

FAST SIDE BOYS TRIM PROFESSIONAL MEN ON DIAMOND

Promising Contest At First Ends In Farce By Score Of 22 To 17

By E. H. Cullum
The East Side Farmers and the Professional Men hooked up in what was first promised to be a good fast game last night, but ended up in a farce, the East Side winning by the score of 22 to 17.

In the first inning, Spencer hit man up for the Professional Men, tripled, Burdick sacrificed, Spencer scored, Watson singled, Cantwell tripled, bringing Watson in. Epps singled, Boyle singled, Epps going to second. Gardner forced Boyle to second and a moment later was called out for leaving the base too soon. Three runs, five hits, no errors.

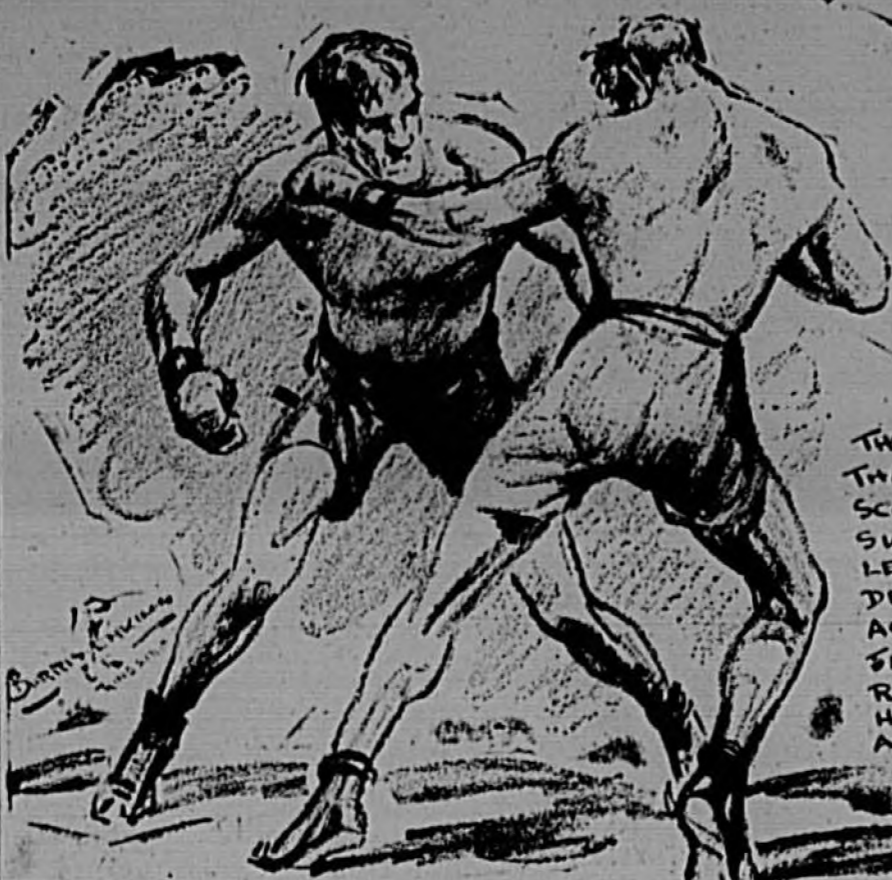

In the second inning the Professional Men put over five more runs, after which Dennis, pitching for the East Side, tightened up, and from the third through the fifth inning, not a single Professional Man was able to get as far as second base, only 11 men, facing Dennis in the three innings.

In the sixth inning, the Professional Men put over three more runs on walks, a triple and a sacrifice hit. In the seventh inning the Professional Men added six more hits, their grand total up to 17 runs. In this inning with the bases choked, Miles hit for the circuit, which accounted for four of the runs. Spencer also got a homer in this inning.

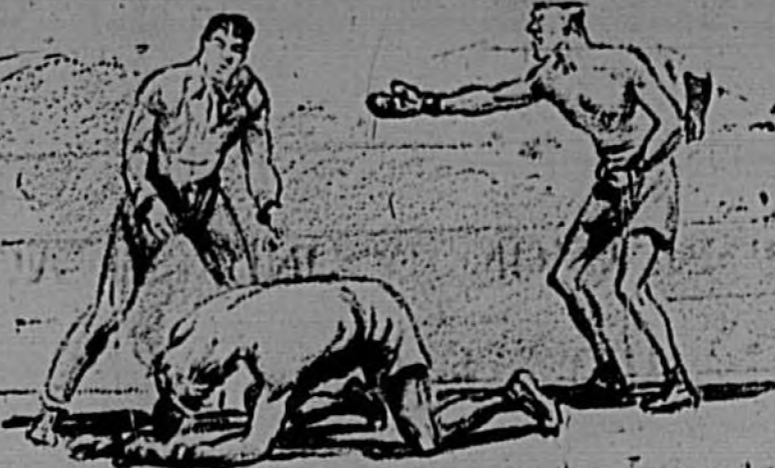

For two innings Tucker pitched a tight ball, allowing only one hit, a single by Morris Sp next in the second inning, with the result that the East Side was unable to put a run in either inning. However, in the third inning, the East Side put across nine tallies, partly due to Tucker's wildness, he walking four men in this inning, and partly due to Dr. Epps hitting Willie's pop fly in the Moon. This put the East Side up ten runs to the good and they were never headed. They scored two more runs in the fourth, six in the fifth and five in the sixth. Dr. Tucker, still being unable to locate the plate, was relieved in the fourth by Spencer, who fared little better, and he was relieved by Boyle in Bert Steele, although credited with three runs, did not get an official time at bat, being given ones on balls five straight ones. In fact Bert never even swung at the ball. On the other hand, O. P. Herndon came to bat four times, and whiffed the air each time. He stated that he was kept so busy in right field chasing the ball, that he did not feel like running the bases; therefore he took the easy way out, by not getting on base.

Dr. Epps also says that it is much harder to catch a pop fly when you are looking up at the Moon than it is to locate an exciting molar by looking down in to one's mouth.
Ben Cantwell got a bad bruise on his right leg just before the game started, which required first aid treatment, and this did not aid his playing ability one bit, although he got three hits out of three times at bat, a single, a triple and a home run.

'No Contest' Ruling In Boston Scrap Is Causing Protests

BOSTON, Dec. 14.—(INS)—A veritable word blitz of opinions and counter opinions raged today over the declaration of "no contest" by Referee Joe O'Connor in the seventh round of a scheduled 10-rounder between Jackie Fields, of Los Angeles, world's welterweight title holder, and William "Gorilla" Jones, of Akron, Ohio at Boston Garden last night.

As a result of the disqualification by O'Connor both boxers today stood automatically suspended in Massachusetts. Likewise, licensed suspensions in all other states having a working agreement with the 14th state commission.

In addition, if the Massachusetts commission upholds the decision of O'Connor, Fields and Jones stand to lose the entire purse. "Gig" Rooney, manager for the Californian, irate over the decision, declared that it was an injustice to Fields who has scheduled bouts all over the country. Fields stands to lose over $100,000 declared Rooney.

Carnegie Tech And U.S.C. Battle Today In East-West Game

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 14.—(INS)—Favored to stem the invasion of the Tartans of Carnegie Tech, the university of Southern California football eleven today will face its eastern rival in the first inter-sectional battle of the year on the Pacific Coast.

Odds were being quoted at 10 to 6 on the Trojans. Even money was being wagered that Troy would win by more than eight points. It was the speed of Southern California's pitted against the aerial attack of the Skibos that attracted the fans.

Both teams had been defeated twice during the regular season, owing to a common rival, Notre Dame. Tech also lost to Pittsburg and Troy was beaten by California.

Today's game had particular significance, however, for on New Year's Day Southern California must represent the West against Pittsburg-Carnegie's next door neighbor—in the annual Tournament of Roses classic at Pasadena.

Grid Conference Is Nearing End Today Minus Difficulties

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 14.—(INS)—The thus far harmonious confere of the southern conference will come to a close here today with official action on a batch of minor resolutions offered during the first day's session.

Meantime the atmosphere was filled with the turmoil of schedule juggling and the coaches and officials were going over the recommendations contained in the annual address last night of President S. V. Sanford.

The high lights of the president's speech were:

1. That the Carnegie Foundation report offered nothing constructive and obviously was made by men not in sympathy with athletics.
2. Recommendation that the season be shortened to eight games.
3. An official frown upon the talk of splitting the conference.
4. That the most serious need of athletics today is a uniform eligibility status.
5. Recommendation of the abolition of surreptitious scholarships.
6. A commendation of sports parts of newspapers.

Ex-Russian Cossack Is After Mat Title

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—(INS)—Trained in one of the Cossack regiments of Russia, John Grandovich, 225 pound seaker of Gus Sonnenberg's heavyweight wrestling championship, will meet Joe Malcewicz, Polish title holder, here Dec. 19, it was announced today.

The Grandovich-Malcewicz bout is to be one of four matches comprising an all star show at the Coliseum here. Sonnenberg is to meet Joe Devito, St. Louis Italian, in the window.

Western Basketball Teams Open Seasons

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—(INS)—Eight Western Conference basketball aggregations open their seasons tonight with preliminary games. Coach Lambert's Purdue team, runners up for the Big Ten title last season, engages Washington University, champions of the Missouri Valley League.

Illinois experienced team opens its seasons against Bradley at Champaign, Ill. Chicago engages Lake Forest in its opener; Northwestern takes on the University of Pittsburgh; Michigan plays at the University of Pennsylvania; North Dakota plays Minnesota; Ohio University will appear at Ohio State and Wisconsin meets Monmouth at Madison, Wis.

WINS BY SPIRIT

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 14.—(INS)—Neat team play coupled with a fighting spirit gave Yale a 28 to 24 win over the Wesleyan basketball five, here last night. Trailing by seven points with only six minutes to play, work of Able Booth and the dead eye of Dick Schane, drew even and went on to win.

When Business Is Bad

The Orlando Sentinel, in one of its last week's issues, quotes from the able editor of the Manufacturers Record, Richard H. Edmunds, to the effect that no business man can afford not to advertise, especially when business is bad.

"The moment the retail merchants of a town begin to lessen their advertising they cause a spirit of pessimism to prevail throughout the community, and thus lessen their own prosperity."

"It is needless to say that the marvelous growth of the Pacific Coast has been due to the comprehensive plans and the liberal expenditure of the business people and the transportation interests of that section."

"When large business interests begin, by reason of somewhat lessened business or by fear of the future, to reduce their advertising instead of enlarging it, they begin immediately to sow the seeds of distrust which bring forth a harvest of depression."

"I believe if the concerns which during the last twelve months have lessened their advertising, some by reason of the prosperity which they were enjoying, feeling that advertising was not a necessity, and some by reason of the poor business which they were doing, making them feel that they could not afford advertising, could by you or others be stirred into a spirit of optimism voiced through broad advertising work, there would soon be seen throughout this country a spirit of optimism bearing fruit in an abundant harvest of business and of prosperity."

"Honest Injuns"

History has it that the Indian is innately honest. Innumerable stories recount the honesty of the red man when dealing with his white brothers.

But despite such inclinations as these, the Indian has unfortunately retained to a fair degree his original sense of square dealing. The Fort Myers Press recently tells about a group of Seminoles who stopped a bus driver and asked for a ride into town and while admitting to the driver that they had no money, they promised to pay him in full within a few days.

So the driver was forced to ask among his passengers for the old fashioned bills before he could get the Indians to accept the change. The Indians did not know about the difference in the form of the new currency, but they did know that white men sometimes hand out counterfeit money.

With Christmas approaching, folks are weary of drinking the same old, same old holiday drinks.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

By Robert Barry

The next on which the little "C" of the House will be held may be more a trap laid out by the Senate than the Senate's own independence in such things as will not entail the House, yet the House members have on it.

Most of them consider themselves excellent Cabinet material and not less than six are a bit perplexed that the President did not impound them to accept the Secretaryship of War instead of promoting Patrick J. Hurley to Oklahoma.

The trouble seems to be the House members do not realize they are being kidded when cartoonists lampoon the Senate and merely adopt the House as a foil for humor.

Cranston of Michigan, who holds some important subcommittee appointments, Chairmanship, is the latest to give expression to the new dignity the so-called "leaders" in the Lower House of Congress are taking on. He has an detoken in lecture Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, in order to have the Cabinet Minister impressed properly with the importance of Mr. Cranston of Michigan.

When Dr. Wilbur, who probably has forgotten more about the duties of government than the four publishers of the Lapeer Citizen by Cranston will know doubtless remain in Washington another six or seven years, appeared before the House and a committee on appropriations for something or other, he was greeted with this grandiose advice:

"May I make this statement Mr. Secretary, because you have come to direct the destinies of the department with which this committee is most closely associated you will have business with various legislative committees. This is the only committee thing, and you will have a great deal of business with various committees. The Committee on Foreign Affairs and the Committee on Indian Affairs, we touch, somewhat all of your problems."

"When you are new to the atmosphere of Washington, let me make this statement to you as to the duties of the committee. We play no favorites, even if we are round sometimes. You will remember an old Indian quotation, 'Whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth,' so you will understand that we do not always agree with you never."

The sign of a dog's head is placed on the sign with the dog's name, "Casper."

Mr. Beth Brown, owner of Florida's best demanded, and obtained a case on the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, she insisted he be led to have it. The House is to enlarge the committee to make a place for her. Mr. Brown called for the Hawley tariff committee.

Patrick J. Hurley, the new Secretary of War, is describing among the "new patriots" as being a daily the most high hats and usually ambitious of the Hoover crop of officials. He is not so good to me, but it is he will get over it.

A roadster wants to know what his business is the "C" in the President's signature. It is hard to tell. His full name is Herbert Clark Hoover, the middle name being the maiden name of his mother. He signed himself Herbert C. Hoover while Secretary of Commerce and has dropped the "C" from his autograph in the Congressional Directory.

The change was made some time in the 1928 political campaign. There is no explanation of how

Wall Street Slump May Cause Change In American Life

DENVER, Dec. 14 (INS)—The American people are in the dawn of a "scouring up" process that when completed will bring the return of the "good old days" to the family fireside.

That is the opinion expressed by Dr. Arthur H. Ruggles, former professor of psychiatry at Yale University, president of the American Foundation for Mental Hygiene, who delivered a series of lectures in Denver recently.

Tempestuous Wall Street finance is one of the chief factors operating for the reorganization of the American home to a foundation of high ideals and an equal sharing of family and household responsibilities according to Dr. Ruggles.

"A nation gone 'get-rich-quick' made with the fantasia of easy money, threw plump up against realities, and the ticker tape now is an informant of the necessity of immediate domestic and social readjustments," Dr. Ruggles said.

"Scores of families who yesterday were in possession of wealth will make their lives in the country, and boy and father will be acquainted all over again."

"Mother and daughter will kneel down to making the interior cozy and doing the work. The older boys and girls will seek positions, and when they return to the cottage at night there will be the family reunion, lots of talk about what happened, and a return to the 'Great American Family.'"

All this will bring a return to a household established on the old home and garden basis; the American mother assuming responsibility of rearing her children and helping to educate them; the father offering to share himself with his family instead of giving all of himself to business; youth finding fun and pleasure in household chores and reading as a substitute for gin and fast motor cars; displacement of jazz and 'blues' by John Howard Payne's "Home Sweet Home."

English Woman Picks New Way Of Walking

LONDON, Dec. 14 (INS)—The "Panther Crawl" is fast becoming the rage in England. It is not a new dance, but a new style of walking that it is believed will give improvement of grace and carriage.

The adoption of the "panther crawl" is urged by Miss Margaret Aggell, a dancing and physical culture exponent.

"The majority of people walk with the feet turned out," she declares, "resulting in movement being deflected to the side, the twisting of the knee and spine, the 'panther crawl' is valuable for attaining unified correlation and balance, and this is how it is done:

"When the position is first taken the back leg should be stretched as far as possible in imitation of a cat. When you begin to move carry the advancing foot and hand as far forward as you can, keeping the head and neck relaxed, and move the spine as much as possible."

Stenographer Dying From Bullet Wound

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 16—(INS)—Joseph Milligan, 18-year-old stenographer, was said by physicians to be dying today as a result of a mysterious shooting here early this morning.

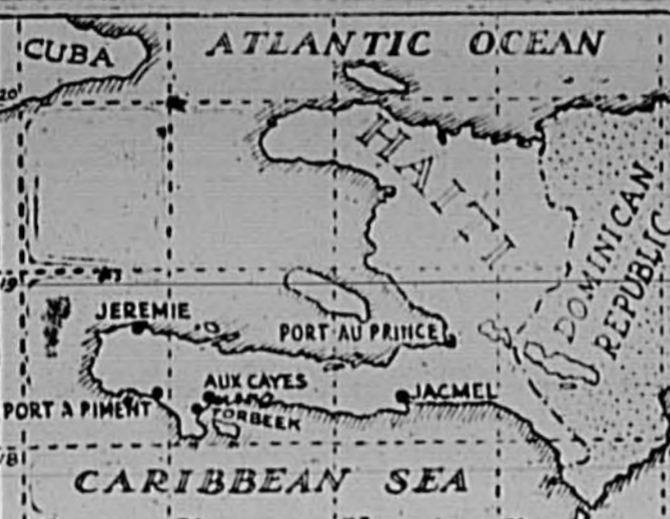

Joseph J. Courcy, her employer, told police that the girl was shot by a negro who held up their automobile. Courcy says she was shot, but not seriously. Courcy says that he was taking his stenographer to work each morning since the street car strike here several months ago.

HAITI AND ITS TROUBLE CENTRES

The above map indicates the extent of the area in which the 500 marines now on their way to that country and the 700 already on duty there will maintain order.

From Port-au-Prince, a city of 100,000, capital of the Republic, to Jacmel, where the cruiser Goussier arrived today, is about thirty miles.

The first bloodshed was in the Aux Cayes district, where the marines killed five in a riot. The telephone line between here and Port-au-Prince has now been destroyed.

American women and children are being evacuated from Chantel and Touleak and will soon also be removed from Jeremie.
