But the children in the county have not been forgotten by them.

Each year members of SCREA donate food and money to the Marie Taylor Fund which is administered by Sandra B. San Miguel, M.S.W., the County's lead Social Worker. The food and necessary purchases are then distributed to the children who need them most by Seminole County School Social Workers.

The Marie Taylor Fund is named after Seminole County's first Social Worker. Through her efforts and foresight, the Seminole County School Social Work Program was organized.

The year's contributions were presented to Seminole County Social Worker, W. "Freddie" Nieves, M.S.W., by SCREA's Treasurer Al Duxbury. Other SCREA members present for this presentation are Lemuel Stallworth, President; Sylvia Stallworth, Secretary; and Doris Duxbury, Membership Committee Chairperson.

Seminole County School Social Workers are housed in the Velma Mitchell Annex, 1401 S. Magnolia Ave., Sanford.

America. (VISTA) worker and was also one of the founders of CENTAUR (Central Florida Aids Unified Resources Inc.) He speaks some Italian and has studied Russian and German.

Cashatt, who lives in Casselberry, said he will intensify fund-raising efforts during the shelter's two main events: a Spring Gala and a golf tournament.

"I'm hoping we can get more support from businesses in the community, which is something we have never really pursued in the past," he said.

In addition to his nine-member staff, Cashatt manages a host of volunteers. To rally and organize the shelter's volunteer staff, he will appoint a volunteer coordinator. He is also seeking a transport vehicle for the shelter.

Cashatt praised his staff for their dedication, noting that many of them used their own cars to transport animals and supplies.

"We have some really dedicated people working here," he said. "They really love the animals."

Anthony

doesn't want pity. He seldom asks for help. Being born the way he was, he has known no other life. He enjoys going to Fine Crest Pre-K classes for children with disabilities.

"He cried just a little the first day two years ago. Now, he's all smiles. He's actually happy to get on the bus in the morning. They drop down a ramp, and up he goes in his chair. He smiles the second he sees his friend, Mr. Cummings, an aide who accompanies the driver. Mr. Cummings sings to him, makes Anthony laugh."

At 2:30 or so when Anthony comes home on the bus, he's just as elated. Grammy's there. Or Uncle Shayne.

For the most part, Anthony enjoys therapy sessions in Orlando or at the Elks Hospital in Umatilla. "He gets afraid when he sees someone put on gloves," Grammy Prevatt said. "He associates that with pain. And he's had so much pain. It's OK if the therapists already have their gloves on. As long as he doesn't see them putting them on."

Not long after the first Christmas that he really understands as being very special, Anthony will undergo surgery on his hip and will be in a body cast for six to eight weeks. He'll also have to be in the hospital for that length of time.

Soon, also, Anthony may require a spinal operation that if successful could help him be able to move on his own in a walker by the time he is 10 or 11 years old.

On Wednesday after he had returned from school, Anthony played with a favorite toy truck, pushing it across the rug in the dining room at the Prevatt residence. He crawled up to a chair and tried to lift himself but couldn't.

He gently plopped back to the rug and his truck.

When a visitor was ready to leave, Anthony crawled to the front door to say good-bye and try to push open the door. It had stopped raining.

Armed robbery suspect goes to court

From Staff Reports

FERN PARK - Henry Clark, 25, of 457 Hidden Meadows Loop, Fern Park, made his initial court appearance Tuesday at the Seminole County Correctional Facility. He is charged with one count of armed robbery.

Seminole County deputy sheriffs from District 8 arrested Clark about 5 a.m.

Tuesday at his apartment. He is accused of robbing the Cumberland Farms convenience store at 225 Oxford Road, Fern Park.

The robbery occurred just before 10 p.m. Monday. Clark walked into the store and pointed an 8-inch knife at the female clerk. He ordered the clerk to hand over the money. She complied. Clark fled on foot. The clerk recognized Clark as a regular customer at the store. She gave his physical description to Seminole County deputy sheriffs. They found Clark standing outside his apartment. The clerk eventually identified Clark as the man who had robbed the store.

Clark was booked into the Seminole County Correctional Facility. He is being held under $7,000 bond.

Rain

rain Friday and Saturday. The National Weather Service is advising to keep an eye on urban flooding.

You may have had to walk through the puddles near the place you work or a parking lot at the mall. The Seminole County Department of Public Safety has a list of flood prone areas. "We are not predicting flooding in these areas unless there is prolonged rainfall," said Chief Fire Administrator Terry Schenk, who is also the county meteorologist.

Included on the list is State Road 414/17-92 area, SR 434 in Oviedo, the City of Sanford, Mullett Lake Park Road area, Winter Springs Elementary on SR 434 and Stone St. in the Black Hammock area.

There's also a list of areas that may experience drainage problems during intense or prolonged rainfall in Altamonte Springs.

Seminole County emergency personnel are prepared to assist those who may experience flooding in their neighborhoods or are in stalled cars along highways.

Nothing is expected to be as severe as the conditions caused by Tropical Storm Gordon in 1994 when water lapped over the sea wall along Lake Monroe.

Weather experts like Schenk predicted the potential impact of El Nino two months ago. It was going to be a wet December. "The association is real," he said today. "This isn't media contrived thing."

"There seems to be more coming," said Petersen, the duty officer at the National Weather Service on Thursday. "This part of the state is going to experience more rain before the month is over."

Seminole County public safety officers have supplied schools with special weather radios that set off a tone when conditions worsen. These radios are available at area Radio Shack stores and cost $25 to $30.

Employees of the Month

The City of Sanford each month selects an outstanding employee who exemplifies the American work ethic, performing a job beyond the call of duty. With some employees of the Community Development Department out on medical leave, code enforcement officials Dan Florian and Mary Muse, (third and fourth from left,) have pitched in to keep

The environment benefits

We wish to thank you for the wonderful articles by Shari Brodie about our 20-year celebration. Although the rain kept some folks home, many commented upon the celebration, having read about it in the Sanford Herald and the Lake Mary Life. People are still stopping by or calling with the comment, "I saw the article in the newspaper, and..."

Many parents who could not come with their students on their scheduled field trips could come on our Celebration Saturday, take a guided tour of the trails, and enjoy the hands-on National History Museum. Folks with no connections with the schools visited the park for the first time, and were delighted that such a place and program existed in Seminole County. The outstanding support from the community was remarked upon by those attending.

Recognizing our young people

In reference to a recent column by Dean Smith, we the members of The American Legion, Campbell-Lossing Post 53 have to agree that the City of Sanford as well as others need to be more receptive to what is happening in their city and county. We think that the idea of signs coming into the city or county honoring an individual or group is a great idea and long overdue. There are also other ways these individuals or groups can be recognized.

The American Legion Post 53 Baseball team recently won the 1997 American Legion Baseball World Series and put Sanford on the map. This was not easy, as there are approximately 5000 American Legion teams. On October 26, 1997 we, the members of The American Legion, Campbell-Lossing Post 53, had a Baseball Appreciation Day for these fine young men and their coaches.

We invited representatives from the City of Sanford and

The Seminole County Commission. We also invited the principals of the schools that these young men attended. (Seminole, Lake Mary and Oviedo).

Much to our dismay none of the above invited guests could take time out from their busy schedules to attend. This makes us wonder that if these commissioners, city and county, were in an election year that every effort would have been made on their part to have attended this function and recognized these fine young men. Maybe when some of these young individuals become our future leaders, they won't forget where they came from.

Isn't it a shame that with all bad you hear about today's younger generation that when they do something good those who should be the proudest do not recognize them.

We, the Members of The American Legion, Campbell-Lossing Post 53 can only say "Team and coaches of the Post 53 Baseball team. We are proud and salute you for a job well done."

I got to touch greatness last night

ORLANDO - The circus came to town last night and I was a part of it.

I touched Michael Jordan. AAAGGGGGHHHHHHHHHHHHH!!!!!!

When you get to be a sportswriter, you trade in certain necessities in life such as a car that is dependable, a cool wardrobe and sometimes food, for the chance to meet and have things thrown at you by famous athletes.

Newspapers always call the sports department the toy store because it's all fun and games.

America versus Iraq? Who cares. What about the Denver-San Fran game Monday night.

Anyway, as a writer, part of the fun is getting to go to all the big events, meeting lots of famous people and dropping their names around like they are personal friends.

"Hey, I talked to Greg Norman the other day."

"Emmitt and Deon are pretty cool, but Aikman's a real jerk."

"Brunell's a nice guy once you get to know him a little."

That's the kind of attitude you get when you realize that athletes are just normal people and that, in reality, sometimes it's more fun to cover little league or high school ball where it's still a treat to the kids you're trying to interview.

But that all changes when Michael's in town.

I've been fortunate enough to have seen Michael play about 10 times in person. I grew up the world's biggest University of Maryland fan and was in the house for all three of his games there. I remember his most famous dunk from college, the one where he goes up, waves the ball like a pendulum, flies past the backboard, and jams it over his shoulder. I was there. January 16, 1984 and I'll never forget it.

Being a Cleveland Cavaliers fan, I used to drive to Cleveland once a year when the Bulls were in town and started to realize that, when it comes to MJ, it's not a matter of what he'll do, it's a matter of what he might do.

Will this be the night he scores 70? Will he do a triple-20 tonight? Will he dunk from the opposite foul line?

Those are the kinds of things you think about when you see Michael Jordan.

So I went to the Arena last night, partially to report on the game, but also to stare at Michael Jordan, America's greatest active athlete (there will never be another Ali).

I watched him turn human. So did the rest of the O-rena crowd who came out ready to play themselves.

The kids shrieked, the women were dressed in their best and everyone just sat and screamed. Tiger was on Celebrity Row along with Jeff Gordon and Mark O'Meara and they all came to see one guy.

But MJ wasn't at the top of his game. He missed easy shots and was only 6-for-17 from the field. Nothing was falling but there was still a buzz, even as the Magic took the lead, and it became apparent that Michael and the Bulls should be known as Michael and Scottie and the Bulls.

Then, it happened. Early in the fourth quarter, with the game tied, Orlando's Mark Price and Chicago's Steve Kerr battled over a loose ball.

The ball rolled toward center court.

Then, out of nowhere, MJ picked it up with an open road to the hoop.

Suddenly, the crowd stood. The women in their expensive perfume and 10-inch heels shrieked. The men, acting too cool for the building, jumped. The kids in the crowd, seemingly all wearing Chicago 23 T-shirts went wild.

Then, Michael was caught from behind by a hustling Gerald Wilkins. There wouldn't be a poster play last night but that's the point. There didn't have to be.

When players are beating up coaches and others are posting bail, a hero had over 17,000 people amazed at the possibility of perfection.

That's pretty neat.

So afterwards, I went into the Chicago locker room where Jordan was entertaining the media and sweating from the light of at least 10 mini-cams pointed at his face.

I stared and thought about the past 16

Lake Brantley boys hand Lake Howell first loss of season

By KELLIE WENNER
Herald Staff Writer

WINTER PARK - There is only one undefeated team left in the Seminole Athletic Conference.

Last night at Lake Howell High School, the seventh ranked Silver Hawks suffered their first loss of the season, losing to Lake Brantley, 62-54.

"I have told the team from the beginning that we wouldn't be 30-0 at the end of the season," said Lake Howell coach Steve Kohn. "When you're a ranked team, everyone is out to get you and comes in very pumped up. Tonight I just didn't see that spark in my team's eyes, and there isn't anything you can do if it's just not there."

The Silver Hawks did have a spark in the first quarter. They took the court like the state's seventh best team and easily handled the Patriots.

At the end of the quarter, Lake Howell was on top with a 17-12 lead and Robert Jordan already had nine points under his belt.

What appeared to be an easy game for the Silver Hawks took a quick turn around.

Lake Brantley came into the second quarter like a completely different team. The defense held Lake Howell to only 10 points in the quarter while the offense made all but one of their free throws, hit one from downtown and shot with the grace of an NBA all-star.

A foul at the half time buzzer by the Patriots allowed Silver Hawk Ryan Smith to go to the line and his one free throw tied the score at 27-27.

That's as close as Lake Howell would come to their opponent the rest of the night.

Lake Brantley outscored the Silver Hawks 19-8 in the third quarter with the defense taking the ball from Lake Howell on almost every change of possession. Even the large crowd was silent during the quarter, reflecting the feelings of frustration that were obvious in the home team.

Although they were losing, 46-35 at the start of the final quarter, Lake Howell refused to give up and had a surge of energy. It wouldn't, however, be enough to squeak out a victory.

Seven unanswered points at the start of the period gave the Silver Hawks new life, but a string of fouls quickly took it away. With 1:12 left, Lake Howell was within eight, but was unable to hold off the relentless attack of the Patriot defense, and left the court on the losing end of the 62-54 final score.

"This win feels so good," Morgan, who had 16 points in the game, said. "It really gives us a chance to gain some respect in the conference. We stuck together and played as a team and that is what carried us through."

Although Lake Howell was not at the top of its game, that in no way

Lake Howell's Ryan Smith (No. 12), who was named the Most Valuable Player of the recent Rotary Tip-Off Classic, hit a free throw to tie the game 27-27 at halftime, but Lake Brantley took control thereafter to upset the Silver Hawks 62-54.

Young wrestlers doing job for Bears

By COURTNEY LEFFEW

WINTER SPRINGS - The underdogs seem to be making a positive impression to start the wrestling season.

Winter Springs has shown that even though their athletes may be freshmen and sophomores they can still handle the pressure of a varsity sport.

Only having four boys with about a year of wrestling experience makes their 2-0 record look outstanding.

For these students it is the challenge they want and will receive as they enter the Christmas Tournament at Lyman this weekend.

"These other teams might wake a sleeping bear," said Winter Springs Athletic Director and head wrestling coach Rick Tribbit.

Last night, Winter Springs had their first home dual meet against Bishop Moore.

The Bears awoke and even made some noise defeating the Hornets, 48-43.

Winter Springs got off to a good start, winning four of the first five matches, but had to win four of the last six matches, all by pins, to pull out the victory.

"We will put up a good fight," said Tribbit. "I will not let these boys accept losing. We have a lot of room to grow but you can't learn anything unless you get some practical experience."

The Winter Springs wrestling team is proof that the underdogs should never be ruled out.

The junior varsity is showing just as much promise as they beat the Baby Hornets, 30-10.

Lake Mary High School cross country athletes proudly pose with their plaques after being honored by the school and their coaches for their performances this past season at the annual post-season banquet Monday night.

Lake Mary honors runners

By COURTNEY LEFFEW

LAKE MARY - It was a time of celebration on Monday night for the Lake Mary Cross Country team.

With a cafeteria full of supportive parents, a dedicated group of runners, and two caring coaches the awards night banquet got underway.

Although before the actual awards and trophies were presented a wonderful feast was donated by the Columbia Medical Center in Shaladee.

It was not like any other old average banquet. The team gathered closely together, showed their obvious camaraderie and had a spirit that spread throughout the room.

For eight seniors, it would be the last time they stood together as a team. Each senior reflected their views on the season and the four years spent with coaches Mike Gibson and Lionel Bonck.

Some had tears in their eyes while others sat agreeing with the great remarks that were spoken.

Lyman, Seminole girls tie in soccer

From Staff Reports

LONGWOOD - The Seminole High School girls' soccer team made a breakthrough last night against Lyman in a Seminole Athletic Conference game at the Carlton Henley Sports Complex.

The Fighting Seminoles have not won a conference match in three years. Wednesday evening they came close as possible, tying the Greyhounds, 0-0.

"It is better than a loss but not as good as a win," said Seminole coach Tony Arena.

Lyman out shot the Noles 7-4. The first half was flat for Seminole allowing Lyman five shots.

By the second half, the Fighting Seminoles defense was pumped and playing to their ability. Beth Ogden had a big night saving nine shots while her teammates Laura Sasso, Kim Thitson, Paula Guillan, and Tracy Swaynos played extremely well.

"I am pleased with the performance," said coach Arena.

Magic best Bulls

By JEFF BERLINICK
Herald Staff Writer

ORLANDO — The numbers aren't there in the box score. Three-for-9 from the field, 8 points.

It doesn't look like much but after you count the bruises and skin left on the Orlando Arena floor, you realize how much Bo Outlaw means to the Magic.

Outlaw was the catalyst behind the Magic's biggest win of the young season, a 108-98 win over the Chicago Bulls last night at the O-rena. He pulled down a career-high 16 rebounds in 44 minutes and had a big hand in holding Chicago's Michael Jordan to only six field goals.

Besides the work, he came through on a night when Orlando desperately needed a hero. The Magic learned prior to the game that all-star Penny Hardaway would be lost for eight to 10 weeks with a cartilage tear in his left knee. Besides that, small forward Nick Anderson was also placed on the injured list with a broken left hand and is expected to be out four-to-six weeks.

Outlaw's 44 minutes means he may no longer be one of The Hounds. Orlando's celebrated backup unit that has sparked the team all through the first six weeks of the season, but Outlaw loves the extra playing time.

"You play because you want to play," Outlaw said. "They're not making you play. I played 44 minutes but I feel all right. Maybe I'll go run around the building a couple of times."

No need. He worked hard enough on a night when everything broke the Magic's way, including an off-night from Jordan.

Jordan led Chicago with 25 points but 13 came on free throws and he was hounded by Outlaw and Gerald Wilkins all night before finally finding his range in the fourth quarter.

The Magic capitalized on the effort, putting four players in double figures: Rony Seikaly (26 points, 16-17 from the line), Mark Price (17), Horace Grant (17) and Darrell Armstrong (10).

Armstrong is one of the Hounds, but it was his play in

Rony Seikaly scored a game-high 26 points, including 19 in the fourth quarter, and had 10 rebounds as the Magic came back in the final period to beat the World Champion Chicago Bulls, 108-98, Wednesday night.

the fourth quarter that provided the final push for the Magic. Down 77-73, Armstrong made a strip on Chicago's Ron Harper and did a dive to knock the ball back to Derek Harper who laid in an easy score to cut the lead to two. It started a Magic run that tied the game at 79 after another Armstrong layup and Orlando went up for good, 85-83 on another Darrell Armstrong jumper.

Armstrong may be a Hound, but he took over for starting point guard Price one minute into regulation and played significant minutes throughout.

"I'm not saying he's a catalyst," Magic coach Chuck Daly said, "I'll let everyone else be the judge of that."

For Orlando, it was a win when they needed it the most. It got the Magic within a half-game of first place in the Atlantic Division behind Miami. It also ended an 11-game losing streak to Chicago, a team that is struggling but laying in wait for anyone who wants to advance in the Eastern Conference.

"We just aren't executing right now," Jordan said. "You have to give Orlando credit. They aren't going to sneak up on anybody because everyone knows they can be a great basketball team. Nobody can take them for granted."

Especially Wilkins who took over for Hardaway with the daunting task of guarding Jordan.

"He's played against me as much as he's played against anyone," Wilkins (nine points) said. "I feel like I can be at least 75 percent of what Penny is on any given night."

For one given night, that was enough. Chalk up another one for the Hounds.

The rest of the story:

Yesterday, Orlando activated second-round pick Jason Lawson from Villanova. Lawson is a center who hasn't played since pre-season...The Magic also signed 6-foot-4 guard Carl Thomas who averaged 18.1 points for the Fort Wayne Fury of the CBA. Thomas has NBA experience with Cleveland last year and four games with Golden State this season where he averaged 7.3 points per game...The following statement was released Wednesday from the office of Dr. Walter Lowe following arthroscopic surgery performed this morning (Wednesday) on Anfernee Hardaway's left knee:

"Anfernee Hardaway of the Orlando Magic underwent surgery this morning at St. Luke's Hospital, Houston, Texas, for a cartilage tear in his left knee. Dr. Walter R. Lowe, of Baylor Sports Medicine Institute in Houston, performed the surgery. The torn cartilage was successfully removed and there were no complications during the surgery. Anfernee will begin rehabilitation immediately and is expected to be fully recovered and playing basketball within 8-10 weeks."

detracts from the great basketball played by the Patriots. Every time Lake Howell showed a glimmer of getting back into the game, Lake Brantley had an answer.

"We really put in a good effort tonight," said Lake Brantley assistant coach Frank Gooch. "We practiced all week on a defense that we thought could contain Reggie (Kohn, Lake Howell's weapon) and we remained focused on what we had to do. The guys played really hard and have earned a lot of respect."

Both teams are now 8-1 and have tough games on Friday night. The Patriots will host Lyman while Lake Howell will host Lake Mary. Both games are at 7:30 p.m.

OVIEDO WINS AGAIN

OVIEDO — Last night, Oviedo High School maintained its undefeated record with a win over visiting Orangewood Christian, 68-50.

Scott Moore led the Lions with 22 points and Brian Reglater had 17 points and seven rebounds on the evening.

At the half, Oviedo was only up by seven, entering the locker room with a 30-23 lead.

Orangewood Christian would not come any closer to the Lions and were outscored in the third quarter, 19-0.

The win brings Oviedo's record to 9-0, making them the only undefeated team in the Seminole Athletic Conference and should keep them ranked number four in the Sportswriters' state poll.

On Friday, Oviedo will travel to Winter Springs for a 7:30 p.m. Seminole Athletic Conference game.

RAMS ROLL TO SIXTH WIN

LAKE MARY — Paul Bekk poured in 30 points and Ben Kersebrock added 13 as Lake Mary took a 20-point lead after one quarter and never looked back in beating Winter Springs 68-58 in a Seminole Athletic Conference boys' basketball game Wednesday night.

The Rams ran to a 38-16 lead after one period, but the Bears never gave up, even outscoring Lake Mary 23-15 in the third quarter.

"We came out with a lot of intensity and played very hard in the first quarter," said Lake Mary coach Mike Gaudreau. "Winter Springs has a good ball club, they came hard at us in the second half. In a couple of years they could be a heck of a team."

The Rams also won the junior varsity game by a score of 59-32.

Lake Mary is now 6-2 on the season and will be at Lake Howell for a critical Seminole Athletic Conference and Class 6A-District 3 game Friday night. The Bears will also be in SAC action Friday night, hosting undefeated Oviedo. All varsity games are set for a 7:30 p.m. start.

years since Jordan was a freshman at North Carolina.

Then the interviews were over and Michael walked to the team bus.

I didn't exactly toss a Rodman-esque elbow, but I got a sleeve on his way though.

Somehow, I felt like I had touched greatness. There aren't too many times when you can do that in one life.

Last Second Shot: What in the world is happening to the Lake Brantley basketball program? Is anybody beatable in Seminole County right now?

IN BRIEF

Raiders romp to road win

Special to the Herald

BRADENTON — Jaana Kotova used her size to her advantage Tuesday night as Seminole Community College crushed Manatee Community College, 76-60, in a women's Junior College basketball game in Bradenton.

Kotova, the 7-foot freshman center from Tallahassee, hit 15 of 24 from the floor and finished the night with a triple-double, 20 points, 10 rebounds and 10 blocked shots, as the Raiders, ranked sixth in the most recent state poll, won for the 10th time in 13 starts.

Kotova scored 14 points in the first half as SCC took a 37-25 lead at halftime. For the game the Raiders hit 50-percent (36-70) from the floor, but only had one free throw attempt, which they made.

SCC also got a big game from Therese Westergren (Lidingo, Sweden), who came off the bench to hit three-of-three from three-point range and finish with 11 points, the only other Raider in double figures.

Izzy Medhanie (Stockholm, Sweden) had a big defensive night with nine steals and eight rebounds. She also scored four points and dished out two assists.

Other contributors to SCC's victory were Daria Kudryvtseva (nine points, two assists), Gemma Riley (eight points, three rebounds, three assists, three blocked shots, two assists), Jennifer Sweeney (seven points, two rebounds), Chinita Lee (two points, three rebounds, two steals), Crystal Tanner (two points, five assists, two steals) and Lake Mary's Maggie Reedy (two points, two rebounds, two steals, one assist).

Gorton (12 points, 13 rebounds) and Tamara Dawson (11 points, 11 assists), from Deltona, led the Lancers (3-7).

Banquet

One thing was apparent by all these students and athletes; each carry a high respect for their coaches.

The senior girls and guys pitched in for two presents for coach Gibson and Bonck. It was a moment that touched both as they looked at the students they coached as kids become adults.

If you look at a Lake Mary Cross Country schedule for the season, you'll find several meets and both district and state dates.

Coach Gibson stressed that if the coaches don't believe that the team will make it to state then the runners won't either, that's why you will always see a state date on our schedule sheet.

Coach Gibson was pleased to announce the beginning of a track club starting in January which was the main topic of the night.

Eight plaques for the Most Valuable Runner were given to freshmen Kelle Warren, sophomore Cheley Meaks, sophomore David Binge, junior Claudia Bittel, and junior Chris Frank.

Joanna Hiatt received the Academic Award. Hiatt is ranked 5th in her class and holds a 4.8 GPA this semester alone. Chris Ingalls also received the Academic Award having a 4.2 GPA.

Two Burger King Coaches Awards were given to Kristen Sergeant and Jeremy Olson.

Nick Stuart received an award for the Most Dedicated Runner while Brent Keith received the Most Improved Award along with Andrea Martin.

The Lake Mary Cross Country Team ended the evening with all the runners sitting around a television watching and remembering the memories of the past season and looking forward to the new ones in 1988.

Professionals offer guidance to teen who's being stalked

DEAR ABBY: "Quaking in California," the 15-year-old girl who was bothered by her father's friend, must talk immediately to her school counselor or a caring, sympathetic teacher. And she must not be afraid to tell the truth if police interview her.

Four years ago, the sister of one of my students became unusually quiet and withdrawn, so I made a point of befriending her. She told me a shocking story about "the man who sleeps in my bed," her father's boyhood friend who came to the family's trailer in the evenings, slept in her bed and made sexual advances. Her parents did not interfere! She told me how scared she was, and that she couldn't sleep, think or do her school work.

I told her to tell her parents that I said they must "make him leave tonight, or by law they could be held responsible." That empowered the parents. He left that night. I also contacted her school principal, who summoned a deputy because we are legally required to report such incidents. I was away from school the day they questioned her. The poor girl was so intimidated she denied everything. She was sure the man would kill her if she reported him.

Later, the deputy called me to say that apparently the girl had lied to me. I was shocked. I was often in her home because of their distress and poverty. I knew her well enough to know she was telling me the truth. The family believes the man murdered his pregnant wife in his hometown in another country and fled here illegally. They also believed that he delivered narcotics across the state, hidden among the heavy equipment he transported. The parents were terrified of him.

ADVICE

Abby, I wrote a letter and sent it to the Sheriff's Department, the INS, the DEA, our SANE (Substance Abuse Narcotics Education) officer, the student's principal, and a newspaper reporter who had befriended the family. The "man who sleeps in my bed" disappeared in days and hasn't been seen since. We could get rid of those who would harm our children, if we persist.

A CALIFORNIA TEACHER

DEAR TEACHER: You handled the problem very well. I hope others will learn from your example. Please read on for more input from a caring professional.

DEAR ABBY: I am a clinical social worker in Los Angeles who is very disturbed about the letter in your column from the 15-year-old girl who is being stalked and harassed by her father's 34-year-old male friend.

You were absolutely correct when you told her to save and photocopy the notes and show them to a responsible adult, such as a school counselor or clergyman. I would strongly urge this young woman to go even further than this. The behavior of these irresponsible parents is unconscionable. They cannot be relied upon to take action when the school authorities contact them about this.

She can, and should, report this man's behavior both to the police and to her local Department of Children's Services. Her school counselor can help her contact them. These two entities have the power to protect her from further harassment and stalking (and he is indeed stalking her), to provide education and counseling to the family, to educate her mother and father about responsible parenting, and to monitor them to ensure that they provide it. She should also ask her school counselor to provide her with ongoing counseling for herself.

Urge her to do this without delay, before the man becomes more bold in his actions.

CONCERNED ADULT IN L.A.

DEAR ABBY: Marilyn Bozeman's letter regarding adopted children was so far off base it's almost laughable. I agree that labels are cruel, but adoptees don't search for their "real" parents because society has labeled them adoptees, or because their adoptive parents didn't raise them well or love them enough.

We search to find a genetic connection from our roots to the rest of the universe. Adoptive parents should educate themselves about the emotional impact adoption has on their child and be prepared to deal with those issues when they arise. Many excellent books are available, written by adoptees, birth mothers and adoptive parents.

Attitudes about adoption and the laws surrounding it have changed considerably from the '50s and '60s, but much more is needed. Human beings are the only species on Earth that willingly give away their offspring. It is a barbaric practice, equally as evil as abortion.

The bottom line: Men should do a better job of guarding their sperm because conception should never be an accident.

STILL WOUNDED BY ADOPTION

DEAR WOUNDED: Although conception should never be an accident, it often is.

However, I cannot agree with your statement that adoption is a barbaric practice. I see adoption as an ideal solution to an urgent problem in which all of the involved individuals have an equal need for one another.

DEAR ABBY: I have been a librarian for 25 years and hope you will help me get an important message out to people everywhere.

Many times when patrons approach me at the library information desk, they preface their requests with, "I know this is probably a dumb question, but ..." Abby, this always distresses me, because the fact is, most librarians love their work — and if everyone walked into the library already knowing how to find the information they want, we wouldn't be needed!

I always tell my patrons that as far as I'm concerned, there are no "dumb" questions, and if it weren't for their asking for my help, I would be working at something far less enjoyable. So, the message is, "Please ask the librarian. We want to help you!" Thanks, Abby.

CAROL GOODSON, CARROLLTON, GA.

DEAR CAROL: I'm pleased to convey your message. I am in complete agreement with your philosophy that there's no such thing as a dumb question. What is really dumb is remaining ignorant.

How safe are herbal remedies?

DEAR DR. GOTT: Please give me a review of the toxicity of common herbs.
DEAR READER: This is the 10th in my series on herbal remedies. The subject of herbal toxicity was recently addressed in the medical journal Patient Care (Oct. 15, 1997), from which I have adapted this list:

PETER GOTT, M.D.

- Pheasant's eye: sudden heart stopping.
- Pasque flower: heart and nerve damage.
- Arnica: stomach and muscle damage.
- Deadly nightshade (belladonna): brain and respiratory depression.
- Bryonia dioica: stomach and lung damage.
- Ipecac: violent vomiting.
- Lily-of-the-valley: heart and nervous system damage.
- Thorn apple: liver and nerve damage.
- Foxglove (digitalis): lethal heart and brain effects.
- Male fern (dryopteris): brain, eye and heart damage.
- Yellow jasmine: impaired breathing and heart action, leading to coma.
- Pennyroyal: liver toxicity and stomach hemorrhage, causing shock.
- Herbane: brain and respiratory depression.
- Yohimbe: brain and heart damage.
- American mandrake or may apple: stomach and immune system damage.
- Indian snakeroot (rauwolfia): depression, sedation, stomach and brain damage.
- Squill: stomach, kidney and brain damage.
- False hellebore: impairment of brain, heart and lungs.
- European mistletoe: intestinal bleeding, heart and brain damage.

Instructions. Fosamax is expensive, but it is quite safe when taken according to the manufacturer's directions. Remember that you also need about 1500 milligrams of supplemental calcium so that the Fosamax will work. Also, your doctor will probably choose to monitor your progress with annual bone-density tests.

nuisance of periodic testing are all expensive and annoying, the therapy is much cheaper than the cost of a fractured hip or spinal bone.

To give you more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Osteoporosis." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10158. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Is there any harm in dipping snuff?

DEAR READER: The usual practice of putting a pinch of snuff behind the lower lip can cause cancer of the mouth and tongue. Tobacco products are dangerous, even if they are the smokeless variety. Stay away from 'em.

Herbs and herbal remedies should not be used without a thorough knowledge of the documented effects and potential dangers. (Next time: a wrap-up)

DEAR DR. GOTT: After a bone density test that showed severe osteoporosis, my doctor prescribed Fosamax. I have yet to start the medicine because I hate taking pills. What should I do?

DEAR READER: Take the Fosamax. Osteoporosis is a chronic affliction, marked by progressive loss of calcium from the bones. Eventually, the bones become brittle and may fracture. This can lead to chronic pain and disability. To date, Fosamax is the most effective antidote. It not only stops calcium loss, but it actually reverses the process and strengthens bones. I advise you to follow your doctor's

WIN A BRIDGE

Cafes, lunch, tea and charity

By Phillip Alder

Last July, there was an interesting charity duplicate-bridge event for charity in Cardiff, Wales. More than 100 players toured cafe quarter, as it's called. They played at eight bistros, the boards remaining stationary while the players moved. Lunch and tea were included in the entry fee, so the cafes made money, and as it was warm and sunny, all play took place outdoors. First prize went to Tony Disley and Rob Charlesworth. (Disley and I were occasional partners while at Newport High School, just up the road from Cardiff.) On this deal, West made a disciplined - if somewhat old-fashioned - initial pass. But over Disley's two-spade cue-bid, which showed at least 5-5 in diamonds and another suit (an unusual method). West jumped to game. We'll never know if East would have guessed to drop the singleton spade king, because Disley sacrificed in five clubs. The defense began with the spade queen to East's ace and another spade, which declarer ruffed. Disley continued with his sole heart. Correctly, West won with the ace. Then, thinking it couldn't hurt, she exited with a heart to dummy's king. A grateful declarer ran the club 10, played a club to the king and ace, returned to dummy with a trump, and picked up the diamond king for his contract. If West had exited with a spade at trick four, stranding declarer in his hand, she and her partner would have been first, not second. The biggest winner of the day was Bobath Cymru, a charity that treats children with cerebral palsy. It received over 1,600 pounds.

ZODIAC

your Birthday
 Friday, Dec. 12, 1997
 In the year ahead, developments are likely to provide you with more authority over others in certain situations. Arrangements you're called upon to manage should work out well.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) If you're planning a social function today, restrict your guest list to compatible participants. Crowd-builders might crowd out the fun.
PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Keep an eye out today for your charges. They could need your protection because a manipulator might attempt to take advantage of them.
ARIES (March 21-April 19) You will have no difficulty winning arguments today if your presentation is considerate and unbiased. Asserting points too harshly evokes heated responses.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20) In commercial matters today, follow the dictates of your own deductions and reasoning. Outside opinions or influences could operate against you.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Seek companions whose aims and interests reflect yours. Individuals whose ideas are out of sync with yours could have a disruptive effect on your day.

CANCER (June 21-July 23) It could prove unwise today to attempt to do an important project prematurely. Use the time at your disposal to improve upon your concept.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your friends will appreciate you more today if you accept them as they are. Keep critical observations and suggestions to yourself.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Inexperienced assistants could gum up the works today in delicate career arrangements. Try to work only with people who are eminently qualified.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Clever ideas are likely to come more profusely to you today than to your contemporaries. Be patient and helpful with those who are on the slow track.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You might want a bigger slice of the pie than you deserve today for something you did as a team with others. Do not be unreasonable.

your Birthday
