"An Evening in Hawaii" at Redpath Chautauqua

"An Evening in Hawaii," an original musical production to be given at the coming Redpath Chautauqua by Vierra's Hawaiians, instrumentalists and singers, portrays most vividly the music and customs of Hawaii.

Cow on the Farm A Wealth Source Declares Rhodes

WEST PALM BEACH, March 28.—Betty, if you put her on your farm, will feed the family and educate the children, L. M. Rhodes, state marketing commissioner, told a meeting of the Florida State Dairy Association here, in a general foundation of that animal, which he declared had never had man well through all the ages.

"This country; that there will always be a demand and a market. "It is estimated that from the time the milk leaves the cow until it reaches the consumer in various forms, its value often enhances from 100 to 1,000 per cent. This is at least a gentle hint that dairymen should be organized and should have the facilities for changing their raw material into the finished product.

"According to the latest United States government report, Florida has 95,000 dairy cows valued at $77,500,000. Florida has one dairy cow for every 12 people. The United States has one dairy cow for every 112 people. We should increase our dairy herds 100 per cent in order to have the same proportion of cows to population, that we have in the United States. Considering that the portion of the United States only consumes one-half the dairy products that they should and that we must feed our tourists, we could increase our dairy herds 600 per cent, and not have too many. And, if Florida had 600,000 dairy cows, they would not only feed the dairymen's family and educate his children, but would greatly increase the state's income and reduce its fertilizer bills."

"The cow has helped feed and clothe man through all the stages of his existence, Mr. Rhodes said, from the time when he first housed her with a grape vine and milked her in a pound or coconut hull until now when the cattle of the world number 500,000,000, of which 200,000,000 are milk cows, producing 8 billions pounds of milk.

"Certainly now when the 21,129,000 dairy cows in the United States are producing 99 billion pounds of milk and 3,500,000,000 pounds of butter and cheese and when one dollar in every five spent for food in the United States is spent for dairy products, it is safe to say "The cow will feed the family and educate the children," Mr. Rhodes declared.

"In fact, 15 billion pounds of the milk produced in the United States is used for drinking and cooking; 26 billion pounds is used for the manufacture of butter; 18 billion pounds into cheese and other foods.

"The per capita consumption of milk in the United States averages about 45 gallons or less than a pint per day and the per capita consumption of cream and cheese both, is one ounce." Or the average consumption of dairy products per capita per day in the United States is one pint of milk and two ounces of butter, cheese and cream. As the free use of dairy products is considered one of the safest ways of securing a healthful diet, especially for children we certainly should consume twice as much dairy products as we do and we should have 50,000,000 good dairy cows, or more than twice as many as we have.

"The money, earned to circulate in the United States by the dairy cow, is $2,500,000,000 per annum or an average of more than $100 per cow. The total expenditure for public schools in the United States per annum is $1,945,000,000. If this had been paid with dairy products, we would have had $1,455,000,000 or $242 left for each farm family. If we had only paid for the free schools attended by farm children from the farms which keep dairy cows, or 71 per cent, of the county schools, we would have left $2,253,683,356 or $496 per family to buy food. There are 25,000,000 people living on the 4,565,753 farms that keep dairy cattle, the other 85,000,000 people must buy their dairy products, so it is safe to say that dairying is on a solid foundation in

NEWS FROM CO. D

"Tripped" Windish was very sick during the drill period last night but he certainly was stepping high after the Chautauqua turned out.

The long talked of "Kangaroo court" was organized last night and Sargent Robinson was elected judge. This court will deal with all offenses of Company rules and we hope that it will be a great success.

The company is having plans for a big feast to be held during the current month and it is hoped that all members will be present to help stow away the stuff.

Major Wilson should go through the hands of the kangaroo court. He was in town during drill and didn't even say hello to the Company.

Plans were put forward for organizing a "D" Company Club to be composed of officers and non-coms with a proposal for enlistment of a few good men to round out the personnel of the Company before the encampment in August.

There is also some talk going around of putting on a minstrel for the benefit of the mess fund and it sounds good for the "extras" in the mess "sho" do help in camp.

Our brand new Captain, J. C. Hutchinson gave a good talk on morale and before the evening was over we had signed three new rookies for the outfit.

Sergeant Wingate is still instructing the outfit in the nomenclature of the automatic rifle and we hope to get in some range work with these guns in the near future.

Don't fail to be at drill next week as the "kangaroo court" will hold its first meeting and will issue warnings to some and belts to others. Don't miss it.

BANKRUPTCY OF THE FARMERS' RESPONSIBILITY

JACKSONVILLE, April 3.—In his talk before the chamber of commerce and guests here today, former Governor James M. Cox of Ohio, took occasion to lay the practical "bankruptcy to the farmers of the north, west and middle west at the door of the Harding administration. The policy of isolation, the former democratic standard said, is to blame for this condition.

"Your agricultural interests in Florida are prosperous," said former Governor Cox. "In the north they are not. The reasons for these diverging conditions are found in the present American policy of isolation. Your Florida products are consumed in America. In the grain and livestock states production exceeds consumption, the surplus must be sold abroad. Your surplus has a ready market—that of the north is now without an outlet. Stagnation has resulted in prices that have brought the farmer in the north, the middle west and the west to a condition bordering on bankruptcy. The farm loan facilities of the government are giving to him only the means of getting money to meet his losses during the last two years. The essential of his prosperity is a market for what he produces.

"Let me give a simple illustration of the agricultural havoc wrought by the persisted-in policy of isolation. Our corn is consumed in America and is not a factor in exportation. Pork and beef, particularly the former, are the products of corn. One third of our pork and beef is exported. The present price of corn, therefore is not affected by international conditions.

"Throughout the years there has been an unbroken relation as between the prices of corn and pork and beef. The present price of corn should mean to the farmer the price of $10 to $12 a hundred for pork and beef. He is getting approximately $8 for both.

Legion Post to Consider Move Through State

Passing resolutions stating that the convict leasing system as practiced in the state of Florida was a blot on the fair name of the state, the Central Trades and Labor Council of Jacksonville has joined with the American Legion and other forces now at work to bring legislation in the session opening in Tallahassee to abolish the hiring out of convicts to private individuals or concerns. Edward Desautere Post will meet Monday night to take steps to get other posts in the state in a movement to abolish the system.

The action of the Central Trades and Labor Council was taken at the regular meeting of the Council Friday night. The resolution calls attention to the statement of Paul Revere White published exclusively in the Jacksonville Journal telling of inhuman treatment he is alleged to have received at the hands of convict bosses in the camp of State Senator T. J. Knabb at Macclenny.

The resolution places the Council on record as condemning the convict lease system, and embraces a request to Governor Cary A. Hardee for a thorough investigation of the Paul Revere White case and to punish the guilty parties if his story is proven to be a fact. A copy of the resolution has been sent to the governor and provides that publicity be given to the action in the hope that other Florida councils and possibly the State Federation of Labor will take it up and insist on a change in the laws which now govern the handling of convicts. A copy also has been sent to the Ministerial Association.

Nature's Vanity Case For Girls Plays Part In National Health Effort Of Forces United To Give Children Here A Fair Deal

The little lady sitting at her dressing table is not a star of the stage, nor yet a daughter of wealth. She is just an American school girl, typical of hundreds of thousands in this country, and she is beautiful. Her vanity case is responsible for her charms. Look closely at the accompanying photograph and you will find the secret of perfect health and happiness.

The components of her Vanity Case have been selected with infinite care and after long research by "Professor Happy," the wizard of the American Child Health Association, of which Herbert Hoover is the president. The Association was formed by the merging of the American Child Hygiene Association and the Child Health Organization of America, and one of its many purposes is to establish a child health education program in the schools that will interest the children of the country. "Professor Happy's" job is to address high school students on the advantages of a wide diet and other health questions, and he delivers his message in entertaining fashion.

There is Cow's Vanishing Cream, seen at the rear of the dressing table with a dainty bow of ribbon decorating the top. The rouge on this table is Cream Kissed Carrots; the complexion cream is "Essence of Ointment"; Carmine Beets make the lipstick and the Skin Softener is picked from the boughs of the nearest apple tree. Miss America is demonstrating her faith in the last named article in the Vanity Case and is just about to prove "Professor Happy's" contention that it "will remove mysterious and unsightly rashes from the face and bring a soft, white skin."

THIRD DAY OF CHAUTAUQUA WITNESSED LARGE CROWDS FOR BOTH AFTERNOON AND EVENING

Ex-Governor Brough Delivered Interesting and Entertaining Lecture Last Night

The third day of the Redpath Chautauqua in Sanford witnessed large crowds and entertainments of a high order. The genial Manager, William S. Wright, stated that the Sanford Chautauqua was one of the best attended on the entire Gulf Coast circuit and is proving quite a "booster" for Sanford and its possibilities of substantial growth. In the afternoon Misses Roberta Clarke and Lois Holt as story-hour girls delighted the young people with an hour's parody of Mother Goose rhymes, which the young ladies paraphrased themselves, and in the well-known Alchior Goussé character both their artistic skill and their teaming were excellent. The Van Broome Navelly Company, composed of M. Mrs. Van Broome, Dallen, and Wilson, gave a high grade recital comprising vocal and instrumental selections and in the evening's prelude to the masterful and scholarly lecture of former Governor Charles H. Brough of Arkansas, varied their concert so as to include a fine presentation from Bulwer-Lytton's great drama, "Cardinal Richieu," in which Mr. Van Broome proved himself an actor of no mean ability.

The lecture by former Governor Brough on "America's Leadership of the World" was not the ordinary panegyric on the American flag and the progress of the American eagle but a thoughtful and eloquent discussion of our country's achievements in every department of human endeavor, government, business, education and literature, the fine arts, oratory, statesmanship, wit and humor, sports and athletics, and, above all, in moral and idealism and adherence to the sacred things of life. He pronounced the constitution of the United States the greatest document ever conceived by the brain and purpose of man, so interpreted as to insure for all equality of opportunity, encouraging individual initiative, industry, thrift, faith, helpful co-operation, and a noble business supremacy. He estimated our property valuation at two hundred billions of dollars, our income and ninety billion dollars, our auto-mobility and trucks at $14,000,000, our banking resources, at twenty-nine billion dollars; our railroad mileage at 253,000 miles of main track and 80,000 miles of switch track—three-fifths of that of the entire world; he

Beveridge, Borah, Sargeant S. Prentiss, Vance, of North Carolina, Bob Taylor, of Tennessee, and other great orators in American oratory to prove his contention. Admitting that practically every nation has made some distinct contribution to the world of thought and action, and giving our country full credit for their great statesmen, noble women, and eloquent orators, Governor Brough paid impassioned tribute to such great American statesmen as Washington, Jefferson, Hamilton, Jackson, Lincoln, Lee, Grant, Cleveland, Roosevelt, Taft, Woodrow Wilson, and Harding. His tribute to his teacher, Woodrow Wilson, was beautiful and was cheered to the echo, "Combining as he does the patriotism of a Washington, the philosophy of a Jefferson, the constructive ability of a Hamilton, the courage of a Jackson, a Cleveland, and a Roosevelt, the charity of a Lincoln and a McKinley, and the judicial temperament of a Taft, Woodrow Wilson will go down in history as immortal and as one of the purest and ablest statesmen who ever sat in the Presidential chair."

But our greatest contribution to civilization has been our fine moral idealism, the fact that we have always battled for the immortality of great principles, rather than for mere territorial aggrandizement or huge indemnities, and that we have always been the Big Brother for the oppressed of earth. The fact that 46,000,000, or 42 per cent of our entire population are directly affiliated with some church and that we have always recognized the Bible as the Rock on which our Republic rests are more eloquent than words of the spiritual war and wool of our nation."

Admitting that there are some very dangerous tendencies in the twentieth century civilization of the United States—Bolshevism in some quarters; an alarming increase in our divorce rate; a fearful wave of criminality; the weakening of the influence of the American home and parental control over children, Governor Brough concluded with an eloquent apostrophe to the future greatness of our country and to the genius of American institutions.

Hawaiian Program at Chautauqua Tent Tonight

"An Evening in Hawaii," notable original musical production, pre-strumentalists and singers, will be the big attraction tonight at the Redpath Chautauqua tent on the city lots. In a setting of colorful tropical splendor; produced by special lighting and scenic effects and quaint native costumes, are portrayed most vividly the tuneful, crooning music and delightful customs of Hawaii, a land whose romance and charm have captivated people everywhere.

Albert Verzza, the director of the company appearing in this production first acquainted Americans with Hawaiian music at the San Francisco exposition, where he and his company were accorded an enthusiastic reception. He is largely responsible for much of the subsequent popularity of real Hawaiian music in this country.

"An Evening in Hawaii" is a premier musical production—distinctive and realistic in every detail. Children's Program. Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock comes the closing children's program, when Duval, well known magician, will entertain not only the kiddies, but the grown-ups as well, in mysterious illusionary art, that will thrill and be enjoyed by all.

Werno Quartet: Following the children's program at 4 o'clock, the last day of your chautauqua, the Laura Werno Ladies Quartet, a group of artist-entertainers, who are royally welcomed by chautauqua audiences wherever they appear, will open the program.

From the beginning to the close of their programs there is a wealth of musical entertainment and artistry. Especially notable in their repertoire are musical and dramatic numbers, given in costume, depicting the dress, manners and song of the American colonial period, the Civil War days, the early seventies and of the Quakers.

The members of the Werno company play as well as sing. Instrumental trio and cello and violin solo are prominent in their programs. Clever readings by Miss Laura Werno, who heads the company, are always hailed with delight. The type of program, the skill with which it is presented and the poise and personality of the members of the quartet unite to make their programs genuinely enjoyable. Tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, the above ladies' quartet, and Caveney, crayon artist and modeler in clay, will close this year's Sanford Redpath Chautauqua.

CHICAGO ELECTS A DEMOCRATIC MAYOR

CHICAGO, April 4.—Judge William E. Dever, democrat, was elected mayor of Chicago today by a plurality of more than 100,000 votes over Arthur C. Lueder, republican, in one of the most quiet elections in the city's history. Into office with him went a democratic city clerk and a democratic city treasurer.

While Judge Dever had rolled up an immense plurality, it will not reach the record made by Mayor William H. Thompson in 1915, when he won by 147,477 votes. The withdrawal of Mayor Thompson from the race prior to the February primary robbed the campaign of what was expected to be one of its main issues—the merits of the Thompson administration. Thompson withdrew from the race for a third term, after anti-Thompson republican factions had formed a coalition and selected Lueder as a standard bearer. Today at republican headquarters leaders charged Mayor Thompson's organization and voted almost solidly for the support of Judge Dever.

RECALL CITY MANAGER WEST PALM BEACH

WEST PALM BEACH, April 4.—Recall of Karl Rydell, city manager of West Palm Beach, was voted at a special election today by a margin of five out of a total of 1,111 votes.

Charges of inefficiency in office and favoritism to contractors were made in the petition which brought about the election.
